WE are indebted to Mr. Hugh McCracken for a well taken photograph of the San Francisco coursing "trinity." On the right is Mr. John Grace, who grows younger looking every year; on the left is Mr. James Wren, stalwart and with slips hanging over his shoulders; and in the center Mr. J. R. Dickson, whose veteran pen has so often recorded the good work afield of his two companions. We published portraits of all three last Fall. This picture was taken by Mr. McCracken—whose skill as an amateur photographer we have more than once had occasion to commend—from the grand stand at Ocean View Park.

A CORRESPONDENT of the British Fancier once owned a greyhound which was in the habit of washing its face after the fashion of a cat, and is anxious to know if any other fanciers ever owned or heard of a dog similarly disposed. After eating his supper, the hound in question used to jump into bed, and, sitting down, would lick his paws, and proceed to wash and clean his mouth and face exactly as one of the feline race would do. To his owner the animal always had an uncanny look, and the boys in the kennel used to put him down as being a bit "moldy in the crumpet."

A STAKE for sixteen "or more" is to be run at Artesian, S. D., on April 16. It is for greyhounds of all ages that have never won any money at a coursing meeting, at $2 each, with $20 added by the townspeople. Fifty per cent. to the winner, twenty-five per cent. to the runner-up, and the remainder between the next two dogs. Joseph Dodd of Farwell, S. D., who slipped at Huron last October, will judge, and Mr. H. G. Nichols of Mitchell, S. D., one of the pioneers of coursing in Dakota, will undertake the slipping. It should prove a pleasant little meeting.

MR. J. R. DICKSON (Gazehound), who has contributed interestingly to our columns much good matter in the California has been appointed kennel editor. Rec pleasant call from a fast friend of Mr. glad to hear that the old sportsman strong and well; this gentleman was San Francisco to South Africa, and he hinted at the probability of Gazehound also "trekking" to the Cape.

JOHN COCHRAN, Dr. Van Hummell's trainer, writes to say he has sold his fawn and white bitch Pearl (Laughed At—Lady Maud), the clever winner of the Kansas Stakes at La Crosse last Autumn, to Mr. Chas. A. Robinson of St. Louis, and adds: "You can say to the 'boys' that the Doctor's dogs are all looking fine, and they want to look out for that brindled and white Dutchman that cut the figure at La Crosse last Fall."

WATTLE BLOOM (Welcome Dan—Judy), the bitch Mr. R. E. de B. Lopez imported from Australia about twenty months ago, was bred on March 27 to Mr. Martin Kerrigan's Goodland purchase, Lord Clifton (imp. Lord Neversettle—Imp. Partera). Here is an Australian bitch mated in America with a dog of English breeding, and the offspring will have the benefit of the California climate; that is a combination that ought to accomplish something.

THERE was nothing "wrong" about the final course for the Waterloo Cup. Mr. Pilkington's trainer, Joe Wright, placed Thoughtless Beauty in the slips; his brother, Tom Wright, was in charge of Fortuna Favente; and, owing to Tom Bootiman being down with the influenza, a third brother, Robert Wright, was the slipper that despatched the dogs on their journey.

IT is pleasing to hear that Mr. A. L. Weston's interest in coursing is undiminished; he has just mated his imported bitch Buenretiro (Greentick—Cosy) to Dr. Norman's imp. Babazoun, whose blood lines he has always had a liking for. We are glad to see "Old Bab" getting some well-bred bitches before he becomes really old.

SINCE Thoughtless Beauty's meritorious victory the English sporting journals are recalling the fact that she was picked up last year at a sale for thirty-six guineas. In this country a man who paid one hundred and eighty dollars for a greyhound would not feel as if it had been 'picked up."

LORD CLIFTON, the erstwhile Denver dog, won a couple of courses at Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, March 31, running in Mr. W. D. Murphy's nomination. In the first round he defeated Mr. J. J. Edmonds' Vida Shaw, another Kansas-bred one and reckoned quite a smart little bitch on the Pacific Coast.

WE hear the St. Louis Coursing Club contemplates running a sixteen for all ages on Saturday of next week. This, it is said, will wind up the club's meetings this season.

THE citizens of the Tenth Ward of Denver have re-elected Mr. L. F. Bartels as alderman. Good enough.

Rifle

FIXTURES

Susquehanna County Rifle Association's thirty-fifth meeting and tournament, Foster, Pa., May 2 and 3.

Ninth tournament of the Westlicher Schuetzen-Bund, Milwaukee, Wis., June 19, 20, 21, 22 and 23.

National Sharpshooters' Union's first tournament, Gleudale, L. I., June 30 to July 8.

RIFLES FOR BIG GAME

LAS CRUSCES, N. M.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—Mr. J. S. King appears to have missed the point of the discussion about rifles for big game as completely as he says he misses deer at short range. Nobody doubts that deer can be killed by 255 or 370 grain bullets, and the point at issue is not the accuracy of rifles and loads. The criticism that some of us make of the .45-90-300 cartridge is, that the ball frequently fails to stop big game, particularly the grizzly bear. The correspondent, Mr. Brokaw, I think, who thinks all the shock comes from velocity certainly is in error. It is momentum that shocks, and that is velocity multiplied by weight It appears to me that the destructive efficiency of a bullet is measured by the quantity of material that it moves or displaces in its progress through the bone and tissues of an animal. A .30-caliber United States army bullet penetrates fifty inches of pine. Assuming that it cuts a clean hole, it moves 3¼ cubic inches of wood. A .45-90 bullet, metal patched, penetrates 17 inches, moving 2 7/16 cubic inches. If a bear or deer were fifty inches or more in thickness, the smaller bullet would do the more damage, assuming, of course, that both bullets cut clean holes. But a bear is not fifty inches thick, and the larger bullet actually moves more bear meat, the smaller bullet wasting at least half its energy in pushing wind after passing through the bear.

By increasing the weight of the bullet the momentum may be augmented without increasing the velocity, and more material may be moved. The slower moving bullet also may tear a path much larger than its own diameter. In actual practice, the soft lead bullet does move more material than is represented by its section area multiplied by its penetration, and I am inclined to [illegible] that a .45-300 bullet with a velocity of 1,480 would [illegible] greater shock than a .30-220 bullet with a velocity of 2,066. It is plain that a .45-500 bullet, with a velocity of 1,179 (see Winchester tables) has greater momentum than a .45-300 bullet with a velocity of 1,480. But the gain in momentum is at the expense of trajectory. What I am driving at, is to get a cartridge that will give the [illegible] grain bullet with the trajectory of a [illegible] bullet in the .45-90 rifle. If the bullet [illegible] to have more material laterally, after [illegible] projectile, doing its work in a [illegible] diameter, so much the better. Here is [illegible] rest of the big game cranks to wrestle with. WAPITE.

NOTES

MISS ANNIE OAKLEY, America's representative lady shot, has just terminated a most successful tour in England with her Miss Rora company. The English press speaks very highly of Miss Oakley's talent as a clever actress, and her shooting in the first act always elicits loud applause. It must be very gratifying to both Miss Oakley and her able and energetic manager to leave behind them such favorable impressions with the English people, at whose hands "Little Sure Shot" always receives the most cordial welcome. Miss Oakley terminated her tour with a few weeks at the Alhambra Theater, London, having to decline their offer of a further three months' engagement at a high figure, as she was under contract to open with Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show in America, in April. Miss Oakley will take her trained Arabian horse and pack of foxhounds to America with her.

Leeds, Eng. G. A. W.

MANHATTAN ATHLETIC CLUB'S RIFLE TOURNAMENT

NEW YORK.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—At midnight on Saturday, March 30, a notable fifteen-day shooting tournament was concluded at the rifle range of the Manhattan Athletic Club. It will probably go on record as one of the famous events of 1895, for it was a closely contested race from start to finish, and Captain James S. Conlin, under whose supervision it was shot, declares that the winners of the first and second prizes have broken all previous records at the distance, and under similar conditions, and no one will dispute the word of this veteran rifleman who is so well known to all crack shots.

The conditions of the match were go-as-you-please competition, open to all: ten shots to a target, three best targets to win first prize, three second best to win second prize; .22-caliber rifles with globe and peep sights were used. The distance was 125 feet, and the standard decimal targets were proportionately reduced, making it equal to a 200 yard range.

In order to fully understand what shooting at this distance means it is well to state that to make ten points the rifleman must put his shot inside of a circle that a silver ten cent piece would cover. To score 90 points or over, every shot must go within a circle that a silver fifty cent piece would cover. The prizes—a gold badge to first, and a silver one to second man—are both of the same unique design: a target encircled by a wreath, bearing in colors the club emblem on its face. It is pendant from a pair of crossed rifles. The bar which surmounts them bears the words "first prize," and "second prize," and upon the lower circle of the target the club initials "N. M. A. C." appear.

The winner of the gold badge was Herbert R. Limburger, and of the silver one Captain James C. Summers. The six winning targets score as follows: Limberger 94, 95, 97; Summers 90, 91, 92

GLOBE SIGHT.

CINCINNATI, O.—The following scores were made by members of the Cincinnati Rifle Association at their range, on April 7. Conditions: 200 yards, off hand, at the Staudard target. Negotiations have been made with the Central Sharpshooters' Association of St. Louis for another match on April 21. Conditions same as previous matches, except that there will be twelve men to each team and the German Ring (Union) target will be used. Heavy wind and rain during the morning Scores.

Gundle	5	10	7	10	7	8	10	9	10	9—85
	10	10	8	9	10	7	8	4	9	10—85
	9	6	7	9	10	10	10	8	8	10—87
	10	8	7	7	9	10	9	8	8	8—84
Payne	9	10	7	9	9	7	7	8	10	9—85
	6	9	4	10	6	6	9	8	4	10—72
	9	7	9	8	8	6	6	4	8	9—74
	9	8	9	10	6	8	7	6	9	6—78
Welnheimer	8	4	6	8	7	10	9	9	7	9—77
	7	8	7	9	7	6	10	6	5	10—75
	9	8	5	10	8	6	5	9	9	6—75
	8	9	7	6	8	7	5	5	9	10—74
Wellinger	9	5	10	10	9	8	10	8	5	9—83
	9	10	8	6	5	4	9	8	9	6—74
	6	7	10	8	9	8	8	8	9	6—79
	7	6	8	8	7	9	9	10	8	4—76
Drube	8	10	5	7	9	8	8	9	10	5—79
	7	8	10	8	7	9	7	8	7	7—78
	7	8	9	8	7	10	7	5	10	7—78
	8	7	8	10	7	9	8	8	8	10—83
Trounstein	7	7	10	10	5	6	4	7	4	5—65
	5	9	7	5	6	8	3	1	6	6—56
	8	7	4	6	4	5	2	4	5	10—55
	7	3	10	10	5	8	7	10	4	5—69
Hazenzahl	5	6	9	7	7	9	9	6	9	6—73
	4	5	8	10	4	10	8	6	10	6—71
	9	5	7	8	8	6	6	7	7	6—69
	5	7	8	7	5	8	7	6	7	9—69
Topf	6	6	8	9	7	7	4	5	8	10—70
	10	3	5	4	9	8	6	7	5	6—63
	3	7	4	7	7	10	4	4	7	9—62
	5	7	10	5	4	6	1	6	7	5—56
Strickmeier	6	9	5	7	9	6	5	10	4	6—67
	3	4	4	5	5	4	6	9	3	6—49
	7	5	8	9	4	5	6	8	3	4—59
	8	6	9	5	4	7	8	8	7	4—66

A. DRUBE.

CINCINNATI, O.—Members of the Losantiville Shooting Association made the following scores in practice on March 31. Conditions: 200 yards off hand (palm rests not permitted), open sights and three-pound trigger pull. Sighting shots and unfinished scores not allowed. Standard American target.

Roberts	8	10	9	10	8	10	7	7	9	9—87
	7	8	8	10	8	6	8	9	9	8—81
	7	10	7	9	8	7	9	8	8	8—81
	7	9	7	9	7	7	7	8	7	9—77
*Wellinger	10	10	6	10	4	9	6	10	10	9—84
	6	8	9	8	9	10	8	9	8	6—81
	10	5	7	7	7	8	10	9	10	6—79
	7	7	9	6	9	6	8	8	8	10—78
*Nestler	9	7	6	6	8	10	6	8	9	10—79
	7	7	7	8	9	7	8	9	8	9—79
	9	5	7	9	10	8	5	9	7	9—78
	8	9	8	6	9	8	9	5	5	9—76
*Hasenzahl	7	9	6	9	7	9	3	10	7	8—75
	6	7	8	6	6	7	6	10	9	6—71
	6	3	6	10	4	9	5	9	9	5—66
Scherrer	2	6	7	4	8	9	7	8	5	7—62
	5	6	5	7	6	8	8	5	6	6—62
	7	6	7	3	4	6	6	4	6	4—53
Hoed	6	9	3	6	10	7	5	8	5	10—79
	6	4	4	6	8	8	6	6	7	4—59
	4	8	5	7	6	5	6	6	4	7—58
	4	6	8	7	5	8	7	4	5	4—58
Lapp	7	3	6	6	8	6	4	7	9	5—61
	6	6	5	5	4	10	6	6	7	3—58
	7	4	6	7	5	3	7	4	5	6—54
	2	5	4	4	8	8	4	6	6	4—51
[illegible]	7	6	8	4	8	6	4	9	7	6—65
	8	4	5	5	7	10	10	8	7	4—68
	3	6	6	4	6	7	8	5	4	7—56
[illegible]	4	4	7	4	4	8	8	7	7	7—62
	8	0	4	9	5	2	5	5	3	9—50
	0	10	5	3	6	5	5	5	6	3—48
[illegible]	2	7	5	9	6	7	9	3	0	6—54
	7	4	8	2	3	9	4	3	5	4—49
	5	7	6	7	5	3	2	2	6	0—43
Krumphorn	6	2	3	0	2	8	4	4	0	7—36
	2	3	0	2	0	5	8	0	7	2—29
Hertenstein	3	2	4	0	5	4	5	0	2	0—25
	3	2	4	0	5	4	5	0	2	0—25

*Globe and peep sights.

H. C. ROBERTS.

ST. JOSEPH, MO.—Three members of the St. Joseph Rifle Club scored as follows at their practice shoot on Saturday, April 6, 200 yards off hand:

P. Francke	6	5	5	5	6	7	4	7	10	5—60
	6	3	8	5	10	4	7	5	4	6—58
	10	6	5	10	5	10	6	9	10	4—75
	6	6	8	7	8	5	10	6	6	6—68
	5	8	10	6	6	6	5	7	7	8—68—329
J. E. Eterly	10	10	7	5	7	8	9	8	8	8—80
	5	10	6	9	7	10	9	8	8	10—82
	8	6	6	9	7	8	8	8	9	9—78
	8	7	10	9	10	9	8	10	6	9—86
	9	9	10	7	9	5	7	9	8	6—79—405
R. Douglas	6	5	8	7	6	5	6	7	6	5—61
	8	9	7	4	6	7	7	7	8	6—69
	6	6	4	5	3	5	8	8	5	8—58
	10	6	10	9	9	6	5	8	7	10—80
	8	10	9	9	6	6	8	7	9	4—76—314

E

MILWAUKEE, WIS.—At the weekly shoot of the Jolly Rifle Club of this city, on April 4, some good scores were made. Eleven members participated in the practice and shot at a range of seventy-five feet. The scores were as follows: H. Martens 148, J. Witt 104, C. Houch 160, G. Bardmau 145, C. Martens 143, W. Hillmau 139, L. Strulsee 147, A. Stallmau 136, F. Balder 138, M Klevenow 142, C. Lange 135. JOLLY.

The American Field Score Book

Contains 150 score sheets, the Hurlingham, Long Island and American Shooting Association rules; shows a proper form of constitution and by laws for gun clubs, and contains also a set of field and club house rules. Sent by express, prepaid, on receipt of $1. Address the American Field Publishing Co., Chicago, Ill.

Trap

FIXTURES

APRIL

Standard Gun Club's tournament, Point Breeze, Md., April 15.

Forest Gun Club's tournament, 27th Street and Lehigh Avenue, Philadelphia, Pa., April 15.

Forest Gun Club's one-day tournament, Philadelphia, Pa., April 15.

Manufacturers' amateur tournament, $1,000 in prizes and cash, Atchison, Kan., April 16, 17 and 18. "Jack" Parker, manager; Lou. Erhardt secretary.

Big Four Gun Club's tournament, Fouda, Ia., April 16, 17 and 18.

Interstate Manufacturers' and Dealers' Association's tournament, Pittsburg Pa., April 16, 17 and 18, under auspices of the Pittsburg Gun Club; $200 added by the Pittsburg Gun Club

Auburn Gun Club's tournament, Auburn, N. Y., April 17 and 18.

New Jersey State League shoot, Maplewood, N. J., April 18.

Keithsburg Gun Club's tournament, Keithsburg, Ill., April 17, 18 and 19.

Canton Shooting Club's annual Spring tournament, Canton, Ill., April 17, 18 and 19.

Mr. C. F. Graff's Blue Rock tournament, Seattle, Wash., April 21.

Michigan State Trap Shooters' League's annual tournament, Battle Creek, Mich., April 23 and 24. S. A. Howes, secretary.

Elizabeth Gun Club's third bi-monthly tournament, Elizabeth, N. J., April 23 and 24. First day targets, second day live birds. Open to all.

Gosben Gun Club's tournament, Goshen, Ind., April 23, 24 and 25.

Shamokin Gun Club's first quarterly shoot, Shamokin, Pa., April 24 and 25.

Southport Gun Club's annual tournament, Southport, Ind., April 24 and 25.

Osceola Gun Club's tournament, Osceola, Ia., April 24, 25 and 26.

Peekskill Gun Club's tournament, Peekskill, N. Y., April 24, 25 and 26.

Galesburg Shooting Club's tournament, Galesburg, Ill., April 23, 24, 25 and 26.

Missouri State Fish and Game Protective Association's eighteenth annual tournament, Kansas City, Mo., April 23, 24, 25 and 26. W. V. Rieger, secretary.

AMERICAN TRAP SHOOTERS' LEAGUE

NEW YORK.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—On Wednesday evening, April 3, at 8 p. m., in Parlor L, Astor House, New York City, the adjourned meeting of delegates to the convention held in the same place on January 24 last was called to order by the chairman, Major R. Heber Breintnall, of Newark, N. J. The following clubs were represented: North Side Gun Club, Pittsburg, Pa., Elmer E. Shaner; Herron Hill Gun Club, Pittsburg, Pa. (by proxy), Elmer E. Shaner; Braddock Gun Club, Braddock, Pa. (by proxy), Elmer E. Shaner; Emerald Gun Club, New York, Dr. G. V. Hudson; Park City Gun Club, Bridgeport, Conn., W. M. Thomas; Peekskill Gun Club, Peekskill, N. Y., B. C. Everinghim; West Newburg Gun and Rifle Association, Newburg, N. Y., David Brown; Pittsburg Gun Club, Pittsburg, Pa., J. A. H. Dressel: Brunswick Gun Club, New Brunswick, N. J., H. H. Stevens; Fleming on Gun Club, Flemington, N. J., J. L. Chamberlin; Essex Gun Club, Newark, N. J., Major R. Heber Breintnall; New York County Gun Club, New York, H. P. Fessenden; South Side Gun Club, Newark, N. J., W. R. Hobart; Memphis Gun Club, Memphis, Tenn., Irby Bennett; Syracuse Gun Club, Syracuse, N. Y., C. H. Mowry; Green Ridge Gun Club, Scranton, Pa., H. D. Schwartz; Wilmington Rod and Gun Club, Wilmington, Del., Chas. Fehrenbach; Wilkesbarre Gun Club, Wilkesbarre, Pa., J. G. Messner; Farmers' Gun Club, Mahanoy City, Pa., M. M. McMillan; Interstate Association, New Jersey (by proxy), J. A. H. Dressel.

On motion, the reading of the minutes of the meeting of January 24, 1895, was dispensed with, the same having been published in full in the various sportsmen's papers.

Mr. Hobart then moved that the meeting proceed to consider the proposed constitution, reading it by section, adopting it by section, and then adopting it as a whole. The motion was seconded and carried. The reading of the constitution was then proceeded with.

Article I, calling the organization "The American Trap Shooters' League," was adopted without a dissentient voice. Article II was also adopted, after some discussion, without any alteration in the text of the same. The discussion which took place was regarding the question of rules, the idea being to obtain some information as to the formation of rules for shooting. It was the general opinion of the meeting that membership in the association would not necessarily pledge any organization to adopt any set of shooting rules that may be drawn up for, and approved by, the association. Articles III, IV and V were adopted, the only change made being in Section 3, Article V, where the last seven words, "but shall not exceed $—— per annum," were ordered stricken out The words above quoted refer to the fixing of the secretary-treasurer's salary. It was thought better to leave the remuneration of this office to the executive committee, as provided in this section, without binding the association to any fixed sum, the salary having necessarily to be in proportion to the work required, and there being no means of ascertaining just at this time what amount of work would be required of the secretary-treasurer. Article VI was also adopted after the words, "to an amount not less than $——," relating to the secretary-treasurer's bond, had been stricken out." The clause now reads: "He shall give a bond for the faithful performance of his duty, in favor of, and satisfactory to, the chairman of the executive committee, before assuming office."

Article VII, Section 1, was amended so as to prescribe the number of members of the executive committee. That section now reads: "The executive committee shall consist of five members and shall be selected by the governors from their own body. The term of office of the members of the executive committee shall be for one year."

Article VIII was not disposed of until the question of annual dues of clubs had been under discussion and a vote taken. Several delegates were in favor of raising the annual dues to $5, in place of $3, the claim being made that the latter sum was too small to provide the necessary income for running the affairs of the association. The article was finally adopted as presented the annual dues for clubs being left at $3, individual members 50 cents, and state associations $5.

Article IX was also adopted as presented, after the words "who are members of this association" had been inserted. The amended portion of the article reads thus: "To this board (the tournament board) shall be referred all questions connected with trap shooting in dispute between clubs and individuals who are members of this association." Article X being adopted, Mr. Thomas moved, and Mr. Hobart seconded, that the constitution as amended be adopted as a whole. Motion carried unanimously.

The by-laws, as presented by the committee, and published in the various sportsmen's papers, were adopted without any changes or alterations. On motion, the committee appointed on January 24 for the purpose of drawing up and presenting for adoption a constitution and by-laws was released from its duties, and a vote of thanks accorded. The committee consisted of J. A. H. Dressel, chairman; B. C. Everinghim, L. H. Schortemeier, W. H. Wolstencroft and Edward Banks.

The election of a board of governors was the next business On motion, the chairman appointed Edward Banks, H. P. Fessenden and Elmer Shaner as a committee to draw up and submit to the association a suggested board of governors. After a recess of fifteen minutes the committee reported the following: B. C. Everinghim, C. H. Mowry and L. H. Schortemeier, New York; J. A. H. Dressel, C. M. Hostetter and W. H. Wolstencroft, Pennsylvania; R. H. Breintnall, J. L. Chamberlin and P. A. Jeanneret, New Jersey; Irby Bennett, Tennessee; W. M. Thomas and C. H. Burbridge, Connecticut; Chas. Fehrenbach, Delaware; Col. J. T. Anthony, North Carolina; A. W. Du Bray, Kentucky.

The report of the committee was adopted by the meeting, the secretary being directed to cast a single ballot for the election of the gentlemen named. In accordance with this direction the gentlemen were declared duly elected as the board of governors.

The closing business of the meeting was to choose a city in which to hold the second annual meeting in 1895. Memphis, Tenn., was nominated as such city and unanimously chosen. Mr. Bennett returned thanks for Memphis in a felicitous manner, promising those delegates who should attend the meeting a cordial welcome from the Memphis Gun Club and a good sample of Southern hospitality.

Meeting then, on motion, adjourned.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF GOVERNORS

Immediately after the adjournment of the above meeting, the board of governors met in the same room for the purpose of deciding the length of their various terms, and also to elect officers for the association. The following are the terms of the different members of the board: One year, Messrs. Bennett, Chamberlin, Everinghim, Fehrenbach and Hostetter; two years, Messrs. Anthony, Dressel, Jeanneret, Mowry and Wolstencroft; three years, Messrs. Breintnall, Burbridge, Du Bray, Schortemeier and Thomas.

The following is a list of the officers chosen by the board: President, Major R. Heber Breintnall; first vice-president, Irby Bennett; second vice-president, Col. J. T. Anthony; third vice-president, C. H. Mowry; secretary-treasurer, Edward Banks; executive committee, J. A. H. Dressel, chairman; B. C. Everinghim, Irby Bennett, L. H. Schortemeier and W. M. Thomas.

EDWARD BANKS, Secretary.

WANTS THE CHAMPIONSHIP SETTLED

ST. JOSEPH, Mo.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—Now that Mr. J. A. R. Elliott has defeated Mr. E. D. Fulford, who easily defeated the once invincible Capt. J. L. Brewer. I think the title of champion wing shot should now go to Elliott, as in his present form he could certainly defeat Brewer. But 'tis an old adage that the unexpected always happens. Dr. Carver, by forfeiture, has possession of the trophy emblematic of the American championship, which places him above Elliott for that title according to agreements made at the meeting in Chicago, and as Elliott now claims to be champion of the world by defeating Fulford, and Carver claims it by holding the trophy, the general shooting public is as much at loss to know who the real champion is as they were before the great battle in Chicago.

Instead of each man claiming to be champion why don't they get together and settle the matter, for should I or someone else challenge and defeat Elliott for the world's championship that he claims, it certainly would not be very gratifying after getting all one's shooting qualities together to go up against such a cyclone as Jim, after defeating him, to have Dr. Carver come up and say: "You have just wasted your time for Ise de champion ob dis America," and put the minimum figure for deciding the matter at $10,000. I would simply be out of the "push," and my syndicate would be in the hands of a receiver.

Now let the sportsmen of Missouri waste no time, but try and bring these two wonderful giants together at Kansas City during the state tournament there in May, and then and there decide the championship. And then if Capt. Brewer has any claims to present let him come forward in plain, everyday style, and he will no doubt be accommodated.

Such a match as this would guarantee a large attendance at the tournament, and would be appreciated by a large number who have never seen either of the men shoot. I hope to see them come together there and settle the trouble, and may the title and emblem go to the best man. AMATEUR.

DR. HENRY B. WYGANT

PEEKSKILL, N. Y.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—At a meeting of the Peekskill Gun Club, held on April 3, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted by a rising vote, ordered to be placed in full on the records of the club and a copy be sent to the family of our deceased friend and to the press:

Resolved, That we, the officers and members of the Peekskill Gun Club, have learned with profound sorrow of the death of our beloved comrade, Dr Henry B. Wygant. Most of us have known him intimately for years, and have enjoyed with him many delightful occasions in connection with our organization. We have ever found him of equable temperament and sunny disposition, and shall hold his memory forever green in our hearts. As a surgeon dentist, Dr. Wygant was easily in the front of his profession. As an amateur sportsman, he inherited from his father a love for dog and gun, and when his opportunities for field shooting seemed ended, he became an enthusiastic trap shooter. He might truly be called "The Father of the Sport" in our vicinity. The club owes very much of its success to his untiring efforts. As a friend "his life was gentle, and the elements so mixed in him, that nature might stand up and say to all the world, 'This was a man.'"

Resolved, That we tender to his widow and family our heartfelt and sincerest sympathy.

ORIN J. LONER, Secy.

NOTES

THE Ideal Hand Book No. 6 has been received, and a perusal of its pages shows that the Ideal Manufacturing Company of New Haven, Conn., is, as heretofore, keeping in the front rank with new ideas and new implements for the use and convenience of sportsmen. Among the new features presented in this issue of the Hand Book is the Ideal High Grade Closer, an examination of which causes us to conclude that it is just exactly what it is named. But one grade of these machines is made, and that the very best. There is not any cast iron about them. The frame is all made of semi steel and warranted to stand the hardest kind of service. The closer heads are made of steel, case-hardened, and the crimping pins are of the best crucible steel, hardened as hard and fine as fire and water can make them. The whole implement is made up in the best possible manner and is sent out with a guarantee of giving satisfaction or money will be refunded. With this closer the sportsman who loads his own shells is not limited to one length of shell, but can crimp either the longest or shortest shell equally well; besides he can crimp shells one-third faster than with any other hand crimper. The work also contains a table showing the velocity, penetration and trajectory of Winchester bullets fired from Winchester rifles, a feature of much value to riflemen using the Winchester rifle, and also a fund of other information of importance to the sportsman who wishes to keep up with the advance ideas of the times. The work is compact, yet concise in all matters on which it treats, and therefore is of value to every sportsman, whether he be a lover of the rifle or the scatter gun.

THE program for the Du Pont tournament, which is to be held at Cincinnati, O., from May 7 to 10, presents some attractive features to the lovers of trap shooting. Twelve hundred dollars is given in prizes and additions to purses and the tournament is open to all; nobody is barred, and there will be no handicap except as the shooter makes it by actual work, his previous record or the record made in his work at this tournament placing him in the class in which he belongs—either expert or amateur. The rules governing the contest for Du Pont cash prizes for highest averages require that contestants must participate in events four and six each day and must use in these events Du Pont Smokeless powder. American Shooting Association rules will govern except when they conflict with the "special" features of the program. All shooting will be from known trap, unknown angles, rapid fire, class shooting. The tournament will be held at the Avenue Ball Park, which is easily reached by electric cars. Blue Rock traps, pulls and targets will be used, and the genial Paul North will be in attendance and have supervision of this part of the tournament, which fact insures the shooter that he will have no use for his "kick" so far as the traps and targets are concerned. In fact anyone possessing an habitual "kick," who expects to attend this tournament, had better leave the "kick" at home, chained up in the cellar, for should he take it with him it is likely to get awfully lonesome.

ON April 21 the undersigned will give the first Blue Rock tournament of the season on the Seattle Field Club's grounds. These grounds are splendidly located on the Rainier electric car line about fifteen minutes' ride from the business part of our city, and as cars run every hour there will be no inconvenience in reaching the grounds or returning from them. A ten-foot fence incloses the field, which was originally leveled and improved by the Seattle Field Club. The grounds are as level as a floor and covered with a short growth of grass. It is an ideal ground for a live bird shoot and it is the intention of Mr. C. F. Graff to hold the coming wild pigeon shoot this Spring on these grounds. Several valuable merchandise prizes will be hung up for competition. Invitations have been extended to members of the Seattle Rod and Gun Club, the Tacoma Rod and Gun Club, and the Union Gun Club of Victoria, B. C. All shooters and sportsmen will be cordially welcomed. The "bird allowance" or the "distance handicap" will be used, this point not yet having been decided on, and American Shooting Association rules will govern all shooting.

W. J. FOX,
Seattle, Wash. C. F. GRAFF.

AT a recent meeting of the Connecticut League of Trap Shooters the Colt, New Haven, Bristol, Hartford and Moodus clubs were represented. After a long debate about various matters it was decided to continue the same shooting plan as last year except that the teams this year be three instead of two men from each club. President Rockwell, of Bristol, advocated a system requiring each team to add $10 to the entrance purse, to be divided among the high scores made by individual shots. The election of officers resulted in Allen Willey declining the presidency and proposing the secretary of the Colt club, who was then elected. The vice-presidents chosen were F. J. Potter, New Haven; H. J. Mills, Bristol; James Macfarlane, Willimantic; U. S. Cook, Moodus; Daniel Wadsworth, Hartford club; George C. Strong, New London, and J. A. Pitkin, Colt club. Allen Willey was elected secretary and treasurer; G. P. Lecrenier, of Moodus, assistant, and H. H. Bates, of New Haven, manager. The governing committee chosen were: C. E. Longdon, New Haven; H. J. Mills, Bristol; T. P. Bill, Colt club; H. L. Edgarton, Willimantic; F. C. Fowler, Moodus; James Ames, New London; C. H. Burbidge, Hartford club. New Haven drew the first shoot.

Hartford, Conn. A LEAGUE MEMBER.

THE arrangements for the Southport tournament on April 24 and 25 are complete and the programs are issued. From the numerous letters received asking for information it looks as if this meet will excel any of the tournaments heretofore given by this club. The program is an improvement over former ones. In addition to a guaranteed purse of $50 in the fifth event each day, nearly one hundred dollars' worth of merchandise prizes have been added to the events. The tournament is under the management of well-known business men who will not only entertain their guests with true Hoosier hospitality, but who will be found at the traps shooting throughout the meet. It is an amateur tournament, and the endeavor of the club will be to make it second to none. Mr. Samuel Miles, a gentleman who has attained a wide reputation for fair ness to all, will be referee. The American Shooting Association rules will govern. Dropping for place will be strictly prohibited. Blue Rocks from five known traps will be thrown at two cents each. The train for the shooting park will leave Indianapolis (Union Station) at 8 o'clock a. m., returning at 5:29 o'clock p. m.

Southport, Ind. W. M. G.

THE program for the second annual tournament of the Montana State Sportsmen's Association, to be held at Butte, Mon., on May 17, 18 and 19, under the auspices of the Butte Rod and Gun Club, is to hand. The shooting on the first two days will be at Blue Rock targets only so far as the program goes, though if birds can be secured live bird sweepstakes will be shot, while on the third day the program events will be at both targets and live birds. The principal features of the tournament will be the team contest on the first day for the team state championship cup, the race on the second day for the individual championship cup, and the live bird event on the third day for the individual championship of the state on live birds. All the events except those for state trophies are open to all. In addition to the cash prizes offered the association has secured a number of valuable merchandise prizes which will be awarded in the state events. The management announces that anyone found guilty of dropping for place will be barred from the tournament and that the statement is not made as a bluff but that the rule will be enforced.

AT a meeting of the Kansas City gun clubs, on April 6, it was decided to limit the time of the Missouri state shoot from six to four days. Dates as follows: April 23, 24, 25 and 26. There will be two regular live bird events each day and ten regular target events. The association will guarantee $500 in cash prizes on target events, and a gold watch valued at $125 as a special prize, emblematic of the wing-shot championship of the state of Missouri, which will be contested for at 25 live birds each man; price of birds will be the entrance fee. All live bird events open to the world. Professionals will be barred in target events. Tournament will be held on the Washington Park shooting grounds, where every convenience will be found to entertain visiting sportsmen. Live birds will be shot from one set of traps and target events from two sets of traps. For program address R. S. Elliott, 807 Delaware Street, Kansas City, Mo.

Kansas City, Mo. W. V. RIEGER, Secretary.

WE learn that arrangements are being entered into whereby the veteran Captain A. H. Bogardus and "Tramp" Irwin will shoot the third of their matches at Galesburg, Ill., during the forthcoming tournament there. It will be remembered that at their last match Bogardus was converted to nitro powder, after using "Tramp's" shells and scoring sixteen straight. Now it is understood that he is going to use a gun bored for nitro powder and nitro powder loads. Both men will use the same shells, to be loaded by "Tramp," and drawn for each shot by each party from a bag. "Tramp" won the first two matches with good scores, but since Capt. Bogardus has changed guns and loads, and by using nitro powder he must of necessity change shells, he will no doubt show a form almost equal to that of twenty years ago, and if "Tramp" wins he will earn a new suit of clothes, which tramps usually stand in need of.

THE annual meeting of the Louisiana Gun Club was held on Monday, April 2, 1895, with a good attendance. The officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows: President, Walter H. More; vice-president, L. P. Chaudet; secretary and treasurer, Percy S. Benedict; captain, H. C. Ludlow; first lieutenant, R. E. Saucier; second lieutenant, Philip N. Nott; board of managers, Gus R. Nelson, E. J. Toledano and G. H. Ellerbe. The rules adopted by the club for the ensuing year are a radical departure from those of previous years, a system of handicapping having been inaugurated that will give to each member, irrespective of his shooting ability, an almost equal opportunity for the prizes offered. In addition, a suitable trophy will be awarded to the member winning the first prize oftenest during the season. All prize shoots will be from known traps, unknown angles. The first shoot will take place on April 14.

PERCY S. BENEDICT, Secy.

THE opening shoot of the Eureka Gun Club of Chicago was held on the club's grounds on Saturday afternoon, April 6, as advertised. The attendance of members and visitors was good considering the threatening weather. The club's new traps and electric pull were in position and the birds being thrown low and very fast caused the boys to "get a move on themselves" to catch the targets before they got out of the county. Mr. Bingham did the best work in the club contest, scoring 24 out of 25, while several others made scores that were creditable. The club will shoot again on Saturday of this week, and extends a cordial invitation to members of other clubs in the city to participate in the sport. The secretary reports that the scores of this shoot were misplaced, but promises to do better by us in the future.

THE Garfield Gun Club held its annual meeting at the Sherman House, Chicago, on Saturday evening, April 6, elected three directors—Messrs. Hicks, Richards and Young being chosen—and listened to the reports of the secretary and treasurer. These reports showed the club to be in excellent shape both as to membership and finances, with a number of new applications for membership on file. The directors will hold a meeting this week, elect from their number officers for the ensuing year and arrange the work of the club for the coming season. This is one of the largest target shooting clubs in Chicago, its grounds are pleasantly located and its members an enthusiastic lot of sportsmen. The club will begin its season's work on the first Saturday in May.

NOTICE of the first of May handicap shooting tournament in this city having appeared for some time past in the AMERICAN FIELD, I now desire to call attention to the fact that 1,000 programs have been printed and distributed in which the handicap has been eliminated, and everybody is invited from all quarters of the globe. All traveling representatives and agents especially invited. If enough of the best men get together, there will be a 100 target race for the championship of the United States, and it will be a good opportunity for all the experts to show up their wares.

Peoria, Ill. W. TRAMP IRWIN.

IN reply to a sweeping challenge issued to him by Capt. John L. Brewer of New York, Dr. Carver says he is willing to meet Mr. Brewer in Chicago at any time and shoot the matches Mr. Brewer suggests for any amount. He further states that he will shoot a match with any man in the world and pay his expenses to Chicago if such man will shoot him one or more matches for $500 a side or more. He stipulates that the matches must be shot with 12-gauge guns and under American Shooting Association rules.

MR. ROBERT WELSH of the Riverton Gun Club of Philadelphia, and Mr. Isaac Eckert of Reading, Pa., shot a match at 50 live birds per man, at Reading, on April 6, both men scoring 41. In the first half of the match Mr. Welsh killed 22 and Mr. Eckert 21, while in the second half the result was reversed, Mr. Eckert killing 20 and Mr. Welsh only 19. It was a "nip and tuck" race all through and must have been very interesting.

THE program for the Pickaway Rod and Gun Club's inanimate target tournament, to be held at Circleville, O., on May 2, and to which everybody is welcome, announces ten events with the entrance ranging from $1.20 to $2.50 according to the number of targets in the event. The club has fine grounds and a nice outfit of traps, trap pull, etc. The purses will be divided into four moneys and the tournament will be held rain or shine.

GREAT satisfaction is expressed with the AMERICAN FIELD score book, of which large numbers are now being distributed to gun clubs throughout the country. Its many excellent points are commending it to all who use the book and the price ($1) is so low that any club can easily afford to use it. Sample score sheets and circular giving full description will be mailed on application to this office.

THE pigeon shooting match at Atlantic City, N. J., on April 3, between Charles C. Minerd and Lewis R. Adams for a purse of $50, was won by the latter. Each man killed nine birds out of the ten shot at, but one of Mr. Lewis' dropped dead out of bounds, thus giving the match to Mr. Minerd. Another match between them is almost certain.

A LETTER from Mr. Frank Butler, manager of Miss Annie Oakley, dated at London, Eng., March 24, informs us that they would sail for America on the steamship Massachusetts on March 28. Mr. Butler says that in her new role—acting—Miss Oakley has been very successful. Miss Oakley will join the Wild West show at Philadelphia, Pa., on April 22.

MR. W. R. HOBART, secretary of the New Jersey Trap Shooters' League, will please accept our thanks for a copy of the league's constitution and by laws. Mr. Hobart was the instigator of this league, calling the first meeting for its organization, and has ever since been a prominent and active factor in its meetings.

LIEUT. PETER GIBSON of Cincinnati, O., Assistant Inspector of Rifles of the Ohio National Guard, has just returned home from a six months' tour in foreign lands. He was at Monte Carlo, France, during the big trap shooting contest there, but did not participate in any of the big events.

THE California State Sportsmen's Association has changed the dates of its forthcoming tournament from April 26, 27 and 28 to May 2, 3 and 4. This was done so that the shoot would not conflict with one that is being arranged to take place in Southern California.

WILL Mr. W. B. Gifford of some town in Texas, who, under date of April 2, sent us a report of a tournament held in his town, please send us the name of the town, as in his report the name of the place is so obscurely written that we are unable to decipher it?

MR. EDWARD A. WATSON of Nimrod Hall, Va., writes us that on account of other near-by tournaments being held so near the time intended for the tournament at his place, it is deemed best to postpone the Nimrod Hall tournament until some time in August.

MR. W. FRED QUIMBY, of New York, writes us that he is very much pleased over the news, just received, that the Pennsylvania State Sportsmen's Association has adopted the Empire target for its annual tournament to be held at Homesburg Junction in August next.

THE Parker Brothers of Meriden, Conn., gunmakers, no doubt feel justly proud of the fact that the man who won first money in the Grand American Handicap at Paterson, N. J., last week, did so with a gun of their manufacture.

MESSRS. VON LENGERKE & DETMOLD will cease to be agents for E. C. powder shortly. Mr. W. Fred Quimby will be sales-agent for the powder and the company will in future sell direct to the trade.

Oakland, N. J. ALBERT W. MONEY.

THE South Dakota State Sportsmen's Association will hold its forthcoming tournament at Woonsocket, S. D., on May 21, 22, 23, 24 and 25. L. B. Richter, secretary.

THE Maplewood (N. J.) Gun Club has changed the date for the New Jersey State League shoot from April 11 to April 18.

South Orange, N. J. W. N. DRAKE.

THE Shamokin Gun Club of Shamokin, Pa., will hold its first quarterly shoot for the season of 1895, on April 24 and 25.

THE Independent Gun Club of Belleville, Ill., is making arrangements for a tournament on April 28.

THE Hartley Gun Club of Hartley, Ia., will hold its second annual tournament on May 15 and 16.

THE GREAT AMERICAN HANDICAP TOURNAMENT

If the measure of success of the tournaments to be given by this association during the year 1895 are to be judged by the successful initial shoot at Willard Park, Paterson, N. J., April 3 to 6, they should prove entirely satisfactory to all concerned. The complaints heard were almost entirely confined to the inaccessibility of the grounds. When once on them little complaint was heard.

The arrangements, under the management of Mr. Elmer E. Shaner, were as complete as possible. There was not room enough for a 50-yards boundary for the two sets of five traps on the main grounds, facing nearly east, the main [illegible] the other, with a limited boundary, being used [illegible] gram events and extra sweepstakes. The Cle[illegible] first and second days on the main grounds, [illegible] the old style of traps on the third day, whic[illegible] provement.

The admission to the grounds was by car[illegible] ble" ont. Wednesday, April 3, opened wit[illegible] which ceased to fall early, leaving the day [illegible], as a brisk and cold northwest wind blew all day.

WILLARD PARK INTRODUCTORY

The opening event was the Willard Park Introductory (7 birds), in which Messrs. Elliott, Clark, Class, Van Dyke, Mayhew, Capt. Money and Le Roy succeeding in making straight scores and divided first money, $57.75. Those in for second with six were Fulford, Arnold, Green, Hoffman, H. White, Pfister, Morfey, Messner, A. S. White, and "Henry," and they divided $31.65. Ties on five were Glover, Morgan, "Arno" and Heikes, dividing $23.10. Following are the scores:

EVENT No. 1.—Willard Park Introductory, 7 birds, $7 entrance, class shooting, 28 yards rise, three moneys, 50, 30 and 20 per cent. Price of birds deducted from the purse; 22 entries.

Elliott	2112212—7	H. White	2222220—6
Arno	2220012—5	Mayhew	2222212—7
Fulford	1211102—6	Pfister	0212122—6
Clark	2221122—7	Morfey	2022222—6
Arnold	2222220—6	Messner	2122201—6
Heikes	0201112—5	A. S. White	2022222—6
Greene	1220122—6	Henry	2211120—6
Glover	1220201—5	Capt. Money	1121111—7
Hoffman	2202222—6	Morgan	2202210—5
Class	2122111—7	Holt	0202011—4
Van Dyke	1222222—7	Le Roy	2222222—7

Next came the Passaic Falls sweepstakes with a largely increased entry, as each train brought many new arrivals. This event was not "class" shooting, and after the "straights" on 7 shot off on four birds, those living through it divided the money—$147. The following gentlemen divided the purse: Messrs. Moore, Post, Sweeney, Von Lengerke, Brewer, Money, Van Dyke, Dickey and Le Roy.

EVENT No. 2.—Passaic Falls Sweepstakes, 7 birds, $5 entrance, birds extra. Not class shooting; 28 yards rise, three moneys 50, 30 and 20 per cent.; 42 entries: Moore 7, Heikes (w) 5, Post 7, Messner (w) 5, Sweeney 7, Von Lengerke 7, Jones (w) 1, Hyde (w) 1, Wright (w) 0, Mosher (w) 1, Hobart (w) 1, Elliott 7, Duston 6, Morfey 7, Castle 6, Brewer 7, Kellar (w) 2, Arno (w) 1, Mayhew (w) 5, Piercy (w) 2, F. E. Bennett (w) 4, Fulford (w) 1, Thomas (w) 5, Clark (w) 4, Apgar 6, Arnold (w) 0, Cleave (w) 0, Class 7, Capt. Money (w) 7, Henry 6 Williams (w) 1, H. White (w) 5, Van Dyke 7, A. S. White (w) 4, Morgan (w) 0, Glover (w) 1, Dickey 7, Du Bray (w) 4, Hoffman 7, Drake (w) 1, Greene (w) 4, Le Roy 7.

NITRO POWDER HANDICAP

The third came the Nitro Powder Handicap, which proved one of the principal events, and being a handicap shoot had a good entry. Out of 36 entries Van Dyke and Fulford were the only ones to make clean scores of 15, which netted them $81 each. Nine men, Elliott, Hyde, Heikes, Class, "Henry," Brewer, Sedam, Sweeney and A. S. White were "one short," getting 14, each and divided second money, $121.50, between them. The ties on 13 numbered ten, and were Messrs. Moore, Messner, Post, Pfister, "Le Roy," Kelsey, Bennett, Dickey and Wright, and they fell heirs to $81, or $8.10 each. Six landed in the 12 hole, fourth: Arnold, Glover, Capt. Money, Greene, Du Bray and Bartlett, getting a total of $10.50 or $6.75 each.

EVENT No. 3.—Nitro Powder Handicap, 15 live birds, $15 entrance, class shooting; handicaps 25 to 33 yards; four moneys, 40, 30, 20 and 10 per cent; price of birds deducted from the purse.

Yards		Yards
"Arno"	27..122220202022220—11	Mayhew	28..012222002222102—11
McBeth	25..200202202120021— 9	"Henry"	28..112221202211212—14
Moore	30..202222022222222—13	Pfister	28..112022221222122—13
Elliott	33..222222012222221—14	Greene	26..011222222202220—12
Heikes	31..222222220122222—14	"Le Roy"	28..212022022211212—13
Arnold	26..222212021220011—12	Du Bray	29..122121020201122—12
Clark	30..221222022112022—13	Kelsey	29..111221012021212—13
Messner	25..122101112222120—13	Bartlett	27..222222220020222—12
Holt	25..100110111010w— 8	Hyde	27..221222222222022—14
Fulford	32..222222222222222—15	Brewer	33..202222222221122—11
Hoffman	28..202022020222222—10	Sedam	29..122122122122202—11
Morfey	32..222020202222202—11	F. Bennett	29..222202222220221—13
Post	28..212202120112222—13	Dickey	28..220120222222201—13
Glover	30..122020222102222—12	Wright	27..212220021222222—13
Capt. Money—		Morgan	26..200211022202220—10
	31..120222022222220—12	Sweeney	27..222222222222230—14
Class	32..122222022222222—14	A. S. White—
H. White	27..221022212202020—11		25..222212222102222—14
Van Dyke	30..222222222221222—15	Williams	26..222202202001222—11

All ties divided.

SPORTSMEN'S HANDICAP

This was the fourth program event and was not finished on the first day but concluded on the morning of the second day. It closed with the largest number of entries up to this time as seen below. In it good work was done, twenty making clean scores of 7; but in the wind up, after a long tussle on the miss and out basis, the winners that reached ten straight took the money, a total of $220. The winners were Clark, Arnold, Ingersoll, Duston, Mayhew, F. E. Bennett and Capt. Money, and they got $31.45 each.

EVENT No. 4.—Sportsmen's handicap, 7 birds, $5 entrance, birds extra; not class shooting; handicaps 25 to 33 yards; three moneys, 50, 30 and 20 per cent; 44 entries: Coulston, 28 yards, 6; Benuett, 30 yards, 7; Edey, 28 yards (w), 1; N. E. Money, 28 yards (w), 2; Kelsey, 27 yards (w), 4; Apgar, 30 yards, 7; Clark, 30 yards, 7; Sedam, 29 yards, 7; Messner, 25 yards (w), 3; Burbridge, 28 yards, 7; Piercy, 28 yards (w), 4; Cleave, 26 yards, 7; Thomas, 28 yards, 7; Morfey, 32 yards (w), 5; Elliott, 33 yards 7; Glover, 30 yards (w), 0; Arnold, 26 yards, 7; E. C. George, 25 yards (w), 0; Ingersoll, 27 yards, 7; Burdette, 26 yards, 7; Duston, 28 yards, 7; Castle, 28 yards, 7; A. S. White, 27 yards (w), 1; Wright, 27 yards (w), 0; Evans, 28 yards (w), 1; Fulford, 32 yards (w), 2; Kellar 28 yards (w), 0; Arno, 27 yards (w), 3; Mayhew, 28 yards, 7; Morgan, 26 yards (w), 1; F. E. Bennett, 29 yards, 7; Moore, 30 yards (w), 0; Post, 28 yards, 7; Simpson, 29 yards (w), 0; Henry, 28 yards, 9; Pickles, 26 yards (w), 1; Capt. Money, 31 yards, 7; Van Dyke, 30 yards (w), 5; Brewer, 33 yards (w), 2; Dickey, 28 yards (w), 5; Williams, 25 yards (w), 5; Sweeney, 27 yards, 7; Lindsley 29 yards (w), 0; Melot, 29 yards, 7.

GRAND AMERICAN HANDICAP

This was the event in which was centered the principal interest, $1,000 being guaranteed with all surplus added. There was a total of sixty-one entries as follows: J. D. Arnold, Washington, D. C.; Neaf Apgar, Evona, N. J.; W. A. Peck, Cos Cob, Conn.; W. W. Bennett, Boston, Mass.; S. A. Bartlett, Buffalo, N. Y.; Capt. J. L. Brewer, New York City; Fred E. Bennett, Boston; E. J. Cleave, Patterson, Pa.; W. J. Clark, Altoona, Pa.; G. W. Coulston, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Frank Class, Morristown, N. J.; Phil Daly Jr., Long Branch, N. J.; O. R. Dickey, Roxbury, Mass.; A. W. Du Bray, Dayton, Ky.; W. N. Drake, South Orange, N. J.; J. S. Dustin, Newark, N. J.; J. A. R. Elliott, Kansas City, Mo.; J. B. Ellisou, Philadelphia, Pa.; E. D. Mulford, Utica, N. Y.; M. M. Mayhew, Marcy, N. Y.; T. W. Morfey, Paterson, N. J.; E. W. Morgan, Paterson, N. J.; E. L. Post, New York City; J. S. Sedam, Denver, Co.o.; W. J. Simpson, New York City; H. R. Sweeney, Albany, N.Y.; H. D. Schwartz, Scranton, Pa.; J. S. Taylor, Newburg, N. Y.; E. F. Thomas, Denver, Colo.; E. D. Toland, Philadelphia, Pa.; Ferd Van Dyke, Dayton, N. J.; George Work, New York City; Andrew S. White, Syracuse, N. Y.; T. C. Wright, Patersou, N. J.; Allan Willey, Hartford, Conn.; Charles Zwirlein, Yardville, N. J.; Sim Glover, Rochester, N. Y.; E. C. George, Pompton, N. J.; H. C. Higginson, Newburg, N. Y.; Frank Hyde, Homestead, N. J.; H. L. Henry, Utica, N. Y.; R. O. Heikes, Dayton, O.; J. W. Hoffmann, German Valley, N. J.; A. L. Ivins, Seabright, N. J.; W. T. Ingersoll, Cos Cob, Conn.; J. A. Jones, Paterson, N. J.; Frank D. Kelsey, East Aurora, N. Y.; M. F. Lindsley, West Hoboken, N. J.; B. Le Roy, Campello, Mass.; Charles Lenone, Patersou, N. J.; O. F. Melot, Fleetwood, Pa.; Capt. A. W. Money, Oakland, N. J.; N. E. Money, Oakland, N. J.; J. G. Messner, Pittsburg, Pa.; Fred G. Moore, New York City; W. S. Edey, New York City; Horace White, Syracuse, N. Y.; J. H. Outwater, N. J.; T. Eley, Pa.; F. L. Train, N. Y.; H. S. Young.

Fifty-four paying entrance of $25 each, four a forfeit entrance of $35 each, and three a forfeit of $10 each, made a total purse of $1,520. First prize was $760; second $456; third $301; all of which went to the three highest guns, which were Messner of Pittsburg, Pa., first; Elliott of Kansas City, Mo., second, and Frank Class of Morristown, N. J., third. But as an agreement was made for an equal division of the money before shooting the ties off on ten birds each, they shared $506.65 each.

Those reaching 21 were Messrs. Brewer, Thomas, Ivins, Apgar, Dickey and Kelsey. Mr. Brewer had a [illegible] fifteenth which seemingly was not touched with [illegible] to this time his birds had not been very hard and [illegible] unawares perhaps. Mr. Thomas of Denver, Colo. [illegible] wishes of the crowd and held on until his twenty-se[illegible] scoring a miss on a driver not seeming nearly so hard a [illegible] one he killed with his second barrel just previously and [illegible] applause of the crowd. This seemed to insure him a straight and he was looked upon as a sure winner. Ivins slipped up on his [illegible], a fast right-quarterer. Up to this time he seemed to get [illegible] right onto them. The "boys" to a man were [illegible] and waited to see him among the winners, and [illegible] up to the seventeenth bird when he had the hard- [illegible] bird from No. 3 trap, seemingly, with his [illegible] ground between traps Nos. 2 and 3, and [illegible] barrel. The bird seemed to be in the [illegible] it flew just out of bounds when it fell dead. This was the only bird he lost, and, as it proved, cost him a good round sum. Mr. Dickey lost his seventh, but shot a game race, killing all the balance. His work throughout was excellent. Mr. F. D. Kelsey, from up the state, showed that he could kill live birds as well as freak targets, but he, too, slipped upon one, his eleventh. He killed it, but it dropped over the boundary line.

Others who shot to a finish with 23, were Frank Hyde, B. "Le Roy," E. C. George, Noel E. Money and J. S. Taylor, all doing clean work. As the rule was to drop out when three birds were lost all other entries were forced to except Mr. Coulson, who alone had the honor of scoring 22, by losing his last bird, the twenty-fifth. The scores will show who fell by the wayside and at what stage in the game. Of the entries made and absent, who paid forfeit, were Mr. Horace White of Syracuse, and E. D. Toland and J. B. Ellison of Philadelphia.

Mr. Messner, the winner of first, seemed favored in his handicap of 25 yards, as his shooting indicated that his merits would place him back several yards. He is a well-known target shot, but it was said of him that he has had but little work on live birds. His work was prompt and clean throughout, and it seemed that he could have shot the balance of the week, at the distance, without a miss. Messrs. Elliott and Class, I imagine, were not slow to see his advantage and were ready for a "divvy." As the event now stands the winners of this event are: For 1893, R. A. Welch first; Noel E. Money second; George Work third. For 1894, T. W. Morfey first; Capt. A. W. Money second; Fred G. Moore third. For 1895, J. G. Messner first; J. A. R. Elliott second; Frank Class third.

The following shows the rounds in which the shooters missed and which finally dropped them out: W. S. Edey, 10th, 21st. 23rd; H. S. White, 2nd, 3rd, 7th; H. C. Higginson, 8th, 17th, 23rd; W. G. Clark, 11th, 13th, 17th; Chas. Zwirlein, 5th, 6th, 19th; J. S Duston, 1st, 2nd, 7th; M M. Mayhew, 2nd, 10th, 11th; W. T. Ingersoll, 4th, 7th, 9th; Allan Willey, 8th, 17th, 24th; T. W. Morfey, 4th, 6th, 17th; A. W. Du Bray, 6th, 7th, 12th; T. C. Wright, 5th, 8th, 14th; Geo. Work, 5th, 7th and withdrew; B. A. Bartlett, 3rd, 12th, 13th; M. F. Lindsley, 3rd, 9th, 13th; J. S. Sedam, 1st, 5th, 9th; E. W. Morgan, 5th, 10th, 14th; S. Glover, 1st, 2nd, 16th; J. W. Hoffmann, 2nd, 3rd, 8th; "Burdette," 3rd, 8th, 14th; J. A. Jones, 1st, 2nd, 6th; W. N. Drake, 1st, 10th, 15th; O. F. Mellot, 1st, 14th, 15th; H. R. Sweeney, 6th, 10th, 23rd; L. G. "Henry," 17th, 22nd and withdrew; Capt. A. W. Money, 1st, 2nd, 23rd; Fred Moore, 3rd, 4th, 9th: Phil Daly Jr., 3rd, 4th, 8th; E. D. Fulford, 2nd, 10th, 11th (all dead out of bounds); E J. Cleave, 5th, 15th, 17th; E. L. Post, 6th, 8th, 10th; F. E. Bennett, 1st, 3rd, 10th; J. D. Arnold, 9th, 11th and withdrew; W. J. Simpson, 8th, 10th, 18th; H. D. Schwartz, 2nd, 4th, 8th; Rolla Heikes, 10th, 13th, 17th; W. W. Bennett, 10th, 11th, 21st; Chas. Lenone, 4th, 5th, 6th; J. H. Outwater, 6th, 8th, 10th; T. Eley, 5th, 7th, 11th; H. S. Young, 1st, 2nd, 4th; F. L. Train, 7th, 11th, 17th.

Shooters, at times, were slow in getting to the traps, but it was principally because a second set of traps was running and they were often shooting over them when called in the handicap race.

Event No. 5.—Grand American Handicap, 25 live birds, $25 entrance; $1,000 guaranteed by the Interstate Association and all surplus added. First money $760, second money $456, third money $304.

	Yards
W. S. Edey	28	2222222220	2222222222	020w.	—20
H. S. White	25	20*2220w			— 4
H. C. Higginson	27	2222222022	2222220222	12*w.	—20
W. G. Clark	30	2222212122	0101120w		—14
Frank Hyde	27	2222222220	2222222222	20222	—23
Chas. Zwirlein	29	2121001212	122211120w		—16
J. L. Brewer	33	2212222222	2121022122	22222	—24
J. S. Duston	28	0*11210w			— 4
E. F. Thomas	28	1122212221	2222222222	20122	—24
N. E. Money	25	1222222220	2222222220	11122	—23
M. M. Mayhew	28	2022222220	*w		— 8
A. L. Ivins	30	2122222122	2212122202	21222	—24
W. T. Ingersoll	27	1210220 20w.			— 6
Allen Willey	28	2222220222	2222220222	2220w	—22
T. W. Morfey	32	2220202222	2222220w.		—14
A. W. Du Bray	29	2222100212	2*w		— 9
T. C. Wright	27	1222020222	221*w		—11
Geo. Work	31	222202*w			— 5
A. B. Bartlett	27	2201222222	200w		—10
F. V. Van Dyke	30	2120222222	2222222222	22222	—24
M. F. Lindsley	29	2202222202	220w		—10
J. G. Messner	25	1222122211	2222222222	22222	—25
T. S. Sedam	29	0122012220w			— 6
E. W. Morgan	26	2222022220	2220w		—11
Sim Glover	30	0012121122	112220w		—13
J. W. Hoffmann	28	220022220w			— 5
"Burdette"	26	2202222*22	2220w		—11
T. A. Jones	28	0*1220w			—3
W. N. Drake	27	0112212220	21120w		—12
B. Le Roy	28	2*12222202	2212222122	12222	—23
E. C. George	25	1211101222	2022212112	22111	—23
Frank Class	32	2222222222	2222222222	22222	—25
Neaf Apgar	30	2222221222	2122222*222	22222	—24
O. F. Melot	29	0111222222	222*0w		—12
H. R. Sweeney	27	2222202220	2212222122	110w	—20
L. G. "Henry"	28	2222222222	2222220222	202w	—21
O. R. Dickey	28	2222220222	2222222212	12212	—24
Capt. A. W. Money	31	0011212221	2212212222	220w	—20
F. G. Moore	30	220022222*w			— 6
J. A. R. Elliott	33	1222222222	2222222222	22222	—25
Phil Daly Jr.	28	220022220w			— 5
E. D. Fulford	32	2*22222222*	*w		— 8
E. J. Cleave	26	2222*22222	222201*w		—13
E. L. Post	28	21121*1020w			— 7
F. E. Bennett	29	0202121210w			— 7
J. D. Arnold	26	2112122201	0w		— 9
W. J Simpson	29	2222222201*	21212120w		—15
H. D. Swartz	27	2020202 10w			— 5
T. S. Taylor	28	0211122211	2220222221	22222	—23
F. D. Kelsey	29	2122122122	*2222222222	22222	—24
R. O. Heikes	31	2222222220	22*1212210	w	—17
W. W. Bennett	30	2212122220	01121222221	0w	—18
Chas. Lenone	27	212000w			— 3
J. W. Coulston	28	112*222222	2222112*22	22120	—22
J. W. Outwater	28	2211201020	w		— 7
T. Eley	29	2222030211	0w		— 8
H. S. Young	27	0010w			— 1
F. L. Train	28	1222120211	0121220w.		—14

Ties on 25 straight shot off at 10 birds each.

J. G. Messner	2222222222-10	Elliott	1122*21221—9
Class	222222*002—7

The guns, shells, powder and shot used by the participants were as follows:

Name	Yards	Gun	Shell	Powder	No. Shot
W. S. Edey	28	Francotte	U. M. C. and V. L. & D.	Schultze	7
A. S. White	25	Lefever	Smokeless	E. C.	9 and 7
H. C. Higginson	27	Francotte	Trap	Schultze	7 and 6
W. G. Clark	30	Greener	Lightning	E. C.	7½ and 6
Frank Hyde	27	Greener	Smokel. and Lightning.	Wood	7 and 6
Chas. Zwirlein	29	Smith	Smokeless	E. C.	7
J. L. Brewer	33	Greener	Trap	E. C.	7
J. S. Duston	28	Smith	Smokeless	Du Pont	8 and 7
E. F. Thomas	28	Greener	Trap	E. C. and Schultze	7
N. E. Money	28	Parker	Trap	E. C.	7
M. M. Mayhew	28	Lefever	Lightning	Wood	7
A. L. Ivins	30	Greener	Rapid	Wood	7
W. T. Ingersoll	27	Parker	Trap	Du Pont	7
Allen Willey	28	Greener	Trap and Winchester	Wood	7 and 6
T. W. Morfey	32	Greener	Trap	E. C.	7
A. W. Du Bray	29	Parker	Trap	E. C.	7 and 6
T. C. Wright	27	Smith	Rapid	Schultze	7
Geo. Work	31	Purdy	Trap	E. C.	7
B. A. Bartlett	27	Burgess	Smokeless	Schultze	7
F. V. Van Dyke	30	Winchester	Leader	Du Pont and Schultze	7
Milt Lindsley	29	Smith	Trap	Wood	7
J. G. Messner	25	Parker	Trap	Du Pont	7
J. S. Sedam	29	Smith	Trap	Du Pont	7
E. W. Morgan	26	Francotte	Trap	E. C.	7
S. Glover	30	Greener	Trap	Wood	7
J. W. Hoffmann			Smokeless	Wood	7
			Trap	Du Pont	7
			Trap	Du Pont	7
			Eley	E. C.	7
			Smokeless	Wood	7
	25		Trap and Smokeless	E. C	7
			Trap	Schultze	7
			Walsrode	Walsrode	7
O. F. Melot	29	Francotte	Imp. Walsrode	Walsrode	7 and 6
H. R. Sweeney	27	Greener	Smokeless	Du Pont	7
L. G. "Henry"	28	Greener	Trap	E. C.	7
O. R Dickey	28	Parker	Rapid	Wood	7
Capt. A. W. Money	31	Greener	Trap	E. C.	7
Fred G. Moore	30	Purdy	Trap	Schultze	7
J. A. R. Elliott	33	Greener	Leader	E. C.	7
Phil J. Daly Jr.	28	Grant	Walsrode	Walsrode	7
E. D. Fulford	32	Greener	Trap	E. C.	7
E. J. Cleave	26	Smith	Trap	E. C.	7
E. L. Post	28	Parker	Trap	E. C.	7
F. E. Bennett	29	Smith	Trap	Wood	7 and 6
J. D. Arnold	26	Greener	Rapid	Du Pont	7
W. J. Simpson	29	Scott	Trap	Schultze	7
H. D. Schwartz	27	Scott	Smokeless	Wood	7
J. S. Taylor	28	Francotte	Trap	E. C.	7 and 6
T. D. Kelsey	29	Smith	Trap	Schultze	7
R. Heikes	31	Winchester	Winchester	Wood	7
W. W. Bennett	30	Greener	Trap	Du Pont	7
Chas. Lenone	27	Greener	Walsrode and Rapid.	Walsrode and E. C.	7
G. W. Coulston	28	Greener	Lightning	E. C.	7
J. H. Outwater	28	Smith	Trap	Wood	7
T. J. Eley	29	Smith	Smokeless	E. C.	7
H. S. Young	27	Greener	Trap	Schultze	7
F. L. Train	28	Francotte	Trap	E. C.	7 and 6

HIGHLAND SWEEPSTAKES

This event was decided on the third day—the best day of the tournament—there being a better light and temperature for the shooters. The ties in this event were shot off, as the scores show. Those making clean scores of seven were Fulford, Class, Higginson, Taylor, Brewer, Du Bray, W. W. Bennett, Post, Capt. Money, Carl Von Lengerke, Dickey and Henry, a total of twelve. In shooting off the tie at five birds, the following killed all and then divided first: Fulford, Class, Higginson, Brewer, Du Bray, Bennett and Dickey, total of seven, and they received $15.55 each. Those in the second tie and who shot out seven birds before dividing, when they got $5.85 each, were Coulston, Melot, Keller, Simpson, Sweeney, Van Dyke, Wright, Sedam and Thomas. Those falling in the ties were Quimby, Willey, Moore, Mayhew, Train and Duston. Nine tied on six and shot down to three, viz.: A. S. White, T. W. Morfey and E. F. Thomas, each getting $20.30, faring best of all of the forty-seven entries. Following are the conditions and the scores:

Event No. 6.—Highland Sweepstakes, 7 birds, $7 entrance, class shooting, 28 yards rise, three moneys, 50, 30 and 20 per cent. Price of birds deducted from the purse: Fulford 7, Quimby 6, Greene 5, Burbridge 1, Wild 3, Willey 6, Piercy 5, Coulston 6, Melot 6, Kellar 6, Jones 3, Simpson 6, Moore 6, Mayhew 6, Sweeney 6, Edey 4, Class 7, Bartlett 7, Van Dyke 6, Schwartz 5, Higginson 7, Taylor 7, Brewer 7, Du Bray 7, Cleave 4, Lenone 4, A. S. White 5, Zwirlein 5, Hoffman 2, Kirkover 4, W. W. Bennett 7, F. L. Train 6, T. C. Wright 6, Mosher 5, Sedam 6, F. E. Bennett 6, Post 7, Williams 5, Capt. Money 7, W. Devoe 5, Morfey 5, Thomas 6, Glover 1, Duston 6, Carl Von Lengerke 7, Dickey 7, Henry 7.

KITTATINNY SWEEPSTAKES

This was another event in which the money went to the three high guns and a miss was equivalent to an out. The following killed 7 straight and divided, getting $18.50 each: Capt. Money, Fred Moore, A. Melot, D. A. Hopper, "Le Roy," Lindsley, Sedam and Sweeney.

Event No. 7.—Kittatinny Sweepstakes, 7 live birds, $5 entrance, birds extra; not class shooting; 28 yards rise; three moneys, 50, 30 and 20 per cent.: Coulston 2, Capt. Money 7, Glover 1, Morfey 4, Simpson 0, Moore 7, N. Money 2, Melot 7, D. A. Hopper 7, Morgan 3, Fulford 1, "Le Roy" 7, Mayhew 3, Lindsley 7, Sedam 7, Zwirlein 0, Sweeney 7, Duston 4, Hyde 5, Post 1, Du Bray 3, Fisher 2, Dickey 6, Train 4, Clary 1, Pilkington 0.

This completed the finished stakes up to Friday night and was the advertised time to close the tournament; but as there were plenty of birds and shooters who expressed a desire to shoot on Saturday the announcement of a continuance was made.

It is but just to say before closing this report that Mr. Shaner was untiring, as usual, in his efforts to please all; was firm, but obliging in all his duties, and the conduct of the shoot was in line with his former efforts, which are well known. The handicappers and referee were Mr. John S. Hoey and Mr. Jacob Pentz, who have a line on the shooters and generally get them where they belong. Mr. J. A. H. Dressel, the secretary-treasurer, was on hand the first and second days and had an obliging substitute on the third day. Mr. Dressel makes friends of all he comes in contact with and his duties are always promptly and accurately attended to. Mr. Wolf, in charge of No. 2 set of traps, kept them going in good form, being attentive and pleasant to all.

An incident of the shoot was the recovery, by Dr. Knowlton, of his gun lost about a year ago at the Gilsey House, where it was stolen and, as it proved, was sold to a dealer, Mr. J. P. Dannefelser, in New York, of whom Mr. T. C. Wright, of Paterson, N. J., bought it. Dr. Knowlton recognizing the gun mentioned the fact of its being his to Mr. Wright, who promptly returned it to him, refusing to use it longer, and went to his home for another gun and continued in the handicap race. Capt. Money had the E. C. tent up on the grounds, in which he kept a heater, and it proved comfortable and popular quarters. Capt. Money and his son were happy that those using E. C. powder won all the money in the handicap events of 1893 and 1894, and shared in the winnings of the present one of 1895.

With each year the Great American Handicap seems to increase in favor. In 1893 the money distributed in it was $755; in 1894, $1,335, and in 1895 $1,520. With this ratio of increase it should reach nearly $2,000 in 1897. A few of those present and not shooting were: Messrs. Likely, Leicht, Taggart and Brown of the Newburg club; Messrs. Meyer and Smith of Kingston; Dane and Everinghim of Peekskill; Geo. A. Barker of Cobweb club, West Farms, N. Y.; W. R. Patton, Long Branch; W. Watrous, Tuxedo Park; Leander Campbell, Little Silver, N. J.; Joseph Wheaton and W. A. Adley, N. J.; John H. Long and J. R. Long, Orange, N. J.; Irby Bennett, Memphis, Tenn.; S. P. Fessenden, L. H. Schortemeier, J. Blenderman, Al Heritage, W. Fred Quimby, J. L. Smith, Asa Whitenead, Dr. Jackson, Sam'l Cassell, J. N. Young, H. A. Sage, Jno. Brenner, A. S. Weiber, Dr. Knowlton, Junius H. Davis and W. H. Sterling.

The scores made at the extra set of traps were as follows;

Event No. 1.—Miss and out, $2 entrance: Henry 4, Morfey 3, Du Bray 0, Mayhew 4, Fulford 4, Cleave 0, Williams 3.

Event No. 2.—Same as preceding: Mayhew 9, Morfey 9, Du Bray 9, Cleave 0, Henry 2, Williams 1, Fulford 0.

Event No. 3.—Same as before: Henry 4, Fulford 3, Morfey 2, Williams 1, Mayhew 4, Du Bray 4, Cleave 3.

Event No. 4.—Same again: Fulford 7, Henry 4, Morfey 7, Mayhew 1, Du Bray 5, Bush 7, Williams 2.

Event No. 5.—Miss and out, $2 entrance: Henry 2, Bush 3, Fulford 3, Du Bray 0, Mayhew 3, Morfey 1, Collins 1, Williams 0.

Event No. 6.—Another of the same: Du Bray 0, Morfey 3, Mayhew 5, Henry 4, Williams 0, Fulford 5, Bush 5.

Event No. 7.—Same: Mayhew 0, Henry 1, Morfey 3, Du Bray 1, Bush 8, Kirkover 8, Williams 7, Fulford 8.

Event No. 8.—Same: Fulford 4, Henry 3, Mayhew 4, Bush 3, Kirkover 0.

Event No. 9.—Same: Le Roy 1, Morfey 11, Moore 17, Capt. Money 17, Lindsley 2, Melot 10, Maynew 16, Sedam 16, Post 6, Train 2, Pilkington 2, Donally 1, Heikes 0, Sweeney 4, Hopper 1, Kirkover 5, Kellar 5, Cleave 0, N. Money 3, Eley 0, Smith 3, Meyer 3, Utter 6, Morgan 3, Dickey 4, P. J. Clark 8, Glover 3, Devoe 5, Coulston 7, Zwirlein 6.

THE ROCKFORD TOURNAMENT

Rockford, Ill.

Editor American Field:—The Rockford Gun Club's tournament, held last week, was favored with good weather and a fair attendance. Rockford is one of the most enterprising cities in the state. Its ample water power causes large manufacturing interests to center here, and as money is usually plentiful and times good in such a city, it is nothing more than could be expected to find here a gun club of the "first water" order.

The club has splendid accommodations in the way of a first-class club house, while the trap pits and houses for same are of the most approved kind. I found a combination that gave good satisfaction, and it was nothing less than Blue Rock traps having the Empire wire pull, and the targets were both the Empire and the Peoria.

The visitors present were Charles Grimm of Clear Lake, Ia.; C. A. Damon of Buffalo, N. Y.; John Ruble and Oswald Von Lengerke of Chicago; Mr. Shannon and Mr. Bentley of Beloit, Minn.; and "Tramp" Irwin of Peoria. All were well pleased with the way they were treated by the local contingent.

The supply of live birds was in excess of the demand, as some 200 were left over. This was partially due to the failure of Dr. Carver and the Hon. Tom Marshall to put in their appearance. Many were disappointed in not having the pleasure of seeing Carver handle the scattergun. The reason was this: Dr. Carver is not a man to disappoint anyone, but he contracted a very severe cold while out after ducks and was not able to travel.

All target shooting was known trap, unknown angles, rapid fire, which together with the cross wind accounts for the low scores made throughout by most of those taking part. The scores made were as given below:

Shoot No. 1.—10 singles, entrance $1.30: Grimm, Henry, Irwin and Buker tied for first; Haines won second.

Shoot No. 2.—15 singles, entrance $2: Grimm 14, Vance 13, Helm 12, Henry 11, each winning money without a tie.

Shoot No. 3.—5 live birds, entrance $3.

Bentley	11111-5	Shannon	10111-4
Helm	10111-4	Cornell	10000-1
Buker	11111-5	Henry	10101-3
Grimm	10111-4	Cassidy	10100-2
Vance	11111-5

Shoot No. 4.—20 single targets, entrance $2.60: Dr. Helm 11, C. Helm 18, Grimm 17, Damon 13, Henry 15, Buker 13, Haines 13, White 15, Vance 14.

Shoot No. 5.—10 singles, entrance $1.30.

Grimm	0111001100—5	Henry	1111011111—9
Damon	1010110011—6	White	1110110110—7
Dr. Helm	1110011111—8	Vance	1110011110—7
C. Helm	1110111111—9	Buker	1011011111—8
Shannon	1010011001—5	Haines	1101011101—7
Cassidy	1001111010—5	Irwin	1111011101—8

Shoot No. 6.—15 singles, entrance $1.15: Damon 12, Henry 14, Dr. Helm 10, C. Helm 14, Haines 10, Grimm 12, Vance 11, Irwin 10, White 14, Bean 12, Buker 11.

Shoot No. 7.—10 live birds, entrance $7.50.

C. Helm	1121000202—6	Damon	1021001212—7
Grimm	0122222222—9	Von Lengerke	2220200222—7
Bentley	1201101102—7	Buker	1211211211-10
Henry	1020111021—7	Shannon	1221011222—9
Bean	2102102121—8

Shoot No. 8.—10 single targets, entrance $1.30: Grimm 8, Henry 7, White 8, Von Lengerke 7, C. Helm 9, Damon 9, Vance 8, Buker 7, Dr. Helm 5 Monteith 6, Bean 9, Irwin 8.

Shoot No. 9.—10 singles, entrance $1.30: Grimm 9, Henry 6, Von Lengerke 5, C. Helm 8, Vance 8, Montieth 7, Bean 7, White 8, Irwin 10, Damon 8, Dr. Helm 6, Buker 7.

Shoot No. 10.—7 live birds, entrance $5: Grimm 6, Helm 5, Henry 6, Bentley 3, Buker 6, Shannon 6, Bean 5, Monteith 2, Throop 4.

Shoot No. 11.—10 single targets, entrance $1.30: Grimm 9, Damon 7, Henry 10, Helm 8, Buker 6, White 10, Von Lengerke 5, Peterson 6, Cassidy 3, Throop 5, Shannon 4, Malone 8, Vance 6, Irwin 8, Haines 7, Bean 10, Herring 3, Monteith 6.

Shoot No. 12.—10 singles, entrance $1.30: Grimm 9, Vance 7, Henry 7, Buker 9, Bean 8, White 8, Damon 10, Mulary 8, Von Lengerke 8, Throop 6, Helm 10, Haines 9.

Shoot No. 13.—10 singles, entrance $1.30: Herring 0, Irwin 8, Grimm 8, White 8, Bean 9, Buker 7, Henry 9. Helm 7, Damon 5, Von Lengerke 7, Throop 7, Haines 8, Howe 4, Raup 3, Malana 8.

Shoot No. 14.—5 live birds, entrance $2.50: C. Helm 4, Shannon 4, Grimm 5, Irwin 5, Buker 5, Bentley 3, Throop 4, Damon 3, Henry 5, White 5.

Shoot No. 15.—10 single targets, entrance $1.20: Grimm 9, Irwin 8, Buker 9, Henry 9, Helm 10, Malana 6.

Shoot No. 16.—10 singles, entrance $1.30: Damon 7, Grimm 9, Henry 7, Helm 9, Irwin 8, Malana 7, Throop 8, Haines 7.

SECOND DAY

Shoot No. 1.—10 single targets, entrance $1.30: Dr. Bean first; Grimm and Damon second; Helm and Buker third; Southard fourth.

Shoot No. 2.—15 singles, entrance $2: Grimm first; Helm second; Buker third: Dr. Bean fourth.

Shoot No. 3.—5 live birds, entrance $3: Grimm 3, Dr. Bean 5, C. B. Helm 3, Bentley 2, Buker 4, Haines 4.

Shoot No. 4.—20 single targets, entrance $2.60: C. B. Helm first; Grimm second; Damon third; Bean fourth.

Shoot No. 5.—10 singles, entrance $1.30.

Grimm	1111111111-10	Helm	0111101101—7
Damon	1111011011—8	Dr. Helm	1110100111—7
Bean	1111111011—9	White	1111111010—8
Buker	1010110011—6	Southard	1111101110—8
Jones	1110100111—7	Haines	1111110110—8

Shoot No. 6.—15 singles, entrance $1.45: Grimm 14, Helm 13, Buker 9, Bean 15, Damon 12, Helm 10, Haines 14, Southard 12, Irwin 13, White 12.

Shoot No. 7.—10 live birds, entrance $7.50; Grimm 10, Bentley 3, Buker 9, Helm 8. Irwin 9, Shannon 8, Throop 7.

Shoot No. 8.—10 single targets, entrance $1.30: Grimm 9, Damon 10, Helm 9, Buker 8, Henry 10, Southard 9, Jones 5, Bean 8, Throop 6, Haines 7, White 8.

Shoot No. 9.—10 singles, entrance $1.30: Grimm 9, Damon 8, Helm 9, Bean 10, White 9, Henry 9, Throop 8, Buker 9, Haines 7.

Shoot No. 10.—10 singles, entrance $1.30: Grimm 8, Damon 10, Henry 9, Helm 9, Buker 8, Bean 10, Throop 7, Malana 9. Haines 7.

Shoot No. 11.—10 singles, entrance $1.30: Damon 10, Grimm 10, Henry 10, Helm 9, Buker 8, Bean 8, Throop 8, Malana 8, Haines 6.

Shoot No. 12.—10 singles, entrance $1.30: Grimm 10, Damon 8, Helm 10, Malana 9, Buker 7, Henry 9, Jones 4, Throop 8, White 6.

Shoot No. 13.—5 pairs targets, entrance $1.30: Grimm 7, Damon 9, Malana 9, Buker 3, Throop 6, Helm 9, Henry 9, Haines 5, Bean 4, White 6.

Shoot No. 14.—15 singles, entrance $1.45: Grimm 13, Bean 13, Henry 15, Helm 13, Malana 10, Buker 9, Damon 12, Throop 10, Haines 11.

R. A. Ford.

TRAP AT SEATTLE

Seattle, Wash,

Editor American Field:—On March 21 two live bird matches were shot here under most unfavorable conditions as to the weather. For a time during the afternoon the elements seemed to have let themselves loose and a storm raged with terrible fury. Hail and snow came down alternately and was driven fiercely into the faces of the shooters. As a consequence high scores were almost impossible to make. At certain stages during the shoot the sun came out for a few minutes, but was soon hid again by the gathering clouds and then the rain would come down in torrents. The birds, with but few exceptions, were slow.

The Churchill—"Jackson" match of 100 birds to a man for $200 a side, was won by the former, the score standing 82 to 77, "Jackson" being shot out on the ninety-fifth round.

The Miner—Eberly match of 50 birds for $75 a side, was won by the Tacoma man, Mr. W. A. Eberly, who, by the way, was shooting in excellent form, almost invariably hitting his birds in the center with the first barrel. He had no trouble in getting onto his birds, bringing the majority of them down close to the trap. Capt. Miner, his opponent, although he shot well up to the thirtieth round, at this stage of the race seemed to go to pieces, losing five out of his next ten. Owing to the inclement weather the crowd was not very large, yet great interest was taken in the result of the matches.

A miss and out and a 7-bird sweep made up the sweeps of the day, the scores of which I append.

Mr. Churchill was handled by "Stevens" of this city, while "Jackson" was taken care of by E. E. Ellis of Tacoma.

W. A. Eberly, in his match with Capt. Miner, was handled by "Jackson," while "Stevens" acted in a like capacity for the Captain.

Mr. W. E. McKee of Seattle was stakeholder in both races.

Messrs. C. F. Treat of Seattle and Dr. Smith of Tacoma were official scorers in both matches. American Shooting Association rules governed both contests.

Our next shoot here will probably not take place until Decoration Day, or thereabouts, when I expect to have a lot of wild pigeons. I am now making arrangements to have a large number of birds, both tame and wild, the coming Spring.

Match at 100 birds per man for $200 a side, between A. K. Churchill of Seattle and "Jackson" of Tacoma. W. A. Hardy referee; W. E. McNaughton trap puller. Scores:

Churchill	1000122022	2010221222	2022220122	1202222212	0222122221
	2222222222	2222000122	0222212122	2222012222	02222222—82
"Jackson"	2221220202	0112200100	1222002222	2102222022	2222122122
	1202210222	2211222021	0220200012	2111221022	2221222—77

Match at 50 live birds per man for $75 a side between Capt. Miner and W. A. Eberly. W. A. Hardy referee; Mr. W. E. McNaughton trap puller.

W. A. Eberly	2021122221	2222222222	1222101222	1022222222	22222—42
Capt. Miner	2212220222	1210201202	2222222222	1022201000	22120—35

Event No. 1.—Miss and out, $2.50 entrance, birds extra: Stimson 0, "Stevens" 1, Purdy 1, Charles 1, Schumpf 2, Wallingford 0, McKee 4, Graff 3, "Jackson" 3, Eberly 1, McNaughton 0.

Event No. 2.—7 birds, entrance $5, three moneys.

Purdy	0222121—6	McKee	2121122—7
*Schlumpf	2121121—7	Miner	2122221—7
*Stimson	2111222—7	Graff	1020012—4
Charles	1011011—5	"Jackson"	1111001—5
Stevens	0222121—6	Wallingford	2122222—7
Calhoun	0211121—6

*Not in sweep.

McKee, Miner and Wallingford divided first money; Purdy, Stevens and Calhoun divided second; Charles and "Jackson," after shooting off on three more birds, tied and divided.

C. F. Graff.

BERGEN ROD AND GUN CLUB

An exceptionally good day's sport was enjoyed by members of this club at their shooting grounds at Flatlands, Long Island. Five events besides a team shoot were decided. The teams were designated respectively, Reynolds' "Trigger Pullers" and Rodgers' "Shell Punctures." The regular club competition and the handicap event had a goodly number of entries. The scores:

EVENT No. 1.—Regular monthly club competition at 7 live birds: Edward J. Reynolds, 30 yards, 7; Arthur J. Valentine, 30 yards, 7; Henry K. Brownell, 29 yards, 6; James W. Rodgers, 29 yards, 5; William H. Rynhart, 29 yards, 5; Peter J. Comiskey, 28 yards, 5; Patrick W. O'Brien, 28 yards, 6; Edward J. Olliver, 27 yards, 4; Henry J. Smith, 26 yards, 5; Lawrence A. Burns, 26 yards, 6; Jordan W. Elliott, 27 yards, 5; Robert J. Valentine, 26 yards, 5; Thomas P. Smith, 26 yards, 5; James W. Ellery, 27 yards, 4.

EVENT No. 2.—Handicap sweepstake race at 5 live birds: Edward J. Reynolds, 30 yards, 5; Arthur J. Valentine, 30 yards, 4; Henry K. Brownell, 29 yards, 4; James W. Rodgers, 29 yards, 5; William H. Ryuhart, 29 yards, 3; Peter J. Comiskey, 28 yards, 4; Patrick W. O'Brien, 28 yards, 5; Edward J. Olliver, 27 yards, 2; Henry J. Smith, 26 yards, 4; Lawrence A. Burns, 26 yards, 3; Jordan W. Elliott, 27 yards, 4; Robert J. Valentine, 26 yards, 3; Thomas P. Smith, 26 yards, 2; James W. Ellery, 27 yards, 3.

EVENT No. 3.—Edward J. Reynolds, 30 yards, 3; Arthur J. Valentine, 30 yards, 5; Henry K. Brownell, 29 yards, 3; James W. Rodgers, 29 yards, 4; Wm. H. Rynhart, 29 yards, 2; Peter J. Comiskey, 28 yards, 4; Patrick W. O'Brien, 28 yards, 3; Edward J. Olliver, 27 yards, 4; Henry J. Smith, 26 yards, 3; Lawrence A. Burns, 26 yards, 3; Jordan W. Elliott, 27 yards, 3; Robert J. Valentine, 26 yards, 2; Thomas P. Smith, 26 yards, 1; James W. Ellery, 27 yards, 3.

EVENT No. 4.—Edward J. Reynolds, 30 yards, 5; Arthur J. Valentine, 30 yards, 5; Henry K. Brownell, 29 yards, 4; James W. Rodgers, 29 yards, 3; William H. Rynhart, 29 yards, 2; Peter J. Comiskey, 28 yards, 2; Patrick W. O'Brien, 28 yards, 2; Edward J. Olliver, 27 yards, 5; Henry J. Smith, 26 yards, 4; Lawrence A. Burns, 26 yards, 3; Thomas P. Smith, 26 yards, 3; Jordan W. Elliott, 27 yards, 4; James W. Ellery, 27 yards, 3.

EVENT No. 5.—Edward J. Reynolds, 30 yards, 4; Arthur J. Valentine, 30 yards, 5; Henry K. Brownell, 29 yards, 0; James W. Rogers, 29 yards, 1; William H. Rynhart, 28 yards, 2; Peter J. Comiskey, 28 yards, 3; Patrick W. O'Brien, 28 yards, 2; Edward J. Olliver, 27 yards, 1; Henry J. Smith, 26 yards, 0; Lawrence A. Burns, 26 yards, 2; Jordan W. Elliott, 27 yards, 0; Robert J. Valentine, 26 yards, 1; Thomas P. Smith, 26 yards, 3; James W. Ellery, 27 yards, 1.

The program terminated with the usual team shoot, as follows:

"Reynolds' Trigger Pullers"—Edward J. Reynolds, 30 yards, 5; James W. Ellery, 27 yards, 3; Henry K. Brownell, 29 yards, 4; Peter J. Comiskey, 28 yards, 2; Edward J. Olliver, 27 yards, 4; Henry J. Smith, 26 yards, 3; Robert J. Valentine, 26 yards, 4. Total, 25.

"Rodgers' Shell Punctures"—James W. Rodgers, 29 yards, 4; Arthur J. Valentine, 30 yards, 5; William H. Rynhart, 29 yards, 4; Patrick W. O'Brien, 28 yards, 4; Lawrence A. Burns, 26 yards, 3; Jordan W. Elliott, 27 yards, 2; Thomas P. Smith, 26 yards, 2. Total, 24.

TRAP AT SAN ANTONIO

SAN ANTONIO, TEX.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—The regular weekly medal shoot of the San Antonio Gun Club was held on the club's grounds at Lake View, on the afternoon of March 31, which was well attended considering the many counter attractions in the heart of the city. The various German societies, to which many of the gun club members belong, had a grand parade in honor of the laying of the cornerstone of their new $75 000 music hall, and this, naturally enough, kept some away from the shoot, while the inconvenience of reaching the club's grounds at present, as the cars are not running on account of some difficulty between the car company and its employees, also deterred many from coming out. The first event was a preliminary affair just for practice, and therefore the number participating was small. The scores in full follow:

SHOOT No. 1.—Practice, 15 single targets per man: A. W. Adams 13, R. Merrill 15, G. Chabot 7, H. W. Adams 8, P. Shields 8, Carpenter 2.

SHOOT No. 2.—Same as preceding: A. W. Adams 11, R. Merrill 14, G. Chabot 9, H. W. Adams 10, Carpenter 5, Bennett 7, Ellis 10.

SHOOT No. 3.—Medal contest, 30 single targets per man.

A. W. Adams	1110111111 1110111111 1100011000—22
R. Merrill	1111111011 1111111111 1111111111—29
J. Ellis	1111101111 1111111001 1001010001—21
Black	1011011101 1111111110 1111011011—24
Epp	1111101000 0110101111 1101110110—20
Shields	1110111011 0101111111 1001111111—24
Chabot	1100100111 1010110111 0111111101—21
H. W. Adams	1011100100 0110010000 1101111011—16
Simpson	0001010101 0101001110 1111100010—15
Bennett	0011010111 0101101000 0000000110—12
Thiele	1010100100 1100000110 1100010100—12
Grossmann	1100011010 1000001001 0101111010—14
Carpenter	0000000101 0000010100 0011100000— 7

SHOOT No. 4.—8 pairs of targets per man: Merrill 10, A. W. Adams 7, Chabot 6, Ellis 7, Black 6, Simpson 8, Grossman 5, Shields 7, Thiele 8, H. Adams 6.

As Mr. Merrill was called to the score some one of the party cried out: "Look at that large bunch of ducks coming this way!" By the time Merrill had dnished his score the ducks were nearly over his head, and, placing a couple of shells in his gun, he threw it to his shoulder, fired both barrels and brought down a fine male canvas-back duck. He intends to have the bird set up to take home with him as a memento of his visit to San Antonio and the grounds of this club.

SHOOT No. 5.—15 single targets each man: A. W. Adams 14, R. Merrill 15, Black 14, Epp 10, Bennett 8, Ellis 12, Simpson 9, Shields 10.

G. A. CHABOT.

CICOTTE—WOLFE

DETROIT, MICH.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—Three interesting Blue Rock target matches were shot here on March 29. The contestants were Mr. Theo. Cicotte and Mr. Carr Wolfe. The match was shot on the River Rouge grounds. The terms of the contest were: Each man to shoot at 100 Blue Rock targets, everything unknown, for $25 a side; and let me say right now that while the scores made were low the shooting was good, considering the day. The birds were thrown low and hard, and I will have to give the reader that same old chestnut about the wind blowing hard from the east and right across the traps, but in this case, my trap shooting friends, it was blowing good and hard. The men were very evenly matched, as will be seen by their scores. In the 200 birds shot at by each man Mr. Wolfe led by only one bird, the total scored by each being, Wolfe 134, Cicotte 133. The match at 100 birds Cicotte won by a score of 72 to Wolfe's 65. After this match there was considerable talk by both men. The result was that they concluded to take another whirl at 50 birds, same terms—$25 a side—which was won by Mr Wolfe on a score of 38 to Mr. Cicotte's 35. Still they were not satisfied and so they made another match, this time at 25 birds for $25 a side, which resulted in a tie, each scoring 16. In the shoot off at 25 birds Mr. Wolfe won, scoring 15 to Mr. Cicotte's 10. The last 25 birds were shot almost in the dark, as it was getting late.

Meeting at the hotel in the evening the men arranged another match for $50 a side at 150 birds, unknown angles, unknown traps, which is to take place on April 5. As each man has blood in his eye we expect to see the fur fly. Following are the scores:

First match, 100 Blue Rock targets each man.

Cicotte	1011111011 1011100010 1101011111 1111010111 1101110110 1101011111 1101111010 1111111011 0100011111 1001110110—72
Wolfe	0110010111 0000001100 1101001110 1100101011 1010111010 1111100100 1100111111 1111111111 1110011011 1110101111—65

Second match, 50 birds each man.

Cicotte	1111111110 1111011110 1110110011 1110000010 1101101101—35
Wolfe	1111111111 1111111110 0101111100 1001101111 1111000101—38

Third match, 25 birds each man.

Cicotte	0111110100 1011110100 10111—16
Wolfe	1011011100 0000111101 11111—16

The above tie was shot off at 25 birds, Wolfe scoring 15, Cicotte 10. Wolfe won two out of the three matches.

J. K.

CLINTON ROD AND GUN CLUB

There was a good attendance of members and guests at the regular monthly meeting of this club at New Dorp Grove, April 2, when the competitions were lively in the five events at live birds, as the following results show:

EVENT No. 1.—Regular monthly club shooting competition at 7 live birds: Dr. Emil Schrader, 28 yards, 7; Henry K. Williamson, 27 yards, 6; Thomas P. Longrief, 26 yards, 6; Edwin W. Schrader, 26 yards, 6; George J. Kingsland, 26 yards, 5; Louis G. Wilson, 26 yards, 5; Samuel G. Porter, 27 yards, 5; Richard J. Williamson, 27 yards, 4; James O. Henderson, 26 yards, 4; Andrew W. Barton, 27 yards, 4; David C. Schneider, 26 yards, 3; Thomas P. Lee, 26 yards, 2; Richard D. Morgan, 26 yards, 2; William H. Smith, 26 yards, 2.

EVENT No. 2.—Handicap sweepstake race at 5 live birds: George J. Kingsland, 26 yards, 5; Dr. Emil Schrader, 28 yards, 4; David C. Schneider, 26 yards, 4; Thomas P. Lee, 26 yards, 3; Richard D. Morgan, 26 yards, 3; William H. Smith, 26 yards, 2; Thomas P. Longrief, 26 yards, 4; Samuel G. Porter, 27 yards, 4.

EVENT No. 3.—Same conditions: Henry K. Schrader, 26 yards, 5; George J. Kingsland, 26 yards, 4; David C. Schneider, 26 yards, 3; Dr. Emil Schrader, 28 yards, 3; Samuel G. Porter, 25 yards, 3; Richard D. Morgan, 26 yards, 3; Thomas P. Lee, 26 yards, 2.

EVENT No. 4—A handicap sweepstake race at 10 clay birds: Henry K. Williamson, 16 yards, 9; Louis G. Wilson, 16 yards, 9; Richard D. Morgan, 18 yards, 8; Thomas P. Lee, 16 yards, 6; Dr. Emil Schrader, 18 yards, 9; David C. Schneider, 18 yards, 8; Thomas P. Longrief, 16 yards 5; Andrew W. Barton, 16 yards, 8; William H. Smith, 16 yards, 6.

EVENT No. 5—Same conditions: Louis G. Wilson, 16 yards, 9; Richard J. Williamson, 16 yards, 5; Dr. Emil Schrader, 18 yards, 9; Richard D. Morgan, 16 yards, 7; Samuel G. Porter, 18 yards, 4; Henry K. Williamson, 18 yards, 8; George J. Kingsland, 16 yards, 6; William H. Smith, 16 yards, 8; Thomas P. Lee, 16 yards, 7.

NEW YORK GERMAN GUN CLUB

On March 20 eighteen members of this vigorous club had their regular club competition for the club's medals, at Dexter Park, and sixteen of them indulged in sweepstake shooting. Mr. F. Sauter proved the winner of the first medal after a tie contest with Dr. Hudson, who took the second medal. Mr. J. Schlicht won the third medal after defeating two contestants out in ties on seven. The scores:

EVENT No. 1.—Club competition, 8 live birds per man.

F. Sauter	11111111—8	J. Wellbrock	11120012—6
Dr. Hudson	12111111—8	S. Edwards	00221102—5
E. Widmanu	20010211—5	J. Bauer	00000000—½
M. Bandan	00002101—3	J. P. Dannefelser	11220202—6
A. Schmitt	20111000—4	J. Frazer	11111110—7
J. Bosennecker	12001000—3	F. Kransberg	01020011—4
J. Steuernagel	12101111—7	A. Le Mault	01100002—3
J. Schlict	02211222—7	Messmann	01000010—2
H. Thornforde	22111002—6

EVENT No. 2.—Sweepstake, 3 live birds: Hudson 3, Sauter 2, Frazer 2, Schlicht 2, Schmidt 1, Widmann 2, Ziegler 3, Holz 0, Dannefelser 2, Wellbrock 2, Le Mault 2, Boesennecker 2, Kransberg 2.

EVENT No. 3.—Same as preceding: Hudson 3, Sauter 2, Frazer 2, Schlicht 2, Schmitt 1, Widmann 3, Ziegler 0, Dannefelser 2, Wellbrock 1, Le Mault 1, Kransberg 3 Steuernagel 2.

EVENT No. 4.—Same again: Hudson 2, Sauter 3, Frazer 3, Schlicht 3, Schmitt 2, Widmann 1, Ziegler 2, Daunefelser 3, Wellbrock 1, Kransberg 2, Steuernagel 3, Bauer 1, Fiedler 2.

WINFIELD GUN CLUB

Three events were decided on targets—handicap sweepstake—on this club's grounds at Winfield, L. I., April 4. Close scores marked the interesting events.

EVENT No. 1.—Club shoot at 7 clay birds: William H. Hunt, 26 yards, 5; Edward S. Morris, 26 yards, 6; Samuel P. Schleuter, 28 yards, 7; Henry P. Cummings, 26 yards, 6; James W. Heaney, 26 yards, 4; James R. Semon, 26 yards, 3; Andrew J. Henderson, 26 yards, 5; Ulysses V. O'Connor, 26 yards, 5; James J. O'Brien, 28 yards, 7; Henry P. Smith, 25 yards, 5; Edward V. Kent, 29 yards, 6; James W. Colgan, 29 yards, 7.

EVENT No. 2.—Handicap sweepstake, 5 clay birds: James W. Colgan, 18 yards, 5; Edward V. Kent, 18 yards, 4; Henry P. Smith, 16 yards, 3; James J. O'Brien, 18 yards, 5; Ulysses V. O'Connor, 16 yards, 4; Andrew J. Henderson, 16 yards, 2; James R. Semon, 16 yards, 5; James W. Heaney, 18 yards, 1; Henry P. Cummings, 16 yards, 3; Samuel P. Schleuter, 18 yards, 4; Edward S. Morris, 16 yards, 3; William H. Hunt, 16 yards, 3.

EVENT No. 3.—Handicap sweepstake, same conditions: James W. Colgan, 18 yards, 4; Edward V. Kent, 18 yards, 5; Henry P. Smith, 16 yards, 3; James J. O'Brien, 18 yards, 2; Ulysses V. O'Connor, 16 yards, 3; Andrew J. Henderson, 16 yards, 4; James R. Semon, 16 yards, 3; James W. Heaney, 16 yards, 4; Henry P. Cummings, 16 yards, 5; Samuel P. Schleuter, 18 yards, 3; Edward S. Morris, 16 yards, 4; William H. Hunt, 16 yards, 3.

AUVERNE GUN CLUB

Handicap events, four in number, were shot by the members of this club on April 4, at Auverne-by-the-Sea, Long Island. A fair number of members were present, scoring as follows:

EVENT No. 1.—Club handicap, 10 Blue Rocks: George W. Gregory, 16 yards, 7; Thomas D. Benson, 16 yards, 8; John J. Kenney, 16 yards, 5; Louis W. Richardson, 16 yards, 4; Charles D. Morson, 16 yards, 7; Thomas V. Bodine, 16 yards, 4; Henry K. Phillips, 16 yards, 2.

EVENT No. 2.—5 singles, unknown traps and angles: George W. Gregory, 16 yards, 5; Thomas D. Benson, 16 yards, 3; John J. Kenney, 16 yards, 2; Louis W. Richardson, 16 yards, 1; Charles D. Morson, 16 yards, 2; Thomas V. Bodine, 16 yards, 0; Henry K. Phillips, 16 yards, 1.

EVENT No. 3.—Same conditions: George W. Gregory, 16 yards, 5; Thomas D. Benson, 16 yards, 3; John J. Kenney, 16 yards, 3; Louis W. Richardson, 16 yards, 4; Charles D. Morson, 16 yards, 3; Thomas V. Bodine, 16 yards, 2; Henry K. Phillips, 16 yards, 3.

EVENT No. 4.—Same conditions: George W. Gregory, 16 yards, 3; Thomas D. Benson, 16 yards, 2; John J. Kenney, 16 yards, 1; Louis W. Richardson, 16 yards, 0; Charles D. Morson, 16 yards, 2; Thomas V. Bodine, 16 yards, 1; Henry K. Phillips, 16 yards, 3.

CONEY ISLAND ROD AND GUN CLUB

"Uncle Billy" Hughes demonstrated to the other members of this club competing, that he had not lost his cunning, in the shooting way, by winning, for the year, on April 2, the Pfaender diamond badge. "Uncle Billy" was shooting live birds long before some of the present generation of trap shots were born. He was heartily applauded on the result after shooting off the tie with William Lair and Dr. Van Orden, each having previously won the badge twice. The scores, each man shooting at 7 live birds, were: William Lair, 26 yards, 7; Charles Plate, 27 yards, 6; John B. Voorhees, 25 yards, 5; Daniel J. Lynch, 23 yards, 5; Frederick A. Pfaender, 25 yards, 5; Dr. Fuller, 25 yards, 2; Dr. Raynor, 24 yards, 5; William H. Hughes, 27 yards, 5; Frederick McLaughlin, 25 yards, 7; Hugh McLaughlin, 25 yards, 7; Dr. Parker, 25 yards, 7; James J. Shevlin, 23 yards, 4; Dr. J. E. Van Orden, 28 yards, 5; John Schielmann, 25 yards, 5; Charles Setlefsen, 27 yards, 5; Thomas Buckley, 25 yards, 4; Charles Lee Meyers, 25 yards, 5; Henry Muller, 25 yards, 4; Dr. H. Littlefield, 25 yards, 4; Christopher Mohrmann, 23 yards, 6.

WOODSIDE GUN CLUB

Members of this club held their first regular competitions on grounds of one of the club members near the village of Woodside, Long Island, on April 2. After two events, teams of two at 4 birds each, were made up, increasing the interest. The following scores show results:

EVENT No. 1.—10 clay birds: George W. Lewis 9, Thomas V. Corydon 7, Arthur H. Newman 6, Philip A. Cameron 6, David C. Nelson 8, Vincent W. Barnard 9, Herman J. Schleuter 9, Bernard J. Keene 9, George W. Martin 10.

EVENT No. 2.—Same conditions: Lewis 8, Corydon 7, Newman 6, Cameron 3, Nelson 5, Barnard 7, Schleuter 6, Keene 4.

EVENT No. 3.—Team of two match, 4 birds: Lewis and Corydon 7, Newman and Cameron 6, Nelson and Barnard 8, Schleuter and Martin 7.

BLAKLEY VS. PLUM

CHICAGO.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—The first of a series of five matches between the above named gentlemen, at 50 live birds per man, was shot on April 6, at Kensington, Ill. Mr. Blakley is a resident of Kensington and has quite a local reputation, while Mr. Plum is a resident of Englewood and holds the championship of his town. The birds were a lot of hummers. Mr. Chas. H. Huck refereed in an acceptable manner. The scores:

Carl Plum Jr.	0212221222 2122*12211 1*01221012 2221221122 21222*2212—44
Wm. Blakley	2122210221 0222*12012 2122220122 1100122212 1221021121—42

GREEN WING.

SANTA ANA, CAL.—The following scores were [illegible] trap shooters of Orange County, Cal., on March [illegible] the championship gold medal.

The badge was won absolutely by Mr. Pride [illegible] generously concluded, to stimulate trap shoot[illegible] lenge medal of it.

EVENT No. 1.—Medal contest, 25 single Blu[illegible] unknown angles, entrance $1.

Pride	10001[illegible] 19
Mason	1011111[illegible] 1[illegible]10[illegible]1 10[illegible]—19
Parker	1111111011 1111111101 01111—22
West	1011011111 1111100001 00111—17
Griswold	0100100000 1000011100 00010— 7
Kerr	0111111111 1110110111 00101—19
Vaughan	1111001111 1101111111 01111—21
Wilson	0001000001 1101111110 00011—12
Proud	1110101100 0011111001 11111—17
Munson	0000110000 0110000100 00000— 5
E. Parker	0011010000 1001110010 11110—12

Mr. Parker won the medal on a score of 22.

EVENT No. 2.—Sweepstake, 10 singles, known trap, unknown angles, 50 cents entrance, three moneys: Vaughan 9, Pride 4, C. Parker 7, Mason 8, Harris 2, Proud 5, E. Parker 2, Caldwell 7, Griswold 5, Kerr 6.

EVENT No. 3.—Same as preceding.

Pride	0010110111—6	Mason	1111100011—7
West	0010101100—4	Griswold	0000100111—4
C. Parker	1110101101—7	Kerr	1000111111—7
Harris	0111010101—6	Caldwell	0001001000—2
Vaughan	1011101111—8

EVENT No. 4.—Same as before: Mason 8, Vaughan 8, Pride 3, Griswold 5, Kerr 9, Parker 8, West 4.

JIM.

HARTFORD, CONN.—Scores as given below were made by members of the Colt Hammerless Gun Club on April 6, each man shooting at 25 single targets under American Shooting Association rules.

Thompson	1001101011 0110010011 01110—14
Hoskins	0010110010 1000010100 10010— 9
Owen Treat	1011100101 1111111011 10111—19
Cook	1110110110 1111110110 11011—19
Peard	1001100110 1010100110 00111—13
Olmstead	0001010010 0101110110 10100—11
Colt	1100111010 1111101111 10110—18
Green	1111111111 1110111110 11111—23
Pitkin	1101111101 1111101111 11111—22
Manross	1001101101 1011101101 10111—17
Alger	0111100111 1011110110 11011—18
C. Bailey	1001111010 1110111011 10111—18
A. Bailey	0110101101 1101111011 10101—17
Burke	0001101001 1001001010 10010—10
Goodwin	1110101110 1111001110 10011—17
Nelson	1111101011 0111001111 11011—19
Pitt	1111111101 1111101111 10111—22
Kehoe	1001101110 0110110110 11101—16
Hills	1111111101 1111011111 10111—22
Sibley	0000100100 1011011010 01001—10
Foster	0010001001 0101110101 00110—11

G.

WORCESTER, MASS.—Members of the Worcester Sportsmen's Club in a recent contest for the Forehand trophy, each man shooting at 25 targets Keystone system and 25 reversed system, made the following scores:

C. Forehand	1111101111 1111111111 1111111101 1111111100 1101110111—44
A. W. Walls	1111111111 1011111110 1111111011 1111110111 1110111011—44
W. H. Burk	0101111111 1111111011 1111111110 1111111101 1111011100—42
Kennersou	1111111111 1111091111 1111111011 1101111001 1101110011—41
Mascroft	1011111111 1111111111 1111101001 0011111111 1100100101—39
Davis	1111001010 1101010101 0110111111 1111111111 1111010101—37
R. C. Walls	1111011110 0111111111 1011011110 0111001110 1111011110—38
McLellan	1110111110 0111001100 1100001111 1101011111 1101010111—34
Ide	0010100011 1111101111 1011001111 1110101001 0111001111—33
Kinney	0101111010 0001111011 0011010100 1100101111 0111111111—32
Knowles	1011001100 1110100011 1101111111 1011100010 0010100111—30
Bucklin	1111111100 1010011001 1010100001 1100010001 1001111100—27
Hoyle	1010111111 0011101010 1010000110 0100100100 0001101111—26

Messrs. Forehand and A. W. Walls tied for the trophy and shot the tie off on 15 birds each under each system, or a total of 30. Scores as follows:

Forehand	1111111111 0111111111 1011011111—27
Walls	1111111110 0011111001 0101111111—23

SPORTSMAN.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—The scores which are appended were made by members of the Brunswick Gun Club at their regular monthly shoot on March 30, each man shooting at 20 single targets, known traps, unknown angles:

J. A. Blish	11111100111101111111 17	C. Van Nuis	11000111101110011111—14
V. S. Voorhees—	11111110111101011101—16	J. Fisher	10001101011011110111—13
		R. M. Pettit	10100111111001011010—12
R. C. Nicholas—	11101110111011111110—16	A. L. Mundy—	00001111101100011110—12
H. H. Stevens—	01111101011011101111—15	H. B. Smith	10011001110110101011—12
		S. Randall	10000101101101001011—10
E. Reynolds—	10011011111101110111—15	T. Pratt	00001110101110100110—10
		P. Fick	01101000001101010111—10
W. E. Sperling—	00111001110111111011—14	Dr. H. Iredell—	11010101010011010101—11
C. Oakley	11000110111111100111—14	M. Allen	10101000010001011010—8

HENRY H. STEVENS.

MENOMINEE, WIS.—In a practice shoot at inanimate targets on April 4, members of the Menominee Gun Club made the following scores, each man shooting at 25 single targets, known traps, unknown angles:

Lirsen	0110110000 1111111000 01101—14
Sawyer	0010000010 1w[illegible] — 3
Kirkham	0110001110 1001011000 00010—10
Gibbs	0000011000 0000001100 01010— 6
Smith	0000100100 0100100010 10001— 7
Kratz	0000000000 1000100110 00000— 4
Sanderson	1101111000 1110110010 11011—16
La Combe	1101010000 0010000110 11110—11
Meridith	1000100010 0010000100 11001— 8
Juttner	1000110000 1111000100 00010— 9
Dr. Taylor	0010000010 0000100001 00000— 4
McQueen	1111101110 0111111111 01111—21

MENO.

RICHFIELD SPRINGS, N. Y.—Inclosed please find scores made by members of the Richfield Springs Gun Club on April 5 for the Annan Cup. This is the best record ever made by this club, as no score for the cup has heretofore been straight. The contest was red hot between Butler and Barker, the former losing by missing his last bird.

EVENT No. 1.—Cup contest, 20 single targets each man, known traps, unknown angles.

Geo. Pickham—	11110011101101011111—15	M. Barker	11111111111111111111—20
		A. Barker	11111110011111111011—17
Dr. Barland—	11111011111101111011—17	C. E. Cauey	11111110101110011111—16
		Edgar Carey—	00010010111010100001—9
C. M. Butler—	11111111111111111110—19

EVENT No. 2.—20 singles for practice: Peckham (w) 6, Butler 18, Barland 16, M. Barker 18, A. Barker 17, C. Caney 12, Carey 12.

F. E. MUNGER.

MARSHALL, ILL.—Herewith I hand you scores made in a recent practice by members of the Marshall Gun Club.

SHOOT No. 1.—Badge contest, 25 single targets, known traps, known angles.

C. C. Cook	0010110010 1101111101 10000—13
W. S. Besler	1111111011 0111101011 11111—21
Ben O'Brist	1011010110 1111101111 10111—19
S. H. Hybarger	0110111011 1111001111 10111—19
Dr. O. Mitchel	0001111111 1111011111 11111—21

W. S. Besler and Dr. Mitchell tied on 21 each for the badge and shot the tie off at 5 birds per man, Dr. Mitchell winning in the shoot off with a straight score.

SHOOT No. 2.—10 single targets per man, everything known: Cook 8, Besler 10, O'Brist 6, Hybarger 4, Dr. Mitchell 9.

W. S. BESIER.

BEDFORD, IND.—The following scores were made [illegible] members of the Bedford Rod and Gun Club in a very h[illegible] wind.

SHOOT No. 1.—25 single targets per man, known trap[illegible] angles.

Voris	1100011001 10000[illegible]
Kelly	1010110101 0001001111 [illegible]
Stipp	0111111101 0110001010 01[illegible]
Sherwood	0110110100 1100110001 1100[illegible]

Shoot No. 2.—Same as preceding: Voris 16, Kelly 7, Stipp 10, Sherwood 11, Doyle 14

Shoot No. 3.—Same as before: Stipp 16, Sherwood 11.

Shoot No. 4.—Same again: Stipp 12, Sherwood 8.

J. B. STIPP, Secy.

[illegible] of the members of the Forest Hill [illegible] live bird shoot on April 5. Following [illegible] erent events.

Event No. 1.—[illegible]ition, 10 live birds.

J. H. Richards.....1[illegible]0120—6	Carl Plum Jr.....1221*12112—9
Henry Mueller.....2210202212—8	Wm Blakley.....1102102221—8
Al. Taylor.....0221021202—7

Event No. 2.—5 live birds: J. H. Richards 4, Al. Taylor 3, Carl Plum Jr. 5,

F. H. G. C.

BRISTOL, PA.—The Bristol Gun Club, which was organized on February 7 last for the protection of fish and game and the recreation to be had in trap shooting, held its first shoot on March 30, each man shooting at 25 single Blue Rock targets, American Shooting Association rules to govern. The scores: George L. Horn 19, John Coleman 17, Harry Ettenger 15, Chas. Wilson 14, George Bradon 14, Cale Headley 13, Chas. Strumfelt 12.

G. L. H.

Answers to Correspondents

We are willing always to answer any question that we can answer and prescribe for dogs or other animals in these columns, but we can not answer questions or prescribe by mail. In all instances where it is necessary that a sick animal should be prescribed for by mail, we refer the owner to Professor R. J. Withers, No. 627 South Main Street, Los Angeles, Cal., to whom one dollar must be inclosed to pay for his services.

KENNEL

T. F. G., Terre Haute, Ind.—Ans.—Daily exercise is very important, for lack of ample exercise (not fast work) during gestation is one of the most frequent and potent causes of mortality among puppies. Feed a good amount of meat and broth, the meat sometimes raw; as she nears her time and her exercise decreases, feed less meat and more vegetable foods, bread and milk, with an occasional egg in it, rice, etc., and if she is a large bitch give a teaspoonful of precipitated phosphate of lime once daily in her food. Treat her immediately for worms, using areca nut (one and a half grains to the pound weight of the bitch) and giving castor-oil one hour after; and while under treatment do not let her occupy the kennel or quarters where she will whelp. Let her whelp in a quiet place that is dry and warm (a temperature of 75° to 80° during, and for some hours after, whelping). Attend her when whelping and render any assistance she may need. Be careful that the puppies do not get a chill. To go fully into the treatment of bitch and puppies would demand more space than can be spared here. There is a great deal that you ought to know, if you value the bitch and desire to raise good puppies, and it would pay you many times over to purchase "Kennel Secrets," price $3, at this office.

D. C. W., New York.—Ans.—(1) Splinter (382) was by Dickon (114) out of Sutton Veda (974), she by Tackler (384) out of Gradeley (635); Dickon, by Hognaston Dick (177) out of Mettle II (748). (2) Koh-i-noor (697), by Dugdale Joe (129) out of Diamond Dust (572), she by Pickle II (265) out of Dusty, by Foiler (152), dam not known; Dugdale Joe, by Belgrave Joe (24) out of Nell II (778). (3) Veni (431), by Vedette (426) out of Village Belle (1041), she by Volo (440) out of Beauty (488); Vedette (426), by Buff (73) out of Chip (527). (4) Valletta (1007), by Vedette (426) out of Vehement (1011); she by Brockenhurst Joe (61) out of Busy (515). (5) Stipendiary (375), by Reckon (308) out of Shindy (942), she by Belgrave Sequence (26) out of Bergamo (485); Reckon, by Reckoner (309) out of Rachel (840). All the stud book numbers given are the dogs' numbers in the Fox Terrier Stud Book of Great Britain.

L. R., St. Louis, Mo.—Ans.—(1) Princess II (18128) is by Shot out of Forest Queen II (18125). Shot, by Fluke (Faust—Belle) out of Belle II (Bang—Belle); none of these are registered. Forest Queen II was imported from Scotland, and is by Duke II out of Nell, by Young Hamlet (Rap—Blanche) out of Young Mona (Priam—Nina); Duke II, by Baron's Duke (Sam—Lettuce) out of Duchess (Young Hamlet—Young Mona). (2) Sheena Van (4562) is by San Roy (5058) out of Queen Bess (3808).

D. L. D., Lancaster, Pa.—Ans.—(1) Warwick Belton (12916) is by Belton High out of Magnolia, she by Leicester (148) out of Nellie (457); Belton High (not reg.), by Royal Sultan (1767) out of Reign (2191). (2) Dashing Monarch was by Dash II (Blue Prince—J. Armstrong's Nate) out of Countess Moll (Dan—Countess). (3) Nilsson (2142) was by Dan (E. 1336) out of Nellie (E. 1533). (4) We cannot find the two other bitches in the stud book.

A. VAN H., Bismarck, N. D.—Ans.—(1) Ranger II (215) was imported; his pedigree is given as, by Rev. J. C. Macdona's Ranger (Quince II—Judy) out of his Wonder (Roll—Kit). (2) Princess Belle (480) was by Mr. Pilkington's Rufus (Mr. Macdona's Ranger—Cora) out of the imported bitch Rose (500). (3) Rose (500) was by imported Rob Roy (E. 1417) out of imported Victress (525), and was bred in England by Mr. W. Blinkhorn.

J. M. G., Goshen, Ind.—Ans.—Scott R's Gem's number is 8379; she is by Scott R out of Jealousy (3698). (2) Scott R is by imported Royal Ranger (3519) out of imported Daisy Queen (3628); Royal Ranger, by Royal (E. 7175) out of Novel (E. 9153); Daisy Queen, by Rock (E. 4280) out of Meg (not registered in English Stud Book), she by Rall out of Countess.

A. C., Aurora, Mo.—Ans.—Neither Dan Purcell, his daughter Dell, nor her son The Bard (sire of Dick Gath, No. 28691) is registered. (2) They are not registered in the American stud book. In the English stud book their numbers are: Dan, 1336; Ruby, 1554; Duke (not Drake), 1361; Rhæbe, 1546; Fred, the sire of Ruby, was not registered.

DR. G. W. Q., Trenton, N. J.—Ans.—He is not registered, nor can we find any trace of such a dog. (2) If regular, she will come in again six months later.

B. C., Des Moines, Ia.—Ans.—There was an imported English setter dog named Pedigree registered in Vol. I; his number was 184, and he was bred by Mr. Edward Laverack; he was an orange and white dog and was by Bailey's Victor (Dash II—Moll III) out of Blue Daisy (Blue Prince—Dickens' Bell).

F. V., St. Louis, Mo.—Ans.—Some half-dozen Irish setter bitches are registered under that name, but the late Mr. Held does not appear as the owner of any one of them. It may be that he bought one of them after it had been registered; or, his bitch may never have been registered.

F. R. D., Auburn, Ind.—Ans.—(1) Melac (21655) is by Morceau (Harris—Flora) out of Minca; the stud book gives no further information. (2) Minerva's Fawn (23417) is by Don Cæsar (6046) out of Neverzeil (30467).

B. I. H., East Rochester, N. H.—Ans.—She is not registered, and we cannot find that she ever won a prize at a dog show.

J. L. S., Loraine, O.—Ans.—The pedigrees, sent by you, of Mander's Daisy (31069) and Pluto Jr (27262) are quite correct.

H. B., Champaign, Ill.—We cannot give you any information because you do not say what breed she is

MISCELLANEOUS

J. W. D., Wallingford, Conn.—In four handed cribbage A plays an eight, B plays a ten and calls eighteen, C a six and calls 24, D a deuce and calls twenty-seven (which is actually only twenty-six, but nothing is said) A plays a four spot, calls thirty-one, and pegs before the mistake is noticed Is A entitled to the two holes? Ans.—Yes. While the play is in progress there is no penalty for miscounting. The loss generally falls on the player who calls the wrong total.

J. R. S., Portland, Me.—What is the process used for waterproofing tents and garments? Ans.—Take one-half a pound of sugar of lead and one-half a pound of powdered alum; dissolve them in a bucket of rainwater and pour off into another vessel; steep your tent or garments in it, letting them soak thoroughly. If the quantity of liquid is not sufficient, increase in same proportion. Hang the article up to dry, but do not wring it.

RIFLE

E. J. H., Cherokee, Ia.—(1) What is the size of the Standard target used by riflemen at 200 yards? (2) Does the size of the target increase as the distance is increased? (3) Is the bullseye elliptical in shape? (4) Is there any restriction as to the caliber of rifle? Ans.—(1) There are three counts in the hull, 10, 9 and 8, and the rings are as follows: 10 count, 3½ inches; 9 count, 5½ inches; 8 count, 8 inches; 7 count, 11 inches; 6 count, 14¾ inches; 5 count, 19½ inches; 4 count, 26 inches. If it is desirable to farther extend the count, the practice is to pin or paste this target center on the regular Creedmoor target, which would give you a 3 count of 44 inches and a 2 count of the balance of the target, 4x6 feet. (2) There has been no target adopted on the lines of the Standard for use beyond 200 yards. (3) No. (4) No.

GAME AND SHOOTING

D. F. E., Boston, Mass.—I notice in the AMERICAN FIELD of March 16 that North Dakota has passed a law forbidding non-residents to hunt in that state without procuring a license costing $25. Can you give any further information in regard to it, or inform me where I can get a copy of the bill as passed? Ans.—Address the Secretary of State at Bismarck, and he will probably send you copy of law.

TRAP

F. H. C., Leamington, Ont.—Ans.—We do not fully comprehend the decision of the management in regard to the distribution of prizes, therefore would not like to arbitrate the matter for you. If you can make the matter more plain to us we shall be glad to give you any assistance we can.

FISH

W. P., Springfield, Ill.—Ans.—Address Alexander Starbuck, Cincinnati, O., or L. P. Bourquin, Mariuesco, Mich. They are familiar with the region.

Club Elections

CLUB ELECTIONS.—Secretaries and other officers of clubs not having previously done so will confer a favor by sending us the names of all such organizations, with a list of the officers elected for the current year.

THE Pottstown (Pa.) Fish and Game Protective Association at its recent annual meeting elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Dr. W. B. Shaner; vice-presidents, Ion L. Lachman, L. H. Davis and Alexander Malsberger; corresponding secretary, W. S. Royer; treasurer, H. P. Leaf; recording secretary, George E. Shaner; executive committee, D. M. Shaner, W. S. Rhoads, D Cyrus Trego, H. Wickersham, J. W. Evans, John A. Bunting, H. H. Minnick, W. L. Stone and C. W. Longaker; fish warden, George B. Good.

AT the annual meeting of the Brunswick Gun Club of New Brunswick, N. J., the following officers were elected for the current year: President, James Deshler; vice-president, Fred'k Wiegel; financial secretary, Rush Burton; corresponding secretary, Henry H. Stevens; treasurer, Joseph Fisher; captain, V. S. Voorhees; steward, M. C. Smith; board of governors, Wm. E. Sperling (chairman), Henry H. Stevens (secretary), James Deshler, Joseph Fisher, R M. Pettit, A. W. Pettit and Henry B. Smith.

AT the annual meeting of the Freehold (N. J.) Gun Club the following were elected officers of the club for the ensuing year: President, J. Wesley Danser; vice-president, James Laird; secretary, Clifford C. Snyder; treasurer, Harry Davis; executive committee, Harry Davis, James Laird, Frank Denise; handicap committee, Henry Hance, James Laird, Frank Denise, and C. C. Snyder.

THE Calumet (Mich.) Rod and Gun Club has elected the following gentlemen officers of the club for 1895; President, Fred Roehm; vice-president, Norman McDonald; secretary-treasurer, L. W. Killmar; captain, Charles Rupprecht; first lieutenant, George Hoatson; second lieutenant, James M. Merton; directors, Thomas H. Soddy, Thomas Hoatson and Charles Rupprecht.

THE following gentlemen have been elected officers of the Franklin Gun Club of Brookville, Ind., for the ensuing year: President, C. F. Godwin; vice-president, N. W. Baker; treasurer, R. J. Rockafellar; secretary, Wm. M. McCleery; captain, C. E. Winscott; executive board, Goodwin, McCleery, Winscott, Cooley and McKeown.

Information Wanted

WILL some reader of the AMERICAN FIELD be kind enough to give me some advice through these columns about 8 gauge guns? I want a gun especially for long range duck shooting and for deer and turkey hunting. A 50-yard range will not satisfy me; nor do I think I can get sufficient range with a 10-gauge. Greener in "Modern Shotguns" says: "A light 8-gauge, 10½ to 11 pounds, will carry 6 drams of powder and 2 ounces of coarse shot, and is far superior to any 10-gauge." I want to know how much advantage in range in yards it will have over a good 10-gauge in shooting at a single duck or turkey, if the recoil will be uncomfortable, if one weighing 11 or 12 pounds will be too heavy for a man of 145 pounds' weight to handle well, and if it is a practical gun for such shooting as that named above.

Eufaula, Ind. T. G. R. R.

CAN any reader of the AMERICAN FIELD tell me through these columns where I can get a new Remington .32 caliber, rim fire, late Russian model handle revolver? I wrote the firm and got a catalog but no revolvers were quoted therein.

Moutpelier, Ind. W. B.

WILL some reader kindly inform me where I can get the writings of Xenophon (who was evidently quite a dog fancier) translated into English, especially his disquisition on hounds?

New Orleans, La, F. W.

WILL someone who possesses the information please give me through the AMERICAN FIELD a formula for making a wash or varnish for coating gun barrels after being browned?

Jeffersonville, Ind. T. H. M.

Amusements

SCHILLER THEATER.—The wizard of psychology, Kellar, is still mystifying audiences that test the capacity of the spacious theater, and many who have visited his performance night after night confess their wonder. This is Kellar's last week here. Next week, commencing April 14, another brilliant comic opera success, "Prince Pro Tem," will be presented for the first time in Chicago. New and successful comic operas seem to be a matter of course at the Schiller Theater. "Prince Pro Tem" is the production of two very clever men. R. A. Barnet, who wrote the story, is the author of "1492" and L. S. Thompson, who has written the music, is the composer of "The Sphinx." It is one of the brightest, prettiest and thoroughly laughable comic operas now on the stage, and surpasses several of even the most recent great successes "Prince Pro Tem" will be put on the stage by the original Boston company, of which those favorite comedians Fred Lenox and Josie Sadler are the bright particular stars, supported by an organization of more than forty clever and popular artists.

COLUMBIA THEATER.—A dramatic and scenic revelation, 'The Fatal Card," presented by one of the greatest arrays of talent ever seen in melodrama, under the management of Charles Frohman. The sterling worth of the drama and the good acting of the players is attested by the repeated calls before the curtain. The next attraction is Chauncey Olcott.

ROYAL ENGLISH WINTER CIRCUS AND GERMAN WATER CARNIVAL.—Two performances daily of the biggest show in America. This week see the great Severus Schaffer; hear the renowned cornetist, Jules Levy; see Bertholdi, the equilibrist, and Prof. Woods.

MCVICKER'S THEATER.—Last week of the Liliputians in their great spectacle "Humpty Dumpty." Next week, first presentation of Joseph Arthur's new pastoral comedy-drama "Lincey Woolsey."

HAYMARKET THEATER.—The merry, magnetic and melodious Della Fox, in 'The Little Trooper," supported by her own comic opera company. Next week, Easter Sunday, "A Bowery Girl."

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—Last week of the favorites, The Bostonians, in "Robin Hood." Next week—Hoyt's "A Black Sheep."

CHICAGO OPERA HOUSE.—Canary & Lederer's brilliant travesty, "The 20th Century Girl." Next week—"The Passing Show."

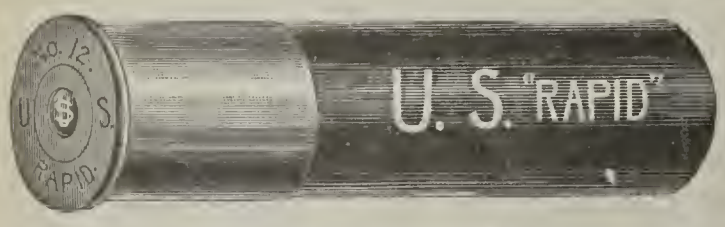
THE LINCOLN.—Murray & Mack, in "Finnegan's Ball." Next week—Wm. Morris, in "The Lost Paradise."

MADISON STREET OPERA HOUSE.—"Old Age and Youth." Two big shows daily.

This Means Business

On the principal lines of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway passenger trains are electric lighted, steam heated and protected by block signals. With these modern appliances, railway traveling at high speeds has reached a degree of safety heretofore unknown and not attainable on roads where they are not in use. Electric lights and steam heat make it possible to dispense with the oil lamp and the car stove. Block signals have reduced the chances for collisions to the minimum by maintaining an absolute interval of space between trains.

U. S. RAPID



SHOT SHELL

FOR NITRO POWDERS.

Penetration increased with pattern 15 per cent improved. Results same with every shell. None so regular ever produced before. Head of shell and battery cup one piece of metal. No gas escape, no balling of shot, no upsetting of charge.

AGENTS:
[illegible] New York City.
[illegible] San Francisco, Cal.

U. S. CARTRIDGE CO., Lowell, Mass.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS

Advertisers are respectfully requested to observe the following rules governing the insertion of advertisements in these columns:

CLASSIFICATION.—Strictly kennel advertisements—those which relate exclusively to dogs and to nothing else—cannot be placed under headings of "For Sale" or "For Sale or Exchange," but are subject to classification only under their proper kennel headings. When two or more breeds of dogs are mentioned in one advertisement, it destroys the possibility of giving it a distinctive heading and it is therefore classified under "Miscellaneous." For this reason it is well to advertise each breed separately.

If stud notices are included in advertisements of dogs for sale the classification given will be "Miscellaneous." Stud notices should be separate and distinct from other advertisements so as not to conflict with proper classification.

The departments of "For Sale" or "For Sale or Exchange" are reserved for advertisements relating in some way to sportsmen's goods or other articles of merchandise.

RATES.—The rate for advertisements under 'Wanted," "For Sale" or "For Sale or Exchange" is 3 cents per word each insertion. The name, address, initials and abbreviations are included and count as words.

The rate for advertisements under kennel headings is 25 cents per line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each additional consecutive insertion. Estimate seven words to a line unless the words are unusually long. If display type is used the rate is $3.50 per inch for the first insertion and $2.50 per inch for each additional consecutive insertion. Special rates are given for displayed advertisements running three months or longer. Schedule will be mailed on application.

Remittances to cover full cost should invariably accompany advertisements. If too much is remitted we will refund you what is overpaid.

Advertisers will favor us greatly by writing their advertisements plainly, using separate sheets of paper. Copy should reach us by Tuesday of each week to insure insertion in that week's issue.

WANTED

Advertisements under this head inserted for Three Cents for each word. The money must be sent with the advertisement. See "Notice to Advertisers."

WANTED—Position as dog trainer or charge of kennels by experienced Englishman; can give as reference the best known judge of field trials in England; age 32, height 6 feet 2 inches; strong and active. WM. DAWSON, Osceola, Ia. 16*

WANTED—To purchase a brace of setters; must be handsome and thoroughly broken, don't care about retrieving; send full description, breeding and price. J. E. ISGRIGG, care Montgomery Ward & Co., Chicago. 15*

WANTED—A high grade 12-gauge ejector hammerless; must be the same as new and cheap enough to suit the times; in writing give complete description. Address B. C., care AMERICAN FIELD, Chicago. 15

WANTED — Rough-coated St. Bernard dog puppy and bitch (in whelp preferred); send pedigree, price, weight and size of sire and dam and breeder. BOX 573, N. Manchester, Ind. 15*

POSITION as dog trainer, pheasant raiser or manager of club; life experience, A1 references. PROFESSIONAL, care AMERICAN FIELD, New York office. 17

CHEAP FOR CASH—Live tame deer, guinea pigs, monkey, flying and gray squirrels. J. M. SAEMANN, 1115 8th St., Sheboygan, Wis. 15

WANTED—Yorkshire terrier female puppy or grown; must be registered stock and low. CHAS. D. WEBSTER, Kansas City, Mo. 15*

WANTED—Live pigeons; must be old birds; squabs not wanted. Address JOHN WATSON, Grand Crossing, Ill. 23-21-tf

WANTED—Sportsmen who want an outing to send for pamphlet of Nimrod Hall, Va. Apply MANAGER. 1*

WANTED—No. 2 Kodak; state price. FRED RHEIN, Belleville, Ill. 15*

LIVE foxes wanted. Address H. F. WARNEKE, Aiken, S. C. 43-11-tf

CHEAP guns wanted. LARRY RYAN, Hannibal, Mo. 42-23 tf

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE

Advertisements under this head (excepting Kennel advertisements, which must go under their proper department) inserted for Three Cents for each word. The money must be sent with the advertisement.

FOR SALE—Or exchange, rough-coated St. Bernard, a beauty, 3 years old, perfectly marked, grandson of Sir Bedivere, registered, loves children; no place to keep him; price $200; will exchange for 12-gauge ejector of high quality, or will accept as part pay a Smith or Remington typewriter. W. B. LEFFINGWELL, 123 Hartford Building, Chicago. 43-15-tf

WILL EXCHANGE back numbers of the AMERICAN FIELD since 1888, one year of the Forest and Stream and four years of the Sportsmen's Review, all in good condition, People's typewriter, Hawkeye camera, set fine boxing gloves, for anything useful to a sportsman. CHAS. W. TWAY, Michigan City, Miss. 15

TO EXCHANGE—For high grade 16-gauge hammerless gun, a thoroughly broken pointer bitch; no better blood, field qualities or brood bitch in America; cost over $350. Address, with full description of gun, SINCLAIR SMITH, 59 Frankford St., New York City. 15*

FOR SALE — Or exchange; want shotguns, trained setters, pointers, fox, rabbit and coon dogs, fancy pigeons; some fine beagle and foxhound puppies cheap; inclose stamp, naming wants. FIELES & BRO., Christiana, Pa. 21

REGISTERED English setter stud dog, thoroughly trained on all game; also registered English setter bitch 15 months old, partly broken; cheap for cash or trade for hammerless or anything useful. W. L. HOWE, Quincy, Ill. 15*

FOR SALE—Or trade for anything, Gordon bitch, pedigreed and registered, fast hunter and fine retriever; also one of her puppies 12 months old; make offers. G. W. LINCKY, Leavenworth, Kan. 15*

CH. CINCINNATUS PUPPIES, one dog and one spayed bitch 11 months old; have been worked on quail past season; will sell cheap or trade for gun or offers. A. S. BOND, Ft. Wayne, Ind. 43-14-tf

FOR EXCHANGE—One pointer dog puppy 8 months old from fine stock for good gun. H. MUMFORD, care St. Cloud Hotel, Marietta, O. 15*

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE

Advertisements under this head (excepting Kennel advertisements, which must go under their proper department) inserted for Three Cents for each word. The money must be sent with the advertisement.

WILL TRADE Smith Premier typewriter for 12 or 16 gauge hammerless, or for young well broken pointer, setter or Irish water spaniel. Address "UNIVERSITY," La Crosse, Wis 15

HANDSOME lemon white pointer dog, thoroughly broken, bred in the purple, for high grade hammerless gun or bicycle. G. S. WHITE, Scotland Neck, N. C. 15*

HANDSOME English setter bitch, finest pedigree, registered, good breeder; will exchange for gun or anything useful. F. BUCKENTIN, Morris, Minn. 16*

A FEW pointer puppies cheap for cash or will trade for target rifles or anything useful to sportsman Send for pedigree. L. O. S. CLARY, Miltonvale, Kan. 16*

WILL TRAIN a promising young dog for gentleman's shooting for a high grade light hammerless gun. CHAS. W. TWAY, Michigan City, Miss. 15

TO EXCHANGE—Two well-bred English setter bitch puppies for good second-hand breech loader. J. S. PAULL, Scotland Neck, N. C. 15*

BRACE of well-bred pointer puppies, 9 months, for small-bore gun. W. FRANK, East St. Louis, Ill. 15*

FOR SALE

Advertisements under this head (excepting Kennel advertisements, which must go under their proper department) inserted for Three Cents for each word. The money must be sent with the advertisement

LINNDALE STOCK FARM AND GAME PRESERVE—Eggs for hatching from pure Mongolian pheasants, fresh and fertile; golden and silver pheasants, the most beautiful birds living for yards and lawns, $5 per setting; only a limited number to spare; pure brown Leghorns and Plymouth Rock eggs $2 per setting; the only fowls worth keeping; Jersey cattle of the finest strains; fresh cows of superior milk and butter strains always on hand at moderate prices; we keep the Pekin bantams in large numbers; the only artificial mother for pheasant eggs, $1.50. W. L. GARDINER, Norwalk, Ohio. 19

FOUR special trap guns, all 12-gauge, 30-inch barrels, 14-inch reach, viz.: Hunter Arms Co. ejector, two sets barrels, trap and field, 7-10 and 7-4 2¾, cost $175, price $125; Parker, 7-15-2¾, straight grip, $125 grade, price $65; Baker, 7-6-2⅞, list price $125, price $65; Wilkesbarre, 7¾-2¾, list price $125, price $45; also my 10-9 L. C. Smith Smith hammer ducking gun, cost $65, price $30; all are remarkably close and hard shooters and warranted perfect. H. W. EAGER, Marlboro, Mass. 15*

FOR SALE—Light draft twin-screw steam yacht Sanibel; length 61 feet, beam 15 feet, draft light, 20 inches, with coal, water, etc., 2 feet; in commission one year, used in Florida; cabin, three staterooms, bath and water closet forward; two rooms, pantry, ice box, galley, water closet and accommodations for four men aft; sails, awnings, boats, etc., etc., fully equipped. Apply 16 EXCHANGE PLACE, Room 1, fifth floor, New York City. 18

FOR SALE—The lands of the Kankakee Shooting and Fishing Club; about four miles frontage on the Kankakee River, containing 800 acres marsh and 400 meadow and upland; four good houses, boat houses, barns and orchards; 60 miles east of Chicago on railroad; correspondence solicited with a party desiring to purchase or form a club. U. BAIRD, Secretary, 43 N Diamond St., Allegheny City, Pa 15

FOR SALE—Two fine pointer bitch puppies 6 months old, pedigreed, $10 each; one lady's safety bicycle, imported, wheel just had new tires put on, $50; one yellowhead parrot, talks, whistles and sings, $25; am leaving town and want to close out the lot; they are bargains. Address GEORGE DIXON, Box 680, New Orleans, La. 16

FOR SALE—Snider hammerless, 10-ga., 8 lbs. 4 oz., 3-inch drop, 14-inch stock, 30-inch barrels this gun has a first-class local reputation as a shooter, is elegantly carved and good as new; cost new $175 and first check for $75 gets it; a snap; reason for selling, I have too many guns to care for. W. B. LINELL, Box 198, Pontiac, Ill. 43-7-tf

FOR SALE—Maynard rifle. pistol grip, extra fancy walnut stock, interchangeable barrels, .32-.35-.25-.20-.22 short, loading tools, molds and shells for both; barrels in first-class order; cost $80, $28 buys the outfit. M. T. HAMPTON, Richmond, Ind. 15*

NOTHING like Perfection Mange and Eczema Cure; keeps your dog's coat in prime condition; not greasy or poisonous; ask your dealer; kills fleas, etc.; 50c. A. G. SOISTMANN, Nicetown, Philadelphia. Pedigree blanks for the asking. 43-12-tf

PARKER HAMMERLESS, 12-gauge, Whitworth steel barrels 28-inch, 7¼ pounds, practically new; price $150; Colt hammer gun, cost $70, price $25; Wilkesbarre hammerless, perfectly new, cost $80, price $45. 1612 EUCLID AVE., Cleveland, O. 43-12-tf

MANGE CURE—Fink's Original; warranted an absolute cure for scratches, mange, eczema and skin diseases of the dog or other animals. Prepared by F. FINK, 1000 N. 6th St., St. Louis, Mo. Price $1, pound can. Sent to any address. 15*

FOR SALE—The schooner-yacht Palmer, 104 feet 3 inches water line, in perfect order and condition with complete inventory. For particulars address 16 EXCHANGE PLACE, Room 1, fifth floor, New York City. 18

THE Berkshire Trout Hatchery Club have for sale genuine speckled trout of various ages and sizes, including yearlings and this year s hatching. Address the SECRETARY, Great Barrington, Mass. 17

FOR SALE—Cheap, one 10-bore Daly hammerless, one 10-bore Parker hammer, one 12-bore Daly hammerless featherweight, one 20 bore Daly hammerless. EDWARD A. WATSON, Nimrod Hall, Va. 17*

FOR SALE—Cameras, Blair make, one 6½x8½, complete with carrying case; cost $45, will sell for $30; one 4x5, complete, cost $30, will sell for $18. THOS. BARKLAY, Milan, Ind. 15*

FOR SALE—Double breech loading 8-bore, Damascus barrels, 34-inch, 12½ lbs.; cost new, with trunk case, $140; price $65. H. WINANS, 97 West Kinney St., Newark, N. J. 15*

FOR SALE

Advertisements under this head (excepting Kennel advertisements, which must go under their proper department) inserted for Three Cents for each word. The money must be sent with the advertisement.

FOR SALE—Or exchange, modern marine engines and boilers, both new and second-hand. Address THATCHER A. PARKER, Terre Haute, Ind. 43-13-tf

A NO. 1 FERRETS FOR SALE—"Sure Pop's" great book on rat catching and ferret raising, 25c. A. ISAACSEN & SON, 92 Fulton St., N. Y.

FOR SALE—Trotting dog Bird, pneumatic sulky and harness; great money maker. E. W. JESTER, Wilmington, Del. 15

EGGS from decoy ducks, $2 per 13; Langshan, Brahma and B. P. Rock fowls, $1. P. A. HOWLAND, Fairhaven, Mass. 16*

FOR SALE—Fine young broken pointer dog, pedigree furnished; will exchange for gun. A. BOICE, Indianapolis, Ind. 15

WE offer for sale at special prices a few shopworn and second-hand guns. LEFEVER ARMS CO., Syracuse, N. Y. 15

FOR SALE—Or charter, small cruising steam yacht Address CAPT. ROBERTS, Foot 26th St., Brooklyn, N. Y. 16*

HIGH-CLASS pedigree blanks, 7 generations, bond paper. CHAUTAUQUA KENNELS, Box 914, Chicago. 42-19-tf

TWO very large live eagles $10, two years in captivity. BUCKS, 328 South 2nd St., Philadelphia, Pa. 15*

FOR SALE—Pheasant eggs, English and Mongolian. J. A. DURRELL, Pleasant Ridge, O. 18*

FOR SALE—Standard typewriter, very cheap. W. E. DAUGHERTY, Albia, Iowa. 15

SMITH HAMMERLESS, 12-28-7¼, and case, $35. W. DONLEY, Aspinwall, Pa. 15*

PEDIGREE BLANKS—15 for 10 cents. REPORTER, Wellsville, N. Y. 41-26-eow-tf

FOR SALE—Winchester shotgun. GEO. TALLMANN, Pittsfield, N. Y. 15*

PEDIGREE BLANKS — J. S. C. THOMPSON, Manhattan, Kan. 40-17-tf

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

ENGLISH SETTERS

FOR SALE—Cheap. Rod's Girl, b., w. and t. (Roderigo—Mark's Maid), 3 yards old, thoroughly trained, fine hunter; Lucy Gath, b., w. and t. (Gath's Mark—Lucy Lee), 3 years old; Pure Rye, b., w. and t. (Gladstone Boy—Bessie Marshall), 3 years old; both untrained; all three bitches in whelp to Gleam's Sport, or sold with free service; puppies six and eight months old; Vanguard—Callie White and Count Gladstone—Gleam's Maid. Address P L. ATHERTON, Louisville, Ky. Reference, the commercial agencies. 16

FOR SALE—Cheap, the Llewellin setter Count Beaufort, perfectly broken and first-class stud dog; winnings 1st, Novice and V.H.C., Open New York, Reserve Chicago and 2nd Denver 1895. For further particulars see stud card (this paper), or address W. STEWART DIFFENDERFFER, 113 Commerce St., Baltimore, Md. 16

RODERIGO AND GLADSTONE—A few choice puppies sired by Rod's Top, a full brother to Topsy's Rod, out of Sister Sue, she a Dan Gladstone—Belle of Blue Ridge, she Roderigo—Belle of Piedmont; these puppies are valuable entries; whelped January 12. PHILIP M. ESSIG, Natchez, Miss. 41-9-tf

ROD'S MAID (26233), b., w. and t., Roderigo—Hazel Henry, whelped December 26, 1891, bred by Avent & Thayer Kennels; dog puppy by Gleam's Sport—Nellie Gladstone, b. and w., whelped July 17, 1894; Maid will be in season about April 15. G. M. WOODS, Leaman Place, Pa. 16*

I HAVE for sale setter puppies by Count Roderigo out of Ben Hill, Paul Gladstone. Antonio and Roderigo bitches, ranging from 8 to 12 weeks of age; price $20 for dogs, $15 for bitches, subject to the usual conditions upon which I sell OLD DOMINION, White Post, Va. 42-25-tf

GATH'S MARK—MATTIE BERWYN — Three choice puppies by Gath's Mark out of Mattie Berwyn, she Vanguard—Dora Berwyn, she Dashing Berwyn—Ch. Juno A; grand Derby entries; whelped January 1, 1895. A. SMITHNIGHT, 200 Cedar Ave., Cleveland, O. 16

FOR SALE—Puppies and young dogs by Gladstone's Boy out of my best brood bitches. Also several high-bred brood bitches and broken dogs. Write for what you want. No trouble to answer letters and furnish information. J. SHELLEY HUDSON, Covington, Ky. 42-17-tf

MACK NOBLE, 2½ years, orange and white, by Max Noble and Belle of Clairview; thoroughly broken on ruffed grouse, woodcock, snipe, quail and duck; retrieves from land and water; a No 1 all-around dog; price $55. Address REV. C. GLATZERT, New Castle, Pa. 43-14-tf

SHIOWOSSO, 1½ years, by Pop Gladstone and Daisy Noble; black, white and tan, evenly marked and very handsome; splendid ranger, broken on grouse, quail and woodcock; first-class shooting dog; price $50. REV. C. GLATZERT, New Castle, Pa. 43-14-tf

ENGLISH SETTERS, 14 weeks old, handsome, healthy and strong, combining the blood of the noted field trial and bench show winners, Ch. Cincinnatus and Gus Bondhu; price right. E. E. HAINES, Charlestown, Mass. 43-15-tf

FOR SALE—The English setter bitch Daisy L, by Young Roderigo and Gleo Lit; Daisy is 2½ years old and well broken on all game and a model fielder; price $25. THOS. BARKLAY, Milan, Ind. 15*

WHAT have you to trade for Clara II (23828), a very stylish, wide ranging English setter, broken by professional handler; the best offer of cash or trade gets her. GEO. E. BRUNER, Kokomo, Ind. 43-15-tf

FOR SALE—To clear, five Llewellin bitch puppies out of a thoroughbred (not registered) bitch by my field trial dog Dashaway; price $3 each. EDWARD A. WATSON, Nimrod Hall, Va. 17*

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted un... cents a line for the first inser... each subsequent insertion. ... inch for first, and $2.50 for ... tion.

ENGLISH SE...

FOR SALE—A stud dog by the great Roderigo; he is 19 months old, or would exchange him for a bitch by Roderigo. For price and particulars address W. B. LINELL, Box 198, Pontiac, Ill. 43-9-tf

$25 BUYS May Win, Prince Lucifer—Lady Gladys; imported; won two prizes on the bench; 3rd Brooklyn 1892 and V.H.C. reserved New York 1893. S. E. CORBETT, Wootendyke, N. J. 15*

TROY GLADSTONE (24681), Wale Bessie (24683), b., w. and t. and lemon and white puppies; black eyes and noses; whelped February 4; $8: beauties. W. P. STONE, Harlan, Ia. 18

WHELPED JANUARY 19, all b., w. and t., combining blood of Ch. Gath, Ch. Gloster, Gladstone, Matlock's Light, Gus Bondhu; dogs $12; bitches $8. L. M. LEVERING, Baltimore, Md. 16

TWO fine English setter bitches, 7 months old, b., w. and t., by Ch. Gladstone—Fanny Noble (No. 32653); no decent offer refused. J. SCHROTH, 2302 Christian St., Philadelphia, Pa. 15*

FOR SALE—B., w. and t. Llewellin setter dog 11 months old, out of the best bitch in America, at half price; also bitch same age. N. RAY, Edmonton, Ky. 15

FOR SALE—Choice puppies by a fine son of Roderigo, out of a bitch by Cinch, litter brother to Ch. Antonio; write. ERNEST SHOFF, Axtell, Neb. 15*

DERBY AGE PUPPIES (two litters), by Count Gladstone IV out of Roderigo bitches, choicest markings. W. E. SMALL, Corinth, Miss. 43-15-tf

FOR SALE—Llewellin puppies. born January 1. b., w. and t. and ticked; pedigree. HELEN HAMILTON, Eau Claire, Wis. 15*

HIGHLY BRED English setter puppies 8 months old. F. J. HANAUER, 43 Davies St., Trenton, N. J. 16*

WRITE to KING GRAPHIC KENNELS for list of English setters. New Castle, Pa. 43-9-tf

POINTERS

FOR SALE—Two bitch puppies whelped February 28, 1895; one black, one liver and belton, sire Cowell's Joe II; blood of Sensation, Graphic and Ch. Fritz, out of Black Bonnie (28131). Black Wonder, Tracy Belle. Black Bonnie is very handsome, fast in the field, possesses great intelligence, and can show more education than any other dog in the world; extended pedigree on application. H. O. FRENCH, 1326 V Street, Washington, D. C. 15*

FOR SALE—I still have a brace of Strideaway—Hops II pointer puppies, born January 4; great Derbys for next year; Hops was a sister to Rip Rap; I sold the other litter at $100 each; will sell these at $50 each as I have no room for them. P. T. MADISON, Indianapolis, Ind. 43-11-tf

B. AND W. POINTER BITCH by King of Kent—Daisy, by Bang Bang, whelped November, 1892; unbroken, beautiful type and up to show form; also 11 months-old bitch by Ridgeview Comet; prices very low. C. VELTEN, Baker's Gallery, Columbus, O. 15*

TWO liver and white dog puppies, January 6, Rod H—Bev II; six ditto. January 19, Venus (Jupiter—Ion); all healthy; don't forget this field trial and bench winning strain; order a winner. J. R. PURCELL, Gainesville, Va. 43-10-tf

WE have left six puppies, blood of King of Kent, Lad of Kent, Bang Bang and Beaufort, age to train or breed; for sale cheap to close; catalogue. BAR HARBOR KENNELS, Bar Harbor, Maine. 15*

BEPPO III—Belle of Ossian, 8-months-old dog; bitch of this choice field trial pointer blood guaranteed No. 1. C. A. PAETZEL, Hope, Ind. 43-7-tf

Well-bred liver and white pointer, three years old, excellent trap retriever, for sale cheap. M. E. BARKER, Richfield Springs, N. Y. 15*

WRITE to KING GRAPHIC KENNELS for list of pointers. New Castle, Pa. 43-9-tf

FOR a bargain in trained pointers write C. W. HARRIS, Mattoon, Ill. 17

TERRIERS

Fox Terriers,

BEVERWYCK PUNSTER.

"THOROUGHBREDS"

For circular apply to

BEVERWYCK KENNELS

P. O. Box 6, Albany, N. Y. 39-8-52

FOR SALE—A few fox terrier puppies by Hillside Royal — Adelina (Ford Venio — Dusky Beauty), 5 months old, very promising, all registered A. K. C.: write for extended pedigree and prices. DR. JAMES FERRIS BELT, Wilmington, Del. 17

FOR SALE—The imported Blue Bedlington terrier bitch, Beechgrove Blue Belle; only shown six times and has won five firsts and one second; price reasonable. Apply to JOHN HOPKINSON, Prudential Building, Newark, N. J. 16

FOX TERRIER brood bitches and puppies for sale, the property of Messrs. L. & W. Rutherfurd. For stud cards, etc., address DONALD MUNRO, Manager, Allamuchy, Warren Co., N. J. 39 7-tf

FOR SALE—Or exchange, one black and tan toy terrier dog puppy, ten months old, weight 3¾ pounds; price $15. W. F. MARKS, Hampton, Ia. 15

FOR SALE—Three litters pure white bull terrier puppies of best possible breeding; panic prices; write me. H. FRED CHURCH, Taunton, Mass. 19*

PAIR imported Irish terriers, Ch... boy, Bachelor strain; stamp. K... NELS, Omaha, Neb.

FOR SALE—Skye terriers $10, ... Yorkshires in February. SEEBACH, ...

BLACK AND TAN, Irish and fox terri... H. HOYT, Sharon, Pa.

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

ST. BERNARDS

ST. BERNARD PUPPIES—Several fine litters of splendid puppies from my best brood bitches by Sir Bedivere, Aristocrat, Saladin, etc.; grand heads and big boned, sired by Ch. Melrose, the winning dog and sire of the winning puppy at late Chicago show; also a prize winning daughter of Ch. Keeper, just bred to the above famous sire, and several fine young bitches for breeding or bench; prices very reasonable. A. C. SHALLENBERGER, Alma, Neb. 16

FOR SALE—Cheap, the rough-coated St. Bernard bitch Olga II and her two 6-months-old bitch puppies; Olga II is a first-class brood bitch; puppies are very large and will make winners. Address R. E. GREEN, corner Charles and Lombard Sts., Baltimore, Md. 16

FOR SALE—Richard B, Ch. Alton Jr.—Lady Hannay; this puppy won 1st at New York in puppy class this year; Lady Hannay wou 1st in two classes; this will make a grand stud dog. DR. J. H. LYKE, Millerton, N. Y. 15*

ROUGH-COATED St. Bernard dog, 13 months old, registered, by Lord of Richmond and Floyd; extra large bone, grand head, fine markings; will sell cheap. A. J. SAUTHOFT, Madison, Wis. 16

ST. BERNARD DOG, 10 months old, smooth-coated, well bred, nicely marked, house and yard broken; price $18. MRS. F. C. SMITH, Groton, N. Y. 15*

FOXHOUNDS

IMPORTED English foxhound bitch Active, bred by Sir William Curtis by the Oakley Felix—bis Affable; bred to Imp. Belvoir Songster by the Belvoir Shamrock ex their Dutiful; a grand hound after a fox and very good looking; took first prize at New York, Detroit and Chicago this year; price $35, and pick of one of the litter at four months. Gamester, a black and tan hound, whelped May, 1894, bred by Mr. MacDonald, Rockland, Maine, by Gold Dust—Nellie Witham; has been out regularly with the hounds the last six weeks and promises well; price $25; sold on account of his color; the above can be seen by appointment. NOEL MONEY, Oakland, Bergen County, N. J. 43-12-tf

FOR SALE—Foxhounds; the best broken rabbit dogs to be found anywhere; cheap. C. W. TRAVIS, Lafayette, Ind. 15

PURE Goodman foxhounds for sale at all times. BOURBON KENNELS, North Middletown, Ky. 40-20-tf

COLLIES

FOR SALE—One of the finest collie dogs in the United States, Scott, sired by Boss (12656), dam Perlie, by Champion Clipper (13048), second dam Ding Doug by Ch. Scotilla (7379); sable, 2 years old, broken, no faults. C. W. TRAVIS, Lafayette, Ind. 15

COLLIE PUPPIES for sale, 2 months old (one dog, two bitches), by Sefton Hero (A. 30835)—Nixey (C. 2972), (Edghaston Marvel—Ormskirk Fedora); price $30 each: full pedigree. HAZELDEN KENNELS, Box 529, London, Canada. 15*

ROUGH-COATED collie dog Tray (A. 12473), 6 years old, color dark sable, sired by the great dog Caractacus (E. 25171)—Jenny Lind (E. 16491); price $50 and no trades. W. H. McQUOID, Middletown, N. Y. 15*

COLLIES AT $10—Puppies from Champ Christopher, Ch. Metchley Wonder strain, also older stock. J. L. LINCOLN, Union Club, Chicago. 43-tf

POODLES

MEADOWMERE KENNELS

MILO (30101)
Champion of America.

Southampton, L. I., N. Y., breeders and importers of

French Poodles

(Black curly coated only); first prize winners New York, Boston, Chicago, Philadelphia, 1893-4.

A GRAND LOT OF DOGS FOR SALE

For catalogues price lists and stud cards apply to NEW YORK CITY AGENCY, 13 William St., Room 1006.

SPANIELS

EXCELSIOR I. W. SPANIEL KENNELS have a few fine Irish water spaniels for sale, two months old, from their prize winning stock; full pedigree. JOHN D. OLCOTT, Manager, Milwaukee, Wis. 15*

COCKER SPANIELS—Blacks and reds, full grown and puppies of both sexes; finest breeding in the world; without reserve; send for list. ANDREW LAIDLAW, Galt, Ont. 16

COCKER SPANIELS—Special sale of young stock and brood bitches; prices low. HANDSOME BROOK KENNEL, Franklin, N. Y. 42-12-tf

IMPORTED and native champion bred cockers, all colors, $15; stamp. REHAM KENNELS, Omaha, Neb. 43-15-tf

MOVING AT ONCE—Field and cocker spaniels sacrificed; stamp. REHAM KENNELS, Omaha, Neb. 43-14-tf

GREAT DANES

FOR SALE—The splendid blue Great Dane Senta's Brutus; also his beautiful litter sister Senta's Rheda, and some choice striped puppies of both sexes, and one six-months striped bitch, sired by Earl of Wurtemberg; nothing to trade and no low priced stock. LAWRENCE GREAT DANE KENNELS, Evauston, Franklin County, Ohio. 15

[illegible] of Great Dane [illegible] winning stock. Frank P. Smith, [illegible]ia, Pa. 16

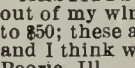
[illegible]tters of puppies of [illegible]CULES KENNEL, 16

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

IRISH SETTERS

IRISH SETTER PUPPIES for sale, by Ch. Kildare (champion Irish setter dog of America and sire of Queen Vic, champion Irish setter bitch of America), stud fee $25. Also English setter and Chesapeake Bay puppies of the finest strains. Send for catalogue containing photos of celebrated stud dogs and bitches. OAK GROVE KENNELS, Moodus, Conn. tf



Young Stock of Finest Breeding in the World. Most Successful on Bench and in Field. Write for prices. G. W. Hamilton, Mgr., Centreville, Kan.

FOR SALE—Two Irish setters one year old, one dog, one spayed female; the best of working stock; price $10 each. ASPHADEL KENNELS, 3254 Sansom St., Philadelphia, Pa. 16*

FOR SALE—Red Irish setter 2½ years old, stanch to point and shot, a tender retriever by land and water; price $25. THOS. BARKLAY, Milan, Ind. 15*

BEAGLES

SEVERAL good bitches in whelp to our champion stud dogs, Bannermau and Fitzhugh Lee; also puppies and young stud; prices reasonable and quality guaranteed; stamp for catalogue. GLENROSE BEAGLE KENNELS, Orland, Me. 43-14-tf

BEAGLES—Thoroughbred stock only, sired by Frank Forest, Ch. Roy K, Lee III, Buckshot and Base; prices low; write and be convinced. H. L. KREUDER, Nanuet, N. Y. 18

THREE fine puppies 7 months old, two dogs, by field trial winners; just right to train this Summer; $10 each. DONNYBROOK KENNELS, Oshkosh, Wis. 43-15-tf

FOR SALE—Beagle puppies from imported stock: both parents are fine hunters; now at $5 each. J. O. WEDELL, Elgin, Ill. 15

CHESAPEAKES

THE SUPREMACY of our trained Chesapeakes is shown by last season's prize record: 1st Westminster K. C., Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and Louisville kennels embrace Ch. Cleveland (30464) and Chlg. Bigelow's Rose (32897), only recognized champion in existence; prices low as $20; illustrated catalogue; all ages. B. ALTON SMITH, N. Attleboro, Mass. 43-10-tf

OTTER-COATED CHESAPEAKES, suitable for Fall 1895; stamp. C. H. LUCAS, Compton, Md. 16*

MASTIFFS

MASTIFFS FOR SALE—A number of puppies out of my winning stud dogs at prices from $35 to $50; these are as well bred as is possible to get and I think will make winners. CHAS. E. BUNN, Peoria, Ill. 42-26-tf

ENGLISH MASTIFF PUPPIES from registered stock. PLAZA KENNELS, Piqua, O. 15

DACHSHUNDE

SOME very fine dachshund puppies 4 months old out of prize winning stock; also some older prize winners for sale. ARTHUR FROEMBLING, 131 S. Clark St., Chicago, Ill. 17*

GENUINE bred dachshunde for sale, grown dogs and puppies. R. KOENIGSBAUER, 1014 S. 12th Street, Philadelphia, Pa. 16*

GREYHOUNDS

WINNING STOCK—Two August puppies by Royal Crest (Greentick—Royal Rate), out of Wasted Time (Burnaby—Drytime); over distemper, well grown, slashing gallopers, entered in Altcar Produce. GEORGE MacDOUGALL, Butte, Mont. 15*

PUGS

FOR SALE—Pug bitch, spayed, 1 year old, perfectly house broken, a beautiful pet; cheap. C. W. TRAVIS, Lafayette, Ind. 15

BLACK PUG—Solid black young pug dog, very handsome. ANDREW LAIDLAW, Galt, Ont. 16

WOLFHOUNDS

EXPECTED—Two litters of wolfhound puppies April 16 and May 1; orders booked now; send for 1895 illustrated catalogue, just out, of wolfhounds and fox terriers for sale. SEACROFT KENNELS, Essex, Mass. 17

BLOODHOUNDS

FOR SALE—Bloodhounds; man trailers of the best breed obtainable, well broken and guaranteed. THOS. BARKLAY, Milan, Ind. 15*

BULLDOGS

FOR SALE—Bulldogs and puppies, out of imported stock, by Leonidas, Stanley and King Lud. ROBINDALE FARM, Roslyn, L. I., N. Y. 17*

MISCELLANEOUS

St. Bernard Puppies

Three litters of blue bloods for sale, quality the finest in America.

DOGS IN THE STUD—Alton Jr, Altoneer, Melrose King, Jim Blaine.

MELROSE KENNELS,
E. H. Moore, MELROSE, MASS. 43-15-tf

WANTED!

Any sportsman wanting first-class broken and unbroken setters or pointers can get what they want from me; new list now ready.

T. C. DAVEY, London, Ont.

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

DOGS! DOGS! DOGS!

Less than panic prices. If you want to get a first-class dog of the following breeds cheap write us and we will give you a bargain:

Mastiffs, St. Bernards, Newfoundlands, hull, fox, Skye, Scotch and Yorkshire terriers, setters, pointers, beagles and pugs. Toy black and tan terriers a specialty and a grand lot of collies cheap. In fact for a first-class dog of any breed you cannot do better than with us.

N. B.—A grand lot of rabbit dogs on hand.

CEDAR KENNELS,
42-17-tf 135 S. 8th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

DOGS FOR SALE.

If you want to buy a dog of any kind write for prices to

J. HOPE,
39-20-52t 29 N. 9th St., Phila., Pa.

FOR SALE—Two liver and white pointer dog puppies, 10 months, by Trinket's Coin (Croxteth—Trinket)—Robert's Nellie (Bracket—Robert's Trinket); two pointer bitches, 13 months, by Trinket's Coin—Ightfield Blithe, liver and white ticked; also two black, white and tan setter bitch puppies, 10 months, choicely bred; all the above are in splendid condition and guaranteed not gunshy. Send for circular; prices low; will send on approval to responsible parties. C. G. STODDARD, Dayton, O. 16

DOGS FOR SALE—St. Bernards, mastiffs, Newfoundlands, pointers, setters, spaniels, pugs, all kinds of terriers. I make a specialty of game pit and show bull terriers and Yorkshire terriers; dogs and puppies of the above on hand at prices to suit the times; satisfaction and safe delivery guaranteed. EXCHANGE KENNELS, office 2312 Walnut St., Philadelphia, Pa. 44-6

OUR ENTIRE KENNEL of over seventy-five beagles, consisting of stud dogs, brood bitches and puppies, is for sale at unheard of bargains; prices from $5 up; Champions Bannerman and Fitzhugh Lee, the best brace of beagle sires in the world, at stud; fees $10 and express charges paid; write for wants. GLENROSE BEAGLE KENNELS, Orland, Me. 43-12-tf

ENGLISH BULL TERRIERS—A choice litter of puppies by Croydon Dutch (25434), dam Lowland Duchess (28432); these are winners: Croydon Dutch and Bellerby King first Chicago, Des Moines and Denver: at stud, fee $15; also several bitches in whelp. F. L. DEVER, 316 Illinois Ave., Peoria, Ill. 43-13-tf

SACRIFICING CLOSE OUT—Setters and pointers, highest breeding; entire stock must go without reserve: bitches in whelp, puppies old enough to work. CRITERION KENNEL, Odell, Ill. 43-11-tf

HAVE BRED more English setters and pointers than I can train; offer a few for sale at $5 to $50. W. L. WEAVER, Millersburg, Pa. 15

TRAINED dogs on bears, coons, rabbits. Also English bloodhounds, man trailers. GREENDALE KENNEL, Kensington, Ohio. 42-22-tf

GOOD cat and fox dogs cheap as dirt. T. J. LILLY, Chesterville, Miss. 15*

DOG TRAINING

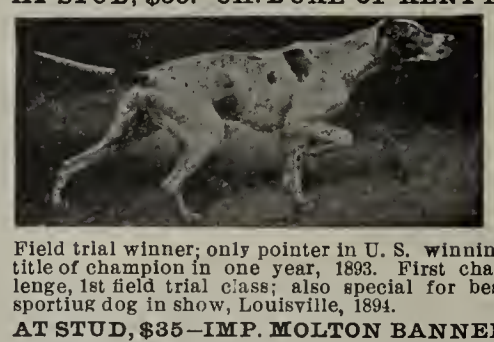
K. 9 KENNELS—Pointers and setters, educated for practical field work; kennels located in a game country, and but 2½ hours from Philadelphia; twenty years' experience; best reference. W. G. SMITH, Marydel, Md. 43-26*

CAN TAKE two more dogs to train on chicken and quail; birds plentiful and terms reasonable. T. G. DAVIES, Bloomfield, Ia. 18*

GEO. BATTISON—Professional bench show handler. Dogs boarded and put in condition for shows. Youngstown, Ohio. tf

STUD DOGS

AT STUD, $35.—CH. DUKE OF KENT II



Field trial winner; only pointer in U. S. winning title of champion in one year, 1893. First challenge, 1st field trial class; also special for best sporting dog in show, Louisville, 1894.

AT STUD, $35—IMP. MOLTON BANNER

One of the best pointers living; has beaten his sire, Saddleback, champion of England, Sandford Graphic and Sandford Bang, England's best. Puppies—Dogs $25; bitches $15; from the best of field trial and bench show blood bitches. GLEN ROCK KENNELS, 2 N. Market St., Boston, Mass.

Westminster Kennel Club.

KING OF KENT

In the Stud. Fee $50.

ALSO

Sandford Druid

FEE $35.

Apply to F. O. DeLUZE, Treasurer, 18 S. William St., New York.

LITTLE NED

AT STUD.

Will be allowed a limited number of bitches. Pointer fanciers in the North and West should not miss this opportunity in breeding to this grand little pointer. Ned won second U. S. F. T. C. Derby 1893, third U. S. T. All-Age 1893 and second U. S. F. T. All-Age 1894. For extended pedigree and further particulars address

Frank Richards, Stewart, Minn. 18

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

WILLOWDALE KENNELS,
CROWN POINT, IND.

ALAN-A-DALE—A. K. C. No. 28135, collie dog, by Ch. The Squire—Stonehurst Lassie, by Ch. Roslyn Dandy, a magnificent dog and image of his sire; V.H.C. Chicago 1894. See comment AMERICAN FIELD. Alan is a born cattle dog.

DANDY DAVY (A. K. C. No. 36097), by Moray—Clover, the handsomest and most intelligent collie I ever bred; sable with white collar and ruff.

TACONY, smooth-coated fox terrier (A. K. C. 28136), white with tan marked head; inbred Prince Result; game as a pebble.

I will sell at reasonable price Moray, prize winner; Don Camerou and other A. K. C. collies; also book orders for young dogs. Address WILL J. DAVIS, Columbia Theater, Chicago. 39-4-tf

COLLIES

AT STUD—Ch. Christopher (21675), sire of more winners than all other stud dogs combined; also sire of Ormskirk Chris, sire of Rufford Ormond, and Edgbaston Marvel, sire of Portington Bar None, Southport Perfection, Gold Dust, etc.; fee $35.

Wellesbourne Charlie (21676), sire of Lady Gay, Dorothy, Donna, Domine, etc., all first prize winners; fee $25.

Irish Terriers

At Stud—John Briggs (35584); the best bred stud dog in America; fee $15.

Puppies from two to twelve months old by above dogs from prize brood bitches for sale. "The Dog and How to Breed. Train and Keep Him," 30c postpaid. CHESTNUT HILL KENNELS, Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia.

FOXHOUNDS.

Imported English foxhound

SONGSTER

From the Belvoir (Duke of Rutland's) pack, by his Shamrock, out of his Dutiful; a grand young hound both in work and appearance; height 24½ inches; took first prizes at New York, Detroit and Chicago this year, only times shown.

STUD FEE $15.

NOEL E. MONEY, OAKLAND, BERGEN COUNTY, N. J. 15

Rodfield

Black, white and tan English setter, winner of both of the U. S. F. T. Club's All-Age Setter Stakes at Bicknell, Ind., and West Point, Miss., 1894 and 1895. Catalog free.

STUD FEE $50.
P. T. MADISON,
INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

COUNT BEAUFORT

Moss Wind'em—Primrose, bred by and recently imported from Mr. R. Ll. Purcell Llewellin, Shrewsbury, England. Here is a chance for setter breeders to obtain the pure Count Noble blood, Moss Wind'em being a litter brother to that noted sire of field trial winners. This is an opportunity that owners of Gladstone and Druid—Ruby bitches should not lose sight of. Fee $25. Count Beaufort is a handsome, well built blue belton and is thoroughly field broken, keen nose and wide range, having been well shot over by Mr. Llewellin. For pedigree, etc., address W. STEWART DIFFENDERFFER, 113 Commerce St., Baltimore, Md. 44-8

AT STUD. FEE $50.

ELDRED KENNEL.

CHAMP. ANTONIO

Bench show and field trial winner and sire of winners.

Fee $35 BRIGHTON TOBE

2nd Manitoba and International All-Age Stake 1893; 1st Manitoba and International All-Age Stake 1894. Apply for circular.

C. H. PHELPS JR., 13 Dock St., Philadelphia.

WIRE-HAIRED FOX TERRIERS

BROWN FRENCH POODLES.

For stud cards, list of produce stakes ($175 annually offered in prizes), price lists and full particulars, apply to HILL HURST KENNELS, Wellesley, Mass. 45-7

At Stud. Fee $25.

WHYTE B.

I offer the services of this highly bred setter; he is by Roderigo—Florence Gladstone. He won the A.-A. Stake in the Southern trials, beating such dogs as Antevolo, Novelist, Eugene I, Tremont, Bettye S and Bob Cooper. I candidly believe Whyte B has more endurance than any dog living, and is a combined field trial and shooting dog; his equal would be hard to find. H. S. BEVAN, Somerville, Tenn

AT STUD,

ST. BERNARDS and COCKER SPANIELS

Four St. Bernards and eight cocker spaniels, including Ch. Middy at $15 stud fee. Send stamp for illustrated catalogue.

SWISS MOUNTAIN KENNELS, Germantown, Philadelphia, Pa.

STRIDEAWAY FEE $50

Meadow City Kennels, Northampton, Mass. 17

COCKER SPANIEL

CH. BLACK DUKE

Stud $15. Bitches for breeding purposes admitted free of duty in Canada. GEO. DOUGLAS, Woodstock, Ont. 23

IMP. ALBERT'S RANGER

The handsomest English setter in America; fee $25; return expressage paid on bitches. Photo 20 cents. Stud cards. WARWICK KENNELS, Bridgeport, Conn. 43-13-tf

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

THE imported pointer, lightfield Domino (28216 A. K. C. S. B.), bred by Hon. A. P. Heywood-Lonsdale, Salop, England, and the superb young setter, Monk of Zion (31110 A. K. C. S. B.), by the great Monk of Furness; will be allowed four approved bitches each at $35. This brace we will put against the world as gentlemen's field dogs on all kinds of game in any country; they hunt to the gun, they point and back every known game bird; they move to the hand; they will not break shot or chase rabbits; they retrieve from land and water; they know their place in the house, yard, wagon or on a train; if you want a dog that knows something breed to one that knows something. W. L. GARDINER, Norwalk, Ohio. 19

AT STUD—The noted Goodman foxhound Dick (Logan—Star), from Blue Grass Kennels, Serena, Ill.; height 23¾ inches; chest, 30 inches; weight, 55 lbs. For portrait, history and description see AMERICAN FIELD July 14, 1894. Fee $25. W. F. STURGILL, Ceredo, W. Va. 17*

AT STUD—Smooth fox terriers; Raby Palissy, $15; Seacroft Bourbon (the only D'Orsay blood in America), $10; Seacroft Result (Ripon Stormer—Richmond Jesmine), $10. Send for illustrated stud catalogue just out. SEACROFT KENNELS, Essex, Mass. 17

AT STUD—Smooth fox terriers, Hillside Royal (Stardeu's King—Hillside Freda); fee to approved bitches, $10; Raby Prince (Raby Palisy—Richmond Jesmine); fee to approved bitches, $10. WAWASET KENNELS, Wilmington, Del. 44-5

AT STUD—Col. Kent (31054), by King of Kent—Bang's Mollie, half brother of Rip Rap, Strideaway and Kent Elgin; a No. 1 fielder; $15. Address SAM A. NOFTZGER, Proprietor Eel River Pointer Kennels, North Manchester, Ind. 43-8-tf

AT STUD—Champion Laddie, winner 1st All-Age stake, 1st Champion stake, National Beagle Club Field Trials 1894. Also bench show winner. For terms address N. A. BALDWIN, 129 Hollywood Ave., East Orange, New Jersey. 15*

AT STUD—The promising young Gordon setter, Dwight Don (32376); winner first at Detroit, second Chicago, first at Denver, 1895; fee $25. L. P. HIGGINS, Station X, Chicago. 15*

AT STUD—The noted smooth fox terrier Wawaset Baron, Holster—Hillside Freedom; fee to approved bitches, $10. Address T. D. MAY, 131 S. Clark St., Chicago. 16

AT STUD—Fox terrier Blempton Stipend, by Stipendiary, $10; rough collie Chesterford Hero by Sefton Hero, $10. J. W. WAKEM, Highland Park, Ill. 17

RODERIGO is dead, but I have his brother Cassio (23600), winner of four field trials; fee $25; try him. W. F. VAN BUSKIRK, Odell, Ill. 43-15-tf

AT STUD—Ezra Noble (Count Noble—Alphonsine), field trial and bench show winner; fee $25. J. E. BORDEN, Lansdowne, Del. Co., Pa. 18*

RED COCKERS—Champ. Red Jacket and Red Rolaud at stud; red puppies. BRANT COCKER KENNELS, Brantford, Ont. 43-14-tf

AT STUD—English mastiff East Lake Major (6842); Scotch collie Don B (33469). PLAZA KENNELS, Piqua, O. 15

CHESAPEAKE MARK (35914); fee $10. L. K. MASON, Hastings, Ia. 43-15-tf

MATERIALS AND FIXTURES

"OUR DOGS"

The Popular English Doggy Journal.

Published every Saturday. Price One Penny.

Contains all the latest news and the best information relating to doggy subjects. It is written in chatty style; is contributed to by the best known writers; is well illustrated; enjoys a large circulation, and is a splendid medium for the sale or purchase of dogs. Subscription 8s. 6d per year post free to any part of America. SPECIMEN COPIES FREE.

Our Dogs Publishing Co., Ltd.,

10 Gore St., Piccadilly, Manchester, Eng.

McGILL UNIVERSITY, MONTREAL

Faculty of Comparative Medicine and Veterinary Science (late Montreal Veterinary College). Calendars sent on application, giving full information to intending students. Lectures commence first Wednesday in October in each year. Apply to CHARLES McEACHRAN, D. V. S., Registrar, Veterinary College, 6 Union Avenue, Montreal, Canada. 37-1-tf

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

KENNEL

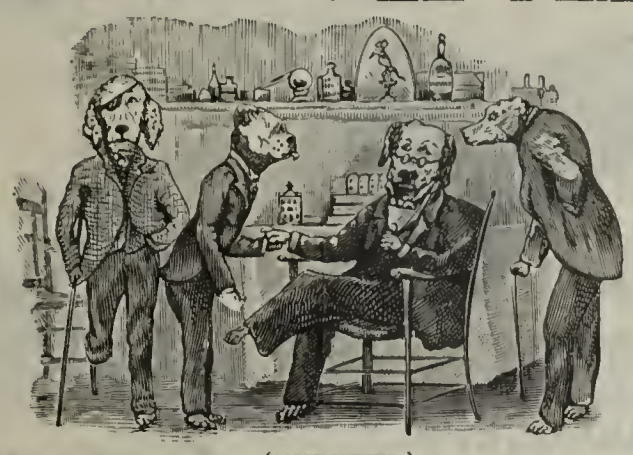
Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

MATERIALS AND FIXTURES.

LITTLE'S SOLUBLE PHENYLE

LITTLE'S PRIZE MEDAL PHENYLE DOG SOAP

Cleanses the skin and improves the coat.



Superior to any now before the public. Beautifies, cleanses, and gives a healthy glow to the skin.

LITTLE'S SANITARY PHENYLE DOG SOAP.

(COPYRIGHTED.)

DOCTOR—There is no doubt, my friends, but that you are suffering from a most severe case of Mange. My advice is that you procure at once LITTLE'S SOLUBLE PHENYLE, a sure cure, which will also keep your kennels nice and sweet.

PATIENTS (all together)—We will send to our druggist for it at once.

Used by the principal kennels and bench shows in America and Europe. No keeper of valuable dogs, horses, etc, should be without it. Pronounced by the highest authorities the best and most effective disinfectant in the market. For full particulars of its various uses, send for pamphlet to

MORRIS LITTLE & SON, 175 to 177 N. 10th Street, Brooklyn, E. D., N. Y.

The final choice of many kennels and individuals after trying all others, as attested by hundreds of unsolicited letters.

AUSTIN & GRAVES,

116 COMMERCIAL ST.,

BOSTON, MASS.

Excelsior Dog Cakes

As their name implies, are the highest grade in the world, and five gold and silver medals corroborate the fact. They are economical and nutritious and are used by the leading kennels in the United States and Europe.

The Swiss Mountain Kennels have the following to say about them:

SWISS MOUNTAIN KENNELS, GERMANTOWN, PA.

Gentlemen:—I have used Excelsior biscuits now for about five years and find them perfectly satisfactory in all respects. The dogs are not only fond of them, but even when used exclusively have always agreed splendidly with them, keeping them generally in a good healthy trim.

I have several times recommended them to other parties and have never failed to find them otherwise than pleased with them. I would here thank you for your prompt attention to all orders. I am perfectly willing you should publish anything I have said formerly or at the present time in regard to the cakes. Yours truly,

(Signed) MRS. F. SMYTH.

Send $4.50 for sample bag of 100 lbs.

FRANKLIN HALLET & CO.,

2 and 4 Stone St., NEW YORK.

WHITMAN KENNEL SUPPLY CO.

418 WABASH AVE., CHICAGO.

PEDIGREES COMPILED

And printed in first-class style, and at reasonable rates.

COPYRIGHT PEDIGREE BLANKS.

Pictures for framing of CHAMPION PAUL GLADSTONE, DASH III AND COUNTESS MAY; GLADSTONE AND PEEP O' DAY; CROXTETH AND SENSATION; EMPEROR FRED, and others.

WHITMAN'S UNIQUE DOG REMEDIES.

SPRATTS DOG FOODS AND MEDICINES.

AUSTIN'S DOG FOODS.

SERGEANT'S CONDITION PILLS.

L. F. WHITMAN, Manager.

33-26-tf

NEW BOOK ON DOG DISEASES

And How to Feed

Mailed FREE to any address by the author.

H. CLAY GLOVER, D.V.S., 1293 Broadway, N. Y

R. J. WITHERS, M. D.,

VETERINARY SURGEON,

627 So. Main St., LOS ANGELES, CAL.

Treatment of dogs a specialty. Good hospital accommodations. Advice by mail $1.

Dr. Nelson N. Lefler,

VETERINARIAN,

Geneseo, Livingston Co., New York.

Proprietor of the Genesee Valley Pointer Kennels; special attention given to canine diseases; advice by mail, $1. A few finely bred pointer puppies for sale. Write for prices before you buy elsewhere. 19*

HEALTH FOR ANIMALS

Of the many skin diseases that animals are subject to there are none which cannot be brought under control and speedily cured by the use of

GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP

Its perfect reliability in all forms of

MANGE

From which dogs suffer has been attested by innumerable testimonials from the highest kennel authorities and the grateful acknowledgment of thousands of dog owners.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS. SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

MISCELLANEOUS.

HUNTING GROUNDS

ALONG THE LINE OF

The Southern Railway

The Southern Railway is endeavoring to furnish every facility to sportsmen to reach its territory, especially Virginia and the Carolinas, where game is abundant and game laws lenient.

Most convenient schedules are operated from all junction points.

For additional information apply o

S. H. HARDWICK,
Ass't Gen. Pass. Agt., Atlanta, Ga.
C. A. BENSCOTER.
Ass't Gen. Pass. Agt., Knoxville, Tenn.
W. A. TURK,
Gen. Pass. Agt., Washington, D. C.
R. D. CARPENTER,
Gen. Agt., 271 Broadway, New York
HENRY HIDEN,
Commercial Agt., 10 Rookery, Chicago.
L. S. BROWN,
Gen. Agt., 1300 Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, D. C.

Chicago & Alton R.R.

AMERICA'S MOST POPULAR RAILROAD.

PERFECT PASSENGER SERVICE.

The direct, best and only rock-ballasted dustless line between

CHICAGO AND KANSAS CITY,
CHICAGO AND ST. LOUIS,
ST. LOUIS AND KANSAS CITY.

Through Pullman Service Every Day From

CHICAGO TO COLORADO

JAMES CHARLTON, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Chicago, Illinois.

In answering advertisements please mention that you saw the advertisement in the AMERICAN FIELD.

TROUT, BASS,
PICKEREL, PERCH,
GEESE, SN[illegible]

Are all to be found [illegible] the li[illegible]

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

SEND FOR

Natural Game Preserves of North America.

CHAS. S. FEE,

Gen. Pass. and Ticket Agt., ST. PAUL.

PLOVER, ANTELOPE, BEAR,
MOUNTAIN LIONS, CARIBOU, DEER,
WHITE GOATS, ROCKY MTN. SHEEP

SPORTSMEN, ATTENTION!

Trophies of the Forest and Field.

Few sportsmen are enabled to keep souvenirs of the chase, as the art of preserving objects of natural history is not generally known. Still there are thousands of gunners and anglers, together with their parents, wives and children, who often lament their want of ability to mount rare and curious objects of interest, and trophies of the day's or week's outing.

Many homes could be beautified, and many dens made more attractive, if the head of the house, his wife or children, had even a slight knowledge of preserving and mounting objects of natural history. We often hear the remark: "How I wish that big pike's head could be saved." Or we hear the complaint from a hunter who deplores the fact of his inability to save more than the horns of the moose, elk or caribou which he shot on the trip; while the lady of the house, intent on decoration, laments the wasting of the plumage of the game birds.

Do you wish to learn a simple method by which you can preserve and mount a humming bird, grouse, snipe or quail in natural position, or put up a pike's or deer's head?

Do you wish to follow a course of instruction which does not require one-third of the work needed for the old style of preserving by stuffing, or less than one-tenth of the expense?

Do you wish to give agreeable employment to your family, and beautify your homes, enlighten your children, and delight and interest your friends?

If so, inclose a stamp for further information. Mention the AMERICAN FIELD. MORRIS GIBBS, M. D., Kalamazoo, Mich. 43-26

The Home of the Tarpon

AND

Ducks by the Million

AT

Aransas and Corpus Christi Bays

REACHED BY

San Antonio and Aransas Pass Ry.

Twelve tarpon caught in one day, November 4, 1894, by Messrs. Bull, Lewis and Wallis of Racine, Wis., aggregating over 800 pounds.

Tarpon season March 15 to December 1; duck shooting December to March.

Send for maps, etc. Address

E. J. MARTIN, Gen. Pass. Agt., San Antonio, Tex.

H. B. CHAPIN. J. J. GORE. J. B. CARTER

CHAPIN & GORE,

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN

FINE WHISKIES

IMPORTED

Wines, Liquors and Cigars.

73 & 75 Monroe St., Chicago

Branch Stores: 152 22nd Street, 121 Clark Street, and 73 South Halsted Street, Chicago.

Branch Store: 30 and 32 N. Illinois Street, Indianapolis, Ind.

Paris Branch: No. 28 Boulevard Haussmann, Paris. 18-3-1y

MODERN TRAINING

Handling and Kennel Management.

By B. WATERS.

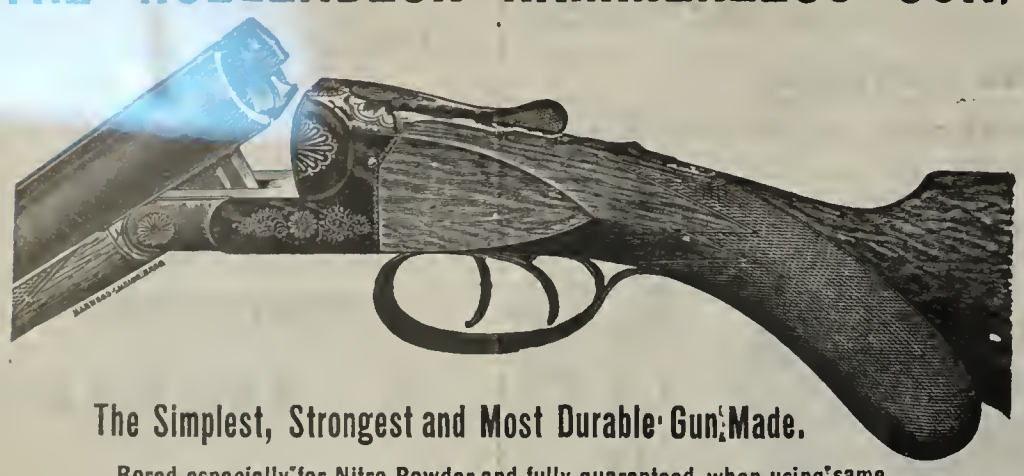
This is the only work on Dog Training which treats the subject after the Modern Methods developed by Field Work, Field Trial Competition, Skillful Handlers and a more accurate knowledge of the dog's nature and capabilities.

PRICE $2.00 BY MAIL

The American Field Pub. Co.

CHICAGO, ILL.

THE HOLLENBECK HAMMERLESS GUN.



The Simplest, Strongest and Most Durable Gun Made.

Bored especially for Nitro Powder and fully guaranteed when using same.

We make 12-ga. as light as 6½ pounds. We make 10 ga. as light as 7 pounds. The above cut represents our No. 1 grade. Write for circular and prices

SYRACUSE ARMS CO., SYRACUSE, N. Y.

Sole Agents, HERMANN BOKER & CO., 101-103 Duane St., New York.

Modern American Pistols and Revolvers.

By A. . GOULD ("RALPH GREE NWOOD").

An account of the development of pistols and revolvers in America; description of the varieties manufactured; manner of shooting them; work accomplished with these arms; departments of pistol and revolver shooting; impressions formed by studying these arms, and rules governing pistol and revolver competitions. Profusely illustrated 222 pages, cloth bound.

PRICE $1.50.

Address AMERICAN FIELD PUB. CO., Chicago, Ill.

AMERICAN GAME FISHES.

Their Habits, Habitat, and Peculiarities. How, When and Where to Angle for Them.

The hook is a sportsman's hook, edited and written by sportsmen. In a relatively small compass th able writers, whose names appear in the contents, and are well qualified to discuss the subjects upon which they have written, have furnished a hook that, as a whole, is unequaled in the history of angling literature, and no other volume presents to its readers so much valuable information by such a corps of accomplished and experienced writers upon AMERICAN GAME FISHES.

The 155 illustrations will he found to be accurate, truthful portraits of all the fishes described in the volume. The two colored plates give the natural colors of the flies commonly used in angling, and enhance the value of the book.

CONTENTS.

Introduction.....A. N. CHENEY.
The Salmou... .....CHARLES HALLOCK.
The Pacific Salmon.....W. A. PERRY ("Sillaicum").
The Laud-Locked Salmon.....J. G. A. CREIGHTON.
The Tarpon .....W. N. HALDEMAN.
The Striped Bass..... FRANCIS ENDICOTT.
The Black Bass.....DR. J. A. HENSHALL.
The Bluefish .. ....PROF. G. BROWN GOODE.
The Mascalonge.....LR. J. A. HENSHALL.
The Mascalongc in Wisconsiu Waters. .....A. A. MOSHER.
The Brook Trout. .. F. H. THURSTON ("Kelpie").
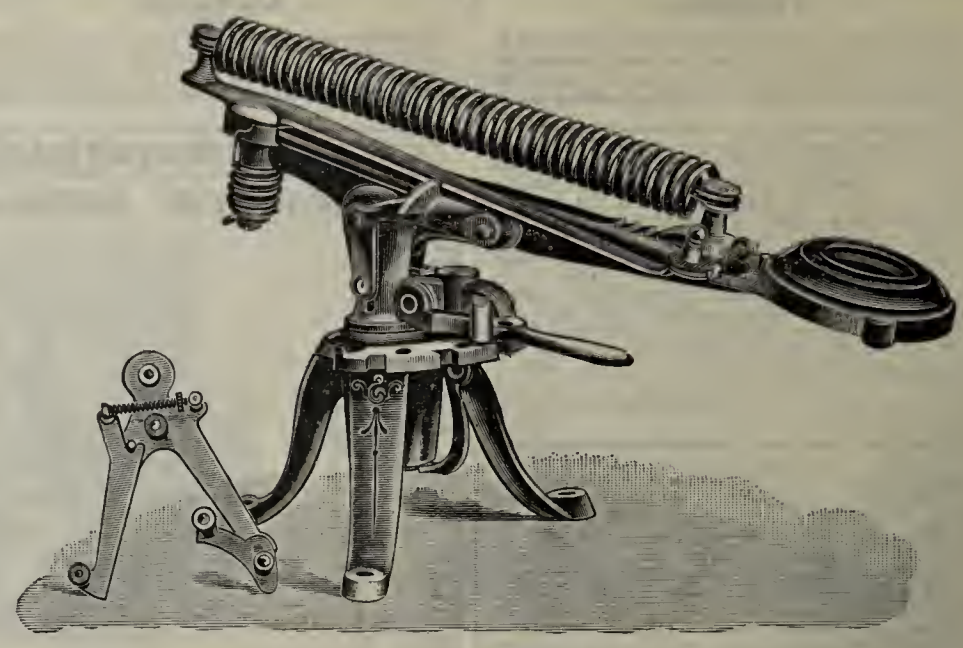
Trouting ou the Nipigon.... ...W. H. H. MURRAY.
The Lake Trout.....REV. LUTHER PARDEE.
The Rocky Mountain Trout..... G. O. SHIELDS ("Coquina").
Sea Bass, Sea Trout, Spanish Mackerel, Grouper, Mangrove Snapper, Sheepshead and other Southern Fishes..... ..... S. C. CLARKE.
The Grayliug.....F. H. THURSTON.
The Pike..... W. D. TOMLIN.
The Wall-Eyed Pike.....A. A. MOSHER.
The Pickerel.....W. D. TOMLIN.
The White Perch..... .....FRED. MATHER.
The Yellow Bass, White Bass, Strawberry Bass, Rock Bass, Crappie, Sunfish, Yellow Perch, and Minor Perch and Sunfishes. ...PROF. DAVID STARR JORDAN.
The Senses of Fishes.....WILLIAM C. HARRIS.
Fishing-Tackle, and How to Make It. .....J. HARRINGTON KEENE
Reels, Their Use and Abuse.....B. C. MILA
The Angler's Camp Outfit.....G. O. SHIELD

Large 8vo, 580 Pages. Cloth $2.50; Half Morocco, $4.00; Full Morocco, gilt edged, $5.50.

fr press, and will be sent by mail on receipt of price. Address

AMERICAN FIELD PUBLISHING CO.,

245 and 247 State Street, Chicago, Ill.



Perfection in Target Traps.

The simplest, easiest worked and most compact Trap on the market. Particulars on application.

CLOVER TRAP AND TARGET CO., FREDONIA, N. Y.

The Best Hunting and Fishing Grounds of the United States

ARE ON THE LINE OF

The Santa Fe Route

The Greatest Railroad in the World.

It has the shortest line, the most comfortable trains and the best meal service between Chicago and the Pacific Coast. It traverses fourteen states and territories and reaches the most important points in the West and Southwest. It is the route for sportsmen to patronize. For descriptive books and detailed information address

C. A. HIGGINS, Room 725 Monadnock Bldg., Chicago.

REMINGTON HAMMERLESS GUNS

AUTOMATIC AND NON-AUTOMATIC EJECTING.

The Finest American Guns Ever Offered.

Ten qualities; from $45 upward.

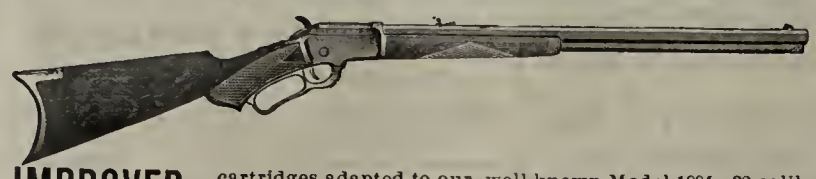
GUARANTEED FOR NITRO POWDERS.

Complete catalogue of Remington firearms on application.

REMINGTON ARMS CO., ILION, N. Y.

Makers of the Celebrated Remington Bicycle. Office 316 315 Broadway, New York.

MARLIN - 1891 - .32-CALIBER.



IMPROVED. WE are pleased to announce that the U. M. C. Co. has improved the well-known cartridges, 32 long rim fire and 32 long Colt's center fire. These are the cartridges adapted to our well-known Model 1891, .32-caliber rifle. As now made the cartridges are Inside Lubricated. A higher grade of Powder and a Special Hard Bullet are used. As a result the cartridge is more efficient in accuracy and penetration, cleaner and more enjoyable to use. As these cartridges are made in this form especially for Rifle use, be sure to call for .32 Long Rifle R. F. and .32 Long Rifle C. F. cartridges.

Full information about all Rifles of our manufacture furnished on application.

THE MARLIN FIREARMS CO., NEW HAVEN, CONN.

THE AMERICAN FIELD

THE SPORTSMAN'S JOURNAL.

Vol. XLIII—No. 16. NEW YORK AND CHICAGO, SATURDAY, APRIL. 20, 1895. PRICE, Ten Cents. $5.00 Per Year.

Published by the American Field Publishing Co.

TERMS.—Five dollars a year; two dollars and seventy-five cents for six months; Club rates, three or more four dollars a year each; strictly in advance.

REMITTANCES.—Money should be sent by American Express Co.'s Money Order, Postal Order, Draft on Chicago, or by Registered Letter.

NEWS DEALERS.—The Trade supplied by the American and Western News Companies.

COMMUNICATIONS.—Manuscript intended for publication should be written on one side of the paper only, and must be accompanied by the writer's name and address, not necessarily for publication, but as a private guarantee of good faith, and all communications, upon any subject, or for any department, must be addressed,

N. ROWE.
Editor and Manager American Field,
245 and 247 State St., Chicago, Ill.

EASTERN OFFICE.—19 Park Place, New York.

Game and Shooting

FIXTURES

Iowa State Sportsmeu's Association's annual meeting, Cedar Rapids, Ia., May 14.

Sportsmen's Exposition, Madison Square Garden, New York City, May 13, 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18.

Illinois State Sportsmen's Association's twenty-first annual convention, Chicago, June 4.

North Dakota State Sportsmen's Association's first annual convention, Fargo, June 14.

DUCK AND GOOSE SHOOTING IN THE SAND HILLS

(Illustrated)

BY J. F. PARKS

It had been growing colder and colder from day to day as the heated term of August faded gently into the more somber month of September, dressed in her many hues of old gold, crimson and brown, the month when the thoughts of the sportsman naturally revert to his trusty gun which for many weeks has snugly reposed in its wool-lined leather case, disturbed only now and then when its owner, impelled by a natural love of the sight of the weapon, took it out, to take an admiring squint through the tubes at its spotless polish, or to throw it to his shoulder and make imaginary singles and doubles on his favorite game until the law or, perhaps, circumstances would permit him to take to the field or marsh for his much-coveted annual outing, the details of which had all been planned and lived over again and again since his last outing. It is hardly necessary for me to say, dear reader, that you have been there yourself many, many times. Yes, we have all been there.

This was the mood in which the writer found himself one beautiful September morning as he sat in his office quietly dreaming over past hunting experiences and longing for the time to come when an opportunity would be afforded to repeat some of those happy, exhilarating days, when all at once his reverie was ruthlessly disturbed—just as he was getting ready to salute a big flock of canvas-backs that were in his mind's eye swinging into his decoys—by his business partner, Mr. H. D. Clark, walking in and exclaiming:

"Say, John, I just received a letter from Hamilton, and he says the ducks and geese are coming in in clouds, and he would like to have our party come down about the twenty-second."

"All right," I replied, "the twenty-second goes, and I will see Frank Crabill and Dr. Adams and see if they will go with us."

So 5:40 o'clock on the afternoon of September 22, 1894, found the following party aboard the popular B. & M. (Burlington) train bound for Lakeside, Neb.: Dr. W. E. Adams, Frank S. Crabill, Tommy Crabill (Frank's son) and the writer. H. D. Clark, the other member of the party, owing to a very pressing business engagement, found at the very last moment that he could not go with us. This was a sore disappointment to us all, and we left the Springs feeling that a cloud had risen upon the horizon of our trip at the very outset; yet we were to some extent comforted by the thought that H. D. proved himself loyal to his business interests.

A short ride of a couple of hours brought our party to Edgemont, a station on the main line of the road, where we took supper at the hotel or eating house belonging the great Burlington Route system of eating houses. And it is but doing justice to this excellently equipped and well managed line to state, in passing, that whatever may have been heretofore said and written about the proverbial petrification known as the railway eating house sandwich, it certainly has no application to the eating houses along this line of road, as the table they set is first-class in every respect. At this particular place the house is in charge of Col. Thorpe, a gentleman in the truest sense of the word, a genuine sportsman, and a man who enjoys a national reputation as a caterer. Then again, I wish to acknowledge, in behalf of our entire party, our appreciation of the courteous and gentlemanly treatment we received from the trainmen in the matter of our personal comfort, and especially of the care of our dogs and baggage, for unfortunately it has been my sad experience heretofore to receive very shabby treatment from the lords of the punch and baggage car on other roads, and when I do run across a road where the employees treat sportsmen as human beings, I cannot refrain from mentioning it.

Leaving Edgemont and continuing our journey eastward, it was not long until we were bundled off at Lakeside, bag and baggage, to find to our disgust that the driver who had come over from the lakes after our party would not take us over that night. So we all turned into bed at the only hotel in the place, first having an understanding with the driver that we were to get an early start in the morning. The few short hours until daylight soon sped and we were up, and after a nice, warm breakfast we began to prepare for the long sandy ride of twenty-five miles to Hamilton's ranch. Frank suggested that he would go over to the station and get our baggage shaped up to load onto the wagon, while the Doctor and the writer started out to assist the driver in getting his team in readiness. In going out we met the driver coming out of the barn with his team(?), a pair of "broncos" about the size of full grown jack-rabbits, and when he pointed out the wagon to us Doc turned deathly pale, and for a moment I thought he would faint. The wagon was a little light affair, called a lumber wagon in this country, that would scarcely hold our baggage, to say nothing of the five men who were to ride on it; and to make matters worse, the tires were so loose one could stick his finger in between the tire and felloe in several places on most all of the wheels. This certainly was discouraging in the extreme, but we decided that if the wagon could stand it we could, and we soon had our traps packed on the thing. Then Frank suggested that we offer up a prayer of thanks for the wisdom displayed by our driver in not tackling the journey with this rig the night before, and we began our crawl through the sand toward the kingdom of the great and only Hamilton. I shall not weary the reader with the details of the weary march through this desolate waste of sand, as nothing of interest occurred except, perhaps, the fact that we became better acquainted with our driver, who, while displaying a decided ignorance as to distances, and a general lack of reliability in some other minor matters, proved himself to be an intelligent, Christian gentleman, and we finally pulled into Hamilton's ranch at 4:30 o'clock, all of us completely exhausted.

Mrs. Hamilton, in the absence of her husband, greeted us cordially and assigned us our quarters, from which, after a judicious application of laundry soap and alkali water, we emerged in a short time somewhat refreshed and immediately struck out for Hamilton's Lake, distant about a quarter of a mile from the house. On arriving at the lake we arranged our blinds at different points in the tall rushes around the edge of the water, but we were not long in discovering that we had come down to the lake too early, as the only birds that were using the lake at this time were a few teals, mallards and spoonbills that had been hatched in this locality. We succeeded, however, in bagging about twenty-five birds between us that evening. Returning after dark, to the ranch, we ate a hearty supper and retired early in order to get rested for the morrow.

We were up before daylight the next morning, and reached the lake just as the first faint streaks of light were to be seen in the eastern horizon. Tommy and the writer took one of the boats and the decoys and went to the extreme east end of the lake, where we made a very satisfactory blind in the rushes out in the lake some distance from the shore, while Frank and the Doctor took up their positions on the north and west shores respectively. After putting our decoys out and getting comfortably settled, we waited for some time before seeing any birds, when finally a sharp crack from the Doctor's locality caused us take a tighter grip on our shooting irons, as at the same time we saw a large number of ducks rise from among the rushes and begin to circle around. Finally a big bunch of teals were seen heading in our direction, and as they neared our blind they sighted the decoys, and, after making two or three wide circles, swung in, and just as they were setting their wings to alight we poured the contents of five barrels into their ranks, leaving as many dead birds among our decoys. In the meantime the Doctor and Frank were being heard from, and we could see from time to time the effects of their shots as birds pitched out of the flocks and went headlong to the water beneath. Tommy, on this occasion, was shooting one of the new Winchester "pump" guns, and for the next hour we had some very fine shooting; that is Tommy did, for the birds got to coming so fast at times, and he got to shooting so fast and recklessly, that the writer had to keep down on his knees in the bottom of the boat half of the time to avoid getting his head shot off, for as long as there was a bird on the horizon Tommy was after it. This fusilade of Tommy's finally brought Frank around to our end of the lake, and after watching him some little time, he called out: "Say, Tommy, why don't you let them get into this county before you shoot at them?" This, for a short time, had the desired effect, but he would soon break out again and down I would have to go to the bottom of the boat. About 8 o'clock the inner man began to assert his requirements, and as the shooting had become somewhat tame, we gathered up our birds and started for the ranch. As soon as we got within sight of the house we noticed a strange conveyance standing in front of our hostelry, and upon our arrival we were delighted to find that our absent member, H. D. Clark, who had come down the night before, had arrived at the ranch during our absence. With one accord we all rushed into the dining-room where he was eating his breakfast and fell upon his neck and wept copious tears of joy.

Perhaps it may be well at this juncture to speak of this dog-training establishment at which our party stopped. The "ranch" is presided over by Mr. E. W. Hamilton, who, unfortunately for the dogs that are placed in his hands, has acquired quite a reputation as a dog trainer, and who at the time of our visit had in his kennels (?) about twenty finely bred bird dogs. The kennels in which the poor brutes were kept are about thirty feet square, located on the side of a hill a short distance from the house, inclosed by a wire netting, and with nothing scarcely to shelter the dogs from the fierce rays of the sun—which is very intense in this locality even in September—and nothing but the hot sand for a bed. A short time after our return home, Mr. H. D. Clark, owner of one of the dogs, received the sad but not unlooked for intelligence that his dog was dead, and it may be safely presumed that the same news reached the owners of the other dogs in this kennel in due course of time.

After Mr. Clark's arrival we were in better spirits, and we resolved to overlook many of the little "perplexities" naturally found in bedclothes in sod houses; but the first night after Mr. Clark's arrival, although in deference to him as a man of wealth and position he had been assigned the "bridal chamber" on the first floor, from the noise he made all through the night—his remarks at times being embelished with something sounding awfully like cuss words—it was hard to determine until morning who got the best of it, Clark or the little "perplexities." But when old Sol at last sent his first faint glimmer through the little two-by-two window in the east end of our domicile, making it sufficiently light in the house to see plainly, a sight greeted our eyes never to be forgotten. There, on the edge of his downy (?) couch, sat what remained of this pampered and spoiled young man—scratching as though his life depended upon his efforts—without a stich of clothing on, and his body looking like someone had shot him with an old army musket loaded with beans. Fortunately we had a skilled surgeon with us, and he soon had the fractures reduced and the patient ready to eat his breakfast and sally forth with the rest of us when time was called for another bout with the web-footed family.

It was decided that morning that Frank, the Doctor and H. D. should take the team (?) and go over to Round Up Lake, while Tommy and the writer remain at Gimlet Lake. So after breakfast Tommy and I went down to Gimlet Lake, put out our decoys, and [illegible] back on the straw in the bottom of the boat [illegible] away at our Havanas, awaiting the arrival of the [illegible] we were sure the other boys would stir up on Round Up

Lake. We had about finished our cigars and were beginning to get a little dubious about the ducks coming our way when "swish" went a big flock of bluewing teals over our heads. Getting sight of our decoys they circled high and turned back.

"Ready, be careful Tommy," said I, "and don't shoot too quick and get only a half dozen of them anyhow."

The ducks made one wide cirole. then coming straight toward us began to set their wings to alight. I gave Tommy the signal to commence operations, and the way he sailed into that flock of teals was a caution. We succeeded in getting six loads into them, Tommy getting four shots and the writer two, and as a result eight birds were left on the water to be retrieved by a red Irish setter that had insisted in following us that morning. We had hardly got our birds into the boat when two big mallards were seen heading for our decoys from the direction of Round Up Lake. But they saw us and were going over too high, as I thought, to shoot at, when Tommy made a sensational double on them that fairly took my breath away for a minute. Turning to Tommy I said:

"My son, that is indeed very fine execution, but while you are reflecting great credit on your family as a worthy representative of your illustrious pa in making such long kills, if Brother Jim Elliott, who sold you that 'pump,' knew you were straining it in that manner he would certainly take it away from you."

DUCK AND GOOSE SHOOTING IN THE SANDHILLS—THE WRITER HAD TO KEEP DOWN IN THE BOTTOM OF THE BOAT HALF THE TIME TO KEEP FROM GETTING HIS HEAD SHOT OFF

"Never mind about my straining this gun," said he, "you just go after 'em with your $150 hammerless and I'll stop them after you get through."

We had not long to wait until I noticed a single duck coming our way, high up in the air.

"Now Tommy," said I, "that's my duck if it comes over," which it did, and at the crack of my Ithaca it folded its wings and nearly dropped into the boat.

"You're good, you are," said Tommy, "there wasn't any strain about that shot, either."

And so it went until we had about thirty birds in the boat, mostly mallards and spoonbills, when we took up our decoys and birds and started for the ranch, arriving there at about the same time the other boys, who reported rather indifferent success, pulled in.

As it continued warm we decided to ship what birds we had to our friends at home, so we put them in bunches and tagged them ready to be sent up the next morning. After supper that evening, as we did not go out again that day, we cleaned up our guns, took a smoke, and retired early so as to be up before sunrise to go after some honkers that traded between Goose Lake and the lakes to the south.

The next morning we were up bright and early and, under the direction of Mr. Hamilton, who went with us to show us the blinds, a man was sent on horseback to Goose Lake to raise the geese, while we took up positions on the high divides between the lakes, directly under the course of flight usually taken by the geese; and we were hardly [illegible] familiar honk! honk! was heard [illegible] Lake, and three big honkers [illegible] going right over where Tom- [illegible] they seemed to have seen him [illegible] over him and started to veer off to the left, but too late to save one of their number which bit the dust at Tommy's feet. We waited a little while longer. Finally an old gander came honking along between Tommy and the writer, and it was Tommy's good fortune to bring him down with another one of his long shots, making two geese for him, and the only two that were killed that morning by the entire party.

Returning to the ranch for breakfast, we arranged to all go over to Round Up Lake. So after breakfast we took the team, and on our way over we got a few jack-snipes along the little marshy places between Gimlet and Round Up lakes, which places in the Spring, when the water rises and enlarges them, we were told by the driver, were literally alive with these birds, and fine bags were the usual result of a few hours' shooting; but the past year it had been unusually dry and the snipe resorts were nearly all dried up when we visited them. On reaching Round Up Lake we found only a few ducks, and while the wagon was waiting for Tommy to retrieve a duck that he had knocked down, the writer went ahead and made a sneak on three spoonbills that were sitting out on the lake a short distance from the shore, and when they raised I got two of them with one barrel, the other one getting away. We decided not to remain here, so at the suggestion of the driver we proceeded to Crescent Lake, a beautiful sheet of water about two miles long by a half-mile wide, but still we found no ducks. Then we took a circuitous route home, taking in Blue Lake, another fine body of water not quite so large as Crescent Lake, and still finding no ducks we were forced to the conclusion that we had come at least a month too early, and that the great number of birds referred to by our host in his invitation to come down, must have been seen in a dream, as they were non est.

After reaching the ranch we held a council of war, at which the question of continuing our visit another day was fully discussed, and we finally decided to stay. That evening, as we were sitting in our bedroom enjoying our evening smoke, we were just a little startled at first by the sweet strains of an organ as they floated into the room on the cool evening air, and presently we were listening to one of those sweet gospel hymn refrains, sung with such purity and sweetness that it seemed to hold the entire party spell-bound, as it were, until the last chord had died away on the great sand wastes beyond, when, as with one accord, we set up an applause that would have gratified a prima donna, and we were again favored, much to our intense delight and genuine appreciation. Ah! how this evidence of civilization and refinement carried us back to three pleasant homes we had so willingly forsaken for this rough experience of a few days, and what a change it wrought in the general deportment of each and every one of our party, for it was plainly noticeable, as I cast my eye around the room, that a change had come over all of us; we were unconsciously sitting with bowed heads, thinking of the dear ones at home and contrasting their condition with what was to be seen around and about us. Here we were twenty-five miles from nowhere, not looking for or expecting anything but the rougher side of life, and yet right in the very midst of it all a female voice touching a responsive chord in our natures and we were carried back to civilization with a keener appreciation of our own circumstances and conditions; and we resolved to make our renewed appreciation manifest when we returned home by being more kind and loving to those with whom we come in contact in our daily walks of life. This, brother sportsmen, is one of the greatest benefits one derives from an outing like this, and I am conceited enough to think that this great world of ours would be infinitely better to-day if more of our people were lovers of the rod and gun and took these annual outings in quest of game and health.

We retired about 10 o'clock and had a good, refreshing sleep, undisturbed by any "perplexities," as we were seemingly getting used to them. When morning came and as we were all up arranging our toilets, Frank was noticed trying to pull something onto his legs that did not fit. After struggling with this garment for several minutes he held it aloft and with a peal of laughter that started all the dogs out in the pen to barking, exclaimed: "If I haven't brought a pair of the old woman's pants along!" And sure enugh he had. In the excitement and hurry incident to getting his grip packed he had consulted the clothes closet and got the wrong pair of pants. This little incident created much amusement for the party at Frank's expense, but he bore the brunt of the joke with his usual fortitude. We put in this day shooting around Gimlet Lake and succeeded in bagging forty or fifty more ducks.

The next morning, after settling up with our landlord, we repacked our traps, arranged our game in convenient bunches, and when we had everything packed on the wagon we discovered we could not get along without another conveyance, so the proprietor trotted out another of his "fiery" steeds hitched to a little two-wheeled gig, and, with Tommy and I at the helm of this instrument of torture, we hit the trail; not, however, without first bidding a fond and affectionate adieu to the landlord and his estimable wife, who had been instrumental in no small measure in making our visit an enjoyable one. The conveyance that Tommy and I were riding in had one of the springs broken, which had been patched up with a piece of rope and a small stick of timber and looked secure enough; but at the very first hill we descended we came to grief. The piece of wood used as a support flew out and we landed on the old mare's back, from which place we fell to the ground amid a shout of laughter from the men in the conveyance ahead of us. Not discouraged in the least, we went back and got the stick and soon had it fixed so as to proceed on our journey. But the same thing happened right along at every hill we descended, except that instead of going out on the old mare's back we elected to go out backward. This thing continued until the writer could stand it no longer, and, on the pretext of getting a drink of water from the other wagon, we stopped them and I got in the larger wagon to stay, leaving Tommy the bag to hold, who in turn was finally relieved by Frank, after we had covered about half of the distance.

Mrs. Hamilton had prepared a nice luncheon for the party, and about noon we stopped at a ranch to water our horses and eat our lunch. As we were unhitching our teams the proprietor of the ranch came out and invited us in, explaining that he had just finished his own dinner, but he would be glad to make us some hot coffee if we would like it. We accepted of his kind hospitality and went in and were introduced to his wife, who proceeded at once to make the coffee over a buffalo-chip fire. This man's possessions, as far as we were able to discover, consisted of a stove, one ordinary fence-board bedstead, one little wooden bench, a dresser, a few dishes, and one Colt's navy revolver which was hanging on the wall. In fact his apparent poverty was painful to behold, and yet we were as royally welcomed as if he had the possessions of a king. The coffee was soon ready, and we ate our unch, the proprietor all the while apologizing for a lack of many of the little luxuries usually found in well appointed homes. After we were through we thanked the good wife for her trouble, and were going out, when I noticed big-hearted Frank turn back and slip a big silver dollar into the hand of the lady. She declined at first to accept it, but Frank turned away and left the dollar, at the same time I thought I discerned a moisture about his eyes that betokened the emotions going on within. May God bless, and at no distant day, prosper those good people! is the prayer of one who was deeply touched by this simple exhibition of generosity and hospitality, coming as it did in the nature of the "widow's mite."

Proceeding on our journey we reached Lakeside about 5 o'clock, where we unloaded our game and baggage at the depot and then went over to the hotel and washed up. It had been intensely warm all day, and being afraid our game would spoil, the writer arranged it in bunches along the platform at the station, in order to have it cool before it was put aboard the train; and while this was being done the Doctor packed the carry-all bag, ready to be checked, but in some way left my overcoat out. When we had finished these tasks we went over to the hotel for supper, and after supper we repaired to the parlor, where we indulged in some vocal and instrumental music until about 9 o'clock, when we thought it would be well to go over to the depot and get our baggage checked. On arriving at the station my first thought was to get the game in shape to put on the train, when to our great surprise we discovered all except a little bunch of teals gone, and my overcoat with them. We thought at first it was a joke played on us by the station agent, but upon inquiry we soon learned that this was not the case, and we were forced to acknowledge that we had been robbed. As the train that we were going on was not due until 1:30, we had the obliging station agent flag the freight for us at 11:30, and, taking a firm grip on our beloved guns to be sure of their retention, we waited with undisguised impatience the arrival of the freight; our object in taking the freight being to enable us to get away from Lakeside as soon as possible, and reach Alliance, where we would wait for the northbound passenger. The freight came on time and we soon reached Alliance, where, after a wait of two hours, we boarded the regular passenger and reached Hot Springs the next morning at 8:30 o'clock.

Hot Springs, S. D.

THE CHOICE OF A GUN

MADISON, ALA.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—What kind of a gun should one buy? is the question which is a problem to the many inexperienced hunters. My advice is, an American-made gun, whether one has a small or large bank account, and whether it be a hammer, hammerless or an ejector. My choice is an ejector, but the low price of cotton and poor collections from my colored friends prevent me getting that which I desire—a high-priced gun.

The writer has owned a Remington, Parker, Colt, Lefever, Ithaca, Baker and an L. C. Smith, and has shot a great many imported guns. I have also owned a Charles Schilling, made in Suhl, Prussia, the latter a fine, high-priced gun, but it was impossible to keep it from shooting loose. This shooting loose is what I seriously object to. I can certainly vouch for the wearing qualities of the Smith gun, and for its penetration and fine distribution, for I have tested it with both foreign and other American-made guns and have never seen its superior in penetration. The Greener was the only gun that I tried, to come up to it in distribution. But very many guns sighted properly and pointed right will do good execution.

The Smith gun in the cheap grade is strong and simple, the material and workmanship in it cannot be excelled, and for the price it is worth every penny one pays for one of them. The writer is neither an expert nor a good amateur, but a good all-around shot—so they tell me—with rifle, pistol or shotgun. However, I have shot a great deal at the trap and in the field, and with a great many fine shots, some of whom used high priced guns. I have been very fortunate in having opportunity to examine guns and in having their good points explained, and I find that the finish of American guns far excels that of foreign-made guns. As to finish and balance, taking price in consideration, I think the Smith gun is balanced as nicely as the Scott or Greener, and the two latter cost almost twice as much as a Smith does.

It is a pleasure to me to note the rapid progress American gun manufacturers are making. My second choice is the Lefever. I have one Smith gun, No. 2 grade, which has been shot for twelve years and thousands upon thousands of times with the heaviest of charges, and it is now almost as tight as the day it left the shop. You can put the finest hair in breech and close the gun and it is impossible to pull the hair out, the parts fit so closely. I do not say that the Smith gun will not eventually wear, as any metal will, and on this gun the lever works a little farther around than when it left factory—as it takes up wear—but it is tight.

As stated before my choice is an ejector, but cotton on the one side, negroes on the other, and both cheap and the market glutted, compelled me to buy a cheap grade gun, and I find it all I could wish for as to shooting qualities and finish. I have one pair of 30-inch barrels, full choke, and one pair of 28-inch, right cylinder, left modified choke, so I have a gun for all kinds of shooting. In cover I kill my birds quickly and in nice shape to take home.

In conclusion let me say to the reader, if you want a gun for strength, simplicity and beauty, buy an L. C. Smith.

F. G. HERTZLER.

UNFRIENDLY LEGISLATION

CHICAGO.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—In response to the courteous criticism of an article written by the undersigned upon the subject of Unfriendly Legislation, bearing the signature of your esteemed correspondent, B. W. Mathews, I have but a few words to say.

Sportsmen are not shooters for the market, although it is far more honorable for them to sell game than to permit it to be wasted, as I think has been frequently done in some of the western states for reason of the inability to send such game to friends in other states after having killed it. It is not commendable, but is seriously objectionable; yes, wrong to shoot game which cannot be utilized as food for man. Song birds and insectivorous birds should never be killed—seldom are by true sportsmen. A true sportsman's word is as effective as would be his affidavit. He will not violate a known law.

Sportsmen cease to be such when they become shooters for the market, although shooters for the market may be, in a sense, sportsmen. Perhaps the distinction is a delicate one, but may be entertained, however. Restrict the number of birds that any one man shall kill in a season, and it will be a matter of indifference, in the line of preserving game, whether he kills birds for the market, or for the use of friends. Prosecute persons who kill birds before the open season, and the half, at least, has been secured, game preservation. Nor would I critisise market-shooters. Frequently they are men who stand as high in real character as sportsmen are supposed to if they be of such character as indicated by Mr. Mathews—requiring an affidavit that they will obey a law. Their occupation is a legitimate one. Simply control the number they may kill. But for their existence, under the restrictive laws as to export, such of our people as are unable to kill game would be deprived of the pleasure of eating it. As to that, however, Mr. Mathews has made no comment. He says that "but for the so-called South Water Street bill, which, if it becomes a law in Illinois, would make Chicago an open market for all game killed out of the state, it is probable that the North Dakota license law would never been passed." This is not a sufficient excuse. The passage of that law has so stimulated some of the members of the legislature that it has required additional effort on the part of the officers and certain members of the Illinois State Sportsmen's Association to counteract that influence. Legislation should not be passed as a menace. Sportsmen of North Dakota well knew of the effort that was being made by Illinois sportsmen to defeat the so-called South Water Street bill, and the action of the North Dakota legislature, if inspired by sportsmen of that state, deserves criticism. Do not attribute the depletion of game to non-resident sportsmen; it is their own people who kill game out of season, and neighbors do not prosecute them. The enemies of game protection will not have sufficient influence in our legislature to secure the passage of any unfriendly law to game protection, however. If it does come, it is because of the selfishness of the people of the West, through their legislatures.

In relation to Spring shooting, the laws of Illinois have for several years restricted the killing of wild fowl to the date now named in the laws of Minnesota, April 15 to September 1. Illinois has also the non-export law in relation to game killed in this state. That is, in my opinion, wrong; and the criticism made in my former article holds as good against Illinois as against the other states. No other organization in this country has made as great an effort in the line of game preservation as has the Illinois State Sportsmen's Association. Our Western friends, in return, have not been generous; still, let all sportsmen make efforts toward sustaining game protective laws, whether in harmony with their best thought or not. Such has always been my practice, and will be.

C. E. FELTON,

GAME PROTECTION

BELLEFONTAINE, O.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—Now that the open season on most kinds of small game has closed, a few remarks upon the subject of so much interest to sportsmen, game protection, may not be altogether out of place.

I think that here in Ohio we have struck the keynote of true game protection by shutting off the market-shooter. Our legislature last Winter passed a law prohibiting the sale of quails, and it has worked splendidly. That greedy person, the market-hunter, has had nothing to do, and such men have, to a large extent, ceased to hunt, thereby saving the birds.

I am in favor of a short open season, or, if the majority of shooters prefer a longer time than one month, I would limit the shooting to only four days in the week, giving the birds time to rest and recover from fright. We have such a law in this state regarding duck shooting and it is a very good one. This, to some, may seem somewhat unreasonable, but we must restrict ourselves some or we may soon have to stop shooting for want of game. As to ducks there should be, I think, a limit to the number killed by one gun in any one day. The city sportsman who goes out and shoots one hundred or more ducks in one day is far more to be censured than the farmer boy who fires his Zulu into a bevy of quails on the ground, as that same boy will, during the storms in Winter, feed the quails whenever he has the opportunity, while the city sportsman, if he only gets ninety-five birds on his next trip, is disgusted with his luck and blames something or somebody other than himself because of the scarcity of game. We should all be content with a reasonable amount of game. I think that the recommendations made at the second annual meeting of the National Game, Bird and Fish Protective Association were, with one exception, good, although I do not see why recommendation No. 3 could not be amended so as to allow a shooter [illegible] amount of his game home with him, [illegible] another, the shooter, of course, acc[illegible] The second recommendation, with all res[illegible] tee, is, I think, ridiculous, and has [illegible] chance of ever becoming a law. We, in free America, want no such English ideas. As far as shooting is concerned, the rich and poor are on an equal footing. As far as I am concerned personally, I am able to pay a license, but I have friends and acquaintances, and so has everyone, who have not the means to pay a gun tax; and are these to be shut out from the pleasure of shooting? Must the many give up their pleasure to satisfy the few? To all such as are advocating taxing the gun, I would respectfully call attention to Article II, amendments to the constitution of the United States.

Now I expect someone will jump onto me with both feet, but let them come ahead. I guess I can stand it if it will bring out the opinions of the readers of the AMERICAN FIELD. Opinions are just what we want.

I strongly favor short open seasons, limit the amount of game killed by any one gun, introduce and protect for a number of years Mongolian pheasants, and, best of all, strictly prohibit the sale of any kind of small game at any time or by any person. But not one shooter in six wants a gun tax.

COTTONTAIL.

A BEAR HUNT IN ARIZONA

FORT BAYARD, N. M.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—Several years ago a band of Apache Indians, under the leadership of Geronimo, went on the war path, and it was my good fortune to be one of a scouting party of United States cavalry on the lookout for the band. We were traveling down a mountain stream in Arizona, crossing and recrossing, in order to find a trail for our animals, when our Indian scout suddenly halted and, bending low in his saddle, whispered to me: "Shash!" which means in their language, bear. I looked in the direction he pointed and could see the back of a huge bear. We dismounted carefully and, leaving our horses and packmules with two of the men who did not care to take part in the fracas, moved forward. I sent the Indian and one white man around by a circuitous route to approach the bear from the down-stream side. I then crawled forward until I reached a small sand dune about seventy-five yards from the bear. Then I took a careful survey of the object of our attack and found it was a silver tip and her two cubs. I had never fostered any idea about killing bear; in fact I came to the conclusion that I had not lost any bear that I knew of; but I was afraid to make any attempt to crawl back to where we left the horses. Extracting five or six cartridges from my belt and putting them between the fingers of my left hand, as I had seen soldiers at the competition do, I resolved to make an attack. The bear was now standing broadside to us, drinking from the stream. Planting my elbows firmly in the sand and taking careful aim, I fired. The bear gave a roar and came straight for me; but I drove a bullet into her shoulder which turned her, and then how I did shoot; the rapidity and effectiveness of my fire would have turned Dr. Carver green with envy. "Fear lent wings to my speed," I presume. At any rate the fourth shot brought her down, but I still kept firing. Although I had broken her spine I did not intend to take any chances on her helplessness. Gradually she sank to the ground, her growls ceased, and walking up close to her a well-directed shot between the eyes put her out of her misery.

We found after skinning her that she had been hit twenty times, and I could see where my first shot broke her lower jaw. As soon as the shooting commenced one of the cubs took to the rocky hillside and escaped; the other remained with its mother, crawling back and forth over her body as she lay dying. We found upon riding up to our quarry that the cub had a broken leg, and a well-directed "butt to the front" from the heelplate of a Springfield carbine, sent him on his way to join his mother in the happy hunting grounds.

Lashing the pelt on one of the packmules, we traveled a few miles down-stream, and then went into camp for the night, much elated over our success, and although bear are quite plentiful throughout that region, we were not fortunate enough to find another, although bear signs were very numerous, but owing to the thick oak brush it is impossible to find them without the aid of a few good dogs.

FRANK EDWARDS.

NITRO POWDERS

WABASH, IND.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—Surely wonders will never cease! Wads tells us in a recent number of the AMERICAN FIELD that Walsrode powder has the peculiar [illegible] of sustaining velocity and penetration in the [illegible] head wind, pulverizing targets when other nitro [illegible] failed to connect, though heavier charges were [illegible] This reminds me of the old-fashioned "jumping" [illegible] plow that not only kicked the unlucky plowman clean over the fence but kept on kicking him.

Wads would have us believe that "like linked sweetness [illegible] at,' Walsrode powder, when occasion de[illegible] r[illegible]ong behind the shot charge, kinder [illegible]o t[illegible]k, hence the wind pressure was [illegible]th [illegible]r said pulverizing went on in spite [illegible]

Walsrode is undoubtedly a good powder, still our best shots seem "shy," and in no hurry to discard the "old reliables." An exhaustive test failed to prove its superiority over American Wood, E C., S. S. or Schultze, and the claim of Wads that 29 grains of Walsrode developed a higher velocity than 42, 45 or even 52 grains of other nitro powders, is not warranted by practical tests, and is contrary to all natural laws governing explosives. True, he fails to name the nitros that in this instance failed to break targets in a strong wind, yet one would infer that some or all of the above-named powders were tried in comparison. I have never had occasion to use over three drams of E. C. or Du Pont powder in my target loads, and I have shot in some pretty strong winds and have no recollection of retrieving targets that showed shot marks that were not penetrated. Quite frequently I have seen shot holes in targets when a single pellet has struck the crown and passed through without breaking it; so has everyone who is familiar with trap shooting. But the strangest feature of the whole performance is that this light load of Walsrode which gives such terrific velocity gives no recoil, and while Fulford's 56-grain load may be equal to it in velocity, yet the recoil is such that few men can stand behind it. Now, if brother Wads can reconcile this seeming paradox I am ready to believe Walsrode will do anything he claims for it. Two loads of equal power, one without recoil, the other a veritable steam thrashing machine. Will Wads please rise and explain?

PULL.

EFFECTIVE PROTECTION FOR SMALL GAME

LOUISIANA, MO.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—Mr. A. W. Rhodes, in the AMERICAN FIELD of March 30, in his able article on the above named subject, strikes the keynote. Anyone giving the subject proper thought can readily perceive the enormous amount of game consumed and destroyed by vermin. Until late years, pheasants were fairly plenty through this section, but the introduction of red foxes, and their rapid increase, have practically exterminated them, and now more glimpses of foxes than of pheasants can be had in a day's hunt.

During the recent severe Winter the writer had a fine opportunity, many a time, to observe Reynard's ability as a bird finder. It was nothing uncommon to run across the tracks of two or three foxes in the snow, all apparently hunting together. By following these tracks one would see where a rabbit had been jumped and invariably caught. Still farther on a pheasant had been pounced upon under some sheltering log, or else a bevy of quails had been flushed, with one or two kills to his foxship's credit, and the birds being scattered he would also be responsible for the death of the whole bevy, if the night was extremely cold, as the birds often freeze, not being able to get together again in the dark.

A fox will travel from ten to twenty-five miles nightly, hunting every foot of the distance and displaying more bird sense than the best field trial winners. No wonder then that our small game is fast disappearing. Besides the fox there are many other varieties of vermin, second only to the fox in ability, all waging a relentless warfare upon game, and, unless the sportsmen, as suggested by Mr. Rhodes, shortly take hold of the matter, the time will surely come when a day afield with dog and gun, instead of being fraught with pleasure will be but a sad reminder of the past. Brother sportsmen, let us hear from more of you on this subject, and et us, as a body, do something to protect our game ere it is too late.

J. W. BARRE.

NOTES

A GENTLEMAN at St. Paul, Minn., expressing his views on Spring duck shooting, says: "Up the Minnesota River above Fort Snelling, and within the confines of the Long Meadow club, several years ago, there was a close season in the Spring for wild fowl. No shooting was done on these grounds, and the ducks that came in there were not disturbed, and stayed there. The succeeding Fall the lakes were alive with ducks. They had not been driven out by the shooting in the Spring, and hundreds had stayed there and bred, particularly mallards and teal. And what is true of these localities can be made true of the whole state. Minnesota is preëminently the game state of the Northwest. With all natural advantages, if Spring shooting is prohibited within the state, ducks will extend their migration no farther, and in the Fall, before the time for the southward flight, the quantity and quality of [illegible]y be killed here will satisfy the [illegible]ner that non-Spring shooting is [illegible] season far longer than the two [illegible]d, and in the place of lean, fever[illegible]g, and small flocks and hurried [illegible]can pick his birds from large and well fed flocks. Nothing can be more true than that a pair of ducks killed in the Spring means a flock of ducks less in the Fall."

QUAILS wintered well in this locality owing to very little cold weather and less snow. I managed to get out just once last Fall and in company with two friends put up five bevies of birds within six miles of this city, being in the field from 8 to 11:30 o'clock a. m. There is no doubt but what the quails are holding their own here. It will be remembered that this part of Missouri was not over-blessed with rain during the Fall of 1894, and to hunt quails here successfully when it is exceptionally dry is certainly a big task. I laughed more than once last Fall when listening to the "tales of woe" poured forth by some noted market-hunters all on account of "too dry;" "dog couldn't do a thing." Oh, what a blessing for the quails it would be if we could have about three seasons more just like last season. I have heard of but very few ducks being killed this Spring; no large bags at all. The sloughs, ponds and small lakes are all dry, and the ducks are following the river, making it exceedingly hard to get within gunshot of them. I am anxiously waiting to see the new Missouri game law in print, as I understand it illegal to have quails in possession after the season closes.

St. Joseph, Mo. G. L. BYERS.

FOR the first time in its history Eastern Oregon has a deputy game warden. Mr. A. V. Andrews of La Grande, has been appointed to that important position and doubtless will prove a very useful, active and conscientious officer. He is a young man of sterling character and an ardent and true sportsman. Now that we have a wide-awake and fearless warden and improved game laws, there seems no reason why the game supply should not increase. This country affords a great variety of game birds, insuring the finest of shooting for generations to come if shooters are not given too extended an open season and game is given proper protection. The present law limits to each shooter ten brace of birds a day, which ought to satisfy anyone short of a pot-hunter. There are quite a number of geese in the valley which will soon wing their way on to the North to fill nests with big white eggs for the rascally Alaskan albumen collectors. Sandhill cranes will shortly make their appearance and materially assist in bringing up the Spring-sown grain.

Cove, Ore. JASPER G. STEVENS.

THE sportsmen of Illinois should not waste their time indorsing or supporting some game bill introduced by their local representative or senator simply because such a measure has been introduced by the member from their district. The bill now before the legislature, prepared and indorsed by the officers of the Illinois State Sportsmen's Association, is as good, if not a better bill, than is likely to be introduced from anyone during this session of the legislature, and if anything is accomplished the sportsmen of the state will have to join forces on one measure and demand its passage. Urge your representative and your senator, also, to give their earnest support to the bill indorsed by the officers of the Illinois State Sportsmen's Association and you stand some show of getting a good game protective law, otherwise you will probably get none at all, or one that is not as good as the one you now have.

THE new game warden law recently enacted by the legislature of Montana provides that upon a petition being made to the board of county commissioners of any county, signed by one hundred resident taxpayers of said county, requesting the appointment of a game and fish warden for the county, the board of commissioners must appoint a warden at a salary of not over $100 per month, to be paid out of the general fund of the county. The warden is also allowed, in addition to his salary, one-half the fines collected, the other half going to the state to be credited to the "fish and game fund," and only to be drawn on by the chairman of the state board of fish and game commissioners.

SNIPE shooting is said to be pretty good just now as far north as the northern portion of Illinois, wherever there is suitable ground; but the birds are fearfully wild and a man to get a good bag has to possess three indispensable requisites: a good pair of legs, a hard shooting gun, and a keen eye. The best shooting on these birds, however, is yet to come, when the days get warmer and the birds are in better flesh and lazier. Then, on a good slough, with not too much water, the sport will be grand and the bag of a good shot large enough to please anyone except the man who hunts for profit.

THE Locust Point Shooting Club of Ravenna, O., which controls as fine a duck shooting marsh as there is in Ohio, at a recent meeting passed a resolution prohibiting the shooting of ducks on the club's preserve from January 1 to August 31. The fact is the "boys" are fast coming to the position the AMERICAN FIELD took a number of years ago; and to-day, we are pleased to state, men who used to be dead set against our advocating the enactment of a law prohibiting Spring shooting of wild fowl are with us heart and hand, and pocketbook too if it is needed.

MR. J. W. BURDICK, general passenger agent of the Delaware & Hudson Railroad, has issued an order that all employees of the road who intentionally or knowingly violate the game and fish laws of New York state will be discharged. This order will do much toward the protection of fish and game, for in New York state as well as elsewhere railroad employees are often the secret agents through whom unscrupulous hunters evade the game laws and market game. This fact is quite noticeable in localities where railroads run through a good game section, and where the laws of the state prohibit non-residents from shipping game outside the state limits.

THE work of the fish and game warden and his deputies since January 1 has been a continuous round of holding up illicit sportsmen, and the amount of money collected and property destroyed is above the average. The amount of money, so far reported, collected since January 1, in fines in justice courts, is $365; the value of fishing material destroyed is $3,550, and twelve men are now in jail serving sentences. The Senate has approved the appointment by the Governor of W. J. Starr, of Eau Claire, to succeed the late A. V. H. Carpenter as a member of the fish commission.

Madison, Wis. BADGER.

DEPUTY GAME WARDEN NELSON of Manistee, Mich., is making it quite uncomfortable for game law violators in his territory. His last arrest was a man named Bullis of Wellston, who had killed a deer out of season. His trial resulted in a conviction, and he was required to pay a fine of $25 and $13.85 court costs. A man named Snyder, tried on March 25, had to pay $29.25 to satisfy the fine and costs in his case. As soon as men who pay no attention to the game laws of a state find that the wardens mean to enforce the law, violations will be few and far between, and as a result game will increase rapidly.

MR. J. A. TREADWELL, a farmer member of the Connecticut legislature, objected to a bill introduced offering a bounty on foxes, saying that foxes were friends of the farmer because they destroyed mice and moles. We presume if a bounty had been proposed for mice and moles this same legislator would have objected to it because they were food for their friends, the foxes. There are surely some great heads in our legislative bodies.

THE Nippersink Club, an organization of Chicago sportsmen who each year take an outing at Fox Lake, at a recent meeting elected the following as officers of the club for the current year: President, ex-City Clerk C. D. Gastfield; directors, Messrs. L. E. Weick, P. O'Malley, F. C. Mueller, W. N. Eckhardt, G. D. Eddy, C. E. Rehm, Theodore Wilken and T. J. Webb.

MR. CHARLES E. HAZEN of Blooming Grove, Pike County, Pa., while coon hunting in the swamp near Peck Mills, fell into a hole where a big black bear was taking a nap. In falling Hazen hung onto his gun and with it soon dispatched his unexpected companion. The first shot, being at close range, blinded the bear and the second put an end to it. The bear weighed over 300 pounds.

MR. FRANK SMITH, editor of the Fort Collins (Colo.) Express, has been appointed deputy game warden of Colorado. There were over 200 applications for the position from one county alone, and Mr. Smith must be a good man for the place to have snatched the plum from the teeth of so many aspirants.

THE bill before the lower house of the Pennsylvania legislature prohibiting the capture or killing, for the purpose of sale, or transporting any quails, partridges, grouse, etc., was recently passed by that body, as was also the bill to provide for the appointment of game commissioners.

No quails, no ducks, a few prairie chickens; lots of hunters and a few trap shooters here.

Massena, Ia. S.

NEW PATENTS

The following patents in the sporting goods line have just been issued and are reported especially for the AMERICAN FIELD by Joseph H. Hunter, Attorney at Law and Solicitor of Patents, Washington, D. C.:

Fishing rod joiut, George I. Varney, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Football, Thomas S. Shibe, Bala, Pa.

Cocking and effecting mechanism for breakdown guns, Frauk A Hollenbeck, Syracuse, N. Y.

Bicycle shoe, Thomas O'Brien, New York, N. Y.

Bicycle, Joseph M. Bell, South Chester, Pa.

Adjustable time fuse cartridge, James A. Judge, Provideuce, R. I. and James F. Chapman, Providence, R. I.

Bicycle saddle, Robert C. Wright, Denver, Colo., aud Fraucis J Crane, Denver, Colo.

The American Field Score Book

Contains 150 score sheets, the Hurlingham, Long Island aud American Shooting Association rules; shows a proper form of constitution and by-laws for gun clubs, and contains also a set of field and club house rules. Sent by express, prepaid, on receipt of $1. Address the American Field Publishing Co., Chicago, Ill.

Hunting

FIXTURES

Brunswick Fur Club's annual foxhound trials, October 28, ——. B. S. Turpin, secretary.

Dixie Red Fox Club's first annual meet, Rowland, Ala., October —. J. H. Wallace Jr., secy.-treasurer.

THE ORIGIN OF THE JULY HOUND AGAIN

COLUMBUS, GA.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—As a preface to this article, I confess it is not in good form to convert a national sporting paper into a discordant organ for ventilating personal differences. No doubt such literature is lacking in interest to those unconcerned, but the purpose of this article is in behalf of the readers of the AMERICAN FIELD, by classifying facts and figures from fabrications and forgeries. To produce this result, I ask your readers to follow me closely in this review of facts and to pin their faith to such conclusions as the certified affidavits herein published may warrant. For, as I proceed further, many of them will become interested and awakened in securing, for the first time, some authentic light regarding the pedigrees of certain foxhounds and puppies which they may now own, and which were marketed in the spirit of gain though purchased in innocence and good faith.

To delineate certain facts clearly and avoid confusion, I shall touch upon all points concerned by referring to Mr. Luttrell's articles in synopsis forms, treating each section in rotation, as the facts should and shall appear.

In the first instance, Mr. Luttrell's replies avoid all reference to the facts contained in my first letter. He simply wishes to establish the erroneous idea that he has pure July foxhounds; and to support this idea he makes antiquated references by filling up space in enumerating the names of various foxhounds he had shipped to this section of Georgia since the war, which has no relation to the present but was used as deluding sophistry to side-track readers' thoughts from the point at issue. He is not the authority or source now, nor has he been for eighteen years; he is old and rusty in houndlore now. This I will clearly prove, and in doing so will only employ facts that repudiate his claims and strip him of his false colors.

Mr. Luttrell claims, in the article published in the AMERICAN FIELD of February 3, 1894, that he let the Milner and Jordan "boys" have his old hounds and told them how to breed them, keeping an eye on them all the time, and that after a rest of twelve years, the spirit came back to him to hunt, etc. When I showed them this article they were highly amused. If this was the case, how is it that he cannot pedigree a single old foxhound of those constituting the famous packs that ran up to several years ago? He has interviewed the Milners and Jordans with a desire to secure the pedigrees of their choice star hounds from their old packs (which fell to me), though it seems his memory is clear in pedigreeing his old original hounds, even to giving dates of shipment, price paid, names of all, etc. These young men bred independently (without conferring with Mr. Luttrell), and bred foxhounds that caught more red foxes than any pack that Mr. Luttrell ever ran or secured from Maryland. This fact is known and remains undisputed by all the hunters of western Georgia, and Mr. Luttrell has been forced to acknowledge it. They secured their distinct and outside crosses from me; we bred together and owned hounds in common. They at times had mine, and I theirs. Yet Mr. Luttrell makes not the slightest allusion or reference to these crosses introduced by me (a fact known and acknowledged by all the sportsmen of this section). Is this what you term fair and open-handed treatment, such as I long ago accorded him; or is it false acting on Mr. Luttrell's part? I submit this to your candor and judgment to answer.

In the AMERICAN FIELD of July 15, 1893, he wrote: "If any man has pure Julys and wants to sell them to keep up expenses, let him come forward and advertise his hounds and not pedigree somebody else's dogs, etc." Now this is fair and honorable for any hunter to do; yet, Mr. Luttrell cannot reconcile his own doings to this fair suggestion. For he has corrupted his own text by falsifying various pedigrees and claiming as his own product the very foxhounds I myself bred by distinct crosses, and those that sprang from my introduction. Let us start with the only good and well-bred foxhound he now owns (that properly belongs to me), known as Lucy, which I bred myself (as per Mr. Jordan's affidavit appearing below). He does not know Lucy's breeding, though he manipulates and constructs her pedigree in various forms, as you will see later on in this article. The Jordans placed old Luce in my hands and desired to cross her with a certain hound of mine, an incessant flanker and possessing great speed; but his weak points were overlooked by them, which consisted of too small a bone in proportion to his frame and his fault in giving tongue sparingly when he secured a lead by a bold flank. His nose was not perfect; so I objected to this cross (having also discovered his lack of prepotency as a sire on previous occasions). I objected, as stated, and assimilated the good points of another (substituting his half brother). Three puppies were raised. A black, white and tan puppy I gave to a friend in Alabama; the other two were to be removed when good size yearlings (I to pay the expenses of raising, etc.). Joe Jordan was unfortunately overtaken by a lingering trouble and loaned these two hounds (Lucy and Wheeler) to Mr. Luttrell, for his boys to hunt rabbits with (so Joe supposed). This was during my absence of three months in the North; and upon hearing of this fact, on my return, I became alarmed and wrote Joe for my puppies. He answered by saying: "Bill Luttrell has the two dogs and promised several times to return them, but when I sent for them he would not deliver the dogs." I have Joe's letter to this day stating the above. Joe being sick (dying there afterward), and to avoid hard feelings, I never pressed my claims for the two young hounds; though Mr. Luttrell knew they were under my control and my own individual hounds, and he knew that I bred them. He saw me afterward, when desiring to cross this bitch Lucy with one of my dogs, which I flatly refused to grant, simply because he had acted unfairly during my absence (and the "boys" condemn him for it to this day).

Mr. Luttrell said I "did not improve the hounds by the Harvey Dennis and other crosses." In this attempt to prejudice your readers regarding my judgment as a breeder he emphatically ridicules this bitch Lucy (which springs from the Harvey Dennis cross). This, you see, his ignorance is responsible for, and it shows he has no knowledge of my hounds nor of the breeding of the bitch Lucy, which he now is boasting so much about in his letters to hunters. He cannot pedigree a hound in my kennel to-day, nor would he know one if shown to him. Lucy is considered a good bitch, is well bred, and, the "boys" say, is worth all of his pack (with the Kentucky and Illinois hounds thrown in).

Lucy is from old Luce, by a Harvey Dennis dog (as previously stated), running back to the Birdsong—Henry hounds and embracing the famous Longstreet and Miles Harris' old July hound (named July) on his dam's side; his sire going back to the Maryland cross, through a gray dog shipped to Col. Hunt of Putnam County about eighteen years ago by Mr. Ed Linthicumb (now deceased) of Ellicott City, Md., though bred by Dr. Hardy. My old friend and true sportsman, Mr. Harvey Dennis, sent me this gray dog (the grandsire of Lucy), and I crossed him on my old bitch Luck (the unquestioned star of all the foxhounds during her day and time), producing Gray Della, Gray Belle, Flea and Music. The two last-named I gave to my friend Mr. J. H. Milner. Music developed to be the leader of his pack and a high-class foxhound. I purchased her from friend Milner (paying him $50 for her), and she is in my yard to-day and has puppies by as fine a foxhound as ever ran a fox in the state of Georgia. These four puppies were bred nine years ago last month (March); yet Mr. Luttrell says he put me onto these hounds three or four years ago (yet I bred to Milner's famous old Till three years previous to this cross). I suppose he refers to a conversation we had one night about four years ago when the Milners' and Jordans' old packs were discussed; he did not know the breeding of their hounds at that time, and only knew the names of some. I could have told him more then than he ever knew about those hounds. He is even ignorant of their breeding to this day.

Now, let me refer to a little foxhound that for some reason has gained notoriety in the AMERICAN FIELD; he is named Willis, a gray colored hound (the color of his dam, which I bred). Now, what about Willis and who bred him, etc.? See what Mr. Luttrell says in the AMERICAN FIELD of October 6, 1894; he writes: "Willis is the result of long and careful breeding in Maryland by such men as Winters, Linthicumb and Gosnell for a long series of years, running back to the importation of the foxhounds from Ireland by General Ridgley of Maryland on one side; and on the other, in Georgia, through a long series of years, by myself, to Col. Harris' Georgia July from Maryland. * * * * These are the crossings that my Maryland Julys have undergone since I first shipped twenty-three hounds from these men in Maryland in 1872 and 1873." This is all rubbish. He does not know the correct breeding of Willis to this day. He has pedigreed him in half a dozen different ways. This I can prove by letters from various parties (now on hand). Does this arise from his ignorance or from a desire to falsify pedigrees and make sales, as truth does not admit of such flexibility? He wrote Mr. Spears that he had "owned Willis and his brother since they were pups." This is not true, for he bought Willis when between two and three years old, paying Joe Meadows $15 for him (but Mr. Meadows could never learn from Mr. Luttrell to whom Willis was sold, or the price brought, viz., $50).

Now, let us refer to the false breeding, as some of your readers are interested in this. Mr. Luttrell pedigrees Willis in different ways. The letters supporting this I now have on hand, and from various hunters in various states. To some he wrote: "Willis from Luck and sired by Traveller; Traveller, by Philips' Foot." Then again, that "Traveller was by Frank." Also that "Luck was from Luce, by Williams' old Till;" also that [illegible] by Burns." To others he writes that "[illegible] Flea, and she by Hunt." This is all [illegible] not from my Luck; nor was my Luc[illegible] was Luck by Williams' Till; nor w[illegible] Traveller is not by Philips' Foot[illegible] Frank (a strange and unknown do[illegible]er is Willis from Flea; nor was Flea by my old Hunt; nor was my Hunt ever bred to old Luce. Is not this contradictory all through? This Traveller, referred to as being Willis' sire, belonged to a negro named Os Hammond, and his greatest forte was in the capacity of a 'possum dog. Mr. Luttrell borrowed or purchased him to use as a stud dog (and eulogized him to fill up space and material when the gentleman from Greenville, Ala., came up to buy foxhounds).

Now listen to his conglomeration about Lucy's breeding. He pedigreed her as "sired by a dog named Burns;" and again, that "Lucy was sired by a dog named Hunt." The truth of the matter is Lucy was by neither of my two hounds, Hunt or Burns. Thus you see he does not know the pedigrees or breeding of any of these foxhounds, which sprung from the crosses introduced by myself; nor does he know the breeding of any of the old hounds, yet he claims "to have put me onto this three or four years ago." He also claimed that these crosses were through him, leading back to Miles Harris' old July hound, etc. Mr. Luttrell never saw old July, nor did he ever secure a foxhound from Col. Miles Harris. Those of your readers who wish to know the correct breeding of Willis, Lucy and other foxhounds he has sold them (which hounds he had picked up from various farmers at cheap prices in Harris County) can write to me and I will tell them how they were bred (provided stamps are inclosed). I will explain in my next letter, provided he replies to this (which I doubt), how he sold out Capt. Johnson (his former associate in foxhounds) through Mr. A. Winters, by having two black and tan plugs sent out to Capt. Johnson and arranging to secure the agency of Winters' own hounds.

Now, if Mr. Luttrell (as he intimated) or anyone else, can impute to me sordid purposes or wicked methods, or even give an instance where I hypothecated trustful friendship and the rights of others to clear a smutty dollar, or if I have ever sold an unsatisfactory foxhound to any man who reads this journal, let him speak and name the instance. If Mr. Luttrell has well-bred July hounds let him publish their breeding in these columns. For, if he has them, it will only add to his benefit and do no one harm. I will agree to indorse what is true. We will see if he attempts to do so.

The fact is simply this. The unmixed purity of my foxhound showing uncontaminated crosses and embracing the best ancestry that Mr. Luttrell originally owned (but which passed from his hands fully eighteen years ago), with an infusion of the purest stock that Putnam, Hancock and Jones counties afforded, prior to the death and partial extermination of the clean-bred descendants of Col. Harris' crosses on Col. Birdsong's original Henry foxhounds from Virginia and Capt. Baxter's (Col. Harris' neighbor and hunting companion) three Maryland Julys (which were blended with success by Harvey Dennis, Sam Barron and others), has naturally given me a range of reputation as a breeder and owner of pure-bred July foxhounds which Mr. Luttrell's dotage and selfish spirit seems to rebel at.

If Mr. Luttrell ever bred many good foxhounds years ago, they were unknown to our hunters. For he sold his hounds rapidly and hardly took time to make crosses. I have withheld a good deal yet, but it will duly follow in the event of his reply, as this discussion has got to reach a finish sooner or later and I am determined to post your readers as to the true facts; and I will correct the pedigrees furnished them, if so desired, stating what percentage of the July blood certain hounds which Mr. Luttrell has marketed may possess. I am not intensely consecrated to money making if unfair methods are required, nor will I sell out a friend in order to effect the trade or sale of a dog.

Capt. Johnson (originally of Putnam County) was the first in this part of the state to learn of the July hounds. Then came Col. Gorman of Talbot County (as good and reliable an authority on foxhounds as can be found in this section of the state). Mr. Lon Odom, of Upatoie, Ga., secured July hounds from Mr. Bob Carnes (namely, Jule, Rock and Morgan), which were presented to Mr. Carnes by Col. Miles Harris of Hancock County, Ga., before Luttrell had his foxhounds shipped out from Maryland. Mr. Odom is my hunting companion, and is excellent and reliable authority on the July strain, from the beginning up to the present day.

Mr. Luttrell in one of his articles takes occasion to say that I bought many foxhounds. I bought only three or four in Putnam and Hancock counties—star performers they were too—though I had several fine and well-bred ones loaned and given to me by old friends who were retiring from the sport of hunting. The ho[illegible] through Mr. John T. Hardy of Maryland, a[illegible] gave me, were the ones Mr. Luttrell was [illegible] They were never bred to or even crossed with [illegible] nor could they keep company with my pack, and they were all given away. Mr. Hardy frankly admitted to me, in the letters several years ago, that the original Gosnell strain of foxhounds was extinct in Maryland so far as he knew or could determine.

Mr. Luttrell's effort to make capital out of a plain error of mine (or possibly a typographical error, as the case may be) regarding 176 red foxes which Mr. Dennis caught in one season (instead of 76, as the case really was), is a weak point to harp on and falls flat on the ears of all, as your readers would readily detect the impossibility of any hunter making such a record. He claims objection to notoriety it seems (so he stated); yet he inaugurated this discussion without cause, and his inflated vanity no doubt pulsates with vigor at the appearance of his articles in this journal (this conclusion of mine is warranted by the frequency of his articles boosting up his hounds for a market). His influence as a breeder and position as a sportsman extend not beyond the border of his (July?) kennel yard; though as a dog fancier and quick trader he is well known. The curtain has now been drawn aside, and all thinking readers can reach a conclusion without prejudice.

Allow me to say, in concluding, that when my first article appeared in this journal several years ago (just after becoming a subscriber) I wrote with an open hand, and in describing the July strain I gave and granted Mr. Luttrell in the AMERICAN FIELD every right to which his doings (of eighteen to twenty years ago) could entitle him; and to-day I stand as I started, not withdrawing from my claims one iota. This article, with the one I formerly published, repudiates any claim of his in relation to our hounds of the present day. He says I am young (thirty three is correct); then why should I not be progressive? Which of us two stands in this section of Georgia as authority on the July hound, and is responsible for the crosses that sustained and blended the merits of this wonderful strain of foxhounds? Which of us gave his attention and means to bring about this result? The answer is a matter of public record in the minds of the western Georgia fox-hunters to-day. The spirit of freedom and the absence of prejudice should be dominant in our dealings with one another, to create fraternal faith and a lasting fraternity, as life is capable of worthier ends than mud throwing. But since I have been drawn into this discussion without cause I will see that you get the facts. The subjoined affidavits from Messrs Jordan, Milner and McLeroy explain the origin of their old foxhounds. Read them carefully They show that Mr. Luttrell never gave them any dogs or puppies, as he claimed, nor had any connection with the breeding of their foxhounds.

FEBRUARY 1, 1894.

This certifies that I never signed the article Mr. Luttrell published in the AMERICAN FIELD regarding my friend, Geo. J. Garrett, and I hereby certify that George Garrett bred the puppies that Mr. Luttrell published as having been bred by myself and brother Joe George got Luck and Traveller (No. 1) from myself and brother, and was a hunter when I first knew him. He is the man that kept up the strain and produced fine foxhounds by his crosses. He has handled and bred as many fine foxhounds as any man I ever knew, and he is as straight as a shingle in his dealings. Traveller and Luck were the greatest foxhounds I ever saw, and George has old Traveller now. He made his crosses on my stock and the Milner stock. As to where George got his foxhounds is nothing to me.

Signed,

J T Jordan

Sworn to and subscribed before me this the first day of February, 1894. Signed, M. O. BERRY, N. P., Muscogee County, Ga.

This is to certify that the card published in the AMERICAN FIELD by Bill Luttrell as emanating from me was done without my knowledge or consent, as he was not authorized to sign my name. Prior to quitting hounds, myself and brother Hop hunted and bred our hounds with George Garrett. He secured some of our very best, and those of his that we crossed on were as fine red-fox foxhounds as I ever saw. Hop and I never secured any foxhounds from Bill Luttrell, and we made our crosses independently of anyone. Our old foxhounds killed more red foxes than those of any hunters in this part of Georgia. George has kept his foxhounds bred up to a high standard. Signed,

J H Milner

Sworn to and subscribed before me this nineteenth day of March 1895. M. O. BERRY, N. P., Muscogee county, Ga.

This certifies that the Jordans' July foxhounds sprang from my Jennie (secured by me from Jim Blow; he securing her from John Edwards' bitch, which was by Owens' old red shaggy dog named Drive, from Mr. Dennis of Putnam County, Ga.). Old Traveller, Forest and Luce were from Rose, by Ben Williams' old Till. Rose was from Black by Highland. Black was from my Jennie by Tom Kilpatrick's Cooper. Cooper was from Harvey Dennis of Putnam. My old Della was a full sister to Hop Milner's old Till.

J T McLeroy

[illegible] ver [illegible] have published his last article, [illegible] letters of Jordan and Milner, [illegible] ing [illegible] ss of many months, had he not thought, as others did, that I was beyond recovery and would not live to bring this matter before the public. Mr. Storey of Waverly Hall has some very good foxhounds, two or three of which have my Hunt and Burns in their breeding, so he (Mr. Storey) claims. Mr. Storey's hounds are the ones that have been catching the foxes for Mr. Luttrell. I now submit these affidavits and state that my reply has been withheld so far merely in order to allow Mr. Luttrell sufficient rope with which to hang himself. Your readers can draw their own conclusions.

GEORGE J. GARRETT.

NATIONAL FOX-HUNTERS' ASSOCIATION

LEXINGTON, KY.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—The committee appointed by the National Fox-Hunters' Association to select a place and time for its next annual meeting will meet for that purpose on May 2 at Lexington, Ky. In the meantime I will be pleased to hear from any reputable foxhunters as to favorable locations; no section of the country barred from consideration.

ROGER D. WILLIAMS, Chairman.

NOTES

FOLLOWERS of the Meadowbrook drag hounds met at their club house Thursday afternoon of last week, in accordance with the card, and enjoyed a good gallop to East Meadows, crossing the Hempstead Plains, over the Hempstead Farm and through the Barnum estate. Saturday last the meet was at the Jericho Tollgate at 3 p. m., and in spite of a cold rain the usual number of faithful ones took their "constitutional" in the wake of Mr. Griswold and his pack. The drag had been laid along the Jericho Turnpike to Mr. Thomas Hitchcock's country house, thence north to Wheatley Hill, and then west over Hempstead Plains to Mr. Dudley Wintrop's place. As was the case a year ago, the close of the Meadowbrook Club's Spring season brings a strong rumor that Mr. Frank Gray Griswold will give up the mastership of the club's pack, with a view to hunting in England next season.

WE have been forwarded a marked copy of the Owingsville (Ky.) Outlook containing an editorial on the possibility of securing the National Fox-Hunters' Association's meet at or near that town, Capt. Leeland Hathaway, of Winchester, having written to a couple of resident friends for information regarding accommodations, foxes, whether land owners or tenants would object, etc. After speaking assuringly on these matters the Outlook expresses a hope that "affairs may be so amicably adjusted that this will be selected as the assembling place for the meet. It would enliven the old hill, and would make the town as gay as a grass widow at a kissing party." That ought to sound attractive to those members of the N. F. H. A. who last Fall proved themselves such adepts at the game of blind man's buff.

THE Strode's Valley Hunt Club of Winchester, Ky., has received from England a pair of handsome English foxhounds, Alderman and Pastime; they were purchased by Mr. S. D. Goff recently while on a trip to England. Alderman (two years old) is by the Cotswold Flyer (Foxhound Register, Vol. IV, page 222) out of Accurate (Vol. IV, page 359). Pastime is by Spangle (Vol. IV, page 121) out of Winifreda. Alderman comes from Lord Fitzhardinge's pack, one of the best in England. The bitch Pastime comes from the no less famous Brockiesby pack, of which Lord Yarborough is the Master. These two hounds are medium sized and black and tan with white markings; many fox-hunters have called at the Strode's Valley kennel to see them and pronounce them excellent specimens.

FOXHOUNDS are offered for sale this week by Mr. E. D. Hopkins, St. Francesville, Mo.

Fish and Fishing

FIXTURES

Chicago Fly Casting Club's open to the world tournament, August 21. F. B. Davidson, secretary.

THE ROMANCE OF TWO RODS

BY ANON

Whew! how the wind blows. My! but this is a corker. Such was the mental observation I made during the prevalence of a sou'easter a few evenings since, while enjoying an after-dinner cigar, comfortably seated in a huge rocking-chair before the blazing hearth, watching through the royal blue of a fragrant Havana the fantastic flames chase each other up the black-throated chimney.

How it stormed without; the rain and wind slashed against the window panes, in such sheets and gusts that I feared they would give way before the terrible onslaughts of Messrs. Pluvius and Boreas. In fact, so violent was the storm that I fancied I could hear the booming of the breakers as they crashed against the cliffs that line the Golden Gate. Ugh, think of a fellow being at sea on such a night as this! The very thought caused me to sink more deeply into the soft satin cushion beneath me.

Surrounded with rods, fly-books, reels, etc., for the purpose of taking an account of stock preparatory to the coming season, and under the soothing influence of surrounding ease and comforts I fell into a reverie, meditating upon the past year, which seemed to float before my eyes like a vision with all of its occurrences in panoramic form: There's the big fellow, so deftly landed after a gallant struggle in the foaming torrent of the river; he is a dappled dandy of the deep for you; there goes the still bigger one who took all the tackle. How beautiful the meadows, spattered with buttercups, bluebells, lilies and poppies; the running brook how gently it glides along; the grand and graceful waterfall, what a magnificent basin it has hollowed out; here we can sit on this moss-covered stone, under the umbrageous foliage of the mighty forest, fill our creels in short order and admire the grandeur of the scene. Now comes the lordly salmon, that beat the sea into a whitened foam as the tempered steel was snubbed deep into his jaw; then the fingerling, as though to taunt you with being unsportsmanlike for landing one so young. But no, my friend, he was captured for the little ones at home to dangle on the end of a pin and thread, tied to a stick, into a basin of water. "Then next with dirges due in sad array," the familiar faces of dear companions suddenly taken from our midst. Then the New Year; the corner barely turned, what will it bring? Will the sport during the coming year be as grand as that experienced in the year just fading into the eternity of the past? These and many other thoughts and visions passed before my fast-closing eyes, when, suddenly, I heard a voice exclaim:

"Hello, Lance, is that you?"

"Yes, is that you, Bamboo?"

"It's no one else. Happy New Year to you, old man, how are you? I haven't seen you for years."

"Same to you n' many of 'em. Much obliged for your good wishes, but I don't know, some how 'r 'nother, I feel as tho' my days for sport are done for. Here I've been tied up in that old canvas case you see lyin' there on the floor for years, 'n this is the first time I've been out of it."

"Well, old fellow, your being out of it is significant, to say the least; anyhow, it's a good sign, and what more can you expect so early in the year? You know, Master always takes us out of our case at this time of the year—at least those of us whom he intends to use—and examines us; so cheer up, old man, I should say that your chances are as good as mine. Why, just look at Old Man Greenheart over there; I'll bet that he hasn't been out of his sarcophagus for more than ten years; why, he's a mummy compared with you."

"Yes, that's all well enough, my boy, 'n thanks to you for your good cheer, but you don't know all. Why, only th' other night I heard Master say to that chap as always goes fishin' with him that you was a 'hot combination,' 'n that he didn't think he'd have any more use for the rest of us; 'n I tell you it was tough to have to hear that. Why, just think how good I've been to Master all these years, never went back on him once; 'n no matter how hard he used me I never kicked. I've held salmon for him till I've been bent 'n twisted out o' shape 'n thought my back would break; 'n I've got so sore 't I couldn't straighten out for more 'n a month. Oh, lordy, lordy, but it's tough to be put away like this." And then he sobbed as though his heart would break. Then, suddenly, with an air of admiration for his more elegant friend and with a smile of satisfaction on his face as though he appreciated his own position and readily acknowledged the force and philosophy of Scott's beautiful lines:

"'Twere better to sit still at rest,
Than rise perchance to fall," he resumed his remarks, saying:

"Well, anyhow, I can't say as I can blame him, Bamboo, when I look at you; you are a dandy, sure, 'n there's so much of you too."

"Here, Lance, none of that now. You always were good at that kind of business, and you need not belittle yourself after what you first said. I know what you're after, and if you will only tell me who that jack o' clubs is, hanging on the wall, and why you have been tied up on the wall with him, I will use my influence with Master and persuade him to take you out again."

"All right, son, I'll tell you about that jay; he's the fellow who put my nose out o' joint on the ——— River some years ago; you know the place well enough, for you were up there last year yourself. You know Master used to go to ——— County every Summer, to fish and shoot for a month or more; what times we used to have; yum, but it makes me jump almost to think of it. Well, one Summer, the last for me, we were there just the same, 'n one day we were on the stream pullin' out trout as fast as we could slap her in, 'n 'long comes a pretty girl with that chump on the wall, 'n Master takes off his hat, 'n she smiles 'n says 'good mornin';' 'n they talks about the party o' th' night before, 'n music, 'n fishin', 'n lots o' other things, 'n I could see that Master was gettin' kind o' rattled like; so he asks her if she likes fishin', and could she cast? 'O, yes,' she says, she likes fishin', but she didn't know nothin' bout castin'; but would he teach her? O' course he would, only too glad 'n all that, he says. Well, tho' she says she don't know nothin' about it, yet, you bet, Bamboo, she was the slickest caster ever you see. So Master, after showin' her how, hands me over to her, 'cause she says she couldn't do anything with hern; 'n she tries a hand at it, when, bang, she flops the fly 'round 'n sticks it into Master's coat. 'Well, you've caught me,' says Master; 'but you'll have to take the fly out yourself.' 'I don't think I can,' says she, kin' o' laughin' like. Well, anyhow, she tries 'n tries, but somehow couldn't make it, 'n Master says, 'let's sit down on the bank 'n rest, 'n I'm not goin' t' leave till you take that hook out.' So they stood us up behind a big redwood, so's we couldn't see, 'n then they sat down by the stream, 'n there they sat 'n sat, 'n I got awful tired o' standin' there 'cause I came out t' fish 'n that chump wasn't no company for me same as she was for Master. Well, pretty soon it began t' get dark, 'n she n' Master walks back t' the village. After that they used t' go out fishin' every day, but they didn't do much fishin'; just sat 'round 'n picked ferns n' talked books 'n music 'n lots o' other things which is none o' my business t' tell. Just made me sick tho' t' hear 'em, 'n I was awful glad when the time came for me 'n Master to go back t' the city. Well, 'bout a year after that, one day Master puts us two up on the wall, 'n ties us up with ribbons 'n ferns, 'n there I've been ever since, 'n I often wondered what ever become o' that girl. But I guess she was just the same to Master as lots o' other—why, gracious me, Bamboo, that's the same girl, comin' in th' room now, as I was talkin' of."

"Oh, that's Master's wife, Lance."

Just then I felt a gentle hand tenderly touch me on the shoulder, and a sweet voice whisper in my ear: "Come, my dear, hadn't you better put up those things and retire? it's getting late."

"Why, bless my soul," I said, rubbing my eyes, "it's half past twelve; I must have fallen asleep."

"Yes, and, just look, you've upset your fly-book and they are stuck all over you. Hold still till I pick this one out."

"Once upon a time you could not do that," I said.

"I know it, honey," she replied; "but things are different now."

And "Lance" goes with me next.

San Francisco, Cal.

NOTES

A SINGULAR action at law was reported in the Times of March 20, London, Eng. It was an appeal to the court of the Queen's Bench Division, before Mr. Justice Cave and Mr. Justice Wright, from a decision by the justices of the West Riding of Yorkshire, at Otley, last October, by which the latter dismissed a charge against Mr. George Harrison of fishing with three rods at the same time in the Fewstone Reservoir under a single license to fish. It was contended by the appellant, A. J. Cambridge, a bailiff of the Yorkshire Fishery Board, that the defendant was fishing with three separate rods and lines, and when asked for his licenses produced one license, contending that conferred liberty to use any number of rods and lines. Justices Cave and Wright, after hearing the evidence, said the decision of the justices at Otley was clearly wrong in upholding the respondent's contention that a single license permitted him to use as many rods and lines at one time as he chose; that a single license was for fishing with a single rod and line. The case was sent back to the justices with an intimation that they should have convicted the respondent. Mr. Justice Cave said the license was granted for each rod and line, and was not a general license to the person. Mr. Justice Wright was of the same opinion, but he added that the decision would not prevent a man from taking with him two or more rods; he must, however, use only one of them at a time.

AT a meeting of the Pennsylvania Fish Protective Association, held at Philadelphia April 6, the following resolution was adopted: "Resolved, That the Pennsylvania Fish Protective Association has viewed with alarm the introduction of Senate Bill 432, a slightly modified form of House Bill 173. Of a similar character it is even more dangerous to the fishery interests of the state, since, if it becomes a law, it would legalize the erection of eel weirs or fish baskets in every stream of the commonwealth. Under its provisions every trout stream or any water stocked by the state fishery commission, and even the Delaware River, restored to its position as the most productive shad river on the Atlantic Coast, would once more be subjected to the causes that formerly worked their depletion, and the labors of the state fishery commission would be rendered useless. In view, therefore, of the injury that would result to the fishery interests of the state through the enactment of Senate Bill 432 and House Bills 173 and 206, the Pennsylvania Fish Protective Association, the oldest organization for fish protection in the state, respectfully protest against their favorable consideration and passage by the legislature of the state."

FINE fishing tackle is as essential to the happiness of the angler as good fishing waters, and it is a question if the angler, when he gets out his tackle with the coming of Spring, does not enjoy equally as much pleasure in anticipation as he does in the realization later on. In proportion to the excellence of his tackle is his pleasure increased, and the dealer who caters to this taste, meeting its every requirement, is sure to be looked upon as a benefactor. That enterprising Chicago firm, Messrs. Von Lengerke & Antoine, determined a year ago to meet this demand, and employed experts to manufacture, under their own specifications, split bamboo and lancewood handmade fly and bait casting rods and reels, and having received the same have placed them on exhibition at their store. In delicacy of handling, elasticity, strength and balance, their special handmade rods are all the most expert angler could ask, and their reels include all varieties made in hard rubber, aluminum and German silver with agate bearings. To make their line of fishing tackle complete they have given the same attention to the tying of flies, of which they have every variety.

A NUMBER of Connecticut state officials received an object lesson upon the advantage of trout propagation and protection a few days ago. Mr. Oscar Keeney, a brother of ex-Senator Keeney, of Somerville, took to Hartford thirteen trout which weighed fourteen and one-half pounds; the largest weighed one pound seven ounces. The trout were caught from a pond upon the stock farm of Mr. L. Keeney, which has an outlet into the Scantic River, and Mr. Keeney is confident the fine trout he exhibited were individuals from a batch of 3,000 fry which he liberated in the Scantic River several years since. The stream and pond are carefully protected from depredators. Among the officials who received some of the trout were Gov. Coffin, Speaker Fessenden and the chairman of the fisheries committee. Mr. Keeney wished to show the state officials the beneficial effects of fish protection. Reports are that the trout fishing in Connecticut will be very good after a few days of warm weather.

IN Oregon State Fish and Game Protector McGuire for some weeks past has had reason to believe that salmon were being taken unlawfully in the Clackamas and Willamette rivers and shipped to Portland to be marketed. The traffic was shrewdly carried on and it was no easy task to catch the offenders, who were shipping salmon almost daily in trunks and barrels. Finally Protector McGuire fathomed the secret, and on March 30 he seized two barrels of steelheads that arrived at Portland by the steamer Ramona, consigned to Charles Gatchett, an employe of Malarkey & Co.'s fish market. The protector then arrested Mr. Gatchett, Thomas Randall, purser, and Mr. Chas. Carnegie, freight agent of the steamer Ramona. The men were all held under bonds of $200 each, and Protector McGuire will prosecute them on two charges—for receiving and shipping salmon, contrary to law, upon two separate occasions—and if convicted each will have to pay a heavy fine.

THE Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Geo. H. Heafford, Chicago, has issued a neatly printed and beautifully illustrated booklet entitled "About Fishing Along the Lines of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway," which gives just the information regarding the fishing in the sections traversed by that line which is so much sought for by anglers during the fishing season. It gives a man the angling fever to look at the illustrations, and the disease augments as one reads the accompanying matter descriptive of bass, mascalonge and trout fishing, and the localities adjacent to the line of that railway at which such fishing can be had. A detailed list of the best points for fishing and shooting can be obtained by addressing the general passenger and ticket agent, at Chicago, or any of his assistants at points where they are located.

FOR the benefit of any reader of the AMERICAN FIELD who may be placed sometime in a similar situation, we give the following from a recent issue of the New York Herald: "Mrs. Daniel Sanders, of Bridgeton (N. J.), has been suffering from a fish bone in her throat. Her physicians could do nothing to relieve her and it was feared the obstruction would kill her. Her son thought of a novel plan for the removal of the bone. He prepared a ball of silk the size of a large pea, to which were left four ends a few inches in length. The sufferer swallowed the ball, leaving the four ends projecting from her mouth. Dr. Oliver and the son manipulated these ends until the bone became fastened in the ball of silk and was easily withdrawn. Mrs. Sanders, in the thirty-six hours that the bone was in her throat, lost twenty-two pounds in weight."

IN California, contrary to forebodings [illegible] heavy rains, the troutsmen who went f[illegible] ing days of the season enjoyed sport tha[illegible] their expectations. From scores of st[illegible] men have tried since the opening day [illegible] at the trout are not only very abundant, but average well for size. The number of trout streams in California is great and the legions of fishermen all seem to find a favorite stream for their sport. On April 5, the finance committee of the supervisors of San Francisco took under advisement the request of the State Sportsmen's Association, that James Money be appointed fish and game warden for San Francisco, under the law passed by the last legislature.

A JOLLY party of fishermen, headed by Mr. Alex. Smith, the president of the Knobel Fishing Club of St. Louis, Mo., left that city the night of April 5 to celebrate the opening of the club's new and well-appointed club house on the St. Francis River, Dunklin County, in that state. Another large party of club members—the club roster numbers 300—had preceded President Smith's contingent, and the auspicious occasion was undoubtedly fittingly celebrated. The club house is about ten miles east of Paragould, Ark. The region about the club house is said to be unsurpassed for fishing and shooting by any other section of Missouri. The club members are all St. Louis merchants or professional men.

IN Brooklyn, N. Y., a number of sportsmen have organized the Fly-Fishers' Club, with a membership limited to twenty-five. The following gentlemen have become members: Messrs. Granville W. Harman, George J. Jackson, R. D. Robbins, Charles A. Bryan, Lody Smith, E. W. Seymour, E. B. Rice, Dr. F. S. Howard, J. D. Adams, Kit Clarke, Dr. Ernest Palmer, A. H. Watson, C. G. Levison, A. C. Fitzpatrick, R. S. Sayre, C. B. Boynton, Henry C. Wells, David S. Wells, and James Rice Jr. The present intention of the club is to erect a club house at Henryville, Pa., or adjacent to some famous trout stream in Sullivan County.

AT the last meeting of the New York State Commissioners of Fisheries the following deserved tribute was paid Mr. Henry Loftie, of Syracuse:

Resolved, That the Commissioners of Fisheries deem it proper, at this time, to extend to each and every one of the numerous societies for the protection of fish and game throughout the state sincere thanks for the uniform courtesy extended to them at all times and for the valuable assistance rendered the game and fish protectors.

Resolved, That the thanks of this board are specially extended to Henry Loftie, of Syracuse, who has for years devoted time and money to promote the interests of fish propagation and game and fish protection.

AT Saginaw, Mich., Deputy Game and Fish Warden Carpenter recently made a search of the river to locate the nets of parties violating the law by fishing after April 1, when the season closed. He seized four nets valued at $150. One belonged to a man named Dolson, and three were the property of James Yell. Complaints were entered before Justice Pease and the cases were concluded satisfactorily to the authorities. Warden Carpenter claims there are no nets now within his jurisdiction.

IOWA State Fish Commissioner Delavan succeeded in convicting five violators of the fish laws at Cherokee, April 5, before Justice O'Donnell. The men were Henry, Ed, Jasper and Thomas Scurlock and Robert Leeds, and they paid a total in fines of $225 and the costs. The Scurlocks were old offenders, having seined and sold fishes by the ton for several years.

THE Minnesota Fish and Game Commission will soon take measures to protect the fishes in the Mississippi River, near St. Paul. A party of fishermen have been seining in that vicinity, it is claimed, who have threatened to kill anyone that interferes with their illegal practices. The commissioners will enforce the law however.

THE general trout season in Pennsylvania opened April 15, not on April 1 as we inadvertently announced in a recent issue. Reports from various parts of the state are that trout are fairly abundant, but in sections where heavy rains have fallen the water is still high and muddy.

THE fish car of the Nebraska Fish Commission has been out on a trip for the distribution of fry, and 20,000 trout fry were placed in Long Pine River. In May a lot of yearling trout will be liberated.

IT is said that conditions are not favorable for good trouting in the Adirondack region of New York, and anglers cannot obtain much sport before May 1, although the prospects are promising this season.

IN Maine, at Little Lyford Pond, near the K[illegible] Iron Works, over 300 trout were caught recently [illegible] gle day.

THE state fish commissioners of Vermont have begun their annual distribution of trout fry.

Natural History

REPTILES OF MICHIGAN—NO. 13

BY MORRIS GIBBS

Let another illustration be presented to convince the unbelievers in Prof. Jenks' idea. Take a coil of rubber tubing, lawn hose is best, and lay it on the floor or ground. Have an assistant hold the lower circle in place, and then, with a stout pair of tongs or nippers, seize the upper end of the coil and haul away. The upper end of the hose represents the serpent's head. It will be found that the torsion to the coil of hose is exactly in proportion to the number of convolutions drawn off. In other words, the hose is twisted, if held firmly, for each convolution straightened out. Now, allowing that the motions of the snake's head and body must be like the movements of the straightened hose, when clinched tightly by the pincers, then it follows that the reptile's body must be twisted when striking full length from a coil; or, that it describes some marvelously quick and unseen revolutions in the air to untwist its backbone during its spring.

The idea that a snake can strike accurately for its full length, or a greater distance, is a popular and very erroneous belief. The truth is, at least with all serpents of my acquaintance, they can reach an object only at from one-third to two-fifths of their length, and I sincerely doubt if any rattler or other venomous serpent in America can strike effectively a distance of more than half its length. Counting the center of the coil as the point from which measurements are made, then a big rattler of five feet could reach out, say, two feet or, possibly, thirty inches. A massasauga of two feet can reach out from the center of the ring about nine inches, to my knowledge, and rarely more, as it cannot gain a greater amount of slack from its length. Poisonous snakes assume a coil, in striking, in order to get a solid foundation, a good defensive position, and to have a central point from which to spring. If a person walks around a coiled snake, be it a "sauger" or a big southern rattler, and pesters it, the creature will turn readily, keeping its muzzle presented and its neck and fore part of the body in a pronounced lateral bend like the letter S. After ineffectually striking a dozen times it will become frantic, and though keeping up its alarm sound will not make continued efforts to bite. A friend had a good-sized "sauger," and we plagued it so at times that it would not bite, but flopped about on the floor when stirred up with the stove poker.

Another popular error is that regarding snakes' ability to spit venom, and here again we have marvelous stories. One man told me that a rattler spit at and hit him at ten feet, and that the poison burned like fire where it touched the face and hands. while it ate holes in the clothes wherever it came in contact. The truth is the poison is entirely free from all power to affect the unabraded shin. Not only this, but it has been demonstrated that it may be taken in the stomach with safety. It is essentially a blood poison, and has been used according to homeopathic principles—similia similibus curantur—but I could never learn to what degree of success. I have been unable to learn that rattlers ever discharged their venom in this way, but even if it is so, by accident or design, the act can in no sense be termed "spitting," authorities to the contrary notwithstanding, any more than little snakes running into the old one's mouth can be called an act of swallowing. It is reasonable to think that a snake with overcharged poison glands which it has had no occasion to use should, sometimes, in excitement, inadvertently, or, perhaps, intentionally, force out some of this extra amount of secretion; but this act in no way can be properly called spitting. Nature does not err in her designs and, if she has provided rattlers with venom for defense and to gain their living, it hardly seems that a useless expenditure of valuable ammunition would be one of the provisions. It is difficult to understand what reason can be advanced for this so-called act of spitting poison, when it has been repeatedly demonstrated that no harm can come to an unabraded surface.

Large diamond rattlers are often kept alive in confinement in Florida, and I have seen numbers of them—from four to six feet in length—which were kept in simple boxes with nothing over the front or top but a sheet of thin, common glass. Many of these rattlers were very irritable. Some never recover from this condition, and when bothered will often strike at their tormentors, and the nose will go against the rattling glass with an ominous bang which will greatly frighten a timid man and will cause the bravest person to draw back involuntarily. Many of these hot-tempered fellows keep their noses constantly abraded from their own violence. Yet I could not learn that the glass was ever broken or an escape effected.

In Dr. Vedder's museum at St. Augustine are a score or [illegible] diamond rattlers, moccasins, ground [illegible]s. Visitors view them with only a [illegible]tection. Sometimes, when the nose [illegible] moisture is seen to trickle down the [illegible] seemed less tenacious than saliva would have been. It is undoubtedly venom from the fangs which the snake was trying to spit(?) at his enemy. Some snakes were seen in cages covered with wire netting (surely a safer way to keep these innocent pets), and occasionally an angry individual would dart at the wire, his nose hitting the netting, and sometimes the venom would fly through from the force of the blow to a distance of three feet. We used to present the sole of our shoe to a massasauga we had confined and almost invariably there was to be seen a little moisture on the leather after it had struck.

It is said that rattlers do not bite one another, and I cannot learn of an instance where the act has occurred. I have repeatedly seen groups of massasaugas together in one cage, and, again, six or eight diamond rattlers dwelling in harmony; but it is said that they at once recognize an intruder and show fight instantly. Dr. Mitchell says that he has over and over again injected under the skin of a rattlesnake its own venom, that of a moccasin or that of another rattler, but he has in no case seen a death. This being so, the common tale regarding the suicide of a rattler by its own bite is a fabrication.

A friend of mine owned a "sauger" and we used to stir him up together with a blue racer, and when angry the rattler would strike the racer, but we could never learn that it hurt the racer, which was lively and interesting. Perhaps the teeth did not penetrate the racer's skin, and, probably, there was not enough of "pizen" left in the "sauger" to injure anything. This rattler was kept six months, during which time it did not shed its skin, and never ate a thing that we could learn and it was bothered almost every day until finally it died.

Rattlers are all ovoviparous and the "sauger" of Michigan gives birth to six to eight young at once, to my knowledge, as I have found those numbers of live embryos in specimens killed. This was in July and August, and it follows that the young are brought forth in late Summer or early Autumn. By September 15 the young rattlers are ten inches or more long and have a faint evidence of a rattle; again, others equally short have a well-defined rattle, and a button, so-called. The age of a rattler is not recorded by its rattles, on the contrary some old and very big diamond rattlers have but four to six sections to their tail adornment, while others and smaller ones have ten to twenty-two rattle sections. One authority says that as high as three sections may be added in a single year. Mr. Peale, of Philadelphia, kept a female of the northern or banded rattler fourteen years, and, though she lost and gained new rattles each year, she had the same number when she died as when captured. viz., eleven.

In concluding the sketches on snakes, a few of the general and popular ridiculous stories must be referred to. The stories of blacksnakes and racers attacking persons, winding their constricting folds about the neck, body and limbs and crushing the victim are all nonsensical and utterly without foundation. The largest of our snakes have but slight constricting power and will never use it except when roughly handled, and then to no effect. All of our northern snakes, excepting the poisonons massasauga, will turn tail upon man's approach; and even this little rattler will attempt to escape, only throwing itself into a defensive attitude when it finds retreat cut off.

We have no poisonous serpents in Michigan excepting the massasauga, although it may prove that the banded rattlesnake—which is found in Ohio and Indiana—may occasionally be seen on our southern boundary, and, possibly, the copperhead; but these are not yet proven as Michigan serpents. Therefore the ridiculous stories of the ignorant and the tales of that worse class—the natural liars—regarding the many poisonous species of this region are not to be believed. Neither are we to credit the tales of the unnatural liar regarding the milk-snake, seen milking cows; the snake which can be broken to pieces, and the sections readjusting and running away; or the snake which when thrown into the fire would develop legs and immediately run out of danger. All of these tales have been told to me repeatedly, and dozens of others quite as ridiculous; and, stranger still, the story-tellers in many cases believe their own tales. For, from long belief in the tales of their fathers, they had come to credit their own lies. Hence I prefer to designate these honest falsifiers under the title of unnatural liars, for the traditions concerning snakelore, even as concerns that earlier account of the garden story, are generally of such shady origin that we can forgive the raconteurs.

But notwithstanding the sport which we make of these incredible tales, first and last, there are still thousands who firmly believe them, and I doubt not there are readers of your paper who are willing to swear to the marvelous tales of the mythical hoopsnake.

In the economy of Nature, serpents undoubtedly occupy a prominent place, and though it is probably wise to exterminate poisonous species in inhabited quarters it is equally fair to protect our innocuous snakes as to afford protection to our birds and animals. Sentiment goes far toward regulating these matters, and hence the snakes and nearly all other reptiles are given no show, the snakes being especially persecuted and sought out and destroyed at every opportunity. Nevertheless, it is my opinion that there are several species which are largely beneficial to the agriculturist, and, though the matter of their services will not be entered into here, it is maintained that all innocuous species of snakes should be protected or, at least, be given a chance with the other creatures of the woods, lakes and fields and not thoughtlessly destroyed.

As a food for man snakes have never been selected in this country, and the prospect is not favorable to a future choice in "snake diet." Still, in view of the growing favor shown to two other classes of cold-blooded creatures, as delicacies for the table, namely, frogs and turtles—or tortoises—it is possible that snake-eating will be eventually indulged in on American soil, as it is in many countries still uncivilized, and, at least, in one civilized land.

Fashion dictates the choice of food, and it takes time to educate the people to a taste for any new product. The French people used frog's legs as a table delicacy for generations before Americans adopted the custom, and there are still millions of persons in this land who would not eat turtle soup or frog's legs under any consideration, and who still scoff at the French as frog-eaters. Yet these same scoffers are often devoted to a fish diet, notwithstanding that the fishes are far below the reptiles in the scale of animal life.

In Louis Figuier's work, "Reptiles and Birds," he speaks of snakes being used in Southern France as food and sold under the name of "hedge eels." It is well known that in several tropical countries the natives eat the flesh of snakes, and the aborigines of America not rarely feed on the larger of our snakes. The only reason why this food is not more often eaten by the Indians is because it is not always at hand, and, moreover, the American snakes are generally of small size.

There is no reason to doubt that the flesh of snakes is not only nutritious but is of very fine quality and will compare favorably with frog's flesh, which is a great treat and surpassed by few animal foods. It is unfair to belitttle the quality of snake meat simply from the sentiment which prevails against snakes, and particularly so when frogs and terrapins are eaten, the latter being in great demand, and often bringing high prices.

There are many who will not eat eels, claiming that they are snakes; and I have learned of one man who threw his frying pan in the river because another had used it for cooking eels. But why not eat snakes, which are higher in the scale and interdict eels which are way below? The chances are that it would take more than a common diner to tell the difference between an eel and a well cooked snake of the same size, and he would have to be well up in comparative anatomy to identify by the bones. Let someone take the initiative and cook and eat snakes, and give his experience in the AMERICAN FIELD for the benefit of science, economics and liberal readers.

NOTES

A GENTLEMAN of Raleigh, N. C., Mr. T. L. Grimshaw, has a passion for entomology and has quite a collection of strange specimens. In a recent interview Mr. Grimshaw said: "Of my collection I think the chameleon spider, which I got last Summer on the coast of Africa, is the most valuable. The capture of this insect was highly interesting to me. One afternoon, while tramping along a dusty road, I noticed in the bushes which grew along the side what appeared to be a singular-looking white flower with a blue center. Stopping to examine it I found to my astonishment that it was not a flower at all, but a spider's web, and that the supposed light-blue heart of the flower was the spider itself lying in wait for its prey. The mottled brown legs of the spider were extended in such a way as to resemble the divisions between the petals of a flower. The web itself, very delicately woven into a rosette pattern, was white, and the threads that suspended it from the bushes were so fine as to be almost invisible. The whole thing had the appearance of being suspended in the air upon a stem concealed beneath. Upon knocking the spider from his perch into the white gauze net which I carried my surprise was greatly increased upon seeing my captive instantly turn in color from blue to white. I shook the net and again the spider changed color, this time its body becoming a dull greenish-brown. As often as I would shake the net, just so often would the spider change its color, and I kept it up until it had assumed about every hue of the rainbow."

A RECENT dispatch from Gloversville, N. Y., states that in Bleecker, Fulton County, the inhabitants are terrorized by the presence of large numbers of fierce wolves. So great is the alarm that no one dares venture out after dark. It is said two deer were followed by a pack of wolves the night of April 10, to within four miles of Gloversville and killed; and that several other carcasses of deer, which were killed by wolves, have been found in the woods.

Travel

SKETCHES OF ALASKA AND THE PACIFIC COAST—NO. 13

(Illustrated.)

BY A. K. DELANEY

The Seal Islands

In the vast expanse of the Bering Sea, two hundred miles from the nearest land and far removed from the confines of civilization, lie the Pribylof Islands, world-famed as the habitat of the fur-seal. They bear the name of their discoverer, who was a Muscovite sailing master—connected with a Siberian fur-trading company

SKETCHES OF ALASKA AND THE PACIFIC COAST—KILLING SEALS ON THE ISLANDS

—who, in 1786, while cruising in a small sloop from Ounalaska, discovered the group. The islands are four in number and are known as St. Paul, St. George, Otter and Walrus.

St. Paul Island is the most important of the group and has the superficial area of something over twenty thousand acres. Its highest point is about six hundred feet above the sea level and it is diversified into broken and knobby areas and smooth sandy tracts, on the latter of which wild grasses grow in luxuriance during the Summer season. The greater portion of its shore line gradually descends into the sea, although the beaches are generally thickly strewn with huge bowlders.

St. George Island has an area of about seventeen thousand acres and reaches the altitude of nine hundred and thirty feet above the sea level. Of its thirty miles of coast line but a trifle over two miles are sufficiently sloping to permit the landing of either man or beast. The remaining shores are precipices of bald rock which rise abruptly from the sea.

Otter Island, the third in rank, is about one and one-quarter miles long by less than one-half mile in width. Its entire shore line, except the northerly side, is bold and bluffy and the summit of the rocks is some three hundred feet above the sea.

Walrus Island is about one-quarter of a mile in length and one hundred yards in width, and upon all sides its shores drop perpendicularly into the sea, and the surface of the island is a table rock or reef but little above the wash of the surf.

The ledges and crevices of St. George and Otter and the comparative level surface of Walrus are the breeding grounds, during the Summer season, of countless millions of water fowl, and the slanting beaches of St. George and St. Paul during the same period are the home of hundreds of thousands of fur seals. The animals begin to arrive about the middle of May, the females leading the van. Not long after their arrival the young are cast and the breeding season begins. As is well known, the animal is polygamous, and each of the older and more powerful of the males pre-empts a certain area of ground along the shore and establishes his harem, and by July 1 nearly all the available space along the beaches of the islands is occupied.

The males often reach the weight of five hundred pounds and frequently measure seven feet from the tip of the nose to the stern, while the females, when full grown, are about half this size. The old bulls, during the breeding season, are very pugnacious and fight with much ferocity to maintain possession of their ground or of some female belonging to their harem. They succeed in keeping from their territory the younger males, who as the season advances become herded together on the islands inside the cordon of harems. By this natural process the bachelor seals, as they are called, are separated from the breeding portions of the herds, and when the killing time comes they are slowly driven toward the interior of the islands, where they are killed and skinned by the natives.

The killing is effected by a blow across the head with a heavy oaken club, and only the bachelor males are killed on the islands. The pelts are salted and piled into layers until after the killing season is over. Then the skins are rolled together by twos, flesh sides in, tied into bundles and transported to headquarters at Ounalaska, and thence to San Francisco. Nearly if not quite all the pelts thus taken find their way from San Francisco to London, where they are dressed and dyed ready to pass into the fashionable garment toward which so many of the fair sex turn their gaze with longing eyes.

The monopoly exercised by the Russian-American Company over these islands and the fur-seal trade has been practically continued by our government ever since Alaska was ceded to the United States.

The first act of Congress concerning Alaska after the acquisition of the territory made provision for the preservation of fur-seals and other fur-bearing animals within the territory and its waters, and also gave the Secretary of Treasury power to lease the Pribylof Islands, and in December, 1870, the lease was made granting the fur-sealing privileges of the islands to the Alaska Commercial Company, a California corporation organized for that purpose. The consideration of the lease was fifty-five thousand dollars, to be paid by the company to the government for the franchise, and sixty-two and one-half cents for each fur-seal skin taken and shipped and fifty-five cents for each gallon of oil obtained from the seals. The number of seals to be killed was limited to one hundred thousand, seventy-five thousand to be taken on St. Paul Island and twenty-five thousand on St. George Island. The lease also contained covenants on the part of the company binding it not to kill the animals with firearms or any other means calculated to alarm the herds; that only those over one year old should be taken, and that no females should be killed; also, that no killing should be done along the beach line where the herds congregate during the breeding season. This franchise covered a period of twenty years from May 1, 1870, to April 30, 1890, and under it the Alaska Commercial Company arose to be a most colossal corporation and its stockholders became immensely wealthy.

Aside from operations on the seal islands the company has carried on an extensive traffic in other furs, and its trading posts are scattered over a wide area of country, extending along the coast from Prince William's Sound northerly to Cook's Inlet, Bristol Bay and Norton Sound. The company has also maintained posts at several points on the Kuskovim and Yukon rivers, the most remote on the latter river being at Nukahklahkyat, which is a distance of over two thousand miles from St. Michaels at the mouth of the Yukon. The company also owns several ocean vessels, two of which—the Dora and the St. Paul—are very handsomely equipped and seaworthy crafts, and by them the business of the company between Ounalaska and San Francisco is principally conducted. Also they have a sternwheel steamer which plies on the Yukon during the Summer months. Immense quantities of furs from all varieties of land animals peculiar to the Arctic regions are gathered over this wide area, and find their way through the company's trading posts, warehouses and vessels to San Francisco.

The company has ever been keenly alive to the great importance of the privileges attending the lease, and has constantly kept in its employ, at Washington, eminent counsel to guard its interests there; and, to all comers, the company's agent at Ounalaska dispenses at its sumptuous quarters a lavish hospitality.

The Winter home of the fur-seals is not definitely known. They begin to leave the islands about September 1, and at the close of this month not one remains. It is supposed, not without some reason, that the Winter rookeries are in the Antarctic Ocean, and that the herds migrate from there to the Pribylof Islands each Spring and return to their Antarctic home each Autumn.

More is known concerning the Spring migration than that of the Autumn, as the herds appear to have—along the North American and Asiatic coasts—certain well-established lines of migration. These lines are well understood by the American and British Columbian sealing vessels, which each year venture into the business of sealing along the North Pacific Coast and often in the prohibited waters of the Bering Sea.

On the American side, the herds migrating northward are first encountered off the coast of Southern California as early as March and April; and the line of migration is thence, along the western shores of North America, about forty miles from land, past California and Oregon, Vancouver Island and Southeastern Alaska to the Aleutian Chain, which they cross by the pass between [illegible] Ounimak Islands, the principal gateway [illegible] to the Bering Sea on the American side. [illegible] of the herds is encountered on the Asia[illegible] and May, off Japan; and thence, going [illegible] follow along the line of the Kurile Isla[illegible] rendezvous on the Copper Islands.

The practice of the sealing schooners is to follow the herds from the points where they first make their appearance in the Spring migration until the animals reach their protected homes on the Pribylof and Copper Islands.

The hunting is almost universally carried on by the natives with firearms, and a large proportion of animals actually shot are not recovered by the hunters. The hunting is done in canoes and open boats lowered from the sealing vessels, which stand off and on while the hunters are out. By the time Bering Sea is reached by the fleet of pelagic sealers the heavy fogs, which almost continuously prevail in that section during the Summer season, afford the sealers an excellent ambush and the temptation to enter the sea in pursuit of the animals is almost irresistible.

The first determined attempt to prevent this was made in 1887, when new and more and stringent orders affecting the Alaskan waters were promulgated by the Secretary of the Treasury. These orders not being complied with, sixteen vessels, five of which were flying the British flag, were seized by the revenue cutters, sent to Sitka, and subsequently libeled and condemned by proceedings in admiralty. This was the commencement of the long diplomatic controversy between Great Britain and the United States concerning our rights in the premises, which finally culminated in a treaty of arbitration.

In the meantime the islands, in 1890, were leased to the North American Company for the consideration of seventy-five thousand dollars per annum for the franchise, and ten dollars and twenty-five cents for each fur-seal skin taken and shipped from the islands. Since the making of the new lease, in May, 1890, comparatively few animals have been taken and more strenuous efforts have been made by our government to prevent pelagic sealing.

The award of the board of arbitrators under the treaty was not entirely favorable to the claims of the United States and it is fair to presume that this new company, so far as the fur traffic is concerned, will only repeat the history of its predecessors—the Alaska Commercial and the Russian-American companies.

SKETCHES OF ALASKA AND THE PACIFIC COAST—SKINNING SEALS ON ST. PAUL ISLAND

NOTES

WE are in receipt of two booklets of especial interest to sportsmen, tourists, scientists and naturalists, entitled respectively "The Natural Game Preserves of North America," and "Sketches of Wonderland." These booklets are valuable compendiums of knowledge, treating, concisely, of that vast and natural resort for game animals, birds and fishes, lying between the forty-fifth parallel north latitude and the northern boundary of the United States, and extending from Lake Superior to the Pacific Ocean. The chorography of this vast territory shows it to include boundless prairies, densest of forests, endless mountain ranges and fruitful valleys, all interwoven and laced together by innumerable watercourses hundreds of miles in length, and rivers and streams as feeders which find their sources in snow-bound altitudes where nestle lakes clearer than any crystal and as pure as the first breath of dawn announcing the coming of Old Sol. The states included within this boundary are Wisconsin, Minnesota, the two Dakotas, Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon. All these states have rigid and wise laws for the protection of game and fish, and, realizing how generous nature has been in not only favoring this territory with natural haunts for game and fish but stocking the same for the use of man, every legislative session witnesses the introduction of new protective measures, and the game and fish supply promises to remain abundant. To reach any point in this vast game preserve is a question of no little concern to the sportsman and tourist, and for the purpose of assisting each in determining when, where and how to go, based upon reliable and authentic data, "The Natural Game Preserves of North America" and "Sketches of Wonderland" have been published by the Passenger Department of the Northern Pacific Railroad, which not only crosses the continent with its trunk line of two thousand miles, but ramifies into all the fastnesses of mountains and over prairies with two thousand five hundred additional miles of line, enabling the sportsman or tourist to reach the hitherto most inaccessible portions of this country. In inviting sportsmen over its line, for whom the Northern Pacific quotes special rates, it imposes only one condition, viz.: scrupulous obedience to all laws enacted for the protection of game and fish. "The Natural Game Preserves of North America" is beautifully illustrated with halftones, and the data are arranged by states, as experience indicates will be appreciated by sportsmen. A summary of the game [illegible] laws of each state is given first, then railway [illegible] convenient to hunting and fishing grounds, [illegible] branches, followed by descriptive matter of the [illegible] resorts, telling of the kind of game or fish obtain[illegible]

...h, advice as to outfitting, necessary paraphernalia, guides and cost of same, and excursion rates. The ... scientific or naturalist will be especially interested in ... printed volume entitled "Sketches of ... h, as the author, Olin D. Wheeler, ... ipt... "a land of rolling plains, boundless ... cultivated lands, Alpine lakes, mining camps, ... dancing rivers, thriving villages, trackless forests, growing cities and lofty mountains." In crossing the continent with the author, the tourist is kept marveling at the infinite variety of scenery as he traverses the Yellowstone Valley, the Gallatin Valley, the Three Forks, the source of the Missouri River, over the continental divide, either via Pipestone Pass or the Mullen Tunnel, into rugged and picturesque Idaho, through Washington and Oregon, and ceasing only after reaching the Puget Sound country or Portland, near the mouth of the far famed Columbia River, with its Dalles, Multnomah Falls, rapids, Government locks, and distant views of Mounts Hood, Ranier, St. Helens, Adams and other cascade peaks. The illustrations in this one-hundred-and-ten page brochure are very fine, the frontispiece being printed in black and sepia, showing Mount Ranier, with tourists above the clouds, the author having made the ascent of this lofty peak specially in the interest of the work, the other twenty-five full page illustrations being perfectly printed from the finest of halftone cuts, approximating steel engravings. These include Detroit Lake and vicinity, noted as a summering resort, also for its fishing and shooting; Mandan, in North Dakota, just across the Missouri River from Bismarck—it was among the Mandan Indians that the celebrated explorers, Lewis and Clark, wintered in 1804-5; scenes in Pyramid Park, which title the author prefers to use instead of the Bad Lands, the name given this peculiar configuration of a portion of Dakota's surface. We quite agree with the author in this change of name, but whether the public would coincide is a matter of conjecture. We venture the assertion, however, that if the public will make a tour of the Bad Lands, as we have done, it would agree that this aggregation of highly colored buttes, crags, cliffs, miniature valleys of green, and bluffs streaked with lignite, ought to be called Pyramid Park. The Indians, always superstitious, believed the burning lignite and barren upheavals were the work of the Evil One and named it accordingly, not thinking, presumably, of the vast herds of deer, antelopes and elks that frequented the sheltered valleys during the Winter and found sustenance there. To the geologist and naturalist Pyramid Park is most interesting. The distant view of Mount Ranier, of Paradise Falls, Sluiskin Falls, and Mount Hood, prepare one for the grander views presented of scenery in Yellowstone National Park, the most wonderful natural park of entrancing beauty and God-fearing inspiration in the world. Here are depicted the Yellowstone River and Valley, Great Falls and Geysers, such as Old Faithful, crater of the Oblong Geyser, Upper Falls, Excelsior Geyser, Cupid's Cave, Giant Geyser Cone, Yellowstone Falls and Cañon, Castle Geyser, Norris Geyser Basin, Bee Hive Geyser and Minerva Terrace. It should be the proud boast of every American to say he has "done" Yellowstone National Park before thinking of going abroad, for nearly everything he sees in the Old World will dwindle into insignificance in natural grandeur—the musty, time-worn castles, heraldic repositories, inquisition chambers and monarchial relics and titles of Continental Europe will do as a passing show of human achievements and failures; Yellowstone National Park will always be remembered as the handi-work of the C... ar. the exhilaration of a visit will ... il ... iasts a second visit will be a ... ches of Wonderland" is a volume ... f, and may be obtained for the ... first named booklet, by inclosing ... d addressing Chas. S. Fee, G. ... cific Railway, St. Paul, Minn.

SKETCHES OF ALASKA AND THE PACIFIC COAST—FUR-SEALS ON ST. PAUL ISLAND

PART SEVENTEEN of Bancroft's great illustrated work, "The Book of the Fair," continues the enumeration of the principal exhibits in the Anthropological department, many prominent features being duplicated in the beautiful illustrations with which the work is so bountifully embellished. Much space is devoted to these interesting exhibits, and those akin thereto in the Convent La Rabida. Chapter the twenty-first takes up the Fine Arts, a department of such magnitude that to be properly represented it is continued through Part Eighteen, and without being concluded. The value of this list of famous paintings, statuary, etc., is greatly enhanced by the numerous halftones of the works of the world's great masters of art. Probably no other work now in existence offers the lover of art so complete a lexicon of the finest exhibit of fine arts ever made in this country, and which has been rarely, if ever, surpassed in the world.

A LIST of Summer homes along the line of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway has been issued from the passenger department of that company. It gives an alphabetical list of towns in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, South Dakota, Iowa, Missouri and Wyoming, reached by the railway, the names of hotels and the proprietors, the distances from stations, the number of guests each house can accommodate and the rates of board. In the multitute of places of charm given, it would seem an easy task for one to select just the right spot at which to take an outing during the Summer season now so near at hand. Full information regarding the prices of tourist tickets, which will be on sale about May 15 and good for return passage until October 31, can be obtained from any authorized ticket agent or by addressing Geo. H. Heafford, General Passenger and Ticket Agent Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, Chicago, Ill.

Through Service

The Nickel Plate Road (N. Y. C. & St. L. R. R.), the favorite line between Chicago and the East along the South Shore of Lake Erie, being the shortest line to Cleveland and Buffalo, offers a splendid through car service to all classes of passengers. Magnificent Wagner sleepers and dining car daily on through trains to New York and Boston. For reservations of sleeping car space and further information address J. Y. CALAHAN, General Agent, 199 Clark Street, Chicago, Ill. Adv. No. 58.

No Change to New York and Boston

The through service offered the traveling public by the Nickel Plate Road (N. Y. C. & St. L. R. R.) is unsurpassed. The perfect passenger service of this road with the well-known excellence of the West Shore and Fitchburg roads recommends itself to the traveling public. Wagner palace cars and dining car daily on through trains to New York and Boston. For additional information see your local ticket agent or address J. Y. CALAHAN, General Agent, 199 Clark Street, Chicago, Ill. Adv. No. 57.

To the Traveling Public

Before purchasing tickets to points east of Chicago, first ascertain the rate to that point over the Nickel Plate Road. City ticket office, 199 Clark Street, Chicago, Ill. Adv. No. 56.

Kennel

FIXTURES

SHOWS

Southern California Kennel Club's annual dog show, Los Angeles, April 17, 18, 19 and 20. Dr. R. J. Withers, secretary.

Toronto Kennel Club's annual Spring show, Toronto, April 25 and 26. W. P. Fraser, secretary.

Pacific Kennel Club's annual show, San Francisco, May 7, 8, 9 and 10. H. Vernon, secretary.

Montreal Kennel Association's local show, Montreal, May 12.

Orange County Fair's dog show, Newburg, N. Y., September 17, 18, 19 and 20. Robert Johnston, secretary.

FIELD TRIALS

Continental Field Trial Club's inaugural trials (on prairie chickens), ——, September 2. P. T. Madison, secretary.

Manitoba Field Trial Club's trials (on prairie chickens), Morris, Manitoba, September 10. John Wootton, Secretary.

United States Field Trial Club's Fall trials, Carlisle, Ind., November 4. W. B. Stafford, secretary.

International Field Trial Club's trials, Chatham, Ont., November 5. W. B. Wells, secretary.

Eastern Field Trial Club's trials, Newton, N. C., November 18. W. A. Coster, secretary.

Continental Field Trial Club's Autumn trials, Newton, N. C., November 25. P. T. Madison, secretary.

United States Field Trial Club's second Fall trials, ——, November 28. W. B. Stafford, secretary.

CLUB MEETINGS

New England Beagle Club's quarterly meeting, Mechanics' Building, Boston, Friday, April 19, 2 p. m. W. S. Clark, secretary-treasurer.

Canadian Kennel Club's executive committee meeting, Queen's Hotel, Toronto, Can., Friday, April 19, 3 p. m. H. B. Donovan, secretary.

National Greyhound Club's meeting, Union Hotel, New York, Friday, April 26, 8 p. m. C. F. Lewis, secretary.

THE PITTSBURG SHOW

The third annual dog show given under the auspices of the Duquesne Kennel Club in the Old City Hall, Pittsburg, on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week will go on record as the most successful ever held in Pittsburg both financially and in the numbers and quality of the dogs on exhibition. The President, Mr. John Moorhead Jr., Mr. John M. Chaplin, the vice-president, and Mr. Littell, secretary and treasurer, were unremitting in their attention to visitors, in which they were ably assisted by Messrs. Dr. J. S. Phillips, H. M. Breckenridge, J. O. Horne and others. Mr. Jas. A. Waugh was an efficient and attentive veterinarian, and their united efforts were well backed up by Mr. E. M. Oldham, who made a most able, courteous and dignified superintendent. The catalog, one of the best it has been my pleasure to have seen, was on sale at the opening of the doors on the first day, and on the morning of Thursday a marked catalog with very few errors (and those of a very trifling nature) was offered and found a ready sale. Spratts Patent benched and fed.

The judging was finished the afternoon of the second day, except the awarding of two special prizes offered by Spratts Patent of ten dollars each to be given to the "kennelmen of the two exhibitors who show the two dogs, of any breed, in best condition; open only to customers of Spratt's Patent (America) Limited, and to be judged by Mr. H. W. Lacy." This wording in effect threw out men who make a living by handling dogs, and among others B. F. Lewis, who was not allowed to compete as the judge did not consider him a kennelman in the sense understood by the donors of the prize. Lewis naturally feels aggrieved at the decision which shut him out, but it will be quite readily understood that it is no reflection on him or his dogs, which common fairness compels me to say were shown in the very pink of condition, and had he been allowed he would have been a very dangerous competitor.

Thanks to the very generous support given the show by the Pittsburg daily papers the attendance was unusually large, and as the admission charged was fifty cents instead of twenty-five, as heretofore, there was a much better class of visitors than ever before. The appended verses are from the Pittsburg Leader:

When Noah set his ark afloat
Upon the waters wide
Of ev'ry kind of animals
He put a pair inside.
Among the lot a brace of dogs
Was numbered—that was all,
Yet countless breeds are now on view
At our own Old City Hall.

It is not Father Noah's fault
That thus his primal pair
Has muliplied in varied forms—
That's none of his affair.
For when he landed all he did
Was just to let 'em run,
And Nature, with her artist hand,
Since then the rest has done.

Amazing is her handiwork,
It dazzles him that views
Those canines built in divers ways,
And eke of divers hues.
Kaleidoscopic is the sight,
One almost dreads to claim
That of these multifarious purps
The ancestry's the same.

Just size 'em up. With wonder gaze
Upon the giant class,
The St. Bernard that trav'lers saved
From snowdrift and crevasse,
The mastiff, stern and heavy-jawed,
The bloodhound vast of maw,
Employed to hunt down darkies in
The South "befo' the wah."

Behold the greyhound, long and lank,
A corker on the track,
The foxhound and the pond'rous Dane,
The dachshund long of back.
The setters, some from Erin's isle,
And some from Aloion's strand,
And the curly, frisky old stand-by,
That hails from Newfoundland.

Pray don't forget the bulldog with
His misanthropic air;
The collie with his ulsterette
Of finest curling hair;
The terrier from the Isle of Skye
That revels in a spat,
And the picturesque King Charles with
His handsome silk cravat.

If Father Noah only could
Drop into City Hall
And view these breeds diversified,
And analyze 'em all,
'Twould surely fill the old man's heart
With never-ending bliss
To think that to one pair he's drawn
So large a hand as this.

MASTIFFS.—(Jas. Mortimer, judge.) There were but four entries in the seven classes provided. The only entry in the challenge classes was Ethel, who wears her years and honors well and was awarded the special for best mastiff in the show. The solitary entry in open dogs was an English setter and was transferred to his proper class. Bess had no competitors in the open bitch class, but she is not up to show form and all awards were withheld. Young was the only puppy shown. He is plain in head, leggy, and light of bone, and a second prize was quite as much as he was entitled to.

ST. BERNARDS.—(H. W. Lacy, judge.) The challenge class for rough-coated dogs was drawn blank. Miss Anna, in superb condition, was the only entry in the corresponding class for bitches and was awarded the blue ribbon, which she supplemented by winning the special prize offered for the best St. Bernard bitch, beating Empress of Contoocook, a decision which although open to question was no doubt decided by the former's excellent condition. In open rough dogs there was no denying Duke of Lincoln's superiority. He had the easiest of wins, scoring immensely in size, quality and expression, and it will be a thousand pities if this grand dog is allowed to return to England. Grand Master, second, was looking very well and has improved very much in expression, although he does not like too much company. Earl Douglas, in beautiful coat, was third; a trifle weak in front of eyes and a size too small, but a very taking dog in all other respects. Altoneer Jr, V.H.C., will have to improve very much if he is ever to win in good company, and the massive headed Prince Karl, H.C., might well have changed cards with him. In open rough bitches Artilla was well shown and won nicely from Santa Monica, a big, upstanding bitch with a nice head and expression but shown too light in flesh, which emphasized her rather flat ribs; she is a grand mover, and when well shown will do better. Arline, third, is rather plain in head and expression but well deserved her card. Queen Axtell, V.H.C., a niceish white and orange with a very fair head, good body and plenty of size, is sadly handicapped by her wretchedly bad hocks, and Lady Avis, H.C., is too small. Two nicely marked youngsters by Grand Master were first and second in the puppy class; the winner scoring in size and head properties. The novice class winners were Artilla and Santa Monica, in the order written, with Arline reserve. There was no entry in the challenge class for smooth dogs and in the one for the gentler sex Empress of Contoocook was indulged with a walkover. Nicode won in open smooth dogs; a big sound dog and a good mover but decidedly plain in color and heavy in ear. Lord Milton, second, is a much better marked dog than the winner; more pleasing in color and quite as good in head and expression. Buster, third, has much the better head and expression of the three, also the more correct coat, and had he been shown in better condition he must have won. Clovis, reserve, is well known. Judith was alone in open bitches, and Nicode and Clovis won first and second prizes respectively in the novice class.

BORZOIS.—(Jas. Mortimer, judge.) As there was but one entry in each class and they have all been recently described, it will suffice to say that Argoss and Princess Irma won in the challenge classes and Ataman IV and Riga in the open classes. Terra Cotta Kennels had a walkover for the special prizes, as well as for those in the regular classes. Ataman IV was awarded the special for the best dog or bitch, and with Princess Irma won the special for the best brace.

GREAT DANES —(Jas. Mortimer, judge.) The challenge class did not fill. In open dogs Major McKinley II had an easy win and is improving. Second prize was awarded to a blue dog, with some white on chest and forelegs, transferred from the miscellaneous class. Ed was absent; and King Dan, a big, well-made blue dog of mastiff type, was out of place in a class for Great Danes. The elegantly-formed Wolverton Hadie, the Detroit winner, won well in bitches from Ella, third at Chicago, scoring in size, beauty of outline, cleanness and length of neck and expression. Tuilla, third, is undersized. Major McKinley II won in puppies from Phillips' Tigress, a neat one, but small for her age.

GREYHOUNDS.—(C. H. Mason, judge.) Old Gem of the Season was not for competition (except for specials), and Southern Rhymes, the black and white dog whose wins at New York, Detroit, Chicago and Denver had put him in the challenge class, scored without a struggle. Bestwood Daisy, in very nice shape, won in challenge bitches from Southern Beauty, who was low in flesh and by no means at her best. In open dogs George Thomas showed another winner in Southern Fury, a smart white and black dog, with excellent legs and feet and good neck and shoulders, but a bit soft and short of muscle in hindquarters and not in the best condition as to coat. Spring of the Valley, well known, was second. Southern Belle, a powerful black and white bitch, another of the Toon & Thomas string, won in open bitches. The others were a very poor lot, and, although Spot was awarded second prize, she bears no comparison to the winner, whose rather heavy shoulders and widish front do not stop her from galloping. Toon & Thomas won the special for the best kennel without competition. Gem of the Season won the special for the best dog, much to his handler's surprise, who no doubt has been kicking himself ever since; for the money in the challenge class would have been the old dog's had he been entered for it. Bestwood Daisy was pronounced the best bitch and Gem of the Season and Southern Beauty the best brace.

FOXHOUNDS.—(Jas. Mortimer, judge.) In the challenge class for American foxhounds Bowsprit had a walkover. She has a nice neck and shoulders, good ribs, loin and quarters, and moves well, but her bone is light and her ankles and feet are not of the best. In the open dog class Big Strive had much the best of it in shoulders, bone, legs and feet, body and coat, but he certainly favors the English type of hound. Sweep has a good head and ears, but he is leggy, light in bone, and flat-ribbed. Pearl Strive, the winning bitch, is very much like her brother, sound in body and bone. Queen is leggy. Third prize was withheld.

Songster won in the English foxhound dog class and a really good one he is. He was shown too big, and I should like him a bit more sprung in rib and shorter in the couplings. Boy, second, was wide in front. Rosemary won in bitches, beating Mermaid in eye and muzzle, also in shoulders, legs and feet. Songster won the special for the best foxhound.

BLOODHOUNDS.—(H. W. Lacy, judge.) Vigilant walked over in the challenge class, but she is a very plain one. Buccaneer was alone in open dogs; he is undersized and deficient in head properties. Calliope was absent in the open bitch class, which gave Lady Marjorie a walkover; she is by far the best of those that were present, has a characteristic head with plenty of leather and wrinkle, but is on the small side and a trifle light in bone.

POINTERS.—(C. H. Mason, judge) Molton Banner in capital form had no opponent in the heavyweight challenge class for dogs. The corresponding bitch class had no entries. In open heavy dogs Rod H won, with Captain Meteor second, and Fred II highly commended. The winner was in poor show condition, but for a big dog shows a lot of quality; he has a good head and eye—the latter perhaps a shade light—well placed ears, a good neck, free from throatiness, any amount of bone and well-bent stifles, and his stern is put on in the right place and well carried; he knuckles over a bit at times and in his slow paces his hocks are a bit close together. He is a grand old dog that in his younger days would have troubled the best of them. Ridgeview Regent, Naso Bang, Black Wonder and George Croxteth were absent. Third prize was withheld. The well-known Emblem won in heavyweight bitches, with Lola Montez (a black one) second, and Frankie third; a poor class. In the lightweight challenge class for dogs Ridgeview Comet won from Ridgeview Tenny, scoring in front of eye, shoulders, elbows, pasterns and feet. Both dogs were in nice condition, but Tenny was the harder in flesh and muscle, cleaner in throat and better in hindquarters than his more successful opponent. Lady Gay Spanker and Miss Rumor had the corresponding bitch class to themselves and were placed as written. Open lightweight dogs saw Ridgeview Chancellor well to the front; he has put on flesh and muscle since Chicago and looked all the better for it. Spendthrift, winner of second prize, has a beautiful head, neck and shoulders with excellent front legs and feet, but he was not put down in good condition and his hindquarters and action are decidedly weak and faulty. Lad of Rush, third, is plainish in head and his shoulders are not as clean as they were, but he is a good sound dog and might well have changed places with the second prize winner. Rush, reserve, is a promising puppy whose head will always be plain, and he is at present too light in eye. Ridgeview Sal shows age but won pretty easily in lightweight bitches. Lady of Rush, second, is very light in eye and faulty in muzzle. Bessie G, third, might be darker in eye and have more bone and substance. Speckle Gown, reserve, is too small, but back of her head she has very few faults. Rush won in the puppy class, and Rod H in the class for novices.

ENGLISH SETTERS.—(C. H. Mason, judge.) There was a capital entry of sixty-odd in these classes and the quality was very much above the average. It is neediest to say they were well handled, the judge being consistens in adhering to the correct type, and his decisions were in nearly every instance very well received. In challenge dogs Cactus won pretty comfortably from Glendon, scoring decisively in bone, loin, hindquarters and action. Maid Marian was alone in the challenge bitch class. In open dogs—a large class of twenty with but three absentees—The Earl won, and will be remembered as the winner at the last New York show. He is a good-bodied and nice-coated lemon belton with a very typical head, which is almost exaggerated in stop and just a trifle heavy in skull; ears nicely set on and well carried, and good legs and feet; and while he is not perfect in his action behind there could be no question as to the justice of the decision which placed him at the head of the class. Cincinnatus' Pride, second, is a nice-headed white, black and tan dog that has made the circuit with varying fortunes; he has a clean neck, good shoulders, legs and feet, and while not as deep in chest as the winner has well sprung ribs and plenty of heart room. Knight Templar made a good third; a more than useful looking dog with a fair head, good shoulders, legs and feet; and a trifle long in body and stern. Wordsley Dude, a heavily ticked blue belton, got the reserve; a big dog with a good head of the proper type, but his rather heavy shoulders and badly placed elbows will always handicap him. Dan o' Light, the Chicago winner, could get no higher than a very highly commended card in this company. Beaconsfield, V.H.C., is a smart little dog, a trifle short in head. Count Eric II, V.H.C., has good body, legs and feet; his neck is a bit short and he might be better in shoulders. The best of the highly commended division was MacMurdo, a heavily marked black, white and tan dog, whose color is against him; and of the commended lot I liked Major as well as anything. In the open bitch class Monk's Nun, heavy in whelp, had a rather easy win from Rita H, second, weak in muzzle and stralght in profile; the latter's shoulders, body and hindquarters are good, but she is very light in bone and her feet are bad. Count Howard's Pride, third, has a much more typical head and more bone and substance, but she is a bit slack in the back and wide in front. Roderigo's Queen, reserve, has a short head, full eye and sour expression, but her body, eyes and feet are much above the average. Belle of Brownstone, highly commended, was about as good as anything else in the class. Roger O'Mara won rightly enough in dog puppies, but his head is coarse and his small eyes are too much sunken. Queen Eric, the winning bitch puppy, is only a moderate one. Cincinnatus' Pride and Knight Templar were rightly placed first and second in a good class of novices; the latter closely pushed by Bess, whose rather high set-on of ear and short neck were the cause of her defeat. There was a long list of specials, most of them with a string attachment.

IRISH SETTERS.—(C. H. Mason, judge) Champion Kildare won in challenge dogs, with Finglas reserve. The former was put down in splendid condition (as were all Joe Lewis' dogs), and was afterward awarded the several specials that were offered for the best Irish setter. Finglas is rather overdone in skull, his neck is short, and, although all over a workman, he lacks the quality of the winner. Norna won in the corresponding class for bitches from her kennel mate Queen Vic. This is a reversal of the usual order in which they have been placed, but it is correct, as the little bitch wins at most points except in size and in front of eye. Lord Elcho Jr won in open dogs, scoring very considerably in head; he is not in full coat and was very short of feather. Henmore Shamrock, second, is plain in head, but back of it there is little to be found fault with. Dick Finglas, third, is a workmanlike looking dog with good legs and feet, a trifle heavy in skull but of good type, nice dark eye, and good color. Shamrock Mardo, reserve, is a good puppy well put up all round; he has an extra nice coat and color, and should he not grow coarse in head will be again heard from. In open bitches Nancy Finglas was awarded first, Ruby Glenmore II second, and Nona third. The latter has a crooked stern, which doubtless put her back. Ruby Glenmore II is much better in head, eye, set-on and carriage of ear, and is richer in color than Nancy Finglas, and I thought should have about won. Seminole Fly, reserve, is a nice bitch, standing a little high behind and a shade light in color. Shamrock Mardo won very easily in dog puppies; and Kildare Annette, whose condition was hardly creditable, was alone in the bitch class. Fancy Finglas and Dick Finglas were first and second in the novice class, and here I thought their positions might have been reversed, as the dog wins easily in head properties and is much better in front legs and feet.

GORDON SETTERS.—(C. H. Mason, judge.) Leo B was alone in challenge dogs, and Princess Louise in challenge bitches. Wang Ivanhoe was the only entry in open dogs; and in the open bitch class Sante Marie won, with Daisy Ivanhoe second, and Maid of Waverly third. The winner is a very nice bitch with a beautiful coat and very good color. Daisy Ivanhoe, second, is down-faced and Roman-nosed, and is faulty in color of tan. Maid of Waverly is good in head, coat and color, but she is flat in ribs and lathy behind.

SPANIELS.—(C. H. Mason, judge.) The challenge class did not fill. In open field spaniel dogs (black) Drayton Warwick was absent, which allowed Endcliffe Ebony to win, with War Dance, an undeveloped puppy, second. Drayton Warwick turned up on the third day of the show and was awarded an extra first prize; undoubtedly he would have won in his class had he been in time. Scandal was alone in bitches; a very nice June puppy, with good length of body, fair bone, a goodish head and excellent coat.

The cockers Black Duke and Red Roland had each a walkover in his respective class. Chief won in open black dogs, but he can hardly be called a high-class specimen and shows signs of red in his coat. Woodland Robbie, second, is much the better in coat and sounder in color; both are good movers and both get their heads and sterns a bit too high. Rex Obo, reserve, is too long in back and down-faced. Woodland Princess, well known, won in open black bitches, with Fashion, who now begins to show age, and had a nasty lump in her throat, second. Nellie, reserve, is a nice stamp with good coat, legs and feet and nice character and style. Miss Mae and Bridget were very highly commended. The former has not grown since the Detroit show and is a trifle undershot. Bridget is a good mover, b[illegible] and is short of coat; her head, eye [illegible] good. Red Duke had an easy win in [illegible] class. Billy, second, is a nice liver- [illegible] heavy in skull. Reserve went to V[illegible] Red Justice, whose undershot m[illegible]rinkle[illegible] head and faulty front will always keep him in the background. Muldoon, H C., is too long in back. Red Niobe won in the corresponding bitch class. Lady Golden, second, is a merry little mover with good body, is a bit cut away in muzzle and wide in front Edgewood Hebe was shown in very low flesh, or she might have been higher. The black and white St. Lawrence beauty won in the any-other-color class, with Woodland Bessie, a liver and tan one, marked one, second. The latter is light in eye, a bit woolly in coat, and does not move as well behind as the black and white dog.

There was only one Clumber, a big dog, curly in coat, not quite straight in front, good body, and very fair in head and expression.

Belva won quite easily in the Irish water spaniel class. Kitty of Cork, second, is out of coat. Jipp was altogether too small.

COLLIES.—(C. H Mason, judge.) In challenge dogs Christopher was absent, which left a walkover for Wellesbourne Charlie. Flurry III had no opponent in the corresponding bitch class. In open dogs Woodmansterne Trefoil was first, Woodlawn Trefoil second and Domino II third. The latter was not looking as well as at New York. Goldmine, reserve, is a very plain one, with badly carried ears. Hadfield Don was absent. Lady Gay, the Chicago winner, was placed first in bitches, with Ormskirk Susie (who should have won) second, and Woodlawn Sunset third; the latter has gone off a bit in coat and expression and needs a rest. Hempstead Dorothy was absent. Red Wilkes was alone in dog puppies, and Prudence—luckily for her—had the bitch puppy class all to herself. The Woodlawn Park Kennels won the special for best kennel; Wellesbourne Charlie that for the best collies; and Lady Gay the one for the best bitch; also for the best dog or bitch in open classes. The latter was an error in judgment, as there were at least three in the open classes that could beat her, and these are Woodmansterne Trefoil, Woodlawn Trefoil and Ormskirk Susie. Lady Gay has nothing but her smartness and ear carriage to commend her; she is very short in skull and weak in face and there is absolutely nothing of her.

POODLES.—(Jas. Mortimer, judge.) In open dogs Cæsar had no trouble in winning from his kennel companion Emperor, who is stylish, but loses to the winner in head, color of eye, set-on and carriage of ear and closeness of curl. Carnot, Mignon and Bijou II were absent. In open bitches Niniche won from Fan; both nice ones; the winner is better in eye, coat and color. Diane was absent.

BULLDOGS.—(Jas. Mortimer, judge.) Most of those exhibited are well known. Wal Hampton was alone in challenge dogs, and Graven Image in the bitch class. In open dogs the new arrival, Facey Romford, made his first appearance. He is a wonderfully bodied dog with grand formation of shoulder and immense bone. King Orry and Bingo were absent, and Nugget made a good second. Miss Mischief won pretty easily in open bitches, scoring in skull, ear and shortness of face; a big bitch that ought to do well as a brood bitch and breed a winner. Juno II, second, is good in body and bone but her ears are not always carried nicely. Lorna Doone, third, is pinched in face and long in body.

BULL TERRIERS.—(C. H. Mason, judge.) There was considerable excitement over the bull terrier judging and feeling ran high. In challenge dogs Cardona was once more returned the winner, with Duke of Rochester reserve. In challenge bitches Attraction was absent and old Starlight was declared the winner, Lady Dinah getting the empty honors. In open heavyweight dogs Dutch Billy, the dog I spoke so favorably of at Chicago, was placed first, with Billy Bulger second, and Topsparkle third. There is not much fault to be found with these decisions. Topsparkle is the best headed dog and has the more correct expression, but his mouth is going and he is not very good in front. Billy Bulger's neck, shoulders, elbows, legs and feet are as good as anything, but he will get his tail too high and his head won't do. Rex, the reserve, is a big dog with one marked ear; he is too much cut away under the eye and is too full in cheek. Queen Lilly won rightly in open bitches over 30 pounds, and it is hard to find a really serious fault with her; her eye is a bit large and her feet might be better, and then you have about done. I did not like Edgewood Flossie, second, so well as I did at New York; she was not in the best of condition, and still looked a bit long in body and unfurnished, faults which (as she is only eleven months old) time will correct. Daisy Belle, third, I was rather favorably impressed with. Her body, hindquarters and stern are distinctly good, her skull is correct, and I like her down-face and expression, although she is rather full in eye and tapers off too quickly at the muzzle; she has also put on considerable muscle on her shoulders and is a bit out at elbow. Beauty, reserve, has a bad head. Harper's Whiskey won in the class for dogs under 30 pounds but was protested on the ground of being overweight, and on being put on the scale was found to be over 34 pounds; so Little Billie, who is far from a flyer, was moved up one. In lightweight bitches Neglect won; she is too prominent in eye, full in cheek, and cut away under the eye; still there is a certain amount of smartness about her. Nellie Harper should have won had she been in decent condition, as she is much the better bull terrier; but she was so gross as to put her entirely out of shape. Chatauqua Nellie, third, was described at Chicago; and White Tilli reserve, is short and dished in face and light in eye. Little Billie won in dog puppies from Streatham Monarch Jr, a puppy with a nice small eye and pretty fair natural ears Edgewood Flossie won easily in bitch puppies, with Lady Gay, an uncropped one—one ear up, the other down—second, and Streatham Monarch's Daughter, another uncropped one, [illegible] There were quite a number of specials offered. [illegible] them Duke of Rochester took the special f[illegible] American-bred bull terrier, to which Queen Lilly [illegible] to have the better claim.

DACHSHUNDE.—(Jas. Mortimer, judge.) Fl[illegible] K was alone in the challenge class, but he should now be retired, as he will be beaten when he meets a good young [illegible] liver and tan dog, won in open dogs; [illegible] his feet are thin through and not [illegible], second, was the best, barring his [illegible] Bismarck K has wretched pasterns [illegible] is too large and coarse. Polly [illegible] class, with Lovely K a very good second. Feldman K II is a puppy with rather a coarse head.

BEAGLES.—(H. W. Lacy, judge.) Ringleader had the easiest kind of a win in open dogs. Wilderness, second, is good in body, but full in eye and bad in muzzle. Charlie Wildwood, H.C., is toyish in skull and muzzle, but good in body, legs and feet. Ginger won in the bitch class, with Molly L, heavy in whelp, second, and Birdie S highly commended.

FOX TERRIERS.—(Jas. Mortimer, judge.) Warren Safeguard, in excellent condition, was alone in challenge dogs; and Warren Captious was the only entry in the bitch class. Open dogs—a fairly well-filled class—were headed by Warren Daybreak, with Warren Tip Top, who retains his good head and front, second. Third prize was won by Warren Scamp, a long-headed dog, with excellent coat, small ears, good expression and good legs and feet, but a size too big. Hillside Royal, reserve, is well known. Wordsley Trapper, V.H.C., is the right size and a terrier all through, but he wants a better front and coat and his mouth is badly cankered. Scioto King did not turn up until too late, but three letters is all he could have been awarded had he been in time. Of the highly commended ones I liked Snap II best, but he was in very poor condition and therefore the local special had to go to Harvard, a good old one by Bacchanal out of Betsy Splauger. That beautiful puppy Warren Capture won in the open bitch class, with Cowthorp's Gem second, and Warren Sentence and Wawaset Lucy equal thirds. Sentence was not in her best form, or she would have done better. Wawaset Lucy is a recent importation, by the celebrated Despoiler; she is a bit heavy in ear and short in neck, but her body, coat, bone and legs and feet will bear the closest scrutiny. Warren Capture, Warren Daybreak and Warren Sentence were first, second and reserve in the puppy class.

In wirehaired dogs Endcliffe Banker won, with Roath Tipster, rather full in eye but with nice ears and good coat and bone, second, and Mister Great Snap reserve. Compton Vindex was very highly commended; he has gone very coarse in head and can no longer win in anything like fair company. Endcliffe Fidget, the winning bitch, is a new face; she is quite large enough and a bit strong in head, but has a nice top, good coat and very fair style. Roath Rennie was second. Brittle Bee, V.H.C., is a September puppy whose head will always be her weak point. Hill Hurst Pansy was out of coat. Brittle Bee was the only entry in the wirehaired puppy class. Messrs. L. & W Rutherfurd won the American Fox Terrier Club's Challenge Cup with Warren Capture, the runner-up being her sire, Warren Safeguard.

IRISH TERRIERS.—(Jas. Mortimer, judge.) In challenge dogs Merle Grady, very much thinner than at New York, Detroit and Chicago, turned the tables on Jackanapes and Jack Briggs, although the latter was very close up with him. Dunmurry won from Candor in challenge bitches. The latter's skull has thickened and she was not in full coat. In open dogs Brian O'K, not in his best coat, won from Briggs' Best, beating him in head and Irish terrier character. His Honor was third. Gessala III, the winner in open bitches, is better in bone, legs, feet and coat than Norah, second, whose head and expression are very fetching. Briggs' Budget, third, is at present a bit short in head and wants time. Briggs' Breeze's puppy coat is just now very open and soft.

OTHER TERRIERS.— (James Mortimer, judge). There were entered here three Scotchmen, but only one, Merry Coll, turned up; she has very much improved and is now a nice terrier.

The Skye terriers Elphinstone and Endcliffe Maggie were alone in their classes and each was awarded a blue ribbon.

In black and tan terriers Darkie won from Chicago Spider, with Pittsburgh Peter, too large, third. Gypsy Girl won from Queen III, with Betsy third. Chicago Maiden was V.H.C., and Rochelle Mab, in very poor condition, H.C. Meg, V.H.C., is a pretty little bitch, a shade pale in color of tan and rather whippety in build. Two very nice puppies came out in Scott's Vic, first, and the same owner's Scott's Lassie, second. Pittsburgh Lady, reserve, is weak in front of the eye and not well defined in color.

Bradford Rejected won in Yorkshire dogs, with Leader's Prince second, and Fluffy, V.H.C. In bitches the smaller one won. Minnie York, I fancy is the name, although I believe the numbers got wrong and Pinkie York is credited with the win.

PUGS.—(H. W. Lacy, judge). In the challenge class Haughty Madge very properly won from Duke Howard, who in turn was placed over Boo Ivy, who wins in skull and muzzle, but would not show to advantage. Al Von won in open dogs, closely pressed by Finsbury Duke. Patsy Bolivar was third. All these are well known. Ivy Boy got the reserve card. Princess Madge, the winning bitch, has now gained sufficient confidence to make the most of herself in the ring; she is a trifle long in muzzle, but beautifully wrinkled and very nice in color. Hooker was second and Queen Zitka third. Princess Madge won in the puppy class, with Queen Madge, her litter sister, second, and Pinafore third. Syren won in the novice class, better in body and clearer in color than Lady Curtis, who is a bit smutty, light in middle, and a bit long in face.

TOY SPANIELS.—(Jas. Mortimer, judge.) Only one in each class. The black and tan a fairly good one, but the ruby is long in face and has too much white on head, throat and chest for a prize-winner.

ITALIAN GREYHOUNDS.—(Jas. Mortimer, judge.) In the challenge [illegible] Sprite, better in formation, was [illegible] is smaller but almost too terrier- [illegible]ge of stern. There was nothing [illegible] n the open class, although Trixie [illegible]ck but for her crooked leg. Lady [illegible] fawn but in very thin condition. [illegible] her ears up occasionally, but she [illegible]en and being sound had to be sec- [illegible], is too apple-headed and full in eye.

MISCELLANEOUS.—(Jas Mortimer, judge.) In the class for dogs first prize was won easily by a very fair basset hound. Ponce de Leon, second, is a bad poodle. In bitches Beauty, a Mexican hairless dog, was alone and received the blue ribbon.

JAS. MORTIMER.

OFFICIAL LIST OF AWARDS

MASTIFFS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: No entries. Bitches: 1st, B. F. Lewis Jr. (Ethel, Orlando—Countess Ametia). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: No entries. Bitches: Prizes withheld. PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, withheld; 2nd, E. E. Andrews (Youno). Bitches: No entries. NOVICE CLASS—No entries.

ST. BERNARDS.—Rough-coated—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: No entries. Bitches: 1st, Jacob Ruppert Jr. (Miss Anna, Watch—Countess of Grafenreld). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Edward Booth (Duke of Lincoln, Scottish Prince—Countess of Grafenreid); 2nd, Alta Kennels (Grand Master, Hesper—Princess Guilda): 3rd, Belle Isle Kennels (Earl Douglas, Lord Bute—Ellen Terry); V.H.C., J. C. O'Donnell (Altoneer Jr, Altoueer—Moore's Rosamond); H.C., J. R. Flinn (Prince Karl, Sir Augustus Cæsar—Miss Bayard). Bitches: 1st, Belle Isle Kennels (Artilla, Lord Melrose—Elaine); 2nd, Alta Kennels (Santa Monica, Lochlin—Santa Rosa); 3rd, Rice St. Bernard Kennels (Arline, Ben Lomond—Corrette); V.H.C., J. L. Axtell (Queen Axtell, Mt. St. Elias—Mary Mt. Queen); H C., T. H. Sankey (Lady Avis, Questor—Lady Nell). PUPPY CLASS—1st, Alta Kennels (Vespers, Grand Master—Juliet); 2nd, F. A. Simpkins (Orlaff S, Grand Master—Juliet); V.H.C., J. C. O'Donnell (Altoneer Jr, Altoneer—Moore's Rosamond). NOVICE CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Belle Isle Kennels (Artilla, Lord Melrose—Elaine); 2nd, Alta Kennels (Santa Monica, Lochlin—Santa Rosa); V.H.C. Res., Rice St. Bernard Kennels (Arline, Ben Lomoud—Corrette); V.H.C., J. C. O'Donnell (Altoneer Jr, Altoneer—Moore's Rosamond). Smooth-coated—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: No entries. Bitches: 1st, Jacob Ruppert Jr. (Empress of Contoocook, Keeper—Regina). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Alta Kennels (Ricode, Altoneer—Judith); 2nd, F. H. Morris (Lord Milton, Alton—Judith); 3rd, M. J. Gusky (Buster, Nevis—Lady Constance); V.H.C. Res., Belle Isle Kennels (Clovis, Survivor—Peggy). Bitches: 1st, Alta Kennels (Judith, Keeper—Regina). PUPPY CLASS—No entries. NOVICE CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Alta Kennels (Nicode, Altoneer—Juditb); 2nd, Belle Isle Kennels (Clovis, Survivor—Peggy).

BORZOIS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Terra Cotta Kennels (Argoss, Ataman the Great—Padrooga). Bitches: 1st, Terra Cotta Kennels (Princess Irma, Krilntt—Elsie). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Terra Cotta Kennels (Atamau IV, Laubesny—Laubka). Bitches: Terra Cotta Kennels (Riga, Argoss—Princess Irma), GREAT DANES.—CHALLENGE CLASS—No entries. OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: Edward Knieriem (Major McKinley II, Major McKinley—Freia); 2nd, J. M. Chaplin (Dan, Cæsar—Cora); 3rd, withheld. Bitches: 1st. Henrietta Glynn (Wolverton Hadie, Lord Wolverton—Senta); 2nd, Convent Kennels (Ella, Pedro—Queen Hanno); 3rd, J. F. Milligan (Tullia, Earl of Wurtemburg—Irene II). PUPPY CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Edward Knieriem (Major McKinley II, Major McKinley—Freia); 2nd, W. S. Phillips (Phillips' Tigress, Earl of Wurtemburg—Maud).

DEERHOUNDS.—CHALLENGE CLASS—No entries. OPEN CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: Prizes withheld.

GREYHOUNDS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Toon & Thomas (Southern Rhymes, Pops—Pansy II). Bitches: 1st, Toon & Thomas (Bestwood Daisy, Glenarpool—Bestwood Belle); V.H.C., Terra Cotta Kennels (Southern Beauty, Harpoon—Blanche Burnaby). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Toon & Thomas (Southern Fury, Page Boy—Tiny Laura); 2nd, Joseph Lewis (Spring of the Valley, Gem of the Season—Wild Rose); H.C., F. D. Eberhart (Rome Marble Jr, Rome Marole—Dalsy Dublin). Bitches: 1st, Toon & Thomas (Southern Belle, Lacoon—Axls); 2nd, Philip Wolfenden (Spot, Phil—Blue Girl); H.C., F. H. Hoyt (Martha, Master Rich—Wild Parsley) and F. F. McDonaugh (Lady Helen, J. K. Emmett—Bess of Braddock).

FOXHOUNDS.—English—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, N. S. Money (Songster, Shamrock—Dutiful); 2nd, Robert Durning (Boy). Bitches: 1st, Chestnut Hill Kennels (Rosemary, Songster—Rosy): 2nd, N. S. Money (Mermald). American—CHALLENGE CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Muskdundo Kennels (Bowsprit, Ell—Flossie). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Walker & Hagen (Big Strive, Striver—Sal); 2nd, H. G. Twaddell (Sweep, Lima Jury—Nelly); 3rd, withheld. Bitches: 1st, Walker & Hagen (Pearl Strive, Strlve—Sal) 2nd, Mark Lewis (Queen).

BLOODHOUNDS.—CHALLENGE CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, R. D. Williams (Vigilant, Jack the Ripper—Benlson). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, R. D. Williams (Buccaneer, Danby—Etta). Bitches: 1st, R. D. Williams (Lady Marjorie, Bardolph—Thomna).

POINTERS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—55 pounds and over—Dogs: 1st, Glen Rock Kennels (Molton Banner, Saddleback—Molton Bloom). 50 pounds and over—Bitches: No entries. OPEN CLASSES—55 pounds and over—Dogs: 1st, Rinada Pointer Kennels (Rod H, Rod—Nell); 2nd, James Davidson (Captain Meteor, Frank—Tracey Bell); 3rd, withheld; H.C., J. M. Nicholls and J. H. McCullum (Fred H, Graphic—Bessie Brown). 50 pounds and over—Bitches: 1st, C. H. Clarke Jr. (Emblem, Witheragg, Sambo—Lady Vixen); 2nd, J. R. King (Lola Montez, Duke of Richmond—Nellie S); 3rd, Frank Kruse (Frankie, Prince Nazo—Midge); V.H.C., Frank Kruse (Lady, Kenmawr—Kansas). Under 55 pounds—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, G. J. Gould (Ridgeview Comet, Lad of Kent—Ridgeview Lass); V.H.C. Res., Netherwood Kennels (Ridgeview Tenuy, Beppo III—Blithesome). Under 50 pounds—Bitches: 1st and V.H.C. Res., G. J. Gould (Lady Gay Spanker and Miss Rumor, Rumor—Lady Norrish). OPEN CLASSES—Under 55 pounds—Dogs: 1st, G. J. Gould (Ridgeview Chancellor, Lad of Kent—Ridgeview Lass); 2nd, Rinada Pointer Kennels (Spendthrift); 3rd, J. L. Adams (Lad of Rush, Rush of Lad—Topsey L); V.H.C. Res., Smoky City Kennels (Rush, Rush of Lad—Spotty Ale); H.C., W. B. McCloud (Duke of Kent III, Tempest—Nadjy of Naso) and W. H. Johns (Yet Swift, Don Swift—Jewel Croxteth). Under 50 pounds—Bitches: 1st, Rinada Pointer Kennels (Ridgeview Sal); 2nd, Dr. H. L. Retter (Lady of Rush, Bristol Lad—Meta); 3rd, Henry Jarrett (Bessie G); V.H.C. Res., W. B. McCloud (Speckle Gown, Tempest—Nadjy of Naso). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Smoky City Kennels (Rush, Rush of Lad—Spotty Ale); 2nd, Henry Ihrig (Prince Bismarck, Spotted Boy's Lad—Flora C). Bitches: 1st, Louis McGrew (Plucky Maid, Pluck—Betty Kent). NOVICE CLASSES—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Rinada Pointer Kennels (Rod H, Rod—Nell); 2nd, Frank Kruse (Frankie, Prince Naso—Midget).

ENGLISH SETTERS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Henry Pape (Cactus, Rockingham—Myrrha II); V.H.C. Res., Smith Penfield (Glendon, Rockingham—Donna). Bitches: 1st, John Brett (Maid Marian, Rockingham—Myrrha II). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Victoria Kennels (The Earl, Domingo—Victoria Nona); 2nd, E. A. Burdette (Cincinnatus' Pride, Cincinnatus—Albert's Nellie); 2ud, Newell & McConnell (Knight Templar, Monk of Furness—Huntress); V.H.C. Res., Harry Northwood (Wordsley Dude, Soapy Sponge—Sinful Pride); V.H.C., F. F. Bock (Dan O'Light, Rod's Reel—Beuchner's Nell), Dr. S. W. Hartt (Beaconsfield, Gladstone's Boy—Bessie Marshall) and James Sullivan (Couut Eric II, Count Eric—Lady E Gladstone): H.C., John Sherwin (Wordsley Rex, Wordsley Dude—Lady Dudley), Fred Pastre (Mac Murdo Rol d'Or—Mlldred), D. F. Anderson (Cale, Count Robert Gladstone—Flossie) and Homestead Kennels (Noble Count, Cincinnatus' Count—Bessie Roy); C., H. B. Brocket Jr. (Major, Dash—Countess II), J. A. Herron (Count Rachet, Roxie D—Rose Noble) and J. F. Bell (Doctor W, Palmetto—Kittie D). Bitches: 1st, Oak Grove Kennels (Monk's Nun, Monk of Furness—Bloomer); 2nd, 3rd and V.H.C. Res., J. A. Hartman (Rita H, San Roy Jr—Rosa Lee, Caunt Howard's Pride, Count Howard—Fairy Gladstone, and Roderigo's Queen, Roderigo—Count Howard's Pride); V.H.C., Homestead Kennels (Nellie Bly, Ben Hill—Daisy Hunter) and C. E. Aull (Aurora, Lap—Aurora Borealis); H.C., A. M. Bell (Lany Gladstone, Clockspring—Bess II), Fred Pastre (Princess Bonnie, Oliver Twist—Nellie Kitson), Homestead Kennels (Hoosier Girl, Dad Wilson—Daisy Hunter), J.G. Stevens (Biddy G, Glenmack—Madge R) and Phillip Demmell (Belle of Brownstown, Rob Roy II—Lily R); C., Frank Kruse (Snow Ball, Trenton Rock—Nellie C), J. A. Hartman (Maida San Roy, San Roy Jr—Albert's Nellie); and H. Simpson (Lady E, Clip—Magnolia). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, G. W. Long (Roger O'Mara, Roger Boy—Nancy Mahoning); 2nd, J. J. Koebert (Dink Mac Murdo, Mac Murdo—Sally Mac). Bitches: 1st Irvine Jones (Queen Eric, Count Eric II—Blanche Jr); 2nd, withheld. NOVICE CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, E. A. Burdette (Cincinnatus' Pride, Cincinnatus—Albert's Nellie); 2nd, Newell & McConnell (Knight Templar, Monk of Furness—Huntress); V.H.C. Res., George Flashman Jr (Bess, Noble Sting—Snow Ball): V.H.C., Dr. S. W. Hartt (Beaconsfield, Gladstone's Boy—Bessie Marshall), Henry Simpsou (Countess Eric, Count Eric—Lady E Gladstone), Homestead Kenuels (Nellie Bly, Ben Hill—Dalsy Hunter) and P. Touhy (Trilby Gladstone, Tony Gladstone—Nellie T); H.C., G. W. Lang (Roger O'Mara, Roger Boy—Nancy Mahoning), Charles Glagort (Shyowassie, Pop Gladstone—Dalsy Noble), Homestead Kennels (Noble Count, Cincinnatus' Count—Bessie Roy) and Phillip Demmell (Belle of Brownstown, Rob Roy II—Lily R); C., J. F. Bell (Doctor W, Palmetto—Kittie D).

IRISH SETTERS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Oak Grove Kennels (Kildare, Elcho Jr—Red Rose); V.H.C. Res, W. L Washington (Finglas, Fiugal III—Aveline). Bitches: 1st and V.H.C. Res., Oak Grove Kennels (Norna, Grab—Flora, and Queen Vic, Kildare—Red Rose). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, D. L. & A. Carmichael (Lord Elcho Jr, Lord Elcbo—Shamrock Jessie); 2nd, Muckross Kennels (Henmore Shamrock, Muskerry—Avoca); 3rd, W. L. Washington (Dick Finglas, Finglas—Ruby Glenmore); V.H.C. Res., D. L. & A. Carmichael (Shamrock Mardo, Lord Elcho Jr—Fauny); H.C., J. M. Nicholls and J. H. McCullum (Fred Elcbo, Duke Elcho—Red Rose); C., K. P. Beattie (Seminole Elcbo, Waxery R—Buffalo Colleen). Bitches: 1st, W. L. Washington (Nancy Finglas, Fing.as—Kildare Ruby, aud Ruby Glenmore II, Finglas—Ruby Gleumore); 3rd, F. L. Moe (Noua, Finglas—Ruby Glenmore); V.H.C. Res., Chestnut Hill Kennel (Seminole Fly, Grafton—Mamie); H.C., D. L. & A. Carmichael (Shamrock Jessle, Mardo—Mertie). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, D. L. & A. Carmichael (Shamrock Mardo—Lord Elcho Jr—Fanny); 2nd, R. H. Gerber (Pat). Bitches: 1st, W. L. Washingtou (Kildare Anuette, Finglas—Ruby Glenmore). NOVICE CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st and 2nd, W. L. Wasbington (Nancy Finglas, Finglas—Kildare Ruby) and Dick Finglas, Finglas—Ruby Glenmore); V.H.C. Res., B. F. Lewis Jr. (Toronto Biddy, Toronto Parnell—Toronto Nora); V.H.C., G. W. Lang (Princess Aline, Kildare Beverly—Kildare Gladys) aud D. L. & A. Carmichael (Shamrock Mardo, Lord Elcho Jr—Fanny).

GORDON SETTERS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Dr. S. G. Dixon (Leo B, Little Boy—Lady Pilot). Bitches: 1st, Dr. S. G. Dixon (Princess Louise, Ivauboe—Duchess of Waverly). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, O. W. Schafer (Wang Ivanboe, Ivanhoe—Nellie S). Bitches: 1st, 2nd and 3rd, Dr. S. G. Dixon (Sante Marie, Little Boy—Lady Waverly, Daisy Ivanhoe, Ivanhoe—Nellie S, and Mald of Waverly, Little Boy—Duchess of Waverly). PUPPY CLASSES—No entries. NOVICE CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Dr. S. G. Dixon (Daisy Ivanhoe, Ivanhoe—Nellie S); 2nd, O. W. Schafer (Wang Ivanhoe, Ivanhoe—Nellie S); V.H.C. Res., Theodore Bol je (Fred, Judge S—Chloe).

SPANIELS.—CHALLENGE CLASS—Over 28 pounds—No entries.

FIELD SPANIELS.—OPEN CLASSES—Over 28 pounds—Black—Dogs: 1st, Toon & Thomos (Endcliffe Ebony, Wedgewood—Miniature); extra 1st, S. J. Bradbury (Drayton Warwick, Baron—Patti); 2nd, M. A. Viti (War Dance, Warwick—Gossip). Bitches: 1st, M. A. Viti (Scandal, Warwick—Gossip). Any other color—Dogs: No entries. Bitches: No entries.

COCKER SPANIELS.—CHALLENGE CLASS—Black or liver—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, George Douglas (Black Duke, Obo II—Woodland Queeu). Other than black or liver—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Brant Cocker Kennels (Red Roland, Brantford Red Jacket—Pearl). OPEN CLASSES—Black—Dogs: 1st, E. W. Fiske (Chief, Red Obo—Gipsy); 2ud, George Douglas (Woodland Robbie. Red Roland—Queen II); V.H.C. Res., E. W. Fiske (Rex Obo, Obo III—Floss Obo); C., Ed Martin (Bingo, Dyke—Lady Madge). Bitches: 1st, George Douglas (Woodland Princess, Black Duke—Woodland Jude); 2nd, E. W. Fiske (Fasbion, Brant—Bonita); V.H.C. Res., S. B. Arthurs (Nellie, Sabo—Mary); V.H.C., Philip Wolfenden (Brigit, Red Roland—Vera), S. B. Arthurs (Mary, Hornell Silk—Chloe S) and Concord Cocker Kennels (Miss Mae, Pickpania—Elsie); H.C., J. L. Sebolt (Manders' Daisy, Black Dufferin—Gracie) and George Douglas (Woodland Topsy, Black Duke—Woodland Jude). Red or liver—Dogs: 1st, B. J. Rae (Red Duke, Black Duke—Minnie); 2nd and V.H.C. Res., E. W. Fiske (Billy and Vernon, Brantfoid Jet—Lady Phyllis); V H C., Concord Cocker Kennels (Red Justice, Joe Duffy—Black Bess); H.C., E. W. Fiske (Muldoon, Red Obo—Daylight). Bitches: 1st, E. W. Fiske (Red Niobe, King Rover—Topsy); 2nd and V.H.C. Res., George Douglas (Lady Goldeu, King Roy—Geso, and Woodland Lillie, King Roy—Vic); H.C, F. F. Dole (Edgewood Hebe, Major—Sue). Otber than black, red or liver—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, St. Lawrence Keunels (St. Lawrence Beauty, Major—Juliet); 2nd George Douglas (Woodland Bessie, Dude—Nellie Bly).

CLUMBER SPANIELS.—OPEN CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Toon & Thomas (Endcliffe Bustler).

IRISH WATER SPANIELS.—OPEN CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Dr. J. T. Kent (Belva, The O'Cleary—Nancy); 2ud, B. F. Lewis (Kitty of Cork, Conn—Sea Moss).

COLLIES.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Henry Jarrett (Wellesbourne Charlie, Edgbaston Fox—Purity). Bitches: 1st, Henry Jarrett (Flurry III, Blue Sky—Flurry II). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st and 2nd, Woodlawn Park Kennels (Woodmansterne Trefoil, Charlemagne—Dorothy, and Woodlawn Trefoil, Woodmansterne Trefoil—Flora May); 3rd and V.H.C. Res., Henry Jarrett (Domino II, Christopher—Happy Thought, and Goldmine, Christopher—Countess Brankie). Bitches: 1st, S. B. Stannard (Lady Gay, Wellesbourne Charlie—Chesterford Hattie); 2nd and 3rd, Woodlawn Park Kennels (Ormskirk Susie, Ormskirk Chrlss—Latham Shella, and Woodlawn Sunset, Conrad II—Scottish Gem); V.H.C. Res., W. C. Nicholls (Bessie N, Monk—Wasp). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Henry Jarrett (Red Wilkes, Dell Wilkes—Avena). Bitches: 1st, Henry Jarrett (Prudence, Wellesbourne Charlie—Roslyn Gaylass).

POODLES.—OPEN CLASSES—Black curly—Dogs: 1st and 2nd, H. G. Trevor (Cesar, Paulus—Mascotte, and Emperor, Black—Follette), Bitches: 1st and 2nd, H. G. Trevor (Niniche, Bijou—Coquette, and Fan. Black—Nitoucbe).

BULLDOGS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Woodlawn Park Kennels (Wal Hampton, Harper—Charmion). Bitches: 1st, Woodlawn Park Kennels (Graven Image, Royal Blue—Moll Thimble). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Woodlawn Park Kennels (Facey Romford); 2nd, Woodlawn Park Kenuels (Nugget, King Lud—Duchess of Parma). Bitches: 1st and 2nd, Woodlawn Park Kennels (Miss Mischief, Dunster Lad—Gypsy Queen, and Juno II, Rustic Sovereign—Rock Rose); 3rd, Eberhart Pug Keunels (Lorna Doone, Woolsey—Rose).

BULL TERRIERS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, R. S. Huidekoper (Cardona, Gully the Great—Fenton Queen); V.H.C. Res,, Rochester-Pittsburg Bull Terrier Kennels (Duke of Rochester, Billy Bulger—Nellie Harper). Bitches: 1st, F. F. Dole (Starlight, Grand Duke—Maggie May); V.H.C. Res., Rochester-Pittsburg Bull Terrier Kennels (Lady Dinah, Bendigo—Flirt II). OPEN CLASSES—Over 30 pounds—Dogs: 1st, F. F. Dole (Dutch Billy, Gully the Great—Magnet); 2nd, Rochester-Pittsburg Bull Terrier Kennels (Billy Bulger, Booze—Flirt II); 3rd, F. F. Dole (Topsparkle, Guily the Great—Nell); V.H.C. Res., W. W. Ralston Jr. (Rex, Nelson—Floss). Bitches: 1st and 2nd, F. F. Dole (Queen Lilly, Gully the Great—Magnet, and Edgewood Flossie, Crisp—Starlight); 3rd, Rochester-Pittsburg Bull Terrier Kennels (Daisy Belle, Barney B—Edgewood Topsy); V. H. C. Res., William Wedgewood (Beauty, Keno—Venus W). Under 30 pounds—Dogs: 1st, J. Otis Fellows (Harper Whiskey, Billy Bulger—Nellie Harper); 2nd, J. L. Arden (Little Billie, Gully the Great—Edgewood Esther). Bitches: 1st, G. W. Moore (Neglect, Streatham Flyer—Flirtation); 2nd, Rochester-Pittsburg Bull Terrier Kennels (Nellie Harper, Carnegie's Nelson—Lady Dinah); 3rd, G. W. Clayton (Chautauqua Nellie, July—Luce); V.H.C. Res., Wm. Wedgewood (White Till, Keno—Luce). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, J. L. Arden (Little Billie, Gully the Great—Edgewood Esther); 2nd, Rochester-Pittsburg Bull Terrier Kennels (Streatham Monarch Jr, Streatham Monarch—Lady Dinah). Bitches: 1st, F. F. Dole (Edgewood Flossie, Crisp—Starlight); 2nd, G. W. Martin (Lady Gay, Neil's King—Daisy Bell); V.H.C. Res., John Moorhead Jr. (Streatham Monarch's Daughter, Streatham Monarch—Queen of the Dale).

DACHSHUNDE.—CHALLENGE CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, L. O. Seidel (Fritz K, Wilhelm—Maggie). OPEN CLASSES—Hound type—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Mrs. May Seidel (Jay S, Jay—Princess); 2nd, J. H. Matthews (Pretzel, Jay—Sister); V.H.C. Res., C. Klocke (Bismarck K, Jay S—Lovely K); V.H.C., W. H. White (Dick K, Feldman K—Lina L). Terrier type—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, J. H. Matthews (Polly Finders, Pteorodactyl—Jargonelle); 2ud and 3rd, C. Klocke (Lovely L, Superhus II—Bessie K, and Feldman K II, Jay S—Lovely K). PUPPY CLASS—1st and 2nd, C. Klocke (Feldman K II and Bismarck K, Jay S—Lovely K).

BEAGLES.—CHALLENGE CLASS—No entries, OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Joseph Lewis (Ringleader, Ringwood—Lonely); 2nd, J. K. Bowser (Wilderness, Frank Forest—Rattler's Queen); H.C., E. E. Truitt (Charlie Wildwood, Fitzhugh Lee—Butterfly). Bitches: 1st, S. B. Arthurs (Ginger, Rufiino—Fanuie); 2nd, Mark Lewis (Molly L, Don—Molly); H C., Johu Shaum and Dr. S. W. Hartt (Birdie S, Spotty F—Judy W). PUPPY CLASS—No entries.

FOX TERRIERS.—Smooth-coated—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, L. & W. Rutherfurd (Warren Safeguard, Venio—Eggesford Sapphire). Bitches: 1st, L. & W. Rutherfurd (Warren Captious, Charlton Verdict—Refuge). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, 2nd and 3rd, L. & W. Rutherfurd (Warren Daybreak, Warren Safeguard—Warren Dawu, Warren Tip Top, Dusky Trap—Resume, and Warren Scamp, Warren Safeguard—Villanelle); V.H.C. Res., Dr. J. F. Belt (Hillside Royal, Starden's King—Hillside Freda); V.H.C., Thomas Dugan (Wordsley Trapper, Pointer—Barrowby Shifty); H.C., H. S. Sweltzer (Snap II, Blemton Rasper—Beverwyck Beckey), John Moorhead Jr. (Harvard, Bacchanal—Betsy Splanger), J. M. Chaplin (Diver IV, Diver III—Marie) and Seacroft Kennels (Starden's Twig, Starden's Kiug—Lady Murlel); C., J. M. Chaplin (Jack Neville, Diver III—Rowton Safety, and Fred Neville, Diver III—Rose). Bitches: 1st, L. & W. Rutherfurd (Warren Capture, Warren Safeguard—Warren Captious); 2nd, George Ewalt (Cawthorpe Gem, Stipendiary—Grafton Ruby); Equal 3rd, Dr. J. F. Belt (Wawaset Lucy, formerly Barnsbury Lucy, Despoiler—Squalls) and L. & W. Rutherfurd (Warren Sentence, Warren Safeguard—Warren Captious); C., J. M. Chaplin (Rose). PUPPY CLASS—1st, 2nd and V.H.C. Res., L. & W. Rutherfurd (Warren Capture, Warren Safeguard—Warren Captious, Warren Dayhreak, Warren Safeguard—Warren Dawn, and Warren Senteuce, Warren Safeguard—Warreu Captious); V.H.C., Dr. J. F. Belt (Wawaset Luna, Hillside Royal—Beverwyck Luna); H.C., H. B. Jewkes (Dromio, Beverwyck Punster—Blemton Bedlam); C., W. E. Littell (Gipsy, Beverwyck Punster—Blemton Bedlam). Wirehaired—CHALLENGE CLASS—No entries. OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Toon & Thomas (Endcliffe Banker, Meersbrook Bristle—Meersbrook Peel); 2nd, Thomas Taunton (Roath Tipster, Bruce—Climax); V.H.C. Res., G. W. Ritchie (Mister Great Snap, Brittie—Essie); V.H.C., Compton Kennels (Compton Vindex, Valour—Roath Rennie). Bitches: 1st, Toon & Thomas (Endcliffe Fidget); 2nd, Comp ou Kennels (Roath Kenuie, Darlington Jester—Wasp); V.H.C., H. T. Foote (Brittie Bee, Brittle—Whittle); H.C., Dr. J. F. Belt (Hillhurst Pansy, Brittle—Petition). PUPPY CLASS—1st, H. T. Foote (Brittie Bee, Brittle—Whittle).

IRISH TERRIERS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, W. J. Comstock (Merle Grady, Billsticker—Biddy); V.H.C. Res., Toou & Thomas (Jack Briggs, Irish Ambassador—Bridget). Bitches: 1st, W. J. Comstock (Dunmurry, Napper—Kate); V.H.C. Res, Henry Jarrett (Condor, Bumptious Blazer—Irish Roll). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st and 2nd, Toon & Thomas (Brian O K, Mars—Red Nell, and Briggs' Best, Jack Briggs—Salem Witch); 3rd, W. J. Comstock (His Honor, Hanover Boy—Crate). Bitches: 1st, C. A. Shinn (Gessala III, Rocks—Nevermore Gessala); 2nd, F. F. Dole (Norah, Paddy—Mollie); 3rd, Toon & Thomas (Briggs' Bridget, Jack Briggs—Jessie); V.H.C., J. W. Garrisou (Briggs' Breeze, Jack Briggs—Salem Witch).

SCOTTISH TERRIERS.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: Absent. Bitches: 1st, R. McDonald (Merry Coll, Tiree—Crystabelle).

DANDIE TERRIERS.—No entries.

SKYE TERRIERS.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, C. A. Shinn (Elphinstone, Falkirk—Daisy). Bitches: 1st, C. A. Shinn (Endcliffe Maggie, Prince George—Dalmeny).

BLACK AND TAN TERRIERS.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, D. S. Gillies (Darkie, Gordon—Kit): 2nd, Charles Wilson (Chicago Spider, Broomfield Sultan—Meersbrook Maiden); 3rd, Davis & Winter (Pittsburg Peter, Rochelle Rush—Mizpah). Bitches: 1st, H. T. Foote (Gypsy Girl, Rock—West End Maiden); 2nd, Charles Wilson (Queen III, Wood's Nap—Bell's Saff); 3rd, F. H. Hoyt (Betsy); V.H.C., Jesse Pender Jr. (Meg, Broomfield Sultan—Jennie II), and Charles Wilson (Chicago Maiden, Broomfield Sultan—Meersbrook Maiden); H.C., F. H. Hoyt (Rochelle Mab, Broomfield Dick—Meersbrook Maiden). PUPPY CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st and 2nd, Scott Bros. (Scott's Vic and Scott's Lassie, Rochelle Lord—Rochelle Topaz); V.H.C. Res., Davis & Winter (Pittsburg Lady, Rochelle Rush—Mizpah). PUPPY SWEEPSTAKES—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Davis & Winter (Pittsburg Lady, Rochelle Rush—Mizpah).

YORKSHIRE TERRIERS.—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, W. C. Bishop (Bradford Rejected, Bradford Dickens—Bradford Minn); 2nd, James Foster (Leader's Prince); V.H.C., John Moorhead Jr. (Fluffy). Bitches: 1st and 2nd, Dr. N. E. Oliver (Pinkie York, Dick York—Minnie York, and Minnie York, Duke of Leeds—Minnie).

PUGS.—CHALLENGE CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Rookery Kennels (Haughty Madge, Bentley—Seagull); V.H.C. Res., Howard Pug Kennels (Duke Howard, Kash—Flossie C) OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Howard Pug Kennels (Al Von, Penrice—Lady Nelson); 2nd, Rookery Kennels (Finsbury Duke, Confidence—Ladybird); 3rd, Eberhart Pug Kennels (Patsy Bolivar, Cashier—Flossie II); V.H.C. Res., C. E. Anll (Ivy Boy); V.H.C., W. H. Davis (Bobby Shafts, Bob Ivy—Lady Merino) Bitches: 1st, Rookery Kennels (Princess Madge, Finsbury Dong—Haughty Madge); 2nd, Howard Pug Kennels (Hooker, Penrice—Lady Bonso); 3rd, Eberhart Pug Kennels (Queen Zitka, Eberhart's Cashier—Cashier's Daughter). PUPPY CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st and 2nd, Rookery Kennels (Princess Madge and Queen Madge, Finsbury Dong—Haughty Madge); V.H.C. Res., Howard Pug Kennels (Pinafore, Al Von—Diamond Bessie); V.H.C., James Gerard (Charity Nit, Sir Douglas—Cute Lady). NOVICE CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Eberhart Pug Kennels (Syrene, Eberhart's Cashier—Cashier's Daughter); 2nd, Rookery Kennels (Lady Curtis, Curtis—Midget Sappho).

KING CHARLES SPANIELS.—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, J. C. O'Donnell (Merryview Dixey, Merryview Chappie—Merryview Modesty).

BLENHEIM SPANIELS.—Dogs or Bitches: No entries.

PRINCE CHARLES OR RUBY SPANIELS.—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, withheld; 2nd, W. D. Wilkins (Nannie).

ITALIAN GREYHOUNDS.—CHALLENGE CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Joseph Lewis (Sprite, Spring—Bessie); V.H.C. Res., Mrs. W. G. Benham (Adonis, Spring—Challis). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Joseph Lewis (Tinnie II, Spring—Tinnie); 2nd, Charles Stemmler (Daisy Lee, Sir Charles—Bessie Lee); 3rd, T. H. Sankey (Lady S, Jim Blaine—Topsy); V.H.C. Res., F. H. Hoyt (Trixie, Winks—Pansy Blossom); V.H.C., W. S. Phillips (Phillips' Silver, Dante—Queen); H.C., T. H. Sankey (Tim S, Jim Blaine—Topsy).

MISCELLANEOUS CLASSES.—Dogs: 1st, R. L. Henderson (Bow, Krooks—Babette); 2nd, Eberhart Pug Kennels (Ponce de Leon). Bitches: 1st, Homestead Kennels (Beauty).

SPECIAL PRIZE LIST

HANDLERS' PRIZE.—1st, B. F. Lewis; 2nd, George Thomas.

SPRATTS SPECIALS.—Kennel men of two exhibitors who show two dogs of any breed in best condition, open only to customers of Spratts Patent. W. E. Warner for G. S. Gould, showing Ridgeview Comet and Ridgeview Chancellor, and Donald Muuro for L. & W. Rutherfurd, showing Warren Safeguard and Warren Capture.

MASTIFFS.—Best, Ethel. Best bitch, Ethel. Best dog, Youno. Best bitch in open class, Bess. Best puppy, Youno.

ST. BERNARDS.—Best kennel, Alta Kennels. Best American-bred rough-coated dog, owned by a member of the St. Bernard club, Grand Master. Best bitch, same conditions, Artilla. Best smooth-coated dog, same conditions, Nicode. Best bitch, same conditions, Empress of Contoocook. Best St. Bernard dog, Duke of Lincoln. Best bitch, Miss Anna. Best in puppy class, Vespers. Best owned in Allegheny County, Buster. Best, Duke of Lincoln. Best in open classes, Duke of Lincoln. Best, Duke of Lincoln. Best in rough-coated open bitch class, Artilla.

BORZOIS.—Best kennel, Terra Cotta Kennels. Best, Ataman IV. Best brace, Princess Irma and Ataman IV.

GREAT DANES.—Best dog, Major McKinley II. Best bitch, Wolverton Hadie. Best, Wolverton Hadie. Best dog owned in Allegheny County, two specials, Dan. Best, Major McKinley II.

GREYHOUNDS.—Best kennel, Toon & Thomas. Best dog, Gem of the Season. Best owned in Allegheny County, Lady Helen. Best bitch, Bestwood Daisy. Best brace, Gem of the Season and Southern Beauty.

FOXHOUNDS.—Best English, Songster. Best, Songster. Best owned in Allegheny County, Boy.

POINTERS.—Best kennel, G. J. Gould. Best dog, Molton Banner. Best bitch, Lady Gay Spanker. Best bitch owned in Allegheny County, Lola Montez. Best dog owned in Allegheny County, two prizes, Rush. Best brace of pointers, Lady Gay Spanker and Ridgeview Comet

ENGLISH SETTERS.—Best mixed kennel of six or more pointers and setters, owned in Allegheny County, Homestead Kennels. Best kennel of four, J. A. Hartman. Best, Maid Marian. Best in open classes, The Earl. Best dog in novice class, owned in Allegheny County, Beaconsfield. Best bitch, Maid Marian. Best owned in Allegheny County, Bess. Best brace, Count Howard's Pride and Rita II. Best MacMurdo puppy, Dink MacMurdo. Best bitch owned in Western Pennsylvania, winner of second in open bitch class, Rita H. Best Oliver Twist bitch owned in Pittsburg, Princess Bonnie. Best owned in Western Pennsylvania, Knight Templar. Best owned by a member of the club, Creed.

IRISH SETTERS.—Best kennel, Oak Grove Kennel. Best, four prizes, Kildare. Best dog in open class, Lord Elcho Jr. Best bitch in novice class, out of Kildare Gladys, Princess Aline. Best owned in Allegheny County, Nancy Finglas. Best brace, Kildare and Norna. Best bitch in open class, Nancy Finglas. Best dog that has been placed in any field trial, two prizes, Finglas. Best dog that has been placed in a public field trial, with two of his get, the three to be judged together, Finglas with Nancy Finglas and Kildare Annette. Best owned in Allegheny County, Nancy Finglas. Best brace owned in Allegheny County, Finglas and Nancy Finglas. Best kennel of three or more owned in Allegheny County, W. L. Washington.

GORDON SETTERS.—Best kennel, Dr. S. G. Dixon. Best in challenge class, Leo B. Best in open classes, Sante Marie. Best, Sante Marie.

SPANIELS.—Best kennel, George Douglas. American Spaniel Club's specials, for dogs owned by members. Best cocker spaniel stud dog, with two of his get, Black Duke with Woodland Princess and Woodland Topsy. Best brace of cocker spaniels, other colored, same conditions, Red Niobe and Billy. Best brace of field spaniels, same conditions, War Dance and Scandal. Best brace of cockers, same conditions, Black Duke and Woodland Princess. Best field spaniel in open classes, Scandal. Best water spaniel, Belva. Best spaniel, Black Duke. Best American-bred field spaniel, Scandal.

COLLIES.—Best kennel, Woodlawn Park Kennel. Collie Club of America specials: Best collie owned by a member: Welleshourne Charlie. Best in puppy classes, same condition, Red Wilkes. Best in open classes, Lady Gay. Best bitch, Lady Gay. Best dog, Wellesbourne Charlie. Best dog over three years old, by Christopher, Little Wonder.

POODLES.—Black curly.—Best kennel, H. G. Trevor. Best, Cesar. Best in the open class, Cesar.

BULLDOGS.—Best kennel, Woodlawn Park Kennels. Best dog, Facey Romford. Best bitch, Graven Image.

BULL TERRIERS.—Best kennel, F. F. Dole. Best American-bred bitch in open class, Queen Lilly. Best American-bred bitch, under 30 pounds, Neglect. Best dog owned in Allegheny County, Duke of Rochester. Best, Cardono. Best bitch bred in Allegheny County, Lady Diuah. Best owned in Allegheny County, Lady Dinah. Best owned and bred in Allegheny County, Lady Diuah. Best owned in Allegheny County, Duke of Rochester. Best under 30 pounds, sired by Billy Bulger, Harper Whiskey. Best American-bred bull terrier, Duke of Rochester.

DACHSHUNDE.—Best, Polly Finders. Best owned in Allegheny County, Jay S. Best bitch in open class, owned west of the Allegheny Mountains, Lovely K. Best, by Jay S, Feldman K. Best bitch owned and bred in Allegheny County, Lovely K.

BEAGLES.—Best, Ringleader. Best owned in Allegheny County, Birdie S.

FOX TERRIERS.—Best kennel, L. & W. Rutherfurd. American Fox Terrier Club's specials: For best fox terrier, Warren Capture. Best four owned by a resident of Allegheny County, four prizes, J. M. Chaplin. Best owned by a resident of Allegheny County, Harvard. Best, Warren Capture. Best puppy, Warren Capture. Best wirehaired, two prizes, Endcliffe Banker. Best smooth-coated, Warren Capture. Largest entry from Allegheny County, J. M. Chaplin. Best, owned and whelped in Allegheny County, J. M. Chaplin. Best bitch in puppy class, owned in Allegheny County, two prizes, Gipsy.

IRISH TERRIERS.—Best kennel, W. J. Comstock. Best, Merle Grady.

SCOTTISH TERRIERS.—Best, Merry Call.

SKYE TERRIERS.—Best in open class, Endcliffe Maggie.

BLACK AND TAN TERRIERS.—Best owned in Allegheny County, Pittsburg Lady. Best puppy, Scott's Vic. Puppy sweepstakes, Pittsburg Lady. Best owned by a resident of Pennsylvania, two prizes, Betsy. Puppy winning sweepstakes, Pittsburg Lady.

YORKSHIRE TERRIERS.—Best in open classes, Bradford Rejected. Best, Bradford Rejected.

PUGS.—Best kennel, Howard Pug Kennels. Best owned in Allegheny County, Bobby Shafts. Best exhibited by a lady, Bob Ivy. Best, Young Penrice.

KING CHARLES SPANIELS.—Best, Merryview Dixey.

ITALIAN GREYHOUNDS.—Best brace, Sprite and Tinnie II.

MISCELLANEOUS CLASS.—Best Mexican hairless, Beauty.

PROPOSED CONNECTICUT DOG LAW

Breeders and owners in Connecticut are trying to get through the state legislature a bill which will regulate the taxing of dogs in a manner satisfactory to themselves, and they entertain hopes of success. We have received marked copies of some Hartford, Conn., papers, giving reports of the arguments made before the state agricultural committee by a deputation of breeders headed by Mr. F. F. Dole and Dr. James E. Hair. The Hartford Times says: "The agricultural committee resumed consideration of the several bills relating to the better protection of sheep raisers from depredations by dogs. Owing to the adjournment of the House for the week, the departure of several members for their homes and the illness of House Chairman Dayton, the committee was decidedly short-handed.

"The question of making some distinction in taxes and otherwise in favor of the breeders of blooded dogs was first taken up, and Mr. R. S. Hinman read a letter protesting against the high tax on female dogs of $10, against $1 for males, when the fact is that the latter are usually the sheep-killers.

"Frank F. Dole of New Haven, who is a large breeder of bull terriers, said that in Massachusetts the law taxing kennels is $25 for five dogs, and $50 covers the license of any number a breeder may choose to keep. There is a considerable loss of puppies after four months, by distemper, so that the taxes paid on them are a clear loss. Few people have any idea of the money invested in dog breeding, or the high prices paid. He knew of fox terriers sold at $1,000 each, and a pair of bull terriers at $2,000. He suggested that Connecticut try the Massachusetts plan of taxing dogs in breeding kennels.

"Theodore Hoffman of Rockville, who is a Yale student, read the Massachussetts law allowing a special license for dogs kept in a kennel, and no fee for dogs under six months. He presented a statement of the taxes in near-by states, viz:

	Males.	Females.
Maine	$1.00	$3.00
Massachusetts	1.00	5.00
New Hampshire	2.00	5.00
Vermont	1.00	4.00
New York	50	3.00
New Jersey	.50	.50

"In New Jersey there is a curious provision that while on the first dog only 50 cents tax is paid, $1 is charged on each additional dog. Mr. Hoffman argued that with the high tax of $10 on females, Connecticut breeders cannot compete with those of the states named. He believed the Massachusetts law as to kennels would work fairly here.

"James E. Hair of Bridgeport, a breeder of pointers and setters, made the point that breeding fine dogs is more difficult than breeding fine cattle, and a distinction should be made between dogs owned for breeding purposes and kept on their owners' premises, and the curs that run the streets. He favored the Massachusetts kennel license plan. Breeders don't ask the reduction of the $10 fee on female dogs outside of breeding kennels. Regarding taxing puppies of four months, he said that with fine bred puppies, of nervous temperament, there is a death loss of about 85 per cent., between the ages of four and eight months

"Mr. Wadhams of Goshen suggested that if a man imported a fine dog for breeding purposes, costing $10,000, he ought not object to paying $10 license.

"Mr. Hoffman replied that the $10,000 represented the value of the animal for a certain purpose, and Mr. Wadhams, in reply to a query by Mr. A. C. Collins, admitted that if a $5,000 bull was imported by a cattle breeder it would not probably go into his tax list at more than the price of a common bull."

The Hartford Courant's report of the proceedings corresponds with the above, and it gives the following in addition: "Judge Huber Clark of Willimantic said that there ought to be a law to lessen the number of poor dogs, which are a nuisance. He advocated a tax of $2 on dogs. In Massachusetts there was not so many dogs roaming through the villages as in Connecticut. The high tax on female dogs had not diminished their number, but they were not registered. The tax should be uniform in Massachusetts and Connecticut, and the tax on female dogs should be reduced to $6 as formerly. Dogs four months old should not be taxed, as there is not a fair probability that they will live to be two years old, owing to the liability to die of the distemper. The tax of $2 on male dogs has reduced the number of poor dogs in Massachusetts. High-bred dogs are well looked after, collared, and their owners known. Most of the sheep-killing done by dogs is by those which are good for nothing, or their owners are without responsibility. The Massachusetts law was fair and just. He thought that dogs should be declared personal property and he would impose a heavy fine on any man who refused to register his dog.

"Game Warden A. C. Collins drew from Dr. Hair the fact that there were but five or six bulldogs in the state and not a Newfoundland dog. Mr. Collins advocated making the tax on female dogs $5. The dog tax paid in the state was in all about $47,000 and $7,000 was paid annually for damage done to sheep by dogs. The sheep-killing dog he asserted was a cur dog. Two [illegible] fair tax for male dogs.

"Ex-Representative Wadhams of Gos[illegible] increasing the tax on dogs to $2 wou[illegible] measure in agricultural communities.

"Professor Fowler of Moodus, who [illegible] about 100 fine bred red Irish setters, will present his views to the committee next Tuesday afternoon."

After the hearing closed the kennel men present, aided by R. S. Hinman, drafted the following bill, which will be presented to the committee:

AN ACT CONCERNING DOGS

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Assembly convened:

Every owner or keeper of dogs kept for breeding purposes, the sires and dams of which are registered in the American Kennel Club's Stud Book, may receive annually a special license authorizing him to keep such dogs upon the premises described in such license.

When the number so kept does not exceed five, the fee for such license shall be twenty-five dollars; when the number exceeds five the fee for license shall be fifty dollars, and no fee shall be required from the owner or keeper of such dogs for any dog bred by the party so licensed, under one year old."

Our readers will be glad to hear what progress is made in this matter by the Connecticut breeders, so we hope the latter will let the AMERICAN FIELD know from time to time.

PROPOSED ILLINOIS DOG LAW.

It is most gratifying to us to announce that there is a possibility, at last, of a humane law being passed in the state of Illinois for the impounding of dogs, and transferring the work to uniformed officers of the Illinois Humane Society instead of political appointees. In a recent issue we announced that President Bryson of the Mascoutah Kennel Club had gone to Springfield to present the measure, and we learn the bill is now on its second reading. It is a humane measure and should have the support of every owner of a dog in that state. The Mascoutah Kennel Club is entitled to much credit for its labors in behalf of the better protection of dogs in cities, and we hope to announce soon that the bill is a law. The following is the bill:

AN ACT

For the better protection of lost and strayed animals, and for securing the rights of owners thereof.

The People of the State of Illinois, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Every person who harbors one or more dogs within the corporate limits or any city having a population of over two hundred thousand shall procure a yearly license for each animal, paying the sum of two dollars for each one, as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 2. Licenses granted under this act shall date from the first day of May in each year, and may be renewed at the expiration of the term by payment of one dollar for each renewal.

SEC. 3. Each certificate of license or renewal shall state the name and address of the owner of the dog, and also the number of such license or renewal.

SEC. 4 Every dog so licensed shall at all times have a collar about its neck with a metal tag attached thereto, bearing the number of the license stamped thereon.

SEC. 5. Dogs not licensed pursuant to the provisions of this act may be seized, and if not redeemed within forty-eight hours, may be destroyed, or otherwise disposed of, as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 6. It is further provided that any cat found within the corporate limits of any such city without a collar about its neck bearing the name and residence of the owner stamped thereon, may be seized and disposed of in like manner as prescribed above for dogs.

SEC. 7. Any person claiming a dog or cat seized under the provisions of this act, and proving ownership thereof, shall be entitled to resume possession of the animal on payment of the sum of three dollars.

SEC. 8. The Illinois Humane Society is hereby empowered and authorized to carry out the provisions of this act, and the said society is further authorized to issue licenses and renewals, and to collect the fees for such, as is herein prescribed, which fees are to be used by said society toward defraying the cost of carrying out the provisions of this act and maintaining a shelter for lost, strayed or homeless animals.

SEC. 9. Any person or persons who shall hinder, molest or interfere with any officer or agent of said society while in the performance of any duty enjoined by this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall pay a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or be imprisoned for not less than ten days nor more than thirty days, or be punished by both fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 10. None of the provisions of this act shall apply to dogs owned by non-residents passing through the city, nor to dogs brought to the city and entered for exhibition at any dog show.

MEETING OF THE MANITOBA FIELD TRIAL CLUB

WINNIPEG, MAN.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—A largely attended meeting of the Manitoba Field Trial Club was held in the Manitoba Hotel, Winnipeg, on April 11, President F. G. Simpson in the chair.

After routine business the secretary read a communication from Mr. P. T. Madison, secretary-treasurer of the Continental Field Trial Club, asking the use of the Manitoba Club's grounds at Morris for their trials.

It was moved by G. B. Borradaile and seconded by C. W. Graham that the Continental Field Trial Club be extended a cordial welcome and accorded free [illegible] grounds at Morris, and that we give them every assistance possible to help make their trials a success, and a copy of this resolution be sent to the secretary.

The president then vacated the chair, which was taken by Mr. D. M. Telford.

It was moved by F. G. Simpson, and seconded by G. B.

Barradale, that the all-age-two-win rule adopted at the annual meeting be rescinded, and that all winners of any [illegible] be barred. Carried.

[illegible] members were nominated and elected.

[illegible] financial statement was read by the secretary, showing the club to be free from all debt and in a flourishing condition.

The secretary was instructed to advertise the trials in both the AMERICAN FIELD and Forest and Stream.

A committee was appointed to take in hand the matter of the selection of a judge, the result of which will be announced shortly.

From present indications the trials of 1895 will be the best in the history of the club. The best of feeling prevailed, and everyone present was in every way anxious to extend a helping hand to the Continental Field Trial Club, and we sincerely hope nothing will prevent their meeting taking place at Morris next Fall.

JOHN WOOTTON, Hon. Secy.-Treas.

AMERICAN DACHSHUND CLUB.

At a meeting of dachshund fanciers last Friday, April 12, in Chicago, this specialty club was organized with the following officers: President, L. Boening; vice-president, A. Nelson; secretary, A. Froembling.

A constitution and by-laws similar to those of the St. Bernard Club were adopted, which provide for an annual membership fee of $5. Mr. Arthur Froembling, 131 South Clark Street, Chicago, will receive applications for membership.

BULL TERRIER CLUB OF AMERICA.

In pursuance with the call issued in these columns, a meeting of bull terrier fanciers was held at the Schlosser Hotel, Pittsburg, Wednesday evening, April 10, at which the above named specialty club was organized, with the following officers: President, F. F. Dole; vice-president, John Moorhead Jr.; secretary-treasurer, W. D. Brereton; committee on rules and regulations, C. A. Stevens (Hoboken, N. J.), J. Otis Fellows (Hornellsville, N. Y.), W. Mariner (Rochester, N. Y.), G. W. Moore (Pittsburg, Pa.) and W. J. Higginson (Rochester, N. Y.).

FOR SALE—Mr. B. B. Babcock, Hornellsville, N. Y., offers cocker spaniel. Kenwood Kennels, Nebraska City, Neb., offer St. Bernards....Mr. T. R. Hartley, Toulon, Ill., offers St. Bernards and coon hound ... Mr. C. Proctor, Union City, Ind., offers pointers....Mr. G. S. Thomas, Salem, Mass., offers greyhounds....Anglo-American Kennels, Salem, Mass, offer Irish terriers.... Mr. C. H. Phelps Jr., Philadelphia, Pa., offers English setters and pointers ...Mr. C. N. McDuffee, Allegan, Mich., offers English setters....Mr. W. Corlies Jr., Poughkeepsie, N. Y., offers cocker spaniel....Mr. A. M. Young, Manchester, Tenn., offers English setters....Mr. E. D. Hopkins, St. Francisville, Mo., offers foxhounds, coon hound and bloodhounds....Illinois St. Bernard Kennels, Streator, Ill., offer St. Bernards....Mr. O. H. Morden, Columbus, Ind., offers pointers ...Mr. J. R. Purcell, Gainesville, Va., offers pointers and English setters....Yetsan Kennels, Oyster Bay, N. Y., offer King Charles and ruby spaniels....Rinada Pointer Kennels, New York, offer pointers....King Graphic Kennels, New Castle, Pa, offer pointers....Mr. J. C. Irwin, Louisiana, Mo., offers English setters....Mr. P. T. Madison, Indianapolis, Ind., offers English setters.... Rookwood Kennels, Lexington, Ky., offer bloodhound.... Mr. L. W. White, Fredericksburg, Va., offers pointers and setters....Canton Kennels, Canton, O., offer Irish water spaniel....Mr. C. T. Field, Harbor, O., offers English setter....Mr. W. H. Kilpatrick, Columbus, O., offers English setters....Mr. C. E. Johnson, West Troy, N. Y., offers pointers....Mr. J. R. King, Verona, Pa., offers pointers....Mr. T. Barklay, Cincinnati, O, offers bloodhounds.....Eldridge Kennels, Dayton, O., offer pointers....Mr. C. G. Stoddard, Dayton, O, offers pointers and English setters....Smooth Coat St. Bernard, Chicago, offers St. Bernard....King Graphic Kennels, New Castle, Pa., offer English setter.

IN THE STUD.—Mr. C. H. Phelps Jr., Philadelphia, Pa., offers the services of the English setter Antonio and the pointer Brighton Tobe....Rookwood Kennels, Lexington, Ky., offer the services of the bloodhound Jack Shepard....Eldridge Kennels, Dayton, O., offer the services of the pointers Rush of Lad and Springside Faust....Mr. L. P. Higgins, Chicago, offers the services of the Gordon settter Dwight Don.

NOTES

THE love and fidelity of dogs is historical, but there has never been a more touching instance of their devotion recorded than one which recently occurred in Butte and which occasioned a great deal of interest and comment among people who were familiar with the circumstances and were intently watching the outcome. William Copeland, one of the volunteer firemen who were killed in the memorable explosion on the night of January 15, was the possessor of a fine, big Newfoundland dog that was noted for its intelligence and love for its master. On the night of the explosion Copeland was at the central fire station when the alarm was turned in, and the dog remained at the station as he had been trained to do when his master went to fires. He became very restless after the explosion and seemed to realize with an almost human intelligence that something terrible had happened. When the Quartz Street brigade went to the fire after the last explosion, in response to a second alarm, the dog followed them down and darted off around the scene of destruction and death in search of his master. His keen scent soon led him to Copeland's mangled body, and the faithful brute licked the almost unrecognizable face and bleeding wounds in the most pitiful manner. When the [illegible] the bodies came to that of Cope[land] to drive the dog away, and he [would] the wagon to the undertaking [rooms] him away were useless, and [he] the body until the day of the [funeral] it to the grave. He then laid down on top of the grave and remained there. The poor brute presented a sad picture of sorrow and love, and he frequently gave expression to his feelings in low and piteous whines, which were as sadly eloquent as words could have been. The sexton was touched by the dog's devotion, and, although in violation of the rules of the cemetery, he allowed him to remain, thinking he would soon go away. He was mistaken in this, however, for he remained close by the grave. On the second and third days the sexton took the dog to his house and fed him and tried to keep him there, but he soon escaped and ran back to resume his faithful vigil. The sexton continued to feed him, but he was not comforted, and whenever an effort was made to keep him at the house he cried so piteously that he was soon released. He paid not the slightest attention to the weather and was always at his post, through both sunshine and storm. About two weeks ago he refused to eat, and it became apparent that he was dying of grief and a broken heart. Food was carried to him at the grave, but he refused to touch it, and a few days ago he died on the grave of the master whom he had loved with a love that was faithful to death. The dog proved that he was much more human than some men, and it is almost unnecessary to state that he was given a kind burial.

Phillipsburg, Mont. M. F. ROBINSON.

THE Chicago Tribune tells a pathetic story, of which a common little cur is the hero: "Being only an ordinary yellow dog with no second name and not much beauty he was laid out dead in the rain on top of an old counter in the back yard at No. 44 Lee Place. There was a fire at that house yesterday morning and the dog which lay there dead and uncared for saved five people from death and gave his own life to do it. He did it without ostentation and his funeral—if he gets one at all—will be without ostentation either. No. 44 Lee Place is a two-story frame building with the usual tinder-box burning capacity. At 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning fire reached a can of kerosene which was in a closet. Everyone was asleep but Jack, and the deadly smoke fumes were fast putting the five people beyond ever awakening again. Jack, the yellow dog, ran to the bed and jumped upon the chest of Mr. Camus. The man was aroused and knew the danger in time to save himself and his wife. The dog was left to shift for himself. The flames had eaten their way nearly through the house and time was precious. Mr. Camus rushed downstairs to awaken the other tenants, but found that Jack had been there ahead of him and had awakened them also. Then the insurance patrol men came and covered things up with tarpaulins while the firemen put out the flames. The four people whose house was on fire went to a neighbor's and mourned for their furniture. When the fire was all out and the Marshal had gone away one of the insurance men went through the house. At the threshold of the bedroom he stumbled over something soft. He turned it over with his foot and with the comment 'only a dog' went about his work. Later some boys found the body of Jack and carried it out. The body was not burned at all. Death had come by suffocation. They carried him across the lot and laid him on top of an old counter near the back steps of the house that sheltered the people he saved. The house was no place for a dead dog, so they left him out in the rain, an unrecognized hero." Poor little chap! it was cowardly to desert him like that.

FOR some time I contemplated expressing my views to sportsmen regarding a remedy for mange and eczema. I have had the misfortune to have two dogs that were pronounced incurable and had tried every remedy I knew of. It seemed to be cruelty to let the dogs live and the sight of them was awful. Last Fall, in glancing through your for sale columns I noticed a mange cure advertisement in pretty strong words "one application will cure the most stubborn cases," etc. As it was quite cheap I ordered two bottles and had about as much faith in it then as I would in a gun killing ducks at 125 yards. The remedy was forwarded promptly, and a very polite letter stating that if I would follow directions I would be sure of meeting with success in curing my dogs. Of course this is what they all told me. I did follow directions and applied it thoroughly, and to my great surprise noticed a change in my dogs in two hours. They hardly knew what rest was since they contracted this horrid disease, and were nothing but skin full of holes and sores, and a bunch of bones, their food doing them no good whatever. They were constantly scratching and had no rest. In a half hour after I applied this I noticed they were taking a peaceful nap, something I had not seen them do in a long time. To say I was astonished is putting it lightly. In the course of two weeks they were entirely healed and began taking on flesh; to-day they are in excellent condition and a pleasure to me again. I am so delighted that I think I owe my experience to my sportsmen friends (I have been a reader of your valuable journal for nine or ten years and have more satisfaction in reading it during my spare moments than any publication I know of) and would kindly ask space for expressing my views. The remedy is the Perfection Mange and Eczema Cure made by A. G. Solstmann.

Philadelphia. ROBERT SCHOENEWALD.

THE publisher has favored us with a copy of "The Fox Terrier," which has now reached its third edition, a result that must be very gratifying to Mr. Rawdon B. Lee, kennel editor of our esteemed English cotemporary, The Field. The first edition, published in 1889, was soon sold out and was followed by a second in 1890. In the present edition this popular little book has been enlarged from 148 to 239 pages, and the new illustrations include the famous Venio, Lyons Sting, D'Orsay, Dame Fortune, Charnwood Marian and Jack St. Leger. The reader will find the history of the fox terrier traced as far back as authentic records go, and it is, of course, brought up to date. "Some few trifling scraps of information that have not hitherto appeared in print" is the way the author modestly refers in his preface to the valuable matter in this pocket cyclopedia of fox terrier literature. Although chiefly known nowadays as a show dog, Mr. Lee has not lost sight of the purpose for which the fox terrier was originally given to the world and has endeavored to maintain its character as a sporting dog. Where all is so good it is difficult to say what is best, but to us no pages proved more interesting than those which tell of the game work with otter and fox of Tom Firr (named after the well-known huntsman of the famous Quorn), Gedling Tidy and a precocious son of Brockenhurst Rally. Rearing, training, preparation for shows, ailments and their remedies, are all treated upon, and the Fox Terrier Club's standard of points, rules and list of officers are given. The whole is embellished by illustrations from drawings by Mr. Arthur Wardie.

A STORY is told of a divine residing at Wilkinsburg, Pa., keeping his congregation waiting while he captured and carried home his pug dog, which he supposed had followed him to church. He was just about to begin the service when he saw his dog come in the door and start to walk straight toward him down the aisle. The minister was in a pretty dilemma, for he knew as soon as he began to pray the dog would begin to howl. There was only one thing to do, which was to get the dog back to his home, which was but a few steps from the door leading into the vestry. As luck would have it, the dog turned from the middle aisle and took one of the side aisles that led to the vestry. Quickly the minister left the pulpit and opened the door of his vestry just in time to receive the pug. He quickly grabbed the dog, and holding it in his arms ran over to his home. He had not much time, as it was already after the hour for starting the service, so he quickly ran half way up the front stairs, and throwing the dog to the top landing cried to his wife, who was in her room, "Here's Snap, Mary; take him and lock him up." As the dog alighted at the head of the stairs there was an awful commotion. Such a snarling, barking and clawing he had never known to come from his pet before. He ran upstairs, to find his wife trying to separate two pugs locked in deadly combat. He had carried over some other fellow's dog.

THE annual meeting of the Pacific Fox Terrier Club was held at San Francisco last week Tuesday, Vice-President H. H. Carlton in the chair. The cup committee reported that three handsome silver cups had been purchased and forwarded for competition at the Los Angeles show. The first division of the Produce stakes closed with only one nomination, that of J. B. Martin's Golden Jewel. Mr. Martin stated that inasmuch as his bitch would have a walkover at Los Angeles for the prize money, he would use the money to purchase a silver cup to be competed for at different shows on the coast, under the following conditions: "Best fox terrier bred by a member of the Pacific Fox Terrier Club, to be won three times before it becomes the property of a member." The nominations for the second division of the Produce stakes close at the next meeting, May 6. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, H. W. Fores; first vice-president, C. A. Sumner; second vice-president, Geo. W. Denbenham; treasurer, H. H. Carlton; secretary, J. B. Martin; board of directors, Jos. McLatchie and A. S. Gonzales of San Francisco, John Heffernan of Stockton, J. W. Mitchell of Los Angeles, and A. E. Gray of Seattle. H. H. Carlton and J. B. Martin were delegated to purchase cups for the Pacific Kennel Club's show, which will be held at San Francisco, May 7, 8, 9 and 10.

I HAVE noticed that the American foxhound bitch Pearl Strive has been credited with winning the special for best American foxhound bitch in the show at Chicago. Knowing that the bitch Bowsprit, that I recently sold to Mr. W. B. Foster, of Brockton, Mass., was present, I could not understand this, especially in view of the fact that the week previous Pearl Strive had only been able to get V.H.C. under the same judge in same class in which Bowsprit had won first. As John Davidson was the judge and Bowsprit was in excellent condition, I could not see how it was possible for him to make such an award, and I wrote him for information. I have his reply, in which he states positively that no American foxhound dog or bitch has ever been placed by him over Bowsprit; and he has judged her from Denver to Boston. Evidently someone has made an error, doubtless a clerical one. Will you please investigate and enlighten Bowsprit's admirers, for they are legion. As she was the lead hound of my pack for quite a while, I am proud of her record as an unbeaten American foxhound and would like to see her set right.

Lexington, Ky. ROGER D. WILLIAMS.

A MEETING of those interested in the formation of a club for the advancement of knowledge pertaining to the kennel, poultry and pigeons has been held in Toledo, O., and a strong organization, with a membership list of ninety-six, was formed, with the following officers: President, Dr. E. E. Cowdrick; vice-presidents, F. C. Shepherd and J. W. Mulinix; secretary, A. W. Bell; treasurer, L. E. Clarke; committee, A. W. Pancoast, C. P. Detweiler, Geo. Felt, G. D. Dale and S. H. Philips. Steps are already being taken for a large dog and poultry show combined in 1897, preceded by one in 1896, more of a local than a general nature; and with the interest that Toledoans always manifest in anything with a tendency to advertise their beautiful city the efforts of the dog show committee will be most assuredly crowned with success.

Toledo, O. A. W. BELL.

AT the Milwaukee Kennel and Pet Stock Association's meeting last Friday night (April 12) a constitution was adopted and signed by over forty members. The objects of the association are stated to be the "improvement and breeding of dogs, poultry, pigeons and pet stock, the mutual protection of the association and the holding of annual exhibits." April 2, the date on which the association was organized, has been selected as the date for future annual meetings. Regular meetings are to be held on the second Friday of every month. The initiation fee, after the present dispensation has expired, will be $5, and the dues are to be $3 a year. The association is to be governed by the rules of the American Kennel Club. A delegation was present for a time from the Milwaukee Canary Club, and it is probable that that organization will go into the new association in a body.

THE British Fancier achieved a smart accomplishment by presenting to its readers a special edition containing a full and illustrated report of the Manchester show thirteen hours after the last class was judged. Sharp work, that; but the sketches of prize winners are nothing to boast of. From our cotemporary we learn that the net profit of Spratt's Patent (Limited) for the past year was £26,956. Distributions at the rate of 12½ per cent. for the year absorb £18,750, leaving £8,206 to be carried forward. Another proof of the truth of that oft repeated assertion that the largest advertisers have the most prosperous businesses.

MR. P. T. MADISON, secretary of the Continental Field Trial Club, asks, through the AMERICAN FIELD, for a suitable place in the Northwest to hold the field trials on prairie chickens. I believe a suitable place could be found close to Jamestown. We have ample hotel and livery accommodations; also some as true sportsmen as can be found. Messrs. W. W. Titus, George and Frank Richards and John Tralll handled dogs here last season, and ought to be good authority on the matter.

Jamestown, N. D. FRANK F. MONTGOMERY.

HOPING to be an interested looker-on at the field trials of the Continental Field Trial Club this Fall, I would like to suggest to the club that an excellent location with good grounds, plenty of birds and reasonable accommodations for the trials could be secured on the east side of the Red River of the North, at some convenient point between Crookston and Northcote.

Coronaca, S. C. C. C. S.

WITHOUT reflecting in any way upon Mr. W. P. Fraser, we believe we may safely say that exhibitors throughout the United States and Canada will be pleased to know that Mr. C. A. Stone has been reappointed secretary and superintendent of the Industrial Exhibition's annual dog show at Toronto next September. This action has been taken by the Industrial Exhibition Board, which has also reduced the dog show committee from fourteen members to seven.

MR. ROGER D. WILLIAMS is still adding to his kennel of bloodhounds, or perhaps we should say strengthening its foundation. On learning of the death of Belhus he made up his mind to obtain the old dog's best son from Rosemary, and finally Jack Sheppard was installed as lord of the harem in the Rookwood Kennels. We understand John Naylor got a good price for the dog.

THE English field trial season is now in full blast. The first on the list were the Kennel Club's trials, run over Capt. Pretyman's estate at Orwell Park, near Ipswich; the Setter Club's trials were set for last week, near Bedford; this week the Pointer Club's trials are being run, near Chirk, and next week will come the National trials, for pointers and setters, at Acton Reynald, near Shrewsbury.

I HAVE sold all my dogs. I received letters from nearly every state, thus proving to me that the AMERICAN FIELD is "the" and the only advertising medium in the United States. My business transactions with you in the past few years have been very satisfactory.

Nantucket, Mass. E. G. ELLIOTT.

HAVING met with a ready sale, "The Amateur Trainer" has now reached its second edition, in which are included portraits of some well-known pointers and setters. This useful little book is now bound in cloth, has been otherwise improved, and evidently has "come to stay."

THE entries for the Los Angeles dog show number one hundred and fifty.

NAMES CLAIMED

NAMES CLAIMED.—We make no charge for inserting notices of Names Claimed. To secure insertion write plainly and use the following form:

MR. F. E. HASKELL, Lynn, Mass., claims the name
WENUCHUS KENNELS, for his kennel of Boston terriers.
WENUCHUS, for brindled and white Boston terrier dog, whelped March 18, by Wanderer—Lady Josephine.
ACE OF CLUBS, for brindled and white dog, same litter.
BOODLE, for brindled and white dog, same litter.
SAM FOSS, for brindled and white dog, same litter.
TOMMY ATKINS, for brindled and white dog, same litter.
PSYCHE, for brindled and white bitch, same litter.
TRILBY, for brindled and white bitch, same litter.

MR. J. A. STAGG, Harris City, Ind., claims the name
MONK ANTONIO, for black and white English setter dog puppy, whelped March 11, 1895, by Champion Antonio—Monk's Twilight.
PLUTO ANTOINE, for lemon and white dog, same litter.
PEARL ANTOINE, for black, white and tan bitch, same litter.
TWITONIO, for black, white and tan bitch, same litter.
LOTUS, for black and white bitch, same litter.

MR. W. CARSON, Dover, N. H., claims the name
REX AMERICUS, for black, white and tan English setter dog puppy, whelped September 18, 1894, by Rip Gladstone—Daisy Lincoln.

MR B. P. COREY, Petrolia, Ont., claims the name
WREX, for lemon and white English setter dog, whelped June 16, 1894, by Rachel's King Dash (27302) out of Reign II (27506).

MR. W. McCOY, Tampa, Fla., claims the name
BELLE OF TAMPA, for black, white and tan English setter bitch, by Grand Gladstone—Lucy Lewis.

SALES

SALES.—We make no charge for inserting notices of Sales. To secure insertion write plainly and use following form:

DETROIT KENNEL CLUB. Detroit, Mich., has sold
WREX, lemon and white English setter dog, whelped June 16, 1894, out of Reign II (27506) by Rachel's King Dash (27302), to Mr. Bloss P. Corey, Petrolia, Ont.

MR A. BEUTEL, Bloomington, Ill., has sold
KING OF KENT'S TRILBY, pointer bitch, by King of Kent—Lady Guess, to Mr. H. M. Griffin, Fort Dodge, Ia.

MR. F. F. DOLE, New Haven, Conn., has sold
BASHFUL MAID, bull terrier bitch, by Streatham Wonder—Merritt, to Mr. S. Penfield, West Haven, Conn.

MR. H. F. CHURCH, Taunton, Mass., has sold
PRISCILLA, bull terrier bitch, by Streatham Wonder—Merritt, to Mr. S. Penfield, West Haven, Conn.

WHELPS

WHELPS.—We make no charge for inserting notices of Whelps To secure insertion write plainly and use following form:

MR. JOS. SCHNEBLIN'S
LOUIS, pointer, whelped, April 8, five dogs and seven bitches, by King of Kenesaw (Nick of Hope—Vera H).

MR. J. A. STAGG'S
MONK'S TWILIGHT (34143), English setter, by Champion Monk of Furness—Twilight Felton, whelped, March 11, two dogs and three bitches, by Champion Antonio.

MR. S. PENFIELD'S
CHATHAM KIT (29210), bull terrier, by Jubilee—My Queen, whelped, April 1, three dogs and three bitches, by Ben Count (Bendigo—Mag).

MR. J. O. WEDELL'S
LADY NAPIER, beagle, by Royal Clarendon—Lady Nicolette, whelped, March 13, five dogs and two bitches, by his Rally W.

VISITS

VISITS.—We make no charge for inserting notices of Visits. To secure insertion write plainly and use the following form:

MESSRS. FISHBACK & BAUGHN'S
HER MAJESTY (36265), English setter, by Cinch—Gath's Belle (34159), April 4 and 5, to Hoosier Ben.

MR. S. PENFIELD'S
PRISCILLA, bull terrier, by Streatham Wonder—Merritt, April 7, to Gully the Great.

Coursing

FIXTURES

St. Louis Coursing Club, Brentwood Park, Mo., April 20. D. J. O'Callaghan, secretary.

American Waterloo Cup meeting (first), Huron, S. D., October 8, etc. F. B. Coyne, secretary, American Coursing Club.

Altcar Coursing Club's third annual meeting, ——, October 16, etc. T. W. Bartels, secretary.

Kenmore Coursing Club's third annual meeting, ——, October 22, etc. C. F. Weber, secretary.

Cheyenne Coursing Club's first meeting, Great Bend, Kan., October 29, etc. Ira D. Brougher, secretary.

COURSING NEAR SACRAMENTO

SACRAMENTO, CAL.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—I send you an account of the Sacramento Coursing Club's meeting on March 17 and 24. As we had thirty three entries we only finished the second round on the first day, which I think was doing very well considering that the distance from the city to the coursing grounds, and return, made the day's drive forty-four miles; so the running was finished on March 24.

The day was pleasant, the coursing first-class, and the grounds in excellent condition. Thomas Davis was judge, and it was the opinion of all that his work was first-class; and the same can be said of T. Kennedy and B. Griffeth as slippers, and also of the field stewards, J. Long and J. Stout.

Now I will give you the summary and if any errors have been made we shall be glad to see them mentioned in your paper.

SUMMARY

F. Guenther's red bitch Ring Neck	beat	H. Gordon's red dog Si Wash.
J. Kennedy's white bitch Vigilant	beat	T. F. Davies' black dog Do Run.
J. McMahon's black dog Wildwood	beat	F. Christopbel's brindled dog Gilt Edge.
P. Kelly's white and black bitch Belle	beat	E. W. Jones' white bitch Maud S.
J. McMabon's black dog Guile	beat	W. O'Neil's brindled dog Robert J.
F. Christophel's brindled dog Eldorado	beat	P. Callahan's black dog Rudolph.
E. C. Warren's black dog Brigbton Boy	beat	M. H. Sheehan's blue dog Dynamite.
W. O. Neil's red bitch Sacramento Pride	beat	W. Clark's white dog Lightning Rod.
T. Schaap's blue and white dog Muldoon	beat	T. McSbane's red bitch Tremont Queen.
M. B. Griffeth's white dog Shamrock	beat	R. Putney's blue bitch Nellie Bly.
P. Kelly's black dog Jack	heat	J. McMahon's black dog Gare.
F. C. Warren's brindled bitch Shy Girl	beat	B. Rosser's black bitch Lady R.
L. Lynch's black dog Captain Jim	beat	J. Stout's blue and white dog Master McGrath.
W. Hallanan's white dog Governor Jim	beat	J. Stout's white and red bitch Lady Lonsdale.
P. W. Sheehan's red dog Banjo	heat	F. O'Brien's blue dog Rosedale.
F. Strate's brindled dog Jack the Ripper	beat	C. Conrad's brindled dog Whip.
H. H. Devine's white dog Rough	a bye.

II

Vigilant beat Ring Neck.	Shamrock beat Muldoon.
Wildwood beat Belle.	Jack beat Shy Girl.
Guile beat Eldorado.	Governor Jim beat Captain Jim.
Brighton Boy beat Sacramento Pride.	Rough beat Banjo.
	Jack the Ripper, a bye.

III

Wildwood beat Vigilant.	Jack the Ripper beat Rough.
Guile beat Brigbton Boy.	Governor Jim, a bye.
Jack beat Shamrock.

IV

Wildwood beat Jack the Ripper.	Jack, a bye.
Governor Jim beat Guile.

V

Governor Jim beat Jack.	Wildwood, a bye.

FINAL COURSE

Governor Jim beat Wildwood.

First prize, $40, to Governor Jim; he is twenty-two months old, by Muldoon—California Girl. Second prize, $25, to Wildwood, four and one-half years old, by Moran—Pride. Third prize, $15, to Jack; age, twenty months, by Iroquois—Belle. And $5 each to Guile, aged four and one-half years, by Moran—Pride, and Jack the Ripper, pedigree unknown. WHITE HAT.

NOTES

IN response to our Sacramento correspondent's invitation to point out any errors made in running through the stake which he briefly reports we will call his and his club's attention to a mix-up in the fourth round. At the close of the third round five dogs were left in; two of them, Wildwood and Guile, belonged to same owner and therefore were guarded; and two others [illegible] and Governor Jim, had already enjoyed [illegible] owing to the extremely awkward num[illegible] By referring to the way in which t[illegible] for the first round it will be seen tha[illegible] five dogs on the card was as follow[illegible]e, Jack, Governor Jim and Jack the Ripper. In making up the card for the fourth round the first thing to consider is which dog is entitled to the bye. It falls to Jack (who was accorded his rights), as the two dogs below him have already been similarly favored. Then, beginning at the top of the card, Wildwood comes against Governor Jim, leaving Guile and Jack the Ripper to come together. In the third round Governor Jim had been the bottom dog on the card, owing to Jack the Ripper having had the bye in the previous round, but the stewards evidently overlooked the ruling that at the commencement of each round the dogs return to their original positions on the card. And so they fell into the error of pitting Jack the Ripper against Wildwood and Governor Jim against Guile. Of course this made a material difference in the semi-final courses and the ultimate result. Instead of Wildwood running-up to Governor Jim, he should have been beaten by him in the fourth round. Guile, had he beaten Jack the Ripper (whom he should have met in the fourth), would have got the bye in the fifth, and have met Governor Jim in the final course. And Jack the Ripper, had he defeated Guile in the fourth, would have had his second accidental bye (because unavoidable) in the fifth, and would have met, and perhaps defeated, Governor Jim in the final. It is not an ergo sequitur that Governor Jim would have beaten Wildwood in the fourth round because he actually did beat him in the final, for different circumstances—such as the hare, the slip, etc.—might have brought about a different result, and for the same reason it cannot be positively asserted that Governor Jim would have defeated Guile in the final because he did so when they met in the fourth round, but it may be assumed that the results would have been as they were, and on that assumption the finish of the stake can be figured out as follows:

IV	OR	IV
Governor Jim beat Wildwood.		Governor Jim beat Wildwood.
Guile beat Jack the Ripper.		Jack the Ripper beat Guile.
Jack, a bye.		Jack, a bye.
V		V
Governor Jim beat Jack.		Governor Jim beat Jack.
Guile, a bye.		Jack the Ripper, a bye.
FINAL		FINAL
Governor Jim beat Guile.		Jack the Ripper with Governor Jim.

Undoubtedly the origin of the mix-up in the running at Sacramento was the acceptance of 33 entries. Had the stake been a thirty-two everything would have gone smoothly. It was for the sake of smoothness and to avoid byes (which often tend to false results) that coursing stakes always have been arranged as eights, sixteens, thirty-twos, etc. Yet in America one will sometimes see stakes announced and advertised as "for 32 or more." A strange incongruity. For if the stake is a thirty-two it is filled when that number of entries are made, and more cannot be received; on the other hand, if the stake is for more than thirty-two greyhounds what sense is there in saying "for 32?" Why not "for 31 or more," or "for 33 or more?" Of course it is possible for a thirty-two to receive only seventeen entries, or for a sixty-four to receive only thirty-three, or for the number of starters in produce stakes of unlimited entries to prove a very awkward number, but as a general thing it is best for clubs to arrange their stakes as sixteens, thirty-twos, etc., making them as large they think can be filled, or nearly so.

A WRITER in Outing tells the following anecdote of a greyhound staying by his mate until the last: "A rancher in the foothills had two greyhounds, a large, handsome dog named Blacknose and a bitch. The bitch was a great thief and one night did not come home. That night Blacknose did not appear. He had never spent the night away from home before. His owner was worried. Anxiety increased as the days passed, and still no sign of the hounds. On the fourth day the boys on the farm started for a neighboring ranch to ask about the dogs. On the way they saw what seemed to be a living thing in the distance near a pool. Approaching they saw Blacknose lying whining by the side of his dead companion. A gaping gunshot wound in the side of his mate told the story. The bitch had been at her old tricks and some exasperated ranchman had taken summary vengeance. As they drew nearer the huge hound showed signs of great joy. At the dead hound's side lay a half-dozen hares and cottontails, evidently caught by Blacknose for his companion, as his gaunt sides showed that he himself had touched no food. The dead hound was buried and Blacknose taken home. Twice they had to bring him from his mate's grave. He refused all food and at length died. If not a broken heart, what then?" Starvation, possibly; at any rate, the moral of this seems to be that a man should always keep more than two greyhounds, so that when one slips off the other may not mope itself to death.

IN the AMERICAN FIELD of March 23 the secretary of the American Coursing Club announced that all the thirty-two nominations for the American Waterloo Cup have been taken; if that is so, why did he not publish the names and addresses of the thirty-two fortunate gentlemen? It would be the proper thing to do, and I expect every coursing man in the country wants to know who they are. A local sportsman has been offered a nomination by a gentleman who took some last Fall, and who says that the committee have written him that those who took them last Fall can pull out now if they want to. What does this mean? And according to what precedent is the committee running America's inaugural Waterloo Cup? The committee should have the list of nominators published; also the list of those who applied for nominations too late, but who are to get some if anyone wants to drop out. There seems to be a good deal of "shenanagen" going on about this business. Why don't the committee let the public know how things [illegible] instead of acting in this mysterious way?

St. Louis.

A REPORT of the North Dakota Coursing Club meeting at Oakes not having come to hand we regret that we can only state that twenty-six greyhounds ran for the North Dakota Stakes, which were divided by Messrs. [illegible] fawn bitch puppy, Gilkirk (imp. [illegible] and Mr. N. P. Whiting's red dog [illegible] (imp. Glenkirk—imp. Innocence); [illegible] American Coursing Derby last October [illegible] Swift was drawn against and [illegible] Allen's Maid of Honor, and Gilkirk, after [illegible] of Lady Creighton and Fear Naught, ran an excellent trial with Glenlyon, the ultimate winner.

AN eight-dog stake run at Cottonwood Falls, Kan., on April 4, was won by Messrs. Heintz & Cochran's brindled bitch Just In (imp. Trales—Tence), which may be remembered as one of the contestants for the Altcar Stakes at Goodland, Kan., in February of last year, when she was owned by Messrs. Soden & Wilhite, of Emporia, and was put out in the first round by the Colorado Springs bitch Quickstep. The runner-up to Just In was Pea Vine, owned by Mr. W. D. Taylor, of Hartford, Kan.

GREYHOUNDS are offered for sale this week by Mr. G. S. Thomas, Salem, Mass.

Rifle

FIXTURES

Susquehanna County Rifle Association's thirty-fifth meeting and tournament, Foster, Pa., May 2 and 3.

Ninth tournament of the Westlicher Schuetzeu-Bund, Milwaukee, Wis., June 19, 20, 21, 22 and 23.

National Sharpshooters' Union's first tournament, Gleudale, L. 1., June 30 to July 8

RIFLES FOR BIG GAME

LAFAYETTE, IND.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—I have read with much interest the many articles that have been published in the AMERICAN FIELD discussing the question of the proper rifle for large game shooting, and I would like to ask any one of the gentlemen who have written upon this subject, if, when they are shooting at large game, they depend as much on the caliber of their gun and the weight of the bullet as they do on their aim and calculation of distance, atmospheric conditions, etc. If the caliber and weight of bullet are all there is in it, then I am at sea; if not, then why do not some of them give their opinions of trajectory and calculations on elevation, wind, etc., of certain fixed ammunition and quit howling on 500-grain bullets as the only sure thing to catch a little inoffensive deer that rarely, if ever, reaches 300 pounds weight? Anyone could kill one of those poor, little things if it was tied to a tree and he allowed his own discretion in the matter (and a 500-grain bullet). Give us your ideas, gentlemen, of a gun, proper sights, elevation and windage to be observed in certain fixed ammunition, for 90 per cent. of the rifle shooters use fixed ammunition.

This year the riflemen of this country are going to have two important contests, one at New York and one at Milwaukee, Wis., and I want to say if either of them, on their programs, will make arrangements and offer suitable prizes for boy rifle shots, allowing boys from 8 to 13 years of age to compete, that I will be on hand with a team that will be a credit to any man to handle. As I have before said in these columns, give the boy rifle shots of this land a chance and their good work will surprise many who think that only men grown can shoot a rifle accurately.

J. E. LONG.

NOTES

THE last time I was deer hunting I made two shots that were so remarkable I think they are worth relating: On rounding a small hill I observed three deer watching me. I selected a large buck which was standing broadside, and fired. He made two plunges and fell, but immediately regained his feet and with one more jump was over the hill. I followed his trail some 50 yards when I observed him lying down, and I fired again and this time broke his neck. On looking to see where the first shot struck him I was surprised to find that I had cut six holes in the hide with one bullet. The buck, as stated above, was standing broadside and the ball made two holes in the foreleg, and being just high enough to pass through the lower part of the brisket cut two holes in it, and, passing out through the other foreleg, cut two more holes. To one familiar with the anatomy of the deer, this will seem at first an impossible shot, but on closer observation it will be seen that it is possible, providing the ball does not enter the leg too far forward. In this instance the ball entered the leg just far enough forward to cut the cords of both legs and not break a bone. The second shot was at a fawn standing in front of a large rock. The bullet passed through the deer, hit against the rock and glanced off, hitting another rock, which so turned it that it fell at my feet. I have the bullet now, and on it one can see the blood from the deer, the sandstone from the first rock and particles of stone from the second rock.

Debeque, Colo. R. H. C

REVOLVER SHOOTING IN ENGLAND

LONDON, ENG.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—At the North London Rifle Club March 20, the following scores were made at 20 yards:

Lieut. Richardson—
	6	7	7	6	5	7	—38
Major Palmer.	7	7	5	7	7	5	—38
Rand	7	7	5	6	7	5	—37
Lowe	7	4	7	6	6	6	—36
Gore	6	6	7	7	7	3	—36
Comber	4	6				7	—35
							34

[illegible] res as below were made:

							36
							—33
							—31
							—30
							—25

Carter	7	5	4	6	4	7	—33
Howe	5	6	4	5	5	7	—32
Ricketts	7	5	7	4	4	5	—32
Denyer	5	7	5	5	5	5	—32
Franzman	5	5	3	7	6	6	—32
C. Knapp	7	5	5	3	6	5	—31
J. McKormac.	5	6	6	5	6	2	—30
Brading	4	3	7	4	6	6	—30

Major Palmer.	3	6	7	2	2	7	—25
A. Comber	2	5	3	7	4	2	—23
McKormac	4	4	7	0	2	5	—22
Knapp	4	3	0	7	3	3	—20
Ricketts.	3	3	3	3	3	4	—19

PISTOL GRIP.

WALNUT HILL, MASS.—Scores as follows were made with the rifle at the Walnut Hill range on April 13:

Bronze pistol medal, won on 10 scores of 75 or better—Coombs, 79, 77, 79, 89, 77, 86. 75, 78, 76, 87.

All-comers' rest match—Willard 111, Hunter 108, Day 104.

Off band prize match—Coombs 80, Jones 75, Day 74, Martin 71.

Military merchandise match—Bordman 72, De Loriea 72, Nutter 71, Day 66.

Military prize match—Sweet 44, Moore 42, Hill 41.

Pistol prize match, 50 yards—Fellows 96, Hadley 93, Hunter 89, Martin 88.

Pistol medal match, 50 yards—Anderton 94 (twice), Martin 89, Hunt 86, James 83.

WALNUT.

PITTSBURG, PA.—Some good work was done on April 11 by members of the Pittsburg Rifle Club, among those participating being Mr. J. W. Rothwell, who has not been seen at the range as a participant before for two years. The scores made were all first-class, yet Mr. Rothwell, despite the fact that he was somewhat out of practice, headed the list. The scores made are given below.

Rothwell	83	84	87	92—346
Brehm	83	85	87	87—342
Hodgdon	86	83	84	85—338
Jones	82	83	83	84—332

As the figures show, the contest between Messrs. Brehm and Rothwell was an exciting one and both men were heartily congratulated for their good shooting. The club is in a flourishing condition and the weekly shoots are causing the members to take an active interest in the organization.

KEYSTONE.

Trap

FIXTURES

APRIL

Mr. C. F. Graff's Blue Rock tournament, Seattle, Wash., April 21.

Michigan State Trap Shooters' League's annual tournament, Battle Creek, Mich.. April 23 and 24. S. A. Howes, secretary.

Elizabeth Gun Club's third bi-monthly tournament, Elizabeth, N. J., April 23 and 24. First day targets, second day live birds. Open to all.

Gosben Gun Club's tournament, Goshen, Ind., April 23, 24 and 25.

Shamokin Gun Club's first quarterly shoot, Shamokin, Pa., April 24 and 25.

Southport Gun Club's annual tournament, Southport, Ind., April 24 and 25.

Osceola Gun Club's tournament, Osceola, Ia., April 24, 25 and 26.

Peekskill Gun Club's tournament, Peekskill, N. Y., April 24, 25 and 26.

Galesburg Shooting Club's tournament, Galesburg, Ill., April 23, 24, 25 and 26.

Missouri State Fish and Game Protective Association's eighteenth annual tournament, Kansas City, Mo., April 23, 24, 25 and 26. W. V. Rieger, secretary.

Palmetto Gun Club's tournament, Charleston, S. C., April 25.

Independent Gun Club's tournament, Belleville, Ill., April 28.

MAY

Peoria Target Company's handicap Blackbird tournament, Peoria, Ill., May 1, 2 and 3.

Manson Gun Club's fifth annual tournament, Manson, Ia., May 1 and 2.

Pickaway Rod and Gun Club's tournament, Circleville, O., May 2

Elizabeth Gun Club's tournament, Elizabeth, N. J., May 2. All day shoot. New Jersey Trap Shooters' League's monthly contest at 2 o'clock p. m.

Waverly Gun Club's tournament, Waverly, Ia., May 1, 2 and 3.

California State Sportsmen's Association's tournament, May 2, 3 and 4,

Henry Shooting Club's Spring tournament, Henry, Ill., May 7, 8 and 9.

Du Pont tournament, Cincinnati, O., May 7, 8, 9 and 10. Liberal cash prizes added to purses.

Marion Gun Club's tournament, Marion, Ind , May 8 and 9.

Ninth annual Owl shoot, Amateur Trap Shooters' Association of Missouri and Kansas, Weir City, Kan., May 8, 9 and 10. $300 in cash added. W. W. McIlhany, secretary.

Sibley Mound Gun Club's tournament, Mankato, Minn., May 8, 9 and 10.

Interstate Manufacturers' and Dealers' Association's tournament, Wilmington, N. C., May 9 and 10, under the auspices of the Eastern Dog and Game Protective Association.

West Newburg Gun Club's Spring tournament, West Newburg, N. Y., May 9, 10 and 11. Targets first two days, live birds last day.

Colorado State Fish and Game Protective Association's third tournament, Pueblo, Colo., May 13, 14 and 15.

Sheffield Gun Club's tournament, Sheffield, Ill., May 14, 15 and 16.

Iowa State Sportsmen's Association's tournament, Cedar Rapids, Ia., May 14, 15 and 16.

Ohio Trap Shooters' League's annual tournament, Dayton, O., May 14, 15 and 16.

Binghamton Gun Club's tournament, Binghamton, N. Y., May 15 and 16.

Hartley Gun Club's second annual tournament, Hartley, Ia., May 15 and 16.

Texas State Sportsmen's Association's nineteenth annual tournament, San Antonio, Tex., May 14 to 18 inclusive. Open to the world. Five hundred dollars cash added; $500 in merchandise prizes.

Interstate Manufacturers' and Dealers' Association's tournament, Lynchburg, Va., May 17 and 18, under auspices of the Lynchburg Gun Club; $200 added by the Lynchburg Gun Club.

Montana State Sportsmen's Association's second annual tournament, Butte, Mont., May 17, 18 and 19. C. H. Smith, secretary.

Kansas State Sportsmen's Association's annual tournament, Kansas City, Kan., May 21, 22 and 23. A. W. Peck, secretary, Kansas City, Kan.

Knoxville Gun Club's fourteenth annual tournament, Knoxville, Tenn., May 21, 22, 23 and 24, 1895. $3,000 cash added to purses

South Dakota State Sportsmen's Association's annual tournament, Woonsocket, S. D., May 21, 22, 23, 24 and 25.

Rome Gun Club's tournament, Rome, N. Y., May 22, 23 and 24. Last day at live birds.

Arkansas State Sportsmen's Association's fifth annual tournament, Little Rock, Ark., May 27, 28, 29 and 30. John J. Sumpter Jr., secretary.

Crystal Lake Gun Club's tournament, Urbana, Ill., May 28, 29 and 30.

Canajoharie Rod and Gun Club's tournament, Canajoharie, N. Y., May 29 and 30.

Valley City Gun Club's tournament, Grand Rapids, Mich., May 30 and 31 and June 1. $500 added money. C. F. Rood, secretary.

Pekin Gun Club's annual Spring tournament, Pekin, Ill., last week in May.

South Side Gun Club's eleventh annual tournament, Milwaukee, Wis., May 30, 31 and June 1.

CLASSIFICATION OF TRAP SHOOTERS

CINCINNATI, O.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—It is conceded that we have two classes of trap shooters, and these are generally mentioned as experts and amateurs. Various schemes have been presented by tournament managers to induce both classes to attend and match their skill at the traps, attempting by systems of handicapping to protect the amateur; but efforts in this direction do not appear to have been successful. At some places the managers have thrown the contests open to everyone without any handicap or favor to amateurs, while other places organize tournaments for amateurs only and bar experts. All of these managers would doubtless prefer to have the presence of both classes of contestants.

Recognizing the importance of some system that will promote the attendance of both experts and amateurs, that will maintain equity and fair dealing, I have adopted rules for the Du Pont tournament at Cincinnati, May 7, 8 and 9, that seem to me adequate to meet all difficulties. I start with the admission that there are two classes—amateurs and experts—and to distinguish between them make an arbitrary limit on the amateur class. Two sets of traps will be used. The amateur will shoot on each of the three days, eight events at 15 targets each, entrance $2; the experts at the same time will shoot eight events at 20 targets each, entrance $3. Added money the same in all events for both classes. Events Nos. 4 and 6 at amateur traps and the same events at expert traps for the three days are known as Du Pont prize events for high averages. For these averages $200 will be given the amateurs and $300 will be given to experts, divided into 30, 25, 20, 15 and 10 per cent. each. Now the equities are contained in the following rules:

RULE 1.—Any shooter making an average of 90 per cent. or more in any three events at the traps for amateurs will be excluded from subsequent events of that day at the traps for amateurs. Known experts will be limited to the events at traps for experts.

RULE 2.—In competing for cash prizes for highest averages in events Nos. 4 and 6 of each day, contestants expecting to make an average of 90 per cent. or better in the six amateur prize events should enter in events Nos. 4 and 6 each day at the traps for experts, as a 90 per cent. average or better in the six amateur prize events will exclude the contestant from sharing in the cash prizes to amateurs.

Contestants at traps for amateurs may, under Rule 1, forfeit interest in cash prizes to amateurs for averages.

Under these rules suppose an expert enters at the amateur traps, and in first event scores 15, and in second event 14. If he made more than 11 in another event that day it would exclude him from the amateur traps, and 11 would not give him a place. Two events of the high scores will let him out. If he elects to be an amateur he should shoot like an amateur, varying from 65 to 100 per cent., and no two scores alike. This rule, I think, will enable amateurs to contest among themselves, and to graduate some of their number every day into the expert class, where they will receive a generous welcome and an unlimited opportunity to make a record. A score of 85 per cent. in the expert class will give them a place, and with a larger purse and smaller number, that will be better than an average score of 13 out of 15 at the amateur traps.

In the six prize contests the amateurs will shoot at 90 targets. As 90 per cent. or over excludes a contestant from sharing the $200 in cash prizes, 80, if scored out of the 90 targets, will win highest average. The experts in same events at their traps will shoot at 120 targets, and there is no limit in this case. It is therefore apparent to every contestant who expects to make an average of 90 per cent. at 90 targets, that he makes a mistake by classing himself as an amateur. If an amateur shoots himself into the expert class one day and does not do so well the next day, he can return to the amateur traps. I predict that with this protection there will be an array of amateurs, many of whom will be forced to graduate into the class where they properly belong, and where, as experts, they will win honors and a good share of the cash prizes.

In this arrangement I have endeavored to show fairness, but no favoritism. No amateur need absent himself because forced to contest against experts; he is absolutely safe and will meet men of his own class, who, as they exhibit very superior skill and maintain it through three events, will move up and be given a chance at expert traps where, with four moneys, they have all the chances they need.

I hope to see the traps for experts faced by a strong delegation and be increased as the tournament progresses.

R. S. WADDELL.

NOTES

WE have been shown a draft of the program for the open shoots at the Illinois State Sportsmen's Association's tournament to be held at Burnside, Ill., in June next, and in which Secretary H. B. Meyers' idea of arranging the events so that the average amateur shooter will have some show, occasionally, at least, of winning or dividing a purse, are incorporated. The plan suggested by Mr. Meyers is this: All shooters start in on the same level the first day, and those who on the first day win their entrance money or more are placed in Class A the second day, while non-winners and winners of less than their entrance money, who have been in four or more events, will be placed in Class B. On the third day winners in either class receiving the amount of their entrance money or more the second day will be placed in Class A the next day they enter, while those who do not win and those who win less than their entrance money will be placed in Class B the next day they enter, provided they shot in four or more events the day previous, and any Class A man found entering in Class B will forfeit all interest in that contest. The above applies to target events. In the live bird events all start on an equality, but winners of less than their entrance money and non-winners in the first event in the second live bird event will have one dead bird added to their scores, and in the third live bird contest in the open tournament, those who entered in the two previous live bird events and did not win their entrance money and those who were non-winners in the same events will have two dead birds added to their scores, while winners and non-winners who were in only one of the two preceding events will have one dead bird added to their scores. Mr. Meyers' aim is to so equalize the shooters that all may have a reasonable chance of winning and he thinks the system suggested will accomplish the end desired, though he does not claim, for he knows that is impossible, that all participants will be winners. Mr. Meyers expects as early as May 1 to publish a list of the members of all clubs that are members of the association and entitled to enter in the association events, and he therefore suggests that clubs intending to join the association send in their applications and list of members before that time, and that clubs that already belong to the association remit their annual dues before that date. He says the interest already manifested in the tournament leads him to believe it will be the largest of any for some years, and it is not only his desire, but also the wish of the officers of the association, that it will be one of the best and most enjoyable tournaments ever held in the state.

THE program for the Goshen (Ind.) Gun Club's tournament at inanimate targets and live sparrows, just to hand, presents an array of events that should prove interesting to all lovers of trap shooting. The tournament is to be held at the Goshen Driving Park on April 23, 24 and 25, and will be governed by American Shooting Association rules. On the first day Blue Rocks only will be shot, but on the second and third days sparrow events will be interspersed with the target contests. Quite a large number of valuable merchandise prizes have been secured by the club which will be shot for during the tournament or awarded as special prizes. Special shoots and team contests will be arranged to suit visiting sportsmen should there be time for such each day after the program for that day has been shot down. The medal shoot on the second day, 25 Blue Rock targets per man, entrance $1.50, for a gold medal and four merchandise prizes, will be one of the interesting features of the tournament. This contest is open only to sportsmen residing in Laporte, St. Joseph, Elkhart, Lagrange, Steuben, De Kalb, Noble, Kosciusko, Marshall, Wabash, Huntington, Whitley and Allen counties, Indiana, and Berrien, Cass, St. Joseph, Branch, Van Buren, Kalamazoo, Calhoun and Jackson counties, Michigan. All ties in this event have to be shot off, the best man to win.

THE Brunswick Gun Club of New Brunswick, N. J., has just had its new club rooms in the Voorhees building on George Street fitted up in a tasteful and inviting manner. One room is fitted up with billiard and pool tables, easy chairs, etc., as a lounging, smoking and amusement room, while the other room—the parlor—is handsomely and elaborately furnished with easy, upholstered chairs, Moquette carpets, lace curtains, tables for books, magazines and papers, a large roll top desk with stationery, pens, ink., etc., a case of stuffed birds of the species to be found in America, and the walls are decorated with elegant pictures of hunting and coaching scenes. The coat and toilet rooms and the steward's room are back of the parlor and are fitted up with every convenience. The object of the club in securing and fitting up these rooms, which has been done at no small expense, is to bring the members closer together and also to provide a pleasant place for social recreation. The club has a membership of one hundred, and the number is constantly growing. The board of managers are W. E. Sperling, R. M. Pettit, A. W. Pettit, H. B. Smith, James Deshler, H. H. Stevens, and Joseph Fisher, the three last named being the president, secretary and treasurer of the club.

THE Peekskill Gun Club will give a three days' tournament—first two days on targets, the last one on live birds—on its inclosed grounds at Peekskill, N. Y., on April 24, 25 and 26. Ten events are arranged for the first day, with extras if time permits, and eleven on the second day, with a team shoot, any six men, 25 single targets per man. In events of twelve entries or over, four moneys; under twelve entries, three moneys. No entries taken in any event after the first squad has shot. The live bird events are 5, 10 and 15 bird events. Five expert traps with electric pull to be used. Other remarks say: "Hot dinner served all day;" "loaded shells on the grounds;" "any shooter in a tie can draw his share;" "price of targets 2 cents;" "only smokeless powder to be used;" "kicking to be done by the tournament committee only when complaints are made to them." The members of this club are well known for their hospitality and courteous treatment to visitors, and always have a good attendance.

At the annual meeting of the Oneida County Sportsmen's Association, held on Friday, April 5, the following officers were elected for the current year: President, A. C. Salisbury; vice-president, John Cummings Jr.; secretary, A. C. Sieboth; treasurer, O. A. Wheeler; directors, Gustavus Dexter, H. L. Gates, C. R. Mizner. The association will be represented at Saratoga in the Dean Richmond contest, by a strong team, which will, in all probability, be composed of E. D. Fulford, A. S. Hunter and H. L. Gates. "Pa" Dexter will be at Saratoga with the club banner and tent and keep "open house," as usual, and most of the old rounders at the state shoot will know what this means. The association is in a very good condition financially this year, and the prospects for a lively shooting season are excellent. The usual weekly shoots on "mud pies" will be supplemented with a monthly live bird shoot for a club trophy. Extensive improvements to the shooting grounds are now under way.

Utica, N. Y. A. C. Sieboth.

"Cholly Knickerbocker," in New York Recorder, commenting on the winners of the Great American Handicap shot at Paterson, N. J., says: "The finale of the American Handicap has been a great surprise to everyone. There were a dozen fancies to pick a winner from. There were George Work, the great gentleman crack, and Capt. Money and Edey. There were Elliott, Fulford and Brewer, and several other professionals almost as good; but along comes a quiet, impassive unknown, who shoots thirty-five birds straight without saying a word, pockets the big money, and then returns to Pittsburg as silent as he came. Since the day "Pittsburg Phil," the plunger, emerged from the smoke and dust of that city, nothing like him has been seen until Herr Messner, the stolid Pennsylvania Dutchman, came along and made his coup. This shoot has been of great service to cracks hereabout, who had just about come to believe that there wasn't anything in the country to touch them."

I have advertised articles for sale in other papers and received little or no benefit and consequently had not much faith in advertising; but since I advertised a Scott gun for sale in the American Field the week of April 6, my opinions are entirely changed as regard that paper. Answers have been coming in every mail all this week and I should like to thank your readers, but cannot really take the time to reply to each separately. The gun was sold to an eminent amateur shot in New York directly after the advertisement appeared. I had seven or eight letters saying send the gun C. O. D. at once. I have read the American Field for years, but this was my first experience as an advertiser in it. In this as in many other respects, it positively proves to my mind that "there is only one in it." I purchased an English setter puppy some time since through the same medium and am more than pleased with my bargain.

Great Kills, N. Y. James Fort.

The Crystal Lake Gun Club of Urbana, Ill., will hold its second annual tournameut on May 29, 30 and 31. Last year, at our first tournament, we gave $200 added money, and were all surprised that so small an amount would bring together such a crowd of crack shots. This year we will give not less than $200, and all surplus money will be added. Recent letters from Budd, Grimm and other Western cracks inform us that they will be with us this year. Our new grounds will be equipped with two sets of traps. Champaign County has about one hundred and thirty gun club members, and plenty of them will shoot right through the program, money or no money. We are "fruit" for professionals, but we want them all to come just the same. Last year we entertained over fifty shooters; this year we intend to make arrangements to take good care of over a hundred.

Urbana, Ill. P. M.

On Thursday and Friday, May 9 and 10, the Interstate Association will give a trap shooting tournament for the Eastern Dog and Game Protective Association of Wilmington, N. C., the last named association adding $100 in cash to the purses. The shooting will be at inanimate targets only, ten events each day, entrance to each event $1.50. The Interstate Association rules will govern, and under these rules any shooter missing a target purposely in order to obtain a certain place will forfeit all his interest in the purse and be debarred from taking part in any tournament given under the auspices of the Interstate Association. All purses will be divided into four moneys—40, 30, 20 and 10 per cent.—and all ties will be divided. Mr. E. E. Shaner, who will have the management of the tournament, we know will give the boys a pleasant shoot, and lovers of trap shooting in the vicinity of Wilmington will miss it if they do not attend this tournament.

The Elizabeth Gun Club's program for its bi-monthly tournament to be held at Elizabeth, N. J., on April 23 and 24, announces twelve events for the first day, all at inanimate targets, and six for the second day, all at live birds. The most important event on the first day will be at 25 single targets per man, unknown angles, entrance $2; and that of the second day will be the third event, 25 live birds, entrance $10, birds extra. The grounds of the club are only ten minutes' walk from the principal railroad depots and the club members will exert themselves to pleasantly entertain all visiting shooters. The shooting will begin at 9 o'clock each morning. Expert traps, rapid fire system, will be the order for the target events.

The South Side Gun Club of Milwaukee, Wis., one of the largest and strongest gun clubs in the "Cream City," will hold its annual trap shooting tournament at the club's grounds at Lake Station, on May 30, 31 and June 1. Lake Station is only a short distance south of Milwaukee and is easily and quickly reached by the steam cars. If former tournaments of this club can be used as a criterion by which to judge this one, we are perfectly safe in saying that it will be A1 in every respect. The South Side boys are a wide-awake, progressive, enterprising lot of sportsmen who leave nothing undone that will contribute to the pleasure of their guests or the success of their tournaments.

A special meeting of the Eureka Gun Club is called for Saturday, April 20, at the club grounds, at 3:30 p. m. Business of great importance to every member of the club will come up for attention. The Eureka is the largest trap shooting club in Illinois, is the present holder of the cup emblematical of the state team championship, and is in fine shape financially. It has two sets of traps and all the latest paraphernalia for good and pleasant work, and it extends an invitation to shooters to join its ranks and partake of some of the pleasure to be had on its grounds.

Chicago. W. F. D., Secy.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Mr. Wm. Cashmore, Birmingham, Eng., to be found on another page of the American Field. Mr. Cashmore ranks among the best gunmakers in England, guns of his make being regarded as exceptional for wear and shooting qualities. Indeed so good are they that Dr. Carver, a gentleman known the world over among sportsmen, and a man who shoots as many private matches for good money as any man in America, pins his faith to one of them and never blames the gun if he does not win.

On a recent business trip to Memphis, Tenn., I spent an afternoon very pleasantly at the grounds of the Memphis Gun Club with Mr. Devine, Mr. Schmidt, Mr. Allen and other members of the club and was pleasantly entertained. The club is already making arrangements for its big tournament to be held in June and from what I saw and heard I am led to believe that it will be one of the best tournaments held in the South this year. The club has pleasant grounds and a list of active, enterprising members that should make a success of anything they undertake.

Michigan City, Miss. Chas. W. Tway.

On February 19, 20 and 21 last, Mr. J. A. R. Elliott of Kansas City, Mo., and Mr. E. D. Fulford, of Utica, N. Y., shot three live bird matches on Al. Heritage's grounds at Marion, N. J., one of the conditions being, so Mr. Elliott claimed and seems established, that the winner should have one-half the gate receipts. Mr. Elliott won all three matches, but Mr. Heritage for some reason declined to divide the gate receipts with him. Elliott therefore brought suit to recover same and at the trial last week was awarded judgment for $77.50.

The Palmetto Gun Club, of this city, will give the opening tournament of the season at its new club grounds on April 25. The program calls for seven 15-target events between 9 a. m. and 2 p. m., when lunch will be served, and at 3 p. m. live bird shooting will commence, two 7-bird events being scheduled. Entrance $1 for each target event and an extra charge of two cents for targets; pigeons will only cost shooters twenty cents, and the entrance to each live bird event will be $2. Four moneys in all events.

Charleston, S. C. Geo. A. Steck, Secy.

The annual meeting of the Park Region Shooting Club of this city was held on Thursday evening, April 11, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, J. B. Cowing; vice-president, N. P. Ward; secretary, J. E. Lundgren; treasurer, G. G. S. Campbell; captain, G. B. Ward; directors, H. B. Canfield, R. J. McNeil and W. B. Mitson. The club began its season's work on April 4, and will have weekly shoots during the Summer months on Thursday of each week. Membership thirty.

Alexandria, Minn. J. E. Lundoren.

The sportsmen of Wabash, Ind., are preparing for a lively time at the traps the coming Summer. The gun club there has good grounds, a fine outfit of traps and pull, three new guns have already been purchased by those expecting to be among the active, progressive members, and everything indicates one of the liveliest seasons at the trap that has been seen in that locality for many years past.

The Wilmerding Gun Club wishes to announce that it has postponed its shoot on Decoration Day, May 30, until June 15, to then take place at the club's grounds, Wilmerding, Pa. It will be an all-day tournament at Blue Rock targets. The moneys will be divided 40, 30, 20 and 10 per cent. The club will continue its semi-monthly shoots during the season, beginning April 20, to which all shooters in the vicinity are cordially invited.

A. A. Mackert, Secy.

In his matches at Burlington, Ia., last week, with Hon. Tom Marshall of Keithsburg, Ill., and W. T. Irwin of Peoria, Ill., three in all, Mr. S. S. Hale of Purdin, Mo., won them all. The match between Mr. Hale and Dr. Carver, which was to have been shot during the Big Four tournament, was, for some reason, postponed. The day the match was set for it rained so that it could not be shot, but why it was not shot later on we have not been informed.

The sportsmen of St. Paul, Mankato, Minneapolis and St. Peter, Minn., recently held a conference and it was decided to hold a tournament in each of the four towns during the Summer. The dates selected for the tournament at Mankato were May 8, 9 and 10, and for St Peter, May 13, 14 and 15. No selection of dates has yet been made for the tournaments to be held at St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Mr. Charles E. Willard, representative of the Colt Patent Fire Arms Co. of Hartford, Conn., who has heretofore resided in Chicago, will henceforth make his headquarters at Hartford. He will leave Chicago for the East early next week and as soon as he can get matters in proper shape his family will follow him. The American Field wishes Mr. Willard every success in his new home.

Mr. R. Van Gilder, secretary of the Knoxville (Tenn.) Gun Club, writes us that the tournament at that place from May 21 to 24 promises to exceed the club's expectations, and that those expecting to attend should send their names and $10 entrance, as the positive limit of entries will be 125. He says the club has sufficient assurance to warrant it in making the added money $3,000.

It is said that at the present time there are thirteen gun clubs in Champaign County, Ill., with a combined membership of one hundred and fifty. Surely this looks as if trap shooting is not dying out for want of supporters. It is an excellent pastime for men, and if indulged in to a reasonable degree is no more expensive than the majority of outdoor sports.

To allay any misapprehension regarding the matter, we desire to say that Mr. H. J. Wilson, holder of the Iowa state championship medal, has not yet been challenged. It is strange that some of the Iowa "cracks" do not get after him, and perhaps they will now treat it is understood that challenges and forfeits are to be sent to the American Field.

Ten years ago an expert trap shot could win big money at a shooting tournament, but not so to-day, for go where you will, even to the little country town of from 300 to 500 people, and you will generally find from one to three men, residents of the place, who make good scores at the trap and who will give even the experts a pretty warm race.

A gun club was recently organized at Paris, Ill., and a full set of traps and targets ordered. Until within the last year or two trap shooting throughout Central Illinois has been in a dormant state, but we are pleased to know that this season the sport is taking on a new lease of life and much old-time enthusiasm is being exhibited.

At the regular practice shoot of the Greensburg (Ind.) Gun Club, on April 9, Mr. David A. Myers had the misfortune to shoot his forefinger off, and to so badly mangle his thumb that amputation of that member, it was thought, would be necessary. Too much care cannot be exercised by people who handle firearms.

The Spring Valley (Md.) Gun Club has just been organized with a membership of twenty, and the following gentlemen elected as officers of the club for the current year: President, H. W. White; treasurer, C. T. Cockey; field captain, W. B. Cockey. The club will hold its shoots at "Garrison Forest."

The Lafayette (Ind.) Gun Club will hold its annual tournament on July 23, 24 and 25. At this tournament the handsome state diamond badge, a gift from the Lafayette Gun Club, and now held by Mr. A. Grube, will again be contested for.

For want of space we are this week compelled to omit the publication until another issue of a number of trap scores and other matters of interest intended for this week.

The Rome Gun Club of Rome, N. Y., will hold a three days' tournament on May 22, 23 and 24, the first two days at King Bird targets and the last day at live birds.

The Binghamton Gun Club of Binghamton, N. Y., announces a two days' shooting tournament to take place on May 15 and 16.

A new gun club has just been organized at Ocean Springs, Miss., and a full outfit of traps and targets has been ordered.

The Sheffield Gun Club of Sheffield, Ill., will hold a three days' tournament at inanimate targets on May 14, 15 and 16.

The Wood Powder Gun Club of Orangeville, Md., will hold a shooting tournament at inanimate targets on July 4.

The Emmetsburg (Ia.) Gun Club announces a tournament for June 6 and 7.

BOSTON SHOOTING ASSOCIATION'S TOURNAMENT

(Special Report.)

The three days' tournament of the above association, held at Wellington, Mass., on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of last week, proved to be one of the most successful meetings that has been held in the East for a long time. Boston has always been noted for running tournaments in the most approved manner, and this one was, if such a thing were possible, the "daddy" of them all. Larger entry lists have been seen here, but never has such an aggregation of "crackerjacks" faced the score in this section. A glance at the scores made is convincing argument of this.

The management was solely in charge of Mr. O. R. Dickey, New England's premier shot, and to his popularity is certainly due the attendance of the "stars" of the fraternity. Among those were Rolla Heikes, Ferd Van Dyke and W. F. [illegible] Winchester products; Tom Keller, talking Re[illegible] in the fact that so many of the contestants [illegible] States shell: Neaf Apgar, talking hand-[illegible] Hebbard, full of Empire targets; Capt. [illegible] springs and giving clever exhibitions w[illegible] Grieff, in the interest of V. L. & D., and [illegible] popular promoter of E. C. powder. A[illegible] meeting the success it was. But not to [illegible] can the honors be credited. "Dutchy" Smith and Seth Clover (with the best trap on earth) should not be forgotten. These two worthies kept everybody in the best of humor, and "clowned" the show to perfection. The local celebrities were on hand in good force and everybody seemed satisfied.

The team race on the last day was the event of the tournament, the Massachusetts team pulling up a wonderful total of 239. New York state was represented by Fulford, Bartlett, Clover and Glover, just one short of the requisite number to enter a team.

The weather on the morning of the opening day was not propitious, a hard rainstorm prevailing almost continuously, but in the afternoon the conditions were more favorable. The second day was perfect, but a high wind made "straights" come at a premium. The last day was again perfect as to weather conditions. So, taken as a whole, the management was decidedly in good favor with "Old Prob." The tournament has stirred up shooting matters for New England and the management announced that $1,000 would be added for a four days' shoot next Fall. The scores follow:

Event No. 1.—10 single targets, $1.20 entrance, four moneys.

Ful old	0111011011—7	Hobart	1111111111—10
T. H. Keller	0110111001—6	Kennison	0011011111—7
W. Bennett	1111111011—9	Climax	1111110111—9
F. Van Dyke	1111111111—10	Le Roy	1101011111—8
Bartlett	1111111111—10	Herbert	1111110100—7
Glover	1011011111—8	Howe	0001100111—5
Apgar	1111111111—10	Davis	1100111101—7
Rule	0110111111—8	Mascroft	0111100111—7
Heikes	1111111111—10

Event No 2.—10 singles, unknown angles, $1.20 entrance: Fulford 8, T. H. Keller 5, W Bennett 8, F. Van Dyke 9, Bartlett 7, Glover 8, Apgar 9, Rule 7, Heikes 8, Hobart 8, Kennison 8, Climax 9, Le Roy 6, Herbert 8, Howe 6, Davis 9, Mascroft 5. Ties divided.

Event No. 3.—20 singles, $2.40 entrance, four moneys: Fulford 19, T. H. Keller 18, W. Bennett 15, F. Van Dyke 20, Bartlett 17, Glover 17, Apgar 19, Rule 18, Heikes 20, Hobart 18, Kennerson 18, Le Roy 18, Herbert 18, Howe 13, Davis 20, Mascroft 19, Climax 20.

Event No. 4.—20 singles, unknown angles, $2.40 entrance.

Fulford	11011111111111011011-17	Heikes	11011011111111111101-17
T. H. Keller	01111101101111111111-17	Hobart	11111111111111110111-19
W. Bennett	11111111110111110111-18	Kennerson	01110111101110011011-14
F. Van Dyke—	11111101110111111111-18	Le Roy	11111111111111101111-19
		Herbert	11111111111111110111-19
Bartlett	10110111111111001111-16	Howe	10100101101110111111 14
Glover	11011111111011111111-18	Davis	11111111111111101111 19
Apgar	11111111111111111111-20	Mascroft	10001111101111000110-12
Rule	11011101111111111011-17	Climax	11001111110011111111-16

Event No. 5.—20 singles regular, $2.40 entrance: Fulford 17, T. H. Keller 7, W. Bennett 16, F. Van Dyke 17, Bartlett 15, Glover 14, Apgar 16, Rule 18, Heikes 16, Hobart 14, Kennison 15, Le Roy 16, Herbert 16, Howe 15, Davis 15, Mascroft 14, Climax 16, C. Smith 12.

Event No. 6.—10 singles, $1.20 entrance: Fulford 10, T. H. Keller 9, W. Bennett 8, F. Van Dyke 10, Bartlett 9, Glover 9, Apgar 7, Rule 9, Heikes 9, Kennison 8, Le Roy 10, Hobart 8, Davis 6, Mascroft 5, Climax 7, C. Smith 6, Howe 8, F. Bennett 8, Herbert 10, Snow 5, Grieff 8.

Event No. 7.—20 singles, unknown angles, $2.40 entrance: Fulford 17, Kennison 14, Van Dyke 19, Bartlett 12, Heikes 18, Glover 19, Apgar 15, Keller 18, Climax 17, W. Bennett 16, Davis 18, Le Roy 19, Rule 17, Howe 14, C. Smith 16, Hobart 15, F. Bennett 17, Herbert 17, Sanborn 17, Allison 9, Clover 19.

Event No. 8.—20 singles regular, $2.40 entrance: Fulford 20, Kennison 17, Van Dyke 20, Bartlett 19, Heikes 20, Glover 18, Apgar 18, Keller 13, Climax 20, Mascroft 16, Davis 19, Le Roy 17, Rule 19, Howe 18, Hobart 20, F. Bennett 17, Herbert 18, W. Bennett 19, C. Smith 16, Sanborn 19, Allison 10.

Event No. 10.—50 singles regular, $6 entrance, four moneys.

Fulford	1111111111 1111111111 1111011111 1111111111 1011111111—48	Heikes	1111111111 1111110011 1111111011 1111111111 1111111111—47
Keller	0110111111 1111111111 1111111111 0111111111 1111111111—47	Le Roy	1011111011 1111111111 1011111111 1000100111 1111111110—42
C. Smith	1111111101 1111111010 1101011111 1101111010 1111111001—40	Davis	1111111111 1111101110 1111111111 1110111101—46
Van Dyke	1111111011 1101111111 1101111111 1111111111 1111101111—46	Dickey	1001111111 1111111111 1111111111 1111111111 1111111111—48
Bartlett	1111011111 1111111111 1111111111 1111111110 1011111111—47	Herbert	1101101011 1111111101 1111111111 1111111111 0111111111—45
Apgar	1111111101 1110111110 1111111111 1111111111 1111111111—47	Climax	1011111111 1111111111 1111111111 1111111111 1111111111—49
Glover	1111111111 1110111111 1111111111 1111111111 1011111111—48	W. Bennett	1111011111 1111111111 1111111111 1111111111 1111110111—48
Heikes	1111111111 1111111111 1111111101 1111101111 0111111111—47	Rule	0111111111 1111111011 1111111111 1111111111 1111111011—47
Keuneison	1111111111 1111110011 1111111011 1111111111 1111111111—47	Mascroft	0111111111 1111111111 1001111111 1111110111 1111111111—46
Le Roy	1011110111 1111111111 1011111111 1000100111 1111111110—42	Clover	1111001110 1111111111 1111011111 1011011110 1111111111—43
Davis	1111111111 1111111111 1111101110 1111111111 1110111101—46
Dickey	1001111111 1111111111 1111111111 1111111111 1111111111—48
Herbert	1101101011 1111111101 1111111111 1111111111 0111111111—45
Climax	1011111111 1111111111 1111111111 1111111111 1111111111—49
W. Bennett	1111011111 1111111111 1111111111 1111111111 1111110111—48
Rule	0111111111 1111111011 1111111111 1111111111 1111111011—47
Mascroft	0111111111 1111111111 1001111111 1111110111 1111111111—46
Clover	1111001110 1111111111 1111011111 1011011110 1111111111—43

Event No. 10.—10 singles, unknown angles $1.20 entrance: Fulford 8, Kennerson 8, Van Dyke 9, Bartlett 9, Heikes 9, Glover 10, Herbert 6, Clover 9, Climax 10, Davis 9, Le Roy 9, Rule 10, Howe 5, W. Bennett 10, Hobart 9, F. Bennett 9, Apgar 10, C. Smith 10, Snow 7, Allison 5, Puck 10, Sanborn 8, Kellar 8, Daniels 7, Winn 10.

Event No. 11.—20 singles, unknown angles, $2.40 entrance.

Fulford	01111101111111111111-18	Hobart	11111101110110111111-17
Keller	11111111111111111111-20	Rule	11111111111111111101-19
Van Dyke	11111111101111111111-19	Davis	11111110101111111011-17
Bartlett	01111111011111111111-18	Clover	11111010111111111111-18
Apgar	01111111111101111111 18	Climax	11011111111101111111-18
Glover	11111111111111111111-20	F. Bennett	01110111111101111010-17
Heikes	11111111111111111111-20	W. Bennett	01110111111101111011-16
Kennerson	11111111111110110111-18	Puck	11110011111111011101-16
Le Roy	10111111111111111111-19	Danie s	01101101100011011101-1 2
Herbert	11111101111111111111-19	Howe	11011101111111101101-16
Winn	11111011011111011111-17	C. Smith	10111101011111111111-17
Allison	00110101111110111111-15

Event No. 12.—20 singles, everything known, $2.40 entrance: Fulford 19, Keller 18, Van Dyke 18, Bartlett 20, Apgar 20, Glover 19, Heikes 19, Kennerson 17, Le Roy 18, Mascroft 13, Herbert 18, Winn 20, Allison 19, Hobart 17, Rule 19, Davis 16, Smith 16, Climax 18, F. Bennett 17, W. Bennett 20, Puck 17, Clover 14, Daniels 16, Snow 15, Howe 15.

The 50-bird race showed some good work, J. E. Burns of the U. S. Cartridge Co., shooting under the name of Climax, landing in the only hole (49) where there was good money.

SECOND DAY

Rolla Heikes went to the front to-day in the 50-bird race and captured first money, $44, without a tie. Of course he tucked it away in his "inside pocket" and then "smole a smile," such as only Rolly can "smole."

Event No. 1.—10 single targets, everything known, $1.20 entrance, four moneys: Keller 7, Van Dyke 8, Apgar 8, Smith 6, Fulford 9, Heikes 9, Glover 9, W. Jones 7, Strong 5, Kennerson 8, Snow 7, Davis 10, Le Roy 9, Bartlett 10, Howe 5, Allison 10, Hobart 8, Winn 10, Climax 9, Herbert 10, Clover 5, Hebbard 7, Grieff 7, Mascroft 8.

Event No. 2.—10 singles, unknown angles, $1.20 entrance: Keller 8, Van Dyke 10, Apgar 9, Smith 5, Fulford 9, Heikes 10, Glover 9, W. Jones 8, Strong 8, Kennerson 9, Snow 5, Davis 9, Le Roy 10, Bartlett 9, Howe 4, Allison 7, Hobart 9, Winn 9, Climax 8, Herbert 10.

Event No. 3.—20 singles, $2.40 entrance, everything known.

Keller	01101111111111110111-17	Howe	01001011011110111001-12
Van Dyke	10011011011011111111-15	Allison	10101111111101111100-14
Apgar	01111111101111111110-17	Hobart	11111111001111011000-14
Smith	11001101010100111100-11	Winn	01111100110111111111-16
Fulford	11101111001111100101 14	Climax	11111111101111111101-18
Heikes	11111111011111111101-18	Herbert	01101011010010111111 13
Glover	11110111111101011111-17	Mascroft	11110000100001101110-10
W. Jones	11011011010111110111-15	Clover	00111101011011111010-13
Kennerson	11111*11110100111101-16	A. Money	00111110101111011111-15
Davis	10011111111111111111-18	White	11011110011011111111 16
Le Roy	10111111011111111011-17	Parker	11111111101111111111-19
Bartlett	11011101101111010111-15	Pickles	11001100110000110010—9

Event No. 4.—20 singles, unknown angles, $2.40 entrance: Keller 16, Van Dyke 20, Apgar 14, Smith 17, Fulford 20, Heikes 19, Glover 18, W. Jones 16, Kennerson 15, Davis 17, Le Roy 18, Bartlett 15, Howe 14, Allison 17, Hobart 15, Winn 18, Climax 16, Herbert 14, Strong 16, Money 15, Clover 16, Parker 14, White 16, Bowker 18.

Event No. 5.—10 singles, everything known, $1.20 entrance: Keller 8, Van Dyke 10, Apgar 7, Smith 8, Fulford 7, Heikes 8, Glover 9, W. Jones 10, Kennerson 8, Davis 6, Le Roy 8, Bartlett 7, Howe 4, Allison 10, Hobart 5, Winn 9, Climax 8, Herbert 9, [illegible] Money 7, Snow 6, Hebbard 7, Grieff 8, Parker 7, W[illegible]

Event No. 6.—20 singles, reversed traps, $2.40 ent[illegible] Van Dyke 18, Apgar 15, Smith 13, Fulford 16, Heik[illegible] W. Jones 13, Kennerson 16, Davis 13, Le Roy 19, Bar[illegible] Allison 18, Hobart 12, Winn 14, Climax 14, Herber[illegible] White 14, Parker 15, Pickles 13, Sanborn 18, Bowker [illegible] Puck 17.

Event No. 7.—20 singles, unknown angles, $2.40 entran[illegible]

[illegible]	1110101011100011101-14	Bartlett	1111111111111101111-19
Van Dyke	11111 01111111111 19	Howe	1100111010101111011-15
[illegible]	1111111111111 18	Allison	1111111111111111110-19
[illegible]	1111011 -12	Hobart	1011110111111111100-16
[illegible]	1111 11 19	Winn	1111110111111011111-18
[illegible]	111 1111 19	Climax	1111111111111111101-19
[illegible]	1 11111 -17	Herbert	1011011111111111111-18
[illegible]	11 1 17	Money	1111110000011101100-12
[illegible]	1 1 11011 17	White	1110011111011111111-17
Davis	1 1 111 16	Parker	1101111101111101111-17
Le Roy	1111111011101011111-17	Strong	1101111111101111101-17

EVENT No. 8.—20 singles, regular, $2.40 entrance: Keller 19, Van Dyke 18, Apgar 17, Smith 14, Fulford 17, Heikes 19, Glover 16, Jones 16, Kenuerson 14, Davis 18, Le Roy 17, Bartlett 18, Howe 8. Allison 14, Hobart 15, Winn 19, Climax 16, Mascroft 15, Herbert 18, Money 18, White 14, Parker 15, Pickles 15, Puck 19, Sanborn 15.

EVENT No. 9.—10 singles, unknown angles, $1.20 entrance: Keller 10, Van Dyke 9, Apgar 9, Smith 7, Fulford 9, Heikes 10, Glover 6, Jones 10, Kenuerson 8. Davis 6, Le Roy 10, Puck 7, Howe 7. Allison 10, Hobart 8, Winn 8, Climax 10, Herbert 9, Money 7, Clover 9.Parker 9, Suow 10. Elliott 7, Strong 8, Eager 10, Gore 7, Bartlett 9, Puck 6, Martiu 9, Sanborn 9, White 10.

EVENT No. 10.—50 singles, unknown angles, $8 entrance.

Parker	1111111111 1111101111 1111011110 1011111111 0111110101—43
Winn	0111111111 1111111111 1111111110 1111011111 0111111111—46
Bowker	1111111101 1010100011 1011110010 1111110111 1011111101—38
Glover	1101111111 0111011111 1111111111 1111011111 1111111111—46
Climax	1101111111 1110111111 1101011011 1111111111 0111111111—44
Davis	1111111101 1111111111 0111110111 1100110111 1111101110—42
Herbert	1110111111 1101111111 1111111011 1101111011 1111100111—43
Allisou	1001111011 1111111111 1011011111 0111110110 1101111111—41
White	1111111110 1111101111 1111111101 1011111111 1111110111—45
Keller	1110110111 1111100111 1100111011 1111111101 1011111101—40
Van Dyke	0111111011 1110100111 1011110111 1111110111 1001101111—39
Agpar	1011111111 1111111011 0111011111 1011111111 1111111011—44
Smitb	1011100110 1111110111 1101110110 1001111111 0111111011—38
Fulford	1101101110 0111111111 1111111101 1111110111 1111111111—44
Heikes	1111111111 1111111011 1111111111 1101111111 1111111111—48
Jones	0110001111 1011110111 0111111101 1101011111 1111111011—39
Dickey	1110101011 1111111111 1111111111 1100111110 0101111101—41
Kennerson	1111101110 1011111111 1111111110 1010111111 1111110111—43
Le Roy	1111111111 1111111111 1111111101 1011111110 1011111110—45
Bartlett	1111111011 1111111111 0001001111 0011111110 1010101111—38
Money	1111101101 0111110111 1111011110 0111111111 1111101011—41

EVENT No. 11.—20 singles regular, $2.40 entrance: Keller 15, Vau Dyke 16, Apgar 18, Smith 14. Fulford 18, Heikes 19, Glover 17, Joues 18, Kennerson 15, Davis 17, Le Roy 17, Bartlett 17, Howe 15, Allison 16, Mouey 14. Parker 16 Snow 9, White 15, Winn 15, Gore 12, Herbert 14, Puck 15, Johns 6, Purdy 14, Foote 11.

EVENT No. 12.—20 singles, unknown angles, $2.40 entrance: Keller 16, Van Dyke 16, Apgar 18, Smith 17. Fulford 20, Heikes 17, Glover 18, Joues 19, Kennersou 11, Davis 13. Le Roy 19, Bartlett 17. Howe 15, Allison 19, Money 13, Parker 17, White 15, Winn 16, Herbert 18, Martin 14, Strong 11, Puck 16 Foote 13.

EXTRA No. 1.—20 singles, $2.40 entrance: Keller 14, Heikes 19, Apgar 17, Van Dyke 17, Smith 15, Fulford 20, Winn 14, Glover 19, Le Roy 17, Mascroft 11, Kennison 16, Puck 16, Herbert 15, Bowker 18, Martin 5.

THIRD DAY

There were a large number of visitors to-day aud they took the deepest interest in the shooting, frequeutly applauding the brilliant work done, the "banner squad," Heikes, Van Dyke, Apgar, Keller, Fulford and Dutchy Smith, getting a round of applause as they finished with 116 out of 120. The team race closed the meeting, Mr. C. W. Dimick refereeing this event. Scores:

EVENT No. 1.—10 singles. everything known, $1.20 entrance: Keller 7, Van Dyke 10, Apgar 8, Smith 7, Fulford 8, Heikes 8, Glover 9, Le Roy 8, Winn 8, Kennison 7, Bart ett 9, Beunett 8, Suow 8, Davis 7, Grieff 8, Hyde 7, Herbert 9, Allison 8, Dauiels 6, Walls 8, Hobart 8, Clover 4, Hebbard 10, Mascroft 9.

SWEEP No. 2—10 singles. unknowu angles, $1.20 entrance: Keller 9, Van Dyke 8, Apgar 9, Smi h 8, Fulford 7, Heikes 9, Glover 10, Le Roy 10, Winn 10, Kenncrson 6, Bennett 10, Bartlett 9, Suow 10, Davis 7, Ilyde 4. Walls 7, Herbert 9, Allison 9, Daniels 9, Hobart 9, Mascroft 7. Clover 3.

EVENT No. 3—20 singles, everything known, $2.40 entrance: Keller 13, Van Dyke 20, Apgar 18, Smith 20, Fulford 19, Heikes 19, Glover 18, Le Roy 19, Winn 19, Kenne;son 17, Bennett 19, Bartlett 18, Davis 15, Herbert 18, Allison 13, Daniels 15, Hobart 14, Mascroft 20, Snow 18, Hebbard 19, Clover 11.

EVENT No. 4.—20 singles, reversed traps, $2.40 entrance.

Keller	1110111111111111111-19	Davis	0011010110010101010110-10
Van Dyke	1111111111111111110-19	Kennerson	1111111101011101110-16
Apgar	1011111111111110111-18	Herbert	0111110101111111111-17
Smith	1011110111101111111-17	Allison	1111100111011101011-15
Heikes	1111111110111101111-18	Daniels	1111111111011101101-17
Fulford	0001111101101111111-15	Mascroft	0111111111011101111-17
Glover	1111111111111101111-19	Snow	1111111111111111101-19
Le Roy	0111111011111110110-16	Walls	0110011101111101111-15
Winn	1111010001100111000-10	Gore	1011111001101111011-15
Beunett	1111110101011110111-16	Sanborn	1111100111111111111-19
Bartlett	0011111110001100111-13	Bowker	1111101111011111011-17
Hobart	0011010111010011111-12	Money	1110100101011010111-13

EVENT No. 5—10 singles, unknown angles, $1.20 entrance: Keller 8, Van Dyke 7, Apgar 9, Smith 8, Fulford 10, Heikes 10, Glover 10, Le Roy 10, Winn 9, Bennett 9, Bartlett 7, Hobart 8. Davis 7, Kennerson 10, Herbert 8, Allisou 7. Daniels 7, Mascroft 9, Walls 8, Snow 10.

EVENT No. 6.—10 pairs, three traps, $2.40 entrance: Keller 11, Van Dyke 15 Apgar 10, Smith 15 Fulford 17, Heikes 15, Glover 16, Le Roy 16, Winn 14, Bennett 12, Bartlett 14, Hobart 11, Kennerson 6, Herbert 16, Bowker 13, Daniels 15, Money 14.

EVENT No. 7.—20 singles, everything known: Keller 18, Van Dyke 18. Apgar 20, Smith 20, Fulford 17, Heikes 19. Glover 19, Le Roy 20, Winu 18, Bennett 17, Bartlett 18, Hobart 13. Kennerson 14, Herbert 18, Allison 19, Daniels 15, Mascroft 19, Hebbard 17, Gore 15, Bowker 16, Money 16, Puck 18, Sanborn 19.

EVENT No. 8.—Team coutest, five men to each team, 50 singles per man, 25 kuown traps aud angles, 25 unknown angles. Entrance $6. Optional sweep.

CLIMAX GUN CLUB'S TEAM

Keller	1011111111	1111111111	1010111111	1111111110	0111111111—45
Van Dyke	1111111111	1110111111	1111110111	1111111111	1111101111—47
Apgar	1010111111	1111111111	1111111111	1111111111	0111111111—47
Hebbard	1111111110	1111111111	1111001011	1010101011	1000101111—28
Smith	1111111111	1111101111	1111011101	1111110101	1111100111—43
Team total					220

BOSTON SHOOTING ASSOCIATION'S TEAM

W. W. Bennett	1111111110	1111111111	1111111111	1111111111	1111111011—48
F. E. Bennett	1101011111	1111111111	1111111111	1111111111	1001111111—46
Herbert	1111111111	1111111111	1111111111	1111111111	1111011111—49
Le Roy	1111111111	1111111111	1111111111	1111111111	1101111111—49
Dickey	1111010011	1111111111	1111111111	1111111111	1111111111—47
Team total					239

Shot in sweep:

Puck	1111111111	1111111111	1111111101	1110111111	1011101111—46
Heikes	1111111111	1111111111	1111111111	1111111111	1111111101—49

EVENT No. 9.—10 singles, everything known, $1.20 entrance: Keller 9, Van Dyke 10, Apgar 9, Smith 9, Fulford 9, Heikes 9, Glover 10, Le Roy 8, Herbert 10, Money 8, Winn 9, Puck 7, Sanboru 9, Mascroft 9, Bennett 5, Gore 9, Warren 7, Snow 5, Payson 8, Bartlett 7, Allison 7.

EVENT No. 10.—10 singles, unknown angles: Keller 8, Van Dyke 9, Apgar 9, Smith 10, Fulford 9, Heikes 8, Glover 9, Le Roy 8, Herbert 7, Bowker 6, Winn 10, Puck 7, Mascroft 7, Bennett 7. Allison 6, Money 9, Walls 10, Clover 8, Hebbard 7, Kennerson 6, Hyde 7, Sanborn 9, Gore 8, Martin 8

EVENT No. 11.—20 singles, known angles. $2.40 entrance: Keller 18, Van Dyke 18, Apgar 20, Smith 18, Fulford 20, Heikes 20, Glover 18, Le Roy 20, Money 17, Winn 18, Mascroft 18, Bennett 20, Bartlett 18, Allison 19, Kennison 18, Payson 8, Hyde 14, Sanborn 17, Puck 19, Herbert 19, Bowker 19.

EVENT No. 12.—20 singles, unknown angles, $2.40 entrance.

Keller	0111101101101101111-15	Kennison	1011111110111010101110-15
Van Dyke	1111011111111111110-18	Hyde	1001111110101101111-15
Apgar	1110111111111011111-18	White	0001111101111011111-15
Smith	1111011111111111010-17	Daniels	0111111000001111111 14
Fulford	1111110101101111111-17	Bowker	1111011001110101111-15
Heikes	1111111111111111111-20	Puck	1111111101111111110-18
Glover	1111111101111111011-18	Herbert	1111111111111111111-20
Le Roy	1111111101111111111-19	Gore	1011110111111111101-17
Money	1101111111111111011 18	Sanborn	1111101001111111111-17
Bennett	1111111101101011111-17	Winn	1111111111111111011-19
Allisou	1111111011111201011-17

EVENT No. [illegible] known angles: Keller 10, Vau Dyke 9, [illegible] eikes 10, Glover 9, Le Roy 7, Mouey 9, [illegible] t 7. Allison 7, Kennerson 7, Hyde 6, [illegible], Puck 9, Herbert 9.

[illegible] known angles: Keller 20, Van Dyke [illegible] ord 20. Heikes 20, Glover 19. Le Roy 19, [illegible] t 14. Bennett 20, Allison 19, Kennison [illegible] ert 19, Daniels 13.

[illegible] known angles: Keller 15, Van Dyke 18, [illegible] ord 19, Heikes 18, Glover 19, Le Roy 18, Money 18, Winn 15, Bennett 19, Allison 18, Kennerson 20, Hebbard 16, Bowker 19, White 16, Puck 20.

EXTRA No. 1.—50 singles, 25 known angles, 25 unknown augles $4 entrance: Gore (w) 39, Money 46, Winn 35, Allison 47, Bartlett 48, Glover 45, Fulford 46.

THE PHILADELPHIA KENNEL CLUB.

The above named club, through its entertainment committee, decided upon a change of plan for its regular monthly meeting, deciding to go to Riverton, on the grounds of the Riverton Gun Club, have a bout at live pigeons and targets and spend the evening at the club house with a dinner and club meeting.

The attendance was not such as the program provided justified, but those in attendance were enthusiastic and a pleasant afternoon and evening were enjoyed. Those present were Messrs. Thompson, Davis, "Leonard," Phelps, Karsner, Sinnott, J. Wolstencroft, W. H. Wolstencroft, Glass, "Fayette," F. G. Taylor, and S. Murray Mitchell.

The program included, first. an optional sweep at live birds, with a handicap in force. First at the score was Mr. Thompsou at 28 yards, of Gem fame, and he still owns her. His score was a clean one until he came to his tenth bird, which he lost, perhaps through nervousness at the thought of beating out James and "Billy" Wolstencroft and "Leonard," also one of the Riverton club cracks.

Dr. Davis, the president of the club, was second at the score, and was placed at 26 yards He placed his faith in nitro powder for first barrel and black powder for his second, and when guyed for the use of the black powder. said he proposed to "scare the birds to death if he could not kill them otherwise" Well, he partially succeeded, as one bird was so frightened he went directly into the glass surrounding the verauda of the club house. The Doctor cut down his first two birds in such style as to make other members think he had been liberally dealt with in way of a handicap of the "Messner" style The Doctor wound up with five, the boys laying it to the use of the b ack powder, and the Doctor claiming it was for want of the use of more of it.

Next was "Leonard," a well-known Riverton crack, placed at 31 yards, who had made a run of over 50 straight on the Satu.day previous. The present snap was easy, but he slipped up on two; yet he was not caring, as he was making himself so agreeable to the others. complimenting them on their "good first," "fine second," etc. He was in good form throughout, making himself specially agreeable at the table where all felt on an even footing.

Charlie Phelps was thought too good for most of the boys and had to toe the mark at 30 yards, but judging from his score of six he wss over-estimated, yet he had good birds, and several, hard hit, passed the boundary line.

Dr. Karsner at 26 yards went about his work in a quiet way, seemiug to remember everything except "tickets," and the way he stopped his first four with the use of only one barrel rather indicated him a winner. On targets he was not so successful.

Mr. Sinnott had the easy handicap of 25 yards, but it was the only "easy" thing he did have, as he coostantly drew the hardest kind of birds, and before he was hardly aware of it some of them had crossed the boundary line bouud for other climes. But with all he did exce dingly well, stopping six. On targets his score was nearly a clean one, but not of the kind that counts.

James Wolste croft was also at the limit 31 yards. He is a well-known live bird shot, a little slow with his sec nd, but a shot to be depended on in team matches.

"Billy" Wolstencroft was next, at 31 yards. Clad in a carmine colored sweater he was an attractive shooter, as usual, and the birds got, or lost, the beuefit of both barrels ere they had thought of a good start Both he and "Leouard" had several bouts in private matches, using one hand and shooting in a variety of ways, Billy holdiug his own. At targets he was equally well at home. In the main event both he aud his brother scored uine, James missing his ninth, which eyoked a smile from William, but James was the one who "laughed last," as Billy let his tenth get away, leaving no one in the sweep to make a straight.

Dr. Glass, on the 26 yards mark, scored seven, making several excellent stops and losing one or two much easier ones.

The secretary had the applause of the crowd. "Fayette," taking 30 yards as a measure to try his hand, disclaiming that he had shot a live bird for "nigh on to ten years," did about as well as the best. Losing his second only he scored nine also, having occasion to use his second barrel but twice.

The late arrivals were F. G. Taylor and S. Murray Mitchell, aud although the shoot was well nigh over they were prevailed upon to try their hands Well, they did, amid hail, rain and lightning, and some of the birds must have thought themselves struck by the latter as they tumbled to the ground. Drivers, quarterers, blue darters, all seemiugly stirred up by the elements, were going here and there. Some "laid low," others sailed serenely away, but the gentlemen were "reckless" and seemed not to care for results. The scene changes. Now they are on targets. Lawyer Taylor happy in trapping a fellow in the meshes of the law seemed to fail in making the connections here, and he rendered the verdict of "I don't like the darned thing." Mr. Mitchell kept on shooting to the end, and it didn't make any difference to him if he was making a "clean score," as it seemed a matter of course to the true sportsman that he is.

At 6:20 p. m., dinner was announced and the score here seemed a tie, as all were on familiar ground where only the difference in age marked the difference in practice. Here they remained in happy conversation until their watches reminded them that they had only a short time in which to hold a meeting before train time. Dr. Davis presided here, as elsewhere, and Dr. Glass performed his duties as secretary. There was little business before the meeting. The field trial committee reported progress and are yet looking for grounds for the club's trials, which will be most likely held at some point in North Carolina. Mr. Winslow's resignation was read, but laid on the table, as it was unexpected. He will be conferred with with a view of having him withdraw it. For years he has been one of the club's most faithful members, and the P. K. C. would hardly seem itself without his name.

After a pleasant outing, which at some time will be, and should be repeated, all left on the 8:11 train for Philadelphia and their different homes, voting the occasion a delightful one.

TRAP AT KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, Mo.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—I have been rather derelict of late in not reporting the shooting done here, which has been more lively than for some seasons past. I give herewith scores made since Saturday, March 30, omitting those for two weeks previous to that time.

The new Empire Target Club, which has improved in member ship and in the interest of its contests, held its semi-monthly shoot on Saturday afternoon, March 30. The result was as follows, each member shooting at 25 targets, known angles.

L. Scott	1000111011 0101111111 01110—17
M. B. Horton	1111111111 1111111111 11111—25
William Snow	1011110111 1111111111 01111—22
Dave Elliott	1101101110 0111011101 10111—18
T. A. Ferukas	0001000111 1011111001 00011—13
C. C. Smith	0110101101 1100111101 10110—16
S. Williams	0111111110 0001111111 11111—20
T. F. Norton	1111111111 1111111101 11101—23
Lou Erhardt	0101111101 1111111111 11111—22
J. W. Olander	1000110001 0101000110 11101—12

Tuesday afternoon, April 2, the O. K. Gun Club members met at their monthly medal shoot, when the scores made were as follows, each member shooting at 15 live birds, with the designated allowance added to his total.

	Birds allowed		Birds allowed
Beiderman	1..202102211212122-14	Gottlieb	2..200110000012101—9
Carter	2..002110110001102-10	Mallory	1..121002110120221-12
Stewart	3..202211000212002-12	Baker	2..211101101102111-14
McCurdy	3..002121011102022-13	Everingham	1..111112022122220-14
Thompson	4..000000112202000—9	Keene	0..110111200220202-10
"Crawdad"	2..0100022220100022-10	Dr. Jones	3..1211001002100012-12
Keck	0..0222022220202022-10	Mother Hubbard—	2..111120101020200-11
His Nibs	0..2201212222212222-14	Quinn	3..0111110111012100-13
Ferguson	3..2121102122121222-15	Walden	3..1012122012211201-15
Green	3..2010201000202000—9	Fletcher	2122201220101111-12
Atkins	0..2112122122022212-14	Watson	1221202222112112-13
Durraut	0..2112012111102220-12

Saturday afternoon, April 6, there was a friendly match between teams selected from the Kansas City aud Stock Yards guu clubs, the oldest and youngest organizations of the kind iu the city, the conditions being eight men to a team, 15 live birds to each man, the low team to pay for the birds. The veterans came out victorious, but it was only by the narrow margin of four birds. The work of both teams was poor, however, and below their general averages, and, although the birds were unusually fast, there was no excuse for some on each team making as poor scores as they did. Jack Doxon, who did not arrive to shoot, was allowed the average made by his fellows.

The scores were as follows:

KANSAS CITY TEAM		STOCK YARDS TEAM
T. J. Smith	2222021211222202-13	R. P. Baise	2210112011202222 12
W. S. Halliwell	0012200121222002—9	M. Steele	0000021001100012—6
D. S. Mulvane	0120201002111120—9	L. J. Gillespie	1210021012010011-10
T. Atkins	2122111222122022-14	B. J. Means	2220221011122012-12
J. Hubbard	0002102011121011—9	C. P. Baldwin	2110202220202211-11
Geo. Yeomans	0021121202101021-10	G. M. Walden	0111100011000022—8
Ed. Fletcher	2220202122002211-11	Geo. Wasson	1012022221111110-12
Jack Doxson, average score	-10	Oneid Riley	0222021210012210-10
Team total	85	Team total	81

DAVE ELLIOTT.

TRAP AT GREENSBORO

GREENSBORO, N. C.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—The contest between teams from the University, Charlotte and Greensboro gun clubs took place on Saturday afternoon, April 6, at the ball park in this city. It was a beautiful April morning, warm and springlike, but during the afternoon the wind became very high, with fitful gusts that would make the targets deviate entirely from the course at first taken.

The match was at 250 Blue Rocks per team, known trap, unknowo angles, rapid fire system; five men to the team. The match was divided into five events, 10 birds to each event, so that each team shot at 50 Blue Rocks in each event. Below will be found the scores according to events, also total for all.

GREENSBORO TEAM						CHARLOTTE TEAM
Jordan	9	9	8	9	9—44	Anthony	7	8	8	9	7—39
Gilmer	6	9	6	8	4—33	Stokes	7	6	6	5	8—32
Gleun	7	7	6	9	9—38	Carson	6	6	7	2	7—28
Daniels	5	6	5	6	7—29	Howell	7	4	6	7	4—28
Fonda	6	9	9	4	6—34	Creswell	8	7	8	9	7—39
Team total					178	Team total					166

UNIVERSITY TEAM

Brem	8	5	6	10	7—36	Bridgers	7	7	8	8	6—36
Dockery	5	3	5	4	4—21
Rankin	3	1	6	5	5—20	Team total					144
Atkinson	6	4	8	6	7—31

After the toam contest the following events were shot.

EVENT No. 1.—10 singles, unknown angles: Anthony 6, Stokes 8, Brem 6, Atkinson 8, Tate 4, Carson 5, Jordan 9, Gilmer 6, Gleun 7, Dockery 6, Creswell 7, Bridgers 9, Daniels 5.

EVENT No. 2.—10 singles, unknown angles: Anthony 6, Stokes 9, Carson 8, Gilmer 6. Tate 8, Creswell 6, Jordan 9, Bridgers 7, Gleuu 9, Brem 7, Atkinson 6, Dockery 2, Daniels 7.

EVENT No. 3.—15 singles, unknown angles: Anthony 10, Stokes 10, Tate 9, Glenn 13. Carson 6, Gilmer 8, Daniels 9, Creswell 12, Bridgers 11, Jordan 11.

EVENT No. 4.—10 singles, unknown angles: Anthony 9, Stokes 5, Tate 6, Daniels 6, Jordau 8, Bridgers 6, Gilmer 7, Glenn 8.

In justice to the Charlotte team it must be said that its men had had no practice whatever this season, having sold their old traps last Fall and their new traps having failed to come to hand; but they came ninety miles to the shoot rather than disappoint the Greensboro team. The University boys had been practicing over one trap with a rope pull, and it was hard for them to get onto the electric pull; however, Brem, Bridgers and Atkinson did some good shooting and proved themselves marksmen. Dockery was handicapped by too much headgear, wearing a hat, a shade, and a pair of glasses all at once. It was a great pleasure to the members of the Greensboro Gun Club to entertain their visitors and they hope soon to have the pleasure of meeting them again.

G.

TRAP AT WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, D. C.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—"Live Bird Jimmy" hasn't got any gun. Sad; isn't it? He can't hit much of anything, anyway, but does "a heap" of shooting. It all came about this way: He had been monkeying around with a $700 guo of a celebrated English make, blowing it open and then blowing it so that it wouldn't open. Finally he shipped it back across the "pond" accompanied by a letter of more forcible than elegant language. He had a whole lot of Smith gun, two sets of barrels, two stocks, etc. As our club's vice-president had such good luck getting up a shoot for his Lefever gun, "Jimmy" thought he would do likewise with his Smith As he wanted to get $75 for it and only ten shooters qualified it cost us $7.50 each to go in. We had nearly the same jolly crowd that we had on March 25. On that occasion a short distance man came out victor. Just the reverse this time, a 32-yard man went to the front. The shooters were not given any birds at this shoot, the handicap being that of distauce.

The Baltimore shooters, having run up against the S. P. C. A., or vice versa, have been coming over here and using the shooting grounds in Virginia. Several enthusiasts came over on Mooday and shot a few races in the pouring rain. Scores:

EVENT No. 1.—Shoot for Smith gun, 25 live birds per man, handicap rise, entrance $7.50, birds extra.

	Yards
Logan Jr	25..	1201011122*	1201010000w—11
Hellen	28..	0120002112	2210201120w—13
Wagner	30..	0*2222212	2011222211 1110w-20
Bond	30.	1211*12012	1110120212w—16
"Adams"	32..	1222*2222*	2222222222 22222—23
Osborn	28..	2022222020	222100w—11
Sackett	28..	11*0202*2*	22220w— 9
Barker	27..	*2101211121	2200122122w—16
Simpson	25..	0*2201220*	01*0102220 102w—12
Hunter	28..	0111101010	1100w—10

EVENT No. 2.—Miss and out at live birds, $2 entrance: Barker 1, Logan 0, Hunter 3, Wagner 3, Arnold 2, Sackett 0.

EVENT No. 3.—Same as preceding: Barker 1, Logan 2, Hunter 0, Wagner 3, Arnold 3, Sackett 1, Simpson 1, Helleu 3.

EVENT No. 4.—Same as before: Logan 0, Simpson 2, Hunter 0, Sackett 0, Wagner 0, Barker 3, Arnold 3, Hellen 3.

EVENT No. 5.—Same: Logan 1, Simpson 1, Wagner 3, Barker 3, Arnold 3, Hellen 0.

EVENT No. 6.—Same again: Logan 0, Wagner 4, Barker 3, Arnold 3, Hellen 4.

EVENT No. 7.—Same: Logan 1, Wagner 2, Parker 0, Arnold 3, Hellen 2.

OLD BAD LUCK.

SQUIRES—ROSS

Plainfield scored another victory on Saturday last, Mr. George Squires of that city defeating Mr. Wm. Ross of Elizabeth, the match taking place on the grounds of the Elizabeth Gun Club at Elizabetb, N. J. The birds were a good lot and were helped by a strong wind. The race was close and exciting, each man seemingly afraid of the other, and Mr. Ross the most obliging of the two, for when his opponent missed he gracefully did the same. Each of the contestants is young in match shooting, this being Mr. Squires' maiden effort. His exhibition was the better of the two, for his kills were invariably clean, every bird being centered, while his misses were as cleanly missed. Mr. Ross had two birds go out that looked as though they would be gathered; but his birds were not as well centered as his opponent's. Mr. Squires had as his adviser his father, Warry Squires, while Aaron Woodruff chaperoned Mr. Ross. T. H. Keller acted as referee, D. H Terry as trap puller, and Mr. Parker as scorer.

Mr. Squires shot an L. C. Smith gun, 7¼ pounds, using 31 grains of Walsrode powder in U. S. Walsrode cases, loaded by Apgar. Mr. Ross shot a Parker gun, 7⅛ pounds, 42 grains of E. C. powder in Smokeless cases, loaded by Woodruff. The scores follow:

Match at 50 birds per man for $50 a side, American Shooting Association rules, 30 yards rise

Squires	0022211011	2221112201	1121110210	11*2111222 0011200212—39
Ross	0022222212	2221201202	1*1221*222	1201220202 *220202122—38

A sweep at 7 birds per man, $5 entrance, two moneys, followed. The scores: Apgar 7, Keller 6, Terry 6, Ross 6, Squires 6, Benner 4, Woodruff 4, Marsh 4.

Mr. Apgar won first money on a straight score and without a tie. The four men who tied for second money added $2 each to the amount and shot the tie off miss and out, Keller and Ross dividing the purse.

ROCKAWAY POINT ROD AND GUN CLUB

The members of this club enjoyed the most successful shoot ever held by the club, on April 9, at Rockaway Park, Long Island, N. Y. The local cracks were out in force and the traps were well handled, throwing targets into the thousands. Sweepstakes, handicap events, use of one aud both barrels in some eveuts, gave variety to the events, which were shot as follows:

EVENT No. 1.—Handicap sweepstakes at 15 targets, 16 yards rise:

J. Woods 13, J. Wash 11, W. Edwards 7, G. Scott 12, P. Trochs 13, G. Walsh 9.

EVENT No. 2.—A handicap sweepstakes at single and double targets: J. Woods, scratch, 17; J. Wash, scratch, 22; W. Edwards, 5 added, 29; G. Scott, 3 added, 20; P. Trochs, scratch, 23; J. Walsh, 6 added, 18.

EVENT No. 3.—Same conditions: Woods, 5 added, 31; Wash, scratch, 26; Edwards, scratch, 15; Scott, 5 added, 22, Trochs, scratch, 26; Walsh, 8 added, 25.

EVENT No. 4.—15 singles, handicap: Major Spot, 3 added, 12; E. Bourke, 3 added, 14; Wash, scratch, 11; Woods, scratch, 14; Scott, 1 added, 12; Trochs, scratch, 12; Edwards, 1 added, 9; Walsh, 3 added, 16; Meyer, 1 added, 14.

EVENT No. 5.—Sweepstakes, both barrels, second barrel to count one-half a bird, total 25; handicap: Edwards, 2 added, 21; Wash, scratch, 21; Major Spott, 5 added, 17; E. Bourke, 5 added, 11½; Walsh, 3 added, 17; Scott, 2 added, 21; Trochs, scratch, 20½.

EVENT No. 6.—Sweepstakes, 20 singles, scratch: McKenna 5, Tremau 15, Wash 17, Walsh 9, Edwards 15, Woods 16, Trochs 17, Bourke 14, Keim 10, Spott 12, Lyons 15. McKanus 7, Malt 4.

EVENT No. 7.—Sweepstakes, 5-bird walking match, second barrel to count one-half a bird: Tiernan 3, McKenna 2½, Bourke 2, Edwards 3½, Trochs 5, Spott 0, Keim ½, Wash 3½.

EVENT No. 8.—Same conditions as the second and third events: Edwards, 3 added, 23; Keim, 4 added, 22; Mulcahey, 2 added, 21; Wash, scratch, 23; Trochs, scratch, 21; Walsh, 5 added, 20; McKenna, 8 added, 20; Spott, 8 added, 19; J. Bourke, 8 added, 15; Lyons, 3 added, 20; Meyer, 8 added, 19; Wickes, 8 added, 18.

EVENT No. 9.—Sweepstakes at 25 singles, 16 yards: John J. Tiernan 20, Edwards 15, J. Wash 17, Owen Mulcahey 17, J. Scott 14, P. Trochs 20.

EVENT No. 10.—Same conditions: John J. Tiernau 19, Edwards 17, Owen Mulcahey 20, J. Wash 18, P. Trochs 13, Edward Bourke 13.

THE EUREKA GUN CLUB

CHICAGO.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—The second weekly contest of the season of the above named club was held at the club's grounds on Saturday, April 13, in a strong and unsteady wind that made the shooting difficult for club members who had been out of practice for nearly six months. As Mr. Skinner, a very competent judge, remarked, "twenty-one on a day like Saturday last is equal to twenty-five straight on a calm day."

Mr. Skinner and Mr. De Wolf, tying for second money in the fourth event, agreed to shoot the tie off at 15 targets per man, and to add five dollars to the purse to make the contest the more interesting. The result will be found with the scores which are reported below:

At the beginning quite a number of birds were shot for practice, scores as follows being made: Stannard 23 out of 25, Skinner 19 out of 25, Phillips 32 out of 40, De Wolf 14 out of 20, Phillips again 28 out of 35, Glover 5 out of 10, Skinner again 6 out of 10.

SHOOT No. 1.—25 singles, known traps, unknown angles: Stannard 20, Skinner 15, Glover 18, De Wolf 12.

SHOOT No. 2.—Trophy contest, 25 single targets, known traps, unknown angles.

Phillips	1100111101 1101110010 11001	—16
De Wolf	1111011111 1101111101 10001	—19
Stannard	1111111111 1111101110 11111	—23
Glover	1111011110 0111111110 11110	—20
Willard	1110111100 1111011111 00111	—19

SHOOT No. 3.—25 singles: Stannard 21, Alabaster 11, Skinner 15, Glover 18.

SHOOT No. 4.—Same as preceding: Skinner 17, Alabaster 10, De Wolf 17.

The tie for second money, between De Wolf and Skinner, was shot off at 15 birds per man, five dollars being added to the pot. Result:

De Wolf	111101111011111	13 | Skinner	111011011011111 12

SHOOT No. 5.—25 singles: Sylvester 9, Glover 15, Arnold (w) 4.

SHOOT No. 6.—25 singles per man: Willard 21, Sylvester 11, Arnold 15.

SHOOT No. 7.—Same again: Willard 21, Stannard 20, Arnold (w) 7.

W. F. D.

PARKAWAY ROD AND GUN CLUB

Seven live bird events were decided by members of this club a Dexter Park, April 10, including an event in which the scores were to count in yearly averages. Handicaps and sweepstakes were the principal events, in which the following scores were made:

EVENT No. 1.—7 live birds, scores to count in the yearly averages for the annual prizes; classified. Class A—Anthony Botty, 30 yards, 4; Henry J. Bramwell, 28 yards, 3. Class B—Joseph Woolley, 26 yards, 6; Thomas Short, 26 yards, 6; David S. Van Wickilen, 26 yards, 5; John Wyse, 26 yards, 4. Class C—Henry J. Bookman, 25 yards, 5; Henry J. Selover, 25 yards, 5; Dr. George O'Berry, 25 yards, 6; Nathaniel Scott, 25 yards, 5.

EVENT No. 2.—Shooting off the ties for the club badge, at three live birds per man: George O'Berry, 25 yards 2; Joseph Woolley, 26 yards, 1; Thomas Short, 23 yards, 0 (withdrawn).

EVENT No. 3.—Handicap sweepstakes: 3 live birds, entrance $1: Henry J. Bramwell, 28 yards, 2; Robert Ellis, 27 yards 2; Joseph H. Woolley, 28 yards, 1; Henry J Bookman, 26 yards, 3; Anthony Botty, 30 yards, 2; George O'Berry, 25 yards, 3.

EVENT No. 4.—Handicap sweepstakes, same conditions as third event: Christopher M. Meyer, 28 yards, 1; Anthony Botty, 28 yards, 3; Henry J. Selover, 28 yards, 2; Henry J. Bramwell, 28 yards, 3; David S. Van Wickilen, 28 yards, 2; John H. Wyse, 28 yards, 1; Henry J. Bookman, 28 yards, 2; Nathaniel Scott, 28 yards, 0.

EVENT No. 5.—Same conditions: Christopher M. Meyer, 28 yards, 2; John N. Meyer, 28 yards, 3; Botty, 28 yards, 2; Selover, 28 yards, 1; Bramwell, 28 yards, 2; Van Wickilen, 28 yards, 3; Wyse, 28 yards, 1; Bookman, 28 yards, 2; Scott, 28 yards, 1.

EVENT No. 6.—Handicap sweepstakes, 3 live birds, miss and out: Christopher H. Meyer, 28 yards, 0; Botty, 28 yards, 1; Bramwell, 28 yards, 0.

EVENT No. 7.—Same conditions: Christopher M. Meyer, 28 yards, 3; Botty, 28 yards, 2; Bramwell, 28 yards, 0.

EVENT No. 8.—Same conditions: Christopher M. Meyer, 28 yards, 1; Botty, 28 yards, 0.

EVENT No. 9.—Same conditions: Botty, 28 yards, 2; Christopher M. Meyer, 28 yards, 1.

ENTERPRISE GUN CLUB

Some excellent scores were made by the members of this club on their grounds at North Beach, Long Island, N. Y., April 10. The shooting was at Blue Rock targets and consisted of sweeps, regular club and handicap events. Scores as follows:

EVENT No. 1.—Regular club shoot. 15 Blue Rocks. 16 yards, scores to count in yearly averages for the three annual prizes: James R. McGuire 14, Thomas V. Boddey 13, William H. Kingsland 12, David W. Jones 11 Benjamin G. Williams 14, Henry K. Vollmenning 11, Louis G. Andrews 9, Henry J. Ray 11, George W. Lawrence 5, Thomas H. Hennessey 3, Harry P. Irving 2.

EVENT No. 2.—Handicap sweepstake, entrance $1: James R. McGuire 6, Thomas V. Boddey 4, William H. Kingsland 2, David W. Jones 0, Benjamin G. Williams 3, Henry K. Vollmenning 2, Louis G. Andrews 0, Henry J. Ray 1, George W. Lawrence 3, Thomas H. Hennessey 4, Harry P. Irving 1.

EVENT No. 3.—Same conditions: James R. McGuire 0, Thomas V. Boddey 1, William H. Kingsland 4, David W. Jones 3, Benjamin G. Williams 2, Henry K. Vollmenning 1, Louis G. Andrews 2, Henry H. Ray 4, George W. Lawrence 2, Thomas H. Henuessey 1, Harry P. Irving 1.

EVENT No. 4.—Handicap sweepstakes, 10 inanimate targets, entrance $1: James R. McGuire 9, Thomas V. Boddey 7, William H. Kingsland 6, David W. Jones 5, Benjamin G. Williams 5, Henry K. Vollmenuing 4, Louis G. Andrews 2, Henry H. Ray 8, George W. Lawrence 7, Thomas H. Heunessey 8, Henry P. Irving 6.

EVENT No. 5.—Handicap sweepstakes, same conditions: James R. McGuire 10, Thomas V. Boddey 8, William H. Kingsland 7, David W. Jones 8, Benjamin G. Williams 6, Henry K. Vollmenuing 5, Louis G. Andrews 3, Henry H. Ray 7, George W. Lawrence 5, Thomas H. Heunessey 5, Henry P. Irving 6.

CRESCENT GUN CLUB

The regular monthly meeting of this club was held at Dexter Park on Thursday, April 4, with not a very large turnout. The competition resulted as follows in eight events, five birds:

EVENT No. 1.—Regular monthly club shooting competition at 7 live birds, scores to count for the yearly prizes: John Rathgen, 28 yards, 5; Otto Schneider, 28 yards, 3; Louis C. Hopkins, 28 yards, 2; Cord Mohrmann, 28 yards, 2.

EVENT No. 2.—Handicap sweepstakes race, 3 live birds: Schneider, 25 yards, 1; Hopkins, 25 yards, 2; Rathgen, 25 yards, 2; Schmidt, 25 yards, 2.

EVENT No. 3.—Handicap sweepstakes race, 3 live birds: Rathgen, 25 yards, 2; Hopkins, 25 yards, 2; Schmidt, 25 yards, 1; Robertson, 25 yards, 1; Mohrmann, 25 yards, 3.

EVENT No. 4.—Same conditions: Rathgen, 25 yards, 3; Hopkins, 25 yards, 3; Schmidt, 25 yards, 1; Robertson, 25 yards, 2; Mohrmann, 25 yards, 2.

EVENT No. 5.—Same conditions: Rathgen, 25 yards, 0; Hopkins, 25 yards, 2; Schmidt, 25 yards, 2; Robertson, 25 yards, 0; Mohrmann, 25 yards, 3.

EVENT No. 6.—Same conditions: Rathgen, 25 yards, 2; Hopkins, 25 yards, 1; Schmidt, 25 yards, 0; Robertson, 25 yards, 2; Mohrmann, 25 yards, 2.

EVENT No. 7.—Same conditions: Rathgen, 25 yards, 3; Hopkins, 25 yards, 2; Schmidt, 25 yards, 2; Robertson, 25 yards, 1; Mohrmann, 25 yards, 1.

EVENT No. 8.—Same conditions: Rathgen, 25 yards, 2; Hopkins, 25 yards, 3; Schmidt, 25 yards, 0; Robertson, 25 yards, 0; Mohrmann, 25 yards, 1.

NORTH SIDE GUN CLUB

April 9 was celebrated as the beginning of the twenty-sixth annual shooting season of the North Side Gun Club of Williamsburg, N. Y. The events of the day were shot at Dexter Park, on live birds. There was not the attendance the occasion deserved, but those present enjoyed it. The following scores were made:

EVENT No. 1.—Club competition at 7 live birds, modified Hurlingham rules: M. M. Manning, 28 yards, 7; John H. Jennings, 28 yards, 7; Eugene Barton, 28 yards, 5; John H. Mencke, 30 yards, 5; John H. Wahlen, 26 yards, 4; Henry Buck, 24 yards, 4; George H. Siemes, 28 yards, 3.

EVENT No. 2.—A handicap sweepstakes, miss and out: George H. Siemes, 28 yards, 1; John H. Jennings, 28 yards, 3; John H. Mencke, 30 yards, 3; M. M. Manning, 28 yards, 2; John H. Wahlen, 28 yards, 3; Eugene Barton, 28 yards, 2; Henry Buck, 24 yards, 2. Jennings and Wahlen divided the pot.

EVENT No. 3.—Same conditions: George H. Siemes, 28 yards, 0; John H. Jennings, 28 yards, 1; John H. Mencke, 30 yards, 0; M. M. Manning, 28 yards, 2; John H. Wahlen, 26 yards, 1; Henry A. Buck, 24 yards, 2. Manning and Buck divided.

EVENT No. 4.—Same conditions: John H. Jenulngs, 28 yards, 4; John H. Mencke, 30 yards, 4; M. M. Manning, 28 yards, 3; John H. Wahlen, 26 yards, 2; Henry Buck, 24 yards, 0. Jennings and Meucke divided.

WORK VS. DAVENPORT

These two cracks, clever gentlemen and good shots both, met on the grounds of the Westminster Kennel Club, at Babylon, L. I., on April 9, for a contest at 100 birds each. Mr. Work had agreed to concede one yard to Mr. Davenport, the former shooting at 31 yards, Mr. Davenport at 30 yards. The birds were an excellent lot, as anyone will know when it is said there were only two "sitters" in the 200 birds. These grounds are known to be hard to shoot on, as good birds are always found here, and the grounds are considered "fast."

Mr. Work was at his best and did remarkable shooting, scoring 92, with five dead out of bounds. Mr. Davenport was exceedingly unlucky in having a long list of "dead out of bounds," having no less than twelve, and scoring 86. Counting the dead out of bounds of both shooters, it left but five "unaccounted for," or really missed, out of the 200. At the end of the first 20 birds Mr. Davenport led by one bird; at the thirty second, Mr. Davenport lost his first one, dead out of bounds. Missing his next, the thirty-third, gave Mr. Work the lead, which he retained to the end, winning by six birds. The scores:

Work	1221111112 1122*21111 2111212111 1111121221	2112210212
	*121112222 2211122*11 2212121122 22012112*1	122112011*—92
Davenport	1122221111 2222222222 2222222221 1*02222*11	1222*1222*
	212*0*2211 22122222 22*12*2222 2222*2*211	22122212222—86

EMPIRE ROD AND GUN CLUB

There was a fair attendance at the shoot of this club, on live birds, at Jamaica, L. I., April 10, when the following events were decided:

EVENT No. 1.—9 live birds, handicap rises: John O'Hara, 27 yards, 6; William H. Roberts, 26 yards, 5; Hugh Smith, 25 yards, 5; P. H. Malone, 28 yards, 5; Henry L. Mahlstedt, 27 yards, 4; John H. Bamberger, 27 yards, 4; Richard D. Colgau, 25 yards, 4; Frederick A. Behrens, 25 yards, 3.

EVENT No. 2.—Handicap sweepstakes, 3 live birds, entrance $1: Henry Mahlstedt, 27 yards, 3; John J. O'Hara, 27 yards, 2; P. H. Malone, 28 yards, 2; William H. Rohberts, 26 yards, 2; Hugh Smith, 25 yards, 1; John H. Bamberger, 27 yards, 1; Frederick A. Behrens, 25 yards, 1; Richard D. Colgan, 25 yards, 1.

EVENT No. 3.—Handicap sweepstakes, 7 live birds, otherwise same conditions as second event: Henry Mahlstedt, 26 yards, 5; John H. O'Hara, 25 yards, 4; Richard D. Colgan, 25 yards, 4; William H. Robberts, 25 yards, 4; Freuerick A. Behrens, 25 yards, 2.

EVENT No. 4.—Same conditions as second event: John H. O'Hara, 25 yards, 3; Henry Mahlstedt, 26 yards, 2; William H. Roberts, 25 yards, 2; Richard D. Colgan, 25 yards, 1.

GILBERT VS. EDEY

A number of the trap shots of the Westchester (N. Y.) Country Club a few days since visited the grounds of Westminster Kennel Club to witness a live bird match that had been arranged between two members of the first named club, and also a race between Mr. J. S. Palmer, the winner of the amateur championship at Larchmont, and E. F. Thomas of Denver, Colo., who made such a great showing in the Grand American Handicap, killing 24 out of his 25 birds from the 28-yard mark. This last race, however, had to be declared off, owing to the absence of the Denver expert.

The other match was between two Westchester club men, H. Gilbert and W. S. Edey, both of whom shot from the 29-yard mark. After an interesting contest, Gilbert won by a score of 83 to 69. This caused general surprise, as Edey shot very well at Paterson, while on this occasion he missed 31 out of his 100 birds. Summary:

H. Gilbert	0020222222 0222100220 0202222222 2222222222	0221222212
	2222002220 2222222202 1222220222 2022222222	1022222222—83
W. S. Edey	0202002222 2121202002 2022020220 1212001102	2222222222
	2202202012 2202002020 0120222202 0122022222	0200122012—69

WOLFE—CICOTTE

DETROIT, MICH.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—As per arrangement the race between Mr. Theo. Cicotte and Mr. Cass Wolfe was shot at the River Rouge grounds. The conditions of the race were 150 Blue Rocks per man, unknown trap and angles, for $50 a side. Although the day was all that could be desired for target shooting neither man shot up to his usual form. The match drew quite a number of spectators, among whom was Mr. Chas. Bennett of baseball fame. Mr. Wolfe won the race by a score of 98 to 82. Following are the scores:

Wolfe	0111111000 1010110101 0111111111 0101111010	1111010011
	1111011000 1011110101 1010001111 1101111000	0111101010
	0111110101 1101100011 1111111100 0111101010	0101100111—98
Cicotte	1111000010 1010111010 1110111000 0111110111	1100011100
	0001010101 1101011010 0111010101 0011110101	1010011000
	1101100100 1101101010 0011100101 0011100101	1010100101—82

J. K.

FRANK—SPEER

SANDUSKY, O.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—I send you herewith the result of two individual matches shot between the gentlemen whose names appear above. Each match was at 50 Blue Rock targets per man, everything unknown. The first match was shot in Sandusky and the second in Norwalk, O. Scores:

FIRST MATCH

Frank	0111101111 1011110111 1110110111 0111001010	1100111011—36
Speer	1111100111 0100100111 0101011100 1101001100	1111111100—31

SECOND MATCH

Frank	0111101111 1111111111 1011011001 0111111011	1101010110—38
Speer	0110101110 1111101000 0011000111 0111110110	0101111101—31

J. P. S.

MR. J. D. GAY'S SCORE

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—Recently Mr. [illegible] shooter, well and favorably known in this [illegible] made a wager that he could break 90 out of [illegible] the targets to be thrown low and as swiftly [illegible] score appended will show accomplished [illegible] and had four "dead birds" to spare. Score:

Gay.....1101111011 1111111011 1111111111 1111111111 1111111111
1111111111 1111111111 1011111111 0111111101 1111111111—94

His load was 42 grains of E. C. powder and 1¼ ounces of No. 7½ shot in the Peters Victor shell.

C. C.

HELENA, MONT.—Inclosed find scores made at inanimate targets by members of the Telegraphers' Gun Club of this city.

SHOOT No. 1.—Club contest, 25 single targets each man.

Bellmaine	1111001111 1101111111	11011—21
Benoit	0110111010 0101110111	11001—16
Hewes	0111111111 1111111111	11111 24
Fashbaugh	0100110100 0010101111	01001—12
Shaw	0000000000 1000101100	00000— 4
Hummel	0010101011 1100010101	10011—13
Scroggy	0110001101 0111111011	10111—17

SHOOT No. 2.—Team contest, 10 single targets per man. Hewes' Team—Hewes 7, Benoit 9, Fashbaugh 7. Total 23. Bellmaine's Team—Bellmaine 9, Scroggy 6, Hummel 4. Total 19.

SHOOT No. 3.—Miss and out: Bellmaine 9, Benoit 8, Hewes 6, Fashbaugh 0.

SHOOT No. 4.—10 pairs per man: Fashbaugh 16, Benoit 16.

SHOOT No. 5.—Club contest, 25 singles per man: Hewes 19, Bellmaine 18, Scroggy 11, Fashbaugh 14, Smith 14, Shaw 2, Bryan 15, Hummel 13.

SHOOT No. 6.—Same as preceding.

Bellmaine	1110101111 1011111111	01111—21
Hewes	1000100100 0110111100	11011—13
Scroggy	0011111101 0010010000	01001—11
Hummel	0000001101 0010010111	00000— 8
Fashbaugh	0111010001 0101100011	11110—14
Smith	0100000100 00000w	— 2
Shaw	0000100010 0000000000	00000— 2
Grover	0000000110 0000110001	01101— 8
Schueider	0010000000 1000010101	00100— 6
Benoit	1111111101 1111111111	01101—22
Bartos	6010001111 1111100101	11111—17
Bryan	0110111001 1011111111	10101—18

SHOOT No. 7.—Team contest, 5 singles per man: Benoit's Team—Benoit 5, Hewes 5, Fashbaugh 5, Bartos (w) 2. Total 17. Bellmaine's Team—Bellmaine 4, Haag 3, Bryan 4, Scroggy (w) 0 Total 11.

SHOOT No. 8.—Same as preceding: Benoit's Team—Benoit 4, Hewes 3, Fashbaugh 4, Bartos 4. Total 15. Bellmaine's Team—Bellmaine 4, Haag 4, Bryan 3, Scroggy 2. Total 13.

SHOOT No. 9.—5 singles: Benoit 5, Bryan 5, Bartos 3.

SHOOT No. 10.—Club contest, 25 single targets each man: Benoit 20, Bellmaine 20, Fashbaugh 19, Smith 12, Hummel 6, Scroggy 16, Hewes 22, Bryan 13, Gunn 17.

SHOOT No. 11.—Team contest, 10 singles per man, three men to each team: Scroggy's Team—Scroggy 5, Hewes 7, Bryan 9. Total 21. Benoit's Team—Benoit 9, Fashbaugh 3, Bellmaine 8. Total 20.

SHOOT No. 12.—Team shoot as before except at 5 targets per man: Scroggy's Team—Scroggy 1, Hewes 5, Bryan 3. Total 9. Benoit's Team—Benoit 2, Fashbaugh 2, Bellmaine 4. Total 8.

SHOOT No. 13.—10 singles: Hewes 7, Benoit 5, Smith 3, Bellmaine 9, Scroggie (w) 0, Fashbaugh (w) 1.

W. H. BELLMAINE, Secy.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.—Inclosed are the scores made on April 12 by members of the Valley City Gun Club of this city:

SHOOT No. 1.—30 single targets per man: Walton 26, Gilmore 16, Beeson 14, Karstens 19, Wharton 27.

SHOOT No. 2.—10 pairs of targets each man.

Walton	11 01 10 11 10 11 11 10 11 10—15
Wharton	11 11 11 10 10 11 11 10 11 10—16
Gilmore	10 11 10 01 11 11 11 10 10 11—15
Karstens	10 10 00 10 10 11 00 10 00 11— 9
Coleman	11 11 00 11 01 10 11 10 10 10—13
Eckert	00 10 10 10 10 10 00 10 11 11—10
White	10 11 11 10 00 10 00 11 10 10—11
Calkins	11 10 10 00 11 11 10 01 10 11—13

SHOOT No. 3.—20 single targets: T. S. White 14, W. E. White 10, Eckert 13, Widdicomb 16, Holcomb 17, Kelsey 12, Gilmore 15, Wharton 18, Walton 18, Beeson 7, Karstens 13, Jenks 1, Colemau 14, Gould 16, Rood 10, Fox 13, Kelsey (w) 10, Temple (w) 8.

SHOOT No. 4.—20 single targets.

T. S. White	10011011011001111111-13	Norris	10001101011101111100 12
W. E. White	11011010011011010001-11	Karstens	10010111010011111111-14
Eckert	11001111101111111101-16	Coleman	11111001111101011111-16
Widdicomb	11011111110111110111-17	Gould	01010110011110010010-10
Holcomb	11011010111111000110-13	Rood	00000110000000100100—4
Kelsey	00100011011110010111-11	Fox	11010111101100111001-13
Gilmore	11111000110111111111-16	Temple	01101111011100101111-14
Wharton	11111101101111111101-17	White	1011111101w—8
Walton	00111111111111111111-18	Kelsey	1111111101w—9

SHOOT No. 5.—10 singles: T. S. White 9, W. E. White 3, Eckert 6, Widdicomb 9, Holcomb 8, Kelsey 8.

SHOOT No. 6.—Same as preceding: Gilmore 6, Wharton 10, Walton 8, Norris 8, Karstens 8, Temple 8.

SHOOT No. 7.—Same again: Coleman 8, Gould 5, Rood 2, Fox 7, Temple 4, Kelsey 6.

SHOOT No. 8.—25 singles per man: Widdicomb 22, Norris 18, Walton 22, W. White 7, Eckert 21, Wharton 24.

SHOOT No. 9.—Same again: Kelsey 15, Karstens 16, Coleman 21, Calkins 21, Widdicomb 20.

C. F. ROOD, Secy.

DAYTON, O.—The members of the Buckeye Gun Club of this city turned out well at the club shoot held on April 5, and as the scores in the different events will show some good work was done.

EVENT No. 1.—Practice shoot, 10 single targets per man: Rike 10, Raymond 9, McDonald 10, Mumma 7, H. Dando 7, Stark 10, Roe 8, Kiefaber 6, Protsman 9, Weaver 7, W. Dando 5, Luman 7, McCutcheon 9, Achey 5, Wilson 5, Wampler 8, J. Craig (w) 5.

EVENT No. 2.—Certificate, shoot, 25 single targets per man.

	Class
Ed. Rike	A..	1111111111 1011111111 11111—24
C. W. Raymond	A..	0111111111 1111101111 11111—23
A. Mumma	A..	1110111110 1101111111 11101—21
H. Dando	A..	1111011111 1100111110 10111—20
McDonald	A..	1101011111 1111101111 10111—21
Stark	A..	1100111111 0111111111 11111—22
Craig	A..	1111100110 1111110111 11111—22
Weaver	B..	1011111110 1111110011 01111—20
W. Dando	B..	1111111111 1111110110 11111—23
Roe	C..	1101111111 1110111101 11110—21
Kiefaber	C..	1001111111 0111011100 11011—18
Protsman	C..	1011110011 1011111111 00101—18
Luman	C	0111011010 1111110000 10111—16
J. Craig	C..	1101101010 0111011101 11110—18
Achey	C..	1101001010 1111011111 10111—18
Wilson	C..	1101011111 1111011110 01101—19
McCutcheon	D..	1111110111 0101101111 10110—19
Wampler	D..	1110011100 1011101001 11111—17

Ed. Rike won certificate in Class A, on a score of 24, W. Dando won certificate in Class B on a score of 23, Al Ware won certificate in Class C on a score of 21, and Dr. McCutcheon won the certificate in Class D on a score of 19.

EVENT No 3.—25 single targets per man: H. Dando 23, S. McDonald 22, Ed Rike 24, Mumma 23, Raymond 23, W. Dando 20, Kiefaber 20, Lewis 6, Sunderland 19, Achey 14, Adams 17, Protsman 13, McDonald 23, Wampler 13, McCutcheon 18, Z. Craig 20, Roe 18.

EVENT No. 4.—Same as preceding: H. Dando 22, W. Dando 20, Rike 24, Raymond 23, Lumau 19, Achey 19, Kiefaber 16, Lewis 6, Sunderland 13, Mumma 25.

EVENT No. 5.—Same again: H. Dando 24, Rike 23, Raymond 21, Mumma 20, Kiefaber 16, Adams 12.

BUCKEYE.

SAN ANTONIO, TEX.—In spite of the strong north wind on April 7, a few members of the San Antonio Gun Club faced the traps and tried to break the erratic Blue Rocks that were thrown from five electric traps. The targets were much harder to score than on a calm day, for as soon as they left the traps they were caught by the wind and continued on their course for a longer [illegible] usual. It would perhaps have been a good idea if [illegible] to use both barrels, or even more, for we had plenty [illegible] the targets would reach the ground; yet at the [illegible] seemed to get out of gun reach very soon, and the slow [illegible] not in it at all; and not only the slow ones, for the scores show that even the good and quick shots were not in it. The [illegible] follow:

SHOOT No. 1.—15 single targets per man to warm up: J. F. [illegible] 9, A. H. Piety 8, G. A. Chabot 6, P. Shields 9, A. Bleseubaco 8, H. W.

Ad[illegible]9. W. Vollbrecht 6, A. Thiele 6, E. Leam 8, A. Black 12, M. H. [illegible] W. G. Smith 8, A. Samuels 7.

No [illegible]ds contest, 30 single targets each man.

[illegible].....1111110111 1101011001 0001011011—20
.....0000111000 1110101001 1111101111—18
.....0011100001 1111101001 1000000000—12
.... 1101001111 0101010101 0111111101—20
....1100111011 1010011000 1110111011—19
.....0110010110 1001000111 0000000011—12
....1110110111 0100101000 1001010001—15
.....0111101111 1010111101 1010011111—22
E. Leam.....0101001101 1111110010 1111111100—20
A. Black.....0110100110 1001111001 1010000101—15
M. H. Davidson .....1100000000 0010110000 0000000010—16
W. G. Smith.....0011101101 1101010100 1101110010—17
A. Samuels .....1111010110 1111110001 1101111111—23
Jno. Epp .....1110011110 0110111011 1101011011—21

Samuels won first class medal; Epp second class; Leam third class.

SHOOT No. 3.—15 singles each man: A. Biesenbach 9, Wm. Vollbrecht 6, A. Thiele 12, A. Samuels 11, E. Leam 9, J. F. Frauce 6, P. Shields 9, Grossmanu 3.

SHOOT No 4.—Same as before: A. Biesenbach 7, E. Leam 11, Wm. Vollbrecht 7, P. Shields 5, A. Samuels 11.

G. A. CHABOT.

BURNSIDE, ILL.—Little shooting has been done here since my last report to the AMERICAN FIELD, but as the weather improves and the time for the State Sportsmen's Association's annual tournament draws nigh, I presume there will be any amount of practice by those who expect to be in shape for the state shoot. The scores of the shooting that has taken place since the first of April are given below:

APRIL 9.—Chicago Shooting Club's regular club contest, 15 live birds per man, two participants.

Birds allowed		Birds allowed
L. M. Hamline—		Ed. Biugham 1	.122111221011021-14
2	.002121110110221-13

APRIL 10.—South Chicago Gun Club's club contest, 20 single live birds each man for live bird medal.

L. C. Willard—		A. W. Reeves—
11221012122212101120-17		10212111202121011011-16
F. E. Willard—
11121110102222210212-17

Following the above was the contest for the club's inanimate target medal, 30 Empire targets per man: L. C. Willard 27, F. E. Willard 21, A. W. Reeves 26.

WATSON.

OTTUMWA, IA.—Inclosed plesse find scores made by members of the West End Gun Club at their first shoot of the season. The scores are not quite as good as they should be, owing, no doubt, to the lack of practice. The club will from now on hold its regular shoots once a week, Fridays, as last year, and the readers of the AMERICAN FIELD may look for a report of every shoot. The club this year is in a very flourishing condition in every respect, and by the consolidation of this club and the Ottumwa Gun Club the membership has been doubled and we now have one of the largest organizations of the kind in the West.

The scores below were all made at 10 single targets in each event:

Shoot No.	1	2	3	4	5
Crisman	7	8	9	6	7
Smith	6	5	2	7	5
Hedrick	7	7	9	..	..
Charles McCarroll	7	5	7	5	7
Fred Scott	7	6	1	8	8
Taylor	4	6	7	6	6
Odenwalder	5	7	4	6	3
W. M. McCarroll		9	8	7	8
Romes		..	..	4	4

R. H. TURNER.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—The Rochester Rod and Gun Club's prize shoots for the Summer, consisting of fourteen regular prizes and four special prizes, were begun on April 3. The attendance was small owing to bad weather. A special prize of one pound of cut plug smoking tobacco to be awarded to the contestant making the best score in the first shoot was won by Mr. Griffth. The scores for the first week are as follows:

Norton	1110011111 1110111011 1111110101 11	—26
Borst	1101001111 1110011011 1011101111 1100	—23
Byer	1111100110 0101110110 1101101111 1.. ..	—22
Stewart	1111111110 1001111110 1111011111	—25
Backus	1100110001 1000101001 1110110111 0010001101 0	-21
Hicks	1010111111 1111110101 1111110100 010	—24
Gardner	0111100011 0000110101 1101110101 00111001	—20
Meyer	1111110111 0110110011 1111111011 11	—26
Griffith	1111111110 1110010101 1111111100 01111111	—30
Babcock	1101111111 1110110110 0001111110 1	—23

E. D. HICK·.

PEORIA, ILL.—The following scores were made recently by members of the Limestone Gun Club with a stiff wind blowing against the birds.

SHOOT No. 1.—Club contest for gold medal, 15 single targets per man.

Chas. Shoff	.011001111111011-11	Frank Shoff	.. 110011110110000—8
Chas. Aylward	.000010000000000—1	Ed Mohn	.000101111000003—5
Wm. Allen	. 100011100000101—6	Geo. Shoff	101111111111111-14

SHOOT No. 2.—Sweepstake, 5 single targets, 25 cents entrance, two moneys: Geo. Shoff 5, Chas. Shoff 4, Ed Mohn 2, Frank Shoff 2.

SHOOT No. 3.—Same as preceding: Geo. Shoff 5, Chas. Shoff 3, Ed Mohn 3, Frank Shoff 4.

SHOOT No. 4.—Same as before: Geo. Shoff 4, Frank Shoff 3, Chas. Shoff 5, Ed Mohn 2

SHOOT No. 5.—6 single targets per man, entrance 25 cents, two moneys: Geo. Shoff 5, Frank Shoff 4, Ed Mohn 0, Chas. Shoff 2.

SECRETARY.

BROOKVILLE, IND.—Five of the twenty-one members of the Franklin Gun Club appeared at the club grounds on April 10 to shoot for a medal bearing the following inscription: "Champion Brookville Gun Club, 1895." The conditions governing this emblem are that it shall be shot for on Wednesday afternoon of each week, the man making the highest score to be the winner. To further stimulate practice at the traps by members of the club, a present of ten boxes of shells loaded to order will be presented to any member of the club making a record of 25 straight from unknown traps. A great many club members were absent from home on the day of this meeting, which, to a large degree, accounts for the small attendance. The scores made by those present, each man shooting at 25 single targets, were as follows:

Cooley	.0101110001 0000001001 00011 —9
Baker	.1111111110 0101101011 01011—18
Goodwin	.1010000110 0111110111 00000—12
McClecry	.0000000010 w .....— 1
Winscott	.1111101101 0011110100 00001—14

WM. MCCLEERY, Secretary.

SANDUSKY, O.—In order to let the outside world know that the sportsmen of Sandusky are strictly "in it" when it comes to trap shooting, I forward herewith the scores made on April 5 by members of the Sandusky Gun Club, each man shooting at 25 single targets:

Dr. Miller	.0001111110 1000101111 10110—15
Cap Miller	.1111111111 1011001001 11111—20
H Materu	.0011000110 1110111100 11101—15
Schnaitter	.1111111110 1101100111 11111—21
Knopf	.1110111010 1111111100 11011—19
Talbot	.0111011100 1011111010 11101—17
Spencer	.1101110010 0111101101 10111—17
Bauman	.0000011011 1000010111 10100—11
Speer	.1011101010 1101001110 00100—13

J. P. S.

PUEBLO, COLO.—Scores as given below were made on April 11, during a high wind, by members of the Pueblo Gun Club in a contest for the Otero prize. Each of the participants except Mr. West, who was allowed a six-bird handicap, shot at 25 single targets with the following results:

Belville	.1110101111 1101110111 00101.....—18
Sherman	.0010000101 1010011101 11111.....—14
West	.1100010001 1110110101 00111100101—17
Killin	.1111011111 1000111100 01101.....—17
Chibbuck	.1111001111 1001111111 01111.....—20
Morse	.0101101011 0010101110 11111.....—16

L. G. MORSE.

MENOMINEE, MICH.—Owing to the high wind on April 11, the day of the regular weekly shoot of the Menominee Gun Club, the attendance was light and the scores of those who did shoot, except that of McQueen, poor. Each man shot at 25 single targets, known trap, unknown angles, the scores made being as follows:

McQueen	.1101110111 1111011111 11111—22
Juliner	.0101101111 1110011011 10011—17
Kratz	.0001001010 0001110010 10001— 9
Chappell	.1100010010 0100010001 11010—10
Bothwell	.0010001010 0110100100 11101—11

MENO

MARSHALL, ILL.—Inclosed I hand the scores made on April 11 by members of the Marshall Gun Club, each man shooting at 50 single targets, 18 yards rise, known trap, unknown angle. Besier with a total of 37 won the club badge Scores:

W. Greeu	.1000101101 1011110110 1110100110 0101100101 1111001011—30
S. Hybarger	.0000100000 1000000000 0010010000 0101011001 0011001100—13
C. C. Cook	.1100111010 0110010101 1101111111 0110001101 1000111011—31
W. S. Besier	.0111101111 1101001111 1010011011 1111011110 0101111111—37

W. S. BESIER.

Answers to Correspondents

We are witting always to answer any question that we can answer, and prescribe for dogs or other animals in these columns, but we can not answer questions or prescribe by mail. In all instances where it is necessary that a sick animal should be prescribed for by mail, we refer the owner to Professor R. J. Withers, No. 627 South Main Street, Los Angeles, Cal., to whom one dollar must be inclosed to pay for his services.

KENNEL

C. D. L., Omaha, Neb.—(1) To enter a dog under one's name for competition at an A. K. C. show, is it not a rule that the dog must be that person's bona fide property? (2) If any person enters a dog as his own property, the same dog belonging to another, does not the first person mentioned commit himself in the eyes of the A. K. C.? (3) What is the penalty imposed upon such people? Ans. —(1) Yes. (2) Yes. (2) Disqualification, probably.

L. S. E., Sedalia, Mo.—Ans.—(1) Ben Hill (10158). (2) Sam Sterrett (3523). (3) Paris II (1701). (4) Which Romp? There is a dog of that name registered in Vol. I, and numbered 239. Also there was a bitch named Romp, by Druid (95)—Star (513). (4) Katy Q and Flora W are not registered. (5) Spark not registered; there was a bitch of that name, by Carlowitz—Magnet. (6) No, but he has sired some good ones.

A. L. P., Pittsburg, Pa.—Ans.—Eczema. For five consecutive mornings give one ounce of castor-oil and fifteen drops of the fluid extract of cascara segrada. For six consecutive days apply the following: Oil of tar four ounces, sulphurous acid two ounces, crude petroleum two ounces, fishoil to make one pint; give bath on the seventh day. Feed but once daily, then at night. Give plenty of exercise.

C. Y. F., West Newton, Mass.—Ans.—(1) Rhoderick is not in the American Stud Book. (2) Some of them are registered in the English Kennel Club's Stud Book, viz., Brighton (E. 21000), Denver (E. 22980), Princess Sheila (E. 18017), Sir Evelyn (E. 25236); the others we do not find, but some of them may be in the last volume, which is not yet to hand.

POINTER, Webster, Mass.—Ans.—We cannot give you any information about his breeding. He was listed in September, 1893, and in the Kennel Gazette of the following month the entry reads as follows: "Sport, dog, Geo. W. Stockwell's, sire unknown—F. C. Record's Dina I; Dec. 1, '92."

BLACKBIRD, Wrightsville, Pa.—Ans.—There is ulceration, probably the result of catarrh. Take equal parts of listerine and water and syringe into the nostrils twice daily. It may be well to defer treatment until after she has whelped.

C. P. S., Dunmore, Pa.—Ans.—He is not registered; nor can we find that he was placed at any of the Philadelphia Kennel Club's trials.

Club Elections

CLUB ELECTIONS.—Secretaries and other officers of clubs not having previously done so will confer a favor by sending us the names of all such organizations, with a list of the officers elected for the current year.

THE members of the Nippersink Club, of Chicago, held their annual meeting at the Sherman House, the evening of April 10, and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, C. D. Gastfield; directors, L. E. Welck, P. O'Malley, F. C. Mueller, W. N. Eckhardt, G. D. Eddy, C. E. Rehm, Theodore Wilkeu and T. J. Webb. The club goes to Fox Lake for an outing every Summer.

AT the annual election of officers of the East Alton (Ill.) Gun Club the following gentlemen were elected for the ensuing year: President, W. F. Henry; vice-president, Chas. Voltz; treasurer, Chas. Richards; secretary, Geo. F. Smith; captain, D. G. Tomlinson; executive board, W. P. Henry, C. N. Pence, Chas. Richards, D. G. Tomlinson and Geo. F. Smith.

AT the annual meeting of the Capital City Gun Club of Washington, D. C., held on April 1, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Blair Lee; vice-president, J. DeWitt Aruold; treasurer, James M. Greeu; secretary, Arthur S. Mattingly; fifth member of the executive committee, R. W. Barker; captain, J. Henry Gulick.

Information Wanted

WILL some brother sportsmen enlighten me through the columns of the AMERICAN FIELD on the following points: Where can I purchase the Shirley tent and stove, such as were used in the army? Where can I get second-hand army tents? Can Hannaford rubber boots be worn successfully by one that has extremely tender feet?

Boone, Ia. W. H. F.

CAN any brother rifleman give me reliable information through the columns of the AMERICAN FIELD regarding the use of any of the nitro powders in large bore rifles, say the .38 56? I have a rifle of this caliber and wish to use smokeless powder in it if I can do so with safety and get good results.

Boston, Mass. ELFIR.

CAN some sportsman tell me, through the columns of the AMERICAN FIELD, where I can get good trout fishing either in Maine, New Hampshire or Vermont?

Northampton, Mass. L F. G.

Amusements

SCHILLER THEATER.—The merry comedian Fred Lennox and the accomplished character comedy actress Josie Sadler, with their first-rate Boston company, are keeping large audiences convulsed with laughter and delighted with pretty music in "Prince Pro Tem," the new comic opera success which had an extraordinary run of 176 nights in Boston. The ensuing week is the last of this special engagement, and the advance sale is already large. "Prince Pro Tem" is as laughable a story as has ever been put upon the stage, and that in view of the great successes recently made in comic opera and musical extravaganza, is saying a great deal, but it is the work of a master, R. A. Barnet, who wrote "1492" and "Tabasco," and who knows just what the public wants. The music also is good. It is by L. S. Thompson, the composer of "The Sphinx" and other popular works. Marie Wainwright and her superb company of players will again be seen this season, for a brief engagement of one week, at the Schiller, commencing April 28. This accomplished actress to-day ranks before the public with the leading American emotional actresses of the period. Miss Wainwright has never appeared to such signal advantage as she does in her new emotional play of cotemporary society, "Daughters of Eve," written expressly for her by A. E. Lancaster and Julian Magnus.

ROYAL ENGLISH WINTER CIRCUS AND GERMAN WATER CARNIVAL.—An immense bill for Easter week. Mr. Jules Levy, the greatest cornet player in the world; the latest sensation, The Bronze Statues, something entirely new, for this week only; first week of the French duelists; Cadiz and Ida, the French artists; the three DeVan Brothers; the aerial artists, Le Vellites; the Hilderbrandt Sisters, the strongest women living; last week of Prof. Wood's six trained dwarf ponies; and the great water carnival. Two performances daily.

COLUMBIA THEATER.—Last week of the thrilling drama, "The Fatal Card," with its famous cast of characters and splendid mounting. Next week, Chauncy Olcott in a new comedy-drama, "The Irish Artist."

CHICAGO OPERA HOUSE.—Return of the great New York Casino sensation by Canary & Lederer's "The Passing Show." A company of 110 people. Matinees Wednesday and Saturday. Next week—Same.

HAYMARKET THEATER.—The new play, "A Bowery Girl," has made a great hit in showing the conditions under which so many live in the great city by the seaboard. Next week—"The Greater Shenandoah."

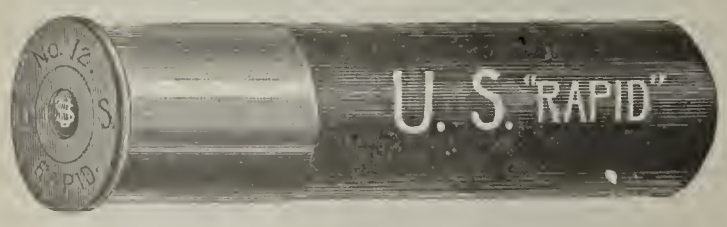
GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—First productions in Chicago of Hoyt's new farce comedy, "A Black Sheep," full of humor, bright, catchy music and specialties. Usual matinees.

MCVICKER'S THEATER.—Every night and usual matinees, Joseph Arthur's great new comedy-drama "Linsey Woolsey," introducing hypnotism as a dramatic feature.

MADISON STREET OPERA HOUSE.—Sam T. Jack's Folly Co., in "Oriental Revelries" and "Jingo's Daughter;" two big shows daily.

THE LINCOLN.—Wm. Morris, in "The Lost Paradise." Next week—"A Cork Man."

U. S. RAPID



SHOT SHELL

FOR NITRO POWDERS.

Penetration increased with pattern 15 per cent improved. Results same with every shell. None so regular ever produced before. Head of shell and battery cup one piece of metal. No gas escape, no balling of shot, no upsetting of charge.

AGENTS:
[illegible]RD,
[illegible], New York City.
[illegible] CO.,
San Francisco, Cal.

U. S. CARTRIDGE CO., Lowell, Mass.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS

Advertisers are respectfully requested to observe the following rules governing the insertion of advertisements in these columns:

CLASSIFICATION.—Strictly kennel advertisements—those which relate exclusively to dogs and to nothing else—cannot be placed under headings of "For Sale" or "For Sale or Exchange," but are subject to classification only under their proper kennel headings. When two or more breeds of dogs are mentioned in one advertisement, it destroys the possibility of giving it a distinctive heading and it is therefore classified under "Miscellaneous." For this reason it is well to advertise each breed separately.

If stud notices are included in advertisements of dogs for sale the classification given will be "Miscellaneous." Stud notices should be separate and distinct from other advertisements so as not to conflict with proper classification.

The departments of "For Sale" or "For Sale or Exchange" are reserved for advertisements relating in some way to sportsmen's goods or other articles of merchandise.

RATES.—The rate for advertisements under "Wanted," "For Sale" or "For Sale or Exchange" is 3 cents per word each insertion. The name, address, initials and abbreviations are included and count as words.

The rate for advertisements under kennel headings is 25 cents per line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each additional consecutive insertion. Estimate seven words to a line unless the words are unusually long. If display type is used the rate is $3.50 per inch for the first insertion and $2.50 per inch for each additional consecutive insertion. Special rates are given for displayed advertisements running three months or longer. Schedule will be mailed on application.

Remittances to cover full cost should invariably accompany advertisements. If too much is remitted we will refund you what is overpaid.

Advertisers will favor us greatly by writing their advertisements plainly, using separate sheets of paper. Copy should reach us by Tuesday of each week to insure insertion in that week's issue.

WANTED

Advertisements under this head inserted for Three Cents for each word. The money must be sent with the advertisement. See "Notice to Advertisers."

WANTED—Position as dog trainer or charge of kennels by experienced Englishman; can give as reference the best known judge of field trials in England; age 32, height 6 feet 2 inches; strong and active. WM. DAWSON, Osceola, Ia. 16*

A THOROUGHLY BROKEN bird dog; must be a good retriever; send full description and lowest cash price. JOS HIPP care International Shirt and Collar Co., 233 Jackson St., Chicago. 16

POSITION as dog trainer, pheasant raiser or manager of club; life experience, A1 references. PROFESSIONAL, care AMERICAN FIELD, New York office. 17

WANTED—Bicycle, must be in first-class condition and cheap; give full description. H. W. KEMPF, Evansville, Ind. 16*

WANTED—Live pigeons; must be old birds; squabs not wanted. Address JOHN WATSON, Grand Crossing, Ill. 23-21-tf

WANTED—12-gauge hammerless gun, Damascus barrels, standard make. JOHN C. CARROLL, Charleston, Ark. 16*

WANTED—Sportsmen who want an outing to send for pamphlet of Nimrod Hall, Va. Apply MANAGER. 3*

COCKER SPANIEL—Must be well broken on partridge. F. L. McCAULEY, Rapid River, Mich. 17*

WANTED—Irish setter puppy. Write or inquire of V. R. McCOMAS, Manito, Ill.

WANTED—Surveyor's compass and chain, cheap. A. BOICE, Indianapolis, Ind. 16*

LIVE foxes wanted. Address H. F. WARNEKE, Aiken, S. C. 43-11-tf

CHEAP guns wanted. LARRY RYAN, Hannibal, Mo. 42-23-tf

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE

Advertisements under this head (excepting Kennel advertisements, which must go under their proper department) inserted for Three Cents for each word. The money must be sent with the advertisement.

EXCHANGE — Overstocked; the extremely handsome English setter bitch Daisy Furness (31402), thoroughly broken, worth $150, price $50; her bitch puppy, $7.50; bitch (4 months) by Gath's Mark dog—Antonio bitch, $12.50; the above all for $60, or high grade light hammerless; pedigrees and breeders' certificate furnished; no misrepreseotation. R. H. MOTLEY, Tuskegee, Ala. 16*

FOR SALE—Or exchange, rough-coated St. Bernard, a beauty, 3 years old, perfectly marked, grandson of Sir Bedivere, registered, loves children; no place to keep him; price $200; will exchange for 12-gauge ejector of high quality, or will accept as part pay a Smith or Remington typewriter. W B. LEFFINGWELL, 123 Hartford Building, Chicago. 43-15-tf

FOR SALE — Or exchange; want shotguns, trained setters, pointers, fox, rabbit and coon dogs, fancy pigeons; some fine beagle and foxbound puppies cheap; inclose stamp, naming wants. FIELES & BRO., Christiana, Pa. 21

FOR SALE—Or exchange, foxbounds, beagles, setters, fox terriers and mastiffs; also Indian game, Buff Leghorns, W. Plymouth Rock eggs $1 per 13; also lot Poland China pigs cheap. HARRY K. SMITH, Akron, Pa. 16*

FULL brother to Lad of Rush, trained, $75; setters, litter sister to Ch. Albert's Nellie, Albert's Duchess, $50; standard bred bitch, trained, $40; want light hammerless. BARKER, Box 1388, New Orleans, La. 16*

HIGHLY BRED, finely broken English setter bitch, three years old: will exchange for gun or bicycle of reliable make in good condition. GEO. KIMBLE, Brookville, Ind. 16*

EXCHANGE OR SALE—Beagle bitch, thoroughly broken; also Stevens gallery rifle, S. & W. revolver; want setter, pointer or offers. DR. TRASK, Coleman, Mich. 16*

HANDSOME English setter bitch, finest pedigree, registered, good breeder; will exchange for gun or anything useful. F. BUCKENTIN, Morris, Minn. 16*

FOR SALE—12-gauge ejector, 7 lbs., for $125, cost $250, or will trade for cheaper gun and cash. N., AMERICAN FIELD, Chicago. 17*

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE

Advertisements under this head (excepting Kennel advertisements, which must go under their proper department) inserted for Three Cents for each word. The money must be sent with the advertisement.

CH. CINCINNATUS PUPPIES, one dog and one spayed bitch 11 months old; have been worked on quail past season; will sell cheap or trade for gun or offers. A. S. BOND, Ft. Wayne, Ind. 43-14-tf

A FEW pointer puppies cheap for cash or will trade for target rifles or anything useful to sportsman. Send for pedigree. L. O. S. CLARY, Miltonvale, Kan. 16*

WILL EXCHANGE sporting goods for large wooden decoy ducks; teal, etc., not wanted. FRED F. MERRILL, 3355 Grand Ave., Milwaukee, Wis. 16

FOR SALE

Advertisements under this head (excepting Kennel advertisements, which must go under their proper department) inserted for Three Cents for each word. The money must be sent with the advertisement.

LINNDALE STOCK FARM AND GAME PRESERVE—Eggs for hatching from pure Mongolian pheasants, fresh and fertile; golden and silver pheasants, the most beautiful birds living for yards and lawns, $5 per setting; only a limited number to spare; pure brown Leghorns and Plymouth Rock eggs $2 per setting; the only fowls worth keeping; Jersey cattle of the finest strains; fresh cows of superior milk and butter strains always on hand at moderate prices; we keep the Pekin bantams in large numbers; the only artificial mother for pheasant eggs, $1.50. W. L. GARDINER, Norwalk, Ohio. 19

FOR SALE—Light draft twin-screw steam yacht Sanibel; length 61 feet, beam 15 feet, draft light, 20 inches, with coal, water, etc., 2 feet; in commission one year, used in Florida; cabin, three staterooms, bath and water closet forward; two rooms, pantry, ice box, galley, water closet and accommodations for four men aft; sails, awnings, boats, etc., etc., fully equipped. Apply 16 EXCHANGE PLACE, Room 1, fifth floor, New York City. 18

FOR SALE—Sportsman's outfit, consisting of new L. C. Smith pigeon gun, 7½ pounds, $75; magnificent 12-gauge, 8 pounds, hammer gun, built by T. L. Golcher, cost $300, price $85, in first-class condition; fine 8 piece split bamboo combination rod and lot of trout tackle, cost $75, price $35; also Victor bicycle, model 1893, in good condition, price $35. Address CASH, care AMERICAN FIELD. 16*

FOR SALE—Two fine pointer bitch puppies 6 months old, pedigreed, $10 each; one lady's safety bicycle, imported, wheel just had new tires put on, $50; one yellowhead parrot, talks, whistles and sings, $25; am leaving town and want to close out the lot; they are bargains. Address GEORGE DIXON, Box 680, New Orleans, La. 16

FOR SALE—Snider hammerless, 10-ga., 8 lbs. 4 oz., 3-inch drop, 14-inch stock, 30-inch barrels this gun has a first-class local reputation as a shooter, is elegantly carved and good as new; cost new $175 and first check for $75 gets it; a snap; reason for selling, I have too many guns to care for. W. B. LINELL, Box 198, Pontiac, Ill. 43-7-tf

BEAGLES—Have now ready for mailing cabinet size photographs of Ch Frank Forest, Ch. Roy K, Lee III, Directum, Base, Buckshot, Ch. Lonely, Ch. Lou, Norah K and Trillah at $1 per set; extra large photo "Dinner Hour at Rockland Beagle Kennels," $1 extra: price is cost; beagles for sale. H. L. KREUDER, Nanuet, N. Y. 23

NOTHING like Perfection Mange and Eczema Cure; keeps your dog's coat in prime condition; not greasy or poisonous; ask your dealer; kills fleas, etc.; 50c. A. G. SOISTMANN, Nicetown, Philadelphia. Pedigree blanks for the asking. 43-12-tf

MANGE CURE—Fink's Original; warranted an absolute cure for all scratches, mange and skin diseases of the dog and other animals. Prepared by F. FINK, 1000 N. Sixth St., St. Louis, Mo. Price $1 pound can. Sent to any address. 16*

FOR SALE—The schooner-yacht Palmer, 104 feet 3 inches water line, in perfect order and condition with complete inventory. For particulars address 16 EXCHANGE PLACE, Room 1, fifth floor, New York City. 18

THE Berkshire Trout Hatchery Club have for sale genuine speckled trout of various ages and sizes, including yearlings and this year's hatching. Address the SECRETARY, Great Barrington, Mass. 17

FOR SALE—Cheap, one 10-bore Daly hammerless, one 10-bore Parker hammer, one 12-bore Daly hammerless featherweight, one 20-bore Daly hammerless. EDWARD A. WATSON, Nimrod Hall, Va. 17*

FOR SALE—Share stock Horicon Shooting Club, too well known to require investigating; 1895 dues paid; only cash wanted. A. M. HARDUP, 77 New Ins. Bldg., Milwaukee. 16

FOR SALE—12-gauge Remington hammer shotgun, 7½ pounds, Damascus barrels, shot about 400 times, fine condition. SIDNEY STERN, Box 8, Englewood, N. J. 16*

FOR SALE—Or exchange, modern marine engines and boilers, both new and second-hand. Address THATCHER A. PARKER, Terre Haute, Ind. 43-13-tf

HARRINGTON & RICHARDSON, 12-gauge, 8-3-2, very close, hard shooter, in good condition, $35 cash. W. H. WILLARD, Battle Creek, Mich. 16*

EGGS from decoy ducks, $2 per 13; Langshan, Brahma and B. P. Rock fowls, $1. P. A. HOWLAND, Fairhaven, Mass. 16*

FOR SALE—Or charter, small cruising steam yacht Address CAPT. ROBERTS, Foot 26th St., Brooklyn, N. Y. 16*

HIGH-CLASS pedigree blanks, 7 generations, bond paper. CHAUTAUQUA KENNELS, Box 914, Chicago. 42-19-tf

FOR SALE—Pheasant eggs, English and Mongolian. J. A. DURRELL, Pleasant Ridge, O. 18*

FOR SALE—Burgess gun, new, in fine leather case, $30. BOX 324, Cromwell, Conn. 16

PEDIGREE BLANKS — J. S. C. THOMPSON, Manhattan, Kan. 40-17-tf

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

ENGLISH SETTERS

EXTRA!

Two fine English setter puppies, 8 months old, fine lookers, in first-class condition and just right to commence to work to be ready for Fall shooting; best breeding obtainable; sire Le Roy (3460), dam Malda (35956); price $35; answer quick if you want one. J. C. IRWIN, Box 170, Louisiana, Mo. 16*

THERE have been placed in my hands for immediate sale, as the owner removes May 1 and cannot take dogs where he is going, a black, white and tan English setter bitch, 3 years old, by Gath's Hope—Lula Hill, thoroughly broken except retrieving; she is good enough to start in any field trial and can win in the hottest company on the bench; also one of her dog puppies, b., w. and t., born March 4, by Rodfield, the choice of the litter that the owner was keeping for his own use; this will appear but twice; price of bitch, $50; price of puppy, $25; first draft is the buyer; they are easily worth four times the prices asked. P. T. MADISON, Indianapolis, Ind. 17

FOR SALE—Cheap, Rod's Girl, b., w. and t. (Roderigo—Mark's Maid), 3 years old, thoroughly trained, fine hunter; Lucy Gath, b., w. and t. (Gath's Mark—Lucy Lee), 3 years old; Pure Rye, b., w. and t. (Gladstone Boy—Bessie Marshall), 3 years old; both untrained; all three bitches in whelp to Gleam's Sport, or sold with free service; puppies six and eight months old; Vanguard—Callie White and Count Gladstone—Gleam's Maid. Address P. L. ATHERTON, Louisville, Ky. Reference, the commercial agencies. 16

READ THIS—Four l. and w. English setters whelped October 17, 1894, by Dongolo (4767), dam Bess Mc (36395); also six puppies, l. and w., whelped January 8, 1895, by Dongolo (4767), dam Nellie Brack (18341); dogs $10, sluts $8; also the handsomest dog ever I saw, whelped June 1, 1894, by Dongolo (4767), dam Nellie Brack (18341). Write for pedigree of any of the above; will ship on approval. C. N. McDUFFEE, Allegan, Mich. 16

MAKE cash offer for my grand English setter bitch, Field's Cossette (25348), by Ch. Jean Val Jean—Sheena Van; thoroughly broken by W. W. Titus; a fast, stylish worker, a good looker, excellent disposition and a great brood bitch, litter sister to Atlanta, the field trial winner; she cost me $150. CHAS. T. FIELD, Harbor, O. 43-16-tf

FOR SALE—Cheap, the Llewellin setter Count Beaufort, perfectly broken and first-class stud dog; winnings 1st, Novice and V.H.C., Open New York, Reserve Chicago and 2nd Denver 1895. For further particulars see stud card (this paper), or address W. STEWART DIFFENDERFFER, 113 Commerce St., Baltimore, Md. 16

READ THIS—I lost my kennel yards during the fire; as I am crowded with dogs will sell without reserve puppies by Gleam's Sport and Gleam's Pink out of Roderigo, Gladstone's Boy, Toledo Blade and Count Gladstone bitches at half price; also three high-class broken bitches. A. M. YOUNG, Manchester, Tenn. 21

FOR SALE—Four handsome Llewellin setter puppies, Clem Gladstone—Grange Lillian, he by Ch. Paul Gladstone—Latonia, dam by Le Roy, he Colmon's London—Dido W; all black, white and tan; none better anywhere; very cheap. For description address MR. H. KILPATRICK, Columbus, O. 16*

ROD'S MAID (26233), b., w. and t., Roderigo—Hazel Henry, whelped December 26, 1891, bred by Avent & Thayer Kennels; dog puppy by Gleam's Sport—Nellie Gladstone, b. and w., whelped July 17, 1894; Maid will be in season about April 15. G. M. WOODS, Leaman Place, Pa. 16*

I HAVE for sale setter puppies by Count Roderigo out of Ben Hill, Paul Gladstone, Antonio and Roderigo bitches, ranging from 8 to 12 weeks of age; price $20 for dogs, $15 for bitches, subject to the usual conditions upon which I sell. OLD DOMINION, White Post, Va. 42-25-tf

GATH'S MARK—MATTIE BERWYN — Three choice puppies by Gath's Mark out of Mattie Berwyn, she Vanguard—Dora Berwyn, she Dashing Berwyn—Ch. Juno A; grand Derby entries; whelped January 1, 1895. A. SMITHNIGHT, 200 Cedar Ave., Cleveland, O. 16

FOR SALE—Puppies and young dogs by Gladstone's Boy out of my best brood bitches. Also several high-bred brood bitches and broken dogs. Write for what you want. No trouble to answer letters and furnish information. J. SHELLEY HUDSON, Covington, Ky. 42-17-tf

MACK NOBLE, 2½ years, orange and white, by Max Noble and Belle of Clairview; thoroughly broken on ruffed grouse, woodcock, snipe, quail and duck; retrieves from land and water; a No. 1 all-around dog; price $55. Address REV. C. GLATZERT, New Castle, Pa. 43-14-tf

SHIOWOSSO, 1½ years, by Pop Gladstone and Daisy Noble; black, white and tan, evenly marked and very handsome; splendid ranger, broken on grouse, quail and woodcock; first-class shooting dog; price $50. REV. C. GLATZERT, New Castle, Pa. 43-14-tf

TWO black, white and tan setter bitch puppies, 10 months, choicely bred; all the above are in splendid condition and guaranteed not gunshy. Send for circular; prices low; will send on approval to responsible parties. C. G. STODDARD, Dayton, O. 18

ENGLISH SETTERS, 14 weeks old, handsome, healthy and strong, combining the blood of the noted field trial and bench show winners, Ch. Cincinnatus and Gus Bondhu; price right. E. E. HAINES, Charlestown, Mass. 43-15-tf

WHAT have you to trade for Clara II (23828), a very stylish, wide ranging English setter, broken by professional handler; the best offer of cash or trade gets her. GEO. E. BRUNER, Kokomo, Ind. 43-15-tf

FOR SALE—To clear, five Llewellin bitch puppies out of a thoroughbred (not registered) bitch by my field trial dog Dashaway; price $3 each. EDWARD A. WATSON, Nimrod Hall, Va. 17*

DERBY ENTRY, one year old, by Roderigo (3514)—Lany Gladstone (33409), b., w. and t. dog. KING GRAPHIC KENNELS, New Castle, Pa 43-16-tf

DERBY AGE PUPPIES (two litters), by Count Gladstone IV out of Roderigo bitches, choicest markings. W. E. SMALL, Corinth, Miss. 43-15-tf

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

ENGLISH SETTERS

FOR SALE—A stud dog by the great Roderigo; he is 19 months old, or would exchange him for a bitch by Roderigo. For price and particulars address W. B. LINELL, Box 198, Pontiac, Ill. 43-9-tf

TROY GLADSTONE (24681), Wale Bessie (24683), b., w. and t. and lemon and white puppies; black eyes and noses; whelped February 4; $8: beauties. W. P. STONE, Harlan, Ia. 18

WHELPED JANUARY 19, all b., w. and t., combining blood of Ch. Gath, Ch. Gloster, Gladstone, Matlock's Light, Gus Bondhu; dogs $12; bitches $8. L. M. LEVERING, Baltimore, Md. 16

HIGHLY BRED English setter puppies 8 months old. F. J. HANAUER, 43 Davies St., Trenton, N. J. 16*

WRITE to KING GRAPHIC KENNELS for list of English setters. New Castle, Pa. 43-9-tf

POINTERS

FOR SALE—Brace l. and w. pointers, Panique (Ridgeview Panic—Westminster Ina), half sister to the well-known winner, Prince Regent, 18 months old, perfectly broken: Lordship (Chancellor—Her Highness), 8 months old, better than his sire at like age, full of bunt, well grown; each $50, brace for $80, worth $200; must be sold; first check takes them. RINADA POINTER KENNELS, P. O. Box 2885, New York City. 17*

BANG'S NELLIE, Hickory Staunch—Topsey, 2½ years o'd, evenly marked liver and white, thoroughly broken on prairie chickens and quails, good ranger, steady to shot and wing, good nose, stanch on point, tender mouthed retriever; would be a prize to any shooting club to retrieve pigeons, as she is a professional at that; will ship on trial C. O. D. $75. KING GRAPHIC KENNELS, New Castle, Pa. 43-16-tf

FOR SALE—Cheap, choice breeding, seven pointer puppies, males, sire Bang Bang's Boy (12335), by Bang Bang (4022); Bang Bang's Boy is thoroughly broken, has a grand nose, fine style, good looker and a rapid mover; the dam is just as good: the blood combination is Bang Bang, Craft, Temptation, Faust, Sensation, Beaufort. Write. From $10 up. CHAS. E. JOHNSON, West Troy, N. Y. 19*

FOR SALE—Two liver and white pointer dog puppies, 10 months, by Trinket's Coin (Croxteth—Trinket)—Robert's Nellie (Bracket—Robert's Trinket); two pointer bitches, 13 months, by Trinket's Coin—Ightfield Blithe, liver and white ticked. Send for circular; prices low; will send on approval to responsible parties. C. G. STODDARD, Dayton, O. 18

FOR SALE—Lola Montez (26232), winner 2nd and special Pittsburg show; grand bitch and elegant mother; whelped 26 puppies in two litters, raising 16; price $50; puppy 11 months old, fine mover and retriever, $20; puppy 4 months old, make a good one, $10. JOS. R. KING, Verona, Pa. 16*

ZIG OF KENT, King of Kent—Bang's Mollie, 2½ years old, evenly marked liver and white; has had considerable work on grouse and quail, fine ranger, obedient, stanch, good nose and all right; good specimen and handsome; price $50. KING GRAPHIC KENNELS, New Castle, Pa. 43-16-tf

FOR SALE—I still have a brace of Strideaway—Hops II pointer puppies, born January 4; great Derbys for next year; Hops was a sister to Rip Rap; I sold the other litter at $100 each; will sell these at $50 each as I have no room for them. P. T. MADISON, Indianapolis, Ind. 43-11-tf

TWO dog puppies, one by Strideawsy, dam by Ossian—Hops II, year old, $40; other by same dam, sire by King Don—Patti M II, four months old, $20; extra ones. O. H. MORDEN, Columbus, Ind. 16*

LITTLE MAID, by Duke of Hessen—Barmaid, she full sister to Rip Rap; a grand brood bitch and broken by professional. CHAS. PROCTOR, Union City, Ind. 17

BEPPO III—Belle of Ossian, 8-months-old dog; bitch of this choice field trial pointer blood guaranteed No. 1. C. A. PAETZEL, Hope, Ind. 43-7-tf

WRITE to KING GRAPHIC KENNELS for list of pointers. New Castle, Pa. 43-9-tf

FOR a bargain in trained pointers write C. W. HARRIS, Mattoon, Ill. 17

ST. BERNARDS

ST. BERNARDS FOR SALE—Several fine litters of splendid puppies from my best brood bitches by Sir Bedivere, Aristocrat, Saladin, etc.; grand heads and big boned, sired by Ch. Melrose, the winning dog and sire of the winning puppy at late Chicago show; also a prize winning daughter of Ch. Keeper, just bred to the above famous sire, and several fine young bitches for breeding or bench; prices very reasonable. A. C. SHALLENBERGER, Alma, Neb. 16

GRAND St. Bernard puppies for sale; three bitches two months old, sired by the great prize winner Ch. Melrose, dam Lady Fiudern, that grand daughter of Sir Bedivere; they are full sisters to Duke Wadsworth, the winning dog puppy at the late Chicago show; these puppies are sure to make winners. THOS. R. HARTLEY, Toulon, Ill. 19

FOR SALE—Cheap, the rough-coated St. Bernard bitch Olga II and her two 6-months-old bitch puppies; Olga II is a first-class brood bitch; puppies are very large and will make winners. Address R. E. GREEN, corner Charles and Lombard Sts., Baltimore, Md. 16

FOR SALE—Smooth-coated St. Bernard bitch, two years old, orange tawny, black points; she is a good one and can get a place in any show. For complete description and price address SMOOTH-COAT ST. BERNARD, AMERICAN FIELD office. 16

ROUGH-COATED St. Bernard dog 13 months old, registered, by Lord of Richmond [illegible] extra large bone, grand head, fine marki[illegible] sell cheap. A. J. SAUTHOFT, Mad[illegible] W[illegible]

FOR SALE—Bitches in whelp to [illegible] Lawrence Garza; also young stud [illegible] NOIS ST. BERNARD KENNELS, Streator [illegible]

CHOICE PUPPIES, $10 to $35. KENWOOD KENNELS, Nebraska City, Neb. 17*

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

TERRIERS

Fox Terriers,

BEVERWYCK POINSTER.

"THOROUGHBREDS"

For circular apply to

BEVERWYCK KENNELS

P. O. Box 6, Albany, N. Y. 39-8-52

FOR SALE—A few fox terrier puppies by Hillside Royal — Adelina (Ford Venlo — Dusky Beauty), 5 months old, very promising, all registered A. K. C.; write for extended pedigree and prices. DR. JAMES FERRIS BELT, Wilmington, Del. 17

FOR SALE—The imported Blue Bedlington terrier bitch, Beechgrove Blue Belle; only shown six times and has won five firsts and one second; price reasonable. Apply to JOHN HOPKINSON, Prudential Building, Newark, N. J. 16

FOR SALE—The high-class Irish terrier stud and show dog Hazard, winner of over thirty prizes in England; also an imported brood bitch by Irish Ambassador. HUGUENOT KENNELS, New Rochelle, N. Y. eow-43-25*

FOX TERRIER brood bitches and puppies for sale, the property of Messrs. L. & W. Rutherfurd. For stud cards, etc., address DONALD MUNRO, Manager, Allamuchy, Warren Co., N. J. 39 7-tf

FOR SALE—Irish terriers, prize winners, stud dogs, brood bitches and young stock. ANGLO-AMERICAN KENNELS, Toon & Thomas, 4 Dearborn St., Salem, Mass. 19

FOR SALE—Three litters pure white bull terrier puppies of best possible breeding; panic prices; write me. H. FRED CHURCH, Taunton, Mass 19*

FOR SALE—Skye terriers $10, for Christmas; Yorkshires in February. SEEBACH, Peru, Ill. tf

BLACK AND TAN, Irish and fox terriers. F. H. HOYT, Sharon, Pa. 43-9-tf

SPANIELS

COCKER SPANIELS—Blacks and reds, full grown and puppies of both sexes; finest breeding in the world; without reserve; send for list. ANDREW LAIDLAW, Galt, Ont. 16

KING CHARLES and Ruby spaniels; also puppies by Campanini; prices from $20 up, according to age and points. YETSAN KENNELS, Oyster Bay, N. Y. 17*

WILL EXCHANGE a chestnut and tan standard bred cocker spaniel dog, 1½ years old, for pointer dog. B. B. BABCOCK, Hornellsville, N. Y. 16*

COCKER SPANIELS—Special sale of young stock and brood bitches; prices low. HANDSOME BROOK KENNEL, Franklin, N. Y. 42-12-tf

BLACK cocker spaniel bitch, 9 months old, $30, out of Lady Black by Jake W. WALTER CORLIES JR., Poughkeepsie, N. Y. 17*

IMPORTED and native champion bred cockers, all colors, $15; stamp. REHAM KENNELS, Omaha, Neb. 43-15-tf

FOR SALE—Irish water spaniel bitch, 8 months old. CANTON KENNELS, Canton, Ill. 16*

POODLES

MEADOWMERE KENNELS

MILO (30101)
Champion of America.

Southampton, L. I., N. Y., breeders and importers of

French Poodles

(Black curly coated only); first prize winners New York, Boston, Chicago, Philadelphia, 1893-4.

A GRAND LOT OF DOGS FOR SALE

For catalogues price lists and stud cards apply to NEW YORK CITY AGENCY, 13 William St., Room 1006.

GREAT DANES

FOR SALE—The splendid blue Great Dane Senta's Brutus; also his beautiful litter sister Senta's Rheda, and some choice striped puppies of both sexes, and one six-months striped bitch, sired by Earl of Wurtemberg; nothing to trade and no low priced stock. LAWRENCE GREAT DANE KENNELS, Evanston, Franklin County, Ohio. 16

FOR SALE—An extra fine lot of Great Dane puppies from imported first prize winning stock. PENN SQUARE KENNELS, Frank P. Smith, 1428 S. Penn Square, Philadelphia, Pa. 16

FOR SALE—Two splendid litters of puppies of prize winning stock. HERCULES KENNEL, Ottawa, Ill. 16

IRISH SETTERS

IRISH SETTER PUPPIES for sale, by Ch. Kildare (champion Irish setter dog of America and sire of Queen Vic, champion Irish setter bitch of America), stud fee $25. Also English setter and Chesapeake Bay puppies of the finest strains Send for catalogue containing photos of celebrated stud dogs and bitches. OAK GROVE KENNELS, Moodus, Conn. tf

FOR SALE—Two Irish setters one year old, one dog, one spayed female; the best of working stock; price $[illegible] WOODHADEL KENNELS, [illegible]a, Pa. 16*

GREYHOUNDS

[illegible] hounds; rare opportu[illegible]shes to take out this [illegible] show next week. GEO. [illegible], Salem, Mass. 16

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

BLOODHOUNDS

GENUINE imported stock, no better blood in America; imp. Buccaneer, winner in England and America, for sale; Jack Shepard, by Belhus—Rosemary, winner of 21 first prizes, in the stud. Inclose stamp for photo and prices. ROOKWOOD KENNELS, Lexington, Ky. 19

FOR SALE—Bloodhounds, man trailers of the best breed; two males, one year old, $100; one male, 2½, and female two years old, $175; all thoroughly broken and guaranteed. THOS. BARKLAY, 1887 W. Sixth St., Cincinnati, O. 16

BEAGLES

SEVERAL good bitches in whelp to our champion stud dogs, Bannerman and Fitzhugh Lee; also puppies and young stud; prices reasonable and quality guaranteed: stamp for catalogue. GLENROSE BEAGLE KENNELS, Orland, Me. 43-14-tf

THREE fine puppies 7 months old, two dogs, by field trial winners; just right to train this Summer; $10 each. DONNYBROOK KENNELS, Oshkosh, Wis. 43-15-tf

CHESAPEAKES

THE SUPREMACY of our trained Chesapeakes is shown by last season's prize record: 1st Westminster K. C., Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and Louisville: kennels embrace Ch. Cleveland (30464) and Chlg. Bigelow's Rose (32897), only recognized champion in existence; prices low as $20; illustrated catalogue; all ages. B. ALTON SMITH, N. Attleboro, Mass. 43-10-tf

OTTER-COATED CHESAPEAKES, suitable for Fall 1895; stamp. C. H. LUCAS, Compton, Md. 16*

MASTIFFS

MASTIFFS FOR SALE—A number of puppies out of my winning stud dogs at prices from $35 to $50; these are as well bred as is possible to get and I think will make winners. CHAS. E. BUNN, Peoria, Ill. 42-26-tf

ENGLISH MASTIFF PUPPIES, from registered stock. PLAZA KENNELS, Piqua, O. 43-16-tf

DACHSHUNDE

SOME very fine dachshund puppies 4 months old out of prize winning stock; also some older prize winners for sale. ARTHUR FROEMBLING, 131 S. Clark St., Chicago, Ill. 17*

GENUINE bred dachshunde for sale, grown dogs and puppies. R. KOENIGSBAUER, 1014 S. 12th Street, Philadelphia, Pa. 16*

WOLFHOUNDS

EXPECTED—Two litters of wolfhound puppies April 16 and May 1; orders booked now; send for 1895 illustrated catalogue, just out, of wolfhounds and fox terriers for sale. SEACROFT KENNELS, Essex, Mass. 17

BULLDOGS

FOR SALE—Bulldogs and puppies, out of imported stock, by Leonidas, Stanley and King Lud. ROBINDALE FARM, Roslyn, L. I., N. Y. 17*

COLLIES

COLLIES AT $10—Puppies from Champ Christopher, Ch. Metchley Wonder strain, also older stock. J. L. LINCOLN, Union Club, Chicago. 43-tf

FOXHOUNDS

PURE Goodman foxhounds for sale at all times. BOURBON KENNELS, North Middletown, Ky. 40-20-tf

PUGS

BLACK PUG—Solid black young pug dog, very handsome. ANDREW LAIDLAW, Galt, Ont. 16

MISCELLANEOUS

St. Bernard Puppies

Three litters of blue bloods for sale, quality the finest in America.

DOGS IN THE STUD—Alton Jr, Altoneer, Melrose King, Jim Blaine.

MELROSE KENNELS,

E. H. Moore, MELROSE, MASS. 43-15-tf

WANTED!

Any sportsman wanting first-class broken and unbroken setters or pointers can get what they want from me; new list now ready.

T. C. DAVEY, London, Ont.

DOGS! DOGS! DOGS!

Less than panic prices. If you want to get a first-class dog of the following breeds cheap write us and we will give you a bargain:

Mastiffs, St. Bernards, Newfoundlands, hnll, fox, Skye, Scotch and Yorkshire terriers, setters, pointers, beagles and pugs. Toy black and tan terriers a specialty and a grand lot of collies cheap. In fact for a first-class dog of any breed you cannot do better than with us.

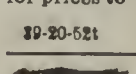
N. B.—A grand lot of rabbit dogs on hand.

CEDAR KENNELS,
42-17-tf 135 S. 8th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

DOGS FOR SALE.

If you want to buy a dog of any kind write for prices to

J. HOPE,
39-20-52t 29 N. 9th St., Phila., Pa.



Irish Setters at Stud.—Imported Clairemont Patsy, Flash of Claremont, (Ch. Elcho Jr. x Nino), and Chief Red Cloud. Great Prize Winning Blood. Send for Circulars. G. W. Hamilton, Centreville, Kansas.

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

DOGS FOR SALE—St. Bernards, mastiffs, Newfoundlands, pointers, setters, spaniels, pugs, all kinds of terriers. I make a specialty of game pit and show bull terriers and Yorkshire terriers; dogs and puppies of the above on hand at prices to suit the times; satisfactiou and safe delivery guaranteed. EXCHANGE KENNELS, office 2312 Walnut St., Philadelphia, Pa. 44-6

FOR SALE—A beautiful dog and bitch, February 28, black and white, combining Lady Margaret, Duke of Hessen, King of Kent and Hops; two dogs January 6, and three dogs and one bitch January 19, by Rod H; Stanch George, Old and St. Blaise in the stud, very low; all for sale, pointers and setters. J. R. PURCELL, Gainesville, Va. 43-16-tf

BALLY AND RATTLER, broken and pedigreed foxhounds; Rambler and Wonder, broken coon hounds; also pair St. Hubert bloodhound puppies two months old; one male Siberian bloodhound puppy; will make grand man trailers; all for sale to make room. E. D. HOPKINS, St. Francisville, Missouri. 16

ENGLISH BULL TERRIERS—A choice litter of puppies by Croydon Dutch (25434), dam Lowland Duchess (28432); these are winners; Croydon Dutch and Bellerby King first Chicago, Des Moines and Denver; at stud, fee $15; also several bitches in whelp. F. L. DEVER, 316 Illinois Ave., Peoria, Ill. 43-13-tf

ST. BERNARDS AND PUGS—Stud dogs, brood bitches and fine puppies. Fair prices. Established 1877. CHEQUASSET KENNELS, Lancaster, Mass. 33-20-tf-eow

FOR SALE—One of the best coon hounds on earth, extra good voice, can be heard for miles. THOS. R. HARTLEY, Toulon, Ill. 16

TRAINED dogs on bears, coons, rabbits. Also English bloodhounds, man trailers. GREENDALE KENNEL, Kensington, Ohio. 42-22-tf

POINTERS AND SETTERS—Selling out; inclose stamp. LUKE W. WHITE, Fredericksburg, Va. 18*

DOG TRAINING

K. 9 KENNELS—Pointers and setters, educated for practical field work; kennels located in a game country, and but 2½ hours from Philadelphia; twenty years' experience; best reference. W. G. SMITH, Marydel, Md. 43-26*

CAN TAKE two more dogs to train on chicken and quail; birds plentiful and terms reasonable. T. G. DAVIES, Bloomfield, Ia. 18*

GEO. BATTISON—Professional bench show handler. Dogs boarded and put in condition for shows. Youngstown, Ohio. tf

STUD DOGS

AT STUD, $35.—CH. DUKE OF KENT II

Field trial winner; only pointer in U. S. winning title of champion in one year, 1893. First challenge, 1st field trial class; also special for best sporting dog in show, Louisville, 1894.

AT STUD, $35—IMP. MOLTON BANNER

One of the best pointers living; has beaten his sire, Saddleback, champion of England, Sandford Graphic and Sandford Bang, England's best. Puppies—Dogs $25; bitches $15; from the best of field trial and bench show blood bitches. GLEN ROCK KENNELS, 2 N. Market St., Boston, Mass.

Westminster Kennel Club.

KING OF KENT

In the Stud. Fee $50.

ALSO

Sandford Druid

FEE $35.

Apply to F. O. DeLUZE, Treasurer, 18 S. William St., New York.

LITTLE NED

AT STUD.

Will be allowed a limited number of bitches. Pointer fanciers in the North and West should not miss this opportunity in breeding to this grand little pointer. Ned won second U. S. F. T. C. Derby 1893, third U. S. T. All-Age 1893 and second U. S. F. T. All-Age 1894. For extended pedigree and further particulars address

Frank Richards, Stewart, Minn. 18

AVENT & THAYER KENNEL

STUD DOGS.

Count Gladstone IV	Fee $50
Topsy's Rod	50
Orlando	30
Chevalier	30
Cassio	25
Juno's Rod	20

Broken and unbroken foxhound and puppies for sale. Broken deer, fox and opossum hounds and English setters puppies for sale.

AVENT & THAYER KENNEL

HICKORY VALLEY, TENN.

42-7-eow-tf

AT STUD—The promising young Gordon setter, Dwight Don (32376); winner first at Detroit, second Chicago, first at Denver, 1895; fee $25. L. P. HIGGINS, Station X, Chicago. 16

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

WILLOWDALE KENNELS,

CROWN POINT, IND.

ALAN-A-DALE—A. K. C. No. 28135, collie dog, by Ch. The Squire—Stonehurst Lassie, by Ch. Roslyn Dandy, a magnificent dog and image of his sire; V.H.C. Chicago 1894. See comment AMERICAN FIELD. Alan is a horn cattle dog.

DANDY DAVY (A. K. C. No. 36097), by Moray—Clover, the handsomest and most intelligent collie I ever bred; sable with white collar and ruff.

TACONY, smooth-coated fox terrier (A. K. C. 28136), white with tan marked head; inbred Prince Result; game as a pebble.

I will sell at reasonable price Moray, prize winner; Don Cameron and other A. K. C. collies; also book orders for young dogs. Address WILL J. DAVIS, Columbia Theater, Chicago. 39-4-tf

COLLIES

AT STUD—Ch. Christopher (21675), sire of more winners than all other stud dogs combined; also sire of Ormskirk Chris, sire of Rufford Ormond, and Edgbaston Marvel, sire of Portington Bar None, Southport Perfection, Gold Dust, etc.; fee $35.

Wellesbourne Charlie (21676), sire of Lady Gay, Dorothy, Donna, Domine, etc., all first prize winners; fee $25.

Irish Terriers

At Stud—John Briggs (35584); the best bred stud dog in America; fee $15.

Puppies from two to twelve months old by above dogs from prize brood bitches for sale. "The Dog and How to Breed, Train and Keep Him," 30c postpaid. CHESTNUT HILL KENNELS, Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia.

Rodfield

Black, white and tan English setter, winner of both of the U. S. F. T. Club's All-Age Setter Stakes at Bicknell, Ind., and West Point, Miss., 1894 and 1895. Catalog free.

STUD FEE $50.

P. T. MADISON,

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

COUNT BEAUFORT

Moss Wind'em—Primrose, bred by and recently imported from Mr. R. Ll. Purcell Llewellin, Shrewsbury, England. Here is a chance for setter breeders to obtain the pure Count Noble blood, Moss Wind'em being a litter brother to that noted sire of field trial winners. This is an opportunity that owners of Gladstone and Druid—Ruby bitches should not lose sight of. Fee $25. Count Beaufort is a handsome, well built blue belton and is thoroughly field broken, keen nose and wide range, having been well shot over by Mr. Llewellin. For pedigree, etc., address W. STEWART DIFFENDERFFER, 113 Commerce St., Baltimore, Md. 44-8

AT STUD. FEE $50.

ELDRED KENNEL.

CHAMP. ANTONIO

Bench show and field trial winner and sire of winners.

Fee $35 BRIGHTON TOBE

2nd Manitoba and International All-Age Stake 1893; 1st Manitoba and International All-Age Stake 1894. Apply for circular.

C. H. PHELPS JR., 13 Dock St., Philadelphia.

AT STUD—The well-known pointers,

CHAMPION RUSH OF LAD

Sire of field trial and bench winners; fee $25.

SPRINGSIDE FAUST

Winner of 1st puppy class Boston, 1894, only time shown; fee $15. Some exceptionally fine puppies from $10 up, ages 6 months to 1 year. ELDRIDGE KENNELS, 248 S. Warren St., Dayton, Ohio. eow-20

WIRE-HAIRED FOX TERRIERS

BROWN FRENCH POODLES.

For stud cards, list of produce stakes ($175 annually offered in prizes), price lists and full particulars, apply to HILL HURST KENNELS, Wellesley, Mass. 45-7

At Stud. Fee $25.

WHYTE B.

I offer the services of this highly bred setter; he is by Roderigo—Florence Gladstone. He won the A.-A. Stake in the Southern trials, beating such dogs as Antevolo, Novelist, Eugene I, Tremont, Bettye S and Bob Cooper. I candidly believe Whyte B has more endurance than any dog living, and is a combined field trial and shooting dog; his equal would be hard to find. H. S. BEVAN, Somerville, Tenn.

AT STUD. FEE $25.

BRADLEY

(Rowdy Rod—Breeze Gates).

Bradley is an all-day tireless hunter and one of the best English setters in New England; he won 3rd in the N. E. F. T. Derby 1892, 2nd in the sweepstakes November, 1894. Address D. A. GOODWIN JR., Newburyport, Mass. 43-8-eow-tf

AT STUD,

ST. BERNARDS and COCKER SPANIELS

Four St. Bernards and eight cocker spaniels, including Ch. Middy at $15 stud fee. Send stamp for illustrated catalogue.

SWISS MOUNTAIN KENNELS, Germantown, Philadelphia, Pa.

STRIDEAWAY FEE $50

Meadow City Kennels, Northampton, Mass.

17

COCKER SPANIEL

CH. BLACK DUKE

Stud $15. Bitches for breeding purposes admitted free of duty in Canada. GEO. DOUGLAS, Woodstock, Ont. 23

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

IMP. ALBERT'S RANGER

The handsomest English setter in America; fee $25; return expressage paid on bitches. Photo 20 cents. Stud cards. WARWICK KENNELS, Bridgeport, Conn. 43-13-tf

THE imported pointer, lightfield Domino (28216 A. K. C. S. B.), bred by Hon. A. P. Heywood-Lonsdale, Salop, England, and the superb young setter, Monk of Zion (31110 A. K. C. S. B.), by the great Monk of Furness; will be allowed four approved bitches each at $35. This brace we will put against the world as gentlemen's field dogs on all kinds of game in any country; they hunt to the gun, they point and back every known game bird; they move to the hand; they will not break shot or chase rabbits; they retrieve from land and water; they know their place in the house, yard, wagon or on a train; if you want a dog that knows something. W. L. GARDINER, Norwalk, Ohio. 19

AT STUD—The noted Goodman foxhound Dick (Logan—Star), from Blue Grass Kennels, Serena, Ill.; height 23¼ inches; chest, 30 inches; weight, 55 lbs. For portrait, history and description see AMERICAN FIELD July 14, 1894. Fee $25. W. F. STURGILL, Ceredo, W. Va. 17*

AT STUD—Smooth fox terriers; Raby Palissy, $15; Seacroft Bourbon (the only D'Orsay blood in America), $10; Seacroft Result (Ripon Stormer—Richmond Jesmine), $10. Send for illustrated stud catalogue just out. SEACROFT KENNELS, Essex, Mass. 17

AT STUD—Smooth fox terrier Blempton Stipend, by Stipendiary, $10; rough coilie Chesterford Hero by Sefton Hero, $10. J. W. WAKEM, Highland Park, Ill. 17

RODERIGO is dead, but I have his brother Cassio (23600), winner of four field trials; fee $25; try him. W. F. VAN BUSKIRK, Odell, Ill. 43-15-tf

AT STUD—Ezra Noble (Count Noble—Alphonsine), field trial and bench show winner; fee $25. J. E. BORDEN, Lausdowne, Del. Co., Pa. 18*

RED COCKERS—Champ. Red Jacket and Red Roland at stud; red puppies. BRANT COCKER KENNELS, Brantford, Ont. 43-14-tf

CHESAPEAKE MARK (35914); fee $10. L. K. MASON, Hastings, Ia. 43-15-tf

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

AT STUD—Smooth fox terriers, Hillside Royal (Starden's King—Hillside Freda); fee to approved bitches, $10; Raby Prince (Raby Palisy—Richmond Jesmine); fee to approved bitches, $10. WAWASET KENNELS, Wilmington, Del. 44-5

AT STUD—Col. Kent (31054), by King of Kent—Bang's Mollie, half brother of Rip Rap, Strideaway and Kent Elgin; a No. 1 fielder; $15. Address SAM A. NOFTZGER, Proprietor Eel River Pointer Kennels, North Manchester, Ind. 43-8-tf

AT STUD—The noted smooth fox terrier Wawaset Baron, Hoister—Hillside Freedom; fee to approved bitches, $10. Address T. D. MAY, 131 S. Clark St., Chicago. 16

AT STUD—Fox terrier Blempton Stipend, by Stipendiary, $10; rough collie Chesterford Hero by Sefton Hero, $10. J. W. WAKEM, Highland Park, Ill. 17

RODERIGO is dead, but I have his brother Cassio (23600), winner of four field trials; fee $25; try him. W. F. VAN BUSKIRK, Odell, Ill. 43-15-tf

AT STUD—Ezra Noble (Count Noble—Alphonsine), field trial and bench show winner; fee $25. J. E. BORDEN, Lausdowne, Del. Co., Pa. 18*

RED COCKERS—Champ. Red Jacket and Red Roland at stud; red puppies. BRANT COCKER KENNELS, Brantford, Ont. 43-14-tf

CHESAPEAKE MARK (35914); fee $10. L. K. MASON, Hastings, Ia. 43-15-tf

At Stud. ELDRED KENNEL. Fee $50.

CHAMPION ANTONIO

Winner of four firsts in trials and sire of Rodfield, Tony's Boy, Tony's Gale, Lady Mildred, Dasn Antonio, Daisy Hunter II, Nellie Fox and Antoinette; eight winners out of seventeen of his get starting.

Brighton Tobe. Fee $35

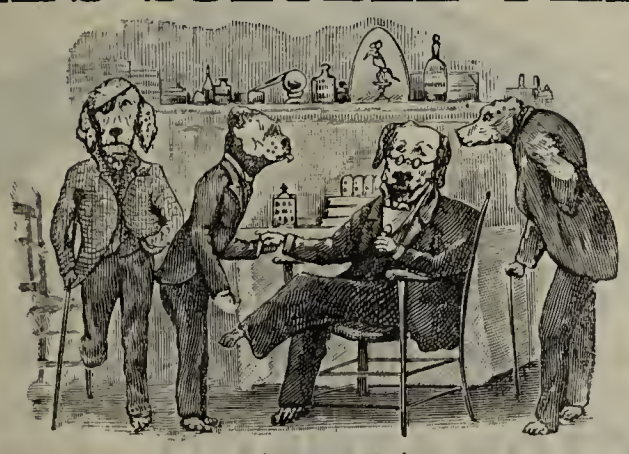
Second A.-A. Stakes Northwestern and International Trials 1893; first A.-A. Stakes Manitoba and International Trials 1894. Read what the AMERICAN FIELD said of him. Pointer and setter puppies for sale. Stud cards, shipping directions and circular of C. H. PHELPS JR., 13 Dock St., Philadelphia, Pa. 43-16-tf

MATERIALS AND FIXTURES.

LITTLE'S SOLUBLE PHENYLE

LITTLE'S PRIZE MEDAL PHENYLE DOG SOAP

Cleanses the skin and improves the coat.



Superior to any now before the public. Beautifies, cleanses, and gives a healthy glow to the skin.

LITTLE'S SANITARY PHENYLE DOG SOAP.

(COPYRIGHTED.)

DOCTOR—There is no doubt, my friends, but that you are suffering from a most severe case of Mange. My advice is that you procure at once LITTLE'S SOLUBLE PHENYLE, a sure cure, which will also keep your kennels nice and sweet.

PATIENTS (all together)—We will send to our druggist for it at once.

Used by the principal kennels and bench shows in America and Europe. No keeper of valuable dogs, horses, etc, should be without it. Pronounced by the highest authorities the best and most effective disinfectant in the market. For full particulars of its various uses, send for pamphlet to

MORRIS LITTLE & SON, 175 to 177 N. 10th Street, Brooklyn, E. D., N. Y.

Excelsior Dog Cakes

As their name implies, are the highest grade in the world, and five gold and silver medals corroborate the fact. They are economical and nutritious and are used by the leading kennels in the United States and Europe.

The Swiss Mountain Kennels have the following to say about them:

SWISS MOUNTAIN KENNELS, GERMANTOWN, PA.

Gentlemen:—I have used Excelsior biscuits now for about five years and find them perfectly satisfactory in all respects. The dogs are not only fond of them, but even when used exclusively have always agreed splendidly with them, keeping them generally in a good healthy trim.

I have several times recommended them to other parties and have never failed to find them otherwise than pleased with them. I would here thank you for your prompt attention to all orders. I am perfectly willing you should publish anything I have said formerly or at the present time in regard to the cakes. Yours truly,

(Signed) MRS. F. SMYTH.

Send $4.50 for sample bag of 100 lbs.

FRANKLIN HALLET & CO.,
2 and 4 Stone St., NEW YORK.

"OUR DOGS"

The Popular English Doggy Journal.

Published every Saturday. Price One Penny.

Contains all the latest news and the best information relating to doggy subjects. It is written in chatty style; is contributed to by the best known writers; is well illustrated; enjoys a large circulation, and is a splendid medium for the sale or purchase of dogs. Subscription 8s. 6d per year post free to any part of America. SPECIMEN COPIES FREE.

Our Dogs Publishing Co., Ltd.,
10 Gore St., Piccadilly, Manchester, Eng.

McGILL UNIVERSITY, MONTREAL

Faculty of Comparative Medicine and Veterinary Science (late Montreal Veterinary College) Calendars sent on application, giving full information to intending students. Lectures commence first Wednesday in October in each year Apply to CHARLES McEACHRAN, D. V. S., Registrar, Veterinary College, 6 Union Avenue, Montreal, Canada. 37-1-tf

HEALTH FOR ANIMALS

Of the many skin diseases that animals are subject to there are none which cannot be brought under control and speedily cured by the use of

GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP

Its perfect reliability in all forms of

MANGE

From which dogs suffer has been attested by innumerable testimonials from the highest kennel authorities and the grateful acknowledgment of thousands of dog owners.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS. SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

NEW BOOK ON DOG DISEASES

And How to Feed

Mailed FREE to any address by the author.

H. CLAY GLOVER, D.V.S., 1293 Broadway, N. Y

R. J. WITHERS, M. D.,

VETERINARY SURGEON,

627 So. Main St., LOS ANGELES, CAL.

Treatment of dogs a specialty. Good hospital accommodations. Advice by mail $1.

Dr. Nelson N. Lefler,
VETERINARIAN,
Geneseo, Livingston Co., New York.

Proprietor of the Genesee Valley Pointer Kennels; special attention given to canine diseases; advice by mail, $1. A few finely bred pointer puppies for sale. Write for prices before you buy elsewhere. 19*

In answering advertisements please mention that you saw the advertisement in the AMERICAN FIELD.

MISCELLANEOUS.

HUNTING GROUNDS

ALONG THE LINE OF

The Southern Railway

The Southern Railway is endeavoring to furnish every facility to sportsmen to reach its territory, especially Virginia and the Carolinas, where game is abundant and game laws lenient.

Most convenient schedules are operated from all junction points.

For additional information apply o

S. H. HARDWICK,
Ass't Gen. Pass. Agt., Atlanta, Ga.
C. A. BENSCOTER.
Ass't Gen. Pass. Agt., Knoxville, Tenn.
W. A. TURK,
Gen. Pass. Agt., Washington, D. C.
R. D. CARPENTER,
Gen. Agt., 271 Broadway, New York
HENRY HIDEN,
Commercial Agt., 10 Rookery, Chicago.
L. S. BROWN,
Gen. Agt., 1300 Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, D. C.

Chicago & Alton R.R.

AMERICA'S MOST POPULAR RAILROAD.

PERFECT PASSENGER SERVICE.

The direct, best and only rock-ballasted dustless line between

CHICAGO AND KANSAS CITY,
CHICAGO AND ST. LOUIS,
ST. LOUIS AND KANSAS CITY.

Through Pullman Service Every Day From

CHICAGO TO COLORADO

JAMES CHARLTON, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Chicago, Illinois.

TROUT, BASS, PIKE,
PICKEREL, PERCH, DUCKS,
GEESE, SNIPE, CHICKENS

Are all to be found contiguous to the line of

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

SEND FOR

Natural Game Preserves of North America.

CHAS. S. FEE,

Gen. Pass. and Ticket Agt., ST. PAUL.

PLOVER, ANTELOPE, BEAR,
MOUNTAIN LIONS, CARIBOU, DEER,
WHITE GOATS, ROCKY MTN. SHEEP

The Home of the Tarpon

AND

Ducks by the Million

AT

Aransas and Corpus Christi Bays

REACHED BY

San Antonio and Aransas Pass Ry.

Twelve tarpon caught in one day, November 4, 1894, by Messrs. Bull, Lewis and Wallis of Racine, Wis., aggregating over 800 pounds.

Tarpon season March 15 to December 1; duck shooting December to March.

Send for maps, etc. Address

E. J. MARTIN, Gen. Pass. Agt., San Antonio, Tex.

Spratts Patent

DOG AND POULTRY FOODS AND MEDICINES.

THE BEST IN THE WORLD.

Highest per centage of pheasants reared on Spratts Patent Game Food.

Send for pamphlet, etc., to

Spratts Patent (America), Ltd.,
239-245 E. 56th St., New York.

Sportsmen, Attention

Trophies of the Forest and Field.

Few sportsmen are enabled to keep souvenirs of the chase, as the art of preserving objects of natural history is not generally known. Still there are thousands of gunners and anglers, together with their parents, wives and children, who often lament their want of ability to mount rare and curious objects of interest, and trophies of the day's or week's outing.

Many homes could be beautified, and many dens made more attractive, if the head of the house, his wife or children, had even a slight knowledge of preserving and mounting objects of natural history. We often hear the remark: "How I wish that big pike's head could be saved." Or we hear the complaint from a hunter who deplores the fact of his inability to save more than the horns of the moose, elk or caribou which he shot on the trip; while the lady of the house, intent on decoration, laments the wasting of the plumage of the game birds.

Do you wish to learn a simple method by which you can preserve and mount a humming bird, grouse, snipe or quail in natural position, or put up a pike's or deer's head?

Do you wish to follow a course of instruction which does not require one-third of the work needed for the old style of preserving by stuffing, and at less than one-tenth of the expense and no tools excepting a knife and file?

Do you wish to give agreeable employment to your family, and beautify your homes, enlighten your children, and delight and interest your friends?

If so, send 75 cents for complete instructions and one pound of prepared compound ready for use, enough to prepare twenty to forty birds. Mention the AMERICAN FIELD, and address MORRIS GIBBS, M. D., Kalamazoo, Mich.

PETER MÖLLER'S NORWEGIAN COD LIVER OIL

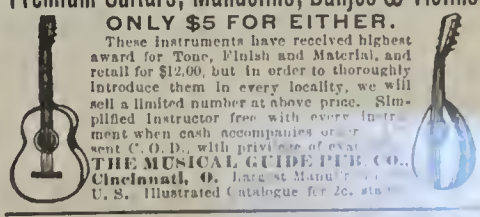
SWEETEST, SOUNDEST, BEST AND OF ABSOLUTE PURITY.

Put u in flat, oval bottles, sealed and dated. All druggists.

W. H. SCHIEFFELIN & CO, New York,
Sole Agents for the U. S. and Canada.

Premium Guitars, Mandolins, Banjos & Violins

ONLY $5 FOR EITHER.



These instruments have received highest award for Tone, Finish and Material, and retail for $12.00, but in order to thoroughly introduce them in every locality, we will sell a limited number at above price. Simplified Instructor free with every instrument when cash accompanies order sent C. O. D., with privilege of examination. THE MUSICAL GUIDE PUB. CO., Cincinnati, O. Largest Manufacturers in the U. S. Illustrated Catalogue for 2c. stamp.

In answering advertisements, please mention that you saw the advertisement in the AMERICAN FIELD

AMERICAN GAME FISHES.

Their History, Habitat, and Peculiarities. How, When and Where to Angle for Them.

The book is a sportsman's book, edited and written by sportsmen. In a relatively small compass th able writers, whose names appear in the contents, and are well qualified to discuss the subjects upon which they have written, have furnished a book that, as a whole, is unequaled in the history of angling literature, and no other volume presents to its readers so much valuable information by such a corps of accomplished and experienced writers upon AMERICAN GAME FISHES.

The 155 illustrations will be found to be accurate, truthful portraits of all the fishes described in the volume. The two colored plates give the natural colors of the flies commonly used in angling, and enhance the value of the book.

CONTENTS.

Introduction.....A. N. CHENEY.
The Salmon.....CHARLES HALLOCK.
The Pacific Salmon.....W. A. PERRY ("Sillaiicum").
The Land-Locked Salmon.....J. G. A. CREIGHTON.
The Tarpon.....W. N. HALDEMAN.
The Striped Bass.....FRANCIS ENDICOTT.
The Black Bass.....DR. J. A. HENSHALL.
The Blnefish.....PROF. G. BROWN GOODE.
The Mascalonge.....LR. J. A. HENSHALL.
The Mascalonge in Wisconsin Waters.....A. A. MOSNER.
The Brook Trout.....F. H. THURSTON ("Kelpie").
Trouting on the Nipigon.....W. H. H. MURRAY.
The Lake Trout.....REV. LUTHER PARDEE.
The Rocky Mountain Trout.....G. O. SHIELDS ("Coquina").
Sea Bass, Sea Trout, Spanish Mackerel, Grouper, Mangrove Snapper, Sheepshead and other Southern Fishes.....S. C. CLARKE.
The Grayling.....F. H. THURSTON.
The Pike.....W. D. TOMLIN.
The Wall-Eyed Pike.....A. A. MOSHER.
The Pickerel.....W. D. TOMLIN.
The White Perch.....FRED. MATHER.
The Yellow Bass, White Bass, Strawberry Bass, Rock Bass, Crapple, Sunfiish, Yellow Perch, and Minor Perch and Sunfishes.....PROF. DAVID STARR JORDAN.
The Senses of Fishes.....WILLIAM C. HARRIS.
Fishing-Tackle, and How to Make It.....J. HARRINGTON KEENE
Reels, Their Use and Abuse.....B. C. MILA
The Angler's Camp Outfit.....G. O. SHIELD

Large 8vo, 580 Pages. Cloth $2.50; Half Morocco, $4.00; Full Morocco, gilt edged, $5.50.

This book is just from the press, and will be sent by mail on receipt of price. Address

AMERICAN FIELD PUBLISHING CO.,

245 and 247 State Street, Chicago, Ill.

NEW EDITION.

Lancaster's Famous Book,

THE ART OF SHOOTING.

LONDON, FOURTH EDITION, 1892. PRICE $3.00.

AUTHOR'S PREFACE.

At the special request of many gentlemen who have placed themselves in my hands for instruction in the Art of Shooting, I have written this treatise. I have endeavored to meet the special requirements of those who are anxious to become proficient in the art, and who have hitherto been unable to obtain, in a precise form, the information necessary for studying the first principles of shooting at moving objects.

I have had the honor of coaching many gentlemen, and have carefully studied the points especially requiring attention that have cropped up from time to time while giving instruction. I hope that those who favor me by studying this treatise may quickly gain the knowledge so essential for the making of an average f not a brilliant shot.

I have purposely refrained from touching on the several merits of any class of gun—being a gunmaker myself; and, indeed, so many good works on the subject have been written, that it is really unnecessary.

I trust that authors from whose writings I have made extracts will pardon me when they recollect that I have at heart one object, viz., the advancement of a manly sport which gives pleasure, health and occupation to many, and to the patronage of whose followers I am indebted for many pleasant days.

THE AMERICAN FIELD PUB. CO.,

CHICAGO, ILL.

The Best Hunting and Fishing Grounds of the United States

ARE ON THE LINE OF

The Santa Fe Route

The Greatest Railroad in the World.

It has the shortest line, the most comfortable trains and the best meal service between Chicago and the Pacific Coast. It traverses fourteen states and territories and reaches the most important points in the West and Southwest. It is the route for sportsmen to patronize. For descriptive books and detailed information address

C. A. HIGGINS, Room 725 Monadnock Bldg., Chicago.

REMINGTON HAMMERLESS GUNS

AUTOMATIC AND NON-AUTOMATIC EJECTING.

The Finest American Guns Ever Offered.

Ten qualities; from $45 upward.

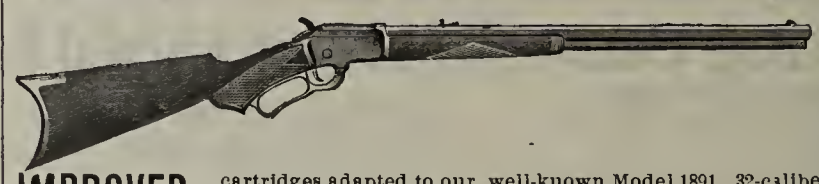
GUARANTEED FOR NITRO POWDERS.

Complete catalogue of Remington firearms on application.

REMINGTON ARMS CO., ILION, N. Y.

Makers of the Celebrated Remington Bicycle. Office 316-315 Broadway, New York.

MARLIN - 1891 - .32-CALIBER.



IMPROVED. WE are pleased to announce that the U. M. C. Co. has improved the well-known cartridges, 32 long rim fire and 32 long Colt's center fire. These are the cartridges adapted to our well-kuown Model 1891, .32-caliber rifle. As now mad the cartridges are Inside Lubricated. A higher grade of Powder and a Special Hard Bullet are used. As a result the cartridge is more efficient in accuracy and penetration, cleaner and more enjoyable to use. As these cartridges are made in this form especially for Rifle use, be sure to call for .32 Long Rifle R. F. and .32 Long Rifle C. F. cartridges.

Full information about all Rifles of our manufacture furnished on application.

THE MARLIN FIREARMS CO., NEW HAVEN, CONN.

GRASS SUITS

FOR DUCK SHOOTING

$2.50 EACH.

NO. 1 SOLID CEDAR DECOYS

With Glass Eyes, $3.90 per dozen.

Everything for the sportsman. Send for complete catalogue.

Von Lengerke & Antoine,

271 Wabash Ave., Chicago,

Loaders of High Grade Shotgun Ammunition.

Modern American Pistols and Revolvers.

By A. . GOULD ("RALPH GREENWOOD").

An accounnt of the development of pistols and revolvers in America; description of the varieties manufactured; manner of shooting them; work accomplished with these arms; departments of pistol and revolver shooting; impressions formed by studying these arms, and rules goveruing pistol and revolver competitions. Profusely illustrated 222 pages, cloth bound.

PRICE $1.50.

Address AMERICAN FIELD PUB. CO., Chicago, Ill.

THE AMERICAN FIELD

THE SPORTSMAN'S JOURNAL.

Vol. XLIII—No. 17. NEW YORK AND CHICAGO, SATURDAY, APRIL. 27, 1895. PRICE, Ten Cents. $5.00 Per Year.

Published by the American Field Publishing Co.

TERMS.—Five dollars a year; two dollars and seventy-five cents for six months; Club rates, three or more four dollars a year each; strictly in advance.

REMITTANCES.—Money should be sent by American Express Co.'s Money Order, Postal Order, Draft on Chicago, or by Registered Letter.

NEWS DEALERS.—The Trade supplied by the American and Western News Companies.

COMMUNICATIONS.—Manuscript intended for publication should be written on one side of the paper only, and must be accompanied by the writer's name and address, not necessarily for publication, but as a private guarantee of good faith, and all communications, upon any subject, or for any department, must be addressed,

N. ROWE.
Editor and Manager American Field,
245 and 247 State St., Chicago, Ill.

EASTERN OFFICE.—19 Park Place, New York.

Game and Shooting

FIXTURES

Iowa State Sportsmen's Association's annual meeting, Cedar Rapids, Ia., May 14.

Sportsmen's Exposition, Madison Square Garden, New York City, May 13, 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18.

Illinois State Sportsmen's Association's twenty-first annual convention, Chicago, June 4.

North Dakota State Sportsmen's Association's first annual convention, Fargo, June 14.

HOW THEY BAGGED THE CHRISTMAS TURKEY

BY GEORGE SELWYN

Cunning is but crooked wisdom, and there is a deal of crooked wisdom in a wild turkey, par excellence, the game bird of America.

The Senator, called "the silent man from Beaver," had just built himself a new house of palatial proportions, in Washington and was sitting in serene content by the open fireplace, gazing at the blazing hickory logs in his spacious parlor. Congress was about to adjourn, and he had but one wish ungratified. The roof of his Florida cottage had blown off in a November storm, the tarpon would not bite, and he longed for a turkey for his Christmas dinner; and it must be a game bird from Pensylvania, shot among its bronze "cohorts all gleaming in purple and gold." "Selwyn," he said, after knocking the ashes from a strong cigar, "you once boasted you were a mighty hunter before the Lord. I'll just wager you a basket of champagne you cannot kill me a wild turkey by the twenty-fifth instant." "I'll go you," said G. S— and soon after he walked quickly in a light fall of snow, from the Senator's residence, packed his grip at John Chamberlain's and by the gray of the dawn struck the morning express for Gouldsboro, in Monroe County. This is the county where Jay Gould established a monumental tanyard amidst the bark-producing hemlock trees, and inside of a year Jay Gould had absorbed the tanyard and all its hereditaments, while his partner, disgusted because Jay had possessed himself of all the capital, leaving him only the experience, betook himself across the great divide.

Within a mile of Gouldsboro dwells Teddy O'Boyle, whose sobriquet as the "animated gin bottle" is known as far as Scranton; the same Teddy whose fame among the "throuts" of the upper Lehigh, and whos qualities as a sprinter in running away from the black bear of Sleepy Hollow, are not unknown to the casual readers of the AMERICAN FIELD.

Teddy met me at the depot in response to a message by wire. Mr. O'Boyle's tout ensemble had not changed in two years; his clay pipe was filled with strong perique tobacco, and as he shambled up to the baggage car he wore the same pair of pantaloons as in the days agone garnished his thin legs (they were—not the legs—of as many colors as Joseph's coat), and were still held close up to his neck by one suspender kept in place by a couple of tenpenny nails in front and rear.

"Bad cess," said Teddy, "to the spalipeen who told me you was killet interely by a bloody bear in a Colorado cañon; and it's wild turkey you're afther slayin' wid that double barreled Parker!"

"Teddy," said I, "you hit the builseye this time. It's turkey meat we must bag on the morrow if there is an old gobbler this side of Scranton."

"And it's a roost of the bloody birds I'm a holdin' the full of a month for you, and I'll put your ferninst 'em by the gray of the mornin' if you'll be so gentail (genteel) as to fill this quart bottle wid good gin, as we may get ketched up in the snow, sure."

Teddy sampled the bottle I brought back and smacked his lips with genuine Hibernian joy, at the same time cutting a doubble shuffle on the hard boards of the depot platform, and then quickly brought out an ante-bellum and weary-looking mule hitched with ropes to a dilapidated buckboard, and we were soon driving slowly over two feet of snow toward the O'Boyle mansion, an eight-by-ten-foot shanty constructed out of pine boards, with a hole in the roof for a chimney, and one end of it filled with blazing oak logs.

Our supper consisted of that portion of a pig called in the South "sowbelly," baked beans, and very black coffee, with lashings of rye bread. Mr. Teddy, who was an exact counterpart of Mr. O'Boyle, welcomed me effusively. My bed was made of half a dozen bearskins and sleep came without wooing.

Long before light the next morning we started ont for the turkey roost, taking with us only a light lunch of cold pork and hard biscuit. It was a weary walk stumbling over fallen hemlock stumps, for the giant trees had long ago been cut down for their tanbark; but in good time we reached the "blind" erected a week before with infinite labor, for Teddy marshaled the logs with his hands, and baited with sweet corn a running trail of bait for the birds reaching a quarter of a mile from our trysting place.

A wild turkey, the wisest and shyest of American birds, will roost in the same trees for years if not disturbed by the adventurous sportsman, and to no man in Monroe County, save only to Teddy "the animated gin bottle," was this roosting place or lair of the wild turkey known. The blind consisted of small beech trees thrown carelessly on top each other and the interstices filled with young cedars; a cozy spot sheltered from the chilly December wind that came up the valley.

Here we waited till the gray morning met tenderly the first kiss of the sun, and after Teddy, who loved liquid better than solid refreshment, had taken a "potation" and I had swallowed a mouthful of frozen pork and lubricated it with half a pint of cold coffee, we were both ready for a reconnoissance in force, wending our way toward the turkey roost where the wise and only Teddy felt sure of one big bird! Our moccasins, made of bearskin, were soft and warm.

Some sanguinary Nimrods of the main woods, calling up a caribou with broadside to the slaughter pen, think it the glory of a lifetime to stick a caribou in the neck with a hunter's knife. But this "is not for Joe," for to me, knowing the wild turkey to be the wiliest game that wears fin, fur or feather, my pulse thrills more over the death of a turkey gobbler caught in the red morning light as he flies from his roost. I glory over this more than over ninety-nine fat caribou.

Teddy and I had walked half a mile painfully in the snow—for the briers worried me—when suddenly O'Boyle dropped on all fours in the snow, whispering, "Mr. Selwyn, by the piper that played ferninst Moses, do you see the shadow of that king of the harem on the tip-top of yon hemlock?"

"Can't see anything but a dead limb," I answered, blowing slowly like a wind-broken horse, and lying prone on the snow shaking like an aspen.

Teddy, with the eye of faith, had located his bird sure enough, but he was afraid of his battered old fowling piece, loaded well nigh to the muzzle. His was a single-barreled gun changed from a flintlock about the time Daniel Boone was doing murder with his historic rifle among the coons in "Old Kentucky."

"Hist," said Teddy. "Kurnel Selwyn, for the love of God give me the loan of your double-barreled Parker and it's Teddy O'Boyle who will kill the king of the harem himself." Teddy at once grabbed my gun, a hammerless with a tremendous turkey load inside. A hundred-pound tarpon on a silk line would not have had half so disquieting an effect on my nerves as the sight of Mr. O'Boyle writhing eel-like over the snow as noiselessly as a ferret, or a fox lying low from the hounds.

He got right under the tree, the tallest of the forest—a very giant—when he "let go" with both barrels, and the roar reached throughout the fevered air to the upper Lehigh River. But down came, with a thundering crash, a twenty-two pound turkey, dead as Julius Cæsar, at the very feet of Teddy O'Boyle, who gazed lovingly at its bronze-colored front.

"This lays over the deck of killin' them throut in the Lehigh!" exclaimed Teddy, flinging off his coat and executing a war dance on the crusted snow. He slapped his right leg with joy, waved the wild turkey around his head and cavorted around the woods as if demented; and, in the most of his halcyon and vociferous time, his single suspender gave way, the nails instead of buttons no longer holding up his "unmentionables," and Teddy found himself dancing a cancan over the snow in a pair of cotton drawers! It is enough for me to say that the hilariousness of that occasion warmed my blood (and it was only five degrees above zero) more than "a pint o wine," as poor Dan Dawson, the poet, would say. I forgot to mention that the bronze king of the harem dead, the hens, a dozen in number, flew wild along the hillside and scurried away among the blackberry bushes, running like streaks of greased lightning. Mr. O'Boyle did not recover his reason until his old clay pipe, well filled with perique, was again smoking between his teeth.

"Now for another burd, Mr. Selwyn," said Teddy, "and we'll be off to our blind."

I insisted on carrying the big king of the forest, prouder of our trophy than if we had slain the biggest buck that roams the well-wooded hills back of Scranton.

Teddy had made a call of a turkey wing, a lure that never fails in the hand of a master, and the "gin-bottle" was a veritable triton among the minnows, a dabster in the art of calling the noble game to the front. Once behind the hemlocks and securely hidden, Teddy brought out his lure. Far off came the soft response of a hen turkey accompanied by the bold defi of a proud gobbler, evidently a high stepper, and slowly moving our way.

With fresh cartridges in both barrels of my Parker, I meant death and destruction to the first turkey that put its head out from behind a hemlock stump. I wanted a big gobbler more than any half dozen hens, and I was ambitious to "wipe Teddy's eye" with a twenty-four pound bird. Teddy sat quietly in his corner of the turkey pit, evidently mourning the distance to any "firewater" factory, still, with Irish humor in his eye because he and not I was the possessor of as big a gobbler as ever strutted through the Scranton woods monarch of all the hens he surveyed.

The sun was high up now and the snow gently yielding to the south wind's breath. Teddy was sound asleep in his corner, and I simply thirsting for blood, turkey blood at that. Nor had I long to wait, for the wild turkey is a gregarious bird, amenable to the power of social influence which obtains among "birds of a feather." It was an hour since the king of the harem took a tumble to himself out of the lofty hemlock, and as I strained my eyes I heard the soft cry, "put," "put," and one hundred yards away saw a proud gobbler walking like a dandy darky at a cakewalk with a black hen. He came strutting across the fallen timber toward his doom. He was following the corn trail straight to our ambuscade. Teddy's corner of the turkey pit gave forth no sound. Like Mynher Van Tassel the Knickerbocker after dinner, he had fallen over on a couch kindly Minerva had provided for him. My gobbler walked straight up in front of me and I fired both barrels at him. He tumbled over and I ran to pick him up. But this number two king of the harem picked himself up and scudded under bare poles for a harbor of safety—a brier patch two hundred yards away. I pulled off my coat and let out a blood-curdling yell that roused poor Teddy, who was awake enough to laugh at me uproariously. I ran, the turkey ran. "A fox," the comic Blackstone says, "is a tenement as long as you can hold him;" but my hold on this elusive turkey was fast becoming like what my college friend used to call "the blue point of an almost forlorn hope." The more Mr. O'Boyle mocked my flying feet, the more earnest I was that the "silent Senator" should dine on that particular turkey; so, after a stern chase of half a mile, just as the bronze-breasted king of the Scranton woods was about to dive under a rail fence—the dividing line between the woods and an immense brier patch—I fell boldly and bodily on Mr. Turkey. I snatched him up and waved him in the air as swiftly as that same turkey in the green and salad days of his early life used to snatch a June bug from off a sweet [illegible] vine. The "silent Senator" said grace over my four pound wild turkey on Christmas Day. This was my best, and, possibly, my last day among the [illegible] in the Lackawanna region.

Camden, N. J.

SNIPE SHOOTING AT FOWLER'S LAKE

BY DICK DEADEYE

It is generally believed by Eastern sportsmen that [illegible] possesses anything whatever in the way of beauty or picturesqueness, but that idea, so far as the eastern portion of the state is concerned, is an erroneous one.

Fowler's Lake—which is really nothing more than a pond—is situated in Jefferson County, on the Grasshopper River, about three miles below the historic village of Osawkie, one of the oldest towns in Kansas, and which was in the early days the principal trading point between Fort Leavenworth and Fort Riley. Although the country surrounding Osawkie was settled up when the sites of our now most prosperous cities were the grazing grounds of the buffalo and antelope, the old town has never advanced, and the residents of the Grasshopper bottom still occupy such primitive log dwellings as were "temporarily" built before the war. But these unpretentious surroundings, and the quiet, satisfied, inoffensive demeanor of the inhabitants of this picturesque valley, lend to one from the busy world of the city a feeling of peaceful rest that is far more beneficial to the tired, overworked mind of a business man than all the theaters or society events of the season.

It was in the vicinity of Fowler's Lake that my friends, Arthur and E. C—, and the writer decided to spend a short vacation snipe shooting, a number of years ago. It was an exceptionally wet Spring, and the conditions seemed favorable for a successful hunt for the wily jack, consequently a great portion of the night succeeding the completion of arrangements for our trip was spent in anxious speculation as to the result of the one day's hunt, which was all we could hope for on this trip. Then at last came sleep, but with it, to one of the party at least, appeared the vision of the old pond as it was the previous Fall, covered almost entirely with the oriental looking lotus, with here and there a little bunch of blue-winged teals contentedly feeding upon the yonk-a-pins, little dreaming that within a minute consternation would be spread among them by the appearance of a man with a gun, and 2¼ ounces of shot being hurled after their retreating forms.

But the morning finally dawned, and as the lake was seventeen miles distant from Topeka, it was necessary for us to start the day previous to our hunt. We had a lodge about two miles from the lake, and E. C— and I started for this about 8 o'clock, leaving Arthur to follow us on his pony later in the day.

Arriving at our rendezvous about noon, we found everything in order, and after eating dinner—consisting of raw coffee and bread and butter—we decided to drive over to the lake and investigate. Upon reaching the snipe ground—a marsh half surrounded by the pond—we noticed a number of Winter yellowlegs and several flocks of peeps; but after tramping the marsh diligently, we were unrewarded by seeing a single jacksnipe. This was indeed discouraging, and after bagging a few yellowlegs and E. C— had tumbled a straight-billed curlew, a rare bird in this locality, we turned toward our buggy, thinking we were a little too early in the season, but we had gone only a short distance when a sound greeted our ears which caused a large portion of the cloud which had enshrouded our countenances to vanish. It was the unmistakable "scape" of the Wilson snipe, and carefully scanning the sky we beheld apparently a black speck circling about, and then, with that suddenness peculiar to his jackship, the black speck shot earthward with amazing rapidity and lit in the marsh. E. C— started for it, and I branched off in another direction where I had seen a pair of yellowlegs, and was very much surprised when a longbill flushed within twenty yards of me. I was equal to the occasion, however, and with a slight feeling of self-satisfaction, I placed the first jacksnipe of the season in my hunting coat pocket. E. C— flushed and killed his bird in nice style, and as it was getting late we hurried back to the "ranch," where we found Arthur anxiously awaiting our return. E. C— and I had calculated that we had remained away long enough to enable him to "fire up" and have the coffee boiling when we reached camp, but we found him sitting impatiently upon a box, and wanting to know if we would please hurry up supper, as he was hungry. We gazed at him a moment and then simultaneously each grabbed a stick of stovewood and started for the object of our wrath; but he sat there with an innocent expression upon his countenance and actually seemed hurt when we ordered him to unhitch and take care of the horse, while we got supper ready.

After the meal, consisting of broiled snipe of several different varieties (Arthur had a wonderful faculty of recognizing the jacks after they were cooked), baked potatoes, bread, butter and coffee, we indulged in a game of freeze-out until about 10 o'clock, when E. C— mixed [illegible] hot "nightcaps," which we disposed of [illegible]ed in between our blankets.

[illegible] dawned fair, with a slight breeze [illegible]ed during the day into something [illegible] the lake shortly after sun up, and approached it cautiously, thinking we would bag a few ducks before commencing our onslaught upon the snipe which we felt sure would be in in goodly numbers by this time. But as we peered over the bank of the pond not a solitary duck was to be seen; why, I never understood, as teals usually abounded there in the Spring. So abandoning the idea of securing a shot at a duck, we replaced our duck loads with shells loaded with No. 10 shot and proceeded to the snipe ground.

After walking across one end of the marsh without seeing a bird, we felt a slight tinge of disappointment, but whistling to keep up our courage, so to speak, we tramped on until we had covered the entire marsh; but not a gun had been discharged. After holding a consultation we decided to go to the Grasshopper, about a quarter of a mile distant, and see if there were any ducks there. Just as we reached the creek a small flock of teals swung by us out of range, but, turning, came back, and when they were within about thirty yards of us we succeeded in tumbling one bird to each gun, all of which fell on the opposite side of the creek. After waiting about an hour without getting another shot, Arthur volunteered to go down the stream half a mile to a bridge, cross it, and get our three ducks, and E. C— and I decided to return to the pond. We tramped the distance to the lake through a decidedly muddy wheatfield, and when we reached the pond, all out of breath, the first thing we heard was "sca-pe," and glancing in the direction whence came that most welcome sound, we beheld a snipe drop into the marsh about 300 yards distant. E. C— told me to go after it, and he would look into a last year's cornfield near by which we had not hunted. I had just flushed my bird, and fortunately grassed it, when "bang!" "bang!" came from the direction of the cornfield, and then I heard E. C—'s melodious voice shout: "Ed! come here quick; this field is full of 'em. I got two!" Well, I did not wait for a second invitation, and by the time I reached the cornfield, E. C— had two more down. The field contained only about twelve acres, but the birds were certainly there in abundance. E. C— was shooting a 12-gauge machine-made gun and I used my old 10-gauge Clabrough, and both of us were shooting black powder and No. 10 shot (nitro powder was only an experiment then). Well, we felt sorry for Arthur, but we could not wait, for we were right in the midst of the birds and it seemed that at every step we would hear the inevitable "sca-pe" of Sir Jack as he arose, apparently out of the very earth itself, and with his numerous curves and zigzags, attempted to escape the thousand and one pellets of shot hurled after him, and in many instances his maneuvers were successful, but upon the whole about three out of every four birds shot at were placed in our capacious pockets.

We had been shooting for perhaps fifteen minutes when, glancing toward the creek, we beheld Arthur making rapid strides in our direction with two of the ducks in his hand, he having been unable to find the third one. When he reached us, puffing like a locomotive, he wanted to know why we had not waited for him; but at that moment, seeing a jack drop in a short distance from him, he did not wait for an answer, but proceeded to annihilate the inoffensive scolapax. Arthur made up for lost time, and when we had beaten the field over and over again until we were ready to cry enough for one day, we found very little difference in the number of birds each of us had brought to earth. We counted up a total of forty-three birds, all jacksnipes, besides our two bluewing teals, and we then and there voted our trip at least a satisfactory one. Then as the shadows rapidly lengthened and old Sol finally disappeared behind a chain of hills, we drove over the prairie two miles to our camp, as near perfectly contented with the world in general and ourselves in particular as it is possible for sportsmen to be, and as E. C— and Arthur sang several duets (they wouldn't permit me, through jealousy, to sing), I could not help but feel a tinge of sadness to think that our hunt was at an end and the morrow would find us again intermingled with the grasping, toiling, avaricious populace of the business world, struggling—for what? Well, many, of course, to keep soul and body together, but, alas! many others to gain riches; riches that when acquired beyond a reasonable amount will do naught but add one more source of worry and anxiety to the possessor thereof.

North Topeka, Kan.

GOOSE SHOOTING ON THE MISSOURI RIVER

BY TEE KAY JR.

One day last November the Judge mentioned the fact that there were a great many geese flying south, and he thought the best thing we could do was to take a day off and get a wild goose for our Thanksgiving dinner, and I readily consented to the proposition.

That evening found us aboard the south-bound Missouri Pacific train for Connor Station. We had with us fifteen decoys, our guns, and my Irish retriever Flora. Our plan was to stay with our friend Henson that night and get out early next morning, so as to get everything in shape for the early flight. After the train started the conductor, as he came in to take up the tickets, informed us that that train did not stop at Connor Station and that we would have to get off at the junction. Having been a railroad man I said to him that as the railroad company had sold us the tickets it would have to deliver the goods, and as a consequence the train was stopped at Connor, or, I should have said, about a half-mile below the station. The engineer neglected to heed the signal of the conductor at first, so he gave him the second signal, and receiving no answer to that he pulled the automatic and the train came to a sudden standstill. I in the meantime had gone into the baggage car to dump out the dog, decoys, etc., so as to cause as little delay as possible, and, not knowing how far the junction was from the depot, instructed the baggageman to throw out the decoys first and then the dog, and he did as directed, much to my sorrow. It was very dark outside, and I, on going out from the light in the car, could not see my hand before my face, consequently could not see just where I would land in jumping from the car. However, making calculations for the usual grade alongside of a railway track, I jumped from the car door, and before I landed thought I never would strike terra firma, for the car had stopped on a trestle at least twenty feet high. But I finally came to a sudden stop right side up, though a little shaky. As I straightened up down came fifteen decoys, striking me square on top of my head. Again I responded to call of time when down came the dog, resulting in a conglomerate mess of man, dog, decoys and mud, all in a heap and all trying for the top side. The Judge in the meantime had walked up to the edge of the trestle and he coolly inquired if I was hurt. I replied that I was not, and to my great satisfaction found, in making a more thorough examination, that, with the exception of a few skin bruises and a torn wader, no serious damage had befallen me.

We gathered up our traps and started on the walk of a mile or more for our friend Henson's, arriving there a few minutes after 9 o'clock, where we were kindly received and made comfortable by Mrs. Henson. We retired shortly afterward, and only for the occasional snore from my friend, the Judge, I was at peace with the world.

We arose at 4:30 the next morning, and friend Henson said we would find the oars of the boat down on the bank of the river, which meant to us anywhere between Kansas City and Omaha. As that was all he could tell us we took it for granted he meant just what he said, and struck out. At last we arrived on the banks of the Missouri River, and after a hunt of perhaps half an hour, which seemed a week, the Judge called from away down the river that he had found the oars. Again we gathered up our load and were off for the boat.

While loading the boat we heard hundreds of geese, and the honkers kept the Judge wild with excitement. I could scarcely keep him in the boat until we landed, but I finally got him cooled down a bit until our boat struck goose land. Again we picked up our luggage and carried it to where we wished to locate our blinds. Geese were getting up all around us, but it was too dark to shoot. The Judge kept himself worked up to fever heat all the time, and I would often have to chide him for being over anxious. Occasionally he would drop the decoys and I could clearly hear the click of his sear as it caught in the slots in the hammer of his 10-gauge; then he would take up his load and exclaim "forty dollars for ten seconds of the peep o' day!"

We finally got settled and everything being ready we ate our breakfast and patiently awaited the flight. Hour after hour rolled by with no geese in sight, yet we could hear the faint honks of geese on a remote sandbar about two miles to our north. Ten o'clock came and still nothing in sight; so we concluded to go ashore and hunt quails for a change.

We left our decoys and everything in trim and got into the boat and pulled ashore. The bow of the boat had no sooner grated on the Missouri sands and we two were safely landed, than the Judge pointed to the north with the exclamation: "Look!" And behold, a flock of about fifty honkers were coming directly down the river. Seeing the decoys they set their wings and settled right on the edge of the pits we had just deserted. Imagine, fellow sportsman, our feelings. Could I only express in a few well chosen words, or in fact in a whole page, what I saw written on the Judge's face, I would gladly do so. I could read his thoughts as though they were a written book in the English language. The color in his face changed every hue of the rainbow, with a black thunderstorm directly in the rear. He said nothing, but that awful stare plainly told me that it would not do to mention quails, so I suggested that we go back to our blinds and not return to land until the sun was sinking in the western horizon, a pledge we kept faithfully and with good results.

The geese, seeing us approaching in the boat, took to wing and flew down the river.

Again we took up our lonesome watch, and shortly we saw another flock bearing down upon our decoys. "Down!" I said to the Judge, "and stop your heart from beating for a few moments," which, by the way, I think he did, and he got a goose, but I failed to do as well. But on the next flock I got in my work while the Judge was asleep. We had both stretched ourselves out for a nap in the warm sunshine, and being in blinds about twenty feet apart, I could hear that harsh, buzzing sound resembling a circular saw passing through a tough piece of timber, coming from the direction of the Judge's blind, broken once in a while by the coarse "kaw" of some crow as it flew from tree to tree, and I knew the Judge was asleep. Soon, being deluged with such a musical introductory, I began to snooze; but before falling asleep I was startled by that keynote that fills every sportsman's heart with joy, the honk of a goose close by. I rolled over, grasping my 7½ pound Parker as I rolled, and just as the geese were passing over the blinds I killed the leader with the first charge of BB's, and with the second barrel sent another goose away so badly crippled that it fell dead down the river about half a mile. Having fallen "dead out of bounds" it was called a "lost bird," as it fell in the swift current and was carried away too fast to follow with the boat, for we could not have reached our boat and caught the wounded bird short of two miles. The Judge, not getting entirely awake until the geese were too far away to shoot failed to get a goose.

Again, shortly after 4 o'clock, another flock came in and decoyed nicely, the Judge and I both getting a goose and again losing one "dead out of bounds," it falling almost exactly in the same place the other did. After getting the last two we concluded we had all the game we could handily carry home, consequently we decided to pack up and return. We had bagged, all told, four geese and five fine mallard ducks, which is considered very good for one day's shooting in this part of the country.

The Judge, I assure you, felt very proud as he walked up through the main street of our little city with two large geese thrown over his good right shoulder, and the next morning, after a mention of our good luck in one of the town papers, he came down the street with his hat resting on the side of his head, the enlargement being too great to permit of its being set on squarely. But he is a good fellow and therefore no one said a word. He still sits around a good warm fire and tells his friends how we sat on the bank of the river while the geese were sitting on the edge of our blinds eating our breakfast crumbs. He declares he will never again go goose and quail shooting at the same time.

Leavenworth, Kan.

PHEASANTS

DES MOINES, IA.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—In your issue of March 2 I noticed an article by Mr. Verner de Guise, in which he touches upon the merits, or rather demerits, of that most beautiful game bird, the Mongolian pheasant. For the last two years I have been in Oregon, and consequently have had a good opportunity to observe the special traits of character of this noble, gamy fellow, and I wish to give the readers of the AMERICAN FIELD the benefit of my observations and my reasons for advocating the propagation of the Mongolian bird in preference to the English in the United States.

Granting that it may be true that the Mongolian is a "wanderer," I hold that this point is just where his advantage for this country comes in; for by so doing he will in time spread over vast areas and become universal. Such would not be the case with the English bird, he being fitted entirely for preserves in charge of a keeper. In England the method of caring for game is entirely different from that in the United States. In fact, game has no care here, except by clubs and an occasional individual, and for them the English bird may be just as good as any; but to turn loose to rustle for itself, the Mongolian has no peer, and its advantages along that line, and its ability to "get away" are the very qualities that save its life and preserve its species where it has absolutely no care from club or keeper.

The manner of hunting the English-bred bird upon its native heath is very tame indeed viewed from an American standpoint, and as I have had the pleasure of seeing our English brethren "shoot the covers," I think my opinions fairly good on this subject. The method would seem strange here, so I will describe it: Upon the day the coverts are to be shot, a number of men get together, form a line across the covert to be drawn, and as they advance with stick and yell, the game is flushed and his lordship and friends, at positions in advance of the "beaters," shoot down the pheasant as it flies past. No dogs are used, except to retrieve, and these are kept upon leash until wanted. The charm of following a beautiful setter or pointer is entirely out of the question. This shooting is very much akin to shooting a lot of barnyard fowls, if it were possible to make them take wing. On occasions of this kind as many as 1,000 head of game (pheasants chiefly) are arrayed upon a lawn for the inspection of the lordly party of five or six guns, after the day's shoot. As the English seem to enjoy this kind of shooting, the English-bred bird is just the thing for them, or to stock preserves, but not for the purpose of putting down to stock a state or locality where the bird is required to care for itself and perpetuate its species in the entire absence of care or protection.

With few exceptions the American sportsman prefers to test his skill, and his chief delight is not so much in the amount of game he gets as the pleasure of getting it. In this the companionship of the setter or pointer enhance the pleasure more than one-half, and makes the sport afield much more desirable. To me nothing is more entertaining or delightful than to see a good dog work in his aristocratic way in pursuit of game, and when he finds it and signifies the fact by a stylish point, the greatest pleasure of the sportsman is at its climax. It is a picture that but few can immortalize upon the canvas. The bagging of a dozen game birds behind a favorite dog affords more real pleasure to the true sportsman than shooting down a hundred pheasants flushed to the gun by "beaters."

If the Mongolian is turned out in a neighborhood and left to itself a few years, the country around will soon be well stocked, with the probability of its staying so, whereas, if the English bird was used, it would only be a matter of time (short at that) till circumstances of an unfavorable nature would cause its extinction. When shot at the English bird is easily scared and will run and hide his head, and you can often pick one of them up in your hands, while with Mr. Mongolian, if he starts to leave you, it is good-bye, for it is rarely one gets him late in the season, if you do not get him at the first flush. In the early part of the season, however, they afford fine sport, lying well to the dog after the first time or two flushing. Their ability to "get away" from the place of alighting is very like that of the sharptail grouse upon the Western prairies, yet I never heard anyone complain of his grouseship's ability "to spoil a good dog."

The Oregon pheasant is a pure bred and gamy bird, and for anything but a meat hunter furnishes fine sport in the right season. At other times, his ability to take care of himself, to the disadvantage of the sportsman, is his greatest recommendation (as I before said) where there is no protection only that of natural surroundings. As to his size I have seen many a cock bird in Oregon that would weigh five pounds; plenty large enough for anyone who is satisfied with anything less than an Indian game or a Plymouth Rock. It seems that Mr. de Guise must have a mercenary purpose in writing his article (especially manifested in the latter part of said article), in so highly recommending the aviary-bred bird. I fail to see what advantage would accrue to a game bird by being penned up in an European aviary for a term of years.

In conclusion, there is no doubt in my mind that Sir Ralph Paine Gallaway and Tegitnner both object to the pure-bred Mongolian bird for the sole reason that it would be apt to stray upon a neighboring estate, especially if the neighbor's estate were not stocked. Believing that this reveals the milk in the cocoanut, I heartily recommend the Oregon bird to American sportsmen, but I have no birds for sale and no interest in them aside from that of a sportsman.

J. F. SANDERSON.

A VISIT TO A GUN FACTORY

RAVENNA, O.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—I am a member of that extensive army of men in this country known as "gun cranks" and long had wished to inspect a factory where guns were manufactured, so the first opportunity that offered I took advantage of it and was well pleased with what I saw. The works I visited are considered the best and largest exclusive shotgun factory in the United States, and are located at Fulton, N. Y. What more appropriate place could be found than on the river made famous by Cooper in his Leatherstocking Tales? In the "Pathfinder" we read of the trip down this river and over the falls.

The river is very swift and furnishes power to an immense turbine wheel, which turns the machinery in the extensive establishment of the Hunter Arms Company. The main building is of brick, four stories high, 220 feet long by 50 feet wide. In addition to this building they have others, in one of which the large boiler is located which is used for heating purposes. Then there is the forge and case hardening and bluing departments, which are outside the large building, thus making it practically fireproof.

The first floor of the main building is devoted to the rough work. Here I found the barrels or tubes in the original packages, they being imported from England and Belgium. This is the one portion of the gun not made by the firm. What most interested me was the fluid steel tubes bearing the stamp of Sir Joseph Whitworth, they being considered by many to be at the top in gun barrels. The first operation that a tube goes through is the rough boring. The barrels are then stuck together by the use of pure tin; then come the proper cuts to admit of the rib and the lug. The rib is then put on and the lugs and extension rib are brazed in, when they are ready for the final boring and polishing. This seems like a short process, but it is a long and [illegible] Everything depends upon this being [illegible] On this floor I noticed machines for the [illegible] screws, even to the smallest used in [illegible] rough framework is also done here.

The second floor is devoted to finishing up the small parts that go to make up the locks, trimmings, etc., and finishing up of the stock, the wood for which is imported from Germany, France and England, the walnut from those countries being much closer grained and stronger than our American walnut. Here, also, I find the engravers at work cutting out hunting scenes; and in this respect one can get the most elaborate work, limited only by the size of his pocketbook. A gun to cost $500 is being built for an American who believes that America can produce as good guns as the best made in any foreign country, and surely it is a thing of beauty and ought to be a joy forever to the man for whom it is intended.

The works employ one hundred and fifty men and have run continuously throughout the panic, and now have very few guns on hand, such has been the demand for them. The Smith gun needs no word of praise from the writer; it speaks for itself, whether it be with the old-fashioned black powder, or with any of the nitro compounds, and it is guaranteed by the company to stand any of them and not get loose. Take the list of shooters at the Chamberlin tournament at Cleveland last June, and was it not a hot crowd? And there we found two Smith guns to every one of any other make.

On the top floor of the main building I found the proving room, where they tell one whether a gun shoots where it is pointed. The range is entirely within the brick walls where the targets come to you for inspection after you shoot. The expert loader is here, and he can do it to perfection; any load or any kind of powder you may desire.

And last, but not least, the Hunter boys. What a team they are. The foreman also, Mr. Stanley, a brave man, good natured, and much younger than I expected to see. And McMurchy, who gives us the finishing touch, for does he not polish up the goods to the trade and to us boys at tournaments? Long life eo him!

CAPTAIN CUTTLE.

NOTES

PLOVERS have come in by the million; everybody is out shooting and bags of from 35 to 100 are in order. Frank and the undersigned had a little turn at them the other day, but I could not kill the blamed things on the wing. I have shot quail day after day, all the past Winter, and it seemed as if the plovers were too slow for me, or something. I killed a few on the ground, and then watched Frank shoot them. Frank is a little duck-legged fellow, and would sneak up on a bunch of them, and one time he dropped five before they could get away. He says shooting plovers "is just like taking candy away from children, they are so tame, and really it is no sport to shoot them, but they are good eating." We bagged 36 and then stopped at a well in the pasture for lunch and a cool drink. I got up on a plank that was nailed across the top of the wooden curbing and waded into the "grub basket," while Frank wasted more water and, drawing a fresh bucket full, he set the bucket on the opposite end of the plank and began to refresh himself after the style shown in the picture of the "old oaken bucket." He had just placed his lips to the refreshing liquid, when the nails in the plank at his side of the curb gave way and down I went heels over head, while the plank in tipping up suddenly jerked the bucket out of Frank's hands and poured the contents of the bucket square into Frank's bosom, knocking him down and scaring his setter dog half out of his wits. When I gathered myself up I remarked to Frank that I thought the farmer that put the plank across the top of that well was a little stingy with his nails, at least the pain in the back of my neck made me think so. But Frank had been cooled off and wasn't in a state of mind to agree with me. He said I was "feeding in too much style" and great was my fall.

Flatonia, Tex. H.

THERE is general complaint throughout this section of the country that the bluebirds have not made their appearance in as great numbers as in former years; in fact only a few stragglers have been seen, and people are at a loss to account for their non-appearance. It is the belief of many that the English sparrow is the cause of their disappearance. The past Autumn bluebirds passed over here in great numbers going South, and the flight lasted till late in the Fall. It was a common thing to hear persons say they never saw so large a flight. What has become of this vast army of birds? Have they perished with cold during the past Winter, or has the English sparrow driven them out? If the latter reason is the correct one, the farmer and fruit-grower have lost their best friend, for a bluebird is worth a thousand sparrows in destroying insects. The pinnated grouse has also been nearly exterminated. During the past six months I have seen only two birds. Thirty years ago they existed in countless numbers, but the markets of New York, Boston and Philadelphia have had the lion's share of [illegible] and if they will commence now on the crows [illegible] supply them with birds for thirty years more; [illegible] chickens they will never eat of again from [illegible] of robins.

Princeton, Ill. GEO. O. GREENE.

A RECENT dispatch from Albuquerque, N. M., says the Navajo Indians are devastating of wild game the sections of New Mexico and Arizona adjacent to their reservation. It is said that during last November a party of Navajos left their reservation and went into the Mogollon Mountains, where they remained until January, and that during that time 376 deer, 115 wild turkeys and a large amount of smaller game were killed by the party. This is one instance cited in a petition to which Deputy Sheriff Tom Drum is obtaining numerous signatures, and which asks the secretary of the interior to suppress Indian wanderers from their reservation. The petition states these raids are made with the consent of the Indian agent, and that when game is scarce the Indians kill the range cattle of the ranchers.

THE prospect for game in this part of Minnesota is brighter than for several years past. Brants, geese and ducks have been here for some time, and are quite plenty. There are but few quails here at any time, but prairie chickens are very plenty and, unless excessive rains or fires destroy the nests, there will be fine shooting when the season opens, September 1, provided the game wardens attend to their business, and I understand the appropriation has been nearly doubled this year and that the game wardens intend making a special effort for the protection of game. We have several organized gun clubs in this vicinity; and if these take the proper course there will be little shooting out of season.

Fulda, Minn. ALEX WOOLSTENCROFT.

LAST Monday State Game Warden Chas. H. Blow arrested two parties in Chicago for violating the game law by having in possession wild ducks during the close season. The parties were H. R. Jerome, No. 1597 West Madison Street, and Chas. W. Rothe, No. 376 on the same street. The men will be tried before Justice Foster on April 29. The court confiscated the game and had it sold.

THE past season was a very severe one on prairie chickens and quails. Dry weather during the hatching and brooding season killed many of the young chickens, and during the Winter just passed all, or nearly all, the quails were killed by the farmers who claim they were driven to kill the birds for a livelihood.

Eddyville, Neb. M. W. STUCKEY.

GAME wintered very poorly here, especially quails, which have been unusually scarce in this section of the state for the last three seasons.

Steubenville, O. J. M. DINSMORE.

NEW PATENTS

The following patents in the sporting goods line have just been issued and are reported especially for the AMERICAN FIELD by Joseph H. Hunter, Attorney at Law and Solicitor of Patents, Washington, D. C.:

Bicycle, Arthur F. Hood, Jamestown, N. Y.

Recoil locking bar for bolt-guns, Thomas G. Bennett, New Haven, Conn.

Bow-facing oar, Reinhold H. Paar, United States Army.

The American Field Score Book

Contains 150 score sheets, the Hurlingham, Long Island and American Shooting Association rules; shows a proper form of constitution and by-laws for gun clubs, and contains also a set of field and club house rules. Sent by express, prepaid, on receipt of $1. Address the American Field Publishing Co., Chicago, Ill.

Hunting

FIXTURES

Brunswick Fur Club's annual foxhound trials, October 28, ——. B. S. Turpin, secretary.

Dixie Red Fox Club's first annual meet, Rowland, Ala., October —. J. H. Wallace Jr., secy.-treasurer.

GENERAL REMARKS

LOUISVILLE, KY.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—The fox has figured extensively in literature, both sacred and profane, but never since the days of Pilpay and Æsop have there been such a variety of diverse opinions respecting him as contributors to the AMERICAN FIELD have lately given expression to. The North and the South seem to be divided on sectional lines as to his ability to create and maintain respect for himself and his pursuers. And when [illegible] the AMERICAN FIELD how the July [illegible] with [illegible] termity that must be monotonous, [illegible] thirty minutes, and in the very [illegible] northern hunter to the fore with the boldly expressed opinion that "the red fox is never compelled to take to earth," I wonder whether the Georgia red foxes are the poorest specimens known to the world or the northern foxhounds are deserving of the fate Mr. Ridley recommends for the forty-mile dog. I have no desire to shy my castor into the controversial ring, nor do I indulge the delusive hope of reconciling such widely different opinions, but as one occupying a middle ground I simply arise to a few incongruvial "general remarks."

It is to be understood that we are around the campfire, no offense meant and none to be taken, everybody talking for the general good, candor above all things, and to say our say without fear and without favor. Though my views differ from previously expressed opinions, I mean to contradict no one. On the contrary, I believe what has been written has been written in a spirit of truth. Even Mr. Ridley's famous assertion that he would kill the hound that followed the fox for forty miles I believe to be true. If the foxhounds he sent to Kentucky, at a pretty long price, are any criterion, I am confident of it. No one ever accused them of following a fox for forty miles.

I believe, too, that Mr. Luttrell's pack can "catch or hole a red fox in from thirty minutes to an hour." I believe that any pack will catch or hole a red fox—if they do not lose him entirely—when "a part of them will leave the pack while in full cry and flank the fox or head him, and that without giving tongue." But if the words with which Mr. Luttrell lauds the running of his hounds were used by a Kentucky hunter they would be susceptible of abbreviation. One word would compass the meaning of the entire sentence, and a small word at that—"cut." Small as it is, it is not near as small as the Kentucky hunter would feel whose hounds were libeled as "quitting the pack and flanking the fox or heading him without giving tongue"—in other words, "cutting." Kentucky hunters want a pack to run the trail, and not to dive and duck at random to head off the fox. Any pack running as Mr. Luttrell describes the Julys will lose one-half the red foxes they jump, and make but a sorry exhibition of those they do run, with one hound falling in ahead of another and the rest scattered and strung out over half a county, running mute and taking chances on heading the fox. And I grant you the fox is in danger of running into one of these loafers, or "flankers," as Mr. Garrett proudly dubs them. Then, if he is not caught, he is scared half to death, and will let himself out to leave the country or promptly take a hole; in either event the "cutter" ruins the chase. I am not as old as Mr. Luttrell nor as wise, but I have hunted ever since I wore kilts and could get up behind my grandfather, and I have been at the business long enough to cultivate a wholesome respect for the red fox. I do not overrate his ability nor underrate that of the Julys when I say they cannot outfoot the red fox in a fair chase and catch him in Kentucky, and for our style of hunting are as incapable of coping with Kentucky hounds as Kentucky foxes.

Still I believe, as I stated at the outset, all that is written, and I believe that the Julys do all that Mr. Luttrell and Mr. Garrett claim for them. Right here I wish to remark parenthetically that these two good men are making a great mistake in inflicting upon us their personal differences. It is not the way to retain "that range of reputation as a breeder and owner of Julys of unmixed purity" whose unction each lays so fondly to his soul. What we desire to know in the first place is the worth or the worthlessness of their hounds, not by paper-chases or questionable pedigrees, but by work in the field. Where were they at the Brunswick trials, at the Interstate trials, at the meet of the National Fox-Hunters' Association? What have they done in the hands of others and when they faced other foxhounds in the chase?

Still, I believe that as long ago as the time of Old July and Hodo the Georgia red fox met his fate. I have fresh in my remembrance the description Joel Chandler Harris gave of the running of old Hodo. When but a boy Mr. Harris was standing on a crossing listening to the pack bearing down upon him in full cry when suddenly, he said, far in front of the approaching pack, sailing over the undergrowth, bounding high above the bushes, like a whirlwind, but without once giving tongue, Hodo flashed by him and within a few hundred yards sighted the fox and then quickly ran it down. In his opinion Hodo was a hero, and his description was entirely laudatory; but it did seem to me that, to a Kentucky fox-hunter, Hodo's sudden and silent appearance on the scene called for an explanation. The pack was running the trail, Hodo did not have the trail, but was far ahead, and how he got there history sayeth not. It did look as if Hodo had made a lucky cut. It would have been his last for all that in Kentucky. We keep a close eye on our hounds while running, and when a hound hits suddenly in front we know how he got there, and we do not permit any loafer or "flanker" to drift out of the pack and post across country on a chance of the chase coming his way some moments or some hours afterward. That is not our style, although it seems to have prevailed in Georgia from the days of Hodo and July. With no desire to offend, but in spirit of amity, I have written this, recognizing that "one-half the world does not know how the other half hunts." OLD KENTUCK.

BRUNSWICK FUR CLUB'S MEETING

A special meeting of the Brunswick Fur Club was held at Mechanics' Building, Boston, on April 16, President Heffenger presiding. Twenty-four members were present.

The report of the committee on the revision of the constitution and running rules was accepted.

It was voted that the entry fee for each hound in the All-Age Stake at the trials should be $3, and in the Derby $2.

The proposition to allow the shooting of foxes at the foxhound trials was defeated after an animated discussion, those in favor of the change being unable to secure the necessary two-thirds vote.

Mr. Nathan W. Pratt, North Middleboro, Mass., and Mr. J. Wm. Jones, Needham, Mass., were elected members of the club.

Adjourned. BRADFORD S. TURPIN, Sec'y.

NOTES

FOXHOUNDS are offered for sale this week by the Eldred Kennel, Philadelphia, Pa., and Walnut Creek Kennels, Decorah, Ia.

Fish and Fishing

FIXTURES

Chicago Fly Casting Club's open to the world tournament, August 21. F. B. Davidson, secretary.

LAKE FISHING IN FLORIDA

BY CHAS. B. TODD

Beginning in Bradford and Clay counties, in North Florida, and extending due south through the center of the state to the Everglades, is the "Lake Country," or "Sandhill Region," as it is variously called. It is really the backbone of Forida. Its distinctive features are round hills and ridges of sand, with bowl-like depressions between filled with clear, limpid, almost chemically pure water.

These lakes are almost innumerable—at least I am sure they have never been counted—and lie close together, sometimes separated only by a sandbar. Some have reedy, lily-padded, high shores studded with pine trees, others are surrounded by a jungle of palmettos, bays, hollies, cypresses, canes and semi-tropical vines. Some are mere expansions of a creek, while many have neither inflow nor outlet and must be fed from the subterranean streams which are known to exist beneath Florida; otherwise, with the evaporation and the sandy soil, they must necessarily dry up or leach away.

These lakes, at least those in the southern part, with which I am most familiar and of which I write, abound in fishes—bass, or "trout" as the crackers call them, bream, perch, garfish, catfish and bullheads or horned pouts, the first three edible fishes, the others fit food only for negroes and alligators. Turtles abound, grow to a large size and are fine eating.

The bass is the game fish par excellence, striking at live bait, spoon or frog, and may be taken by trolling or by rod and reel. These bass have dark backs and light bellies, and are powerful and voracious fishes, often breaking the surface in their eager pursuit of minnows and young perch. Bream will not take the hook. They much resemble the porgy in size and form, and have dark stripes across the sides. Perch are much like the northern perch bat or sunfish. Garfish have long, slim, round bodies, a long, pointed snout, and jaws armed with sharp teeth. The catfish is king of the waters so far as size is concerned, often attaining a weight of fifty pounds. Bass are rarely taken above eight pounds.

I went a-fishing for bass on February 4, with my friend P— and his wife, who live in a pretty cottage surrounded by orange, lemon, lime and guava trees, roses and passion flower vines, on the north shore of Lake Letta. He is the son of an Irish clergyman, who, tiring of the conventionalities of English society, came to the Florida wilderness six years ago. Later his wife, a young Irish lady of good family, joined him. She is a clever writer of short stories for the English magazines.

Lake Letta is a sheet of water five miles in circumference, with irregular outlines, high, pine-clad shores, and fringed with water grass and lily pads. Carter Creek flows out of it on the south, through Bonnet Lake, into Arbuckle Creek, an affluent of the Kissimmee, in volume sufficient to float a skiff. Bonnet Creek flows in from Carter, a much larger lake, on the north.

We have a large center-board skiff. Mrs. P— sits on the stern seat with the baby, Louis, in her arms, I next with my Marlin rifle on one side and a reel wound with a fifty-foot Irish linen line on the other. The rifle is for a ten-foot alligator we rowed upon and struck with the oars the last time we were out. P— sits amidship and rows.

As the boat gains headway I drop overboard the spoon —small, silver beneath, red above—that wobbles through the water instead of turning. Florida bass will not strike a revolving spoon. It is 5 p. m., thermometer 60°, not an especially good night for bass, P— says, as the north wind has kicked up a little sea. We skirt the edge of the lily beds in deep, black water, the spoon trailing forty feet behind. A rod or two, and I feel a jerk on the line and haul in. At the same instant, away back there, a big head breaks the surface—a bass has caught on. Now the word is to keep the line taut or the fish will "rush" and jerk himself loose. In he comes, cutting the surface, darting this way and that, until within a few feet of the boat. We lift him out of water bodily, lest, like the bluefish of Nantucket, he dart under the boat and cut the line. P— unhooks him and bends his head back, dislocating the spinal column, I drop the spoon overboard again, and we are ready for another.

Ten yards more and there is another strike. The process is repeated and another three-pounder is swung over the gunwale to P—'s hands. The third one breaks loose. "Wasn't fairly hooked," the man with the line declares, in self justification. So we go around the lake. Half way around an old German, with his flock of boys, has made a clearing in the pines.

"What luck?" he asks.

"Seven beauties," we reply.

The sun sets, and the beautiful glow of these southern latitudes overspreads the west; but the fishes continue to strike—they will bite, P— declares, as long as they can see the spoon.

"Here we are sure of one," says Mrs. P—, off the mouth of Bonnet Creek; and, sure enough, a big one soon strikes and is brought aboard in a sportsmanlike fashion. It is dark and the stars are out, as we glide up to the home dock and count the catch—fourteen beauties—and we have been out one hour and one-quarter.

The sportsman takes his rifle and share of the spoils, tramps half a mile through the solemn pine forest by the light of the moon, and rows two miles over Carter before reaching his home.

The Crackers have a method of catching lake bass which is worth adding to the literature of piscation. When bent on hilarity a party of ten or twelve repair to some large lake prolific of bass—Red Water is a favorite —launch their boats and throw out their hooks baited with live perch. Each line is attached to one of the immense gourds—fully as large as the largest watermelon—of the country, which is thrown into the water and serves as a buoy. Each man has six or eight of these gourds to attend to, and takes his station about midway of the line of floats.

Soon one disappears, in a few moments bobs up again and starts off at racehorse speed across the lake, the Cracker after it, rowing at his utmost speed, while his companions cheer him on with shouts and laughter. An eight-pound bass often leads the oarsman a pretty chase, and when several are in pursuit at the same time the effect is electrical.

The lakes near Avon Park are getting somewhat thinned out. For the best fishing now sportsmen go to Arbuckle Creek, twelve miles southeast, taking a boat with them. This creek draws its waters from the lakes and is alive with bass of the largest kind. It is, also, good hunting ground for alligators, bears and deer. It flows south some thirty miles into the Kissimmee, the great sluggish river that empties into Lake Okeechobec and never issues—its waters seeping, it is supposed, through the spongy soil of the Everglades to the Gulf.

Avon Park, Fla.

NOTES

To doubt an angler's story is considered the correct thing to do: to hang on the wall the actual fish, preserved for all time, which has given the angler an hour's hard fight to capture, is a pleasure, for every time it is seen it brings up pleasant reminiscences. Mr. Chas. Nixon, of the Inter Ocean, Chicago, is an enthusiastic angler, and when he caught a mascalonge last year, with a mouth which spread six inches or more, he brought the head home with him, for he knew no one would believe a fish story. To keep it was the question, and Mr. L. A. Corey, who is in the same building, and preserves meat for shipment abroad, offered to treat it the same as he does meat. The test proved successful, and now Mr. Nixon has the open-mouthed head looking down upon him every day, and in memory lives over again the exciting scenes of its capture. Mr. Corey thinks there are many anglers who would like to preserve certain heads or whole fishes, and will treat, free of charge, a sample head for any organized club. The appearance of the fish or head is the same as if mummified, but the size is there, and an invitation is extended to anglers to call and look at the specimen in the Inter Ocean building.

THE Fly-Fishers' Club of Brooklyn, N. Y., held its annual meeting on April 11 and elected officers as follows: President, Charles A. Bryan; secretary, Lody Smith; treasurer, James Rice Jr. The club chartered a parlor car, and on April 13, at 1 p. m., a large party of members started for Henrysville, Pa., to commence trout fishing on April 15 when the season opened. The roster of membership now includes the following names: Messrs. Granville W. Harman, Charles A. Bryan, Lody Smith, E. W. Seymour, C. G. Levison, Dr. F. S. Howard, R. S. Sayre, C. A. Snedecor, E. B. Rice, C. B. Boynton, J. D. Adams, Dr. E. Palmer, R. D. Robbins, A. H. Watson, George J. Jackson, Henry C. Wells, David T. Wells, A. C. Fitzpatrick, W. C. Pate, W. R. Robinson, James Wells, Joseph K. Wells, Joseph M. Bacon, James Rice, Jr., Kit Clarke.

THE issue of April 13 of our cotemporary, the Fishing Gazette, of London, Eng., contains a full report of the ceremonies attending the unveiling of the memorial window to the venerable Izaak Walton, in St. Dunstan's Church, London, on April 5. Mr. Walker Baily, master of the Ironmongers' Company, delivered the opening address and unveiled the window. Mr. H. B. Marston, editor of the Fishing Gazette, through whose efforts the subscriptions for the memorial were made, followed with an address, in which he sketched the history of the memorial and described the window in detail. The counterpart of the window, as printed in the Fishing Gazette, depicts a most elaborate piece of work, and the memorial must be exceedingly beautiful. It cost, with a marble memorial tablet which has been placed in the Fleet Street wall of St. Dunstan's Church, one hundred and ten pounds sterling, which sum was raised entirely by public subscriptions.

THE salmon season opened April 10, in Oregon, and large numbers of fine fishes are received at the Portland markets daily. The most of the salmon are very fine ones, and it is said some run up to sixty and even seventy pounds' weight. During the close season—March 1 to April 10—Protector McGuire arrested thirteen illegal fishers and succeeded in convicting eleven of them; but, although he was on the river the two nights preceding the opening day, he feels satisfied many salmon on the market that day were illegally taken by parties who succeeding in eluding his vigilance. Protector McGuire has plans ready for a fishway in the dam across the Clackamas. He has sent notice to the owners of the dam to construct a fishway at once, and if they fail to do so he intends to act promptly upon the plans at hand.

A NUMBER of prominent Saginaw (Mich.) sportsmen have perfected an organization known as the Greenwood Fishing Club, for the purposes of fishing, hunting, yachting and rowing, and they filed articles of association on April 10. The capital stock is $2,000—200 shares at ten dollars each—and the life of the association has been made fifteen years. The names of the original subscribers and the number of shares taken by each are as follows: S. F. Owen, 1; A. M. Lemke, 1; Charles T. Goppelt, 1; E. A. Tillotson, 1; V. Kindler, 1; R. P. Alden, 1; C. M. Norris, 1; E. C. Forrest, 1; H. A. Horr, 1; R. C. Morley, 1; M. J. Purcell, 1; O. P. Barber, 2; F. S. Spencer, 1; F. W. Freeman, 1; J. Valkenburg, 5.

THE following excerpt from an exchange states a fact so aptly that we give the same to our readers: "A down-east editor says: 'And now the gentle angler will proceed to catch his death of cold.' How little such an editor knows about angling. When did an angler catch cold? He can wade all day, tramp through the rain, sleep in a shake-down, and experience experiences that would kill him if they were work, and yet come out invigorated and strong. But it is of no use to argue with people of no experience—Satis superque."

ON April 11 the Senate of Connecticut passed a bill creating a new state fish and game commission, which by an amendment was made to take effect on April 15. Many prominent citizens of the state, regardless of politics, have petitioned Gov. Coffin to appoint Mr. James A. Bill, of Lyme, as a member of the state fish commission, as his past services in that capacity have been of great value to the state, and, in their opinion, his experience would prove still more so in the future.

ON April 15 Indiana State Fish Commissioner P. H. Krisch appointed G. W. Dodge, of Fort Wayne, assistant fish commissioner and game warden for the counties of La Grange, Noble, Steuben, De Kalb and Allen, with full power to enforce all the game laws. It is said that Mr. Dodge is an enthusiastic sportsman who will commence at once a crusade against violators of the fish and game laws, and will call upon all sportsmen within his jurisdiction to assist him in enforcement of the law.

ASSEMBLYMAN JAMES T. ELLARSON, of Wautoma, has been appointed state fish and game warden in place of D. W. Fernandez, of Oshkosh. His salary will be $1,800 a year. Mr. Ellarson is the editor of the Wautoma Argus. Assembly Bill No. 606 was passed, providing for fishways in dams in all streams in Wisconsin. [illegible] limited to $150 for each. Considerab[illegible] manifested toward the bill.

Madison, Wis.

ON April 14, at Newport, Ky., a number of sportsmen organized the Newport Hunting and Fishing Club, with the following officers: President, Ike Hildebrandt; vice-president, Henry Venard; secretary, Peter Burbidge; treasurer, Edwin Smith. Active members are Paul Flynn, Fred Maus, Hugh Creelman, Frank Bregel and Richard Donovan. The club intends to erect a fine boat house for the coming season.

A LARGE-PAPER edition of "Walton's Complete Angler," with a scholarly introduction by the editor, Mr. E. G. Johnson, has just been issued by A. C. McClurg & Co., of Chicago. This will afford collectors a rare opportunity to secure a copy of the writings of this patron saint of anglers.

SHAD are beginning to be taken in goodly numbers in the Hudson River by the gill-netters. The fishes run large in size, are fat and of excellent flavor, their flesh being very firm this season. Their fine condition is attributed by the fishermen to the past severe Winter.

IN Illinois Gov. Altgeld has appointed Chas. W. Babcock and Philip Goether, both of Chicago, as fish wardens; also appointed C. D. Crouse, of Savanna, Ill., fish warden for Carroll County.

IN Kansas, State Fish Commissioner Wampler has appointed Mr. J. S. Cooper, of Marion, fish warden for Marion County.

Natural History

THE REPTILES OF MICHIGAN—NO. 14

BY MORRIS GIBBS

Lizards

The order Lacertilla is the second in the class of reptiles: First, Ophidia, snakes; second, Lacertilla, lizards; third, Chelonia, turtles and terrapins.

To my knowledge there is but one species of lizard in this state. Though so common in the South, in this northern country the lizards are few. Indiana catalogs embrace five species, but most of these are confined to the southern half of the state.

The Glass or Point Snake, Ophisaurus ventralis (L.), is embraced as a species by Smith in his catalog of 1879, but there is an interrogation point in connection therewith. However, as this is a very interesting animal, and possibly a Michigan species, it shall be described. It is around this peculiar creature that so many stories of a mysterious nature collect. Tales which mean so much to the lovers of the impossible, and which are so easily explained by the enlightened. This is the animal which can be broken in pieces, and still live, and wriggle away. Nay, farther, this is the wonderful "jint-snake," which when broken into pieces will reassemble its sections—"jine itself"—and travel off.

Now for facts. The so-called glass-snake is a lizard, and is readily distinguished by capable observers, although it has no legs. There are many points of difference between snakes and lizards, some of which will be noticed. Snakes have no visible ears, while in lizards the ear-openings are apparent. Serpents cannot close the eyes, and have a stony stare, while lizards have eyelids and can wink readily. There are a dozen other distinctions which could be brought to the attention of common observers, the most noticeable being the difference in the scales on the under parts of the body.

The glass-snake, which is not a snake any more than it is a turtle or than one could call a salamander a frog, has a tail of about two-thirds its entire length. This tail, like the tails of about all lizards in the United States that I have met with, is very delicate and easily broken off at times. When a fourth to a half, or even more, of the animal is detached and the head end wriggles away, and the remainder and sometimes larger part squirms in sight it is an astonishing spectacle, and I am not surprised that the ignorant should clothe the creature with mysticism. But, as a matter of fact, all sensible people know that the fragments do not reunite, for it would be impossible to fit together the ruptured blood vessels and shattered nerves and restore the animal. Still, this story of traditional force is believed by a host of people, along with other surprising hoop-snake tales, mi[illegible] whoppers, with quill-throwing porcupine relati[illegible] thousand and one other and lesser untruths. I [illegible] in saying that more than one reader of the A[illegible] FIELD will honestly claim that the writer is far [illegible] the truth regarding the unbelief expressed concern[illegible] the wonderful capabilities of the "jint snake."

NOTES

[illegible] in illustrate the migratory habits of birds, [illegible]e [illegible], two years ago, a Philadelphia [illegible] secured a fine Baltimore oriole, says the Philadelphia Times. She tied a bit of red silk around his leg, turning him loose in time to wing his flight along with his companions. Last April (1894) the bird reappeared, bringing with him a mate having a bit of blue ribbon tied around her leg. The pair took up their abode in a big oak tree, soon swinging a nest and bringing forth a brood. The lady watched the movements of the beribboned couple very eagerly, and what was her astonishment one day, soon after they left the nest, to behold the young birds all strung out in line on a limb, while the parent birds, with deft beaks and feet, tied a bit of bright cloth about the leg of each. The ingenuity of the oriole is well known, and it is probable that the first bird became so pleased with his decoration that he tied a blue ribbon to the leg of his mate, and wished to hand down the custom to his progeny. The young woman is now eagerly looking forward for the reappearance of her little friends this season and means to bestow upon each a bright new ribbon should they come again." The writer of the above item neglected to give the name of the dry goods dealer from whom the orioles purchased their bright cloth.

A MEETING was held the afternoon of April 17, in the office of the Mayor of New York City, at which the incorporators of the New York Zoölogical Society had a public hearing regarding the objects of the corporation. The intention is to establish a zoölogical garden, on ground to be furnished by the Sinking Fund Commission, to which visitors will be admitted free four days in the week; Sunday to be one of those days. Among the incorporators ars Messrs. Charles A. Dana, Oswald Ottendorfer, Andrew H. Green, William H. Webb, Henry H. Cook, Samuel D. Babcock, Charles R. Miller, George G. Haven, J. Hampden Robb, Frederick W. De Voe and J. Seaver Page. The latter gentleman made the principal address on behalf of the corporation. He stated that the objects of the society were creditable and its efforts would result in public benefit.

SKETCHES OF ALASKA AND THE PACIFIC COAST—INDIA TOTEM POLES

ON April 19 the Hamburg-American steamer Prussia arrived at New York bringing as part of the cargo a number of fine wild animals from Hamburg, Germany. A very fine specimen of the Bengal tiger was consigned to the Cincinnati Zoölogical Garden, where the best tiger in the collection recently died from natural causes. The recent importation is said to be one of the finest animals of his breed in captivity. Two leopards, two hyenas, four seals, two dromedaries, three boxes of snakes and three cages of monkeys were also landed, consigned to Mr. W. Bartel[illegible] York.

[illegible] three young fellows—H. Angel, [illegible] Flagg—had a good time near [illegible] Ill., shooting songbirds. But [illegible]s. H. Blow arrested them for vio[illegible] and on Tuesday, April 23, they were arraigned before Justice Foster, of Chicago, and, despite the efforts of shyster lawyers, were convicted, and each was fined $5 and costs. Three other boys, A. Bergman, H. Forester and George Seaman, were also arrested for the same offense, and will be tried before Justice Foster on April 29.

THE Academy of Sciences, Chicago, was formally opened to the public last Monday night. The new fireproof building, located in Lincoln Park, that city, is one of the finest in the country, an ornament architecturally; and with display halls and galleries, and lecture rooms commodious, well lighted and filled with interesting collections, Curators Baker and Woodruff are just now the happiest of men.

SKETCHES OF ALASKA AND THE PACIFIC COAST—THE INDIAN VILLAGE AT SITKA

Travel

SKETCHES OF ALASKA AND THE PACIFIC COAST—NO. 14

(Illustrated.)

BY A. K. DELANEY

The Alaskan Indians

With the exception of the Chilkat tribe, the natives of Alaska possess very few of the characteristics of the North American Indians of the plains. As a rule the Chilkats are fine physical specimens of humanity, tall, athletic and decidedly inclined to be warlike. They occupy a strip of country between the head of the Lynn Canal, which is the northern extremity of the Inland Passage, and the Chilkat Mountains, the latter being a spur of the Mount Fairweather Range. Time out of mind they have held the only pass leading from tidewater across the range to the headwaters of the Yukon. This has given them a monopoly of the traffic with the interior Indians of the Upper Yukon Basin, and is an advantage of which they are extremely jealous. The remaining tribes of the coast are low in stature and invariably bow-legged, owing no doubt to the fact that from childhood they spend the greater portion of their lives in the canoe. They show, however, strong muscular development of the chest and arms, and when free from disease are very rugged and hardy. The countenance has a decided Asiatic cast, although the skin is darker, the cheek bones more prominent, the mouth and lips larger than those of the Orientals. The generic name for the entire race is Klinket or Thinkget. With the single exception of the village at Sitka their settlements are all on the banks of some stream, at or near its mouth. Their habitations are now constructed of lumber, with an opening in the center of the roof through which the smoke from a fireplace in the center of the room escapes. Around the four sides of the building usually will be found a platform, slightly elevated above the level of the fireplace, which is occupied for sleeping purposes. The meals are eaten usually at the fireplace, around which the members of the family gather in a crouching or sitting attitude and eat from the same dish. The chief articles of diet are dried fish—usually salmon—the meat of wild animals, wild berries preserved in seal-oil, and hardtack, the latter being purchased by the box at the stores and trading-posts.

SKETCHES OF ALASKA AND THE PACIFIC COAST—RUSTIC BEAUTIES

The males, especially those of the younger generations, have adopted the dress of the white men; and the females to some extent imitate the costume of their white sisters, although the favorite headgear is a silk handkerchief of brilliant colors, folded into a triangle and tied under the chin, and no matter what the underclothing may be—whether silk, satin or calico—the gayly-colored blanket usually is wrapped about them, extending from shoulders to feet.

The tribes invariably consist of two families or branches, and members of the same family or branch are not allowed to intermarry; but those of one branch may intermarry with those of another. The marrying contract is a very simple affair. The young couple having come to an understanding between themselves, the prospective groom must make all further negotiations with the parents of his intended. These negotiations usually result in his delivering over a certain number of blankets or paying over a certain amount of coin to the parents of the bride in consideration of being allowed to take her to wife. The greater the amount of the consideration the higher the young couple are elevated in the social scale of Indian life. Matters being thus amicably arranged no ceremony follows, but the groom is adopted into and becomes a permanent member of the bride's family, the couple repair to their habitation and the marriage is completed.

Different families have adopted various animals as emblematic of their family, some taking the raven, the eagle or others of the feathered tribes, others the bear, the wolf and other wild animals, and others still adopting the whale and similar denizens of the ocean.

Genealogy is always traced through the female line, and in times gone by was perpetuated by the totem poles, which consist of the different animals representing the different families, often carved with great skill and intermingled one with another to show the combinations of blood arising from marriage and offspring. The importance of the female is everywhere prominently brought out. The wife invariably carries the purse, and in their frequent long journeys by water she occupies the post of honor at the stern of the canoe and does the steering. Aside from this she performs few, if any, menial offices. The males usually cook the food and wash the clothes. The offspring of marriage, in their domestic relations, belong to the family of the mother, and in case of war between two branches of the same tribe the son must often battle against his father, even to the death grapple. When war breaks out between one branch of a tribe and a neighboring tribe, the other branch—unless attacked or otherwise provoked—remains neutral although their own blood may be engaged against the enemy.

SKETCHES OF ALASKA AND THE PACIFIC COAST—DEAD INDIAN CHIEF LYING IN STATE

Superstition, of course, has a strong hold upon them, and every village has its shaman or medicine man, who pretends by outlandish gyrations and incantations to cure the sick by exorcising the evil spirit with which the patient is afflicted. They have a fixed conviction of a life after death, and the departed, according to their belief, are divided into two classes—the great hunters and their tribes, and the great warriors and their tribes. The latter are believed to outrank the former in the world to come, and nothing is more honorable than for a chieftain to enter the unknown world bearing upon his person the scars of battle. Death in battle or by bloodshed is universally regarded as certain to bring high rank and great happiness in the next world. The departed are believed to pass through a dark valley until a stream which divides this world from the world to come is reached, where they are met by friends who have gone before and by them are transported across to the happy land beyond. In this respect their belief calls to mind the ancient mythology, with its river Styx and the grim ferryman Charon, who transported to immortality the souls of the departed. The funeral pile is an immemorial custom among them, and in spite of the encroachments of civilization cremation is still practiced in many of the tribes.

A notable incident of this method of disposing of the dead recently took place at Juneau, following the death of Kowahee, the head chief of the Auks. Previous to the ceremony at the funeral pile the dead chieftain was clad in the costume of war, and surrounded by his Chilkat blanket and more valuable personal effects was allowed to lie in state for two or three days. On the morning of the cremation a crib of logs, taken from a tree previously chosen for the purpose, was erected, inside of which the fuel for the funeral pile was placed in accordance with the prevailing custom. The body was taken out through the smokehole of the roof, in obedience to a superstition that if it was carried through the doorway it would cause the death of some other member of the family. A procession was then formed and moved with the body toward the funeral pile, all in attendance singing a mournful wail in the vernacular of the natives. The procession was headed by four men carrying the body on a large, white canvas, and immediately after followed the members of the family, one bringing the dead chieftain's clothing, another his blankets and still others his implements of war. The funeral pile had already been ignited and the body was placed upon the burning pile, his rifle was discharged four times then broken at the stock by a blow over the corner of the pyre and cast into the fire consuming the body. This was followed by some subdued shouting and the mournful chant was resumed. Then the chieftain's button-trimmed blanket was torn in two parts, and one-half was thrown onto the fire while the other was saved as a receptacle for his ashes; and, last of all, his clothing was placed upon the fire.

The day was wintry in the extreme. A snowstorm had covered everything with its white mantle and still the snow was falling. Behind arose the precipitous and jagged Alaskan Mountains—cold and grand—and on a desolate strip of beach in front a solitary iceberg was stranded, beyond which stretched the gray curtain of mist enshrouding the waters of the bay. All was Winter and desolation whose stern features were unbroken save by the ruddy flames of the ever increasing conflagration of the funeral pyre, and, here and there, the gaudy colors of the blankets worn by the female members of the family. Two hours later the frame of Kowahee was reduced to ashes, which were gathered up by his family and placed in the remaining one-half of his favorite blanket, and deposited in a little wooden structure erected by the dead chieftain—in accordance with the time-honored custom of his people—to perpetuate his own name and memory. Such is the funeral of an Alaskan brave, and it may well be doubted if burial, an innovation following the advent of civilization, is any inprovement over the old method of disposing of the dead.

As a rule the Alaskan natives are industrious and are the only race among Uncle Sam's copper-colored wards that is self-supporting. In the art of carving on bone, wood and slate they have attained a very considerable degree of excellence, and the manufacture of curios has become an established business among them. The woven work of the native women, such as baskets, mats and Chilkat blankets, is very unique and often very beautiful. The original Chilkat blankets, woven in such a manner as to display in different colors the totemic emblems of the tribe, were originally made from the wool of the mountain sheep spun and prepared by the native women, but latterly the material of the white man has come quite largely into use in the manufacture of these blankets. The baskets and mats are made from wild grasses, the smaller roots and fibers of the trees, and the inner bark of the spruce, which after being gathered and prepared are dyed into all the colors of the rainbow, after which they are woven by hand into baskets and other articles.

The women also manufacture blankets out of the skins of the squirrel and of the paws of the lynx and fox, and also out of the breasts of the eagle and the swan. These blankets and robes, including the tanning and dressing, are exclusively the work of the native women and are invariably extremely beautiful and attractive.

A collection of the work of the native women, gathered by the Lady Manager from Juneau, without government aid, by the way, appeared in the Ethnological Room of the Women's Building at the World's Columbian Exposition and presented an unusually excellent display of the work of the native women of Alaska.

Missions under the auspices of various church denominations have been established at many points throughout the territory, but progress toward civilization has been slow and one can hardly repress the thought that the patience and devotion which the missionaries, especially the ladies, bring to their work are deserving of a more pronounced success.

My own experience and observation lead me to believe that the true method of intellectual development lies, to a very great degree, in teaching the natives the trades and mechanical arts. This plan has been adopted by Mr. William Duncan, in his colony of Metlahkahtlas, with the result that this tribe is unquestionably in advance in point of civilization of all other Alaskan natives. This tribe with its leader originally resided in British Columbia, but a dispute arose between the Canadian government and the colony concerning the title of the tribe to the lands it occupied; and, being unable to reach a satisfactory adjustment with the government, Mr. Duncan removed his colony in a body to Annette Island, situated on the north side of Dixon Entrance. There a handsome and very interesting village has been built and the government has very wisely and generously ceded the entire island to the colony by an act of Congress. The houses present a very tidy appearance and were all constructed by the natives.

The colony is managed by a council, all of whom are Indians except Mr. Duncan, who is president of the council. Mr. Duncan's motto is to keep his people busy, and with this end in view he establishes industries of various kinds in his settlement. Aside from a sawmill the colony owns a salmon cannery, and for the purpose of lighting the village and furnishing power for additional factories an electric plant has been put in, operated by water brought down the mountain side through a pipe-line several hundreds of feet in length, which provides an ample and constant power. It may furnish food for reflection to the government at Washington, whose uniform policy concerning Alaska has been one of persistent neglect, to know that the first settlement along Alaska's rugged shores to be lighted by that wonderful agent, electricity, was the Indian village of the Metlahkahtlas, an alien tribe.

NOTES

ONE of the finest specimens of the printers' and illustrators' arts in railway literature extant is "Valley, Plain and Peak," or "From Midland Lakes to Western Ocean by the Great Northern Railway," issued by the passenger department of the Great Northern. It describes the route from Buffalo to Puget Sound, noting the prominent places and scenes along the line of travel, and every alternate page of the pamphlet is a full page illustration of some salient feature or features upon or adjacent to the route. The scenic illustrations are marvelously clear and beautiful, and a perusal of this elegant little work would be a fitting prelude to a trip over the Great Northern Railway, and almost as enjoyable to one unable to take the trip. Starting from Buffalo upon one of the magnificent express passenger steamers—"North West" and "North Land"—recently constructed and unsurpassed by any boats upon any waters for elegance and comfort, the tourist is transported through the great lakes to Duluth. Thence by the Great Northern, through the country to Puget Sound, upon the Pacific Coast. The many pleasant resorts for the sportsman and tourist are noted, while the traveler interested in deeper subjects can find abundant material for perusal and thought. The pamphlet is of convenient size, and the title is embossed upon the cover. All desiring a better acquaintanoe with its contents will do well to address F. I. Whitney, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

THE enthusiastic sportsman, the exhausted professional or mercantile man, the tourist or the mere pleasure seeker, alike can peruse with enjoyment and profit a beautifully printed and charmingly illustrated pamphlet, entitled "Hunting and Fishing Along the Northwestern Line," issued by W. B. Kniskern, General Passenger and Ticket Agent of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company, of whom it may be obtained. The work depicts in a most interesting style the delightful sport to be had by the angler in pursuit of trout, bass, mascalonge, or wall-eyed pike; the pleasures in store for the gunner with ducks and ruffed grouse, and the hunter in deer shooting; and all to be reached by the Northwestern, within a night's ride of Chicago, in Wisconsin Iowa, Minnesota and Michigan. By riding a longer time the hunter who seeks large game can reach Nebraska and South Dakota, where elks, bears, antelopes, etc., are yet to be had by the hardy sportsman. The open seasons for game and game fishes are given for each state and there is an excellent map of the wonderful lake region of northern Wisconsin, tributary to the Northwestern Railway. It is a veritable handbook of information of the regions of which it treats.

Through Service

The Nickel Plate Road (N. Y. C. & St. L. R. R.), the favorite line between Chicago and the East along the South Shore of Lake Erie, being the shortest line to Cleveland and Buffalo, offers a splendid through car service to all classes of passengers. Magnificent Wagner sleepers and dining car daily on through trains to New York and Boston. For reservations of sleeping car space and further information address J. Y. CALAHAN, General Agent, 199 Clark Street, Chicago, Ill. Adv. No. 58.

No Change to New York and Boston

The through service offered the traveling public by the Nickel Plate Road (N. Y. C. & St. L. R. R.) is unsurpassed. The perfect passenger service of this road with the well-known excellence of the West Shore and Fitchburg roads recommends itself to the traveling public. Wagner palace cars and dining car daily on through trains to New York and Boston. For additional information see your local ticket agent or address J. Y. CALAHAN, General Agent, 199 Clark Street, Chicago, Ill. Adv. No. 57.

To the Traveling Public

Before purchasing tickets to points east of Chicago, first ascertain the rate to that point over the Nickel Plate Road. City ticket office, 199 Clark Street, Chicago, Ill. Adv. No. 56.

Kennel

FIXTURES

SHOWS

Toronto Kennel Club's annual Spring show, Toronto, April 25 and 26. W. P. Fraser, secretary.

Pacific Kennel Club's annual show, San Francisco, May 7, 8, 9 and 10. H. Vernou, secretary.

Montreal Kennel Association's local show, Montreal, May 12.

Ohio Humane Society's dog show, Cincinnati, May 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24. Entries close May 14. Al. G. Eberhart, superintendent.

Canada's Industrial Exhibition's seventh annual dog show, Toronto, September 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13. C. A. Stone, superintendent.

Orange County Fair's dog show, Newburg, N. Y., September 17, 18, 19 and 20. Robert Johnston, secretary.

FIELD TRIALS

Continental Field Trial Club's inaugural trials (on prairie chickens), ——, September 2. P. T. Madison, secretary.

Manitoba Field Trial Club's trials (on prairie chickens). Morris, Manitoba, September 10. Entries close July 1 and August 15. John Wootton, Secretary.

United States Field Trial Club's Fall trials, Carlisle, Ind., November 4. W. B. Stafford, secretary.

International Field Trial Club's trials, Chatham, Ont., November 5. W. B. Wells, secretary.

Eastern Field Trial Club's trials, Newton, N. C., November 18. Derby entries close May 15. W. A. Coster, secretary.

Continental Field Trial Club's Autumn trials, Newton, N. C., November 25. P. T. Madison, secretary.

United States Field Trial Club's second Fall trials, ——, November 28. W. B. Stafford, secretary.

BEAGLE TRIALS

New England Beagle Club's trials, Oxford, Mass., November 5 W. S. Clark, secretary.

CLUB MEETINGS

National Greyhound Club's meeting, Union Hotel, New York, Friday, April 26, 8 p. m. C. F. Lewis, secretary.

THE BOSTON SHOW

The eleventh annual dog show of the New England Kennel Club, held at Boston April 16 to 19, was one of the best of the numerous successful shows given by the management. Most of the classes were well filled and many of them contained some of the best of the respective breeds. The catalog showed 752 dogs, which, with duplicate entries for field trial and other classes, swelled the number to over 800 entries. The weather in the early morning of the opening days was not good or promising, but it was not such as to prevent a fair attendance. The remaining days had bright sunshine and all that could be desired. The largest [illegible] Friday, Patriots' Day, formerly Fast [illegible] ments for judging were very com[illegible] began promptly the morning of the [illegible] to the floods a few dogs did not [illegible] judged in their regular class[illegible] were delayed to give them time to come. The bench[illegible]ng was the best of the kind ever seen and presented a very neat appearance, having advantages as well as disadvantages. It was made of matched and beaded boards about four inches wide, all having a coat of shellac varnish. The divisions are hinged on the back boards, so that they close against it when not in use, making the whole very compact for storage. One thing I noticed that seemed wrong—the ring for fastening the cog was in the center instead of the corner of the stall. In the center the chain tangles more and the ring is just in the way when the dog is lying down. These are easily changed and should be before another show.

Among the visitors were Mrs. Smythe, of Germantown, and Miss Griffin, of Detroit. It was Mrs. Smythe's first appearance since her dreadful accident, and her greetings were many and sincere, as all of her friends were glad to see her out again. Miss Griffin had none of her dogs along, having sent them home from Pittsburg, where she was very successful.

Mr. Osmund B. Gilman was unfortunate in losing his black cocker spaniel before the show opened by hanging itself at its stall, the chain being long enough to let it get out, but not long enough to let its hindfeet reach the floor. The accident happened while the attendants were busy receiving dogs on the first morning.

The judging was finished early on the second day and a marked catalog was on sale Thursday.

The club, according to its usual custom, gave an excellent luncheon on the first day, to which an unusually large number sat down. Nowhere else is a luncheon so generously given and enjoyed, and it is a marked and popular custom of this club.

Spratts Patent fed the show, and Mr. Ehrmann was made happy by selling thirty-two tons of biscuit; the largest week he has had at a show for some time.

President Edward Brooks and the secretary-treasurer, Mr. D. E. Loveland, with Messrs Little, Hammond, Donner, Fletcher, Cobb, Hanks and Thayer, were in evidence daily, the president, the secretary and Mr. Hammond taking upon themselves the bulk of the work and performing it to the entire satisfaction of visitors and exhibitors. They were in constant attendance from early morning until late in the evening and such business as came before them was attended to with dispatch. On the afternoon of the last day the prizes were paid.

POINTERS.—(Maj. J. M. Taylor, judge.) The classes were fairly well filled with good ones. In the challenge class for heavyweight dogs Duke of Kent was not in his best form, being too fat; he was placed first, with Molton Banner, reserve. The corresponding bitch class had no entry. The open class for dogs had ten entries. Twinkle was selected for the best. Barring a little too much flesh he was in the best of condition. Fresh from the hunting fields of Florida he was hard as possible to make flesh, with coat in unusually good condition. In form he is a much improved dog, making a good mate for his sire, Duke of Kent II. Lord Bracken, well known, was second, and was shown in very good form. King of Lynn, third, is only fair in head and shoulders and is a trifle high on legs and long-cast, good in ribs, trifle coarse in stern. Dan, reserve, was close to him for the place, being better in head and a fair dog throughout. Count de Castellane, V.H.C., has his head as his best point; he is thick in head, round in barrel and not good in movement. Duke of Kent III is fair in head and light in eyes, with fair proportions otherwise, but of a faded lemon color that detracts from his appearance. In the open class for bitches Springside Nell was an easy winner; she is well known. Alice Leslie, second, is not a compact bitch; she is fair in head, long in neck, fair only in shoulders, and coarse in stern; she is rather high on legs and was shown lame; her condition was good. Emblem, reserve, has been the circuit this season with Ben Lewis and is well known. Pet, reserve, is an ordinary bitch, thick in shoulders, with the usual accompaniment—round in barrel. The challenge class for lightweights had Ridgeview Comet, Duke of Hessen, Arthur and Ridgeview Tenny. Duke of Hessen took first and Tenny serve. Duke was in rather good form, showing more sprightliness than usual. Tenny was in too much flesh to be at his best. Comet and Arthur were in good condition and need no description. In the challenge class for bitches were Lady Gay Spanker, Miss Rumor and Hempstead's Pearl, and they stood in merit in the order named; all were shown in good form. Ridgeview Chancellor came to the front for first honors in the open class for lightweight dogs; he has improved constantly and won easily. He was shown in the best of form. Lad of Rush, second, is not in best of show form, as his coat is stained and he hardly had flesh enough. Kentwood, third, is rather a coarse dog with a fair head. Nick of Kent, reserve, is a dog of same character. Max F, V.H.C., is coarse in head and upright and thick in shoulders. Skip, V.H.C., also, is a rather coarse dog. The corresponding bitch class had nine entries. Devonshire Pearl, first, is good in head, eyes, ears, neck and shoulders, lacking a little in depth of chest and round turned in hips; she has good legs and feet, and fair stern. Daisy, second, is good in head, neck, shoulders and chest; the latter would be improved with more depth. She is fair in quarters, stifles and legs and feet. Belle, third, was not so good in shoulders and forearm as Daisy, but better in quarters and quality. Vexations, reserve, was out of her stall. Springside Lady owes her position of V.H.C. to want of condition, being very thin and badly out of show form. The class for dog puppies had seven entries; none good but the winner, Shadyway. He is a trifle weak in muzzle, but a puppy of excellent form besides, especially in body. John B Allison II is the extended name of winner of second prize, but aside from animation and action had not much to recommend him. He is not a puppy with bright [illegible] Dustyway is too leggy and lengthy now, but [illegible] prove with age; he won the reserve card, [illegible] position. King of Kent II, an ordinary [illegible] V.H.C. The bitch class had two entries, with [illegible] a lemon and white, much the better and first; [illegible] rather promising. Dame Fortune, second, has no [illegible] good points, but is fair in some. The field trial class entries Bounice, of well-known fame and many [illegible] Duke of Hessen. Tempest, Duke of Kent, and [illegible] Duke of Hessen won, with Duke of Kent [illegible] possibly would have been reversed [illegible] proper condition.

[illegible]ETHOUNDS.—(Maj. J. M. Taylor, judge.) Cactus and [illegible] met again, with the verdict for Cactus, as has generally been the case. Glendon wins in head, but Cactus leads him in most other points. Cactus was in best form. Maid Marian had the challenge bitch class to herself; aside from too much flesh she was in good form. The open class for dogs had fifteen entries, an unknown, Montell, coming in for first. He has good head and eyes, well-hung ears, clean neck, good body, legs and feet, with a shoulder just a little upright; in coat and condition he seemed just right; his movement was good also. Cincinnatus' Pride continues to improve and took second; he is well known. Dan O'Light, the Chicago winner that made so favorable an impression, was out of form in flesh and coat and could do no better than third on account of it. Harry L, reserve, is well known, and while he is an attractive dog to look at his movement is not good, being that of all of his type. The Earl and Piedmont were V.H.C. Earl was not in best form, his coat not looking in best condition; he is well known. Piedmont is inclined to a cobby build, is a little short in head and a trifle heavy in shoulders, and his coat is not quite flat; he is rich in black, white and tan color. Young Howard was the only one of the class absent. The bitch class showed three good ones. In Nellie F Joe Lewis has a good one—one of the best bitches shown in years; aside from head, which could be a little better, and a slight throatiness there is no adverse criticism to make; her shoulder formation, chest, body, with excellent hips and quarters, legs and feet, leave little to be desired. Clara, second, was a close second; she is a bitch not yet matured, of same type; not quite so good in head as Nellie F, nor as firm in flesh, but a bitch of much promise and one that should have a satisfactory future for her owner. Our Pet, third, another good bitch of right type, was in rather poor condition, too thin, but in far better condition than she was last year, when she was shown very fat. Outside of these three bitches there was little in the others to commend them. Larkspur, the only entry in the class for dog puppies, was a fair one and was awarded first. The field trial class had two entries, Our Pet and Bradley, the latter absent.

IRISH SETTERS.—(Maj. J. M. Taylor, judge.) Finglas, Bob Jr, Kildare and Kildare Glenmore were the challenge class entries, Kildare taking the honors, with Bob Jr the reserve card. Kildare was in fine form, Bob Jr in excellent condition. For bitches Queen Vic took her usual place over Norna, from the same kennel. In the open class for dogs Henmore Shamrock took first place, beating the second dog in neck, shoulders and Irish character. Shamrock O'Moore, second, lost in neck and shoulders principally; he is also a little straight in stifle, but his coat and condition could not have been surpassed. King Grew, third, has fair head and color, but an ordinary dog besides. Ruffdan, reserve, is off in head and eyes and flat in ribs. The bitch class was a better one, having four very good ones, but they were not all in good form. Ruby Glenmore II won over Coleraine because of the condition of the latter. Coleraine is too good a bitch to be shown as she was, out of condition badly and coat not attended to. In form she could have won handily. Princess was third; a fair bitch throughout, with chief fault in a fair head. Toronto Biddy, well known, took the reserve card. Kilstal was the only dog puppy shown; a fairly good one. Bostal Norna won in the bitch puppy class, and a promising one she is; fair in head and a good one throughout. Kildare Annette, second, is of fair form, but was not in good condition.

GORDON SETTERS.—(Maj. J. M. Taylor, judge.) In the challenge class Ranger B won over Leo B, being much better in coat and condition. Ranger is the better dog behind also. Princess Louise was alone in the bitch class. The open class for dogs was not a good one. Wanoosnoc Prince, first, is only fair in head, which is too short, good enough in shoulders and chest, of fair form besides, with good tan, well placed and of good action. Mount Royal Rush is fairly good in head, cobbily built, tan only fair and a fairly good mover. Wang Ivanhoe, third, has a want of symmetry, black and tan are mixed, and is an ordinary dog not likely to ever get higher. Argus B is a fairly good dog behind but of ordinary quality in front. Maid of Waverly was easily the best bitch in her class; her head (not bad) is her weakest point; she was shown in fine form. Sante Marie, heavy in whelp, is not as good as the winner in head; her condition prevented a fair comparison otherwise. Daisy Ivanhoe is off in head and only fair in shoulders and other formation. The others of the class did not obtain higher recognition than a commended card. The winning dog puppy, Count Noble's Boy, was out of his stall. Duke Noble, second, is an ordinary puppy shown too fat, and was not in good coat. Esta Morse, the bitch puppy winner, was out of her stall. Jessie II, second, is off in head and tan; a fair puppy besides.

FOXHOUNDS.—(Maj J. M. Taylor, judge.) The exhibit of foxhounds, especially the American variety, was excellent, and many that had to be graded as low as V.H.C. are good enough for first prize winners in a good class of entries, and the only regrets were that there were not enough to go around and reach such dogs as Commodore, Logan, Driver, Rock, Judy, Sunmald and Pope's Speedy, that were of necessity dropped below winners. The English had no challenge class, and the sexes were shown together in the open class. Songster recorded another win in a series of unbroken wins, the same owner's Mermaid taking second. Winsome was third. Songster is well known. Mermaid is a good bitch throughout and she was better in head and body than Winsome. The challenge class for American type included both sexes. Bowsprit had rather an easy win. Commodore was second, or rather to[illegible] the reserve card. Both were in [illegible] faced with Pearl Strive would [illegible] that I do not believe could be [illegible] the country. The open class for [illegible]e, and Big Strive, as yet un[illegible]st. The race for second place [illegible] Duke. Clay is better, except in [illegible]dy, legs and feet, and good in shoulders and chest. Driver, reserve, is a nice black and tan, a little upright and heavy in shoulders and showing shortness in neck. Logan, V.H.C., has a nice head, is good in eye, ear and neck, good enough in shoulders, needs a little more depth of chest, and is straight in stifles, giving a stilty appearance which detracts from his otherwise good appearance; he has excellent feet. Rock, V.H.C., is a trifle straight in shoulder, has good head, neck and body, and was shown in fine condition; a dog good enough for a winner in good company. Zack and Steve, H.C., have the same faults, viz., thick in shoulders and round in barrel; these faults were aggravated by their condition—too fat. Pearl Strive was the winner in the bitch class and finally won the special for best American foxhound dog or bitch, beating Big Strive in her neck, shoulder and hip formation; she is a trifle light in muzzle, otherwise there is no criticism against her. Flirt, second, was in whelp, which destroyed her form to some extent; she is nice in head, but a little thick in shoulders. Primrose, third, seemed timid and showed badly. Sunmaid, reserve, is a little off in head, seemed a trifle leggy, but built on speed lines; shown in fine condition. Judy, V.H.C., is nice in head, eye and expression, but shows a little thickness in shoulders. The puppy class had three good ones out of the four shown, Pope's Striver, Pope's Samson and Pope's Speedy, placed in order named. Striver is a little sharp in muzzle but an excellent puppy otherwise. Samson is a little better in head than Striver, but is not his equal in shoulders and body formation. Speedy, reserve, is of same litter but of more cobby build, yet an excellent puppy. The field trial class had five entries, Clay, Sunmaid, Logan, Rock and Zack, in order named, and from the description of them it is seen were a good lot. There was little difference or choice between Sunmaid, Logan and Rock for second place, and no mistake could be made with either occupying it.

BEAGLES.—(Jas. Mortimer, judge.) The classes of beagles were well filled, the open class for bitches under 13 inches being the largest. Frank Forest, Roy K and Forest Hunter were the competitors in the challenge class for dogs. Roy K won. He is fair in head, good besides, with good movement, a trifle high in flesh, condition otherwise good. Forest Hunter, reserve, had better head of the two, the only point in which he excelled; he stands a little wide in front. Lonely won in the corresponding class for bitches; she stands a little wide in front, a sweet bitch besides, but showing her age. Topsy S, reserve, was heavy in whelp and consequently at a disadvantage; her head and expression are very good. Twintwo was the other competitor. Ringleader headed the list in the open class of eight dogs over 13 inches; he was in fine form and won easily; he is well known. Directum, second, has a fair head, is a little throaty and good besides, with excellent action, showing good beagle character. Diamond Forest, third, was fully the equal of Directum and better coupled; he was shown in good condition. Lee III, reserve, is thick in shoulders and fairly good besides. Bowman, V.H.C., was liberally dealt with; his bad forelegs and thick shoulders always condemn him. The open class for bitches over 13 inches had six entries. Silverena, a beautiful bitch throughout, with a sweet head and expression, was easily first. Trill's Baby, second, is a fair bitch only, but the best for the place. Lady of Denmark, third, is wide in front, out at elbows and was not in good coat. Rose Weller was next best in order, getting V.H.C. The open class for dogs under 13 inches was small, only three entries. Clarion of Glenrose, first, was in too much flesh; besides, he does not show well, which makes it the more difficult to get at his real worth. Laick's Roy, second, is fair in head and has good legs and feet, standing well on them, and has good movement. Rival, third, is thick in shoulders and a cobbily made dog throughout. The bitches numbered eleven. Trill, the winner, is fair in head, clean in shoulders, good body, legs and feet, and entirely free from lumber; she deserved the place. Primrose, second, in many features was fully up to the winner; being a little out at elbows in movement she dropped behind. Maida, selected for third place, was better in head than either of those placed above her and showed excellent beagle character, but she is showing age and was not in good condition. Pride of Cressbrook was the reserve bitch; she is thick in shoulders, of cobby build and was soft in coat. Cossette was next in order and was awarded V.H.C. Phantom was an easy winner in the class for dog puppies; of correct form and good all round, he was shown a trifle thin. Comedy, second, was out of stall. Whang, reserve, is fair in head and good in body, but a trifle out at elbows. Fury was the better of the two in the bitch class and won; she is a trifle light throughout, which age will improve. Schackne, second, is rather long cast, but has good legs and feet. The field trial class had Frank Forest, Gipsy Forest, Olaf of Denmark, Spot R, Lady Novice and Zeno. The winners being the first three in order named. Frank Forest is growing thick as he advances in age. Gipsy Forest is heavy and fat.

CHESAPEAKES.—(Jas. Mortimer, judge.) Eight of this breed were shown. The challenge class, for both sexes, had one entry, Bigelow's Rose; she is well known as a fairly typical bitch and was in good coat and condition. The open class for dogs had four entries. Deacon was first, which must send him near the challenge class; he was in good condition, except coat. Peter, second, was close up to Deacon; not so good in ear, but better in eye and coat. Curly, reserve, is a puppy of promise; he should make a nice-sized dog and has good color and coat; he won in the puppy class. The bitch class had three entries. Bigelow's Rose II won; she is of good color, has good eye and form, and is promising. Biddy F, second, is dark in color, otherwise a promising youngster. In the puppy class, of three entries, Curly, mentioned, won, with Hero second, and Biddy F reserve.

J. M. Taylor.

BOSTON TERRIERS.—(A. Mulvey, judge.) The Boston terrier classes were well filled, there being fifty-three entries. The benches were very tastefully decorated, and the exhibits were one of the prime attractions of the show. In the challenge class Topsey, the only dog of this breed qualified to enter this class, was shown in fine condition and carried off the blue ribbon, as usual. In the heavyweight dog class, Peter was awarded first and Prince Walnut second, thus reversing the New York decision. Peter has good head, a little long in body, poor hindlegs and stern. Walnut has good skull and muzzle, but is deficient in stop, good body and stern, hindlegs hocked, shows signs of age and is partially blind in one eye. Pilot won third, same as in New York, a dog full of type in every point, but has two wall eyes. He has good head, body and stern, is a little too cheeky, but with good eyes and better color would push the other dogs for first place. Hector, reserve, was a coarse brindle and white dog, broad skull and screw stern, muzzle a little too long. V.H.C. withheld. H.C. was given to Dan, only a fair specimen. Wanderer, commended, is a coarse dog, has very poor stern and shows considerable bull type. In heavyweight bitches, Nankin won the blue ribbon by a close decision over Nancy, the latter taking second. Nankin looked better than when in New York, but is still far from her condition of one year ago. She has fallen off in head and shows a number of wrinkles. Nancy was shown in good condition. Her teeth are poor, she shows signs of age, stern too short and she is rather too high posted. Clytie, third, is a good white and brindle bitch, somewhat coarse, good stern, narrow skull and muzzle a little too long; rather small eyes. Josie, reserve, is a handsome brindle color, but shows poorly in the ring. Trilby, V.H.C., is a large, coarse, dark brindle bitch with uncut ears. Rosa, H.C., has too long a body, very poor long stern and is a trifle undershot. Laney, C., is rather a poor specimen. In lightweight dogs the competition was very close, the first four dogs being closely matched. Spider took first, Tom second and Commissioner II third, same as in New York. Spider is a very bright, trappy little dog, good body and legs and stern. Skull not quite broad enough and muzzle a little pinched. Tom beat him in skull and eyes but loses in legs, muzzle and general appearance, his underjaw being decidedly weak. He does not show as well in the ring as some of the others. Commissioner II was shown in better condition than in New York, being heavier in weight. His head, which was the best in the show, has developed wonderfully, but he loses in body, forward feet and stern. If he continues to improve in another year he will be near the top. Donohue's Bob, reserve, is a very good small dog, has good head and muzzle, but has a long stern, carried too high; shows bull as he appeared in the ring. Buster, V.H.C., is a fine coated brindled dog, very good body, but weak in hindlegs, head and undershot. The other dogs were hardly up to the average. In lightweight bitches Tansy, a nice little white bitch with brindle spots, good head, body and stern, took first. Topsey, second, is a small brindle bitch, pinched in muzzle, but good body and stern. Mischief, third, is a light brindle with white markings, has a good skull, muzzle a little pinched, body a trifle too long, good stern. Vashti, reserve, was a fair specimen; poor stern. Chloe, V.H.C., has handsome color, good body, legs and stern, but poor muzzle, undershot and a trifle high posted. Marguerite, H.C., was a fair specimen. Mollie, a neat little bitch with a harelip, unfortunately was taken with a fit in the ring, thus losing all chances for a place. In the puppy class, dogs, Monte and The Bauble were placed in the order named. The former is a good dark brindle, white markings, good body, legs and stern, and will turn out a hard one to beat when developed. He won special for best dog in the show. The Bauble has a good head, but is a little coarse as yet. He has the nearest approach to a rose ear, winning a special for the best ear in the show. He has the makings of a good dog. Viking, reserve, is a good colored dog, but has poor stern. In the puppy class, bitches, Miss Dinah, a handsome white puppy, very broad skull and good muzzle, eyes wide apart, won first. In another year she will be hard to beat. Puss, second, is a fine dark brindle, with white markings. She made a good show for first, the decision being given the other puppy on head. Daisy, a fair specimen, took reserve. The kennel prize was won by Bayonne Kennels, Phelps and Davis being a very close second. The New England Kennel Club Cup for best American-bred dog or bitch was won by Tansy. The puppy Monte carried off the specials for best dog, best puppy, best dog never having won a first prize and best dog owned and bred by exhibitor; also for the most evenly marked brindle and white dog or bitch. Tansy also won special for best bitch. All the dogs were shown in prime condition.

Arthur Mulvey.

BLOODHOUNDS.—(Jas. Mortimer, judge.) This interesting breed was given precedence in the catalog over all others, which must have been a source of much gratification to the English Bloodhound Club of America, the larger number of whose members are residents of Boston or its immediate vicinity. In challenge dogs Victor, the only entry, was absent. Kaween, whose grand body and bone as well as quality so soon gained her a qualification for the highest honors, was alone in the corresponding class for bitches. In the open dog class Alchymist, despite his age, easily won from the rather heavy-skulled Berry's Bradshaw, who in turn scores over the black and tan Bruno in leather, wrinkle and eye. Queen of the West won in open bitches, but she is on the small order and plain in muzzle. Brough's Countess, second, is full in eye and plainheaded. Delfan, third, the New York winner, is best in size, head and eye, but she has a deformed stern and moved badly, hence her defeat. Progress was absent.

MASTIFFS.—(Jas. Mortimer, judge). After the dearth of entries at Pittsburg it was a treat to see a fairly good turnout of mastiffs of quality very much above the average. Ingleside Minting won in challenge dogs by a very narrow margin from Emperor William, who was shown in grand condition. The former now takes up his abode at the kennels of Dr. Lougest, by whom he has been purchased, with Emperor William, Ingleside, Maximillian, Hans Sach, Lady Diana, Lady Cameron, Gerda II, Maggie Murphy and others of lesser note. Lady Diana was alone in challenge bitches, and Hans Sach had a walkover in open dogs. Lady Cameron, first in open bitches, has a well wrinkled, massive head, which errs in shortness of muzzle (a fault on the right side), and her underjaw might be stronger and better finished. She has a grand body, good bone, nice stern, and is an excellent mover. Maggie Murphy is the brindled that was second at New York; a sound, good-bodied bitch and a nice mover, but a trifle light in bone for her size. Elder, third, begins to get gray but is very symmetrical and an all-round good mover; in fact she won the special for the best moving mastiff. The puppies were a very promising lot indeed. Carlo, the winning dog, has size, bone and substance and a bigger frame to grow to than his smaller and more furnished litter brother, Kingman's Bowwow, who took second. The same may be said of Rose, the winning bitch puppy, whose body and bone are very much above the average and she is better in eye than her sister Pearl, who was second. The reserve, Chance, is a very nice puppy, losing a little in size to those placed over her.

ST. BERNARDS.—(Jas. Mortimer, judge.) Altoneer was alone in the challenge class for rough-coated dogs, and I thought I had never seen him looking half so well. He is one of the soundest and most symmetrical St. Bernards before the public and has vastly improved in expression. Lady Livingston and Miss Anna were placed as written in challenge bitches, the former winning by a very narrow margin in head, size and color, and also in carriage of stern. There could be no doubt as to Booth's Duke of Lincoln's superiority in the open dog class. Shown in excellent condition he stood out in bold relief and fairly smothered his rivals. Governor Russell, second, is a lovely headed dog, with good bone, and legs and feet of the very best; a nice mover, but should be shown in more flesh; he looked a trifle light in body. Third went to that sturdy dog, Jim Blaine, and reserve to Jim Blaine Jr, a chip off the old block, as they say. Columbus, V.H.C., will be remembered as the winner at Providence last year; a nice dog of high quality, but just wanting a little in massiveness of skull and general substance. Prince Keeper, H.C., has a nice head and expression, but is on the small side and light in body. Napoleon III, also H.C., is a big dog with only very moderate hindquarters. Lady Vandyke, the winning bitch, has a very nice head which would be improved by a wider blaze, and she is a trifle curly in coat about the quarters. Victoria II, second, a white and orange, is rather plain in muzzle, but her body, legs and feet and movement are as good as anything in the class. Melba, third, is a big, useful bitch with a longish head and plain in color and markings. Peg Woffington, reserve, if in better coat and condition might have changed places with the third prize winner, whom she beats in head, color and markings. Trilby, V.H.C., has good body, bone, legs and feet, markings and expression, but she is too round in skull and weak in muzzle. Puppies were not a very grand lot, although Brown's Merchant Prince is a fairly well grown youngster with size enough for his age.

Alton Jr and Melrose King met in challenge smooth dogs, but although the latter was in wonderful condition there was no denying the former's grand size and beautiful head and expression, and the issue was never in doubt. Empress of Contoocook and Melrose Belle were placed as written in challenge smooth bitches, the former winning in head and expression, also in symmetry. The latter has the pull in size and bone, but is very shy in the ring. A new one, Rex Bute, came out and won in the open smooth dog class; a nice headed, biggish dog who carries almost too much coat. Counch has been very fortunate under me, winning here last year in the puppy class and at the Rhode Island State Fair in the open class, but with all his good qualities he is a bit mastiffy in type of head. Judith's Altoneer, third, is a white dog with pale orange markings, nice head and expression; not quite straight in front and a bit light in bone. Romeo II, H.C., is a very tall dog and good on his pins, but very plain in head. Sir Kenneth, V.H.C., has a nice head and good expression but is rather light in bone, body and hindquarters. In open smooth bitches Eulalie II, who has come on since the Rhode Island show, turned the tables on Melrose Judith, who at that time defeated her. The only dog puppy entered was a very poor St Bernard, and all awards were withheld. Guide's Belle was alone in bitch puppies and was awarded a blue ribbon, although she has not improved much on her New York form. The special prizes are given elsewhere, but it may be mentioned that Alton Jr won the special for the best St. Bernard dog in the show, for which he competed with Duke of Lincoln, the latter scoring in body and hindquarters but losing in head properties, especially in eye, depth and substance in front of eye, and expression.

GREAT DANES.—(Jas Mortimer, judge.) No entries in the challenge classes. Major McKinley II won in open dogs, with Moltke, the black dog that won at Providence last year, second, and Bismark B third. Count Frederick was absent. In open bitches Ella just managed to win from Owl's Nest Topsy, but it was a very close thing; both are good ones, and the decision may be reversed should they come together again. Shults' Diane and Cyrene were absent.

DEERHOUNDS.—(H. W. Smith, judge.) All the winners were from the well-known Hillside Kennels. Hillside Warrior and Hillside Romola were alone in their respective challenge classes. Hillside McGregor beat Hillside Raven in quality and size of ear, the latter in turn winning from Argyle, who scores in type and outline, but his mouth is gone. Hillside Ruth, Heather and Fedora, first, second and third in open bitches, are well known, the only new face being a nice July puppy, very highly commended, whose litter brother, Sandy McPherson, was awarded the blue ribbon in the puppy class.

GREYHOUNDS.—(H. W. Smith, judge.)—In challenge dogs Southern Rhymes won, Imperator getting the reserve card. Bestwood Daisy was alone in the challenge bitch class. Open dogs saw Jack of Clubs to the fore; a rather nice quality dog with a good neck and shoulders, but lacking in bone and substance. Dakota, second, was in very bad condition. Baltic, third, has gone heavy in shoulder and does not cover enough ground; and he, as well as Jack of Clubs and Dakota, should have been behind Southern Fury, the white and black dog that won at Pittsburg last week. I understand the judge threw Fury out for lameness. I did not detect it then, nor did he show any lameness the following day. Southern Charm errs on the side of coarseness, is not quite nice in front, and might be better in stifles, but he is a powerful dog and might have received notice. Silk was lucky to win in open bitches, as she is small and compares unfavorably with the black and white bitch Southern Belle in legs and feet, back, loin and quarters. Bed of Stone was third but might well have been second. Wild Lily and Southern Gay Girl, the former winning first at New York and Detroit and the latter second at New York and first at Chicago, were unaccountably sent out of the ring without a notice. Wild Imp was the only puppy entered, and the blue ribbon was placed on his collar.

BORZOIS.—(H. W. Smith, judge.) As at Pittsburg last week the Terra Cotta Kennel was the only exhibitor, so on this occasion the Seacroft Kennel had no competition. Col. Dietz was alone in challenge dogs and Vinga in the class for the gentler sex. In open dogs Sorvanets won, with Groubian II second. This latter is a nice young dog of the right type that should do a lot of winning. Lady Dietz won in open bitches, and no second prize was awarded in the judge's book, although there was a second prize card over Zmeika's stall; she was quite out of coat. Queen Catherine won in the puppy class, with Groubian II second. The winner is a very charming puppy, who fails slightly in substance.

SPANIELS.—(C. H. Mason, judge.) The challenge class for field spaniel dogs drew no entries, and Midnight III was the only entry in the corresponding bitch class. The very latest new dog, Dark Despair, had an easy win over Staley Baron, and the meeting between the former and Royal Monarch, the New York winner, will be watched with a good deal of interest. Should they ever come together the owner of the Boston winner need be in no gloomy mood. Toby, reserve, is too much on the cocker spaniel order and might well have given way to Fashion, who is better in body and head with good coat, but might be straighter in front. The Pittsburg winner, Scandal, may thank her good condition for her win here, as Endcliffe Myrtle is much the better in head and body but was shown much too thin, which made her look more leggy than she really is. Dame Trot, reserve, had very much improved on her New York form, where she looked in such an utterly woebegone state that I predicted she never could be again put in respectable condition. Meg (formerly Maid), highly commended, is weak in head, light in bone, and leggy. The class for liver-colored dogs and bitches drew no entries, and that for dogs and bitches of any-other-color might well have been dropped, as it contained a meagre entry of four, of which Romeo, a liver and white dog, was the only one worthy of a mention, and first prize was rightly withheld.

Challenge cocker spaniel dogs had three entries, of which Bamboo was absent, and the black dog Woodland Prince was placed over Bim, who scores pretty well all over except in head, where Prince wins, but his action especially behind is very faulty. The challenge bitch class had no entries. In open black dogs there was nothing to lower Commodore's colors. Edmond's Adonis, second, is a shade better in muzzle but beaten in other points. King Nebo unfortunately hung himself before judging commenced. Beppo, third, beats Dandy Nebo, reserve, in head, coat, body and front. Rex Obo, V.H.C., was at Pittsburg. Woodland Robbie and Chief were absent. Baby Ruth again won in open black bitches, and this puts her in the challenge class. Woodland Princess, second, loses to the winner in head and in stifles and hocks, but she has a very good body and coat and scores a little in front legs and bone. Fashion, whose throat had resumed its normal condition, was third. Princess Nebo I could not find in her stall, and Corrie and Mischief were absent. Mr. Fiske, whose fame is not confined to the limits of Mount Vernon, supplied the winners in the any-other-color class for dogs, with Billy first, Vernon second, and Muldoon reserve. These were described in the Pittsburg report. St. Lawrence Beauty won in the corresponding class for bitches, with Red Nlobe second and Beaut reserve. Edgewood Hebe, V.H.C., is still low in condition and has scarcely substance enough. Red Dolly, Lady Golden and Woodland Bessie were absent.

The challenge class for Clumbers was drawn blank. In open dogs Friar Boss, shown very well, was the winner, winning in head, flatness of coat, shoulders and straightness of bone. Endcliffe Buster, second, is an excellent bodied dog and good in action; he was the winner at Pittsburg last week. Sandy Friar, reserve, and Albert, V.H.C., were unfortunately left out of the catalog. The former is a trifle plain in head and might be more lengthy in body, but his bone, legs and feet, coat and action are all very commendable. Albert's three letters were much more than he merited, as he is very weak in head, light in bone and uncharacteristic in body and carriage of stern. Reckless Friar won with comparative ease in open Clumber bitches from Meta, whose superior condition placed her over Alveley Lydia, reserve, who was out of coat but is the better Clumber. Endcliffe Fairy, V.H.C., wants more length of body and was shown thin; she scores in head, ear, bone and legs and feet. Friar White, Rover Hepsey and Rover Nancy were each given a highly commended card; but Rover Hepsey was the best of a very poor trio.

Dennis won easily in Irish water spaniel dogs, though not in full coat. Mike O'Donahue, second, is thick in skull and short and weak in muzzle. Musha was absent. Belva won rightly in bitches, with Venus on the small side, second, and Kitty of Cork, out of coat, reserve.

DACHSHUNDE.—(C. H. Mason, judge.) Don Quixote was alone in the mixed challenge class. In open dogs Janty won, with Zig Zag second; both might with advantage be smaller. Bergel, reserve, is a black and tan of a totally different type of head to the winners. Leviathan, V.H.C., is correctly named. Waldman II, V.H.C., is very coarse in head. The best in the class in type and size was Pretzel, but he is very weak in hocks; he should have been first or nowhere. Polly Finders very properly won in bitches, with Lucretia, a bit strong in skull and doggy, second. Princetta, reserve, is out at elbow and stands badly in front.

BASSET HOUNDS.—(C. H. Mason, judge.) Drayman won, with Turk second. There is very little difference between these, the winner scoring slightly in bone and substance. Primrose Juggler, reserve, is plain headed and short in leather and body.

COLLIES.—(C. H. Mason, judge.) The challenge dog class had no entries, and Highland Floss was alone in bitches. In open dogs Woodmansterne Trefoil won, with Hadfield Don, a new one with a good head, excellent ears, grand bone, legs and feet, and size, but out of coat, second. Otterburn Chriss, third, is a small black, white and tan dog with a very full, light eye and no undercoat, but his ear carriage is good. Blarneystone, reserve, is a bit wide between the ears and domed in skull; coat excellent, ears small, legs and feet above the average [illegible] V.H.C., pricks his right ear when at [illegible] Scotsman, V.H.C., has grown a bit [illegible] does not get his ears up enough. Tr[illegible] short in couplings and wants liber[illegible] coat and bone he is very much [illegible] Braehead Chriss and Royal Squire [illegible] Gay was again returned a winner in open bitches. Ormskirk Susie was second and Hempstead Dorothy, in very poor condition as to coat, third. Crystal, reserve, is full in eye and snipy in muzzle. Shepherdess, V.H.C., has a thick skull, small, picely carried ears, and a soft coat. Highland Blue Ruin, H.C., is a blue merle with nice head and ears, wall eye, and particolored nose. Princess Maud, V.H.C., has a good coat and very nice head, whose expression is marred by her smutty face color. Helen Douglas, V.H.C., has gone a little in head but is a nice sort of bitch and a well-bred one. Gilderoy's Daisy has not improved on her puppy form; and Reine Blanche, from the same kennel, though very highly commended, was very highly flattered, as she is domed in skull, full in eye, has too low carriage of ears and a very inferior coat. Pitch Dark shows age, but retains her good head and correct carriage of ear. Nana, V.H.C., has gone rather thick in skull and was heavy in whelp. The only dog puppy was prick-eared, and all awards were withheld. Messrs. McEwen and Gibson showed a very nice bitch puppy with an excellent head and ear, good eye and expression, plenty of good bone and nice texture of coat. Highland Blue Ruin was rightly second; but why Wilford Daisy should have had the reserve card is an enigma, as she has perhaps the very worst ears ever seen on a collie. The cup for the best American-bred collie went to Lady Gay, the little flat-catcher that did so much winning at Chicago and Pittsburg.

OLD ENGLISH SHEEPDOGS.—(C. H. Mason, judge.) Boxer III was beaten by Sir Charles. A very questionable decision, as in squareness of body, massiveness of skull, size, bone, legs and feet Boxer III wins easily; his condition was somewhat against him; but, then, the bad front of the winner is by no means excusable. Samson, third, is at present leggy and light in bone and body, but will improve with age. Mayoress of Newport won in bitches, with Clarissa second; both were described in the report of the New York show. Trilby is an off-colored one.

POODLES.—(C. H. Mason, judge.) In the challenge class Rajah, the black dog, won; beating the browns Diamant and Vivette. The winner was shown in nice condition. In open curly black dogs Carnot won; he was shown in good flesh and condition, forming a pleasing contrast to poor Cesar, who looked as if he had been put on half-rations and had scratched himself bare. Emperor was second, beaten by the winner in head, foreface, ears and color of eyes. Sam, reserve, is a nice little dog, a bit full in eye and wide in skull. Diablo, highly commended, was in poor shape. The winning bitch was not in the catalog. Niniche was second and Empress reserve. Cigarette and Selina are nice little bitches, deserving their three-lettered cards, the former a little rusty in color, but very close in curl. Poobah won in the class for dogs other than black, with Jocko second, and Hill Hurst Cocoa reserve. The same kennels supplied all the winners in the bitch class, and with one exception in the puppy classes; but there is a tendency to grow open, fluffy coats, which should be checked before it gets too late.

BULLDOGS.—(Jas. Mortimer, judge.) In challenge dogs His Lordship was alone, but in the bitch class White Venn challenged and was rather easily beaten by Saleni. In open dogs there was nothing that could approach King Orry. Reve Royal, second, has not improved since I first saw him at Newark, and is still leggy, light in body, and very faulty in stern. Dr. Rush, third, has an immense skull, but is plain faced and bullterrier-like in body. Facey Romford and Crib were absent, and African Monarch was transferred to the lightweight class. Hucknall Gipsey had no difficulty in defeating the plain-faced Holly in the heavyweight bitch class. And in lightwelght dogs Heathen, the black and brindled dog, won easily, scoring in skull, chest, bone, body and stern; he might have more lay-back with advantage, but only in this and his color can any objection be taken to him. Heathen II, second, is a typical little white and brindled dog, by the winner, and he resembles his illustrious half-brother, Monkey Brand, so much in make, color and markings that there could be no better proof of the latter's paternity were it necessary to produce it. Nugget, third, has a very fair head and good foreface, but he is leggy and very stilty in his action. Lud's Boy, V.H.C., is light in body and leggy, but as he is a July puppy time will in all probability mend these defects. Bandy Boy, H.C., is frog-faced and cocks his ears. African Monarch got the reserve card; he is small in skull and long in body, and would have done better shown with the heavyweights. In my report of the New York show I said: "A grievous mistake was made in placing Juno I and Daisy Belle over that grand little bull bitch Haphazard." I take this opportunity of withdrawing this remark, and apologize to Mr. Matthews (the judge) for having made it. Haphazard is a cripple, one of her forefeet being absolutely a deformity, and she moves very badly in front as well as behind; and in the lightweight bitch class here I withheld all awards except the first prize, which was won by Juno II. Lud's Boy won in the puppy class, with Tammany, a rather coarse one, second.

BULL TERRIERS.—(C. H. Mason, judge.) Cardona, looking little the worse for his Pittsburg experience, was alone in the challenge dog class. In the one for bitches Castle's Kit won, with Starlight reserve. Loumont Kit was also in the class. These are all well known and were correctly placed. The open heavyweight dog class had five entries, three of which—Edgewood Boy, Yokena and Brady—were absent. Of the remaining pair Dutch Billy had no trouble in defeating Yale Jim, who is too lippy, coarse and long in stern. In the open class for bitches, 30 pounds and over, Queen Lilly won hands down, with Newmarket Siren second, and Edgewood Flossie third. Siren has a slight advantage in shortness of back and is better made up in body than Flossie, but here any advantage ceases. Little Flyer [illegible] lightweight dogs, with Tarquin, well known [illegible] Little Billie third. Sabatia won in lightweight [illegible] from La Tosca, whose skin needs attention. [illegible] Flossie won in puppies, with Little Billie [illegible] specials were won by F. F. Dole, whose kenn[illegible] great form.

FOX TERRIERS.—(Jas. Mortimer, judge.) Blemton Idle Will won in challenge dogs from Warren Safeguard. Winton Ranger was absent and Starden's King not [illegible]on. Warren Captious was alone in chal- [illegible] Warren Daybreak won in open dogs, but [illegible] e kind of a race with Hillside [illegible] as shown wonderfully since the terrier show at the [illegible] Club Daybreak wins a little in head, eye, ear and expression, but Domino has the cleanest and best bone, the longest head, and best legs and feet. Blemton Stickler was third, and Beverwyck Royalist, reserve. Beverley Rally, V.H.C., has not made up in body and his shoulders are not of the best; his head, ears, bone, legs and feet are all of the best pattern, but his coat is soft and not dense enough. Hillside Dominican is still light in body but well deserved his three letters. Seacroft Result has thickened a little in skull but is a good type of the workmanlike, game terrier with a very good coat and rare front. Warren Sage is a nice topped one with good legs and feet, at present a little lacking in character and expression; and Sentinel is a bit coarse in neck and his coat is open. Hillside Royal and Seacroft King had to be content with two letters in this class. The winning bitches are well known. Warren Capture, first, will perhaps thicken a bit in cheek. Cowthorpe Gem, second, was in the same place as at Pittsburg. Warren Sentence, third, is improving and may yet beat them all—as she now does in head. Richmond Pearl got the reserve card; and Lucy had to be satisfied with a very highly commended card, as she did not show up as smartly as at the Smoky City. Mystery, highly commended, is a bit weak in face and rather heavy in ear. Warren Daybreak won in dog puppies, and Warren Sage, described in the open class, was second. Sentinel, reserve, is a sturdy, good boned puppy with a long head and excellent legs and feet, but at present he is a bit raw and backward. Wild Idle, very highly commended, is rather a backward one, but is now quite strong enough in head. Blemton Emperor and Beverwyck Cavalier were in the highly commended division: the former not straight in front, and the latter not flat enough in skull and low in set-on and carriage of ear. Warren Capture won in bitch puppies, with Warren Sentence second, and Wawaset Luna reserve; the latter is steadily improving.

Cribbage and Oakleigh Bruiser took care of the wire-haired challenge dog class, and Surrey Janet was alone in the bitch class. Endcliffe Banker won in open dogs from Brittle Boy, a good-bodied, sturdy dog with extra good bone and a very useful jacket. Mister Great Snap was third, and Hill Hurst Trick, whose coat is very scant, got the reserve. Endcliffe Nailer and Yale Trump were absent, and White Topper's silky jacket will always stop him from getting to the front. Endcliffe Fidget won in open bitches, with Endcliffe Witch, a nice sort but not in good coat, second. Brittle Buzz was third, a white puppy which may do well in the future. Hill Hurst Blossom, reserve, is short in head and full in eye, but has a very serviceable coat and good bone. Hill Hurst Vamp is well known. Brittle Boy won in dog puppies and Brittle Buzz in bitches. Cribbage won the Grand Challenge Cup for best in the show, beating Blemton Victor II, who was not quite in such bloom as the younger dog.

DANDIE DINMONT TERRIERS.—(C. H. Mason, judge.) Nearly all the entries were from the Heather Kennels and were for exhibition only. Mr. George Raper's bitch Lothian Judy won in open bitches, and is a good one.

BEDLINGTON TERRIERS.—(C. H. Mason, judge.) All the winners are well known, with the exception, perhaps, of the winning dog in the open class, who is not quite nice in eye and a bit close to the ground. Mount Vernon Rose won in open bitches; a new face with a good head and very fair coat. Endcliffe Wasp, second, is a trifle short in head and might be better in front of eyes. School Marm, reserve, is weak in jaw and quite bare of coat. Miss Tick was absent.

SCOTTISH TERRIERS.—(C. H. Mason, judge.) Three won in challenge dogs, but he is now very wide in front. Kilroy got the reserve card; a very level, nice, all-round terrier. Rhudunan is very correct in size, head, eye, ear and expression, but is bad in front. Wankie Diana had no opposition in challenge bitches, as Culblean was absent. In open dogs Bellingham Bailiff repeated his New York win, with Wankie Tam second and Dunbarton third, and the very soft and open coated Wankie Caddie reserve. Kilstree and Kilbar Jr. each very highly commended, are good, typical lie-hards, better in head, size and carriage of ear, quite as good in coat and infinitely better in forelegs and straightness of bone than Dunbarton, who is bad in front, big in ear and too long in body; and both of them are quite as typical as Wankie Caddie, and both beat him in texture and denseness of coat. Kilrain, the light brindled, is out of coat; and Newcastle Allan is too big, full in eye and softish in coat. In open bitches Wankie Janet won well enough, with Radix, a newcomer, second; the latter is a trifle big and full in eye, but good in body and front and with a very useful coat. Wankie Cambria, third, was out of coat, a trifle long in body and biggish in ear. Vorda, reserve, is well known. Miss Ted, V.H.C., is a smart little light brindle in color, a bit soft in coat; and Highland Rosslyn is a nice puppy that will improve in coat. Wankie Tam won in the American-bred dog class, with Dunbarton second, and Wankie Caddie third; and in the bitch division Wankie Janet won, with Wankie Diana, the challenge class winner, second, and Cambria third.

IRISH TERRIERS.—(C. H. Mason, judge.) Jack Briggs was pronounced the winner in challenge dogs, with Boxer IV reserve, beating Merle Grady. Jackanapes was absent. Merle Grady wins in head, eye, bone and coat and should have had the decision. Dunmurry was alone in the bitch class. In open dogs Briggs' Best won, with Brian O'K second; the latter in poor coat, but scoring in head, eye and expression. His Honor was third, and Tim, a rather short-headed dog with natural drop ears, got the reserve. Milton Droleen won in open bitches, and here I can scarcely follow the judge in his awards. The winner has a clean-cut head, but it is weak in front of the [illegible] she loses in coat and in terrier [illegible]y in the ring. Brick Dust and [illegible] have beaten her this time, what- [illegible] the youngster. Shaun Rhue had [illegible] pples, luckily for him; and Mil- [illegible] ouble in winning from Briggs' [illegible] puppies.

BLACK AND TAN TERRIERS.—(C. H. Mason, judge.) In challenge dogs Broomfield Sultan, shown in very bad condition, had to succumb to Glenwood, a larger dog built on good lines, with excellent head, body, legs and feet, and good color and markings. Gipsy Girl was alone in the bitch class, as Queen III did not fulfill her engagement. In open dogs Chicago Spider won from Darkie, with old Jasper reserve; the latter much the best in head of the three, but gone in front. Gipsy Queen won in open bitches from Surrey Gem, who was heavy with whelp, which must have accounted for her defeat; Chicago Maiden, with her natural ears, getting the reserve card.

SKYE TERRIERS.—(C. H. Mason, judge.) Queen of Skyes won in the challenge class and Roderick Dhu, a soft-coated one, was alone in open dogs. Lady Stafford won from Princess May in bitches; the latter a bit soft in coat. Princess Mary was absent.

YORKSHIRE AND OTHER TOY TERRIERS.—(C. H. Mason, judge.) The former were a very moderate lot and scarcely call for description. The open class winner was lame in front. Toys were better and the winning bitch, Nellie, when in full bloom, will take some beating.

PUGS.—(C. H. Mason, judge.) Only four entries in five classes! Bob Ivy was alone in challenge dogs, and Otterburn Treasure in open dogs. Bell D won from Otterburn Pearl in open bitches.

TOY SPANIELS.—(C. H. Mason, judge.) These breeds do not seem to take in Boston, as eight entries in nine classes must indubitably prove; and the quality was not of the best.

Joe Lewis farmed the money in the Italian greyhound classes, judged by Mr. H. W. Smith. And in the miscellaneous class (25 pounds and over) Dewr, the Welsh terrier, won; and a nondescript won in the under 25 pounds division. I thought the money might have been distributed to more advantage had it been divided between Lily and Leo, certainly not Maltese terriers (as described in the catalog), but pretty little white poodles, or barbets as they are sometimes called.

JAS. MORTIMER.

OFFICIAL LIST OF AWARDS

BLOODHOUNDS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: Absent. Bitches: 1st, Dr. C. A. Lougest (Kaween, Maltravers—Koodo). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st and 2nd, Dr. C. A. Lougest (Alchymist, Trimbush II—Maud, and Berry's Bradshaw, Belhus—Bernison); 3rd, C. H. Innes (Bruno, Burgho—Rosemary). Bitches: 1st, Dr. C. A. Lougest (Queen of the West, Simon de Sudbury—Fairy); 2nd, Frederic Parker (Brough's Countess, Brough—Brough's Daisy); 3rd, Dr. C. A. Lougest (Delfan, Belhus—Rosemary).

MASTIFFS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, G. W. Glazier (Ingleside Minting, Beaufort's Black Prince—Madge Minting); V.H.C. Res., Dr. C. A. Lougest (Emperor William, Ingleside Maximilliau—Gerda II). Bitches: 1st, Dr. C. A. Lougest (Lady Diana, Ingleside Maximillian—Gerda II). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: Dr. C. A. Longest (Hans Sachs, Hotspur—Lady Temple). Bitches: 1st, 2nd and 3rd, Dr. C. A. Lougest (Lady Cameron, Lord Stafford—Lady Florida, Maggie Murphy, Dick Constable—Coombe Biddy, and Elder, Ilford Caution—Countess). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st and 2nd, Dr. C. A. Lougest (Carlo and Kingman's Bow-Wow, Ingleside Maximillian—Lady Diana). Bitches: 1st, 2nd and 3rd, Dr. C. A. Lougest (Rose and Pearl, Emperor William—Empress, and Chance, Beaufort's Black Prince—Young Bess).

ST. BERNARDS.—Rough coated—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, E. H. Moore (Altoneer, Alton—Hera). Bitches: 1st, E. H. Moore (Lady Livingston, Hesper—Lady Abbess); V.H.C. Res., Jacob Ruppert Jr. (Miss Anna, Watch—Countess of Grafemeld). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Edward Booth (Booth's Duke of Lincoln, Scottish Prince—Countess of Grafemeid); 2nd, I. W. Comey (Gov. Russell, Metz—Junis); 3rd, E. H. Moore (Jim Blaine, Bryan—Martha Washington); V.H.C. Res., I. W. Comey (Jim Blaine Jr, Jim Blaine—Junis); V.H.C., Mrs. N. Miller (Columbus, Lord Dante—Mettlehorn's Maggie); H.C., H. Bevermeister (Duke B, Merchant Prince Jr—Empress), C. W. Bickford (Prince Keeper, Melrose—June) and Galaxy Kennels (Napoleon III, Alton Jr—Countess Clare); C., H. C. Hathaway (Hathaway's Monk, Beauchamp—Lona) and Galaxy Kennels (Clothus, Jim Blaine—Lady Linda). Bitches: 1st, P. J. Slane (Lady Vandyke Hesper—Lady Jane H); 2nd, E. H. Moore (Victoria II, Victor Joseph—Sibyl); 3rd, Galaxy Kennels (Melba, Altou Jr—Countess Clare); V.H.C. Res., Sara C. Dudley (Peg Woffington, Jim Blaine—Lady Vaughn); V.H.C., E. H. Moore (Trilby, Lord Percy—Topsy); H.C., E. V. Harlow (Bess of Barrow, Lord Melrose—Thora I); C., Galaxy Kennels (Lady Terry, Alton Jr—Countess Clare). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, L. K. Brown (Brown's Merchant Prince, Jim Blaine—Lady Vaughn); 2nd, E. P. Whitman (Right Rawyl—Beline); V.H.C. Res., H. S. Coun (King Rescue, Lord Baline—Lady Rescue). Bitches: 1st, withheld; 2nd, M. J. Lynch (Lady Hester, Kingston Regent—Aradine). SMOOTH-COATED—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st and V.H.C. Res., E. H. Moore (Alton Jr and Melrose King, Alton—Judith). Bitches: 1st, Jacob Ruppert Jr (Empress of Contoocook, Keeper—Regina); V.H.C. Res., E. H. Moore (Melrose Belle, Alton—Judith). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, C. W. Bickford (Rex Bute, Melrose—Zillah); 2nd, E. A. Perry (Council, Viscount Eorington—Gipsy); 3rd, G. P. Wiggins (Judith's Altoneer, Altoneer—Judith); V.H.C., J. B. Jordan (Sir Kenneth, Alton Jr—Lady Lomond); H.C., Mrs. Thomas Lawson (Rome II, Leo—Lucy). Bitches: 1st, G. W. Patterson (Enlalie II, Altoneer—Clara Barton); 2nd, E. H. Moore (Melrose Judith, Sir Bedivere—Judith). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: Prizes withheld. Bitches: 1st, Richard Barry (Gulde's Belle, Alton Jr—Lady Honnay).

GREAT DANES.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: No entries. Bitches: No entries. OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Edward Knieriem (Major McKinley Jr, Major McKinley—Ercia); 2nd, Mrs. M. Classen (Moltke, Prince—Nai); 3rd, C. J. Benuewitz (Bismark B, Tyrus—Flora). Bitches: 1st, B. F. Lewis, Agent (Ella, Pedro—Queen Hanno); 2nd, R. J. Perkins (Owl's Next Topsy, Prince Leo—Lady Hanno).

DEERHOUNDS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Hillside Kennels (Hillside Warrior, Chieftain—Highland Lassie). Bitches: 1st, Hillside Kennels (Hillside Romola, Chieftain—Romona). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, 2nd and 3rd, Hillside Kennels (Hillside McGregor, Robber Chieftain—Theodora, Hillside Raven, Chieftain—Romona, and Argyle, Dunrobin—Sherlock). Bitches: 1st, 2nd and 3rd, Hillside Kennels (Hillside Ruth, Chieftain—Ruth, Hillside Heather, Robin Adair—Phyllis, and Hillside Feodora, Bran—Feodora). PUPPY CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, J. P. Barnard (Sandy McPherson, Hillside Raven—Scotch Mist).

GREYHOUNDS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Toon & Thomas (Southern Rhymes, Pops—Pansy II); 2nd, D. P. Lemley (Imperator, Memnon—Fannie M). Bitches: 1st, Toon & Thomas (Bestwood Daisy, Glenarpool—Bestwood Belle). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, J. H. Winslow (Jack of Clubs); 2nd, A. C. Bradbury (Dakota, Glenkirk—Gilda); 3rd, J. F. Turner (Baltic). Bitches: 1st, White Oakhill Kennels (Silk, Gem of the Season—Wild Idle); 2nd, Toon & Thomas (Southern Belle, Laocoon—Axis); 3rd, A. C. Bradbury (Bed of Stones, Page Boy—Tiny Queen). PUPPY CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, D. B. Lemley (Wild Imp, Imperator—Wild Idle).

RUSSIAN WOLFHOUNDS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, C. S. Hanks (Col. Dietz, Leekhoi—Raskeda). Bitches: 1st, C. S. Hanks (Vinga, Charvdoy—Proakaza). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st and 2nd, C. S. Hanks (Sorvanets, Vikha—Roskeda, and Groubian II, Groublan—Olrouga). Bitches: Equal 1st, C. S. Hanks (Zmeika, Hohlik—Yasebma, and Lady Dietz, Sorvanets—Flodeyka). PUPPY CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, C. S. Hanks (Queen Catherine, Leekhoi—Raskeda); 2nd, withheld.

FOXHOUNDS.—English—Dogs or Bitches: 1st and 2nd, Noel Money (Songster, Shamrock—Dutiful, and Mermaid, Marquis—Columbine); 3rd, John Gibuey (Winsome, Wellingtou—Marguerite). American—CHALLENGE CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Muskedunder Kennels (Bowsprit, Eli—Flossie); V.H.C. Res., Dr. C. A. Lougest (Commodore, Tickler—Maggie). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, W. S. Walker (Big Strive, Striver—Sal); 2nd and 3rd, White Oak Hill Kennels (Clay, Scully—Bessie, and Duke, Rabbet—Fanny); V.H.C. Res., G. W. Pierce (Driver, Turk—Lake); V.H.C., J. M. White (Logan, Logan—Star) and G. E. Carr (Rock, Logan—Muse); H.C., White Oak Hill Kennels (Zack, Jacobin—Ruby, and Steve, Jacobin—Ruby) and Dr. A. C. Heffenger (Tempest, Duke—Rosemary). Bitches: 1st, W. S. Walker (Pearl Strive, Striver—Sal); 2nd, White Oak Hill Kennels (Flirt, Turk—Gipsey); 3rd, Dr. A. C. Heffenger (Primrose, Duke—Rosemary); V.H.C. Res., White Oak Hill Kennels (Sunmaid, Traveller—Flash); V.H.C., Muskedunder Kennels (Judy, Sport—Bes); H.C., G. W. Pierce (Jennie Redstone, Redstone—Jennie) and Charles Wheatley (Belle, Ben—Trail); C., J. T. Flannelly (Bess, Tom—Judy). PUPPY CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, 2nd and V.H.C. Res., White Oak Hill Kennels (Pope's Striver, Pope's Samson, and Pope's Speedy, Clay—Sunmaid); H.C., C. L. Wellington (Dot, Hunter—Dot). FIELD TRIAL CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st and 2nd, White Oak Hill Kennels (Clay, Scully—Bessie, and Sunmaid, Traveller—Flash); V.H.C. Res., J. M. White (Logan, Logan—Star).

NEWFOUNDLANDS.—Dogs or Bitches: Absent.

CHESAPEAKE BAY DOGS.—CHALLENGE CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, W. S. Bigelow (Bigelow's Rose, Jeff Jr—Rose). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Oak Grove Kennels (Deacon, Oak—Mary); 2nd, Richard Connor (Peter, Marengo II—Rose); V.H.C. Res., Oak Grove Kennels (Curley, Deacon—Dimple); V.H.C., W. S. Bigelow (Hero, Cleveland—Rose). Bitches: 1st, W. S. Bigelow (Bigelow's Rose II, Cleveland—Rose); 2nd, Oak Grove Kennels (Biddy F, Deacon—Dimple). PUPPY CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Oak Grove Kennels (Curly, Deacon—Dimple); 2nd, W. S. Bigelow (Hero, Cleveland—Rose); V.H.C. Res., Oak Grove Kennels (Biddy F, Deacon—Dimple).

POINTERS.—CHALLENGE CLASS—55 pounds and over—Dogs: 1st, Glen Rock Kennels (Duke of Kent II, Tempest—Nadjy of Naso); 2nd, Glen Rock Kennels (Molton Banner, Saddleback—Molton Broom). 50 pounds and over—Bitches: No entries. OPEN CLASSES—55 pounds and over—Dogs: 1st, Glen Rock Kennels (Twinkle, Duke of Kent II—Bessie Kakas); 2nd, G. M. Arnolt (Lord Brackin, Lad of Kent—Mealiy Lass); 3rd, Robert Leslie (King of Lynn, Tempest—Nadjy of Naso); V.H.C. Res., N. L. Chaffin (Duke of Kent II—Bennett's Flirt); V.H.C., Hampton Kennels (Count de Castellane, Nick of Naso—Passion); H.C., H. W. Richards (Duke of Kent III, Dash—Bessie Kakas); C., A. A. Savage (Robert S, Robert le Diable—Pomps). 50 pounds and over—Bitches: 1st, Springside Kennels (Springside Nell, Duke of Hessen—Woolton Game); 2nd, E. M. Beale (Alice Leslie, King of Kent—Belle Randolph); 3rd, C. H. Clark Jr (Emblem, Witherage Sambo—Lady Vixon); V.H.C. Res., Glen Rock Kennels (Pet, King of Kent—Belle Randolph). CHALLENGE CLASSES—Under 55 pounds—Dogs: 1st, Springside Kennels (Duke of Hessen, Luck of Hessen—Blarney); V.H.C. Res., Netherwood Kennels (Ridgeview Tenny, Beppo III—Bithesome). Under 50 pounds—Bitches: 1st and V.H.C. Res., G. J. Gould (Lady Gay Spanker and Miss Rumor, Rumor—Lady Norrish). OPEN CLASSES—55 pounds and under—Dogs: 1st, G. J. Gould (Ridgeview Chancellor, Lad of Kent—Ridgeview Lass); 2nd, J. L. Adams (Lad of Rush, Rush of Lad—Topsy S); 3rd, E. W. Foote (Kentwood, King of Kent—Belle Randolph); V.H.C. Res., H. W. Richards (Nick of Kent, Dash—Bessie Kakas); V.H.C., J. L. Heard (Skip, Jet—Fannie) and G. W. Field (Max F, Bucksport Ponset—Skip); C., T. K. Lathrop Jr. (Pastime, Skip—Gipsy). Under 50 pounds—Bitches: 1st, C. D. Roberts (Devonshire Pearl, Devonshire Nero—Devonshire Fan); 2nd, N. L. Chaffin (Daisy, Duke of Kent II—Bennett's Flirt); 3rd, G. A. Vickary (Belle, King of Kent—Dalsy); V.H.C. Res., J. R. Schuyler (Vexation, Marshal Ney—Mabel G); V.H.C., Springside Kennels (Springside Lady, Ridgeview Donald—Lady Tammany); H.C., Etta Adel Stanorth (Patti Beaufort, Tempest—Lassie Jean Beaufort). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, F. S. Eaton (Shadyway, Strideaway—Jean of Beaufort); 2nd, Nathan Clifford (John B Allison II, John B Allison Jr—Dido); V.H.C. Res., F. E. Clark (Dustaway, Strideaway—Jean of Beaufort); V.H.C., F. J. Lenoir (King of Kent II, King of Kent—Bang's Molly); H.C., P. C. Clifford (Kulley, John W Allison Jr—Dido). Bitches: 1st and 2nd, J. L. Head (Tell Tale and Dame Fortune, Pastime—Perdita). FIELD TRIAL CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Springside Kennels (Duke of Hessen, Luck of Hessen—Blarney); 2nd, Glen Rock Kennels (Duke of Kent II, Tempest—Nadjy of Naso); V.H.C. Res., J. L. Adams (Lad of Rush, Rush of Lad—Topsy S).

ENGLISH SETTERS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Henry Pape (Cactus, Rockingham—Myrrha II); V.H.C. Res., Smith Penfield (Glendon, Rockingham—Donna). Bitches: 1st, John Brett (Maid Marion, Rockingham—Myrrha II). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, H. L. Keys (Montell, Marki Mack—Katie B); 2nd, E. A. Burdett (Cincinnatus' Pride, Cincinnatus—Albert's Nellie); 3rd, F. F. Bock (Dan O'Light, Rod's Reel—Buechner's Nell); V.H.C. Res., C. E. Lewis (Harry L, Prince L—Sadie B); V.H.C., Oak Grove Kennels (Piedmont, Antonio—Belle of Piedmont) and Victoria Kennels (The Earl, Domingo—Victoria Nanna); H.C., W. C. Baylis (Tennessee Vandal, The Corsair—Effie Hill) and F. A. Hodgman (English Jack, Real English—Myrrha II); C., P. H. Butler (Rex Burr, Burr's Jim—Nina Dobson) and C. H. Higgins (Druid Noble, Count Noble's Bly—Model Bondhu). Bitches: 1st, Oak Grove Kennels (Nellie F, Gath's Mark—Mollie Belton); 2nd, Alfred Booth (Clara, Viscount—Jersey Daisy); 3rd, Oakland Farm (Our Pet, The Corsair—Tchula); C., A. S. Garland (Lillian D, Gus Bondhu—Lill Cambridge) and E. O. Damon (Jennie F, Count Noble—Gladstone's Girl). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Joseph Lewis (Larkspur, Rockaway—Merry II). Bitches: No entries. FIELD TRIAL CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Oakland Farm (Our Pet, The Corsair—Tchula).

IRISH SETTERS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Oak Grove Kennels (Kildare, Elcho Jr—Red Rose); V.H.C. Res., B. T. Bartleson (Bob Jr, Desmond II—Seminole). Bitches: 1st and V.H.C. Res., Oak Grove Kennels (Queen Vic, Kildare—Red Rose, and Norna, Grab—Flora). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Muckross Kennels (Henmore Shamrock, Muskerry—Avoca); 2nd, G. Shippen (Shamrock O'Moore, Chip—Nora V); 3rd, R. B. Fay (King Grew, Inchiquin—Maid of Borstal); V.H.C. Res., F. A. Whitney (Ruffian, Count Swiveler—Princess Royal). Bitches: 1st, W. L. Washington (Ruby Glenmore II, Finglas—Ruby Glenmore); 2nd, F. G. Goodridge (Coleraine, Fingal III—Aveline); 3rd, G. E. Pierce (Princess, Kildare—Maid of Borstal); V.H.C. Res., B. F. Lewis Jr. (Toronto Biddy, Toronto Parnell—Toronto Nora). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, H. G. Braethwaite (Kilstal, Kildare—Maid of Bostal). Bitches: 1st, Nelson McIntosh (Borstal Norna, Kildare—Norna); 2nd, W. L. Washington (Finglas—Ruby Glenmore). FIELD TRIAL CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, W. L. Washington (Finglas, Flugal III—Aveline); 2nd, Oak Grove Kennels (Edna H, Elcho Jr—Romaine).

GORDON SETTERS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Noyes Billings (Ranger B, Tom II—Neva); V.H.C. Res., Dr. S. G. Dixon (Leo B, Little Boy—Lady Pilot). Bitches: 1st, Dr. S. G. Dixon (Princess Louise, Ivanhoe—Duchess of Waverly). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, H. A. Esterbrook (Wanoosnoc Prince, Whip E—Meg Merrilies); 2nd, John Kennedy (Mount Royal Rush, Leo B—Hilda); 3rd, George Shaffer (Wang Ivanhoe, Ivanhoe—Nellie S); V.H.C. Res., F. C. Cross (Argus B, Whip E—Kittie D); V.H.C., Dr. Grace E. Cross (MacDonald, Don—Ven); C., R. D. Gould (Grouse M, Whip E—Kittie D). Bitches: 1st, 2nd and 3rd, Dr. S. G. Dixon (Maid of Waverly, Little Boy—Duchess of Waverly, Sante Maid, Ivanhoe—Waverly, and Daisy Ivanhoe, Ivanhoe—Nellie S); C., Job Tyrrell (Jessie Noble, Captain—Countess). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, H. S. Roberts (Count Noble's Boy, Count Noble—Lady Maud); 2nd, M. W. Murray (Duke Noble, Count Noble—Ven); V.H.C. Res., Henry Estabrook (Royal Rex, Don W—Kittie D). Bitches: 1st, H. A. Morse (Esta Morse, Don W—Kittie D); 2nd, John Tyrrell (Jessie II, Ranger B—Jessie Noble). FIELD TRIAL CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Noyes Billings (Ranger B, Tom II—Neva).

FIELD SPANIELS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: No entries. Bitches: 1st, Wee Wah Kennels (Midnight III, Maxim—Midnight II). OPEN CLASSES—Black—Dogs: 1st and 2nd, Wee Wah Kennels (Dark Despair, Moonstone—Winsome, and Staley Baron, Moonstone—Minlature); V.H.C. Res., M. A. Viti (Toby, Warwick—Gossip); V.H.C., Miss Anabel Green (Fashion, Judix—Ace of Spades); H.C., J. A. Mahoney (Brush, Brock—Lady Aberdeen). Bitches: 1st, M. A. Viti (Scandal, Warwick—Gossip); 2nd, Toon & Thomas (Endcliffe—Myrtle); V.H.C. Res., Wee Wah Kennels (Dame Trot, Glencairn—Ace of Spades); H.C., Miss Anabel Green (Meg, formerly Maid). Liver—Dogs or Bitches: No entries. Other than black or liver—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, withheld; 2nd, Louis Batjer (Romeo, Monte Christo—Juliet).

COCKER SPANIELS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Henry Brooks (Woodland Prince, Black Duke—Woodland Jude); V.H.C. Res., G. L. Tarr (Bim, Little Pompey—Floss). Bitches: No entries. OPEN CLASSES—Black—Dogs: 1st, Mepal Kennels (Commodore, Red Roland—Ula); 2nd, C. H. Edmonds (Edmonds' Adonis, Rex T—Diza); 3rd, G. L. Tarr (Beppo, Bim—Lassie); V.H.C. Res., O. M. Gilman (Dandy Nebo, Jersey Obo—Nemo); V.H.C., E. W. Fiske (Rex Obo, Obo III—Floss Obo); H.C., F. H. Topham (Jersey Nebo, Jersey—Frantic). Bitches: 1st, Mepal Kennels (Baby Ruth, Fasciuation—My Joe); 2nd, George Douglas (Woodland Princess, Black Duke—Woodland Jude); 3rd, E. W. Fiske (Fashion, Brant—Bonita); V.H.C. Res., O. M. Gilman (Princess Nebo, Jersey Obo—Nemo); V.H.C., W. J. Wheeler (Daddie, Pippo—Zitta); H.C., G. L. Tarr (Taunty, Black Baby—Lassie). Other than black—Dogs: 1st, 2nd and V.H.C. Res., E. W. Fiske (Billy and Lady Phillis, Brantford Jet—Lady Phyllis, and Muldoon, Red Obo—Daylight). Bitches: 1st, St. Lawrence Kennels (St. Lawrence Beauty, Major—Juliet); 2nd, E. W. Fiske (Red Niobe, King Raven—Topsy); V.H.C. Res., Dr. W. G. Keudall (Beaut, Cherry Boy—Flash B); V.H.C., F. F. Dole (Edgewood Hese, Major—Sue).

CLUMBER SPANIELS.—CHALLENGE CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: No entries. OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Newcastle Kennels (Friar Boss, Boss III—Muff); 2nd, Toon & Thomas (Endcliffe Buster); V.H.C. Res. and V.H.C., Newcastle Kennels (Sandy Friar, Sam II—Dye, and Albert, Newcastle—Romp II). Bitches: 1st, 2nd and V.H.C. Res., Newcastle Kennels (Reckless Friar, Friar Bob—Bustle, and Meta, Shell—Lucy II, and Alveley Lydia, Goodwin's Tramp—Alveley Luna); V.H.C., Toon & Thomas (Endcliffe Fairy); H.C., Newcastle

Kennels (Friar White, Friar Boss—Meta, and Rover Hepsey and Rover Nancy, Rover—Meta).

IRISH WATER SPANIELS.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Miss Anabel Green (Denuis, Handy Andy—Marguerite); 2nd, F. B. Tirrell (Mike O'Donahue, Dennis O'Donahue—Kittie McCarthy). Bitches: 1st, Dr. J. T. Kent (Belva, The O'Cleary—Nauey); 2nd, Miss Anabel Green (Venus); V.H.C. Res., B. F. Lewis Jr. (Kitty of Cork, Conn—Sea Moss).

BEAGLES.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Rockland Beagle Kennels (Roy K. Rattler III—Dora); V.H.C Res., Forest Beagle Kennels (Forest Hunter, Forest Boy—Lady Lee). Bitches: 1st, Rockland Beagle Kennels (Lonely, Careful—Lovely); V.H.C. Res., National Beagle Kennels (Topsy S. Frank Forest—Juno II). OPEN CLASSES—Over 13 inches—Dogs: 1st, Joseph Lewis (Ringleader, Ringwood—Lonely); 2nd, Rockland Beagle Kennels (Directum, Brittle—Miss); 3rd, National Beagle Kennels (Diamond Forest, Frank Forest—Juno II); V.H.C. Res., Rockland Beagle Kennels (Lee III, Fitz Hugh Lee—June Rose); V.H.C., Forest Beagle Kennels (Bowman, Lee—Topsy); C., National Beagle Kenuels (Noble Weller, Tony Weller—Topsy S), and C P. Valil (Don Quixote, Clyde—Lady Novice). Bitches: 1st, Sylvester Smith (Silverena, Diamond Forest—Rosy); 2nd, H. B. Tallman (Fitz Hugh Lee—Trill); 3rd, Henry Hanson (Lady of Denmark, Fitz Hugh Lee—Desdemona); V.H.C., Glenrose Beagle Kenuels (Rose Weller, Tony Weller—Hazelkirk); H.C., D. T. V. Huntoon (Lady Gay, Mischief—Nellie). 13 inches and under—Dogs: 1st, Glenrose Beagle Kenuels (Clarion of Glenrose, Fitz Hugh Lee—Butterfly); 2nd, George Laick (Laick's Roy, Rover—Minnie L); 3rd, W. G. E. Pammersley (Rival, Puzzle—Polly). Bitches: 1st, Glenrose Beagle Kennels (Trill, Flute M—Skip); 2nd, A. Parry (Primrose, Fitz Hugh Lee—Baby Dean); 3rd, John Reardon (Maida, Music—Nellie); V.H.C. Res., Harry Ramsdell (Pride of Cressbrook, Alby—Belle R); V.H.C., H. S. Joslin (Cassette, Chubb—Mystic II); H.C., John Mullane (Baby Dean, Fitz Hugh Lee—Bello Diamond), and Forest Beagle Kennels (Gypsy Forest, Frank Forest—Sue); C., National Beagle Kennels (Juno II, Dam—Avena). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, A. D. Fiske (Phantom, Clyde—Brummy); 2nd, Charles Peabody (Comedy, Trave—Viola); V.H.C. Res., Sylvester Smith (Whang, Valentine—Silverena). Bitches: 1st, Glenrose Beagle Kennels (Fury, Fitz Hugh Lee—Parthenia); 2nd, Sylvester Smith (Schaekne, Valentine—Silverena). FIELD TRIAL CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Rockland Beagle Kennels (Frank Forest, Riot—Skip); 2nd. Forest Beagle Kennels (Gipsy Forest, Frank Forest—Sue); V.H.C. Res., Henry Hanson (Olaf of Denmark, Baunerman—Parthenia).

DACHSHUNDE.—CHALLENGE CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Windrush Kennels (Don Quixote, Pterodactyl—Jauet). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Joseph Lythgoe (Janty, Jay—Janet); 2nd, J. L. Little Jr. (Zig-Zag, Jay—Sister); V.H.C. Res, E. P. Whitman (Bergel, Waldtman von Thal—Trick von Berg); V.H.C., F. W. Keasbey (Leviathan, Pterodaetyl—Ella) and H. C Kramer (Waldman II, Waldman—Waldine); H.C., J. H. Matthews (Pre'zel, Jay—Sister). Bitches: 1st, J. H. Matthews (Polly Finders, Pterodactyl—Jargonette); 2nd, Joseph Lythgoe (Lueretia, Pterodactyl—Jargonette); V.H.C. Res., Windrush Kennels (Princetta, Jay—Princess).

BASSETS.—Dogs or Bitches: 1st and 2nd, J. C. Weeks (Drayman, Somerset—Juno, and Turk, Berbrand—Rowton Wag); V.H.C. Res., Charles Boyden (Primrose Jugler, Twist—Minette).

COLLIES.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: No entries. Bitches: 1st, Lambert Stansfield (Highland Floss, Fordhook Climax—Fordhook Alysum). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st and 2nd, Woodlawn Park Kennels (Woodmansterne Trefoil, Charlemague—Dorothy, and Hatfield Don); 3rd, C. Y. Ford (Otterburn Chriss, Ightenhill Chief—Stella); V.H.C. Res., Felix Flannigan (Blarney Stone, Highland Bobbie—Hyacinthe); V.H.C., Seacroft Kenneis (Seftou Snow, Sefton Hero—Sefton Grace) and W. T. Ford (Wilford Scotsman, Edgbaston Excelsior—Ryland Lady); H.C., Herbert Dumarsq (Trump, Money Squire—Liverpool Dora) and G. A. Fleteher (Kelmeny Jack, Sefton Hero—Lady Kilmeny): C., W. Rabbeth (Mack, Roslyn Count—Betsy). Bitches: 1st, S. B. Stannard (Lady Gay, Wellesbourne Charlie—Chesterford Hattie); 2nd, Woodlawn Park Kennels (Ormskirk Susie, Ormskirk Chriss—Latham Sheila); 3rd, Woodlawn Park Kennels (Hempstead Dorothy, Woodmansterue Trefoil—Green Mountain Lass); V.H.C. Res., John McDonald (Crystal, Christopher—Lady Moll); V.H.C., J. H. Sheppard (Shepardess, Christopher—Charm), Felix Flannigan (Princess Maud, Highland Bobbie—Hyacyinthe), W. T. Ford (Helen Douglas, Great Annie Douglass—Wellesbourne Lady) and G. A. Fletcher (Reine Blanche, Metchley Wonder—Right Scot); H.C., Lambert Stansfield (Highland Blue Ruin, Sefton Hero—Cragston Guess), G. A. Fletcher (Gilderoy's Daisy, Gilderoy—Scotchie II) and C. Y. Ford (Pitch Dark, Eclipse—Matchless). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: Prizes withheld. Bitches: 1st, McEwen & Gibson (Heroine Hero—Nixie); 2nd, Lambert Stansfield (Highlaud Blue Ruin, Sefton Hero—Cragston Guess); V.H.C. Res., W. T. Ford (Wilford Daisy, Yardley Fox—Christine).

ENGLISH SHEEPDOGS (Bob-Tails).—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, F. A. Watson (Sir Charles, Wateh Boy—Silkie Belle); 2nd Woodlawn Park Kennels (Boxer III); 3rd, F. A. Watson (Samson, Sir Charles—Clarissa). Bitches: 1st, Woodlawn Park Kennels (Mayoress of Newport, Mayor of Newport—Nil Desperandum); 2nd and 3rd, F. A. Watson (Clarissa, Wateh Boy—Silkie Belle, and Trilby, Sir Charles—Clarissa).

POODLES.—CHALLENGE CLASS—Dogs: 1st, Morey Kennels (Rajah); V.H.C. Res., Hill Hurst Kennels (Diamond, Bijou—Negress). OPEN CLASSES—Corded—Dogs or Bitches: No entries. Curly Black—Dogs: 1st and 2nd, Meadowmere Kennels (Caruotand Emperor, Black—Follette): V.H.C. Res., Frederick Brooks (Sam, Poobah—Frill); V.H.C., Meadowmere Kennels (Cæsar, Paulus—Coquette); H.C., Morey Kennels (Diabolo). Bitches: 1st, — — (——); 2nd and V.H.C. Res., Meadowmere Kennels (Niniehe, Bijou—Coquette, and Empreso, Milo—Chloe); V.H.C., Morey Kennels (Cigarette, Milo—Dinah, and Selina, Charlie—Robinette). Other than black—Dogs: 1st, 2nd and V.H.C. Res., Hill Hurst Kenne's (Poobah, Punch—Posy. Jocko and Hill Hurst Cocoa, Diamond—ida). Bitches: 1st, 2nd and 3rd, Hill Hurst Kennels (Hill Hurst Fluff, Diamoud—Ida, Hill Hurst Posy, Poobah—Ida, and Bollone, Monton—Gipsy). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st. Hill Hurst Kennels (Hill Hurst Coeoa, Diamond—Ida); 2nd, Morey Kennels (Nigger, Fox—Fidget). Bitches: 1st, 2nd and V.H.C. Res., Hill Hurst Kennels (Hill Hurst Fluff, Diamond—Ida, and Hill Hurst Marquise and Hill Hurst Brownie, Poobah—Bollone); V.H.C., Morey Kennels (Sans Gene, Fox—Fidget).

BULLDOGS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, W. R. Travers (His Lordship, Don Pedro—Ruling Passion). Bitches: 1st, Woodlawn Park Kennels (Salene, Grabber—Susie); V.H.C., Res., W. R. Travers (White Venn, German Monarch—Queen of the West). OPEN CLASSES—45 pounds and over—Dogs: 1st, Woodlawn Park Kennels (King Orry, Pagan—Kooree); 2nd, J. H. Matthews (Reve Royal, Rustic Swell—Candia); 3rd, R. H. Waugh (Dr. Rush, Carrisbrook—Ginger). 40 pounds and over—Bitches: 1st, Woodlawn Park Kennels (Hackwell Gipsy, Reeves Monarch—St. Hilda); 2nd, S. S. Green (Holly, Stockwell—Nancy Grafton). Under 45 pounds—Dogs: 1st, C. A. J. Smith (Heathen, Harper—Ashton Belle); 2nd, H. E. Converse (Heathen II, Heathen—Magpie II); 3rd, Woodlawn Park Kennels (Nugget, King Lud—Duchess of Parma); V.H.C. Res., John Coles (African Monarch, African King—Dinah); V.H.C., R. A. Canfield (Lud's Boy, King Lud—Judy B); H.C., A. B. Cumner (Smike, Jack Horner—Magpie II), and Bayonne Kennels (Bandy Boy, Little Bricks—Rose Elgin). Under 40 pounds—Bitches: 1st, Woodlawn Park Kennels (Juno II, Rustic Sovereign—Rock Rose); 2nd, withheld. PUPPY CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, R. A. Canfield (Lud's Boy, King Lud—Judy B); 2nd, C. H. Burnham Jr. (Tammany, Crib—Magpie II).

BULL TERRIERS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, R. S. Huidekoper (Cardoua, Gully the Great—Fenton Queen). Bitches: 1st, Castle Point Kennels (Castle's Kit, formerly Kit, Gully the Great—Countess); V.H.C. Res., F. F. Dole (Starlight). OPEN CLASSES—30 pounds and over—Dogs: 1st, F. F. Dole (Dutch Billy, Gully the Great—Edgewood Magnet); 2nd, T. S. Ellis (Yale Jim, Vigilant—Merritt). Bitches: 1st, F. F. Dole (Queen Lilly, Gully the Great—Edgewood Magnet); 2nd H. F. Church (Newmarket Siren, Gully the Great—Woodcote Lilly); 3rd, F. F. Dole (Edgewood Flossie, Cush—Starlight). Under 30 pounds—Dogs: 1st, H. F. Church (Little Flyer, Slavin II—Nell); 2nd, Castle Point Kennels (Tarquin, Little Tarquin—Nell); 3rd, F. L. Arden (Little Billie, Gully the Great—Edgewood Esther). Bitches: 1st and 2nd, H. F. Church (Sabetia, Ted Pritehard—Edgewood Matchless, and La Tosca, Gully the Great—Woodcote Lilly). PUPPY CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, F. F. Dole (Edgewood Flossie, Cush—Starlight); 2nd F. L. Ardeu (Little Billie, Gully the Great); V.H.C. Res., Thomas Holden (Monte, Tarquin—Betnor Belle).

BOSTON TERRIERS.—CHALLENGE CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Phelps & Davis (Topsy, Punch—Molly C). OPEN CLASSES—25 pounds and over—Dogs: 1st, T. C. Hollander (Peter, Bigelow's Tom—Tansy); 2nd, Bayonne Kennels (Prince Walnut, Mike—Nancy); 3rd, B. Pope (Pilot, Trimouut King—Countess); V.H.C. Res., Bayonne Kennels (Hector); H.C., H. J. O'Brien (Dan, O'Brien's Ross—Kiley's Belle): C., F. E. Haskell (Wanderer, Kaffir—Topsy). Bitches: 1st, Bayonne Kennels (Nankin, Judge—Nellie); 2nd aud 3rd, Phelps & Davis (Naucy, Mike—Molly, and Clyte, Tom Sayers—Diana); V.H.C. Res., A. L. Goode (Jessie, Ned—Muggins); V.H.C., B. Pope (Trilby); H.C., Phelps & Davis (Rosa, Boxer—Nell); C., Albert Pabst (Laney). Under 25 pounds—Dogs: 1st, B. Pope (Spider, Toby—Ciney); 2nd, Bayonne Keunels (Tom, Ned—Nancy); 3rd, withheld; V.H.C. Res., P. Donohue (Bob, Nig—Peggie); V.H.C., A. L. Goode (Buster, Ned—Fanny); H.C., N. R. Boutelier (Spot, Adam—Kimball's Peggie); C., Phelps & Davis (Commissioner II, Tom—Bessie) and E. F. Reilly (Jack, Jerry—Nell). Bitches: 1st, Mrs. J. F. Holt (Tansy, Tony—Jen); 2ud, B. Pope (Topsy, Goode's Ned—Nell); 3rd and V.H.C. Res., Bayonne Kennels (Mischief, Ned—Judy, and Vashti, Prince————); H.C., C. C. Prescott (Marguerite, Dan—Daisy); C., H. J. O'Brien (Molly, Dan—Topsy) and Seacroft Kennels (Sprlug Hill Naney, Mike—Nance). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, A. L. Goode (Monte, Buster—Muggins); 2nd, C. F. Clarkson (The Bauble, Jack—Susie); V.H C. Res., Bayonue Kennels (Viking, Tom—Fanny); V.H.C., Phelps & Davis (Prince, Fad—Jess); H.C., B. Pope (Grit, Spider—Topsy); C., A. H. Sargent (Pepper, Buster—Ginger). Bitches: 1st, J. B. McCulloch (Miss Dinah, Touy—Anule Rooney); 2nd, J. F. Holt (Puss, Buster—Bijou); V.H.C. Res., B. Pope (Daisy, Tom—Peggy); V.H.C., T. J. Kenney (Budget, Tom Sayers—Tug); H.C., H J. O'Brien (Molly, Dan—Topsy).

FOX TERRIERS.—Smooth-coated—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Blemton Kennels (Blemton Victor II, Dusky Trap—Verdict); V.H.C. Res., L. & W. Rutherfurd (Warren Safeguard, Venio—Eggesford Sapphire). Bitches: 1st, L. & W. Rutherfurd (Warreu Captious, Charlton Verdict—Refuge). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, L. & W. Rutherfurd (Warren Daybreak, Warren Safeguard—Warren Dawn); 2nd, Hillside Kennels (Hillside Domino, Starden's King—Dominica); 3rd, Blemton Kennels (Blemton Stickler, Stipend—Blemton Trinket); V.H.C. Res., C. Rathbone (Beverwyck Royalist, Starden's King—Moonshino); V.H.C., Wm. Wheeler (Beverly Rally, Starden's King—Belle), Edward Bird (Sentinel, Warren Tip Top—Snowball), C. S. Haaks (Seacroft Result, Ripon Stoimer—Richwood Jesamine), Hillside Kennels (Hillside Dominican, Starden's King—Dominica), and L. & W. Rutherfurd (Warren Sage, Warren Safeguard—Warren Duty); H.C., Dr. J. F. Belt (Hillside Royal, Starden's King—Hillside Freda), and C. S. Hanks (Seacroft King, Raby Pallisy—Richmond Jesamine); C., D. L. Orr (Warren Romper, Warren Ripper—Warren Pansy). Bitches: 1st, L. & W. Rutherfurd (Warren Capture, Warren Safeguard—Warren Captnre); 2nd, George Ewald (Cawthorpe Gem, Stipendiary—Grafton Ruby); 3rd, L. & W. Rutherfurd (Warren Sentence, Warren Safeguard—Warren Capinre); V.H.C. Res., George Raper (Richmond Pearl, Reckon—Pet Pearl); V.H.C., Dr. J. F. Belt (Lucy, Despoiler—Squalls), and Blemton Kennels (Blemton Vindex, Blemton Rasper—Blemton Verity); H.C., E. W. Irwin (Mystery, Starden's King—Miss Beckers). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st and 2nd, L. & W. Rutherfurd (Warren Daybreak, Warreu Safeguard—Warreu Dawn, and Warren Sage, Warren Safeguard—Warren Duty); V.H.C. Res., Edward Bird (Sentiuel, Warren Tip Top—Snowball); V.H.C., Seacroft Kennels (Wild Idol, Seacroft Bourbon—Seacroft Ottilia), and R. S. Ryan (Lindeu Smuggler, Starden's King—Linden Nettie); H.C., C. Rathbone (———, Starden's King—Moonshine), and Blemton Kennels (Blemtou Emperor, Blemton Victor II—New Forest Ethel): C., Hillside Kennels (Hillside Egotist, Starden's King—Hillside Model, and Hillside Echo, Starden's King—Dona). Bitches: 1st and 2nd, L. & W. Rutherfurd (Warren Capture and Warren Sentence, Warren Safeguard—Warren Capture); V.H.C. Res., Dr. J. F. Belt (Wawaset Luna, Hillside Royal—Beverwyck Luna); V.H.C., E. W. Irwin (Mystery, Starden's King—Miss Beckers); H.C., Hillside Kennels (Hill-ide Dominitta, Starden's King—Dommiea); C., Hill-ide Kennels (Hillside Tobaseo and Hillside Red Pepper, Starden's King—Hillside Pepper). Wire haired—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st and V.H.C. Res., Hillhurst Kenuels (Cribbage, Carlisle Trick—Carlisle Tinsel, and Oakleigh Brulser, Dudley Rarity—Brunette). Bitches: 1st, Hillhurst Kennels (Surrey Janet, Northfield Broom—Jennie). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Toon & Thomas (Endeliffe Banker, Meersbrook Brittles—Meersbrook Peel); 2ud, Rochelle Kennels (Brittle Boy, Brittle—Whittle); 3rd, G. W. H. Ritchie (Mister Great Snap, Brittle—Essie); V.H.C. Res., Hill Hurst Kennels (Hill Hurst Trick, Cribbage—Petition); V.H.C., Rochelle Kennels (White Topper, Tees Topper—Liffey); H.C., Seacroft Kennels (Britt'e Bat, Brittle—Grace Whittle); C., Mrs. C. B. Alexander (Smithy, Chief Justice—Flossie). Bitches: 1st and 2nd, Toon & Thomas (Endelliffe Fidget and Endcliffe Witch); 3rd, Rochelle Kennels (Brittle Buzz, Brittle—Whittle); V.H.C. Res. and V.H.C., Hill Hurst Kennels (Hill Hurst Blossom, Saint Broom—Hill Hurst Pinekey, and Hill Hurst Vamp, Brittle—Flipperty Gilbert). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Rochelle Kennels (Brittle Boy, Brittle—Whittle); 2ud, Hill Hurst Kennels (Hill Hurst Piquet, Cribbage—Hill Hurst Pansy). Bitches: 1st, Rochelle Kennels (Brittle Buzz, Brittle—Whittle); 2nd and V.H.C. Res., Hill Hurst Kennels (Hill Hurst Bud, Oakleigh Brusier—Oakleigh Flint, and Hill Hurst Hope, Brittle—Surrey Janet).

DANDIE DINMONT TERRIERS.—CHALLENGE CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: Not for competition. OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: Not for competition. Bitches: 1st, George Raper (Lothian Judy, Prince John—Fawside Lady); 2nd, withheld; V.H.C. Res., Wm. Parsons (Heather Maggie, Amphion—Gypp IV).

BEDLINGTON TERRIERS.—CHALLENGE CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, C. W. Lougest (Mount Vernon Tibbie, Blue Rook—Lorna Doone). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, C. W. Lougest (Mount Vernon Rose); 2nd, W. H. Russell (Postmaster, Tick Tack—Polly Warkworth). Bitches: 1st, C. W. Lougest (Mount Vernon Rose, Dash—Tibbie II); 2nd, Toon & Thomas (Sudcliffe Wasp, Weardale—Magpie); V.H.C. Res., W. H. Russell (Schoolmarm, Tick Tack—Polly Warkworth)

SCOTTISH TERRIERS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st and V.H.C. Res., Wankie Kennels (Tiree, Alister—Coil, and Kilroy, Kildee—Bitterweed). Bitches: 1st, Wankie Kennels (Wankie Diana, Kildee—Thistledown). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Newcastle Kennels (Bellingham Bailiff, Whinstone—Gentil); 2nd, Wankie Kennels (Wankie Tam, Kilroy—Brenhilda); 3rd, Miss Frances Lovering (Dunberton, Tiree—Bray); V.H.C. Res., Wankie Kenncls (Wankie Caddie, Gilroy—Vorda); V.H.C, P. B. Howard (Kilbar Jr, Kilbar—Bradeston Brownie), and Newcastle Kennels (Killstree, Kildee—Tronda); H.C., G. S Hatch (Kilrain, Kildee—Thistledown), and Newcastle Kennels (Newcastle Allan, Kilcree—Rosie). Bitches: 1st, Wankie Kennels (Wankie Janet, Tiree—Culblean); 2nd, Newcastle Kennels (Radix, Kinmore—Ruse); 3rd and V H.C. Res., Wankie Kenne s (Wankie Cambria, Kilroy—Vorda, and Vorda, Rascal—Clutha); V.H.C., Wankie Kennels (Wankie Dalsy, Rambler—Rosebud, and Miss Ted, Kilcree—Thistledown), and Newcastle Kennels (Highland Rosslyn, Lovat—Highland Lassie). AMERICAN-BRED CLASS—Dogs: 1st, Wankie Kennels (Wankie Tam, Kilroy—Brenhilda); 2nd, Miss Frances Lovering (Dunbarton, Tiree—Bray); 3rd, Wankie Kennels (Wankie Caddie, Kilroy—Vorda); V.H.C. Res., P. B. Howard (Kilbar Jr, Kilbar—Bradeston Brownie); V.H.C., G. S. Hatch (Kilrain, Kildee—Thistledown), Bitches: 1st, 2nd, 3rd and V.H.C. Res., Wankie Kennels (Wankie Janet, Tiree—Culblean, Wankie Diana, Kildee—Thistledown, Wankie Cambria, Kilroy—Vorda, and Miss Ted, Kilcree—Thistledown). PUPPY CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Hugh Mack (Rab, Sanky—Nettie); 2nd, Miss Frances Lovering (Dunbarton, Tiree—Bray).

IRISH TERRIERS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Toon & Thomas (Jack Briggs, Irish Ambassador—Bridget); V.H.C. Res., W. J. Comstock (Boxer IV, Jack—Potlo) Bitches: 1st, W. J. Comstock (Dunmurry, Napper—Kate W). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st and 2nd, Toon & Thomas (Briggs' Best, Jack Briggs—Salem Witch, and Brian O K, Mars—Red Nell); 3rd, W. J. Comstock (His Honor, Hanover Boy—Crate); V.H.C. Res., S D. Barker (Tim, Southboro Paddy—Peggy); V.H.C., S. A. Fletcher (Jack Desmond, Killaloe—Nancy III); H.C., P. F. Clancy (Irish Box, St. Serf—Eilleen II) and S. D. Parker (Tub, Southboro Paddy—Peggy). Bitches: 1st, O. W. Donner (Milton Droleen, Merle Grady—Blue Blood); 2nd, Toon & Thomas (Brick Dust); 3rd, C. A. Shinn (Gessela III, Rocks—Nevermore Gessela). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, J. V. Clancy (Shaun Rhue, Irish Boy—Belle). Bitches: 1st, O. W. Donner (Milton Droleen, Merle Grady—Blue Blood); 2nd, Toon & Thomas (Briggs' Bridget, Jack Briggs—Jessie).

BLACK AND TAN TERRIERS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, S. D. Ripley (Glenwood, Young Beaconsfield—Wasp); V.H.C. Res., H. T. Foote (Broomfield Sultan, Broomfield Turk—Broomfield Belle). Bitches: 1st, H. T. Foote (Gipsy Girl, Rock—West End Maiden). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Charles Wilson (Chicago Spider, Broomfield Sultau—Meersbrook Malden); 2ud, D. S. Gillies (Darkee, Gordon—Kit); V.H C. Res., Albert Scaarl (Jasper, Edward—Lloyd's Rose). Bitches: 1st, Toon & Thomas (Gipsy Queen, Beacon field—Gipsy); 2nd, S. D. Ripley (Surrey Gem, Halifax Nelson—Brighton); V.H.C. Res., Charles Wilson (Chicago Maiden, Salisbury—Queen III); V.H.C, Albert Searl (Lady Prudence, Broomfield Sultan—Roseleaf).

SKYE TERRIERS.—CHALLENGE CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, C. A. Shinn (Queen of the Skyes, Billy Barlow—Miss Pope). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Duncan Kerr (Roderick Lovat—Lady Countess). Bitches: 1st and 2nd, C. A. Shinn (Lady Stafford, Robert Bruce—Topsy, and Princess May, Hock—Mysie.)

YORKSHIRE TERRIERS.—CHALLENGE CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, Dr. N. E. Oliver (Minnie York, Duke of Leeds—Miunie), OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: Prizes withheld. Bitches: 1st, Dr. N. E Oliver (Pinkey York, Dick York—Minnie York); 2od, W. L. Tuck, (Betscy).

TOY TERRIERS.—Other than Yorkshire—Dogs: 1st, W. E. Tenney, Agt. (Gus, Jassan—Flora); 2nd, Charles Edwards (Daudy, Pert—Border); V.H.C. Res., Mrs. J. B. Baker (Chris. —— —Gipsy); H.C., Charles Edwards (Punch, Gus—Midget). Bitches: 1st, P. H. Sullivan (Nellie); 2ud, W. E. Tenny (Flossie, Prince—Midget).

PUGS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Miss Elizabeth Cryer (Bob Ivy, Dude—Vesta). Bitches: No entries. OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Mrs. A. H. Ford (Otterburn Treasure, Audy D—Otterburn Pearl). Bitches: 1st, W. J. Wheeler (Bell D, Jim Jam—Ruby III); 2ud, C. Y. Ford (Otterburn Pearl, Duudee—Lady Cygnet).

TOY SPANIELS.—CHALLENGE CLASS—Dogs or Bitches: No entries. King Charles spaniels—Dogs: 1st, C. S. Tuck (Loris, Roslars—Fady). Bitches: 1st, Mrs. Augusta Prescott (Bonnie Bess, Lauriette—Zora); 2nd, C. S. Tuck (Nada, Loris— ——).

BLENHEIM SPANIELS.—Dogs: No entries. Bitches: No entries.

PRINCE CHARLES OR RUBY SPANIELS.—Dogs: [illegible]. Bitches: 1st, Mrs. C. S. Tuck (Princess Nevia); [illegible] (Rena).

JAPANESE SPANIELS.—Dogs: 1st, Mrs. [illegible] Toby—Daisy). Bitches: 1st, Robert Russell [illegible] II—Janett).

ITALIAN GREYHOUNDS.—OPEN CLASS[illegible] Lewis (Spring, Spring—Bessie). Bitches [illegible] Lewis (Sprite, Jay—Sprite, and Tinnie II, MISCELLANEOUS.—25 pounds or ove[illegible] 1st Woodlawn Park Kennels (Dawr, Jack—Nu[illegible], withheld. Under 25 pounds—Dogs or Bitches: 1st, B. F. Lewis Jr. (Frank).

SPECIAL PRIZE LIST

BLOODHOUNDS.—Best exhibit, Dr. C. A. Lougest. Best American bred, Berry's Bradshaw. Best, Kaween.

MASTIFFS.—Best exhibit, Dr. C. A. Lougest. Best American-bred, Ingleside Mintlng. Largest exhibit, Dr. C. A. Lougest. Best mover, Elder. Best owned by a member of the American Mastiff Club, Ingleside Mintlug.

ST. BERNARDS.—Best exhibit, E. H. Moore. Best American-bred, Alton Jr. St. Bernard Club of America specials: Best stud dog (to be judged by two of his get) sired in America, Altoncer (with Judith's Altoncer and Eulalie II). Best American-bred rough dog, over three years, Altoneer. Best American-bred rough bitch, over three years, Victoria II. Best smooth dog, same conditions, Alton Jr. Best smooth bitch, same conditions, Empress of Contoocook. Best rough dog, under three years, Jim Blaine Jr. Best rough bitch, under three years, Trilby. Best smooth dog, same conditions, Rex Bute. Best dog, Alton Jr. Best bitch, Empress of Contoocook.

DEERHOUNDS.—Best exhibit, Hillside Kennels.

GREYHOUNDS.—Best exhibit, Toon & Thomas. Best American bred, Silk

BORZOIS.—Best kennel, C. S. Hanks. Best exhibit, C. S. Hauks Best American-bred, Col. Dietz.

FOXHOUNDS.—Best exhibit of American, White Oak Hill Kennels. Best American-bred, Pearl Strive.

CHESAPEAKE BAY DOGS.—Best three or more showing the most uniform type, Bigelow's Rose, Hero aud Bigelow's Rose II.

POINTERS.—Best exhibit, G. J. Gould. Best American bred Lady Gay Spanker. Pointer Club of America's specials, for members of the club only: Best pointer dog in the open classes, Ridgeview Chancellor. Best pointer bitch in the open classes, Springside Nell.

ENGLISH SETTERS.—Best American-bred, Nellie F.

IRISH SETTERS.—Best exhibit, Oak Grove Kennels. Best American-bred, Queen Vic. Best dog with an American field trial record, Finglas. Best dog with a field trial record, Finglas.

GORDON SETTERS.—Best exhibit, Dr. S. G Dixon. Best American-bred, Ranger B.

SPANIELS.—Best exhibit, Wee Wah Kennels. Best American-bred, Baby Ruth. American Spaniel Club specials for members only: Best American-bred field spaniel, Scandal. Best brace of cockers, Commodore aud Baby Ruth. Best brace of cockers under one year, Beppo and Jimmie. Best brace clumbers, Friar Boss and Reckless Friar. Best brace of field spaniels, Staley Baron and Dark Despair. Best brace of black cockers, Commodore and Baby Ruth. Best brace, other than black, Red Obo and Red Dolly.

BEAGLES.—Best exhibit, Rock and Beagle Kennels. Best American-bred, Phantom.

DACHSHUNDE.—Best American-bred, Polly Finders.

COLLIES.—Best exhibit, Woodlawn Park Kennels. Best American-bred, Lady Gay. Collie Club of America's specials for members only: Best dog in the open class, Woodmansterne Trefoil. Best bitch in the open class, Ormskirk Susie. Best bitch in puppy class, Heroine.

POODLES.—Best exhibit, Meadowmere Kennels. Best American bred, Sam.

BULLDOGS.—Best exhibit, Woodlawn Park Kennels. Best American-bred, Heathen II. Best, King Orry. Best American-bred dog, Heathen. Best American-bred bitch, Juno II.

BULL TERRIERS.—Best exhibit, F. F. Dole. Best American bred, Queen Lilly.

BOSTON TERRIERS.—Best exhibit, Bayonue Kenuels. Best American-bred, Tansy. Best dog, Miss Dinah. Best bitch, Tansy. Best puppy, Monte. Best dog, never having won a first prize, Monte. Best bitch, never having won a first prize, Tansy Best bred and owned by exhibitor, Monte. Best, Tansy. Best stud dog, judged with two of his get, Buster. Most evenly marked brindle and white among first or second prize winners, Monte Nearest approach to a rose car, The Bauble. Best sired by Punch, Topsy. Best sired by Buster, Monte. Best sired by Tom, Daisy.

FOX TERRIERS.—Best exhibit of smooth-coated, L. & W. Rutherfurd. Best exhibit of wirehaired, Hill Hurst Kennels. Best American-bred, Blemton Victor II; American Fox Terrier Club's specials for members only: Best, Cribbage. Best American-bred smooth-coated in the puppy classes, Warren Capture Best American-bred wirehaired in the puppy classes, Brittle Boy. Best American-bred wirehaired dog in the open class, Brittle Boy. Best American-bred wirehaired bitch in the open class, Brittle Buzz. Best puppy sired by Starden's King, Linden Smuggler.

BEDLINGTON TERRIERS.—Best American-bred, Postmaster.

SCOTTISH TERRIERS.—Best exhibit, Wankie Kenne's. American Scottish Terrier Club's specials, for members only: Best American-bred dog, Wankie Tam. Best American-bred bitch, Wankie Janet. Open to all: Best American-bred dog puppy, Dunbarton Best American-bred bitch puppy, Wankie Vision. Best American-bred, Wankie Janet.

IRISH TERRIERS.—Best exhibit, Toon & Thomas. Best American-bred. Briggs' Best.

TOY SPANIELS.—Best American-bred, Princess Nevia.

THE ENGLISH FIELD TRIALS

The Kennel Club's Trials

The English field trial season opened on April 3 with the above named club's twenty-first annual meeting, and, as for three years past, it was held at Orwell Park, in the county of Suffolk, Capt. Pretyman having kindly placed his excellent estate at the club's disposal. The twentieth field trial Derby received 21 entries, the Brace Stakes only 3, and the All-Age Stakes (confined to 16 entries) filled, a considerable percentage of the competitors hailing from the Continent. The presence of some Gordon setters was a rather unusual feature.

Those present at the draw, on the evening of April 2, were Mr. W. W. Aspinall (the secretary), Mr. Harry Jones, the Rev. R. O'Callaghan, Mr. Purcell Llewellin, Mr. W. Arkwright, Mr. T. J. Harrison, Mr. F. Lowe, Mr. E. C. Norrish, M. Lurkin (Vervoz), M. A. Roosens (Maffe), M. A. Payea (Arlen), with Messrs. Ellas Bishop, T. Lauder, W. Nicholson, C. Watts, Humphrey, Ashthorpe (Belgium), Balllie, Turner, Jones, Titheridge, and some others.

The first day was dull and somewhat cold, with very little wind and but few visitors present. It was expected the Derby would be finished in one day, but night found them at the end of the second series only. The second day was brighter and colder, with a fair breeze from the North. The Derby was finished, the Brace Stakes disposed of, and the first and second series of the All-Age stakes were run. Col. Cornwall Legh's dogs did not put in an appearance. The morning of the third day sufficed to finish the trials.

Of the puppies' performances our English cotemporary The Field says: "The remaining trials in the Derby were somewhat tedious, the judges appearing to be unable to make up their minds what to do. In the end the leading honor went to the liver, tan and white pointer Bonny Bell of Coldhill, a little bitch, which performed fairly well throughout; still she went better in her later trials than she did earlier on. She is a game finder, with fair pace and style, but no more than a useful all-round [illegible] a sensitive nose and game finding abilities [illegible] mon. Now the Gordon setter Venus of [illegible] which on one side, at least, is of Devonshire [illegible] rather a peculiar bitch, and she was quietly [illegible] antly worked by her owner, M. Lurkin, a Belgian, [illegible] one of the cleverest trainers the continent has produced. She is a fair bitch in appearance, an ugly galloper so far as her [illegible] are concerned, but she gets over her [illegible], and certainly, after making one [illegible] proved to be the best bird finder in [illegible]. Sometimes she seemed uncertain when on [illegible] stern action even then, but she [illegible] English-class puppy. the best young one of her variety [illegible] ever saw, and besides going a good pace she never seemed to tire, and, as a fact, was not really beaten, excepting so far as backing was concerned, by any dog in the stake—and she would not back—she does not carry her head well; her owner considered her the best he has ever trained. The tricolor setter Squire of Kippen, third prize, did some good work and some bad; as a fact, we did not think a great deal of him, and on Thursday his performance was indifferent. The pointer Whist, fourth prize, is a big, strong, very useful, liver and white, who has improvement in him; he stands well up to his game, and has an extremely good attitude on point—it is possible he was worth more money than any other dog in the stake; although Sandford Reveller, who followed him in order, is a charming little bitch, a merry mover, and naturally a game finder, on more than one occasion showing great excellence. As a fact, after the first round she was a popular first favorite, if she did not divide that position with Sarah Pedro, a merry little bitch, who, like her sister Sarah, was not steady when the game flushed she had found; both are fast. The remainder might be good at home, but they were not of much use abroad, Mr. Arkwright's brace pottering about too much, and during their work in quite a heartless fashion. The entries from Glenboig did very badly indeed; although the pointer Crack and Gordon setter Royal had plenty of pace and style, they require more breaking.

SUMMARY

"TWENTIETH FIELD TRIAL DERBY, for poiuter and setter puppies bred in 1894; first prize £70, second prize £30, third prize £20, fourth prize £10, fifth prize £5, sixth prize £5; extra prizes—£5 for best pointer, £5 for best English setter, £5 for best Irish setter, £5 for best Gordon or black and tan setter; the Gordon Setter Club offers £5 5s. for the best Gordon setter in the stake.

Mr. H. Drory's liv w t pointer d Ranger of Meirelbeke, by Master of Meirelbeke—Devonshire Sall; Feb. 22, 1894,	agst.	Mr. S. Humphrey's liv w pointer d Bonny Dan of Coldhill, by Don of Bolcord—Duchess of Bolcord; May 16, 1894.
Mr. Elias Bishop's liv w pointer b Jane Pedro, by Senor Don Pedro—Hollyberry; Jan. 4, 1894,	"	Mr. E. Puissant's bk pointer b Merbes Black Pearl, by Live Coal—Blanche of Bromfield; Feb. 5, 1894.
Mr. W. Arkwright's lem w pointer d Gold Mine, by Minotaur—Belle Chance; Feb. 17, 1894,	"	Major J. A. C. Wedderburn's r w Irish setter d Glendlair Grouse, by Clon—Erin-go-Bragh; Jan. 14, 1894.
Mr. W. Arkwright's liv w pointer d White Heat, by Live Coal—Blanche of Bromfield; Feb. 5, 1894,	"	Mr. R. Chapman's Gordon setter b Heather Silk, by Heather Nap — Heather Kate; Jan. 24, 1894.
Mr. Elias Bishop's liv w pointer b Sarah Pedro, by Senor Don Pedro—Hollyberry; Jan. 4, 1894,	"	Mr. S. Humphrey's liv w tan pointer b Bonny Bell of Coldhill, by Don of Bolcord—Duchess of Bolcord; May 16, 1894.
Mr. R. Chapman's liv w pointer d Heather Crack, by Sandford Bang—Heather Blossom; Jan. 10, 1894,	"	Mr H. Drory's lem w pointer b Maid of Meirelbeke, by Nero of Meirelbeke—Lark of Meirelbeke; Jan. 9, 1894.
Mr. R. Chapman's Gordon setter d Heather Royal, by Heather Nap — Heather Kate; Jan. 24, 1894,	"	Mr. H. Lurkin's liv w t setter d Wild Fred of the Thyrimont, by Wild Tam Tam—Dido; Feb. 15, 1894.
Mr. A. P. Heywood Lonsdale's liv w pointer d Ightfield Mentor, by Ightfield Torridge—Ightfield Musa; Feb. 10, 1894,	"	Mr. A. B. Walker's liv w pointer d Whist, by Woolton Druid—Bertha of Drayton; Feb. 12, 1894.
Mr. A. P. Heywood Lonsdale's w lem t setter b Ightfield Cinder, by Sybarite Sam—Sweep's Delight; Jan. 13, 1894,	"	Mr. E. C. Norrish's liv w t pointer b Sandford Reveller, by Sandford Rollo—Sandford Maggie; May 7, 1894.
Mr. F. C. Lowe's bk w tan setter d Squire of Kippen, by Aldon Tam—Nancy of Kippen; Jan. 2, 1894,	"	Mr. E. Puissant's liv w pointer d Merles Triumph, by Robert R—Fly of Meirelbeke; Jan., 1894.

Mr H. Lurkin's bk tan Gordon setter b Venus of Thyrimont, by Wild Tam—Belle II; Feb. 17, 1894, a bye.

II

"Sarah Pedro v. Rauger of Meirelbeke.	Whist v. Bonny Bell of Coldhill.
Gold Mide v. Wild Fred.	Sandford Reveller v. Venus of Thyrimont.
Bonny Dan of Colehill v. Maid Melrelbeke.	Ightfield Mentor v. Squire of Kippen.
Jane Pedro v. White Heat.

III

"Sandford Reveller v. Whist.	Squire of Kippen v. Bonny Bell.
Venus v. Sarah Pedro.	Ightfield Mento (a bye).

AWARDS

"Bonny Bell of Coldhill	1	Whist	4
Venus of Thyrimont	2	Sandford Reveller	5
Squire of Kippen	3	Sarah Pedro	6

"Certificates of merit were awarded to Jane Pedro, Black Pearl, White Heat and Wild Fred of Thyrimont; Glendlair Grouse obtained the special for the best Irish setter in the stake, Venus of Thyrimont took the Gordon specials, and Squire of Kippen that for the best English setter."

The work in the Brace Stakes does not appear to have been of a high order, and The Field dismisses it with these comments: "Another walk across more fallow, and the first of the braces were down, viz., Mr. Arkwright's Tap and Mistletoe, handled by Drewry, M. Richard's dogs being absent. Tap, in a nice field of stubble, ran the fence, pointed a lark, again stood without game, then had birds down by the fence to the right; Mistletoe was steady behind, but they did not work well as a brace though; Tap found more birds, and her companion was not quite steady behind; forward, Mistletoe had a point, which was backed. Mr. Llewellin's Rosa Wind'em and Jessie Wind'em, handled by their owner, were down in a nice lot of rye, but they did not quarter their beats out completely, passing a pair of birds; going on in pretty form Jessie found birds, which rose wildly, she dropping to wing and being backed. The field was eventually worked out in better form than it had been commenced. The trial was continued in another field, in which some pretty [illegible] although no birds were found. [illegible] brace of dogs, partridges were [illegible]ars left the field flushed by the [illegible] had worked it; on Thursday, at [illegible] did not enhance their reputa[illegible] so the ill-matched pointers Tap and Mistletoe received the award. Some of the owners of dogs in the all-aged stake were not pleased that this brace stake was given such priority.

"BRACE STAKES, a sweepstakes of £5 5s. each brace, for pointers and setters, dogs and bitches; first prize two thirds of entry fees, second prize one-third of entry fees.

M. A. Richard's English setters Wild Tam Tam and Fred W II (absent).

Mr. W. Arkwright's pointers Tap and Mistletoe.

Mr. R. Ll. Purcell Llewellin's English setters Rosa Wind'em and Jessie Wind'em."

Of the dogs in the All-Age Stakes our cotemporary says: "In the end the All-Age Stakes was won by the Irish setter Ben Sullivan, who is now well known as a field trial celebrity, and he ran well throughout, showing all the old dash and style for which we have previously praised him. He perhaps made fewer errors than any other dog in the competition. Mr. Llewellin's bitches, Jessie Wind'em and Rosa Wind'em, also old winners, came second and third, galloping in pretty style, though the latter was inclined to work out of bounds. Jessie, on the contrary, quartered her ground with great precision. The pointer Polly Pedro was lucky to get fourth, as her work at any rate in the earlier rounds was anything but satisfactory. The Gordon setter Brooklyn Bruce, who ran such a nice trial with Ben of Kippen on Thursday, later on went very wild, quartered his ground indifferently, and seemed as though he had entirely forgotten himself. As a fact, there was nothing particular to note about any other of the aged dogs, saving and except that Mistletoe was very unfortunate in being put out the first round, and even Woolton Druid might have had another trial, for, although beaten by Bruce Wind'em, he was not disgraced; the latter was also one of the unlucky division; indeed, excepting the flushes he made, he ran more brilliantly than any other dog at the meeting.

"ALL-AGE STAKES, a sweepstakes of £6 10s. each, for pointers and setters, dogs and bitches; first prize £50, second prize £25, third and fourth prizes £10 each.

Mr. Holt Beevor's Gordon setter d Brooklyn Bruce, by Brooklyn Romp—Cornish Brown,	agnst	Mr. F. C. Lowe's liv w pointer d Ben of Kippen, by Rocket R—Laura of Kippen.
Mr. W. Arkwright's liv w pointer b Mistletoe, by Naso of Strasburg—Kiss,	"	M. A. Richard's bl belton setter d Wild Tam Tam, by Rhoderick of the Lahn III—Rose of Shrewsbury.
Mr R. Ll. Purcell's Llewellin's bl w setter d Bruce Wind'em, by Dick Wind'em—May Wind'em,	"	Mr. G. Pilkington's liv w pointer d Woolton Druid.
Messrs. F. C. Lowe and Elias Bishop's bl belton setter d Grouse of Kippen, by Port—Gwenni,	"	Mr. W. Arkwright's bl pointer d Tap, by Rap VI—Sella Price.
M. A. Richard's setter d Fred W II, by Prince IV—Duchess of Albany,	"	Mr. C. Austin's Irish setter d Ben Sullivan, by Sullivan—Springfield Flirt.
Mr. Elias Bishop's liv w pointer b Polly Pedro, by Señor Don Pedro — Jeannette,	"	Mr. R. Ll. Purcell's Llewellin's bl w setter b Rosa Wind'em, by Dick Wind'em—May Wind'em.
Col. Cornwall Legh's nomination	"	M. A. Richard's liv w pointer b Kissing Crust, by Naso of Strasburg—Kiss.
Col. Cornwall Legh's nomination	"	Mr. Ll. Purcell Llewellin's bl w setter b Jessie Wind'em, by Moss Wind'em—Jewell.

II

"Bruce Wind'em v. Kissing Crust.	Ben Sullivan v. Rosa Wind'em.
Polly Pedro v. Jessie Wind'em.	Brooklyn Bruce, a bye.

III

"Rosa Wind'em v. Brooklyn Bruce.	Ben Sullivan v. Jessie Wind'em.
	Polly Pedro v. Bruce Wind'em.

AWARDS

"Ben Sullivan	1	Rosa Wind'em	3
Jessie Wind'em	3	Polly Pedro	4

"After congratulations had been offered to Mr. Austin and the other winners, the Rev. R. O'Callaghan proposed a vote of thanks to Capt. Pretyman for allowing the Kennel Club to hold the meeting on his estate, remarking that no better place could possibly have been found for the purpose. This was seconded by Mr. Austin. A vote of thanks to the judges was also proposed by Mr. O'Callaghan, seconded by Mr. Elias Bishop and unanimously carried. As heretofore, Reeder, the head keeper, had the conduct and arrangement of the beats, which he overlooked satisfactorily, although a variable wind occasioned a considerable amount of extra walking. The general management of the meeting was pretty good, the Rev. R. O'Callaghan, Mr. H. Jones, Mr. T. J. Harrison and Mr. W. W. Aspinall being responsible as acting field stewards, and they had little difficulty in keeping the few spectators from unduly pressing up to the judges Regret was expressed at the absence of Capt. Pretyman, who had been called to town; and the absence of the President of the Kennel Club, Mr. S. E. Shirley, was likewise regretted."

THE NEW ENGLAND BEAGLE CLUB'S MEETING

BOSTON, MASS.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—The quarterly meeting of the New England Beagle Club was held at Mechanics' Building, Boston, April 19, and called to order at 3:35 p. m., President Joslin in the chair, the following members present: H. S. Joslin, F. W. Chapman, Geo. F. Reed, Henry Hanson, A. D. Fisk, B. S. Turpin, H. V. Jamieson and W. S. Clark.

The treasurer's report was read and accepted.

Communications were read from Howard Almy and Paul C. F. Hoffman and placed on file.

Mr. C. J. Prouty of Scituate, Mass., and Harry Tallman of Greene, R. I., were elected to membership.

It was voted that a field trial be held this Fall at Oxford, Mass., beginning November 5. Classes and prize money the same as last year.

Voted that the selection of judges be left with the field trial committee.

Messrs. H. S. Joslin, A. D. Fisk, Thomas Shallcross, Henry Hanson and W. S. Clark were elected the field trial committee.

It was voted that the club apply for admission to the American Kennel Club.

It was voted that specials be given the same as last year, namely: For best Derby entry bred by owner, best all-age entry bred by owner, best voice, greatest sustained speed, best trailing, most stylish worker and best starter.

Mr. W. B. Atherton, in behalf of the American Stockkeeper, presented the club with a silver cup, to be known as the American Stockkeeper Cup, to be offered for the best beagle at the Fall field trials. The cup was accepted and a vote of thanks given to Mr. Atherton for his generosity.

Adjourned at 4:45 p. m.

The executive committee meeting was called at 4:50 p. m., the following members present: Messrs. Joslin, Fisk, Hanson and Clark. The only business to come before the meeting was the question of judges for the Fall field trials. After some little discussion on the matter it was voted to postpone the appointment till the July meeting. Adjourned at 5 p. m.

W. S. CLARK,
Secretary-Treasurer.

DEATH OF SIR BEDIVERE

The sudden death, from gastritis, last Thursday, of Sir Bedivere, came somewhat as a surprise; still he enjoyed a fair length of life, for he was whelped August 27, 1887, and was always a delicate eater. Bred by Mr. T. H. Green, at Thorndale, in England, he was first exhibited as a puppy at Warwick the following year. He at once made his mark, for he was considered the best puppy for his age ever seen, and he "never looked back." Win after win, special prize after special prize, gold medals, challenge cup, all were his, and ere long his fame spread to this country. It is unnecessary to recapitulate all his wins in England. We published a complete list of them when he was imported by Mr. E. B. Sears, in January, 1891, and again in September, 1892; and more than once has the excellent portrait of him drawn for the AMERICAN FIELD, by Mr. R. H. Moore, the celebrated English artist, been presented to our readers, most of whom must feel they know Sir Bedivere and his history well, though a great many of them had never seen him. How Mr. Sears paid for Sir Bedivere the highest price on record for a dog; how he went to the additional expense of sending a kennelman to England to bring the canine celebrity safely to the Wyoming Kennels; how the dog was sold to Mr. W. C. Reick, of New York, two years later, for about a third of what had been paid for him, and a few months later was purchased at a considerably lower figure by Mr. C. A. Pratt; his defeat by Princess Florence at the New York show in 1893, and his disappointment as a sire. All these and other salient features of this magnificent dog's career have been told at one time and another. He was undoubtedly the best known dog in America, and when entered for a show his advent was always heralded by the local papers, which invariably vied with one another in placing his value at extravagant figures. Not only was he the best known, but he was also the most popular of dogs; and he deserved his popularity, every bit of it. When the show season comes round again many will be the inquiries for Sir Bedivere, and it is with sincere regret we announce this noble animal is no more. Mr. C. A. Pratt and Arther Trickett, his kennel manager, will miss the affectionate old dog for many a long day.

MEETING OF THE NEW ENGLAND FIELD TRIAL CLUB

This meeting was held in Mechanics' Institute, Boston, April 18, when the following officers were elected: President, Dr. J. W. Hayward; vice-presidents, D. A. Goodwin Jr., Geo. W. Lovell, Edward Brooks and Harry Dutton; secretary, Arthur R. Sharp, Taunton, Mass.; treasurer, Walter C. Baylies, Taunton, Mass.; board of governors, Dr. E. K. Sperry, J. S. Wells, Chas. P. Curtis Jr., Hobart Ames, Herbert Merriam, Geo. W. Amory and H. W. Smith.

It was decided to hold an open sweepstakes for all pointers and setters, commencing October 29, on the club's grounds at Assonet Neck, the club to add $100 to the stakes. The following committee was appointed by the president to complete and execute the trials, having full power to act in all matters concerning them: Arthur R Sharp, Walter C. Baylies and Hobart Ames.

Mr. N. Wallace was unanimously elected an honorary member of the club for his generous and untiring efforts in its behalf, and the secretary was instructed to write Mr. Wallace tendering him the sincere thanks of the club for judging the last trials.

The meeting then adjourned.

FOR SALE.—Mr. J. S. Lattner, Chattanooga, Tenn., offers mastiffs....Mr. J. B. Thompson, Yazoo City, Miss., offers black and tan terrier....Mr. C. S. Weldy, Tamaqua, Pa., offers French poodles....Mr. G. Douglas, Woodstock, Ont., offers cocker spaniels....Mr. E. D. Stocker, Cooperstown, N. Y., offers English setter....Dr. Paul Campbell, Cooperstown, N. Y., offers English setter....Mr. J. M. Dinsmore, Steubenville, O., offers pointers....Pocket City Kennels, McGregor, Ia., offer fox terriers....Eldred Kennel, Philadelphia, Pa., offers foxhounds and beagles ....Mr. J. M. Sterling, Bridgeport, Conn., offers English setters and pointers....Mr. G. O. Smith, Wheeling, W. Va., offers fox terrier....Corinth Kennel, Corinth, Miss., offers English setters....Mr. W. Osthoff, Philadelphia, Pa., offers English setters ...Mr. A. Coren Jr., Madison, N. J., offers English setter....Burlington Kennels, La Grange, Ill., offer mastiffs... Mr. H. Florentz, Chicago, Ill., offers mastiff....Mr. J. G. F. Holston, Zanesville, O., offers pointer....Mr. J. Ostler, Methuen, Mass., offers English setter....A. K., New York, offers pointers....Mr. W. H. McQuoid, Middletown, N. Y., offers pointers and English setters....Mr. G. E. Gray, Appleton, Wis., offers English setters....Beaumont Kennels, New York, offer Irish setters....Box 319, Kirkwood, Mo., offers English setters....Mr. L. S. Eddins, Sedalia, Mo., offers English setters....Audubon Kennel, Lockport, Ill., offers fox terriers....Mr. T. Barklay, Cincinnati, O., offers Irish setter and bloodhounds.... Walnut Creek Kennels, Decorah, Ia., offer foxhounds.... Dr. Bowman, Alsey, Ill., offers pointers....Mr. F. L. Dever. Peoria, Ill., offers bull terriers....Chestnut Hill Kennels, Philadelphia, Pa., offer collies and Irish terriers ....Kingston Kennels, Kingston, Ont., offer beagles, English setters, fox and Irish terriers....Mr. E. G. Eaton, Athens, O., offers beagle....Hotfoot Kennels, Decorah, Ia., offer fox terriers....Mr. G. M. Woods, Leaman Place, Pa., offers English setters....Mr. W. L. Lawson, Hannibal, Mo., offers pointer....Messrs. McEwen & Gibson, Byron, Ont., offer collies....Mr. H. B. Meyers, Chicago, offers two out of a litter of eight English setter puppies.

IN THE STUD.—Mr. C. C. Hess, Riverdale, Ill., offers the services of the pointer King Bang....Mr. W. L. Washington, New Castle, Pa., offers the services of the imported Irish setter Finglas....Chestnut Hill Kennels, Philadelphia, Pa., offer the services of the collies Christopher and Wellsbourne Charlie....Mr. C. H. Phelps Jr., Philadelphia, Pa., offers the services of the English setters Antonio and Brighton Tobe.

NOTES

ANOTHER bench show at Cincinnati, and my predictions are that it will be a good one too. The Ohio Humane Society will give its second bazaar at Music Hall on May 14 to 24. In this there are one thousand five hundred society ladies and five hundred business men actively engaged for the past two weeks, and it will be a grand success. The Humane Society has arranged with me to give in connection with the bazaar a dog show, for which an extra admittance will be charged. The object of the dog show is to establish near this city a dog farm or home, where all stray dogs gathered in will be placed, kindly cared for and homes provided for them, instead of killing them as is now done—a most worthy object; while it will be mainly a local show, yet we ask dog owners outside to send in entries and help along a good cause. The entry fee is only one dollar per dog. Prizes will be merchandise of all kinds donated by our merchants, ribbons, cups, etc. Anyone who sends his dogs can depend on my seeing to it that the dogs will have the very best of care and be promptly returned, free of charge. The dog show will continue five days, May 20 to 24. Entries close May 14. An innovation at this show will be an exhibit of a dozen dogs from the dog pound, shown by Mr. Hocket, the poundmaster, showing to the public in what good condition these stray waifs are kept; separate classes will be made for them and they will be judged and prizes awarded. Handsome young ladies will sell catalogs and act as doorkeepers. Roger D. Williams will be here with his kennel of six bloodhounds and he will also judge greyhounds, deerhounds, foxhounds, borzois and Irish wolfhounds. Full list of other judges will be furnished soon.

AL. G. EBERHART,
Cincinnati, O. Superintendent.

I HAVE been a constant reader of the AMERICAN FIELD for the last fifteen years and in that time I do not believe that I have missed a dozen copies of it. I have also attended nearly all of the leading dog shows, either as an exhibitor or a visitor, and this is the first time I have been called on to go into print in defense of my dog, and this because of your reporter's unjust criticism of my bull terrier bitch Neglect. I do not claim my dog is perfect, but do claim she was by long odds the best in the class she justly won in, and she is one of the best formed bull terriers living from the eyes back. She is cut out under the eyes to some extent, but that is her only fault. So far as her eyes being prominent I do not know what your reporter thought of the balance of the dogs on exhibition, for she has the smallest jet black eyes of any dog exhibited at the Pittsburg show in the bull terrier classes, and so far as Nellie Harper beating her the only place on earth she can do it is in a bulldog class; the said Nellie only needs a bulldog head nailed on to make her a good one. A great many who are traveling around professing to be bull terrier judges fall into the same error—all they know or can see about a dog is his face; if he has a wolf face on he is a good one, no matter what they are behind it. I have a distinct recollection of a dog winning first prize in the lightweight bull terrier class, a few years ago here at Pittsburg, with a Spitz coat on him, and the only thing that entitled him to be in the class was having his ears cut, and it is that kind of judging and that kind of criticism that make fanciers tired of dog shows.

Pittsburg, Pa. G. WASH. MOORE.

As an item of interest I cannot refrain from giving an account of what I think most remarkable intelligence, shown by a setter that I now own, and trust that all readers of the AMERICAN FIELD (the best paper in the United States), who love "man's best friend" will enjoy it as much as I did. This Spring, the gentleman who then owned the dog (an old German who brought him to this country and trained him) and myself, were hunting ducks on the Missouri River, ten miles south of Omaha. The flight that day having been unusually large we found, late in the afternoon, that we would not have shells sufficient to get the evening shooting. It was six miles to the old man's hut, and South Omaha too far to send to, even had we anyone to go. Jokingly I said, "send the dog." The old man said, "Vell, I vill," and tearing a leaf from my note book the old man wrote: "Send box of shells back with Bert," tied it on the dog's collar, and speaking a few encouraging words in German to him, said, "Go!" Away he went, through the timber, crossing a sandbar, swimming a ditch, taking the shortest cuts for his destination; and in less than three-quarters of an hour he was back again (twelve miles), bringing twenty-five shells, laid them down at our side and looked for the hearty praise we both bestowed upon him. Come now, you men who own great (?) dogs with long pedigrees, can you beat it?

Omaha, Neb. J. C. SCHREIVER.

POINTER breeders will be pleased to learn that Messrs. A. F. Hochwalt and Wm. H. Windle, proprietors of the Eldridge Kennels, of Dayton, O., have decided to stay in "the fancy," and for the best of reasons, as a letter received from them states: "We did intend to close out our kennel about a year ago, but it seems a hard matter to stifle the affection we have for our canine friends, after having bred and owned them for years, so we will stay in the fancy, not for the money that is in it, but for the amusement and recreation we get out of it." This is the spirit that will not only merit success, but afford lasting pleasure not only to themselves but to sportsmen throughout the country by benefiting the breed by judicious breeding. The kennels have just purchased the liver and white pointer Springside Faust, winner of first in the puppy class at Boston, last year. "Springside Faust," writes Mr. Hochwalt, "is what might be called a little big dog, weighing just about 55 pounds when in fair form. He is well put up throughout and is by Ridgview Faust out of Beryl, she by Graphic out of Frivolity II. Ridgview Faust is a son of Beppo III out of Lady Norrish II, so it can be seen at a glance the breeding is first-class. We have also lately purchased the lemon and white bitch Molton Bee, by imported Molton Baron out of Royal Cute. Bee has done some winning on the bench and is a good, level-headed field dog."

AT the eleventh hour the closing of entries for the Toronto Kennel Club's annual Spring show, to be held Thursday and Friday of this week, was extended until noon of April 16, when the total number received was exactly 400, made up by: Mastiffs 7, St. Bernards 17, Great Danes 8, Newfoundlands 9, borzois 9, greyhounds 20, bloodhounds 3, English foxhounds 6, American foxhounds 9, Chesapeakes 5, pointers 9, English setters 13, Irish setters 12, Gordon setters 4, Irish water spaniels 5, field spaniels 15, cocker spaniels 47, collies 21, bulldogs 1, bull terriers 12, Airedale terriers 4, dachshunde 11, beagles 9, Irish terriers 14, Scotch terriers 8, Bedlington terriers 7, Manchester terriers 6, fox terriers (smooth) 61, fox terriers (wirehaired) 16, Yorkshire terriers 7, other toy terriers 3, pugs 3, King Charles spaniels 10, Italian greyhounds 2, miscellaneous 5, selling class 2. The number of fox terriers and cocker spaniels is very good, and the quality is sure to be there; which may also be said of the greyhounds; foxhounds show up as strongly as they do at most of our leading shows; and so do King Charles spaniels.

AT a meeting held at Toronto, on April 13, of the dog show committee of Canada's Great Industrial Exposition it was moved by Mr. J. F. Kirk and seconded by Mr. John Wilson: "That this committee having been informed by Mr. Joseph Dilworth that the action of this committee in the appointment of Mr. W. P. Fraser to the position of secretary and superintendent has been rejected by the Industrial Exhibition Board, be it resolved that this motion be a resignation of the committee as a whole without further action." The motion was carried unanimously, the following members being present: Colin W. Postlethwaite, chairman; John Maughan, vice-chairman; J. F. Kirk, J. S. Williams, John Wilson, Jos. Dilworth, A. A. Macdonald, R. Junor, R. G. Wilkie, J. G. Mitchener, H. B. Donovan and W. P. Fraser. This action, however, was taken after the board of directors of the exposition had reduced the number of the committee from fourteen to seven.

IT will be remembered that I have had a case in court several years, suing the railroad for killing a valuable dog. This case has been tried three times in the circuit court. I won it each time. It has been tried twice in the supreme court and sent back to the circuit court for new trial. It will be tried again in the supreme court, commencing May 1. As the decision of this case is of great importance to all dog owners, they would do a great good for the interest and protection of valuable dogs if they would refer me or my attorney to any law on the subject that will assist my attorney in winning this case. Every owner of a dog should feel some interest in stopping the railroads from the cruel and wanton killing of valuable dogs, and if this information will lead to the establishing of a precedent for liability of railroads for killing dogs all will be gainers.

Hickory Valley, Tenn. J. M. AVENT.

MR. W. E. MASON, the English collie fancier, writes to the British Fancier: "I see you give an extract in last issue from the AMERICAN FIELD saying I have sold Sequah to the Seminole Kennels. This is not correct, as the dog is still here. American papers are nothing if not 'up to date.' But this time they are a little too previous. I have had several tempting offers from America and the Continent for Sequah, but he is good enough for me to keep. Kindly correct in next issue certain." Then negotiations must have fallen through at the very last moment, for it was Dr. Sauveur himself who told us, at the Chicago show, that he had purchased the dog and changed its name to Seminole Perfection; and considering the dog was entered (though absent) under that name and as the property of the Seminole Kennels in the open class for collie dogs at that show, we think we may be excused from the charge of being "too previous."

THE Kane County (Illinois) board of supervisors met on April 17 and voted not to give any more assistance to poor families owning dogs. This is the adoption of a poor-law which has been in force in many English districts for years, and reminds one of the story of the old Cumberland farmer whose declining years found him in poverty, despite the assistance of his friends, and who was finally driven to seek relief from the parish. An officer found him sitting on an old bench, and at his feet an aged foxhound. The poor old fellow was told that he could not be granted any relief from the parish fund so long as he kept the hound, and its destruction was advised. Though in sore straits the old man stoutly refused, declaring that he and his hound should die together as they had lived together, and it was not long before both passed to the happy hunting grounds.

NOWADAYS every dog show serves to bring forth emphatic denunciation of the express companies' grasping tyranny, and the Pittsburg show was no exception, judging from the comments of the daily press of that city. After calling attention to the quality and quantity of the attendance at the show the Pittsburg Leader says: "A great deal of complaining is being done by the owners and shippers of some of the dogs over the exorbitant rates exacted by the express companies. They argue that this is the greatest show that has taken place between New York and Chicago for some time, and they should be accorded favors that have been given to them by the corporations before, but the officials of the companies seem to think otherwise, and there is the trouble." Unless the fancy can master this very [illegible] state of affairs it will sooner or later down [illegible]

A PRESS dispatch from New Cast[illegible] April 21, says: "Wolf hunting on a sys[illegible] been commenced by the Standard Cat[illegible] Bell Fourche River. A carload of wol[illegible] has been shipped from New York and will be in the field at Morecroft under charge of a party of hunters to exterminate the wolves from the range." It would be interesting to know how they managed to obtain a "carload" of wolfhounds in New York, and we expect that on investigation their "wolfhounds" would prove a motley looking lot of nondescripts. Perhaps Mr. J. G. Massey of Rawlins, Wyo., can enlighten us on the tout ensemble of these canines that are to be used in a crusade against the wolves.

THE Manitoba Field Trial Club is already in the "field" with an advertisement of its ninth annual trials, on prairie chickens, to be run September 10 and following days over the club's grounds near Morris. The program for this pleasant annual gathering is precisely the same as last year, consisting of Derby and All-Age Stakes, each worth $250. In the Derby this sum is divided into four moneys, viz., $100, $75, $50 and $25; but for the old dogs the prizes are $125, $75 and $50. It costs $5 only to enter a dog in either trial, starters paying $10 additional. For the All-Age Stakes the entries close on August 15; but for the Derby they close as early as July 1, which is only nine weeks hence.

ONE of the pleasing signs of Spring is the revival of interest in dogs, as evidenced by the number of sales being made every day. Among the late St. Bernard sales made are those of Champion Alton II and Lady Adelaide III to Mr. Dudley E. Waters, of Grand Rapids, Mich. by the Argyle Kennel, of Little Rock, Ark., the price paid being $1,000. Among other sales made by this kennel are the following: An Alton II—Queen puppy to Mr. J. W. McNair, of St. Louis, Mo., and puppies by Alton II—Judith's Rachel to Samuel Dodd, of St. Louis, E. E. Towle, of Hammond, Ind., and to Mr. Powers, of Decatur, Ill.

THE seventeenth Eastern field trial Derby, advertised in the AMERICAN FIELD this week, differs in no respect from last year's. The prize moneys are again $300, $200 and $100, and it costs $30 to start; non-starters $20, or only $10 if declared out by September 1. Once more the entries close on May 15, and each entry must be accompanied by $10. "Last year's judges will serve again," writes Mr. W. A. Coster, who has moved from Saratoga Springs to Brooklyn. No date or place of running is advertised, but reference to our Kennel Fixtures will supply that information.

SINCE the show there some of the Denver kennels have been having a bad time with the distemper. We hear that Mr. E. T. Weiant's St. Bernard Flora Lomond has been near death's door, and recovery is still doubtful; the superintendent, Mr. C. H. Withington, lost two setter puppies and a greyhound; Mr. F. W. Rand has lost his best two collie puppies, Blondine and Heatherol, first and second in open and puppy classes at the late show; Mr. T. W. Bartels has lost two greyhound saplings, and has about a dozen down with it; and Mr. S. W. Vidler, of Colorado Springs, has lost a deerhound.

RICHMOND VICTORY, the smooth fox terrier bitch sent to this country last February by Mr. Geo. Raper, has been purchased by Mr. T. J. Sullivan, owner of the Pocket City Kennels at McGregor, Ia. While over here she has been in the hands of George Thomas, and, after having to stand aside in the open and novice classes at New York for Warren Capture, Cowthorpe Gem and Warren Sentence, she was returned a winner at Detroit, Denver and Chicago, at the last-named fixture capturing the Garfield Park Silver Cup (value $150) for best fox terrier in the show.

THERE is probably no kennel in the world where such a large number of sporting dogs are to be seen as that of Mr. R. Chapman, of Glenboig, Scotland, says Mr. Fred Gresham. Certainly there is not one in which are so many prize winners. The best Gordon setters are to be seen there, and in pointers Mr. Chapman can always hold his own in the best company, and the same may be said of his spaniels and English and Irish setters. These dogs, it will be seen, are at the service of the public. They are not merely show dogs, but are regularly shot over in the season.

MR. CHAS. E. BUNN incloses us a letter from Pavia, Italy, in which the writer asks for prices, etc., of some of his mastiffs. This, coming on top of Mr. Bunn's recent sale of a mastiff to a party in Japan, has quite elated him, as he writes: "After selling a mastiff to go to Japan and now a request for information from Italy, I feel I am doing an international business." We wish Mr. Bunn the greatest success, and if he keeps on advertising in the AMERICAN FIELD, which has readers in every quarter of the globe, he will do an international business.

THE Philadelphia Kennel Club has not yet decided where its trials shall be run next Autumn; not, however, on account of difficulty in securing suitable grounds, but because of the plenitude of offers received. The Central, Eastern and Southern field trial clubs have all placed their grounds at the disposal of the Quaker City sportsmen; also a proposition has been made to secure the club shooting privileges over a large tract of land in New Jersey. A decision will probably be reached next month.

MR. T. H. GIVEN, president of the Farmers' [illegible] Bank of Pittsburg, Pa., has purchased from Mr. [illegible] Dole that good young bull terrier bitch Queen Lilly Gully the Great—Magnet. Queen Lilly is a west[illegible] one, coming from Glenwood Springs, Colorado, where she was raised by Mr. J. W. Fry, who won with her when nine months old in the open bitch class at Denver in 1893. Passing into the hands of Mr. Dole, she carried off the red ribbon for him at the last Chicago show and followed it by [illegible] the blue at Pittsburg.

[illegible] the columns of the AMERICAN FIELD I have [illegible] the Kansas Rod out of Roderigo—Lady [illegible] to [illegible] Beamer of Riverside, Cal. Mr. Beamer will breed [illegible] Monk of Furness bitch and the coast will be furnished with some of the finest blood imaginable. A card in the AMERICAN FIELD brought letters from nearly every state from Maine to California. Surely the AMERICAN FIELD is a continent.

Tempe, Arizona. F. H. WELLES.

DR. C. A. LOUGEST has further strengthened his already strong kennel of mastiffs by purchasing from Mr. G. W. Glazier the well-known Ingleside Minting, a three-year-old son of Beaufort's Black Prince and Madge Minting. It was a close thing between Ingleside Minting and Dr. Lougest's Emperor William in the dog challenge class at Boston last week, and after Mr. Mortimer decided for the former the Doctor concluded to buy the winner.

MR. C. A. STONE has applied to the Canadian Kennel Club for dates for the dog show at Canada's Industrial Exhibition. The dates claimed are September 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13, which is about the usual time. This will be the seventh dog show held in connection with the Industrial Exhibition.

COL A. B. HILTON has been so unfortunate as to lose by death his recent acquisition, the bull bitch Bubbles, which has died during parturition; all the puppies died also, and the loss to the famous Woodlawn Park Kennels is not easy to compute.

I HAVE sold the collie Douglas, winner of three first prizes and the $300 Challenge Trophy at Boston last year, to a gentleman in Ogden, Utah, through my advertisement in the AMERICAN FIELD.

Philadelphia. Pa. HENRY JARRETT.

DWIGHT DON, the Detroit and Denver winner, has been sold by Mr. L. P. Higgins to the Oakwood Kennels for a good price. However, this good young black and tan setter will remain in the Lake View Kennels for the present.

MR. I. E. JONES asks us to state that the name of the sire of the English setter puppies shown by him at Pittsburg was wrongly given in the catalog. Instead of "Prince Eric II" it should have been Count Eric II.

A GENTLEMAN in San Francisco writes that he knows of a pointer puppy whelped last St. Patrick's Day that has the mark of a three-leafed shamrock on the crown of its head.

IT is stated that Messrs. McEwan & Gibson, the Canadian collie breeders, are about to dissolve partnership. Their stud dog, Yardley Fox, has been purchased by Mr. W. H. Dee.

OWING to the space required for the Boston show report a number of interesting kennel communications and Whelps, Sales, Visits and Names Claimed are crowded out this week.

I SOLD more puppies through the advertisement I placed in the AMERICAN FIELD than by all the other five advertisements put together.

Pittsburg, Pa. L. T. GREENFIELD.

THE Warwick Kennels will please accept our thanks for the splendid portrait sent us of the English setter, Albert's Ranger, by Prince Rupert—Rose of Flint.

A KANSAS CITY, Kan., physician is said to have listed the inmates of his kennel for taxation at fifteen hundred dollars.

Coursing

FIXTURES

St. Louis Coursing Club, Brentwood Park, Mo., April 25 and 27. D. J. O'Callaghan, secretary.

Aberdeen Coursing Club's Autumn meeting, Aberdeen, S. D., October 1. J. H. Davis, secretary.

American Waterloo Cup meeting (first), Huron, S. D., October 8, etc. F. B. Coyne, secretary, American Coursing Club.

Altcar Coursing Club's third annual meeting, ——, October 16, etc. T. W. Bartels, secretary.

Kenmore Coursing Club's third annual meeting, ——, October 22, etc. C. F. Weber, secretary.

Cheyenne Coursing Club's first meeting, Great Bend, Kan., October 29, etc. Ira D. Brougher, secretary.

ABERDEEN COURSING CLUB'S MEETING

(Special Report.)

The remarkable success of the recent coursing meeting (April 16, 17 and 18), near Aberdeen, came as something of a surprise even to those chiefly interested in getting up the affair. It was expected that lovers of outdoor sport would be interested, but that the whole town would go wild was not on the program. But it did. There was a large attendance the first day and a larger on the second, while the third called out fully one thousand people. There were present men, women and children, of every condition; workingmen, merchants, lawyers, bankers, doctors, clergymen, everybody went. Some of the schools were nearly depopulated. [illegible] and the coursing was a success as [illegible] As the cavalcade went out of the [illegible] it was a happy crowd. The air [illegible]ting, the broad expanse of rolling prairie is just awakening from a winter sleep. The beautiful blue dome arches above us and veils the horizon about us as gently as a benison.

TUESDAY.

This morning some four or five hundred people, in all sorts of rigs and mounted on all sorts of horses, rendezvoused at the Sherman House corner, preparatory to starting to the field. The majority of these were residents of the city and vicinity, but there was a very large admixture of visitors, embracing both ladies and gentlemen, from Oakes, Huron, Edgeley, Hawarden, Mitchell and a score of other points within the state and without. The scene was inspiring and somewhat resembled the second day of a state fair. The start was made at 9:30, the objective point being a school section some three miles north of the city.

A number of hares started wild, but in a few minutes Fleta and Gold Coin were slipped. The latter got the run-up and the first three turns; then Fleta made several turns; then Gold Coin retook the hare and turned it times innumerable. Fleta then took a jumping course of about two miles, when the hare holed almost immediately in front of the crowd.

Next came Frank and Lucian Swift. Lucian got the run-up, two turns and a kill. Frank was not in it to any extent whatever.

Gilbert beat Fantasia in a bold dash for the next hare; a pretty run of half a mile. By accident another dog got in at the end, but did no damage.

Ansel put out Cute in the next course, doing all the work and having everything his own way. Both dogs and hare went out of sight.

Nig and Dakota Zephyr made a long, pretty run. The judge awarded the course to Zephyr, but several, while not questioning the judge's fairness, were of the opinion that Nig was entitled to the verdict.

By this time, the crowd being seven miles from town and well nigh famished, a halt was called for lunch. A more enthusiastic lot of people never before ate sandwiches under the smiles of a bright Spring sky.

After lunch Royal Crest beat Ramona after a strong hare. Royal Crest suffered from a cut foot, but put up a magnificent run considering his lameness and that he ran against so good a bitch as Ramona.

Prince Fullerton won over Raven in a long, hard run. The latter showed fine speed and led out of sight; but the score made in the first part of the course by Fullerton was a trifle more than she could wipe out.

Ino had a walkaway with Paddy in a long course which took the hare out of sight.

Lucy won over Good Leather. The latter got the run-up, but quit before the finish. Lucy followed closely and holed the hare, doing good work.

No Mercy put out Recollection in a lengthy course. The winner had decidedly the best of it for the first half of the run, when Recollection warmed to his work and showed great speed and endurance, but could not overcome the score made by No Mercy in the first half of the run. He finished in fine form while No Mercy was run to a standstill.

Princetonia and Gilkirk ran a long, hard course. The latter led his opponent from the slips and must have scored twenty-five or thirty points in the first half, scoring turn after turn. Princetonia held very close in the rear, but Gilkirk won by several points.

Laplander and Lady Dedlock ran an undecided, a second hare interfering and so spoiling the course.

Ragnarock had an easy thing with Judge Burnaby and won with little effort.

Yellow Dan failed to show up, which left Jessie Green with a bye to run.

WEDNESDAY

This morning about 8 o'clock the sun broke clear, through a bank of fog, and when the start was made about an hour later the day was as fine and propitious as one could wish. The schoolhouse about a mile southwest of town was the objective point.

Jessie Green's bye was first on the program and she ran it with Fantasia.

Next came Laplander and Lady Dedlock to run the undecided of yesterday. They ran a long course in which Lady led from start to finish and seemed to score all the points, and won.

Then Hobo Mike and Jumbo were called. Jumbo got the run-up and scored several turns and wrenches before Hobo gave him a go-by. The course was long and hard. The opinion of the spectators seemed to be that Jumbo had the best of it and should have won; but much of the work was done in the presence of the judge only. Hobo got in some excellent work and wiped out the score made by Jumbo, and won.

Rendezvous beat Little Nell in a fine two-minute run "Rondy" scored twelve or fourteen points in advance, but for the last half Nell made it nip-and-tuck for the winner, and finished with a neat kill. This completed the first round.

In the first run-off between winners Lucian Swift beat Gold Coin by six points in a hot run in full view from start to finish. Lucian possesses marked ability to follow the hare, is quick as a flash on turns, and has superior speed.

Gilbert beat Ansel in a beautiful course, in which the winner had the best of it all through. Both dogs ran "cute" and made the kill jointly. The hare jumped high in air and was caught by both "on the fly."

Dakota Zephyr beat Royal Crest. The latter had the best of it at the beginning, scoring six or seven points before his opponent warmed to his work. Then Zephyr got the lead, held it and did business to the finish, killing his hare. It should be remembered that Crest was unfortunate in having sustained an injury to his foot the day previous.

Ino beat Prince Fullerton in a long course after a racing hare. As in the previous contest Prince Fullerton got four or five points the start, but Ino soon overcame these and for the remainder of the time had things her own way.

No Mercy put out Lucy in a long, hard course. No Mercy got the run-up and credit for several points before Lucy began to score. The latter ran well but rather wide at times and the winner finished ten points ahead.

Gilkirk beat Lady Dedlock after a genuine racing hare. Little work was done, but Gilkirk won easily.

Ragnarock beat Jessie Green in a pumping course and had the best of it apparantly, from start to finish. The hare obtained a great lead, being one of the fastest ever started in Dakota—one of the kind that can outrun a streak of lightning—and both dogs became unsighted at the end of about four minutes when the hare passed over a hill.

Rendezvous beat Hobo Mike in a short but pretty course. The latter scored some points, but "Rondy" had it much his own way.

This completed the second round.

The judge, slipper and veterans at the sport, as well as the spectators generally, declare that this day's coursing was the best ever witnessed. The hares were gamy, as elusive as mercury, and the dogs were in the pink of condition.

The day, too, was one of those which seem to imbue even inanimate objects with vitality. All nature teemed with life; the breath of the joyous springtime stimulated every faculty to the utmost.

THURSDAY

This was another ideal day in every particular, and the life of it entered into everybody and everything. As on preceding days, citizens and visitors turned out in throngs to view the sport. The competitors were the cream of the thirty-two dogs entered, and the grounds the same as yesterday.

Lucian Swift beat Gilbert by ten points, after a strong hare. Lucian scored repeatedly in the first half of the course, after which little work was done. Gilbert, who pressed the hare out of sight, would be a better coursing dog if he did not see too many hares in a year.

Ino beat Dakota Zephyr in a short course, in which the winner had the best of it all the way through. Zephyr scored a kill within a half mile, but the hare was turned into his mouth by Ino.

No Mercy beat Gilkirk in a long, hard course, over good ground and after a strong hare. Both scored repeatedly and the winner had only three points to spare at the finish. Gilkirk scored a kill of great merit.

Ragnarock and Rendezvous now ran an undecided course, the former starting a little sore from the slips. It was a very pretty run and ended with a kill by Rendezvous. Ragnarock was then drawn.

In the run-off Lucian Swift beat Ino in a pretty course in full view, a part of the run being right among the crowd. Lucian won by doing most all the work. Ino made a neat kill.

Rendezvous beat No Mercy in a hotly contested race over a fairly long course. Rondy made a splendid kill at the finish. This was a contest fit to wind up any meeting. Both dogs possess rare ability to follow every turn of the hare. Pretty little No Mercy, the "early-to-get-there," was now here and now there like a streak of zigzag lightning, while Rondy ran like a demon, now and then making one of those "Sullivan rushes" for which he is noted and which never failed to call forth lusty cheers from the spectators.

This left the final between Lucian Swift and Rendezvous, which was not run, first and second being divided between them, amounting to $195. No Mercy and Ino took $32.50 each.

SUMMARY

ABERDEEN, S. D., April 16, 17 and 18. THE ABERDEEN STAKES, for 32 greyhounds of all ages at $5, with $100 added. To the winner, $130; to the runner-up, $65; to next two dogs $32.50 each.

A. P. Slocum's f w d Gold Coin. by Rendezvous—Bessie,	beat	L. M. Miles ns. (H. M. Larimer's) w b Fleta, by Rendezvous—Mayflower Queen.
N. P. Wbiting's r d Lucian Swift, by imp. Glenkirk—imp. Innocence,	beat	E. Stearns' f d Frank (pedigree unknown).
J. B. Smith's w f d Gilbert, by Ned—Topsy,	beat	M. Kelly ns. (C. Shield's) bd b Fantasia, by Lights o' London—Mayflower Queen
L. M. Miles' f d Antel, by Don—Mayflower Queen,	beat	W. Meacrak's f d Cute (pedigree unknown).
F. E. Briggs' bd w d Dakota Zephyr, by King George—Fannie L,	beat	H. J. Lockington's bk d Nig (pedigree unknowu).
Eastern Kennel's bk d imp. Royal Crest, by Greentick—Royal Rate,	beat	Columbus Kennel's w bd b Ramona, by imp. Lord Neversettle—imp. Partere.
Woodhaven Kennel's bd w d Prince Fullerton, by Young Fullerton—Spinaway,	beat	R. H. Woods' bk b Raven, by Major Gleudyne—Humming Bird.
W. W. Good's r b Ino, by Rendezvons—Mayflower Queen,	beat	F. E. Briggs' bd w d Paddy, by Frank—Fly.
J. Curtin's bk h Luey, by Dido—Fairy,	beat	R. Webber ns. (J. H. Davis') bd w d Good Leather (pedigree unknown).
Columbus Kennel's r b imp No Mercy, by Wild Tick—Show Mercy,	beat	C. F. Jenkins' b w d Recollection. by Rendezvons—Roy's Canary.
Melrose & Durbin's f h Gilkirk, by Imp. Glenkirk—imp. Gilda,	beat	Woodhaven Kennel's bd w b Princetonia. by Young Fullerton—Spinaway.
Eastern Kennel's bk b Lady Dedlock, by imp. Miller's Rab—Lady Del Glendye,	beat	J. R. McNickle's bk d Laplander, by imp. Trales—imp. Dick's Darling.
A. P. Slocum ns. (J. H. Rew's) bk d Ragnarock, by Sir Hugo—Fleet,	beat	Eastern Kenuel's bk d Judge Burnaby, by Burnaby—imp. Dr/time.
R. Woods ns. (H. G. Nichols') bd b Jessie Green, by Sir Hugo—Fleet.	a bye	S. H. Groshong's f w d Yellow Dan, dr.
R. Woods' f d Hobo Mike, by King—Queen,	beat	S. J. Coyne ns. (W. H. Markham's) f w d Jumbo (pedigree unknown).
A. P. Slocum's w b e d Rendezvous, by Major Glendyne—Daisy Dublin,	beat	L. B. Richter's f b Little Nell, Nig—Fawn.

II

Lucian Swift beat Gold Coin.	No Mercy beat Lucy.
Gilbert beat Ansel.	Gilkirk beat Lady Dedlock.
Dakota Zephyr beat Royal Crest.	Ragnarock beat Jessie Green.
Ino beat Prince Fullerton.	Rendezvous beat Hobo Mike.

III

Lucian Swift beat Gilbert.	No Mercy beat Gilkirk.
Ino beat Dakota Zephyr.	Rendezvous; Ragnarock dr. (1)

IV

Lucian Swift beat Ino.	Rendezvous beat No Mercy.

Mr. A. P. Slocum's w b e d Rendezvous, by Major Glendyne—Daisy Dublin, and Mr. N. P. Wbiting's r d Lucian Swift, by imp. Glenkirk—imp. Innocence, divided.

NORTH DAKOTA CLUB'S MEETING

(Special Report.)

This meeting was held at Oakes, N. D., on April 9, 10 and 11, with the following officials: F. M. Given, R. C. Miles and C. M. Good, field marshals; flag steward, J. B. Keating; slip steward, A. L. Clubine; A. P. Slocum, secretary; judge, Wm. Stephenson; slipper, W. R. Angell.

Never since coursing became so popular in the Northwest have the devotees and patrons of the sport been more favored than were those gathered at Oakes. The weather was fine, hares were plentiful, and there were entered a number of the best greyhounds in the country, comprising Royal Crest, the winner, and Rendezvous, the runner-up, of the stake last year.

It is conceded that in no place in the country are the hares more "demonish" than about Oakes, and it is unnecessary to say that the courses in the main were long and hard fought. No accident occurred, save the falling of the judge's horse during the seventh course; but no sooner was the horse on its feet than the judge was astride it, and he scarcely lost sight of the dogs. Mr. Wm. Stephenson, of Traer, Ia., demonstrated for the first time on this side of the water his ability to fill the difficult position of judge and won the confidence of everyone who saw him; he graces the position by his gentlemanly bearing and shows evidence of a thorough knowledge of a course. Mr. W. R. Angell, the slipper, had never before filled the position, but gave good satisfaction.

From a distance there were many new faces never before seen at the coursing meeting. A number were from St. Thomas, N. D., headed by John M. O'Connor and Wm. McMurchie, who had entries. Mr. O'Connor added to his stock a fine sapling, from Jim o' the Hill—No Mercy, purchased from the Columbus Kennels. There was also a good contingent from Aberdeen, headed by Dr. R. F. Harrigan; and Minneapolis was represented by Nelson P. Whiting.

By referring to the list of entries it will be seen that most of the regular patrons of the sport were present with their dogs. The Eastern Coursing Kennel was looked upon as a probable winner with that good dog Royal Crest or Lady Deadlock, a very promising young bitch, but it was not their good fortune to win. The Woodhaven Kennels had two representatives, the son and daughter of Young Fullerton and Spinaway, but unfortunately, they had not been in the West long enough to be in fit condition; however, Prince Fullerton was not putout until he met the divider of the first and second prize.

TUESDAY

REVENUE—ROYAL CREST.—From an ordinary slip Royal Crest led up to the hare by five lengths and turned, when Revenue got in and did some very clever work, putting herself even with her black rival. Royal Crest again got possession, however, and gave the bitch no further show. After a long course over plowed ground the hare escaped. Royal Crest won.

PRINCE FULLERTON—WILL O' THE WISP.—Prince Fullerton won the course, scarcely allowing Will o' the Wisp a point, but, though he made desperate efforts to kill, the hare escaped over the same territory as the former one did.

RENDEZVOUS—LUCIAN SWIFT.—From a short slip Lucian Swift led to the hare and turned, when Rendezvous only needed to open his mouth and he had the hare, which he killed, but received but little credit. The flag went up for Lucian Swift.

GOOD LEATHER—QUEEN.—They raced to the hare fairly even; the hare turned, placing Queen, and then commenced a long course with honors very even, each getting two go-bys. Queen finally killed and had enough the best of the course to be declared the winner.

LAPLANDER—RAGNAROCK.—Laplander led to a very swift hare, and kept possession, running up several points. Ragnarock then got in and won by some very fast work, finishing with a kill.

RAVEN—WHITE STOCKINGS.—Raven led to a hare that proved to be a "hummer." After the turn White Stockings commenced a drive that was close and interesting, allowing her to place to her credit a good score. Through a pasture and round a barnyard they ran, when both dogs got unsighted, and retraced their steps; but the farmer's house dog took up the chase, but had not killed when last heard from. White Stockings won.

RACHEL—SAM.—From an unusually long slip Rachel led by several lengths, when there were several exchanges; then the hare raced away over plowed ground a long distance, with Sam following and leading Rachel; neither near enough to put in many points. Rachel won.

LONG ODDS—LUCY.—This was a very short course. Long Odds led up, showing great speed, and turned, when Lucy killed. Decision in favor of Long Odds.

GILKIRK—GILBERT.—Gilkirk led to the hare from a good slip, and did most of the work until after several turns, by a little "cunning" work, Gilbert made several points and killed. Gilkirk won.

NO MERCY—PRINCETONIA.—The former led to the hare, and kept possession, working her fast and furious for a long course, until finally puss seemed to take wings and ran away over the hills, Princetonia not getting a point.

JUDGE BURNABY—INO.—The Judge raced ahead of the bitch, making all of the points, but soon lost heart and Ino gave him no further opportunity. After a long course she killed, unaided, and won.

LADY DEDLOCK—FLORA.—From a short slip Lady Dedlock led by a length or two and turned, when exchanges were even until Lady killed and won.

GOLD COIN—BLIZZARD.—From a short slip they ran evenly to the hare, when she turned, favoring Blizzard, who got first turn. Then Gold Coin ran up points very rapidly. Blizzard killed, but lost her chance of winning by lurching.

WEDNESDAY

The committee in charge had selected coursing grounds about two miles east of that coursed over the previous day, and hares were again plentiful. Though it rained somewhat in the forenoon and was chilly, still there seemed to be no abatement in the ardor and enthusiasm of those in attendance.

SECOND ROUND

ROYAL CREST—PRINCE FULLERTON.—From a short slip Prince led to the hare by two lengths and put in some good work before turning, letting Royal Crest in. Though the black dog ran up several points he could not overcome those made by Prince Fullerton. After a chase of two miles, or more, the hare escaped. Prince Fullerton won.

LUCIAN SWIFT—QUEEN.—Slipped by mistake with two hares sighted, each dog selected one. Queen soon made a kill; but the red dog was less fortunate, and ran a long course. The judge decided it a no-course.

RAGNAROCK—WHITE STOCKINGS.—From a fairly long slip Ragnarock led to the hare and ran up so many points that even though White Stockings finally made a go-by she was unable to win. After a long course puss ran away.

RACHEL—LONG ODDS.—Long Odds led to the hare by a length and turned, when Rachel killed, ending a very short trial. Long Odds won.

LUCIAN SWIFT—QUEEN.—After an interval of two courses these two were again put in the slips. Lucian Swift led to the hare about four lengths and turned, placing Queen, when Swift gave her a clean go-by; which performance he repeated four times before puss went to ground.

GILKIRK—NO MERCY.—From a short slip they had an even race till the hare favored No Mercy, enabling her to score first point. After several rapid exchanges Gilkirk killed, but the hat came off, a decision which elicited favorable comment by the spectators. When they were put in slips again Gilkirk led to the hare and scored six points in rapid succession. No Mercy then took possession and nearly equalized matters by some very clever work. Gilkirk killed and won.

INO—LADY DEDLOCK.—Lady Dedlock led to the hare by six lengths, bringing the hare about and placing Ino, who kept possession, killing unaided after a very long course. Ino won.

GOLD COIN, a bye.

THIRD ROUND

LUCIAN SWIFT—PRINCE FULLERTON.—Prince Fullerton slightly led from slips to a very fast hare, which changed her position in favor of Swift, thus enabling him to make first turn; and he then kept possession for a succession of strong points, working his hare in beautiful style. After several desperate attempts to kill, he raced the hare to a neighboring hill when she sought refuge in a hole. Swift won.

RAGNAROCK—LONG ODDS.—From a good slip Long Odds led up, wrenched and turned, placing Ragnarock, who placed to his credit enough points to secure the verdict. The hare escaped.

GILKIRK—GOLD COIN.—In a short slip Gilkirk led, wrenched, and killed, beating Gold Coin pointless.

INO, a bye.

THURSDAY

The sun rose clear, promising a very pleasant day, and even though there were but few courses yet to run the attendance in the field was equal to any previous day. There were several trial courses, and the day was made very enjoyable.

FOURTH ROUND

LUCIAN SWIFT—RAGNAROCK.—To a good slip they raced even for about fifty yards, when Swift gained a lead of two lengths and turned, following it up for six points. Ragnarock was fortunate, and nearly put himself even; after which Swift won easily.

GILKIRK—INO.—To a fast hare Gilkirk led up a dozen lengths, beating Ino pointless. She ran a terrific course.

Lucian Swift and Gilkirk divided.

SUMMARY

OAKES, N. D., April 9. NORTH DAKOTA STAKES, for 32 greyhounds of all ages, at $5 each, with $100 added by the North Dakota Coursing Club. 26 entries.

Eastern Kennel's bk d imp. Royal Crest, by Greentick—Royal Rate,	beat	H. C. Waterhouse's b Revenue, by Rendezvous—Mayflower Queen.
Woodhaven Kennel's bd w d Prince Fullerton, by Young Fullerton—Spinaway,	beat	Eastern Kennel's bk d Will o' the Wisp, by Burnaby—imp. Drytime.
N. P. Whiting's r d Lucian Swift, by imp. Glenkirk—imp. Innocence,	beat	A. P. Slocum's w be d Rendezvous, by Major Glendyne—Daisy Dublin.
L. H. White's Queen, by Shine—Fannie,	beat	J. H. Davis' bd w d Good Leather (ped. unknown).
J. H. Rew's bk d Ragnarock, by Sir Hugo—Fleet,	beat	J. R. McNickle's bk d Lanlander, by imp. Trales—imp. Dick's Darling.
W. W. Good's b White Stockings, by Rendezvous—Bessie,	beat	H. Jessup's bk b Raven, by Major Glendyne—Humming Bird.
A. P. Slocum's bk b Rachel, by Lights o' London—Mayflower Queen,	beat	J. M. O'Connor's Sam, by Rapid Jack—Gyp.
Melrose & Durbin's bk d Long Odds, by imp. Dover—imp. Gilda,	beat	J. Curtin's bk b Lucy, by Dido—Fairy.
Melrose & Durbin's f b Gilkirk, by imp. Glenkirk—imp. Gilda,	beat	J. B. Smith's w f d Gilbert, by Ned—Topsy.
Columbus Kennel's r b imp. No Mercy, by Wild Tick—Show Mercy,	beat	Woodhaven Kennel's bd w b Princetonia, by Young Fullerton—Spinaway,
W. W. Good's r b Ino, by Rendezvous—Mayflower Queen,	beat	Eastern Kennel's bk d Judge Burnaby, by Burnaby—imp. Drytime.
Eastern Kennel's bk b Lady Dedlock, by imp. Miller's Rab—Lady Dell Glyndyne,	beat	W. McMurchie's f b Flora, by Jim—Flo.
A. P. Slocum's f w d Gold Coin, by Rendezvous—Bessie,	beat	Dr. C. D. Davis' f d Blizzard, ped. unknown.

II

Prince Fullerton beat Royal Crest.	Long Odds beat Rachel.
Lucian Swift beat Queen.	Gilkirk beat imp. No Mercy.
Ragnarock beat White Stockings	Ino beat Lady Dedlock.
	Gold Coin, a bye.

III

Lucian Swift beat Prince Fullerton.	Gilkirk beat Gold Coin.
Ragnarock beat Long Odds.	Ino, a bye.

IV

Lucian Swift beat Ragnarock.	Gilkirk beat Ino.

Mr. N. P. Whiting's r d Lucian Swift, by imp. Glenkirk—imp. Innocence, and Messrs. Melrose & Durbin's f b Gilkirk, by imp. Glenkirk imp. Gilda, divided.

OCCIDENTAL COURSING CLUB'S SECOND SPRING MEETING.

Golden Gate Coursing Park, Mr. Kerrigan's new inclosure near San Francisco, witnessed the reorganized Occidental Club's second Spring meeting on April 14, when a thirty-two, which included some of San Francisco's best greyhounds, was run. Lord Clifton, bred by Mr. H. C. Lowe and sold when a whelp to Mr. J. H. Le Moyne, of Denver, and purchased by Mr. Kerrigan in October during the Goodland meeting, ran clean through the stake and landed first money for Mr. [illegible], who trained and nominated him. Including [illegible] when he and his opponent got after separate [illegible] brindled dog ran six trials during the day [illegible] when it is remembered that Golden Gate [illegible] inclosure of some seventy-five acres in [illegible] from Merced run strongly. Mr. J. H. Perrigo's well-known black and white dog Longfellow was the runner-up. Mr. Grace was in the saddle and James Wren slipped, fulfilling their duties in their usual satisfactory manner.

SUMMARY

GOLDEN GATE PARK, SAN FRANCISCO, April 14. OPEN STAKES for 32 greyhounds of all ages at $3 each, with $20 added. $55 to the winner; $30 to the runner up; $15 each to next two.

B. Doherty's f b Daisy Crest, by imp. Royal Crest—Daisy,	beat	J. Lucy's Brophy.
F. McCone's Stranger	beat	T. J. Cronin's w d Jack Dempsey, by Killarney—Pleasant Girl.
J. F. Quane's Captain Morse	beat	P. Curtis' bk w d Applause.
S. A. Cummings' w bd d White Cloud	beat	P. Curtis' Sly Boy.
T. J. Cronin's bd w d Skyball	a bye	Opponent absent.
G. Watson's Lady Clare	beat	R. Burfrind's Catch 'Em.
J. H. Perrigo's bk w d Longfellow	a bye	Opponent absent.
S. A. Cummings' Starlight	beat	W. Murphy ns. (Mr. Payton's) bd b Stamboul Queen, by Bend Or—Atlanta Belle.
W. Murphy ns. (M. Kerrigan's) bd d Lord Clifton, by imp. Lord Neversettle—imp. Partera,	beat	D. Dunlea's Newcastle.
B. Doherty's bk b Royal Daisy, by imp. Royal Crest—Daisy,	beat	R. L. Wyman's Queen.
W. Murphy's w bd d Dashaway	beat	J. Lucy's Maggie L.
Jas. Grace's bk w d Rollalong, by Prince Rupert—Rockland Maid,	beat	P. Reilly's bd d Rambler
D. Leonard's w f d Will o' the Wisp	beat	I. E. Cohen's Daisy Belle.
P. Ryan's bk w d Magpie, by Scalper—Kitty Moore,	beat	E. Geary's Electric.
R. Pringle's bk d Ace of Spades, by Saturday Night—Sly Girl,	beat	D. Leonard's bk d Sweep.
R. Pringle's Marigold	beat	R. Pringle ns. George Dixon.

II

Stranger beat Daisy Crest.	Lord Clifton beat Royal Daisy.
White Cloud beat Captain Morse.	Rollalong beat Dashaway.
Skyball beat Lady Clare.	Will o' the Wisp beat Magpie.
Longfellow beat Starlight.	Ace of Clubs beat Marigold

III

Stranger beat White Cloud.	Ace of Clubs beat Will o' the Wisp.
Longfellow beat Skyball.
Lord Clifton beat Rollalong.

IV

Longfellow beat Stranger.	Lord Clifton beat Ace of Clubs.

FINAL

Lord Clifton beat Longfellow, and won.

NOTES

Two saplings were matched to run at Ocean View, Cal., on April 7. Neither one was ten months old, and yet the match was made for two out of three courses. After each had won a course the third was an undecided, which necessitated a fourth go, and it is not surprising to read in the California Turf that "half way up the hill Queen B dropped completely exhausted, while Donna Bella went on a few yards further; the hare escaped." A more unsportsmanlike affair it would be difficult to imagine, and it is just such as gives the cruelty-to-animals-faddists good grounds upon which to attack inclosed coursing. Besides, as a business proposition, it was bad policy to subject such very young ones to such severe demands; that is, if they were of any account. Saplings that are not worthy of better treatment are not worth the raising.

THE successful and very enjoyable meetings at Oakes and Aberdeen have aroused the sporting blood and fired the ambition of the good people at Lisbon, N. D., about sixty miles northwest of Oakes, and in all probability another coursing club will be added soon to the ever increasing list. Coursing is taking a firm hold wherever it spreads. Ten years ago it took root this side of the Rockies, and, like the oak, it has grown slowly but strongly. It is the most fascinating and intrinsic of all field sports, and it is only a question of time when it will supersede all others in popularity throughout the West.

BY a mutual agreement between the executive of the St. Louis Coursing Club and the nominators, the sixteen set for last Saturday was postponed. In its place a meeting will be held the latter part of this week, when a sixteen for all ages and an eight for saplings will be run; the first round of each will be run on Thursday, and the running be adjourned over Friday, finishing on Saturday. Mr. D. J. O'Callaghan, the secretary, writes us he is promising himself the treat of visiting the western plains next Fall.

MR. GEO. MACDOUGALL writes to say that Free Silver is dead; he refers to one of his Twister—Wasted Time litter, not to the political question, though that is somewhat of a "twister" and much "wasted time" in the legislative halls at Washington must be charged to it. The name was appropriate for a Montana-bred greyhound, but how could the dog be expected to live? If our Montana friend has another of the litter left we would suggest that he name it "Sound Money," and then see if it does not turn out a winner.

JUST before the Aberdeen meeting Mr. Nelson P. Whiting wrote us that it was his intention not to run Lucian Swift there, but to enter Minnehaha (a litter sister) instead. As the bitch was not fit and [illegible] a telegram from Mr. A. P. Slocum, who had [illegible] charge, asking to be allowed to enter the dog, [illegible] his consent. He must now be congratulating [illegible] that he did. Lucian Swift must have come [illegible] ably since last October.

It is officially announced that the sale of cards at the late Waterloo meeting exceeded by 2,000 the number sold [illegible] previous anniversary. This speaks well for the [illegible] sport, and the increasing interest taken [illegible] by the general public in Great Britain.

[illegible]nth Mr. Chas. Barrow, of Denver, missed the [illegible] his greyhounds, Betsy Blue, Buckshot and Benefactor, and has been unable to find any trace of them. Were he able to talk, Border Ruffian could furnish a clew worth investigating.

MR. A. P. SLOCUM supplements a few remarks about his club's meeting at Oakes with: "We had several matches on the last day, and ended with Dr. De Prey of Jamestown, N. D., running his two borzois. Had a beautiful day; eighty-five 'rigs' out."

WE are asked by Secretary Davis to announce that the Aberdeen Coursing Club will hold an open meeting the week preceding the American Waterloo Cup meeting.

IRISH LASS (St. Patrick—Daisy Dublin), now owned by Mr. E. A. Von Winkler, of Sedalia, Colo., was bred on the fourteenth of this month to Boomerang.

Rifle

FIXTURES

Susquehanna County Rifle Association's thirty-fifth meeting and tournament, Foster, Pa., May 2 and 3.

Ninth tournament of the Westlicher Schuetzen-Bund, Milwaukee, Wis., June 19, 20, 21, 22 and 23.

National Sharpshooters' Union's first tournament, Glendale, L. I., June 30 to July 8.

DOMINION OFF HAND RIFLE ASSOCIATION

PARRY SOUND, ONT.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—The clubs belonging to the above-named association shot their monthly team contest over their respective ranges on April 5 and 6, the result being as follows:

PARRY SOUND TEAM

	100 yards				Total	200 yards				Total	Grand Total
R. O. Stokes	10	7	9	9	9—44	10	8	8	8	9—43	87
W. Stafford	10	9	10	10	9—48	9	8	8	9	8—42	90
I. Morrish	10	10	8	8	9—45	9	10	10	10	6—45	90
T. White	9	9	10	8	7—43	9	8	9	9	10—45	88
D. F. Macdonald	10	8	7	8	10—43	6	10	6	10	10—42	85
Team total											440

WAUSAKASENE TEAM

R. I. Clarkson	9	8	10	10	10—47	10	5	5	5	10—35	82
W. F. Thomson	9	8	9	5	9—40	10	8	7	10	5—40	80
I. R. Leggatt	10	10	7	10	7—44	10	2	5	5	10—32	76
F. Laurie	8	9	9	10	7—43	10	6	7	5	3—31	74
I. MacCleliand	6	8	8	6	9—37	10	2	10	4	10—36	73
Team total											385

BRADFORD TEAM

D. Nielly	10	8	9	9	10—46	9	7	10	10	9—45	91
I. G. Nielly	10	9	9	8	8—44	9	10	8	9	8—44	88
W. McWilliams	7	10	9	7	8—41	10	10	10	5	9—44	85
A. McWilliams	9	10	7	10	10—46	10	9	9	6	4—38	84
I. Doolittle	10	7	6	7	10—40	8	9	10	10	10—47	87
Team total											435

KING CITY TEAM

A. Carley	10	9	10	10	9—48	10	8	5	9	10—42	90
E. Braund	8	8	9	10	10—45	9	10	7	7	8—41	86
Dr. Norman	8	10	9	10	7—44	9	6	10	6	8—39	83
D. Eade	8	10	9	5	6—38	10	10	6	10	6—42	80
One man short.
Team total											339

CLARKSBURG TEAM

D. Henman	10	9	10	10	10—49	8	10	10	0	9—37	86
W. L. Goldsmith	10	5	10	9	5—39	7	10	10	10	10—47	86
C. W. Hartman	10	8	9	7	9—43	10	3	10	5	6—34	77
C. W. Treadfield	8	4	8	6	9—35	6	10	6	10	10—42	77
F. Henman	5	8	10	9	7—39	8	7	0	10	6—31	70
Team total											396

TORONTO TEAM

W. I. Graham	10	9	8	10	9—46	9	9	10	10	9—47	93
H. Stewart	7	8	8	10	9—43	10	8	8	6	6—38	80
A. Elliott	8	7	6	9	10—40	5	8	10	6	10—39	79
T. S. Bayles	0	9	7	9	9—34	10	10	4	7	10—41	75
W. Latimer	9	10	8	9	5—41	9	6	5	3	10—33	74
Team total											401

D. F. MACDONALD, Secy.

CINCINNATI, O.—The following scores were made by members of the Cincinnati Rifle Association at their range to-day. Conditions: 200 yards, off hand, at the German ring (Union) target. Weather and light good. Another telegraph match between this association and the Central Sharpshooters' Association of St. Louis was shot to-day, the teams consisting of 12 men on each side. The result will be forwarded later on.

Gindele	22	23	22	22	20	25	22	23	21	20—220
	21	24	21	20	19	23	23	20	20	22—213
	18	19	23	23	21	23	22	24	22	20—215
	17	22	23	19	18	23	20	24	22	24—212
Weinheimer	17	22	22	24	18	19	20	25	13	22—202
	21	21	24	11	23	21	8	17	29	19—185
	21	21	11	15	17	18	21	20	22	17—183
	22	13	18	22	10	18	15	16	11	18—163
Wellinger	16	22	22	14	22	21	19	22	19	24—201
	23	18	18	20	22	20	21	20	22	19—203
	23	20	14	10	15	24	23	23	23	24—199
	24	18	20	9	21	17	24	17	15	21—186
Simon	21	20	23	22	21	16	23	19	20	23—207
	17	14	17	21	22	21	20	19	24	23—198
	24	24	1	19	22	21	15	23	18	22—189
	14	21	19	21	15	17	16	23	18	23—187
Stegner	21	23	23	20	8	15	15	18	24	19—186
	18	21	14	19	16	19	19	17	15	15—173
	18	21	20	15	18	10	14	16	18	19—169
	13	18	14	21	16	20	15	19	17	17—170
Hake	18	23	23	16	21	25	20	22	20	22—210
	11	15	23	23	22	16	20	24	17	20—191
	23	17	16	17	20	15	25	15	17	10—175
	14	16	22	23	17	19	22	18	22	17—180
Payne	23	20	24	22	17	24	22	21	21	22—216
	20	20	21	22	17	25	20	22	24	23—214
	16	22	23	24	16	15	22	19	24	25—200
	22	15	24	22	21	21	24	24	9	19—201
Hasenzahl	23	20	20	21	19	21	25	23	24	25—212
	19	17	22	20	19	16	19	22	21	17—192
	20	25	21	17	17	23	19	13	10	24—189
	24	12	22	20	21	14	16	20	18	18—185
	10	18	16	16	17	23	21	18	20	19—181
	22	23	17	25	18	16	22	11	23	8—185
	19	19	18	21	17	15	14	1	20	21—165
	22	16	6	16	22	18	18	14	18	19—169
	25	17	18	21	22	18	17	21	19	21—199
	22	16	18	23	22	21	19	21	18	17—197
	24	24	22	21	23	11	21	1	18	19—184
	14	20	20	22	21	22	18	15	18	18—188
Randall	21	23	16	25	23	21	21	18	16	18—202
	16	17	20	20	19	22	19	22	16	18—183
	15	21	20	22	21	15	23	19	17	14—187
	12	17	17	15	23	22	24	25	24	18—197
Drube	19	24	21	21	25	14	12	23	23	18—200
	23	17	20	18	16	17	23	23	23	20—200
	18	24	24	18	25	25	22	18	25	19—218
	19	25	17	17	13	19	16	24	23	24—197
Topf	15	21	21	21	19	16	23	21	19	14—190
	22	20	6	10	22	19	24	15	12	15—185
	24	19	13	17	23	21	9	11	4	23—164
	20	7	20	13	20	9	6	16	14	20—145
Schmidlin	20	21	20	20	6	14	17	20	21	12—171
	19	20	17	16	2	22	17	13	19	22—167
	20	10	16	11	17	14	1	16	13	10—128
	23	1	1	2	21	22	1	18	16	17—122
Strickmeier	18	8	25	10	3	18	20	18	25	17—162
	17	15	20	17	9	10	5	18	21	20—152
	16	19	16	24	19	20	22	15	16	21—188
	17	22	21	17	13	25	7	23	15	15—175

A. D.

CINCINNATI, O.—The Losantiville Shooting Association held its regular practice shoot at Central Shooting Park, Dayton, Ky., April 14. Conditions: 200 yards, off hand (no palm rest permitted), Standard American target, open sights, three pounds trigger pull. Sighting shots and unfinished scores not allowed.

Roberts	8	10	10	7	8	10	10	8	9	4—84
	8	8	10	9	8	7	7	5	9	7—78
	7	5	6	8	7	8	9	7	9	10—76
	8	9	10	7	8	10	6	5	7	6—76
*Wellinger	8	10	8	8	9	9	6	8	10	8—84
	5	8	5	6	10	9	8	10	8	7—76
	9	6	8	7	6	8	10	6	6	7—73
	7	8	7	7	8	9	6	8	6	7—73
*Nesller	6	9	6	6	7	10	9	6	10	8—77
	6	7	9	7	10	7	10	5	7	9—77
	8	6	10	8	6	10	9	6	5	8—76
	10	9	6	6	5	9	6	8	8	9—76
*Drube	8	7	8	6	5	10	7	10	8	8—77
	5	8	9	7	7	8	6	6	10	10—76
	5	10	8	7	6	9	7	8	3	10—71
	5	5	6	9	6	7	8	8	6	9—69
Fritag	4	10	4	10	7	7	9	6	9	6—72
	4	6	6	9	4	7	10	7	8	9—70
	5	10	2	8	8	9	8	7	3	6—66
	7	6	7	4	6	3	7	7	5	7—59
J. Lux	7	8	8	6	7	10	7	5	8	6—73
	4	9	5	6	7	8	8	7	4	10—66
	8	3	4	10	6	7	5	7	10	8—68
	6	4	6	8	7	6	5	5	6	8—59
Gassman	5	3	9	8	5	5	4	4	6	0—49
	2	4	2	5	4	3	3	7	5	9—44
	6	7	0	7	2	5	2	2	7	3—43
	3	5	7	7	5	6	7	8	7	0—55
Hoed	7	7	5	7	4	7	9	10	5	4—65
	5	5	7	7	4	6	8	6	7	3—59
	3	6	0	9	8	5	9	2	10	5—57
Sticht	10	6	7	3	8	4	7	4	7	5—61
	2	9	9	2	5	5	4	9	9	5—59
Dietrich	0	4	4	6	8	2	4	9	2	0—39
	3	2	4	7	6	3	2	2	0	0—29

*Globe and peep sights.

H. C. ROBERTS.

MILWAUKEE, WIS.—The members of the Jolly Rifle Club of this city, at their regular weekly shoot, made scores as follows: L. Strumsee 147, H. Martens 154, C. Hath 160, G. Bargman 140, C. Lang 135, C. Marteus 149, W. Hillman 136, F. Vaeder 138, W. Jahnke 158, A. Stallmann 149, N. Klevenow 152.

CREAM CITY

Trap

FIXTURES

APRIL

Independent Gun Club's tournament, Belleville, Ill., April 28.

MAY

Peoria Target Company's handicap Blackbird tournament, Peoria, Ill., May 1, 2 and 3.

Manson Gun Club's fifth annual tournament, Manson, Ia., May 1 and 2.

Pickaway Rod and Gun Club's tournament, Circleville, O., May 2

Elizabeth Gun Club's tournament, Elizabeth, N. J., May 2. All day shoot. New Jersey Trap Shooters' League's monthly contest at 2 o'clock p. m.

Waverly Gun Club's tournament, Waverly, Ia., May 1, 2 and 3.

California State Sportsmen's Association's tournament, Oakland, Cal., May 2, 3 and 4.

Henry Shooting Club's Spring tournament, Henry, Ill., May 7, 8 and 9.

Du Pont tournament, Cincinnati, O., May 7, 8, 9 and 10. Liberal cash prizes added to purses.

Marion Gun Club's tournament, Marion, Ind., May 8 and 9.

Ninth annual Owl shoot, Amateur Trap Shooters' Association of Missouri and Kansas, Weir City, Kan., May 8, 9 and 10. $300 in cash added. W. W. McIlhany, secretary.

Sibley Mound Gun Club's tournament, Mankato, Minn., May 8, 9 and 10.

Interstate Manufacturers' and Dealers' Association's tournament, Wilmington, N. C., May 9 and 10, under the auspices of the Eastern Dog and Game Protective Association.

West Newburg Gun Club's Spring tournament, West Newburg, N. Y., May 9, 10 and 11. Targets first two days, live birds last day.

Colorado State Fish and Game Protective Association's third tournament, Pueblo, Colo., May 13, 14 and 15.

Sheffield Gun Club's tournament, Sheffield, Ill., May 14, 15 and 16.

Iowa State Sportsmen's Association's tournament, Cedar Rapids, Ia., May 14, 15 and 16.

Ohio Trap Shooters' League's annual tournament, Dayton, O., May 14, 15 and 16.

Binghamton Gun Club's tournament, Binghamton, N. Y., May 15 and 16.

Hartley Gun Club's second annual tournament, Hartley, Ia., May 15 and 16.

Texas State Sportsmen's Association's nineteenth annual tournament, San Antonio, Tex., May 14 to 18 inclusive. Open to the world. Five hundred dollars cash added; $500 in merchandise prizes.

Interstate Manufacturers' and Dealers' Association's tournament, Lynchburg, Va., May 17 and 18, under auspices of the Lynchburg Gun Club; $200 added by the Lynchburg Gun Club.

Montana State Sportsmen's Association's second annual tournament, Butte, Mont., May 17, 18 and 19. C. H. Smith, secretary.

Kansas State Sportsmen's Association's annual tournament, Kansas City, Kan., May 21, 22 and 23. A. W. Peck, secretary, Kansas City, Kan.

Houston City Gun Club's first annual tournament, Houston, Tex., May 21, 22, 23 and 24.

Knoxville Gun Club's fourteenth annual tournament, Knoxville, Tenn., May 21, 22, 23 and 24, 1895. $3,000 cash added to purses

South Dakota State Sportsmen's Association's annual tournament, Woonsocket, S. D., May 21, 22, 23, 24 and 25.

Rome Gun Club's tournament, Rome, N. Y., May 22, 23 and 24. Last day at live birds.

Arkansas State Sportsmen's Association's fifth annual tournament, Little Rock, Ark., May 27, 28, 29 and 30. John J. Sumpter Jr., secretary.

Crystal Lake Gun Club's tournament, Urbana, Ill., May 28, 29 and 30.

Canajoharie Rod and Gun Club's tournament, Canajoharie, N. Y., May 29 and 30.

Valley City Gun Club's tournament, Grand Rapids, Mich., May 30 and 31 and June 1. $500 added money. C. F. Rood, secretary.

Peklu Gun Club's annual Spring tournament, Peklu, Ill., last week in May.

Winona Gun Club's tournament, Winona, Minn., May 30.

South Side Gun Club's eleventh annual tournament, Milwaukee Wis., May 30, 31 and June 1.

BATTLE CREEK AND ITS GUN CLUB

BATTLE CREEK, MICH.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—Battle Creek is situated some 165 miles east of Chicago, on the Michigan Central and Grand Trunk railways. It is a live, progressive city of about 15,000; contains the largest sanitarium in the world, numerous large manufactories, chief among which is one for the manufacture of farm machinery, and also the well-known Osgood portable boat manufactory. This establishment does not claim the largest output in its line, but it does claim to make the best boat, and from my own experience I believe this claim is well founded. If anyone is tempted to ask why, I will say, try to upset any boat made, including the Osgood, and draw your own conclusions.

The city is surrounded by a country once full of all kinds of game and fish, but which is now fast disappearing. Still, on game fish, game birds, rabbits, squirrels, etc., satisfactory sport can yet be had by the reasonable sportsman, though it would prove much too scarce for the "record hunter" or "game-hog," while the market-hunter could never make a living here. Amid such environments, naturally there are many sportsmen, so Battle Creek has a gun club which may be classed as one of the best, and when a visiting gun salesman gets too strong in his claims he is apt to be invited to demonstrate what he says, the club's grounds being only ten minutes by electric car from the center of the city, and enough material for at least a squad can always be found at the gun store of Mr. S. A. Howes, who is not only secretary of the State Trap Shooters' League, but also of the Osgood Portable Boat Co.

Now it so happened that a certain traveler for a gun factory arrived on the 9 o'clock train one morning recently, expecting to get away on the noon train. He had been in Cleveland, Detroit and other cities, and estimating Battle Creek therefrom, he thought to have time and to spare in the three hours. Being well known he did not have to present his card, but the story he told was received with much incredulousness by the large assembly gathered to fittingly receive him, as soon as it was made known that Colonel—well, there, it's out now; the reader knows who I mean, for there is only one colonel among the gun men; the rest are generals, lieutenants or privates—Courtney was in town. He had on a new tile of this season's vintage, unwrinkled kid gloves, and a "general get up regardless" appearance. He seemed well equipped except for a very husky voice, on account of which he was unable to make himself understood, so the crowd decided he would have to stay over and attend a shoot to be held in his honor that afternoon. There was another poor captive there, your humble servant, whose grip had been taken away from him to enforce his presence at the aforesaid shoot. The boys said they just wanted to see how well he could shoot his new Holleubeck. It is needless to say that the shoot was held and the Hollenbeck was high most times, and second only once; but the less said about those scores the better. The wind was high and strong, while the boys were out for a lark. There was a good attendance, enough for two squads, and the business part of the affair must have been satisfactory to Courtney, as I was told he left with six orders for ejectors in his pocket.

These Battle Creek shooters can well afford to be royal good fellows, for they have got most of the state medals, the five-man team championship cup, and one cup won but not yet received. Quite an assortment and fully their share.

W. F. D.

DR. CARVER REPLIES TO AMATEUR

KANSAS CITY, MO.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—The article in a recent issue of the AMERICAN FIELD headed "wants the championship settled" and signed Amateur, is one of the most beautiful compositions of ignorance that I have read in a long time. Such ignorance should go unchallenged. But for the benefit of a few more perhaps as ignorant as Amateur, who is ashamed to sign his name, I will once more enlighten the world on the subject of the championship. The question was settled in 1880 when I won the championship for pigeon shooting and have held it ever since subject to challenge. The conditions are that the challenger shall deposit $500, and the holder of the championship shall make a like deposit within thirty days and name place to shoot within sixty days, or forfeit the championship to the challenger. This is a very simple little piece of business; put up five hundred dollars, and no more is necessary, and if I do not shoot the championship will go to the challenger. I cannot raise the sum above five hundred. See?

I have got a little piece of cast iron held under same conditions. It only costs one hundred dollars to get that. There is a little gold pigeon and this inscription: "Champion Pigeon Shot of America." I hold five of these championships, all against my will, and I would feel under everlasting obligations to anyone who will win them from me.

For the benefit of Amateur and a few more I will say that a man must possess a few other qualities besides ignorance, and not depend altogether upon one or two reporters to win the title for them. If a man can shoot well enough to be champion, he should do as I have done, win it and hold it; hunt the shooters into their holes, flaunt the champion trophies in their faces, and scratch their backs with cast-iron emblems. That's the kind of a champion I am.

DR. W. F. CARVER,
Champion Shot of the World.

NOTES

THE board of directors of the Garfield Gun Club of Chicago, held a meeting at Secretary Mott's office on Wednesday of last week to elect the officers of the club for the ensuing year and to map out work of the club for the coming shooting season. The officers elected were: President, Mr. Silas Palmer; vice-president, Mr. J. P. O'Brien; treasurer, Mr. T. P. Hicks; secretary, Mr. R. S. Mott, the last two being re-elected to succeed themselves. It was decided by the board to continue the monthly trophy system same as last year, and in addition to award three annual trophies—one for each class, A, B and C, the latter to be given to the man in each class making the highest average in target shooting in any ten shoots during the season. The monthly trophies will be awarded to the man in each class making the highest average in the trophy contests for the month, the winner of a trophy one month not being eligible to win another monthly trophy the two succeeding months, but eligible to contest for the trophy the third month after he has won. A team was selected with four alternates to represent the club in the team contest at the tournament of the Illinois State Sportsmen's Association, the team to be composed of four men out of the eight showing the best form on live birds at the time of the slate meeting in June. The club will continue to use its old grounds on West Madison Street and Robinson Avenue, and will begin the season's work on the first Saturday afternoon in May, shooting thereafter until the first of October every Saturday afternoon. Mr. M. L. Bowers was chosen captain of the club for the season, and the members anticipate that under his management they will have one of the most enjoyable seasons they have ever experienced since the club was organized. Several of the old members were dropped from the roll and new members elected to fill the vacancies thus made, thus keeping the membership up to its limit of fifty.

DR. W. F. CARVER was in Chicago a couple of days last week as full of shoot as the proverbial egg is full of meat. From Chicago he went to Keithsburg, Ill., and from there to Galesburg, Ill., where on Tuesday of this week he shot a match at 100 live birds with Hon. Tom Marshall of Keithsburg, for $100 a side. From Galesburg he goes to Pennsylvania, where he is to shoot three 100-bird races with a Mr. Schwartz, one at Pittsburg, one at Scranton and one at Carbondale. The Doctor reiterated, while in Chicago, his published challenge that he was ready at any time to shoot a match on John Watson's grounds in Chicago, for $500 or more, with any man in the world, and to pay any man's expenses to Chicago who would go there and shoot him one or more races for the sum mentioned above. He says that since issuing his challenge he finds that the list of "world beaters" has dwindled to almost nothing and that if he can only find some man who will shoot him for the championship trophies he holds he will throw up his hat for that man and retire from the pigeon shooting arena so far as shooting for championships is concerned, as he prefers to go on the road giving exhibitions in fancy shooting, to wasting his time waiting for the would-be champion pigeon shooters to make up their minds to give him a race.

THE sixth annual tournament of the Kansas State Sportsmen's Association will be held at Kansas City, Kan., on May 21, 22 and 23, under the auspices of the Metropolis Gun Club. The program for the tournament, just issued, is interesting throughout, furnishing full information on all matters regarding the tournament and the entertainment of those who may wish to attend it. Shooting will begin at 8:30 o'clock each morning, all purses will be divided into four moneys, all ties will be divided, and only amateurs will be allowed to participate, the association at its last annual meeting having adopted a resolution to make this a tournament strictly for amateurs, and to bar absolutely professionals and paid agents of manufacturers. No handicap will be employed and dropplug for place will not be tolerated. All events will be at inanimate targets. Besides the regular money purses several special prizes will be contested for, one being the association's gold medal emblematical of the individual championship of the state in target shooting, and another a handsome cup emblematical of the team championship of the state. Programs giving further particulars regarding the tournament may be had by addressing Mr. A. W. Peck, secretary, Kansas City, Kan.

THE nineteenth annual tournament of the Texas State Sportsmen's Association will be held at San Antonio, Tex., from May 15 to 19 inclusive, the association this year adding $500 in cash and $500 worth of merchandise to the regular purses. The contests will embrace both live pigeons and inanimate targets, thus giving everyone a chance for his favorite race. The team contest on the second day for the team medal now held by the Miller Bros., of Austin, will be one of the features of the meet. This event is two men to each team, 25 single targets per man, entrance $5 per team, birds extra, and as there are a number of good teams right in San Antonio, besides many in other cities in the state, an interesting team contest is anticipated. The chief feature on the third day is the individual championship race for the association's diamond medal now held by August Holzapfel, of Cuero. This contest is at 15 single and 2 pairs of live pigeons per man. First prize, diamond medal; second, $50; third, $30; fourth, $20. The other events on the program are all interesting to the man who can shoot and Texas possesses not a few men who have heretofore demonstrated that they are quite up to date when it comes to trap shooting.

THE program for the Interstate Association's tournament, to be held at Lynchburg, Va., May 17 and 18, given in the interest of the Lynchburg Gun Club and to which the local club adds $200 in cash, has been received. This, like other programs issued by the Interstate association, is particularly attractive to the amateur, as under its rules the experts are more severely handicapped than at the ordinary tournament. At tournaments given by the Interstate association the expert must at all times shoot from unknown trap, known angle, and he often gets trap No. 4 when he is standing at trap No. 1, or trap No. 2 when he is at trap No. 5, and when he does get a target from one of these traps it causes him to "get there all of a sudden" if he gets his bird. The shooting at Lynchburg will be exclusively at targets, and if the southern trap shooters wish to attend a tournament where everything is in good shape and where they can get all the shooting they want, they should go to one of the shoots managed, as this one will be, by Elmer E. Shaner, for he has had so much experience that he knows how to run over the rough places without even as much as a jar.

THE Michigan City (Miss.) Gun Club was organized on April 17 with Mr. J. M. Aldrich, president; M. L. Brewer, vice-president; Chas. W. Tway, secretary and treasurer, and W. P. Mason, captain. The club meets on Thursday of each week, and any sportsman happening in town on that day need not go away without having some sport. After the club meeting the shooting grounds were adjourned to and the afternoon spent pleasantly at the traps. The readers of the AMERICAN FIELD will hear from this enterprising Southern club weekly. The club is composed of gentlemen and will be run on business principles.

Michigan City, Miss. CHAS. W. TWAY, Secy.

The Gate City Gun Club was organized here on March 15 last and the following gentlemen elected officers for the ensuing year: President, W. B. Wardell; secretary-treasurer, G. H. Marshall; field captain, R. D. Cantler; board of directors, T. B. Bruce, C. H. Whitner and R. D. Cantler. The other members of the club are D. J. Bell, J. A. Miller, R. H. Whitner, S. J. Bell, S. G. Smith and Pat Anderson. The club is supplied with a full set of expert Blue Rock traps and uses Blue Rock targets.

Sanford, Fla. MILLER BROS.

THE program for the Henry Shooting Club's tournament, to be held at Henry, Ill., on May 7, 8 and 9, schedules ten events a day for each of the days named, all at inanimate targets, the entrance ranging according to the number of targets in an event from $1 to $2.50. American Shooting Association rules will govern, except that "no bang, no bird." All purses will be divided into four moneys. Everybody welcome.

IN the contest at Leavenworth, Kan., on April 15, between the Leavenworth Gun Club's team and a team from the Frankfort Gun Club for the state championship cup the teams tied in the original event, but when it came to the tie, each man shooting at 15 singles and 5 pairs, the Frankfort boys demonstrated that they were stayers, by defeating the Leavenworth team by two points.

THE Washington Gun Club was incorporated here last month with a capital stock of $1,000. We have sixteen charter members and had our first shoot on April 18. The officers of the club for the ensuing year are: President, Henry Sabin; vice-president, C. S. Reinhart; secretary, E. A. Bacon; treasurer, C. J. Lord.

Olympia, Wash. E. A. BACON, Secy.

WORD received from the Memphis Gun Club regarding its tournament—June 11 to 14—is to the effect that prospects for a very large attendance are indeed very flattering. It is confidently believed by members of the club that theirs will be the largest tournament, in point of attendance, ever seen in this country.

THE Houston City Gun Club will hold its first annual tournament at Houston, Tex., on May 21, 22, 23 and 24, using both live birds and Blue Rock targets. The tournament will be under the personal management of Mr. J. E. Haney.

THE eleventh annual tournament of the Sportsmen's Association of the Northwest will be held at Portland, Ore., under the auspices of the Multnomah Rod and Gun Club, on June 13, 14 and 15.

THE Bass Lake Gun Club of Chicago will hold a tournament at its new grounds at Bass Lake, Ind., on May 5.

THE Winona (Minn.) Gun Club will hold a tournament on Decoration Day, May 30.

THE INTERSTATE PITTSBURG TOURNAMENT

PITTSBURG, PA.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—The second tournament of the series to be given by the Interstate Association during the season of 1895 was held at Pittsburg, Pa., April 16, 17 and 18, under the auspices of the Pittsburg Gun Club. The tournament was a decided success, and Messrs. Elmer E. Shaner, Jim Crow, "Old Hoss" and Louis Lautenslager, the committee in charge, deserve praise for the able manner in which the tournament was conducted. Exposition grounds, where the tournament was held, presented animated scenes on all three days. Some of the best trap shooters in the country and all of the local and surrounding cracks were present with their guns, attractive make-ups and good natured cheer. The arrangements on the ground were perfect. There were two sets of the new expert Blue Rock traps, which worked satisfactorily during the entire tournament. Seats were provided for spectators and shooters behind a solidly built low railing which separated the crowd from the shooters at the score. The whole was backed by the association's large 36x22 tent, giving the place the appearance of a scene taken from an old picture of a hunt in the country. Overlooking the grounds was a high embankment and it was crowded with interested onlookers every day. The line-up of the shooters, the crack of their guns, the ringing of the bell for a lost target, or the squeak of the horn for a broken target, the laughing, joking sportsmen as they moved about with guns in hand, the calling of the next squad by Manager Shaner, all lent a fascination to the scene that was irresistible. The shooter was in his glory and felt kindly toward all creation in general and to his fellow sportsmen in particular.

The shooting was not as good as at last year's tournament and nobody, least of all the shooters, could account for it. Some claimed it was the wind that interfered with good scores, but when reminded that the breeze was not strong all the time, they threw up both hands and gave it up. There was a heavy fog, a Pittsburg fog, surrounding the grounds. Into this the men were compelled to fire and that, in Referee Swartwood's opinion, may have caused the comparatively poor scores on the first and second days. On the third day the black fog and smoke had lifted, the sun shone out brightly and in consequence the scores were much better.

The new system of handicapping adopted by the association, by which the shooters are divided into two classes, experts and amateurs, was tried here for the first time. The experts did not take to it all, but the amateurs fell in love with it. As there were about fifty amateurs to five experts, the system was immensely popular. The amateurs bagged the biggest part of the money. It was the first tournament ever given in Pittsburg where the expert did not carry off fully 90 per cent. of the money. While Manager Shaner thinks the system is a little severe on the expert, he believes it will be adopted at a great many tournaments this season. It gives everybody a fair show. It should bring out the amateurs in droves and help to encourage the sport. Usually at big tournaments the experts take everything in sight, but under this system the amateurs have a chance to get on top. It may result in keeping a few top-notchers away from the traps, but for every expert there are ten amateurs to take his place. Will these same amateurs do so? Time alone can tell.

Local shooters gave their visiting brethren a hearty welcome and then went out to the traps to outshoot them—if they could. There was Old Hoss (C. M. Hostetter) with his coat collar turned up and the rim of his slouch hat pulled down over his ears, blazing away for fun and glory. He carried good cheer with him, as he always does on occasions of this sort, and had a kindly invitation for everybody. The whole "shooting match" was in an uproar on Thursday when he appeared at the score decorated with a blue ribbon. That ribbon was the biggest kind of a bluff, as many can testify who assisted him in gazing at the stars. Jim Crow (Dr. J. W. Dickson) did good work on the first two days. On the third the fatal illness of his cousin, Dr. J. N. Dickson, kept him away from the traps. The Doctor looked dark and serious as he moved from trap to trap on a broommaker's trot. His looks belied him, as there is not a jollier man in town. Louis Lautenslager had charge of the lower set of traps and rendered valuable assistance to Manager Shaner in keeping things moving.

FIRST DAY

The event of the day was the handicap target race. Each contestant was handicapped by targets, the limit being 25 targets. Thus the "scratch" men shot at 100 targets each and the "limit" men at 125. There were 33 entries, not quite so large as last year. This was accounted for by the fact that the top-notchers considered their handicaps too severe. A number of shooters wrote the handicap committee that they would enter providing they were given more targets; this the committee refused to do as they desired to be just and fair to all. They put the handicaps at what they thought were right, and would not change them for the sake of receiving a few more entries. The committee was highly complimented by a number of shooters for the stand they took in their refusal to increase the handicaps beyond what they thought was right. Capt. B. A. Bartlett, of Buffalo, was the only "scratch" man who took part. The shooting, on the whole, was poor, and not at all up to the standard set last season.

The handicap was won by Norman Pruitt, of Washington, D. C., who broke 96 targets and received $66. His handicap was 115. W. B. McKelden, also of Washington, won second with 95, and received $49.50. His handicap was 120. J. A. Flick, of Ravenna, O., won third money with 91, and received $33. His handicap was 113. A. H. Donnally, of Fairmont, W. Va., won fourth money with 88, and received $16.50. His handicap was 115. The men shot in squads of six, each shooting at 25 targets per round, finishing with their handicap extras. All contestants shot 50 targets at each set of traps. In the first round Pruitt broke 24, and led with one target to the good. In the second round Bartlett did the best work, breaking 22 targets. He was closely followed by Jim Crow, A. H. King and J. Anderson, all local men, who each broke 21. The third round was led by "Billy" Fieles, of Christiana, Pa., who broke 24 targets, Pruitt and McKelden each breaking 22. Flick led in the fourth round, breaking 22. Of the local men Jim Crow did the best work. He broke 42 out of his first 50 and looked like a winner. J. G. Messner, the winner of the Grand American Handicap, broke 79 out of 115. Thanks to the two sets of traps the handicap was finished in time enough to allow several extra events being shot.

The scores follow:

Handicap target race, 100 to 125 targets, 16 yards rise, known trap, unknown angles, entrance $5, targets extra.

A Pruitt (115)	1111111111 1111101111 1111111111 1111111100 00111 1110111101 0111110111 1111111111 0111010110 11110 1111101101 1110111011 11110	—96
McKelden (120)	0101010011 1101101011 1010110111 0100011111 11111 1111111101 1111011111 0111111111 1111111101 11111 1101111010 1110111111 0111110111	—95
Flick (113)	0111111101 0111011111 1111111110 0111101110 11111 1110111111 1110111001 1110110110 1111111011 11110 1111111011 1011011101 110	—91
Donnally (115)	1111111110 1111111111 0111111111 1011111011 00111 1011111010 1101111011 1100011101 0100111110 11011 1111111011 1100111100 11001	—88
T. Brown (115)	0101110111 1111010011 0111001110 1101111101 01111 1111111111 1101011101 1111111101 1101111011 00111 1101110111 1111101001 11010	—87
Jim Crow (110)	1111111101 1011110111 1111011111 1111101001 10111 1111100101 0011101001 1111111101 0111111101 01111 1111101010 1110111111	—86
Fieles (110)	1111011110 0111111111 1011101011 1111111110 11100 1111111111 1111111111 1111111011 1110001001 11100 0110110111 0111111000	—86
Bartlett (100)	1111101111 1111111110 1011111111 1101111111 11011 1101110011 1111110111 1111111110 1101111111 11101 1011101101	—84
A. H. King (110)	1010100110 1111101111 0111101111 1110111111 01111 1011111111 0101001110 0101111101 1110100111 01110 1111011101 0010101111	—80
Shaffer (115)	0100111001 0101110111 1011111010 1111111111 10111 0101111111 1010111101 1111101110 0011101111 11000 1111011111 0000101100 01011	—80
Messner (115)	0110011101 1111011101 1011111011 1111101100 10001 1111110101 0011101011 1001010111 1101001111 00111 1110001110 1111101101 11011	—79
Anderson (110)	1110011111 1110101101 1011001010 1101000001 01101 1110011011 0011110111 1111101111 1001111111 11110 1010011111 1111110011	—77
Boyd (120)	1111111001 1011110111 0111111101 1001101010 11010 1111111110 1111110111 1100110110 1111110010 11111 1101011101 1110000010 1011111100	—76
W. S. King (110)	1111101110 1001101101 1111111010 1001110001 01111 1101101111 0010110011 1101111110 0110111111 01111 1111111101 0110001000	—76
Thomas (117)	0100010000 1111101010 1111110000 1111101110 11010 1101111111 0101111111 1001011110 1111010100 11110 0010111110 0101011010 1011101	—75
Adams (118)	1011110100 0010000110 1111010111 0011011011 10111 1101111010 1110111001 1101111110 1011011111 00011 1011111111 0100011100 00100110	—75
Nelson (110)	1111110101 1101101100 0111111101 1111111111 11110 0011100101 1010111010 1111110110 0101111010 00110 0101010101 1011001011	—74
Du Bray (115)	0110101111 1111111011 0100000100 0010101111 11110 1010010011 1110101000 1101111111 1101011110 01001 1111100111 1010001101 01111	—73
Miller (115)	0111001111 1011100001 0011011111 1100000110 11001 0001011010 0101101100 1110011100 1110011111 11111 1101101010 1111010111 1011001011	—71
Colt (115)	1101001100 1111101011 1011011111 1101010111 11111 0110110011 1010110110 0100010101 0100101111 01010 1110110010 0010110110 00100	—70
Mack (Pete) (115)	0110011011 0110011110 0110110101 0010111111 11101 1011011101 1110101010 1111100000 0101110011 10111 1110101000 0000100101 00010	—67
Cundall (115)	1110111010 1101101101 1001010111 1011100010 00000 0100001111 0001001111 1111110100 1111111101 11001 0111101111 1100001000 10001	—66
Carter (125)	1001011111 0000100111 1001010100 1111100111 00010 1010110000 0101110001 1110101000 0011000100 00110 0111101110 1101101110 1101101110 01000	—65
Wayman (115)	0111111101 1010101010 1000000111 1101001000 10011 1000111110 0110101111 1111100101 1111011111 00010 0101000111 0110000100 10101	—65
Ewing (115)	1100101000 1100110110 0111011010 0001001000 10101 1001111000 0101011010 0111111001 1100000101 00111 1111011010 1111011011 01110	—63
Skillman (115)	0000010100 1010100101 1111000110 1111011101 00010 0101010011 1001100010 0010100110 1110110101 10011 0011000100 1011011110 11111	—60
Bedell (118)	1000100011 1010010010 0111000001 0000100010 11009 1011000011 1000000111 1011111101 1100100111 11010 1110101100 0110101101 00110111	—58
Greene (120)	0100001101 0001010100 0010000111 0110110111 10111 1110101110 1100001011 0101001010 1011010000 01010 0101011010 1011000110 0010010001	—57
Arden (112)	0001110001 0000111111 0000010111 1110010001 10001 1011111111 1111101011 1101110110 0001001011 00110 0010110000	—54

Williams (118)	1001010110 0101101001 1011010111 0001000 0001101101 0110000101 0011000011 0100 1010011101 0001010011 00100011
Kelly (125)	1000000001 0010000001 1011110011 01 0010110100 0010011100 0100101010 1 1000101011 0101010010 1100110000 1
W. M. Brown (125)	0100001000 0001011010 0101011000 1 0001010010 0000011011 0000110100 0001101110 0111110000 1101000000
Graham (115)	0010001001 0001000001 0001000001 1 0011100000 0010000110 1011011110 0001100101 01001 1101100101 0100000000 00000	37

EVENT No. 1.—20 targets, entrance $1, four moneys: Arden 15, Bartlette 17, Greene 11, Jim Crow 12, Fieles 13, U. M. C. Thomas 12, Cundall 16, Du Bray 16, Flick 18, Bedell 12, J. H. Shafer 13, Wayman 18, G. W. Carter 9, J. P. Kelly 13, T. Green 16, Skillman 11, Nelson 14, Hamilton 16, Shaw 13, Ewing 12, J. C. Graham 3, J. R. Miller 19, A. H. Donnally 17, Parker 9, Adams 10, A. H. King 11, Prudd 15, W. S. King 16.

EVENT No. 2.—20 targets, entrance $2, four moneys: Scott 7, Bartlette 16, Du Bray 14, Rike 18, Rayman 16, Harbison 8, Shaffer 12, Atwood 8, Jim Crow 13, Ewing 8, Farmer 11, Fieles 12, W. S. King 11, Doutt 6, Ardin 8, U. M. C. Thomas 12, Pete 9, Colt 13.

EVENT No. 3.—20 targets, entrance $2, four moneys: Scott 9, Plymler 8, Adams 10, Rike 18, Raymond 18, Bartlette 18, Donnelly 14, Connie Mack 13, Harbison 12, Jim Crow 13, Titlow 19, Shaffer 14, Miller 12, U. M. C. Thomas 14, G. W. Carter 13, Fieles 13.

EVENT No. 4.—15 targets, entrance $1.50, four moneys: Rike 11, Raymond 13, W. S. King 13, Scott 4, Druitt 12, Farmer 10, Harbison 8, Shaffer 11, Wayman 10, A. H. Donnally 9, Connie Mack 7, Colt 14, Fieles 12, Titlow 11, Walters 7, Pete 9, Thomas 8, Bartlett 11.

EVENT No. 5.—15 targets, entrance $1.50, four moneys: Rike 15, Raymond 14, Pruitt 12, Bartlette 12, Jim Crow 13, W. S. King 9, T. Greene 12, J. R. Miller 13, Harbison 13, Shaffer 9, A. H. Donnally 11, Colt 10, Fieles 11, Titlow 11.

EVENT No. 6.—20 targets, entrance $2, four moneys: Harbison 14, Rike 16, Raymond 15, Fieles 16, Bartlette 16, Shaffer 14, Bessemer 16, Pruitt 13, Jim Crow 16, McKelden 18, W. S. King 17, Pete 14, T. R. Hostetter 12, Colt 14, J. R. Miller 10, Dr. Wayman 13, Connie Mack 15, Donnally 15.

SECOND DAY

The second day was a decided improvement over the first, both as to the weather and the work of the shooters. Some of the top-notch shooters put in an appearance, but despite this fact 90 per cent. of the money went to the men in the amateur division. A large and enthusiastic crowd was present during the entire day. While all of the conditions were quite favorable for good shooting, the results were remarkable for the few straight scores. J. A. Flick of Ravenna O., did the best shooting of the day, yet he did not get a single first. E. D. Rike, of Dayton, O., did the second best work. C. W. Raymond, of Dayton, O., was third. Of the local men, A. H. King, W. M. C. Jones, "Bessemer" and Jim Crow did the best shooting. Entries were quite numerous; event number 8 having 51. About sixty-five shooters took part and over 7,000 targets were trapped.

The scores follow;

EVENT No. 1.—15 targets, entrance $1.50, four moneys: Experts—Bartlette 6, Heikes 11. Amateurs—Old Hoss 11, Penn 15, Jim Crow 13, Rike 12, Raymond 13, Flick 13, Du Bray 12, Bessmer 12, Fieles 9, Jones 11, Close 11, Goldstrom 14, Mardof 11, Fry 10, Weakland 10, U. M. C. Thomas 8, Skilman 12, Huffman 7, A. H. King 9.

EVENT No. 2.—15 targets, entrance $1.50, four moneys: Experts—Bartlette 8, Heikes 8, Penn 13. Amateurs—Old Hoss 10, Jim Crow 10, Rike 14, Raymond 14, Flick 12, Fieles 10, Jones 11, U. M. C. Thomas 9, Skilman 10, Mardof 13, Bessemer 14, A. H. King 12, Goldstrom 9, Close 9, Du Bray 12, Wayman 13, Alexander 10, Huffman 8, W. John 12, Weakland 10, Fry 12, Dinger 8, Donnally 13.

EVENT No. 3.—20 targets, entrance $2, $15 added, four moneys: Experts—Bartlette 10, Heikes 16, Penn 11, Rike 16, Raymond 12, Bessemer 13. Amateurs—Old Hoss 14, Jim Crow 18, Flick 17, Fieles 15, Jones 15, U. M. C. Thomas 15, Skilman 9, Mardof 14, A. H. King 15, Goldstrom 12, Du Bray 11, Huffman 9, Bell 12, Close 18, Miller 12, Alexander 8, John 12, Wayman 17, Donnally 15, Pruitt 10, W. S. King 18, McKelden 18, Fry 16, Black Cloud 9, Monroe 15, Weakland 14, Born 14, Dinger 15, Von Lengerke 14.

EVENT No. 4.—15 targets, entrance $1.50, $10 added, four moneys: Experts—Bartlette 10, Heikes 11, Rike 10, Jim Crow 11, Close 6, W. S. King 10. Amateurs—Old Hoss 10, Penn 12, Raymond 11, Flick 13, Fieles 11, Jones 8, McKelden 7, Du Bray 9, John 7, Pierce 10, Duff 7, Von Lengerke 13, Fry 11, U. M. C. Thomas 13, Skilman 10, A. H. King 14, Goldstrom 13, Bessemer 13, Alexander 10, Bell 7, Miller 14, Wayman 14, Donnally 11, Huffman 7, Dinger 12, Monroe 11, Black Cloud 13, Pruitt 8, Born 9, Weakland 12, Connie Mack 13.

EVENT No. 5.—20 targets, entrance $2, $15 added, four moneys: Experts—Bartlette 16, Heikes 14, Jim Crow 12, A. H. King 15, Wayman 10, Miller 8. Amateurs—Old Hoss 17, Penn 16, Rike 20, Raymond 14, Flick 18, Fieles 17, Jones 15, U. M. C. Thomas 13, Skilman 14, Von Lengerke 15, Close 16, Pierce 12, "Green T" 18, W. S. King 15, Alexander 11, John 8, Huffman 8, McKelden 17, Pruitt 15, Connie Mack 16, Goldstrom 11, Weakland 18, Black Cloud 14, Fry 14, Monroe 17, Donnally 15, Cundall 17, Bell 11, Bessemer 14.

EVENT No. 6.—15 targets, entrance $1.50, $10 added, four moneys: Experts—Bartlette 12, Heikes 13, Rike 10. Amateurs—Old Hoss 11, Penn 14, Jim Crow 9, Raymond 12, Flick 13, Fieles 13, Jones 13, U. M. C. Thomas 11, Skilman 8, A. H. King 11, Bessemer 14, Von Lengerke 12, Du Bray 12, Mardof 11, Huffman 7, T. Green 12, J. R. Miller 12, Duff 11, Wayman 11, Goldstrom 9, W. S. King 11, Bell 8, Alexander 9, John 12, Born 8, Cundall 10, Connie Mack 7, N. Pruitt 11, Weakland 12, Close 14, Monroe 9, Black Cloud 12, McKelden 10, Fry 13, Durger 10, Montgomery 9, Pierce 9, Johnston 9, S. Shaner 8, Donnally 10, Cleveland 10, Fritz 9, W. C. Thomson, 8, Nellion 11.

EVENT No. 7.—20 targets, entrance $2, $15 added, four moneys: Experts—Bartlette 14, Heikes 11, Penn 15, Bessemer 10, Close 10. Amateurs—Jim Crow 13, Raymond 17, Rike 15, Flick 17, Fieles 12, Jones 17, U. M. C. Thomas 15, Skilman 16, A. H. King 12, Huffman 11, T. Green 19, Miller 16, Bell 10, Von Lengerke 12, N. Pruitt 14, McKelden 17, S. Shaner 16, John 18, Wayman 14, Cleveland 16, W. C. Thomson 13, Johnston 17, Weakland 18, W. S. King 11, Donnally 12, Fritz 15, Monroe 14, Black Cloud 13, Duff 13, Dinger 12, Fry 16, Du Bray 15, Old Hoss 11, Nelson 16.

EVENT No. 8.—15 targets, entrance $1.50, $10 added, four moneys: Experts—Bartlette 10, Heikes 10, Green 8. Amateurs—Old Hoss 6, Penn 10, Jim Crow 12, Rike 13, Raymond 13, Flick 13, Fieles 10, Jones 10, U. M. C. Thomas 11, Skilman 11, A. H. King 13, Bessemer 13, Von Lengerke 11, Mardof 7, Miller 10, Cleveland 8, B. Jones 7, S. Shaner 8, Goldstrom 12, W. C. Thompson 15, Johnston 9, Huffman 13, Montgomery 10, Weakland 10, John 11, Fritz 10, Close 11, Du Bray 10, Bell 11, Udick 13, Colteryahn 11, Born 7, Monroe 10, W. S. King 12, Shaffer 12, Wayman 10, Ewing 10, Donnally 10, McKelden 12, Nelson 10, N. Pruitt 12, Black Cloud 12, Richey 5, W. R. Miller 3, Connie Mack 7, Fry 11, Ricky 13, Murray 10.

EVENT No. 9.—20 targets, entrance $2, $15 added, four moneys: Experts—Bartlette 13, Heikes 16, W. C. Thompson 6. Amateurs—Old Hoss 13, Penn 17, Jim Crow 14, Rike 19, Raymond 16, Flick 16, Fieles 19, Jones 18, U. M. C. Thomas 12, Skilman 10, A. H. King 18, Bessemer 15, Close 14, Cleveland 9, B. Jones 15, Johnston 16, Miller 7, Monroe 12, McKelden 19, T. Green 12, Ricky 17, Murray 15, Shaffer 10, Weakland 13, Huffman 16, W. S. King 14, Donnally 14, Bell 11, Pruitt 14, Wayman 13, Black Cloud 11, Fry 17, Colteryahn 10, Udick 13, A. Jay 15.

EVENT No. 10.—12 targets, entrance $1.50, $10 added, four moneys: Experts—Bartlette 9, Heikes 13, Fieles 10, Rike 11. Amateurs—Old Hoss 12, Penn 8, Jim Crow 11, Raymond 13, Flick 10, Jones 11, U. M. C. Thomas 8, Skilman 11, Bessemer 10, A. H. King 12, Pruitt 8, Donnally 5, W. S. King 13, Shaffer 12, T. Green 12, Murray 9, Ricky 10, Goldstrom 8, Huffman 10, B. Jones 12, Cleveland 10, Fritz 10, Udick 10, Colteryahn 9, Close 13, Black Cloud 11, J. R. Miller 10, Monroe 10, Alexander 9, Fry 9, Thomson 6, C. Mack 9.

EXTRA EVENT.—15 targets, entrance $1.50: Bartlette 14, Rike 11, Raymond 13, Heikes 14, Jones 8, B. Jones 10, Ricky 13, Murray 6, W. S. King 12, Old Hoss 11, Bessemer 11, Shaffer 11, Goldstrom 11, J. R. Miller 10, Close 14, Fieles 13, Colteryahn 9, Monroe 13, Black Cloud 6.

THIRD DAY

The third day was clear, warm and mild, and good shooting was the result. Ten regular events were run off, then three extra events were arranged and run off. The tournament can be set down as one of the best ever held in Pennsylvania, and has been a success in every sense, though the scores of the first and second days were not up to high-water mark. During the three days 20,000 targets were trapped. The scores follow:

EVENT No. 1.—15 targets, entrance $1.50, four moneys: Amateurs—Raymond 12, Jones 12, Close 12, Rike 13, Fieles 11, Skilman 10, A. H. King 11, Penn 13, Old Hoss 9, Du Bray 8, Goldstrom 13, Burus 9, Flick 14, U. M. C. Thomas 14, Fry 12.

EVENT No. 2.—15 targets, entrance $1.50, four moneys: Experts—Flick 11, U. M. C. Thomas 10. Amateurs—Raymond 11, Joues 14, Close 13, Rike 14, Fieles 14, Skilman 13, A. H. King 12, Penn 12, Old Hoss 10, Howard 11, Goldstrom 12, Du Bray 9, Weakland [illegible], Green Tea 12, "Colt" 10.

EVENT No. 3.—20 targets, entrance $2, $15 added, four [illegible]. Experts—Heikes 15, Bartlette 17, Flick 13, Jones 13, Rike 16. Amateurs—Raymond 18, Close 18, Skilman 13, A. H. King 16, Penn 12, Old Hoss 13, Howard 16, U. M. C. Thomas 17, Connie Mack 9, Pruitt 19, Fry 13, McKelden 18, J. Hamilton 11, Nelson 9, Huffman 9, T. Green 15, Colt 15, Bell 11, Eyler 4, Von Lengerke 12, R. Miller 11, Monroe 19, Weakland 15, W. S. King 11.

...No. 4 ... 17 targets, entrance $1.50, $10 added, four moneys: ... 11, Ileikes 12, Pruitt 6, Monroe 8, Fieles 9. ... 13, Goldstrom 10, Du Bray 9, Huffman 8, Scott ... 15, Jones 13, Close 13, Rike 14, Skilman 10, ... Hoss 8, Howard 10. Ham iton 13, Von Len- ... 14 W. S. King 9, Green 11, Colt 13. Don- ... McKelden 12, J. R. Miller 14, Bell 8, ...

...ntrance $2, $15 added, four moneys: ... ette 14, Raymond 13. Amateurs—Jones 17, Close 15, Rike 16, Fieles 16, Skilman 13. Nelson 16, A. H. King 14, Flick 18 Penn 17, Old Hoss 16, Hamilton 17, Von Leugerke 16, Scott 9, U. M. C. Thomas 18, Colt 14, Weakland 13, Dounally 17, T. Green 14, Miller 16, Pruitt 18, W. S. King 17, Fritz 16, McKelden 16, Wayman 15, Eyler 7, Howard 16, Huffman 14, Pierce 11, Monroe (w), "Bessemer" 19.

EVENT No. 6.—15 targets, entrance $1.50, $10 added, four moneys: Experts—Heikes 14, Bartlette 11, Bessemer 13, Du Bray 8. Amateurs—Raymond 12. Jones 12, Close 13, Rike 12, Fieles 14, Skilman 12, Nelson 13, A. H. King 11, Penn 14, Old Hoss 10, Hamilton 10, Flick 13, Von Lengerke 13, W. S. King 11, Pruitt 14, McKelden 13, U. M. C. Thomas 13, T. Green 11, Donnally 14, Colt 11, Miller 11, Goldstrom 13, Weakland 13, Connie Mack 13, Anderson 12, Pierce 11, Bell 4, Fritz 8, Burns (w), Huffman 11.

EVENT No. 7.—20 targets, entrance $2, $15 added, four moneys: Experts—Heikes 15. Bartlette 15, Bessemer 15, Fieles 13, Penn 12, Pruitt 12, Donnally 14. Amateurs—Raymond 17, Jones 13 Close 16, Rike 17, Flick 16, Skilman 13, Von Leogerke 16, Thomas 17, King 17. W. S. King 17, Pierce 10, Hamilton 18, Miller 16, Nelson 20, Black 8, Colt 15, T. Green 16, Weakland 17, McPherson 8, Connie Mack 12, Old Hoss 13, Huffman 12, McKelden 17, Shaffer 16, Alexander 12, Bell 8, Wayman 19, Armstrong 13, Fry 18, Monroe 18.

EVENT No. 8.—15 targets, entrance $1 50, $10 added, four moneys: Experts—Heikes 11, Bartlette 12, Nelson 7. Amateurs—Raymond 10, Jones 13, Close 12, Rike 13, Fieles 14, Skilman 10, A.H. King 11, Flick 14, Old Hoss 12, Hamilton 13, Von Lengerke 12, W. S. King 13, Pruitt 15, McKelden 13, Bessemer 14, Armstrong 13, Howard 10, Fritz 10, Goldstrom 11, Eyeler 7, U. M. C. Thomas 14, Weakland 12, Colt 14. T. Green 8, Miller 12, Black 8, McPhersou 5, Wayman 8, Donnally 7, Once 8, Shaffer 11, Du Bray 12, R. Andersou 10, Connie Mack 7.

EVENT No. 9.—20 targets, entrance $2, $15 added, four moneys: Experts—Heikes 17, Bartlett 13, Pruitt 11. Amateurs—Raymond 19, Jones 17, Close 18, Rike 18, Fieles 17, Skilman 17, Schaffer 14, A. H. King 18, Flick 16, Old Hoss 15, Von Lengerke 18, W. S. King 19, Bessemer 20, Armstrong 16, Miller 13, Hamiltou 17, Colt 14, T. Green 15, U. M. C. Thomas 14, Duff 15, Howard 14, McPherson 6, Nelson 11, Donnally 11, Black 7, McKelden 18, Wayman 7.

EVENT No. 10.—15 targets, entrance $1.50, $10 added, four moneys: Experts—Heikes 15, Bartlett 14, Bessemer 12. Amateurs—Raymond 10, Jones 13, Close 12, Rike 14. Fieles 12, Skilman 8, T. Green 10, Nelson 11, A. H. King 12, Flick 12, Old Hoss 12, Von Lengerke 13, Pruitt 10, McKelden 13, Sims 8, Armstrong 11, Colt 9, Eyler 11, Goldstrom 10, Shaffer 11, McPherson 8, U. M. C. Thomas 11, Fritz 13, Hamilton 12, Bell 7, Howard 13, W. S. King 13.

Several extra events concluded the tournament to the satisfaction of all concerned.

YOUR REPORTER.

NEW JERSEY STATE LEAGUE SHOOT

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—Inclosed you will find scores of the State League shoot at Maplewood. Every club of the league was represented; the day was perfect for shooting. The reader will notice that the program of sweeps was somewhat different thau usual; tbe reason, plenty of shooting with as little cost as possible. Maplewood again went to the front with the best score yet made at unknown angles (111). Mr. Yeoman was unable to be present, but Vau Dyke, Smith, Sickly and Drake gave a fiue exhibition of the art and carried the team to the top. The teams shooting after 3 o'clock were favored, as at that time the little wind that had sprung up at 10 o'clock dropped flat. The Elizabeth club came in a good second with 109. Mrs. Drake presided at the lunch connter. Mr. Parry was referee and Mr. Laidlaw scorer. The scores:

EVENT No. 1.—10 targets, $1 entrance, unknown angles.

Hoffman	1111101011—8	Whitehead	1111111111-10
Van Dyke	1111111111 10	Siegler	1111111111-10
War Smith	1111111011—9	Breintuall	1111011111—9
Drake	1111111111 10	Thomas	1011111111—9
Dutchy	1011111011—8

EVENT No. 2.—15 targets, $1 entrance, unknown angles: Breintnall 15, Dutchy 11, Siegler 14, War Smith 14, Drake 13, Van Dyke 13, Thomas 13, Hoffman 10, Proctor 3.

EVENT No. 3.—15 targets, $1.50 entrance, knowu angles: Van Dyke 15, Dutchy 14. Whitehead 14, Thomas 14, Siegler 13, Drake 13, Hoffman 11, War Smith 11, Major 9.

EVENT No. 4 —10 singles, $1 entrance, unknown angles: Dutchy 10, Geoffrey 10, P. Daly Jr. 10. Siegler 9, Van Dyke 9, Strader 9, Drake 9, Richmond 9, Collins 8, Hock 8, N. E. Money 8, Edwards 8, Grieff 8, Thomas 8, Quimby 8, Capt. Money 7, Apgar 7, Frank 7, War Smith 7, Hoffman 6, Major 6, Proctor 4.

EVENT No. 5.—20 singles, $1.50 entrance, known angles.

Breintnall	11111111111111111111-20	Van Dyke	11011111110111011111-17
Ivins	11111111110111111111-19	E. D. Miller—	11111101111110101111-17
War Smith	11111111111101111111-19
A. Sickley	11111110111111111111-19	Dutchy	11011111011001111111-16
Capt. Money—	11110111111111101111 18	Henry	01110111101111111011-16
Collins	01111110111111111111-18	Straw	11111101011111010111-16
Drake	11111101111111110111-18	Throcky	01110111111111110011-16
Siegler	11111111111011111110-18	Geoffrey	11000101111011111111-15
Jackson	01111111111110111111-18	Hoffmau	11011010111101011111-15
Apgar	11111111111011011110-17	E Sickley	11010110111101111101-15
N. E. Money—	11110111001111111111-17	J. Cooper Jr.—	11111000001111011001-13
Quimby	11111111011111110101-17	Edwards	10101100111101110101-13

EVENT No. 6.—10 singles, $1 entrance, expert rules: Van Dyke 9, Thomas 9, Apgar 9, Whitehead 9, Collins 9, Major 8, Quimby 8, Miller 8, N. E. Money 8, A. Sickley 8, W. Smith 8, E. Sickley 8, Geoffrey 7, Capt. Money 7, Jackson 7, Drake 7, Dutchy 6, Strader 6, Siegler 6, Piercy 5, Edwards 4 Lindsley 3.

EVENT No. 7.—10 singles, $1 entrance, unknown angles: Keller 10, Williams 10, Thomas 10, Drake 10, E. Sickley 10, Hoffman 9, Dutchy 9, Van Dyke 9, Apgar 9, Piercy 9, Collins 9, Breintnall 9, Edwards 9, Capt. Money 9, N. E. Money 9, Geoffery 8, A. Sickley 8, Quimby 8, W. Smith 8, Whitehead 8, Wanda 7, Strader 7, Proctor 7, Parker 7, Astfalk 7, Woodruff 6, Singer 6, Van Iderstine 6, Canfield 6, Darby 4, Cheatwood 1.

EVENT No. 8.—25 singles, $2 entrance, unknown angles: Van Dyke 25, Apgar 23, Capt. Money 23, Drake 22, N. E. Money 21, War Smith 21, E. Sickley 21, Hoffman 20, A. Sickley 20, Piercy 19, Geoffrey 18, Camfield 17.

EVENT No. 9.—State League team coute t, five men to each leam. 25 single targets each mau.

SOUTH SIDE GUN CLUB OF NEWARK

Major	0111111011	0110111111	11111—21
Whitehead	1111111111	1110101011	11111—22
Thomas	1110111111	0111111100	11100—19
Hoffman	1110111111	1110101111	10111—21
Geoffrey	1111110101	1010110101	11011—18	—101

RIVERSIDE GUN CLUB OF RED BANK

P. Daly Jr.	1001011000	1101001110	11011—14
J. Straw	0101001010	1011010010	11011—13
J. Cooper Jr.	1110011111	1110010010	11110—17
E. W. Throckmorton	1011100111	1111111011	11000—18
A. L. Ivins	1111111111	1111101111	11101—23	— 85

UNION GUN CLUB OF SPRINGFIELD

Siegler	1111011111	1111111111	11111—21
Miller	1101111111	1111011101	01111—21
N. E. Money	1011110111	1111111111	11111—23
E. Sickley	1111011110	1111111110	11101—21
Jackson	1000001110	0111001111	11000—13	—102

ENDEAVOR GUN CLUB OF JERSEY CITY

Collins	1111111111	1111110111	11111—24
Proctor	1101010011	0001110111	01111—16
Quimby	0011000111	1011101101	10111—16
Pierey	0001111111	1001010110	00111—15
Lindsley	0101101101	0111100111	11110—17	—88

UNION HILL GUN CLUB OF HOBOKEN

Edwards	0011011111	0011001111	11011—17
Nauder	0111001010	1101100110	11111—16
Sulligan	1100001111	1011100001	11010—14
	0011110101	0001110000	00100— 9
	1101101011	1011111110	10010—16	—72

GUN CLUB OF ELIZABETH

	1101111111	1111111111	11111—24
	1011111011	1011111111	11110—21
	0011111111	1101111010	11110—19
	1011111111	1111111111	11111—24
	1111111111	1110101101	01111—21	—109

MAPLEWOOD GUN CLUB OF MAPLEWOOD

Van Dyke	1111111111	1111111111	11111—25
W. Smith	1111111101	1111111111	11111—24
Drake	1111111111	1111111111	11111—25
Van Iderstine	1101000111	1111111100	10011—17
B. Sickley	1111111111	1111110101	11111—23	—114

BOILING SPRINGS GUN CLUB OF BOILING SPRINGS

Richmond	0111111101	1001001111	01011—17
Grieff	1101110111	1111011110	11101—20
Crosby	1100111111	1110100111	11111—20
Apgar	0111111111	1111111101	11111—23
Henry	0110011111	1010101111	10111—18	—98

CLIMAX GUN CLUB OF PLAINFIELD

Keller	0111111111	1111111111	11011—23
Dutchy	1011111111	1111111111	11111—24
Capt. Money	1101111111	1111111111	11100—22
Darby	1111001111	1111100111	00110—18
D. Terry	1111001001	1011011110	11110—17	—104

EVENT No. 10.—25 singles, $2 entrance, unknown angles: Apgar 25, Van Dyke 24, E. Sickley 24, Drake 22, N E. Money 22, W. Smith 22, Thomas 22, Hoffman 22, Capt. Money 21, Piercy 18, Geoffrey 18, Jackson 15.

W. N. DRAKE.

THE PRVINE GUN CLUB'S TOURNAMENT

PRVINE, TEX.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—Inclosed I hand you an account of a trap shooting tournament recently held at this place. This being our first attempt at anything outside of our regular club shoots, the system of handicapping was not as satisfactory as it might have been. Shooters of superior merit were handicapped in rise according to their abilty, but we now see that we handicapped the gun rather thau the man.

The club made over $100. which places it in good shape, and though the outside shooters scooped everything in sight, the home boys are not kicking.

The last and principal event of the tournament was a handicap in which were concentrated all added prizes given hy the club, and this brought out the true merit of the visiting shooters, and some of the "tallest" shooting was done that has ever been seen in this part of the state. The event was at 50 targets per mau, known trap, unknown angles. Four men made 45 or better, the first prize being won by Pou Jay, who, shooting from 22 yards rise, scored 49 and dusted the other one so hard that many thought the claim he made of "dead bird" should have been allowed. First prize was an L. C. Smith ejector gnu; second, an Osgood folding boat; third, entrance money ($10) returned.

We see now that we should have had a greater number of prizes of less value and distributed them through other events, but we are learning by experience. Our club is not yet a year old and is growing rapidly. Great enthusiasm is manifested in the sport here and we hope by next year to be able to hold our own with all comers at our next annual shoot. The scores follow:

SHOOT No. 1.—20 single targets, entrance $1.50: Pon Jay 17, Schwartz 11, Miner 11, Tupper 16, Marsh 14, A. Smith 18, Stanton 16, Gifford 7, Miller 15, Barker 15, M. Smith 17, Bancroft 16, Shellberger 13, Rice 15, Teller 10, Bonehill 14, Erkhardt 7, Barney 9, Perkins 8.

SHOOT No. 2.—Same as preceding: A. Smith 17, Schwartz 16, Gifford 13, Pon Jay 19, Miner 14, Tupper 16, Marsh 15, Barney 12, Teller 16, M. Smith 18, Stanton 14, Miller 16, Barker 11, Bancroft 15, Shellberger 14, Erkhardt 9, Bonehill 12, Rice 17.

SHOOT No. 3.—Same as before: Rice 16, Teller 13, Marsh 16, Erkhardt 11, Bonehill 11, Barney 13, Shellberger 15, Tupper 16, Schwartz 14, Bancroft 15, Pon Jay 20, Miner 16, Barker 14, Miller 17, Gifford 14, A. Smith 18, M. Smith 17, Stanton 15.

SHOOT No. 4.—Same again: A. Smith 18, Pon Jay 19, M. Smith 20, Rice 17, Teller 14, Marsh 15, Miner 11, Bancroft 16, Stantou 14, Miller 17, Barker 15, Gifford 16, Tupper 12, Shellberger 14, Schwartz 14, Barney 12, Bonehill 15, Erkhardt 13.

SHOOT No. 5.—Same once more: Stantou 14, Erkhardt 15, Bonehill 13, Bancroft 16, Miner 17, Barney 15, Marsh 16, Schwartz 17, Teller 14, Shellberger 12, Rice 17, Tupper 16, M. Smith 20, Gifford 17, Pon Jay 20, A. Smith 19, Barker 9, Miller 13.

SHOOT No. 6.—5 live birds, $5 entrauce, three moneys: Miller 3, Shellberger 3, Teller 2, Barker 4, Schwarlz 4, Barney 1, Smith 5, Miner 4, Stanton 3, Pon Jay 5, Smith 5, Gifford 3, Bancroft 2, Bonehill 2, Tupper 1, Erkhardt 4, Rice 4, Marsh 3.

SECOND DAY

SHOOT No. 1.—20 targets per man, $1 50 entrance, three moneys: Pon Jay 20, M. Smith 20, Stanton 16, Rice 15, Erkhardt 14, Tupper 17, Bonehill 16, A. Smith 18, Shellberger 16, Bancroft 15, Gifford 13, Miner 11, Barney 14, Barker 16, Marsh 16, Miller 14, Schwartz 15, Teller 14.

SHOOT No. 2.—Same as preceding: A. Smith 19, Schwartz 16, Shellberger 16, Miller 14, Bonehill 16, Miller 15. Tupper 12, Marsh 13, Erkhardt 14, Barker 16, Barney 15, Rice 17, Stanton 16, Miner 13, M. Smith 18, Gifford 16, Pon Jay 19, Bancroft 12.

SHOOT No. 3.—Same as before: A. Smith 19, Pon Jay 20, M. Smith 18, Gifford 16, Miner 15, Schwartz 16, Shellberger 15, Miller 14, Bonehill 11, Barney 16, Erkhardt 15, Marsh 18, Tupper 16, Rice 17, Bancroft 15, Stanton 14, Barker 15, Teller 11.

SHOOT No. 4.—Same again: Teller 16, Bonehill 15, Rice 16, Miner 14, Bancroft 11, Schwartz 15, Shellberger 15, Stanton 13, Miller 17, Barker 16, A. Smith 19, Barney 18, Pon Jay 20, M. Smith 17, Marsh 18, Erkhardt 16, Tupper 13, Gifford 17.

SHOOT No. 5.—Handicap, 50 targets per man, $10 entrance. First prize, L. C. Smith gun; second, Osgood folding boat; third, entrance money returned.

	Yards	Guns
Pon Jay	22	Parker	49
Shellberger	16	Colt	41
Stanton	16	Parker	40
Barney	18	Smith	42
A. Smith	20	Smith	47
M. Smith	20	Remington	46
Rice	16	Parker	38
Erkhardt	16	Parker	33
Bonehill	16	Bonehill	36
Barker	16	Greener	33
Miner	18	Remington	40
Miller	18	Greener	32
Gifford	16	Parker	36
Teller	16	Clabrough	38
Marsh	18	Smith	45
Bancroft	18	Smith	36
Schwartz	16	Smith	39

Pon Jay won first prize: A. Smith won second; M. Smith won third.

This ended the tournament with the exception of a few impromptu events, and our visitors went away with the best of feelings toward our boys, promising to come again next year, when we intend to hold a three days' shoot with all modern appliances.

W. B. GIFFORD, Secy.

TRAP AT BALTIMORE

BALTIMORE, MD.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—Inclosed you will find scores of our Easter Monday shoot. The leading event was the county team race, which was open only to "all the year around" residents of the counties of Maryland. The prize was $25 cash, given by the Standard Gun Club; entrance free. It brought out the greatest number of shooters ever brought together in Maryland. The scores:

EVENT No. 1.—10 single targets, $1 entrance, three moneys.

Lupus	1111111001—8	Cole	0010111111—7
Eisenbauer	1011100010—5	Marshall	1111111111-10
A. Smith	1000110101—5	Shull	0011110000—4
Devall	1111111101—9	Rider	1111111111-10
Phœbus	1111111011—9	Rogers	0001011111—6
Hesse	1011110010—6	L. Smith	1101111010—7
Tracey	1011111110—8	J. Hawkins	1111111011—9
J. Smith	0111001101—6	Dyer	0000110000—2
Kenedy	0001110111—6	Storr	0011110101—6
Mantz	1001110101—6	Williams	1110111010—7
Kolb	0000010011—3	Sellers	1001011000—4
Bird	1111111111-10	Scott	1010101101—6
Cockey	0011010110—5	Carson	0001111011—6
Bond	1111111100—8	Hesse	1111111011—9
M. Hawkins	1111001101—7

EVENT No. 2.—5 single targets, then miss and out, 25 cents entrance: Lupus 4, Eisenbauer 3, Hawkins 4. Bond 4, Mautz 4, Phœbus 10, Bird 4, Cockey 3, Carson 3, Kenedy 3, Hesse 11, Devall 3, A. Sullivan 4, J. Sullivan 5, Dyer 3, Shull 4, Marshall 1, Williams 4, White 4, Baughman 5, Gent 6, Tracey 4, Baldwin 3.

EVENT No. 3 —10 singles per mau, $1 entrance, three moneys: Lupus 9 Rogers 9. Marly 6, Whily 8, Williams 7, Eisenbauer 9, Bond 8, Cockey 7, Bird 8, Mantz 9, Hawkins 8 Devall 10, Keuedy 8, Carson 8, Kelly 6, Sullivan 8, Howard 4, Hesse 5. A. Smith 6, Tracey 8, Hartner 9, White 9, Phœbus 10, A. Bird 10, Willy 7, Baughman 7, Geut 7, Cox 7, Wilson 8, Cockrel 9, Marshall 4, Dyer 2, Shelly 9, A. Kenedy 4, Williams 4, J. Sullivan 9, Cole 7, J. Hawkins 8, Shiply 7, W. Hawkins 7, Wesley 7, Phelps 8.

EVENT No. 4.—5 birds, 25 cents entrance, then miss and out: Bird 12, F. Sullivan 10, Hartner 4, Hawkins 4, Smith 4, Willy 13, Eisenbauer 3, Lupus 4, Kenedy 3, Mautz 3, Montgomery 3, A. Smith 2, Russell 4, Tracey 4, Phœbus 3. Bond 4. Hood 4, Heiskell 1, White 9, Cockey 2, Williams 4, Devall 11. Gent 4, Harter 4.

EVENT No. 5.—10 single targets, $1 entrance, three moneys: J. Sullivan 4, Mantz 4, R. Shull 5, White 6, Tracey 7, Cockey 7, M. Hawkins 6, Hicks 6, F. Hawker 4, Dyer 4, A. Shull 6, J. Marshall 5, Rider 9, Wilson 6, Hesse 7, W. Hawkins 5, Cole 8, Wesley 5, Shiply 7, H. Marshall 4, Dyer 3, Kelly 4, Phelps 9, Wankler 6, R. Williams 3, Marly 7, Bond 8, Eisenbauer 9, Kenedy 7, Phœbus 8, Bird 6, A. Smith 8, Williams 8, Lupus 8, Rogers 7, Russell 6, J. J. Sullivan 4, Montgomery 5, Kelly 6, B. Franklin 6, Jock 8, Hood 10, White 7, C. Williams 4, Howard 6, L. Rogers 6, W. Wilson 3, R. Sullivan 6, Horner 9, F. Shiply 8, R. W. Hawkins 6, T. Cole 8, J. Phelps 6, L. Wesly 8.

EVENT No. 6.—Team contest, five men to each team, 20 single targets per man, entrance free. Purse $25.

FREDERICK COUNTY TEAM—FRED-ERICK GUN CLUB		BALTIMORE COUNTY TEAM NO. 2—GREEN SPRING VALLEY GUN CLUB
Phœbus	11011110101101011111-15	White	10110111110111111111-17
A. Smith	10110110101110011111-14	Rogers	11100111011100111110-14
Mantz	10011111111110111000-14	Cockey	11100110100000111011-11
Kenedy	10100111110111111111-16	Howard	10000011100011111011-11
Eisenbauer	10111011111010110111-15	Williams	10101100111011101110-13
Team total	—74	Team total	—66

ANNE ARUNDEL COUNTY TEAM NO. 1—JESSUP GUN CLUB		BALTIMORE COUNTY TEAM NO. 1—TOWSON GUN CLUB
T. Hawkins	00011011010011110111-12	Hartner	01111100101111110111-15
W. Rider	11111001101111001110-14	Hess	01101010110010111000-10
Wesly	01000110010010101111-10	Tracey	01110110101110101111-14
Geo. Willy	11100110101111111111-16	Russell	11000011111111111111-16
R. Bond	11110111111010111001-15	Smith	11011100111011111111-16
Team total	—67	Team total	—71

ANNE ARUNDEL COUNTY TEAM NO. 2—HARMON GUN CLUB

Phelps	01110101101010001010-10	Baldwin	01110010110101110011-12
W. Hawkins	10100011111110001110-12
Cole	01101110011011111011-14	Team total	62
Shiply	01011110111111110001-14

EVENT No. 7.—10 single targets each man, $1 entrance, three moneys: I. Sullivan 6, R. Sullivan 4, Key 6, Williams 10, Tracey 3, Hartner 9, Bird 8, Vance 8, Price 5, Pratt 9, Carson 8, Bond 7, West 9, Franklin 7, Hiskell 3, Hesse 4, F. Sullivan 5, Starr 8, Gent 8, J. Sullivan 6, Lupus 8, Cockey 6, Kolb 4, Bird 6, Jack 7, Hiskell 2, Cassard 8, Sullivan 8.

EVENT No. 8 —5 birds, 25 cents entrance, then miss and out: Gent 3, Stow 4, Cockey 3, Wankler 3, West 2, Eisenbauer 2, J. Sullivan 4, Hartner 4, Williams 4, Vance 2, Devall 5, Hood 5, Bird 3, Cassard 3, Cockey 2, I. Sullivan 3, J. Sullivan 2, George 3.

EVENT No. 9.—10 siugles per man, $1 entrance, three moneys: Bird 10, Williams 9, F. Sullivan 6, Gent 8, Cockey 6, Vance 8, Hood 6, Devall 8, Hartner 8, Stow 10, Cassard 3.

W. T. CLEMENT, Secy.

ROCKAWAY POINT ROD AND GUN CLUB

NEW YORK.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—The above named club held its monthly shoot at Rockaway Park as usual. The club entertained the visiting sportsmen in good style with a solid, if not fancy, dinner, and the boys went home in a happy frame of mind, for the better shots were so handicapped that they did not win much Following are the guns, shells and loads used by contestants: Schorty, Parker and E. C; Woods, Smith, U. M, C. and Schulize; Smythe, Greener, U. M. C. and Wood; Wash, Greener, U. M. C. and E. C.; Tiernan, Daly, U. M. C. and E. C.; Major Spott, Clabrough, U. M. C. and E. C.; McKenna, Smith, Climax and black; Lyons, Lefever, U. M. C. and E. C.; J. H. Voss, Smith, U. M. C. and Du Pont; H. W. Voss, Westley Richards, U. M. C. and Du Pont; Loeble, Greener, U. M. C. and Schultze; Mackin, Smith, U. M. C. and Du Pont: Heyer, Lefever, U. M. C. and E. C.; Clifton, Clabrough, U. M. C. and E. C.: See. Lefever, Rapid and E. C.; Crawford, Greener, U. M. C. and E. C.

The highest average for all events was made by Schorly, with Wash just one per cent. behind, but Crawford, with his machine-load of 40 grains of E. C. in U. M. C. shells, made them all walk a chalk line when he appeared on the scene. This was the final regular contest of the season, and the consolnation of a Parker gun. Rapid cases and E. C. powder has won the highest average every time at the regular contests since October last. Scores as follows:

EVENT No. 1.—10 single Empires, known angles.

Schorty	1111111110—9	Wash	1111111111-10
Woods	1111101011—8	McKeuna	0111100110—6
Smythe	1101001010—5

EVENT No. 2.—Star sweep, re entry up lo aud including the sixth bird, then miss and out. Expert rules, indicator turned for every shot: Schorty 6, Woods 6, Smith 5, Wash 5.

EVENT No. 3.—Star sweep again: Schorty 10, Woods 10, Smythe 4, Wash 8.

EVENT No. 4 —Star sweep again: Schorty 9, Wash 8, Woods 7, Smythe 9, Tiernan 4.

EVENT No. 5.—Same as previous: Woods 3, Wash 7, Schorty 4, Smythe 4, Tiernan 3. Major Spott 5.

EVENT No. 6.—20 singles, expert rules,

Schorty	11110111111011011111-17	Major Spott—	11100111101001001001 11
Woods	11111010011011111111 16	McKenna	11000010011110101011-11
Smythe	11111111011110110010-15	Lindzey	01100111110
Wash	11100011011101101111-14	Scott	01010011110101001011-11
Tiernan	11011110110011011011-14

EVENT No. 7.—25 singles, known angles: Schorty 19, Wash 18, Crawford 23, McKenna 15.

EVENT No. 8.—25 singles, known angles, handicap added: Schorty (scratch) 17, Woods (scratch) 22, Smythe (2 added) 22, Wash (scratch) 24, Tiernan (scratch) 19, Spott (3 added) 23, McKenna (6 added) 20, Lyons (3 added) 21, J. H. Voss (3 addeo) 24, H. W. Voss (3 added) 24, Loeble (3 added) 20.

EVENT No. 9.—15 Empires, expert rules, no handicap: Schorty 15, Wash 12, Lyons 9, J. H. Voss 12, H. W. Voss 12, Loeble 11, McKenna 10, Mackin 5, Major Spott 10, Heyer 11.

EVENT No. 11.—25 singles, handicap added:

Schorty (scratch)	1111111010	1111111110	11111	22
Wash (scratch)	1110101111	1111111111	11111	—23
Spolt (1 added)	1101111111	1011011110	11101	—21
J. H. Voss (3 added)	1011101110	0101011100	01111	—19
H. W. Voss (3 added)	1111111110	1111111100	11110	—24
Lyons (3 added)	1111101111	0111100111	01011	—22
McKenna (6 added)	0100100101	0101001110	00111	—18
Loeble (5 added)	1111001100	1010011111	11110	—22
Lee (9 added)	1010000110	0001100001	00001	—17
Craw ord (scratch)	1111110101	1011111111	11110	—22
Clifton (5 added)	1011000011	1100011100	10101	—19

EVENT No. 11.—Sweep again, 6 birds, then miss and out, expert rules: Woods 6, Schorty 7, Smythe 7, Wash 5, Lyons 2, H. W. Voss 6. Loeble 4, J. H. Voss 5.

EVENT No. 12.—10 pairs Empires: Schorty 15, Wash 15, Loeble 11, Crawford 17, McKenna 9.

MANHATTA.

DUNNELLEN ROD AND GUN CLUBS TOURNAMENT

The first tournament of this, the latest addition to the ranks of New Jersey's many shooting organizations, was held at Dunnellen, N. J., on Friday of last week. The club promises to be a successful one, as it has a perfect equipment of electric pulls, traps and targets supplied by the Empire Target Company. The moving spirits of the organization are President J. G. Lindzey and Secretary T. W. Sisty, and, as both men are enthusiasts, the club is bound to go to the front. The entry list was not a large one, and it is hoped a better attendance will be seen at the next meeting. The scores follow:

EVENT No. 1.—10 single Empires, $1 entrance, everything known.

Keller	1111111111 10	Astfalk	1111001101—7
Van Dyke	1111011111—9	Smith	0111111111—9
Brantingham	1011111111—9	Lindzey	0110011110—6
Apgar	1111111111-10	Sisty	1110110111—8

EVENT No. 2.—10 singles, unknown angles: Keller 9, Van Dyke 9, Brantingham 9, Apgar 9, Astfalk 7, Smith 9, Sisty 8, Lindzey 6.

EVENT No. 3.—15 singles, unknown angles: Keller 12, Van Dyke 13, Brantingham 14, Apgar 15, Sisty 12, Smith 12, Lindzey 9, Astfalk 9.

EVENT No. 4.—20 singles, unknown angles: Keller 19, Van Dyke 19, Brantingham 13, Lindzey 15, Smith 20, Astfalk 18, Apgar 20.

EVENT No. 5.—20 singles, reversed trap: Keller 18, Van Dyke 19, Brantingham 11, Lindzey 14, Smith 16, Astfalk 10, Apgar 15.

EVENT No. 6.—10 singles, unknown augles: Keller 9, Van Dyke 10, Brantingham 8, Lindzey 8, Smith 9, Astfalk 7, Chamberlain 7, Sisty 8, Woodruff 6, Apgar 10, Campbell 9.

EVENT No. 7.—20 singles, known angles.

Keller.....1101111111111111111-19 | Astfalk 0110011110111010111-14
Van Dyke..1110111101111111111-18 | Apgar 1111111101111111111-19
Brantlugham— | Chamberlin—
11110110111111111117 | 01111111111111111119
Lludzey....1011111111010111010-15 | Woodruff...1111110111110110111-17
Smith..... .0001111111111111111-17 | H.Campbell1111111101111101111017

Event No. 8.—10 slugles, unknuowu angles: Keller 10, Van Dyke 7, Brantlngham 8, Lindzey 8, Smitb 9, Astfalk 7, Apgar 10, T. W. Sisty 5, Chamberlin 9.

Event No. 9.—10 singles per man, unknown angles: Keller 9, Van Dyke 9, Brantlngham 9, Liudzey 9, Smith 9, Astfalk 9, Apgar 10, Hebbard 7, Campbell 8, Chamberlin 8.

Event No. 10.—5 pairs each man.

Keller	10 11 11 11 11—5	Astfalk	10 10 11 11 11—8
Van Dyke	10 11 11 11 10—8	Sisty	01 00 00 11 10—4
Brantlngham	01 10 10 11 11—7	D. Terry	01 11 11 10 10—7
Liudzey	00 01 00 00 10—2	Apgar	10 11 11 11 10—8
Smith	10 11 00 10 11—6

Event No. 11.—10 single targets each man, unknown angles: Keller 9, Van Dyke 9, Brantlngham 10, Lindzey 8, Smith 9, Astfalk 6, D. Terry 6, Apgar 7, Hebbard 8.

Event No. 12.—15 singles, unknown angles: Keller 15, Van Dyke 15, Smith 14, Lindzey 12, Brantlngham 10, Hebbard 14, Apgar 12.

Event No. 13.—5 live birds, handicap rise, $3 entrance.

Yards		Yards		Yards
Woodruff	28..22022—4	Banuer	26..01111—4	Voorhees	30..10102—3
Keller	29..22121—5	Blodgett	25..10102—3	D. Terry	30..12211—5
Sisty	28..12121—5	Apgar	30..02111—4	Squires	28..11112—5
Russell	28 01002—2

Event No. 14.—Miss and out at live birds: Woodruff 10, Keller 5, Sisty 1, Russell 10, Bauner 10, Blodgett 4, Squires 10.

THE EUREKA GUN CLUB

The Eureka Gun Club, one of the strongest clubs in point of numbers, as well as in shootlug strength, in Chicago, held its third regular weekly shoot on Saturday last, and, though the attendance was not as large as it will be later in the season, the number present was not by any means small enough to make matters uninteresting. The Eurekas believe in shooting and they can usually be depended on to throw from 1,200 to 1,500 in an afternoon, and if a man keeps in the swim from start to finish he will know by the time the afternoon is ended that he has had some shooting. The scores made last Saturday were as follows:

Shoot No. 1.—25 single targets, known trap, unknown angles: C. E. Willard 19, Steck 14, Skinner 16, Cummings 22, Carson 15, Bingham 20, Jones 16, Stannard 22, DeWolf 11, Thornburg 17, Glover 11, Ellicott (w) 11.

Shoot No 2.—Same in all particulars as preceding: Willard 20, Steck 16, Skinner 16, Cummings 20, Carson 18, Bingham 19, Jones 15, Stannard 16, Thornburg 15, Glover 15, Ellicott 17.

Shoot No. 3.—Trophy contest, 25 single targets per man, known trap, unknown angles, rapid fire.

CLASS A

Willard	1111111110 0011110100 11100—17
Steck	1111100101 0011101111 11111—18
Bingham	1010111111 1011101111 10011—19
Stannard	1110110101 0111111011 11111—20
Ellicott	1110111111 1101111110 10100—19

CLASS B

Carson	0010101010 0111011001 11111—15
De Wolf	0001001000 1110000000 00001— 6
Glover	0101011110 1011111011 01011—17

CLASS C

Joues	1011011111 1110011100 01000—15
Thornburg	0001001010 1011111100 00010—11
*Skluner	1101111111 0101100101 00100—15
*Cummings	1011101111 1010101101 01111—18
*Thompson	1010001111 0111111000 11001—15
*Cleaver	0011010100 0101111110 00000—11

*Visitors.

Shoot No. 4.—Same as all the rest: Willard 17, Ellicott 20, Stannard 21, Bingham 20, Carson 17, Cummings 18, Skinner 17, Joues 12, Thompson (w) 10.

Shoot No. 5.—Same thing over again: Willard 15, Ellicott 18, Stannard 16, Glover 17, Jones 15, Thompson (w) 5, Bingham 20.

Extra No. 1.—6 pairs between Glover and Jones: Glover 7, Jones 9.

KEYSTONE LEAGUE VS. CLIMAX GUN CLUB

The second of the series of matches between the Keystone Shooting League, of Philadelphia, and the Climax Gun Club, of Plainfield, N. J., was shot on the grounds of the Keystones at Holmesburg Junction, April 16. The first match at Plainfield was won by the Climax club by a margin of 6 birds. This time the Quakers turned the tables on the Jerseymen. At the outset the Keystone men took a commanding lead, their first squad of five men killing 21 to the Climax men 16. From this point on the Climax boys kept picking up a bird until on the fourteenth round they tied the score. Each team then alternated in the lead to the finish. The birds were a good fast lot and averages of both teams were good. The visitors were royally entertained and an elaborate collation was served in the dining room of the club house. The decisive match is to be shot at Yardville, N. J., on April 29 or 30, each team to present fifteen men. The team race was refereed by Jacob Pentz. The scores:

KEYSTONE SHOOTING LEAGUE'S TEAM		CLIMAX GUN CLUB'S TEAM
W. Wolstencroft—	22*22212222*222—13	W. Fred Quimby—	22*22212222*222—13
	0222222222202222—13	S. Terry	2202*20122122 2—12
J. Leamiug	2222221212220111—14	M. F. Liudsley	0022022222222222—12
J. Rothacker	2*22222*2020221—11	C. Smith	0222*2222210221—12
W. Wilson	1222212222222212—15	E. M. Cooper	0122222222222222—14
J. Wolstencroft—	0*2221011201122—11	C. Zwerlein	1121221212022222—14
		W. Sigler	120112*1112*212—12
G. Bergner	2222222022202222—13	F. Van Dyke	2211212222222022—14
Will Pack	2222222222220222—11	T. H. Keller	221222*2022212*—12
I. Wolstencroft—	2222222222222220—14	D. Terry	2222211221200 21—13
		A. Woodruff	211212*12222222—14
I. W. Budd	2222220222222022—13	Neaf Apgar	2211112111102 12—14
H. Thurman	*2110112210222 2—12
Al Rust	2200211111222222—13	Team total	156
H. Febriger	1121222211122222—15
Team total	158

In the team contest there was also an optional sweepstake of $5, which all except Febringer participated in and in which the following gentlemen shot:

G. Giberson	2022121222212 01—14	W. H. Pack	2222221012222222—14
"Tampa"	022*1202220222 2—11

PEEKSKILL VS NEW UTRECHT

The defeat of the New Utrecht Gun Club by a team from the Peekskill Gun Club, at Woodlawn park, was somewhat of a surprise to many who knew the shooting strength of the two clubs. The teams consisted of twelve men each. Halstead and Higginson of the Peekskill club were credited with clean scores and three men made but a single miss. Nine was the highest on the New Utrecht side, Captain Money and T. Phister each making this score. At the end of the first round the visitors were two birds behind. The score was even at the end of the second round. From then on the Peekskill marksmen took and kept the lead and finished with birds to spare. No less than fourteen dead out of bounds were credited to the New Utrechts. Phister was the only man who did not have at least one star added to his score. The Peekskill men had five dead out of bounds. The birds were lively and the bright weather made it a perfect day for shooting. The visitors were met at the Grand Central depot, New York, by some of the New Utrecht members. Lunch was served upon their arrival at the grounds. A return match will be shot early in May. The scores:

PEEKSKILL CLUB		NEW UTRECHT CLUB
Halstead	1211111121-10	Captain Money	2222212*12—9
Higginson	22*2122122-10	Phisler	2212202222—9
Taylor	0212221222—9	Deacon	0*22222122—8
Horton	0212122121—9	J. Meyer	2222202*222—8
Perry	1222022212—9	C. Furgueson Jr.	0222220*22—7
Kissam	2102220121—8	C. Furguesou 3rd	2121220*20—7
Daiu	1012212102—8	G. Cropsey	1202*22201—7
Southard	2110222*10—7	C. Meyer	2*20022202—6
Livingston	0222020220—6	T. Keller	10222222—6
Likely	02201222—6	Lair	221002*2*2—6
Loder	0122*10020—5	G. Nostrand	0202*22201—6
Everinghim	0120210*002—5—92	C. Plate	*12012*100—5—84

*Dead out of bounds.

A number of sweepstakes were shot after the team contest was finished, but as we are crowded for space this week and the sweeps are of the ordinary kind we give the room to something of more importance.

THE CITY GUN CLUB'S INITIAL SHOOT

Los Angeles, Cal.

Editor American Field:—The first meeting of the new City Gun Club of this city, at its grounds on the Ballerina place, south of Westlake Park, on April 7, brought together over thirty of the best sportsmen of Los Angeles. The day was perfect and the sport greatly enjoyed. Admittance to the grounds was free, consequently the attendance of spectators large, making the meeting in every particular a grand success.

The first event was a pool at 10 live birds for which there were ten entries. Unger took first money with nine birds; Tufts, Shumacher and A. Ralph divided second money with eight birds each, and James, Robertson and L. Ralph divided third money with seven birds each. The score:

Unger	1211021112—9	Robertson	1022012212—7
Tutts	2202121201—8	L. Ralph	0012222021—7
Schumacher	2011012211—8	Nordholt	2020110011—6
A. Ralph	0221121120—8	Freeman	0002020111—5
James	2002222210—7	Benedict	0120002012—5

For the second event, a 5-bird match, there were eight entries. The winner turned up in the person of Monasco, who alone killed his five straight. The score: Monasco 5, Cline 4, Chanslor 4, James 4, Schumacher 3, Robertson 3, Freeman 3, Stevens 3.

The birds provided were a remarkably fast lot, and, taking into consideration the fact that this was the first shoot of the season, the scores were very creditable. In view of the demand for live birds for the coming tournament, the remainder of the day's sport was confined to inanimate Blue Rocks.

The third event, a 10-bird match, with fourteen entries, was carried off by Katz, with 8, the other scores being: Sherlock 7, Bell 6, Hauser 5, Monasco 5, Nordholt 5, De Jarnatt 1, Eachus 4, Schauck 4, Freeman 3, Funk 2, Binford 2, Stoll 2, Osgoodby 2.

Another match at 10 birds resulted as follows: G. Ralph 10, Malfield 9, Benedict 9, Unger 8, L. Ralph 8, Nordholt 8, Tufts 8, Katz 8, Sherlock 7, Funk 4, Bell 4, Degarnel 4, Stoll 2, Wright 1, Binford 0.

Several other interesting events were shot during the afternoon, and the enthusiasm exhibited in the day's sport augurs well for the success of the forthcoming tournament.

Sawbill.

THE AUDUBON GUN CLUB

The members of the above named club held their regular monthly club contest for monthly prizes and yearly averages, at Watson's park, Burnside, on Wednesday of last week, seven men participating. The club event is at 15 live birds each man, but to place the less expert members more nearly on an equality with the better shots, and thus give all a chance to win the monthly trophy, a certain number of dead birds are added to the scores of the less expert shots, and then if it is seen that the handicap given is too great, the handicap at the next monthly shoot is lessened. In this way the club hopes to keep up the interest in the monthly contests and also to improve, by practice, the work of all. As will be seen by the scores appended, Mr. J. W. McCauley, who had four dead birds added to his score, and Mr. J. M. Gillespie, with two birds added to his score tie for the trophy, scoring with the birds added, 15 each, and beating some of the better shots in the club who were given a smaller handicap or required to shoot as "scratch" men. The tie between these men was shot off at the original number of birds, each getting the same handicap as in the original contest, and the result was that Mr. McCauley, who made the smaller score in the original contest, made the better one in the tie and won the trophy. The scores in full, with the number of dead birds added to each man's score, are given below:

	Birds added		Birds added
Heath	4..2002021002201 01-12	Frothingham	1..1010122102000 20—9
Hamline	0..0220220022022w—8	Kern	3..2002211002220 10-12
Place	0..0010010w—2	McCauley	4..1122222200021 20-15
Parker	3..1102011000201 12-12	Gillespie	2..2211210221202 12-15
Ties on 15:
McCauley	4..0012200220002 20-12	Gillespie	2..0002200220020w—5

TRAP AT SANTA ANA

Santa Ana, Cal.

Editor American Field:—The following scores were made here in a contest for the challenge gold medal emblematical of the championship of Orange County.

Event No. 1.—25 single Blue Rocks, known traps, unknown angles, $2.50 entrance.

Parker	1100110110 0000111011 01000—12
Griswold	0100110010 0100111000 10001—10
Mason	0101111110 0111110010 11111—18
Vaughan	0101111111 1111110001 01011—18
Pride	1110101111 1010011011 01001—16

Masou and Vaughan tied and in the shoot-off Vaughan scored 5 straight, Mason 4 out of 5. Vaughan was immediately challenged and the time for the match was set for Saturday, April 27, open to all shooters of Orange County upon the payment of their pro rata of $10, which goes to the person who won the medal at the preceding shoot.

Event No. 2.—Sweepstakes. 10 singles, 50 cents entrance: Parker 6, Mason 6, Pride 4, Vaughan 3, Griswold 4, Caldwell 7.

Event No. 3.—Same as preceding: Mason 6, Pride 7, Parker 6, Caldwell 4, Griswold 4, Vaughan 6, Williams 4.

Event No. 4.—Same as before.

Parker	1000101110—6	Pride	1111000110—6
Griswold	1011010000—4	Caldwell	0111110111—8
Mason	1111111011—9	Vaughan	1111110101—8
Wilson	1011100101—6	Williams	0011000110—4

Event No. 5.—Same: Pride 5, Wilson 4, Griswold 6, Caldwell 3, Mason 6, Parker 10.

Jim.

EMERALD GUN CLUB

New York.

Editor American Field:—Inclosed please find scores made by members of the Emerald Gun Club at their April shoot. The birds were good and there was a fair wind. Class AA shot at 30 yards rise, Class A at 28 yards, and Class B at 25 yards. Scores to count on yearly averages.

CLASS AA—30 YARDS

J. H. Voss	2111120121—9	L. H. Bluff	2202201102—7
R. Woods	1200222112—8	L. C. Gehring	2010211020—6

CLASS A—28 YARDS

Dr. G. V. Hudson	1212211121-10	Wm. Levens	2202112022—8
O. Mulcahey	2111121122-10	Dr. Leveridge	*221112101—8
J. H. Richmond	1*11211122—9	F. W. Place	1212212200—8
E. Bell	1202212112—9	Gus Nowak	2221101020—7
J. Maesel	1122112022—9	E. Vroome	1021220210—7
T. Short	1022211121—9	T. Cody	2200111110—7
G. E. Plummer	2210112211—9	C. W. Wash	2202102102—7
P. Butz	2211220202—8	J. Woellel	0020110220—5
H. P. Fessenden	112*102112—8	W. Hartye	0101101002—5
J. H. Moore	2201122201—8

CLASS B—25 YARDS

N. Maesel	1100212202—7	Dr. Klein	1100212001—6
C. Charles	1021020211—7	F. C. Hamilton	2111010100—6
R. Regan	1120222100—7	W. J. Amend	0020000220*—3
C. Maesel	0200202111—6

Scott Hammerless.

PLAINWELL VS. GALESBURG

Plainwell, Mich.

Editor American Field:—I send you herewith the scores made in the return team race between teams of six men each from the Galesburg and Plainwell gun clubs, each man shooting at 25 single targets. This match was shot on the grounds of the Plainwell club, on April 11, and as the reader will observe was won by the home team by the narrow margin of one bird.

GALESBURG GUN CLUB'S TEAM

John Vosburg	1111101101 1111110111 01101—19
Harry Vosburg	1111111111 1011100111 11101—21
O. Hill	0010110110 1000100100 00110—10
F. W. Franklin	1101111111 1111111110 11101—22
Oliver Carson	0110101100 1011011001 10100—13
Wm. Barber	0010011101 0000100011 00100— 9—94

PLAINWELL GUN CLUB'S TEAM

O. F. Burroughs	1111111011 1111010111 01111—21
E. J. Anderson	1101010101 1111101111 01011—18
R. L. Soule	1111111111 1111111111 00111—23
S. B. Negus	1100101101 10010011
Chas. Machemer	0010011101 0110000
John Madden	1100111000 1010[illegible]

Sa[illegible]

WELSH—SCHMECK

In the second of the series of matches arranged between Robert A. Welsh of the Riverton Gun Club of Philadelphia and James E. Schmeck of Reading, Pa., shot on April 11, Mr. Welsh won the race by 8 birds, his score out of 100 being 80 to Mr. Schmeck's 72. The scores in full are:

Welsh	1121120221 1120222222 2220121022 2220222122 2000022020
	1220222222 2222222221 0221122122 2110111220 21212	—80
Schmeck	1110222122 0220022220 2112221202 0112202202 2122222202
	2122000022 1222222212 2220222002 2202022222 2201	—72

New Orleans, La.—The first shoot of the season of 1895 of the Louisiana Gun Club took place at the club's grounds, Bayou Bridge, on April 15. The weather was propitious, and in the prize shoot thirteen members faced the score, a fair attendance. The scores are only fair, owing, perhaps, half to lack of practice since August, and half to the traps, which were screwed up to the last notch by our ambitious captain. All shot at 25 singles, known trap, unknown angles, with added birds adjudged by the committee to each shooter according to his respective shooting ability. Mr. W. F. Miller, with five allowed, won first, and also the heat for the trophy to be awarded at the end of the season; and, strange to remark, even without his allowance, made the best score of the day. Mr. Edgar Nott won second, and Messrs. More, De Blanc and Harris tied for third. The guns used were five Smith, two Parker and one each of Colt, Pieper, Lefever, Burgess, Triumph and Greener, while almost one and all used E. C. powder in Smokeless shells. The scores follow:

	Birds allowed
Chaudet	0..	1101111110 1101110000 11111—18
Jefferson	1..	1100111110 1010011101 11110—18
Saxon	1..	0100111101 0011011100 01101—15
More	3..	0110101110 1111111011 01011—21
W. Miller	5..	1111011001 1111110111 11101—25
Benedict	3..	0011011111 1011011110 11001—20
Nelson	4..	1011010010 0010010000 11111—16
De Blanc	4..	0110101111 0011101111 01110—21
Edgar Nott	3..	1100111111 1111001111 01011—22
Saucier	3..	0001110010 0100111011 11111—18
Nuber	0..	1010011100 1000000000 01000—17
McMurdo	4..	1100010111 0111001110 01010—18
Harris	5.	1100111111 0100011011 01101—21

Percy S. Benedict, Secy.

Newburg, N. Y.—The scores which follow were made on the grounds of the Newburg Gun Club on April 11:

Shoot No. 1.—10 single targets per man: Higginson 10, Stansbrough 10, Wood 7, Taylor 8, Likely 8, Mitchell 6.

Shoot No. 2.—25 single targets per man.

Higginson	1011110111 1111111111 01111—22
Taylor	0111111111 1111101111 11111—23
Mitchell	1000110111 0001010111 11101—15
Wood	0011101111 1101100110 11111—18
Stansbrough	1111111110 1111111001 11111—22
Likely	1010111010 0011010000 11110—13

Shoot No. 3.—Live birds for practice, 10 each man: Higginson 8, Taylor 10 Likely 7, Patton 8, Mitchell 8, Taggart 8, Stansbrough (w) 3, Wood (w) 3.

Shoot No. 4.—Live birds again, 5 per man: Higginson 4, Patton 2, Mitchell 3, Taggart 5.

Shoot No. 5.—Prize contest, 25 targets per man, dead bird handicap given.

	Birds allowed
Higginson	0..	1111101111 1111111111 11111—24
Stansbrough	3..	1111111111 1011111111 10100—24
Wood	5..	1011110011 0001001110 00101—18
Taylor	0..	1111111111 1111001111 01111—22
Likely	3..	0111101111 1001100101 10101—19
Mitchell	2..	1110011111 1010101011 01111—20
Taggart	4..	0101011111 1000001111 01110—19

B.

Adams, Neb.—Scores as given below were made by members of the Adams Gun Club on April 15, a "dead bird" handicap being given to the less expert members:

Shoot No. 1.—20 single targets per man, the number of "dead birds" allowed the less expert members being that many scored killed out of the 20, and the member to shoot at the remaining number.

	Dead birds
Galloway	10	.0011000010—14
Whyman	8..	1010011000 10—13
Horram	10..	1011100010—15
Linderman	0..	1110011111 1110111111—17

Shoot No. 2.—Same as preceding, except that Whyman was given ten "dead" in this event: Linderman (0) 18, Galloway (10) 15, Whyman (10) 14, Horram (10) 16. The figures in parentheses indicate number of dead birds scored killed.

Shoot No. 3.—Same as before: Linderman (0) 20, Galloway (10) 16, Whyman (10) 15, Horram (10) 14.

Shoot No. 4.—20 single targets, unknown angles: Linderman (0) 16, Whyman (10) 16, Horram (12) 16.

Shoot No. 5.—Same as preceding: Linderman (0) 17, Whyman (12) 16, Horram (13) 17.

Messrs. Whyman and Horram are beginners, having prior to this time had little experience at the trap. Their scores will be much better as they become more accustomed to the work.

C. D. Linderman.

Newark, N. J.—Inclosed please find scores made in a high wind, on April 10, by members of the Walsrode Gun Club of this city, after a six weeks' rest on account of the work of overhauling and enlarging the club house and making other improvements on the grounds. Hereafter the club will hold its regular monthly shoots on the second Wednesday in each month. Practice shoots will be held every Saturday afternoon. These events were all at 10 single targets per man except the last two, which were at 5 pairs of targets each. Empire targets were used.

	Nos. 1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
Schork	4	5	5	5	2	5	.	..	..	..
Relbold	8	5	7	7	7	8	6	7	3	6
Leuthaeuser	8	7	7	6	6	5	10	8	5	5
Winters	9	6	9	8	7	5	7	7	4	..
Yung	5	7	7	..	6	7	4	9	7	5
Blitz	5	6	6	6	6	5	4	..	..	..
Ludecke	7	5	10	5	5	6	8	..	..	..
Perment	..	..	9	8	8	7	9	7	6	6
Hassinger	..	..	..	..	..	6	7	10	8	8	5	7
Rist	..	..	..	..	..	3	7	7	7	5	5	7
Reinhardt	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	4	5	3
Farley	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	8	5	..
Roth	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	7	7	.

Henry Reinhardt, Manager.

Hastings, Neb.—Scores as follows were made at the trophy shoot of the Hastings Gun Club on April 12. Each man shot at 30 single targets, the weaker shooters being given a handicap of "dead birds." The figures following immediately after the name indicate the number of birds added to each man's score.

	Birds allowed
McKinney	9..	1111111110 0011111011 1101110110—30
Pratt	9..	1000110010 1011011011 0000100110—23
Kinney	5..	1100111111 1001010101 1110111111—27
Walradt	5..	0111010110 1011011001 1101100111—24
Bernhard	6..	1111100110 0111101001 0100060010—21
Duer	0..	1111111111 1110111111 1111111111—29
Fleming	1..	1111011111 0011100111 1011110111—24

W. S. D.

Sanford, Fla.—Scores as given below were made [illegible] the members of the Gate City Gun Club of this place [illegible] shooting at 25 single Blue Rock targets:

R. D. Cantler	1111111111 1111111100 1011—[illegible]
G. H. Marshall	1101110100 0011111111 11[illegible]
F. B. Bruce	1010111111 0010111111 0[illegible]
J. P. Anderson	0101010111 1111011111 1011—[illegible]
J. A. Miller	0000010001 1111110011 1110—[illegible]
D. J. Bell	0001100110 1100001001 10101—11

S. G. Smith .....1011000110 0101110001 01011—13
S. J. Bell .....1000100110 0001010011 00011—10
W. B. Wardell .....1000101010 1101111001 11011—15
....1111101101 1010110000 01011—15
MILLER BROS.

LE. The members of the Franklin Gun Club ... esday of each week for a silver medal, th... gle targets from five unknown traps, and the m... score wears the medal for a week, or until the next contest. The scores made on April 17 were as follows:

Rox .....1111010111 1011101001 11101—18
Baker .....0110101001 1100000100 11001—11
Mac .....0010111101 0000010110 00110—11
Harwood .....1110100111 0000111100 10111—15
Smith .....1011110111 1110110001 11111—19
Winscott .....0111110110 1110011110 11101—18
WM. M. MCCLEERY.

Answers to Correspondents

We are willing always to answer any question that we can answer, and prescribe for dogs or other animals in these columns, but we can not answer questions or prescribe by mail. In all instances where it is necessary that a sick animal should be prescribed for by mail, we refer the owner to Professor R. J. Withers, No. 627 South Main Street, Los Angeles, Cal., to whom one dollar must be inclosed to pay for his services.

KENNEL

F. A. C., Flatonia, Tex.—(1) What is the cheapest and safest cure for sarcoptic mange? (2) How must I treat the ground, in a large pen (50 by 100 feet), where a mangy dog has been a few days before detected? (3) Are the surroundings of a pen liable to infection by the hair of mangy dogs blowing over? (4) How must I treat dogs in adjoining pens to prevent the disease from spreading? Please answer in next issue, if possible. I have thirty dogs and am taking precautions to prevent spread, as I have several cases now; the AMERICAN FIELD puts me right every time. Ans.—Wash the dog with warm water and Castile soap, and afterward apply all over the body the following ointment: Sulphur sub. eight ounces, whale-oil eight ounces, oil of tar one half ounce, unguentum hydrarg. one-half ounce; mix thoroughly before using; put on a muzzle to prevent licking, and after three days wash off and repeat treatment. In obstinate cases a third application may be necessary. (2) During or just after a rainfall sprinkle fresh air-slaked lime all over the ground; whitewash the woodwork; repeat until all danger of contagion is past. (3) Yes. (4) Remove all dogs in adjacent pens, and treat them at once if the disease appears; cleanse pens thoroughly before using again.

V. W. McD., Atkinson, Neb.—Ans.—(1) Lo Faust is registered in Vol. III; her number is 4196. (2) Countess Vesta is not registered. (3) Donald's number in the English Stud Book is 8018, and in the American Stud Book 2879, he being registered in both; he was by Bob out of Lord Sefton's Sappho (his Sam—his Flirt); Bob, by Mr. Whitehouse's Hamlet (E. 876) out of Pearl, a sister of Bang (E. 739).

W. W. C., Dover, N. H.—Ans.—(1) Tempest (1799) was by Pontiac out of Fairy II (354); Pontiac, by Pride of the Border (191) out of Petrel (472). (2) Lilly (2070) was by Carlowitz (45) out of Princess Nelly (no breeding given). (3) May B, the dam of Gun (1618), was by Rake (212) out of Fanny (359). (4) Cannot find anything of him; there was a Claud (1494) by Coln (57) out of Jule (895).

M. B. S., Springfield, Mo.—Aus.—For six consecutive morning give suitable doses of castor-oil; apply the following for six consecutive days: Oil of tar eight ounces, sulphurous acid four ounces, fishoil to make one quart; rub in well, and give a bath on the seventh day. Feed but once daily, then at night. Repeat treatment if necessary.

A. W. Z., St. Paul, Minn.—Ans.—(1) No; you probably mean Countess White Barre E (19046), by Blue Count V (14009) out of Ice Palace Beauty (10261). (2) Royal Duke Gladiator (15003) is by Gladiator (3427) out of Western Queen (6417). (3) Western Queen (6417) is by Count Monarch (3362) out of Dashing Flora (3631).

J. L. S., Loraine, O.—Ans.—Your present letter does not agree with the first one, in which you did not intimate that you wished the pedigrees returned, nor did you send postage for same. We cannot print pedigrees for you, neither do we know what it will cost you to have one hundred copies printed.

A. M., Cleveland, O.—Ans.—This is a dietetic disturbance and its return depends entirely upon the system of dieting. Feed milk that has been sterilized, or milk that is sour; also turnips, cabbage, meat soups, some meat with stale bread or well-cooked cornmeal.

S. C. D., Philadelphia, Pa.—Ans.—After a fast of eighteen hours give one and one-half grains of powdered areca nut to each pound weight of the dog, following it in one hour with two ounces of castor-oil and fifteen drops of the fluid extract of cascara segrada.

D. S., Kansas City, Mo.—Ans.—(1) Write W. M. Everts, Topeka, Kans. (2) It is almost impossible to prevent them from striking their tails; the better plan to facilitate healing is to remove the irritated end, the soft tissue only, not the bone.

G. H. P., Batavia, ——. —Ans.—After a fast of eighteen hours give one and one-half grains of powdered areca nut to each pound weight of the dog, following in one hour with one and one-half ounces of castor-oil.

T. B. B., New York.—Ans.—We cannot prescribe for your dog, as you did not state his breed; owing to the urgency of the case, however, we advise you to consult a local veterinarian.

A. W. P., Kansas City, Mo.—Ans.—(1) Duchess of Kent (19153) is by King of Kent—Lonnie Bijou (13480). (2) Duchess of Naso (20326) is by Naso of Kippeu (5552)—Juno II (8011).

T. J. S., McGregor, Ia.—Are puppies whelped by a smooth-haired fox terrier, and sired by a wirehaired fox terrier, eligible to registration? Ans.—Yes.

L. P. H., Chicago.—Ans.—(1) Yes. (2) No. (3) No. (4) Fifty-three days. (5) We cannot foresee any reason beyond the usual liabilities.

S. C. E., Persia, Ia.—Ans.—(1) Duke Gladstone's number is 3410. (2) Araby Bey, not registered. (3) Black Nose II's number is 21622.

S. A. B., Mingo Junction, O.—Ans.—King Gladstone's number is 27367; he is by Antonio (19533) out of Princess Joy (15543).

NEMO, Pittsburg, Pa.—Ans.—The new office of the American Kennel Club is at 55 Liberty Street, New York.

I. E. J., Pittsburg, Pa.—Ans.—Secretary American Kennel Club, 55 Liberty Street, New York.

R. E. D., Hoquian, Wash.—Ans.—Have her spayed; the result undoubtedly will be beneficial.

J. A. G., Albany, N. Y.—Ans.—We cannot, as she is not registered.

MISCELLANEOUS

J. D. N., Rantoul, Ill.—(1) Where would be a good place, in Northern Wisconsin, to camp for a month or six weeks, after about October 1? I want all kinds of hunting and fishing; some small lake preferred, within fifty miles of Lake Michigan. (2) Is there any book on boat building that will give directions for making a sectional boat? (3) When is the closed season for trout and bass in Wisconsin? Ans.—(1) Address Mr. Henry P. Hamilton, Two Rivers, Wis., or Mr. W. E. Tyler, Green Bay, Wis. (2) Probably "Canoe and Boat Building," by W. P. Stephens, will give the information you desire. We can furnish it. Price two dollars. (3) By the Wisconsin law of 1893, the close season for trout of all kinds is September 1 to May 1 next succeeding; for all varieties of bass, from January 1 to June 1 in each year. A bill now pending in the legislature, if passed, will make the close season as follows: Trout, August 1 to April 1; black bass, March 1 to June 1.

G. K. H., Manhattan, Kan.—Where can I obtain wild rice seed and get the necessary information as to how and when to sow it and how to cultivate it to insure its growth? Ans.—Write either R. Valentine, Janesville, Wis., or Chas. Gilchrist, Port Hope, Ontario. They will furnish you the seed and give you all the information needed as to how and when to sow it.

J. A. F., Huntingdon, Pa.—Will wild rice grow in this climate or are the Winters here too severe? Ans.—We should think it would, for it does grow in localities where the weather is quite as severe as in Pennsylvania.

TRAP

W. H. B., Helena, Mont.—In shooting at targets, a shooter goes to the score forgetting to load his gun. A target is thrown and broken by the trap and the shooter snaps at one of the pieces. How should it be scored, "no bird" or "lost bird?" Ans.—"No bird." It was the shooter's good luck that the target was broken by the trap, for had the target been a perfect one he would have suffered the penalty for not having his gun loaded.

C. F. G., Seattle, Wash.—(1) Which is the best adapted for pigeon shooting, the Antwerps or English Blue Rock pigeon? (2) Which of the two breed the most successfully? (3) Where and at what price can I secure them? Ans.—(1) The English blue rock. (2) Cannot say. (3) We know of no one in this country who has them for sale.

COURSING

F. B. C., Huron, S. D.—Ans.—Lady Pembrooke (late Slender) is by Lamping (late Christmas Day) out of My Cleopatra; Lamping, by MacPherson (Master Sam—Annie MacPherson) out of Christmas Box (Donald—Wild Norah); My Cleopatra, by Cæsar (Clyto—Hermitage) out of My Ptarmigan (Michael Patrick—Mer de Glace). We have had several inquiries for list of names and addresses of nominators for the American Waterloo Cup; kindly send same for publication as soon as possible.

NATURAL HISTORY

J. R. B., Newport, R. I.—Please inform me through the columns of the AMERICAN FIELD what is the commercial value of alligator hides. Being familiar with localities where alligators abound I am thinking of going in for killing them for their hides. Ans.—Address R. G. Salomon, Newark, N. J. He is one of the largest alligator hide tanners in America.

GAME AND SHOOTING

M. M., York, Pa.—If a gun is chambered for a 2⅞-inch shell will it shoot a 2⅝-inch shell and do just as good work? Ans.—If the shoulder of the chamber is tapered you will hardly notice any difference, but if the shoulder is an abrupt cut-off the shell that fits the chamber will give the best pattern, one shot with another.

Club Elections

CLUB ELECTIONS.—Secretaries and other officers of clubs not having previously done so will confer a favor by sending us the names of all such organizations, with a list of the officers elected for the current year.

AT the annual meeting of Soo Gun Club of Sioux City, Ia., held April 15, the officers of the past year were elected for the ensuing year, to wit: President, C. C. Hamilton; vice-president, W. P. Keefe; secretary, C. E. Ellis; treasurer, John Otten; captain, C. E. Ellis; executive board, C. C. Hamilton, Geo. F. Wheelock, John Elder, Ed. Brott and Mike Dineen.

THE Missoula Rod and Gun Club of Missoula, Mont., has elected the following gentlemen officers of the club for the ensuing year: President, J. M. Evans; vice-president, W. P. Bayton; secretary, Will Cave; treasurer, F. P. Kern; field captain, Joe Menard; executive committee, Robert Rogers, W. H. Mace and Frank Woody.

AT the annual meeting of the Onondaga County Sportsmen's Club of Syracuse, N. Y., the following members were elected officers for the current year: President, A. C. Ginty; vice-president, Dan Walters; secretary, John Stedman; treasurer, James Montgomery; executive committee, William Prettie, Harry Ayling and N. Ayres.

ON April 13 the Yellow Bank Fishing Club of Cincinnati, O., held a meeting and elected the following officers: President, Joseph Kennedy; vice-president, Edward Leonard; treasurer, M. Newhoff; secretary, Jacob Dewald; sergeant at arms, James A. Burke; directors, Harry Schaefer, Joseph Ackermann, William Wiechering.

THE following gentlemen have been elected officers of the Central Gun Club, of Duluth, Minn., for the ensuing year: President, J. W. Nelson; vice-president, Dr. M. R. Metcalf; secretary, H. L. Heisler; treasurer, L. A. Gunderson; field captain, Dr. D. H. Day; lieutenant, H. Owens.

AT the annual meeting of the Arapahoe (Neb.) Gun Club the following gentlemen were elected officers for the ensuing year: President, W. A. McGee; secretary, J. W. Dew; treasurer, T. W. Hayde; board of directors, W. A. McGee, J. W. Dew and Cyrus Horton.

AT the annual meeting of the Highland Gun Club of Moline, Ill., the following officers were elected for the current year: President, James Rosborough; vice-president, J. A. Mauzy; secretary, F. H. Bein; treasurer, John F. Lindvall; captain, William Walter.

AT the organization recently of the Summer Gun Club of Chicago, the following officers were elected for 1895: President, Walter Dupee; secretary-treasurer, Henry P. Stone; directors, Paul Stone, Walter Dupee, P. F. Stone, T. L. Parker and L. J. Stone.

THE Youngstown (O.) Gun Club has elected the following gentlemen officers of the club for the ensuing year: President, Mark Weakland; vice-president, Al. W. Jones; secretary and treasurer, W. R. Graham; captain, H. C. Fry.

OFFICERS for the ensuing year of the Dasher Island (Ill.) Gun Club are as follows: President, S. McMillan; secretary-treasurer, F. E. Abbey; directors, I. J. Rodman, John Weir and Len Hedges.

AT the annual meeting of the Red Hook (N. Y.) Gun Club the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Geo. H. Cramer; secretary, R. J. Carroll; treasurer, John W. Bain.

Information Wanted

THE last issue of the AMERICAN FIELD contained a most interesting article entitled "Crane Shooting Extraordinary." The writer did not give a detailed description of this "Arctic crane," and we fail to find it in any of our books on natural history. A small company of local sportsmen, and readers of the AMERICAN FIELD, will feel grateful to any sportsman or naturalist who will tell us, through the columns of our favorite journal, all there is to know about this "great snow crane," single specimens of which sometimes weigh 150 pounds, Mr. Richard E. Chandler states.

Salem, Va. L. C.

Amusements

SCHILLER THEATER.—"Prince Pro Tem," last seven nights of this brilliant comic opera success. Next Sunday evening, April 28, that accomplished American actress, Marie Wainwright, and her New York company of admirable players commence a special engagement of one week. This favorite actress, one of the acknowledged stars of the emotional and society drama upon the American stage, will be seen in her realistic and intensely interesting drama, "Daughters of Eve," by A. E. Lancaster and Julian Magnus, the playwright and journalist, who achieved so great a success in the popular play "Conscience" some years ago. "Daughters of Eve" has been a success from the first. Miss Wainwright, in her exceptionally strong double character, that of the two sisters—Rose Wycherly and Rhoda Daintry—it is generally acknowledged has achieved the crowning triumph of her brilliant dramatic career. The play has been so immensely popular that next Monday evening, April 29, marks its 200th performance, consecutively, this season, and the occasion will be recognized as a souvenir event at the Schiller, when every lady in the audience will be presented with a pretty souvenir, a personal ornament made of sterling silver.

ROYAL ENGLISH WINTER CIRCUS AND GERMAN WATER CARNIVAL.—The greatest show on earth. This week Jules Levy, the unexcelled cornet player, and the famous bronze statues, finishing with the unapproachable water carnival.

COLUMBIA THEATER.—Chauncey Olcott, the very best of all singing comedians, in the romantic play, "The Irish Artist." Usual matinees. Next week—The great comedian, James T Powers, "The New Boy."

CHICAGO OPERA HOUSE.—Great success of Canary & Lederer's artistic travesty, "The Passing Show," bubbling over with wit and mirth. Next week, as an additional attraction, the Frantz Family, from New York.

HAYMARKET THEATER.—Wonderful success, in the gem theater of the West Side, of the "Greater Shenandoah." Usual matinees. Next week, Chauncey Olcott.

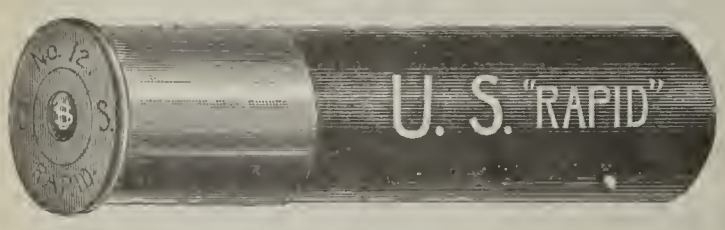
MADISON STREET OPERA HOUSE.—Sam T. Jack's Folly Co., burlesque and pictures; see the perfect woman here. Two performances daily.

MCVICKER'S THEATER.—Joseph Arthur's latest success, a story of love and hypnotism, "Linsey Woolsey." Usual matinees.

THE LINCOLN.—Herbert Cawthorn, in the hilariously funny comedy, "A Cork Man." Next week, "Young Mrs. Winthrop."

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—Immense public approval of Hoyt's new farce-comedy, "A Black Sheep." Usual matinees.

U. S. RAPID



SHOT SHELL

FOR NITRO POWDERS.

Penetration increased with pattern 15 per cent improved. Results same with every shell. None so regular ever produced before. Head of shell and battery cup one piece of metal. No gas escape, no balling of shot, no upsetting of charge.

AGENTS:
... New York City.
..., San Francisco, Cal.

U. S. CARTRIDGE CO., Lowell, Mass.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS

Advertisers are respectfully requested to observo the following rules governing the insertion of advertisements in these columns:

CLASSIFICATION.—Strictly kennel advertisements—those which relate exclusively to dogs and to nothing else—cannot bo placed under headings of "For Saic" or "For Sale or Exchange," but are subject to classification only under their proper kennel headings. When two or more breeds of dogs are mentioned in one advertisement, it destroys the possibility of giving it a distinctive heading and it is therefore classified under "Miscellaneous." For this reason it is well to advertiso each breed separately.

If stud notices are included in advertisements of dogs for saio the classification given will be "Miscellaneous." Stud notices should be separate and distinct from other advertisements so as not to conflict with proper classification.

The departments of "For Sale" or "For Sale or Exchange" are reserved for advertisements relating in some way to sportsmen's goods or other articles of merchandise.

RATES.—The ratc for advertisements under "Wanted," "For Sale" or "For Sale or Exchange" is 3 cents per word each insertion. The name, address, initials and abbreviations are included and count as words.

The rate for advertisements under kennel headings is 25 cents per line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each additional consecutive insertion. Estimate seven words to a line unless the words are unusually long. If display type is used the rate is $3.50 per inch for the first insertion and $2.50 per inch for each additional consecutive insertion. Special rates are given for displayed advertisements running three months or longer. Schedule will be mailed on application.

Remittances to cover full cost should invariably accompany advertisements. If too much is remitted we will refund you what is overpaid.

Advertisers will favor us greatly by writing their advertisements plainly, using separate sheets of paper. Copy should reach us by Tuesday of each week to insure insertion in that week's issue.

WANTED

Advertisements under this head inserted for Three Cents for each word. The money must be sent with the advertisement. See "Notice to Advertisers."

WANTED—High-grade hammerless ejector shotgun, 12-bore, 30 inch barrels, full choke or modified right, 13¾ stock, 7 to 7½ pounds, must be new, or nearly new, and a bargain; Daly, Greener or Scott preferred; mail complete description and price. M., care AMERICAN FIELD, Chicago. 17*

WANTED—Dogs to board and condition at reasonable rates; references: write for circular. THE DIANA KENNELS, Knox, Ind., or WM. WERNER, 72 Bryant Ave., Chicago. 17*

WANTED—Second-hand 12-gauge hammerless trap shooting gun, standard make and in good condition, for cash. Address LOCK BOX 203, Wampum, Pa. 17*

POSITION as dog trainer, pheasant raiser or manager of club; life experience, A1 references. PROFESSIONAL, care AMERICAN FIELD, New York office. 17

WANTED—12-gauge automatic ejector gun; give full particulars, how long used, weight, drop of stock, etc. Address W. H. W., 7732 Wright St., Chicago. 17*

WANTED—Trainer in Livingston, Champaign or adjoining counties. CATHERINE STREET KENNELS, Ottawa, Ill. 17*

WANTED—A small launch using gas engine; must be in good condition and cheap. A. B. WHITE, Hanover, Ill. 17*

WANTED—Live pigeons; must be old birds; squabs not wanted. Address JOHN WATSON, Grand Crossing, Ill. 23-21-tf

WANTED—Sportsmen who want an outing to send for pamphlet of Nimrod Hall, Va. Apply MANAGER. 3*

COCKER SPANIEL—Must be well broken on partridge. F. L. McCAULEY, Rapid River, Mich. 17*

WANTED—Irish setter puppy. Write or inquire of V. R. McCOMAS, Manito, Ill. 17

LIVE foxes wauted. Address H. F. WARNEKE, Aiken, S. C. 43-11-tf

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE

Advertisements under this head (excepting Kennel advertisements, which must go under their proper department) inserted for Three Cents for each word. The money must be sent with the advertisement.

FOR SALE—Or exchange, Count Noble Jr. (Count Noble—Dell), perfectly broken, a grand sire, $50; cost $150 a year ago. Callie B (Gath's Mark—Dashing Lady), superb brood bitch, No. 1 nose, $40. Speed Gladstone, bluest of blue breeding, splendid brood bitch, heavily shot over, $50. Nellie, an old-timer, elegantly bred, has had at least 5,000 birds killed over her; large, sure breeder; $40. Will exchange any or all of above for hammerless guns, top buggy, cameras, boats, or anything useful. HUMARICK KENNEL, Box 2652, Boston. 17*

FOR SALE—Or exchange, rough-coated St. Bernard, a beauty, 3 years old, perfectly marked, grandson of Sir Bedivere, registered, loves children; no place to keep him; price $200; will exchange for 12-gauge ejector of high quality, or will accept as part pay a Smith or Remington typewriter. W. B. LEFFINGWELL, 123 Hartford Building, Chicago. 43-15-tf

HANDSOME w, b. and t. setter dog by Count Gladstone IV (Count Noble—Ruby's Girl), Belle of Blue Ridge (Roderigo—Belle of Piedmont), two years old; untrained, but fast, wide ranger and independent hunter; $60 cash, or exchange for lady's high-grade bicycle. SECRETARY, Box 855, Cincinnati, O. 19

FOR SALE — Or exchange; want shotguns, trained setters, pointers, fox, rabbit and coon dogs, fancy pigeons; some fine beagle and foxhound puppies cheap; inclose stamp, naming wants. FIELES & BRO., Christiana, Pa. 21

TO EXCHANGE—For light hammerless high-grade gun, high-bred English setter dog, son of old Van Buren of Warsaw, Ind.; great chicken dog, strong and steady. Address LOCK BOX 16, Shannon, Ill. 18*

EXCHANGE—Maynard rifle, new, model 1882, .22-10-45, 8¼ pounds, 28 inch, Lyman sights, complete outfit, for good roll top office desk. Address H. C. HARLOW, Leavenworth, Kan. 17*

SMOOTH St. Bernard bitch puppy, thoroughbred, 4 months old, for pneumatic, boat or offers. L. T. GREENFIELD, Pittsburg, Pa. 18*

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE

Advertisements under this head (excepting Kennel advertisements, which must go under their proper department) inserted for Three Cents for each word. The money must be sent with the advertisement.

EXCHANGE—Enlarged crayon picture, from photo, of your dogs, for guns or offers. J. E. SLATTERY, East St. Louis, Ill. 17*

FOR SALE—12-gauge ejector, 7 lbs., for $125, cost $250, or will trade for cheaper gun and cash. N., AMERICAN FIELD, Chicago. 17*

LEMON AND WHITE POINTER DOG, partly broken, one year old; want gun or offers. E. BOWSER, Valparaiso, Ind. 17*

DARK liver color pointer, partly broken, 11 months old, for repeating rifle. J. MONTWORTHEN, Warsaw, Ill. 17*

TO EXCHANGE—One No. 1 American Rambler bicycle for 12 ga. trap gun. J. BROOK, Atkinson, Neb. 17*

FOR SALE

Advertisements under this head (excepting Kennel advertisements, which must go under their proper department) inserted for Three Cents for each word. The money must be sent with the advertisement.

LINNDALE STOCK FARM AND GAME PRESERVE—Eggs for hatching from pure Mongolian pheasants, fresh and fertile; golden and silver pheasants, the most beautiful birds living for yards and lawns, $5 per setting; only a limited number to spare; pure brown Leghorns and Plymouth Rock eggs $2 per setting; the only fowls worth keeping; Jersey cattle of the finest strains; fresh cows of superior milk and butter strains always on hand at moderate prices; we keep the Pekin bantams in large numbers; the only artificial mother for pheasant eggs, $1.50. W. L. GARDINER, Norwalk, Ohio. 19

FOR SALE—Light draft twin-screw steam yacht Sanibel; length 61 feet, beam 15 feet, draft light, 20 inches, with coal, water, etc., 2 feet; in commission one year, used in Florida; cabin, three staterooms, bath and water closet forward; two rooms, pantry, ice box, galley, water closet and accommodations for four men aft; sails, awnings, boats, etc., etc., fully equipped. Apply 16 EXCHANGE PLACE, Room 1, fifth floor, New York City. 18

FOR SALE—Snider hammerless, 10-ga., 8 lbs. 4 oz., 3-inch drop, 14-inch stock, 30-inch barrels this gun has a first-class local reputation as a shooter, is elegantly carved and good as new; cost new $175 and first check for $75 gets it; a snap; reason for selling, I have too many guns to care for. W. B. LINELL, Box 198, Pontiac, Ill. 43-7-tf

BEAGLES—Have now ready for mailing cabinet size photographs of Ch Frank Forest, Ch. Roy K, Lee III, Directum, Base, Buckshot, Ch. Lonely, Ch. Lou, Norah K and Trillah at $1 per set; extra large photo "Dinner Hour at Rockland Beagle Kennels," $1 extra: price is cost; beagles for sale. H. L. KREUDER, Nanuet, N. Y. 23

DEER LAKE PARK FOR SALE—160 acres center of finest trout fishing country, game plentiful and varied, good log house fully furnished, barn, ice house, boats, etc.; splendid chance for a club; write for particulars. E. D. GRAHAM, Deer Lake Park, Wausaukee, Wis. 17*

NOTHING like Perfection Mange and Eczema Cure; keeps your dog's coat in prime condition; not greasy or poisonous; ask your dealer; kills fleas, etc.; 50c. A. G. SOISTMANN, Nicetown, Philadelphia. Pedigree blanks for the asking. 43-12-tf

FOR SALE—L. C. Smith ejector, grade A1, good condition, shot one season, 12-7-12-1¾-3, left full choke, right modified; cost $125; cash price $65; reason for selling, have two Smith ejectors. G. M. WATERS, 1272 North High St., Columbus, O. 17

MANGE CURE—Fink's Original; warranted an absolute cure for all scratches, mange and skin diseases of the dog and other animals. Prepared by F. FINK, 1000 N. Sixth St., St. Louis, Mo. Price $1 pound can. Sent to any address. 17

FOR SALE—Two six-weeks-old puppies, out of litter of eight, by Jed—Phœbe; Jed by Toledo Blade by Roderigo; Phœbe by Colonel by Count Noble; price $25. Address H. B. MEYERS, 148 Monroe Street, Chicago. 17

FOR SALE—The schooner-yacht Palmer, 104 feet 3 inches water line, in perfect order and condition with complete inventory. For particulars address 16 EXCHANGE PLACE, Room 1, fifth floor, New York City. 18

THE Berkshire Trout Hatchery Club have for sale genuine speckled trout of various ages and sizes, including yearlings and this year's hatching. Address the SECRETARY, Great Barrington, Mass. 17

FOR SALE—Cheap, one 10-bore Daly hammerless, one 10-bore Parker hammer, one 12-bore Daly hammerless featherweight, one 20 bore Daly hammerless. EDWARD A. WATSON, Nimrod Hall, Va. 17*

FOR SALE—New Greener ejector trap gun, 12 30-13⅛-2¾-1⅝, 7 7-16 pounds, both barrels full choke. For price, etc., write to DAVID LONGENECKER, 701 Betz Building, Philadelphia, Pa. 18*

FOR SALE—Lefever hammerless, 16-gauge, 28-14-2⅞, weight 6 6-16, good as new, no pits or rust, splendid shooter and big bargain; $100 grade, for $35. J. B. MARTIN, St. Charles, Mo. 17*

12-GAUGE hammerless L. C. Smith, $100 grade, only shot few times at trap; bargain, $50; sent C. O. D. on receipt of $5 to pay express. J. D. SMITH, Oakdale, Ill. 17*

$150 FOR $85—Lefever hammerless, two sets barrels, almost new; photographic outfit half price; new $50 White sewing machine $27. BOX 22, Owosso, Mich. 17*

FOR SALE—Or exchange, modern marine engines and boilers, both new and second-hand. Address THATCHER A. PARKER, Terre Haute, Ind. 43-13-tf

TROTTERS, saddle horses, Shetlands, Jersey cattle, bird dogs and fancy poultry; write for catalogue. FAIRVIEW STOCK FARM, Athens, O. 20

LEFEVER HAMMERLESS, $80 grade, 12-14-3¼-30, two sets of barrels, in good order, $45. BOX 475, Cambridge, Ohio. 17*

KENWOOD BICYCLE, 1895, perfect order, cost $100, take $55; cause sickness. BOX 499, South Haven, Mich. 17*

HIGH-CLASS pedigree blanks, 7 generations, bond paper. CHAUTAUQUA KENNELS, Box 914, Chicago. 42-19-tf

FOR SALE

Advertisements under this head (excepting Kennel advertisements, which must go under their proper department) inserted for Three Cents for each word. The money must be sent with the advertisement.

FOR SALE—One share Triton Club (Canada); price $125. Address TRITON, Box 555, Washington, D. C. 19*

FOR SALE—Pheasant eggs, English and Mongolian. J. A. DURRELL, Pleasant Ridge, O. 18*

PEDIGREE BLANKS—15 for 10 cents. REPORTER, Wellsville, N. Y. 41-26-eow-tf

PEDIGREE BLANKS — J. S. C. THOMPSON, Manhattan, Kan. 40-17-tf

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

ENGLISH SETTERS

THERE have been placed in my hands for immediate sale, as the owner removes May 1 and cannot take dogs where he is going, a black, white and tan English setter bitch, 3 years old, by Gath's Hope—Lula Hill, thoroughly broken except retrieving; she is good enough to start in any field trial and can win in the hottest company on the bench; also one of her dog puppies, b, w. and t., born March 4, by Rodfield, the choice of the litter that the owner was keeping for his own use; this will appear but twice; price of bitch, $50; price of puppy, $25; first draft is the buyer; they are easily worth four times the prices asked. P. T. MADISON, Indianapolis, Ind. 17

ALLIE FURNESS (Monk of Furness—Blade's Dart), in whelp to a Roderigo dog; Allie is beautifully broken, handsomely marked and is a bench show winner; also Hope's Rhœbe (Gath's Hope—Mai Alcorn), very handsome, fast, wide ranger; should make valuable bitch; prices very low, quality considered. CORINTH KENNEL, Corinth, Miss. 45 17-tf

WILL EXCHANGE—Handsome English setter two years old, one season's handling, promising hunter, sound, sired Ch. Breeze Gladstone—imported bitch, for thoroughly trained English setter preferred; stanch, at least two seasons' work, thorough worker in field and first-class retriever. Address DR. PAUL CAMPBELL, Cooperstown, N. Y. 18*

MAKE cash offer for my grand English setter bitch, Field's Cossette (25348), by Ch. Jean Val Jeau—Sheena Van; thoroughly broken by W. W. Titus; a fast, stylish worker, a good looker, excellent disposition and a great brood bitch, litter sister to Atlanta, the field trial winner; she cost me $150. CHAS. T. FIELD, Harbor, O. 43-16-tf

THE beautiful orange helton bitch Bessie Buckellew (A. 34519), by Ch. Buckellew—Vic Vic; Bessie is four years old, partly broken and a superb brood bitch, being the mother of the first and third prize winners in the puppy class at New York bench show 1894; price $25. W. H. McQUOID, Middletown, N. Y. 18*

READ THIS—I lost my kennel yards during the fire; as I am crowded with dogs will sell without reserve puppies by Gleam's Sport and Gleam's Pink out of Roderigo, Gladstone's Boy, Toledo Blade and Count Gladstone bitches at half price; also three high-class broken bitches. A. M. YOUNG, Manchester, Tenn. 21

FOR SALE—Nick Gladstone, finely marked b., w. and t. English setter, two years old, sired by Ch. Breeze Gladstone; bitch May F Bondhu, by Gus Bondhu, one season's handling, very promising hunter, fine retriever; price $25. E D. STOCKER, Cooperstown, N. Y. 18*

I HAVE for sale setter puppies by Count Roderigo out of Ben Hill, Paul Gladstone, Antonio and Roderigo bitches, ranging from 8 to 12 weeks of age; price $20 for dogs, $15 for bitches, subject to the usual conditions upon which I sell. OLD DOMINION, White Post, Va. 42-25-tf

FOR SALE—Puppies and young dogs by Gladstone's Boy out of my best brood bitches. Also several high-bred brood bitches and broken dogs. Write for what you want. No trouble to answer letters and furnish information. J. SHELLEY HUDSON, Covington, Ky. 42-17-tf

TWO black, white and tan setter bitch puppies, 10 months, choicely bred; all the above are in splendid condition and guaranteed not gunshy. Send for circular; prices low; will send on approval to responsible parties. C. G. STODDARD, Dayton, O. 18

ROD'S MAID (26233), Roderigo—Hazel Henry, whelped December 26, 1891, b., w. and t., dog and bitch, year old, by Lark P (8221), out of Rod's Maid, partly broken, extra specimens, h., w. and t. G. M. WOODS, Leaman Place, Pa. 17*

FOR SALE—Six dogs and two bitches, born March 12, sire by Rodrigo, dam a granddaughter of Rodrigo, beautifully marked black and white; dogs $15, bitches $10. For pedigree, etc., address L. S. EDDINS, Sedalia, Mo. 19*

FANNY G (32969), b. and w., 2½ years, partly broken, soon in season, make a splendid brood bitch, $25; b. and w. dog, 11 months, first-class stock, points and full of hunt, $20. JOHN OSTLER, Methuen, Mass. 18*

LITTLE NED—Pearl's Dot dog and bitch, one year old; are remarkable youngsters; I can recommend these puppies to anyone wanting a Derby entry for this year. GEO. E. GRAY, Appleton, Minn. 18

WHAT have you to trade for Clara II (23828), a very stylish, wide ranging English setter, broken by professional handler; the best offer of cash or trade gets her. GEO. E. BRUNER, Kokomo, Ind. 43-15-tf

FOR SALE—A stud dog by the great Roderigo; he is 19 months old, or would exchange him for a bitch by Roderigo. For price and particulars address W. B. LINELL, Box 198, Pontiac, Ill. 43 9-tf

FOR SALE—To clear, five Llewellin bitch puppies out of a thoroughbred (not registered) bitch by my field trial dog Dashaway; price $3 each. EDWARD A. WATSON, Nimrod Hall, Va. 17*

TROY GLADSTONE (24681), Wale Bessie (24683), b., w. and t. and lemon and white puppies; black eyes and noses; whelped February 4; $8: beauties. W. P. STONE, Harlan, Ia. 18

FOR SALE—Ch. Spectre, Rockingham—Donna, handsome blue helton English setter bitch; splendid opportunity to get a valuable brood bitch. A. COREN JR, Madison, N. J 17*

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

ENGLISH SETTERS

DERBY ENTRY, one year old, by Roderigo (3514)—Lany Gladstone (23469), b., w. and t. dog. KING GRAPHIC KENNELS, New Castle, Pa. 43-16 tf

DERBY AGE PUPPIES (two litters), by Count Gladstone IV out of Roderigo bitches, choicest markings. W. E. SMALL, Corinth, Miss. 43-15-tf

VERY CHEAP—Finest pedigreed puppies, two and six months old. WM. OSTHOFF, 2205 Frankford Ave., Philadelphia. 17*

FOR SALE—Cheap, two English setter puppies, breeding unsurpassed. BOX 319, Kirkwood, Mo. 17*

POINTERS

FOR SALE—Brace l. and w. pointers, Panique (Ridgeview Panic—Westminster Ina), half sister to the well-known winner, Prince Regent, 18 months old, perfectly broken: Lordship (Chancellor—Her Highness), 8 months old, better than his sire at like age, full of hunt, well grown; each $50, brace for $80, worth $200; must be sold; first check takes them. RINADA POINTER KENNELS, P. O. Box 2885, New York City. 17*

FOR SALE—Cheap, choice breeding, seven pointer puppies, males, sire Bang Bang's Boy (12335), by Bang Bang (4022); Bang Bang's Boy is thoroughly broken, has a grand nose, fine style, good looker and a rapid mover; the dam is just as good: the blood combination is Bang Bang, Craft, Temptation, Faust, Sensation, Beaufort. Write. From $10 up. CHAS. E. JOHNSON, West Troy, N. Y. 18

FOR SALE—Beautiful lemon and white pointer bitch, Edna Gray (21639), by Melac (19429), and Etto King Don (15310); sire was broken by Jas. Forder and pronounced by him a good one; also two of her puppies, 5½ months old, sired by Terry of Keystone (5561), he by Robert Le Diable (5556) and Beau Beau. JAS. M. DINSMORE, Steubenville, Ohio. 17*

FOR SALE—Two liver and white pointer dog puppies, 10 months, by Trinket's Coin (Croxteth—Trinket)—Robert's Nellie (Bracket—Robert's Trinket); two pointer bitches, 13 months, by Trinket's Coin—Lightfield Blithe, liver and white ticked. Send for circular; prices low; will send on approval to responsible parties. C. G. STODDARD, Dayton, O. 18

BEAUTIFULLY marked liver and white ticked dog puppy, 6 months old, by Ch. Pontiac—Topsy Wagg (A. 27288); Topsy Wagg is half sister to field trial winners Faustina and Lucy, and granddaughter of Beppo III and England's great dog, Ch. Wagg; price $25. W. H. McQUOID, Middletown, N. Y. 19*

ZIG OF KENT, King of Kent—Baug's Mollie, 2½ years old, evenly marked liver and white; has had considerable work on grouse and quail, fine ranger, obedient, stanch, good nose and all right; good specimen and handsome; price $50. KING GRAPHIC KENNELS, New Castle, Pa. 43-16-tf

FOR SALE—I still have a brace of Strideaway—Hops II pointer puppies, born January 4; great Derbys for next year; Hops was a sister to Rip Rap; I sold the other litter at $100 each; will sell these at $50 each as I have no room for them. P. T. MADISON, Indianapolis, Ind. 43-11-tf

FOR SALE—Four pointer dog puppies, whelped February 28, 1895, nicely marked liver and white, t., Bang Bang blood; great Derbys for next season; full pedigree: will be sold cheap. A. K., 152 Waverly Place, New York City. 17*

FOR SALE—Cheap, prize winning liver and white pointer bitch, Fannie Kirk (No. 32917 A. K. S. B.). For extended pedigree and full description address J. G. F. HOLSTON, Zanesville, O. 18

LITTLE MAID, by Duke of Hessen—Barmaid, she full sister to Rip Rap; a grand brood bitch and broken by professional. CHAS. PROCTOR, Union City, Ind. 17

BEPPO III—Belle of Ossian, 8-months-old dog; bitch of this choice field trial pointer blood guaranteed No. 1. C. A. PAETZEL, Hope, Ind. 43-7-tf

FOR SALE—Thoroughly broken black and white pointer dog 2 years old. W. L. LAWSON, Hannibal, Mo. 17*

FOR a bargain in pointer puppies address DR. BOWMAN, Aisey, Ill. 18*

FOR a bargain in trained pointers write C. W. HARRIS, Mattoon, Ill. 17

POODLES

MEADOWMERE KENNELS

MILO (30101)
Champion of America.

Southampton, L. I., N. Y., breeders and importers of

French Poodles

(Black curly coated only); first prize winners New York, Boston, Chicago, Philadelphia, 1893-4.

A GRAND LOT OF DOGS FOR SALE

For catalogues price lists and stud cards apply to NEW YORK CITY AGENCY, 13 William St., Room 1006.

FRENCH POODLES—Black curly coated; four beautiful litters of puppies for sale from imported stock and prize winners at Detroit, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and Louisville, 1891; also two males and two females, six months; handsome specimens, and one brown female two years old, winner 3rd prize New York, 1891. CLARENCE S. WELDY, Tamaqua, Pa. 20*

CHESAPEAKES

THE SUPREMACY of our trained C[illegible] is shown by last season's prize record [illegible] minster K. C., Chicago, Philadelphia [illegible] Louisville kennels embrace Ch. [illegible] (30464) and Chlg. Bigelow's Rose [illegible] recognized champion in existence; price [illegible] $20; illustrated catalogue; all ages. B. A[illegible] SMITH, N. Attleboro, Mass. 43[illegible]

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

TERRIERS

Fox Terriers,

"THOROUGHBREDS"

For circular apply to

BEVERWYCK KENNELS

P. O. Box 6, Albany, N. Y.

39-8-52

FOR SALE—Or exchange, fox terrier, 18 months old, very handsome, h., w. and t. head, body white with one black patch and black tail, house broken, clean and kind; quick as a flash on either rat or mouse; full pedigree; a fox terrier breeder would ask $35 to $40 for such a good one; $20, or pointer dog over 8 months old. G. O. SMITH, Wheeling, W. Va. 17

FOR SALE—A few fox terrier puppies by Hillside Royal—Adelina (Ford Venio—Dusky Beauty), 5 months old, very promising, all registered A. K. C.; write for extended pedigree and prices. DR. JAMES FERRIS BELT, Wilmington, Del. 17

BLACK AND TAN TERRIER FOR SALE—Cheap, for want of room, the bitch Rochelle Doushka (35609), by Ch. Broomfield Sultan—Ch. Meershrook Maiden, whelped August 17, 1894; a bargain. JAMES B. THOMPSON, Yazoo City, Miss. 18

FOX TERRIER brood bitches and puppies for sale, the property of Messrs. L. & W. Rutherfurd. For stud cards, etc., address DONALD MUNRO, Manager, Allamuchy, Warren Co., N. J. 39 7-tf

FOR SALE—Fox terrier puppies; also bitch puppy 7 months old, by Seacroft Avenger—Dusky McGregor (Dusky Trap—Blemton Consequenee). POCKET CITY KENNELS, McGregor, Ia. 18*

FOR SALE—Irish terriers, prize winners, stud dogs, brood bitches and young stock. ANGLO-AMERICAN KENNELS, Toon & Thomas, 4 Dearborn St., Salem, Mass. 19

FOR SALE—Three litters pure white bull terrier puppies of best possible breeding; panic prices; write me. H. FRED CHURCH, Taunton, Mass 19*

FOR SALE—20 fox terrier bitch puppies cheap to close them out. HOTFOOT KENNELS, Decorah, Iowa. 19*

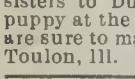
BULL TERRIERS—Stud dogs, brood bitches and puppies. F. L. DEVER, 316 Illinois Ave., Peoria, Ill. 43-17 tf

FOX TERRIERS—Stud dogs, brood bitches and puppies. AUDUBON KENNEL, Lockport, Ill. 22*

FOR SALE—Skye terriers $10, for Christmas; Yorkshires in February. SEEBACH, Peru, Ill. tf

BLACK AND TAN, Irish and fox terriers. F. H. HOYT, Sharon, Pa. 43-9-tf

IRISH SETTERS



Young Stock of Finest Breeding in the World. Most Successful on Bench and in Field. Write for prices. G. W. Hamilton, Mgr., Centreville, Kan.

IRISH SETTER PUPPIES for sale, by Ch. Kildare (champion Irish setter dog of America and sire of Queen Vic, champion Irish setter bitch of America), stud fee $25. Also English setter and Chesapeake Bay puppies of the fluest strains Send for catalogue containing photos of celebrated stud dogs and bitches. OAK GROVE KENNELS, Moodus, Conn. tf

FIVE Irish setter puppies by Finglas, Bedford, Signal and other field trial and bench winning stock; also adults; low to make room. BEAUMONT KENNELS, 938 Prospect Ave., New York City. 17*

FOR SALE—An Irish setter, thoroughly broken, stanch to point and shot, a tender retriever by land or water; price $25. THOS. BARKLAY, 1887 W. 6th St, Cincinnati, O. 17*

SPANIELS

COCKERS—A grand lot of young puppies and young stud dogs; also several young brood bitches, prize winners, in whelp to Ch. Black Duke and other noted sires. GEORGE DOUGLAS, Woodstock, Ontario. 24

KING CHARLES and Ruby spaniels; also puppies by Campaniui; prices from $20 up, according to age and points. YETSAN KENNELS, Oyster Bay, N. Y. 17*

COCKER SPANIELS—Special sale of young stock and brood bitches; prices low. HANDSOME BROOK KENNEL, Franklin, N. Y. 42-12-tf

BLACK cocker spaniel bitch, 9 months old, $30, out of Lady Black by Jake W. WALTER CORLIES JR., Poughkeepsie, N. Y. 17*

IMPORTED and native champion bred cockers, all colors, $15; stamp. REHAM KENNELS, Omaha, Neb. 43-15-tf

ST. BERNARDS

GRAND St. Bernard puppies for sale; three bitches two months old, sired by the great prize winner Ch. Melrose, dam Lady Fiudern, that grand daughter of Sir Bedivere; they are full sisters to Duke Wadsworth, the winning dog puppy at the late Chicago show; these puppies are sure to make winners. THOS. R. HARTLEY, Toulon, Ill. 19

FOR SALE—Bitches in whelp to our famous Lawrence Garza; also young stud dog. ILLINOIS ST. BERNARD KENNELS, Streator, Ill. 21*

WANTED—Long-haired St. Bernard bitch; must be registered and cheap for cash. Address, with full information, BOX 191, Marietta, Ga. 17

CHOICE PUPPIES, $10 to $25. KENWOOD KENNELS, Nebraska City, Neb. 17*

WOLFHOUNDS

(W)e ... of wolfhound puppies booked now; send ... just out, of wolf... sale. SEACROFT ... 17

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

MASTIFFS

MASTIFFS FOR SALE—A number of puppies out of my winning stud dogs at prices from $35 to $50; these are as well bred as is possible to get and I think will make winners. CHAS. E. BUNN, Peoria, Ill. 42-26-tf

FASHIONABLY BRED puppies for sale cheap to make room. BURLINGTON KENNELS, La Grange, Ill. 17*

FOR SALE—Cheap, two mastiff bitch puppies, pedigreed. J. S. LATTNER, Chattanooga, Tenn. 17*

ENGLISH MASTIFF PUPPIES from registered stock. PLAZA KENNELS, Piqua, O. 43-16-tf

FINE female mastiff, cheap. H. FLORENTZ, 425 W. Erie St., Chicago. 17*

BEAGLES

SEVERAL good bitches in whelp to our champion stud dogs, Bannerman and Fitzhugh Lee; also puppies and young stud; prices reasonable and quality guaranteed; stamp for catalogue. GLENROSE BEAGLE KENNELS, Orland, Me. 43-14-tf

THREE fine puppies 7 months old, two dogs, by field trial winners; just right to train this Summer; $10 each. DONNYBROOK KENNELS, Oshkosh, Wis. 43-15-tf

BEAGLE—Do you want one? Full pedigree, well trained. E. G. EATON, Athens, O. 19*

BLOODHOUNDS

GENUINE imported stock, no better blood in America; imp. Buccaneer, winner in England and America, for sale; Jack Shepard, by Belhus—Rosemary, winner of 21 first prizes, in the stud. Inclose stamp for photo and prices. ROOKWOOD KENNELS, Lexington, Ky. 19

FOR SALE — Bloodhounds, man trailers, of thorough English breed, well broken to trail men; price $50 each. THOS. BARKLAY, 1887 W. 6th, Cincinnati, O. 17*

COLLIES

SACRIFICE IN COLLIES—To wind up partnership our whole kennel, including many noted prize winners, is offered at lowest prices. Apply for list and prices. McEWEN & GIBSON, Byron, Ont. 18

COLLIES AT $10—Puppies from Champ Christopher, Ch. Metchley Wonder strain, also older stock. J. L. LINCOLN, Union Club, Chicago. 43-tf

FOXHOUNDS

CHOICE pair of Goodman foxhounds, three years old, well broken on wolves, grand stayers and killers; extra good in locating young wolves; $20 each. WALNUT CREEK KENNELS, Decorah, Iowa. 17*

PURE Goodman foxhounds for sale at all times. BOURBON KENNELS, North Middletown, Ky. 40-20-tf

DACHSHUNDE

SOME very fine dachshund puppies 4 months old out of prize winning stock; also some older prize winners for sale. ARTHUR FROEMBLING, 131 S. Clark St., Chicago, Ill. 17*

BULLDOGS

FOR SALE—Bulldogs and puppies, out of imported stock, by Leonidas, Stanley and King Lud. ROBINDALE FARM, Roslyn, L. I., N. Y. 17*

GREAT DANES

FOR SALE—Two splendid litters of puppies of prize winning stock. HERCULES KENNEL, Ottawa, Ill. 18

MISCELLANEOUS

St. Bernard Puppies

Three litters of blue bloods for sale, quality the fluest in America.

DOGS IN THE STUD—Alton Jr, Altoneer, Melrose King, Jim Blaine.

MELROSE KENNELS,

E. H. Moore, MELROSE, MASS. 43-15-tf

DOGS! DOGS! DOGS!

Less than panic prices. If you want to get a first-class dog of the following breeds cheap write us and we will give you a bargain:

Mastiffs, St. Bernards, Newfoundlands, bull, fox, Skye, Scotch and Yorkshire terriers, setters, pointers, beagles and pugs. Toy black and tan terriers a specialty and a grand lot of collies cheap. In fact for a first-class dog of any breed you cannot do better than with us.

N. B.—A grand lot of rabbit dogs on hand.

CEDAR KENNELS,
42-17-tf 135 S. 8th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

We have a fine litter of

Collie Puppies

For sale by Ch. Christopher (21675), out of Doreas (27756), she by Ch. Welleshourne Charlie; also some fine

Irish Terriers

By our new stud dog, John Briggs (35584). CHRISTOPHER and WELLESBOURNE CHARLIE at stud. CHESTNUT HILL KENNELS, Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, Pa.

HOUNDS

Fine b., w. and t. foxhound dog with lots of experience; also seven puppies by him out of Avent bitch, all workers; also two beagle bitches by Frank Forrest and Tony Weller; fine rabbit dogs. Best offer takes them as we are going out of hounds. ELDRED KENNEL, 13 Dock Street, Philadelphia. 43-17-tf

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

WANTED!

Any sportsman wanting first-class broken and unbroken setters or pointers can get what they want from me; new list now ready.

T. C. DAVEY, London, Ont.

DOGS FOR SALE.

If you want to buy a dog of any kind write for prices to

J. HOPE,
39-20-52t 29 N. 9th St., Phila., Pa.

CH. ANTONIO never sired a finer litter than did his son, Bob Antonio (Ch. Antonio—Fauny San Roy), out of Hoosier Nell (Hoosier Ben—Nellie Gray), all evenly marked b., w. and t., whelped March 18, 1895; dogs $15; bitches $10; also eight-months pointer dog, liver and white, Ch. Launcelot—Belle Powers; $15. JOHN M. STERLING, 304 Lafayette St., Bridgeport, Conn. 17

DOGS FOR SALE—St. Bernards, mastiffs, Newfoundlands, pointers, setters, spaniels, pugs, all kinds of terriers. I make a specialty of game pit and show bull terriers and Yorkshire terriers; dogs and puppies of the above on hand at prices to suit the times; satisfaction and safe delivery guaranteed. EXCHANGE KENNELS, office 2312 Walnut St., Philadelphia, Pa. 44-6

FOR SALE—A beautiful dog and bitch, February 28, black and white, combining Lady Margaret, Duke of Hessen, King of Kent and Hops; two dogs January 6, and three dogs and one bitch January 19, by Rod H; Stanch George, Cid and St. Blaise in the stud, very low; all for sale, pointers and setters. J. R. PURCELL, Gainesville, Va. 43-16-tf

THE KINGSTON KENNELS, Kingston, Ont., will send their new descriptive price list to all applicants; it contains some grandly bred setters, fox and Irish terriers and beagles. 18

TRAINED dogs on bears, coons, rabbits. Also English bloodhounds, man trailers. GREENDALE KENNEL, Kensington, Ohio. 42-22-tf

POINTERS AND SETTERS—Selling out; inclose stamp. LUKE W. WHITE, Fredericksburg, Va. 18*

DOG TRAINING

K. 9 KENNELS—Pointers and setters, educated for practical field work; kennels located in a game country, and but 2½ hours from Philadelphia; twenty years' experience; best reference. W. G. SMITH, Marydel, Md. 43-26*

CAN TAKE two more dogs to train on chicken and quail; birds plentiful and terms reasonable. T. G. DAVIES, Bloomfield, Ia. 18*

GEO. BATTISON—Professional bench show handler. Dogs boarded and put in condition for shows. Youngstown, Ohio. tf

STUD DOGS

AT STUD, $35.—CH. DUKE OF KENT II

Field trial winner; only pointer in U. S. winning title of champion in one year, 1893. First challenge, 1st field trial class; also special for best sporting dog in show, Louisville, 1894.

AT STUD, $35—IMP. MOLTON BANNER

One of the best pointers living; has beaten his sire, Saddleback, champion of England, Sandford Graphic and Sandford Bang, England's best. Puppies—Dogs $25; bitches $15; from the best of field trial and bench show blood bitches. GLEN ROCK KENNELS, 2 N. Market St., Boston, Mass.

Westminster Kennel Club.

KING OF KENT

In the Stud. Fee $50.

ALSO

Sandford Druid

FEE $35.

Apply to F. O. DeLUZE, Treasurer, 18 S. William St., New York.

LITTLE NED

AT STUD.

Will be allowed a limited number of bitches. Pointer fanciers in the North and West should not miss this opportunity in breeding to this grand little pointer. Ned won second U. S. F. T. C. Derby 1893, third U. S. T. All-Age 1893 and second U. S. F. T. All-Age 1894. For extended pedigree and further particulars address

Frank Richards, Stewart, Minn.

18

WILLOWDALE KENNELS,
CROWN POINT, IND.

ALAN-A-DALE—A. K. C. No. 28135, collie dog, by Ch. The Squire—Stonehurst Lassie, by Ch. Roslyn Dandy, a magnificent dog and image of his sire; V.H.C. Chicago 1894. See comment AMERICAN FIELD. Alan is a born cattle dog.

DANDY DAVY (A. K. C. No. 36097), by Moray—Clover, the handsomest and most intelligent collie I ever bred; sable with white collar and ruff.

TACONY, smooth-coated fox terrier (A. K. C. 28136), white with tan marked head; inbred Prince Result; game as a pebble.

I will sell at reasonable price Moray, prize winner; Don Cameron and other A. K. C. collies; also book orders for young dogs. Address WILL J. DAVIS, Columbia Theater, Chicago. 39-4-tf

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

Rodfield

Black, white and tan English setter, winner of both of the U. S. F. T. Club's All-Age Setter Stakes at Bicknell, Ind., and West Point, Miss., 1894 and 1895. Catalog free.

STUD FEE $50.
P. T. MADISON.
INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

COUNT BEAUFORT

Moss Wind'em—Primrose, bred by and recently imported from Mr. R. Ll. Purcell Llewellin, Shrewsbury, England. Here is a chance for setter breeders to obtain the pure Count Noble blood, Moss Wind'em being a litter brother to that noted sire of field trial winners. This is an opportunity that owners of Gladstone and Druid—Ruby bitches should not lose sight of. Fee $25. Count Beaufort is a handsome, well built blue belton and is thoroughly field broken, keen nose and wide range, having been well shot over by Mr. Llewellin. For pedigree, etc., address W. STEWART DIFFENDERFFER, 113 Commerce St., Baltimore, Md. 44-8

WIRE-HAIRED FOX TERRIERS

BROWN FRENCH POODLES.

For stud cards, list of produce stakes ($175 annually offered in prizes), price lists and full particulars, apply to HILL HURST KENNELS, Wellesley, Mass. 45-7

At Stud. Fee $25.

WHYTE B.

I offer the services of this highly bred setter; he is by Roderigo—Florence Gladstone. He won the A.-A. Stake in the Southern trials, beating such dogs as Antevolo, Novelist, Engene I, Tremont, Bettye S and Bob Cooper. I candidly believe Whyte B has more endurance than any dog living, and is a combined field trial and shooting dog; his equal would be hard to find. H. S. BEVAN, Somerville, Tenn.

AT STUD—The celebrated pointer

KING BANG

FEE $15

Will serve a limited number of bitches this season. Pedigree and particulars on application.

C. C. HESS, Riverdale, Ill. 20*

Imported Irish setter at stud.

Chlg. Finglas

The most successful Irish setter sire, field trial and dog show winner combined living; winner of 35 firsts and specials; his get have won 57 firsts and specials, 25 seconds, 11 thirds at leading bench shows and field trials. Circulars free. W. L. WASHINGTON, Box 203, New Castle, Pa. 43-17-cow-tf

AT STUD ELDRED KENNEL Fee $50

CH. ANTONIO

BRIGHTON TOBE

FEE $35.

Winner of All-Age Stake Manitoba and International trials 1894. Stud cards, shipping directions and circular of C. H. PHELPS JR, 13 Dock St., Philadelphia. 44-17-eow-tf

AT STUD,

ST. BERNARDS and COCKER SPANIELS

Four St. Bernards and eight cocker spaniels, including Ch. Middy at $15 stud fee. Send stamp for illustrated catalogue.

SWISS MOUNTAIN KENNELS, Gormantown, Philadelphia, Pa.

STRIDEAWAY FEE $50

Meadow City Kennels, Northampton, Mass.

17

COCKER SPANIEL

CH. BLACK DUKE

Stud $20. Bitches for breeding purposes admitted free of duty in Canada. GEO. DOUGLAS, Woodstock, Ont. 23

IMP. ALBERT'S RANGER

The handsomest English setter in America; fee $25; return expressage paid on bitches. Photo 20 cents. Stud cards. WARWICK KENNELS, Bridgeport, Conn. 43-13-tf

THE imported pointer, Ightfield Domino (28216 A. K. C. S. B.), bred by Hon. A. P. Heywood-Lonsdale, Salop, England, and the superb young setter, Monk of Zion (31110 A. K. C. S. B.), by the great Monk of Furness; will be allowed four approved bitches each at $35. This brace we will put against the world as gentlemen's field dogs on all kinds of game in any country; they hunt to the gun, they point and back every known game bird; they move to the hand; they will not break shot or chase rabbits; they retrieve from land and water; they know their place in the house, yard, wagon or on a train; if you want a dog that knows something breed to one that knows something. W. L. GARDINER, Norwalk, Ohio. 19

AT STUD—The noted Goodman foxhound Dick (Logan—Star), from Blue Grass Kennels, Serena, Ill.; height 23¾ inches; chest, 30 inches; weight, 55 lbs. For portrait, history and description see AMERICAN FIELD July 14, 1894. Fee $25. W. F. STURGILL, Ceredo, W. Va. 17*

AT STUD—Smooth fox terriers: Raby Palissy, $15; Seacroft Bourbon (the only D'Orsay blood in America), $10; Seacroft Result (Ripon Stormer—Richmond Jesmine), $10. Send for illustrated stud catalogue just out. SEACROFT KENNELS, Essex, Mass. 17

CHESAPEAKE MARK (35914); fee $10. L. K. MASON, Hastings, Ia. 43-15-tf

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

AT STUD—Smooth fox terriers, Hillside Royal (Stardeu's King—Hillside Freda); fee to approved bitches, $10; Raby Prince (Raby Pallisy—Richmond Jesmine); fee to approved bitches, $10. WAWASET KENNELS, Wilmington, Del. 44-5

AT STUD—Col. Kent (31054), by King of Kent—Bang's Mollie, half brother of Rip Rap, Strideaway and Kent Elgin; a No. 1 fielder; $15. Address SAM A. NOFTZGER, Proprietor Eel River Pointer Kennels, North Manchester, Ind. 43-8-tf

AT STUD—The promising young Gordon setter, Dwight Don (32376); winner first at Detroit, second Chicago, first at Denver, 1895; fee $25. L. P. HIGGINS, Agent, Station X, Chicago. 20*

AT STUD—Fox terrier Blempton Stipend, by Stipendiary, $10; rough collie Chesterford Hero by Sefton Hero, $10. J. W. WAKEM, Highland Park, Ill. 17

RODERIGO is dead, but I have his brother Cassio (23600), winner of four field trials; fee $25; try him. W. F. VAN BUSKIRK, Odell, Ill. 43-15-tf

AT STUD—Ezra Noble (Count Noble—Alphonsine), field trial and bench show winner; fee $25. J. E. BORDEN, Lansdowne, Del. Co., Pa. 18*

RED COCKERS—Champ. Red Jacket and Red Roland at stud; red puppies. BRANT COCKER KENNELS, Brantford, Ont. 43-14-tf

MATERIALS AND FIXTURES.

LITTLE'S SOLUBLE PHENYLE

LITTLE'S PRIZE MEDAL PHENYLE DOG SOAP

Cleanses the skin and improves the coat.

LITTLE'S SANITARY PHENYLE DOG SOAP.

Superior to any now before the public. Beautifies, cleanses, and gives a healthy glow to the skin.

(COPYRIGHTED.)

DOCTOR—There is no doubt, my friends, but that you are suffering from a most severe case of Mange. My advice is that you procure at once LITTLE'S SOLUBLE PHENYLE, a sure cure, which will also keep your kennels nice and sweet.

PATIENTS (all together)—We will send to our druggist for it at once.

Used by the principal kennels and bench shows in America and Europe. No keeper of valuable dogs, horses, etc, should be without it. Pronounced by the highest authorities the best and most effective disinfectant in the market. For full particulars of its various uses, send for pamphlet to.

MORRIS LITTLE & SON, 175 to 177 N. 10th Street, Brooklyn, E. D., N. Y.

SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL DERBY

OF THE

EASTERN FIELD TRIAL CLUB

$600 IN CASH PURSES.

FIRST PRIZE $300, SECOND $200, THIRD $100.

First forfeit of $10 must accompany nominations, second forfeit of $10 payable September 1, 1895, and $10 additional to start.

Entries Close Positively May 15, 1895.

For rules, blanks, etc., apply to

WASHINGTON A. COSTER, Secretary,
1249 Flatbush Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

JUDGES—Messrs. Simon C. Bradley, N. Wallace and W. S. Bell.

Watch advertisement of other stakes later. 19

Manitoba Field Trial Club's

Patron: C. C. Chipman, Commissioner Hudson Bay Co., Winnipeg.
President: F. G. Simpson, Winnipeg.

Ninth Annual Trials (ON PRAIRIE CHICKEN), Morris, Man., September 10, etc., 1895.

DERBY—For setters and pointers whelped on or after January 1, 1894. Purse $250. First $100; second $75; third $50; fourth $25. Entries close July 1. Forfeit $5, starters $10 additional. Forfeit money must accompany each entry.

ALL-AGE STAKES—For setters and pointers which have never won first place in an all-age stake in any previous year Purse $250. First $125; second $75; third $50. Entries close August 15. Forfeit $5, $10 additional for starters. Forfeit money must accompany each entry.

JOHN WOOTTON, Hon. Secy.-Treas., P. O. Box 109, Manitou, Man.

SPRATTS PATENT
DOG,
PUPPY,
POULTRY,
GAME
Foods, Medicines, Soaps and Furnishings.

Send for pamphlet to

SPRATTS PATENT, LTD.,
239-245 E. 56th Street, New York.

Dr. Nelson N. Lefler,
VETERINARIAN,
Geneseo, Livingston Co., New York.

Proprietor of the Genesee Valley Pointer Kennels; special attention given to canine diseases; advice by mail, $1. A few fluely bred pointer puppies for sale. Write for prices before you buy elsewhere. 19*

In answering advertisements please mention that you saw the advertisement in the AMERICAN FIELD.

AUSTIN'S DOG BREAD

The final choice of many kennels and individuals after trying all others, as attested by hundreds of unsolicited letters.

AUSTIN & GRAVES,
116 COMMERCIAL ST.,
BOSTON, MASS.

WHITMAN KENNEL SUPPLY CO.
418 WABASH AVE., CHICAGO.

PEDIGREES COMPILED

And printed in first-class style, and at reasonable rates.

COPYRIGHT PEDIGREE BLANKS.

Pictures for framing of CHAMPION PAUL GLADSTONE, DASH III AND COUNTESS MAY; GLADSTONE AND PEEP O' DAY; CROXTETH AND SENSATION; EMPEROR FRED, and others.

WHITMAN'S UNIQUE DOG REMEDIES.
SPRATTS DOG FOODS AND MEDICINES.
AUSTIN'S DOG FOODS.
SERGEANT'S CONDITION PILLS.

L. F. WHITMAN, Manager.

33-26-tf

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

Do You Keep A Dog? Send for Pamphlet (gratis) on Diseases etc. to SPRATTS PATENT (AM.) LTD. 241 E. 56 St. N.Y.

Excelsior Dog Cakes

As their name implies, are the highest grade in the world, and five gold and silver medals corroborate the fact. They are economical and nutritious and are used by the leading kennels in the United States and Europe.

The Swiss Mountain Kennels have the following to say about them:

SWISS MOUNTAIN KENNELS, GERMANTOWN, PA.

Gentlemen:—I have used Excelsior biscuits now for about five years and find them perfectly satisfactory in all respects. The dogs are not only fond of them, but even when used exclusively have always agreed splendidly with them, keeping them generally in a good healthy trim.

I have several times recommended them to other parties and have never failed to find them otherwise than pleased with them. I would here thank you for your prompt attention to all orders. I am perfectly willing you should publish anything I have said formerly or at the present time in regard to the cakes. Yours truly,

(Signed) MRS. F. SMYTH.

Send $4.50 for sample bag of 100 lbs.

FRANKLIN HALLET & CO.,
2 and 4 Stone St., NEW YORK.

McGILL UNIVERSITY, MONTREAL.

Faculty of Comparative Medicine and Veterinary Science (late Montreal Veterinary College). Calendars sent on application, giving full information to intending students. Lectures commence first Wednesday in October in each year. Apply to CHARLES McEACHRAN, D. V. S., Registrar, Veterinary College, 2 Union Avenue, Montreal, Canada. 37-1-87

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

HEALTH FOR ANIMALS

Of the many skin diseases that animals are subject to there are none which cannot be brought under control and speedily cured by the use of

GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP

Its perfect reliability in all forms of

MANGE

From which dogs suffer has been attested by innumerable testimonials from the highest kennel authorities and the grateful acknowledgment of thousands of dog owners.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS. SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

"OUR DOGS"

The Popular English Doggy Journal.

Published every Saturday. Price One Penny.

Contains all the latest news and the best information relating to doggy subjects. It is written in chatty style; is contributed to by the best known writers; is well illustrated; enjoys a large circulation, and is a splendid medium for the sale or purchase of dogs. Subscription 8s. 6d per year post free to any part of America. SPECIMEN COPIES FREE.

Our Dogs Publishing Co., Ltd.,
10 Gore St., Piccadilly, Manchester, Eng.

NEW BOOK ON DOG DISEASES
And How to Feed

Mailed FREE to any address by the author.

H. CLAY GLOVER, D.V.S., 1293 Broadway, N. Y

R. J. WITHERS, M. D.,
VETERINARY SURGEON,
627 So. Main St., LOS ANGELES, CAL.

Treatment of dogs a specialty. Good hospital accommodations. Advice by mail $1.

MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW EDITION.

Lancaster's Famous Book,

THE ART OF SHOOTING.

LONDON, FOURTH EDITION, 1892. PRICE $3.00.

AUTHOR'S PREFACE.

At the special request of many gentlemen who have placed themselves in my hands for instruction in the Art of Shooting, I have written this treatise. I have endeavored to meet the special requirements of those who are anxious to become proficient in the art, and who have hitherto been unable to obtain, in a precise form, the information necessary for studying the first principles of shooting at moving objects.

I have had the honor of coaching many gentlemen, and have carefully studied the points especially requiring attention that have cropped up from time to time while giving instruction. I hope that those who favor me by studying this treatise may quickly gain the knowledge so essential for the making of an average if not a brilliant shot.

I have purposely refrained from touching on the several merits of any class of gun—being a gunmaker myself; and, indeed, so many good works on the subject have been written, that it is really unnecessary.

I trust that authors from whose writings I have made extracts will pardon me when they recollect that I have at heart one object, viz., the advancement of a manly sport which gives pleasure, health and occupation to many, and to the patronage of whose followers I am indebted for many pleasant days.

THE AMERICAN FIELD PUB. CO.,

CHICAGO, ILL.

Modern American Pistols and Revolvers.

By A. C. GOULD ("RALPH GREENWOOD").

An account of the development of pistols and revolvers in America; description of the varieties manufactured; manner of shooting them; work accomplished with these arms; departments of pistol and revolver shooting; impressions formed by studying these arms, and rules governing revolver competitions. Profusely illustrated 222 pages, cloth bound.

PRICE $1.50.

Address AMERICAN FIELD PUB. CO., Chicago, Ill.

The Best Hunting and Fishing Grounds of the United States

ARE ON THE LINE OF

The Santa Fe Route

The Greatest Railroad in the World.

It has the shortest line, the most comfortable trains and the best meal service between Chicago and the Pacific Coast. It traverses fourteen states and territories and reaches the most important points in the West and Southwest. It is the route for sportsmen to patronize. For descriptive books and detailed information address

C. A. HIGGINS, Room 725 Monadnock Bldg., Chicago.

$7 NEW RAPID MACHINE LOADER $7

Adapted for Nitro and Black Powders.

What We Claim for "The Rapid Loader."

Seats wads squarely and with even pressure. No chance for the error of getting shot loaded in place of powder. The manipulation of charges and forcing in wads requires the use of one hand only, leaving the other hand free to handle shells and wads—a decided advantage over loaders which require the use of both hands and feet to accomplish this. Can be changed to different loads in less than one minute. Powder and shot can be emptied from machine without removing it from the table. Send for illustrated catalogue. SOLD BY ALL DEALERS.

THE BRIDGEPORT GUN IMPLEMENT CO.

313-315 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

TROUT, BASS, PIKE,
PICKEREL, PERCH, DUCKS,
GEESE, SNIPE, CHICKENS.

Are all to be found contiguous to the line of

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

—SEND FOR—

Natural Game Preserves of North America.

CHAS. S. FEE,

Gen. Pass. and Ticket Agt., ST. PAUL.

PLOVER, ANTELOPE, BEAR,
MOUNTAIN LIONS, CARIBOU, DEER,
WHITE GOATS, ROCKY MTN. SHEEP

Chicago & Alton R.R.

AMERICA'S MOST POPULAR RAILROAD.

PERFECT PASSENGER SERVICE.

The direct, best and only rock-ballasted dustless line between

CHICAGO AND KANSAS CITY,
CHICAGO AND ST. LOUIS,
ST. LOUIS AND KANSAS CITY.

Through Pullman Service Every Day From

CHICAGO to COLORADO

[illegible] Passenger and Ticket Agent,
Chicago, Illinois.

Sportsmen, Attention

Trophies of the Forest and Field.

Few sportsmen are enabled to keep souvenirs of the chase, as the art of preserving objects of natural history is not generally known. Still there are thousands of gunners and anglers, together with their parents, wives and children, who often lament their want of ability to mount rare and curious objects of interest, and trophies of the day's or week's outing.

Many homes could be beautified, and many dens made more attractive, if the head of the house, his wife or children, had even a slight knowledge of preserving and mounting objects of natural history. We often hear the remark: "How I wish that big pike's head could be saved." Or we hear the complaint from a hunter who deplores the fact of his inability to save more than the horns of the moose, elk or caribou which he shot on the trip; while the lady of the house, intent on decoration, laments the wasting of the plumage of the game birds.

Do you wish to learn a simple method by which you can preserve and mount a humming bird, grouse, snipe or quail in natural position, or put up a pike's or deer's head?

Do you wish to follow a course of instruction which does not require one-third of the work needed for the old style of preserving by stuffing, and at less than one-tenth of the expense and no tools excepting a knife and file?

Do you wish to give agreeable employment to your family, and beautify your homes, enlighten your children, and delight and interest your friends?

If so, send 75 cents for complete instructions and one pound of prepared compound ready for use, enough to prepare twenty to forty birds. Mention the AMERICAN FIELD, and address MORRIS GIBBS, M. D., Kalamazoo, Mich.

HUNTING GROUNDS

ALONG THE LINE OF

The Southern Railway

The Southern Railway is endeavoring to furnish every facility to sportsmen to reach its territory, especially Virginia and the Carolinas, where game is abundant and game laws lenient.

Most convenient schedules are operated from all junction points.

For additional information apply o

S. H. HARDWICK,
Ass't Gen. Pass. Agt., Atlanta, Ga.
C. A. BENSCOTER.
Ass't Gen. Pass. Agt., Knoxville, Tenn.
W. A. TURK,
Gen. Pass. Agt., Washington, D. C.
R. D. CARPENTER,
Gen. Agt., 271 Broadway, New York
HENRY HIDEN,
Commercial Agt., 10 Rookery, Chicago.
L. S. BROWN,
Gen. Agt., 1300 Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, D. C.

In answering advertisements, please mention that you saw the advertisement in the AMERICAN FIELD.

REMINGTON HAMMERLESS GUNS

AUTOMATIC AND NON-AUTOMATIC EJECTING.

The Finest American Guns Ever Offered.

Ten qualities; from $45 upward.

GUARANTEED FOR NITRO POWDERS.

Complete catalogue of Remington firearms on application.

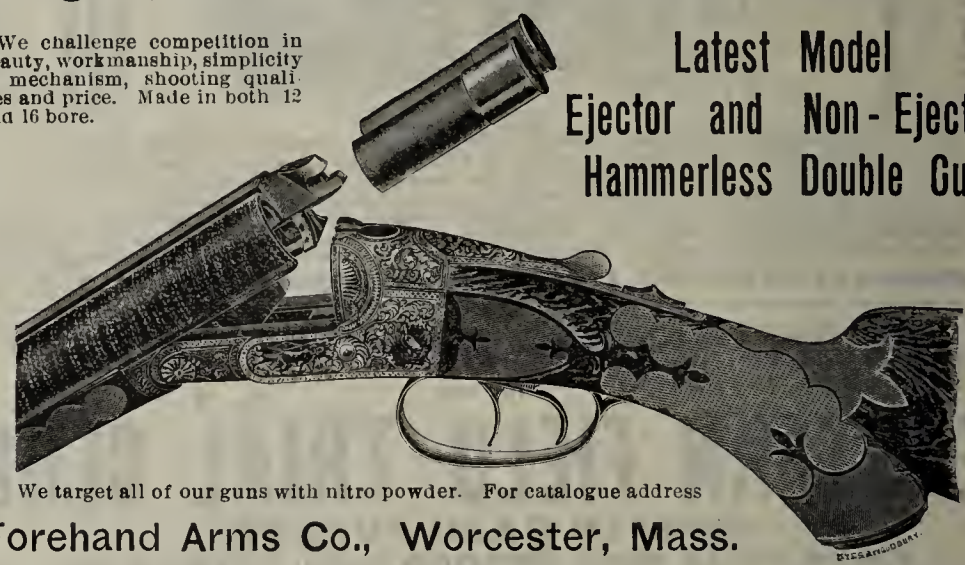
REMINGTON ARMS CO., ILION, N. Y.

Makers of the Celebrated Remington Bicycle. Office 316-315 Broadway, New York.

FOREHAND ARMS CO.'S

We challenge competition in beauty, workmanship, simplicity of mechanism, shooting qualities and price. Made in both 12 and 16 bore.

Latest Model Ejector and Non-Ejector Hammerless Double Gun



We target all of our guns with nitro powder. For catalogue address

Forehand Arms Co., Worcester, Mass.

THE DAVIS HAMMERLESS

Has Best of Workmanship and Best of Material Throughout.

Shooting Qualities Unsurpassed in all Grades. Price Lists and Descriptive Circulars of Hammer and Hammerless Guns sent on application.

N. R. DAVIS & SONS, - Freetown, Mass.

12-ga. $2.00, 10-ga. $2.35 per 100

V. L. & A. Hand-Loaded Special Target Shells

With E. C. or Schultze Powders

AND

Tatham's Celebrated Shot

Send for List of Loads, Wadding, etc.

VON LENGERKE & ANTOINE, 271 Wabash Ave. CHICAGO

IT PLEASES

all who use it.

THE "IDEAL" UNIVERSAL POWDER MEASURE

PRICE ONLY $2.50

Is guaranteed to measure all kinds of powder accurately. It is graduated for drachms and grains. Will cover all requirements, from a Pistol to a Shot Gun. THE IDEAL HAND BOOK, No. 5, just out. 80 pages. Some say it's worth $5.00. Send stamps for it.

IDEAL M'F'G CO., Drawer 86C New Haven, Conn., U. S. A.

Please mention AMERICAN FIELD.

THE AMERICAN FIELD

THE SPORTSMAN'S JOURNAL.

Vol. XLIII—No. 18. NEW YORK AND CHICAGO, SATURDAY, MAY. 4, 1895. PRICE, Ten Cents. $5.00 Per Year.

Published by the American Field Publishing Co.

TERMS.—Five dollars a year; two dollars and seventy-five cents for six months; Club rates, three or more four dollars a year each; strictly in advance.

REMITTANCES.—Money should be sent by American Express Co.'s Money Order, Postal Order, Draft on Chicago, or by Registered Letter.

NEWS DEALERS.—The Trade supplied by the American and Western News Companies.

COMMUNICATIONS.—Manuscript intended for publication should be written on one side of the paper only, and must be accompanied by the writer's name and address, not necessarily for publication, but as a private guarantee of good faith, and all communications, upon any subject, or for any department, must be addressed,

N. ROWE.
Editor and Manager American Field,
245 and 247 State St., Chicago, Ill.

EASTERN OFFICE.—19 Park Place, New York.

Game and Shooting

FIXTURES

Iowa State Sportsmeu's Association's annual meeting, Cedar Rapids, Ia., May 14.

Sportsmen's Exposition, Madison Square Garden, New York City, May 13, 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18.

Illinois State Sportsmeu's Association's twenty-first annual convention, Chicago, June 4.

North Dakota State Sportsmen's Association's first annual convention, Fargo, June 14.

DUCK SHOOTING ON THE SASSAFRAS RIVER

BY ORION

The cold snap about February 18 last, and the reports of the number of wildfowl—geese, ducks and brants—along the Jersey coast, brought vividly to my mind an enjoyable day's shooting I had on the Sassafras River twenty-five years ago. In those days a man had to know how to load a gun, and had to provide himself with several sizes of shot, say from No. 5 to BB, and, as duck shooting was nearly always best when the weather was either stormy or bitterly cold, a man paid dearly for his sport.

Times have changed since the advent of breech-loaders, and now it is not even necessary for a shooter to know how to load a gun, as every gun-dealer carries a stock of loaded shells, and they can be bought for very little more than the price of the ammunition. In the days I speak of we used two guns—a 7-gauge and a 12-gauge—and loaded at the muzzle with fingers nearly frozen, and so numb that it was a difficult job to put the caps on the nipples. Now, all the shooter has to do is to break his gun, extract the empty shells and put in loaded ones, and he is ready for another shot. Our blinds in those days were erected from a lot of drift stuff found on the marsh—anything to conceal the shooter—and the advancing tide often made it very uncomfortable when one was crouching in six or eight inches of ice-cold water. Now, many of the shooters have their blinds built for them by the baymen, and are provided with oil stoves.

It was in December, 1870, that my partner and I were shooting quails down near Shallcross' Landing, on the Sassafras River, when my friend Frizby Boulden suggested that we give the ducks a turn. Said he: "The weather's come out cold now, and we'll give the dogs a holiday to rest their feet, for you know the frozen ground cuts them all to pieces, and if you'll come over to my house in the morning about 3 o'clock, we'll drive down to Turner's Creek Landing and get Jack Dewees' boat and decoys and go over to the point and kill some ducks. My black boy says he saw lots of 'em on the fly this morning."

We were stopping with Friz's brother, Roseby Boulden, about three miles distant, and promised to be on hand the next morning. We got everything ready the night before—guns, ammunition and gum boots—and retired about 8 o'clock. I awoke about 2 o'clock, and, drawing the window curtain aside, looked out on the fields, which, under the reflection of the moon, looked as though they were covered with snow. I aroused my partner, Robert, but he pleaded for another half-hour's nap, which, as I had no particular use for him, I granted, and went down into the kitchen and roused the black boy, Jim, and told him to put Sam, a four-year-old colt, to the dearborn, while I skirmished around and got a couple of biscuits as we intended to get breakfast at Friz Boulden's. In the, meantime Robert had pulled himself together and was out of bed hunting up his clothes. He couldn't find his cap, nor his powder-flask, nor his boots, and I was fast losing my little stock of patience and threatened to drive off without him, when I heard Jim making a great racket in the pound.

"What's the matter, Jim?" I inquired.

"Nothin'," said he, "only this dodblasted colt's got de ole debil in him, an' won't stan' till I put de harness on him. Whoa, now, you aggerwatin' cuss. I neber seed a sorrel horse wiv a white face but was wus dan de debil to gear up, 'specially at night. He gits skeered at his own shadder. Won't you please hold him by dat halter till I slip de bridle ober his head? Look out, sir, he doan jump on ye; he's lookin' roun' sideways, an' dat means some fun fer him."

I took hold of the halter and spoke kindly to the horse, but he was nervous and fidgety, and insisted on moving about, but by dint of perseverance Jim got the harness on him and geared him to the dearborn. Jim held the horse while I went in the house after Robert, and we soon had everything aboard. Sam was pawing the ground, and impatiently shaking and twisting himself about. We mounted the seat of the dearborn, when Jim said:

"I'll lead him to de road gate an' open it, sir, but look out how ye turn, fur as soon as I let go of him he'll be off like a streak o' lightnin'. Look out, now, an' doan jerk on de lines, fur dey mought break;" and without more ado the black imp opened the gate, and giving Sam a vigorous slap on his rump, said:

"G'long, ye ornery whitewashed face son-of-a-gun!" And sure enough he did "g'long," for the rush he made completely upset Robert from his seat (he was only about half awake), and as he fell he clutched hold of me and I came near going over with him, but recovering myself I spoke to the horse; but he heeded me no more than the wind, and rattled along at a slashing pace with the bit between his teeth. Fortunately the road was good; a hard, level stretch of gravel for about two and a half miles, and the small pebbles rattled against my face like a load of shot. Robert lay curled up in the wagon where he had tumbled, and gave a good deal of advice as to driving, etc.:

"Look out, now, how you drive," said he. "Do you think you can check him when you come to the turn? Don't he put you in mind of that colt Tom used to own? Don't you feel cold?"

But I had no time to answer conundrums, as Sam just then engaged all my attention. In a short time we reached the dead cedar where we were to turn to the left, and had about a mile farther to go to reach Friz Boulden's house. By this time Sam had trotted off some of his high spirits, and I had no more trouble with him, and in a little while we drove into Boulden's front yard, and were greeted by about forty dogs (Robert said there were that number, but I could count only seven, although they made noise enough for four hundred). The next moment Friz opened the door, and after a good deal of shouting he dispersed the group of canines, but not before they had frightened Sam nearly out of his wits, and the playful creature tried his best to climb over the garden palings, and did succeed in tearing down half a dozen of them. Friz called his black boy and told him to "take that infernal colt out of the dearborn and put him in the stable, and to put Kate (his own mare) in his place," and we three went into the house.

A bright fire was burning in the fireplace, and Uncle Tommy (Friz's father) was seated in a rocking chair in front of it. The old gentleman gave us a hearty welcome, and in a little while we were seated at breakfast. The old gentleman said "it was a'most too airly for him to eat," and being an old duck shooter, he gave us some good advice to use on our trip.

"You boys had better go over to Ornery (Ordinary) Pint and put out your decoys; don't put 'em all in one flock, but kinder scatter 'em, like, an' don't all git into one blind, but git about a hundred yards apart. This is Tuesday, and the sink-box shooters will be on the flats to-day an' keep the ducks on the fly. Ye can take that big gun o' mine, Frisby, what we call 'Old Sweetlips,' an' she'll kill ducks a hundred yards so dead that they'll never kick. I've killed more ducks than would fill this room twice. When I lived down on Turkey Pint—you don't recollect that, Frisby. How old are ye?"

"Twenty-five," said Friz.

"No, you don't recollect it; it's more'n thirty year ago; I killed over five hundred canvas-backs one Winter, besides blackheads, baldpates an' spriggies."

By this time the famous gun was brought into the room, and the old gentleman took a fresh start at his favorite theme. He put it into my hands and continued:

"That gun is over six foot long, an' there's mighty few men can shoot her off hand. She weighs twenty-six pounds and is an inch and an eighth at the muzzle. I always shot her from a rest, and when you pint her straight ye can do mighty fine work with her. You've got to have a kickin' strap on her, fur her regular load is fifteen drams of powder and five ounces of shot! Old Jacob Cranston was out with me one day, an' he can tell you the same thing. He paddled me onto a big body of blackheads an' mallards; there was acres of 'em. I had five ounces of No. 1 shot in her, and I let go right into the middle of the bunch and killed forty-seven."

Friz nudged me with his elbow and whispered: "It used to be thirty-nine, but the count increases every year."

Uncle Tommy turned around in his chair, and said: "What's that, Frisby?"

"I said it's time we were off if we expect to get our decoys out before light."

We donned our overcoats and went out on the porch. The air was keen and frosty, even colder than when we started from Boulden's. The moon was shining with extra brilliancy, and the frost sparkled and glistened like snow.

"It's makin' ice, now," said Uncle Tommy, "an' the ducks won't stir so airly as they would if the wind was a leetle mite more from the southward. Take care o' that big gun, Frisby, an' good bye an' good luck to ye."

The black boy stood shivering by the horse's head, when Friz inquired:

"Is everything in the wagon? Where's that black dog, Cæsar?"

"Surely you're not going to take that dog," said I. "What in the name of common sense do you want with him when you are ducking?"

"You'll see," said Fritz. "Just cripple a canvas-back or any big duck, and let it get to diving and flirting about in the water, and you'll see what good that dog will be. Why, I've known him to swim a mile after a crippled duck."

The darky found the dog in the barn and tied a rope around his neck. He was a big, ungainly-looking brute, part Newfoundland, part something else, and a good deal—dog. He ate a large loaf of bread and some meat, and was then hoisted into the wagon. I put my feet against his warm body and found him at least good to keep my feet warm, and we were soon under way. The road was hard and level, and in less than half an hour we reached Turner's Creek Landing, about three hundred yards from the Sassafras River, and drove up to Mr. Todd's gate. Friz gave me the lines and jumped out and knocked at the door. No answer. Knock, knock, kick, rattle and shake. Still no answer. Friz was possessed of great preseverance, and resumed his knocking and kicking until a noise was heard inside the house. The window sash was raised, and a venerable head emerged beyond the window sill.

"Who are ye, an' what's wantin'?" said the head.

"Friz Boulden, and I want to put my mare in your stable and get Jack Dewee's boat and decoys to go duck shooting."

After a while the old man came down and took us to the barn, and we got the decoys—twenty-seven—which we put in the boat which was moored at the wharf. Our guns and ammunition were placed in the boat also, and in a few minutes we were in the boat rowing out toward Ordinary Point, which is a stretch of bar running out about a quarter of a mile from the western shore of the Sassafras River, and across which nearly all the ducks that pass up and down the river take their flight. The extreme point, for about a hundred yards, is entirely bare of bushes and covered with sand and fine white pebbles. Further in, toward the main land, there is a sparse growth of bushes. We disposed of our decoys in two bunches, and built two blinds. I occupied one and Friz and Robert the other.

It was now half-past 5 o'clock and the entire eastern horizon was aglow with daylight. Our guns were loaded, and we were patiently awaiting the first appearance of the ducks, when a rush of wings was heard, and a body of more than a hundred blackheads arose from the water on the north side of the bar, where they had been quietly feeding, and, swinging around just beyond gunshot, took their flight down toward the bay, a mile or more distant

They had not flown more three hundred yards when they [illegible] me back toward us. I knew they would [illegible]s and whirl and come back, and was afraid [illegible] and alarm them, for they were out [illegible]nd enough, when they were directly over [illegible] about eighty or a hundred yards off, he fired the contents of one barrel into them. He hit one duck pretty hard. It dropped from the bunch about twenty or thirty yards, but recovering itself, and finding that it could not keep up with the flock, took its flight off toward the low meadows. After the ducks had passed I cautioned Robert not to shoot until the ducks had either settled among the decoys or were hovering over them.

Daylight came on brighter and brighter, and in a little while a faint streak of sunlight lit up a golden pathway across the water. We were lying still as mice. I was about a hundred yards from the others, in a trench that I had scooped out in the sand, the bottom of which was covered with dry branches and leaves and a couple of canvas bags. I was entirely out of sight of anything from the river, but could see the ducks as they came to my decoys, which were bobbing about in the water about twenty-five yards in front of me. Our boat was hauled up out of sight among the bushes, and Friz had the dog with him. Scarcely five minutes had elapsed when a heavy shot was heard away off toward Spesutia Island, and in a short time five canvas-backs darted along the surface of the water, clearing the decoys and myself, and flew up the river a short distance, then turned and flew down again, when they saw the decoys and wheeled and came straight at them. I had the big gun ready. Before they reached the decoys and were about a hundred yards distant, they shied and flew out toward the river, then, wheeling again, came the back track, just over my head, and flopped down in the midst of the decoys. As they swam together I got two heads in range and pulled trigger on them. They spread their wings out on the water and scarcely kicked. (An old duck shooter once remarked that a canvas-back requires a heap of killing before he is dead.) The other three sprang up as quick as lightning, jumping ten feet from the water, and I knocked one of them down with the other barrel. It was only crippled, and the moment it struck the water it dived clear to the bottom. I heard a splash in the water and Friz's dog was after it. The duck came up a few yards off and the dog struck out for it, and just as he thought he had it, down it went again. Friz urged the dog on, and he followed heroically, and, after a good deal of diving and swimming, he caught the duck and brought it safely to shore. He then swam out and brought in the two dead ducks. The performance was so well done that I bestowed a good deal of praise on the sagacious brute.

Scarcely were we settled in our blinds when a small bunch of blackheads pitched in among Friz's decoys, and he poured the contents of "Old Sweetlips" into them, and at the same time Robert let go with both barrels of his gun. The result was five dead, three crippled, and the heads knocked off of two of Jack's best decoys—the hollow ones. The dog plunged in after the crippled ducks and recovered two of them, but the third one gave him the slip. After a lapse of about five minutes a mallard and canvas-back came up the river, wheeled and came to my decoys. They were flying slowly and appeared as if they had been hit. I allowed them to come within about twenty yards of me, then arose, and with my 12-gauge gun loaded with an ounce and a quarter of No. 5's in each barrel, I killed the canvas-back with the first shot, and the mallard, taken entirely by surprise, hovered for an instant preparatory to darting off, and I let go at it with the other barrel, and it came down dead.

I recovered the ducks and had just crouched down in my blind, when a little bunch of butterballs—about a dozen—darted down among Friz's decoys. Robert fired both barrels into them and killed three. After that there was a lull of a half hour, then two heavy shots were heard away down toward the bay, then another shot, and the next moment a long line of ducks, high up in the air, came flying up the river. I watched them as far as I could see them, and while in the act of watching, heard a rush of wings, and turning around quickly, saw seven canvas-backs dart over my decoys and fly across the point. One instant sooner and I would have had a shot. I kept very quiet, not daring to move, when they came driving back again. They darted in among the decoys, then raised and whirled and came straight at me, passing over my head; then they wheeled about again and dashed in among the decoys. They were very fidgety and did not swim together, but jumped clear of the water all in a compact body, and I fired one barrel at them and knocked down four—two dead and two crippled—which afforded fine sport for the dog. He went for them, and after half an hour's chase captured both.

[illegible] clock and the morning flight was [illegible] shot was heard down toward the [illegible] a few scattered ducks would fly [illegible] a few single stragglers and got [illegible] good bunch of blackheads, and killed four and crippled three, which made more sport for the dog.

We did not remain long after this, but took up our decoys and rowed over to Turner's Creek Landing, put away the boat and decoys and drove home with twenty-seven ducks.

Newbold, N. J.

SPRING SHOOTING ON THE CACHE

BY S. D. BARNES

Looking through an old diary I run across the following, under date of May 4, 1882:

"Camp on Cache; Johnson, 9 squirrels; Barnes, 2 turkeys, 2 squirrels, 9 buffalo."

That was before the adoption of the present Arkansas game law; but if it had not been, my conscience would still be free from qualms on the turkey score. They were both gobblers, and were killed in an honest and legitimate way; while the squirrels were of the first crop of that year, young and toothsome. The buffalo were of the ordinary scaly variety, and not of the sort ordinarily thought of in connection with the "boundless and illimitable" plains.

Johnson wielded a shotgun, while I pinned my faith to an old-fashioned muzzle-loading rifle which had cost me $13 at a Little Rock gun store some months before, and which I sold soon after for about one third that sum. It would shoot a long ways, and it was something more accurate than the oft-mentioned "pocket of rocks." Consequently I had the "edge" on my friend, whose arm was most effective at the shortest possible range. The scene of our hunt was on the Cache River, a few miles above Clarendon, and one of my turkeys was killed in sight of the right of way of the St. Louis & Southwestern Railroad, which, however, was not then in operation, though I believe work on the Clarendon bridge was in progress. I was over the same ground some two years ago, and it occurred to me then that I had never written of this particular hunt; but finding that there was yet game to kill, and becoming interested in killing it, I temporarily lost sight of the matter, only to have it again recalled to mind by the discovery of the memoranda above quoted.

1882—thirteen years ago. How many first-class hunting grounds have been shot out since then! How many good shots and jolly companions—more's the pity—have crossed to the happy hunting grounds beyond the river. I suppose my old friend Johnson is of the latter number, for I lost track of him years ago; but as for myself—well, I am still in the ring; and though somewhat duller of sight and stiffer of joints, I can still cover nearly as much ground as I could a dozen years ago; can shoot a little upon occasion, and can find it in my heart to wax jubilant over the knowledge that the forests and brakes of Arkansas will be replete with game long after my last hunt is taken and my forest paraphernalia has become the property of a younger sportsman. But to return to the hunt.

The previous Autumn three of us had outfitted at Little Rock, and striking the Cache at Surrrounded Hill, camped a while on Malone's Bayou and then worked our way up-stream to the foot of Black Swamp. We were in the woods all Winter, coming out late in February for a few weeks' rest; but when the turkeys began gobbling in April I caught the fever again, and with one of my companions, Johnson, dropped down on the Cache for a few days' sport. Our camp was a primitive affair, but it answered every purpose. We had found the skeleton of a raftsman's shanty—four forks and two poles, nothing more—and, by picking up some plank from a drift, had patched up a roof and one wall, rolling a cypress log into position to serve as a windbreak at night. The woods were full of wild hogs, and consequently we were compelled to hang up all our belongings whenever we left camp; but that was only a matter of a few minutes' work and we were above noticing trifles. The first day after we got our camp fixed up I struck a hard streak of luck. The overflow that year had been the highest for a quarter century and there was still a great deal of water in the lowest portions of the bottoms, while every little draw leading to the river was the bed of a stream too deep to wade with ordinary leather boots. In attempting to reach the first turkey that gobbled that morning I essayed to cross one of these sloughs on a rotten log, and five minutes later I was back in camp, wet to the skin all over, and all the powder in my horn quite ruined Johnson had a full flask, but he was in the woods somewhere and not liable to show up before night. I then and there registered a vow that under no circumstances would I ever again be guilty of putting all my powder in one horn, and that I would also strive to eschew muzzle-loaders in the future—a vow which I have since broken so often that the times thereof are beyond counting. I could hear Johnson's cannon at intervals, ringing out up the river, and somehow this music had no cheering effect on my downcast spirits. Hanging my wet clothing on a fishing line stretched around the fire, I wrapped up in a blanket and sat upon a log in the sunshine, with a smoke of rotten wood to keep the mosquitoes from my exposed limbs, and I twice filled and emptied Johnson's extra pipe, my own brier root having been thrown away three months before when I swore off smoking. Later on I made some strong coffee. and after drinking a few cup fuls I found my nerves sufficiently composed to admit of redressing myself and cleaning up my old rifle for another "plunge into the depths of the gloomy and forbidding forest," or the first puddle that I happened to find. It was necessary that my nerves should be steady when I attempted to work on that arm, for "Old Neverkill" as Johnson had irreverently named it, was a delicate piece of mechanism, and unless you happened to get the right amount of cotton around the thread of the lock screw the whole business was likely to drop off without your recognizing the fact; besides, the triggers, which were of the "set" variety, were liable to come unset with or without provocation unless the leathern wedge under the spring was of the right thickness and cut with the proper slope Some of the AMERICAN FIELD's old-time readers may have seen a rifle of the sort I describe, for they were quite common fifteen or twenty years ago; but I think they are manufactured no longer, being too complicated and costly to find sale among the "cheap John" sportsmen of the present day.

Along about 12 o'clock I grew tired of lounging around camp and strolled over to the scene of my misadventure to see how it happened, anyhow; but the log which had caused all my trouble had rolled into the current and floated down to the next bend. I noticed, however, that there were a good many fish, principally buffalo, grinnel and gar, running down toward the river, and I decided that I could have some fun with them if I could improvise a spear from a forked sapling. There was a bigger log lying across the slough a few hundred yards farther back in the bottom, and when my spear was completed I got astride this log, and every time a fish passed under it I would try my best to pin him into the mud. It was exciting sport until I found that the fish invariably got away, and then I decided that it was too much like baby work for a full-grown sportsman, and went back to camp, where I found and tried to get interested in a three-months-old copy of the Des Arc Citizen. I was asleep when Johnson returned, but he lost no time in disturbing my slumbers, and for the next hour I listened to his pitiful excuses for returning without game. He had seen, I think, every description of feathered or four-footed game common to the Mississippi Valley, but a careful exploration of the pockets of his hunting coat discovered nothing but a brace of teal and a very small cat squirrel.

The next morning we were up and had discussed our breakfast of bacon, "wagonwheel" bread and coffee, long before the first streak of gray appeared in the east, and as soon as I could see the sights of "Old Neverkill" I made my way in safety across that infernal slough and bore directly eastward, leaving the river behind. I had figured that the greater portion of the game was still on the higher ground, having been driven there by the overflow, and that, if I wished to retrieve my lost reputation as a hunter, it was first necessary to reach dry ground. Within ten minutes after leaving camp I heard the hoarse chuckle of an old gobbler far away to the left, which was the course Johnson had chosen; but I pressed straight on, and in a few minutes was rewarded by hearing a gobble which was plainly that of a young turkey, dead ahead. It was ten minutes before I heard him the second time, and meanwhile I had got within two hundred yards of him and selected a position for calling. I expected to find him an easy victim, as young gobblers usually are, but he had evidently recently received a flogging from some irritable gentleman with a long beard who objected to the presence of young gallants on his particular range, for, try as I might, I could not get him to come to my calling. Creeping closer, I finally saw him on the ground, gobbling and strutting, but nevertheless quite wide awake to the fact that he was in danger from some source and ready to pull for a safer region at the first alarm. He was a trifle too far away for a sure shot, and in attempting to get closer I revealed myself and he made a dash for the nearest thicket. I fired on him as he ran, without the slightest hopes of scoring a kill, but he wilted like an exploded balloon, the bullet striking him gust above the tail and coming out at the breast. He was terribly mangled, and I felt almost disgusted when I picked him up, for, at best, he would not have weighed over eight or nine pounds, and I had promised a certain young lady in Clarendon a turkey for her birthday dinner on the morrow.

Hanging the little gobbler on a tree where I could find him on my return, I continued on, and in a quarter of an hour secured a snap shot at a three-point buck which ran from a thicket about sixty yards to the right. In all my experience with firearms I have no recollection of a rifle that would beat "Old Neverkill" for work of that particular description. The barrel was fully thirty-six inches in length, and every inch was full weight or heavier Armed with that rifle and placed in a forty-acre park with a good lively deer, any enterprising sportsman could have had enough snap shooting to have satisfied him for a lifetime, and the deer would have enjoyed the fun fully as much as the man. This particular buck circled me, as deer sometimes will, and when I fired he stopped and then loped slowly away as though desirous of showing me there had been no harm done. As I was loading again two squirrels exhibited themselves on the limbs of a hollow post oak, and, being anxious to prove that the rifle and not myself was to blame for missing the deer, I tried my skill on them, decapitating each with a single ball. Under the circumstances I had much rather have missed them, but "Neverkill's" star was in the ascendancy, and I was left the doubtful consolation of pocketing the squirrels, as well as my own natural chagrin at having missed such a fine deer with so accurate an arm.

After this little incident I suppose that I trudged on for a mile without hearing or seeing anything further to denote the presence of game. At last I grew tired, and seating myself at the root of a big red oak tree, took a cane joint from my pocket and began to imitate the call of a turkey hen. I got a reply almost immediately, and the gobbler was evidently so near at hand that there was no chance of changing my position. I cocked my rifle noiselessly and swung it to my shoulder, and almost as I did so the gobbler broke cover not ten steps away. The stream of fire that shot from "Old Neverkill's" muzzle must almost have singed his feathers, but as the bullet broke his neck it is doubtful if he ever saw me. Twice since I have killed turkeys at even shorter range (but each time with a handful of No. 8 shot), and though it is impossible to restrain a feeling of exultation at being able to allure game in this manner, it is a murderous business after all, and about its only redeeming feature is the fact that your kills are all clean ones and that there are no cripples left to wander around the woods and die by inches.

On my way back to camp I found the fish still running down the little slough and I shot nine of the largest buffalo that I could see in an hour's watching, consequently we had fish for several meals, and when I paddled down to Clarendon with my turkey, I was enabled to add a twelve-pound buffalo to my little donation, getting, it is needless to state, fully my share of both fish and fowl at the dinner which followed.

When I revisited the scene of this hunt, as before stated, in 1893, I identified the site of our camp by the scorched roots of a big ash against which our campfire was built. There have been a great many new farms opened on the east side of Cache, but between that river and White River I found but few changes, and these principally made by timbermen in removing the most valuable growth of cypress and white oak. The almost endless canebrakes are still there, and bear and deer tracks can be found in abundance by anyone who cares to look for them. It is remarkable how little change there has been in this overflowed canebrake country since the country was first settled. But when one comes to think the matter over in all its bearings it is not so remarkable after all. Though the soil is the richest in the state it can never be successfully cultivated except at the expense of a levee system which would cost millions to perfect, and there are from two to four months in each year that the country can only be traversed in boats. Then, when the overflow is at its highest stage, is the best time for the sportsman to visit this great game preserve; but how few from the Northern or Eastern states have ever done so! The upper waters of the Black and Cache rivers are visited by many sportsmen in the early autumnal months, but when the rainy season begins and the dugouts and Johnboats of the natives are traversing those vast inland lakes, the average tourist has already returned to his "shot-out" home range and is making life miserable for the few quails and rabbits which still linger in its scanty covers.

In former articles of mine to which the AMERICAN FIELD has given space I have striven to impress sportsmen with the fact that it is worse than useless to waste time visiting a range with which they are unacquainted unless accompanied by a guide, and if they do not care to go to the expense of hiring the latter they should make a preliminary flying trip for the purpose of locating their hunting grounds. For this purpose no time excels the early Spring months. The swamps of Arkansas are easily accessible from all points in the North and the East, and a few days spent in the woods when the ground is moist with the Spring rains will enable the sportsman to locate his game with the greatest certainty. It will not be time lost, for the streams of Eastern Arkansas are noted for an abundance of game fish, and there is as good squirrel shooting in May and June as at any later period in the year. I think that the best squirrel shooting I ever had was on the Cache, a few miles west of Jonesboro, in the month last mentioned. Usually the bottoms are free from water at that time; but that year proved an exception to the general rule. The squirrels were "budding" on the trees which grew in the lowlands, and I shot from a dugout the greater part of the time, using a Stevens .22-caliber rifle. I might have easily killed larger game if it had been in season, for I saw deer and turkeys nearly every day that I remained in that vicinity. Hunting was not my sole object, as I was in search of overcup and cow oak suitable for stave making. But I had a world of fun, and when I left the river and struck across to the railroad at Wiener, I felt as though I was leaving the better part of life behind.

Ft. Worth, Tex.

THE GAME LAW OF MAINE

The Maine legislature, at its recent session, made some important changes in the game and fish law of that state. In the first place there is to be an entire change in the warden system of the state. An appropriation of $25,000 for two years will enable the new game commission to thoroughly police the upper Penobscot and Allagash waters, where the greatest slaughter out of season has taken place, and the new amendment to the law, making the punishment for violation imprisonment as well as fine, will undoubtedly work wonders in the way of protection.

Cow moose, of which heretofore each sportsman visiting the woods was allowed to kill one, have been protected forever. Moose are fast disappearing from the Maine woods, having been hunted relentlessly for years by Canadians, who cross the line up in the St. Johns country and crust-hunt them in Winter for their skins. Bull moose may be killed at certain seasons of the year until further protection is provided. Calf moose are also protected, to the extent that a person killing one is liable to the same penalty set down for killing the cow, which is a fine of $100 to $300 or thirty days' imprisonment. This is the penalty, too, for killing any kind of moose in close season.

The law on deer has been changed so that the penalty reads imprisonment as well as fine. Besides this only two deer may be killed in the open season. Last year each sportsman was allowed to kill three deer, two caribou and a moose; this year the law reads two deer, one caribou and one moose. Hunting by jacklight, or jacking as the sportsmen call it, has also been made illegal. Hundreds of deer have been killed in this way, the light from a bullseye so fascinating them that a canoe could be paddled up to within a few feet, making it almost possible to strike them with the butt of the gun. Fines and imprisonment are connected with this new law, and also with the law prohibiting dogging. Guides are also made responsible, equally with those they assist, for violations of the laws.

Partridges, under the new laws, are protected till September 20, when the chickens are able to care for themselves. Woodcocks may, as usual, be shot September 1. Those who have ever done any wing shooting in the countries away from the big woods find partridges in September about as lively in getting away as at any other time of the year. Good wing shooting is to be had all through Kennebec County; also in Sagadahock, Penobscot and Knox. There are a good many native woodcocks, but the best shooting is to be had about October 20, when the flight birds begin to drop in. Up Bangor way, over east of Augusta, and in the country above Old Town, both woodcocks and partridges offer good sport. In the big woods partridges and other game are very plenty, but they are almost as tame as domestic fowls.

One of the recent concessions made to sportsmen by the recent legislature was the passage of a bill allowing them to send game, or parts of game, to licensed taxidermists for the purpose of mounting. This will give everyone a chance to send some game out of the state, but this part of the law is likely to be so thoroughly abused by market-shooters as to be short lived.

It will be interesting to anglers to learn that but twenty-five pounds of trout may be carried out of the state by each person. Last year the limit was fifty pounds. No effort whatever was made to stop ice fishing, which is allowed from February 1 as long as the ice holds. The control of brooks and streams and the stocking of them and the lakes have been put into the hands of the game commissioners. This will do away with a lot of special legislation, and enable needed reforms to be effected when the legislature is not in session.

TEXAS GAME NOTES

SAN ANTONIO, TEX.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—The close season on quails was ushered in with the first day of April, though few thorough sportsmen in and around San Antonio have indulged in killing the speckled beauties since the first day of March. They, better than the lawmakers now assembled at Austin, are able to judge when this, the greatest of all game bird birds, should be protected.

Our open season on quails is entirely too long. As it is now it opens October 1 and closes April 1, allowing six months in which we are, by law, permitted to hunt these birds. The law should be changed, and that very soon, or the few quails we have left will be exterminated, and sportsmen, as a relic of bygone days, will have a few photographed or carefully preserved to show future generations of sportsmen what their forefathers used to bag when they went hunting. The rank vegetation and the unusually warm weather in the month of October make it almost impossible at that time for a bird dog to do good work, and the writer has seen and heard of several instances where female birds shot in April were full of half matured eggs. All this goes to prove that the close season in Nature should to a large degree govern our [illegible], and that the law should be so amended [illegible] thereto. November 1 to March 1 should [illegible] open season, and no longer.

Speaking of guns, the gunmakers of the United States are fast taking a place alongside of those of England and Belgium in the manufacture of fine weapons. Among some of the most popular guns made in this country I might mention the L. C. Smith, the Colt, the Lefever, the new Remington, the Parker and the Baker. Some of these firms can turn out as fine guns in point of durability and shooting qualities as any country on the globe. The L. C. Smith gun seems to be held in highest favor with the sportsmen of San Antonio, and several of our well-known trap shots are the owners of new ejector guns of this make.

Only those who have been fortunate enough to visit the Gulf coast at Rockport or Corpus Christi, on the San Antonio & Aransas Pass Railroad, in search of his wary duckship, can fully realize the amount of game that has been killed within a radius of twenty miles of the above mentioned cities. Were the numbers carefully preserved and recorded, the total would no doubt run close to 50,000 during the season. I do not exaggerate when I say that on different occasions more than five hundred shots have been fired during an hour's flight, by four sportsmen on the above coast country. Of course, not all were clean kills, nevertheless the ducks were in range and shot at. On one occasion three active members of the San Antonio Gun Club succeeded in bagging seventy-seven redheads and canvas-backs during an evening flight. This was at Copano Bay and the writer was one of the party.

Southwest Texas, and particularly the coast country through which the Aransas Pass Railroad runs, is truly a sportsman's paradise, and were it advertised as it should be, hundreds of Northern sportsmen could be attracted thither to enjoy the sport and spend their money.

The New York World, in its Easter edition, no doubt "at a great expense," published a short article telling where all the good things we eat are supposed to come from, and gave Texas no further credit than furnishing the celebrated long-horn steers. Nothing was said about the luscious watermelons raised here, the hundreds of pairs of redheads and canvas-back ducks that were shipped from Rockport for New York epicures. Why not give the devil his due?

G. A. CHABOT.

FISH AND GAME LEGISLATION IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

The recent New Hampshire legislature gave a reasonable amount of attention to the game and fish interest of that state, consequently the laws governing these interests now afford much better protection than formerly, and are said to be quite satisfactory to the sportsmen of the state.

Among the changes of importance in the law is that which relates to the opening of the brook trout fishing season, and of the shooting season on game birds and game animals. Both of these seasons open fifteen days later than they have formerly, and the brook trout season closes fifteen days earlier. The closing of the hunting season remains unchanged. It will now be unlawful to fish for brook trout prior to May 1 instead of April 15, while the close season begins September 1 instead of September 15.

The open season on partridges, quails and woodcocks dates from September 15 instead of September 1, and closes January 1, as heretofore. This law also applies to gray squirrels, coons and some other animals. The open season on deer, moose and caribou is now from September 15 to November 15. Dogging of these animals is prohibited at all seasons of the year.

Fishing through the ice for brook or speckled trout, or any landlocked salmon, from any waters of the state, is positively forbidden at all seasons.

The amendments to the laws provide that the commissioners may, when they deem it necessary, appoint one or more persons to act as special detectives, whose compensation shall be drawn from the penalties imposed on persons. These detectives, besides being vested with the ordinary powers of a constable, shall have authority to arrest on view, within the limits of the state, any person violating the fish and game laws.

A resolution was passed appropriating the sum of $500 to be invested by the fish and game bird commission in building additional tanks for the preservation of parent trout at the Colebrook hatchery, and the procuring of parent trout for the same plant.

An act was passed in protection of pigeons. This act provides that it shall not be lawful for any person to kill, or destroy, between the date of the passage of the act, March 28, 1895, and August 1, 1898, any passenger pigeon, commonly known as wild pigeon, or any turtle dove.

One of the most discussed measures in the House was that relating to fishing through the ice, and it was finally disposed of by the passage of a bill prohibiting ice fishing for a period of four years in a large number of lakes and ponds, as follows: Mascoma Lake in Enfield and Lebanon,

Crystal Lake in Enfield, Spectacle Pond in Enfield and Croydon Ponds in the towns of Croydon, Washington and Grantham, Lyme or Post Pond in Lyme, Partridge Pond in Plainfield, Lyman, Round, Dodge and Young ponds in Lyman, Perch, Streeter and Mink ponds in Lisbon, Hoyt's, Grass and Clark's ponds in Canaan, Beaver Pond in Derry, Robinson Pond or Three Ponds in the town of Warren, Lake Babboosic in the towns of Amherst and Merrimac, Sondogardy Pond in the town of Northfield, Lake Massabesic in Manchester and Auburn, and Nutt's Pond in Manchester.

GAME IN LOUISIANA

DARLINGTON, S. C.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—During the past Winter I had the pleasure of spending a month at my old home in Louisiana. The chief object of my visit was to see the "old folks" and friends of my youth. I had not been on my "native heath" for five years and as I approached the "scenes of my childhood" my heart was full of recollections and incidents of the days gone by. With mingled feelings of joy and sadness I arrived at the old homestead, where many sad changes had taken place since last I had crossed its thresholed.

The country in which my old home is located is one of the finest game countries I know of. Incidentally I might also mention it is as well one of the finest farming countries in the South. If any of the inquisitive readers of the AMERICAN FIELD want to know the whereabouts of this favored spot, let them look for Morehouse Parish, in the northeastern portion of the state, and they will find this sportsman's paradise.

I have never seen game so abundant, and while my time was devoted chiefly to ducks and partridges, larger game was easily found. I had on all my hunts the congenial companions of many former hunts, and this, added to the ideal outing, made it doubly pleasant. I am afraid to tell the readers of the AMERICAN FIELD the exact number of big mallards, plump partridges and other game I bagged, as they might think it a little too much like Munchausen, and all know that it breaks a sportsman's heart to have his statements questioned, so with that fear confronting me I will content myself by merely saying that I had royal sport.

A party of sportsmen from Chicago spent several weeks in this country I speak of. I do not know what success they had, but I understood they were well "loaded" for all kinds of game and fully prepared for any emergency.

I held up my end of the time in shooting, and attribute my good shooting in a great measure to the excellence of the cartridges I used. They were loaded to order and by hand by that prince of shell loaders, Frank Lawrence of Chicago, whose advertisement I saw in the AMERICAN FIELD. I had Mr. Lawrence load me a hundred shells each of Schultze, American Wood, E. C. and S. S. powder, and I am free to confess that I connot detect any superiority of one over the other. I know one great factor in the whole business was my incomparable Lefever gun. With this gun and Lawrence's hand-loaded shells, I "fear no foe."

The severe and continued cold we had last Winter I do not think did any serious damage to the quails. From observation I am led to believe that plenty of birds are eft for breeding purposes. Spring is now fully upon us. After "lingering in the lap of Winter" it has at last come forth in all its gorgeousness.

Fishing is splendid. Shad and herring have been taken in large quantities, while the smaller varieties that we catch with hook and line are biting with great voraciousness. My pond is full of the finest bass, goggle-eyed perch, "war mouth" and bream. I am beseiged by parties, every day, begging permission to feed therein. I am too good-natured to turn them all away, and my generosity is often rewarded by the party bringing me a nice mess of as fine fish as any man ever saw.

A. T. BAIRD, M. D.

GUNS

ROCKFORD, ILL.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—How the 10-gauge gun has been catching it again lately; and how fashion changes things. A few years ago the writer attended a tournament of the Illinois State Sportsmen's Association, and there were not over half a dozen 12-gauge guns in the contests. Five years, I think, passed and I chanced to be there again, and behold, what a change! The fashion had set in for 12-gauge guns and not over half a dozen 10-gauges were there. And again in 1894 I was there. Same story over again. I now see they are trying to bar out the 10-gauges. Why is it? Are the 12-gauge advocates afraid that the 10-gauge men will use more shot than they? I will venture to say that if the truth were known the 12-[illegible]sters stretch a point as often as [illegible]-gauge.

[illegible] have targeted many guns and fall [illegible]e has any advantage over a 12-[illegible]ation I ever saw was made with [illegible]or pattern there is no difference; most any gun can be bored to shoot any pattern a man may want. I claim that if there is a difference a party ought to pick out a gun by its pattern only, regardless of the bore. I also claim, and I heard that good fellow, Col. Felton, say it also, that the man that shoots a 10-gauge gun is handicapped instead of the one that uses a 12-gauge, at the same distance.

I see that at the coming tournament at Cleveland 10-gauge guns are to be handicapped. Shame on the management of that tournament! How many will stay away on that account? I for one. All have a right to make rules of their own to govern a tournament, but a fellow like me that is wedded to his 10-gauge hates to get a divorce without cause, and be driven (not led) to buying a 12-gauge gun and learn to shoot all over again. Some may be too old to learn, and among that number is PLAIN JOHN.

NITRO POWDERS

MONTE VISTA, COLO.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—For several years I have been experimenting with American Wood powder; indeed, from the time the common grade made its first appearance to the present date, and I have had very good success with it in trap shooting. I think the trap grade is now as near perfect as it is possible to make powder, but some say it will not do to use in brass shells. I do not see any difference, and have used it both at the trap and in the field in brass shells. Of course, it requires to be loaded more carefully than some of the other powders, but then it pays to load any powder as nearly perfect as possible. I take great pains in loading black powder, especially when I wish to do extra good work at the trap; but I think in a year from now black powder will not be used much for trap shooting. Most of shooters here use the various brands of nitro powders. At the Monte Vista (Colo.) tournament there were five different brands of powder used, to wit: American Wood, Schultze and the Du Pont Smokeless, Hazard's black, Du Pont's black and S. S. I used some of Du Pont's black powder and found, after I had been using the Wood powder, that I could not keep from flinching after the first few shots. The last ten birds I shot at I used the Du Pont Smokeless powder, loaded by Bryan Haywood, of Denver, one of the best trap shots in Colorado, and was surprised to find how nicely the shells were loaded and how I broke up the birds. My gun is an Ithaca, weighs 7 pounds, is bored to shoot very close. It will put 363 pellets in a 24-inch circle at 40 yards. I found there was no recoil to these loads, and after shooting my ten shots the gun was about as clean as it was before I shot it; and another thing I noticed was that there was no smoke. The company that manufactures this powder claims that it can be loaded the same as black powder. I think I shall try some of it later. This was the first of it I ever tried and I broke nine birds out of ten. It is a very pleasant powder to shoot and it it seemed to be quicker than American Wood; in fact, I thought perfect in every respect, and I shall give it a further trial and report results.

L. F. STRAUSS.

NOTES

THE time for the opening of the great Sportsmen's Exposition at New York is drawing near. Reviewing the difficulties which have been encountered from time to time since the project was launched it must be conceded that the sportsmen's interests have received an impetus by the contemplated holding of the exhibition, the effect of which is conspicuous and certain to create a broader knowledge of the needs and requirements of the legion of shooters, fishermen and lovers of field sports that has not existed heretofore. The sportsmen of the country will doubtless assemble in New York during the week of the exposition and by their presence show that they are in sympathy with the efforts of the association to enlarge the spirit of field sports. The evidence of a liberal patronage is manifest on every side, and the reduced railroad rates offered will, we predict, insure a large attendance. Extensive arrangements, we are informed, are being made to provide for the rush of the associations which have signified their intention of attending in a body on the various club dates. The exhibit of the Maine Central Railroad Company promises to be much more extensive than was at first expected. Miss Cornelia T. Crosby (Fly Rod), long prominently associated with the fish and game interests of the state, will be present. She has undertaken to develop the Maine exhibit. She has been industriously working the matter up during the Winter months, and has finally perfected arrangements for one of the most unique and attractive exhibits at the Madison Square Garden. Great pains have been taken to make the exhibit complete, and doubtless nothing has ever been done which will please the sportsmen more. The Redington Lumber Company has given the logs for a real Maine log cabin, and next week Miss Fly Rod goes into the forest where the old-time hunter and guide, Ed. Grant, of Seven Ponds, Rangeley, will hew the logs and have each one keyed and marked so that it will exactly fit, and he will go with them to New York and set up the cabin. On the veranda of this cabin will be a pine tree stump, which will be used as a table, and on the table a register will be placed, where all who enter the cabin will be invited to leave their autographs. The cabin will be named "Camp Rangeley." After the exposition the cabin will probably be donated to the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, where it will be set up in the National Museum at the Zoölogical Gardens. Among the many noted guides who will be at the exposition will be Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Wallinham, of Lay, Colo. These persons have earned for themselves an enviable reputation as photographers of our wild game with the camera, and have made a remarkable series of instantaneous photographs which are very interesting. Another very interesting exhibit will be that of Messrs. C. G. Gunther's Sons. The exhibit of this firm will be an exact reproduction of their famous World's Fair display. It will occupy four spaces, and the display will be a typical and striking collection of their mounted specimens and heads of our North American game. The National Science Association of New York has gotten up a special edition of one thousand of "Studer's Birds of North America" and dedicated it to the sportsmen's exposition, and have arranged to give every sportsmen the advantage of obtaining a copy of this valuable work at one-half the usual publication price.

THE New Jersey Fish and Game Commissioners met in Jersey City on April 16 and appointed eighteen of the twenty-five new wardens authorized by the recent law. Of these appointments the Newark Sunday Call, in its last issue, says: "The new men appointed were Joseph L. Tooker, a Perth Amboy newspaper man, for warden of Middlesex; Edward Hill, for Warren; Clayton Robbins, for Ocean; W. G. Wise, for Burlington; S. H. Callahan, for Salem; George W. Dunham, for Hunterdon; George H. Stone, for Somerset. The old men who were retained for one reason or another were Henry Schneider and Lewis H. Barrett, Atlantic; Gus Hilton, Cape May; James Hunt and William Guthridge, Camden; George Ricardo, Bergen; John R. Riley, Essex; Charles B. Platt and B. F. Deuston, Gloucester; Charles A. Shriner, Passaic, and J. Britton Hendershot, Sussex. There are some other appointments to be made. In some counties where there were two, as in Bergen, one useless member has been dropped. Two wardens are found necessary in Camden, Gloucester and Atlantic counties. Morris, Mercer, Hudson, Cumberland and Monmouth have not had their appointments. The warden in Monmouth last year was William B. Kinney, of Newark. One thing the commission did was to drop Thomas Meskell, of Morris, as game protector. Charles Shriner, of Paterson, was given this appointment, which has a salary of $1,200 a year attached to it and allows $300 a year for expenses. Mr. Shriner has been one of the most vigorous and intelligent wardens New Jersey ever had, and is well qualified for the post. The new wardens are to be compelled to earn their salaries, and it is understood will be expected to go from place to place and make cases and convictions where they are not known and are not influenced by personal friendship and affiliations. Mr. Shriner is chief, and can assign men wherever he pleases. A man who does not attend to his duties can be dropped by the commissioners at any time and will have no redress."

GOVERNOR MORTON of New York on Friday of last week sent to the Senate the following nominations for Fish, Game and Forest Commissioners: Burnett Davis of Palmyra, Henry H. Lyman of Oswego, William R. Weed of Potsdam, Charles H. Babcock of Rochester, and Edward Thompson of Northport. He named Mr. Davis to be president of the board. The nominations were immediately confirmed. The nominations were made under the new law, signed by the Governor, consolidating the State Forest and the Fish and Game Commissions. The president of the commission is to receive a salary of $5,000. The other commissioners are to receive $1,000 salary and $500 for expenses annually. The commission is to appoint a fish culturist at a salary of $3,000, an assistant at $1,500, thirty-one fish and game protectors and foresters at a salary of $500 each and $450 for expenses, and a chief forester at a salary of $2,000. Two assistant inspectors and foresters are each to receive $1,200 and $450 for expenses, and the inspector designated as State Oyster Protector is to receive the same compensation and allowance for expenses. The members of the commission, being informed of their appointment, met and elected Edward P. Doyle of Staten Island secretary and J. Warren Pond of Malone Chief Protector. The following gentlemen were then appointed protectors and foresters: Robert Brown Jr. of Port Richmond, Willet Kidd of Newburg, Matthew Kennedy of Hudson, Charles H. Barber of Greenwich, Henry C. Carr of Union Springs, Joseph Northrup of Alexandria Bay, George M. Schwartz of Rochester, and A. R. Potter of Sandy Creek. Commissioner Edward Thompson of Northport was elected Shellfish Commissioner. The commission will hold its next meeting on May 7.

MR SAMUEL FULLERTON, the new executive agent of the Minnesota Game and Fish Commission, has issued a letter to all game and fish wardens in his state in which he says: "The executive agent expects that every man will do his whole duty and show no partiality to friend or foe. The executive agent desires to say to all wardens that any man found not attending to duty when he is paid by the state as a regular warden will have his commission revoked and another man appointed in his place. This rule will be enforced to the letter, no matter who it may hit. The executive agent does not want any man persecuted and wardens are requested to use judgment in making arrests, but show no mercy to pot-hunters or men that hunt and fish for market." Mr. Fullerton has also appointed the following named men as game wardens. Those with the star receive a regular salary, and the others get half of the fines and are otherwise recompensed: George H. Barlow, East Grand Forks; Frank M. Traux, Stillwater; E. N. Lenaus, ——; *Capt. H. S. Cole, Fergus Falls; *William Paine Jr., Brainerd; W. A. Sterling, Elyson; John Lloyd, Tracy; Charles F. Burrows, Lake Crystal; P. O. Stephens, Detroit; *Guy Hennage, Duluth; Capt. Lewis Judd, Dakota County; *James Nash, Minneapolis; *Capt. Bird, Fairmount; *M. P. Fretenburg, Alexandria; W. B. Austin, Minneapolis; Charles Hayden, Minneapolis; —— Crocker, St. Paul; Ed Farnham, St. Paul; Nels E. Hanson, Grove City; John Clarkin, St. Paul.

THE sportsmen and anglers of California, who have heretofore supposed that the supervisors of the different counties in that state had the power to lengthen or shorten either the shooting or fishing seasons, will doubtless be pleased to learn from as good authority as Assistant Attorney General Daly that the supervisors of counties cannot meddle in any way with the game or fish laws. Mr. Daly, in reply to an inquiry from Hon. T. Emeric, president of the Fish Commission, says: "I would say that the act to amend section 626 of the penal code of this state, relating to fish and game, approved March 3, 1895, repeals sub. 29½ of section 25 of an act to establish a uniform system of county and township government, approved March 24, 1893. Consequently, all ordinances passed by the board of supervisors under the power creating said sub. 29½ are also repealed. The act approved March 3, 1895, is a general law and has general application, and no board of supervisors in this state has the power to pass any ordinance in conflict therewith."

THE Maine Game and Fish Protective Association held its annual meeting recently, at Lewiston, Me., and, after listening to the reports of its officers and that of a committee on the death of Secretary-Treasurer John C. Higgins, elected the following officers and committees for the ensuing year: President, Edward C. Gay, Farmington; secretary, C. M. Penney, Lewiston; treasurer, C. W. Curtis, Lewiston; executive committee, E. C. Gay, Farmington; C. E. Penney, Lewiston; C. W. Curtis, William Ledyard, Bath; committee on membership, Geo. E. Thompson of Bath, E. W. Whitcomb of Farmington, Charles F. Coombs of Belfast. C. W. Curtis Edward Fields and C. M. Penney were elected a committee to audit the accounts of the association and report at the next meeting. The by-laws were changed so that the executive committee shall consist of five members, including the officers, and also that the committee shall name the place and hour of the annual meetings.

WE are informed that at a banquet recently given at the St. Nicholas Hotel, of St. Louis, Mo., which was attended by 160 guests, ruffed grouse were illegally served. The menu was printed in French, the birds mentioned being listed as "Supremes de Faisan." The birds were probably obtained from cold storage, which, if it is not according the laws of that state, should be illegal at this season of the year. The law-abiding sportsmen of St. Louis should inquire into this matter, and if the game law of the state has been openly violated, the party responsible for the violation should be summarily dealt with. Prompt, positive, decisive action on the part of sportsmen when the game law of a state has been violated is the only sure means of having the law respected by others.

A SPIRITED and interesting meeting of the Muskingum County (O.) Fish and Game Protective Association was held on April 22. Seven new members were admitted to the association, committees on prosecution and legislation were appointed, and much other important business was transacted. A resolution was adopted to the effect that the association will pay five dollars for each reported violation of the fish or game laws, where such information leads to a conviction. The committee on prosecutions consists of Geo. Kemp, H. O. Fulkerson, Edward Tanner, Claude Sturtz and Jas. Hook; and on legislation, of Hon. D. H. Gaumer, L. A. Moore, W. D. Wells, E. A. Ayres and Hon. H. C. Van Voorhis.

THE Syracuse (N. Y.) Standard tells in a boastful way of one man who this Spring, in two days, bagged thirty-one ducks at Oneida Lake, and calls it a very successful hunt. To the Western and Southern sportsmen who think that thirty-one ducks in two days' shooting is hardly worth mentioning, there is in this statement a lesson of great value if they will but read between the lines and heed the warning. If to-day in New York state thirty-one ducks in two days is a bag worth bragging about, how long will it be, if the immense Spring slaughter continues, before such a state of affairs will exist all over the country? Western and Southern sportsmen will act wisely if they heed this note of alarm.

THE game law of Louisiana makes it unlawful to take or kill game within the months named below: "Wild ducks, deer or fawn between the first of March and the first day of October, under a penalty of not less than $5 nor more than $50 for each offense. Wild turkeys between the fifteenth day of April and the first day of October, under a penalty of not less than $10 or more than $20. Quails, partridges or pheasants, between the first day of April and the first day of October, under a penalty of not less than $10 or more than $25.

THE Pekin and Spring Lake Hunting and Fishing Club held a meeting at Pekin, Ill., on April 21 and elected Mr. H. H. Fahnestock, of Peoria, president, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. B. S. Prettyman. The club has also ordered the chain replaced across the canal, which looks as if there might be trouble brewing for the club, the state authorities having ordered that all obstructions be removed.

THE West Jersey Game Protective Society has already this season distributed nearly 1,800 live quails and will this month liberate about 800 more.

NEW PATENTS

The following patents in the sporting goods line have just been issued and are reported especially for the AMERICAN FIELD by Joseph H. Hunter, Attorney at Law and Solicitor of Patents, Washington, D. C.:

Fishing reel, Frederick Wilkie, New York.

Marine velocipede, Evaristo Fernandez, New Orleans, La.

Ball bat, Albert H. Kennedy, Rockport, Ind.

Magazine firearm, Thomas R. R. Ashton, Deniliquin, New South Wales, and Edward J. Kelly, Terang, Victoria.

Bicycle saddle, William I. Bunker, La Grange, Ill.

Tire for cycle wheels, Edward G. Wood, Liverpool, Eng., and Enoch Armitage, Liverpool, Eng.

Artificial fish for bait, Albert Kelley, Boston, Mass.

Hunting

FIXTURES

Brunswick Fur Club's annual foxhound trials, October 28, ——. B. S. Turpin, secretary.

Dixie Red Fox Club's first annual meet, Rowland, Ala., October —. J. H. Wallace Jr., secy.-treasurer.

GENERAL REMARKS

AURORA, MO.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—As a subscriber and reader of the AMERICAN FIELD, allow me to express through its columns my approval of the sentiments uttered by "Old Kentuck" in last week's issue in regard to foxhounds and fox-hunting. Nothing is more interesting and entertaining than to read of the exciting chases sometimes written up in the columns of the AMERICAN FIELD by the true sportsmen who seem to indulge in the chase, like myself, for the music and recreation, which to me portrays my ideal of paradise. I heartily enjoy seeing and hearing the noble animals when each is straining every nerve for the front rank—Fleet, Don and Nig now setting the pace, but on the next sharp turn or double that Reynard makes Duke, Argus or Belle takes the lead, and it is fly or be left with the remainder of the pack. "Heading" don't go in my pack, and I only allow them to cut or parallel when thrown out on a sharp turn, and then only to get into the pack. I will whip one and send him to his kennel in disgrace as quickly for heading the fox as I would for running a skunk.

I am free to admit that I kill very few foxes, perhaps one in twenty-five that I start; but I am convinced of one of two things, namely: That the southern fox does not possess the speed and endurance of our western "red," or that Luttrell, Spears, Avent and Garrett have much better foxhounds than my pure-bred English, or Kentucky cross.

I once bought a pair of Julys (pedigreed to me as such) from J. H. Young, of the Greenfield Club: one of them died and the other one I gave to a friend because it could not stay to a finish in a long, hard chase.

I have bought many fine hounds, but never sold one in my life, and never expect to; hence have no "ax to grind," but I do hope the "boys" will, in love and good fellowship, give us more chases and pleasant stories in future, and fewer bickerings about their hounds. "Let us have peace."

OLD-TIME FOX-HUNTER UP-TO-DATE.

NOTES

THAT entertaining writer on all matters connected with hounds and hunting, Brooksby, relates in a letter to our English cotemporary, The [illegible] dent—it came perilously near being an accident—that befell a sportsman bold on the last day of the season with the celebrated Pytchley: "Directly our fox had crossed the road to the left of Farndon Village he was turned by man and dog, driven round the outskirts of the village, and from that moment set his head for the Pytchley Woodlands. There were intricate little corner paddocks beneath the village—if you were foolish enough to follow hounds through them. But there was a clear, open course again, directly Goodall had his pack out upon the pastures beyond; and over these they ran hotly, the Master giving us a directing lead, till they dipped to the Market Harborough and Northampton road, which they crossed barely half a mile from the former important city of the chase. A plowed field hindered a moment (the astonishing scent of the day refusing to lend itself to the plebeian arable); but, once beyond this, hounds forged ahead upon the grass, leaving us first to unlock the white gates of the London and Northwestern line of railway, next to pop under the Midland, without any great loss of time. 'Follow Frank Underwood' was the word; and he led us through these intricacies rapidly, till in company with hounds we reached the Kettering Road, behind Mr. Kennard's house, The Barn, there to find progress for the moment stayed by a locked gate. Mr. De Winton was first to help us out of the difficulty by boring through the dense bullfinch into the road; and was at Dingley (a mile further on) before a score of us had wriggled through in pursuit. Of these latter, by the way, one had scarcely ceased to wriggle even on reaching the valley beneath Dingley Wood. I don't fancy that his contortions caught the eye of any but myself, who happened to come struggling exactly in his wake, so I shall scarcely be betraying his identity if I venture to describe the very funniest fall I have seen during my years of experience in the hunting field. His horse was already the farther side of the prickly and newly plashed hedge. But he was not quite—why, I know not, unless his steed had shot him first and jumped after at its leisure (not a wholly unknown experience in these parts). His coat tails were over his head and so were his arms—outstretched to grasp, with admirable pluck and tenacity, the reins of his struggling horse. To all appearance, as one rode up from behind, he was swimming for his life, his weight supported upon a sea of thorns; and naught but a pair of Mr. Whiting's whitest to protect him in a position alike delicate and indelicate. For a moment I doubted the poor man might be impaled and pulled up in that fever of hurried anxiety which makes our query to imply (1) Are you hurt, for your own sake? (2) Are you hurt, to my hindrance? No, he wasn't hurt, and he had got his horse. But, wriggle as he would, he could not complete his passage across the thorny channel—till at last, eager to renew the chase, his captive steed gave a sudden, powerful haul at the reins, pulling his master, minus every single button of his waistcoat, into the field beyond, there to set him going again, little the worse except for dishevelment and some loss of wind."

HUNTING the carted deer, which must not be confused with stag hunting, is often referred to rather contemptuously by fox-hunters; but in Great Britain, where a large majority of those who ride to hounds hunt that they may ride rather than ride that they may hunt, this mock hunting, which might be graded between fox-hunting and drag-hunting, affords many good horsemen opportunities for 'cross-country riding which otherwise they might not be able to secure. And it is by no means rare for the runs to be of such genuine character and length as to thoroughly test the qualities of hounds, horses and men, while the pace is often very fast and the jumping big and plentiful. Just such a chase fell to the lot of the royal pack on the last day but one of the season, and the tale is thus told in The Field: "The celebrated stag Bartlett was turned out on Mr. Aukland's farm just below the racecourse, at about 2:45. The meet was an enormous one. Directly Comins laid the hounds on, they went away at a racing pace through Billingbear Park, by Haines Hill, Hurst, on to King Street Gorse, where hounds were checked after a seven miles' point over a stiff country. The Queen's have never been known to go faster. About twenty people only were up at the check, a welcome one to most of the field, while it enabled the rear brigade to join in again. Hounds were on again after a five minutes' much-needed breather, and went away over the river Loddon, across Mr. Hargreave's home farm, down to the Reading Sewerage Works. Hence, after a second check, when the one-horse people went home, the run proceeded, for brave Bartlett (called after the late whip of that name) had not appar[illegible] enough of it, and led the now diminished field [illegible] dance across the Kennett River and the canal, [illegible] the South Berks Kennels on the right, and a[illegible] marshes, up to Calcot Park; leaving it on the right [illegible] over the hills to Goring, he ran parallel to the G. W. Railway, when hounds came to slow hunting, the deer being [illegible] afterward Bartlett appeared in view, [illegible] for the river, crossed over at Whitchurch. [illegible] more laid on the other side, and went away [illegible] over the large Oxfordshire fields to Ipsden, where they took Bartlett, after a nearly three hours' run. The second horses were almost reduced to a walk, and only three or four got to the bitter end, the distance covered being very great. The tired horses, hounds, and stag all came home on the following morning."

. The English foxhound has had many disparaging remarks made about him (invariably by men who have never given him a fair and thorough test), but the unkindest cut of all is delivered—quite unwittingly—by a writer on the Boston Daily Globe in his attempt to "do" the dog show held there recently; he says: "Next are a fine lot of foxhounds, many of them from Maine, where that breed of dogs have a good chance to display scent and endurance in the chase each Winter. A few steps away will be found beagles, which, in the old days in England, were used as music makers, a number of them being taken along with each pack of hounds as a band. They have fine voices, and 'tis said that their cry in unison acted on the pack much the same as a band of music on a regiment of soldiers."

The American Field is the best advertising medium in the United States for kennel advertising, as I receive large numbers of letters proving this assertion.

St. Francisville, Mo. E. D. Hopkins.

Foxhounds are offered for sale this week by Mr. J. H. Miller, Christiana, Pa.

Fish and Fishing

FIXTURES

Chicago Fly Casting Club's open to the world tournament, August 21. F. B. Davidson, secretary.

TARPON FISHING ON THE TEXAS COAST

BY G. A. C.

Having accepted an invitation from a small number of enthusiastic gentlemen, who, prompted by a deep feeling of modesty, forbid the use of their names in print, your scribe became one of a party to go on a general exploration, hunting and fishing expedition to the lower coast country of Texas a short time ago.

The day set for our departure dawned at last and the afternoon found our party on the train of the San Antonio and Aransas Pass Railroad rolling toward the Gulf, full of expectation of the sport and its adjunct pleasures in store for us. In accordance with the time-table of the railroad night sets in after passing Beeville, in Bee County; and, after passing Gregory Junction, by the inhaling of the soft and moist saltwater air we became aware that we were nearing the Gulf. A whistle of the locomotive informed us that we were going to enter upon the trestle work by which the train crosses Nueces Bay, which at this point is some two or two and one-half miles in width.

Before the railway was constructed a wagon road had been built. A passage had been staked out with cypress stakes, across the oyster reefs, marking in zigzag meanderings a trail which wagons and riders had to follow in going across the bay; and it always required good animals to make the crossing in safety. At high tide the water would reach into the body of wagon or buggy, and all baggage had to be placed on the seat to keep it from a saltwater bath.

In the daytime and especially at early dawn; the shallow water near this reef is literally covered with ducks and other waterfowl, when with only the least favorable chances a few shots are sufficient to reward any Nimrod with a small boatload of game. The bottom under the shallow water is covered with a species of soft green weed on which the ducks feed. It may be asked, how many ducks can one lay eyes on? It is hard to tell; at places most favored thousands might be counted, and so close together as to make the water appear from the distance like dry land, the birds covering spaces of from one-half to three-quarters and even a whole acre of surface.

While the shooting is good all along the coast, some mention should be made of the large shooting range near Portland where the lover of good sport can gather in ducks at will and leisure; the fact is, the generality of all waterfowl down there display such an amount of indif[illegible] reports of the hunters' guns do [illegible] in their enjoyment.

[illegible] canvas-back shooting there com[illegible]l continues for ninety days; it [illegible] long to cross the country clear [illegible] When they first come in they are not wild, and will work to the decoys nicely. Then very heavy bags of canvas-backs are made there and at Hines' Bay. It is known that one gun has killed as many as one hundred and seventy.

The total number of canvas-backs shipped out of Rockport every Winter is enormous. Over 50,000 were shipped the Winter before last, in less than two months, and there were at least thirty to forty market-shooters shipping them. This season there was no price at all for birds and the shooters all quit shooting. One man reported having made a shipment of 430 canvas-backs to New York, at one time last Winter, but he only netted five dollars above the cost of ice and other expenses, and, of course, he quit the business. One of the best market-shooters from Galveston was there, the man who made the big killing of 167 in one day, but he went home before February.

My enthusiasm and predominating proclivities for gun sport have carried us ahead on our trip. We reached Corpus Christi in due time, and a little labial exercise tended to increase our desire for a nocturnal meal, which consisted of fish, crabs, oysters and shrimps at Mine Host Constantine's.

At early dawn we boarded a racer at the old steamship wharf and away we sailed, before a stiff morning breeze, toward the southwest. We soon found ourselves winding along among small groups of grass-covered islands, and everywhere the water was covered with myriads of ducks which only upon our near approach would take to flight and settle down again immediately afterward.

Our destined point for fishing operations was Corpus Christi Pass, which is the outlet from that part of Corpus

TARPON FISHING ON THE TEXAS COAST—FIVE TARPONS CAUGHT IN ONE DAY IN THE PASS NEAR ROCKPORT

Christi Bay, and is formed by a channel between the most southern point of Mustang Island and the northern point of Padre Island. The strong current of incoming and outgoing tides cuts close to the latter and keeps the bank in a perpendicular condition, enabling vessels to land against the dry land, and we stepped onto the island without the aid of plank or boat. There is a fine haven, secure from storms and a heaven for the piscatorial artist. It reminded us of our ante bellum Presbyterian Fishing Club, of which our ancient friend, Jas Elder, of the Crescent City, became the "Reel Elder." It is no trouble to pull in redfish and trout from among the breakers, and a ten-pound trout or fifteen-pound redfish is an ordinary occurrence. With some primitive catches of these we started preparations for dinner.

A goodly supply of the ordinary straw wrapping paper had been provided with our stores. An obsolete specimen of a modern civilization—a cooking stove—was discarded; driftwood being plentiful, a quantity was gathered and a huge fire was soon in a lively blaze, reducing the wood to coals; the fishes were drawn and the gills taken out (but not scaled), then they were wrapped in many thicknesses of the yellow wrapping paper and placed in a furrow of the glowing coals and covered up to bake. This operation was accomplished in about twenty minutes. The ashes were then opened, the charred paper was cut and laid open to each side with the scaly skin of the fish attached, and the juicy meat of the fish was ready for eating, the only addenda necessary being good pepper sauce, pepper and salt. The lagoon inside the island is full of large single oysters which were gotten by wading in the water, and when laid on the coals and baked in the shells (when they are easily opened) they furnished variety to the meal, which, with some proper liquids to assist the digestion, was a meal for the gods, and our happiness was complete.

Fishing! To accept this term in a general sense makes it sound plebeian, but real, actual fishing for tarpon, in either Aransas Pass or Corpus Christi Pass, is sport in its highest realistic meaning. The tarpon is one of the game species of the finny tribe and its home is in the passes named. Aransas Pass is the channel between St. Joseph and Mustang Islands, connecting the waters of the Gulf with Aransas Bay. It is about one-half mile long, 1,600 feet wide and from thirty to forty feet deep. The tides and winds cause strong inward and outward currents to prevail at all times, and in these seething waters the tarpon makes his home, his feeding and play ground, and is to be found nearly all the year round. There the fishes spawn early in June, and the young fishes seek the shallow plats, covered with grass, in the bay, and there they remain until of sufficient size to keep out of the way of big fishes.

The actions of the young ones when caught are the same as those of the grown ones, and it is an amusing sight to see them vainly striving to get unhooked. Only within the last three years has rod and reel fishing been practiced there.

The sport at Aransas Pass is beyond the dream of any tarpon fisherman who has never been there and tested it. The supply of tarpons is practically unlimited; they play and feed by hundreds. Gentlemen who have been in the habit of spending their Winters in Florida, in search of this fish, will hardly credit this story, but it can be substantiated by one trial. During the Spring months these fishes go all over Aransas Bay and the adjoining waters, and can be seen everywhere. Several have been hooked by parties fishing off the Rockport and Corpus Christi wharves and at other points along the shore in these neighborhoods.

San Antonio, Tex.

NOTES

On April 26, Gov. Matthews of Indiana received a report from a joint commission, representing Indiana and Illinois, appointed to investigate a complaint that the dam across the Wabash River at Mt. Carmel, Ill., entirely obstructs the ascent of fishes to the stream above the dam and its tributaries. Mr. W. A. Cullop of Vincennes, who represented Indiana upon the committee, reported that the United States government had erected and controls the dam, and it has rights in the dam that are superior to those of either state through which the stream flows, consequently neither state can make any change in the dam without the consent of the government. It is true, Mr. Cullop says, that the Wabash is a navigable stream for many miles above the dam, but no provision being made in the dam for the ascent of fishes they collect below it in great numbers during the spawning season, where they are slaughtered by almost every method of catching, regardless of the fish and game laws of either state. As the government spends large sums of money annually to propagate fishes of various kinds with which to stock streams, and the Wabash River below the dam has been stocked, the government should construct a fishway in the dam at Mt. Carmel that would allow the fishes to go to the very headwaters to spawn. If that were done we think the native fishes would keep the river stocked without further expense, provided the fish laws of both states were enforced in their respective jurisdictions. It is announced that, through the efforts of Gov. Altgeld and Gov. Matthews, the federal government will soon take steps to remove obstructions to the ascent of the fishes.

The United States Fish Commission has laid out an enormous distribution of fish fry for this season. If the plans of the commission are carried out something like 7,000,000,000 of fry will be put out, or nearly double the output of last season. The work of the Spring distribution is at its height. From the Ohio and Michigan stations, the commission has already taken about 120,000,000 whitefish and about 8,000,000 or 10,000,000 lake trout will be taken. These fishes will be planted in the great lakes and the surrounding inland lakes. The Put-in-Bay station has just reported the collection of some 200,000,000 pike-perch eggs from Lake Erie. These will be distributed in the lakes, and also the public waters of Kentucky, Tennessee, Ohio, Illinois and Iowa. A month ago the marine work of the government was completed. The total output of cod fry for distribution along the Maine coast was 70,000,000. The lobster and flatfish work is also in preparation in the East. Last year the commission handled 80,000,000 lobsters. This year it is believed the number will be almost doubled. The shad work has just opened at Bergen Point, on the Potomac, where some 5,000,000 eggs have been taken. The work was continued at Havre de Grace last week and next the Fish Hawk will work on the Delaware. Shad are now important food fishes, and it is expected the number furnished will be increased from 5,000,000 last year to between 80,000,000 and 100,000,000 this season. They are being planted along the Atlantic coast from Massachusetts to Florida. From the Colorado station about 400,000 brook trout will be distributed.

CONTESTS between anglers and swimmers are attracting much attention from lovers of athletic and field sports in England, and a series of events which recently took place at the Westminister Aquarium, London, drew large audiences that evinced great interest and loudly applauded the efforts of the contestants. Our cotemporary, the Illustrated Sporting and Dramatic News, in a recent issue describes a contest between Mr. Richardson, of Kingston, as the angler, and Miss Burnett, the largest and most powerful of three lady fishes. Miss Burnett scales eleven stone and had not been landed in any previous contest. The time of each event is limited to ten minutes, the angler using a rod and reel, the line being fastened to the shoulders of the fish by means of a harness of webbing around the upper part of the body. With a ten-foot, whole cane rod, after a severe struggle on the part of both angler and lady fish, Mr. Richardson succeeded in bringing his quarry within gaffing distance, inside the ten minutes. Both were much exhausted from their efforts. Mr. Frank Hines, the professional swimmer, has proved too strong for any angler who has yet undertaken to land him, says the News, always having succeeded in breaking the line. In the contests the angler may use all the arts of fair angling, and the swimmer is prohibited only from touching the line with his hands.

Now the trout season has opened in most of the states where trout are to be found, anglers living within accessible distance of Michigan may be pleased to know that many trout waters on the western watershed of the Southern Peninsula furnish excellent sport. And the piscatorial attractions are not confined to the salmo family, although the state fish commission has faithfully stocked the streams with rainbow, brown and speckled trout. Bass, pike and pickerel fishing is good in many lakes in that part of Michigan. The Flint and Pere Marquette, the Chicago and West Michigan and the Grand Rapids and Indiana railways all penetrate the locality so pregnant with sport for the angler. Reed City, Chase, Nirvana and Baldwin are all excellent places from which to make trips to adjacent trout streams. The surrounding country is full of streams and rivers that afford prime sport. Baldwin, in Lake County, undoubtedly is one of the best points in that whole section. Baldwin Creek, right in the village limits, is a grand trout stream, stocked with brown, rainbow and speckled trout, some specimens of the former running up to five pounds' weight and the latter three pounds. Then there are Sanborn and Danaher creeks, the Little Manistee, the Middle Branch and the South Branch, all well filled with trout. The angler cannot miss sport in almost any trout waters in that section.

THE anglers of Minnesota are now free to pursue their favorite sport. The law passed by the last legislature made the open season for trout, black bass, pike, pickerel, croppies, perch and sunfish open on May 1, instead of April 15, as formerly. The state is favored with a great number of fine lakes, and many are easily reached from St. Paul and Minneapolis, by the railways radiating from those cities. At Annandale, on the "Soo" railroad, are three lakes abounding in pike and bass; Glendale is famed for good fishing; near Lindstrom are the Chisago lakes; and Buffalo Lake is really three lakes in one, all full of fish. On the Great Northern are many lakes filled with fish. Madison Lake, on the Minneapolis & St. Louis, is a great fishing resort; while Lake Vadnais, Bald Eagle, Minnetonka, White Bear, Calhoun and Harriet lakes all reward the patient angler to a greater or less extent. Minnesota anglers do not lack for good fishing resorts.

LATE reports from California indicate a great improvement in trout fishing on many streams, and the number of anglers being enormous the aggregate catch has been large. On some streams the men were so thick that they must have been hitting elbows almost, for, speaking of Paper Mill Creek, the San Francisco Chronicle says: "A railroad conductor counted last week on the stream, between Tocolomo and the mouth of Nicasio Creek, no less than seventy anglers, and for all that is known there may have been in the brush a dozen or twenty more men that he did not see." Fly-fishing has been rather poor, but a combination of fly and bait has proved taking for some anglers. The water has run down in most of the streams however, and has become quite clear, and fly-fishers are anticipating good sport with their favorite lures very soon.

A RECENT dispatch from Yankton, S. D., says: "The last legislature enacted a law for the protection of fish which cannot apply to the waters of South Dakota because the kinds of fish designated in the law are not found here. The catching of trout, bass, shad, carp or cropples is prohibited except in the months of May, June, July, August and September, and they may only be taken with hook and line. The law declares that it shall be lawful at any time to spear suckers or buffalo fish, but says nothing about catfish, whitefish, sunfish, pickerel or bullheads—the only fishes to be found here. The only practical feature of the law is the prohibition of seining."

A DISPATCH from Lancaster, Pa., under date of April 19, says: "Only the veteran trout fishermen appear able to catch any trout about here since the season opened. Fish Commissioner H. C. Demuth, who knows where to find every good stream in the county, was out with Dr. W. L. Kauffman and Conductor John A. Boyle, of the Pennsylvania Railroad passenger service, and they returned with sixty-eight large trout. Dr. R. S. Lincoln, of Tyrone, formerly of this county, and a friend hooked forty-nine trout; ex-Fire Chief H. N. Howell got twenty-two beauties; Dr. H. E. Muhlenburg and I. D. H. Ralph secured twenty-five, and Dr. Parke Breneman and James H. Warner got an even dozen."

IN many of the mountain trout streams of Pennsylvania the fishing has been poor since the opening of the season. There is still much snow on the headwaters of some streams and in some sections, particularly in the vicinity of Pittsburg, recent heavy rains have swollen the waters and interfered with sport. In some other sections, however, notably in the neighborhood of Pottstown and in West Chester County, the expert anglers with bait, and to a less extent the fly-fishers, have had fair sport since the opening. It is said the prospects are for excellent sport in the near future on most of the trout streams.

AT Green Bay, Wis., recently, were liberated 4,000,000 of whitefish fry and more than double that number were planted at Sturgeon Bay, all from the Wisconsin state hatchery at Milwaukee. At Point Sauble, on April 9, arrangements had been completed by Mr. Van Doozer, who has charge of that work, for stripping a large quantity of wall-eyed pike spawn from fishes caught by fishermen at that point. After being impregnated with milt he spawn will be shipped to the Milwaukee hatchery to be propagated. Indications are that the run of pike will be large, and that a great number of eggs will be obtained

---

A NUMBER of sportsmen of Broome County, N. Y., met in Binghamton the night of April 23 and organized the Broome County Fish Protective Association, of which Mr. H. S. Cunningham was elected president. A committee consisting of Messrs. A. P. Fish, N. W. Waldron, E. R. Kattell, G. M. Ricks Jr. and Prof. H. L. Fowler was appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws, to be reported at the next meeting. President Cunningham will write, in the name of the club, to the state fish commission, asking the gift of 50,000 black bass fry to liberate in the Susquehanna River.

IN New York City, the Park Board, on April 25, appointed Dr. Carleton T. H. Bean Superintendent of the Aquarium. His term of office began on May 1. A communication from the American Fisheries Society, asking permission to hold the next meeting of the society in the Aquarium, was referred to Commissioner Havens as a committee. President King remarked, however, that as the society included all the state fish commissions of the country and the United States Fish Commission was a member, he thought the request should be granted.

IT is said that black bass and pickerel are very numerous in Clear Lake, Washington. On June 14, the time for which all fishes in that lake were to be protected will expire. The lake is a beautiful body of water, being about four miles long by one and one-half miles wide. It takes its name from the clearness of the water, the bottom being plainly seen at a depth of thirty to forty feet. It is surrounded by timber and offers fine inducements for camping parties.

AT Punta Rassa, Fla., a few days since, Mr. E. C. Benedict, of New York, and a number of friends who were his guests upon his steam yacht Oneida, indulged in tarpon fishing. Mr. Benedict, while fishing with a ten-ounce rod and light line, fastened a tarpon estimated at 100 pounds' weight. He played the big fellow about twenty minutes, and succeeded in bringing it alongside the launch, but being minus a gaff he was unable to land his catch, and the tarpon broke away.

THE Pennsylvania State Fish Commission recently decided to erect a shad hatchery on a small island in the Delaware River, below League Island, which was formerly used as a lighthouse site by the United States government but some time ago was abandoned. Two years ago the state appropriated $3,000 for this shad hatchery, but the fish commissioners did not find any suitable place before visiting this island.

A RECENT dispatch from Cape May, N. J., says the black drum, the most gamy fish visiting the waters of that seaboard, has made its appearance at "Fishing Creek Beds," in the Delaware River, and a few have been caught with hook and line.

FOUR anglers of Caribou, Me., Messrs. L. N. Berce, E. G. Farrell, C. G. Littlefield and C. J. Tornquist, recently made a fishing trip to Madawaska Lake and caught a number of fine trout, the largest of which weighed three and one-half pounds.

A REGULAR meeting of the Chicago [illegible] will be held next Monday, May 6, at [illegible] Great Northern Hotel, Chicago.

Natural History

THE REPTILES OF MICHIGAN—NO. 15

BY MORRIS GIBBS

Red-Headed Lizard; Blue-Tailed Skink—Eumeces fasciatus (Linn.).—This is the only species of lizard that I have met with in this state. For a long time, and before access was had to recent publications, the blue-tail and red-headed skinks were considered as separate species by me, and many older observers committed the same error. But it has been shown that the supposed varieties are one and the same species. Even Holbrook, that celebrated herpetologist, described the animal under three names.

The young and middle-sized lizards are very dark above, and have five yellow lines from head to well into tail, and the end of the tail is often bright blue. As the skink approaches maturity the stripes become obscure and the color changes to a brownish hue, and the head acquires a bright red. I have met with individuals of this species fully twelve inches in length, and they are said to grow longer. The red-headed skink, though abundant in Southern Indiana, becomes scarcer in the northern part of that state. It is never really common anywhere in Michigan, but is extremely rare north of the forty-third parallel. I cannot learn that it is found in our Upper Peninsula. Have met with it in Kalamazoo, Van Buren, St. Joseph, Kent and Ottawa counties.

It is a creature of remarkably swift movements and is often called the swift. Found about the glades of forests and at the edges of clearings it may be seen moving about on the ground, or, at times, well up in trees. Occasionally it takes to a hole when pursued but generally secretes itself under the bark of a log or dead tree. Its movements are so active that one has difficulty in following it with the eye, and to catch a lizard with the hands alone requires great dexterity, not unmixed with an element of good luck; for, like the "Irishman's flea," he fails to be there when you put your hand on him.

The recollection of my first experience with one is vividly recalled. The prospect of adding a new treasure to my collection was always enough to lend a charm to any adventure of this character. It was on a bright June day, and the spot at the edge of a low piece of woods. The skink was observed on an old log sunning himself. I sneaked up and made an ineffectual grab, then chased him about, through the underbrush, sprawling over the log and measuring my length several times. Some unusual attraction caused the lizard to return to the log each time, and this finally led to its capture. At last, after a score of grabs, and after tearing off bark from the log and ripping up roots, I had him, minus the tail (of course) and only to be bitten for my pains. Though so retiring and timorous, the skink will bite savagely when captured, and will really make a very good fight for so small and slender a creature. It wriggles about and exhibits more strength than one would think possible. The jaws are not weak as with the snake, and when it bites it hangs on with persistence. But, of course, it is not poisonous, and the bite amounts to nothing beyond a slight scratch.

When the tail is broken off it is said to grow out again, and it is said by some authorities that occasionally two tails grow (forked) from the wounded end. Mr. Smith says that this skink lays nine oval eggs at a time.

NOTES

IN Ramsey County, Minn., Edward Donath, of New Canada, on April 22, captured a litter of eight young wolves. He killed them and presented their carcasses to the town board, which having destsoyed them issued to Mr. Donath a certificate to that effect. He then made an affidavit before the county auditor to the effect that he had not, to the best of his knowledge, left alive any wolf in his town, and then the scalps were destroyed by the auditor. Finally Mr. Donath, with his certificate and affidavit, secured a bounty of five dollars for each wolf, the state paying two-thirds and the county one-third of the bounty.

A BEAUTIFUL wild deer, while being chased by two dogs, took refuge in John A. Willard's mill pond at Northville, N. Y., recently. After the frightened animal had remained in the pond for some time it was discovered by Arthur Murray and Herman Van Dyke, who [illegible] in the water and towed the animal to shore. [illegible] was unable to stand and was taken to Mr. Willard's [illegible] where it was kindly cared for, and Game Constable [illegible] met Lobdell was notified. Upon the officer's arrival the deer was taken to Mr. Lobdell's barn, where at last reports it was still a prisoner.

The New York Zoölogical Society, which was mentioned in a late issue, is an assured institution for that city. On Friday, April 26, Gov. Morton signed the bill recently passed incorporating the society and providing for the establishment of a zoölogical garden in the city. As the list of incorporators includes the names of many prominent citizens who are men of business ability there can be no doubt of their pushing the plan to a speedy completion. The society will make a zoölogical collection worthy of the metropolis, which shall be free four days in each week including Sunday.

"A Song of Life," by Margaret W. Mosley, is the title of a book on nature, published by A. C. McClurg & Co., treating of fishes, frogs, birds, flowers and animals, and in a delightful manner touching the mystery and persistency of life and reproduction. It is an elementary treatise, prettily illustrated and just the work for children.

Travel

SKETCHES OF ALASKA AND THE PACIFIC COAST—NO. 15

(Illustrated.)

BY A. K. DELANEY

The Alaskan Glaciers

As the ship making the upward voyage through the inland passage swings out of the north end of Wrangel Narrows and enters Prince Frederick Sound the first evidences of glacial fields and rivers are encountered.

Prince Federick Sound is a long arm of the sea, which penetrates the coast a distance of over fifty miles from Stephen's Passage. The Narrows enter it about midway and toward the easterly terminus of the sound. Its shores are very bold, mountainous and precipitous. In many of the cañons of the north side of the sound glacial rivers find their way to the sea, and at all seasons of the year along the shoal places are rows of icebergs, the crumblings from the glacial walls that front on the tidewater.

These glaciers are the southern beginning of a continuous series of ice fields and rivers, which undoubtedly extend from this point to the colossal iceplains and amphitheaters of the St. Elias Alps. From information I have gathered, I entertain no doubt that if human endurance were capable of the task it would be possible to travel on glaciers from the north side of Prince Frederick Sound to the crest of St. Elias.

Jack Dalton, who as an explorer, frontiersman and mountaineer has no superior on the North Pacific Coast and who is probably more familiar with this entire area than any other living man, is of the opinion that the glacial formation extends through the cañons and basins of the Coast Range from Prince Frederick Sound to St. Elias. He was with Lieutenant Schwatka in his expedition to St. Elias, in 1886, and since that time has made extensive explorations south of the great range, along what is known as the Copper River Country, and his judgment concerning that section is worthy of great credence.

Other evidences also are not wanting that this icepack in its formation resembles a great octopus whose smaller tentacles fill the cañons of the range along the entire coast from Prince Frederick Sound to the St. Elias Range. Toward the western end of the Sound one of the rivers of ice, known as the Patterson Glacier, is visible from the passing ship's deck, and is the first one of any note encountered on the northward bound voyage. It is of stupendous dimensions and laps high over the range, and is broken into terraces or falls as it flows downward to the sea. Under a field glass the cracks and crevasses exposing the blue ice peculiar to glacial formations are very distinctly visible.

Farther up the Stephen's Passage, at the head of one or two of the larger [illegible]s that indent the coast, are other [illegible] miles south of Juneau, up the [illegible]ptionally beautiful ice-river known [illegible], which is usually visited by the ex[illegible]om physical evidences everywhere [illegible] shores of this inlet, there is no [illegible]he entire opening was once filled by [illegible]w the present wall of the Takou is a dead glacier, once undoubtedly a part of the larger formation of ice that at no very remote period filled the inlet. The erosions of time have worn comparatively smooth the surface of this dead glacier, and along the seashore at its foot is a vast sandy beach which is undoubtedly the moraine deposit of former icefields.

The Takou Glacier comes down through a narrow cañon of the mountains, and is about three-quarters of a mile in width across its front wall. This glacier is still moving outward into the sea and crumbling off, forming vast bergs, and its upper surface is rent by great cracks and fissures peculiar to all live or moving glaciers. As is always the case, the water abreast its front wall and all along the inlet where the ice has once stood is very deep, and at all seasons of the year is more or less filled with bergs and ice-floes, the detritus of the ever-crumbling glacier.

To the north of Juneau, along the Lynn Canal as the upper end of Stephen's Passage is called, other ice-rivers come down to the sea, notably the Auk and the Eagle Glaciers, while on the west side of Lynn Canal, near Pyramid Harbor, which is the head of steamboat navigation on the inland passage, is the Davidson Glacier which is now also motionless. This latter glacier extends westerly across the peninsula which lies between the Lynn Canal and Glacier Bay, and forms a junction with the colossal icefields of the Fairweather Range, of which the Muir Glacier situated at the head of Glacier, Bay is the most notorious. Passing out from Lynn Canal to the main ocean is a channel of water known as Icy Strait, and to the north of this Glacier Bay opens, forming a second peninsula between it and the main ocean, and on this peninsula rise the great peaks of the Fairweather Range.

Of all the wonders in the way of glacial formation that are any way accessible to man those of Glacier Bay are the most colossal. There is every reason to believe that this bay also, at no very remote period, was filled by an enormous glacier.

The bay proper is some forty miles in length, north and south, and all the way up is packed most of the time with bergs and icefloes to such a degree as to render navigation of the bay extremely difficult and sometimes perilous. Toward the southern end of the bay rises an immense mountain of rock which is known as Willoughby Island, whose entire surface gives unmistakable evidence that it was once imbedded in the icefields. Its entire surface is worn comparatively smooth and it nowhere presents the jagged or broken surfaces or peaks peculiar to mountain formations having an altitude above the line of glacial action. Two smaller islands of rock not far from Willoughby present the same evidences.

Viewed from a long distance the Muir Glacier resembles an enormous drift of dirty snow lying between the surrounding mountains and extending far back over the crest of the range, but as the ship approaches it the wall gradually rises to view and at close quarters presents a most magnificent spectacle. It is about three miles in width, from shore to shore, and is fed by several ice-rivers which extend to the northward an unknown distance, but (as before stated) probably to the great ice plains of the St. Elias, compared with which even the Muir Glacier in its colossal grandeur falls to insignificance.

The icewall is about three hundred feet in height, and its upper surface presents the ever present evidences attending a live glacier of cracks, caves and crevasses, above which rise in all conceivable shapes the pinnacles and spires of deep blue ice. Every few minutes tremendous masses break off and go crashing down the wall with a roar like thunder, and leap into the bay, forming the bergs and floes with which the water is packed. There seems also to be a river running down under the glacier, as the water is always heavily laden with sediment and comes boiling out from under the ice with a terrific current.

SKETCHES OF ALASKA AND THE PACIFIC COAST—THE FRONT WALL OF MUIR GLACIER

Along the shores below the wall the evidences of more recent glacial action are very conspicuous. On either side of the bay are long stretches of moraine, often showing precipitous banks against the shore and indicating the gradual destruction of the glacier by the crumbling process; and laterally along the mountains are huge striations, evidently plowed out of the solid rock by the tremendous pressure and power of the glacier as it has pushed its way into the bay, while other places along the rocky sides of the mountains are worn to a polish by the same stupendous action. This glacier is still moving outward a distance of several feet each day, but the destruction caused by the crumbling off has, notwithstanding, caused the wall to recede a distance of over one-half mile since first I saw it, in April, 1887.

As a whole, this portion of the bay, while presenting undoubtedly a spot of supreme interest to the scientists, is one of the most appalling places I have ever visited—simply awe-striking in its fearful desolation.

Along a westerly arm of the bay and right at the foot of the highest peaks of the Fairweather Range is another glacier, which in magnitude and grandeur far surpasses the Muir and is known as the Pacific. Its different arms overlap the mountain range and one of them comes down to the open sea on the west side of the chain. In Glacier Bay the Pacific has a wall six miles across and considerably over four hundred feet in height, which is pushing down and breaking off after the manner of the Muir, and from there comes the greater proportion of the enormous icefloe that accumulates about Willoughby Island and the southern entrance of the bay.

On a clear day, the view gained of the Pacific Glacier and the Fairweather Range, in going to the Muir and returning, is well worth the entire Alaskan trip. But this is a panorama not often vouchsafed the tourists. In the trips I have made to the Muir Glacier, now numbering something like twenty, I have never been fortunate enough to see the entire panorama in a clear afternoon except once, and nothing can efface the impressions of that afternoon.

It was a superb day in July, and on entering the bay the wall of the Pacific was distinctly visible, and under a field glass the colossal ice formation behind it was brought into view. The giant peaks of the Fairweather Range, standing clear cut and covered with snow, were sharply drawn against the afternoon sky. To the northward of the group rose the ponderous crest of Mount Fairweather, presenting a most massive appearance. South of this in succession rose the three peaks of Crillon, the middle one being the culminating point of the range—some hundreds of feet higher than Fairweather—and southward still of Crillon, rising conspicuously from its neighboring mountains, was the slender, spire-like peak of La Perouse; and on all sides of these three giants stretched the less lofty mountains of the chain, all covered with a white blanket of snow that gleamed with peculiar luster in the afternoon sunlight.

The tourist is highly favored who chances to get a view of this panorama, and the impressions it makes are lifelong.

On one other occasion in visiting the bay I chanced to be favored with another rare view of this colossal range. It was on a moonlight night and up from the bay of the Pacific Glacier a mist had arisen, covering the line of the chain nearly to the mountain tops, but above the white mist and gleaming in the moonlight the three great giants of the range were visible, and through a rift in the mist a shaft of moonlight struck the icebergs of the bay and the wall of the glacier, causing them to glisten like silver in the ever shimmering and changing moonbeams.

Captain George, the oldest pilot on the Alaskan route, whose visits to the bay now run up into the hundreds, stated that never before had he seen such a marvelous exhibition of beauty even among the wonders of Glacier Bay.

SKETCHES OF ALASKA AND THE PACIFIC COAST—THE RIGHT-HAND CORNER OF MUIR GLACIER

NOTES

PLEASURE-SEEKERS and sportsmen who may be confronted by the annually recurring query—where shall we go this year for our Summer outing?—will do well to obtain and peruse a copy of "Our Summer," a charmingly written and profusely illustrated booklet just issued by the passenger and ticket department of the Wisconsin Central lines, which describes and locates the multitude of places for sport which are reached by that railroad. Beginning at Gray's Lake, Ill., only forty-five miles from Chicago, the many resorts in that vicinity and thence along the line are enumerated and their attractions set forth. A most useful feature of "Our Summer" is the insertion of a map of the lakes and drives of each section described, each map accompanying the pages descriptive of that section. The value of these maps to the tourist-sportsman who may be outing in that locality must be great. The first map covers the entire country, for miles upon each side of the railway, north to Waukesha, Wis. There are five of these maps covering the thousands of places adjacent to the Wisconsin Central where the angler, the gunner or the invalid can each attain the object of his annual outing, each map being inserted in the most convenient location for reference while perusing the matter pertaining thereto. The descriptive matter sets forth the sportal attractions of each resort in a manner that fevers the sporting instincts of the reader, and to enable the true sportsman to conform to the laws of the state he may be invading, concise but lucid statements of the open seasons for all protected fishes and game are given from the laws of Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota. Lists of the names of Summer hotels and rates of board are given, and a table of Summer tourists' rates of fare would seem to complete the information necessary for the use of the traveler by that railway; but any further information can be had by making application to Jas. C. Pond, General Passenger Agent, Milwaukee, Wis.

I WAS walking up F street with Dr. Bedloe, the well-known Philadelphia wit and raconteur, the other evening. He said he was going after a florist. I told him there were two nearer than the one he was looking for.

"I am seeking this man," said the doctor, "because he advertises in the newspapers."

"Cheap flowers?"

"Not at all; because the man who advertises in the newspapers is always up to the times, and he is easier to deal with. You laugh, but I'll tell you it's a fact. I have studied this over and I know from personal experience. For the last few years of my life I've made it a rule never to deal with any business man who doesn't advertise. I wanted some flowers to send off in a box by mail, and I looked in the paper this morning for the advertisement of a florist. Now, you see, he wants to deal with me—else he wouldn't put that in the papers. I don't know any of the places here; but the rule is a good one and I'll bet you anything you say that I can get what I want at this place and get it cheaper than anywhere else, or at any flower place that keeps its name out of the newspapers. The business man who doesn't advertise almost invariably cheated me; on the theory, I presume, that I'd come there anyhow—or that his reputation was made and he could do what he plased. I have always found such a man narrow-minded, selfish, non-enterprising, penny-wise and pound-foolish, even if he didn't cheat me outright. No, sir; I never buy anything of him."—Los Angeles Times.

PART NINETEEN of Bancroft's "Book of The Fair" continues the vast subject of the fine arts, which is treated in an exhaustive manner and profusely illustrated with reproductions of many famous works. The extent of description given carries the reader into Part Twenty, and through Chapter the Twenty-First. The next subject treated is that of State Exhibits, New York being introduced with a fine, full-page halftone of the main front of the state building. The principal ornamental and architectural features of each state edifice are described and illustrated with clearness and fidelity, giving unusual value and interest to this part of the greatest history of the most wondrous of the world's expositions.

New Dining Car Service

It is a pleasure to note the addition of another important feature to the already competent train service of the Nickel Plate Road. The dining car service of this popular low rate line bas recently been augmented, by which dinner will be served on train No. 6, leaving Chicago at 2 p. m. daily, and breakfast and dinner on train No. 2, leaving Chicago daily at 9:20 p. m. with direct connections for New York and Boston. Breakfast and dinner will be served on train No. 5, arriving in Chicago at 9:35 p. m. from New York and Boston.

For full information regarding routes, rates, maps, folders, etc., address your nearest ticket agent or J. Y. CALAHAN, General Agent, Chicago, Ill. Advt. 60

Removal of Ticket Office of the New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad (Nickel Plate Road)

On May 1 the Chicago City ticket office of the New York, Chicago & St. Louis R. R. (Nickel Plate Road) will be moved to 111 Adams Street, opposite the postoffice. J. Y. CALAHAN, General Agent. Advt. 59

A new dining car service between Chicago and Buffalo via the Nickel Plate Road has recently been placed at the disposal of the traveling public, which will enable patrons of this favorite low rate line to obtain all meals on trains when traveling on through trains between Chicago, New York and Boston. For reservations of sleeping car space and further information see your local ticket agent or address J. Y. CALAHAN, Genl. Agent, Chicago. Advt. 61

Kennel

FIXTURES

SHOWS

Pacific Kennel Club's fourth show, San Francisco, May 7, 8, 9 and 10. H. Vernon, secretary.

Montreal Kennel Association's local show, Montreal, May 12.

Ohio Humane Society's dog show, Cincinnati, May 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24. Entries close May 14. Al. G. Eberhart, superintendent.

Canada's Industrial Exhibition's seventh annual dog show, Toronto, September 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13. C. A. Stone, superintendent.

Orange County Fair's dog show, Newburg, N. Y., September 17, 18, 19 and 20. Robert Johnston, secretary.

Omaha Kennel Club's second annual show, Omaha, Neb., September 18, 19, 20 and 21. E. L. Marston, secretary.

FIELD TRIALS

Continental Field Trial Club's inaugural trials (on prairie chickens), Morris, Manitoba, September 2. Derby entries close May 15. P. T. Madison, secretary.

Manitoba Field Trial Club's trials (on prairie chickens), Morris, Manitoba, September 10. Entries close July 1 and August 15. John Wootton, Secretary.

United States Field Trial Club's Autumn trials, Carlisle, Ind., November 4. W. B. Stafford, secretary.

International Field Trial Club's trials, Chatham, Ont., November 5. W. B. Wells, secretary.

Eastern Field Trial Club's trials, Newton, N. C., November 18. Derby entries close May 15. W. A. Coster, secretary.

Continental Field Trial Club's Autumn trials, Newton, N. C., November 25. P. T. Madison, secretary.

United States Field Trial Club's second Autumn trials, ——, November 28. W. B. Stafford, secretary.

BEAGLE TRIALS

New England Beagle Club's trials, Oxford, Mass., November 5. W. S. Clark, secretary.

THE LOS ANGELES SHOW

(Special Report.)

La Fiesta de los Angeles (the Feast of the Angels) is an annual function of the city of Los Angeles that brings to its gates many thousands of people from all parts of the state. It is a week of revelry patterned very much after the Mardi Gras of New Orleans, with the addition of many of the ancient customs of the Mexicans. The streets and buildings are profusely decorated with the fiesta colors—red, green and orange—and at night strings of incandescent lights of every hue are swung across the streets, and colored lamps and colored fires illuminate the buildings, until the whole city presents the appearance of such transcendent beauty as one might imagine were indeed the illuminations of the celestial city. Added to all this is a profusion of floral decorations, wherein are mingled, with all the flowers of the temperate zone, those of the tropics, the rich golden poppy of California and many other beautiful specimens of her native flora.

At ten o'clock Wednesday morning, April 17, amidst all this display of bunting and fragrance of flowers the seventh annual dog show of the Southern California Kennel Club opened its doors to the public. The hall was neatly decorated, and the ventilation and disinfecting were perfect. While the entries were not numerous they were superior in quality to any of the club's previous shows. This was especially so in pointers and Great Danes, these classes being by far the best that I have ever seen in the state. Dr. R. J. Withers, late of Chicago, made a most efficient superintendent, and C. A. Loud ably filled the position of assistant. Under the direction of these gentleman was a corps of attendants, who kept the show in such perfect order that it was universally pronounced the sweetest and cleanest ever witnessed. Dr. Withers made a model superintendent. Ever affable and obliging by nature, the spirit of good fellowship and jollity which pervaded the Fiesta seemed to make him even more so if possible.

Among the many distinguished visitors to the show the mention of none will give greater pleasure to the countless readers of the AMERICAN FIELD than that of Dr. Rowe, who, though not entirely recovered from his long sickness, is rapidly regaining his strength under the health-giving influences of the matchless climate of Southern California. Twice he came in to see the dogs, and his many friends—who literally greeted him with open arms—much enjoyed the recounting by the Doctor and Mr. Waddell of many of the amusing incidents connected with the early shows of America.

Mr. G. L. Waring judged the mastiffs, St. Bernards, Great Danes, deerhounds and all terriers, and Mr. A. C. Waddell all other classes. Both of these gentlemen gave the best of satisfaction, for the spirit of the Fiesta had even seized upon the chronic kicker and silenced his tongue for once.

Financially the show was a success, leaving a comfortable bank account to the credit of this energetic club.

Mr. Waddell commenced the judging at 2 p. m. Wednesday, with FOXHOUNDS.—This was a class of but little merit. In open dogs there was but one, Figaroa, with a good body and a fair head, but shown in bad condition; he was given first. In open bitches there was but one also, Rondo, entered as a bloodhound, to which she had no resemblance; she was given a red ribbon, which was all she deserved. Bruno, the only puppy, also entered as a bloodhound, had a poor head and was fortunate in getting a second.

GREYHOUNDS.—This is usually a good class at Los Angeles, but somehow this year was an exception to the general rule. In open dogs there was but one entry, Rob Roy, a fine brindle of good type; he had a clean neck and good chest and shoulders, but it was in his driving machinery—loin, hips and hocks—that he attracted especial attention. In open bitches there were two, and both good ones. Oak Glen Victress was much the better in quality; Belle, while well made, being too coarse.

NEWFOUNDLANDS.—There was one, so-called, a big curly-coated dog with white collar, chest and legs; he was given a third.

POINTERS.—This was an excellent class, and by far the best in quality that I have ever seen in the state. In the challenge classes there was but one, the well-known bitch Ameryllis; she is of the true pointer type, and while ten years old holds her age remarkably well. I have so often described her that further mention is unnecessary; she was again decorated with a blue ribbon. In open dogs over 55 pounds Bob, a well-made lemon and white with clean neck, fine legs and feet, on which he stands to perfection, was shown in the pink of condition; he has so much improved over last year that he hardly looks like the same dog, and with a little better head he would stand well to the front in the best of company. Jap, the winner last year, looking well, has a good typical head, a splendid body, good legs and feet, excellent thighs and hocks, is good in bone, and only loses to Bob in quality. Ben Koo, third, was shown this year in the heavyweights, where I like him better; he is a fine upstanding dog of splendid bone and well ba[illegible] the loss of a couple inches of his ta[illegible] in such strong company as Bob [illegible] he has three firsts, one second [illegible] to his credit, and won in good compan[illegible] his good quality. Sport, given three lett[illegible], was exceeding strong in quarters, fair in body, too thick in shoulders and good in head. Hindoo and Don, both H. C., lacked much in quality and were fortunate in getting the two letters. In heavyweight bitches Hempstead Blossom won easily over Lulu King Don. They are both built on very much the same lines, Blossom with the better head, shoulders and quarters, and Lulu better in bone, cleaner in neck and with better bent stifles and hocks. Both were handicapped in condition by their recent maternal duties. In lightweight open dogs there was a new Richmond in the field in Donald's Hope, from the kennels of Dr. J. R. Daniels of Cleveland, Ohio; he is a dog of good quality, presenting a fine outline, very clean in neck, well sprung in ribs, good hips and stifles and tail set on right, but a little too short in head and might have with advantage a little more length of body. Second went to Keifer's Baldy, the winner last year, a well-made dog, but rather too wide in front and thick in head. Honest John, third, has about the same faults as the above, with a good body, hips and legs. In lightweight bitches there were five good ones. Tippetta, a bitch that shows well, got the blue ribbon. Barring a trifle of shortness in muzzle she has a good head, is good in shoulders and chest, a little long in back, good in hips and stifles. Nancy S, second, is a very trimly made bitch, with good head, fine in loin and back, good in hindlegs, but badly bent in pasterns. Kent's Lassie, third, is the making of a fine bitch, but is yet undeveloped. She has a good head (for a puppy) set well on a clean neck, and, like Kent's Queen, reserve, her litter sister, and much of the same character, is entirely too young to show against developed dogs. Avalon Bell, V.H.C., is another of good type, and might have done much better had she been shown in better condition. In dog puppies Hopp, a strong, likely young dog, carried off the blue ribbon; he is especially good in back and ribs. Burlington Shop, second, is a young dog of heavy bone and may grow coarse. Kan Koo Jr, third, stands well on his legs and has a fine eye, but is too thick in head. Ben and Tamarack were both weedy; they were given H.C.

ENGLISH SETTERS.—In open dogs six faced the judge. Stamboul was shown for the first time in good flesh, which improved his looks very much, covering up his too long loin and ragged hips; he has a good head, clean neck, deep chest, well set shoulders, and well sprung ribs, also good legs and feet. Mercury, a well made dog rather on the cobby order and too thick in head, took second. Peru, third, is rather coarse and shows too much daylight under him. Prince Charles, a large dog of the Laverack type, with good head and coat and full of setter character, was beaten by his defective moving, showing weakness in his loin; he was given the reserve card. Pop K has grown coarse and was shown in miserable condition; he lacks seriously in stop and is low in back and loin. Judge, H.C., was much outclassed. In open bitches Countess Noble received her fourth first; she is a bitch of medium size, evenly balanced and of the true setter type; but was shown in poor coat, having just weaned a litter. Diana G is somewhat coarser than the winner, with a good but rather long body, and is too flat in head. In puppies there was only one in each class—litter brother and sister. The bitch is the making of a very handsome one, unless she goes wrong in developing.

IRISH SETTERS.—Dick Swiveler was the only entry in the challenge class; he was shown in splendid condition and looked every inch a winner. In open dogs Nemo II, a very typical dog of good coat and rich color, was an easy winner. He has a true Irish head and good body, legs and feet. Mack Swiveler, second, is a well put up young dog, a little light in head, shows good quality, has plenty of substance, good shoulders and body, but a trifle leggy. Sultan, third, lacks the proper type of head, but has good color and coat, except being a shade too light in flag and feather; he shows badly, carrying his tail between his legs. In open bitches, Lightning, a very typical bitch of rich color, with well modeled head, nice body and good legs, came to the front, beating the same bitches that were placed over her last year on account of her being down in the back, the result of a late whelping. Nellie M, another bitch of good quality and true type of head, took the second place. Queen of Kildare, a small bitch of the English type in head and body and very short in coat, got third; she shows well in the ring, is very trimly built and quite active. Nellie, reserve, is good in coat, has a fair head with good neck and body, but light in bone. Ruby M, V.H.C., is a nicely made bitch and hard to beat when in condition, but she was shown so very fat that her chances were destroyed. Reddy, also V.H.C., is bad in hips, not good in coat, and light in muzzle. There was but one puppy, a very nice little bitch of good type; she should grow into a future winner.

GORDON SETTERS.—One entry in each open class. The bitch, Lady Clara Jane, is a very good one and fully deserved the blue ribbon. The dog, Jeff, was only given a second, which was more than he deserved; he is in no wise typical of the breed.

SPANIELS.—Field spaniels were a motley lot. Little Nell was the best.

Bronta was the only entry in the cocker challenge class; he is a good, typical dog but is beginning to show the effect of age. In open dogs Woodland Duke won easily, although shown with a bad coat, caused undoubtedly by last season's work on ducks. Sport is rather weedy and was badly outclassed. In open bitches, that neat little bitch Gypsy Jane again carried off the honors; she is very poor in coat but has a fine head, body and legs. Roxana Obo is another nice bitch, better in coat than Gypsy, but losing to her in head and body. Lady Etta is a well formed liver and white, but too leggy. In dog puppies there were two fairly good ones. Sport Berwick, the better, is very flat in ribs; he has quite a g[illegible] Romp W has a bad coat and is rather weedy ge[illegible] Lady Etta, shown in the open class, was the only [illegible] the bitch puppy class and was given a blue ribbon.

Clumber spaniels had one entry in the challenge c[illegible] It was the dog Bustler, are peated winner and a good t[illegible] cal specimen. Lady Florence was the only entry in t[illegible] open class; she is another of fine type, and carried a blu[illegible] ribbon out of the ring.

There was but one Irish water spaniel, a bitch of little [illegible] was given three letters.

[illegible]S.—[illegible] one bitch and two dog puppies; they [illegible] fair quality.

[illegible]—[illegible] entry, a very good dog, barring [illegible].

BULL TERRIERS.—Had one good one in each of the challenge classes. The others, in the open classes, were not placed. A bitch puppy was commended.

Thursday afternoon Mr. Waring entered the ring to judge his classes, commencing with MASTIFFS.—Bishop, shown in good condition, a dog of good size and conformation, won again with plenty to spare. Nero, second, stands well on his legs, has a good head, but loses badly in body. In bitches Bess II proved the winner; she is good in muzzle and mask and far better than Fanny II in body and hips. Puppies had one entry, a very promising youngster with a fine head.

ST. BERNARDS.—Columbus, a dog of good type, good skull and expression, good shadings and markings and plenty of bone, but a little undersized, won. Earl Harold, a well-made dog with excellent bone and body, good in muzzle, but bad in skull, took second. In bitches Countess Don was a fairly good one, being well marked but too short in coat. The puppy Rover was given second, which was more than it deserved.

In smooths California Chief took first; he is a very well made dog of good type and fairly earned his blue ribbon. California Wonder, second, is well marked with good shadings, a little light in muzzle and skull, and carries a bad tail. Uno, third, lacks in markings and shadings. In puppies there was but one, a nice puppy with good bone, head and expression; he well deserved his first.

GREAT DANES.—Were a fine lot—the best ever shown in the state. In challenge dogs Titan, a grand specimen with perfect head and splendid body and legs, scored well. In open dogs Riband, another good one but little inferior to his kennel mate, took first. Cæsar is a trifle too thick in head, but standing fine in front and with good legs and hocks got second place. Figaro, third, is a dog of fine bone and good body, but bad in ears. Marquis, the reserve, is rather thick and heavy. In open bitches Marjel, a very typical bitch with grand head and body, won easily. Minyon, second, has a good head and body and good legs and feet. Mirabelle is also a fairly good bitch but was in too hot company.

DEERHOUNDS.—One dog, one bitch and one puppy; all fairly good.

FOX TERRIERS.—The challenge class had one entry, the well-known Blemton Consequence, over which Messrs. Martin and Bell had so much trouble. Open dogs were a good lot. Raby Rasper, shown in good condition and with much shorter coat than last year, won again. Storm Signal, another very good one, took second place; he stands well in front, has a good head and is good behind, but a trifle low in back. Hillside Conqueror and Frisco Dasher were much outclassed, and only received highly commended cards. Open bitches had four very good ones in the ring. Seacroft Myrtle is a neat little bitch, full of quality, with nice head and perfct ears. Golden Jewell is also a neat little bitch, with fine body, stands well in front, is clean in head and neck and good behind. Oak Glen Reina loses in head and back; and Bonnie Blot is not so good in body. Pytchley Meddlesome I liked better than either of the two last named. There was one in each novice class, Bonnie Bingo and Bonnie Binks; they were each given a second. In dog puppies Frisco Dasher, shown in the open class, has a good head, nice ears and good legs and feet. Sierra Morenga is very strong in loin and thighs, with fair head and body. Rab, third, is handsomely marked, with good head; he is too small as yet to be shown in the company he was in. Bitch puppies had only two to enter the ring. Sunset Trix is a very handsome little bitch of the lighter type, with neat head and well-carried ears. Bonnie Binks is not so good in head or body and bad in ears.

Skye terriers had only one entry, a poor specimen. There were four pugs and one toy spaniel, a Jap.

OFFICIAL LIST OF AWARDS

MASTIFFS.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, A. C. Severance (Bishop, Amando—Wanda); 2nd, A. H. Hubbard (Nero, Chino Lion—Chino Beauty). Bitches: 1st, M. D. Garrett (Bess II, Don—Bess); 2nd, J. P. Goytino (Fanuy II, Leo—Cleopatra). PUPPY CLASS—1st, J. P. Goytiuo (Duke of Cambo, Neron—Agripinc).

ST. BERNARDS.—Rough—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Captain Wm. Poole (Columbus, Gillott P—Victoria); 2nd, F. M. Porter (Earl Harold, Lord Hualpa—Bohemian Girl). Bitches: 1st. M. E. Frazee (Countess Don, Pontiff II—Countess Melrose). PUPPY CLASS—1st, withheld; 2nd, W. R Murphy (Rover, Bruno—Lottie). Smooths—OPEN CLASS—1st, Fred L. Starkey (California Chief, Lord Hualpa—Bohemian Girl); 2nd, Mary F. Frazee (California Wonder, Sir Herbert—Tabitha); 3rd, Byron Eikenbrecker (Uno). PUPPY CLASS—1st, O. H. Williams (Sir Owen, Melrose—Orista).

GREAT DANES.—CHALLENGE CLASS—1st. J. G. Borglum (Titan, Romeo—Marquise). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, J. G. Borglum (Riband, Faust—Marquise); 2nd, L. Sieweke (Cæsar, unknown—Queen); 3rd, Mrs. H. E. Small (Figaro, Riband—Marjel); Res., Charles Schmidt (Marquis). Bitches: 1st J. G. Borglum (Marjel, Romeo—Marquise); 2nd, J. H. Outhwait (Minyon, Riband—Marjel); 3rd, Dr. H. E. Small (Mirabelle, Titan—Syble).

DEERHOUNDS.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, J. L. Reuss (Earlwulf, Lingall II—Duchess of Brewood). Bitches: J. L. Reuss (Runa II, Royal Doctor—Frela). PUPPY CLASS—1st, Mrs. F. T. Buck (Stag).

FOXHOUNDS.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, K. C. Klokke (Figueroa, Leed—Belle). Bitches: 1st, withheld; 2nd, J. Holly (Rondo). PUPPY CLASS—1st, withheld; 2nd, J. Holly (Bruno, unknown—Rondo).

GREYHOUNDS.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, A. Simpson (Rob Roy). Bitches: 1st, S. Tyler (Oak Glen Victress, Falcon—Pronta); 2nd, A. Solano (Belle, Leo Jr—Gill).

NEWFOUNDLANDS.—OPEN CLASS—1st and 2nd, withheld; 3rd, V. La Croix (Jack).

POINTERS.—Heavyweights—CHALLENGE CLASS—1st, Mrs. H. M. Tanner (Amaryllis, Don—Drab). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, A. E. Messerley (Bob, Ah Sing—Amaryllis); 2nd, A. P. Kerckhoff (Jap, Kau Koo—Amaryllis); 3rd, T. E. Walker (Ben Koo, Kan Koo—Amaryllis); V.H.C., W. F. Nordholt (Sport, Rube—Nellie); H.C., E. Maxwell (Hiudoo). Bitches: 1st, J. W. England (Hempstead Blossom, Duke of Hesseu—Woolton Game); 2nd, Geo. A. Ralph (Lulu King Don, King Don—Tribulation). Lightweights—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, R. J. Widney (Donald's Hope, Donald's Sensation—Graphic Rose); 2nd, J. W. Kiefer (Baldy, Idestone Bang—Vashti); 3rd, C. A. [illegible]t John, Dick H—Lady Max). Bitches: [illegible]tta, Valentine Bang—Barbetta); 2nd, [illegible]S—Hornell Bess); 3rd, T. E. Walker [illegible]Kent—Amaryllis); Res., H. M. Tonner [illegible]t—Amaryllis); V.H.C., Geo. W. Held [illegible]oto). PUPPY CLASS—1st. D. J. Desmond [illegible]auty); 2nd, J. W. England (Burlington [illegible]); 3rd, A. Bright (Kan Koo Jr, Kan Koo [illegible] (Ben), and W. Parker (Tamarack).

[illegible] OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Joe Singers [illegible]ily C); 2nd, A. P. Kerckhoff (Mercury, Dick Bondhu—Sunlit); 3rd, Wm. Garmes (Peru, Water's Dan—Diana); Res., Godfrey Fritz (Prince Charles, Jolly Planter—Nellie); V.H.C., J. Bradbury (Pop K, Kittle's Luke—Nellie); H.C., W. Maben (Judge). Bitches: 1st, H. T. Payne (Countess Noble, Stanford—Lily C); 2nd, W. Garmes (Diana G, Roy T—Lily C). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, O. B. Day (Stamboul Jr, Stamboul—Lady Clare). Bitches: 1st, Joe Singer (Lady Stamboul, Stamboul—Lady Clare).

IRISH SETTERS.—CHALLENGE CLASS—1st, A. B. Truman (Champion Dick Swiveler, Bruce—Leigh Doane II). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, A. B. Truman (Nemo II, Emmett—Lightning T); 2nd, Luzboro Kennels (Mack Swiveler, Isis—Ruby Swiveler); 3rd, M. D. Garrett (Glenmore Sultan, Finglas—Lady Josie). Bitches: 1st, A. B. Truman (Lightning, Mike T—Lady Elcho T); 2nd, Luzboro Kennels (Nellie M, Glencho Jr—Nellie N); 3rd, J. W. Keene (Queen of Kildare, Kildare—Red Rose); Res., J. Alexander (Nellie); V.H.C., A. N. Bayley (Ruby M, Mike T—Lady Elcho T) and Mark G. Jones (Reddy, Bob—unknown). PUPPY CLASS—1st, J. Tucker (Peg, Finglas—Nellie M).

GORDON SETTERS.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, withheld; 2nd, F. G. Herron (Jeff). Bitches: 1st, J. W. Edwards (Lady Clara Jane, Jack—Nellie Crockett).

FIELD SPANIELS.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, A. E. Sterling (Jay Bird, Hillside Conqueror—Sierra Laska); 2nd, M. H. Madden (Carlo). Bitches: 1st, J. B. Arnold (Little Nell, Llewellin's Bob—Denver Belle).

COCKER SPANIELS.—CHALLENGE CLASS—1st, Dr. O. D. Week (Bronto, Brant—Mollie). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Miller & Prather (Woodland Duke, Black Duke—Woodland Jude); 2nd, J. H. Varley (Sport Berwick, King Douglas—Jessie V). Bitches: 1st, E. Slater (Gypsy Jane, Bronta—Maud E); 2nd, A. S. Auchenclos (Roxana Obo, Jack Obo—Blackbird E); 3rd, J. H. Varley (Lady Etta, King Douglas—Jessie V); Res, J. H. Varley (Jessie V, Bronta—Cherry); V.H.C., S. Tyler (Chula, California Rex—Fern) and W. J. McCartin (Lady). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, J. H. Varley (Sport Berwick, King Douglas—Jessie V); 2nd, W. B. Welshire (Romp W, Kit W—Brontilla). Bitches: 1st, J. H. Varley (Lady Etta, King Douglas—Jessie V).

IRISH WATER SPANIELS.—All prizes withheld; V.H.C., A. T. Spince (Brownie, Barney L—Beauty).

CLUMBER SPANIELS.—CHALLENGE CLASS—1st. S. H. Laverty (Bustler, Drake—Lilly). OPEN CLASS—1st, S. H. Laverty (Lady Florence, Bustler—Denver Lass).

POODLES.—OPEN CLASS—1st, Mrs. C. F. Fuller (Fifine, Marron—unknown). PUPPY CLASS—1st, Mrs. C. F. Fuller (Trilby, Knox—Fifine); 2nd, Mrs. C. F. Fuller (Cupid, Knox—Fifine).

COLLIES.—OPEN CLASS—1st, T. C. Stephen (Panche).

BULL TERRIERS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st Luzboro Kennels (Champion Crisp, Dufferin—Grove Baroness). Bitches: 1st, J. F. O. Comstock (Twilight, Hincks—Edgwood Fancy). All awards withheld in open classes. PUPPY CLASS—All prizes withheld; C., A. Monckton (Cliquot II, unknown—Cliquot).

FOX TERRIERS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—1st, J. B. Martin (Blemton Consequence, Result—Diadem). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st. C. A. Sumner (Raby Rasper, Drone—Miscreant); 2nd D. Shannon (Storm Signal, Ripon Stormer—Judy); H.C., Geo. W. Debenham (Frisco Dasher, Frisco Diablo—Frisco Doubtful) and Mrs. R. Howe Davis (Hillside Conqueror, Pitcher—Princess). Bitches: 1st, F. E. Holden (Seacroft Myrtle, Raby Pallisy—Damson); 2nd, J. B Martin (Golden Jewel, Blemton Reefer—Blemton Brilliant); 3rd, S. Tyler (Oak Glen Reina, Hamden Tip—Oak Glen Susan); Res., C. A. Sumner (Bonnie Blot, Le Logos—Bonnie Buzz); V H. C., Pytchley Kennels (Pytchley Meddlesome, Le Logos—Pytchley Patch). NOVICE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, withheld; 2nd, C. A. Sumner (Bonnie Bingo, Ford Veni—Bonnie Blot). Bitches: 1st, withheld; 2nd, C. A. Sumner (Bonnie Binks, Ford Veni—Bonnie Blot). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, G. W. Debenham (Frisco Dasher, Frisco Diablo—Frisco Doubtful); 2nd, A. E. Sterling (Sierra Morenga, Hillside Conqueror—Sierra Laska; 3rd, A. C. Severance (Rab, Ford Veni—Bonnie Bangle); Res., J. E. Preston (Toby, Punch—Princess Teck). Bitches: 1st, T. S. Casey (Sunset Trix, Bonnie Brush—Frisky Viola); 2nd, C. A. Sumner (Bonnie Binks, Ford Veni—Bonnie Blot).

SKYE TERRIERS.—OPEN CLASS—1st, Lewis Bradbury (Tatters).

PUGS.—OPEN CLASS—H. L. Parks (Balmaceda); 2nd, Mrs. S. Severance (Prince II, Prince—Margc).

JAPANESE SPANIELS.—OPEN CLASS—1st, Dr. P. M. White (Jap).

SPECIAL PRIZE LIST

MASTIFFS.—Best dog, Bishop. Best bitch, Bess II. Best puppy, Duke of Cambo.

ST. BERNARDS.—Best dog owned in Los Angeles. California Chief. Best bitch owned in Los Angeles, Countess Don. Best puppy, Sir Owen.

GREAT DANES.—Best dog, Titan. Best bitch, Marjel.

FOXHOUNDS.—Best dog, Figueroa.

DEERHOUNDS.—Best dog, Earlwulf. Best bitch, Runa II.

GREYHOUNDS.—Best dog, Rob Roy. Best bitch, Oak Glen Victress.

NEWFOUNDLANDS.—Best, Jack.

POINTERS.—Best dog, Donald's Hope. Best bitch, Amaryllis. Best puppy, Hopp.

ENGLISH SETTERS.—Best (Countess Noble barred), Stamboul. Best bitch, Countess Noble. Best puppy, Lady Stamboul. Best puppy bred by Shenandoah Kennels, Lady Stamboul.

IRISH SETTERS.—Best dog, Dick Swiveler. Best bitch, Lightning T. Best bitch owned south of the Tehachopi Mountains, Nellie M. Best kennel, A. B. Truman.

GORDON SETTERS.—Best dog, Jeff.

FIELD SPANIELS.—Best, Jay Bird.

COCKER SPANIELS.—Best dog, Bronta. Best bitch, Gypsy Jane. Best puppy, Sport Berwick.

CLUMBER SPANIELS.—Best dog, Bustler.

COLLIES.—Best dog, Panche.

BULL TERRIERS.—Best dog, Crisp. Best bitch, Twilight.

FOX TERRIERS.—Best dog, Raby Rasper. Best bitch, Blemtou Consequence. Best puppy, Sunset Trix. Best dog owned in Los Angeles City, Raby Rasper. Second best dog owned in Los Angeles City, Rab. Best bitch puppy, Sunset Trix. Third best bitch, Oak Glen Reina. Second best dog, Storm Signal. Second best bitch, Seacroft Myrtle. Second best dog puppy, Sierra Morenga.

POODLE.—Best, Fifine.

Best bitch in any sporting class, Countess Noble (English setter).

THE TORONTO SHOW

(Special Report.)

The fifth annual show of the Toronto Kennel Club, held in the Foster & Pender building, 14-16 King Street E., April 25, 26 and 27, was a great success in number of entries, three hundred and ninety-three being the total. To accommodate those who were unable to see the show on Thursday and Friday it was extended to Saturday afternoon. The attendance was good in the evenings, among those present being His Honor the Lieutenant Governor, G. A. Kirkpatrick, Mayor Stewart, Geo. Gooderham, Robt. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hanlon, Miss Yaw, Miss Cawthra and many others. The building was large and well ventilated, and lighted with a number of electric lights; the large dogs were placed on the ground floor, while the remainder were located up-stairs.

Judging commenced about 2 o'clock Thursday, when Montague Smith of Forest entered the ring, and in succession the pointers and setters were brought under his critical eye. Shortly afterward, in the ring up-stairs, Mr. Gibson of Delaware began to dispose of the collies and fox terriers. He had the hottest classes, there being seventy-seven fox terriers entered. Mr. Smith was soon finished, when J. F. Kirk of Toronto began on his long list of breeds, which was rather too much for one judge. The judging was fair and very little "kicking" was noticed. Everything was carried on smoothly, the benches neat, and the floor continually swept and sprinkled with disinfectants by an able lot of assistants, while the dogs were fed on Spratt's biscuits. As is the custom at the Toronto Kennel Club's shows, no cash prizes were given in the regular classes, but special prizes are donated by canine friends, which are of great variety, J. A. Sprackllin having won a whole clothing outfit, from a silk hat to tan shoes. The Terra Cotta Kennels had their benches tastefully decorated.

A large number of old faces were noticed. A. A. Macdonald, J. A. Sprackllin, J. B. Carlile, W. J. Tulk, C. A. Stone, C. M. Nelles, Andrew Laidlaw, George Bell, Douglas and Chambers, J. G. Mitchener, John Saunders; also a great number of lady exhibitors. Owing to the efforts of Hon. Secretary-Treasurer W. P. Frazer, F. L. Mabee, Dr. Mole and the other members of the committee, the show was carried through without any hitch or drawbacks. The exhibitors showed their esteem for the secretary, W. P. Frazer, by presenting him with a handsome gold watch, on Saturday afternoon, Mr. Frazer making a short address.

MASTIFFS.—(J. F. Kirk, judge.) Were a poor class, first being withheld in open dogs, second going to William the Conqueror, small in size and far from good. Ripplette, only ordinary in open bitches, secured first, the other entry being absent. Brutus and Lionel received first and second in puppies.

ST. BERNARDS.—(J. F. Kirk, judge.) With seventeen entries, with Scion Lomond absent, were also a poor lot. Imperial, a dog with a fair head and size, good neck and shoulders and bone, but falling away off in body and hindquarters, shown in poor condition, was placed first in open dogs, while Nell Gwynne received the same in open bitches.

GREAT DANES.—(J. F. Kirk, judge.) Duke of Wurtemburg, first in open dogs, shown in good condition, is a fair-sized dog, poor head and a trifle too heavy in neck and shoulders. Beelzebub, second, an eight-months puppy, was rightly placed. In open bitches, Brenda, shown in the pink of condition, was placed over Ruth, who beats the winner in size, head, shoulders and neck, but was shown in very poor shape. Beelzebub won in puppy dogs, there being only one entry.

NEWFOUNDLANDS.—(J. F. Kirk, judge.) With seven entries, were, on the whole, very good, first going to the well-known dog Sir Edwin Landseer, who had an easy win over Rover, placed second. Open bitches had only one entry, Topsy, awarded second, first being withheld.

SCOTTISH DEERHOUNDS.—(J. F. Kirk, judge.) Gurth, the only entry that showed up, had a walkover.

BORZOIS.—(J. F. Kirk, judge.) In this class the Terra Cotta Kennels had everything their own way, as there was only one entry outside of their own. In the challenge class the well-known dogs, Argoss and Princess Irma, both looking well, had no competition. In open dogs Ataman IV, well known, received first, second going to Ivan, a good, fair dog, but no comparison with the winner. The bitch class had four entries, first going to Riga, often described; second going to Alma, second in puppy class, New York, while Suddarka, a good bitch of the right type, but lacking in size, received third. In puppy class Bonski, a very promising bitch of eleven months, was the only entry.

GREYHOUNDS.—(J.F. Kirk judge). These classes were well filled, twenty facing the judge, who did not place them at all to my liking. The well-known winners, Gem of the Season and Southern Beauty, alone in the challenge classes. I would have placed Misterton, a good, fair, all-around dog, shown in grand condition, first, Dallas second and the winner third. In the bitch class I would have also made a change by placing Romping Girl first, as she is a good, all-around bitch, having a fair head, good neck, shoulders, legs and feet, might be a trifle better sprung, good hindquarters. For second I would have chosen Chips, who beats all in head, has good neck and shoulders, poor feet and shown in poor condition. Fleet, placed second, should have been third, with Pee-de-Ku about equal.

FOXHOUNDS, English.—(J. F. Kirk, judge). In open dogs four good ones were shown. Harmony secured the blue, with Bandmaster and Choirmaster second and third, Rattler V.H.C. No great fault would have been found if the first and second positions had been reversed. Open bitches had two good ones, Chorister first, Music second, who lost to winner in head and condition.

FOXHOUNDS, American.—(J. F. Kirk, judge.) Were also a good lot, Buckshot, first, rightly placed. Ranger lost to the winner in head and feet. Guss, winner in open bitches, is a beautiful black and tan, good body, neck and legs, feet not so good; Melody won second.

BLOODHOUNDS.—(J. F. Kirk, judge). The entries in the open classes did not show up, consequently Czar, an eight-months puppy, had to uphold the honor of his breed. He is quite a promising youngster and may be heard from in the future.

CHESAPEAKE BAY DOGS.—(J. F. Kirk, judge.) Had quite a large entry for Toronto and were, upon the whole, about rightly placed.

POINTERS.—(Montague Smith, judge.) Open class, 55 pounds and over, had five entries. Prince Graphic, the winner, has a fair head and body, but rather a trifle large. Plush, second, another large dog, has a passable head and body, but has too much daylight under him. Spotted Boy II, third, should have reversed places with Kopin, V.H.C., who while losing in head beats Boy in body, neck and shoulders; in fact no great fault would have been found had Kopin been placed second. Open bitches had only one entry, Bessie Graphic. The lightweights, both dogs and bitches, were a poor lot, Brezo securing first in dogs, Graphic Francis in bitches.

ENGLISH SETTERS.—(M. Smith, judge.) With 13 entries, were a very good lot. In open dogs Forest King, first, a lemon belton, shown in good condition, is quite a good one, with a fair head, good body, legs and feet. Kata, second, a beautiful coated and colored black and white dog of the old heavy type, lost to the winner in head and body, and would not show to advantage in the ring. Toledo News, third, with good bone, has only fair body and feet. Brush K, V.H.C., has a heavy head and is of the large type all through. In open bitches Nellie Lee II, the winner, is a sweet bitch and rightly won, but was pressed hard by May; Florrie, third, showing her age, was placed rightly. May Not, V.H.C., if it was not for her being out so much at the elbows would have taken the blue against all in the class.

IRISH SETTERS.—(M. Smith, judge.) Open dogs brought out four fair dogs. Dan Logan, the winner of first and also of all the specials, is a very natty, showy little dog and was rightly placed. Blarney lost to him in coat, condition and hindquarters. Neither one has good head, about equal in spring of ribs; about the only place Blarney beats him is in neck. In fact, Larry, third, I liked quite as well for second. Open bitches had two entries. Irene, first, showing age, has an English setter head and is light in bone, but was rightly placed. McGinty, first in puppy dogs and Kate O'Connor in bitches.

GORDON SETTERS.—(M. Smith, judge.) Guy, looking well, who has often been described, had an easy win. In bitches the well-known winner, Mt. Royal Wanda, shown in poor coat, was placed second to Rive Gordon, who did not show any of the characteristics of the breed, being snipey in muzzle, light eye, the black running in streaks clean down to the toes on her front legs, and what tan there was was very light. She was shown in splendid condition, which no doubt accounted for her win.

IRISH WATER SPANIELS.—(J. F. Kirk, judge.) Musha, though small, beat Shot Rhue in head and muzzle. In bitches Marguerite, heavy in whelp, had a walkover. In puppies Kitty O'Donnell scored over Flo in head and coat.

CLUMBER SPANIELS.—(J. F. Kirk, judge.) Did not fill.

FIELD SPANIELS.—(J. F. Kirk, judge.) Sampson was alone in challenge class. In open dogs, black, Sweep, an imported one of the cocker type, was placed first; Schreweder, also of the cocker type, second, and Canadian Boy third. This award I could not agree with, as Canadian Boy is a truer field than either of the other two, and, though he lacks a little stop, he scores in head and front legs. Open bitches, black, Daisy Dean, a long-bodied one with heavy muzzle and bad front, won. Napoleon was alone in challenge liver class, as was Nap in open liver dogs. Any other color, Jack, a leggy black and white, was placed over a poor red and white, Joe.

COCKER SPANIELS.—(J. F. Kirk, judge.) Challenge class, black dogs and bitches, did not fill. In challenge, any other color, Red Jacket, looking well but showing age, was not for competition; Red Roland, well shown, scored over his son, Red Obo, whom he beats in expression and mouth, the latter being undershot. Open dogs, black, brought out a good one in Still-in-the-Ring. He has a good skull and muzzle, is a trifle long in body and wavy in coat. Guy, second, is also a good one, a trifle fine in head and light in body, and had no trouble in disposing of Rival, third, who is too long, is out at elbows, and was shown rough. In open bitches, black, Selma, not quite straight in front nor right in muzzle, was placed over Gyp Obo, a neat little bitch, though she is too flat in skull. In open dogs, red or liver, a new face in Little Mac won. He has good skull and muzzle, is a trifle cheeky and crooked in front, but good body, expression and coat, and will be a hard one to beat. Red Jocko II was not in good condition, though he has good head, legs and body, and shown in shape would take some beating. Rascal Roland, third, is broad in skull and crooked in front. In bitches, red or liver, Venus, a cream with light head and muzzle, but good legs, was placed over Red Flirt, a ten-months puppy, with good head, legs and coat. Queenie Mack, third, has a plain head with poor expression, is undershot and too wide in front. Was shown in good condition. In puppies Holy Smoke, a large, long-bodied black of field type, was placed over Little Mack, the red. They could easily have changed places.

COLLIES.—(Richard Gibson, judge.) Had twenty-one entries. In open dogs first went to His Highness, a fairly good dog, shown well, not quite correct in head, fair bone and body. Finsbury Hero, not in good condition, was placed second. Nora, winner of first in open bitches, is a nice bitch with good body, bone and feet, but was not in good coat. Nixie, second, has nice head, good coat, fair body, bone and legs. Rob Roy was first in novice dogs, while Captain received first in puppy dogs, as Heather did the same in puppy bitches.

BULLDOGS.—No entries.

BULL TERRIERS.—(J. F. Kirk, judge.) Principio was absent in challenge class, Nap winning first in open dogs, while White Rose received the blue in bitches. Snow won first in dog puppies, while Mollie Bawn, second in open class, received first in puppy bitches.

DACHSHUNDE.—(J. F. Kirk, judge.) Nothing very remarkable was shown in this class. In open dogs first went to Don Quixote, rather coarse in head, with Fritz second. In open bitches Duchess first, Freda second.

BEAGLES.—(J. F. Kirk, judge.) This was far from being a good class. In class under 13 inches, Kingwood, first, has rather a nice body, fair head, but his elbows are away out and has poor feet. Mutiny, shown in poor condition, was second. In bitches Harmony won, with Midget second.

IRISH TERRIERS.—(J. F. Kirk, judge.) This class had quite a large entry—fourteen. Fagan Still, first, with Rugby Tuck, second. In these awards I cannot agree with the judge, for I do not know what he could see in the above to place them thus and knock down to a V.H.C. such a dog as the Canadian Ambassador, shown in beautiful coat and condition, one who has been thrown against the cracks of the land time over again and has held his own with them. In open bitches Dera More Biddy, the New York winner, in the pink of condition, was first, Rose second.

SCOTTISH TERRIERS.—(J. F. Kirk, judge.) In open dogs St. Clair Don, not for competition, left the win to General Coxey, a good-headed dog, a trifle large. In open bitches Highland Fling, first, with a bit more face, coat a shade harder, would be hard to beat in any company. Second went to Highland Lassie.

FOX TERRIERS.—(R. Gebson, judge.) In challenge classes Dusky Trap, looking well for his age, was alone. Open dogs brought out Geo. Bell's new importation, Cambridge Regal, and was rightly placed, beating King Pin, second, in head, neck and shoulders, but loses in bone. In open bitches Venoya, first, not shown in good condition, beating Lady Domine, second, in front and ears, but is not so good in body and bone. In puppies, dogs, Beechwood Debs, not quite true in front, should have given way to Aldon Pictor, second, in every respect except in loss of teeth. In the bitch class. Trilby, first, hard pressed by Royland Sting, second, a nice little bitch with a grand body, bone and coat, fair head and expression, but on the small size. Regal again won in novice dogs, second going to Victor, a nice little dog. Venoya, in novice bitches, won easily, beating Trilby. In challenge, wirehaired, Undercliffe Comet, never shown in as good condition before on this side of the Atlantic, will make it hot for some of the cracks, now that he is in good hands, was first. In open dogs the well-known Darkeye was first, but was quite hard pressed by Lance, second, who is a little sour in expression, but has a good body, coat and bone. Bonfire was absent in puppy dogs, while Dahlia received first in puppy bitches.

OFFICIAL LIST OF AWARDS

MASTIFFS.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, withheld; 2nd, Typical Kennels (William the Conqueror); C., B. Jennings (Prince). Bitches: 1st, J. A. Spracklin (Riplette). PUPPY CLASS—1st and 2nd, J. A. Sprack in (Brutus and Llouel).

ST. BERNARDS.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, G. Barron (Imperial); 2nd, J. M. Masson (Benachl); 3rd, A. Buntin (Dauntless); V.H.C., T. M. Stewart (Donovan). Bitches: 1st, E. E. Palmer (Neil Gwynne). NOVICE CLASS—1st, C. E. Burden (Sir Hugo); 2nd, J. Fulton (Bruce); 3rd, J. E. Giles (Nada). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, A. E. Watson (Senator). Bitches: 1st, Mrs. W. Sheardown (Stinson); 2nd, F. R. Smith (Daisy Bell).

GREAT DANES.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, J. E. Gray (Duke of Wurtemburg); 2nd, Typical Kennels (Beelzebub); 3rd, W. H. Funston (The Butcher). Bitches: 1st, S. Stewart (Prenda); 2nd, Typical Kenuels (Rutb). PUPPY CLASS—1st, Typical Kennels (Beelzebub).

NEWFOUNDLANDS.—1st, Typical Kennels (Sir Edwin Landseer); 2nd, L. D. Frazee (Rover); 3rd, J. Whytock (Rusb); H.C., J. Crang (Charlie). Bitches: 1st, withheld; 2nd, J. Campbell (Topsy).

DEERHOUNDS.—OPEN CLASS—1st, E. Lynge (Gurth).

BORZOIS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Terra Cotta Kennels (Argoss). Bitches: 1st, Terra Cotta Kennels (Princess Irma). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Terra Cotta Kennels (Ataman IV); 2nd, J. W. Kerr (Ivan). Bitches: 1st, 2nd, 3rd and V.H.C., Terra Cotta Kennels (Riga, Alma, Suddarka and Daiska). PUPPY CLASS—1st, Terra Cotta Kennels (Bonski).

GREYHOUNDS.—CHALLENGE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Terra Cotta Kennels (Gem of the Season). Bitches: 1st, Terra Cotta Kennels (Southern Beauty) OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, F. L. Mabee (Fawn); 2nd, Terra Cotta Kennels (Dallas); 3rd, Miss Habart (Misterton). Bitches: 1st, Terra Cotta Kennels (Pee-De-Ku); 2nd and V.H.C., J. C. Gibson (Fleet and Lady Gay); H.C., Terra Cotta Kennels (Chips). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, C. Crowley (Fleet); 2nd, Clover Hill Kennels (Kaphoozilum); 3rd, J. Whytock (Spring). Bitches: 1st, J. Whytock (Topsy).

BLOODHOUNDS.—OPEN CLASS—Absent. PUPPY CLASS—1st, G. B. Sweetnam (Czar).

FOXHOUNDS.—English—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, 2nd and 3rd, Typical Kennels (Harmony, Bandmaster and Choirmaster); V.H.C., G. Witchall (Rattler). Bitches: 1st and 2nd, Typical Kennels (Chorister and Music). American—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Typical Kennels (Buckshot); 2nd, F. Habart (Ranger); 3rd, Miss Lilly Nicholls (Ringwood); V.H.C., Typical Kennels (Gamester). Bitches: 1st, G. Daniels (Guss); 2nd and 3rd, Typical Kennels (Melody and Songstress). PUPPY CLASS—1st, A. J. Hutchinson (Crowner); 2nd, Typical Kennels (Wild Cat).

CHESAPEAKES.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, T. McGaw (Sport); 2nd, Typical Kennels (Canvas Back); 3rd, H. M. Williams (Faust). Bitches: 1st, H. M. Williams (Vixen); 2nd, Typical Kennels (Otter Girl).

POINTERS.—Heavyweights—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Typical Kennels (Prince Graphic); 2nd, W. Predhomme (Plush); 3rd and H.C., T. C. Stegmann (Spotted Boy II and Kopkin). Bitches: 1st, T. C. Stegmann (Bessie Graphic). Lightweights—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Typical Kennels (Brezo). Bitches: 1st, S. Stewart (Graphic Francis); 2nd, J. Rhodes (Fly).

ENGLISH SETTERS.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Stone & Macgregor (Forest King); 2nd, F. H. Gooch (Rata); 3rd, Typical Kennels (Toledo News); V.H.C., E. H. Bickford (Brush K). Bitches: 1st, 2nd and V.H.C., Typical Kennels (Nellie Lee II, May and May Not); 3rd, Stone & Macgregor (Carleton Florrie).

IRISH SETTERS.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, D. Logan (Red Bryan); 2nd, Douglas & Chambers (Toronto Blarney); 3rd, S. S. Young (Larry); V.H.C., D. Ward (Elector). Bitches: 1st, Douglas & Chambers (Irene); 2nd, R. Smith (Kerry Gow). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, D. Ward (McGinty). Bitches: 1st, D. Ward (Kate O'Connor); 2nd, Dr. C. A. Temple (Doreen); 3rd, T. S. Scully (Widow Malone).

GORDON SETTERS.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Stone & Macgregor (Guy); 2nd, Typical Kennels (Rob Roy). Bitches: 1st, T. C. Stegmann (Rive Gordon); 2nd, Stone & Macgregor (Mount Royal Wanda).

IRISH WATER SPANIELS.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, T. A. Carson (Musha); 2nd, Typical Kennels (Shot Rhue). Bitches: 1st, T. A. Carson (Marguerite). PUPPY CLASS—1st, F. D. Rayley (Kitty O'Donnell); 2nd, G. Harvey (Flo).

FIELD SPANIELS.—Black—CHALLENGE CLASSES—1st, Typical Kennels (Samson). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, A. Boswell (Sweep); 2nd, Typical Kennels (Schreweder); 3rd, R. G. Dow (Canadian Boy); V.H.C., J. Leese (Black Frost); H.C., F. C. Foster (Nigger). Bitches: 1st, J. A. Spracklin (Daisy Deane); 2nd, W. L. Crawford (Rosedale Princess); 3rd, Typical Kennels (Belle). Liver-colored—CHALLENGE CLASS—1st, Typical Kennels (Napoleon). OPEN CLASS—1st, Typical Kennels (Nap). Any other color—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Dr. W. Mole (Black Jack); 2nd, Typical Kennels (Joe). Bitches: 1st, withheld; 2nd, Typical Kennels (Maud). PUPPY CLASS—1st, withheld; 2nd, Typical Kennels (Cbapple).

COCKER SPANIELS,—Black—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, G. Bell (Still in the Ring); 2nd, R. Howden (Guy); 3rd, A. Laidlaw (Rival); V.H.C., J. M. Findlay (Rosedale Nigger); H.C., J. Pearce (Mack); C., R. Mitchell (Captain). Bitches: 1st, A. Laidlaw (Selma); 2nd, Bay View Kennels (Gyp Obo); 3rd, G. Bell (Black Patti); V.H.C., A. Laidlaw (Ula); H.C., G. Bell (Dot). Red or liver colored—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, A. Laidlaw (Little Mac); 2nd, Brant Kennels (Red Jocko II); 3rd, Miss A. T. Smith (Rascal Roland); V.H.C., H. Leach (Bijou). Bitches: 1st, A. Laidlaw (Venus); 2nd, Brant Kennels (Red Flirt); 3rd, W. Macdonald (Queenie Mark); Res., T. McK. Robertson (Red Dolly); V.H.C. and H.C., W. B. Palmer (Nell and Irene); H.C., Brant Kennels (Queen Bess); C., W. L. Crawford (Red Duchess). Any other color—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, W. B. Palmer (Tramp). Bitches: 1st, W. B. Palmer (Nora). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, G. Bell (Holy Smoke); 2nd, A. Laidlaw (Little Mac); 3rd, W. Tocher (My Lad); C., R. E. Bingham (Paddle). Bitches: 1st, A. Laidlaw (Selma); 2nd, G. Bell (Quinte Queen); 3rd, W. L. Crawford (Red Duchess). NOVICE CLASS—1st, Miss A. T. Smith (Rascal Roland); 2nd, Bay View Kennels (Gyp Obo); 3rd, J. B. Allan (Lady Fidget II).

COLLIES.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, T. Gilbert (His Highness); 2nd, J. Saunders (Finsbury Hero); 3rd, J. H. Simpson (Bruce); V.H.C., R. Davis (Canada's Marvel). Bitches: 1st, J. Saunders (Nora); 2nd, A. T. Little (Nixie); 3rd, A. Hastings (Flurry IV. NOVICE CLASS—1st, W. J. Russell (Rob Roy IX); 2nd, J. Taylor (Blair). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Mrs. Sheridan (Captain). Bitches: 1st, A. T. Little (Heather); 2nd and 3rd, J. Saunders (Maple Sunlight and Maple Sunbeam).

BULLDOGS.—None.

BULL TERRIERS.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st and 2nd, G. C. Mashinter (Nap and Bismark). Bitches: 1st, Bay View Kennels (White Rose); 2nd and 3rd, G. C. Mashinter (Mollie Bawn and Nellie); V.H.C., Bay View Kennels (Edgeview Robin). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, A. Farrance (Snow). Bitches: 1st, 2nd 3rd, G. C. Mashinter (Mollie Bawn, Nellie and Vick).

AIREDALE TERRIERS.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, J. B. Hooper (Worrie). Bitches: 1st, F. N. Beardmore (Beechgrove Vixen); 2nd, J. B. Hooper (Dollie). PUPPY CLASS—1st, P. C. Goldingham (Shindy).

DACHSHUNDE.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st and 2nd, Typical Kennels (Don Quixote and Fritz); 3rd, C. H. Noble (Spice). Bitches: 1st, C. H. Noble (Duchess); 2nd, J. W. Bowden (Freda); 3rd and H.C., Typical Kennels (Weasel and Queen Hilda). PUPPY CLASS—1st, J. B. Allan (Nymph); 2nd, A. J. Maharg (Why II); 3rd, W. G. Kennedy (Zig Zag).

BEAGLES.—Over 13 inches—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, J. Johnson (Driver). Bitches: 1st, J. Johnson (Music). 13 inches and under—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, J. Johnson (Ringwood); 2nd, Raglan Kennels (Mutiny). Bitches: 1st and 2nd, Raglan Kennels (Harmony and Midget). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Raglan Kennels (Mutiny). Bitches: 1st, Raglan Kennels (Mona).

IRISH TERRIERS.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, G. Glasco (Fagan Still); 2nd, W. J. Lindsay (Rugby Tuck); 3rd, W. J. Sheridan (Desmond); V.H.C., J. B. Henderson (Bruce); H.C., Capt. J. B. McLean (The Canadian Ambassador). Bitches: 1st, Capt. J. B. McLean (Dera More Biddy); 2nd, Rev. Thos. Geoghegan (Rose); 3rd, J. H. Fiulay (Peggy). NOVICE CLASS—1st, F. V. Stantou (Miss Stout). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, H. Crown (Pat); 2nd, W. J. Sheridan (Desmond); 3rd, R. Evans (Carty). Bitches: 1st and 2nd, P. Brown (Peggy and Betsy Blarney).

SCOTTISH TERRIERS.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Mrs. J. J. Dean (General Coxey); V.H.C., W. P. Fraser (St. Clair Don). Bitches: 1st and 2nd, W. P. Fraser (Highland Fling and Highland Lassie). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Mrs. J. J. Dean (General Coxey); 2nd, J. Leese (Heather Lad). Bitches: 1st, W. P. Fraser (Highland Fling).

BEDLINGTON TERRIERS.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, A. Howe (Joe); 2nd, W. Cook (Piper); 3rd, F. McCurry (Blucher); V.H.C., Typical Kennels (Peter Jackson); H.C., H. Bedlington (Bruce). Bitches: 1st, A. Trebilcock (Blue Belle).

BLACK AND TAN TERRIERS.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, J. Gillies (Darkie); 2nd, E. Mack (Burke); 3rd [illegible]. Bitches: 1st, C. Lyndon (Ruby). PUPPY [illegible] (Burke).

FOX TERRIERS.—CHALLENGE CLASS—1st [illegible] OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, G. Bell (Cambrid[illegible] A. Macdonald (Beverwyck Kingpin); 3rd, P. J. Smythe (Beechwood Victor); V.H.C., Clover Hill Kennels (Triumph); H.C., P. J. Smythe (Beechwood Pilot) and A. A. Macdonald (Aldon Actor). Bitches: 1st, A. A. Macdonald (Venoya); 2nd, G. Hay (Lady Domino); 3rd and V.H.C., C. C. Robb (Lady Diadem and Trilby). NOVICE CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, G. Bell (Cambridge Regal); 2nd and 3rd, P. J. Smith (Beechwood Victor and Beechwood Pilot); V.H.C., A. A. Macdonald (Aldon Actor); H.C., P. Thacker (Aldon Rector); C., W. D. Greer (Pryune). Bitches: 1st, A. A. Macdonald (Venoya); 2nd, C. C. Robb (Trilby); 3rd and V.H.C., Hamilton Kennels (Satirette and Miss Pallsy). PUPPY CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, P. J. Smith (Beechwood Debs); 2nd, Mrs. H. Merritt (Aldon Pictor); 3rd, A. A. Macdonald (Aldon Actor). Bitches: 1st, C. C. Robb (Trilby); 2nd, C. Lyndon (Royland Sting); 3rd, Hamilton Kennels (Buttercup).

Wirehaired—CHALLENGE CLASS—1st, C. Lyndon (Undercliffe Comet). OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, A. A. Macdonald (Dark Eye); 2nd, G. T. Davies (Lance); 3rd, O. M. Arnold (Stanley). Bitches: 1st and 3rd, A. A. Macdonald (Aldon Dahlia and Aldon Vigilant); 2nd, G. T. Davies (Aldon Laurel). NOVICE CLASS—1st, 2nd and 3rd, A. A. Macdonald (Aldon Dahlia, Aldou Vigilant and Aldon Blue Bonnie).

TOY TERRIERS.—Yorkshire—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: Mrs. H. D. P. Armstrong (Brandy); equal 2nd, Mrs. G. H. Roberts (Tommy Atkins) and Mrs. J. Allen (Captain). Bitches: 1st and 2nd, Mrs. J. Allen (Feathers and Gipsy); 3rd, Mrs. E. Garrett (Grey Nun). Other varieties—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Miss Charlotte Wright (Trixie); 2nd, Mrs. A. M. Shales (Dandy). Bitches: 1st, Mrs. A. M. Shales (French Jean).

PUGS.—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Mrs. H. L. Evans (Juppy); 2nd, T. C. Scott (Jake). Bitches: 1st, P. N. Bell (My Own).

TOY SPANIELS.—King Charles—OPEN CLASSES—Dogs: 1st, Mr. B. Davis (Dominion Prince). Bitches: 1st, 2nd, V.H.C. and C., A. Trebilcock (Topsy, Jane, Topsy II and Ruby); 3rd, Mrs. B. Davis (Rose).

ITALIAN GREYHOUNDS—OPEN CLASS—1st, Mrs. B. Davis (Lassie); 2nd, F. C. Foster (Boots).

MISCELLANEOUS.—1st, J. M. and R. B. Harris (Turk, a white English terrier); 2nd, A. M. Ellis (Queenie, a whippet); 3rd and H.C., Typical Kennels (Czar, a terrier, and Mex, a Mexican hairless).

SELLING CLASS.—1st, Hamilton Kenuels (My Own, a fox terrier); 2nd, F. J. Taylor (Frou Frou).

THE ENGLISH FIELD TRIALS

The English Setter Club's Field Trials

The second week of April brought with it the above club's third field trial meeting; April 9 and 10 being the dates set for the running, which took place over estates placed at the club's disposal by the Duke of Bedford and Mr. S. Whitbread. This gentleman's name calls to mind the fact that the first field trials ever held were run thirty years ago on the manor of Mr. S. Whitbread, M. P., at Southill, and within a few miles of the scene of the trials under mention.

Eleven English setter puppies, seven pointer puppies, five braces, and fifteen of all ages ran in the respective stakes; several had not competed the previous week at the Kennel Club's trials, but Whist and Squire of Kippen made a second appearance, as did the two Pedros, Sarah and Jane, Ightfield Mentor, Cinder, and the Derby winner, Bonny Bell of Coldhill. The best of the continental celebrities were absent, but Mons. Richards had a brace in the aged stake, which likewise competed in the braces. Some of the entries in the former are pretty well known; among them Woolton Druid, winner of the All-Age Stake at the Setter Club's trials last year. The judges were Capt. the Hon. H. H. Molyneaux and Mr. Hatfield Harter.

The following comments on the weather, scent, quantity of game and the merits of the performers in the two puppy stakes are taken from our English cotemporary, The Field: "The meet on Tuesday morning was at 9:30 a. m. on one of the Duke of Bedford's farms, that called the Grange, Cople. On our way there could be noted the terrible havoc made among the elms and poplars during the gale about a fortnight ago; huge trees uprooted all along the roadside, still lying there, obstructive to the traffic. We had a lovely day—a strong wind from the southwest, any amount of walking, birds fairly plentiful, with a nice sprinkling of hares. It is impossible to say whether scent was good or bad, it should not have been bad; still, some people said it was more than indifferent. We managed, under the guidance of Mr. T. H. Barnard, who arranged and conducted the beats, to get through the puppy stakes, in which, as a fact, little good form was shown; all the winners made mistakes. The actual victor, Mr. Elias Bishop's Jane Pedro, ran at Ipswich last week, and she now went in quite as good style and with all the pace she then displayed; she found a few birds well, but perhaps she was lucky to win. Her trials were short, and in that with Whist her handler might have committed a grave error in not allowing her to beat out the ground in her usual style. Squire of Kippen, too, was lucky; he again proved himself a game finder, but quartered and beat out his ground indifferently. Still, until his last trial, when he had a mild chase after a hare, he made no mistake of note. The best of Mr. Lowe's was his second prize bitch Mabel, an extremely merry goer, and she might have been placed first. Whist's form was consistent with what he did last week, but he scarcely ran so nicely as he did then; and Ightfield Mentor at times did well, but at other times badly. The English setter, Cinder, from the same kennel, mean and commonplace in appearance though she be, gallops merrily, and has improvement in her, but she will never win a prize on the show bench. The Derby winner, Bonnie Bell of Coldhill, ran badly, but the liver and white setter of Col. Platt, Madryn Earl, had about the best natural ability of any dog in the stake, and though but a June puppy, galloped with exceeding speed, found some birds well, and generally came out most creditably. Of Mr. James Bishop's, his Bloom of Salop was the best, and it was a mistake not to call her out again; she went very fast, quartered her ground well, and did not make as many mistakes as some other dogs which were given another trial. Altogether the performances of the puppies were not good, the pointers being all round well below the setters in the matter of ability. There was neither an Irish setter nor a Gordon running."

ENGLISH SETTER PUPPY STAKES; first prize, £[illegible] third, £7.

Col. Cotes' bk w tan Daisy, by Prince Frederick—Dora; February, 1894,	agnat	Mr. Jas. Bishop's [illegible] Bounce of Salop—Flirt of Salop Flirt of March 10, 1894.
Mr. J. Bishop's bl w tan Belle of Salop, by Danger of Salop — Flirt of Salop; March 10, 1894,	"	Mr. A. P. Heywood-Lo[illegible] lem w t ightfield C[illegible] ter by Sybarite Sam—Sweep's D[illegible] light; January 13, 1894

[illegible] Pitch- [illegible] Fri- [illegible] bruary,	"	Mr. F. C. Lowe's liv and w Mabel of Kippen, by Aldon Tam—Nancy of Kippen; January 2, 1894.
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of [illegible] January [illegible]	"	Col. Platt's bk w t Madryn Swell, by Aldon Tam—Madryn Fan; June 25, 1894.
Mr. J. Bishop's bk w t Bloom of Salop, by Danger of Salop — Flirt of Salop; March 10, 1894,	"	Col. Platt's liv t Madryn Earl, by Aldon Tam—Madryn Fan; June 25, 1894.
Mr. W. L. Nicholson's bk w Faith, by Baronet—Fancy Fair; January 8, 1894,	a bye.

II

Belle of Salop v. Squire of Kippen.	Mabel of Kippen v. Daisy.
Faith v. Bloom of Salop.	Madryn Earl v. Ightfield Cinder.

III

Squire v. Mabel of Kippen.	Mabel of Kippen v. Belle of Salop.
Cinder v. Belle of Salop.

AWARDS

Squire of Kippen	1	Belle of Salop	3
Mabel of Kippen	2

A certificate of merit was given to all the contestants, and Belle of Salop obtained the Setter Club's cup.

POINTER PUPPY STAKES; first prize £20, second £10. third £5.

Col. Cotes' liv w Conrad, by Carlist—Peace; April, 1894	agst.	Mr. E. Bishop's liv w Sarah Pedro, by Senor Don Pedro Hollyberry; January 4, 1894.
Mr. S. Humphrey's liv w Bonny Dan of Coldhill, by Don of Bolcord—Duchess of Bolcord; May 16, 1894,	"	Mr. A. P. Heywood-Lonsdale's liv w Ightfield Mentor, by Ightfield Torridge—Ightfield Musa; February 10, 1894.
Mr. A. B. Walker's liv w Whist, by Wooltou Druid—Bertha of Drayton; February 12, 1894,	"	Mr. F. C. Lowe's (S. Humphrey's nom.) liv w tan Bonny Bell of Coldhill, by Don of Bolcord—Duchess of Bolcord; May 16, 1894.
Mr. E. Bishop's liv w Jane Pedro, by Senor Don Pedro —Hollyberry: January 4. 1894,	a bye.

II

Bonny Dan of Coldhill v. Jane Pedro.	Whist v. Ightfield Mentor.
Ightfield Mentor v. Jane Pedro.	Jane Pedro v. Whist.

AWARDS

Jane Pedro	1	Ightfield Mentor	3
Whist	2

The two winners, Squire of Kippen and Jane Pedro, then ran to decide the question of absolute best, and the trial is thus described by The Field: "They were slipped in the same field in which we started in the morning. Both galloped wildly; Jane, on a back cast, flushed a bird, and did not drop well to wing, Squire, forward, having a point without birds; but we had seen some fly from the place. Back to another field, where nothing particular was done until Squire found a couple of hares, one of which he appeared to follow in a somewhat doubtful manner, behind some manure heaps, and so the chief honor went to the pointer Jane Pedro. We do not think, as a final trial, this was entirely successful, still Squire had beaten out his ground so indifferently previously that little fault could be found with the decision. Time, 6:15 p. m., and the day's proceedings terminated."

On Wednesday morning the meet was at Cardington Cross, on Mr. Whitbread's estate, and again the weather was most favorable. Punctuality was again the order, and at 10 a. m. the first brace of dogs in the All-Age Stakes were down. A delay had been occasioned by a walk of a mile or so to get the wind, which again pleasantly blew from the southwest. Birds were numerous, there was a nice sprinkling of hares, generally the trials were conducted most favorably, and a conclusion was made by about 4:30 p. m. Of the performers our English cotemporary has this to say: "Some rather unequal merit was found in the aged stake, which in the end was won by the pointer Woolton Druid, who was successful last year. After beginning badly, by making sundry points without having game in front of him, he concluded brilliantly by handsomely beating the black pointer Tap in a short but well-run trial. Whether Druid is as fast and good a dog as he was a year ago is a matter of opinion. We think we have seen him run better than he did on Thursday. He is stylish, steady and reliable; his victory was popular. Tap was second. Until he met Druid he had so far run through the stake without a mistake, but after luncheon he appeared to have lost much of his dash, and Mr. Pilkington's dog, on the outside beat, fairly and legitimately was the victor. Nor did Tap do any better when he was down in the braces. Mistletoe was lucky to be third; she ran badly, only half-quartered her ground, and should certainly have been placed behind Dolly Pedro, who went very fast, indeed, and was probably the speediest animal in the stake; then she made sundry brilliant points, and only spoiled her chance of having a good look-in as the best dog running by her too long and tedious 'draws,' without finding birds, in her last course; she should, at any rate, have had third money as we saw the trials. Wild Tam Tam went a cracker in pace, and was stylish, but he committed one or two grave faults, and his backing, excepting in the Braces Stakes, was a very doubtful commodity—excepting when his handler whistled. Still, he was the best English setter in the stake. Nyssa, the pointer, appears to have lost a great deal of her style and pace; Nigger Joe is no more than an ordinary working dog, not likely to win at a field trial meeting: Dasher is somewhat slow, but may run better than he did here; Eight Bells is a pretty bitch in form, but she did not do well, though no doubt she has a good nose if allowed to use it as she likes. All round, the work of the aged dogs was not noted for brilliancy. The brace work by James Bishop's aged setters, Sweep the Green and Danger of Salop, was of a very high degree of merit, and, perhaps, superior to anything of the kind seen in public of late years. [illegible] tter Club is certainly to be con- [illegible] ss of their trials; no better ground [illegible] desired, and there was excellent [illegible] s who were well kept in hand by [illegible] d not unduly press on to the run- [illegible] the judges. Everybody seemed [illegible] the losers, and we believe that ar- [illegible] ready been made for the 1896 trials. [illegible] to be held during the second week in April "

ALL-AGE STAKES, for pointers or setters; first prize £34; second £17; third £8.

Mr. J. Bishop's bk w tan setter Bounce of Salop, by Danger of Salop—Flirt of Salop; March 10, 1894,	agst.	Mr. B. T. Warwick's bk w setter Nigger Joe, by Duke—Kate; June, 1891.
Mr. J. H. Brown's liv w pointer Eight Bells, by True Blue—Glee II; June 1, 1893,	"	Mr. A. Richard's bk w tan setter Wild Tam Tam, by Roderick of the Lahn III—Rose of Shrewsbury; March 19, 1892.
Mr. W. Arkwright's bk pointer Tap, by Rapp VI—Sella Price; June 14, 1891,	"	Mr. B. T. Warwick's liv w pointer Friar Dan, by Kent Bang—Rose Friar; April, 1891.
Mr. A. Richard's lem w setter Fred W II, by Prince W—Duchess of Albany; March 11, 1893,	"	Col. Cotes' liv w pointer Dodo, by Carlist—Peace; 1893.
Mr. A. P. Heywood-Lonsdale's lem w setter Ightfield Roma, by Fred W—Ightfield Rosa; July 6, 1892,	"	Mr. E. Bishop's liv w pointer Polly Pedro, by Senor Don Pedro—Jeanett; 1892.
Mr. G. Pilkington's liv w pointer Woolton Druid, by Woolton Dick — Lawn; March, 1892,	"	Col. Cotes' bk w tan setter Dasher, by Cawdor Dash—Dahlia; 1893.
Mr. B. T. Warwick's lem w pointer Nyssa, by Seuor Don Pedro — Nepthys; March 7, 1892,	"	Mr. E. Bishop's (Miss Bibby's nom.) bk w t setter May Prince, by Royal Prince II —May Bloom.

Mr. W. Arkwright's liv w pointer Mistletoe, by Naso of Strasburg —Kiss; April 3, 1892; a bye.

II

Eight Bells v. Mistletoe.	Tap v. Nigger Joe.
Wild Tam Tam v. Polly Pedro.	Fred W II v. Woolton Druid.

III

Mistletoe v. Polly Pedro.	Wild Tam Tam v. Mistletoe.
Tap. v. Wooltou Druid.

AWARDS

Woolton Druid	1	Mistletoe	3
Tap	2

Bounce of Salop was awarded the Setter Club's cup, so both the specials were won by Mr. Bishop.

The running in the Brace Stakes is told by The Field thus: "Mr. Brown's Eight Bells and Joan of Tring, handled by their owner, were down, nicely matched pointers, in beautiful condition. Bells pointed without birds, was not backed; then drawing, Joan found birds rather well close to the road, the backing of her mate somewhat uncertain; both ranged almost out of sight, then came back down wind, and so concluded a poorly run trial so far as 'brace work' was concerned, but before they were called up birds were flushed by one or both dogs. Wild Tam Tam and Fred W II, handled by Watts, were not down long before Fred had a point to birds, then to the left hard by a second, both of which were backed; the lemon and white false-pointed, and some pretty brace work in quartering followed; forward Fred's point was backed prettily, yielding birds. On another beat Fred flushed, but dropped to wing; Tam ran the fence, backed a good point of Fred's, and so the trial ended, the work throughout being well above the average. Tap and Mistletoe, handled by Drewry, were not so well matched in pace as Mr. Richard's brace. To the right Tap drew on and on, and just located birds before they rose, Mistletoe steady behind; then the bitch appeared to flush birds, dropping to wing, repeated the performance further on; Tap had a couple of somewhat undecided false points, then a stanch one to no birds, and another; so they finished. Tap quartered his ground well; but Mistletoe only half worked out her beats. Sweep the Green and Danger of Salop, handled by their owner, were, after a sharp half mile walk, slipped on seeds and fallow; both started well, one to the right, the other to the left, and 150 yards apart both dropped, and both had birds in front of them to which they were steady, and had beautiful finds of birds, and were steady as clocks to wing. On hold up, and both again went right and left; this time, to the right Danger had another pretty find, perfectly backed; in the meantime Sweep had feathered on the line of birds previously found by his opponent. Another beat on fallow, more pretty work, more birds found, more good backing, and one of the best run trials of the kind we ever saw ended. Lauder was now called out with South Durham Daisy and Di, and they commenced on seeds, as Bishop's brace had done. They proved a well-matched brace of merry workers, and forward three birds were found by Di, who was well backed; then both on different lines, and far apart, had points without birds; and another beat was given on a bare lot of seeds, where a hesitating point led to a wild rising bird being flushed. Then they quartered side by side and missed birds, and a pair were found. The backing of both dogs was fair, but as a brace their work was not quite high class, though just before the finish Daisy found birds well, though on a wide range; her companion steady behind.

BRACE STAKES, first prize £10 10s. second £5 5s., third £3.

Mr. J. H. Brown's liv w pointers Eight Bells, by True Blue—Glee II, June 1, 1893, and Joan of Tring.

Mr. Aug. Richard's bk w tan setters Wild Tam Tam, by Roderick of the Lahn III—Rose of Shrewsbury, March 19, 1892, and l w Fred W II, by Prince W—Duchess of Albany, March 11, 1893.

Mr. W. Arkwright's b pointers Tap, by Rapp VI—Sella Price, June 14, 1891, and l w Mistletoe, b Naso of Strasburg—Kiss, April 3, 1892.

Mr. J. Bishop's bk w t setters, Sweep the Green, and bk w tan Danger of Salop.

Mr. A. P. Heywood-Lonsdale's l w setters, Durham Daisy and South Durham Di.

AWARDS

Sweep the Green and Danger of Salop	1	Wild Tam Tam and Fred W II	3
Durham Daisy and Di	2

MR. MADISON TO MR. AVENT.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—I have been deliberating whether it was advisable to notice Mr: Avent's communication, published in the AMERICAN FIELD, of April 13, for several reasons, the first of which is that, while he assumes to speak with authority for the United States Field Trials Club, so far as I know there is no action of that club which delegates such powers to him. Still, that club has not repudiated any of his writings, so I presume it may be accepted that the duties which naturally and officially devolve on the secretary and other officers in the club are conducted by Mr. Avent. I have concluded to notice Mr. Avent's article, first, because some of the circumstances to which he alludes happened before the Continental Field Trial Club was formed, and, second, because much of his innuendo is of a personal character.

I desire to have it understood that I reply in my personal capacity, and not in my capacity as secretary of the Continental Field Trial Club. It is unnecessary to do so, for while, by inference, Mr. Avent speaks for the United States Field Trial Club, there is nothing offered to show that he speaks with authority.

I think the policy of the Continental Field Trial Club has made itself apparent. It is to go on attending to its own affairs and not meddle with those of others. Mr. Avent has very kindly and with some labor defined its standing and condescended to give some praise in a general way, and some rebuke in a grave, serious way, all with proper decorum, which leads me to believe that he must have the interests of the Continental Field Trial Club much at heart, otherwise he would not be so superofficious.

I will take up Mr. Avent's points and reply once for all, so that no one may be misled by his misapprehensions. He says:

As I know many of the members of the U. S. Club are not fully aware of all the steps that are taken against them, I will inform them briefly of the last moves. It will be remembered that the enthusiastics that formed the new club tried to give the impression at New Albany that they would take the U. S. Club's grounds and clash dates; in fact they intended to burst up the U. S. Club regardless of sportsmanship or anything else.

What were the "last moves" and what steps have been taken against them? The Continental Field Trial Club has done openly and aboveboard all its business. What are those dark deeds implied in his words? He said he would tell what they were, but he did not do so. I know of no enthusiastics who said at New Albany that they would take their grounds and clash dates; and no such statements were ever made. The insincerity of this statement is shown by the fact that since that meeting the United States Field Trial Club has announced two other grounds and dates. Newton, N. C., and grounds in Indiana were not at that time thought of.

This quite a number of members of the club could and did see the motive of, and but two or three have or will resign, and thirty-five good members have joined; with quite a list that will join later. Some of them have joined the new club, the Continental; and so have some of the old members. They join the Continental because they are true sportsmen that want to encourage field trials. The Continental F. T. Club has many thorough gentlemen sportsmen in it, and the club has my best wishes for its success, but I am sure there are many members and among them their president, who do not know the movement of a few of their members. In fact many of them have told me and my friends that no one or two men could step in with a personal feeling to ruie or ruin and clash dates with the United States or any other field trial club.

I am glad to know that so many members have joined the United States Field Trial Club. In respect to the resignations, I beg to call Mr. Avent's attention to the fact that when a member resigned the club would not accept his resignation, so how could the member resign? Now, what is the movement of a few of the members which is unknown to the president and other members? Is not Mr. Avent assuming entirely too much when he speaks for the Continental and the United States clubs?

Noting him further:

It will be remembered that the dates with the United States Club were selected and published in January, and the last change the club made was on March 4, before the Continental Club was formed. At that time (March 4) the board of governors of the United States Club (not one selfish individual) decided to hold trials in North Carolina, commencing November 28. This date was published in the AMERICAN FIELD that week; also it was furnished Mr. P. T. Madison by the secretary of the United States Club March 5, before any Continental Club was formed.

As to the matter of dates, the United States Field Trial Club announced that it had engaged grounds at Irvington, Ky., and that money was donated to stock the grounds; it was announced that trials would be held at West Point, Miss., and that grounds were leased there for that purpose; it was announced that trials would be held at Carlisle, Ind., and next it was announced that trials would be run at Newton, N. C. It was announced that trials would be run on prairie chickens, then it was announced that they would not. There were five trials all told. Out of the four quail trials announced by the United States Field Trial Club some will have to be

Now, in regard to the grounds at Newton, N. C., the United States Field Trial Club had made no arrangements there for grounds. It had made no arrangements there for anything. It had merely, in an off-hand way, claimed its dates and the grounds without knowing whether it could secure grounds, just as it could claim all the dates in the calendar and all the grounds in America, if an empty claim would confer a title. The proposition of the Continental Field Trial Club to run in conjunction with the Eastern Field Trials Club was made on perfectly even terms with the proposition of the United States Field Trial Club, and the Eastern Field Trials Club accepted that of the Continental. Merely claiming things to which it had no title could hardly be considered an ownership.

Mr. Avent further says:

On the day that the Continental Club was formed there was quite a crowd of sportsmen present, with quite a number of them that were in favor of the new club running trials in a sportsmanlike manner and not for the purpose of injuring the United States Club or any other club. But I was informed by Mr. J. L. Adams, who is a member of both clubs, as by others, that Mr. Madison, at that meeting, suggested a date in November that would conflict with the United States Club's date in Indiana, which he (Mr. Madison) had helped to make and of course was fully aware of; but this date was at once done away with by the true sportsmen of the new club. The new club, however, let in a rule to have all business transacted by its officers, which, I believe, are president, first, second and third vice-presidents and a secretary-treasurer (who is Mr. Madison).

Here again there is an unnecessary solicitude about the club's officers and the club's affairs. It seems to be going along quite pleasantly nevertheless.

In respect to what Mr. Adams said, as in many other things, Mr. Avent is mistaken.

In a letter to me, under date of April 13, Mr. Adams says:

LOUISVILLE, KY., April 13, 1895.

MR. P. T. MADISON, Indianapolis, Ind.

Dear Sir:—I have been intending for some time to write to you, but have not been well part of the time, the other part have been quite busy, but, since Avent's article in the last AMERICAN FIELD headed "United States Field Trial Club's Affairs," I can wait no longer. If Avent wanted to tell the public what I told him, why did he not tell all? I told him at the meeting of the Continental Field Trial Club, held at Chicago, Ill., or at least the organization of the club, you stated the Continental Club wanted to work in harmony with all other clubs, when there was a resolution to have a trial in Kentucky, Indiana or Illinois the first week in November, 1895. I then stated I was a member of the U. S. Club, also a member of the Continental Club, and that I knew the United States Field Trial Club had arranged to hold a trial at Carlisle, Ind., com-meneing November 4, 1895. The resolutiou was then referred back to the executive committee to arrange so as uot to conflict in dates. This was just what I told him aud others, nothing more and uothing less; but from the way he puts it, some might think I was not in sympathy with the Continental Club or its officers, which would not be true. I think there is room for both clubs, but Avent's article will do the United States Field Trial Club no good, but may do harm. Aveut and some others think the U. S. Club ought to hold three trials. I am very much opposed to this. I can see no reason why both clubs can not give good trials, and I hope they will. As soon as you get your printed matter out please seud me some.

I am not pleased with the article of Aveut's. I don't thiuk it ought to have been writteu, but will say no more iu regard to it for the preseut. Yours very truly,

J. L. ADAMS.

This ought to dispose of Mr. Avent's charge, still, he may find other bugaboos which will serve to keep his name in print.

He adds:

The Continental Club has from August 15 to November 6, from about November 25 to about January 25, from February 10 to April 1; just look at the time they have iu which to hold trials that will not conflict with any other club's.

For this, many thanks. But is not the same free to the United States Field Trial Club? The Continental is tied to certain dates for the reason that it is pledged to run in conjunction with the Eastern Field Trials Club. I would kindly call Mr. Avent's attention to the fact that it therefore has not the dates he so unselfishly commends. Again I think the club is beholden to him. If it does not succeed, it will not be for a dearth of advice.

He proceeds:

Is it not a fact that from November 25 to January 20 are the very best two months in the Fall for holding trials on quail in North Carolina? Is it not a fact that from February 10 to April 1 is the very best time to hold Spriug trials on qualls? Every practical sportsman lu America knows that. Then why is it that the Continental Club should come in with its first quail trials and take the very grounds that the U. S. Club expected to use, and conflict dates with the U. S. Club when the U. S. Club had claimed these dates aud published them before any Continental Club was even formed? It is to be hoped that the mauy members are not responsible for movements to kill the U. S. Club, which has many of the best and most practical sportsmen in America in it, with others joining every day. I feel confident that this is the work of three individuals who showed the spirit, big as a mountain, in the U. S. Club to rule or ruin it.

As I said before, no one could possibly know what grounds the U. S. Club intended to use. The Continental Field Trial Club did not take any grounds on which the United States Field Trial Club had any claim whatever. It uses the grounds at Newton, N. C., by permission of the Eastern Field Trials Club. There was no intention to kill any club by so doing. There was no reason to put any such construction on its acts. There is no one who will believe that the United States Field Trial Club is severely killed.

Now, for the good of field trials there is plenty of time to prevent any conflict of dates, and I hope the members of the Continental Club will see this had spirit to ruin the U. S. Club cropping out, and will come to the front aud work harmoniously with the U. S. Club and all other clubs. They and all other clubs will prosper by it. I have letters from such sportsmen from the East as Mr. F. R. Hitchcock aud Edward Dexter, saying the U. S. Club should come to North Carolina and they will do all in their power to make the club's trials a success.

I know of no reason why the United States Field Trial Club should not go to North Carolina. It strikes me that Mr. Avent is blind to the fact that there are plenty of dates left, and not a few to choose from which the United States Field Trial Club has already claimed.

He says:

The 28th day of November has been publicity announced (before the Continental Club was formed) for the U. S. Club to commence its trials at Newton, N. C., or near there, and the public can rest assured that Mr. Madison's letter will not bluff the U. S. Club out of commencing its trials on that date. The committee on grounds is now arranging for other grounds just as good as Newton and somewhere near Newton or at Lexington, N. C.

This is quoted simply so the public will know its own standing in the matter. He says:

The governing committee of the U. S. Club is not trying to work against any club. It does and will manage its business on a fair and square, businesslike and sportsmanlike plan; with no one man to rule the club. If any such movement of any individual is discovered the public will see very quickly that the committee and governors will be put in to check all such movements, let the saddle fit whom it may.

Would it not be well to give the secretary of the United States Field Trial Club a chance to say something? Also the board of governors; also other members of the club? I have nothing to say about the manner of that club's business methods. I wish it success. It can go on claiming all the dates and grounds it desires. Mr. Avent can hurl forth his innuendoes and vague charges and fulsome praises, keeping himself before the public as much as he can, but this is all the notice which will be taken of him by me. The earnest desire of the United States Field Trial Club to have no one individual run it is exemplified by Mr. Avent; still, if all the members were equally as active in writing and talking privately and publicly, what an active club it would be!

The committee on judges has its instructions as follows:

The committee on judges will select the most competent and thorough gentleman-sportsman that can be had to judge the U. S. trials, and the public can rest assured that every dog entered will have a fair, square and thorough test.

This is good news, for otherwise the committee might not know just what to do. I am afraid Mr. Avent has been remiss in authority in not having assured this before. Inasmuch as Mr. Avent speaks authoritatively for the committee on judges, for the board of governors, for the officers and for the members, what is the use of the club? Why not have it the committee of J. M. Avent, the board of J. M. Avent, the members of J. M. Avent—in short, J. M. Avent?

P. T. MADISON.

BULL DOG CLUB PRODUCE STAKES

NEW YORK.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—The first Produce Stakes of the New York Bull Dog Club were decided during the afternoon of April 25. Although only three youngsters were entered the afternoon was well spent ere the decisions were rendered. This was Mr. Matthews' fault. He is the president of the Bull Dog Club and as the judging was to take place at his beautiful residence on Riverside Drive, New York City, he determined that the affair should be an enjoyable one for those interested in the event. The members of the executive committee, together with Messrs Beadleston, Roby and Lacy, were therefore invited to luncheon at 2 p. m. Those whom Mr. Matthews so gracefully and elegantly entertained were Messrs. E. Willard Roby, R. L. Crawford Jr., R. Dudley Winthrop, H. C. Beadleston and H. W. Lacy. Between the courses the bulldog was thoroughly dissected, figuratively, and chops and jowl, laybacks and roachbacks, underjaws and rose ears, screwtails and elbows in their relation to the dogs of the day were duly considered. The ups and downs of breeding and the chances of American breeders ever producing that will-o'-the-wisp of the "fancier"—a real good 'un—were carefully diagnosed and the conclusion reached that while we have plenty of good stud dogs, the fancy is sadly in need of some equally good matrons.

With the coffee and cigars came Mr. Muss-Arnolt and afterward Mr. Chas. F. MacLean and Mr. R S. McCreery joined the company and we at once adjourned to the stables, situated at the rear of the mansion. Here we found that Spratts Co. had set up a row of their benching containing six stalls. In these were kenneled the Stake entries and visiting dogs.

Mr. Beadleston first showed us his white dog Wrinkles (Bathos' best son), who has already been in the money at New York. At the same time Mr. Matthews showed the sire, his old favorite Bathos, who seemed full of vigor and in good condition. Then Reeve Royal, the handsome brindle, fresh from winning honors at Boston show, had to submit his good points to the critical. Dolly Tester also swung into view and, with Bowbells, completed Mr. Matthews' string of matured ones. His crack dachshund Polly Finders, who has just won the Manice Cup again, and Pretzel were also duly admired.

The Produce Stakes were next in order. In dogs there were two entries: Mr. E. Willard Roby's brindle Robin Reporter, by Leonidas out of Liberty and Mr. John H. Matthews' Banshee, by Bathos (a Briton's Boasts—Nimble Ninepence) out of Rose (Portswood Tiger—Peggy), white with brindle spots. The judges, R. Dudley Winthrop, G. Muss-Arnolt and H. W. Lacy, by ballot vote were unanimous in their decision that Robin Reporter was the best, in fact is a very likely sort, though a trifle long in body.

In the "ladies' " division there was but one entry, E. Willard Roby's Robin Reception, a white bitch, by Leonidas out of Liberty, a litter sister of the winning dog, but a long way behind her brother in bulldog points. The stakes were for puppies whelped in 1894 and by a peculiar coincidence all three entries were whelped on the same day, July 15, 1894. The total of the stakes aggregated nearly $60; one-fourth goes to the best dog and one-eighth to the second best; one-fourth to the best bitch and the balance reverts to the coffers of the club as there were no claimants for third honors.

There were six bitches nominated last year for this Produce Stake and to these only nine puppies were born; six of them survived, but only three were entered. The members present considered it advisable to offer a second Produce Stake for 1895, particulars of which will be announced later.

Mr. Matthews is quite a lover of horseflesh, too, and has a half dozen good "tits" in the stalls, two gray cobs, that won fourth at the National Horse Show being especially handsome. In the back part of his handsome stables Mr. Matthews has half a dozen very substantial kennels made of brick and ornamental ironwork. In these are housed his best dogs; each kennel opens into a large cemented yard. Happy are the city dogs which have such comfortable quarters.

H. W. L.

FOR SALE.—Mr. C. J. Brook, Atkinson, Neb., offers cocker spaniels....Mr. C. E. Christen, Toledo, O., offers St. Bernards....Mr. W. G. Parker, Memphis, Tenn., offers pointer....Mr. L. E. Lewis, Mahanoy City, Pa., offers English setters....Mr. Langran, Yonkers, N. Y., offers Irish setter....Mr. C. A. Paetzel, Hope, Ind., offers pointers....Mr. A. A. Lavell, Shell Lake, Wis., offers English and Irish setters....Mr. R. Nickau, Leipzig, Germany, offers St. Bernards....Banbury Kennels, Washington, D. C., offer fox terriers....Mad River Fox Terrier Kennels, Springfield, O., offer fox terriers....Mr. J. S. Wise, New York, offers English setter and pointers....Dr. J. F. Belt, Wilmington, Del., offers fox terriers....Mr. O. H. Morden, Columbus, Ind., offers pointers....Mr. A. Morris, Rochester, N. Y., offers pointers....Mr. J. H. Miller, Christiana, Pa., offers foxhounds and rabbit hounds....Dr. W. G. Benham, Columbus, O., offers Italian greyhounds....Rustic Kennels, Chicago, offer fox terriers....Mr. J. F. Boyle, Chicago, offers English setters....Terra Cotta Kennels, Toronto, Can., offer borzois and greyhounds....Box 162, Geneva, Ill., offer pointers....Mr. W. B. Wells, Chatham, Ont., offers English setters ... King Graphic Kennels, New Castle, Pa., offer pointers and English setters....Mr. T. Barklay, Cincinnati, O., offers pointer....Mr. W. G. Smith, Marydell, Md., offers English setters....Seacroft Kennels, Essex, Mass., offer borzois, fox terriers, Scottish terriers and collies....Mr. E. Booth, New York, offers. St. Bernard....Mr. H. T. Foote, New Rochelle, N. Y., offers fox and black and tan terriers.

IN THE STUD.—Mr. W. G. Benham, Columbus, O. offers the services of the Italian greyhound Adonis.

NOTES

MR. W. ARKWRIGHT, the well-known English pointer breeder, seems to be "hunting for trouble" these days. He engaged Mr. A. J. Sewell, the canine specialist, to go to the Manchester show last month to examine the sterns of the winning pointers, with a view to finding out whether or not they had been trimmed. Presumably he hoped the eminent veterinarian would discover some foxhound sterns fined down; anyhow he stirred up a pretty howdy-do, which is discussed at some length by the British Fancier of April 5: "The result was that the secretary of the Manchester show received an objection to two pointers, No. 193 and 194—Sandford Michael, winner of the first prize, owned by Mr. E. C. Norrish, and Naso of Budhill, reserve, Miss G. Reston's, who, as a member of the Ladies' Kennel Association, also won a special offered by that body—from Mr. Arkwright, on the ground that their tails had been fined down with resin or some other substance, and we understand that in his objection Mr. Arkwright mentions that it is made on the report of Mr. Sewell. The dogs were duly examined by the veterinary surgeon of the show, [illegible] Taylor, and his assistant, who put in a [illegible] to the effect that the tails of the dogs in [illegible] been fined down. And so the Manch[illegible] have the question to decide which is [illegible] veterinary surgeon or Mr. A. J. Sew[illegible] facts of this unpleasant case, but to get at the true history of this objection one must go back a little further. It will be remembered that Mr. Arkwright has been of late violently attacking the type of pointer hailing from Devonshire, and to which he objects on several grounds, among them being a strong suspicion that hound blood has some time or other been used by the western breeders. We must leave it to the imagination of our readers whether this extraordinary action on the part of a non-exhibitor has been taken with a view of stopping alleged abuses, or, having failed to do so in other directions, Mr. Arkwright has taken this peculiar method of supporting his case against the Devonshire breed of pointers. Anyhow we are quite ready to concede one thing, whatever his motives, or however the majority of exhibitors may and do disagree with his action Mr. Arkwright was perfectly within his rights in objecting to the dogs in question; but, in the name of justice, we do protest most strongly against Mr. A. J. Sewell's connection with the affair. Mr. Sewell is the veterinary surgeon of the Kennel Club, and it is on his ipse dixit that this case must be decided; consequently he stands in the dual capacity of Mr. Arkwright's agent and Mr. E. C. Norrish's and Miss Reston's judge, positions alike incompatible, and utterly at variance with an Englishman's sense of justice and fair play. The honorary veterinary surgeon to the show, Mr. Augustus Taylor, is a Fellow of the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons, England, by examination. He has served several years on the Board of Examiners of that body, and has been elected five times as president of the Lancashire Veterinary Association. We think that it will be generally conceded that even apart from the question of professional etiquette, Mr. Sewell had no right to examine the dogs in question without the consent of the committee, and that, if Mr. Arkwright wished to lodge an objection, he should have done so in the usual and proper manner, and have availed himself of the opinion of Mr. Taylor, the properly appointed official for such matters at this particular show, and whose qualifications and standing in the veterinary profession are at least equal to Mr. Sewell's and whose ability to deal with the matter quite as thoroughly believed in. The matter will be dealt with by the Manchester committee at their meeting on Friday evening, and if we gauge the feeling and sense of fair play of this energetic body correctly, we anticipate they will speak out with no uncertain tone in reference to the slight put upon them and their officer."

A WRITER in the London (Eng.) Spectator relates the following instance of what he considers a dog's ability to count: "I got into the train at Uxbridge Road, and, the compartment being vacant, took up the seat which I now prefer—the corner seat at the entrance with the back to the engine. Presently a whole crowd of ladies got in, and with them a dog, which I supposed to belong to them. All the ladies except one got out at Addison Road, and then the dog slunk across the carriage to just under my seat. I asked my remaining fellow-passenger whether the dog was hers; she said 'No.' No one got in before she herself got out at South Kensington, where the dog remained perfectly quiet, but at Sloane Square a man was let in, and out rushed the dog, the door actually grazing his sides. Had he not taken up the precise place he did, he must have been shut in or crushed. 'That dog is a stowaway,' I observed to the porter who had opened the door. 'I suppose he is,' the man answered. The dog was making the best of his way to the stairs. Clearly, the dog meant to get out at that particular station (he had had ample opportunity of getting out both at Addison Road and South Kensington), and had, as soon as he could, taken up the best position for doing so. How did he recognize the Sloane Square Station, for he had had only those two opportunities of glancing out? It seems to me it can only have been by counting the stations, in which case he must be able to reckon up to five. The dog was a very ordinary London cur, white and tan, of a greatly mixed Scotch terrier stock, the long muzzle showing a greyhound cross. He was thin, and apparently conscious of breaking the law, hiding out of sight and slinking along with his tail between his legs, and altogether not worth stealing. I suppose that he had been transferred to a new home which had proved uncongenial, and was slipping away, in fear and trembling, to his old quarters."

OUR corded poodle, Ponce de Leon, won first at the last Chicago show (Jno. Davidson, judge). The show was reported by Mr. Jas. Mortimer for the AMERICAN FIELD, and is signed by him. We showed Ponce de Leon at the late Pittsburg show, but had to put him in the miscellaneous class, as no class was provided for corded poodles. Here he won second (Jas. Mortimer, judge). The Pittsburg show was reported for the AMERICAN FIELD by Mr. Mortimer also, and his name signed thereto. His report of Ponce de Leon at the Chicago show reads as follows: "Ponce de Leon, the winner, is a nice dog, of good type, and won rightly from Lais; both rather short in cord." His report of Ponce de Leon at the Pittsburg show says: "Ponce de Leon, second, a bad poodle." Now, what made him a "bad poodle" so soon after the Chicago show, when at Chicago he was "a nice dog, of good type," and shown at Pittsburg in even better condition than at Chicago? Exhibitors and your many readers look to your reports for a reliable and correct account of dogs shown. This report of the same dog at two shows, only a few weeks apart, by the same reporter, is decidedly inconsistent, to put it mildly. Both reports being so extremely contradictory one must be true and the other not.

Cincinnati, O. EBERHART PUG KENNELS.

OUR coming show is sure to be a great succ[illegible] drawing feature of the Humane Bazaar. [illegible] coming in lively and away beyond my expectation[illegible] will have some dogs from other cities, and w[illegible] kennels will be represented. Our merchants are [illegible] liberally articles that are beautiful and of valu[illegible] mium lists are now ready, and anyone not having receiv[illegible] same will please write for it Entries close on May 11

[illegible] Taylor Williams will judge Irish setters, pointers and [illegible] setters; I shall judge mastiffs, St. Bernards, Great [illegible] Newfoundlands, bloodhounds, bull terriers, Boston [illegible] btail sheepdogs, Angora cats, all classes not [illegible] of the judges, and the special exhibit of dogs [illegible] g R. I. Carter will judge poodles and [illegible] Williams for greyhounds, deerhounds, foxhounds, Irish wolfhounds and borzois; J. E. Dougherty for collies; Geo. H. Hill for English setters and beagles; J. Englehardt for Scotch terriers, Irish terriers, Skye terriers and Irish water spaniels. "Billy" Gale for toy spaniels; J. W. Mack for Italian greyhounds, Yorkshire terriers and black and tan terriers.

Cincinnati. AL. G. EBERHART, Superintendent.

I NOTE in the AMERICAN FIELD of recent date that at a meeting of the Manitoba Field Trial Club a resolution was carried granting to the Continental Field Trial Club the free use of their grounds at Morris, for which no charge would be made. I would like to ask Mr. Wootton, the secretary of the Manitoba Field Trial Club, what grounds they have in the vicinity of Morris to grant the free use of? The only club that asked and obtained permission over any grounds in the vicinity of Morris was the Northwestern Field Trial Club. I think I can speak for a majority of the farmers who reside in the municipality of Morris when I say that they—the farmers—will cheerfully grant to the Continental Field Trial Club the privilege of running its trials over their farms, but I do think they will decidedly object to the Manitoba Field Trial Club granting a privilege they never possessed themselves, nor ever had even the courtesy to ask for.

Morris, Man. M. LAURIE.

IT is satisfactorily arranged that Omaha is to have a dog show again this year, which is as it should be, and it would be a good idea for Kansas City, St. Joe (Mo.), Des Moines, St. Paul or Minneapolis and such Western cities to form a circuit for next Autumn. Mr. E. L. Marston, the secretary of the Omaha Kennel Club, writes us: "The show will be held in Creighton Hall, a new building, corner of Fifteenth and Harney streets, during the last week of the Nebraska state fair. Omaha is providing many attractions for this week. The Knights of Ak-sar-ben will give their celebrated Mardi-Gras parade, also a ball on September 19. This will prove a desirable time for exhibitors and others to visit Omaha." The premium list is promised about middle of July, and is expected to run about $2,500, besides specials. Entries will close September 4.

THE Green Mountain Kennels is the name of a new St. Bernard kennel just established at Essex Junction, Vermont, by Mr. E. E. Knott, the well-known broker of Burlington, and other prominent fanciers. In writing of the new enterprise Mr. Knott, the president, says: "Vermont can boast of the best kennel of English bloodhounds in the United States, and now she is going to enter the competition of the St. Bernard family by the establishment of a first-class kennel. The celebrated stud Teddy is sufficient guarantee of the stock that will be bred. Mr. John Reynolds is to be the manager and no expense will be spared in caring and training." The kennel has our best wishes and we hope it will meet with the greatest success.

THE promoters of the St. Louis Kennel Club are meeting with the greatest encouragement, and of the three hundred shares of the capital over half has been subscribed for. Among the subscribers we find John A. Long, P. H. Bryson, J. B. C. Lucas, Wm. Hutchinson, John F. Shipley, S. B. Stannard, Pierre Chouteau, Guy Cushman, D. L. Parrish, J. L. Sloss, R Bakewell, A. H. Blanke, H. C. January, B. Van Blarcom, W. Clark, Dr. Bandey, Prof. W. Clark and Geo. J. Gould. The organization is officered as follows: President, J. A. Long; vice-president, J. F. Shipley; treasurer, J. B. C. Lucas; secretary, Wm. Hutchinson. A meeting of the club was called for Thursday, May 2, at Mr. Van Blarcom's residence.

AN advertisement from the Continental Field Trial Club sets forth the program for the new club's initial meeting, and states that the trials will be run near Morris, Manitoba. The Derby, for pointer and setter puppies, will be worth $125 to the winner, $100 to the second dog, $75 to the third and $50 to the fourth; entries, which close May 15, must be accompanied by $10, the only forfeit if declared out by July 15, when a payment of $5 falls due; it will cost another $5 to start. The moneys in the All-Age Stakes are same as above, but other particulars are not advertised.

WE acknowledge with thanks an excellent photograph of three St. Bernards, inmates of the Presidio Kennels, San Francisco. The dogs are: Reglov (Safford—Mountain Queen), who when a puppy was third in the open class at San Francisco in 1893 and won in the puppy class at Los Angeles, and is owned by Dr. A. T. Regensberger; Gundred (Baron Cardiff—Cameo), whose sire and dam are son and daughter of Plinlimmon, and is owned by Mr. E. R. Smith; and Lady Comstock (Prince—Queen M), owned by Mr. Hugh McCracken.

AT the Boston show W. E. Warner purchased for Mr. Geo. J. Gould the imported pointer bitch Devonshire Pearl, winner in the open class for bitches under fifty pounds. Pearl was bred in England by Mr. J. Lee Bulled and was imported by Mr. C. D. Roberts of Dexter, Me.; last year she scored two seconds, at Boston and Chicago, and in February was second to Lass of Kent in the class for bitches of fifty pounds and over, at the New York show.

WORD comes from Birmingham, Ala., that Mr. J. J. Odom [illegible] W. Dunham—both of that city [illegible]gln's Dash (31862) for the nice [illegible]sh was bred by Mr. T. T. Ash- [illegible]leman's old favorite the unfor- [illegible]his Mack's Juno (Rex Morgan— [illegible]m's intention to place his pur- [illegible]t B. Nesbitt and enter it in some

H. E. BRISBINE, captain of the Yankton (S. D.) Gun Club, has not only the reputation of being a good shot but also a good judge of a pointer, and he favors the lemon and white color. He has just sold two six-weeks-old puppies for $100 each, one to J. V. Farwell of Chicago and the other to W. H. Parsons of Sioux City. Sportsmen neighbors of Mr. Brisbine's have caught the fever and pointers are quite the favorites in that portion of South Dakota.

AT a meeting of the dog show committee of Canada's Industrial Exhibition, held at Toronto on April 23, it was decided to introduce a new feature by adding a number of local classes. It is expected this will materially increase the entries and be pleasing to a large number of exhibitors who do not care to compete against well-known show dogs.

MAIDEN KENT, the pointer bitch puppy that scored without opposition in her class at the last Chicago show, died in the early hours last Friday from acute gastritis. Mr. L. W. Martin, who owned her, says she was never quite right after the show. She was an August puppy, by Dick Beaufort—Fayette Alexander.

MEMBERS of the Milwaukee Kennel Club and Pet Stock Association are elated over a letter received from the American Kennel Club, saying that, as the old Wisconsin Kennel Club long since passed out of existence, there is nothing to hinder the new club from becoming a member and holding recognized shows.

LAST week we mentioned the sale of Richmond Victory, one of the three smooth fox terrier bitches sent over here two months ago by Mr. George Raper, and now we hear that another, Cowthorpe Gem, has found a new owner. The purchaser is Mr. Geo. Ewald of Cincinnati.

I HAVE just heard from Dr. N. Rowe saying that he had resigned the presidency of the United States Field Trial Club, and accepts the presidency of the Continental Field Trial Club.

P. T. MADISON,
Indianapolis, Ind. Secy. Continental F. T. Club.

IT is with pleasure we hear that Dr. F. W. Skaife has again been selected as veterinarian of the San Francisco show. Mr. E. H. Williams, the efficient superintendent of past years, will once more act in that capacity.

WE regret to hear that Mr. C. A. Sumner, the well-known fox terrier fancier and president of the Southern California Kennel Club, was seriously bitten by a setter on the third day of the Los Angeles show.

THE reports of the Los Angeles and Toronto shows have crowded out this week several communications and a number of Whelps, Sales, Visits and Names Claimed.

AT a dog show of 470 entries at Heywood, England, held the second week of April, 280 were collies and fox terriers, and of these 190 were collies.

WE hear that Mr. Chas. S. Hanks intends going abroad for a couple of years; his dogs are offered for sale in our business columns.

The American Field Score Book

Contains 150 score sheets, the Hurlingham, Long Island and American Shooting Association rules; shows a proper form of constitution and by-laws for gun clubs, and contains also a set of field and club house rules. Sent by express, prepaid, on receipt of $1. Address the American Field Publishing Co., Chicago, Ill.

Coursing

FIXTURES

California state meeting, May 30, Ocean View Park, San Francisco. J R. Dickson, secretary.

Aberdeen Coursing Club's Autumu meeting, Aberdeeu, S. D., October 1. J. H. Davis, secretary.

American Waterloo Cup meeting (first), Huron, S. D., October 8, etc. F. B. Coyne, secretary, American Coursing Club.

Altcar Coursing Club's third annual meeting, ——, October 16, etc. T. W. Bartels, secretary.

Kenmore Coursing Club's third annual meeting, ———, October 22, etc. C. F. Weber, secretary.

Cheyenne Coursing Club's first meeting, Great Bend, Kan., October 29, etc. Ira D. Brougher, secretary.

BUT WHO ARE THE NOMINATORS?

CANNON FALLS, MINN.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—Your correspondent from St. Louis, Mo., is a bit "brash" in his expressions about the way in which the Waterloo Cup Stake is managed, for there is not the least attempt at concealment on the part of Mr. Coyne, the secretary, for he writes a card openly stating, as he thought, that privileges could be given to those next in order if the first entries defaulted in payment. This was on account of his misunderstanding the proper course to pursue, and not from a desire to work some "shenanagen." Your correspondent must bear in mind that this is Mr. Coyne's first effort to carry the quill for a coursing club, and we can forgive any error he may make, but at the same time the point is well taken that a list of entries would be the thing in order; and, should any error appear, it then could be corrected.

When the stake was opened it was especially made prominent that the entries were to be transferable, giving the one making entry a privilege of disposing of his share in the stakes; therefore, if the names were now published each one could see where he stands, and if there is an error it can be corrected; and be assured there will errrors appear. There seems to be a desire on the part of many to have the matter of judge and slipper settled, and I would urge the secretary to publish this our first Waterloo entry at as early a date as possible, so we will know "where we are at."

There is a world of interest clustered around this Waterloo Cup, for I expect it to rival the great Waterloo across the water by the third running. The ranks are filling up with more enthusiastic sportsmen rapidly, and a few more meets like the Aberdeen and Oakes will literally set the prairie afire with a hot coursing fever, and when those Dakota "boys" are all there look a little out, for I can see that they do things with a vim when once awake.

Look at the Californians! Why they are just fairly ablaze with coming stakes. Mr. John Grace wrote me on April 18: "We have plenty of coursing here at present—two parks running full-blast in opposition to each other. We had two meetings last Sunday, and thirty-two dogs at each park, and I am glad to tell you that Vida Shaw, by Major Glendyne—Lady Alice, captured one, and Lord Clifton, by Lord Neversettle—Partera, the other; a good showing for two Eastern-bred dogs. We are going to have a big meeting May 30 for sixty-four, and maybe something like a thirty-two as a consolation. There will also be a big stake for the Fourth of July. It is nothing but coursing here at present."

The influence of this part of the country stimulates and receives stimulation both ways. Every meeting and every word of good cheer gives encouragement. Let us be missionaries and resolve that we will each gather in a new candidate before the first October meeting, and just see how the ranks will swell. Would that J. Herbert Watson had another as good a worker as himself in the East.

Now that the Texans are rousing up, why could not they concentrate their forces and open one big stake about the 10th of November, or at such a time as would harmonize with the last meeting now dated? One big open meeting would set those hot-blooded Southerners ablaze, and with the grand open prairies and the millions of little, slender, black-tailed hares they can course to the queen's taste. Mr. Lowe and other kennel owners could afford to donate a valuable young greyhound to a stake.

Look at Aberdeen! Before the meeting there they were lukewarm, or did not know what it was like, but now they say every man, woman and child in Aberdeen is a courser, and in an up-to-date style they have, I see, named a date for an Autumn meeting.

I would admonish the officers of all clubs to be as prompt as possible in giving points to the public so as to "give the boys a chance."

GEO. IRWIN ROYCE.

HURON, S. D.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—Who is writing from St. Louis under the nom de plume of X. Y. Z.? I am quite sure he is not a nominator in the Waterloo, and am very sorry that he, or anyone else, should be so hasty as to assume that all that he mentioned in the AMERICAN FIELD of April 20 could not have been furnished him from authentic source by writing to the secretary.

He says he thinks every coursing man in the country wants to know who the nominators are. This is quite probable, but up to date only one person has expressed his desire to know, and to him the secretary furnished the names, addresses and number of nominations taken by each, and date taken.

There has been no nomination retained that was not accompanied by the first payment. There are three nominations over the thirty-two that are accompanied with the amount of the first deposit waiting for a place providing any drop out, and we also have letters asking for seven nominations that were not accompanied by cash. It is quite possible that a local sportsman has been offered a nomination, for any nominator can transfer his nomination or nominations, providing he does so through the secretary. But if any local sportsman has been offered a nomination by a gentleman who took some last Fall, and who says that the committee have written him that those who took them last Fall, or since the stake was proposed, can pull out if they want to, said gentleman is mistaken, and such a letter is without my knowledge or without any authority from me.

The only mysterious thing connected with the American Waterloo Cup is the wonderful amount of interest manifested by outsiders and people who have no nominations, nor any intentions of taking any. It is very easy for some people to criticise the work of others, especially when they have no interest whatever in the welfare of what is trying to be accomplished. To X. Y. Z., or anyone else really interested in the success of the Waterloo Cup, I will say that the secretary has all transactions in black and white, they are open to inspection, and anyone desirous can obtain facts (not rumors) by writing.

I have been requested by the chairman of the executive committee to announce that the question of judge and slipper has been decided, a vote of the board resulting in favor of Stephenson and Dodd. Mr. Stephenson has only to continue the good work done at Oakes and Aberdeen to convince the coursing public that he has a thorough knowledge of what constitutes a course. He is level headed and gives his decisions without prejudice or favor. Parties representing fourteen nominations in the American Waterloo Cup ran dogs either at Oakes or Aberdeen, and I have yet to hear of the slighest objection to any decision. Mr. Dodd needs no recommendation; he has been tried and found to be first-class.

I will say further, for the benefit of the nominators, that their second deposit of 40 per cent. is due May 1; this is only to call their attention to the matter and is not intended for a dun. After the date for the second deposit has arrived I will publish the names of those holding nominations, those who drop out, and those who have or had their money in waiting for a nomination. Those who asked for nominations but did not accompany the request with cash I will not mention, but if anyone wishes their names they can obtain them by writing me.

F. B. COYNE,
Secy. American Coursing Club.

THE ARTESIAN MEETING

(Special Report.)

Coursing is a fixture in the vicinity of Artesian. It was about a month ago that preparations were made for holding a sixteen-dog-stake, on April 16 and 17, for all dogs which had never won money. The citizens of Artesian put up a purse of $20 to be added to the stakes, making quite a sum for a green meeting. The meeting was well advertised, and on the night of the draw, April 15, fourteen dogs were entered. It was not quite the full number, but it was something of a surprise to find that many, considering that it was a first meeting.

The projectors of the meeting certainly could not have anticipated such a successful meet as was had. It was the first of the kind ever held in the county, and to say that it was a success is putting it mildly. The people of Artesian are enthusiastic over the sport, and fully two hundred people witnessed both days' work. And if there is a good crop this year it will be no trouble at all to put up such a stake as will attract those who attend the Huron meeting next Fall. And, by the way, this is the home of some of the swiftest greyhounds in the state. Frank Green, the winner of the American Field Cup last Fall, belongs here; and also Ragnarock, who was at the recent meetings at Oakes and Aberdeen. These two dogs are owned by J. H. Rew.

The weather on Tuesday and Wednesday could not have been better, and the ground was put in elegant shape by a heavy rain on Monday. The first day the coursing was north of town, but hares were not plentiful and the lay of the land was nothing extra. Wednesday the coursing was southwest of town, where were found plenty of hares and elegant grounds. There were some pretty courses both days, but especially on Wednesday, when the finals came off.

SUMMARY

ARTESIAN, S. D., April 16 and 17. THE ARTESIAN STAKES, for 16 greyhounds of all ages that have never won money, at $2 each, with $20 added; 50 per cent. to the winner, 25 per cent. to the runner-up, and 12½ per cent. each to next two. 16 entries.

J. E. Olson us. (J. G. Johnson's) f w d Dick	beat	John Creegan's w d Grover Cleveland.
C. Lindsay's bk w b Brandy Belle	beat	Jackson King's bk w h Anything.
J. Creegan us. (Dick Wilson's) f b Fanny	beat	J. F. Shaeffer's bk h Rose.
N. Dowdell's bk b Babe	beat	J. F. Shaeffer's bk w b Fanny.
T. M. Brisbiue's bd w b Nancy	beat	F. Wedehase's bd w d Lamplighter.
Wm. Deming's bk w d Pedro	beat	Dowdell & Rew ns. (F. Wedehase's) bk w h Trilby.
J. King's bd w d Captain King	beat	T. M. Brisbine's bd w d Billy.

II

Brandy Belle beat Dick. | Nancy beat Pedro.
Babe beat Fanny. | Captain King, a bye.

III

Babe beat Brandy Belle. | Nancy beat Captain King.

FINAL COURSE

Mr. T. M. Brisbine's bd w b Nancy beat Mr. M. Dowdell's bk b Babe, and won.

The judging was done by Jos. Dodd, who was slipper at the last Huron meeting. The decisions were considered usually fair, but in the final course it was pretty generally considered that Babe was winner, for the points were equal until both dogs were out of sight for a short time behind a hill; there, it is claimed, is where Nancy made the points which gave her first money. But Babe was the favorite all through. Mr. H. G. Nichols did the slipping.

NOTES

WHEN Lord Clifton was purchased at Goodland last October by Mr. Martin Kerrigan, of San Francisco, we expressed the opinion that "if given a thorough rest he will probably do his new owner a good turn sometime," and he has been kind enough to fulfill the prediction, though we do not include in a "thorough rest" the breeding of three bitches in one week to a dog in training—a very questionable proceeding. A California gentleman who thinks a good deal of Lord Clifton writes us an enthusiastic account of how the dog won the Occidental Club's stakes on April 14, adding: "It was a glorious victory for the big brindled dog, as he was running under difficulties, having been bred to three bitches the week previous to the meeting, besides suffering with that broken toe, which is always coming back on him after running a course. I must add that all the glory of his work is due to his trainer, W. D. Murphy, whose superior skill virtually brought him from death to victory. Lord Clifton ran at 56¾ pounds and was strong enough to go through all I have described, so you can form some idea of how we train greyhounds in California." In a photograph taken just after his victory Lord Clifton certainly looks as if the last pound had been taken off him; he always was a leggy dog, but in this picture he looks almost like a giraffe, with the length of leg behind instead of in front.

THE leashmen of this state propose to have a great "interstate coursing meeting" to commence on May 30. Casserly Bros., proprietors of the coursing park at Ocean View, will add $365 to the stakes, which will be held in their inclosed park. Entrance will be $5 for each dog, and about eighty dogs are expected to go to the slips at this meeting; all the "cracks" of the state (and they are many) will participate, and the meeting is being looked forward to as one of the greatest ever held in America. America's greatest judge, John Grace, will be in the saddle, and Jim Wren will slip as usual, while the veteran J. R. Dickson will act as slip steward; with these efficient officers in the most responsible positions there is always perfect harmony and satisfaction throughout the meeting.

San Francisco. DONARD.

THE distribution of money at the North Dakota Club's meeting was as follows: Messrs. Melrose & Durbin's Gilkirk and Mr. N. P. Whiting's Lucian Swift divided $148.20; Mr. J. H. Rew's Ragnarock and Mr. W. W. Good's Ino took $31.22 each; and Mr. L. C. Whiton's Prince Fullerton, Messrs. Melrose & Durbin's Long Odds and Mr. A. P. Slocum's Gold Coin got $4 84 apiece. A total of $225.16.

IT was a curious coincidence that on the day Lord Clifton won the Occidental Club's Stakes at one coursing park in San Francisco, Vida Shaw, another Kansas-bred greyhound, should win a thirty-two at the other park; she is by Major Glendyne out of Lady Alice, and therefore came from the defunct Waterloo Kennel at Topeka.

MR. R. L. LEE, who divides his time between Montana and Colorado, has purchased from Mr. A. C. Lighthall one of the Babazoun—Bonnie Belle saplings entered in the Altcar Produce Stakes.

I. N. PORTER, the well-known wolf-hunter of Salt Lake City, has been so unfortunate as to lose, by distemper, a young one by Boomerang, out of Pearl of Pekin.

GREYHOUNDS are offered for sale this week by Terra Cotta Kennels, Toronto, Can.

Rifle

FIXTURES

Ninth tournament of the Westlicher Schuetzeu-Bund, Milwaukee, Wis., June 19, 20, 21, 22 and 23.

National Sharpshooters' Union's first tournament, Glendale, L. I., June 30 to July 8.

THE target which we present in this department this week was made by Mr. A. J. Vandeusen of Winona, Minn. Mr. Vandeusen fired 100 shots at 200 yards range, off-hand, on the German ring target, placing all of the shots except one, which was a 17, in the black, forty-three of the shots each counting 24 or better. Mr. Vandeusen uses a Pope barrel (muzzle loading) on a Ballard action.

ONE HUNDRED SHOTS AT 200 YARDS RANGE. SHOT BY A. J. VANDEUSEN, OF WINONA, MINN. SCORE 2,260. TARGET REDUCED TO ONE FOURTH ACTUAL SIZE

The shots were fired in less than four hours, the patches being removed from the target after the firing was finished. The total of each ten shots was as follows: 227, 221, 229, 228, 229, 225, 228, 222, 232, 229; grand total, 2,260. Seeing an item in a sporting paper, hinting that the score had been "doctored," on April 1 last Mr. Vandeusen determined to prove that such was not a fact, and on that day broke his former fifty-shot record by scoring 1,143, or an average of 228 3-5, the total of each ten shots being as follows: 227, 226, 229, 230, 231. The day was favorable for good work, and had he gone out prepared to fire 100 shots he feels confident that he would have finished with a bigger score than the one he previously made.

MR. GUS. ZIMMERMAN, a noted rifle shot of New York, is not disposed to allow Mr. A. J. Vandeusen of Winona, Minn., to lay claim to the title of champion off-hand rifle shot of America without, in a contest, demonstrating his right to the title, and therefore offers to back Mr. F. C. Ross of Brooklyn, N. Y., to shoot Mr. Vandeusen one or three matches, 100 shots per man each match, for $1,000 or more each match, the match or matches to be shot on neutral grounds half way between New York and Minnesota. Mr. Zimmerman says that as a rifle shooter he has an interest in keeping rifle records as clean as possible, and that his love of the sport and his faith in Mr. Ross' ability induce him to give the Minnesota gentleman an opportunity to show the riflemen of America upon what foundation his claim to the championship is founded. A match of this kind would certainly have a tendency to increase the interest in rifle shooting and we therefore hope the match will be made.

THE members of the various rifle clubs in New Orleans that comprise the Louisiana State League—the Olympics, Broadways, Jacksons and Volunteers—are now very busy getting themselves in trim for the opening of the season, which takes place on May 12. The Expectation Club, of the New Orleans League, this season will probably surprise everybody in the league. Captain John F. Rolfes says he will have a team far superior to the one this famous club had in 1889, when they defeated every club with the utmost ease and won the championship of the the state. This will, indeed, be a surprise to everybody connected with rifle shooting, for last season this same club came in last in the race. This season everything will be different, as each man is showing a disposition to practice.

New Orleans, La. ORIENTAL.

THE following good joke is told on a clerk in the New York postoffice who was quite sure he knew Miss Annie Oakley, the celebrated rifle and pistol shot [illegible] went to the postoffice a few days after [illegible] Europe to get a money order cashed at [illegible] window doubting her identity the follo[illegible] ensued: "Where did you get this? [illegible] "Why! it's mine; that's my name," r[illegible] "I beg your pardon," said the clerk, "b[illegible] know Annie Oakley and have seen her shoot fifty times. She is a much smaller woman than you. Identify yourself and I'll pay it." "Good," said the little woman quick as a shot, "hold that letter up, and I'll put a bullet through the stamp." The clerk paid the order at once and muttered something to himself about what a difference the style of dress makes in a woman's appearance.

IT is said that Dr. S. N. McLean of Washington, Ia., is the inventor of a novel and in many respects a very superior repeating rifle. The working model of the gun was made at Des Moines, Ia., and a dispatch from that city says it was tested there on April 25 and worked with wonderful success. All its operating parts are made to move in and through a series of guides or tracks, so that the movement of each part is positive. The mechanism of the arm is so perfect that it is capable of being fired at wonderful speed, the inventor claims, five or six times as fast as the average repeating rifle. The three leading military rifles of the world have a firing speed of about one shot in two seconds, while it was claimed that this gun can be fired five times in a second.

THE Saginaw (Mich.) Rifle Club opened the season of 1895 on April 21. The club has adopted the standard target for this season, doing its first work on it on the opening day. Owing to a strong wind not very good scores were made. Some beautiful prizes will be hung up by the club this year, and the season, which will not close until the 1st of October, promises to be a lively one.

THE Excelsior Rifle Club of Davenport, Ia., held its first shoot of the season on April 21, and will now shoot once a month, until the coming of cold weather in the Fall. The interest in the club is said to be greater this season than heretofore, a score or so of new shooters having joined the club since the close of last season's work.

A COMMITTEE from the National Schutzenbund, of Long Island, N. Y., visited President Cleveland on April 25 and invited him to attend their celebration in July next. The President entertained the committee very pleasantly and at the request of the chairman of the delegation gave them permission to place his name on their list of honorary members.

CINCINNATI VS. ST. LOUIS

CINCINNATI, O.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—A third telegraph match between the respective teams of the Cincinnati Rifle Association of Cincinnati and the Central Sharpshooters' Association of St. Louis was shot on April 21, the result being an overwhelming defeat of the latter association. The conditions of the match were as follows: Teams to consist of twelve men each, distance 200 yards, strictly off hand, at the German Ring target.

The Cincinnati team began its scores at 11 a. m. and ended at 1:15 p. m. The St. Louis team began at 3 p. m. and ended at 4:30 p. m. While the victory of the Cincinnati team seems so complete, justice must be done to that of St. Louis, inasmuch as the weather conditions were very unfavorable to shoot well at their range. The weather at Cincinnati was excellent, there being only a light wind.

Capt. Gfeller in his letter to Capt. Gindele says: "As you will see from our scores, two of our cracks, Mr. Dorman and Mr. Staley, did not shoot as they generally do. We were all shooting under difficulties, as we had a strong west wind with uncertain curreuts to contend with. I intended to shoot the match at 11 o'clock, but thinking that the wind would let up toward the latter part of the afternoon, I postponed it until 3 o'clock; then the wind seemed to let up, and, just as we started in, a storm broke loose and we shot our match during one of the heaviest gales that I have ever shot in." This explains fully the reasons why the St. Louis team failed to give the Cincinnati team a closer race. The lucky ones have not made much ado about it, but extend their sympathies to the St. Louis boys and trust that the conditions will be more favorable in the event of future matches. In a contest it would be more proper for the teams to shoot at the same place and at the same time. This would be a fairer test.

Capt. Gindele again distinguished himself by making a run of 32 bullseyes, having all his shots on the black during his match score (twenty-five shots), and following with seven more. Louis used a .22-7-45 Winchester repeater, he having a bad felon on his thumb and not wishing to irritate it with the jar of a heavier rifle. Appended are the scores:

CINCINNATI TEAM

Giudele	22	23	22	22	20	25	22	23	21	20	21	24	21
			20	19	23	23	20	20	22	18	19	23	23 21—537
Weinheimer	21	21	11	15	17	18	21	20	22	17	21	21	24
			11	23	21	8	17	20	19	15	9	13	20 16—441
Wellinger	16	22	22	14	22	21	19	22	19	24	20	24	17
			24	13	17	23	20	9	14	23	20	14	10 15—464
Simon	24	24	0	19	22	21	15	23	18	22	14	21	19
			21	15	17	16	23	18	23	17	14	17	21 22—466
Stegner	18	21	20	15	18	10	14	16	18	19	21	23	23
			20	8	15	15	18	24	19	18	21	14	19 16—413
Hake	18	23	23	16	21	25	22	20	22	20	11	15	23
			23	22	16	20	24	17	20	14	16	22	23 17—493
Payne	10	22	23	24	16	15	22	19	24	25	23	20	24
			22	17	24	22	21	21	22	20	20	21	22 17—516
Hazenzahl	19	17	22	20	19	16	19	22	21	17	20	25	21
			17	17	23	19	13	10	24	23	20	20	12 19—475
Louis	22	16	6	16	22	18	18	14	18	19	10	18	16
			16	17	23	24	18	20	19	22	23	17	25 18—455
See	25	17	18	21	22	18	17	21	19	21	22	16	18
			23	22	21	21	19	18	17	24	24	22	21 23—510
Randall	21	23	16	25	23	21	21	18	16	18	24	24	23
			17	14	17	13	13	17	20	15	21	20	22 21—483
Drube	17	21	23	11	20	20	22	18	17	20	23	17	20
			18	16	17	23	23	23	20	20	20	20	25 14—488
Team total													5,771

ST. LOUIS TEAM

S. G. Dorman	25	17	23	13	16	18	20	24	18	20	17	20	23
			16	17	12	15	21	21	20	22	8	6	20 20—452
F. Hutchinsou	21	25	18	18	19	18	10	24	8	22	16	23	20
			16	21	23	21	22	23	16	15	10	15	19 18—461
Wm. Bauer	19	19	17	22	18	23	19	22	14	18	21	24	21
			19	23	19	23	21	22	20	18	20	23	14 24—506
D. Schueidewiud	19	15	18	23	19	21	21	25	18	24	20	21	20
			17	19	13	20	21	16	19	22	9	23	18 22—483
F. Kurka	17	17	21	21	17	17	11	20	24	21	18	18	24
			22	19	21	25	22	9	17	16	20	21	18 22—481
Vin. Rapp Jr.	20	13	24	19	18	20	22	18	21	21	17	17	21
			16	20	17	18	16	16	21	[illegible]
M. V. Kacer	18	25	18	11	11	18	19	18	[illegible]
			21	25	17	22	19	23	[illegible]
C. Schweighoefer	14	22	15	16	18	22	22	[illegible]
			17	17	24	24	17	23	[illegible]
Chas. Dunkerle	19	8	17	21	23	15	[illegible]
			20	17	23	19	19	18	17	16	[illegible]
R. W. Staley	0	23	24	11	22	6	[illegible]
			13	20	12	11	20	11	11	[illegible]
J. J. Morf	20	13	18	23	22	23	21	17	[illegible]
			23	18	19	22	16	18	15	20	[illegible]

A Ofeiser			20	13	19	23	23	20	23	16	24	20	16	11	17
			21	21	14	22	13	23	21	18	21	19	13	11	—462
															.5,600

A. DRUBE.

Trap

FIXTURES

MAY

California State Sportsmen's Association's tournament, Oakland, Cal., May 2, 3 and 4,

Henry Shooting Club's Spring tournament, Henry, Ill., May 7, 8 and 9.

Du Pont tournament, Cincinnati, O., May 7, 8, 9 and 10. Liberal cash prizes added to purses.

Marion Gun Club's tournament, Marion, Ind., May 8 and 9.

Ninth annual Owl shoot, Amateur Trap Shooters' Association of Missouri and Kansas, Weir City, Kan., May 8, 9 and 10. $300 in cash added. W. W. McIlhany, secretary.

Sibley Mound Gun Club's tournament, Mankato, Minn., May 8, 9 and 10.

Interstate Manufacturers' and Dealers' Association's tournament, Wilmington, N. C., May 9 and 10, under the auspices of the Eastern Dog and Game Protective Association.

West Newburg Gun Club's Spring tournament, West Newburg, N. Y., May 9, 10 and 11. Targets first two days, live birds last day.

Colorado State Fish and Game Protective Association's third tournament, Puebio, Colo., May 13, 14 and 15.

Sheffield Gun Club's tournament, Sheffield, Ill., May 14, 15 and 16.

Iowa State Sportsmen's Association's tournament, Cedar Rapids, Ia., May 14, 15 and 16.

Ohio Trap Shooters' League's annual tournament, Dayton, O., May 14, 15 and 16.

Binghamton Gun Club's tournament, Binghamton, N. Y., May 15 and 16.

Hartley Gun Club's second annual tournament, Hartley, Ia., May 15 and 16.

Fairmont Rod and Gun Club's tournament, Fairmont, W. Va., May 15 and 16.

Texas State Sportsmen's Association's nineteenth annual tournament, San Antonio, Tex., May 14 to 18 inclusive. Open to the world. Five hundred dollars cash added; $500 in merchandise prizes.

Interstate Manufacturers' and Dealers' Association's tournament, Lynchburg, Va., May 17 and 18, under auspices of the Lynchburg Gun Club; $200 added by the Lynchburg Gun Club.

Montana State Sportsmen's Association's second annual tournament, Butte, Mont., May 17, 18 and 19. C. H. Smith, secretary.

Kansas State Sportsmen's Association's annual tournament, Kansas City, Kan., May 21, 22 and 23. A. W. Peck, secretary, Kansas City, Kan.

Houston City Gun Club's first annual tournament, Houston, Tex., May 21, 22, 23 and 24.

Knoxville Gun Club's fourteenth annual tournament, Knoxville, Tenn., May 21, 22, 23 and 24, 1895. $3,000 cash added to purses

South Dakota State Sportsmen's Association's annual tournament, Woonsocket, S. D., May 21, 22, 23, 24 and 25.

Rome Gun Club's tournament, Rome, N. Y., May 22, 23 and 24. Last day at live birds.

Wauzeka Gun Club's tournament, Wauzeka, Wis., May 23.

Arkansas State Sportsmen's Association's fifth annual tournament, Little Rock, Ark., May 27, 28, 29 and 30. John J. Sumpter Jr., secretary.

Crystal Lake Gun Club's tournament, Urbana, Ill., May 28, 29 and 30.

Canajoharie Rod and Gun Club's tournament, Canajoharie, N. Y., May 29 and 30.

Valley City Gun Club's tournament, Grand Rapids, Mich., May 29, 30 and 31. $500 added money. C. F. Rood, secretary.

Pekin Gun Club's annual Spring tournament, Pekin, Ill., last week in May.

JUNE

Illinois State Sportsmen's Association's annual tournament, Chicago, week of June 3, 1895.

Emmetsburg Gun Club's tournament, Emmetsburg, Ia., June 5 and 6.

Memphis Gun Club's annual tournament, Memphis, Tenn., June 11, 12, 13 and 14. $2,000 added money.

North Dakota State Sportsmen's Association's first annual tournament Fargo, June 13 and 14. W. W. Smith, secretary.

Eleventh annual tournament Sportsmen's Association of the Northwest, under the auspices of the Multnomah Rod and Gun Club, Portland, Ore., June 13, 14 and 15. D. L. Williams, secretary, Portland.

Nebraska State Sportsmen's Association's annual tournament Omaha, Neb., June 13, 14 and 15. $500 added money. F. S. Parmelee secretary.

Wilmerding Gun Club's tournament, Wilmerding, Pa., June 15.

Chamberlin Cartridge & Target Co.'s second annual tournament, Cleveland, O., June 19, 20 and 21.

New York State Sportsmen's Association's annual tournament, Saratoga, N. Y., under the auspices of the Saratoga Gun Club, June 24, 25, 26, 27 and 28.

JULY

Wood Powder Gun Club's tournament, Orangeville, Baltimore County, Md., July 4.

J. F. Schmelzer & Sons Arms Co.'s second annual midsummer shooting tournament. Kansas City, Mo., July 9, 10, 11 and 12. Open to amateurs only; $1,500 in prizes.

Altoona Rod and Gun Club's tournament, Wapsononock Park, Altoona, Pa., July 11 and 12. W. G. Clark, secretary.

Interstate Association's tournament, Macon, Ga., under the auspices of the Macon Gun Club, July 17 and 18 Two hundred dollars in cash added by the Macon Gun Club.

Lafayette Gun Club's annual tournament, Lafayette, Ind., July 23, 24 and 25.

AUGUST

Pennsylvania State Sportsmen's Association tournament, Philadelphia, Pa., August 20, 21, 22 and 23.

OCTOBER

West Newburg Gun Club's Fall tournament, West Newburg N. Y., October 9, 10 and 11. First two days at targets, last day at live birds.

1896

Annual territorial tournament, Arizona Sportsmen's Association, Phœnix, Ariz., January 4 and 5, 1896.

Winona Gun Club's tournament, Winona, Minn., May 30.

South Side Gun Club's eleventh annual tournament, Milwaukee Wis., May 30, 31 and June 1.

LOUISIANA GUN CLUB RULES

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—I inclose you copy of the new rules [illegible] Club for this season, which I appre[illegible] smaller gun clubs whose pecuniary [illegible] pensive outlays. The reader will see [illegible] ntive is given the members to come [illegible] one more prizes for each five shoot[illegible] ing the amount expended by the club [illegible] andicap is not permanent, but sub[illegible] first shoot under the new rules was a [illegible] ing heard. Under our rules high no class shooting, and there cannot be any dropping for place, and everyone is constrained to shoot up to his percentage as shown by his last year's scores. The rules are as follows:

1. The club will donate, as a purse to be shot for, one dollar for each shooter entered.
2. It requires at least two shooters to constitute a contest, to whom the club will be under the same obligations as though every member were present and contesting.
3. When there are two entries and not over five, there shall be but one prize.
4. When there are over five entries and not more than ten, there shall be two equal prizes.
5. When over ten and not more than fifteen, three equal prizes.
6. When over fifteen and not more than twenty, four equal prizes, and so on.
7. In each case as above, the club allows one dollar for each contestant, and the aggregate sum is divided into equal portions, dependent upon the number of members competing.
8. The prizes shall be awarded to the shooters entered making the highest scores respectively, high guns to win.
9. Should there be a greater number of ties than purses to be distributed, these ties will have to be shot off and the purses awarded to the highest score. The entrance fee shall be $1.25, which amount covers expenses for trappers, birds in prize shoot, and entrance.

A championship trophy is to be presented at the end of the season to the member making the highest score the greatest number of times in the prize shoots.

Each member shoots at 25 Blue Rocks, known trap, unknown angles, and, in order to place all on an equal footing, the management has adopted a system of handicap whereby the poorer shots will have as nearly as practicable an equal opportunity with the best shots for any prize.

It will also be seen that the more shooters participating the greater the amount of prizes to be distributed, thus giving an incentive to every member to come out and bring some other member or friend.

PERCY S. BENEDICT, Secy.

DEATH OF WM. S. KIMBALL

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—The death of Wm. S. Kimball of this city, a member of the Rochester Rod and Gun Club, has cast a gloom over all sportsmen who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. Mr. Kimball was a member of this club during its early career and did much toward its success. His liberality to everything of this character is well known. As a citizen his loss is incalculable. It was an open secret that his pocketbook was open to all projects which had for their object the propagation or protection of game in this, and, if I am correctly informed, in many other states. It is only a few years since the Monroe County Sportsmen's Club, of which Mr. Kimball was president, placed in Monroe County over 5,000 fine quails, the larger portion of the expense and labor falling upon him.

His association with many sportsmen's clubs made him widely known and highly esteemed. I would that my poor pen could give proper expression to the esteem the members of this club had for him. His many acts of liberality, his advice and encouragement went a long way toward giving permanence to the club.

Not alone will the sportsmen miss Mr. Kimball; all of those associations who depend upon the liberality of the public for support will miss him as well.

Mr. Kimball was a man of almost unlimited wealth, and his beautiful grounds and greenhouses, which contain perhaps the finest collection of orchids in America, were always open to the public, as was also his beautiful art gallery containing some of the most famous pictures of both this and the old countries. The loss to a community of such a man can hardly be estimated, and while we bow in humble submission to the will of Divine Providence, we can and do feel how great has been our loss, both as a club and as residents of this beautiful city.

W. C. HADLEY.

DR. CARVER CHALLENGED

CLEVELAND, O., April 29, 1895.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—I see by the AMERICAN FIELD of April 27 that (in his mind) Dr. Carver has "hunted the shooters into their holes." The laws of Ohio forbid live pigeon shooting in this state, therefore we get little practice on live birds at the trap. A "champion shot of the world" should always be ready to shoot any kind of a race. Dr. Carver is an old clay pigeon shooter; I heard of his smashing them before I ever handled a gun. He has shot at hundreds of Blue Rocks in Cleveland on our grounds. Now, I make Dr. Carver the following proposition: I will shoot him a race at 100 Cleveland Blue Rock pigeons for $100 a side, loser to pay expenses of the shoot, American Shooting Association rules to govern, five traps, rapid fire, known trap, unknown angles. I will shoot the match any afternoon after May 27, on the Cleveland Gun Club's grounds. I will deposit the full amount of my part of the stakes with the AMERICAN FIELD, as soon as Dr. Carver accepts and names date, or shows any disposition to shoot this race. I am so anxious to shoot him a race at targets that I will allow him a reasonable amount for expenses. I am only an amateur, but believe I can defeat Dr. Carver on Blue Rocks. The date named must not conflict with any other shoot held on these grounds, and must be named prior to May 17. If the Doctor accepts this challenge he should not forget to bring his syndicate with him, as we have plenty of money in Cleveland, and he will need it.

DENNIS A. UPSON.

NOTES

AN interesting program has been arranged for the Iowa State Sportsmen's Association's tournament, which takes place at Cedar Rapids, Ia., on May 14, 15 and 16, and from the information received by the officers of the association it is thought the tournament will be largely attended. The events that will attract the special attention of those who expect to attend are the contest for the L. C. Smith Cup and the team shoot, both of which occur on the second day of the tournament. The team contest is at 20 single targets per man, any two men from the same town, who are members of the association, to compose a team; entrance $4 per team. The Smith cup contest is also a 20-bird event, entrance $3, targets extra. In this event the use of both barrels will be allowed, but the shooter must hold the butt of his gun stock below the elbow until the target is in the air. The shooting will commence at 9 o'clock each morning and will be governed by American Shooting Association's revised rules. Purses will be divided into four moneys. No dropping for place will be tolerated and anyone caught doing so will forfeit his rights in that event. Winners of first and second moneys will be handicapped in the next event by being required to hold the butt of the gun below the elbow until the target is in the air. This rule, however, does not apply to team contests or the cup shoot. A three-man team shoot will be one of the attractions for the first day, each man shooting at 60 single targets, the team to be composed of members of the same club.

CAPT. J. L. BREWER of New York has accepted the challenge of Mr. C. Cockburn of Toronto, Canada, to shoot a match at 100 live birds per man, 26 yards rise, 80 yards boundary, use of one barrel only, butt of gun below the elbow until bird is on the wing, for $250 a side, and has deposited his part of the stake and notified Mr. Cockburn by wire of his acceptance. The match will take place in Toronto, or some other Canadian city, between May 7 and 14, Cockburn agreeing to allow Mr. Brewer his traveling expenses in order to have the match shot near his home, as his business interests will not permit him to go to New York. These men have shot one match, which Capt Brewer lost after he had won it, by using more shot than the Old Dominion rules provided for. Mr. Cockburn is a good shot, and if Capt. Brewer wins the race he will have to do good work. The match taking place where Mr. Cockburn is well acquainted with the people and all surroundings is somewhat in that gentleman's favor, but to a man of as much experience in match shooting as Capt. Brewer this should make no difference, and probably will not.

GREAT preparations are being made by the Powder Hill Gun Club for the coming state shoot, which takes place here this month. San Antonio never does anything by halves, and it is to be hoped that the visiting sportsmen will be highly pleased with the sport afforded them. From letters received by local sportsmen from noted trap shots throughout the state, saying that they expect to attend the state tournament, lovers of the sport will witness some fine shooting. The trap season has opened here and a great deal of enthusiasm is displayed by members of the local clubs, and the attendance will no doubt grow larger with the advance of the season. The San Antonio Gun Club has re-elected its old officers with the exception of Mr. W. S. Smith and Mr. G. Chabot. This is as it should be. To their credit be it said that they have built up a club second to none in the South and equal to any in this country, with a membership far in excess of clubs in the largest cities.

San Antonio, Tex. G. CHABOT.

THE annual meeting of the Michigan State Trap Shooters' League was held at Battle Creek, Mich., on the evening of April 23. The meeting was presided over by President John Parker. Mr. M. K. Walton of Grand Rapids was elected president for the ensuing year. The eight vice-presidents, representing each district of the state, were re-elected. Mr. S. A. Howes was re-elected secretary and treasurer. Mr. Walton, the newly-elected president, is an ardent sportsman and was never known to fail to attend a tournament held in Michigan. The prospects for the year's sport were never as promising as at present. The next shoot of the League will be held in Grand Rapids the latter part of May. All trap shooters in Michigan are requested to forward their names and addresses to the secretary at Battle Creek, Mich., in order to be sure of receiving programs of each state tournament.

Battle Creek, Mich. S. A. HOWES, Secy.

SECRETARY MEYERS of the Illinois State Sportsmen's Association is this week closing up the work of preparing the program for the forthcoming state tournament, and clubs that have not already sent in their dues or applications for membership, and who expect to participate in the association events, should attend to this matter at once as the secretary expects to have the programs out in a week or ten days at farthest. Mr. Meyers thinks the tournament this year will equal, if not excel, those of previous years, and he is therefore desirous that every club in the state of any importance be represented. Clubs that have not already placed themselves in good standing on the secretary's books should lose no time in doing so.

I AM instructed by the governing body of the Inanimate Bird Shooting Association to inform you that at the annual meeting of the association held at Anderton's Hotel, Fleet Street, London, on March 20 last, Mr. J. D. Dougall in the chair, the following resolution was moved by the chairman, seconded by Mr. A. H. Gale and carried unanimously: "That all members of Australian, Canadian or American clubs, duly accredited as amateurs, be invited to shoot at the association's annual meeting at Wembley Park, on June 6, 7 and 8 next in all competitions except that for the championship. The members of the association hope that they may have the pleasure of welcoming any of your countrymen who may then be in England."

London, Eng. E. G. MACKENZIE, Secy.

THE Fairmont (W. Va.) Rod and Gun Club will hold a two days' tournament on May 15 and 16. The management announces on its program that no handicap will be imposed; that shooting will begin at 9 o'clock each morning rain or shine; that American Shooting Association rules will govern, and that all ties will divide. Four moneys in all purses, and targets thrown at two cents each. Following the fifth event on the first day will occur a race between teams from Wheeling and Fairmont, 25 targets per man. The club will add $50 cash to the purses.

THE Wauzeka Gun Club was recently reorganized, bought a new set of traps, fixed up its grounds and will give its opening tournament on Thursday, May 23. Shooting will be over five Blue Rock traps at Peoria Blackbirds, known traps, known angles. We shall be pleased to see all our friends. Programs will be sent out in about two weeks.

Wauzeka, Wis. W. H. THOMSON, Secy.

DR. M. E. TABER, of Riverside, Cal., who holds the Southern California live bird medal, recently in a contest at San Bernardino, defeated Gus Knight Jr., of that city. Dr. Taber having now defended the medal successfully for a year, the trophy becomes his personal property. The scores in his match with Mr. Knight stood as follows out of a possible 25: Dr. Taber 22, Mr. Knight 19.

THE live bird shooting match at Galesburg, Ill., last week, between Dr. W. F. Carver and Hon. Tom Marshall, resulted in a victory for the latter. Each man shot at 50 live birds, the scores being Marshall 46, Carver 44. It is said that each man killed 49 birds out of the 50 shot at but that a number of them succeeded in getting outside the narrow boundary.

THE Empire Gun Club of Oakland, Cal., is making big preparations for its tournament which is to be held at the club's grounds at Alameda on July 4 next. A large list of prizes will be offered, among them a handsome hammerless shotgun, and it is expected that the tournament will be largely attended by trap shots from all parts of the state.

CAPT. A. H. BOGARDUS and W. Tramp Irwin, of Peoria, shot a match at 50 live birds per man, Bogardus rules, for $100 a side, at Galesburg, Ill., on April 25, Irwin proving the victor. The scores were: Irwin 44, Bogardus 41. Eddie Bingham, of Chicago, refereed the match.

THE Garfield Gun Club of Chicago will open its season of 1895 today. The club is in a prosperous condition with a full complement of members who anticipate a season of great sport before the traps. The club shoots every Saturday afternoon from now until October.

THE MISSOURI STATE SHOOT

(Special Report.)

The Missouri State Fish and Game Protective Association held its annual convention and tournament at Kansas City last week. The tournament opened on Tuesday and the business meeting was held at the Midland Hotel on Tuesday evening.

The Missouri association has practically resolved itself into a Kansas City affair, St. Louis, St. Joseph and all the interior towns in the state having lost interest in the state organization; and in view of this fact the constitution and by-laws were amended at the convention so as to widen its scope and interest the provincial towns not only of Missouri but of Kansas in the annual state tournaments. With this end in view the club membership dues were reduced from $10 to $5 per annum, individual sportsmen of Missouri were accorded the privilege of becoming members of the state association at the nominal membership fee of $2.50, and non-resident sportsmen are eligible to membership on joining some Missouri club in good standing, and entitled to all the rights and privileges of the association with the exception of competition in the individual state championship race at live birds, which is confined to residents of Missouri

It is proposed to hold a grand tournament here next year, and a special feature of the program will be a Western interstate championship event to which any non-professional shooter in Missouri, Kansas, Texas, Arkansas, Iowa, Nebraska, Oklahoma and the Indian Territory will be eligible. This race and the individual state championship race will be at 20 live birds each, under prevailing rules; entrance price of the birds; and a suitable trophy valued at least at $50 is to be presented by the association to the winner. Similar events will also be arranged for target shooters.

The officers-elect of the state association are as follows: Granville W. Walden, Stock Yards Gun Club, president; F. K. Hoover, Forester club, vice-president; J. H. Durkee, Kansas City club, corresponding secretary; W. K. Everingham, O. K. club, recording secretary; George Knerr, Belt Line club, treasurer. President Walden is an ardent sportsman, universally popular, and promises to make a very efficient executive officer who will plan a vigorous campaign for the tournament of 1896, in the hope that it will result in a revival of interest in trap shooting and in the propagation and preservation of the game birds and fishes that are to be found in the forests and streams of Missouri. A committee of five was appointed to fully arrange, revise and codify the constitution and by-laws, with authority to have the same printed and distributed among the association members. President Schrader named the following as the committee: J. E. Guinotte, chairman, G. W. Walden, W. S. Halliwell, George Stockwell and James Whitfield.

The state team championship race was shot on Wednesday, and while the five competing teams all represented Kansas City clubs, the interest was at fever heat. The O. K. team was the favorite, but it was beaten out in a Garrison finish by the Kansas City Gun Club's team on a narrow margin of one bird, by a score of 52 to 51.

The individual wing shot championship of the state was the feature of the last day, and it also resulted in a surprise. Dr. J. P. Jackson of the Kansas City Gun Club beating J. B. Porter, J. Lee Porter, George Schrader, J. K. Guluotte, Ed Hickman and all the cracks on a score of 21 out of 25. The birds in that race were a specially good lot of fast flyers.

The Western interstate target match at 50 Empires was overshadowed by the live bird shoot on the closing day, and the entries were light. Arthur Pugh of the Metropolis Gun Club of Kansas City, Kan., won with a straight score. The trap record of the tournament follows:

EVENT No. 1.—7 live birds, $5 to enter, including birds; open to the world, both barrels permitted. The purse was divided into three moneys. Atkins and Elliott dividing first, Ross winning second on a shoot off and third being divided between German, Higgins and Loby. The score: Atkins 7, German 5, Higgins 5, Elliott 7, A. Smith 4, Eicholtz 6, Plumber 6, Rhoades 6, Ross 6, Hershey 6, Halliwell 6, Ehrhardt 4, Loby 5. First money, $19.80; second, $11.70; third $7.80.

EVENT No. 2 —10 live birds, entrance $7.50, open to the world, both barrels permitted. There were nineteen entries and some very good shooting. The purse was divided into four moneys, first, $35.15, being divided between Brown and Hubbard; second, $26.35, going to Elliott, Halliwell, Plumber and Hickman, Ross losing by one bird in a try out; third, amounting to $17.57, going to Smith, Fraukiln, Atkins and Hershey, while Hughes and German divided $8.78, the last division. The scores:

Atkins	1122111002—8	Hughes	2221101200—7
Halliwell	1121221012—9	F. J. Smith	2220222011—8
Hershey	1012112011—8	"Tramp"	1120201000—5
Hubbard	2122122211-10	Montgomery	0210120011—6
E. Brown	1122122211-10	German	0101111102—7
Ross	1222220222—9	Hickman	2122110222—9
Elliott	2212222201—9	Franklin	2100111122—8
Higgi s	2222210201—8	Scott	1211010002—6
A. Smith	2220210201—7	Vories	0202001111—6
Plummer	0122111111—9

EVENT No. 3.—Special at 12 live birds, entrance $10, open to the world. This was the most interesting shoot of the day. Hershey took first money, $42.25, with a clean score, while Hickman, Plumber and Wilmot tied for $25.35, second money. Wilmot killed all his birds on the shoot off and won the prize. Third money was not distributed, as Vories, one of the men who was tied, left the grounds before there could be any decision. It will probably be divided between him, Hughes, Ross and German. It amounts to $16.90. The score follows.

Atkins	122010122210—9	Ross	0110222212222-10
Vories	1100212121122-10	Hickman	2221222220111-11
Franklin	0110101(0111—7	Hershey	221211211111-12
Barse	0222011200111—8	German	0111011111111-10
Hubbard	1001120110012—8	Montgomery	0111211022210—9
Plummer	2120121122221-11	Wilmot	2121111111110-11
Hughes	1022210121122-10

TARGET EVENTS

The entries in the target events were more numerous than they were in the live bird events. There were ten of these under the following conditions and results:

EVENT No. 1.—10 targets, entrance $1, divided into two parts. The entries and scores were: Plummer 8, Brown 10, Eicholtz 9, Barre 10, Norton 9, Trotter 9, J. C. Smith 10, Rhoades 9, Marshall 9, Hamilton 7, Ehrhardt 9.

EVENT No. 2.—15 targets, entrance $1.50, with $7.50 added, three moneys: L. C. Smith 14, Marshall 15, K. Hamilton 12, Loby 13, A. Smith 10, Higgins 13, Plummer 11, Barre 13, Norton 12, Ehrhardt 13, Trotter 10.

EVENT No. 3.—Same as second, two moneys: Ehrhardt 13, Barre 15, Norton 15, Higgins 13, A. Smith 13, Loby 13, Brown 13, Trotter 14, Marshall 14 J. C. Smith 15.

EVENT No. 4.—Same as second: Plummer 12, Nortou 14, E. Brown 13, A. Smith 11, Barre 14, Eicholtz 12, Trotter 11, Higgins 9, Marshall 13, Hamilton 12, L. C. Smith 15, Bennett 13.

EVENT No. 5.—25 targets, $2.50 to enter, with $15 added; two moneys, $15.25 and $3.05: Loby 18, Ehrhardt 21, Trotter 22, Barre 23, Plummer 21, L. C. Smith 24, Bennett 23, Marshall 16, Scott 22, Norton 22.

EVENT No. 6.—Same as second, with $10 added, four moneys: Lang 10, Ehrhardt 13, Norton 13, Gottlieb 11, Higgins 9, Brown 15, Trotter 14, Marshall 14, McCurdy 6, Wilmot 13, Rhoades 14, Loby 14, Hamilton 11, Hubbard 6, Fernkas 11, Blackburn 13, Plummer 13, Barre 13, Scott 12.

EVENT No. 7.—Same as second: Plummer 12, Rhoades 11, Blackburn 9, Fernkas 14, Loby 13, Bederman 13, Wilmot 15, Ehrhardt 14, Gottlieb 10, Marshall 15, L. C. Smith 15, Barre 15, E. Brown 14, Trotter 14, Hamilton 12, Tramp 11, Halliwell 13, Keene 13, Norton 13, Scott 13.

EVENT No. 8.—Same as second, $10 added, three moneys: Norton 13, Plummer 10, Barre 12, Lang 6, A. Smith 11, Trotter 15, Rhoades 11, Fernkas 13, Blackburn 10, Erhardt 14, Brown 14, Marshall 13, Halliwell 12, L. C. Smith 15, Guthrie 15, Loby 11, Scott 13.

EVENT No. 9.—Same as eighth, four moneys: Plummer 9, Norton 11, Barre 13, L. C. Smith 15, Scott 13, Ehrhardt 14, Keene 14, Wilmot 12, Trotter 14, Guthrie 6, Brown 13, C. C. Smith 13, Halliwell 10, Hughes 11, Fernkas 10, Blackburn 13.

EVENT No. 10.—25 targets, $2.50 to enter, with $20 added, money divided into three parts: Barre 24, Ehrhardt 22, Norton 24, Brown 21 Trotter 20, L. C. Smith 23, Plummer 15, Marshall 23, Keene 19, Wilmot 23, Fernkas 22, Scott 21, Bennett 22.

SECOND DAY

The live bird feature of the second day was the team championship race for teams of four men each at 15 birds to each man, which was won by the Kansas Citys, the pioneer club of the state. The scores:

KANSAS CITY CLUB		O. K CLUB
Durkee	222222222122202-14	Guinotte	022022202220222-11
Gordon	221200112210222-12	J. L. Porter	121222222212102-14
Underwood	011211220222220-12	Ed Hickman	021011112221022-12
Schraeder	121112111121011-14	J. B. Porter	1222121212202l2-14
Team total	52	Team total	51

BELT LINE CLUB		STOCK YARDS CLUB
Neff	0002001000220l0—5	Barse	0222220022020210
Winter	1022112220222l0-12	Baldwin	1211212200102l2-11
Smith	2102121222222202-13	Bridgeford	2110202102102l2-10
Munn	2020021222102l21-12	Stockwell	1012011210111101-11
Team total	42	Team total	42

FORESTER CLUB
Harr'son	2201222222222l20-13	Russell	2110001200211l2-10
Hoover	0012001212022ll-10	Swinney	2022001000021l2—7
Team total			40

The following target events, $125 added money, Empire targets, were contested:

EVENT No 11.—15 Empire targets: Barse 12, Erhardt 13, Morton 13, Brewer 7, Plummer 3, Higgins 10, Eicholtz 12, Trotter 15, Allen 7, Brown 12, L. C. Smith 12, Wilmot 9.

EVENT No. 12.—20 Empire targets: Erhardt 19, Barse 18, Trotter 19, Norton 19, D. Elliott 19, Brewer 16, Higgins 18, Rickner 15, Brown 17, Plummer 13, Wilmot 17, L. C. Smith 18, Doctor 11, Hubbard 14, Knew 13, Bennett 20. Four moneys. Divided between Erhardt, Barse, Trotter, Norton, Elliott, Higgins, Rickmer, Brown, Plummer, Wilmot, Smith, Doctor, Hubbard, Knew and Bennett.

EVENT No. 13.—20 Empire targets: Erhardt 18, Brewer 16, Norton 16, Plummer 17, Allen 14 Barse 18, Brown 19, Rickmers 12, Higgins 11, Trotter 18, D. Elliott 19, Gille 8, L. C. Smith 19, Bennett 15, Wilmot 17, Bristow 16. Three moneys. Divided between Erhardt, Brewer, Plummer, Barse, Brown, Trotter, Elliott, L. C. Smith, Wilmot and Bristow.

EVENT No 14.—20 Empire targets: Erhardt 19, Plummer 16, Norton 20, Hintsche 11, Scott 16, Wilmot 18, Trotter 20, Brewer 15, Reed 15, Elwell 15, L. C. Smith 20, E Brown 17, Quarles 14, Bennett 18, Black 11, Wheeler 14. Four moneys. Divided between Erhardt, Plumm r, Wilmot, Trotter, L. C. Smith, E Brown and Brown.

EVENT No. 15.—30 Empire targets: Erhardt 30, Plummer 21, E Brown 20, Wilmot 29, L. C. Smith 30, Black 20, Higgins 24, Scott 28, Allen 24, Fernkas 25, Trotter 29, Barse 28, Norton 25 Dave Elliott 26, West 30, Eicholtz 22, Rickmers 25, Bennett 26. Three moneys. Divided between Scott, Trotter, Bsrse, Dave Elliott, West and Bennett.

EVENT No. 16.—20 Empire targets: West 17, Wilmot 19, Peck 18, Quarles 11, Black 14, Scott 18, Trotter 20, Keeue 16, Erhardt 17, Plummer 11, Allen 13. L. C. Smith 17, Norton 16, Elwell 12, Barse 19, Brewer 17, Myers 10, Brown 19, Boise 14, Sparrow 13, Bennett 19.

EVENT No. 17.—20 Empire targets: Erhardt 19, Plummer 16, Trotter 18, Barse 19, Elwell 15, E. Brown 18, West 18, Allen 19, Norton 17, Higgins 15, Bennett 19, L. C. Smith 19, Brewer 17, Wilmot 18, Neff 17, Parsons 14, Hubbard 12, Scott 14, Peck 18, Barnie 15, Myers 17, Barse 14. Four moneys. Distributed between Erhardt, Plummer, Trotter, Barse, E Brown, West, Allen, Norton, Bennett, L. C. Smith, Brewer, Wilmot and Neff.

THIRD DAY

EVENT No. 1.—7 live birds.

Hickman	1111121—7	Reed	2000101—3
J. B. Porter	2112121—7	Elwell	0120012—4
Hubbard	2222211—7	Ross	1210012—5
Everlingham	1110211—6	Allen	0201111—5
Brown	1112022—6	Hershy	1111111—7
McCurdy	0112220—5	Eicholtz	0121121—6
Halliwell	1111121—7	Wasson	1012220—5
Gottlieb	1211111—7	Keene	0011122—5
Plummer	1121100—5	Myers	2120111—6
Hughes	1221111—7	German	1111121—7

First money was divided between Hickman, Porter, Hubbard, Halloweli, Gottlieb, Hughes and German. Brown, Eicholtz and Ross divided second money. McCurdy, Plummer, Alton, Wasson and Keene divided third money, and J. E. Elweil got fourth money.

EVENT No. 2.—10 live birds: McIlhaney 9, Webster 8, Hinckley 6, Myers 9, Hickman 10, Fletcher 6, Hallowell 10, Allen 8, Brown 9, Ross 9, Hershey 10, J. B. Porter 10, Hubba'd 9, Plummer 8, Eicholtz 5. First money, $34 68, divided between Hickman, Hallowell, Hershey and Porter; second money, $20 81, went to McIlhaney, Myers, E. Brown, Ross and Hubbard. Webster, Allen and Plummer captured third money, $13.87.

EVENT No. 3.—12 live birds, open to the world, entrance $10, including birds.

Hughes	210212000111—8	Wasson	210001010100—6
Ross	222211021210-10	Webster	200102112112—9
Halliwell	212122222022-11	Hinckley	110121000211—8
Allen	200001222100—6	Plummer	212221220212-11
Hersbey	112221211202-11	Dunn	101211210111-10
J. B. Porter	210211122220-10	Rhoades	121202112222-11
Hickman	222211122012-11	Smith	210222202202—9
Hubbard	200120022111—8	McElvane	222201101221—9
Myers	112112221112-12	Wallace	101000112222—8
Carter	211110211120-10	Wilmot	121111110001—9
Doxon	121121121201 11	Brown	112111120010—9
Baker	012110001122—8	German	101011121011—9

First money, $62.40, was won by Myers; second money, $46.80, won by Halloweli, Hickman, Plummer and Rhoades; third money, $31.20, won by Ross, J. B. Porter Carter and Dunn; fourth money, $15 60, divided between Smith, Brown and Germau.

EVENT No. 4.—20 Empire targets: Erhardt 17, Plummer 14, Eiwell 15, Trotter 18, Aiten 10, West 18, Norton 19, Barre 20, Brown 19. Brewer 19, Reed 11, Smith 18, Bennett 19, Parsons 12, Neff 12, Barse 19, Peck 15, Wilmot 18.

EVENT No 5.—Same as before: L. C. Smith 19, Barre 20. Erhardt 20, Norton 14, Myers 17, West 14, Trotter 17, Plummer 14, E. Brown 20, Wilmot 17, Brewer 20, Allen 18, Peck 17, Keene 19, Hubbard 16, Campbell 19, Bennett 16.

EVENT No. 6.—30 Empire targets: Wilmot 26, Plummer 25, Brown 27, Trotter 27, Brewer 18, Erhardt 28, Norton 25, Barse 28, Myers 24, Barre 28, L. C. Smith 27, Hubbard 12, Allen 22, Benuett 28, Keene 25

EXTRA No. 1.—10 Empire targets: Barre 6, Barse 8, Allen 3, Goff 4, Pugh 6, Bruce 4, L. C. Smith 9, Myers 6, Scott 9, Brown 9, S lf 5, Ernardt 7, Plummer 4, McIlhaney 7, Marshall 7, Trotter 8, D. Elliott 7.

EVENT No. 7.—Same as No. 6: Erhardt 17, Plummer 13, Hubbard 14, Brown 18, Barre 15. L. C. Smith 16, Trotter 17, Bedford 16, McIlhaney 18, Marshall 16, Pugh 18, Bennett 19, Barse 16.

EVENT No. 8.—Same: Brown 20, Baker 13, Barre 15, Erhardt 17, McIlhaney 18, L. C. Smith 17, Trotter 19, Pugh 18, Zed 17, Bennett 18, Johnson 13.

EVENT No. 9.—Same: L. C. Smith 19, Stone 12, Pugh 17, Allen 14, Hubbard 17, Myers 10, Erhardt 16, McIlhaney 20, Brown 19, Trotter 16, Barre 19, Barse 18.

EVENT No. 10.—25 Empire targets: Erhardt 20, Barnie 18, Trotter 20, McIlhaney 25, Barre 21, L. C. Smith 24, Pugh 23, Brown 21, Bennett 24, Allen 22, Zed 24, Webster 18, Hinckley 19, Stone 13, Barse 22, Wood 16.

EVENT No. 11.—Same as No. 9: Plummer 9, Barre 18, Webster 13, McIlhaney 20, L. C. Smith 17, Hinckley 16, Trotter 19, Bristoe 8, Wood 9, Zed 18, Pugh 19.

EVENT No. 12.—Same: Zed 15, Pugh 19, Baker 11, Brown 19, Norton 15, Erhardt 18, Barre 15, McIlhaney 20, Johnson 15, Allen 16, L. C. Smith 19.

EVENT No. 13.—Same: Erhardt 19, Baker 10, Pugh 17, Barre 19, McIlhaney 19, L. C. Smith 17.

FOURTH DAY

The tournament closed with the individual state championship contest at 25 live birds, which was won by Dr. J. P. Jackson of the Kansas City Gun Club. The scores:

J. L. Porter	1021211211	2102221211	10022—21
W. S. Halliwell	2011122201	2011222121	02201—20
W. V. Rieger	2010112212	1121001111	11201—21
D. Elliott	1220020120	2201210210	21210—17
J. B. Porter	1212221022	2210212221	22211—23
J. H. Durkee	2101011111	2221210222	11112—22
Paul Francke	1101120112	1120212111	11021—21
M. F. Myers	2022201110	0112122111	10012—19
W. Plummer	1112122220	1012112220	11122—22
George Wasson	1111121211	2012110122	20100—20
J. W. McCurdy	0010121110	1121210122	02112—19
A. F. Rickmer	2121221012	0211021102	10111—20
Ed Hickman	2121201221	2120212022	21221—22
D. McIntosh	2102222021	2211222000	22120—19
J. McWhorter	0002010020	0200102002	02001— 9
Gottlieb	2212220110	1211221122	22211—23
G. Wallace	0202200122	1101212210	00222—16
J. W. Batchelier	0122111011	1112121120	01211—21
L. W. Scott	1111201021	1121112010	12111—21
George Orr	1011121121	2121121200	21210—21
J. P. Jackson	1211112212	1021111122	11121—24
J. Rhoades	1121121210	2201021112	21011—21
F. Durrant	1020122110	1120022200	21210—17
G. Schrader	1220111212	1122201220	21101—21
Keene	1011112110	1211112102	00112—20
B. Johnson	0212121212	1112211122	11011—23

Fred Maegley, J. M. Hershey, J. C. Hughes, C. I. Mills, F. J. Smith, Barney, G. M. Gordon, C. F. Holmes and V. W. Floweree also entered, but after losing two birds withdrew from the race.

The principal event in the target shooting on the last day was the special interstate championship race at 50 Empire targets for the $50 gold medal offered by W. V. Rieger, and which is emblematic of the Western interstate championship. There were only nine entries, as early in the race Arthur Pugh of the Metropolis Gun Club of Kansas City, Kan., made a clean score, breaking 50 "mud pies" straight. The scores: Pugh 50, John Cornett 48, L. Erhardt 47, J. Brown 46, Bob Barse 45, L. W. Scott 44, A. F. Rickmers 43. Benuett and Batcheiler withdrew.

In the other target races shot during the day Barse carried off the honors, winning two first moneys individually. Erhardt, Bennett and Fernkas also got into the money.

PEEKSKILL GUN CLUB'S TOURNAMENT

As usual, this club had good weather and a good attendance at its fourth annual tournament at Peekskill, April 24 to 26. The first two days were devoted to targets and the third and last day to live birds. The management of the shoots of this club, the courtesy of the members, and the active participation of the members in the program events, always insure a good attendance of visitors. Among these were Messrs. Kendall and Brown, of Binghamton, Kendall, of Albany, and Messrs. Dickey and Le Roy, of Boston, all good shots and pleasant acquisitions to the number who usually attend from nearer points.

The traps on the first day did not work well and additions of cells to the electric battery on the second morning proved conclusively that it was not the fault of the traps (Blue Rocks). Empire targets were used and proved most satisfactory. A good working force, consisting of the president of the club, Mr. Milton Jordan, Mr. Orrin J. Loder, secretary; Mr. Edward F. Hill, treasurer; H. P. Dain, captain, and a committee composed of W. Fred Quimby, Dr. P. H. Mason, Jno. B. Halsted, B. C. Everinghim and I. D. Hutchinson, scorer, made a most effective force. Fred Quimby made a good "hustler" and kept the boys shooting.

Some excellent scores were made. O. R. Dickey outshot the boys and proved the biggest winner on the first day. Mr. G. C. Pierce, a member of the club, returned from the South on the afternoon of the first day, but took no part in the shoot. On the third day a few new names appear on the list of those shooting, as always happens, as the live bird shots take little interest in the target events. Among these were Fred Moore, L. Carpenter Jr., G. A. Barker, F. L. Train, Messrs. Arnold, Foos and Thomas, Justus Von Lengerke and Milt Lindsley. Fred Moore and Mr. Von Lengerke won the principal event, three misses and out, by killing 15 birds straight. Mr. Train landed second money with one miss. Messrs. Fulford, Halsted and Arnold, dropping two each, shot off the tie for third money. Mr. Arnold, losing his first bird, the others divided. The scores:

EXTRA No. 1.—10 single targets, $1 entrance: Glover 9, Brown 5, Hobart 9, Loder 9, Perry 8, Halsted 10 Dain 6, Quimby 5, Horton 8, Van Dyke 9, Rohr 4, Fulford 10, Mosher 10, Dixon 6.

EVENT No. 1.—10 singles, $1 entrance.

Glover	1111111111-10	Dixon	0011111101—7
Horton	1100111111—8	Perry	1110110111—8
Van Dyke	1111111111-10	Brown	1111111111-10
Mosher	1111111111-10	Keudall	1111101111—9
Fulford	1111111111-10	Loder	0111111101—8
Hobart	0111111111—9	Rohr
Dain	1011111111—9	Halsted

EVENT No. 2.—Same as preceding: Glover 8, Hor 8, Mosher 6, Fulford 9, Hobart 8, Dain 6, Dixon 8 Brown 7, Loder 9, Rayland 10, Sanders 4, Stansl Leicht 6.

EVENT No 3.—15 singles, $1.50 entrance: G Dyke 13, Mosher 12, Fulford 14, Hobart 12, Dai 11, Rayland 14, Sanders 12, Taylor 13, Loder 10, Rohr 6, Mason 15, Leicht 4, Stansbrough 11, Ha

EVENT No. 4.—10 singles, unknown, reversed order, $1 entrance: Glover 7, Horton 6 Van Dyke 4, Mosher 7, Fulford 7, Hobart 8, Dain 6, Dixon 4, Perry 6, Loder 4. Sanders 5, Taylor 8, Kendall 7, Brown 8, Stansbrough 7, Mason 6.

EVENT No. 5.—20 singles, known angles: Glover 18, Horton 11, Van Dyke 18, Mosher 13, Fulford 18, Hobart 15, Dain 17, Dixon 17, Perry 12, Sanders 16, Taylor 19, Halsted 18, Rohr 8, Stansbrough 18, Mason 14, Brown 15, Kendall 11, Frost 9, Le Roy 17, Dickey 18, Fat Southard 14.

EVENT No. 6.—15 singles, expert rules, use of both barrels.

Glover	111101111111011-13	Taylor	110100011111111 11
Horton	111111111110011-13	Dickey	111111111111111-15
Van Dyke	111010010101111-10	Le Roy	111111111111101-14
Mosher	111010110010010—8	Stansbrough	111010110111111 12
Fulford	001111001111111-11	Rohr	011010100010110—7
Hobart	101111000111011—9	Kendall	010011110110001—8
Dain	111111111101111-11	Halsted	010011011111011-10
Dixon	110110111011111-12	Southard	000011001110011—7
Perry	100011000000101—6	Frost	000010011001101—6
Sanders	110001110J00100—6	Ful ord (oirds)	111111111101111-11

EVENT No. 7.—20 singles, unknown angles, $2 entrance: Glover 18, Horton 11, Van Dyke 18, Halsted 14, Fulford 17, Hobart 15, Dain 14, Dixon 15, Perry 6, Sanders 12, Taylor 18, Dickey 19, Le Roy 16, Smith 16, F. Southard 16, Rayland 15, Collins 13, Brown 17, Kendall 18, Mason 9, Stansbrough 14, Mosher 16, Wood 13, Higginson 11.

EVENT No 8.—25 singles, known angles, $2.50 entrance: Glover 23, Horton 17, Van Dyke 20, Mosher 23, Fulford 21, Hobart 19, Dain 20, Dixon 15, Mason 22, Sanders 23, Taylor 23. Dickey 23 Le Roy 22, Smith 22, F. Southard 15, Rayland 14 Collins 21, Higginson 20, Rohr 11, Kendall 20, Stansbrough 21, Wood 16, Halsted 21, Brown 21.

EVENT No. 9.—20 singles, unknown angles, $2 entrance: Glover 18, Horton 10, Van Dyke 14, Mosher 10, Fulford 19, Hobart 14, Dain 14, Dixon 14, Sanders 14, Taylor 18, Dickey 20, LeRoy 20, Smith 17, F. Southard 14, Rayland 18, Collins 17, Higgenson 17, Stansbrough 17, Kendall 16, Brown 17, Loder 15, Taggert 10, Halsted 15, Wood 14.

EVENT No. 10.—10 single targets, known angles, $1 entrance: Glover 10, Horton 7, Van Dyke 10, Mosher 9, Fulford 9, Hobart 8, Dain 10, Dixon 5, Sanders 8, Smith 8, Dickey 10, Le Roy 9, Mason 6, Wood 8, Rayland 10, Collins 8, Higgenson 8, Rohr 4, Taggert 5.

EXTRA No. 2 —20 singles, $2 entrance: Le Roy 19, Dickey 18, Glover 17, Smith 19, Van Dyke 18, Fulford 18, Rayland 15, Higgensou 18, Dixon 11, Mason 14, Dain 16, Wood 16.

EXTRA No. 3.—5 pairs, $1 entrance: Fulford 7, Smith 9, Dickey 9, Le Roy 7, Glover 4, Dain 7.

SECOND DAY

EXTRA No. 1.—15 singles, unknown angles, $1 50 entrance.

Mosher	111003110101111-10	Brown	111101110010111-11
Dain	101111110010111-11	Halsted	111011001110010-9
Dickey	111111111111111-15	Van Dyke	011100101110111-10
Leroy	111111011111111-14	Hobart	010101111001111-10
Glover	111111111111011-14	Loder	101000010011101—7
Fulford	111111111111111-15	Keller	111101111111111-14
Apgar	111111111101110-13	Hoffman	001000010111011—7
Kendall	111101111011111-13	Smith	110111111010111-13

EVENT No. 1.—10 single Empires: Dickey 9, Van Dyke 8, Le Roy 10, Dutchy Smith 9, Sanders 10, Fulford 8 Glover 10, Keller 8, Dain 7, Mosher 7, Apgar 9, Hobart 6, Hoffman 9, Brown 9, Kendall 8, Perry 7, Loder 6.

EVENT No. 2.—10 Empires, unknown angles: Dickey 9, Van Dyke 9, Le Roy 8, Smith 9, Sanders 7, Fulford 8, Glover 9 Keller 8, Dain 7, Mosher 10, Apgar 10, Hobart 6, Hoffman 10, Richmond 7, Perry 6, Loder 5, Rayland 9, Kendall 9.

EVENT No. 3.—15 singles, known angles: Dickey 14, Van Dyke 14, Le Roy 14, Smith 14, Sanders 11, Fulford 15, Glover 15, Keller 12, Dain 14, Mosher 13, Apgar 14, Hobart 8, Hoffman 14, Kendall 14, Brown 14, Rayland 15, Perry 12, Richmond 11.

EVENT No. 4.—15 singles, $1.50 entrance, unknown angles.

Dickey	111111111110110-13	Mosher	101011111110011-11
Van Dyke	111111101111111-14	Apgar	111111111111100-13
Le Roy	111111101111111-14	Hobart	011001110101011-10
Smith	111111111110111-14	Hoffman	111111011111011-13
Sanders	111101111011101-12	Keudall	111111011111111-14
Fulford	111111111111111-15	Brown	111111101011111-13
Glover	111111111111111-15	Rayland	111111111111101-14
Keller	110111111111111-14	Perry	111010111111110-12
Dain	0100010011100l0—6	Richmond	110111110110110-11

EVENT No. 5.—20 singles, known angles: Dickey 16, Van Dyke 18, Le Roy 17, Smith 17, Sanders 19, Fulford 19, Glover 18, Keller 19, Dain 14, Mosher 15. Apgar 18, Rayland 19, Hoffman 19, Kendall 18, Brown 15, Loder 13, Mason 18, Perry 15, Halsted 19.

EVENT No. 6 – 20 singles, unknown angles, $2 entrance: Dickey 19, Van Dyke 17, Le Roy 19, Smith 17, Sanders 16, Fulford 19, Glover 20, Keller 18, Dain 15, Mosher 15, Apgar 16, Rayland 18, Hoffman 18, Kendall 19, Brown 18, Perry 12, Richmond 12, Southard 11, Horton 13, Loder 13, Halsted 19.

EVENT No. 7.—15 singles, known angles, $1.50 entrance: Dickey 15, Van Dyke 13, Leroy 13, Smith 12, Sanders 11, Fulford 14, Glover 15, Keller 9, Dain 13, Perry 9. Apgar 15, Rayland 11, Hoffman 13, Kendall 8, Brown 13, Southard 8, Horton 9, Mason 10, Pringle 10, Halsted 14, Richmond 13, Money 13, Von Lengerke 12.

EVENT No 8.—25 targets, $2.50 entrance: Dickey 25, Van Dyke 24, Le Roy 25, Smith 23, Sanders 23, Fulford 25, Glover 24, Keller 24, Dain 21, Kendall 22, Apgar 24, Rayland 24, Hoffman 22, Brown 22, Money 20, Von Lengerke 18, F. Southard 23, Mason 17.

EVENT No. 9.—Team contest, six men to a team, 25 targets per man, entrance $5.

NEW YORK STATE TEAM

Glover	1111111111	1111111111	11111—25
Kendall	1111111111	1110111011	11111—23
Sanders	1110111111	1111101110	11111—22
Fulford	1110111111	1111111011	11111—23
Brown	1110110111	0111111110	10111—20
Rayland	1111111111	1011111111	11111—24—137

NEW JERSEY STATE TEAM

Keller	1111111110	1111111111	10111—23
Smith	1101011111	1111111101	11111—22
Money	1111111011	1110111110	11011—21
Apgar	1111111111	1111110111	11111—24
Hoffman	0111111111	1011111011	11111—22
Van Dyke	1111111111	1110011111	11111—23—135

PEEKSKILL TEAM

Mason	1011110110	1111111011	11110—20
Halsted	1011111100	1111001111	11011—19
Dain	0100010111	1111101010	11101—16
Perry	0111101110	1010100001	10111—15
F. Southard	1111010010	0100110010	11011—15
Everinghim	1011011111	1111111111	11101—22—107

Shot in sweep but not as team.

Von Lengerke	1111011011	1011111111	11111—22
Le Roy	1111111111	0111111111	11111—24
Dickey	0111111101	1111111111	10110—21

EVENT No. 10.—15 singles, known angles, $1.50 entrance: Dickey 15, Van Dyke 15, Le Roy 15, Smith 11, Sanders 15, Fulford 15, Glover 14, Keller 12, Dain 9, Kendall 12, Apgar 14, Hoffman 14, Mason 11, Money 15, Von Lengerke 11, Pringle 11, Hobart 10, Mosher 8, Halsted 13, Rayland 12, Everinghim 8, Perry 15.

EVENT No. 11.—25 singles, known angles: Dickey 22, Van Dyke 23, Le Roy 24, Apgar 23, Sanders 24, Fulford 22, Glover 24, Keller 20, Dain 15, Perry 22, Von Lengerke 24, Money 21, Halsted 19.

EXTRA No. 2.—25 targets, unknown angles: Le Roy 25, Apgar 25, Fulford 21, Money 21, Glover 23, Halsted 16, Rayland 20, Quimby 10, Money 24.

EXTRA No. 3.—10 pairs, $1.50 entrance: Money 18, Fulford 17, Horton 10, Van Dyke 14, Mason 12, Glover (w) 6, Halsted 12, Frost (w) 10.

EXTRA No. 4.—10 targets, $1 entrance: Pringle 8, Fulford 10, Glover 9, Money 10, Apgar 10, Le Roy 9, Mason 9, Horton 6, Rayland 10, Frost 4.

EXTRA No 5.—5 pairs: Money 6, Train 5, Taos 5, Rayland 7, Fulford 5, Lindsley 3, Perry 2, Arnold 6, Dickey 8, Barker 7, Dain 6.

THIRD DAY

EVENT No. 2.—5 live birds per man: Moore 3, Fulford 5, Van Dyke 4, Horton 2, Kendall 5, Money 5, L. Carpenter Jr. 3, Keller 5, Le Roy 5, Dain 3, G. A. Barker 3, F. L. Train 5, Dickey 5, Halsted 4.

EVENT No. 2.—10 live birds, $7 entrance.

Moore	2222222222	10	F. L Train
Fulford	2101111222—9	Halsted
Van Dyke	2002222222—8	Perry
Horton	1010110022—6	Arnold
Kendall	1220111101—8	Apgar
Money	1202111212—8	Higginsou
L. Carpenter Jr	0110201201—6	Taos
Keller	2222222202—9	Taylor
Le Roy	1012220211—8	Dickey	0

[illegible] 0122222101—8	W. D. Southard.. 1002112221—8
[illegible] 2000010002—3

e birds, handicap rise, $10 entrance, three s to win, price of birds extra: Higginson, yards, 8; Keller, 28 yards, 7; Fulford, 30 2; Lindsley, 29 yards,5; Dickey, 28 yards. engerke, 29 yards,15; Perry, 27 yards, 5; yards, 14; Halsted, 28 yards. 13; Apgar, rds, 15; Barker, 25 yards, 0; Thomas, 27 Arnold, 28 yards, 13; Taylor, 28 yards, 0; Le Roy, 25 y[illegible]

CARVER—SWARTZ

PITTSBURG, PA.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—When we shooters here in Pittsburg learned for a positive fact that Dr. Carver was booked to shoot three matches with H. D. Swartz, of Scranton, there was a lively interest as to the result. Swartz we knew to be a good shot, with a record of 74 out of 75. The shooting he has done in the last two years was so good that he, as well as his friends, thought he would make a good showing in the three matches with the "Evil Spirit," and many of his friends backed him to win two out of the three, and were willing to take odds that he would win them all.

Believing I would see some good shooting and be well paid for my trouble I went to Wilkesharre to see the first match. I remembered Dr. Carver with his long hair, big white hat, and his handsome, dashing, Western style of several years ago when he went through this country shooting exhibitions with a rifle.

I arrived upon the ground a little too early, and wishing to kill time, looked around me and saw a very respectable looking gentleman sitting all alone with an empty chair beside him. I walked over to him, and with a pleasant "good morning," asked permission to occupy the other chair. I found the stranger well posted on general subjects and at last we commenced to chat about the match, and here is where the fun came in. I asked the big man if he knew anything about shooting, and his reply came like a whispering sough through a pine tree: "Once I thought I did, but at the present time and the many changes, I sometimes feel that I am ignoraut of my own existence. Of course I feel an interest in pigeon shooting and I came a long distauce to see this man Swartz shoot, and I just hope he (Swartz) will wipe up the earth with Dr. Carver." This was my feeling exactly and we shook hands on our good wishes for Swartz. Then I told the stranger that several years ago I was a member of the Pittsburg club, and how this long-haired Carver had bluffed us all out by offering to shoot all the club at one time for five thousand dollars, and, as we did not accept, he accused us of being a lot of bluffers and described us in one of his articles as aspirants for championships without nerve, and a sickly lot of consumptive vegetarians and that the sight of blood would cause us all to faint. How well I remember the deserving roast our club got from him, still I did not hesitate to say that I had a worse opinion of him than he had of our club. Then the stranger remarked that he had known Carver pretty well for some years, and together we agreed he was no good.

The time was approaching for the shoot to commence. When it was whispered through the crowd that Carver had not arrived, several people were on the point of leaviug the grounds, when the big stranger said:

"Gentlemen, you can rest assured Carver will be here, for I brought his gun and cartridges over myself."

Then we all looked, and sure enough there was Carver's outfit. Then I suggested that we take a look at his gun and pull the shot out of some of his cartridges. To all of this the stranger agreed, and we soon opened the gun case, and as the sun shone upon the rich velvet lining and the highly engraved weapon revealed the name of William Cashmore in big gold letters, it was the most beautiful picture I had ever seen. The stranger put the gun together. It was a full pistol grip, 32-inch barrels, and only weighed 7¼ pounds, a modern weapon of the highest art. After we had all admired the gun the stranger opened the box of cartridges and without hesitating pulled out a shell, split the side down, showed us four drams of E. C. powder and 1¼ ounces of shot.

The crowd was growing impatient and with another sough the stranger said: "Gentlemen, with your permission I will shoot in Carver's place until he comes," and as he finished the sentence he picked up the shells and gun and with a 'thank you, gentlemen, for your attention," walked over to the score, pulled off his light overcoat and appeared in a shooting costume. It then dawned upon us all that we had been entertained by Carver in disguise. What a sneaking feeling overtook me. Why he did not kill me is a question. Feeling he might regret and change his mind, I got in a position where I could run.

I watched the flash of a silver dollar in the air to decide the first shot. Carver went to the score, and with that masterly position that no man has ever been able to imitate, the quiet "pull" was spoken as softly as if coming from the lips of a schoolgirl, the trap falls to pieces and liberated a big blue pigeon that started like a flash of lightning. The wind was blowing at the rate of forty miles an hour. That was a loud report for nitro powder, thought I, but look at the pigeon. The air was filled with a cloud of feathers that were blown over the fence resembling a snowstorm. Murmurs of wonder were heard as to the smashing powers of the gun. Then a quiet laugh that soon developed into a roar was heard as the spectators compared the opponents. Carver is over six feet tall, while Swartz did not look much longer than one of the shells used by Carver.

Swartz missed his first four birds, while Carver killed his first twenty-five. Then the Doctor took a look at his small opponent and let seven birds in the next twenty-five escape; but when Carver missed poor Swartz did the same, and was never in the race from start to finish. The general impression of the audience was that Carver could have killed them all had he so desired.

Carver's shooting was a complete revelation to our pigeon shooters, and several of our boys who went there to challenge him for a match went home and were truly glad they did not mention the subject to him, and in future will be content to live in peace.

Carver won the match by thirty-five birds and stopped shooting at the ninety-fifth bird, having killed eighty-six. When I found I was stopping at the same hotel Carver was, I quietly pulled out for Scrantou and stole into the ground just as Swartz fired the first shot and lost his first bird. "Now look out for some great shooting," I heard a man say. Carver has backed himself for $250 to kill 95 out of the 100.

There he was, the same gun and the same load, but he was shooting with more determination. His first bird from No. 5 trap started to the right like a flash and was stopped with the first barrel, though the second was used for safety. The earnest way in which Carver was shooting was noticed by everyone, and when the scorer called out "twenty-five straight," it was not necessary, for nearly every man on the ground was keeping a score of his own. You could have heard a pin drop as Carver took his position for the fiftieth bird, and the expression of satisfaction from the crowd showed the deep interest taken in the result. There was no change in his most wonderful execution; every bird was killed with the first barrel, yet he frequently used the second for safety until the seventy-fifth bird was scored. Then it was big odds that Carver would win on 95. Then came the question would he kill them all? Ninety straight had been killed. When he again took his position at the score he wore a quiet smile and I for one noticed the change in his position. When the bird started he let him go, and without a question of doubt he lost the bird intentionally. The next eleven birds he killed in the same faultless style, and he made the remarkable score of 100 out of 101—the fault of the scorer—he was congratulated by everyone on the ground, and even his opponents bought wine to celebrate the occasion. There was not a question raised during the match. Swartz retired at the seventy-fifth round, having killed 65.

It has been my good fortune to have seen all the shooters of this country, but let me say to my brother sportsmen that Carver stands to-day the living wonder of the nineteenth century; the champion of all champions. The third match—which was to have been shot at Carbondale—was declared off by Mr. Swartz on account of rain, and feeling that he could not win proved himself to be a gentleman and a thorough sportsman, by giving the $100—the amount of the stake—to Dr. Carver, and by so doing saved himself $50 for birds.

I left Scranton on the same train with the Doctor, and feeling that I had wronged him, introduced myself and received from him an assurance of his future friendship. When I said good-bye to him at Pittsburg it was with feelings of regret. for I found him a cultivated gentleman, an experienced traveler and considerable of a marksman.

This shoot was a rec[illegible]sion to our own aspirants for shooting [illegible] a long time before another amateur [illegible]tor. Following are the scores of the [illegible]ril 26. Carver shot with a Cashmore

[illegible]111 1111111111 1111111111 1111111111
[illegible]1 1111111111 1111111111 0111111111 1—100
[illegible]1111 0111111111 1111110010 1111111110
[illegible]1111 11111.....— 65

PITTSBURGER.

THE FOREST GUN CLUB'S TOURNAMENT

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—Inclosed please find scores of the Forest Gun Club's tournament held on its grounds at Twenty-seventh Street and Lehigh Avenue, Philadelphia, on Easter Monday, April 15. The following clubs were represented: Keystone Shooting League, Germantown Gun Club, Wingohocking Gun Club, Wilmington Rod and Gun Club, Silver Lake Gun Club, Lansdown Gun Club, Ashbourne Gun Club, Phœnixville Gun Club, John F. Weiles Gun Club of Allentown, and the Reading Shooting Association. About three thousand targets were thrown. The scores:

EVENT No. 1.—7 targets, known trap and angle, 50 cents entrance: Morison 5, W. Hallowell 4, Treadway 6, Schaaber 7, H. Thurman 6, Martin 2, Lane 5, Schmick 4, Irwin 3, Hansell 5, Bell 3.

EVENT No. 2.—7 targets, unknown angles, 50 cents entrance: Morison 6, W. Hallowell 3, H. Thurman 4, Treadway 6, Schaaber 6, Martin 4, Lane 6, Whitney 4, Schmick 4, Bell 4, Hansell 5, Henry 5, Park 3, Irvin 5.

EVENT No. 3.—10 targets, known angles, $1 entrance:

Morison	0010110001—4	Schmick	1011011011—7
W. Hallowell	1011111001—7	Whitney	1000000000—1
H. Thurman	1101111111—9	Bell	1111101101—2
Treadway	1111011001—7	Henry	0011111111—8
Schaaber	1001111111—8	Hansell	0011111111—8
Martin	0000010101—3	Park	0001111001—5
Lane	1111011111—9

EVENT No. 4.—15 targets, unknown angles, $1.50 entrance: Morison 9, Hallowell 8, Thurman 7, Schmick 12, Treadway 9, Schaaber 12, Martin 10, Lane 11, Henry 9, Bell 10, Hansell 8, Irvin 8, Evans 11, Bilderback 7, Hartlove 5, Cleaver 10.

EVENT No. 5.—7 targets, known angles, 50 cents entrance: Morison 3, Hallowell 5, Thurman 4, Schmick 4, Cleaver 5, Lane 5, Schaaber 6, Park 3, Whitney 4, Treadway 5, Evans 6, Henry 5, Martin 0, Hancock 3, Hartlove 6, Bilderback 5, Wood 3, Hansell 6, Bell 2, Irvin 4, Bender 3.

EVENT No. 6.—10 targets, unknown angles, $1 entrance: Morison 6, W. Hallowell 5, H. Thurman 7, Schmick 9, Cleaver 9, Schaaber 8, Treadway 6, Lane 9, Evans 6, Henry 4, Whitney 5, Martin 6, Hancock 2, Bilderback 2, Hansell 10, Hartlove 3, Bell 6, Irvin 6, Park 4.

EVENT No. 7.—20 targets, known angles, $2 entrance.

Morison	10110010001110010111-11	Evans	11110111111011011101-16
W. Hallowell	11C0001111010001110O-10	Lane	11011111110101001001-13
H. Thurman	11110111001101010011-13	Henry	11111111001111100111-16
Schmick	11011111110111111111-18	Treadway	11111101111111011111-18
Cleaver	00111110111010111111-15	Hansell	11011101001101111100-13
Schaaber	10111111111101111011-17	Bell	10011111101011011111-15
Martin	01100010300011011100—8	Irvin	00101100110010110001—9
		Landis	11011101011111111111-17

EVENT No. 8.—10 targets, unknown angles, $1 entrauce: Morison 5, W. Hallowell 8, H. Thurman 6, Schmick 7, Lane 9, Hancock 5, Martin 3, Hansell 7, David 6, Cleaver 9, Evans 8 Schaaber 8, Hartlove 8, Bilderback 5, Whitney 5, McDaniel 5, Henry 6, Landis 8, Treadway 8, Free 6, Bell 6, "Yankee" 6, McFall 6, Irvin 3.

EVENT No. 9.—15 targets, known angles, $1.50 entrance: Morison 8, W. Hallowell 12, H. Thurman 7, Schmick 11, Cleaver 14, Landis 9, Treadway 11, Lane 10, Evans 11, Schaaber 7, Pepper 4, Hansell 12, Martin 9, Henry 10, McDaniel 11, Yankee 11, David 11, Bell 12.

EVENT No. 10.—7 targets, unknown angles, 50 cents entrance: Morison 4, W. Hallowell 2, H. Thurman 4, Schmick 5, Cleaver 6, Schaaber 4, Park 5, Hartlove 4, Wood 4, Landis 6, Whitney 3, Lane 7, Evans 5, Free 2, McFall 1, Pepper 0, J. Thurman 4, Treadway 4, Henry 5, McDaniel 4, Martin 6, Hansell 7, Yankee 4, Bilderback 1, W. Aiman 3, Fertsch 6, Cowan 5, Bell 2, David 3.

EXTRA No. 1.—10 targets, unknown angles, $1 entrance.

Landis	1110101111—8	Yankee	1001111100—6
Morison	1000011001—4	Martin	0111000101—5
Treadway	0101111111—8	Hartlove	0011010110—5
Schmick	1111111101—9	J. Thurman	1111111111-10
Cleaver	0111111110—8	David	1000110111—6
Schaaber	1110010011—6	Fertsch	1011111001—7
W. Thurman	1001100100—4	Hansell	0111101001—6
Evans	1111011111—9	McDaniel	1101111101—8
Lane	1011101011—7	Bell	0001110111—6

EXTRA No. 2.—10 targets, known angles, $1 entrance: Schaaber 8, Lane 6, Landis 6, Treadway 9, Schmick 7, Martin 3, Yankee 5, Cowan 7, Free 8, McFall 4, Hartlove 4, Cleaver 6, Wood 7, McDaniel 7, H. Thurman 7, David 6, Hansell 7, Bell 6, Fertsch 3, J. Thurman 9, Buckwalter 8, Evans 9.

EXTRA No. 3.—10 targets, unknown angles, $1 entrance: Schmick 6, Lane 10, Landis 8, Evans 9, Cleaver 9. Treadway 5, Henry 6, David 4, Yankee 4, J. Thurman 9, W. Thurman 5, Hansell 5.

EXTRA No. 4.—25 targets, known angles, $2.50 entrance.

Landis	1110100011 1111110001 11111—18
Schmick	0110101101 1110100101 10100—14
Schaaber	1111111111 0111100011 11111—21
Cleaver	0111111111 1011111111 11111—23
Treadway	1111111111 1111101111 01111—23
Yankee	0100010100 0110001100 11011—11
Henry	0111111011 0111101001 11100—17
J. Thurman	1101111100 1101011010 01101—16
David	1111011010 1001111111 11011—19
Buckwalter	1101111001 1101111111 11110—20

EXTRA No. 5.—10 targets, unknown angles, $1 entrance: Free 6, McFall 8, Morison 4, Ridge 5, Hancock 2, Landis 9, Lane 8, Treadway 8, Hansell 5, McDaniel 5, Fray 3.

WM. MORISON, Secy.

ELIZABETH GUN CLUB'S TOURNAMENT

The regular bi-monthly tournament of this club at its inclosed grounds at Elizabeth, N. J., on Tuesday and Wednesday, April 22 and 23, was not a successful one, the attendance being very small. Most of those in attendance were merely "shooting for birds," and this does not please the shooters who attend and make successful scores; in fact a number have stated since, that they did not go for this reason. It would be well for the club, perhaps, to abolish this privilege on tournament days, allowing it only at club shoots. Certainly this or some other reason has of late decreased the usual good attendance at this club. Mr. Robt. E. Chetwood, the president, is attentive and obliging and there is nothing in the attentions of the officials wanting.

The regular program of live bird events was not shot, but a few sweeps substituted. On the last day a pigeon hawk made a swoop down on the grounds and made off with a sparrow. Mr. Frank Class got his gun quickly and, loading it, fired at the hawk some distance off, succeeding in making him drop the English sparrow that he had caught and killed. The following scores show the attendance on both days:

EXTRA No. 1.—10 single targets, known angles, 50 cents entrance.

Van Dyke	1011101111—8	Roberts (birds)	0111111110—8
Stevens	1101111100—7	Jackson (birds)	0111111111—9
Wakeman	0110010000—3	Astfalk	1101101111—8
Carl Von Lengerke	1011111111—9

EXTRA No. 2.—Same as before: Van Dyke 10, Stevens 9, C. Von Lengerke 10, Astfalk 7, Jackson (birds) 9, Wakeman 3, Roberts (birds) 8.

EVENT No. 1.—10 single Empire targets, known angles, 50 cents entrance: Jackson (birds) 9, Astfalk 8, Wakeman 1, C. Von Lengerke 9, Van Dyke 8, Stevens 10.

EVENT No. 2.—10 single Empire targets, unknown angles, 50 cents entrance: Jackson (birds) 10, Astfalk 8, C. Von Lengerke 9, Stevens 7, Wakeman 0, Van Dyke 9, Roberts (birds) 5, Heritage 8.

EVENT No. 3.—15 singles, unknown angles, $1 entrance.

Jackson (birds)	110111111101101-12	Van Dyke	101111111111111-14
Astfalk	100100011111111-10	Wakeman (birds)	010011001101001—7
Heritage	101001100110101—8	Roberts (birds)	1111111011111101-13
C. Von Lengerke	111111111111010-13	Woodruff (birds)	011101111101001-10
Stevens	101111110110001-10

EVENT No. 4.—10 singles, reversed, 75 cents entrance: Jackson (birds) 9, Astfalk 6, Van Dyke 9, Stevens 6, C. Von Lengerke 7, Wakeman (birds) 3, Woodruff 8, Roberts (birds) 7.

EVENT No. 5.—20 singles, unknown angles. $1.50 entrance: Jackson (bird) 15, Van Dyke 16, Astfalk 12, Heritage 13, Woodruff 15, C. Von Lengerke 17, Stevens 14, Wakeman (birds) 13, Roberts (birds) 17.

EVENT No. 6.—15 singles, expert, both barrels, $1 entrance.

Jackson (birds)	101101101111011-11	Astfalk	010111012010011—9
Van Dyke	111011111111121-14	Woodruff	001221110011011-10
Stevens	111111210001111-12	Wakeman(birds)	021120121220101-11
Von Lengerke	212120111011110-12

EVENT No. 7.—20 singles, unknown angles, $1.50 entrance: Van Dyke 16, Jackson (birds) 18, Stevens 14, Wakeman (birds) 12, Roberts (birds) 15, Squires 10.

EVENT No. 8.—15 singles, unknown augles, $1 entrance: Jackson (birds) 10, Van Dyke 15, C. Von Lengerke 13, Woodruff 12, Wakeman (birds) 9, Stevens 11, Squires 7, Roberts (birds) 11, Astfalk 13.

EVENT No. 10 —10 singles, 50 cents entrance: Van Dyke 8, Stevens 7, Woodruff 6, Wakeman (birds) 5, Roberts (birds) 9, Parker (birds) 5.

SECOND DAY

EVENT No. 1.—5 live birds, $3 entrance: Class 4, Timmins 4, Lawrence 2, C. Von Lengerke 4.

EVENT No. 2.—Same as above: Class 5, Timmins 4, Lawrence 4, C. Von Lengerke 4.

EVENT No. 3.—Same: Class 3, Timmins 4, Keogh 2, C. Von Leugerke 3, Batsch 5.

EVENT No. 4.—5 live birds, $3 entrance: Class 4, Timmins 2, C. Von Lengerke 5, Astfalk 4, Woodruff 5, Batsch 5.

EVENT No. 5.—5 live birds, $3 entrance: Class 4, Timmins 5, Astfalk 5.

EVENT No. 6.—5 live bird match between Eley and Astfalk vs. Heritage and Lawrence.

Eley	02001—2	Heritage	21111—5
Astfalk	01210—3—5	Lawrence	20110—3—8

TRAP AT SAN ANTONIO

SAN ANTONIO, TEX.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—The regular semi-weekly shoot of the San Antonio Gun Club took place on April 14 at the club's grounds at Lake View. A good many of the members were out plover shooting and others were getting ready to go, so the club shoot was not the attraction it will be later in the season when there is no game to shoot. The scores made by those who did go out on this occasion are given below:

SHOOT No. 1.—15 single targets each man: Vollbrecht 11, Grossmann 9, W. G. Smith 11. Samuels 10, Chabot 11, France 10, Thiele 9, Epsteln 9, Tendick 9, Biesenbach 7, Veith 8.

SHOOT No. 2.—Club contest, 30 singles each man for club medal.

Chabot	0110101111 0111011110 1001110100—19
Learn	0011010011 1111101111 1101101100—20
Carpenter	1010110001 0001110101 0100010010—13
Biesenbach	1011100110 11110w —10
Grossmann	0001111111 1001011111 1110010011—20
Fpp	1011111011 1101111101 1011110101—23
Thiele	1101111101 0000000110 0011111011—17
Tendick	1111011110 1111110110 0100111011—22
Samuels	0101010001 0010011101 0010101100—13
Smith	0101011001 1001011111 0110101101—18
Epstein	0101110100 1110111101 0110010011—18
France	1011111111 0110111011 0011111101—23
Vernor	0011110111 0010101111 1111111101—22
Shields	1101001110 0111101101 1011010101—19
Vollbrecht	1000000101 0111001101 0111000010—13
Veith	1011010001 1101100111 1110000010—16

THE POWDER HILL GUN CLUB

There was some lively shooting at the grounds of the above-named gun club at West End on April 14, and for a few hours it sounded as though a sham battle was in progress. Among those present were the Miller boys from Austin, both of whom are right up in the front ranks; Messrs. Adams and Shaw of Chicago; Lieut. Foster, from the Post, and Geo. Chabot, who finished his score at Lake View in time to shoot a 25-bird race with this club.

As was expected Wallace Miller made the top score, running 25 straight in one of the extras, although in the regular shoot at 30 singles and 10 pairs he and Critzer tied. He wound up with an average considerably above 90 per cent.

The first shoot was a little preliminary affair at 10 birds, merely to get the swing of how the birds intended to fly, and the scores were as follows: Wallace Miller 10, A. B. Critzer 9, Mr Shaw 9, A. W. Adams 9, Miles Miller 10, A. Ohnesorge 8, H. Dyer 8, Burkett 8.

The second shoot was the regular club event of 30 singles and 5 pairs. Scores as follows: W. Miller 36, A. B. Critzer 36, M. Miller 33, Shaw 34, A. W. Adams 35, A. Ohnesorge 32, H. Dyer 32, Lent Foster 31, Burkett 30.

Next followed a 25-bird race as follows: W. Miller 23, Critzer 23, M. Miller 22, H. Dyer 21, Shaw 22, Adams 22, Burkett 20, Ohnesorge 19, Lent Foster 18.

The following shoot at 25 singles ended a pleasant afternoon: Adams 24, W. Miller 25, M. Miller 21, Lent Foster 19, Shaw 21, Critzer 23, Burkett 21, Ohnesorge 20, Chabot 23.

G. A. CHABOT.

NEW YORK COUNTY ROD AND GUN CLUB

A small attendance of this club at its Rockaway Park grounds, on April 23, allowed the shooting off of thirty target events. The events show the names of those present.

EVENT No. 1.—Scott 4, Woods 4, Wash 2, Trohes 4.

EVENT No. 2.—Scott 13, Woods 17, Wash 18, Trohes 13.

EVENT No. 3.—Star sweepstakes race, re-entry allowed up to and including the sixth round: Woods and Trohes tied and decided to divide.

EVENT No. 4.—Same conditions: Woods and Wash divided on 18 each

EVENT No. 5.—Same conditious: Won by Trohes aloue with 9.

EVENT No. 6.—10 singles and 5 pairs: Scott 14, Woods 13, Wash 16, Trohes 13.

EVENT No. 7.—25 singles: Trohes 21, Wash 18, Scott 10, Woods 17, Major Spott 15.

EVENT No. 8.—Star sweep, same couditions as third event: Won by Scott with 12.

EVENT No. 9.—Same conditions: Won by Trohes with 11.

EVENT No. 10.—Handicap sweepstakes, at 15 singles: Trohes 11, Wash 11, Lyons 12, Woods 11, Major Spott (2 added) 15, Scott (1 added) 8, Harry Heyer 13.

EVENT No. 11.—Same conditions: Owen Mulcahey 3, Woods 13, Major Spott 9, Wash 8, Lyons 10, Trohes 14.

EVENT No. 12.—Same conditions: Owen Mulcahey (2 added) 11, Major Spott (1 added) 12, Wash 13, Lyons 9, Trohes 13.

EVENT No 13.—15 siugles, expert rules: Trohes 13, Wash 8, Tiernan 9, Woods 11, Major Spott 9.

EVENT No. 14.—Star sweepstakes race, same couditions as third event: Owen Mulcahey 11, G. Wash 11.

EVENT No. 15.—Same conditions: Won by Trohes with 12.

EVENT No. 16.—10 singles: G. Wash 8, G. Woods 7, Charles 8.

EVENT No. 17.—Same conditions: Wash 10, Woods 8, Charles 5.

EVENT No. 18.—Same conditious: G. Woods 10, C. Wash 8, Charles 4.

EVENT No. 19.—Same conditions: Charles 6, C. Wash 8, G. Woods 9.

EVENT No. 20.—Special handicap at 50 singles, ties to be divided: P. Prohes (scratch) 48, G. Woods (scratch) 45, Wash (scratch) 46, Charles (10 allowed) 43.

EVENT No. 21.—Star sweep, re-entry allowed up to sixth round, then miss and out: P. Trohes 14, C. Wash 11, Charles 8, Woods 9.

EVENT No. 22.—Same conditious: Won by C. Wash 13.

EVENT No, 23.—Same conditions: Won by C. Wash 11.

EVENT No. 24.—10 singles, scratch rises: John J. Tiernan 4, P. Trohes 10, C. Wash 9, G. Woods 6.

EVENT No. 25.—15 singles: P. Trohes 13, C. Wash 14, John J. Tiernan 9.

EVENT No. 26.—Special match, 10 pairs, scratch: Wash 16, P. Trohes 14.

EVENT No. 27.—Same conditions: Wash 15, P. Trohes 11.

EVENT No. 28.—Same couditions: Wash 16, P. Trohes 5.

EVENT No. 29.—Same conditions: Trohes 18, Wash 12.

EVENT No. 30.—10 singles, scratch rises: P. Trohes 9, C. Stency 6, Wash 9, E. Steinbrecker 7, Harry Heyer 6.

THE FARMERS' GUN CLUB

MAHANOY CITY, PA.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—The Farmers' Gun Club was recently organized in this city with the followiug officers: President, Dr. Louis Weber; first vice-president, Baird Snyder; second vice-president, M. T. O'Connor; treasurer, Harrison Ball; secretary, M. M. MacMillan; directors, Maj. Wallace Guss, Thos. Gorman, Prof. Frank Noonan and Geo. M. Israel; field captain, James J. Quirk.

The club held its first shoot at "Uncle" John Houser's famous Summer resort at Reynolds, Schuylkill County, on April 19, and at the business meeting following the shoot it was decided that the club should meet on the first and third Saturday of each month.

The membership of the club is limited to twenty-five. The club decided to use Empire targets, which, when thrown from the Empire trap, is simply perfect. We threw over eight hundred and only had two to break in the trap. The powder used by all the contestants, with one exception, is American E. C., which our members think the most regular powder made.

The scores of a few of the events I herewith inclose:

EVENT No. 1.—10 live birds, three King traps, 30 yards rise, 50 yards boundary.

MacMillau	111111*111—9	Quirk	1010011111—7
Gorman	1010111111—8	Noonan	1100111110—7
Snyder	1111111111-10	Guss	1111011111—9
Ball	1011111111—9	israel	1111100111—8

EVENT No. 2.—25 Empire targets, unknown angles, known trap: Snyder 19, MacMillau 15, Quirk 20, Noonau 18, Ball 17, Gorman 18, Israel 19, Guss 20.

EVENT No. 3.—Same as before: MacMillan 18, Gorman 20, Snyder 21, Ball 22, Quirk 23, Noonan 16, Guss 18, Israel 16.

EVENT No. 4.—Same: MacMillan 19, Gorman 16, Snyder 20, Ball 19, Quirk 20, Noonan 19, Guss 18, Israel 21.

EVENT No 5.—Same again.

MacMillan	1111011110	1111001111	01110—19
Gorman	1011111110	1111110111	10111—21
Snyder	1111111111	1111111111	11111—25
Ball	1111111111	1000111111	11111—22
Quirk	1011111111	1111111111	11111—24
Noonan	1110111011	1100111101	11101—18
Guss	1111101111	1111000111	11101—20
Israel	1010101111	1101111110	11010—18

At the close of the shoot a very elaborate dinner was served by mine host "Uncle" John, assisted by his excellent wife and daughters, and for elegant meals none can excel those served by Mr. Houser.

BITUMINOUS.

TRAP AT ROCHESTER

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—The classification of the club members is based upon the result of the last six months' shooting. For example: If a man has been shooting an 80 per cent. gait he is allowed enough targets to shoot at, that at that gait he would score 25 targets. If by good luck he shoots beyond that speed, at the meeting of the classification committee he will by reclassified on the same plan, thereby giving an equal chance.

I inclose the scores of the first three shoots. Only a small number have as yet turned out as the weather is something to dread. It is hoped that when the sun shines on both sides of the fence, we will thaw out and get down to business again. Scores:

FIRST SHOOT

	Shot at	Scored		Shot at	Scored
Norton	32	26	Hicks	33	24
Borst	34	23	Gardner	38	20
Byer	31	22	Myers	32	26
Stewart	30	25	Griffith	38	30
Backus	41	21	Babcock	31	23

SECOND SHOOT

	Shot at	Scored		Shot at	Scored
Norton	32	24	Kay	36	25
Maguire	38	14	Second string	36	24
Nichols	32	23	Hicks	35	32
Griffith	38	33

THIRD SHOOT

	Shot at	Scored		Shot at	Scored
Wride	41	24	Rickman	34	16
Second string	45	26	Second string	47	26
Farnsworth	38	21	Byer	35	22
Second string	45	33	Second string	35	28
Hicks	33	30	J. Risenger	35	18
Myers	32	26	Second string	46	30
Second string	32	22	Third string	35	15
Clark	50	19	Boyd	45	25
Hadley	31	24	Second string	45	28
Borst	38	22

W. C. HADLEY.

CLIMAX GUN CLUB

The day appointed for the regular club match, April 22, of this Plainfield club, was a rainy one, yet there was a good attendance, near twenty. As usual the interest centered in the club handicap, "P. Jay," with an allowance of five, scoring 28, J. Darby, with 7, making 27. Neaf Apgar, a scratch man, shot in excellent form and scored a straight 25. "Tee Kay" landed at 22, Maj. Breintnall got 24. This club's shooting is always at unknown angles. Following are the handicap scores and some sweeps that followed.

SHOOT No. 1.—Club handicap, 25 single targets, bird allowance, unknown angles.

	Birds allowed
Breintnall	0..	0011111111 0011111111 11101—20
Keller	0..	1110111111 1110111110 11111—22
Apgar	0..	1111111111 1111111111 11111—25
Smith	0..	1000111111 0111111111 11111—21
Brantingham	0..	1111111111 1111111101 11111—24
D. Terry	1.	1010111111 1101111011 11111—22
Manning	2..	1111111111 1111111101 1111111—26
D. Darby	5..	1011111111 0110111011 1011103011—22
W. Squire	2..	1101101010 1010001101 1010101—15
J. Darby	7..	1101111101 1011111101 1111011111 11—27
J. Goodman	6..	0110110111 1101111111 0010000100 0—18
J. Singer	10..	1001010110 1101011100 1001101111 11111—23
Edwards	5..	1011111011 1111111111 1101111111—27
W. Terry	4..	0111111110 0010001101 1011101000—17
Williams	5..	0111100010 1111110101 1111111111—23
P. Jay	5..	1111111111 1111011111 1111111011—28

SHOOT No. 2.—10 singles, one man up, everything unknown: Edwards 8, Breintnall 7, Apgar 9, Smith 10, Keller 7, D. Darby 10, Singer 4, Brantingham 9, Manning 9, G. Squires 8, "Williams" 6, W. Squires 9.

SHOOT No. 3.—10 singles, unknown angles: Edwards 8, Apgar 9, Keller 9, Smith 9, Manning 10, D Darby 9, D. Terry 9, Brantingham 8, Singer 7, Joe 5, "Williams" 9, W. Squires 7, G. Squires 10, "P. Jay" 9.

SHOOT No. 4.—Same as before: Edwards 7, Apgar 10, Keller 9, Smith 9, Manning 7, D. Darby 9, D. Terry 9. Brantingham 7, Singer 8, "Williams" 6, W. Squires 7, P. Jay 8, G. Squires 10.

DUNNELLEN GUN CLUB

This club, the latest addition to the many shooting organizations of the state of New Jersey, held its first open tournament at both targets and live birds on April 19, American Shooting Association rules governing. A number of the crack shots of New York and New Jersey were present. The attendance was not as large as the event justified. The purses in all events were divided. The scores:

EVENT No. 1.—10 singles, unknown angles: Apgar 10, Keller 9, Van Dyke 9, Lindsey 9, C. Smith 9, Astfalk 9, H, Campbell 8, Chamberlain 8.

EVENT No. 2.—10 singles, known angles: Keller 10, Apgar 10, Van Dyke 9, Smith 9, Brantingham 9, Sesty 8.

EVENT No. 3.—10 singles, unknown angles: Keller 9, Van Dyke 9, Brantingham 9, Apgar 9, Smith 9, Sisty 8, Astfalk 7.

EVENT No. 4.—15 singles, known angles: Apgar 15, Brantingham 14, Van Dyke 13, Keller 13.

EVENT No. 5.—20 singles, unknown angles: Apgar 20, Smith 20, Keller 19, Van Dyke 19, Astfalk 18.

EVENT No. 6.—20 singles, reversed traps: Van Dyke 19, Keller 17, Smith 16.

EVENT No. 7.—10 singles, unknown angles: Van Dyke 10, Apgar 10, Keller 9, Smith 9, Campbell 9, Brantingham 2, Sesty 8.

EVENT No. 8.—20 singles, unknown angles: Keller 19, Apgar 19, Chamberlain 19, Van Dyke 18, Brantingham 17, Smith 17, Woodruff 17, Campbell 17.

EVENT No 9.—10 singles, unknown angles: Apgar 10, Keller 10, Smith 9, Chamberlain 9, Brantingham 8, "Rusty" 8.

EVENT No. 10.—10 singles, unknown angles: Apgar 10, Keller 9, Van Dyke 9, "Rusty" 9, Smith 9, Campbell 8, Hebbard 8.

EVENT No. 11.—5 pairs: Keller 9, Van Dyke 8, Apgar 8, Astfalk 8, Brantingham 7, Terry 7.

EVENT No. 12.—10 singles, unknown angles: Brantingham 10, Keller 9, Van Dyke 9, Smith 9, "Rusty" 8, Hebbard 8.

EVENT No. 13.—15 singles, unknown angles: Keller 15, Van Dyke 15, Smith 14, Hebbard 14 "Rusty" 12, Apgar 12.

EVENT No. 14.—5 live birds: Terry 5, Keller 5, Sisty 5, W. Squires 5, Apgar 4, Woodruff 4, Benner 4, Blodgett 3, Voorhees 3, "Rusty" 2.

EVENT No. 15.—Miss and out at live birds: Benner 10, W. Squires 10, Woodruff 10, "Rusty" 10, Keller 7, Blodgett 5, Sisty 3, Voorhees 2.

BUSHWICK GUN CLUB

Sharp and close competition marked the events, six in number, contested at the North Beach shooting grounds, Long Island, N. Y., on April 25, by members of this club. The events were all at targets. All ties were divided in the three moneys in each event.

EVENT No. 1.—Club competition at 10 clay birds per man, American Shooting Association rules, scores to count in the yearly averages: Philip H. Guerst 8, John H. Schneider 9, George W. Heimer 10, Thomas V. Burgon 7, James H. Phillips 6, William A. Richards 4, Thomas V. Ford 3, Henry R. Schleuter 2.

EVENT No. 2.—6 birds: John H. Schneider 6, Philip H. Guerst 5, George W. Heimer 3, Thomas V. Burgon 4, James H. Phillips 2, William A. Richards 3, Thomas V. Ford 2, Henry R. Schleuter 2.

EVENT No. 3.—Same conditions: John H Schneider 4, Philip H. Guerst 5, George W. Heimer 6, Thomas V. Burgon 3, James H. Phillips 3, William A. Richards 3, Thomas V. Ford 2, Henry R. Schleuter 3.

EVENT No. 4.—Same conditions: John H. Schneider 4, Philip H. Guerst 5, George W. Heimer 6, Thomas V. Burgon 5, James H. Phillips 3, William A. Richards 2, Thomas V. Ford 1, Henry R. Schleuter 3.

EVENT No. 5.—Same conditions: Philip H. Guerst 5, John H. Schneider 6, George W. Heimer 5, Thomas V. Burgon 6, James H. Phillips 6, William A. Richards 4, Thomas V. Ford 3, Henry R. Schleuter 2.

EVENT No. 6.—Team shoot at 10 birds per man: Phillips' Target Smashers—James H. Phillips (captain) 7, William A. Richards 9, Thomas V. Ford 7, Henry R. Schlenter 5. Total 28. Schneider's Trigger Pullers—John H. Schneider 7, Philip H. Guerst 8, George W. Heimer 5, Thomas V. Burgon 3. Total 26.

VERNON ROD AND GUN CLUB

The attendance of the members of this club on their grounds, Enfield Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., on April 20, was fairly good. Seven events at targets were decided with the following results:

EVENT No. 1.—A sweepstakes at 25 Blue Rocks, 16 yards rise, scratch, entrance $2: Frederick A. Thompson 20, Warren H. Thompson 16, John H. Hobart 13, Henry T. Allen 11, William H. Edwards 10, Dr. Van Zile 6.

EVENT No. 2.—Scratch sweepstakes at 10 birds, entrance $1 per man: Hobart 8, Leveridge 6, Wright 5, Edwards 5, F. A. Thompson 4, Dr. Van Zile 3.

EVENT No. 3.—Same conditions: F. A. Thompson 9, Hobart 8, Richard Osterhout 8, Welles 7, Bishop 7, Leveridge 7, Littlefield 6, Wright 5, Edwards 5.

EVENT No. 4.—Novelty rule, 10 birds per man: Leveridge 8, F. A. Thompson 7, Bishop 7, Welles 6, Edwards 6, Littlefield 5, Hobart 4, Wright 4, Osterhout 4.

EVENT No. 5.—Sweepstakes at 10 birds: William Mills 8, W. H. Thompson 8, Allen 6, Hobart 6, F A. Thompson 6, Livingston 6, Emory 5, Bishop 5, Leveridge 4, Wright 4, Edward Edwards 4.

EVENT No. 6.—10 birds per man: Emory 7, Edwards 7, Mills 6, F. A. Thompson 6, Leveridge 5, Wright 5, Hobart 4, Allen 3, Bishop 3, W. H. Thompson 3, Livingston 3.

EVENT No. 7.—Same conditions: F. A. Thompson 7, Bishop 6, Leveridge 5, Hobart 5, W. H. Thompson 5, Emory 4, Livingston 4, Wright 4, Allen 4, Edwards 2.

NEW UTRECHTS VS. RIVERTONS

The New Utrechts gave the Rivertons a signal defeat on the grounds of the former club at Woodlawn Park, L. I., on Monday, April 24. The Utrechts being on home grounds were enabled to muster a stronger team. Mr. Chris Meyer was the only one of the twenty-two shooters to make a straight score of 20. Mr. Junius Davis of the Rivertons led his team, as in the last event, with a score of 19. Capt. Money was low man of the Utrechts, caused by a combination of bad luck and hard birds, a position he seldom occupies. Mr. Fishmuth of the Rivertons held this position for the Rivertons with a score of 11, the lowest score made on either side. As each club has won a match a third one will be the result. The scores;

New Utrecht Rod and Gun Club—Capt. A. W. Money, 30 yards, 13; D. Deacon, 29 yards, 18; Capt. C. Ferguson Jr., 29 yards, 17; C. E. Morris, 28 yards, 15; R. Phister, 28 yards, 19; G. E. Grieff, 28 yards, 18; Lester Duryea, 30 yards, 19; C. M. Meyer, 26 yards, 20; Dr. William Wynn, 28 yards, 19; G. W. Cropsey, 28 yards, 16; G. E. Nostrand, 28 yards, 17. Total 191.

Riverton Gun Club—R. A. Welch, 30 yards, 16; Bergner, 28 yards, 14; Witherill, 26 yards, 12; Rogers, 27 yards, 15; Alburger, 26 yards, 14; Fishmuth, 28 yards, 11; Gerring, 27 yards, 15; F Leonard, 29 yards, 18; Harrison, 29 yards, 18; Harned, 27 yards, 18; Davis, 29 yards, 19. Total 170.

EBNER AND BENNETT TIE FOR THE TROPHY

BURLINGTON, IA.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—Herewith I hand you the scores made at Weaver, Ia., on April 18, in the contest for the American Field Handicap Trophy. As will be seen, Mr. R. Ebner and T. Bennett tied on 45 each out of the 50 shot at, and agreed to shoot the tie off at Ft. Madison, Ia., on April 26. I hope to be able to get the scores made on that day in time to forward same to you before your issue of May 4, that they may appear in connection with the above. D. Brockway won second place; Burton and the writer tied for third, and R. Lange won fourth. The scores made on April 18 were as given below:

Burton	0110111111	1111110111	1111110111	1010101011	0111001011	—33
Scott	1111111111	1111111010	1101111011	0011011010	1000111111	—38
D. Brockway	1101111101	1111101011	1101111111	1101111111	1111111111	—44
T. Bennett	1101111111	1111101111	1111111101	1111111011	0111111111	—45
B. C. Mills	1011110110	1101010111	1111000111	0011100010	w	—25
J. L. Krieg	1101010110	1111100111	1111110110	1001110110	0011101111	—35
C. Kammerer	1111110000	0111110111	1010110111	1101101111	1111010010	—35
R. Ebner	1111110101	1111111111	1111111111	10 1111111	1111101101	—45
E. Lange	1011000110	1010101100	1110110011	1011010110	1011111000	—29
A. Kammerer	0101111111	1101101011	1010111111	0001100000	0111011111	—32
Robt. Lange	0011100111	1111110111	0101101111	0111111111	1101111111	—39

SCOTT.

NORTH SIDE GUN CLUB

The twenty-fifth anniversary of this club was celebrated at Dexter Park New York, on April 24. There was a fair attendance. The shooting was at targets and live birds, as the following scores show.

EVENT No. 1.—15 Blue Rocks: John J. Tiernan 10, J. H. Jennings 10, Henry Menke 10, G. Manning 8, Harry Heyer 6, John Brock 3.

EVENT No. 2.—10 clay birds: Tiernan 8, Jennings 6, Menke 5, J. W. Lyons 6, W. Nahley 3, Manning 8, Owen Mulcahey 8, Heyer 7.

EVENT No. 3.—Handicap sweepstakes, 5 live birds: Tiernan, 26 yards, 3; Menke, 26 yards, 4; Jennings, 27 yards, 4; C. Barlow, 26 yards, 2; Manning, 26 yards, 3; Nahley, 26 yards, 2; Brock, 25 yards, 2; Mulcahey, 25 yards, 1.

EVENT No. 4.—Same conditions: Tiernan, 26 yards, 4; Menke, 26 yards, 3; Jennings, 27 yards, 3; Barlow, 26 yards, 3; Manning, 26 yards, 2; Nahley, 26 yards, 3; Brock, 25 yards, 1.

EVENT No. 5.—3 live birds: Tiernan, 26 yards, 1; Menke, 26 yards, 3; Jennings, 27 yards, 3; Mulcahey, 27 yards, 2; Nahley, 26 yards, 2; Brock, 25 yards, 2.

EVENT No. 6.—4 live birds: Tiernan, 26 yards, 3; Jennings, 27 yards, 4; Mulcahey, 27 yards, 2; Nahley, 26 yards, 2.

EUREKA ROD AND GUN CLUB

A goodly number of the members of this recently organized club met on the grounds of the Bergen Rod and Gun Club at Flatlands, L. I., on April 19. The shooting was at targets and some excellent scores were made, as follows:

EVENT No. 1.—Club competition at 15 clay targets, 16 yards rise: James W. Graham 11, Milton F. Andrews 9, William H. Smith 13, George W. Brown 9, Louis G. Jenkins 15, Thomas W. Bowron 10, Henry P. McGuire 11, Henry J. Daniels 14, Richard T. McGiveney 7, John G. Wilson 12, Henry P. Morse 12.

EVENT No. 2.—Handicap sweepstakes, 10 clay birds: James W. Graham 9, Milton F. Andrews 8, William H. Smith 4, George Brown 7, Louis G. Jenkins 11, Thomas W. Bowron 6, Henry P. McGuire 5, Henry J. Daniels 9, Richard T. McGiveney 4, John G. Wilson 10, Henry P. Morse 7.

EVENT No. 3.—Same conditions: James W. Graham 7, Milton F. Andrews 6, William H. Smith 5, George W. Brown 5, Louis G. Jenkins 4, Thomas W. Bowron 8, Henry P. McGuire 6, Henry J. Daniels 5, Richard T. McGiveney 3, John G. Wilson 8, Henry P. Morse 5.

COLUMBIA SHOOTING ASSOCIATION

The third monthly tournament of this association was held at New Dorp, Staten Island, on April 19. Four events were decided, the last one being a team shoot between McKeown's "Target Smashers" and Ryan's "Shell Exploders," resulting in a victory for the "Target Smashers." The scores:

EVENT No. 1.—Club shoot at 10 clay birds, 16 yards rise: Edward J. Ryan 9, James W. Creighton 10, Peter B. McClure 8, Charles W. Gregory 7, Harry P. McKeown 8, Clarence L. Gordon 6, William J. Brown 8, Frederick H. Richardson 9.

EVENT No. 2.—10 singles: Ryan 9, Creighton 6, McClure 5, Gregory 8, McKeown 7, Gordon 6, Brown 4, Richardson 9.

EVENT No. 3.—Same conditions: Ryan 4, Creighton 6, McClure 5, Gregory 6, McKeown 8, Gordon 7, Brown 9, Richardson 7.

EVENT No. 4.—Team shoot, 10 singles per man:

McKeown's Target Smashers—McKeown, captain; [illegible] Brown 7, Richardson 5. Total 29.

Ryan's Shell Exploders—Ryan, captain, 9; Creighton 6, Gregory 5. Total 27.

NEWBURG ROD AND GUN CLUB

In the handicap event of this New York state club on April 18 Mr. Likely, with three birds added, was the winner, his score being 24, while Messrs. Stansbrough and Wood tied on 23 each for second place. The shooting was at unknown angles. The best score of the scratch men was made by Jas. L. Taylor, 21 out of 25. The scores in detail follow:

	Birds allowed
Taylor	0..	1110110111 1011111111 11011—21
Stansbrough	3..	0110111111 0110111111 11101—23
Wood	5..	1111101111 1000100111 11101—23
Likely	3	1111111110 1011101011 11111—21
H. C. H.	0..	1111101101 1110111010 00101—17
Taggart	4..	0111101110 0000001111 11111—20
Kissam	3..	0011110110 1011010111 01110—19

JEANNETTE GUN CLUB

Twenty members of this club took part in the 10 live bird competition for the badges of the club, at the Guttenburg racetrack, April 19. Mr. John H. Kroger was the winner of the gold badge in Class A, and W. P. Rinckhoff in Class B. The scores follow: C. N. Brunn 9, C. Bush 6, H. Ottem 9, C. F. Offermann 6, J. Vogts 7, J. Bohling 8, R. Debacher 7, H. D. Rottman 7, J. Hainhorst 7, F. Reichardt 9, J. Kroger 10, A. J. Christen 8, Label 6, Winter 7, C. Meyer 7, G. Hartung 5, C. Steffens 7, W. P. Rinckhoff 8, P. Karstens 4, H. Geides 7.

NORWAY, IA.—The two days' open shoot of the Norway Gun Club, held on April 16 and 17, passed off pleasantly for both visitors and managers. The attendance was not large, but what was lacking in numbers was made up in enthusiasm. Empire traps and targets were used. In attendance from outside were: Lobenstein, "Smith," Booth and "Jones" of Cedar Rapids; Cummings, Roberts, Kanepper and Rowland of Marengo, and "Gubben" of Randall. All purses were divided 50, 30 and 20. The winning scores were:

SHOOT No. 1.—10 singles: G. Peacock 10, Gubben 8, Pirie 7.

SHOOT No. 2.—10 singles: Gubben 9, G. Peacock —, Pirie 8.

SHOOT No. 3.—5 live birds: Pirie and Gubben each 4, G. Peacock 1.

SHOOT No. 4.—5 live birds: Gubben 5, Pirie 4, G. Peacock 1.

SHOOT No. 5.—10 single targets: Lobenstein, Gubben and Booth each 9, Jones, Smith and Pirie each 8, G. Peacock 7.

SHOOT No. 6.—15 singles: Lobenstein 15, Gubben 14, Smith and G. Peacock each 12.

SHOOT No. 7.—20 singles: Smith 19, Gubben 18, Lobenstein, G. Peacock and Jones each 16.

SHOOT No. 8.—7 live birds: Gubben 7, Smith and Pirie each 5, Lobenstein, Booth, G. Peacock, Jones and Tuttle each 3.

SHOOT No. 9.—5 singles and 5 pairs targets: Pirie 12, Gubben, Smith and G. Peacock each 11, Lobenstein 8.

SHOOT No. 10.—Miss and out at targets: G. Peacock 7.

SHOOT No. 11.—10 singles: Gubben and Jones 10 each, Pirie and G. Peacock 9 each, Lobenstein 8.

SHOOT No. 12.—4 live birds: Gubben 4, Pirie and Smith 3 each, Lobenstein 2.

SHOOT No. 13.—15 single targets, unknown angles: Jones 14, Lobenstein, Smith and Pirie 13 each, G. Peacock 9.

SECOND DAY

SHOOT No. 1.—10 single targets: G. Peacock, Rowland and Gubben 8 each, Roberts 7, Kanepper 6.

SHOOT No. 2.—10 singles: Gubben and G. Peacock 9 each, Kanepper and Roberts 8 each, Rowland 5.

SHOOT No. 3.—10 singles; Kanepper 10, Roberts and Gubben 9 each, G. Peacock 8.

SHOOT No. 4.—5 live birds: Cummings 4, G. Peacock and Roberts 3 each, Kanepper and Gubben 2 each.

SHOOT No. 5.—10 singles: Gubben 9, Kanepper, Roberts and G. Peacock 8 each, Cummings 3

SHOOT No. 6.—10 singles: Gubben and G. Peacock 9 each, Roberts 8, Kanepper 7.

SHOOT No 7.—10 singles: Kanepper and Smith 9 each, Gubben and G. Peacock 8 each, Roberts and Miller 7 each.

SHOOT No. 8.—15 singles: Gubben 13, Kanepper, Smith, Gus Peacock and Holden 12 each, Roberts and E. Peacock 11 each.

SHOOT No. 9.—7 live birds: Kanepper 7. Roberts 6, Gubben 5.

SHOOT No. 10.—7 singles and 4 pairs targets: Gubben 13, Pirie 12, G. Peacock and Kanepper 9 each.

SHOOT No. 11.—15 singles: Gubben 15, Kanepper, Roberts and Holden 12 each, G. Peacock 11.

G. P. CHRISTIANSON.

NEW ORLEANS, LA.—The Louisiana Gun Club held its second and third shoots of 1895 on April 17 and April 21. The scores made on the first of the above named dates are very ragged, owing in great part to a high wind. On the second date but a few participated, there being a particularly favored attraction at our fair grounds. Blue Rock targets and North's electric pull were used, all unknown angles. The scores on April 17 were:

	Birds allowed
"Nap"	0..	1101111100 0001000000 11000—10
Jefferson	1..	1111111110 1111101000 10100—18
Kaufman	0..	1111011001 0000000010 01101—11
S. Harris	5.	0101101100 0011101110 11000—18
George	3..	0011010000 0000100010 10000— 9
Nelson	4..	1110000000 0000000011 01110—12
T. Harris	4..	0111011101 0100011011 01011—19
Cousin	10..	0010000000 1100101010 00001—17
Saucier	3..	0000101111 0011000011 10111—16
More	3..	1101111101 1110111001 11100—21
Benedict	3..	1111110101 0111011010 10110—20

On April 21 the following scores were made:

	Birds allowed
"Nap"	0..	0111111010 0101011011 10110—16
Edgar Nott	3..	1111100111 0110111101 11111—23
P. S. Nott	4..	0001011011 1101100011 01101—18
Macmurdo	4..	1000100010 0010100101 10011—14
J. DeBlanc	4..	1111111111 0111101111 10110—25
Jefferson	1..	1101010011 1111101100 11111—19
Cousin	10..	0001000010 1001011110 11001—21
Geo. Miller	10..	0101110100 1100101000 10000—20
Benedict	3..	1110111011 1010100111 10011—20

Practice and pool shoots were afterward indulged in.

P. S. BENEDICT, Secy

HARTFORD, CONN.—The scores sent herewith were made at the medal shoot of the Colt Hammerless Gun Club on April 20, each man shooting at 25 single inanimate targets. As will be seen, Mr. Green made the highest score of anyone participating, and, of course, carried off the honors of the day.

Haskins	0100101010	0111101111 01101—15
Thompson	0011011000	1001000010 00100— 8
Willey	1111101110	1111111011 11011—21
Olmstead	1110101110	1111100110 11010—17
Kehoe	1001110110	1010111101 10101—16
Pitkin	1110111111	1101111111 01111—22
Cook	1101111011	1001111110 11111—20
Hills	1110010110	1110110101 01101—16
Foster	0011010100	1010001001 00101—10
Green	1110111111	1111111111 11011—23
Colt	1110100111	1010110110 10101—16
Alger	1101011001	1011011011 01011—16
C. Bailey	1001111010	1001101010 01010—13
A. Bailey	0110010101	1011001101 10101—14
House	0111100111	0110111111 11011—19
Goodwin	1001011011	1101111110 10101—17
Nichols	1010110010	1110110110 11010—15
Owen Treat	1101011011	0111101111 01111—17
Barnes	0001110101	0011[illegible]
Easton	0100101011	1000[illegible]
Carter	1010010100	1010010[illegible]

BELDING, MICH.—The scores which I forward herewith were made by members of the Belding Gun Club on April 2[illegible] shooting at 25 single targets.

N. A. Weider	1001101101 0111001111 11101—16
H. C. Page	1110010110 0111111011 11101—17
[illegible]	0010011111 0111100111 11110—17
[illegible]	0001101101 1111011111 11101—18
[illegible]	1111110011 1101111111 11110—21
[illegible]	0000000000 1011000010 00111— 7
[illegible]	0001001110 0010001100 10000— 8
[illegible]	1111111111 1111100110 11011—21
[illegible]	1100110111 1111111101 01011—19
[illegible]	0010010010 1001000000 00000— 5
Highy	1000101101 1001010110 10010—12
Spanoglc	1110111111 1111110111 11110—22

G. F. Smith, Capt.

Pueblo, Colo.—Scores as given below were made by members of the Pueblo Gun Club on April 18, the scratch men shooting at 25 single targets and the others being given a bird handicap. The contest was for the Ramsey medal. Scores:

	Birds shot at
Chubbuck	25	1011101101 1001011111 11111. .....—19
Killin	25	1011111011 1101001001 10001.......—15
West	31	1111101111 0110111001 0101010011 1—20
Belvilie	31	0110000010 1001011011 0001011000 0—12
Gray	25	0110010010 0110001000 01001.......— 9
Williford	25	0100010101 0100111000 10000.......— 9
Chew	25	0110001011 0110001000 11010 ......—11
Shorty	26	0000010110 1000000010 000001......— 6
Heirgood	25	0100000010 1110101101 00010.......—10
Morse	25	1101110111 1110000110 11011.......—17

L. G. Morse.

Marshall, Mich.—Members of the Marshall Gun Club held their regular weekly contest at Mark's Park on April 25, when the following scores were made.

Shoot No. 1.—25 single targets per man, known traps, unknown angles, for club badge.

Howell	1100001010 1111100100 10011—13
Besler	1111111011 0111111110 01111—21
Green	1011011010 1101110010 11111—17
Dr. Mi cbell	1011111110 1011111111 11110—21
Will Mitchell	0011111111 0001111111 11101—19

Mr. Besler and Dr. Mitchell tied for the badge on 21 each, and shot the tie off at 5 singles per man. Mr. Besier made a cicar score of five in the tie shoot and won, Dr. Mitchell missing his second tie bird.

Shoot No. 2.—5 pairs of targets: Besior 3, Howell 3, Green 5.

W. S. Besier.

Marshall, Ill.—The scores inclosed were made in practice on April 19, by members of the Marshall Gun Club.

Shoot No. 1.—Club contest, 25 single targets per man, known traps, unknown angles.

Miller	0101110111 1101000001 00100—12
Mitchell	1000010111 0011111111 10111—17
Howell	0110011110 1111011111 10001—17
Green	0110111010 1111111110 11111—20
Besler	0010011011 1111111111 10001—17

Shoot No. 2.—5 pairs per man: Besler 6, Miller 5, Green 4, Mitchell 3, Howell 3.

This was the first time our club members ever tried pairs and therefore they did not do as well on them as they will after they have had a litte practice.

W. S. Besier.

Answers to Correspondents

We are willing always to answer any question that we can answer and prescribe for dogs or other animals in these columns, but we can not answer questions or prescribe by mail. In all instances where it is necessary that a sick animal should be prescribed for by mail, we refer the owner to Professor R. J. Withers, No. 627 South Main Street, Los Angeles, Cal., to whom one dollar must be inclosed to pay for his services.

KENNEL

Bolton, Baltimore, Md.—Ans.—(1) In Vol. I of the English Fox Terrier Stud Book there is Bailiff (9) and Bailiff II (10); the latter, by Tarquin (387) out of Dahlia (544), was sire of Raby Tyrant; the former, whelped August, 1895, was by Buffer (74) out of Julep (686). (2) We cannot find in the stud book any dog named Old Deserter. Perhaps you mean Deserter (109), whelped 1872, by Tyrant (420) out of Nettle, by Spring—Gyp; no further information obtained. (3) Sybil was not registered, but we find Sybil II (979), by Deserter (109) out of Sybil (no breeding given). (4) Royal (5466 and E. 5940), imported by Messrs. L. & W. Rutherfurd, was a well-known winner in England and America; he was bred by W. Hulse, Nottingham, England, and was whelped in 1876; he was by Echo out of Cricket, by Trumps (Tartar—Nectar) out of Fairy II (Belgrave Jock—Nettle); Echo, by Artful (Pickle—Vene) out of Merry Girl (Lord Raglan—Vic). (5) Cannot find her. We hope the above will be of assistance to you. By the way, the above are all smooths. You did not say whether smooth or wirehaired, an omission which please rectify on the next occasion.

Reader, Kansas City, Mo.—Ans.—(1) Luck of the Goat (22901) was imported, and was by Luck of Edenhall out of Belle of Rhiwlas (Lord Sefton's Don—Mr. Robertson's Belle); Luck of Edenhall, by Drake (Mr. Garth's Rap—his Doll) out of Mr. Musgrave's Suil (Mr. Thomas Smith's Major—Nell). (2) Gertrude (3043) was by Snapshot (Rap—Judy) out of Elf, by Sensation (1261), out of Belle (1283). (3) The two others are not registered.

L. W. S., New Point, Ind.—(1) Pontiac (3494) is by Pride of the Border (192) out of Petrel (472), both imported. (2) Prue (E. 5774) was by Sam (E. 1433 out of Snake (E. 1561). (3) Both are very well bred; indeed their blood lines are very similar, Roderigo being the sire of one and Antonio (a son of Roderigo) the sire of the other, while their dams are of precisely the same blood on the sire's side. (4) We could not advise such close inbreeding.

F. W. W., Nashville, Tenn.—(1) Ans.—(1) Royal Duke, by Carlowitz (52) out of True (522), is registered; his number is 242. (2) Lady Argyle is not registered, but if she is the dam of your puppy it is hardly likely her own dam was Mr. Pilkington's Lill, for the latter was whelped about thirty years ago. (3) To register your puppy address Secretary of the American Kennel Club, 55 Liberty Street, New York; the fee is $1.

B. S. W., Lincoln, Neb.—Ans.—Lill R (21615) is by Turk (13899) out of Queen (11985). Turk is by Julien out of Spotty (75967); Julien, by Cæsar (Barry—Juno) out of Daphne II (Rousseau—Gretchen), no further information given. Queen is by Cantoni of Eudora (6158); Cantoni, by Napolson (Bayard—Mildred) out of Linda (Thor—Novice).

F. K., Pittsburg, Pa.—Ans.—The pointer bitch Flotsam, imported by Mr. Howard Hartley, is registered under number 4166. "By Sambo out of Diana" is the sum total of the information given about her breeding in the stud book

B. R., Lively Grove, Ill.—Ans.—(1) Count Gladstone and Glen were not imported; the former was bred by Mr. E. F. Weiss, at Cincinnati, and the latter by Mr. W. C. Howard, at St. Paul, Minn. (2) The others we do not know.

A. W. Z, St. Paul, Minn.—Ans.—Royal Prince, Royal Prince II, Royal Prince T, Royal Prince III and Royal Prince IV are all to be found in the stud book, but we cannot find one by Gladiator out of Western Belle.

A. C. B., McGregor, Ia.—Ans.—(1) Yes. (2) If the produce are smooth show them in the smooth classes; if they are wirehaired show them in the classes provided for that variety.

F. K., Milwaukee, Wis.—Ans.—The black poodle Parisian (32070) is registered, in Vol. XI, as: "Whelped January 10, 1890; black; breeder and pedigree unknown."

MISCELLANEOUS

F. H. C., Leamington, Ont.—The Leamington Gun Club last season shot semi-monthly for medals and prizes, at 25 targets per man. At the latter part of the season the management decided the last shoot of the season, which would be at 50 Blue Rocks, should decide the winner, i. e., the member making the highest average in the last shoot above his season's percentage to have the choice of prizes, and so on down. A made an average of 88⅓ per cent for the season. B made 65 per cent. for the season. In the final shoot A broke 48, average 96 per cent.; B broke 40, average 80 per cent. The management declared B the winner. It will be seen that B jumped from 65 to 80 per cent., and A from 88⅓ to 96 per cent. (1) Is this system of handicap fair to the experts of the club? (2) Should there not be a limit of percentage less than 100 per cent. to allow a shooter making 95 per cent. to win, if his score was not beaten? (3) Would it be any advantage to an amateur who who is now using a full-choke 12-gauge gun that places 70 per cent. of its load (1⅛ ounces of shot) in a 30-inch circle at 40 yards, to use a modified choke gun and use 1¼ ounces of shot? (4) Is it possible for a 12-bore, modified choke gun using 1¼ ounces of shot, at 38 yards, to make 100 per cent. on targets, allowing 16 yards rise? Ans. —(1) No, it is not, for the expert has not the opportunity to increase his percentage, if he shoots honestly throughout the season, that the amateur has. (2) No, we think not, for that would be favoring the expert, and thus be no improvement over the system mentioned above. The object of every club should be to classify or handicap its members so that in shooting for club prizes all may, as nearly as possible, stand on an equal footing, and this can be done by giving the weaker shooters a handicap in the number of birds they are to shoot at, making the experts shoot at a greater rise, adding dead birds to the scores of the amateurs, or making the experts shoot from unknown trap, unknown angles, while the amateurs shoot from known trap, unknown angles. (3) We think not. The increase in the size of the pattern of a modified choke gun over that of a full choke gun at 40 yards would not be very great, while the pellets on the outer edge of the circle would not have much killing force. (4) Yes, possible, if the gun were in the hands of a Heikes, a Van Dyke or some other trained expert, but hardly probable if used by such men as are simply regarded experts, meaning usually about 90 per cent. men.

H. T. D. W., Houston, Tex.—I am in a position to stock 20,000 acres adjacent to this city with game and to provide everything necessary for field trials or a trap shooting tournament, and I wish to know how to go to work to have something of the kind held here. Ans.—Write regarding the holding of field trials to Mr. T. M. Brumby, Marietta, Ga., secretary of Southern Field Trials Club; or P. T. Madison, Indianapolis, Ind., secretary of Continental Field Trial Club; and in regard to a shooting tournament correspond with Mr. Elmer E. Shaner, 122 Diamond Market, Pittsburg, Pa. Tell these gentlemen what you will do as an inducement for them to hold the trials or a tournament near your city and they will decide very quickly whether or not it will pay them to do so.

J. B., Kankakee, Ill.—What does it cost a club to become a member of the Illinois State Sportsmen's Association, and to whom and how shall application be made? Ans.—The membership fee is $5. Send your application, together with money, and a copy of your club's constitution and by-laws, to Mr. H. B. Meyers, Secretary Illinois State Sportsmen's Association, No. 148 Monroe Street, Chicago.

RIFLE

F. W., Chicago.—In how small a circle, if clamped in a vise, ought a .22-caliber rifle place five balls at 50 yards? Ans.—If the rifle is unable to move, and no currents of air interfere, the balls ought to be placed almost on top of one another, but experiments prove differently. Why, we will not attempt to say. Try it yourself, then try the rifle at the same distance with a muzzle rest only, and we trust you will have an abundance of food for thought for some time.

COURSING

E. M. F., Pinckney, Mich.—Ans.—(1) One time is as good as another, but there is nothing to be gained by it; while, on the other hand her value would be impaired. (2) We doubt if a spayed bitch or castrated dog would run its courses with the same fire and determination as otherwise.

Club Elections

Club Elections.—Secretaries and other officers of clubs not having previously done so will confer a favor by sending us the names of all such organizations, with a list of the officers elected for the current year.

At its annual meeting on April 12, the Forest City Gun Club of Savannah, Ga., elected the following gentlemen officers of the club for the ensuing year: President, E. J. Kieffer; vice-president, W. M. Davidson; secretary, C. A. Lamotte; treasurer, W. M. Davidson; executive committee, Henry Woeltjen, John Reiderman and Jno. F. Ulmer.

The South Side Gun Club of Lima, O., at its annual meeting on April 16, elected the following as officers of the club for the ensuing year: President, Wm. Ackerman; vice-president and captain, Frank Cornelius; secretary-treasurer, A. J. Morris; assistant secretary, F. L. Lamberton.

The Loogootee Shooting and Fishing Club was organized at Loogootee, Ind., on March 20 and the following gentlemen elected officers for the current year: President, C. S. Wood; secretary and treasurer, Dr. R. R. Braxtan.

The following gentlemen have been elected officers of the Asbury Park (N. J.) Gun Club for the ensuing year: President, James F. Edge; vice-president, Wm. Brown; secretary, Willis Applegate; treasurer, David Hulit.

The officers of the newly-organized Manhattan Club of Wichita, Kan., for the ensuing year, are as follows: President, C. E. Sawyer; vice-president, Charles Mosbacher; treasurer, Henry Schmitzler; secretary, Tod Speed.

Information Wanted

I should be pleased if some reader of the American Field would tell me through these columns how far a Smith & Wesson .32-caliber, five-inch barrel revolver will carry (not accurately). Also how far a Smith & Wesson .44-caliber, six and one-half inch barrel, Winchester model revolver will carry.

Zanesville, O. Inquirer.

Amusements

Schiller Theater.—The favorite actress, Miss Marie Wainwright, in "Daughters of Eve;" Thursday night souvenir night. A great pleasure to the very best theater-goers in Chicago and vicinity will be the return, next week, of those justly eminent dramatic stars, Frederick Warde and Louis James. These accomplished and popular actors are now universally recognized as representatives of that historic and brilliant record of dramatic art adorned by such magnetic stars as the elder Booth, Forrest, Edwin Booth, Lawrence Barrett, John McCullough, etc. They are always welcome to Chicago, and doubtless will again attract the large and appreciative audiences which made their visit last Winter a most exceptional and pronounced success. Frederick Warde and Louis James will be seen during the present engagement, commencing next Sunday evening, in that great American drama, made famous from its presentation by Lawrence Barrett. "Francesca da Rimini."

Columbia Theater.—The favorite comedian James T. Powers, in his new play, "The New Boy," assisted by a grand company. Usual matinees. Next week, the celebrated French comedienne Mme. Rejane, with company, scenery, properties and accessories from the Theater du Vaudeville, Paris. All the week except Saturday night, "Mme. Sans-gene;" Saturday night "Ma Cousine."

Royal English Winter Circus and German Water Carnival.—The last chance, for the coming five months, to see this great show; Jules Levy, the great cornetist, retained until the house closes Saturday night, May 4. Last nights of the great water carnival and all the wonders of artistic excellence.

Haymarket Theater.—Mr. Chauncey Olcott in his new play, "The Irish Artist." A play representing the better class of Irish people and their life. Next week, Wm Morris in "The Lost Paradise," its first production on the West Side.

Chicago Opera House.—"The Passing Show." The Frantz family draws largely. Next week a special attraction in Macart's dog and monkey. Matinee Wednesday.

McVicker's Theater.—A play of love and hypnotism, in its third week of success, Joseph Arthur's great comedy-drama, "Linsey Woolsey." Usual matinees.

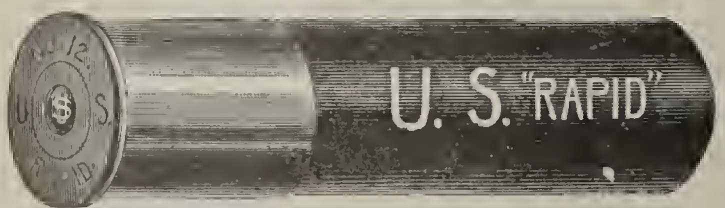
Grand Opera House.—Third week and immense success of Hoyt's new farce-comedy, "A Black Sheep:" Otis Harlan as "Hot Stuff." Usual matinees.

Madison Street Opera House.—"Seven Wishes and Sultan's Harem." Two big shows daily.

Lyceum Theater.—The Actor's Protective Union, all the week; 500 acts; change of artists daily.

The Lincoln.—"Young Mrs. Winthrop." Next week, "The White Squadron."

U. S. RAPID



SHOT SHELL

FOR NITRO POWDERS.

Penetration increased with pattern 15 per cent improved. Results same with every shell. None so regular ever produced before. Head of shell and battery cup one piece of metal. No gas escape, no balling of shot, no upsetting of charge.

AGENTS: [illegible] New York City. [illegible] San Francisco, Cal.

U. S. CARTRIDGE CO., Lowell, Mass.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS

Advertisers aro respectfully requested to obsorve the following rules governing the insertion of advertisements in theso columns:

CLASSIFICATION.—Strictly kennel advertisements—thoso which relate exclusively to dogs and to nothing else—cannot be placed under headiugs of "For Salo" or "For Sale or Exchange," but are subject to classification only under their proper kcunel headings. When two or more breeds of dogs are mentioned in one advertiscment, it destroys the possibility of giving it a distinctive headiug and it is therefore classified under "Miscellaneous." For this reason it is well to advertiso each breed separately.

If stud notices aro included in advertisements of dogs for sale the classificatiou giveu will be "Miscellaneous." Stud notices should be separate and distinct from other advertiscments so as not to couflict with proper classification.

The departments of "For Sale" or "For Sale or Exchange" are reserved for advertisements rclating in some way to sportsmen's goods or other articles of merchandise.

RATES.—The rate for advertisements under 'Wanted," "For Sale" or "For Sale or Exchange" is 3 cents per word each insertion. The name, address, iuitials and abbreviations are included and count as words.

The rate for advertisements under kennel headings is 25 cents per line for the first insertion, aud 15 ccuts for each additional consecutive insertion. Estimate seven words to a line unless the words are unusually long. If display type is used the rate is $3.50 per inch for the first insertion and $2.50 per inch for each additional consecutive insertion. Special rates are given for displayed advertisements running three months or longer. Schedule will be mailed on application.

Remittances to cover full cost should invariably accompany advertisements. If too mnch is remitted we will refund you what is overpaid.

Advertisers will favor us greatly by writing their advertisements plainly, using separate sheets of paper. Copy should reach us by Tuesday of each week to insure insertion in that week's issue.

WANTED

Advertisements under this head inserted for Three Cents for each word. The money must be sent with the advertisement. See "Notice to Advertisers,"

WANTED—Posltion as dog trainer or charge of kennels by experienced Englishman; can give as reference the best known judge of field trials in England; age 32, height 6 feet 2 inches; strong and active. WM. DAWSON, Osceola, Ia. 18*

WANTED—A thorough broken English or Gordon setter dog, not over three years oid; must he stanch in field aud a good retriever: give full description, with price. Address MAX LOSSON, Winona, Mlun. 18*

WANTED—Position as dog trainer or to preserve and raise game; life experience in Europe and America; highest references. PROFESSIONAL, care AMERICAN FIELD, New York office. 19*

WANTED—Long-haired St. Bernard bitch; must be registered and cheap for cash. Address, with full information, BOX 191, Marietta, Ga. 17

WANTED—Live pigeons; must be old birds; squabs not wanted. Address JOHN WATSON, Grand Crossing, Ill. 23-21-tf

WANTED—Sportsmen who want an outing to send for pamphlet of Nimrod Hall, Va. App'y MANAGER. 3*

LIVE foxes wauted. Address H. F. WARNEKE, Aiken, S. C. 43-11-tf

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE

Advertisements under this head (excepting Kennel advertisements, which must go under their proper department) inserted for Three Cents for each word. The money must be sent with the advertisement.

HANDSOME w., b. and t. setter doz by Count Gladstone IV (Count Nobie—Ruby's Girl), Belle of Blue Ridge (Roder.go—Belle of Piedmont), two years old; untrained, but fast, wide ranger and independent hunter; $60 cash, or exchauge for lady's high-grade bicycle. SECRETARY, Box 855, Cincinnati, O. 19

FOR SALE — Or exchange; want shotguns, trained setters, pointers, fox, rabbit and coon dogs, fancy pigeons; some fine beagle and foxhouud puppies cheap; inclose stamp, naming wants. FIELES & BRO., Christiana, Pa. 21

TO EXCHANGE—For light hammerless high-grade gun, high-bred English setter dog, son of old Van Buren of Warsaw, Ind.; great chicken dog, stroug and steady. Address LOCK BOX 16, Shannon, Ill. 18*

MY English setter Nell, broken, and 12-gauge high grade Lefever gun, almost new; anything but dogs. NILEY PHILLIPS, Maquoketa, Ia. 19

SMOOTH St. Bernard bitch puppy, thoroughbred, 4 months old, for pneumatic, boat or offers. L. T. GREENFIELD, Pittsburg, Pa. 18*

FOR SALE

Advertisements under this head (excepting Kennel advertisements, which must go under their proper department) inserted for Three Cents for each word. The money must be sent with the advertisement.

LINNDALE STOCK FARM AND GAME PRESERVE—Eggs for hatching from pure Mongollan pheasants, fresh and fertile; golden and silver pheasants, the most beautiful birds living for yards and lawns, $5 per setting; only a limited number to spare; pure brown Leghorns and Plymouth Rock eggs $2 per setting; the only fowls worth keeping; Jersey cattle of the finest strains; fresh cows of superior milk and butter strains always on hand at moderate prices; we keep the Pekin bantams in large numbers; the only artificial mother for pheasant eggs, $1.50. W. L. GARDINER, Norwalk, Ohio. 19

FOR SALE—Light draft twin-screw steam yacht Sanibel; length 61 feet, beam 15 feet, draft light, 20 inches, with coal, water, etc., 2 feet; in commission one year, used in Florida; cabin, three staterooms, bath and water closet forward; two rooms, pantry, ice box, galley, water closet and accommodations for four men aft; sails, awnings, boats, etc., etc., fully equipped. Apply 16 EXCHANGE PLACE, Room 1, fifth floor, New York City. 18

FOR SALE—Snider hammerless, 10-ga., 8 lbs. 4 oz., 3-inch drop, 14-inch stock, 30-inch barrels this gun has a first-class local reputation as a shooter, is elegantly carved and good as new; cost new $175 and first check for $75 gets it; a snap; reason for selling. I have too many guns to care for. W. B. LINELL, Box 198, Pontiac, Ill. 43-7-tf

FOR SALE

Advertisements under this head (excepting Kennel advertisements, which must go under their proper department) inserted for Three Cents for each word. The money must be sent with the advertisement.

BEAGLES—Have uow ready for mailing cabinet size photographs of Ch Frank Forest, Ch. Roy K, Lee III, Directum, Base, Buckshot, Ch. Lonely, Ch. Lou, Norah K and Trillah at $1 per set; extra large photo "Dinner Hour at Rockland Beaglo Kennels," $1 extra; price is cost; beagles for sale. H. L. KREUDER, Nanuet, N. Y. 23

NOTHING like Perfection Mange and Eczema Cure; keeps your dog'a coat in prime condition; not greasy or poisonous; ask your dealer; kills fleas, etc.; 50c. A. G. SOISTMANN, Nicetown, Philadelphia. Pedigree blanks for the asking. 43-12-tf

12-GAUGE Parker hammerless bush gun, $100 grade, pistol grip, Damascus steel, finely engraved, 6¾-26½-14, right cyliuder, left modified cylinder, perfect condition; price $50 cash. J. F. RUSSELL, Olneyville, R. I. 18*

FOR SALE—The schooner-yacht Palmer, 104 feet 3 inches water line, iu perfect order and condition with complete inventory. For particulars address 16 EXCHANGE PLACE, Room 1, fifth floor, New York City. 18

ON SALE—Most costly 12-gauge Scott ejector ever imported, condition perfect as new; $220 cash; also 12-gauge Scott hammerless, non-ejector, cost $175, cash $60. Particulars from BOX 104, Lawrence, Mass. 18*

FOR SALE—New Greener ejector trap gun, 12 30-14½-2¾-1⅝, 7 7-16 pounds, both barrels ful choke. For price, etc., write to DAVID LONGENECKER, 701 Betz Building, Philadelphia, Pa. 18*

FOR SALE—Or exchange, modern marine engines and boilers, both new and second-hand. Address THATCHER A. PARKER, Terre Haute, Ind. 43-13-tf

TROTTERS, saddle horses, Shetlands, Jersey cattle, bird dogs and fancy poultry; write for catalogue. FAIRVIEW STOCK FARM, Athens, O. 20

VICTOR WHEEL, model 1894, good as new, has not been ridden over forty miles; bargain for cash. FRANK DIEMER, Palmyra, Mo. 19*

FOR SALE—Francotte hammerless gun, good as new, cost $125; first $35. Address E., care AMERICAN FIELD, Chicago. 18*

FOR SALE — Hammond typewriter, almost new, $55. Address I GOODWIN, Room 16, 31 N. Clark St., Chicago. 20

WINCHESTER repeating shotgun, 12-ga., 1893 model, in good condition, $15. FRED J. BAKER, Holyoke, Mass. 18*

HIGH-CLASS pedigree blanks, 7 generations, bond paper. CHAUTAUQUA KENNELS, Box 914, Chicago. 42-19-tf

FOR SALE—One share Triton Club (Canada); price $125. Address TRITON, Box 555, Washington, D. C. 19*

FOR SALE—Deer, jack-rabbits, prairie dogs, peafowls, squirrels, etc. CHAS. PAYNE, Wichita, Kan. 21*

FOR SALE—New hammerless trap gun, 10-ga., 30, 8 pounds, $29. BOX 324, Cromwell, Conn. 18*

FOR SALE—Pheasant eggs, English and Mongolian. J. A. DURRELL, Pleasant Ridge, O. 18*

PEDIGREE BLANKS — J. S. C. THOMPSON, Manhattan, Kan. 40-17-tf

WHERE TO GO

Bear, Elk and Moose Hunting

Parties wishing a guide for an outing and hunting expedition in an excellent hunting country where elk, antelope, deer, bears, moose and mountain sheep abound, which will be guaranteed; also excellent trout fishing with grand mountain scenery, in close proximity to Jackson's Lake and the Grand Tetons, with first-class horses and outfit furnished at reasonable prices. Address JAMES S. SIMPSON, Jackson's Hole, Marysvale, Wyo. 19*

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

ENGLISH SETTERS

ALLIE FURNESS (Monk of Furness—Blade's Dart), in whelp to a Roderigo dog; Allie is beautifully broken, handsomely marked and is a bench show winner; also Hope's Rhœbe (Gath's Hope—Mai Alcorn), very handsome, fast, wide ranger; should make valuable bitch; prices very low, quality considered. CORINTH KENNEL, Corinth, Miss. 45 17-tf

WILL EXCHANGE—Handsome English setter two years old, one sea on's handling, promising hunter, sound, sired Ch. Breeze Gladstone—imported bitch, for thoroughly trained English setter preferred; stanch, at least two seasons' work, thorough worker in field aud first-class retriever. Address DR. PAUL CAMPBELL, Cooperstown, N. Y. 18*

MAKE cash offer for my grand English setter bitch, Field's Cossette (25248), by Ch. Jean Val Jean—Sheena Van; thoroughly brokon by W. W. Titus; a fast, stylish worker, a good looker, excellent disposition and a great brood bitch, litter sister to Atlanta, the field trial winner; she cost me $150. CHAS. T. FIELD, Harbor, O. 43-16-tf

THE beautiful orange belton bitch Bessie Buckellew (A. 34519), by Ch. Buckellew—Vic Vic; Bessie is four years old, partly broken and a superb brood bitch, being the mother of the first and third prize winners in the puppy class at New York bench show 1894; price $25. W. H. McQUOID, Middletown, N. Y. 18*

READ THIS—I lost my kennel yards during the fire; as I am crowded with dogs will sell without reserve puppies by Gleam's Sport and Gleam's Pink out of Roderigo, Gladstone's Boy, Toledo Blade and Count Gladstone bitches at half price; also three high-class broken bitches. A. M. YOUNG, Manchester, Tenn. 21

FOR SALE—Nick Gladstone, finely marked b., w. and t. English setter, two years old, sired by Ch. Breeze Gladstone; bitch May F Bondhu, by Gus Bondhu, one season's handling, very promising hunter, fine retriever; price $25. E. D. STOCKER, Cooperstown, N. Y. 18*

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

ENGLISH SETTERS

I HAVE for sale setter puppies by Count Roderigo out of Ben Hill, Paul Gladstone, Antonio and Roderigo bitches, ranging from 8 to 12 weeks of age; price $20 for dogs, $15 for bitches, subject to the usual conditions upon which I sell. OLD DOMINION, White Post, Va. 42-25-tf

FOR SALE—Puppies and young dogs by Gladstone's Boy out of my best brood bitches. Also several high-bred brood bitches and broken dogs. Write for what you want. No trouble to answer letters and furnish information. J. SHELLEY HUDSON, Covington, Ky. 42-17-tf

FOR SALE—A few English setter puppies, whelped January 28, 1895, by Cinch, he by Roderigo—Bo Peep; dam Huppey Gladstone, she by Gladstone's Boy—Latonia; will exchange one for Chesapeake or spaniel dog. A. A. LAVELL, Shell Lake, Wis. 18*

TWO black, white and tan setter bitch puppies, 10 months, choicely bred; all the above are in splendid condition and guaranteed not gunshy. Send for circular; prices low; will send on approval to responsible parties. C. G. STODDARD, Dayton, O. 18

FOR SALE—Six dogs and two bitches, born March 12, sire by Rodrigo, dam a granddaughter of Rodrigo, beautifully marked black and white; dogs $15, bitches $10. For pedigree, etc., address L. S. EDDINS, Sedalia, Mo. 19*

FANNY G (32869), b. and w., 2½ years, partly broken, soon in season, make a splendid brood bitch, $25; b. and w. dog, 11 months, first-class stock, points and full of hunt, $20. JOHN OSTLER, Methuen, Mass. 18*

DERBY PUPPIES—Some fine young Llewellin puppies 13 months old, over distemper, over gunshyness; have been run in the fields every day; just the thing for Derby entries. W. B. WELLS, Chatham, Ont. 20

FOR SALE—A stud dog by the great Roderigo; he is 19 months old, or would exchange him for a bitch by Roderigo. For price and particulars address W. B. LINELL, Box 198, Pontiac, Ill. 43-9-tf

FOR SALE—Four dogs and one bitch puppy, b., w. and t., by Schuylkill Nat (Nat Goodwin—Floss P) out of Edgemark's Bisque; write for pedigree. LEON E. LEWIS, Mahanoy City, Pa. 19*

TROY GLADSTONE (24681), Wale Bessie (24683), b., w. and t. and lemon and white puppies; black eyes and noses; whelped February 4; $8; beauties. W. P. STONE, Harlan, Ia. 18

KEATING'S DON (36592), (Lord Luelfer—Jessie Warwick), Elkton Lady (36016), (Flint Gladstone—Pembroke Doll) puppies. J. F. BOYLE, 6426 Aberdeen St, Chicago. 18*

FOR SALE — Two English setter puppies, whelped September 13, 1894, sire Ch. Breeze Gladstone—Fanny Noble. W. G. SMITH, Marydell, Md. 21

DERBY AGE PUPPIES (two litters), by Count Gladstone IV out of Roderigo bitches, choicest markings. W. E. SMALL, Corinth, Miss. 43-15-tf

WRITE to KING GRAPHIC KENNELS for list of English setters. New Castle, Pa. 43 18-tf

ST. BERNARDS

Rough St. Bernards

PETER VON MULHEIM, prize dog, got three first prizes and challenge cup Berlin, 1892, first prize and cup Braunschweig and Spaa 1893; born May, 1891 (dam Turka Winterthur I—II Berlin Spaa). Victor, prize dog, born July, 1893; never shown. The beautiful and valuable bitches Herza, Daisy, Freya, born July, 1893, never shown (dam Nora III, three prizes Berlin, pedigree Ch. Bayard—Torrone); sire of all above the celebrated Switzerland, winner Ch. Grossglockner. The prize bitch N N, best pedigree, born June, 1891; got first prize youth class and second German team class Berlin, 1892. The two dogs are accustomed to house, ladies and children, the bitches to kennel; all are suitable for stud and showing; white and bright orange, black shaded faces, very tall, massive boues and grand heads, straight legs and hair, very good and soft tempered, all in best health and condition. Price for all six (dogs and bitches) to a very good home and to clear the kennel, $900 free New York, U. S. A. Full particulars, pedigree, photos, sent by 18 MR. R. NICKAU, Brewery, Leipzig, Germany.

FOR SALE—

DUKE OF LINCOLN (34142)

The best St. Bernard living, winner of 51 first and special prizes, two firsts Crystal Palace, Bristol, Liverpool, Harlaens, first Leeds, Preston, Newcastle, Rochdale, Halifax, York, Darlington, Grimsby, Thirsk, Durham, Bingley, Goole, Pittsburg, Boston, etc.; sire of Duke of Lincoln F, winner of 10 firsts and specials; also Lady Rosebery and others. EDWARD BOOTH, 107 W. 37th St., New York. 18

GRAND St. Bernard puppies for sale; three bitches two months old, sired by the great prize winner Ch. Melrose, dam Lady Findern, that grand daughter of Sir Bedivere; they are full sisters to Duke Wadsworth, the winning dog puppy at the late Chicago show; these puppies are sure to make winners. THOS. R. HARTLEY, Toulon, Ill. 19

FOR SALE—Litter St. Bernard puppies: sire, Ch. Grand Master (28887), by Ch. Hesper (15169) and Princess Gilda (11938); dam, Juliet (25599), by Ch. Victor Joseph (6884) and Ursula III (11947); all nicely marked; whelped March 25, 1895. C. E. CHRISTEN, care Toledo Commercial, Toledo, O. 18*

FOR SALE—Bitches in whelp to our famous Lawrence Garza; also young stud dog. ILLINOIS ST. BERNARD KENNELS, Streator, Ill. 21*

COLLIES

SACRIFICE IN COLLIES—To wind up partnership our whole kennel, including many noted prize winners, is offered at lowest prices. Apply for list and prices. McEWEN & GIBSON, Byron, Ont. 18

COLLIES AT $10—Puppies from Champ. Christopher, Ch. Metchley Wonder strain, also older stock. J. L. LINCOLN, Union Club, Chicago. 43-tf

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

POINTERS

FOR SALE—Cheap, choice breeding, seven pointer puppies, males, sire Bang Bang's Boy (12335), by Bang Bang (4022); Bang Bang's Boy is thoroughly broken, has a grand nose, fine style, good looker and a rapid mover; the dam is just as good: the blood combination is Bang Bang, Craft, Temptation, Faust, Sensation, Beaufort. Write. From $10 up. CHAS. E. JOHNSON, West Troy, N. Y. 18

FOR SALE—Two liver and white pointer dog puppies, 10 months, by Trinket's Coin (Croxteth—Trinket)—Robert's Nellie (Bracket—Robert's Trinket); two pointer bitches, 13 months, by Trinket's Coin—Lightfield Blithe, liver and white ticked. Send for circular; prices low; will send on approval to responsible parties. C. G. STODDARD, Dayton, O. 18

BEAUTIFULLY marked liver and white ticked dog puppy, 6 months old, by Ch. Pontiac—Topsy Wagg (A. 27288); Topsy Wagg is half sister to field trial winners Faustina and Lucy, and granddaughter of Beppo III and England's great dog, Ch. Wagg; price $25. W. H. McQUOID, Middletown, N. Y. 19*

FOR SALE—I still have a brace of Strideaway—Hops II pointer puppies, born January 4; great Derbys for next year; Hops was a sister to Rip Rap; I sold the other litter at $100 each; will sell these at $50 each as I have no room for them. P. T. MADISON, Indianapolis, Ind. 43-11-tf

FOR SALE—A double-nosed English pointer, 2½ years old, stanch to point and shot, a tender retriever by land and water, a phenomenal bird finder and guaranteed: price $35. THOS. BARKLAY, 1887 W. 6th St., Cincinnati, O. 18*

AT $10 each, two as fluely bred pointers as live, 9 months old, liver and white, just right to break, by Beppo III (7832)—Belle of Ossian (31895): field and bench winners on both sides. C. A. PAETZEL, Hope, Ind. 43-18-tf

LITTLE NED—Pearl's Dot dog and bitch, one year old; are remarkable youngsters; I can recommend these puppies to anyone wanting a Derby entry for this year. GEO. E. GRAY, Appleton, Minn. 19

FIVE finely marked dog puppies, 9 weeks old, by Watson's Cyclone and out of a well-bred and broken bitch; this is a choice lot and are full of hunt; now $10 each. Address BOX 162, Geneva, Ill. 18

FOR SALE—Cheap, prize winning liver and white pointer bitch, Fannie Kirk (No. 32917 A. K. S. B.). For extended pedigree and full description address J. G. F. HOLSTON, Zanesville, O. 18

DOG PUPPIES, one by Strideaway, dam by Ossian—Hops II, year old, fine, $40; other same dam, sire by King Don—Patti M II, 4 months, $20. O. H. MORDEN, Columbus, Ind. 18*

YOUNG POINTER DOG, trained, retriever, price $40; make offer. Address W. G. PARKER, 7 Madison St., Memphis, Tenn. 19*

FOR SALE—Three bitches, one dog puppy, out of Susie Bang—Young Brown Stout. A. MORRIS, Box 540, Rochester, N. Y. 18*

WRITE to KING GRAPHIC KENNELS for list of pointers. New Castle, Pa. 43-18 tf

FOR a bargain in pointer puppies address DR. BOWMAN, Alsey, Ill. 18*

POODLES

MEADOWMERE KENNELS

MILO (30101)
Champion of America.

Southampton, L. I., N. Y., breeders and importers of

French Poodles

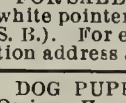
(Black curly coated only); first prize winners New York, Boston, Chicago, Philadelphia, 1893-4.

A GRAND LOT OF DOGS FOR SALE

For catalogues price lists and stud cards apply to NEW YORK CITY AGENCY, 13 William St., Room 1006.

FRENCH POODLES—Black curly coated; four beautiful litters of puppies for sale from imported stock and prize winne s at Detroit, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and Louisville, 1894; also two males and two females, six months; handsome specimens, and one brown female two years old, winner 3rd prize New York, 1894. CLARENCE S. WELDY, Tamaqua, Pa. 20*

IRISH SETTERS



Irish Setters at Stud.—Imported Clairemont Patsy, Flash of Clairemont, (Ch. Elcho Jr. x Nino), and Chief Red Cloud. Great Prize Winning Blood. Send for Circulars. G W. Hamilton, Centreville, Kansas.

IRISH SETTER PUPPIES for sale, by Ch. Kildare (champion Irish setter dog of America and sire of Queen Vic, champion Irish setter bitch of America), stud fee $25. Also English setter and Chesapeake Bay puppies of the finest strains. Send for catalogue containing photos of celebrated stud dogs and bitches. OAK GROVE KENNELS, Moodus, Coun. tf

FOR SALE—Handsome dark red Irish setter bitch, 18 months old, H.C. at late New York show, Ch. Kildare—Young Juno; only $15; bargain for someone; will be in season soon. G. LANGRAN, 138 Nepperham Ave., Yonkers, N. Y. 19*

FOR SALE—Two large, handsomo Irish setter dog puppies, whelped December 13, 1894; strong in Imp. Finglas and Elcho blood. A [illegible] Shell Lake, Wis.

BLOODHOUNDS

GENUINE imported stock, no [illegible] America; Imp. Buccaneer, winner in [illegible] and America, for sale; Jack Shepard, by [illegible] —Rosemary, winner of 21 first prizes, in [illegible] Inclose stamp for photo and prices. ROOKWOOD KENNELS, Lexington, Ky. 19

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

TERRIERS

Fox Terriers,

"THOROUGHBREDS"

For circular apply to

BEVERWYCK KENNELS

P. O. Box 6, Albany, N. Y.

39-8-52

FOX TERRIERS—Imported prize winner and stud dog Holster (A. K. C. S. B. 29311); several brood bitches, bitches in whelp and puppies combining the blood of Ch. Dominie, Stipendiary, Ch. New Forest, etc., cheap to clear. BANBURY KENNELS, 410 E St. N. E., Washington, D. C. 43-18-tf

BLACK AND TAN TERRIER FOR SALE—Cheap, for want of room, the bitch Rochelle Doushka (35609), by Ch. Broomfield Sultan—Ch. Meersbrook Maiden, whelped August 17, 1894; a bargain. JAMES B. THOMPSON, Yazoo City, Miss. 18

FOR SALE—Litter wirehaired foxterrier puppies by Cribbage—Hill Hurst Pansy (Brittle—Petition), whelped December 26; dogs $35, bitches $25; all registered A. K. C. and well marked. DR. JAMES FERRIS BELT, Wilmington, Del. 43-18 tf

FOR SALE—The high-class Irish terrier stud and show dog Hazard, winner of over thirty prizes in England; also an imported brood bitch by Irish Ambassador. HUGUENOT KENNELS, New Rochelle, N. Y. eow-43-25*

FOX TERRIER brood bitches and puppies for sale, the property of Messrs. L. & W. Rutherfurd. For stud cards, etc., address DONALD MUNRO, Manager, Allamuchy, Warren Co., N. J. 39 7-tf

FOR SALE—Fox terrier puppies; also bitch puppy 7 months old, by Seacroft Avenger—Dusky McGregor (Dusky Trap—Blemton Consequence). POCKET CITY KENNELS, McGregor, Ia. 18*

WIRE-HAIRED fox terriers and black and tan terriers, best breeding; mature stock and puppies. H. T. FOOTE (Rochelle Kennels). Box 666, New Rochelle, N. Y. 43-18-tf

FOR SALE—Irish terriers, prize winners, stud dogs, brood bitches and young stock. ANGLO-AMERICAN KENNELS, Toon & Thomas, 4 Dearborn St., Salem, Mass. 19

FOR SALE—Three litters pure white bull terrier puppies of best possible breeding; panic prices; write me. H. FRED CHURCH, Taunton, Mass. 19*

FOR SALE—Several first-class bred fox terriers, including three bitches in whelp. MAD RIVER FOX TERRIER KENNELS, Springfield, O. 19

FOR SALE—Cheap, two well-bred fox terriers, dog and bitch, not related. RUSTIC KENNELS, 1830 State St., Chicago. 19

FOR SALE—20 fox terrier bitch puppies cheap to close them out. HOTFOOT KENNELS, Decorah, Iowa. 19*

BULL TERRIERS—Stud dogs, brood bitches and puppies. F. L. DEVER, 316 Illinois Ave., Peoria, Ill. 43-17-tf

FOX TERRIERS—Stud dogs, brood bitches and puppies. AUDUBON KENNEL, Lockport, Ill. 22*

FOR SALE—Skye terriers $10, for Christmas; Yorksbires in February. SEEBACH, Peru, Ill. tf

BLACK AND TAN, Irish and fox terriers. F. H. HOYT, Sharon, Pa. 43-9-tf

SPANIELS

COCKERS—A grand lot of young puppies and young stud dogs; also several young brood bitches, prize winners, in whelp to Ch. Black Duke and other noted sires. GEORGE DOUGLAS, Woodstock, Ontario. 24

COCKER SPANIELS—Special sale of young stock and brood bitches; prices low. HANDSOME BROOK KENNEL, Franklin, N. Y. 42-12-tf

COCKER SPANIEL PUPPIES from Coonie by Prince Obo, Black Beauty, Brock by Imp. Brock, and Dora. CHAS. J. BROOK, Atkinson, Neb. 19*

IMPORTED and native champion bred cockers, all colors, $15; stamp. REHAM KENNELS, Omaha, Neb. 43-15-tf

BEAGLES

SEVERAL good bitches in whelp to our champion stud dogs, Bannermau and Fitzhugh Lee; also puppies and young stud; prices reasonable and quality guaranteed; stamp for catalogue. GLENROSE BEAGLE KENNELS, Orland, Me. 43-14-tf

I WISH to let breeders of beagles know that I will take and train beagles for field trials this Fall; also beagles boarded and hunted at very reasonable rates. BATAVIA BEAGLE KENNELS, Scott P. O., Wis. 19*

BEAGLE—Do you want one? Full pedigree, well trained. E. G. EATON, Athens, O. 19*

GREYHOUNDS

ITALIAN GREYHOUND

ADONIS

In stud, fee $10; winner of many first prizes in A. K. C. shows; a typical dog in weight, in color, in form, in points; pronounced by the leading experts the best Italian greyhound alive to-day. Princess Bonnie, my crack brood bitch, has a litter of three fine puppies by Adonis 8 weeks old; healthy and in fine condition; will sell two bitches. W. G. BENHAM, 77 Wilson Ave., Columbus, Ohio. 18-22

A VERY choice litter of puppies (Ch. Gem of the Season—Chlg. Wild Rose), now ready to ship. TERRA COTTA KENNELS, Toronto, Canada. 20

CHESAPEAKES

...ined Chesapeakes ... record: 1st West... ...elphia, Boston and ... Ch. Cleveland ... Rose (32897), only ...nce; prices low as ...ages. B. ALTON 43-10-tf

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

MASTIFFS

MASTIFFS FOR SALE—A number of puppies out of my winning stud dogs at prices from $35 to $50; these are as well bred as is possible to get and I think will make winners. CHAS. E. BUNN, Peoria, Ill. 42-26-tf

ENGLISH MASTIFF PUPPIES from registered stock. PLAZA KENNELS, Piqua, O. 43-16-tf

FOXHOUNDS

FARM-RAISED fox and rabbit dogs, guaranteed stayers or money refunded. J. H. MILLER, Christiana, Pa. 20*

PURE Goodman foxhounds for sale at all times. BOURBON KENNELS, North Middletown, Ky. 40-20-tf

WOLFHOUNDS

RUSSIAN WOLFHOUNDS—A very choice litter of puppies sired by Ch. Argoss, now ready to ship. TERRA COTTA KENNELS, Toronto, Can. 20

GREAT DANES

FOR SALE—Two splendid litters of puppies of prize winning stock. HERCULES KENNEL, Ottawa, Ill. 18

MISCELLANEOUS

St. Bernard Puppies

Three litters of blue bloods for sale, quality the finest in America.

DOGS IN THE STUD—Alton Jr, Altoneer, Melrose King, Jim Blaine.

MELROSE KENNELS,

E. H. Moore, MELROSE, MASS. 43-15-tf

DOGS! DOGS! DOGS!

Less than panic prices. If you want to get a first-class dog of the following breeds cheap write us and we will give you a bargain:

Mastiffs, St. Bernards, Newfoundlands, bull, fox, Skye, Scotch and Yorkshire terriers, setters, pointers, beagles and pugs. Toy black and tan terriers a specialty and a grand lot of collies cheap. In fact for a first-class dog of any breed you cannot do better than with us.

N. B.—A grand lot of rabbit dogs on hand.

CEDAR KENNELS,
42-17-tf 135 S. 8th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

SELLING OUT!

For sale, the dogs belonging to the well-known Seacroft Kennels, including champions, wolfhounds and fox terriers, stud dogs, bitches in whelp and young stock; winners and fit for the keenest company; also two Scotch terrier brood bitches and some great collies by Ch. Southport Perfection. Write for illustrated catalogue, inclosing two stamps. THOS. W. TURNER, Manager, Essex, Mass. 19

We have a fine litter of

Collie Puppies

For sale by Ch. Christopher (21675), out of Dorcas (27756), she by Ch. Wellesbourne Charlie; also some fine

Irish Terriers

By our new stud dog, John Briggs (35584). CHRISTOPHER and WELLESBOURNE CHARLIE at stud. CHESTNUT HILL KENNELS, Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, Pa.

HOUNDS

Fine h., w. and t. foxhound dog with lots of experience; also seven puppies by him out of Avent bitch, all workers; also two beagle bitches by Frank Forrest and Tony Weller; fine rabbit dogs. Best offer takes them as we are going out of hounds. ELDRED KENNEL, 13 Dock Street, Philadelphia. 43-17 tf

WANTED!

Any sportsman wanting first-class broken and unbroken setters or pointers can get what they want from me; new list now ready.

T. G. DAVEY, London, Ont.

DOGS FOR SALE.

If you want to buy a dog of any kind write for prices to

J. HOPE,
39-20-52t 29 N. 9th St., Phila., Pa.

FOR SALE—A setter bitch puppy by Diomed—Blue Ridge Belle, whelped September 5, 1894, color white, lemon ticked, dark eyes and nose, very strong, quick and promising; also dog and bitch pointer puppies by Strideaway—Beulah III, whelped March 18, 1895; very handsome puppies, liver and white, only four in litter. Address JOHN S. WISE, 44 Broad St., New York. 21

DOGS FOR SALE—St. Bernards, mastiffs, Newfoundlands, pointers, setters, spaniels, pugs, all kinds of terriers. I make a specialty of game pit and show bull terriers and Yorkshire terriers; dogs and puppies of the above on hand at prices to suit the times; satisfaction and safe delivery guaranteed. EXCHANGE KENNELS, office 2312 Walnut St., Philadelphia, Pa. 44-6

FOR SALE—A beautiful dog and bitch, February 28, black and white, combining Lady Margaret, Duke of Hesseo, King of Kent and Hops; two dogs January 6, and three dogs and one bitch January 19, by Rod H; Stanch George, Cid and St. Blaise in the stud, very low; all for sale, pointers and setters. J. R. PURCELL, Gainesville, Va. 43-16 tf

TRAINED dogs on bears, coons, rabbits. Also English bloodhounds, man trailers. GREENDALE KENNEL, Kensington, Ohio. 42-22-tf

POINTERS AND SETTERS—Selling out; inclose stamp. LUKE W. WHITE, Fredericksburg, Va. 18*

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

THE KINGSTON KENNELS, Kingston, Ont., will send their new descriptive price list to all applicants; it contains some grandly bred setters, fox and Irish terriers and beagles. 18

ST. BERNARDS AND PUGS—Stud dogs, brood bitches and fine puppies. Fair prices. Established 1877. CHEQUASSET KENNELS, Lancaster, Mass. 33-20-tf-eow

DOG TRAINING

K. 9 KENNELS—Pointers and setters, educated for practical field work; kennels located in a game country, and but 2½ hours from Philadelphia; twenty years' experience; best reference. W. G. SMITH, Marydel, Md. 43-26*

CAN TAKE two more dogs to train on chicken and quail; birds plentiful and terms reasonable. T. G. DAVIES, Bloomfield, Ia. 18*

GEO. BATTISON—Professional bench show handler. Dogs boarded and put in condition for shows. Youngstown, Ohio. tf

STUD DOGS

AT STUD, $35.—CH. DUKE OF KENT II

Field trial winner; only pointer in U. S. winning title of champion in one year, 1893. First challenge, 1st field trial class; also special for best sporting dog in show, Louisville, 1894.

AT STUD, $35—IMP. MOLTON BANNER

One of the best pointers living; has beaten his sire, Saddleback, champion of England, Sandford Graphic and Sandford Bang, England's best. Puppies—Dogs $25; bitches $15; from the best of field trial and bench show blood bitches. GLEN ROCK KENNELS, 2 N. Market St., Boston, Mass.

Westminster Kennel Club.

KING OF KENT

In the Stud. Fee $50.

ALSO

Sandford Druid

FEE $35.

Apply to F. O. DELUZE, Treasurer, 18 S. William St., New York.

LITTLE NED

AT STUD.

Will be allowed a limited number of bitches. Pointer fanciers in the North and West should not miss this opportunity in breeding to this grand little pointer. Ned won second U. S. F. T. C. Derby 1893, third U. S. T. All-Age 1893 and second U. S. F. T. All-Age 1894. For extended pedigree and further particulars address

Frank Richards, Stewart, Minn. 18

WILLOWDALE KENNELS, CROWN POINT, IND.

ALAN-A-DALE—A. K. C. No. 28135, collie dog, by Ch. The Squire—Stonehurst Lassie, by Ch. Roslyn Dandy, a magnificent dog and image of his sire; V.H.C. Chicago 1894. See comment AMERICAN FIELD. Alan is a born cattle dog.

DANDY DAVY (A. K. C. No. 36097), by Moray—Clover, the handsomest and most intelligent collie I ever bred; sable with white collar and ruff.

TACONY, smooth-coated fox terrier (A. K. C. 28136), white with tan marked head; inbred Prince Result; game as a pebble.

I will sell at reasonable price Moray, prize winner; Don Cameron and other A. K. C. collies; also book orders for young dogs. Address WILL J. DAVIS, Columbia Theater, Chicago. 39-4-tf

AVENT & THAYER KENNEL

STUD DOGS.

Count Gladstone IV	Fee $50
Topsy's Rod	50
Orlando	30
Chevalier	30
Cassio	25
Juno's Rod	20

Broken and unbroken foxhound and puppies for sale. Broken deer, fox and opossum hounds and English setters puppies for sale.

AVENT & THAYER KENNEL

HICKORY VALLEY, TENN.

42-7-eow-tf

Rodfield

Black, white and tan English setter, winner of both of the U. S. F. T. Club's All-Age Setter Stakes at Bicknell, Ind., and West Point, Miss., 1894 and 1895. Catalog free.

STUD FEE $50.

P. T. MADISON.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

COUNT BEAUFORT

Moss Wind'em—Primrose, bred by and recently imported from Mr. R. Ll. Purcell Llewellin, Shrewsbury, England. Here is a chance for setter breeders to obtain the pure Count Noble blood, Moss Wind'em being a litter brother to that noted sire of field trial winners. This is an opportunity that owners of Gladstone and Druid—Ruby bitches should not lose sight of. Fee $25. Count Beaufort is a handsome, well built blue belton and is thoroughly field broken, keen nose and wide range, having been well shot over by Mr. Llewellin. For pedigree, etc., address W. STEWART DIFFENDERFFER, 113 Commerce St., Baltimore, Md. 44-8

AT STUD—The well-known pointers,

CHAMPION RUSH OF LAD

Sire of field trial and bench winners; fee $25.

SPRINGSIDE FAUST

Winner of 1st puppy class Boston, 1894, only time shown; fee $15. Some exceptionally fine puppies from $10 up, ages 6 months to 1 year. ELDRIDGE KENNELS, 248 S. Warren St., Dayton, Ohio. eow-20

AT STUD. FEE $25.

BRADLEY

(Rowdy Rod—Breeze Gates).

Bradley is an all-day tireless hunter and one of the best English setters in New England; he won 3rd in the N. E. F. T. Derby 1892, 2nd in the sweepstakes November, 1894. Address D. A. GOODWIN JR., Newburyport, Mass. 43-8-eow-tf

WIRE-HAIRED FOX TERRIERS

BROWN FRENCH POODLES.

For stud cards, list of produce stakes ($175 annually offered in prizes), price lists and full particulars, apply to HILL HURST KENNELS, Wellesley, Mass. 45-7

At Stud. Fee $25.

WHYTE B.

I offer the services of this highly bred setter; he is by Roderigo—Florence Gladstone. He won the A.-A. Stake in the Southern trials, beating such dogs as Antevolo, Novelist, Engene I, Tremont, Bettye S and Bob Cooper. I candidly believe Whyte B has more endurance than any dog living, and is a combined field trial and shooting dog; his equal would be hard to find. H. S. BEVAN, Somerville, Tenn.

AT STUD—The celebrated pointer

KING BANG

FEE $15

Will serve a limited number of bitches this season. Pedigree and particulars on application.

C. C. HESS, Riverdale, Ill. 20*

AT STUD, ST. BERNARDS and COCKER SPANIELS

Four St. Bernards and eight cocker spaniels including Ch. Middy at $15 stud fee. Send stamp for illustrated catalogue.

SWISS MOUNTAIN KENNELS, Germantown Philadelphia, Pa.

COCKER SPANIEL

CH. BLACK DUKE

Stud $25. Bitches for breeding purposes admitted free of duty in Canada. GEO. DOUGLAS, Woodstock, Ont. 23

IMP. ALBERT'S RANGER

The handsomest English setter in America; fee $25; return expressage paid on bitches. Photo 20 cents. Stud cards. WARWICK KENNELS, Bridgeport, Conn. 43-13-tf

THE imported pointer, Ightfield Domino (28216 A. K. C. S. B.), bred by Hon. A. P. Heywood-Lonsdale, Salop, England, and the superb young setter, Monk of Zion (31110 A. K. C. S. B.), by the great Monk of Furness; will be allowed four approved bitches each at $35. This brace we will put against the world as gentlemen's field dogs on all kinds of game in any country; they hunt to the gun, they point and back every known game bird; they move to the hand; they will not break shot or chase rabbits; they retrieve from land and water; they know their place in the house, yard, wagon or on a train; if you want a dog that knows something breed to one that knows something. W. L. GARDINER, Norwalk, Ohio. 19

AT STUD—Smooth fox terriers, Hillside Royal (Starden's Kiug—Hillside Freda); fee to approved bitches, $10; Raby Prince (Raby Pallisy—Richmond Jesmine); fee to approved bitches, $10. WAWASET KENNELS, Wilmington, Del. 44-5

AT STUD—Col. Keut (31054), by King of Kent—Bang's Mollie, half brother of Rip Rap, Strideaway and Kent Elgin; a No. 1 fielder; $15. Address SAM A. NOFTZGER, Proprietor Eel River Pointer Kennels, North Manchester, Ind. 43-8-tf

AT STUD—The promising young Gordon setter, Dwight Don (32376); winner first at Detroit, second Chicago, first at Denver, 1895; fee $25. L. P. HIGGINS, Agent, Station X, Chicago. 19*

RODERIGO is dead, but I have his brother Cassio (23600), winner of four field trials; fee $25; try him. W. F. VAN BUSKIRK, Odell, Ill. 43-15-tf

AT STUD—Ezra Noble (Count Noble—Alphonsine), field trial and bench show winner; fee $25. J. E. BORDEN, Lau downe, Del. Co., Pa. 18*

RED COCKERS—Champ. Red Jacket and Red Roland at stud; red puppies. BRANT COCKER KENNELS, Brantford, Ont. 43-14-tf

CHESAPEAKE MARK (35914); fee $10. L. K. MASON, Hastings, Ia. 43-15-tf

At Stud. ELDRED KENNEL. Fee $50.

CHAMPION ANTONIO

Winner of four firsts in trials and sire of Rodfield, Tony's Boy, Tony's Gale, Lady Mildred, Dash Antonio, Daisy Hunter II, Nellie Fox and Antoinette; eight winners out of seventeen of his get starting.

Brighton Tobe. Fee $35

Second A.-A. Stakes Northwestern and International Trials 1893; first A.-A. Stakes Manitoba and International Trials 1894. Read what the AMERICAN FIELD said of him. Pointer and setter puppies for sale. Stud cards, shipping directions and circular of C. H. PHELPS JR., 13 Dock St., Philadelphia, Pa. 43-16-eow tf

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted und cents a line for the first inser each subsequent insertion. inch for first, and $2.50 for tion.

INAUGURAL TRIALS OF THE
CONTINENTAL FIELD TRIAL CLUB

TO BE RUN ON CHICKENS AT

Morris, Manitoba, beginning with the Derby, Monday, September 2, 1895.

$700 IN PURSES---$350 for the Derby and $350 for the All-Age Stakes

Breeds to run together, $125 to first, $100 to second, $75 to third, $50 to fourth. Derby entries close May 15, 1895, with $10 first forfeit, which must accompany nominations; $5 second forfeit, payable July 15, 1895; $5 to start.

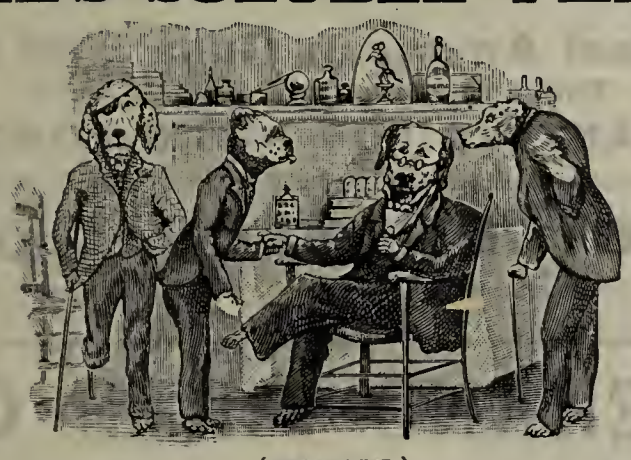
For entry blanks, rules, etc., apply to:

P. T. MADISON, Secy.-Treas., Lock Box 4, Indianapolis, Ind.

LITTLE'S SOLUBLE PHENYLE

LITTLE'S PRIZE MEDAL PHENYLE DOG SOAP

Cleanses the skin and improves the coat.



Superior to any now before the public. Beautifies, cleanses, and gives a healthy glow to the skin.

LITTLE'S SANITARY PHENYLE DOG SOAP.

(COPYRIGHTED.)

DOCTOR—There is no doubt, my friends, but that you are suffering from a most severe case of Mange. My advice is that you procure at once LITTLE'S SOLUBLE PHENYLE, a sure cure, which will also keep your kennels nice and sweet.

PATIENTS (all together)--We will send to our druggist for it at once.

Used by the principal kennels and bench shows in America and Europe. No keeper of valuable dogs, horses, etc, should be without it. Pronounced by the highest authorities the best and most effective disinfectant in the market. For full particulars of its various uses, send for pamphlet to:

MORRIS LITTLE & SON, 175 to 177 N. 10th Street, Brooklyn, E. D., N. Y.

Manitoba Field Trial Club's

Patron: C. C. Chipman, Commissioner Hudson Bay Co., Winnipeg.
President: F. G. Simpson, Winnipeg.

Ninth Annual Trials {ON PRAIRIE / CHICKEN}, Morris, Man., September 10, etc., 1895.

DERBY—For setters and pointers whelped on or after January 1, 1894. Purse $250. First $100; second $75; third $50; fourth $25. Entries close July 1. Forfeit $5, starters $10 additional. Forfeit money must accompany each entry.

ALL-AGE STAKES—For setters and pointers which have never won first place in an all-age stake in any previous year Purse $250. First $125; second $75; third $50. Entries close August 15. Forfeit $5, $10 additional for starters. Forfeit money must accompany each entry.

JOHN WOOTTON, Hon. Secy.-Treas., P. O. Box 109, Manitou, Man.

cow-24

Excelsior Dog Cakes

As their name implies, are the highest grade in the world, and five gold and silver medals corroborate the fact. They are economical and nutritious and are used by the leading kennels in the United States and Europe.

The Swiss Mountain Kennels have the following to say about them:

SWISS MOUNTAIN KENNELS, GERMANTOWN, PA.

Gentlemen:—I have used Excelsior biscuits now for about five years and find them perfectly satisfactory in all respects. The dogs are not only fond of them, but even when used exclusively have always agreed splendidly with them, keeping them generally in a good healthy trim.

I have several times recommended them to other parties and have never failed to find them otherwise than pleased with them. I would here thank you for your prompt attention to all orders. I am perfectly willing you should publish anything I have said formerly or at the present time in regard to the cakes. Yours truly,

(Signed) MRS. F. SMYTH.

Send $4.50 for sample bag of 100 lbs.

FRANKLIN HALLET & CO.,
2 and 4 Stone St., NEW YORK.

HEALTH FOR ANIMALS

Of the many skin diseases that animals are subject to there are none which cannot be brought under control and speedily cured by the use of

GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP

Its perfect reliability in all forms of

MANGE

From which dogs suffer has been attested by innumerable testimonials from the highest kennel authorities and the grateful acknowledgment of thousands of dog owners.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS. SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

R. J. WITHERS, M. D.,

VETERINARY SURGEON,

627 So. Main St., LOS ANGELES, CAL.

Treatment of dogs a specialty. Good hospital accommodations. Advice by mail $1.

McGILL UNIVERSITY, MONTREAL

Faculty of Comparative Medicine and Veterinary Science (late Montreal Veterinary College). Calendars sent on application, giving full information to intending students. Lectures commence first Wednesday in October in each year. Apply to CHARLES McEACHRAN, D. V. S., Registrar, Veterinary College, 6 Union Avenue, Montreal, Canada. 27-1-tf

---

Dr. Nelson N. Lefler,

VETERINARIAN,

Geneseo, Livingston Co., New York.

Proprietor of the Genesee Valley Pointer Kennels; special attention given to canine diseases; advice by mail, $1. A few finely bred pointer puppies for sale. Write for prices before you buy elsewhere. 19*

"OUR DOGS"

The Popular English Doggy Journal.

Published every Saturday. Price One Penny.

Contains all the latest news and the best information relating to doggy subjects. It is written in chatty style; is contributed to by the best known writers; is well illustrated; enjoys a large circulation, and is a splendid medium for the sale or purchase of dogs. Subscription 8s. 6d per year post free to any part of America. SPECIMEN COPIES FREE.

Our Dogs Publishing Co., Ltd.,
10 Gore St., Piccadilly, Manchester, Eng.

NEW BOOK ON DOG DISEASES

And How to Feed

Mailed FREE to any address by the author.

H. CLAY GLOVER, D.V.S., 1293 Broadway, N. Y

SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL DERBY

OF THE

EASTERN FIELD TRIAL CLUB

$600 IN CASH PURSES.

FIRST PRIZE $300, SECOND $200, THIRD $100.

First forfeit of $10 must accompany nominations, second forfeit of $10 payable September 1, 1895, and $10 additional to start.

Entries Close Positively May 15, 1895.

For rules, blanks, etc., apply to

WASHINGTON A. COSTER, Secretary,
1249 Flatbush Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

JUDGES--Messrs. Simon C. Bradley, N. Wallace and W. S. Bell.

Watch advertisement of other stakes later. 19

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE AMERICAN FIELD

GUN CLUB SCORE BOOK

Surpasses anything of its kind ever issued. It has, in addition to 150 score sheets, correct and complete copies of American Shooting Association Rules for Live Bird and Inanimate Target Shooting, also Hurlingham and Long Island Rules, which will be found very convenient for ready reference. Further, it contains a proper form of Constitution and By-Laws (that may be used as a guide in organizing a club), also a set of Field and Club House Rules. Carbon paper for manifolding purposes is inclosed in each book. It is so bound that when in use the top cover may be thrown back and under the book, making a solid base on which to write.

Owing to the immense advantage we have in compiling and pushing the sale of this book we are able to offer it at only $1.00 per copy, but at this price our margin of profit is too small to admit of discounts on large lots or to dealers. Bear in mind it contains 150 score sheets, besides additional matter as detailed above. Size of book, 9x12 inches. Sent postpaid on receipt of price.

THE AMERICAN FIELD PUB. CO.,

CHICAGO.

WHERE MAY I FIND GOOD SPORT?

IN Kansas

IN Colorado

IN Indian Territory

IN Texas

IN New Mexico

PRAIRIE CHICKENS, quails, jack-rabbits and ducks abound. The Arkansas Valley and its tributaries afford most satisfactory hunting grounds. In southeastern Kansas there is a fair supply of bass and catfish.

HERE the fishing rod should be unpacked. Enough trout to keep your rod and line busy may be found in hundreds of mountain streams along the Colorado Midland line. Away from the railroad larger game exists—bears, rocky mountain sheep, elk, blacktail deer, etc.

WILD TURKEYS, prairie chickens, quails and deer are the favorite game in Oklahoma and Indian Territory. A party of three to ten, with guide, will find great sport thirty miles or so from railroad lines.

ANYWHERE on the Gulf Coast several days can be enjoyably spent angling for the deep-sea fish that swarm the Gulf waters. You cast the line; the fish do the rest. Wild fowl are also prevalent in the marshes.

UP in the mountains are clear streams where the possible catch of trout may exceed your biggest story—which is saying a good deal. Enough wild game in the wooded wilderness to satisfy the most ardent hunter.

Address G. T. NICHOLSON, G. P. A., A. T. & S. F. R. R., Monadnock Building, Chicago, for detailed information respecting any one or more of the above localities.

ALL ALONG THE SANTA FE ROUTE.

Modern American Pistols and Revolvers.

By A. C. GOULD ("RALPH GREENWOOD").

An account of the development of pistols and revolvers in America; description of the varieties manufactured; manuer of shooting them; work accomplished with these arms; departments of pistol and revolver sbooting; impressions formed by studying these arms, and rules governing pistol and revolver competitions. Profusely illustrated 222 pages, cloth bound.

PRICE $1.50.

Address AMERICAN FIELD PUB. CO., Chicago, Ill.

TROUT, BASS, PIKE,
PICKEREL, PERCH, DUCKS,
GEESE, SNIPE, CHICKENS,

Are all to be found contiguous to the line of

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

—SEND FOR—

Natural Game Preserves of North America.

CHAS. S. FEE,

Gen. Pass. and Ticket Agt., ST. PAUL.

PLOVER, ANTELOPE, BEAR,
MOUNTAIN LIONS, CARIBOU, DEER,
WHITE GOATS, ROCKY MTN. SHEEP

Chicago & Alton R.R.

AMERICA'S MOST POPULAR RAILROAD.

PERFECT PASSENGER SERVICE.

The direct, best and only rock-ballasted dustless line between
CHICAGO AND KANSAS CITY,
CHICAGO AND ST. LOUIS,
ST. LOUIS AND KANSAS CITY.

Through Pullman Service Every Day From

CHICAGO COLORADO

...ger and Ticket Agent,
...ois.

Sportsmen, Attention

Trophies of the Forest and Field.

Few sportsmen are enabled to keep souvenirs of the chase, as the art of preserving objects of natural history is not generally known. Still there are thousands of gunners and anglers, together with their parents, wives and children, who often lament their want of ability to mount rare and curious objects of interest, and trophies of the day's or week's outing.

Many homes could be beautified, and many dens made more attractive, if the head of the house, his wife or children, had even a slight knowledge of preserving and mounting objects of natural history. We often hear the remark: "How I wish that big pike's head could be saved." Or we hear the complaint from a hunter who deplores the fact of his inability to save more than the horns of the moose, elk or caribou which he shot on the trip; while the lady of the house, intent on decoration, laments the wasting of the plumage of the game birds.

Do you wish to learn a simple method by which you can preserve and mount a humming bird, grouse, snipe or quail in natural position, or put up a pike's or deer's head?

Do you wish to follow a course of instruction which does not require one-third of the work needed for the old style of preserving by stuffing, and at less than one-tenth of the expense and no tools excepting a knife and file?

Do you wish to give agreeable employment to your family, and beautify your homes, enlighten your children, and delight and interest your friends?

If so, send 75 cents for complete instructions and one pound of prepared compound ready for use, enough to prepare twenty to forty birds. Mention the AMERICAN FIELD, and address MORRIS GIBBS, M. D., Kalamazoo, Mich. 43-26

HUNTING GROUNDS

ALONG THE LINE OF

The Southern Railway

The Southern Railway is endeavoring to furnish every facility to sportsmen to reach its territory, especially Virginia and the Carolinas, where game is abundant and game laws lenient.

Most convenient schedules are operated from all junction points.

For additional information apply o

S. H. HARDWICK,
Ass't Gen. Pass. Agt., Atlanta, Ga.
C. A. BENSCOTER.
Ass't Gen. Pass. Agt., Knoxville, Tenn.
W. A. TURK,
Gen. Pass. Agt., Washington, D. C.
R. D. CARPENTER,
Gen. Agt., 271 Broadway, New York
HENRY HIDEN,
Commercial Agt., 10 Rookery, Chicago.
L. S. BROWN,
Gen. Agt., 1300 Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, D. C.

In answering advertisements, please mention that you saw the advertisement in the AMERICAN FIELD

12-ga. $2.00, 10-ga. $2.35 per 100

V. L. & A. Hand-Loaded Special Target Shells

With E. C. or Schultze Powders
AND
Tatham's Celebrated Shot

Send for List of Loads, Wadding, etc.

VON LENGERKE & ANTOINE, 271 Wabash Ave. CHICAGO

REMINGTON HAMMERLESS GUNS

AUTOMATIC AND NON-AUTOMATIC EJECTING.

The Finest American Guns Ever Offered.

Ten qualities; from $45 upward.

GUARANTEED FOR NITRO POWDERS.

Complete catalogue of Remington firearms on application.

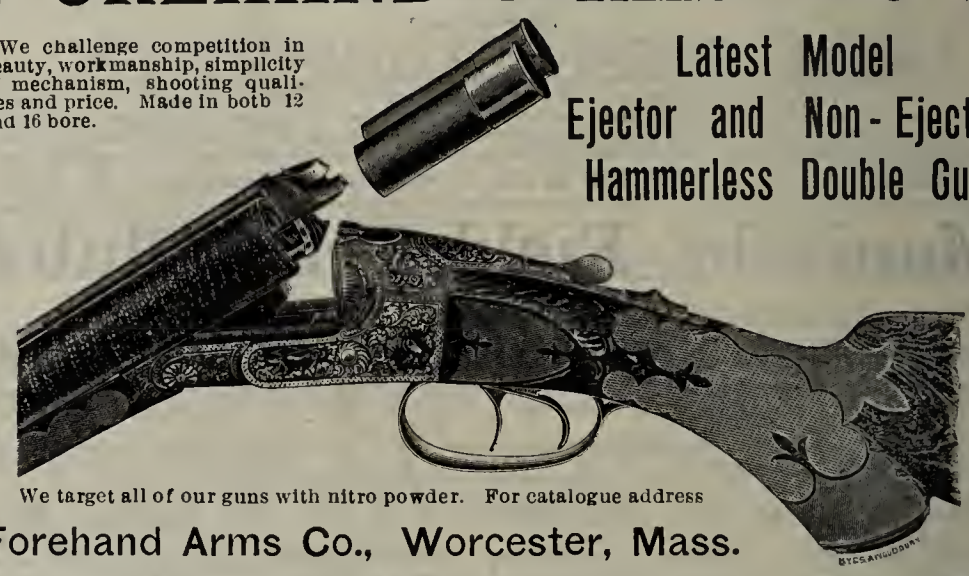
REMINGTON ARMS CO., ILION, N. Y.

Makers of the Celebrated Remington Bicycle. Office 316-315 Broadway, New York.

FOREHAND ARMS CO.'S

We challenge competition in beauty, workmanship, simplicity of mechanism, shooting qualities and price. Made in both 12 and 16 bore.

Latest Model
Ejector and Non-Ejector
Hammerless Double Gun



We target all of our guns with nitro powder. For catalogue address

Forehand Arms Co., Worcester, Mass.

Having purchased the entire stock of guns of the

WILKESBARRE GUN COMPANY

We offer them at the following low prices:

	List	Our Price
Hammer Gun, fine twist barrels	$35.00	$17.50
Hammerless Gun, fine twist barrels	50.00	31 50
Hammerless Gun, Damascus barrels	60.00	35.00

Bored for nitro powders, latest model, 12-gauge, 7 to 8 pounds. EVERY GUN GUARANTEED. If you need a good gun cheap order one of these at once.

SCHOVERLING, DALY & GALES, 302 Broadway, New York.

A. S. CHAPIN. J. J. GORE. J. S. CARTER

CHAPIN & GORE,

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN

FINE WHISKIES

IMPORTED

Wines, Liquors and Cigars.

73 & 75 Monroe St., Chicago

Branch Stores: 152 22nd Street, 121 Clark Street, and 73 South Halsted Street, Chicago.
Branch Store: 30 and 32 N. Illinois Street, Indianapolis, Ind.
Paris Branch: No. 28 Boulevard Haussmann, Paris. 18-8-17

The Home of the Tarpon

AND

Ducks by the Million

AT

Aransas and Corpus Christi Bays

REACHED BY

San Antonio and Aransas Pass Ry.

Twelve tarpon caught in one day, November 4, 1894, by Messrs. Bull, Lewis and Wallis of Racine, Wis., aggregating over 800 pounds.

Tarpon season March 15 to December 1; duck shooting December to March.

Send for maps, etc. Address

E. J. MARTIN, Gen. Pass. Agt., San Antonio Tex

THE AMERICAN FIELD

THE SPORTSMAN'S JOURNAL.

Vol. XLIII—No. 19. NEW YORK AND CHICAGO, SATURDAY, MAY. 11, 1895. PRICE, Ten Cents. $5.00 Per Year.

Published by the American Field Publishing Co.

TERMS.—Five dollars a year; two dollars and seventy-five cents for six months; Club rates, three or more four dollars a year each; strictly in advance.

REMITTANCES.—Money should be sent by American Express Co.'s Money Order, Postal Order, Draft on Chicago, or by Registered Letter.

NEWS DEALERS.—The Trade supplied by the American and Western News Companies.

COMMUNICATIONS.—Manuscript intended for publication should be written on one side of the paper only, and must be accompanied by the writer's name and address, not necessarily for publication, but as a private guarantee of good faith, and all communications, upon any subject, or for any department, must be addressed,

N. ROWE.
Editor and Manager American Field,
245 and 247 State St., Chicago, Ill.

EASTERN OFFICE.—19 Park Place, New York.

Game and Shooting

FIXTURES

Iowa State Sportsmen's Association's annual meeting, Cedar Rapids, Ia., May 14.

Sportsmen's Exposition, Madison Square Garden, New York City, May 13, 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18.

Illinois State Sportsmen's Association's twenty-first annual convention, Chicago, June 4.

North Dakota State Sportsmen's Association's first annual convention, Fargo, June 14.

A ROMANTIC OUTING

(Illustrated).

BY C. H. C.

The other evening as I sat in an arm chair before the fire that blazed on the hearth in my "den," I fell into a deep revery, and as one thought chased another through dreamland, I fell to thinking of past successes and failures in gameland. I wandered back in memory to the dead past of over twenty years ago when game of all kinds was plentiful, when my musings were interrupted by the entrance of George E. Ashley, an old friend, also a disciple of Nimrod.

"Why, old boy, you look as if you had been dreaming," said he.

"So I have, my boy," I replied, "and of old times, too; of old and nearly forgotten expeditions after fur and feather."

"Well," said my friend, "you surely will never forget our memorable hunt of long ago—I do not like to say how long ago—to the wilderness."

"Yes, George, I remember that hunt; there was no gray in our hair then."

"No," said he, "nor vacant lots on the back of our heads either."

We talked over every incident of that hunt, like old soldiers fighting their battles over.

"Why don't you write it up for the AMERICAN FIELD? Of all your descriptive letters I have not read anything that equaled that hunt for fun, adventure, hardship and the amount of game we killed. Do, old boy, put it on record."

I promised, and I will now try and carry that promise into effect.

I will commence by saying that I had a friend, an ardent sportsman with gun and rod, who devoted most of his time to his favorite pursuits. He had plenty of money, having been left a fortune at his father's death. At twenty he married the loveliest girl in Kingston, a girl as fond of sport as himself. About a year after his marriage he decided to go on a deer shooting expedition to the wilderness nearly one hundred miles back of Kingston. There were no railroads in those days penetrating this wilderness; one was not dreamed of by the most sanguine of the well wishers for Canada's greatness through the development of her unbounded forest and mineral wealth, and to make such a journey required no small amount of money, courage and time. All these requirements my friend had to an eminent degree. He made the journey and returned in safety, and was so enchanted with his sport that he decided to go back again, have a shanty built, and spend six months in this paradise of game. Leaving his young wife to the care of friends, he procured everything that was necessary and started to carry his plans into effect, and as money will do almost anything, he succeeded, and not only built a shanty but furnished it with every comfort. After a couple of months he returned and gave such a glowing account of the place and sport that his wife became wild to go and see this paradise herself, as my friend called it. After considerable preparation they started; in a month's time they returned, and Mrs. —— was as enamored with the wild and free life as her husband. So he decided to have a fine, comfortable home built, and at large expense it was completed and furnished, and in due time tenanted by my friends and two servants who were induced by large wages to accompany them. I thought that in a few months the novelty would wear off, and daily expected their return; but I was in error. A letter received six months later undeceived me. They both seemed in the seventh heaven, and extended to me a pressing invitation to pay them a long visit. This, to my regret, I could not at that time accept; but the next Fall, on receipt of another invitation, I determined to go. So calling into council my shooting chum, George Ashley, we talked the matter over and he decided to accompany me. Several meetings were necessary to make our arrangements complete. A wealthy young Englishman, lately from "'ome," was visiting in the city, and as he was always wanting adventure, we invited him to accompany us. He was perfectly delighted with the idea, and when all preliminaries had been arranged, a commodious wagon, a team of fine, strong horses, and a driver were engaged, and on the following morning drew up to my door.

After loading my outfit we picked up George, and then down to the hotel for our blooming Englishman. In front of the hotel stood our friend, and beside him a huge pile of things of all descriptions. Half a dozen gun and rifle cases, several fishing rods, cases of ammunition sufficient to keep a dozen men shooting for three months, and heaven only knows what else.

"In the name of goodness," I cried, "what do you intend to do with all that truck?"

"Well, don't you know, my dear boy, we may have to fight those beastly Indians and may want several guns and any amount of ammunition; cawn't have too much, you know."

"But we can, you know. Just put one gun and one rifle, and one-fifth that ammunition, and a change or two of clothing into the wagon and jump in," I replied.

I had a great fight, but victory came at last, and we got under way, little knowing of the hardships of our journey. But, the anticipation of great sport braced us up for the outing before us.

The first day we drove nearly forty miles, the road being good and quite level. Nothing of interest occurred, however, and at dark we drove up to a small tavern where we had a hearty supper and remained over night. An early start was made on the following morning, as we desired to reach another, and the last but one stopping place on our road, before night. The road was rough and the country hilly, and thirty miles was a big undertaking. The horses could move but slowly, and careful driving was necessary to avoid accidents, so it was long after dark when we arrived at the settler's house, which was made of logs and had but one large room. This served as kitchen, eating and sleeping room combined. A large stove occupied the center of this room, and home-made bedsteads—three in number—were placed against the walls. The family consisted of man, wife, son and two grown daughters. They kindly offered to give up their beds to us, but we decided to take the soft side of a plank for one night; so after a good supper and a smoke we threw ourselves on the floor and were soon in the arms of Morpheus.

We were up and away the next morning before day light. Our objective point was now a shanty, occupied by an Indian, twenty miles further on. The road, if it could be called such, was simply dreadful, and it took all the skill of our driver to keep the wagon from upsetting. We could not stand the jolting and bumping, so we got out and walked nearly all the way, taking our shotguns with us, and shooting partridges, which were very plentiful.

After a weary day's march we at last came to the Indian's hut and were received with open arms by my old friend, who had come out from his forest home to meet us and pilot us to our destination. We ate a good supper and sat till quite late listening to the interesting stories of my old friend, and in return telling him the news of the outer world.

Next morning we were astir bright and early and unpacked the wagon, for we could not take it any farther. We sent it back to the city, with instructions to have it returned in two weeks' time. We had to walk about a mile to reach the lake, where we were to embark in canoes and paddle two miles before we reached my friend's home. It necessitated two journeys to the lake to transport our luggage, guns, rifles, etc. At last it was accomplished and we were soon afloat in three large canoes. I was not sorry when we landed, as I felt it was rather dangerous to be in a canoe with dogs for companions, although an Indian managed the canoe. I had two hounds with me and they were very restless. On landing I was surprised to find that my friend had erected such a fine, large house. We received a very cordial welcome from my friend's wife, who had accompanied him to his forest home, and who had made that home a delight. Nearly all the refinement of city life was to be seen there. Carpets covered the floors, a cottage piano stood in one corner of the parlor, books of all kinds filled the bookcase, and many gems of pictures adorned the walls, for my friend's wife was an artist of no mean skill and was highly educated. She enjoyed the chase also, fishing and shooting equally as well as her husband, and had become a fine shot with both shotgun and rifle. She told me nothing could induce her to leave her forest home and return to the city, and quoted—

"The world has nothing to bestow;
From our own selves our joys must flow."

Think of it, ye city belles who recline on sofas half the day, reading trashy novels and spending the other half between sleep and your toilet, of a lady lovely in face and figure—not made so by art, but by healthy, vigorous outdoor exercise, and of no mushroom family either—roaming the forest at her own sweet will with an elastic, springy step, clear eyes, clear complexion and blooming cheeks denoting health and strength, and then think of the hothouse life you are living; a life that prematurely ages you and makes you use artificial means to restore what you should never have lost had you used the means God placed at your disposal—fresh air and plenty of exercise. As this girl wife stood before me on the morning after our arrival, dressed ready for the chase in a suit of buckskin—jacket, short skirt, leggings and moccasins, a turban with an eagle's feather on her aristocratic head—I stood transfixed with admiration and exclaimed: "Vision of glory, spare my aching sight!" She did not hear my words, but she noticed my look of astonishment and laughingly said:

"How do you like my costume? It was presented to me by my Indian friends on my being made a princess of the tribe. You know my husband has been made a chief and I a princess."

"What do the Indians call you?" I inquired.

"I won't give you the Indian names for they nearly dislocate my jaws every time I try to pronounce them, but in English my husband's name is the great deerslayer."

"Well," I asked, "what is yours?"

"Ah!" she blushingly replied, "they foolishly call me the beautiful forest flower."

"No more fitting name could possibly be given you," I answered, "except it were the most beautiful of forest flowers."

She laughed, and I knew I had not displeased her, for all, yes, all women, young or old, dearly love a compliment.

This Indian business astonished me, but Mrs. —— informed me there was an Indian village, or encampment, a couple of miles farther down the river. They were very friendly Indians and loved their white neighbors. Mrs. —— had two Indian maidens employed in housework, besides her cook, and they did very well. But enough, and probably my readers will say, far too much of introductory; yet I would like to describe everything on this trip if I dared to; but I fear the editorial frown and that dreaded hydra-headed monster, the waste basket, so I will commence the chase and occasionally drop in an incident, and in this way cheat the editor, and my readers.

In a few minutes two Indians arrived, and all being in readiness we started, the Indians taking the hounds. My friend George and our Englishman followed them, while Mrs. —— and I formed the rear guard. We made quite a formidable party as we entered the bush. After traveling about half a mile Mrs. —— took her position on a runway I followed on about five hundred yards and then took my stand, and so the party strung out until we were all stationed. The Englishman would not remain alone, but stayed with George. He expressed a decided fear of being scalped by the Indians, or being attacked by a bear,

George, the previous evening, had "loaded" our English g[illegible] with such stories of Indian treachery and the [illegible] animals that roamed the forest, that hi[illegible] at at George's suggestion he not [illegible] rifle, but buckled on a large navy [illegible] cartridges, while a large hunting knife [illegible] I believe he would have taken a pickax had George suggested it. I could not look the poor fellow in the face for fear of laughing. Mrs. —— was convulsed and thought it an awful shame to play such tricks on our friend. I thought so, too, but there is no suppressing George. He is a joker, and is never so happy as when having a little fun, as he expresses it, at somebody's expense.

After waiting some fifteen minutes there came borne on the breeze the sounds of the hounds in full cry, and I knew the sport had begun. At first the sounds were very low and far distant; every moment they became more distinct, and the blood began to tingle and course more rapidly through my veins. I cocked my sporting Spencer and got in readiness, as I expected to see the deer every moment; but to my intense chagrin the sounds drew away to my right and I knew the deer had led from me. Soon I heard the hounds again, and I knew the deer had made a circle, and that either my friend's wife or I would be honored with the first shot, if not first blood. In less than three minutes I heard "crack," and in an instant another "crack." I remained still, as I was in doubt if Mrs. —— had killed. I waited the coming of the dogs; how they did make the forest ring with their music. They came nearer and nearer, and then the tonguing ceased and I knew the lady had earned the laurel wreath, and I at once made for her station Sure enough, there lay a lordly buck with Mrs. —— standing beside him, rifle in hand, the most beautiful picture I ever beheld. She was flushed, but calm. Exultant pride shone from her lovely eyes; a hound was licking one of her hands. As I came up the dogs looked at me, and by expression said: "My master, the lady has captured the prize, and richly deserves it." "Right you are, old Bugler," said I, "and he was a fortunate buck to be brought to earth by such fair hands." I then grasped the hand of my fair friend and offered her my hearty congratulations. She generously expressed the wish that it had been me that had killed the deer, and as I looked into her clear, blue eyes I felt she was sincere.

The reader must not think that I felt anything but admiration and true friendship for this lovely girl wife. We had known each other from childhood; had always been firm friends; are the same to-day, and I trust ever will be.

"She was good as she was fair,
None, none on earth above her!
As pure in thought as angels are:
To know her was to love her."

In less than ten minutes one of the Indians came up, as it was agreed with them before starting that one or the other was to go to the party shooting a deer for the purpose of securing the hounds, with a view to hunting up another fresh track or bed, so as to get on another race. Our Indian [illegible] very broken English, that it [illegible] deer had started, but both dogs [illegible] hurried back to my post and, [illegible] ted for the curtain to rise on [illegible] bell tingled and up went the curtain; or in other words the full, deep notes of old Bugler reached me, and in a minute it was a duet, as Trumpeter joined his clarion notes to those of Bugler.

This race was fast and furious; the scent must have been very warm from the way the dogs gave tongue. The music was very distinct but got no nearer, and soon it receded, as the deer led away to the south. Soon I heard the hounds driving, as I thought, to me. I was prepared and on the tiptoe of expectation. On they came. I raised my rifle, strained my eyes looking, finger on trigger, when to my disgust the hounds came to within fifty yards of me and passed on at a killing pace, I sat down and groaned with disappointment. In two or three minutes I heard a rifle crack; then in quick succession five or six more shots. I knew that meant a miss; but how at short range a man could fire seven shots and not kill puzzled me. In less than two minutes I heard another shot quite a long way off—too far to hear the dogs. I knew it was a kill, for it was our host that was farthest away, and he never misses his deer, and after events proved I was right.

Sitting down, I took out my pipe and filling it, tried to console myself with a smoke, and I was fairly successful. Not a leaf stirred; profound peace reigned; I was very comfortable; so much so that I dropped off to sleep and was shooting deer in dreamland, or making desperate love to an Indian maiden that wore an eagle's feather in her cap. Hearing a sound I opened my eyes, and there before me stood the Indian maiden of my dreams, rifle in hand. I closed my eyes to dream on, when the soft voice of the lady said:

"C—, you must have had pleasant dreams, for I have been standing here a long time watching you smiling in your sleep. Come, what were you dreaming of?"

"Oh, I forget; I think it was that I killed two deer with one shot, and that one dear had killed me with two shots," I answered.

"I do not understand you," she said.

"Well, that is not strange, as I hardly understand myself."

"Why have you left your post?" I inquired.

"It is getting on in the day; do you know it is now after 3 o'clock?"

"Great Heavens!" I exclaimed, "I must have slept two or three hours."

Just as I made that observation we heard the hounds in full cry and not far away, coming in our direction. Mrs. — started to leave, when I stopped her with, "too late, stand perfectly still, the deer must be near. You take the first shot, and if you do not kill I will try my hand."

She whispered back, "no, it's your right."

In less than a minute I heard a crackling in the bush, and looking through the wood I saw the deer under full sail going diagonally past us fifty yards away. We both raised our rifles, I waiting with finger on trigger, when "crack" went Mrs. —'s rifle. She missed, I then pressed the trigger and the doe fell on her knees, rose, and as she did so I gave her another shot and she fell dead.

"I congratulate you, Mr. C—. I am so pleased that you killed," said Mrs. ——.

"I'm not," I replied, "as I honestly believe you missed that deer, so I might shoot it."

"Oh, no; I, in the hurry, overshot it. I was too anxious for you to see how good a markswoman I had become, and missed," was her reply.

As the hounds came up to the dead deer I put strings on them to prevent their going off again. We sat down and were pleasantly chatting about old times, when we heard our friends coming—the Indian leading with the other three following. So soon as that fool of an Englishman observed us he broke out with:

"Well, by Jove, if this isn't rather jolly; babes in the woods, don't you know. Shooting in coup'es is awfully jolly fun," etc.

If a look could have annihilated him there would have been one Englishman less in the world. I was furious at his remarks, but my friend quietly remarked:

"Mr. Gus, your very amusing remarks are uncalled for; probably you don't know my wife and C— are very old friends." And turning to me said:

"Old boy, I must ask you to promise to act the esquire to my wife during your stay, as there appear other dangers than wild animals to be avoided in this forest."

Of course I promised, and on looking at the Englishman I saw he was hit hard by my friend's words. He stammered out that no offense was meant; it was only his little joking way. I replied that jokes were not permitted in Canada, where a lady was concerned. After cooling down I really felt sorry for the young fellow, as he meant nothing by his remarks. This was the only breeze that ruffled our calm during our stay.

George felt annoyed at his poor luck, and said only for that blamed Englishman he would have had a fine buck. He went on to explain that the y both saw the buck, but before he knew it Gus began banging away, the barrel of his rifle going up and down like a pump handle, and the balls cutting the limbs from the tops of the trees; a regular case of buck fever. It was many a day before Master Gus heard the last of that miss. The Indians brought our deer out and they were a very nice lot, Gus going wild over them as he had never seen a deer in the woods before that day.

After a very generous dinner, served in the very best taste, and with table adornments found in the houses of few except the wealthy class, we adjourned to the parlor, when a delightful evening was spent in music, song and conversation, our hostess being a fine performer on the piano, and having a rich contralto voice perfectly trained. Our host entertained us on his "Cremona," while George and Gus gave an occasional song, and I filled the difficult role of a good listener, something that is a rara avis in these days. We talked over the events of the day and Gus was unmercifully chaffed on his buck fever.

"Well, by Jove," said he, "do you know that when I saw that blooming deer coming he looked as large as a horse, and I couldn't, to save my life, keep that blooming rifle from bobbing around. It seemed possessed, but I will do better next time; and blow me if I don't stand a basket of 'fiz' when we get back to the city, if you fellows don't give it away."

We promised, and Gus was comforted.

Our host suggested a different direction for the morrow; so, with a parting good night, we were off to bed.

The next morning after breakfast we put ourselves in readiness, and on going outdoors found three Indians awaiting us. We were informed we were to embark in three large canoes and go some two miles down the lake. Each canoe was in charge of an Indian, George and Gus in one, Mrs. —— and the writer in the second, and our host with his three hounds in the third. It was a delightful morning and I enjoyed our paddle over the calm waters of the lake. We landed and at once proceeded to the bush, where the guides placed the party on runways, with the exception of the writer. I reëmbarked with one of the Indians and was paddled to a small island in the middle of the river where the deer, it was said, always crossed on their way to the other shore when driven to the water by the dogs. Mrs. —— was on a point on the shore about half a mile below me, where the deer generally took to water. My Indian hid his canoe in the bushes and we sat down to await results. In about twenty minutes we caught the sound of the dogs, they having made a start. We could hear their music very distinctly for a long time, when "crack" went a rifle. In a few moments more another report sounded on the still air, and then all was quiet. I began to think I had made a bad mistake in leaving the main land, and so expressed myself, but my Indian muttered:

"Never mind, white man shoot deer yet."

"Well, I hope so," I replied.

In half an hour we heard the hounds again and my spirits rose. This was a long race and the deer led the dogs out of hearing; nor did I hear them for fully half an hour, when at last I caught a faint sound that momentarily became clearer and clearer. My Indian said: "Deer take water sure." I was all expectation; all eyes, all ears. The Indian whispered: "There!" pointing out into the lake. A buck was swimming right toward the island. At this moment the dogs appeared on the shore, and such howling as they made when they found their prey was beyond their reach! On came his buckship. I cocked my rifle; he was then within one hundred yards. I let him get fifty yards nearer and, drawing a bead, fired. My aim was a trifle high, and instead of planting the ball between his eyes, I knocked the lower prong off his horn. He wheeled quick as lightning and started down the lake. He only got a few yards when I pumped out a second ball that caught him fairly in the back of the head and ended his troubles in this cold world. My Indian said "good!" and taking his canoe paddled out and secured the buck, and brought him back. He was a very fine deer, and I was justly proud of my prize. I saw a white handkerchief waving from the point where my friend's wife was stationed, and I knew she was pleased at my success. Soon an Indian appeared on the shore and, taking the hounds, disappeared into the forest. In less than half an hour I heard the dogs again. They were running in full cry, but the deer did not seem to be in a very great hurry, as we distinctly saw it run slowly along the shore and then back into the bush. It was a long way ahead of the dogs, for it was fully ten minutes before the dogs came in sight. They followed on its trail. The deer led to the interior, for the music soon died away and it was fully an hour before we heard two rifle reports. They were a mile away. It was George's "meat," as I afterward learned. George said he was standing behind the top of a fallen tree and the buck came straight at him. He fired when the deer was not more than 30 yards away and only wounded him, but before he could get away he killed him with a second shot.

A ROMANTIC OUTING—THE MOST BEAUTIFUL PICTURE I EVER BEHELD

As we had agreed to kill only three deer a day I knew the sport was now over, so my Indian paddled me back to the shore. Soon Mrs. —— and her Indian came paddling up to where I was. She was evidently well pleased at my luck, saying she watched the deer swimming to me and knew his time had come. We decided there was no use in our waiting for our friends, so reëmbarked and paddled home. It was nearly dark before the others arrived.

We were all as hungry as hunters ought to be and did full justice to the excellent saddle of venison that formed the principal dish. George was in great spirits at his good fortune, and the Englishman was low in spirits at not killing a deer, because he might have done so, having had an excellent chance.

"You see," he began, "I heard the hounds quite near, and presently, by Jove! do you know, the blooming deer jumped nearly on top of me. I was so startled, do you know, I just looked at it and forgot I had a rifle at all till the deer was out of sight."

"Another case of buck-fever, old man. Never mind, I predict that you will get one the next time we go out."

"I hope so, by Jove, for, do you know, I begin to think deer shooting isn't my forte," replied Gus.

"You want to keep an eye out for those bears," quietly remarked George.

"Well, 'pon my soul, I really believe I thought it was one when that blooming deer nearly jumped on me," said Gus.

"Well, just keep you eyes skinned is all I have got to say, for I saw three bears to-day and the smallest one was fully four feet high," said that disciple of Ananias.

"Why didn't you shoot them?" asked Gus.

"Oh, I don't want to fool with a bear. As it was I had to climb a tree and stay there over an hour."

Gus thought he would sooner try some other sport for the morrow, so it was agreed that we would put in a day salmon fishing, our host informing us the lake was full of those noble game fishes, the water being very deep and clear. Our evening was spent much the same as the previous one, with the exception that cards were the amusement. Whist was the only game Gus knew anything about, so whist it was. While we played that good old game Mrs. —— played very softly on the piano; that soft, dreamy music that makes one with a soul feel better, and elevates his thoughts from this cold, sordid world, to a purer and better existence. I never hear such charming music but I fall into a semi-somnambulistic state, and dream of the pearly gates, the golden streets and the pure souls that float around the great white throne singing their Master's praises.

"Wake up, old man! What in the name of all that is good and holy are you dreaming about? You are playing cards as if you never played the game before," said my partner.

"I certainly ask your forgiveness," said I, "but I was dreaming, and your wife is to blame. Her playing brought on one of my old spells."

"Then for heaven's sake, Mary, don't play any more till we win the 'rubber.' We should have won both games but for C—'s dreaming," said our host.

I then got down to business and we won the "rubber," much to the delight of my partner. Gus then dropped out and Mrs. —— and I became partners, and we played euchre—Gus playing and singing—till midnight, when a light lunch was served and we retired and soon fell into peaceful slumber, which lasted until nearly 9 o'clock the next morning, when

> "My thoughts, for I were dreaming half,
> Were wakened by a silvery laugh."

I rubbed my eyes and heard Mrs. —— at my door, saying:

"C—, do you intend remaining in bed all day? You lazy fellow; get up and have some breakfast."

"All right; I'll be down in a jiffy," I replied.

And so I was, but everybody had had breakfast and was ready for a big day's salmon fishing. My friend said the wind was most favorable and great were our expectations. After three cups of coffee, about a pound of bacon, a few eggs, some toast, etc., I pushed back from the table and declared myself ready for the day's sport.

(To be Continued.)

THREATENS DESTRUCTION OF DUCK FEEDING GROUNDS

PORTLAND, ORE.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—The wapato is an aquatic vegetable with spear-shaped leaves and resembling somewhat both the potato and the lily. The soft mud of lowland lakes and marshy swales is peculiarly favorable to its growth, and it increases with considerable rapidity. The plant is firmly rooted in six or eight inches of mud and from the stalk numerous rootlets radiate, at the end of which is a bulb—the wapato. A single plant sometimes has as many as fifty of these bulbs attached to it, and the bed of a famous wapato lake is doubtless liberally paved with the tubers. In size the wapato compares with a tulip or hyacinth bulb and there is perhaps no food more eagerly sought after by wildfowl than this aquatic vegetable.

It is said that the aborigines of this country were very fond of wapatoes and that they annually gathered them for their Winter sustenance. I have eaten them and find that they resemble a raw sweet potato when first placed in the mouth, but later develop a bitter and not altogether pleasant taste. I have an idea that were they properly cooked they would form no mean article of diet.

Up to within the last few years the lakes of the Columbia River bottom were in Summer waving masses of green wapato tops, and after the frost had cut them to the water's edge the plants were assailed by thousands of wildfowl including canvas-backs ducks and swans. Swans possess to a larger degree than any other bird the power of possessing themselves of the coveted bulbs. Seating themselves in the shallow water they excavate huge holes in the soft mud with their powerful feet. This proceeding dislodges the tubers and they are snatched up by the bird as they float to the surface. It is said that mallards and widgeons often sit among the swans ready to snatch the wapato before the industrious digger can do so. The amount of the bulbs contained in a single lake must have been enormous, for I can readily believe that a single swan will consume one pound of wapatoes daily, and I know that as many as 3,000 swans have made a certain lake of no very large proportions their feeding ground for sixty days at a time. The birds must have extracted somewhere in the neighborhood of ninety tons of wapatoes from the mud within that space of time, for they eat but little other than this vegetable while with us.

Of course as the course of empire takes itself westward the game supply will materially decrease, but one would also be led to believe that as the hungry mouths became fewer the food supply would increase. Alas, alack—the carp.

The United States Fish Commission is doubtless one of our greatest institutions, but it committed a grievous error when it, several years ago, liberated a large number of German carp fry in the waters of the Columbia and its tributary, the Willamette. Unfortunately the conditions evidently just suited these pernicious fishes and they have thriven most wonderfully. They invaded every lake, river and slough, and as tender wapato sprouts suited their undiscriminating taste, they attacked the plant "root and branch." And now the wapato is gone; so say some sportsmen, but the writer knows that although they are going, yes, going very fast, there are yet a good many plants in certain lakes, and were the fishes destroyed the wapato would propagate and in all likelihood once more flourish.

The principal reason inducing me to inflict this screed on the readers of the sportsmen's journal is to learn of some means of clearing out duck lakes of all fish life. Besides the carp the waters are infested with bullheads, which are edible, and with chubs and a toothless fish locally known as the pike, which are as useless as the carp. The fish life of these lowland lakes is of no value whatever, and if I could kill off all animal life in their waters I would confer a blessing on the country.

Every year during the months of June and July the waters of the Columbia overflow all the lowlands, and lake and river are indistinguishable. The carp at such times find their way into the lakes where they remain. In the latter part of July the waters recede and the lakes assume their normal proportions. It is also during this month that the young shoots of the wapato start from the soft mud and are met, open-mouthed, by the greedy carp. Now it is that we would annihilate the fish life in the lake and give the vegetable life a chance to flourish —if such a proceeding is practicable. [illegible] thing that will poison the water or [illegible] stroy all fish life, and that will not [illegible] render the lake unfit for the wildfo[illegible] there some two months later.

Several times have I read accou[illegible] AMERICAN FIELD of the wholesale poisoning of rivers by the refuse from factories, and surely if a deep and flowing river can be rendered untenable to fish we should be able to doctor a small and shallow lake.

Once before did I write on this subject, asking that readers would inform me through the columns of this paper as to what course we should pursue in the matter, but I have seen nothing anent the subject. Once more I ask for information on this, to us, very important subject. We are desperate, for without the shadow of a doubt our once famous duck shooting is swiftly passing from us. Were it not for the carp I am very sure that we would be able to enjoy good wildfowl shooting for years to come, and I hope we may find a means of locally disposing of these hog-like fishes.

Reader, when you glance at this, if you know of something that will accomplish the end desired, please don't drop the matter from your thoughts but sit down and write me a letter or send it to the AMERICAN FIELD for publication. Dynamite has been suggested and will perhaps be tried, but I think there must surely be other agents which will accomplish what we desire without blowing holes in the shallow bottom of the lakes.

THOS. G. FARRELL.

GUNS

MCDONALD'S CORNER, N. B.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—Some months ago, I noticed in a communication from I. Jim, the statement that an L. C. Smith gun could not be cocked without a special instrument, if the hammers should chance to be let down while the gun was apart. I know less about the L. C. Smith hammerless than any other gun, as we do not handle them here. This is not because of any fault in the arm, but rather on account of the limited trade in this province being sufficiently supplied through other channels. But I have a distinct recollection of seeing, while on the grounds of the Wellington Gun Club, near Boston, Mass., in the Spring of 1887, an L. C. Smith gun belonging to H. W. Eager, of Marlboro, Miss., cocked by the use of the detached fore-end. Mr. Eager made the same objection to the gun as I. Jim, and I think a Mr. Shumway took the fore-end and showed him how to cock it. However, there may have been a change in the form of the lock since then.

That was a rich and racy communication in a former issue of the AMERICAN FIELD from a San Antonio correspondent, in defense of the small bore. He was just a little too hard on 10-Bore, whose ire Calumet aroused by insinuating that the users of large gauges on quails were pot-hunters. The less of that kind of talk we have, the better. Everybody knows it is not the gun a man uses that determines his status among sportsmen.

But there were plenty of hard facts in that small bore letter; and facts are stubborn things. My first gun was a 14-gauge, my second an 8 pound 7 ounce 20-bore, my third a 6½ pound 16-bore, and my fourth a 6½ pound 14-bore; so I can claim to have served a very good apprenticeship with the "small uns." Your correspondent puts it fairly when he says they are deadly weapons in the hands of men who know how to hold them aright. My lack of that essential knowledge was my reason for adopting the 12-bore. I have still a very warm corner in my heart for the little guns, and cherish many pleasant memories of happy days afield with them. They have made me some good kills too. I once killed a black mallard duck stone dead at 60 yards with No. 4 shot in the heavy 20-bore mentioned above, and the man who first bought it used it three seasons on Canada geese and did very good work.

L. I. FLOWER.

NITRO POWDER

PEORIA, ILL.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—While there has been much written about the different nitro powders there is one point which cuts a great figure in the use and sale of nitros, upon which little has been said, namely, the price.

Now while I am now using and always have used black powder, I will say that if the price of nitro powder ever gets down anywhere near the price of black powder, I will never willingly shoot another load of black powder, and that seems to be the feeling of all our club members. We can buy any fairly good black powder, such as Orange Extra, Dead Shot, Du Pont or Austin, at $3 25 per keg of twenty-five pounds, which brings the price to 13 cents per pound; while the cheapest nitro powder we can buy costs us 65 cents per one pound can, [illegible] ten-pound drum.

I believe the manufacturers of nitro pow[illegible] that good results can be obtained by using the [illegible] as black powder, but my experience has been, [illegible]

in duck shooting, that (always excepting Walsrode) I have to load one-quarter dram more of nitro than of black powder to get the same results. My experience with the [illegible] nitro powders has been rather limited, being confined to three one-pound cans of E. C., one one-pound can [illegible], and a few loads of S. S. and Du Pont's Smokeless. I have used a great deal of the old Ditmar and the first make of Wood powder, and while they seemed to lack penetration they worked well enough on glass and composition balls where killing power was not required. I believe, however, that this defect has been overcome in the modern nitros.

Our club members are forced to use some nitro powder in shooting on strange grounds to avoid being classed as "rain-makers" and "thunder-pumpers," but at our club shoots and for game shooting we continue to use black powder, solely on the score of economy. One of our club members has shot several pounds of a mixture of S. S. and black powder with good results.

It seems to me that nitro powder ought to be made nearly as cheap as black powder, and so long as it costs, bulk for bulk, four and one-quarter times more, and, weight for weight, nearly nine times more than black powder there will always be a great deal of black powder used. I think there is a fortune in sight for the man who will put a fairly good nitro powder on the market at a reasonable price.

SAWBILL.

NOTES

IN the month of March, Senator Lundin, from Cook County, Illinois, introduced in the Senate Bill No. 324, taxing all shotguns and rifles (not held for repairs nor in stock for sale) fifty cents each, the money so raised to be used for paying game wardens and protecting game in Illinois. The bill is now on second reading and should have the support of every sportsman in our state as well as all other persons. These are some of the reasons: First—The present three game wardens must give their time and spend their own money for traveling expenses and pay court costs in advance when demanded, and if they succeed in convicting persons get part of the fines, if the person convicted has any money to pay. If not, all is lost that is expended. It has been impossible to get any fund appropriated out of the state treasury for this purpose, and probably this is right, as only a small number of taxpayers out of all the people in Illinois hunt, although the state appropriates several thousand dollars annually for the fish commission. It has been demonstrated everywhere for years past that game laws are not and never will be enforced unless game wardens do it, and they cannot do it unless they have pay. The state of Maine has a thorough system of game wardens and game is rapidly increasing in that state. It will be so in Illinois if we adopt a similar plan. In the next place, the sportsmen of this state have never paid anything that has been used directly for game protection. Dogs have been taxed to make a fund for sheep killed; in cities they are taxed to raise money for the general fund. In Chicago it amounts to $70,000 and over per annum. Guns have never paid any tax. Now it is a reasonable plan to make the gun pay for taking care of the game. The amount for each gun is small, in the aggregate it will be sufficient for all needs. Mr. Lundin says the bill will pass if there is encouragement. I hope every sportsman's club and every other man who has any interest in this important subject will assist in having this bill become a law, and the whole financial problem will be solved as to raising money for this most important object.

Chicago. M. R. BORTREE.

THE body of Mr. Henry A. Carpenter, who was drowned in November last while shooting ducks in Stewart Lake, in the Turtle Mountains, North Dakota, was recently found by a young half-breed Indian while shooting muskrats along the shore of the lake. The body of the unfortunate man was discovered floating among the rushes in about four feet of water, but as the half-breed had no boat he did not recover it, but reported what he had seen to Capt. E. W. Brenner, who sent him to Rolla the next day to inform Coroner Cowan. The coroner at once sent word to Mr. R. W. Phelps, who was in the mountains with Mr. Carpenter at the time he disappeared, and the morning following Mr. Phelps and Mr. Fred Natrass started for the lake with a boat, followed the next evening by the coroner and a party of friends. Mr. Phelps knew the country thoroughly and had no difficulty in reaching the camp with the team. There the boat was unloaded and placed in the water and under the direction of the half-breed the body was soon recovered. The body was at once taken to Rolla, where an inquest was held, and the jury returned a verdict of death from accidental drowning, after which the remains were interred in the Rolla cemetery. Mr. Carpenter was about 32 years [illegible] was well known throughout the entire [illegible] the time of his death the deceased had in preparation a book on "The Birds of North Da[illegible] which were to be illustrated by his sister. [illegible] was a thorough sportsman and an interesting writer, and his untimely death when just entering the prime of his manhood is deeply regretted by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance or who knew him only as an interesting contributor to the columns of the AMERICAN FIELD.

IN our issue of April 13 we called the attention of Illinois sportsmen to the necessity of active coöperation in the interest of House Bill No. 715, for the protection of game in that state, and urged each one to make it his personal business to interview or write his representative to work for its passage. The bill had received its second reading, but from inactivity, lack of interest or ulterior motives on the part of certain legislators the bill is not making the progress its importance demands. This is the bill sanctioned by the Illinois State Sportsmen's Association, the game warden and all citizens interested in the preservation of game. The legislature will adjourn the first week in June, and unless the friends of the bill rally and push it through at once it will die for want of support. Our well-known contributor, Ben Hur, was in Springfield last week on legislative business, and on his return he informed us that he overheard one legislator urge several others to attend a meeting at once to word the game bill so that the game dealers' interests would not suffer, and on further investigation he believes the scheme is to allow dealers to sell game coming from outside of Illinois at any time, and wants the note of alarm sounded. As the bill has been reported out of the committee and has had second reading it will require fine work to alter it; but of course it could be done, so we caution sportsmen to call particular attention of their representatives to not allow Section 4, as in the original House Bill No. 715 (the sale section), to be changed in any particular. It is a good bill; push it along.

THE game law recently enacted by the legislature of Wisconsin makes the open seasons on game in that state as follows: Deer, buck, doe or fawn, from November 1 to November 20, except in Sheboygan County, where the above mentioned game is protected absolutely for five years. The hunting of deer with dogs at any time is prohibited. It is also made unlawful to hunt rabbits with dogs during the time the law permits the hunting of deer, though this latter provision does not apply to the counties of Green, Dane, Rock, Walworth, Kenosha, Racine, Milwaukee, Waukesha, Jefferson, Ozaukee, Sheboygan, Fond du Lac, Columbia, Winnebago, Calumet, Dodge, Washington, Iowa, Crawford, Grant and Lafayette. California quails, woodcocks, "Bob White" quails, partridges, pheasants or ruffled grouse, prairie hen or prairie chickens, sharptailed grouse or grouse of any variety, mallard, teal or woodducks, plovers and snipes may be hunted legally from August 20 to December 1. Mongolian, Chinese or English pheasants are protected for a period of five years. Shooting ducks in the night time by aid of a light is prohibited. Geese and brants may be hunted from September 1 to May 1. The use of any sneakboat, raft or box of any description in the pursuit of water fowl is prohibited, as is also the use of any net, snare, trap, spring gun, pivot gun or swivel gun or other firearm not held at arm's length and discharged from the shoulder. Otters, martens, minks or fishers may be legally hunted between October 1 and May 1. Carrier and homing pigeons are protected at all times, as are also turtle doves, larks, robins and all other insectiverous birds except blackbirds and English sparrows.

FRIENDS of mine, fishing ones, came back last June from Douglas' Camps, Maine, filled with accounts of the sport to be had there in piscatoral pursuits as well as later on for Nimrods; so talking and writing back and forth I had to content myself with a party of three, as the rest wanted to see what luck we would have and go some other time. I hold their promise. The journey proved eventless, and in a day and a half we reached our destination at Camp Deer Pond. We had an afternoon's hunt after our arrival, but the deer—a buck—scented us and turned. Next day was a blank and so was the next afternoon, it having rained in the morning. On Thursday a good sized buck attempted to pass the writer at good speed, but was neatly stopped by a chance shot behind the ear, causing him to turn a somersault and lie quite dead with his head facing the way he had come. The next day a spiked buck got his death wound in his rump, the ball coming out near the brisket. This was encouraging, but John capped the climax the next day, Saturday. Three deer came to him in Indian file, a bunch as it were. Coolly selecting the middle one for his first shot and seeing it fall, he swung his Marlin onto the front one, and after this one also bit the dust, he turned his gun on the third one, this one, however, requiring two shots, the trio proving his meat within the space of ten seconds. Truly something to be proud off. The hero being a bachelor gave one to one of the guides and the other two to the writer, and every pound told in remembering the giver to a dozen families. A larger party will take the trip next Fall.

Nyack, N. Y. M.

THE wild fowl season in this state closed on May 2, and if there is a duck within reach of the hardest shooting gun this side of an Atlantic coast defense, that particular bird has a lien on life that should entitle it to an everlasting abode where the breech-loader bloometh not. I do not remember a season when the Spring shooter has been so persistently and vociferously in evidence as the one just closed. It resulted just as I took occasion to predict it would some two months ago in the columns of the AMERICAN FIELD. The ducks have been simply shot out of the country. Last season a few ducks nested in the marshes north of this city, and it was not an uncommon sight to see, now and then, a few ducks circling about. Thanks to that iniquitous measure recently enacted at the behests of a certain contingent of shooters, who would gladly consign the wild fowl supply to the same lamented extinction that is to be remarked of the buffalo, the wild pigeon and other species of wild life, the ducks cannot survive in the face of a seven or eight months' open season of unceasing slaughter. This prolongation of the wild fowl season in New York and its monstrously evil attending features, emphasizes with remarkable clearness the force of genial John McCormick's plea, given in full in the AMERICAN FIELD last September, in behalf of a national law to cover migratory game birds. Mr. McCormick's contention is sound, logical and founded on practical common sense and the ethics of true sportsmanship. Make the law uniform, give the birds ample protection, abolish Spring shooting throughout the nation; that will insure wild fowl shooting and plenty of it.

Ithaca, N. Y. M. CHILL.

THE Sportsmen's Exposition which opens at Madison Square Garden, New York, on Monday of next week, and which is the first of its kind to be held in this country, will be very interesting and instructive to lovers of field and aquatic sports. The loan exhibition will be one of exceptional interest, while the collection of heads of big game will be one of the finest ever assembled in America. These specimens will not only include American game, but fine specimens of the large game of Asia, Europe and Africa, and of the fur bearing animals of the cold regions. Dealers in sporting goods are making most elaborate preparations and sportsmen who visit the exposition—and no one who possibly can should miss seeing it—will find much to interest and instruct them. The display of firearms will be one of the distinctive features of the exposition, and will include everything from the smallest revolvers and parlor rifles up to the heaviest and finest grades of revolver, shotgun and rifle needed in the pursuit of the great game of the Indian and African jungles. Nearly 100 paintings of sporting scenes by artists of acknowledged reputation are already on the catalog of the loan exhibition. These include a number of pictures familiar to all lovers of field sports through reproductions and it will be a treat to see the originals in all their brilliant coloring. The details of the exhibits have been published in our columns for the past few months.

THE gentlemen interested in the incorporation of the Franklin County (Me.) Fish and Game Association met recently at Farmington and elected the following gentlemen as officers of the association for the ensuing year: President, Enoch W. Whitcomb; vice-president, Edward G. Gay; secretary, John M. S. Hunter; treasurer, L. A. Smith. The following associated wardens were selected to assist the state in the protection of the fish in ponds in which the association has lately liberated a large number of salmon and trout: For Varnum's pond, Walter Gile; for Clear Water pond, Walter Mosher; for Sweet's pond, Alexander Sweet. The following were selected as a committee to draw up a code of by-laws: William M. Pratt, Elmer E. Richards and Edward G. Gay. Secretary Hunter made a detailed report of the work of the association the past year, which showed that it had been actively and intelligently forwarding the fish and game interests of the county during that time and doing a great amount of work that will bear rich fruitage in years to come. Mr. Hunter also described fully the work planned for the coming year, showing that the association does not intend to lower its high standard, but rather to materially increase its usefulness each year.

THE Minnesota game law, as amended by the recent legislature of that state, makes the open season on game as follows: Ducks, geese, brants or any variety of aquatic fowl whatever, September 1 to April 15, except that golden or prairie plovers may be killed from September 1 to June 1. Fawns, elks, moose and caribou are protected absolutely until January 1, 1898. Deer, November 1 to November 20; and no one person is permitted to kill more than five deer during any open season. The law on prairie chickens and quails remains the same as before the above changes were made. Dogs used in the pursuit of game of any kind contrary to law are declared a public nuisance and may be killed while so being used. Persons are forbidden to enter into any standing grain not their own, and shall not permit any dog they are hunting so to do without permission of the owner or occupant of such land. The penalty for violation of this section of the law is a fine from $5 to $10, or imprisonment in the county jail of from ten to fifteen days.

THE Board of Supervisors of Tazewell County, Ill., at a recent meeting, passed a resolution instructing the county attorney to prosecute any person, corporation or club placing or maintaining any obstruction across the mouth of the state canal, thereby preventing an entrance through said canal to Spring Lake. The board also instructed the attorney to commence legal proceedings against the Spring Lake Hunting and Fishing Club for trespass, and also authorized the swamp land committee to employ counsel to assist the county attorney in the prosecution, if such assistance is deemed necessary. The Spring Lake Hunting and Fishing Club has had more or less trouble with the authorities of Tazewell County for the past year or two, and it looks now as if a general fight was about to begin in the courts.

THE recent amendments to the game laws of Ontario prohibit the killing of moose, elk, reindeer and caribou until November 1, 1900, make the open season on deer from November 1 to November 15, abolish the law limiting the number of ducks a man may kill in a season, and allow sportsmen from the United States who pay a $25 license to take home with them the two deer which they are by law allowed to kill; but as the Dominion authorities control the exportation of game, and the law at present forbids it, this latter clause is of no avail to non-resident sportsmen.

GAME WARDEN LAND of Denver, Colo., has stated that the game laws of his state will be strictly enforced, and that no one will be granted permission to hunt during the close season. Taxidermists have also been notified that they will be expected to obey the law to the very letter.

NEW PATENTS

The following patents in the sporting goods line have just been issued and are reported especially for the AMERICAN FIELD by Joseph H. Hunter, Attorney at Law and Solicitor of Patents, Washington, D. C.:

Bicycle, Leslie A. Cooper, Springfield, Mass.

Tricycle, John M. Doan, Vandalia, Mich., and John G. Sickles, Vandalia, Mich.

Ice velocipede, William Balser, Canton, O.

Roller skate, Richard H. Lahey, Canadice, New York.

Hand protector for ball catchers, Edward L. Wilson, Lanhams, Md.

Cartridge, William W. McKay, Stanton, N. D.

Hunting

FIXTURES

Brunswick Fur Club's annual foxhound trials, October 28, ——. B. S. Turpin, secretary.

Dixie Red Fox Club's first annual meet, Rowland, Ala., October —. J. H. Wallace Jr., secy.-treasurer.

National Fox-Hunters' Association's second annual meet, ——, November 18, etc. H. L. Means, secretary.

THERE ARE FOXES, AND FOXES

ST. LOUIS, MO.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—There has been much written about the ability of different strains of foxhounds catching red foxes. The greater portion of all the fox-hunts in the South take place in the daytime. The usual custom south is to get to the grounds the foxes use by daylight, when the hounds strike the trail of the fox where he has fed or where he has passed a short time before going to his place of "lying up" during the day. This is taking advantage of the foxes; they being nocturnal feeders and having wandered all night, are in no condition early in the morning to be jumped and have to run for their lives from a pack of fresh hounds. He needs rest and sleep, and is often full from his night's feeding. Reverse the order, and let the hounds be on the go all night before jumping a fox early in the morning, and how long would they follow it? The trail would soon be a cold one.

Did you ever see the owner of a pack that catches or holes half the foxes he jumps catch or hole one in ten he runs at night? The hounds and foxes meet on nearer equal conditions then than they do in a daylight run. I mean a red fox in the month of February or March, not the young ones in September and October. Let those of my friends that want to try the running and staying qualities of their hounds jump a dog fox in March before eight o'clock at night. Those of the hounds in at the death are good enough to run in any chase where speed and endurance count for anything.

Conditions cut such a figure. In a level or slightly undulating country, the pack and fox are on equal terms. In a very hilly or mountainous country, or in thick briers, the fox has the advantage.

I saw some time ago Mr. Avent proposed to wager quite a sum his pack could catch or hole the foxes of Maine. I do not think they could in the mountains. Indeed I do not think it necessary for him to go so far from home to find foxes he cannot catch or hole. I know of some at La Grange, Tenn., within sixteen miles of Mr. Avent, he cannot hole or catch, and daylight runs are not barred; neither are his hounds that can carry a trail twenty-four hours old as fast as a horse can gallop, nor those that hit a loss one or two miles ahead. Do not understand me as decrying Mr. Avent's hounds; far from it. I think he has as good hounds as any in the United States.

I do not think any one pack can catch these foxes. I had a trial at them last March, and camped two days on their trail and did not bring back a brush either. Of the twenty-two hounds in the pack a dozen would not cry anything but a fox. The fox was always at home within a mile of camp, and a trail of ten minutes and a jump was the way he served us. Some of these hounds will be with Mr. Avent's front hounds when they quit if they ever meet. I use the word "quit" advisedly, for they will be run to a standstill and never put their mouths on the fox either; the latter will die of old age if given a fair field. During the two days we ran these foxes I saw Reynard on one occasion—he was only ten yards ahead of the pack—as we were quietly sitting on our horses in the road at a crossing he usually made for soon after being jumped. A better sight one would not want to see than this grand old dog fox bearing down a path for this crossing. With head erect and his white-tipped brush, that looked a yard long, flung to the breeze he looked as big as a hound; his leaps were as light as a ghost's.

There is nothing to compare a full-grown fox to when in motion; he stands alone in grace in every movement. He not only runs with his heels, but uses his head at the same time, baffling human intelligence by his ingenuity. He is the skillful general in retreat, and you could not hear him touch the ground, as he cleared the road at a single bound, as if he had wings, with a slight toss of his head to one side as he passed and casting his eye, now filled with fire, backward to see if he had to let out another link or to admire his white-tipped brush, as much as to say, "It's a beauty, now come and take it."

Before the fox, which then made a sharp turn up a sand gully, was out of sight, the pack came thundering past. A speckled bitch was leading, with Raleigh, a dog, at her flanks, and the others all striving for the front. With an opening Raleigh shot to the front and, as if to eclipse the grand leap of the fox, as he crossed the road, cleared an immense sand ditch the fox had taken, and overran the line for two hundred yards and had to close the rear; but it was not long he remained there. I now thought, as the fox had gone the way we wanted it to go, I would wear its brush home. He was only fooling me. He did not want to drop the distance flag so soon on the hounds; it was only a warming up preliminary to a run for his life. He now disdains a hole; having been dug out and nipped by a small dog when he took to one some years ago, he would die rather than take to one. A barn and some plowed ground he passed over put the hounds at fault a few minutes, and the fox made a gap the hounds could never close. When a safe distance ahead he commenced to run cunning, which showed he was an adept at fooling a pack.

When Mr. Avent adds the brush of this old dog fox to his already numerous trophies, he can tackle the foxes of Maine, and I will be one to help pay his expenses there.

P. H. BRYSON.

THE NATIONAL FOX-HUNTERS' ASSOCIATION

The committee appointed at Olympia Springs last November by the National Fox-Hunters' Association to select a time and place for its next annual meet met at Lexington, Ky., on May 2. The following members were present: W. N. Ramsey, Winchester, Ky.; W. S. Walker, Point Leavell, Ky.; A. Ware, Washington C. H., O.; Wm. Rice, North Middletown, Ky.; Francis J. Hagan, Louisville, Ky.; Channing Corbin, Russel Cave, Ky.; Roger D. Williams, Lexington, and A. B. F. Kinney, Worcester, Mass.; the latter being represented by proxy.

In response to the chairman's invitation published in the AMERICAN FIELD of April 20, inviting fox-hunters to appear before the committee, an enthusiastic gathering was on hand.

Owingsville, alone, sent a delegation of twenty of her fox-hunting citizens to urge her claims, and right ably did they set forth the advantages possessed by their section.

Bowling Green delegated that famous fox-hunter Mr. Haydon C. Trigg of Glasgow, Ky.; to represent that locality, and well did he execute his commission.

Col. Jack Chinn, the most enthusiastic fox-hunter in the grand old commonwealth, urged the selection of Georgia, incidentally paying a high tribute to the hospitality of the Georgians.

Indiana and Virginia were also advocated by others.

After a lively session of four hours the week commencing November 18 was selected as the date, and the committe decided to postpone final action upon the location until June 1. In the meantime representatives will be sent to investigate several of the proposed locations.

After adjournment the entire party repaired to the residence of Mr. Roger D. Williams, where full justice was done a saddle of mutton, old country ham and an assortment of "trimmings" for which Kentucky is so noted.

We had looked for a later date than Nov[illegible] set, but that the committee has got [illegible] way is cause for congratulation, and [illegible] believe that no mistake as to locati[illegible] year. Ample time should be taken [illegible] for the meet, and if the committee [illegible] by June 1 to make a choice no harm will be done. After the hunting country has been decided upon an equally weighty matter will present itself to the committee in the selection of judges, and it is good to know such important affairs are in the hands of gentlemen so well able to deal with them. It may seem rather early to be writing on the great meeting next Fall, but the time will pass quickly. A few months of racing, lawn tennis, golf, boating, picnics and other such Summer sports and amusements; some piping hot days, when that most exasperating of questions, "Is it hot enough for you?" shows that the fool-killer is not attending to his job properly; a few weeks of glorious Autumn, when the early morning air brings a desire to emulate the two-year-old that flings up his heels and nearly pulls his boy out of the saddle in the course of the morning gallop, and November 18 will be with us. "Push it along."

NOTES

RIDING to hounds is of course out of the question in Ontario during the Winter months, but the Toronto Hunt manages to obtain a fair amount of sport during the Autumn and Spring months. At this time of year the master and his followers have to be content with the drag, for the breeding season must be respected, and through its agency they enjoy some good gallops across country. Last Saturday they turned out in force at the meet on the Kingston Road, but an otherwise pleasant day was marred by an accident that befell Mr. O. B. Sheppard; his horse got a bad fall, breaking its back and rolling over its rider, who fortunately escaped without serious injury.

LAST week a pack of hounds belonging to Messrs. Rounseville & Malloy pulled down a she-wolf about four miles east of St. Peter, Minn., after a chase lasting three hours. The same day these gentlemen found a litter of six cubs, captured all, and received $50 as wolf bounty from the auditor of Le Sueur County.

Fish and Fishing

FIXTURES

Chicago Fly Casting Club's open to the world tournament, August 21. F. B. Davidson, secretary.

ANGLING LITERATURE

BY CHAS. F. JOHNSON

The gentle craft is not unlike the Masonic, in that each has its neophytes and grand masters. He who fishes is but a neophyte, whereas he who angles—to him alone do I concede the title of grand master.

Angling! 'Tis a simple word of but seven letters, yet replete with an old-fashioned sweetness of sound and refreshing quaintness; even suggestive of delightful memories and pleasant forthcomings.

Fishing! How harsh it mouths, and manifold its meaning. The small boy, the poacher, the netter and the pot-hunter all fish, they do not angle.

Angling is the highest culture of fishing. The culture of an art is its literature. To the literature of angling we are indebted for its beauties. To the individual who occasionally visits some small trout stream densely hedged around with brush and foliage, teeming with countless numbers of small trout who yield themselves easy captives to his primitive tackle and unskillful method in its use, the literature of angling is incomprehensible. In what light can the teachings of Ronalds appear to those whose tackle consists of a short pole, a piece of thick line, a big, clumsy hook and a worm, who with these rough implements (heaven forbid they should be called tackle) unceremoniously yank a lusty trout from his quarters, favoring him with no more grace and concern than that which his eating calls forth.

But your true angler! His greatest delight a so-called fished-out stream, because there he can both display his skill and indulge his harmless vanity, by showing to his less advanced brethren how futile are the self-preservatory instincts of the most cunning old fish against his skill and methods. There, in the secure fastness of yon big bowlder, lies his quarry, a big cunning old trout, ever and anon betraying his presence by a slight dimpling of the surface as he rises and "picks down" an occasional straggler from the bunch of blue duns hovering over his quarters, one which has been so incautious as to rest for a brief instant upon the surface. How [illegible] the angler studies the situation before commencing the attack! He is in a bad position; up stream and [illegible] his intended prize. From this point he knows he [illegible] venture: the fish will see him, and his line will cut the water when casting.

He makes a wide detour, taking his position lower down stream, about thirty yards below the unsuspecting fish.

Now he has the verlest midge—his leader, the finest gut, his line, the finest made.

In a crouching attitude he commences, elongating his cast foot by foot yet never allowing his fly to touch the water, proceeding in this manner until his fly promises to drop about three feet ahead of the center of the ring caused by the last rise of the fish. At this instant, but without pausing, his utmost skill is concentrated on the cast which shall carry the little specimen of feathered entomology upon its errand.

There! the fly flutters down to the surface. It was aimed high above the water, purposely, to allow the master-hand which governed it to place it upon the water with that coquettish, hesitatory lightness which its living prototypes betray when alighting. Quicker than thought the stream has carried the fly onward a trifling space. There is the tiniest ripple at one end of the line, an almost imperceptible twitch of the angler's wrist at the other, a silvery form flashes above the surface and disappears. He is hooked, and now if the hook only holds fast 'tis but a question of time before one of the craftiest old trout in the stream will bid an everlasting farewell to his old quarters.

Few Chicago anglers are aware of the rare intellectual treat awaiting them at the Newberry Library, situate on Clark Street, where free to all can be found a complete collection of all the works on angling ever printed. Of Walton's "Compleat Angler" there are sixty-four different editions, from the small, somber-bound, crabbed-lettered first edition copy to the latest embellished edition of Walton and his colleague Cotton. These are but a side issue of the main collection, which numbers many hundreds and forms the most remarkable and unique collection of angling literature in existence. The management of this institution is perfect.

Chicago.

NOTES

IF the plans of Mr. Henry Loftie, of Syracuse, N. Y., do not miscarry, the experimental state hatchery at Constantia, on Oneida Lake, will receive an appropriation of $5,000 from the legislature, which will enable the superintendent, Mr. Monroe Green, to largely augment the output of food fishes, such as pike, whitefish and trout. Mr. Loftie recently received a letter from Mr. Green, in which that gentleman acknowledged the great value of Mr. Loftie's services to the cause of fish-culture and fish protection, and assuring the latter of his hearty coöperation in establishing a permanent hatchery at Constantia, saying he knew of no place in the state better adapted for the propagation of food fishes. He further stated there were about 40,000,000 of pike eggs in the process of hatching, and a large number of pike eggs will be taken this Spring if the hatchery facilities are sufficiently enlarged to warrant the undertaking. Mr. Loftie has spent much time and effort for fish protection and fish-culture, and he considers the location at Constantia most favorable for propagating purposes. The results already attained would seem to have proved his theory correct. The attention of the United States Fish Commission has been drawn to the desirability of the place, and if a favorable report should succeed investigation, it is not unlikely a national hatchery may be placed there owing to the work of Mr. Loftie.

Two men, Barney and Paul Olsen, were arrested by Fish and Game Warden Mendenhall of Rapidan, at the mouth of Blue Earth River, on April 18, upon a charge of illegal fishing, says the Ledger of Mankato, Minn. When arrested the men had about 1,000 pounds of fish in their possession, but the complaint was sworn out for six fishes only, and the fine imposed was sixty dollars with costs added of seven and one-half dollars. As the convicted men were unable to raise the amount they were committed to sixty days' imprisonment in the county jail. The wife of Barney Olsen is said to be sick and destitute, and at last reports friends of the men were making efforts to raise the sum necessary for the liberation of the men. It is eminently just that all men should be compelled to respect the fish and game laws, and that violators should be punished; but, we think, any judge would not be derelict were he to temper justice with mercy, in cases where poverty and destitution, possibly starvation, push a man to a technical violation of the fish law when he is obeying the higher law which imposes responsibility for welfare of the family Providence has given him. In our opinion a legal way should exist to remit fines in such cases, when fairly proven.

THE license laws of Canada concerning foreigners affect Americans as follows: To angle or fish for [illegible] pickerel) perch, or trout in Canadian waters the foreigner must first obtain a permit [illegible] in each district, said permit—one [illegible] to a person at the cost of five dollars for three months or ten dollars for six months. A permit is not transferable, must be produced when called for, and authorizes the use of one line with not more than three hooks. No licensed person can take take more than twelve bass, pike, perch, twenty trout or four mascalonge. No trout of less than six inches can be taken; of the other varieties, none less than ten inches. Owners of fishing leases need not take out licenses. One clause, however, enacted August 1, 1894, says that foreigners, temporarily domiciled in Canada and employing Canadian boats and boatmen, shall be exempt from the regulations requiring permits. This would seem rather liberal to the transient fisherman, whereas the angler spending some time in Canada must pay the license.

THE last of the ice in the lakes in Wisconsin and Northern Michigan went out week before last. Lake trout are now biting and, as I understand the new game laws, are eligible for sport after May 1. Mascalonge fishing in Wisconsin begins June 1, under the new law, so the only sport to be had until that time will be the fishing for the lake trout or landlocked salmon.

State Line, Wis. HARVEY ROWELL.

[NOTE.—According to the latelypassed law of Wisconsin speckled or brook trout, California or rainbow trout, or mountain or brown trout, or any other variety of trout can be caught on April 15 and up to August 20 of each year, except in Pecatonica River, where there is no open season. We do not find in the bill passed any provision regarding lake trout in inland waters. The open season for black bass, green bass, Oswego bass, pickerel, wall-eyed pike and mascalonge is from June 1 to March 1 following, excepting in Devil's Lake and Lake de Neveu, where it is June 1 to October 1.—ED.]

YE gentle angler is mighty busy these fine May days. Trout are giving him plenty of sport. Billy Willson and Art Post took seventy from a stream near Slaterville, one day last week. But Willson had to stand treat. On the homeward journey his entire catch, forty in number and every one a jewel, was lost out of the carriage. Tompkins and Cortland counties are both yielding a splendid crop of brook trout. Eight hundred thousand pike-perch and 300,000 mascalonge have been put in Cayuga Lake. Some fine catches of perch are being scored by local anglers. Central New York anglers and sportsmen generally will be glad to learn that Harry C. Carr has been reappointed state game protector for this district. It has been my pleasure to repeatedly commend Mr. Carr for the excellent quality of his work, and it goes without saying that the good work done by him in the past wil be continued in the future. Carr is "all right!"

Ithaca, N. Y. M. CHILL.

AT Rice and Centerville lakes, Minn., on May 3, executive Agent Fullerton, of the state fish and game commission, and Deputy Wardens Starkey and Andrus made a great raid upon the apparatus of illegal netters. They captured 111 nets, including over 2,000 feet of gill nets, all of which were burned. Some of the nets had a mesh of not over three-quarters of an inch, and in places they were set so that even small fishes could not possibly escape. The live fishes were thrown back into the water, and although many fishes of game varieties were thus saved, the officers turned back several wagon-loads of bullheads alone during the day. It is said a large gang of men has been pursuing this illegal traffic, and that warrants have been issued for sixteen of them, to be served as soon as the parties can be located, when vigorous prosecution will follow.

BY the new trout law of Minnesota the season opened May 1, but many of the troutsmen had already taken advantage of the fact that trout can be caught legally in Wisconsin on April 15, and had taken the keen edge off their trout appetite in Wisconsin waters, thus turning the tables on the anglers of the latter state, who used to take the same advantage when the Minnesota season opened earlier than that of their own state. The Brule Club, of St. Paul, owns a club house and preserve upon the Brule River, in Wisconsin, and of the members who have been casting their lines in those waters for some days past are the following: Messrs. C. D. O'Brien, G. C. Squiers, H. E. Thompson, Alex Drake, M. D. Munn and W. H. Lightner.

S. J. JONES, "recently appointed fish commissioner of this district," arrested J. C. Stromquest and E. G. Fry while spearing fish in the Iowa River. They were brought before M. H. Littell, Justice of the Peace, who fined them each ten dollars and cost. There has been considerable seining and dynamiting here during the last year. I think when the violators realize that our efficient warden means business this kind of work will cease. Owing to the low stage of water for the last two years, and the wanton destruction of our game fishes, the Iowa River, which has always been noted for its splendid fishing, is almost barren of fish at the present time.

Belmond, Ia. D. E. PACKARD.

THE troutsmen of San Francisco are enjoying fairly good sport on the streams of California, and the fly-catchers are finding the trout rise to their favorite lures more freely. No very large catches have been reported of late, but on most streams the industrious anglers succeed in making fair strings. On April 21 Messrs. Miller and Street caught twenty and twenty-six nice trout respectively, on Paper Mill Creek, and that, too, after the stream had been thrashed by less skillful fishers. By the middle of May the headwaters of the Sacrmento and the St. Cloud River will afford grand sport for fly-fishermen.

A MEETING of the executive committee of the Chicago Fly Casting Club was held at the Great Northern last Monday evening, and plans for the coming season's outings, contests and open-to-the-world tournament in August next discussed. Another committee meeting will be held this week, to perfect the programs, and a meeting of the club has been called for next Tuesday evening, May 14, at the same place, when will be presented the complete schedule for the season's work and pleasure. Every member is earnestly requested to be present at 8 p. m. sharp.

THE H. H. Kiffe Co., 523 Broadway, New York, who are advertising a split bamboo rod for $1.03 in our columns, wish us to inform those of our readers who have ordered rods and whose orders have not been filled that, owing to the large demand for them, the factory is behind in its production and that orders in arrears will be filled as soon as possible. As we are familiar with the honorable business methods of The H. H. Kiffe Co. we are satisfied that all unfilled orders will receive attention in due course.

ON May 1, at Port Jervis, N. Y., John Hayes, an employee of the Port Jervis Saw works, went fishing for trout with his son in a small stream near that town. While Hayes was fishing a man on the opposite bank of the stream discharged a gun loaded with shot at him, and one shot destroyed the sight of one eye. The land upon which Hayes was fishing belonged to a farmer named Ludwig Laux, a German; and the next day, accompanied by his son and a constable, Hayes went to Laux's house and identified Laux as the man who had shot him. A warrant for the arrest of the shooter has been issued.

IN New York, Canada Lake, a beautiful sheet of water about fifteen miles from Johnstown, and closely connected with several smaller lakes abounding with lake trout, recently had 50,000 pike-perch fry from the Constantia hatchery liberated in its waters. On the morning of May 3 the Saratoga County Fish and Game Protective Association liberated 700,000 wall-eyed pike fry in Saratoga Lake. The fry had been secured from Caledonia, and this week the association expected to place in the lake several thousands of young black bass.

ON April 30 the Wisconsin Central Railway landed at Ashland a party of prominent gentlemen from St. Louis, Mo., who were headed for a few days' trouting upon the Brule River. Among the number were ex-Governor Francis; Major Morrill, of the "Frisco" railroad; J. F. Howe, of the Wabash; Clay Pierce, of the Standard Oil Co.; Col. Prather and Capt. Estil McHenry. The objective point on the Brule, and where the party made headquarters, was the St. Louis club house.

AT Wichita, Kan., Dr. Shultz, who is fish warden for that part of the state, has been on the track of parties who have been constantly violating the fish law by netting in the river, and on April 29 he commenced proceeding by having two of the men arrested at Newton with a lot of big buffalo fish in their possession. The warden means to put a stop to the illegal traffic if possible.

ON April 30, at Mt. Clemens, Mich., Henry L. Avery, fish and game warden for Wayne County and at large, secured the conviction of Matt Thomas upon a charge of fishing with nets in Lake St. Clair, and a fine of twenty-five dollars was assessed. Four other men are to be tried soon upon similar charges. Some $1,200 worth of nets have been captured.

THE Dayton Pelee Club and the Cincinnati Fishing Club are on their old grounds after black bass, in Lake Erie, taking in the short Spring season. The latter club left on May 9, and will remain at the club house, at Put-in-Bay; for ten days. Commodore W. B. Smith and Purser Sterritt went a day or two in advance to prepare for the arrival of the club.

IN New York Gov. Morton has appointed a veteran angler of Rochester—Mr. Charles H. Babcock—a member of the new state fish and forestry commission. The selection is gratifying to many friends of Mr. Babcock, as his practical knowledge of fishing matters cannot fail to be of service to the commission.

BLACK BASS fishing is unusually good this Spring. Two of my friends landed 113 on May 5, within a few hundred yards of the boat landing. The water is clear and fishing will be good for some time. If I can be of any service (in the way of making arrangements at the islands) to brother sportsmen, I will gladly do so.

Sandusky, O. DAN'L BOONE.

ON May 4, a meeting of market fishermen was held at Oshkosh, Wis., at which a decision was made to form a pool consisting of express and railway companies, and fishermen, to employ good legal talent and take steps to test the constitutionality of the recently enacted Buckstaff fish and game law, which prohibits net fishing in waters adjacent to that place.

EARLY last week a party of Marinette (Wis.) troutsmen, Messrs. C. O. Josslyn, J. E. Dafter, W. F. Overbeck, C. T. Greene, W. S. Hermon, W. Steinle and F. Baker, paid a visit to the Thunder River headwaters and returned with 470 trout. Messrs. Greene and Hermon were the high hooks, each having caught about 100 trout of fair size.

AT Albany, N. Y., the Townsend Park Fishing Club, which has a club house at Kinderhook Lake, opened its fishing season on May 1, and all the friends of the members are invited to accept the club's hospitality. The officers are: Captain, D. McDuff; treasurer, Jack Peters.

THE new state fish, game and forest commission of New York has retained Chief Protector J. Warren Pond in office; and that efficient fish and game protector of Rochester, George M. Swartz, will continue to prove the Nemesis of fish and game violators in his jurisdiction.

AT Baltimore, Md., on April 26 the Excelsior Fishing Club was incorporated by Lambert H. Thiess, Ferdinand Kaufholz, Frank Gross, Michael Lotz and Thomas J. Irving. The club has no capital stock, being supported by dues and assessments.

THE statement that "the introduction of black bass into a lake or pond tends to increase the number of trout because the bass wage war upon the pickerel, the natural foe of the trout," is accredited to State Fish Commissioner Stanley of Maine.

IN Illinois Governor Altgeld has appointed the following state fish wardens: Peter F. Lindmeyer of Fulton, for Fulton County, and Frank E. Winter, of Shawneetown, for Gallatin County.

IN Illinois Gov. Altgeld has appointed C. H. Sutton, of Rock Falls, fish warden for Whiteside County.

IN South Dakota, W. L. Gardner has been appointed fish warden for Pennington County.

Natural History

FIXTURES

May meetings of the Scientific Alliance of New York: Microscopical Society, 17; Academy of Sciences, 13, 20, 27 and June 3; Entomological Society, 25; Chemical Society, 10; Mineralogical Club, 10; Torrey Botanical Club, 14 and 29; Linnæan Society, 14 and 28; Mathematical Society, 25.

THE REPTILES OF MICHIGAN—NO. 16

BY MORRIS GIBBS

Turtles and Terrapins

There has been very little written regarding Michigan turtles, and the lists at hand are very misleading and are presented in an old nomenclature. With the aid of friends I am enabled to offer a catalog of twelve species, and with notes on nearly all. This list, though less complete than I could wish it, is the outcome of many years of observation and may be accepted, as far as it goes, as a reliable list of the turtles of the great lake region. Aside from the list in the Michigan Geological Survey of 1861, by Dr. Miles, and the one by Dr. Smith in Science News of October 1, 1879, there are no recently printed lists that I know of.

The skeleton of a turtle is a remarkable structure, and its peculiar make-up cannot fail to attract the attention of anyone given to observation. If the readers of the AMERICAN FIELD will examine the empty turtle shell found on the shore of a pond or river, it will be seen that the carapace, or upper shell, is composed principally of the joined, widened ribs. These ribs, in an adult turtle, are sutured together much after the manner observed in the joining of the bones of the human skull. The lower shell, or plastron, is simply an enlarged or expanded breastbone or bones. All variations in size and shape, as observed in the many species of turtle, tortoises and terrapins, are only modifications of these distinguishing features of the shelled or armored reptiles.

The young turtle is provided with spaces, we may say to simplify terms, between the ribs and at their distal ends and edges, which permit of growth without immediate solidification. The process of shell-growth may, therefore, to a certain extent, be compared to the infantile development of the human skull, with the accompanying fontanel, or soft spot, on the baby's head. Young turtles therefore may suffer severe mutilation, as regards deformation of the upper or lower shell, and still recover. In fact, I know of no vertebrate animal which will survive the injuries to which a turtle or tortoise, of any age, may be subjected and live. The tenacity of life in the chelonians is proverbial, and, as an extreme instance of vitality after decapitation, I offer the following truthful experiment.

A snapping turtle was beheaded, after which the head continued to bite for some time. The feet kept pawing as if the creature were swimming, and upon the headless body being thrown into the water it swam with vigor and even precision, and did not flounder about but kept a straight course. The long, serpent-like tail then being presented to the still spasmodically snapping jaws, they closed on it with vise-like firmness. Then followed the paradoxical exhibition of a dead, yet vigorous, animal swimming actively away with its own separated head savagely biting its own tail. Instinct is, of course, out of the question in this instance, but it is strange to record that what we may, perhaps, call the "sense of direction" evidently governed this decapitated reptile, even in its maimed condition; for, upon its release, it immediately plunged toward the deep pool in the river and appeared on the surface no more.

This story appears so hard to believe that I shall not feel offended if disbelief is published in the columns of the AMERICAN FIELD, but now I think it no more than fair to suggest to my prospective critics that the experiment, as given above, should first be tested. Strange as it appears it is exact, and may be repeatedly verified.

The distinction between the terms turtle and tortoise is one in which we are at liberty to use our own fancy, as a rule; but, strictly speaking, we have no turtles in the interior, for according to some authorities turtles are only found in the sea, and the name is correctly applied only to those large species which have huge, fin-like flippers. However the names turtle, tortoise and terrapin will continue to be used indiscriminately.

NOTES

AT Manhattan Beach, near Denver, Colo., a freak of nature of which the counterpart has not been recorded in any natural history was born on the morning of April 23, says the Denver Times. The zoölogical garden at Manhattan Beach contains a long, sleek black tiger, nine years old, named Tom, and a big, handsome leopardess, eight years old, named Kate, whose cages adjoined. Not long after the two animals became neighbors Kate commenced making advances to Tom, and in a short time the two big felines exhibited such friendliness that the keepers placed them together. For four years Kate and Tom have eaten, drunk and slept together, exhibiting the greatest affection. To the surprise of the attendants, at 4 a. m one Tuesday, the night watchman found a cub lying near its mother, who paid no attention to it. The little animal was nearly dead, but revived upon being properly cared for, and at last accounts it was nursing with a litter of water spaniel puppies and doing well. It was about the size of a large new-born kitten, and is marked like the leopard, excepting the markings are darker, and the keeper thinks the cub will grow still darker when its hair is shed. The watchman says another cub was born which was entirely black, like the father, but the mother ate it at once.

THE Audubon Society, of Chicago, held a meeting at the Athenæum Building, in that city, on May 1. An interesting paper, containing an account of one year's observations of birds by Mr. and Mrs. Beebe, of Aurora, Ill., was read by Rev. Geo. B. Pratt, and remarks followed regarding the prevailing use of birds' plumage for millinery. Ladies present expressed a determination to discontinue the use of birds as adornments in the future, and to use all their persuasive powers to the same end with other women. The society intends to raise money with which to hire advertising space in the street cars, wherein attractively gotten up appeals to refrain from encouraging the destruction of birds by wearing plumage in hats will be displayed, as are other advertisements.

I SINCERELY hope that this Spring the sportsmen's clubs, and also individuals, will make a beginning in introducing into suitable localities the ring-neck pheasant or the Mongolian pheasant. The following states, it seems to me, contain places where these birds would soon become very numerous, say Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Arkansas, Missouri, Louisiana, Cumberland Mountains in Tennessee, North Carolina and West Virginia. A sufficient sum could soon be raised in almost any community to buy a few birds or some eggs to set under domestic fowls, which could be turned loose this Fall or next Spring. It would be interesting to read [illegible] CAN FIELD to know what is being don[illegible] Chicago.

Travel

SKETCHES OF ALASKA AND THE PACIFIC COAST—NO. 16

(Illustrated.)

BY A. K. DELANEY

Civil Government in Alaska

During the afternoon of October 18, 1867, amid artillery salutes and something of "pomp and circumstance," the imperial ensign of Russia was lowered from the flagstaff near the old castle at Sitka and the stars and stripes were run up in its place, thus completing the formal transfer of Alaska from Russia to the United States under the treaty of cession of the preceding March. The territory was turned over to the War Department and garrisons were established at Sitka, Wrangel and Tongass. Ten years of military rule succeeded, which gave to the settlements of southeastern Alaska, at least, peace and protection.

In June, 1877, the military forces were withdrawn and the territory fell into the hands of the Treasury Department. Anarchy reigned for the succeeding two years. Brawls were incessant and theft and murder stalked abroad unpunished. The settlement at Sitka barely escaped the horrors of Indian massacre. Shortly after the removal of the troops the palisade at that post which separated the white settlement from the Indian village was broken in, and dusky brave and forest maiden proceeded to purloin from the whites whatever might attract their fancy. To the unfaltering fidelity of a Sitkan chief, named Ah-nah ootz, who led a large faction of the Sitka tribe, the settlement was more than once indebted for preservation. The collector of customs and his deputies constituted the sole official authority in the country—civil, military or naval. By them, as well as by the people of the settlement, the most urgent appeals were sent to Washington, but to no avail.

The first year of anarchy passed without serious outbreak, but a crisis was reached in the Winter of 1878–79. In November, 1878, two Indians killed a man named Brown, at the hot springs, sixteen miles from Sitka, and by the aid of Ah-nah-ootz the murderers were captured, and, in the early part of February, 1879, were lodged in the guardhouse at Sitka. The population of the Indian village was then at its maximum, all the hunting and fishing parties being then in Winter quarters at the village, and a muster of three hundred braves could easily be made, whereas the entire population of the white settlement scarcely reached that number. Fortunately, however, the Indians were divided into two opposing factions, one led by Ah-nah-ootz and the other by Kaht-le-ahn. The two prisoners in the guardhouse belonged to the faction of the latter chief, and he appears to have had a further grievance, in the loss of some of his men who had shipped on a sealing schooner bound for the westward and had been lost at sea. For this loss he claimed remuneration from the whites, in accordance with the rule of the Indian law. Several parleys were held; and Kaht-le-ahn, failing to get pay for his braves, determined on retaliation.

Among the peculiar customs of the natives in this country is a feast called the "pot-latch," at which, aside from feasting and drinking (usually alchoholic), the host bestows upon his guests the most extravagant gifts. Not infrequently many hundreds of dollars are thus expended, and bales of calico and yards of silks and satins, and scores of blankets are passed over by the hero of the occasion to his admiring guests.

On the evening of February 6, 1879, Kaht-le-ahn gave one of these feasts, and about midnight—with a strong following inflamed to frenzy by frequent potations of a spirituous compound distilled there by the natives and called "hoo-che-noo"—he started for the white settlement on his errand of plunder and massacre. Ah-nah-ootz, vigilant and faithful, at the head of his band met the belligerents near the gate of the palisade, and a sort of battle ensued. One of Ah-nah-ootz's men was killed and several were wounded on either side, but Kaht-le-ahn was finally compelled to retire.

A meeting of citizens was held the next day, such arms as could be found were distributed, sentinels posted, alarm signals to be given in case of an outbreak agreed upon, and the castle and the residence of the priest of the Greco-Russian Church—both substantial log structures—were designated as the points of rendezvous in case of an alarm.

Two days later the little steamer California, then making monthly trips from Puget Sound to Sitka and affording the only means of communication with the outside world, arrived, giving a brief season of hope to the settlement. The California having learned the situation left on February 10, carrying urgent messages to Washington, and bearing away such of the women and children as could leave the place. As the little steamer disappeared among the islands of the inland passage a gloom akin to despair fell over the defenseless town.

The next twenty days were days of weary waiting and the nights long hours of anxious, ceaseless vigilance. Kaht-le-ahn left, immediately after the sailing of the California, with the avowed purpose of gathering from the outlying Indian villages a force strong enough to overcome the allies of the whites and then massacre and plunder the town. He might return at any hour, after which few had any hope for the settlement.

On the morning of March 1, however, deliverance came from a source least expected. A man-of-war, flying the deep crimson of the British ensign, swe[illegible] the cordon of islands which shelter the inner [illegible] Sitka from the open waters of Norfolk Sound [illegible] Pacific Main, and dropped anchor abreast of the [illegible] village. At the last moment before the sailing [illegible] California the citizens, in their dire distress, had sig[illegible] petition to the commander of the British squadron at Esquimalt Harbor, near Victoria, B. C., briefly reciting [illegible] danger and asking relief. Not long after the re[illegible] this petition Captain Holmes A'Court, of Her [illegible] was on his way to Sitka, on board the [illegible] Osprey, where he arrived just twenty [illegible] of the California. After opening [illegible] the Indian village under cover of [illegible], with that blunt, straightforward promptitude peculiar to the true seaman, sent a subaltern ashore to notify the collector of customs, the only official representing the United States in the territory, that he awaited his instructions. It is needless to state that Kahtle-ahn's attack was indefinitely postponed; but I may be permitted to add that, while the cry of "twisting the lion's tail" has become a sort of party shibboleth for vote-catching potiticians in the East, there are mothers still living at Sitka who have never ceased to bless the name of Captain A'Court, and the good ship Osprey.

The Osprey remained at Sitka until April 3, when the United States naval vessel Alaska arrived, having been dispatched after long delay by the shamed potentates at Washington. The Alaska was relieved by the Jamestown on June 15, 1879, when naval rule in Alaska fairly began, which continued to be the sole government of the territory until the present apology for civil government was established under the act of Congress of May 17, 1884, known here as the "organic act."

The expedients resorted to by the people for the preservation of order and the protection of life and property when Alaska knew neither law nor forum are an interesting study, and tell how deep-seated the spirit and genius of popular government are implanted in the character of the American people. A full-fledged city government was in operation at Sitka for several years, the records of which are still preserved in the archives of the town. Its sole basis was the consent of the majority, and while one can scarcely repress a smile at the idea of city ordinances prefaced by the usual high-sounding formula "The Mayor and Common Council of the city of Sitka do ordain," in a country where there was neither the common nor statutory law, it is none the less true that this government not only maintained peace and order but under its auspices many public improvements were carried forward.

During the gold excitement in the Cassiar country, up the Stickeen River, in the last of the seventies, Wrangel, being the base of supplies and the starting point from tidewater for hundreds of ingoing and outcoming miners, felt the need of government. A public meeting was called and a committee, vested with legislative, executive and judicial authority, was appointed, and order soon came out of chaos.

Upon the footsteps of the gold discovery at Juneau came the "miners' code," the outgrowth of conditions and necessities in the early days of California; and which has not only been thence transplanted into every mining country and camp on the continent, but in later years has received the approval of the Supreme Court of the United States, so far as it relates to property rights, whereby a new and entirely original branch of law has been engrafted upon our American jurisprudence.

Miners' government is a democracy pure and simple. All the laws and regulations are promulgated at a public meeting, called for that purpose, in which the will of the majority is final. These regulations are invariably just, simple, short and pointed; and, under their operation, millions upon millions of precious metal have been taken from the bosom of the earth in the states and territories of the Pacific Slope. Disputes as to property rights are generally settled by a board of arbitrators; but sometimes courts are ordained, and decisions in either case savor more of equity than of law. A custom which has been transmitted from camp to camp is the calling of meetings and the summoning of courts by the pounding of a huge steel triangle, whose shrill reverberations can be heard for miles around; and a saying which has passed into a sort of miners' maxim is that when the triangle rings nothing but justice will be dispensed.

In the miners' camp crime meets with speedy, severe and often condign punishment, but the forms of law are always observed. A court is convened, a judge presides, a jury is impanneled, a prosecuting attorney is appointed, counsel is awarded the accused—usually the ablest in the camp—and testimony is taken. Though these courts are impromptu they seldom fail to reach the truth of the matter under investigation, hence their judgments are usually final. Sometimes, at the dictates of mercy or in the interests of fair play, appeals are taken to the miners' meeting—the court of last resort—whose judgment invariably meets with speedy execution; whereupon the constitutent elements of the government disperse, one to his claim, another to his merchandise.

Under this miners' code, from February, 1881, to November, 1884, when such civil government as is provided by the act of May 17, 1884, went into operation, Juneau—the rising young metropolis of Alaska—was one of the most peaceable, orderly and best governed towns on the Pacific Coast, sensational newspaper stories to the contrary notwithstanding.

This "organic act" is a statutory anomaly—a sort of legislative fungus—having neither precedent nor parallel in the history of American legislation. It provides an executive and a judiciary but no legislature. As there are neither laws to execute nor a power to enact laws, the executive office is simply an empty name. The gap resulting from the absence of a legislature is attempted to be filled by a declaration that "the laws of the state of Oregon, so far as the same may be applicable and not in conflict with the laws as the United States and the organic act," shall be the laws of Alaska. It requires no legal acumen to perceive, at a glance, that the jurisprudence thus created can be little else than a distortion and a deformity, transmitting to the people who inherit it a law entailed from its birth with inherent ambiguity and confusion.

The judiciary provided is the sole redeeming feature of the act, and practically constitutes the government of the territory. The provisions, however, concerning appeals and writs of error are so utterly unintelligible as to [illegible] rights.

[illegible] little in the way of government [illegible] the people of a territory whose [illegible] government for many months [illegible] tenure of fidelity on the part [illegible] whose extinction was averted only by a prompt response from an English officer and the timely arrival of a foreign man-of-war, just why the rights and privileges enjoyed everywhere else by American citizens should be denied Alaska, by express enactment, is to us an unsolved problem. A delegate to Congress is forbidden, and the land laws are expressly not extended to the territory. Sorely as a people four thousand miles removed from the capital of the nation may feel the need of some representation at the source of power, the great and entirely indefensible hardship is the withholding of the land laws.

Attached to the protocol of transfer is a map of Sitka showing one hundred and sixteen lots, beside public grounds and the property of the Greco-Russian church. Of this number twenty have fee simple titles, derived from the Russian government, which—with one at Kodiak—comprise all the private land titles in the territory except mineral lands now being patented. Nearly all the lots to which no title is held have improvements on them and are occupied. The town site of Juneau has been surveyed and platted into blocks and lots, and shows three hundred and seventy-nine lots, nearly every one of which has been occupied and improved, some by substantial business places and others by comfortable and attractive homes. The same state of facts exists at Douglass City, situated on Douglass Island, across the channel from Juneau, and at Wrangel and Kilisnoo lots have been staked and occupied. Besides these scores of fishing stations and cannery sites have been taken up, upon many of which very expensive plants have been erected. All of these lands would be promptly purchased at a fair price if the government would give our people the right to thus acquire title thereto. Aside from these there are areas, which, from actual experiment, our people know to be capable of a limited agriculture; and there are tracts of excellent grazing land and vast areas of timber, all of which should of right be opened not only to purchase but to preëmption and homestead by bona fide settlers.

Imagination exhausts itself in attempting to find a reason why this cannot be allowed. To add outrage to injustice actions have recently been brought, under direction of the authorities at Washington, against some of our citizens who have used timber from the public lands to build their houses and erect business places, quartz-mills and other appurtenance of the mining industry, to recover damages by the United States for timber thus used; and this in a land amid whose interminable forests millions of feet of lumber annually sink into decay, and where the right to acquire title to a foot of either land or stumpage is denied. With the right to acquire title provision should be made enabling the people of the more populous towns to establish municipal governments in the usual form. This will not only furnish a guarantee for peace and order, but will supply the machinery whereby public improvements can be carried forward.

What objection, sounding in reason or common-sense, can be urged against this? The condition of our people is not unknown at the federal capital. The reports of the officers of the civil government have been annually laden with statements of fact as to our condition and necessities, and since this archipelago has become a favorite resort for Summer tourists "potent, grave and reverend" statesmen have been interviewed and importuned by our people. The invariable answer has been: "Something must be done for Alaska;" but, somehow, when the next session of Congress comes around this stepchild of the republic, lying isolated and alone far away to the northwest, is forgotten.

The net result of a visit of ex-Speaker Reed was an article, to one of the leading periodicals, entitled "An Outlying Province," whose chief merit consists of a very graphic description of the natural beauties of Sitka and its surroundings. A subsequent visit of Senators Cameron, Vest and Farwell was not productive of even this much. During the fiftieth Congress the Senate appointed two committees—one to make some sort of piscatorial inquiry concerning the finny tribes of our waters, the other to investigate the condition of the Indian tribes of Alaska; and in the Summer of 1889 one of these committees, of which Senator Dawes was chairman, attended by a sergeant-at-arms and page, visited this country on one of these missions, in a government vessel, presumably at government expense. To this, of course, we offer no protest, as we are gratified to know that even our fishes and Indians are deemed worthy of congressional consideration; but it is suggested that the records of both the legislative and executive branches of the government will be searched in vain to find evidence of a similar interest in the white denizens of the territory. Nor are we advised that any practical good has resulted to either fishes or Indians through the visit of the committee.

Grown restless under long neglect, during the Summer of 1890 our people inaugurated a movement which culminated in October, of that year, in a territorial convention, held at Juneau, to which every settlement of Southeastern Alaska sent delegates. The convention adopted a memorial to Congress asking for better government and that the incubus of unjust laws be lifted from us. A duly accredited agent or delegate was chosen, who passed the next Winter in Washington pressing upon Congress the condition and needs of Alaska. Little progress, however, was made. After the most persistent efforts two or three sections relating to Alaska, at the last hours of the session, were interpolated into "An Act to Repeal the Timber-Culture Laws, and for Other Purposes." These sections offer Alaskan settlers the surpassingly liberal terms of purchase of the public lands there at two dollars and fifty cents per acre to the government, and the purchaser to pay all costs of surveys, field and office work, which at the lowest estimate will bring the land up to four or five dollars per acre to the settler. Before any application for a patent will be entertained a deposit of money to pay for surveys made upon estimates of the Surveyor General must be put up in the hands of the land officers. The hardy colonists who have gained a foothold on this rugged shore, after reading and digesting this act and then recalling not only the preëmption and homestead laws but the further fact that vast areas of the most beautiful and fertile valleys of the great West have been sold to their fellow citizens at the uniform price of one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre, and also that enough more has been given away to grasping corporations to found an empire, are now wondering what is the magic glamour which gives to Alaskan hills such a value.

Few, if any, attempts to acquire title under a law so manifestly unjust have been made; the squatter's possessory rights—which we know the courts will protect—being preferred to a fee-simple title at such a price. It may, therefore, be seriously questioned whether the territory has lost or gained by the legislation of that Winter. Nothing daunted, however, the people will renew their knocking at congressional doors during coming sessions. The legislation asked for in their memorial included the following:

(1) A delegate in Congress.

(2) A civil code adapted to our condition and necessities.

(3) Full extension of the land laws.

(4) Provisions whereby appeals and writs of error may be taken to the Ninth Judical Circuit and thence under proper restrictions to the new Court of Appeals.

(5) Local supervision of the public schools in the white settlements.

(6) Provision for the establishment of municipal government for our towns and villages.

(7) Repeal of the prohibitory liquor law and the enactment in lieu thereof of a stringent and well-guarded license law.

The limits of this article forbid a discussion of these propositions, but as to each of them except, perhaps, the last there can be no ground for cavil in an American Congress.

Whether the petition shall soon meet favor or not, we know that recognition must come sooner or later. That army of pioneer miners, who have traced the great mineral belt of the continent from the Sierra Madres to the St. Elias Alps and the basin of the Yukon—scaling mountains, swimming and fording streams, traversing vast plains, crossing lofty mountain chains, hewing pack-trails through trackless forests, and camping where crumbling glaciers crash and roar—never yet failed to win the simple rights and privileges of American citizenship. They have borne with them everywhere the fundamental principles of our republican government, and along the route they have blazed for coming civilization to follow mighty states to-day repose. It is with the hope of hastening the day of better government for Alaska, by contributing something toward the cultivation of an intelligent public opinion in favor of the veteran battalions of this army now engaged in building up civilization in the wildest and most remote dominion of the republic, beyond which there are no more lands for American pioneers to conquer, that I submit this article to the readers of the AMERICAN FIELD.

Everett, Wash.

[NOTE.—For much of the material comprising Articles No. 6 and No. 7 of this series, relating to Bering's explorations, I am indebted to a biography of the great Danish-Russian navigator written by Peter Lauridson, of the Royal Geographical Society of Denmark, first published at Copenhagen in the Scandinavian language. Professor Lauridson was given access to the archives and libraries of St. Petersburg in aid of his work, and it is therefore thoroughly authentic. The book has been translated into English by Julius E. Olson, professor of Scandinavian languages in the University of Wisconsin. My acknowledgments are therefore due to both these gentlemen.—A. K. DELANEY.]

NOTES

NOT to our taste is there a more delicious dish than deviled crabs, and we believe there are very few whose taste is not in accord with ours. They are not only appetizing, but are nutritious and digestible. Those who have not eaten them have a delicacy yet to enjoy. Unfortunately people who live inland have not had the opportunity of eating deviled crabs, for they are difficult to transport any distance and retain their freshness, and when they are supposed to be served at inland restaurants the salt codfish is substituted for the toothsome crabmeat. Messrs. McMenamin & Co., Hampton, Va., have overcome the difficulty of transporting deviled crabs in a fresh condition, and now put them up in their natural shells, so they will keep any reasonable length of time. They can be obtained of grocers, and if your grocer does not keep them write to McMenamin & Co., Hampton, Va.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., October 16, 1895.

MESSRS. WILEY & BRUSH, Agents Anker Bouillon Capsule Mfg. Co., New York.

Gentlemen:—I've just returned from a hunting trip through the Maine wilderness after deer, caribou and moose, which was the most successful, the pleasantest and the most satisfactory hunting trip I ever had. I took along a nicely filled medicine case, a bountiful supply of provisions and incidentally four boxes of Anker's Bouillon Capsules, which turned out to be one of the best things I ever used. Morning after morning we got up before daylight to go "moose calling," no time to cook breakfast, no time to eat it if it were cooked, but a capsule in a tin dipper, a little hot water poured over it, then drink it down and off we go well sustained for hard work and from hunger, until hours roll by and we return for late breakfast. On two different days I was unable to reach camp until dark, but in my canoe I had a tea kettle and tin dipper, and in my vest pocket two capsules, one for the guide, the other for myself, a fire at about one o'clock just big enough to boil the water, and then the capsules, and we experienced no discomfort whatever during the balance of the hunt until camp was reached, and our supper of brook trout and steaks off a three-year-old moose gave us a feast to go to sleep on. You ought to introduce "Anker's Capsules" into sportsman's stores, they're surely going to fill many "a long felt want." Yours truly,

Advt THOMAS MARTINDALE.

New Dining Car Service

It is a pleasure to note the addition of another important feature to the already competent train service of the Nickel Plate Road. The dining car service of this popular low rate line has recently been augmented, by which dinner will be served on train No. 6, leaving Chicago at 2 p. m. daily, and breakfast and dinner on train No. 2, leaving Chicago daily at 9:20 p. m. with direct connections for New York and Boston. Breakfast and dinner will be served on train No. 5, arriving in Chicago at 9:35 p. m. from New York and Boston.

For full information regarding routes, rates, maps, folders, etc., address your nearest ticket agent or J. Y. CALAHAN, General Agent, Chicago, Ill. Advt. 60

Removal of Ticket Office of the New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad (Nickel Plate Road)

On May 1 the Chicago City ticket office of the New York, Chicago & St. Louis R. R. (Nickel Plate Road) will be moved to 111 Adams Street, opposite the postoffice. J. Y. CALAHAN, General Agent.

Advt. 59

Kennel

FIXTURES

Shows

Montreal Kennel Association's local show, Montreal, May 31 and June 1.

Ohio Humane Society's dog show, Cincinnati, May 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24. Entries close May 14. Al. G. Eberbart, superintendent.

Canada's Industrial Exhibition's seventh annual dog show, Toronto, September 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13. C. A. Stone, superintendent.

Orange County Fair's dog show, Newburg, N. Y., September 17, 18, 19 and 20. Robert Jobuston, secretary.

Omaha Kennel Club's second annual show, Omaha, Neb., September 18, 19, 20 and 21. E. L. Marston, secretary.

Field Trials

Continental Field Trial Club's inaugural trials (on prairie chickens), Morris, Manitoba, September 2. Derby entries close May 15. P. T. Madison, secretary.

Manitoba Field Trial Club's trials (on prairie chickens). Morris, Manitoba, September 10. Entries close July 1 and August 15. John Wootton, Secretary.

United States Field Trial Club's Autumn trials, ——, November 7. W. B. Stafford, secretary.

International Field Trial Club's trials, Chatham, Ont., November 5. W. B. Wells, secretary.

Eastern Field Trial Club's trials, Newton, N. C., November 18. Derby entries close May 15. W. A. Coster, secretary.

Continental Field Trial Club's Autumn trials, Newton, N. C November 25. P. T. Madison, secretary.

Beagle Trials

New England Beagle Club's trials, Oxford, Mass., November 5 W. S. Clark, secretary.

THE ENGLISH FIELD TRIALS

The Pointer Club's Trials

The eighth field trial meeting of the Pointer Club was held for the third year in succession over the very charming estate of Col. Biddulph, of Chirk Castle, and although the late season was manifest in the lack of covert, bare trees and hedgerows, and game was difficult to approach, a very enjoyable day was spent by the comparatively small band of sportsmen who took part in the meeting. The entries both of puppies and aged dogs were much fewer than usual, partly on account of the difficulty in preparing young dogs in such an adverse season, and partly because of mishaps attending several kennels which would otherwise have been represented. Thus, although thirty nominations had been taken for puppies, and eighteen for old dogs, only five of the former and six of the latter accepted and put in an appearance. Mr. E. Bishop has reason for congratulation in the prominent position taken by his old dog Señor Don Pedro and his progeny, his puppy Jane Pedro working in the merriest and most taking style, while Mr. Warwick's Nyssa, also a winner in the All-Age Stakes, did some good work, and was particularly stanch in backing. Bonny Dan of Coldhill, though at first running stale, warmed up to his work, and may have the making of a good dog in him. He now ran much better in every way than he had done at the previous trials, and went faster and in a brighter manner generally than his kennel companion, who proved so successful at Ipswich a fortnight ago. Prior of Bromfield also went in his old, untiring style, although, perhaps, he may be considered rather lucky; and Col. Cote's Dodo deserves mention as a clever game-finder and very nice-looking bitch, as well as pretty worker. The draw took place at the Hand Hotel, Chirk, in the presence of the Rev. W. Shield, Messrs C. H. Beck, Elias Bishop, Humphreys, Mawson, Roberts Jr. and the hon. sec., Mr. Bernard Lews, who may be congratulated upon his arrangements for the conduct of the meeting. The Rev. W. Shield and Mr. Hatfield Harter were the judges. The card was as follows:

POINTER PUPPY STAKES, puppies of 1894; first prize £27, second prize £16, third prize £7, fourth prize £3 3s.

Mr. E. Bishop's l w b Jane Pedro, by Señor Don Pedro —Holly Berry,	agst.	Mr. Humphrey's l w d Bonny Dan of Coldhill, by Don of Boleord—Duchess of Boleord.
Mr. E. Bishop's l w b Sarah Pedro, by Señor Don Pedro —Holly Berry.	"	Mr. Heywood Lonsdale's l w d Ightfield Mentor, by Ightfield Torridge — Ightfield Musa.
Col. Cotes' lem w d Conrad, by Carlist—Peace,	a bye.

ALL-AGE STAKES, first prize £25, second prize £14, third prize £6, fourth prize £3 3s.

Col. C. J. Cotes' l w b Don Juan, by Rapid — Polly Jones, 1893,	agst.	Mr. R. G. Mawson's l w d Prior of Bromfield, Prior of Upson—Queen of Bromfield, 1893.
Col. C. J. Cotes' l w b Dodo, by Carlist—Peace, 1893.	"	Mr. B. T. Warwick's lem w b Jenny Lind, by Señor Don Pedro—Jeanette.
Mr. Elias Bishop's l w d Señor Don Pedro, by Dickon —Di, 1890,	"	Mr. B. T. Warwick's l w b Nyssa, by Señor Don Pedro —Nepthys, 1892.

Wednesday morning found the late northeast winds veered round to south-southeast, and a heavy rainstorm during the night gave promise of a good scenting day. The wind, however, continued cold and the morning dull and threatening; the sun, however, toward midday dispelled the clouds and warmed the atmosphere, and, though scent still continued very catchy and unreliable, the day itself was all that could be desired. It was nearly 10 a. m. when a commencement was made close to Chirk village, but the wind was against us and necessitated a walk to the far end of the estate, so that we might hope to work the fields in rotation homeward. As will be seen, there were many long walks, some of which might have been avoided, and, as game was difficult to meet with, the evening was well advanced ere the final awards were made. The Puppy Stakes were first run, and Jane Pedro and Bonny Dan of Coldhill, worked by their owners, were put down on a piece of clover with moderate cover. The Bedford winner, Jane Pedro, went very merrily, and quartered and beat her ground in excellent style, but nothing was met with, and we fell back about a quarter of a mile to get the wind; put down again in a capital field of seeds, Dan made a steady point, which Jane backed smartly, but the dog had nothing before him. On another beat in the same field Jane still showed pace, but had an inclination to follow a lark. Dan stood close to the hedge and drew on without finding. In the next field, also seeds, which were fair covert, both beat their ground thoroughly; Dan found birds which rose almost immediately, both dropping to wing. The field was beaten out without further incident and the next brace were called, Sarah Pedro, worked by her owner, and Ightfield Mentor, by Lauder, they being put down in a stiff, sloping field of newly sown peas, which they beat out, but found no game, so were taken back to a stretch of wheat, bare of covert, on the top of the hill, and also void of game. On a broken fallow Sarah drew a long way on birds, but, moving, put them up and did not drop to wing. Mentor, ranging freely, quartered his ground well. Put down on a field of thin clover, Sarah drew on a few yards and Mentor backed prettily; he afterward drew on the same line, but close to the fence, through which birds very probably had run. In a large grassfield adjoining Sarah dropped to a hare, which jumped up right in front of her, and Mentor also went down. Birds got up in a fallow which both had passed, scent evidently being the unknown quantity it usually is.

Another draw was taken as follows:

Conrad v. Ightfield Mentor.	Jane Pedro, a bye.
Bonny Dan of Coldhill v. Sarah Pedro.

Col. Cotes' Conrad, worked by the veteran Roberts, and Ightfield Mentor, by Lauder, were put down on grass bare as a turnpike road. Conrad false pointed and Mentor backed; the latter, much the freer ranger, beat his ground the more systematically. In a large field of rough fallow Conrad worked better, but neither met with game, which on this side of the estate was certainly much scarcer than last year. In another fallow lying in furrow, and thus affording better covert, the same brace were put down again. Conrad found birds, Mentor backed, and both were steady to gun then. Mentor ran into birds and flushed, and the brace were taken up. Bonny Dan of Coldhill and Sarah Pedro, both handled by their owners, were taken to another rough fallow. Sarah, working very cautiously, winded birds, but did not locate them, and Dan a moment after stood them well, Sarah, after a little hesitation, backing; both were steady to shot. Sarah Pedro was taken up, and Ightfield Mentor, worked by Lauder, was put down with Bonny Dan of Coldhill; each found birds, and then a move was made to a fallow some distance away, where Mentor pointed but did not find. From the adjoining grassfield a hare got up between them, to which both dropped; Dan obtained a good point on birds and Mentor backed; both dropped to wing, and the trial ended. Conrad and Jane Pedro, next called, were, after a longish tramp, put down on a piece of fallow; here Jane, working on the outside, quickly found, and was backed by Conrad, both behaving well to shot. It was a rough, undulating field, which both quartered thoroughly, though Jane Pedro held her place in front all the time. Another long, tiresome tramp brought us to a small wheatfield, where Jane pointed and Conrad backed, but nothing came of this. The next meadow held a hare which neither saw, and also a bird, which got up, and to which both dropped and were taken up about 1:30 o'clock p. m. After lunch and one trial in the All-Age Stakes, the puppies Bonny Dan of Coldhill and Conrad were put down in a hare pasture. Dan pointed where birds had left a minute previously, and in the adjoining field of Spring corn both feathered about the lower corner as if a hare had lately passed through the fence. In the next grassfield Dan pointed at the hedge, but nothing came of it. Shortly after a hare got up, to which he behaved very well, and the field was beaten out without finding other game. The awards were then made:

Jane Pedro	1	Conrad	3
Bonny Dan of Coldhill	2	Mentor	4

The All-Age Stake was started at Cefn y Wern on the Castle side of Chirk. Don Juan, worked by Roberts, and Prior of Bromfield, by Mawson, were first down, and commenced in a large grass meadow which held a pair of birds, but both passed them. By this it was two p. m. and lunch was very welcome. When put down again, a hare got up before Prior, who tried to pick up, but, failing, Don Juan indulged in a chase after puss. A newly sown barley field was tried without result, and then they were tried in a nice piece of clover, when Prior got a good point. Dodo, worked by Roberts Sr., and Jenny Lind, by Roberts Jr., were next down in another pasture field, like all its fellows, bare as possible of covert. Both went in nice style, though the latter, at times over cautious, was inclined to false point. This field, like so many others, was beaten out without finding, and the next brace was called. Señor Don Pedro, worked by his owner, and Nyssa, by Roberts Jr., went down on fallow. Nyssa pointed a plover and the Don backed; both got points in another field, where birds had recently risen.

The next draw was:

Seuor Don Pedro v. Jenny Lind	Prior of Bromfield, a bye.
Myssa v. Dodo.

Don Pedro and Jenny Lind were put down in a field of stubble. Don beat his field in excellent style, but Jenny kept coming back to her keeper, and was inclined to potter. A field of Spring corn was next tried; Jenny made three false points in succession, the last of which Don backed, but no game was met with. In a small field of grass Don pointed where birds had risen a moment before. In the next field, also grass, Jenny drew on and pointed, but was again false, but shortly after, in the same field, she found a pair of birds well, Don backing her. A good field of grass fell to the lot of Nyssa and Dodo, but nothing was found in it. In clover, Nyssa pointed, and Dodo, close to her, pointed a moment after. In the next field Dodo got a good point, which Nyssa backed. Dodo pointed in the next field where birds had risen, and Nyssa again backed prettily. Don Pedro and Prior of Bromfield were put down in stubble; both ranged in fine style, but ran over a pair of birds they should have found. In the adjoining fallow, Prior put up birds and refused to drop, Don dropping to wing; Prior ran right onto a hare in her form, absolutely falling over her, but dropping as she went off more frightened than hurt. In a wheatfield Prior false pointed and Don backed, Don soon after feathering about the same place. Prior again pointed, but nothing came of it, Don backing him. Dodo and Prior of Bromfield were then run in wheat, but nothing more was done, and the awards were made thus:

Prior of Bromfield	1	Don Pedro	3
Dodo	2	Nyssa	4

At the conclusion of the trials, which thus terminated in one day instead of lasting over two, Mr. Beck, on behalf of the Pointer Club, proposed a vote of [illegible] judges, and complimented them on the [illegible] was seconded by Mr. Elias Bishop and [illegible] both judges. The Rev. W. Shield pr[illegible] thanks to Col. Biddulph for his kindn[illegible] ting the use of his estate, and als[illegible] whose ground they had been. This w[illegible] by Col. Cotes, and, like the preceding, carried by acclamation. It was about 6:30 p. m., ere the last trial was concluded. —From our English cotemporary The Field.

A CALL TO THE MEMBERS OF THE ASSOCIATION OF FIELD TRIAL HANDLERS

Waverly, Miss.

Editor American Field:—During the past two years there have been several attempts made to call a meeting of such members of the Association of Field Trial Handlers as happened to be present at the field trials where the call was issued, for the avowed purpose of disorganizing the club, and disposing of the cash in the treasury. But for some reason the meeting was not held, and at the present writing the affairs of the association are in the same state of suspended animation which has characterized them for the past nine years.

Thinking over matters appertaining to field trial events for the past ten years, the affairs of the association came under my consideration, and I have given the matter considerable thought, and think I see how out of the remains of the old club can be built up a new, stronger and more useful one.

Reviewing the past, it appears as though the old club was born before its day; field trial handlers were fewer in number, there were but two field trial clubs in active operation, and one of these was in the last throes of dissolution, and the interests of the handlers were not as well identified in all respects as they are at the present day.

Then the old association lacked backbone as a legislative body, and placed on its statutes laws it was wholly incompetent to execute. It was this lack of executive firmness that wrecked it, but it is entirely unnecessary to go into wearisome details about matters which are familiar to all the members of the club.

It has occurred to me that now is the time to give impetus to the affairs of the old club, by disorganizing it, and out of its membership collect the charter members of a new club.

As I mentioned before, I have been giving this matter a great deal of serious consideration of late, and have thought of a plan, which, if carried out properly, would make the new club a necessary and important factor to field trial interests throughout the country, and the object of this article is to submit this plan to my associate handlers and the brother members of the old association, for their consideration and approval.

The old club has about thirty or forty dollars in the treasury, and there is not a member of the old club who would not vote to give every cent of it to promote field trial interests, so I think there is no fear of an objection to the new club becoming the owner of the treasury of the old, particularly if the charter members of the new club are the members of the old.

The number of field trial handlers in the country is now more than double what it was ten years ago, and as it would be to the interest of all to join, the new membership would put the club on sound financial standing from the start that would only need good managing to continue so. The members should of course be only bona-fide handlers, and only men following that occupation for a living, whose good standing qualified them for membership, would be eligible.

The exact field, in all its details, to be covered by the club could be decided on later; but the new club should profit by the experience taught it by the old club and confine its jurisdiction to limits within the scope of its legislative power. It should be thoroughly understood, and so embodied in the constitution, that the club is to meddle with no matters that do not directly and vitally concern it, or come under direct course of its legislative power, that under no circumstances will it permit itself to indulge in unfriendly legislation toward any field trial club, association or individuals connected with the same. A clause in the constitution fully covering this matter should make such legislation a matter of impossibility.

It appears to me that the old club was formed without absolutely an object in view of a practicable, useful nature. If the department of its members continued good, there was absolutely no field in which it could operate; it was indeed pledged to assist all field trial clubs, but how the club, as a club, would render any greater assistance than would the members as individuals was never explained; suffice to say that there was very little important business to be found on its docket to be transacted at its meetings, and in endeavoring to bring up matters to keep up interest much of a frivolous, useless nature was discussed.

To avoid this rock on which the old club ran aground I would suggest that the object in forming the new club be principally for the purpose of adding a new and attractive feature to the field trial circuit, which it now lacks to make it complete, and that is a champion stake to be run at the conclusion of the last trial of the season on the West Point grounds at a date that will be agreeable and satisfactory to all.

It is my opinion that there is not any body of men who ought to be more competent to arrange the competition of an important stake, such as this would be, in greater fairness to all competitors, and embodying a more exhaustive test, the results of which would carry the superior qualities of the winner into greater prominence before the public, and whose decisions would give better satisfaction, or be accepted with greater confidence than a club formed for the purpose by the men composing the field trial handlers of the United States.

It is an undeniable fact that the country is becoming flooded with dogs that have won at field t[illegible] comparative merit to the winners of a previ[illegible] might safely say, the same year, little can b[illegible] there now exists no way of direct comparison, the[illegible] think all will admit the necessity of such a st[illegible] novelty and usefulness of which will give new inte[illegible] field trial matters. There exists no reasonable obj[illegible] to experienced men, such as field trial handlers are known to be, managing a stake of this description. It is the most important stake possible to suggest, and carries with it professional importance to demand professional [illegible] by professionals, whose experience in all the [illegible] competition qualifies them for the [illegible]

[illegible] club has ever succeeded in running a champion stake to the entire satisfaction of the public and itself. A club in running off its regular stakes consumes so much time, which is apt to be lengthened by bad weather, that it is too expensive an undertaking to put in several days longer with an exhaustive test between a few dogs, when by not having it on their slate it would be possible to end with the week. Again, it is difficult for a club to secure judges for the length of time it takes, and there are many other obstacles in the way, which show the wisdom of a club handling regular events not putting a champion stake on their slate.

But such a stake is needed badly. Now who should run it? It is hardly probable a club would be formed to handle that event alone, outside of the one designated by me, so I consider that it devolves on the handling fraternity to take the matter up and make a successful issue of it.

I argue that it is the special field of the handling fraternity to do so, who, as competitors, are directly interested, and who must in conducting matters fairly to themselves conduct them fairly to all; and if all the handlers will enter into the undertaking with unselfish motives, striving by every effort of which they are capable to make the stake regarded by every one, as squarely and fairly run, without favoritism to any man, absolutely placing the best dog, and no other, it will be patronized according to its merits; and the benefit that each and every handler would derive by the creation and successfully running such a stake ought to insure their best efforts.

It would require the assistance of the club to arrange the details of the stake proposed; but, as a suggestion to set all to thinking, I would suggest separate stakes for pointers and setters, the winning of each to confer the title of champion pointer, or setter; and an absolute to be run at the finish, sufficient time being given to determine the superior dog of the respective winners. This would place the best dog of the pointers before the pointer breeders, and the best setter before the setter breeders; and the absolute would show the comparative merits of the two breeds, as represented by the champion of each breed.

The amount of the purses could be arranged more satisfactorily later, but it would not be necessary for them to be large. I should think the making of the money in the first two stakes, say $100 to each, and $100 to winner of absolute, would be large enough, as the honor of winning would compensate for the purses being small. The entries could be placed at $25, and $25 additional to start. It would be in my opinion a wise thing to place no bar on the winners to prevent their competing the following year, for in theory, it appears that if the dog has the superior qualities to defeat all comers as long as his owner cares to run him, the fact is demonstrated that he is the dog to breed to for superior field quality.

Take as an illustration such a superior young dog as Delhi, and supppose that, in addition to his winning the Pointer Derby and the Pointer All-Age Stake as he did at West Point, he had run in the stake I propose, and won the champion for pointers, to bar him from running in the Champion Stake again would, in my opinion, defeat the object for which field trials are held, and that is to improve the field qualities of our setters and pointers and bring into public notice the best specimens to breed from. Again, the next year might bring out another young pointer that would also win the Derby and All-Age Stakes; and what all breeders would want to know is, which is the better, Delhi or the recent winner? Only an impartial trial of the two would satisfactorily answer the question. A grand old dog, such as Rip Rap, makes a fitting milestone in canine history, and it is always in the hardest competition, like in the stake suggested, that his qualities have shone the brightest. A Pointer Stake for champion honors, composed of such dogs as Strideaway, Delhi, Jingo, Lad of Rush, Tick Boy and others, would be a most interesting stake, and the final tilt between the winner of it and the winner of the Setter Stake would make a most exciting event.

In forming the new club there could be a by-law framed making it obligatory for any member not competing in the stake to serve as judge at the request of the club, without other remuneration than expenses. In case the said member had a reasonable excuse showing wherein serving would inflict a hardship on him, the club, deeming same sufficient, could excuse him. This would insure the club a supply of competent judges to select from, and if a greater number of judges would be deemed an advantage, the stake could be run under five judges, three handlers and two competent non-handlers, or vice versa.

In presenting my suggestions I have only attempted to do so in the barest outline, believing that, if the matter was taken up by my associates as a club, all matters of a disadvantageous nature would be eliminated in filling in the detail.

The most difficult feature which presents itself is holding a meeting of the members of the old association. Their places of residence are wide apart, and few could afford the expense of attending a meeting only at such times as all found themselves together at some field trial event. It is possible that enough will attend the prairie chicken trials in the Northwest to hold the required meeting there; or, there might be some plan suggested that would permit it being held before that date. A great deal of necessary matter preliminary to holding this meeting might, however, be arranged by correspondence, and I would be pleased to receive indorsements from all handlers, either by mail or through the AMERICAN FIELD. I am perfectly willing to do all I can to aid matters, and would suggest that all communications be addressed to me at pr[illegible]nt until a more satisfactory ar[illegible]. Therefore, will all the members [illegible] write me giving their views [illegible] such suggestions as they [illegible] matters, and bring about the [illegible]t as early a date as possible?

W. W. TITUS.

WANTS PUG BREEDERS TO GET TOGETHER

COLUMBUS, O.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—The following appeared in the Pittsburg Dispatch of April 11, during the dog show there, leading some fanciers to think I had acted wrongfully with Mr. Nims and others competing with pug dogs in open class. I therefore feel called on to explain matters and let those interested judge whether Mr. Nims has been deprived of his rights, or has let his feelings get away with his better judgment.

Haughty Madge, by the way—or her owner, rather—has a grievance which he proposes taking before the New York Kennel Club. Finsbury Duke, her son, of Rookery Manor, came in second to Al Von, a $5,000 pug beauty, who hails from Howard Castle. Madge said, in an interview yesterday, that Al belonged in her (challenge) class, and, if everybody had their rights, her son would have come in first instead of being knocked out by an old stager who would never see puppyhood any more. She stroked the golden spiderweb on Duke's tearful brow, as, she remarked, she wasn't talking through her Easter hat, either.

This matter has had a public airing through the columns of your journal in a controversy between Messrs. Pitts, Mooney, Ballantine and Nims some months since, in which Mr. Pitts omitted many important facts that should have been published in his defense. The fact is, Mr. Nims has misrepresented Al Von and his owner in the above interview. Al Von has only made four first prize winnings up to this date, which are first New York, first Chicago, first Louisville and first at the late Pittsburg show. It seems that Mr. Nims' grievances grow out of a mistake originally made, but afterward corrected, by Mr. Pitts at the Columbus show in 1894. I entered Drummer at the Columbus show in open class; also Al Von, the latter to compete for specials only.

When Mr. Pitts came to judge the dog he, in the presence of Mr. George Bell, told me I would have to show both dogs in the open class. I disputed this, telling him

JOHN P. HAINES,
President of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals that dogs were often entered to compete for specials only. At this Mr. Bell took sides with Mr. Pitts, and to avoid any trouble I concluded to show the dogs and then have the bench show committee act in the matter, and the awards were: Al Von first, Drummer second, Patsy Bolivar V.H.C. reserve, V.H.C. going to Finsbury Duke. As soon as the judging was over I asked Mr. Nims to go to the bench show committee and protest against Al Von's win, which he refused to do, and before I had time to enter a protest Mr. Mooney, the secretary, notified me that there was an objection to Al Von's win owing to his being entered for specials only. I told Mr. Mooney that the protest was a just one, and the bench show committee should disqualify the win of Al Von and give Drummer first and Patsy Bolivar second. Mr. Mooney's reply was that the win of Al Von would be disqualified and the other dogs moved up correspondingly.

This being done I consider I have done my part and acted as any man should in the matter, and we have all the evidence needed to convince any reasonable man that the award credited to Al Von in the stud book was either through the carelessness of Geo. F. Mooney, the secretary of the Columbus Fanciers' Club, or the compiler of the A. K. C. S. B. The first evidence is that the sporting journals gave Drummer credit with first and Patsy Bolivar with second, and as there was no marked catalog the reporters were compelled, necessarily, to go to the judges' books to get the awards, which shows that Mr. Pitts or someone else corrected the original award. Another fact that gives more light to the truth is that I only got pay for first prize in open dogs and Mr. Eberhart was paid second money, which shows that Mr. Mooney, who made up the payroll, had the awards as corrected, and if he had them right then why did not the A. K. C. get a correctly marked catalog?

After the first stud book came out giving Al Von credit with the win, I sent the secretary of the A. K. C. a letter asking him to correct it and give Drummer the win to avoid any confusion that might arise. Probably my letter never reached 44 Broadway, but I know it was never returned to me, and if Mr. Nims has any protest to make it should, in my opinion, be against Mr. Mooney or the secretary of the A. K. C., and not try to injure me or my dog by allowing such charges in a local daily paper where there is no chance to right a wrong. I have no objection to his making a protest if he thinks he is wronged, but he should quietly go before the A. K. C. and put up the $10 and satisfy himself, and if he is satisfied after the investigation that he was wrong, he would not have to regret such a misleading publication as the above, which he alone is responsible for.

I am very sorry Mr. Nims has let his hobby get him into such a state of mind, as he and I have spent many hours together in the last two show seasons that were very pleasant ones to me, and I have great respect for Mr. Nims, and hope if he is in the wrong he will go to the bottom of it and satisfy himself, so we in the future can meet as friendly fanciers and profit by our talk and experience. I often think if pug breeders were a little more generous it would bring about a noticeable improvement in pugs. The trouble is we do not take advantage of the opportunities we have to improve our stock. When Lord Nelson was living he had almost as many enemies as there were pug breeders in America, yet he was a dog chock full of that quality which was badly needed in this country, and had he lived to this day I would still be using him at stud. Penrice was another dog that our leading breeders could have used and profited by, and Drummer has had it said of him that he has proved a great disappointment. I would like to ask the reason for all of this? Lord Nelson produced Ch. Sateen, and with the cross of Sateen and Penrice I produced young Penrice, and with Lady Nelson and Penrice I produced Al Von, and where are better ones? Anyone who is posted to-day must say that the leading pugs in England are of Drummer's get, and the future will tell what a sad disappointment Drummer has been to his owner.

I have found it good policy to go after quality wherever I find it, and I have used all of the best dogs that have been in use in this country since I commenced to breed pugs, and I know that I have gained more by it than the man who had the pluck to put good money in England to bring a good dog to this country to be blackguarded by his would-be competitors.

Come, boys, let us do away with this jealousy. When we find a man with a good pug let's give him encouragement and work together and show the public that we can and will show them improvements every year in pugs. If we work in union we are bound to succeed. In conclusion I want to say Al Von is not a puppy and I do not wish him to win as a puppy. He was whelped March 7, 1892, and is several months the junior of Finsbury Duke.

T. A. HOWARD.

HUMANE IMPOUNDING OF DOGS

Mr. John P. Haines, president of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, has made it his business to do what the general public has left undone. Animal life is abundant. Ignorance of animals is widespread, and the dangers resulting from a stray animal population in a large city must be manifest to every intelligent individual. Mr. Haines' society has conferred an incalculable benefit upon the animal creation in New York City. It has now been very wisely deemed necessary to establish an institution in Brooklyn similar in all its details to that now in vogue at East 102nd Street, New York, where a Shelter for animals is provided in which they are comfortably housed and fed when found at large within the city limits.

A short account of this humane institution will not be out of place. We visited the institution in company with the President, who has illustrated so forcibly the wide difference between a brutal and humane disposition of unfortunate stray and lost animals, when the dog catcher with all its horrors was rampant in our cities; but now under his auspices the poor animal which God made as he did us is humanely fed and sheltered until disposed of.

The building which constitutes the Shelter is not spacious, but well equipped for the purposes it demands. Upon entering you first come into the office, and from there to the main building, which is divided into separate departments—namely, the kennels for the dogs and cats, the cooking quarters, and last, but not least, the "death chamber," where the animals are humanely disposed of by means of gas, causing instant death without pain or suffocation.

Under the old system the poor dog had no chance and its owners much about the same, the result being the destruction of many valuable specimens in a way that was most inhuman; but under the present law, which went into effect in May, 1894, the functions of the pound were transferred to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. This law requires that owners of dogs (and cats) shall take out yearly licenses, and by so doing they may rest assured all their interests will be protected.

The specified time allowed for keeping the animals at the Shelter until called for or otherwise disposed of is forty-eight hours and which time allows of anybody having lost an animal to make application at the Shelter and recover his property at no expense, provided the necessary requirements as to law have been complied with; but if the animal is not licensed the sum apportioned must be paid before the dog is handed over. Under the present system all dogs having a collar with the society's license attached are allowed to go about the streets without a muzzle; the dog catchers are uniformed, numbered and salaried, and consequently no extortionate sum is demanded as it often was when the dog catchers or fiends of 1893 indiscriminately scoured the streets, snatching from defenseless women and children their pets.

In conclusion it will be well to add that under the new law one of the best results obtained has been the absence of the hydrophobia scare, despite the perfect freedom given to all dogs, provided they are duly licensed; also another pleasing incident is the favorable comparison between the New York Shelter and the Battersea Home for Dogs in London, which has the assistance of the police, whereas the American society depends entirely on its own officers without any municipal assistance; and with a population nearly three times as much as New York City, the London Home received 17,928 homeless dogs in the year 1893, and consequently it may be inferred that in a city one-third of its population it would have received 6,000 in twelve months or 4,000 in eight months, which time the New York Shelter has been in operation, and during that period 5,111 dogs alone were received, and taking in consideration that everything is new it is indeed a creditable showing for this initial institution.

DEATH OF E. BARDOE ELLIOTT

It is with profound sorrow we have to record the sad and sudden death of Ernest Bardoe Elliott at 1:20 Friday morning of last week at Bellevue Hospital, New York. For the past five or six years the deceased gentleman's name has been well known to readers of journals that devoted space to canine matters, and his interest in the fancy was a genuine and active one; of a sturdy character and good principle, he was ever ready to maintain the right and condemn the wrong; gifted with an excellent eye for the points of a dog and endowed with straightforward integrity, he was regarded as a sound and honest critic, deep-rooted in his convictions and a little intolerant of contrary opinions perhaps, but good-natured withal and deservedly well liked. His worst enemy was himself, and many will feel sad to know his cheery face will ne'er again be seen at the ring side or round the benches of our dog shows, and sadder still to think of the young widow and two little ones left behind, who have our heartfelt sympathy in their sudden and grievous bereavement.

The late Mr. Elliot was an Englishman, thirty-two years of age, and apparently strong and healthy. He had been somewhat troubled, however, in childhood with enlargement of the brain, and for three or four years past had complained of more or less pain in the kidneys. He came to this country in 1888, and soon after began to write articles on kennel matters. Collies were his favorites, but he acquired a sound knowledge of many other breeds. In May, 1892, he assumed the duties of kennel editor of the AMERICAN FIELD, but at the end of the year left on a trip to his native land, where he had a number of friends among the fancy. He returned in the Spring of 1893, and soon after accepted the position of western representative of the now defunct Fanciers' Journal, and later on was, for a brief period, kennel editor of Rod, Gun and Kennel. In the meantime he had started, in conjunction with his mother and brother, the Chesterford Park Kennels at Maywood, Ill., and between managing the kennels and reporting shows he had a busy life during the Winter of 1893-94, besides judging at Chicago and Columbus. It was his ambition to start a kennel journal of his own, and it was a proud day for him, poor fellow, when, with Mr. Frank S. Anderson as publisher and himself as editor, the first number of the Kennel News made its appearance at the New York show last February. He attended the Pittsburg and Boston shows last month, and at the close of the latter went to New York, where he was taken ill suddenly at the Ashland House on Tuesday of last week. Dr. S. J. Bradbury was called in, and pronounced the case inflammatory rheumatism accompanied by Bright's disease. Early on Thursday morning he lost his reason and was removed in a state of violent insanity to Bellevue Hospital. His relatives were immediately notified, and his wife and mother left Chicago at once a on sad enough errand, but before they could reach the one so dear to them he had been summoned hence.

The appended letter from Messrs. Jas. Mortimer and E. M. Oldham speaks for itself, and we believe their appeal will not be in vain.

NEW YORK.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—E. Bardoe Elliott was one of the most popular men in the fancy. Coming here with a good, sound English reputation for worth and knowledge, he quickly made many friends, and at the New York show it would have been hard to find one who did not wish his new paper every success. Of a quiet, unassuming manner, a fearless critic and a firm friend, his death is a great loss to the fancy he loved so well.

He leaves a wife and two children, unfortunately in poor circumstances, and it was principally through the efforts of a few friends in New York that his remains could be taken by his wife to Chicago and thence to his late home at Maywood, Ill., for interment. A subscription list has been started to raise enough money to not only pay all funeral and other expenses, but to have enough, after this is done, to help his wife over the difficulties his sudden death entails on her. It is therefore requested that all his friends send contributions, dollars or cents, to either of the undersigned, who have the matter in charge. Any little amount will help in this good cause, and it is hoped that a generous response will at once be made to this appeal.

JAMES MORTIMER,
Hempstead, L. I.
E M. OLDHAM,
166 W. 79th Street, New York.

MR. STAFFORD TO MR. MADISON

TRENTON, TENN.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—In the AMERICAN FIELD of May 4 Mr. Madison, in his article replying to Mr. Avent, asks why the secretary of the club is not given a chance to say something, also the board of governors, also the club members. What does Mr. Madison desire to have said? The secretary has promptly forwarded to the press all official actions of the club that the public has any interest in. What Mr. Avent wrote in his letter of April 13 was written as an individual, and had no official character, and much of it was intended, I presume, as a reply to the several attacks that have been made upon Mr. Avent since the attempted wrecking of the United States Field Trial Club.

Mr. Avent, as one of the governors of the club, is familiar with its business, its intentions and its prospects. Mr. Madison is well aware of the fact that Mr. Avent is only one of more than a dozen gentlemen who control its affairs. Mr. Madison, in his article, makes statements relating to several matters which are not correct. Some of these statements I can contradict, leaving the remainder to others.

Mr. Madison defines the policy of the Continental Field Trial Club as attending to its own affairs, and not to meddle with those of others. This is not borne out in practice, either by Mr. Madison or his professional associates in the conception and organization of their amateur club. In proof of this I offer Mr. Madison's short notice in the last issue of the AMERICAN FIELD, in which he states he has "just heard from Dr. Rowe, saying that he had resigned the presidency of the United States Field Trial Club." For the benefit of the many friends of the United States Field Trial Club I will say that Dr. Rowe is the president of the club, and is in constant communication with its executive officers, who anticipate with great gratification his return in a few weeks from California, restored to health. I know this will be hailed with delight by his countless friends, who had despaired of his ever again appearing in editorial harness.

But to return to Mr. Madison, who, in his article, writes that Mr. Avent speaks authoritatively for the clubs' committees, its governors, its members, and advises the club to let Mr. Avent act as the club itself. This cannot be called sound advice, as such practices as Mr. Madison advises would only lead to a repetition of the disastrous results that occurred in the United States Field Trial Club during the time it was managed by one individual, who comprised judge, jury and witnesses. This is the first time I have appeared in print in regard to the difficulties between the two clubs, and I hope it will be the last, as I realize the fact that all this wrangling should cease. It disgusts sportsmen who would naturally support field trials. No field trial club can be built up, and successfully maintained, by trying to pull down a competitor, and I trust that the four or five seceders from the United States Field Trial Club will realize the fact, and permit all to work in harmony. There is room in this world for all.

W. B. STAFFORD.

JUDGES VS. REPORTERS

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—I would like to ask through your columns the reasons of judging, etc. In the first place at Pittsburg, in the Irish setters (challenge bitches), Norna beat Queen Vic and your reporter says they were rightly placed, and that the only place Queen Vic can beat Norna is a little below the eyes. In his report he gave an impartial criticism and he is perfectly right. Norna can and always could beat Queen Vic in every respect but that one point. I have always maintained that if ever Mr. Mason or Mr. Mortimer judged that would be the way they would be placed, and justly so without doubt.

I remember the first time that I showed Norna under John Davidson at Pittsburg, some three years ago, when he ordered Norna out of the ring, and I made a remark that he would yet have to give her first over Edna H, and the following year he did so, and this is what Uncle John had to say: "Fred, is that the little bitch that you told me I would have to give first to over good ones?" My answer was: "John, that is the bitch," and he again said, "Fred, she is a mighty gude one."

Now at the Providence show last Fall, when Mr. Tallman judged, I was standing by the ring alongside of John Davidson, and he made the remark after the challenge bitches were judged, that if he had been judging he would have placed Norna first. Now Norna and Queen Vic were both in excellent form at Providence, as they also were at the New York show last February. Then what did John Davidson do but put Queen V c over Norna, and for why? He must have his own reasons, as he always says: "My thinks count in the ring." I do not think there is an Irish setter breeder or exhibitor in America that will not confirm my ideas that Norna can just simply smother Queen Vic on general conformation and true Irish setter character.

It is not my desire to criticise any judges in the discharge of their duties, but I do not think it consistent or altogether right for some one or two judges to be engaged all through the circuit, and that has generally been the case in pointers and setters for the past five years. There is no doubt whatever that Mr. Mason and Mr. Mortimer also are both excellent judges of setters, and why not have a change once in a while? It is damaging to breeders of setters to have so many different types, and the sooner a correct type is formed the better it will be for the breeder and exhibitor.

FRED P. KIRBY.

FOR SALE.—Mr. W. H. Croner, Piqua, O., offers mastiffs, pointers, English setters, water spaniels and coon hounds....Mr. C. Noonan, Blue Earth City, Minn. offers English and Irish setters....Mr. G. H. Read, Washington, Ind., offers English setter....Mr. F. M. Thomas, Catskill, N. Y., offers fox terrier, Irish setter and pug....Mr. J. M. Sterling, Bridgeport, Conn., offers English setters....Glenrose Beagle Kennels, Orland, Me., offer beagles....Mr. W. A. Wickham, Tipton, Ia., offers collies....H. Hamilton, Eau Claire, Wis, offers English setters....Mr. F. Erb Jr., Lafayette, Ind., offers cocker spaniel ...Mr. H. M. Orlady, Durand, Wis., offers St. Bernard....Reham Kennels, Omaha, Neb., offer cocker spaniels ...Mr. A. C. Shallenberger, Alma, Neb., offers St. Bernards ...Mr. J. W. Davies, St. Louis, Mo., offers St. Bernards ...Norwood Beagle Kennels, Norwood, O., offer beagles....Mr. C. C. Stein, Westphalia, Ind., offers English setters ...Mr. W. D. Davies, Columbus, O., offers Great Danes....Mr. G. G. Williamson, Muncie, Ind., offers English setters ...Mr. T. Barklay, Cincinnati, O., offers English setter and bloodhounds.... Mr. C. W. Tway, Michigan City, Miss., offers English setter....Mr. F. L. Jennings, River Forest, Ill., offers Great Danes....Stenographer, Washingtonville, Pa., offers pointer, English setter, Irish setter, coon hounds and cocker spaniels.

NOTES

IT may be a matter of interest to your many readers to know that the Maryland Kennel Club still survives, although I'm sure the general impression is that it long since died out. Some of the local fanciers had to go down into their pockets after the last show, and for some time it took a brave man to say "dog show" to any of them, but Baltimore is having a boom nowadays [illegible] is getting rich, and if some of that cash [illegible] the luxury of a show within twelve [illegible] treat. The city ordinances here are v[illegible] must be licensed for two dollars a[illegible] muzzled or on a lead, and must [illegible] In other words, it costs two "[illegible]" square where there may be a few we[illegible]wing, for that is the fine if the "cop" catches one. Then there are some good citizens who may have a few feet of grass around their houses, who object to dogs looking at it. One man (?) within a few weeks generously informed an owner of some valuable dogs: "I am going to cover my grass with poison, and I warn you that your dogs will all be dead if they come near this spot. I am a great lover of dogs, but I will not have a blade of my grass scratched." This man (?) has a few feet of grass on the street, with not a sign of fence or rail. Peace to the canines who are loved in that style. But the man will be watched and prosecuted if there are any sudden deaths in his vicinity. Despite all these handicaps, unjust ordinances and inhuman citizens Baltimore is filled with good dogs. Perhaps one of the best in this vicinity is Mr. Stewart Diffenderfer's blue belton, Count Beaufort. The canine population is soon to have a large addition, but I will spring that surprise later on; it's a secret now, and this is just a hint of the "good thing" I'll have for you in a few weeks. The Springhill Farm Kennels, at Laurel, Md., suffered a great loss last week in the death of the borzoi Ziobelis; she left six puppies, and if good fortune will but preserve them look out for some winners. Mr. J. Chambers Weeks, who is head of the Springhill Farm Kennels, feels his loss deeply.

Baltimore. REIRRET.

WORD comes from San Antonio that Mr. C. M. Rounds of Elmendorf, Tex., has lost by death his good dog Manitoba Frisk, very nearly, and perhaps quite, the best field trial dog in the Southwest. Frisk was bred by that good sportsman Mr. Thomas Johnson of Winnipeg, Manitoba, was whelped September 11, 1889, and was a white and black dog by Dick Bondhu (8188) out of Western Belle (14999). When barely a year old he won the Manitoba Derby from eleven competitors, and turning back to the report of the trials we find: "He ran through three heats without paying the slightest attention to anything but game, though small birds and gophers abounded. Of exquisite nose, he never lingered an instant on false scent. He is a dog that makes up his mind in an instant, is an exceedingly merry goer, splendid tail action, carries a high head and feels for the body-scent. He will without doubt be heard from again, and future competitors had better look to their laurels." The accuracy of the last sentence was exemplified by Manitoba Frisk's successes, for in 1892 he was second in the All-Age Stakes at Bexar, Tex., and the following year, at the same club's trials, he won outright; on each occasion he was handled by his owner, Mr. C. M. Rounds. It is to be hoped he has left behind him some young stock endowed with the good qualities of their sire. That he was a favorite goes without saying, and Mr. Rounds thus writes about him: "He was always a delicate eater, and somehow our climate here did not agree with him in the Summer. I shall miss him at the ranch, where, upon my return, I was always welcomed by him; but I shall miss him in the field more than elsewhere, as some of the happiest moments of my life were when I unfastened his collar and turned him loose, before some visiting sportsman or at field trials, as the case might be. I could always count on him; he always did his best, and his best could only be equaled by few. He seemed to be affected as a person does with consumption —no appetite, lung trouble, and gradual wasting away until death eased him of his sufferings. I can only add he was faithful."

THE Saturday afternoon of the Toronto show President J. F. Kirk, of the Toronto Kennel Club, presented, on behalf of the exhibitors at the Toronto show, Honorary Secretary W. P. Fraser with a gold hunting case watch, in recognition of his valuable services in making the show a success. Beside Mr. Fraser's monogram the case bore the following inscription:

"Presented to W. P. Fraser by a few of the exhibitors of the Toronto Kennel Club, April 27, 1895."

In presenting the well-earned token of esteem Mr. Kirk addressed the recipient as follows:

Dear Sir:—It becomes my pleasing duty to present to you, on behalf of a few of the exhibitors, this handsome token of their appreciation of the hearty, energetic, and highly successful manner in which you have planned and carried out the details of this bench show. It is rare, indeed, to find executive ability of such high order united to great courtesy of manner and unfailing good temper. We feel certain that with your already large but ever-widening experience to guide you, there are still greater triumphs in the future for you, although we are proud of our success in the present. The collection of dogs of quality on the benches, the efficiency of the management in every respect, and the general satisfaction, both of exhibitors and visitors, are a distinct and great improvement on any bench show that has ever been held in Canada, and give loud testimony to the able guiding hand and spirit of the honorary secretary, to whom the lion's share of the success most justly belongs. Offering you our sincere compliments, we present to you this watch, and beg you to accept it in the same friendly and kind spirit toward the donors as they earnestly feel toward you.

The following names were affixed to the address: J. F. Kirk, J. S. Williams, Jas. Douglas, C. A. Stone, A. A. Macdonald, H. B. Donovan, G. B. Sweetnam, F. L. Mabee, Andrew Laidlaw (Galt), C. M. Nelles (Brantford), Geo. Bell, J. Wilson, A. P. Burritt, H. P. Thompson, W. J. Tulk (Hamilton), John G. Kent, C. Lyndon, P. J. Smyth, P. J. Keating, W. Morris, J. White, J. B. Carlisle, C. C. Robb, E. E. Starr, A. Trebilcock, J. A. Spracklin, D. Gillies (Hamilton), J. Johnston, Dr. W. Mole, H. P. Breay.

MR. M. LAWRIE'S letter, which appeared in the last week's issue of the AMERICAN FIELD, was published in one of the Winnipeg papers last week. I at once wrote to Mr. Lawrie, reminding him of my personal visit to him some years ago, to secure the consent of the farmers to allow the Manitoba Field Trial Club to hold their trials on the farms in the Morris district, and of [illegible] me "that the farmers had all been seen, and [illegible] had been given," and also of his personal [illegible] run over his farms and those of his brothers [illegible] a great many farmers myself with the same [illegible] later than last year we again had Mr. Kastner (the [illegible] host of the best hotel in Morris, and headquarters [illegible] of the different field trial clubs) to renew this permission, which he did. When replying to Mr. Madison I [illegible] Wootton, our secretary, was very particular [illegible] that the M. F. T. C. did not own or rent [illegible] over which the trials were run, but [illegible] from all clubs wishing to use them. It [illegible] that Mr. Madison's request for the use of [illegible] simply a matter of courtesy to our club, and we, being only too glad to do anything in our power to assist the Continental Club in coming here, offered them the use of the ground which we had permission to use (by the courtesy of the Morris farmers), presuming, as Mr. Lawrie states, that the farmers would be only too happy to have them come, nothing more. I inclose you Mr. Lawrie's reply to my letter, which speaks for itself.

F. G. SIMPSON,
Prest. Manitoba F. T. Club.

[After reading Mr. Lawrie's reply to Mr. Simpson we can only conclude that Mr. Lawrie and the other farmers around Morris were well aware that there was no intention to encroach on their rights on the part of the Manitoba Field Trial Club, and it would have been as well if Mr. Lawrie had not written the letter he sent us for publication.—ED.]

THE St. Louis Kennel Club is being built on a solid and lasting foundation. Over two hundred of the three hundred shares which constitute the capital stock of the club have been taken, and from the interest manifested by the substantial and influential citizens of St. Louis, the remainder will soon be subscribed for. The organization committee has been deliberate in its work, with the one aim of permanency in view at all times. The result is most gratifying to all who have become members and next year St. Louis may be counted on as a leading factor in the canine fancy of the country. Last week we published the list of officers and some of the stockholders, to which list should now be added the following well-known gentlemen: Wm. J. Lemp Jr., E. B. Wolff, H. Clay Pierce, I. W. Morton, J. Cliff Richardson, A. C. Dollus, Isaac S. Taylor, Dr. Chas. E. Michel, Alvah Mansur, G. B. Reid, Jno. M. Cates, Jos. Griesedieck, Fred. G. Zelbig, H. S. Potter, W. N. McMillan, J. J. Prendergast, Clark Toms and Ted G. Barstow. Now that the club is on the homestretch it will incorporate at an early date and, as its energetic and genial secretary, Mr. Wm. Hutchinson, states, "once more St. Louis will take her place among the kennel clubs of America—a place she ought never to have vacated—and hold an annual show which will compare favorably with those of sister cities." Of this we feel sure, and predict that the St. Louis Kennel Club will more than realize its expectations. A meeting of the club was called for Friday evening, May 10, at the residence of President John A. Long, to receive reports on progress.

FANCIERS across the Atlantic are promised something new in the way of nomenclature, a subcommittee appointed on December 8, 1891, by the English Kennel Club for the revision and renovation of registration having strongly recommended, at a meeting of the Kennel Club on April 9, that the following condition be imposed on the registration of a dog: "To require that every name taken after shall be distinguished by the affix of the last two numerals of the year in which it is registered, as 'Cato '93.'" The subcommittee expressed the opinion that the adoption of this plan would greatly improve the value of the stud book in the future, without increase of office routine, that its workings would be simple, and that it would add greatly to the facilities for identification. Also it urged, in the event of its recommendation being adopted, the passing of a further resolution to indicate that the affix shall in every case be compulsory, and also that no name with the affix of number in Roman numerals, as now in practice, be accepted for registration in future. It also suggested that it should be made well known through the Kennel Gazette and other papers, that after the date which may be fixed for the commencement of this practice no dog will be registered without such affix to the name; that it must be used on all occasions; that for the purpose of exhibition no name without such affix will be recognized as complete, and that the omission of it will render the entry liable to objection and its consequences. The discussion on the matter was held over to another meeting.

WE mentioned some time since that Dr. Rowe intended resigning the presidency of the United States Field Trial Club. But the club would not consent to his resignation, and has declined to accept it in the following resolution, signed by the governors of the club:

WE, the governors of the United States Field Trial Club, knowing the health of Dr. N. Rowe, our "President," was very poor, are pleased to hear he is regaining it, and hope in the near future to learn he has entirely recovered. We were very sorry he felt disposed to send in his resignation as the president. We feel he has been, and will yet he, not only president in name, but what he has been in the past, an active, energetic, painstaking, far-seeing president, and we most respectfully refuse to accept his resignation.

NORVIN TRENT HARRIS.	ST. MARC M. MUNDY.
H. HULMAN JR.	PHILIP M. ESSIG.
S. L. JAMES.	EDWARD DEXTER.
J. M. AVENT.	J. L. ADAMS.
J. N. SEALE.	D. G. ROWLAND.
W. B. STAFFORD.

THE total number of dogs received into the Battersea home for lost dogs in London, England, last year was 21,728, an increase of 4,700 over the previous year. It is remarkable how few dogs out of so large a number were inquired for and claimed by their rightful owners; 1,427 were the figures on this account last year, showing an increase of 265 over those of the preceding twelve months; 2,023 dogs were sold to new owners. It is worth noting that not a single case of rabies occurred at the institution in the course of the year. Financially the society is in a flourishing condition, for, although the expenditure was unusually [illegible] year, hearty response was made [illegible] appeal, and receipts so in- [illegible] balance to be carried forward [illegible] year a dilatory owner brought an [illegible] selling his lost dog, and it has [illegible] residence of three days in the [illegible] ownership of lost dogs is now transferred to the home, and animals can then be sold or introduced to the lethal chamber, at the will of the authorities.

THE inmates of Mr. Geo. J. Gould's kennel at Lakewood, N. J., have been increased recently by the advent of two litters of strong, healthy puppies, and Manager Warner feels much pleased thereat. On May 1 the heavyweight pointer bitch Josie Bracket whelped four dogs and three bitches by Ridgeview Comet; and three days later the borzoi bitch Olga IV gave birth to eleven puppies by Ataman IV, the very handsome dog imported during the Winter by the Terra Cotta Kennels. Olga is no mean brood bitch, for this is her third litter, and she has had thirty-two puppies all told, while as a show bitch she scored first at Detroit, Chicago and Denver on the recent circuit.

IT is expected that the dog show will form the most attractive feature of the Ohio Humane Society's Bazaar, at Cincinnati, and it may prove a good opportunity for the disposal of surplus stock. Mr. Eberhart, the superintendent, writes to say that the dogs will be in a large, light and well ventilated hall, where they will be comfortable should the weather prove hot, and that the prizes will be silver cups and merchandise donated in Cincinnati. He has Mr. John B. Walker as assistant superintendent and Mr. Chas. R Vincent as secretary, while the health of the dogs will be looked after by Dr. H. D. Heywood. In view of the object for which the show is given, a liberal entry from neighboring cities is hoped for. Entries close next Tuesday.

SEVERAL parties have been writing us asking where they could purchase field dogs for shooting purposes this Fall. Among others three requests of this kind have come from the Dakotas, one from Ohio and two from Illinois. We refer all such to our advertising columns, and we would advise owners who have well-broken dogs for sale to let the fact be known. Sportsmen like to own a dog a few months before the shooting season to become well acquainted with them. Often unbroken puppies are purchased at this time and broken by their new owners according to their own ideas.

A GOOD borzoi bitch has just died in Zlobelis (Leekhoi—Raskeda), owned by Mr. J. C. Weeks of Baltimore. She was a New York winner, having achieved that honor at the last show in Madison Square Garden, and also won last year at the Columbus show and in 1893 at Akron; she was whelped October 16, 1892, and was bred by Mr. Chas. S. Hanks. At one time she was owned by Mr. A. E. Pitts of Columbus. Both her parents were imported from Russia, coming out of Prince Galitzin's kennels.

THE extent to which dog farming is carried on in China is attracting considerable attention. There are said to be thousands of large breeding establishments scattered over the northern districts of Manchuria and Mongolia, and it is claimed no dog skins in the world can compare with those that come from these parts as regards their size, quality or length of hair. The Mikado must have had his eye on this valuable industry when he was drawing up the terms of indemnity from China.

MY old pal Eberhart's Cashier has left me. He died Friday, May 3, from diabetes. "Tip" had won 37 prizes a good many firsts among them, but alot of them seconds; and reserves. At many a show he did not get what he deserved (my opinion, at least), but he won't cause any trouble to judges any more, for he's gone to compete where the judges are all fair and honest. I write this with a sad heart, for he was my chum, my friend.

Cincinnati, O. AL. G. EBERHART.

THE pointer episode at the Manchester (Eng.) show naturally caused considerable sensation, but it does not appear that Mr. Arkwright accomplished anything else. The committee of the Manchester show went into the case thoroughly, Mr. Sewell, veterinary surgeon to the English Kennel Club, being present, and the outcome was that the protests in each case were dismissed.

THE Orchard Kennels, of Topeka, Kan., will please accept our thanks for a photograph of Don, by Sir Bedivere—Yula. Mr. Everts informs us he has sold a half interest in the Orchard Kennels to W. S. Buck, who will have full charge of the business department. The kennels have purchased Osceola Bey, who divided second with Lady Floyd in the Great Dane puppy class at the late Chicago show.

To the many friends of my partner, Mr. W. J. Higginson, of Rochester, N. Y., I regret to say that Mr. Higginson has been dangerously ill at his hotel here ever since the Pittsburg show. I am, however, advised by his physician that he will be able to be around again in a short time.

Pittsburg, Pa. J. C. MABLEL.

AT a meeting of the governors of the United States Field Trial Club at Louisville, Ky., last Monday evening, it was decided to abandon the Indiana trials and to change North Carolina trials to commence November 7.

W. B. STAFFORD.
Trenton, Tenn. Secy. U. S. F. T.

A TELEGRAM from San Francisco says the Pacific Kennel Club's show being held in that city this week is the biggest success in the way of a dog show that has ever been witnessed on the Pacific Coast and that nearly all breeds are wonderfully well represented, St. Bernards, greyhounds and fox terriers especially so.

THE steamship Tauric, of the White Star Line, has brought from England, for the Awashonk Kennels of Providence, R. I., a beagle dog puppy whelped September 23. It is from the kennels of Mr. R. L. Cranshaw, arrived in good shape, is a beautifully marked black, white and tan, and nicely made up.

MR. W. B. WELLS, of Chatham, Ontario, will judge the Continental Field Trial Club's prairie chicken trials, which will begin at Morris, Manitoba, Monday, September 2.

P. T. MADISON.
Indianapolis, Ind. Secy. C. F. T. C.

MR. C. S. HANKS has already disposed of a number of his dogs, and among them two fox terriers, Seacroft Maiden and Starden's Nip, which he has sold to go to Russia. The purchaser is Mr. H. Allen, who lives in St. Petersburg.

THE proposed amendments—which were acted upon at the February meeting—to the rules of the American Kennel Club have not received the two-thirds vote necessary for their adoption.

WE hear that Mr. George Bell, of Toronto, has imported a pair of wirehaired fox terriers; the dog, Charleton Brown, is said to have won a number of prizes in England.

THIS is the last opportunity we shall have of reminding our field trial readers that entries for both the Continental Derby and the Eastern Derby close May 15—next Wednesday.

AT this time last year the date for the National Beagle Club's annual trials had been announced, but as yet we have not heard anything about the club's intentions for next Autumn.

IN consequence of the many demands for dogs through my advertisement in the AMERICAN FIELD I am sold out.

No. Attleboro, Mass. B. ALTON SMITH.

THE Meadow City Kennels have published a "Stride-away" catalog, and we have been favored with a copy.

The American Field Score Book

Contains 150 score sheets, the Hurlingham, Long Island and American Shooting Association rules; shows a proper form of constitution and by-laws for gun clubs, and contains also a set of field and club house rules. Sent by express, prepaid, on receipt of $1. Address the American Field Publishing Co., Chicago, Ill.

A new dining car service between Chicago and Buffalo via the Nickel Plate Road has recently been placed at the disposal of the traveling public, which will enable patrons of this favorite low rate line to obtain all meals on trains when traveling on through trains between Chicago, New York and Boston. For reservations of sleeping car space and further information see your local ticket agent or address J. Y. CALAHAN, Genl. Agent, Chicago.

Advt. 16

SALES

SALES.—We make no charge for inserting notices of Sales To secure insertion write plainly and use following form:

SEACROFT KENNELS, Essex, Mass., have sold
——, fox terrier puppy, by Starden's King—Damson, to Mr. G. Littlewood, Medford, Mass.
——, bitch, same litter, to Mr. S. Tyson, Baltimore, Md.
——, horzoi bitch, by Col Dietz—Lady Dietz, to Mr. S. Tyson.
——, dog, same litter, to Mr. H. S. Hodgins, Pigeon Cove, Mass.
SEACROFT DAISY, fox terrier bitch, by Ripon Stormer—Richmond Jessamine, to Mr. G. W. Adair, Atlanta, Ga.
SEACROFT DUCHESS, fox terrier bitch, by Raby Pallisy—Damson, to Mr. G. L. Clark, Peabody, Mass.
——, fox terrier puppy, by Bourbon—Empress, to Mr. A. B. McGregor, Poland, Me.
——, dog, same litter, to George Thomas, Salem, Mass.
——, dog, same litter, to Mr. G. L. Moody, East Northfield, Mass.
SEACROFT DARKIE, cocker spaniel, to Mr. J. G. Underhill, New York.
SEFTON SNOW, collie dog, to Mr. G. P. Runton, Castle Point Kennels.
MAYBROOK PANSY, collie bitch, to Mr. F. Small, Pride's Crossing, Mass.
SEACROFT DUKE, fox terrier dog, by Raby Pallisy—Damson, to Mr. W. Robinson, Boston.
SEACROFT MAIDEN, fox terrier bitch, by Raby Pallisy, to Mr. H. Allen, St. Petersburg, Russia.
STARDEN'S NIP, fox terrier dog, by Starden's King—Lady Muriel, to same.
SEFTON ASHLEAF, collie, by Sefton Hero—Sefton Grace, to Mr. Reed, Baltimore.

MR. R. H. MOTLEY, Tuskegee, Ala., has sold
——, English setter dog puppy, by Rod's Rival—Daisy Furness, to Mr. W. S. Kilton, Worcester, Mass.
——, dog, same litter, to Mr. E. R. Alexander, Tuskegee, Ala.
——, bitch, same litter, to Mr. F. W. Liley, Atlanta, Ga.
——, bitch, same litter, to Mr. S. Rowan, Benton, Ala.
——, bitch, same litter, to Mr. W. H. Rony, Tuskegee, Ala.
——, English setter dog puppy, by Vulcan—Antoie Gladstone, to Mr. F. W. Liley, Atlanta, Ga.
DAISY FURNESS, English setter bitch, by Monk of Furness—Nellie Gray, to Mr. J. E. Isgrigg, Chicago.
——, English setter dog puppy, by Vulcan—Antoie Gladstone, to Mr. R. P. Tallman, Rutherford, Ala.
——, dog, same litter, to Mr. N. Tucker, Hurtshoro, Ala.

POCKET CITY KENNELS, McGregor, Ia., have sold
BROWNIE MCGREGOR, fox terrier bitch, to Mr. A. C. Boyle, McGregor, Ia.
——, fox terrier dog puppy, to Mr. D. H. Miller, Marshalltown, Ia.
——fox terrier bitch puppy, to Mr. W. C. Leitsch, Madison, Wis.
OLE MCGREGOR, fox terrier dog, to Mr. W. A. Sharp, Pullman, Ill.
——, fox terrier dog puppy, to Mr. W. A. Pengelly, Chicago.
——, fox terrier dog puppy, to Mr. T. H. Studebaker, McGregor, Ia.
——, fox terrier dog puppy, to H. H. Clark, M. D., McGregor, Ia.

OLD NORTH STATE KENNELS, Monroe, N. C., have sold
——, black, white and tan English setter dog puppy, whelped December 17, 1894, by Gath's Mark—Eda C, to Rev. E. M. McMillen, Lebanon, Ky.
——, dog, same litter, to Mr. P. J. Gallagher, Portsmouth, Va.
——, dog, same litter, to Mr. D. C. Denny, Columbia, Pa.
——, black, white and tan English setter dog, by Rod S—Corsette Val Jean, whelped June 26, 1894, to Dr. J. Frank Perry, Boston, Mass.
——, dog, same litter, to Mr. Jno. B. Foster, Marsbfield, Mo.

HOLLYMERE KENNEL, New York, has sold
GUY HOLLYMERE (32961), black, white and tan English setter dog, by Roy F—Lady Clara, to Mr. C. L. Brush, South Norwalk, Conn.
CLYDE GLADSTONE (29734), black, white and tan English setter bitch, by Boss Gladstone—Bess L, to Mr. Robert Kiley, Brentwood, N. Y.
——, black and white English setter bitch puppy, whelped March 6, by Roy F—Lady Clara, to Mr. George Jarvis, New York.

HOWARD KENNELS, Columbus, O., have sold
LEGAL TENDER, pug bitch, by Drummer—Easter, to Mr. Wm. W. Weeks, Bridgeton, N. J.
SATEEN II, pug bitch, by Prince—Sateen, to Mr. M. A. Harder, Chicago.
DRUMMER BOY, pug dog, by Drummer—Legal Tender, to Mrs. J. V. Newton, Toledo, O.
DRUMMER'S SATEEN, pug bitch, by Drummer—Sateen II, to Mr. W. R. Bentley, Chicago.

CHESTNUT HILL KENNELS. Philadelphia, have sold
BESSIE GIRL (C. 1033), liver and white poluter bitch, whelped November 1, 1890, by Graphic III—Bessie Wyanet, to Mr. L. N. Rahn, St. Louis, Mo.

MR. H. McAULEY, Chicago, has sold ——, Yorkshire terrier dog puppy and one Yorkshire bitch, to Mr. H. B. Chase, Portland, Ore.

MR. C. COOPER, Rochester, Ind., has sold
DERBY, English setter dog, by Gladstone's Boy—Nat's Queen, to Mr. H. James, Oelwein, Ia.

VISITS

VISITS.—We make no charge for inserting notices of Visits. To secure insertion write plainly and use the following form:

SEACROFT KENNELS'
SEACROFT ZARINA, fox terrier, by Dominic—Brockenhurst Queenie, February 23, to Seacroft Bourbon.
MISS SPENDTHRIFT, fox terrier, by Starden's Spendthrift, March 9, to Bourbon.
GROUSE II, fox terrier, by Rational—Olive II, April 1, to Bourbon.
SEACROFT DAISY, fox terrier, by Ripon Stormer—Richmond Jessamine, February 16, to Bourbon (Champion D'Orsay—Damson).
SEACROFT MAIDEN, fox terrier, by Raby Pallisy—Damson, March 20, to Bourbon.
SEACROFT DUCHESS, fox terrier, by Raby Pallisy—Damson, to their Result (Ripon Stormer—Richmond Jessamine).
LADY BELMONT, fox terrier, by Earl Leicester—Coquette, February 28, to Result.
DAMSON, fox terrier, by Dominie—Daphnia, April 1, to Raby Pallisy.
RASKEDA, borzoi, April 20, to Sorvanets.
MAYBROOK PANSY, collie, February 28, to Sefton Snow.
SPRINGHILL DOLLY, Boston terrier, April 20, to Tom Sayers.

MEADOWBROOK KENNEL'S
EDOE MARK'S KITTY, English setter, by Edge Mark—Nancy, April 11 and 13, to Ezra Noble.
EDOE MARK'S NELLIE, English setter, by Edge Mark—Nancy, April 20 and 22, to Ezra Noble.
LUCY II, English setter, by Roybell III—Fraud, April 16 and 18, to Ezra Noble.

MR. J. E. JEWETT'S
PATHOS (34829), bull, by Bathos—Rose, March 19 and 21, to Webb's Monarch (28100).
JANE (35777), bull, by Rustic Swell—Addiscombe Gypsy, April 3 and 5, to Webb's Mouarch (28100).
GLORIANNA (35778), Boston terrier, by Jack—Countess, April 9 and 11, to Pilot.

POCKET CITY KENNELS'
RUTH MCGREGOR, fox terrier, by McGinty—Dusky McGregor, April 3, 5 and 6, to Warren Safeguard.
DUSKY MCGREGOR, fox terrier, by Dusky Trap—Blemton Consequence, March 25 and 26, to Seacroft Avenger.

DR. W. C. DUKE'S
MOLLIE, English setter, by King Noble—Queen Vashti, March 10, to his Acolyte (Toledo Blade—Sue II).
ANLO, English setter, by Lad B—Phyllis, March 13, to his Acolyte

MR. H. M. GRIFFIN'S
KING OF KENT'S TRILBY, pointer, by King of Kent (6262)—Lady Guess (18295), April 16, to Trinket's Baug Jr (Trinket's Bang—Nellie Bow).

ROCHELLE KENNELS'
GYPSY GIRL (36778), black and tan terrier, by Rock—West End Maiden, April 21, to their Champion Broomfield Sultan (20668).

MR. E. S. LOGAN'S
VICTORIA ALTON, St. Bernard, by California Alton—Tomah, April 20 and 22, to Reglov (Safford—Mountain Queen).

MR. J. M. GOVE'S
PATTI, cocker spaniel, by Brush W—Bessie G, April 6 and 8, to Rosedale Royal (Farrow's Obo III—Modjeska).

MESSRS. BOWERS BROS. & SMITH'S
DIXIE KENT, pointer, by Col. Kent out of Lad's Daughter, April 10, to Oliver's Marks (Duke—Fleet Girl).

MR. L. D. HARGRAVES'
FANCY FREE, English setter, by Antonio—Buena Vista, April 5 and 8, to White Boy (by Gladstone's Boy).

ROCHELLE KENNELS'
BRITTLE BRUSH, wirehaired fox terrier, by Brittle—Vic Broom, March 14, to White Topper.

MR. F. SMALL'S
STARDEN'S VIC, fox terrier, by Starden's King—Lady Muriel, April 20, to Raby Pallisy.

MR. M. FISHER'S
COUNT'S BESSIE, English setter, March 26, to King Rea (Cincinnatus—Rod's Queen).

LARCHMONT KENNELS'
BROKENHURST BELLE (10936), fox terrier, April 12 and 14, to New Forest Billy (36507).

EASTON KENNELS'
BEAUTY S, cocker spaniel, by Doc—Jessie S, to Moorzuck (King Raven—Ruth S).

MR. DEAKIN'S
——, wirehaired fox terrier, March 1, to Brittle Bat (Brittle—Whittle).

MR. J. QUILLIGAN'S
CICELY, fox terrier, March 13 and 15, to New Forest Billy (36507).

MR. G. M. WILLIAMS'
FANTINE, fox terrier, February 16, to Seacroft Result.

MR G. J. GOULD'S
DAGMAR, borzoi, February 28, to Colonel Dietz.

WHELPS

WHELPS.—We make no charge for inserting notices of Whelps To secure insertion write plainly and use following form:

YETSAN KENNELS'
MOLLY, King Charles spaniel, by imp. Charlie—Chiquita, whelped, February 14, three dogs and two bitches, by Campanini. The bitches are dead.
TOPSY, King Charles spaniel, by Florasel—Chiquita, whelped, March 25, three dogs and one bitch, by Campanini. One dog dead.
POLLY, King Charles spaniel, by imp. Charlie—Chiquita, whelped, April 4, three ruby bitches and one King Charles bitch, by Campanini.

ROCHELLE KENNELS'
BRITTLE BROOM (33521), wirehaired fox terrier, whelped, March 28, one dog and four bitches, by White Topper.
MEERSBROOK MAIDEN (13744), black and tan terrier, whelped, March 29, two dogs and two bitches, by Champion Broomfield Sultan (20668).

POCKET CITY KENNELS'
FANNIE MCGREGOR, fox terrier, whelped, April 4, three dogs and four bitches, by their Seacroft Avenger.
RICHMOND VICTORY, fox terrier, whelped, April 10, three dogs and three bitches, by Endcliffe Banker.

MR. W. H. COLLINS'
LADY BUTTE II, rough St. Bernard, by Lord Bute—Clydesdale Nell, whelped, April 2, two dogs and six bitches, by Reglov (Safford—Mountain Queen).

MR. E. M. FOHEY'S
MAGPIE, English greyhound, by Gem of the Season—Bed of Stones, whelped, April 15, two dogs and six bitches, by Dallas.

MR. A. E. GUY'S
JULIP (14763), fox terrier, by Beverwyck—Dusky, whelped, April 26, three dogs and four bitches, by Hopbloom Dusky (34091).

MR. JAS. S. SCHEFFLER'S
LADY ARGYL (32614), cocker spaniel, whelped, April 20, three dogs and four bitches, all blacks, by Gyp (Obo C—Gypsie).

MR. C. J. PROUTZ'S
ZOE REED, beagle, by Buckshot—Haldee, whelped, April 7, two dogs and three bitches, by Jack (Flute M—Pride).

MESSRS. SPRING & LENOIR'S
URADA, poluter, by King Kent—Rose Vernon, whelped, April 5, four dogs and three bitches, by Lad of Kent.

MR. F. M. HARVEY'S
KITTIE KIRK (34256), English setter, whelped, April 19, four dogs and five bitches, by Roger Boy (17337).

MR. W. H. COLLINS'
LADY BUTE, St. Bernard, by Lord Bute—Clydesdale Nell, whelped, March 31, two dogs and six bitches.

NAMES CLAIMED

NAMES CLAIMED.—We make no charge for inserting notices of Names Claimed. To secure insertion write plainly and use the following form:

MR. H. B. CHASE, Portland, Ore., claims the name
PEEK, for Yorkshire terrier bitch, whelped August 19, 1894, by Courtney's Dandy out of Dimple.
DANDY PAT, for Yorkshire terrier dog, whelped January 17, by McAuley's Fispool Willie (35270) out of McAuley's Rose (35272).

MR. I. N. WOOD, Saratoga Springs, N. Y., claims the name
MIDDEN CROW, for black cocker spaniel bitch, whelped November 9, 1894, by Champion Middy (26430)—Hamilton Dinah (29877).
BIRD OBO, for black cocker spaniel bitch, whelped October 24, 1894, by Obo C (15271)—Bird (by Cherry Lad).

MESSRS. BOWERS BROS. & SMITH, Fargo, N. D., claim the name
DIXIE KENT, for liver, white and ticked pointer bitch, whelped August 18, 1893, by Col Kent (King of Kent—Baug's Molly) out of Lad's Daughter (Lad of Kent—Baski).

MR. H. L. KEYES, Worcester, Mass., claims the name
BLUE MAID, for blue Belton English setter bitch, whelped December 1, 1894, by Montell (31129) out of Kent's Ola (27137).

MISS ISABEL STANLEY, Binghamton, N. Y., claims the name
SNELL, for black, white and tan English setter dog, by Hoosic out of Shenstone's Daisy.

MR. L. D. HARGRAVES, Charlotte, N. C., claims the name
PIEDMONT KENNELS, for his kennel of pointers and English setters.

MR. C. P. SHEPARD, Easton, Pa., claims the name
EASTON KENNELS, for his kennel of spaniels.

Coursing

FIXTURES

California state meeting, May 30, Ocean View Park, San Francisco. J. R. Dickson, secretary.

Aberdeen Coursing Club's Autumn meeting, Aberdeen, S. D., October 1. J. H. Davis, secretary.

American Waterloo Cup meeting (first), Huron, S. D., October 8, etc. F. B. Coyne, secretary, American Coursing Club.

Altcar Coursing Club's third annual meeting, ——, October 16, etc. T. W. Bartels, secretary.

Kenmore Coursing Club's third annual meeting, ————, October 22, etc. C. F. Weber, secretary.

Cheyenne Coursing Club's first meeting, Great Bend, Kan., October 29, etc. Ira D. Brougher, secretary.

DEATH OF IMP. TRALES

This well-known imported greyhound died at Colorado Springs on April 20 from bloody flux. With Trales one involuntarily thinks of Dick's Darling, one of the bitches that came over from England with him, and mated with him produced at the first asking the famous little Lady Barton. There were three Trales—Dick's Darling litters, and besides Lady Barton they included Lady in Black, Lord Macpherson, Laplander and Living Yet, all of which ran prominently at one time or another.

From the imported Glendyne bitches Trales did not get anything that made a mark, though Major Glendyne and Master Glendyne were a pair of very useful but equally unlucky greyhounds; but the old dog did pretty well with some of the native stock put to him. Humming Bird did not produce anything better than Dr. S. J. Shaw's Dolly and Belle; but Girl's Favorite, by Trales—Bessie Lee, and Lady Grace, by Trales—Miss Smart, were a pair of game and clever bitches that ran consistently and well and generally got near the end of a stake. Then there was the Trales—Tence litter, which included Scavenger, the very lucky winner of the Great Bend Derby of 1892, and of which Royal Ruby was, in our opinion, a long way the best; and a smart little bitch she was, too.

A short sketch of Trales' career may prove of interest. He was whelped in the Spring of 1887, being by Wandering Tom—Little Emily III, and was purchased by Arthur Massey, while on a trip to England in 1888, from Dr. W. Iliffe of Kendal, Westmoreland. A young dog which he was bringing over for Messrs. Helzer & Moses of Great Bend, Kan., having died just before the departure from England, Massey offered to turn Trales over to them in its place, and Trales became their property, reaching Great Bend in August of that year. In October he was entered for the American Field Cup, and was beaten in the first round by Mr. Lowe's imported bitch, White Lips, who ran up to Bessie Lee. The following year he was entered by Mr. D. C. Luse, and this time he won, beating as he ran through the stake Miss Rare, Holly, Jack Baird, imp. Lord Neversettle and imp. White Lips. Three weeks prior to this he had run at the Hutchinson (Kan.) inclosed meeting, when he was put out in the fourth round by imp. Dick's Darling, who then divided with Mr. Alfred Haight's black bitch Barmaid. Trales did not again run in public, we believe, except when, at the Great Bend meeting in 1892, he was put in to run with his son, Master Glendyne, in a bye; and right well the old fellow went from slips, holding his own for one hundred and fifty yards or so. About two years after Trales came to this country Messrs. Heizer and Moses divided up their kennel, and Trales became the sole property of Mr. G. N. Moses, who, in January, 1891, sold him to the Emporia Kennel. In time the gentlemen interested in that kennel gave it up, and in the division of property Trales passed into the possession of Mr. Ed. H. Lyon—who owned Scavenger, mentioned above—and belonged to him until death. Mr. Lyon moved to Guthrie, Okla., and our readers will remember how Trales was stolen last Thanksgiving Day and recovered January 14, thanks to the vigorous manner in which Mr. Lyon prosecuted the search for him. After that he was sent to Mr. S. W. Vidler's kennels at Colorado Springs, where he died.

BUT WHO ARE THE NOMINATORS?

ST. LOUIS, MO.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—Mr. Coyne will, I hope, accept my most humble apology for daring to take an interest in the American Waterloo Cup. I fear it was great impertinence on my part, as I don't belong to the "push." I was under the delusion that anyone interested in coursing might be permitted to feel an interest in the Huron meeting, whether a nominator or not, because I was under the impression it was intended for a national meeting, but I see I was under a wrong impression. But Mr. Coyne need not have been in such a hurr[illegible] for taking a little interest in the Wat[illegible] cause it is only a little while since he [illegible] interest in the Colorado club's pro[illegible] wrote and circulated that unauth[illegible] he thinks he is such a splendid secr[illegible] ter manage the affairs of all the clu[illegible]

He admits that every coursing man in the country probably wants to know who the nominators are, but he has not the courtesy to give them satisfaction without putting them to the trouble of writing to him for the information. It is highly interesting to the readers of the AMERICAN FIELD to know that Mr. Coyne has everything in black and white; I hope he keeps it safely under lock and key.

Mr. Coyne says he is quite sure I am not a nominator. He is right on that point, I admit. I am not going up agalnst his game at $35 a nomination.

Without in any way disparaging the new judge, I must say it is amusing to read Mr. Coyne's statement that "he has only to continue his good work to convince the coursing public that he has a thorough knowledge," etc. Practical coursing men, it seems to me, would want to be convinced of that before a Waterloo meeting, not after it.

Mr. Coyne says it is easy for some people to criticise the work of others. To which I could say it is easy to criticise the work of some people. I might say that the remarks in my first letter were not pointed at Mr. Coyne in particular, but at the committee in general. But the cap seems to have fitted Mr. Coyne.

In conclusion I will say it is a high-toned business for the secretary of a prominent club to be engaged in, this trying to peddle out nominations at $35 each. Perhaps Mr. Coyne will agree with me that it is quite probable every coursing man would like to know what the committee means by increasing the price from $25.

X. Y. Z.

HURON, S. D.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—Up to date (May 3) I have received the second deposit of 40 per cent. on twenty-four nominations, and within a short time I expect to be able to publish a complete list of the nominators for the American Watorloo Cup, with whatever changes may have taken place.

I have also heard from Mr. Stephenson and Mr. Dodd, each accepting his respective appointment.

F. B. COYNE,
Secy. American Coursing Club.

NOTES

DR Q. VAN HUMMELL has returned from his English trip. While abroad he acquired some knowledge of English coursing and training, five well-bred greyhounds, and the influenza; the latter he picked up first, and he says he did not entirely get rid of it until after his return. The unusually cold weather experienced in England during February spoilt his visit to some extent, and consequently he did not see as much coursing as he might have; still, he attended the Waterloo, Lytham, Carmichael (Scotland), Ripon and Witham (inclosed) meetings, spent some time at John Coke's, where so many greyhound celebrities have been trained, and two days at Mr. Tom Graham's place near Carlisle, where a number of good ones have been bred. While the doctor was thus enjoying himself, Mrs. Van Hummell and her sister wisely escaped from the tail end of the worst Winter known in Great Britain for fifty years and sought the sunny shore of the Mediterranean, visiting Nice, Monte Carlo, Marseilles and Mentone. It will be remembered that the Doctor took Viola (imp. Babazoun—imp. Verdure Clad) over with him to breed her to Herschel, but she never came in season (which was very inconsiderate of her) until she returned to her native land, and she was bred this week to Astronomy, one of his recent importations. The five greyhounds brought over by the Doctor are as follows: Newton Don (white dog), whelped May, 1892, by Branxholm (Flanigan—Gladys) out of Glenmavis (Mentor—Glencoe), bred by Sir Robert Jardine; Ardgay (fawn dog), whelped May, 1893, by Glenogle (Mentor—Glencoe) out of Angel Cake (Athos—April Shower), bred by Sir W. C. Anstruther; Astromony (fawn dog), whelped March, 1891, by Herschel out of Stitchell Linn (Waterford—Stitch in Time), bred by Mr. Stone; Just Eclipsed (black dog), whelped April, 1892, by Herschel out of Annie Tweddle (Misterton—Glencoe), bred by Mr. T. Graham; and Chit-Chat (brindled dog), whelped May, 1893, by Fitz Fife (runner-up to Fullerton in the Waterloo Cup of 1892) out of Chatter (Fashion Follower—Full of Fun), bred by Mr. J. T. Clifton. Newton Don and Ardgay Dr. Van Hummell got from Sir Robert Jardine, Astronomy from Mr. Oliver H. Jones, Just Eclipsed from Mr. A. H. Jones, and Chit-Chat he purchased from Mr. J. T. Clifton's kennel at a sale. With the exception of the Mentor—Gladys cross, which is already represented in this country by the imported bitch Glida, this is all new blood and forms a welcome addition to the well-bred stock already in the country. Dr. Van Hummell took the dogs direct to his trainer, John Cochran, at Winfield, where they arrived little the worse for their long journey. He says Cochran has his dogs looking uncommonly well, especially the young ones; and he thinks his Lord Neversettle—Verdure Clads and Van's Peter—Valkyries will more than hold their own in the puppy stakes next Autumn. During his absence he has had some new kennel buildings put up at Cochran's, and everything is now in fine shape. The Doctor informed us he has not got any nominations for the American Waterloo Cup.

So little has been heard of late from western Kansas that a well-known sportsman wrote to one of Goodland's many stanch supporters of coursing to inquire how they were "coming on" out that way. The reply he received was eminently satisfactory, in that it shows what a warm feeling toward coursing is held by the Goodlanders and we are permitted to publish the following [illegible] "Goodland has not turned her back on coursing [illegible] she lost interest in that fascinating field sport [illegible] there were some long faces here last Fall—perhaps [illegible] so—but no sooner had our people learned that Mr. Gilman was to judge the Altcar Club's meeting [illegible] offer was sent to the club that a purse of $150 would [illegible] guaranteed; and I understand this has been supplemented by an offer of $200, should they conclude to meet here. Of course that is a small amount, but, as our people have [illegible] three purses since we have had a crop of any [illegible] still have an active interest in [illegible] Altcar Club concludes to meet [illegible] Kenmore Club can find no better ground than [illegible] choice, and I am satisfied a purse will be offered them if they desire to come."

THE St. Louis Coursing Club finished its season on April 27 with a stake for eight saplings. Mr. D. J. O'Callaghan judged and John Egan slipped. For some unknown reason the saplings were limited as to age to under twelve months. The coursing resulted as follows: First round.—Mr. John Bambrick's red bitch Elsie B (Van's Peter—Flirt) beat Mr. E. Burgess' fawn dog Sligo (Willy Nilly—Edgebrook Pearl); Mr. Chas. A. Robinson's black bitch Leonora (imp. Miller's Rab—imp. Scandal) beat Mr. John Egan's red bitch Lady Winner (Willy Nilly—Ponta II); Mr. Chas. A. Robinson's white and black dog Banker (Boomerang—Irish Lass) beat Mr. J. G Hawkin's red bitch Lady Ruth (Van's Peter—Flirt); Mr. E. Burgess' black dog Black Prince (Willy Nilly—Edgebrook Pearl) beat Mr. A. McElrath's brindle dog Shamrock (ped. unknown.) Second round.—Leonora beat Elsie B; Banker beat Black Prince. Then Mr. Robinson's two divided. Fourteen registrations of greyhounds owned in St. Louis were forwarded to the keeper of the stud book during the week.

IT is discouraging to learn that second payment has been made on only three-fourths of the nominations for the American Waterloo Cup. The conditions, as framed and published, include the following: "The nominations are transferable only through the secretary of the American Coursing Club, and will be forfeited in case of failure to pay any one of the installments as above specified." This means that the committee now has on its hands 25 per cent. of the nominations, which will have to be placed over again. That is hard lines, as it may not be found so easy to place them as before; for human beings follow one another very much after the manner of sheep. When a rush starts it becomes general, and when an idea prevails that there is enough of anything to go round then hardly anybody wants it; however, we hope it will not prove quite that bad. The forfeiture of such a heavy percentage of the nominations will rather take the wind out of the sails of those people who expected to dispose of them at a premium.

THOSE who were at the Goodland meeting last Autumn will remember that Mr. Martin Kerrigan, who stopped over on his way home to San Francisco, after summering in Chicago, had with him a rather good-looking brindled and white dog puppy, which he had just purchased from Mr. Frank L. Webster of Lawrence, Kan. It attracted some notice from the fact that it was an inbred Lord Neversettle with Mr. Lowe's two imported bitches—White Lips and Partera—as its grandams. Mr. Kerrigan had hopes of the puppy doing great things in the San Francisco coursing parks, and when he got home dubbed it Goodland, being mindful of a pleasant week spent in the Kansas town. How the dog performed in the few trials it ran we do not know, but its career was cut short about a month ago by a cable car.

THE saplings by imp. Babazoun out of Princess Marie (imp. Dingwall—imp. Miss Kitten) seem to have been singularly ill-fated. It will be remembered that Dr. Gower got a bitch and Mr. Le Moyne a dog out of the litter, and that all the rest died from distemper, which was very hard luck for Dr. Norman. Not long ago Dr. Gower bought Mr. Le Moyne's sapling, and naturally enough indulged in pleasant anticipations of the time when his youngsters would represent him on the coursing field. Now both have died from distemper, which therefore has wiped out the entire litter. This must be a great disappointment for Dr. Norman, as he had hopes of some of them proving high class greyhounds.

DISTEMPER seems to be unusually rife among the coursing kennels this Spring. Mr. E. H. Mulcaster has had a visitation, and, we hear, has lost two saplings out of imp. Scandal two whelps from Arthur Massey's Lady Del Glendyne, and two whelps from each of Mr. Michael Allen's bitches, Maid of Honor and Grace O'Malley. This is bad luck indeed, and especially as all the young ones were by imp. Glenkirk, whose get have done so well during the season.

RICHARD JEFFERY, one of Great Britain's cleverest exponents of the difficult art of slipping, died April 17 in a hospital at Cambridge, Eng., after suffering for several months. Eighteen months ago the deceased had the misfortune to break an arm, and eventually the limb had to be amputated, but, septicæmia having set in, it was too late to save his life.

AT a meeting of the members of the Aberdeen Coursing Club on the evening of Tuesday, April 30, Messrs. J. M. Lawson and S. W. Narregang were elected to represent the club in the American Coursing Board, and some new members were admitted.

WE are requested to remind owners that a payment of $3 falls due on May 15 for their entries in the Altcar Produce Stakes; also to call attention to the necessity of registration.

Rifle

FIXTURES

[illegible]stlicher Schuetzen-Bund, Milwaukee,

[illegible]ter [illegible]on's first tournament, Glendale, L. I.,

WHY is it that rifle manufacturers do not improve the material used in making rifle barrels? Shotgun makers are constantly improving the material used in constructing guns of various grades, but not so with rifle makers. The writer remembers having seen an article in a daily paper about nickel steel being tried for the above purpose. According to that account it proved highly successful. I own and use no less than three different makes of rifles, the shooting qualities of which could hardly be improved, but they will rust in this climate in spite of everything I can use. Another thing. In hunting in a rocky country one is always liable to knock his rifle against the rocks and a dent is the result. This does not usually interfere with the efficiency of the gun, but is an eyesore to a rifleman who admires a finely finished weapon and likes to keep it in good shape.

Houston, Tex. B. F. W.

IN competition at the Shell Mound rifle range on May 5 Company B, First Regiment N. G. C., stationed at San Francisco, broke the world's record for team shooting, scoring 1,951 points out of a possible 2,500 at 200 yards. The team consisted of fifty men, and the score made is nine points over an average of 39 for each man. Their competitors, Company D, Fifth Regiment, of San Rafael, scored 1,898 points, two points under an average of 38 for each man in the team.

IT is reported that Mr. Vandeusen, of Winona, Minn., has accepted the challenge of Mr. Gus Zimmerman, of New York, for a rifle match with Mr. F. C. Ross, but states that owing to business engagements during the Summer months he cannot shoot the race before next Fall, when he will have more leisure.

DENVER, COLO.—The recent team shoot between the senior and junior members of the Denver Rifle Club was fully equal in interest and marksmanship to former contests. The senior team was composed of eight members, none of whose ages are less than 40 years, and whose average ages entitle every marksman to a possible 50 (Creedmoor count), while the junior team was made up from members who have not yet reached the boundary line of 40. J. H. Dean captained the seniors, while J. N. Lower officered the juniors. The two captains tossed for whose team should open the match. The toss was won by the junior captain, who requested his venerable opponents to toe the scratch, at the same time intimating that gray hairs would only be respected according to the wearer's ability to shoot. The match called for three sighting shots, and ten shots to score for each contestant, off hand, distance 200 yards, Creedmoor target, and a repetition of the same on the 500-yard range, Creedmoor rules to govern both. No coaching nor wind gauging for each other was permitted. The scores made on each range were as follows:

At 200 yards off hand, Creedmoor target.

JUNIOR TEAM

J. N. Lower	4	4	5	4	5	4	4	5	5	4—44
F. Speth	4	5	4	4	4	5	4	4	5	5—44
D. W. King	5	4	4	4	5	4	5	3	5	4—43
O. E. Adamson	4	4	4	4	4	4	5	5	4	4—42
A. W. Peterson	4	5	4	4	4	4	5	4	4	4—42
C. Purinton	4	4	5	5	4	4	4	4	4	4—42
C. Hollingshead	4	4	4	4	3	4	4	4	5	4—40
F. O. Welker	0	5	5	3	4	4	4	3	4	4—36—333

SENIOR TEAM

G. C. Schoyen	4	4	5	4	5	4	5	4	5	4—44
C. C. Ford	4	4	4	5	5	4	4	5	3	4—42
J. A. Ricker	5	3	4	3	5	5	4	3	4	4—40
J. H. Dean	3	4	4	3	4	5	4	4	4	4—39
W. A. Rhodes	4	4	5	4	4	3	4	4	3	4—39
H. B. Gilbert	4	4	3	5	4	4	3	5	4	3—39
S. W. Shepard	3	3	4	4	4	4	4	4	3	5—38
J. P. Lower	2	4	4	4	3	4	4	4	3	4 33—317

Five hundred yards, Creedmoor target.

JUNIOR TEAM

A. W. Peterson	4	4	5	4	5	5	5	5	4	5—46
C. F. Hollingshead	4	5	4	5	4	4	4	5	4	5—44
O. E. Adamson	5	4	3	5	4	3	5	5	5	5—44
F. O. Welker	2	3	5	5	5	4	5	4	4	5—42
J. N. Lower	4	4	5	4	4	4	3	4	2	5—39
F. Speth	2	2	4	3	4	4	5	4	3	5—36
C. Purinton	4	5	4	3	5	2	5	0	5	3—35
D. W. King	4	2	2	5	4	3	3	5	0	3—31—317

SENIOR TEAM

J. H. Dean	2	4	4	5	5	5	5	5	5	5—43
G. C. Schoyen	5	3	5	5	4	5	5	5	3	5—45
H. B. Gilbert	3	5	5	5	5	4	3	3	2	4—39
J. A. Ricker	2	5	5	2	3	4	3	3	4	4—35
J. P. Lower	2	2	4	2	4	5	5	5	4	2—35
W. A. Rhodes	4	4	4	3	4	4	0	0	5	5—33
C. C. Ford	5	4	0	4	5	3	2	3	3	3—32
S. W. Shepard	2	2	0	4	3	4	3	4	4	2—28—293

JUNIOR.

CINCINNATI, O.—The Lo antiville Shooting Association held its regular practice shoot at Central Shooting Park, Dayton, Ky., April 28. Conditions: 200 yards off-hand, no palm rest permitted, open sights, 3-pounds trigger pull, standard American target. Sighting shots and unfinished scores not allowed. Scores:

Roberts	8	7	8	7	8	10	10	8	10	6—82
	7	10	9	6	9	10	10	5	6	9—81
	8	5	10	9	6	10	10	6	9	8—81
	10	7	8	7	6	8	7	8	10	8—79
*Nestler	8	9	10	10	7	8	6	7	8	10—83
	7	6	10	9	7	8	10	7	10	8—82
	8	7	8	6	7	10	9	8	9	7—79
	7	7	5	5	9	10	8	9	9	8—77
Hazenzahl	10	7	8	8	9	7	7	9	7	7—79
	8	10	6	7	7	8	7	7	7	7—74
	5	9	8	7	8	7	4	9	7	7—71
	5	10	8	8	8	6	8	5	7	6—71
Lapp	9	6	9	8	10	4	7	8	9	9—79
	9	10	7	8	8	8	5	6	8	7—76
	10	6	6	6	7	10	6	9	7	5—72
	7	6	6	7	10	9	6	5	6	6—67
Scherrer	9	6	10	6	8	6	7	10	8	5—75
	7	9	8	5	7	5	9	7	6	8—71
	5	6	2	6	7	9	8	9	6	8—66
	8	7	5	6	5	7	10	10	4	3—65
*Gassman	5	7	8	7	6	5	9	7	6	5—65
	2	2	7	3	6	10	10	6	8	5—59
	8	7	4	10	4	0	8	4	3	10—58
	10	0	0	7	9	9	6	3	4	6—54
Emminger	6	10	7	8	6	8	4	8	4	7—68
	6	5	10	5	4	7	4	6	10	10—67
	7	8	5	6	5	9	9	6	8	8—71
Fritag	6	3	7	10	5	6	4	3	10	6—59
	5	6	4	5	9	8	5	9	10	6—67
	6	6	5	4	4	7	6	5	5	7—55
J. Lux	9	7	7	4	5	10	7	8	4	7—68
	7	7	5	6	6	8	7	6	9	6—67
	3	6	6	7	5	6	5	4	8	4—53
Hold	7	8	10	7	2	5	5	7	4	6—61
	8	5	5	8	7	3	7	6	9	8—66
	6	6	6	7	8	5	6	9	8	5—66
Hass	3	7	3	4	0	6	2	5	6	5—41
	8	5	2	3	0	4	2	0	0	0—24
	10	5	5	9	6	7	3	6	9	6—66
Kinath	4	2	0	3	0	8	0	0	0	0—17
	0	0	2	6	0	4	3	3	3	4—25
	6	2	5	2	5	5	5	4	6	4—44
Welliuger	7	10	6	8	7	8	7	6	6	6—71
	5	6	8	6	7	7	7	8	5	8—67
Helnichen	4	4	3	8	10	3	2	4	4	5—47
	5	2	4	8	0	5	4	3	3	6—40

*Globe and peep sights.

H. C. ROBERTS.

CINCINNATI, O.—The following scores were made by members of the Cincinnati Rifle Association, at their range, on May 5. Conditions: 200 yards, off hand, Standard target (7 ring black):

Glndcle	9	9	10	10	10	7	10	8	8	8—89
	8	9	8	8	10	9	6	9	9	7—83
	7	8	8	6	8	9	9	8	10	10—83
	9	8	6	10	9	8	8	10	7	10—85
Weluheimer	9	9	8	7	7	7	10	7	5	8—77
	10	8	9	7	10	7	5	5	6	9—76
	4	6	6	9	7	6	8	10	8	10—74
	5	6	5	8	8	5	8	6	7	9—67
Wellinger	10	7	8	10	8	7	6	9	8	7—80
	10	9	9	8	5	9	9	7	6	7—79
	7	6	10	6	6	9	8	9	7	10—78
	6	6	7	10	6	7	10	9	9	8—78
Trounstein	1	9	9	7	5	6	10	5	9	10—71
	3	4	6	4	8	10	8	7	7	5—62
	10	4	8	9	4	5	9	4	7	5—65
	4	7	4	7	5	6	5	7	7	8—60
Payne	8	8	6	6	8	8	7	10	10	10—81
	10	8	9	7	9	10	10	9	8	6—86
	9	10	6	7	9	6	8	8	7	8—78
	7	8	8	8	6	8	8	9	5	5—72
Louis	7	7	7	7	8	9	3	8	8	9—73
	5	6	10	9	6	7	7	7	10	8—75
	9	7	9	5	5	8	9	10	7	4—73
	7	9	9	6	6	7	5	9	7	7—72
Hake	6	6	8	8	5	9	5	9	9	6—71
	5	6	8	7	6	5	8	5	9	9—68
	9	6	6	5	4	6	8	8	10	4—66
	5	6	10	5	5	7	7	8	3	5—61
Topf	3	4	4	8	7	9	4	5	10	9—63
	6	4	7	6	4	8	9	5	8	5—62
	6	3	9	1	5	4	8	8	9	5—58
	6	10	8	4	3	5	5	3	5	4—53
Hasenzabl	9	10	9	9	9	9	8	9	9	8—89
	7	6	9	8	7	7	7	6	10	9—76
	8	8	8	9	9	9	5	6	9	6—77
	7	5	8	8	9	8	6	6	7	8—72
Drube	8	10	10	10	6	10	8	9	8	9—88
	9	9	7	7	6	7	10	9	8	8—80
	9	9	8	10	8	7	7	5	9	6—78
	5	8	9	7	8	10	7	5	10	6—65

A. DRUBE.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Members of the Rochester Scheutzengilde, at their last monthly practice, made some good scores. Conditions: 200 yards off hand, standard American target. The scores:

C. Hoyt	10	9	10	8	7	8	9	9	8	9—87
	7	10	10	8	9	9	7	9	10	6—85
	7	8	8	7	10	10	9	8	8	7—81
F. Schwikert	9	10	8	9	9	9	10	6	9	9—88
	10	6	10	10	6	6	9	10	9	10—86
	9	10	7	8	9	10	9	8	9	8—85
C. Harvey	8	8	6	7	9	8	8	10	9	6—79
	9	7	7	5	10	9	6	8	9	5—75
	7	6	8	9	6	6	9	8	6	8—73
C. Swift	8	8	10	9	9	8	7	7	9	10—85
	10	5	10	6	8	6	7	7	8	10—76
	8	8	6	5	10	10	5	7	6	7—72
Andrews	8	7	8	8	7	6	8	10	5	9—76
Beebee	5	5	7	7	9	8	4	5	10	7—64
Newhart	8	8	10	10	8	9	7	5	5	8—78
E. Leferts	4	9	5	0	4	0	4	0	4	4—34
C. Gotschalk	6	7	8	5	6	4	7	5	6	7—61

SINGLE SHOT.

JERSEY CITY, N. J.—The scores made by members of the Greenville Rifle Club at their last meeting in April were as follows: Purkess 242, J. Boag 240, Lutz 240, Collins 239, Agneau 238, Gotthardt 238, Charlock 237, C. Boag 236, Chase 233, Fagen 231, F. Wuestner 232, Hill 227, Chavant 227, Renker 225, Spahn 227, E. Wuestner Jr. 219, Graef 218. The scores made on the honor target, highest possible score 115, were: Collins 65, C. Boag 64, J. Boag 58, Purkess 57, Agneau 59, Lutz 59, Dorrler 61, Charlock 64, Gotthardt 57, Graef 64, Chase 59, Spahn 61, Rencker 62.

The members of the Excelsior Rifle Club also did some clever work recently on the Gregory Street range. The scores made were as follows: O. J. Boyce 245, L. P. Hansen 243, William Weber 240, W. J. Channiug 239, G. G. Williams 239, C. L. Pinney 228, J. Hugbes 235, R. H. Duff 232, J. J. Duffy 231, Thos. Hughes 228, H. Krause 226, J. Russell 222, D. Kastendick 219, J. Binns 217, F. P. Thompson 216, Adamwalte 208.

OPEN SIGHT.

HARTFORD, CONN.—At the Independent Rifle Club's last shoot in the month of April there was a large attendance and some fine scores were made. For the third consecutive time Mr. W. B Hall won first prize, his score on this occasion being 239 out of a possible 250. This is the highest record ever made by any member of the club. Following are the scores: W. B. Hall 239, A. J Reynolds 231, F. Eichel 215, E. Pillard 213, E. J. Parmelee 205, O. P. Arnold 201, S. Santers 185, E. Judd 180, C. Johnson 152, P. W. Radcliffe 149, W. F. Gilbert 141, J. Wichek 139.

GAIN TWIST.

Trap

FIXTURES

MAY

West Newburg Gun Club's Spring tournament, West Newburg, N. Y., May 9, 10 and 11. Targets first two days, live birds last day.

Colorado State Fish and Game Protective Association's third tournament, Pueblo, Colo., May 13, 14 and 15.

Sheffield Gun Club's tournament, Sheffield, Ill., May 14, 15 and 16.

Iowa State Sportsmen's Association's tournament, Cedar Rapids, Ia., May 14, 15 and 16

Ohio Trap Shooters' League's annual tournament, Dayton, O., May 14, 15 and 16.

Binghamton Gun Club's tournament, Binghamton, N. Y., May 15 and 16.

Hartley Gun Club's second annual tournament, Hartley, Ia., May 15 and 16.

Fairmont Rod and Gun Club's tournament, Fairmont, W. Va., May 15 and 16.

Boiling Springs Gun Club of Rutherford, N. J., vs. Climax Gun Club of Plainfield, N. J., at Rutherford, May 16.

Texas State Sportsmen's Association's nineteenth annual tournament, San Antonio, Tex., May 14 to 18 inclusive. Open to the world. Five hundred dollars cash added; $500 in merchandise prizes.

Interstate Manufacturers' and Dealers' Association's tournament, Lynchburg, Va., May 17 and 18, under auspices of the Lynchburg Gun Club; $200 added by the Lynchburg Gun Club.

Montana State Sportsmen's Association's second annual tournament, Butte, Mont., May 17, 18 and 19. C. H. Smith, secretary.

Neponset Gun Club's Spring tournament, Neponset, Ill., May 21 and 22.

Kansas State Sportsmen's Association's annual tournament, Kansas City, Kan., May 21, 22 and 23. A. W. Peck, secretary, Kansas City, Kan.

Houston City Gun Club's first annual tournament, Houston, Tex., May 21, 22, 23 and 24.

Knoxville Gun Club's fourteenth annual tournament, Knoxville, Tenn., May 21, 22, 23 and 24, 1895. $3,000 cash added to purses

South Dakota State Sportsmen's Association's annual tournament, Woonsocket, S. D., May 21, 22, 23, 24 and 25.

Rome Gun Club's tournament, Rome, N. Y., May 22, 23 and 24. Last day at live birds.

Wauzeka Gun Club's tournament, Wauzeka, Wis., May 23.

Arkansas State Sportsmen's Association's fifth annual tournament, Little Rock, Ark., May 27, 28, 29 and 30. John J. Sumpter Jr, secretary.

Canajoharie Rod and Gun Club's tournament, Canajoharie, N. Y., May 29 and 30.

Independent Gun Club's tournament, Reading, Pa., May 29 and 30.

Janesville Shooting Club's fifth annual tournament, Janesville, Wis, May 29 and 30.

Crystal Lake Gun Club's tournament, Urbana, Ill., May 29, 30 and 31.

Valley City Gun Club's tournament, Grand Rapids, Mich., May 29, 30 and 31. $500 added money. C. F. Rood, secretary.

Pekin Gun Club's annual Spring tournament, Pekin, Ill., last week in May.

The program for the big Knoxville tournameot to be held at Knoxville, Tenn., from May 2t to 2i, is to hand, aud although not so elaborate nor as flashy as maoy programs of the present day, still it contaios lots of meat for the man who knows how to haodle the scattergun succesfuliy. Tho tournament will be at targets (Blue Rocks) exclusively, and $3.000 in cash will be added to the purses. There are to be six daily averages rangiog from $18 to $8, and six four-day averages rauging from $20 to $10. The shooting is to be from known traps, unknown angles, no handicap, and the tournament is opeu to the world. The cveots of ooe day are as good as those of another; no choice, but all well worth the price of entrance to the man who can shoot a good steady gait from start to finish. Three sets of traps will be run, so that the aoticipated large attendance of shooters can all get as much shooting as any man may wish. Each contestant must enter in all the events for the day; but the cashier will refund entrance money to anyone who fails to shoot in one or more events. The rule regardiog unknown angles, says: "Any angle outside the base line of the traps, six feet high, any distance of flight." Class shootiog will be the rule, aod all ties will divide. Any contestaut may have his load challenged on going to the score, and if it is found he is using more than 1¼ ounces of shot, Dixon measure 1106 struck, he will be debarred all rights and privileges of the meeting and forfeit his eotrance money. All disputes or contentions, should there be any, will be decided by the executive committee. This will probably be oue of the largest tournaments held in this country this year, and the scores that will be made will doubtless be as good as were ever seen made on targets anywhere iu the world. The very best shots in America will be there and every man will shoot for blood, and as oo other country on the face of the globe cau produce as many crack target shooters as America, those who attend the Knoxville touruament will see more experts face the traps and better scores made, all things considered, than has ever before been seen anywbere. Arrangements have been made by the Knoxville Gun Club with all the railroads leadiog to that city, whereby those attending this tournament pay full fare goiog, tsking a receipt from their local agent, and by presenting same to the secretary of the club at Kooxville, get return tickets for one-third fare. Special rates for shooters have also been secured at the Hotel imperial. Io fact everything possible to do to insure a large gatheriog of trap shooters has been done, snd if the tournameut is not the success predicted it will be, it will not be from any fault of the management.

The Eastern Dog aod Game Protective Association of Wilmington, N. C., as its name implies, has for its prime object the eoforcemeot of the game laws of this section and state, and the greater security and protection to the sportsman iu the ownership of valuable hunting dogs. A fine field dog is just as much personal property as a thoroughbred racehorse, and as such should be respected. While it is imperative that the game laws should be enforced, still too much has beeo said and written as to the protection of game to the exclusion of the rights of that most faithful and inteiligent of all aoimals, the dog, and our association is endeavoring to do equal justice to botb. Organized one year ago with sixteen charter members, this association has had a steady and ever-increasing growth in numbers and popularity, until uow its membership roll embraces the oames of sixty gentlemen, drawn from almost every occupatioo in life, embraciog ministers, lawyers, doctors, merchants, brokers, capitalists, maoufacturers, inspectors, public officials, clerks, etc. Trap shooting forms a most important part of the enjoyments of the association, regular shoots having been held every Friday afternoon since its organization Possessed of many excellent wing shots, we as yet have few who can approach the "proficient" at the traps. Two medals are shot for at each regular shoot, a gold medal for the best score and a silver medal with "not in it" inscribed on its face, for the poorest score. The gold medal creates a spirit of friendly rivalry and the silver one is a source of much amusemeot and good-oatured chaffiog. The association has a room for its headquarters which is kept open day and night, where the sporti g papers are kept on ale and where the members drop in from time to time to eojoy a game of checkers, backgammon or chess, recount their exploits in the field and spin marvelous fish yarns. Soake stories are prohibited by our constitution. The association held an interstate tournament duriog last November which was largely attended and a marked success, over $700 having heen awarded the winners. Another tournament will be held here May 9 and 10, by the Interstate Association. A cordial iovitation is extended to all lovers of trap shooting to participate in this event. At the aunual meeting of the associatiou the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, H. McL. Green· vice-president, J. H. Beery; secretary, L. L. Pritchard; treasurer, C. C. Covington; custodian, Jas. H. Taylor; team captain, R. H. Grant; board of mauagers, R. H. Graut, J. C. Lodor, J. C. Wise, S. Heinsberger and S. W. Saoders.

Wilmington, N. C L. L. PRITCHARD, Secy.

MR. JOHN S. HOEY, handicapper and referee for the Hollywood Futurity Haodicap which is to he shot on the Hollywood Gun Club's grouods at Hollywood, N. J., on July 6, has aonounced the following handicaps for the fifty entries already made, the haodicap distaoce being from 25 to 32 yards:

Name.	Yards.	Name.	Yards.
Hoey	31	Post	27
Work	30	Edey	27
Palmer	30	Denny	27
L. S. Thompson	30	Daly	27
Welch	29	Hoyt	27
Capt. Money	29	Ellison	27
Davenport	29	W. Money	27
E. G. Murphy	29	Woistencroft	27
McAlester	29	Leonard	27
Moore	28	Kitredge	27
Williams	28	W. P. Thompson Jr	27
Wynn	28	W. G. Murphy	27
Brokaw	28	Zeliner	27
Glibert	28	Watrous	26
Iselin	28	Downing	26
Jim Jones	28	Gould	26
W. Sykes	28	Mead	26
Sykes	28	Edwards	26
Iselin	28	Sullivan	26
Ferguson	28	Collier	26
Train	28	Harned	26
Eckert	28	Stafford	26
Smith	28	Potter	26
Mott	28	C. Dolan	26
Seahright	28	Bacon	25

The conditions of the haodicap are as follows: 25 birds each man; ties to be shot off at 5 birds; $25 to be paid in on enteriog, which is forfeited if the subscriber is uot present up to 11:30 on the morning of the contest; $25 additional for all contestants. Post entries will be received up to close of second round on payment of $75. Fifty per cent. and cup to the winner; 25 per cent. to the second; 10 per cent. to the third; 5 per cent. to the fourth, with 10 per ceot. to the club.

A SPECIAL rate of a fare and one-third has been secured on all railroads in the state of Kaosas and from St. Joseph, Mo., for the sixth annual tournament of the Kansas State Sportsmen's Association, which will be held at Kansas City, Kan., on May 21, 22 and 23. This reduction is granted on the certificate plan, and persons desiriog to take advantage of it must purchase one-way tickets at full rates from startiog point to Kansas City, and take a certificate or receipt from the agent from whom ticket is hought. On arriving at Kansas City this receipt should be turned over to the secretary of the association, Mr. A.W. Peck, who will sign the same and have it stamped by the railway joint agent here. When thus signed and stamped the certificate will entitle the holder to a return ticket at one-third fare. This reduction will not be granted, however, uniess ooe hundred or more certificate receipts are presented to the joint agent, showing that number of persons in attendance. Shooters should be sure to ask for a receipt when purchasiog their tickets, and not forget to turn it over to the secretary as soon as they arrive iu Kansas City. All shooters coming to the Union Depot, Kansas City, Mo., should take the cable cars running west, which will take them to the grounds in fifteen minutes. The tournament will be held at Kerr's Park, which is one of the finest natural groves in the state of Kansas. The traps will be located inside the racetrack inclosure on a level with the score and with a fine backgrouud. We have now in our club treasury sufficient cash to pay all cash prizes and the entire ruuntng expenses of the tournament, and all prizes will be paid in full whether the attendance is one or two hundred. This may be depended upon.

A. W. PECK, Secy.

THE Crystal Lake Gun Club of Urbana, Ill., has just issued quite an interesting program for its tournament to be held on May 29, 30 and 31. Six or seven events are listed for each day, and on each afternoon there will be a shoot for merchaudise prizes, some of which are both useful and valuable The tournament is open to all, knowu professiouals and manufacturers' agents being required to shoot at unknown angles, while the amateur will shoot from known trap, known aogles. This handicap is by no means severe on the expert or professioual, for most of them shoot quite as well at unknown anglos as when everything is known. There are ten or more gun clubs in Champaign Couuty, aod as uearly every one of these clubs has a few members who think themselves good enough to trot in any company, the attendauce at this tourosioent should be large, and doubtless will be. The shooting will commence promptly at 8 o'clock each morning, and all events will bo governed by the American Shooting Association rules which are familiar to all who have done much trap shooting. All purses will be divided into four moneys, 40 30, 20 and 10 per cent., and ties may be divided or shot off in to the followiug events, as the parties interested may decide, though auyone uot wishing to shoot off a tie will bo permitted to draw his pro rata of the purse. Electric cars run direct to the shooting grounds, makiug them easy of access at any hour of the day.

THERE will be given at Lynchburg, Va., May 17 and 18, a trap shooting tournameut uuder the auspices of the Interstate Association that promises to be well attended, and ao occasion of much enjoyment. The grounds of this club have beeo described so many times that it is unnecessary here to enter iuto details about them. Sufiice it to say they rank second to none in beauty of situation aod perfection of equipmeut. The club is composed of geotlemen who know how to make a visitor feel at homo, and whose hospitality is proverbial. The time chosen for the tournament antedates the great shoot at Knoxville only a few days, aud will give all desirous of attending that event an opportunity to spend two or three days here shooti g at ta gets, and still give them ample time to reach Knoxville to engage the forces there. The railroads will allow purchasers of tickets to Knoxville to stop over in Lynchburg ou May 17, 18 and 19, so one ticket will suffice to attend both shoots. We are in a direct line to Knoxville from the oorth, and this fact should iosure us a great many shooters going to that place to engage io that great event. Shooters from Washiogtou, Stauoton, Greeosboro, Raleigh, Asheville, Charlotte, Winchester, Charlottesville and other points will be in attendance, and we promise all who will honor us with a visit a royal time at the traps and a cordial, sincere welcome.

B. G. EMPIE,
Lynchburg, Va. For Lynchburg Gun Club.

THE 1895 meeting of the New York State Sportsmeo's Association promises to be the largest and most successful in the history of the organizatioo. The manufacturers throughout the state, snd even in other states, have responded most liberal y in the matter of merchandise prizes, and the program will be headed in that department with four $100 guos presented by as many of the most ooted makers of this country. In addition to this there will be a very large list of most desirable prizes which will be open for competitioo to all shooters residing in New York State. After carefully considering the matter the Saratoga Gun Club has concluded that in addition to the regular events, open only to members New York state shooters, a grand sweepstake touroament will be given, open to the world; nobody barred. This will unquestionably be the largest and most attractive shoot given in the East this year, as the entries fro · the state alooe run from eighty to one huodred and twenty, and it is confidently expected that some of the events this year will have as high as one hundred and fifty entries.

THE Highland Gun Club of Moline, Ill., will have an all-day shoot on May 30, at inaoimate targets. Teo events are schedu'ed oo the program. The features of the shoot will be events six, eight and ten, the first of these being a miss and out, use of both barrels, the next five pairs, "jacksnipe," start at 20 yards rise and move up two steps after each pair, and the third at 25 singles, rapid fire, use of both barrels. The program says "loaded shells and unloaded refreshments on the grounds; everybody cordially invited." To find out whether or not those present can shoot, let the maoagement try a 15-bird event, 21 yards rise, five unknown traps, kuown angles, ooe man up, use of both barrels. Such shootiog will worry the best of shooters aod keep one guessing as to the number he will get. It is the nearest approach of anything to live bird shooting, aod will in a year or two, if not sooner, become quite popular.

MR. GEO A. STECK,
Secretary of the Palmetto Gun Club of Charlestoo, S. C.

AT a meetiog recently of the tournament committees of the Valley City Guu Club, the dates for the Grand Rapids touroament were chaoged to May 29, 30 and 31. This is done for the accommodation of visitors, to give them more time to get home by Suoday. The programs have heen arranged and go to the printers this week, Ten events are set for each day, and if necessary two sets of traps will be used, the grounds being already fitted for them. No ionovations will be introduced to confuse the shooters, all the events being regular shootiog from known traps. The added money, $500, is spread nearly eveuly over the three days. Arraogements have been made by which sportsmen atteoding the Knoxville tournament can get excursion rates to Grand Rapids and thence to Chicago for the Illinois state tournament the next week.

Grand Rapids, Mich. C. F. ROOD, Secy.

THE Baltimore Shooting Association will soon have its new grounds ready, and I wish all your readers could see them. The members are now convinced that their grounds and appointments will be the best in America, and they will now go in and bid for all the big events. To prevent any vocal announcement of the results of the shots as made the referee will signal the breaking of a target by one blast of a bulh air whistle, and a lost target by two blasts, the scorer answering in the same way as he chalks it up. There will be an opening ou May 15 and 16, open to all shooters from the state; and about a week later an interstate match will be held, when the feathers will fly. You ought to take a vacation, Mr. Editor, and come over and see the fun.

Baltimore. REIRRET.

THE Missouri State Fish aud Game Protective Association's receot annual tournament, instead of being the success predicted by its management, was, in my opinion, a staring failure, and to the few in attendauce the reasou is plain. When an organizatiou composed of wealthy gentlemen will crawfish, and, with hundreds of dollars in the bank to the credit of the numerous clubs giviug the tournament, opeoly declare all events off the fourth day, because they see a chance of losing part of the $153.50 added money, it is not deserving of patronage. The great army of shooters are not slow to catch on when not treated fairly, hence they will always give such tournaments the go-by.

Louisiana, Mo. J. W. B.

IT is said that notwithstanding the fact that t[illegible] been put up for the live pigeon match betwee[illegible] of New York, and Mr. Cockburn, of Toronto, [illegible] io signing the conditions which were drawn [illegible] forwarded to Mr. Brewer. The point that Mr [illegible] this: "That the stake is to be handed by hi[illegible] the winner of the match on the written orde[illegible] whose decision there shall be no appeal wh[illegible] otherwise." Mr. Brewer will not sign the [illegible] as they stand, and unless Mr. Cockburn conse[illegible] a modification of the above the match will in all probability fall through.

THE Douglas Gun Club of Chicago, which had the misfortune to lose its club house by fire some time since, has built a new and better building a short distaoce west of where the old house stood, and on Saturdsy last held its opeuing shoot of the season, some eight or ten meu being present. The Douglas boys are persistent workers, snd among their members have some good shots both on targets and at live birds, aod if any of the Chicago target-shooting clubs think them easy to defeat they will be surprised when they try it. As a club they do not say much, but when a club tackles them for a race they are generally ready and make it quite interesting for their challengers.

MR. JOHN VERNON, formerly of Dubuque, Ia., who located in Rock Rapids, ia., last Fall, has shot himself into favor with the local scattergun meo. When Johonie gets his little gun and "pints" it in the direction of a quail, a prairie chicken or a duck, said bird bids a hasty adieu to its companions and goes home with John to grace his pot or that of one of his neighbors, as many of us can testify, having rolled some of the sweet morsels under our jackets. Doubles or singles, it is all the same to John. Being well posted on guns, ammunition and sporting goods generally, without being a crank, makes him a pleasurable companion.

Rock Rapids, Ia. J. E. S.

THE Garfield Gun Club of Chicago, at its opeuing shoot of the season, ou Saturday last, had no less personage as a guest than Dr. W. F. Carver, who at the request of the club members shot in all the events. The attendance of members was only fair and the scores made by most of those present showed the lack of practice they had had since last October. We should have been glad to have given the scores made. but the secretary has been too busy to supply us with them. From this time on until October 1, the club will shoot every Saturday afternoon.

THE illustration which we present to the readers of the AMERICAN FIELD in this department this week is a very excellent likeness of Mr. Geo. A. Steck, of Charleston, S. C., secretary of the Palmetto Guu Club. Mr. Steck is an enthusiastic sportsman and by his persooal efforts has added much interest to trap shootiog in his state. Mr. Steck has figured quite conspicuously during the last two years io trap shootiug tournaments at Savannah, Ga., Wilmington, N. C., aod those of his home club, and wherever he is known his enthusiasm for the sport makes him a welcome visitor from the first.

ON Tuesday of last week Mr. Geo. Kleioman, of Chicago, aud Dick Dwyer, the starter at the Roby racetrack, shot a match at targets at Roby, Ind., under the following conditions: Kleinman to shoot at 100 targets and Dwyer at 115, gun below the elbow until the target was in the air. The match resulted in Mr. Dwyer's favor, he scoring 70 to Mr. Kleinman 57. Ordioarily Mr. Kleinmau should have won easily, as 70 is hardly an average score for him, but on this particular day he seems to have beeo greatly out of form, coosequently Mr. Dwyer won easily.

IN answer to the various gun clubs that from time to time write us wishiog to know where they can get eluo medals or badges made, we desire to say that as no ooe engaged in this business advertises in the AMERICAN FIELD we are unable to give the information desired. In a large city chaoges in location are so frequent that it is next to impossible to keep track even of a personal friend, much less of men in business who cannot see that it is to their interest to advertise in a periodical that reaches the very people from whom they expect patronage.

THE Farmers' Guu Club was organized on April 1 with the followiog officers for 1895: President, Dr. Louis Weber; first vice-president, Baird Snyder Jr.; second vice-president. M. T. O'Conoor; treasurer, Harrisoo Ball; secretary, M. M. MacMillan; directors, Maj. Wallace Guss, Prof. Frank Noonan, Geo. M. israel, Thos. F. Goiman, R. T. Clayton and Geo. Goodman; field captain, Jas. J. Quirk. The club shoots Empire targets first and third Saturdays of each month, and live birds second Monday of each month.

Mahanoy City, Pa. M. M. MACMILLAN, Secy.

WE desire to acknowledge the receipt from the Eastern Dog aod Game Protective Association of Wilmington, N. C., of a photograph showing the shooting grounds of the club and a portioo of its members. The grounds are pleasaotly located and several of the members shown bear evideoce that they are of the "solid" kind and have been io the "harness" for more than a score of years. We doff our hat to such of those as show the gray.

THE Kewanee Gun Cluh held its annual meetiog on Monday, April 29, and elected the followiog officers for the ensuing year: President, S. J. Sharp; secretary and treasurer, W. T. Pierce; captain, E. E. Baker. The club also decided to hold a two days' tournameot on June 4 and 5, and its regular annual tournament on November 5, 6 and 7.

Keewaoee, Ill. W. T. PIERCE, Secy.

IN a shooting match recently between Mr. G. T. Hall, of Laomi, Ill., and Mr. Abe Harris, of Bunker Hill, Ill., the latter was victorious by a score of 23 to 20 out of a possible 25. The match was at live birds. Mr. Hall is the gentleman who shot a match with Capt. A. H. Bogardus in Chicago, in the Fall of 1893, and Mr. Harris is a middle aged farmer at Bunker Hill. Both men are good field shots.

THE Baltimore (Md.) Shootiog Association contemplates fitting up ooe of the most complete shooting parks io that sectiou of the country. An elegant club house is to be erected and the grounds are to be supplied with the latest and most improved traps and other devices to facilitate and make pleasant the sport of trap shooting.

ON May 16 the Boiling Springs Fishing and Gun Club will shoot a race with the Climax Gun Club of Plainfield, N. J., for the state trophy, on the Boiling Springs grounds. To make it interesting, we respectfully invite all clubs in this state to send a team of five men to compete for the cup; no entrance only the price of the targets.

Rutherford, N. J. WM. H. HUCK.

THE Warren Gun Club, which has thirty-one active members, has grounds conveniently located, an up-to date club house, and is equipped with five expert traps and one of North's electric pulls. Regular shoots are held every two weeks, and it is the intention of the club to hold a tournament later in the seaso .

Warren, O. H. B. PERKINS JR., Secy.

MR. JOHN PARKER, of Detroit, Mich., has been engaged to manage the Ohio State League tournament, which is to be held at Dayton, O., on May 14, 15 and 16. It is hardly necessary to say that under Mr. Parker's management everything will be in "apple pie" order, for he is known the country over as a very competent man.

THE Independent Gun Club of Reading, Pa., announces a tournament on its newly improved grounds at Three Mile House, Reading, on May 29 and 30. This will give those shooters who have never visited Reading before an opportunity to shoot on the grounds where the big tournament is to oe held the coming October.

THE National Gun Club of Milwaukee, Wis., will hold an all-day shoot on May 30 at National Park. Both live birds and inanimate targets will be used. Du ring the day Mr. G. L. Kurt[illegible] and [illegible] both residents of Milwaukee, will shoot a match at [illegible] per man.

THE Yankton (S. D.) Gun Club is arranging for a tou[illegible] July 3, 4 and 5. One day will be devoted to live bird sh[illegible] two days to target shooting. The club is composed pri[illegible] the young business men of Yankton, and a good tourn[illegible] assured.

[illegible] a test case as to whether the shooting of live pigeons from the [illegible] a violation of the laws for the prevention of cruelty to ani[illegible] before Judge Burke and a jury in the circuit court of [illegible]. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

[illegible] Club will hold a tournament on May 21. [illegible] will be a live bird match for $50 or [illegible] of Chadron, and Peter Bergensen, of

THE Amateur Gun Club, of Chicago, is one of the latest trap-shooting organizations of that city. The incorporators are Harrison C Lewis, Edward A. Homan and Charles A. Murray.

THE Iowa State Sportsmen's Association's annual tournament for 1895 will be held at Cedar Rapids, Ia., on May 14, 15 and 16, and the indications are that it will be largely attended.

THE Janesville Shooting Club of Janesville, Wis., will hold its fifth annual tournament on live birds and luanimate targets, on May 29 and 30.

THE Colt Hammerless Gun Club, of Hartford, Conn., has a "Carver," though so far as heard from his scores are not of the astonishing kind.

THE Winchester Repeating Arms Co., of New Haven, Conn., has become a member of the Interstate Association, having joined it on April 1.

THE Interstate Association will give a tournament at Vicksburg, Miss., on June 26 and 27, under the auspices of the Vicksburg Gun Club.

THE Neponset Gun Club will hold its annual Spring tournament on the club's grounds at Neponset, Ill., on May 21 and 22.

THE Hartford (Coun.) Gun Club at a recent meeting decided to hold a two days' tournament some time in June.

THE Palmetto Gun Club of Charleston, S. C., will hold a tournament on July 4.

THE ATCHISON TOURNAMENT

ATCHISON, KAN.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—Knoxville and Memphis will have a large attendance of shooters, but they will have to hustle to beat Erhardt's tournament; not only in the number of entries, but in the enthusiasm and good feeling displayed by all, all on account of Mr. Erhardt's popularity. Shooters came from Missouri, Nebraska, the Indian Territory, Iowa, Louisiana and all parts of Kansas. Ninety-six entries in one event is a good many shooters nowadays, when twenty-five is considered a fair attendance at most tournaments. But Louis attends all the shoots in this Western country, and all the boys come to his tournaments, if they possibly can. His store was the headquarters for them all, and was crowded nightly. Some were looking at guns, some in groups talking about the shoot, and all along the counters were others loading shells. "How do you keep track of the ammunition used, Louis?" someone asked. "I don't keep track of it; I leave it to the boys themselves," replied Mr. Erhardt. And that is the kind of a fellow he is, and therein lies his popularity.

An entertainment committee composed of Warren Ferguson, B. O. Running and Louis Erhardt, entertained the boys in good shape. The shoot was ably managed by Mr. John Parker of Detroit, representing the Cleveland Target Co., the E. C. Powder Co. and the Winchester Repeating Arms Co.

This was a strictly amateur tournament, though the scores will stand comparison with most of the open tournaments. The tournament was held on the racetrack grounds, about two miles from the city. The background was very bad, and that was the only complaint heard. One set of five Blue Rock traps with North's electric pull and one set of five Empire traps and Empire electric pull were used for program events, and another set of five Blue Rock traps and electric pull were used for sweepstake shooting, and were kept going constantly. Blue Rocks and Empire targets were used.

Monday noon the traps were all ready for practice, and quite a number of the early arrivals indulged in a few sweeps. The cashier's office was ably handled by Mr. Lawton and Mr. Jennings, while a thorough working force enabled Mr. Parker to handle the large crowd of shooters with comparative ease.

Tuesday morning one hundred shooters were on the grounds by 8:30 and toe fun began in spite of a cold, drizzling rain, which cleared away by afternoon. It was interesting to see fifteen men standing up in a line, and listen to the constant popping of the guns, which did not cease until 6:30 in the evening. Wednesday was a bright warm day, and a large crowd of spectators was in attendance. The entries ran up to ninety-six in one event on this day. One of the interesting features of the day's shoot was the score made by the Richmond (Mo.) team, 59 out of 60. Another was the shooting of Warren Ferguson, a very popular young man of Atchison, a new shooter, breaking 20 straight in the twelfth event and winning first prize, a handsome Marlin rifle, in a field of sixty entries.

The third day was another bright, warm, sunshiny day, conducive to good scores, and the shooting was kept up until 6 o'clock p. m. Altogether 32,000 targets were thrown. The sweepstake scores are not published, but at least 10,000 targets were thrown from those traps, and each event averaged from forty to fifty entries.

Col. A. G. Courtney was here exhibiting his new Lefever ejector, and as usual made lots of friends for himself and the gun. J. A. R. Elliott was also here looking after the interests of the Empire Target Co. and showing some very fine samples of the new Winchester trap gun. Jim gave a very clever exhibition with the gun and elicited a big round of applause from the spectators. Messrs. Parker, Elliott and Courtney did not participate in the tournament, as experts and manufacturers agents were barred, but they did quite a line of advertising for the firms they represent. Mr. Al. Bennett of Kansas City, Mo., ably assisted in making the shoot run smoothly. He was here, there and everywhere.

Never was there a nicer or pleasanter aggregation of shooters than at this tournament. The Kansas City boys were here in full force, booming their shoot. Messrs. McIlhaney, Calhoun and Sowers of Weir City were here talking up their shoot, May 8, 9 and 10, and a genial and gentlemanly trio they are. Herewith is a partial list of the other shooters present: W. D. Alexander, Milford, Neb.; T. L. Ackerman, Stanton, Neb.; A. T. Emery, Mahoska, Kan.; J. L. Beightle, Valley Falls, Kan.; J. J. Buser, Fidellty, Kan.; J. J. Cornett, Linnville, Mo.; H. M. Davis, Richmond, Mo.; Geo. Hall, Waterville, Kan.; Bennett, Emporia, Kan.; J. W. Barre, Louisiana, Mo.; D. D. Bray, Syracuse, Neb.; E. L. Ditert, Topeka, Kan.; M. A. Brawley, Frankfort, Kan.; Clay, Frankfort, Kan.; Geo. Stevenson Jr., Waterville, Kan.; F. M. Eaton, Genoa, Neb.; G. R. Fackler, Cedar Creek, Neb.; J. J. Gray, Severance, Kan.; Jas. George, Downs, Kan.; C. D. Hagerman, Wymore, Neb.; F. C. Harwood, South Cedar, Kan.; J. M. Higgins South Cedar, Kan.; C. W. Mason, Richmond, Mo.; Miller, Lincoln, Neb.; T. B. Newton, Beru, Kan.; Powell, Lincoln, Neb.; B. T. Rice, Frankfort, Kan; L. B. Reader, Fort Madison, Ia.; John Renfro, South Cedar, Kan.; J. L. Renfro, South Cedar, Kan.; James Stevenson, Bronte, Kan.; M. E. Sharpe, South Cedar, Kan.; H. R. Saunders, Pardee, Kan.; G. A. Schroeder, Columbus, Neb.; B. E. Strong, Geneva, Neb.; E. D. Trotter, Kinsley, Ia.; C. J. Weis, Frankfort, Kan.; L. T. Gennett, Ft. Madison, Ia.; J. P. Gillespie, Savaunah, Mo.; N. J. Gregg, Frankfort, Kan.; J. F. Hauber, Hiawatha, Kan.; A. P. Hampton, Frankfort, Kan.; M. T. McDonald, Richmoud, Mo.; Geo. Maglott, Hiawatha, Kan.; A. L. Martin, Highland, Kan.; John O'Kane, Fidelity, Kan.; C. T. Reust, Frankfort, Kan.; J. M. Rhodes, Fraukfort, Kan.; B. O. Running, Atchison, Kan.; A. D. Renfro, South Cedar, Kan.; T. E. Ruggles, Jewell City, Kan.; Shiras, Ottawa, Kan.; F. W. Sharpe, Lincoln, Neb.; W. A. Saunders, Pardee, Kan.; W. C. Snodgrass, Frankfort, Kan.; C. D. Taylor, Richmoud, Mo.; H. L. Weyer; and F. A. Short, Atchison, Kan.

The scores made in the different events are given below:

EVENT No 1.—20 single targets per man:

Ingle.....00111101011110101110—13	Harwood..01100101110111111011—14
O. J. Pease111101011111101111—16	Barre.....10100100011100100101— 9
Emery....01000100011110000101— 8	Ferguson.10001011011110111110—13
Fackler.....[illegible]	Strong....10000111111110111011—14
	Eaton.....11011010100111111101—14
	Newton...00000100100011010010— 6
	Weise.....11001011111111110111—16
	Clyde.....00000000000010111011— 6
	Stevenson.00111111111011101010—14
	McGill.... 10000000000000001110— 4
	Gillespie..01111000111000101011—11
	Sharp.....01111100110111111011—15
Hauber...01100100110001000001— 7	Clay ... ..00111001100110000111—10
Martin .. 01010110000010001000— 7	Menefee..01110101100111000110—12
O'Rear....11001111011001001001—11	Green.....01111110111111111111—18
Linderman—	Mason.... 00110000000010010011— 8
11111010100111001111—14	Taylor.... 01011111111010110111—15
Renfro....10011110110001010101—11	Dibert.....11111111111110100111—11
Ackerman10111111111101011100—15	Gregg.....00101111100111101111—14
Schroeder.00101111111011011110—14	Rice..... ..10101111010110011000—11
J. L. Renfro—	Running..10110111111100010011—13
00100110101101100001— 9	Hall.....11111100111111011110—16
Campbell.10110111011111111110—16	Stevenson.00111101111000301111—12
Buser.....01000000000000001001— 3	Kinsley...00100100000911000100— 5
Bray ..... 10101111111101111101—16	Johnson..01100011100010111110—10
O'Kane...00000000000100103101— 4	George....10101101001101110110—12
Reader.. .11111111101111101101—17	Scott.....00101111100011111111—14
Batchelor.01111000111001100111—12	Gardner.. 11010011101101010100—11
Snodgrass 11101111111100111101—16	Carter.....01010110011110111101—13
Shiras.....10011101010111111011—14	Horton ...11011101111101110111—16
J. Renfro.00000000010110000100— 4	Lambert..11001001100011011011—11
Beightle..11111011111011001101—15	DeWitt....11101111030100111100—12
Mellhany.01011101101011111111—15	Cosby.....11011011111111100111—16
Sowers....00100111011110011111—13	Sexton....11001111010011111100—13
Calhonn..10110110101101000011—11	McElroy..10111001110011001011—12
Higgins...01000011110101100000— 8	Gilges ....11001010011111001001—11
Trotter....01110000100010111111—11	McGee....10001100111111000100—10

EVENT No. 2.—Same as preceding: Reust 12, O'Rear 15, Linderman 18, Bane 18, Ingle 16, Emory 15, Ferguson 10, O. J. Pease 7, Fackler 18, W. J. Gregg 15, B. T. Rice 19, Rbodes 17, Maglott 12, Hauber 12, Martin 17, Ingle 13, Ackerman 15, Schroeder 18, F. W. Sharpe 16, Powell 16, Alexander 10, Batchelor 17, Lyons 10, L. C. Smith 17, Menefee 18, Green 16, Mason 13, Taylor 17, A. D. Renfro 16. Bray 17, G. R. Hall 14, Geo. Stevenson 16, Shiras 14, J. E. Johnson 18, Jas. George 12, Kinsley 12, Campbell 14, Calhoun 16, McIlhany 17, Sowers 12, Snodgrass 18, Clay 16, McGill 9, Clyde 11, Gillespie 17, J. Stevenson 15, Weise 18, Newton 15, Eaton 13, Strong 18, Horton 16, J. Z. Scott 16, Dibert 18, Beightle 14, M. E. Sharp 13, Harwood 18, Dewitt 14, Sexton 18, McElroy 17, McGee 14, J. L. Reufro 17, Cosby 16, J. Renfro 9, J. J. Gray 17, Fulton 19, Gardiner 13, Carter 16, Lambert 15, Gilges 16, Running 16, Finnegan 16.

EVENT No. 3.—Same as before: Reust 14, O'Rear 11, J. W. Bane 12, Ferguson 8, Pease 9, Rhodes 9, Maglott 10, Hauber 10, Martin 14. Ingle 13, Ackerman 18, Schroeder 16, Linderman 17, Gillespie 11, Stevenson 8, Gregg 14, Emory 8, Fackler 9, Menefee 13, Green 16, Mason 12. Taylor 20, Rice 12, Newton 12, Ingle 16, J. George 13, J. E. Johnsou 12, Kinsley 2, Geo. Hall 17, Geo. Stevenson 15, J. Z. Scott 16, L. D. Reeder 17, Lyons 14, Powell 15, F. W. Sharpe 9, Batchelor 16, Bray 17, Shiras 17, J. J. Gray 16, Eaton 16, Strong 15. McGee 13, Horton 15, Cosby 17, L. C. Smith 15, Fulton 15, Sowers 9, McIlhaney 12, Calhoun 18, A. D. Renfro 14, Alexander 14, McGill 9, Weise 14, Clyde 9, Running 14, Finnegan 16, Dewitt 15, Sexton 17, McElroy 13, Campbell 11, W. L. Stone 14, Snodgrass 15, E. L. Ditert 17, J. J. Buser 6, Gilges 18, Gardiner 6, Lambert 13, Carter 9, J. M. Higgins 13, E. D. Trotter 16, T. L. Clark 6.

EVENT No. 4.—20 singles each man.

Reust. 10110001011111111111-15	Powell.....10110011111111111111-17
Barre..... 11111011111111111111-19	Schroeder..01010010001011111111-13
Fergnson...01100101000100110101—9	W. S. Stone 11001110011111011001-13
Pease 11010111010111111011-15	Clyde.....11110111101101001010-13
Rhodes.... 11111111010111101111-17	Cosby.....11111111111101101111-18
Linderman 10111111111011110110-16	Horton.....10111111111111111111-19
Gillespie...00101100011101111111-14	Reader.....01111101111111111111-18
Stevenson. 10101101101101111011-14	Bray 11101111111110011111-17
Gregg..... 01111010100101111011 14	Eaton.....11110110011111000111-14
Rice.....11111011000101010110-13	Strong.....11111011111111111111-18
O'Kane.....01111101000111101001-13	J. J. Gray..11101110111111111111-18
Menefee....11110111011101011111-16	Lyons.....11111101011111111110-17
Greene.....11011111111001111111-17	Batchelor..11111111111111111101-19
Taylor.....01111011111111111111-18	Higgins....11100000000001100110—7
Mason.....01111010101111101111-15	Trotter.....11111001011111111111-17
Ingle.....11111111111111111010-18	Jaeckal....01111100111101111111-16
Newton ...10111101111111111111-18	J. Buser....0001100011110 000011—8
Shiras.....01010111111110010101-13	Sowers.....10010111111111111011-16
J. George...11101101100111111101-15	Mellhaney.11111111111111111111-19
W. Kinsley.01111011111111000111-15	L. C. Smith 11111111111111111111-20
Johnson....11100111111111111111-18	McGill.....00111110111111110010-14
Ackerman..11111111110111111111-20	Fulton.....11111101110111111101-17
Maglott.... 11111110011110111011-16	McElroy...11111111110011111101-17
Hauber.....11111110101100010100-13	Sexton 11111110111111111111-19
Weise.....01010101011111111111-16	Ingle 11111111111111111111-20
Newton.....01111111101110101101-15	F. Sharp...10111111111110011111-17
Martin.....11111010101111111110-16	Dewitt..... 10101010100001011110-11
Scott 11110111011101111010-15	Campbell..11111101111111111101-18
Emory.....01100111011111110101-14	Snodgrass..11111110111101100111-16
Running...11101110110101011111-16	Calhoun. ..11111111111111111111-20
Finnegan..10111011111110110111-18	Alexander.10111111010111111111-17
Fackler.....10110010111111111111-16	T. J. Emley11001110101001100111-12
J. George..01111111111111111111-19	Ditert 11111111111101111110-18
Kinsley.... 10011101001110011111-13	Gilges.....11111100011111010111-15
Johuson....10011111111111111111-18	Carter 11111110111011101101-16
McGee.....10011111010110100100-11	Lambert....11100101111111101011-15
Hall.....11111101011010111111-17	Gardiner...10100000011100001111—9
Geo. Stevenson—	John Renfro—
11111000101111111111-16	10001111111111010001-13

EVENT No. 5.—Same as before: Reust 11, Bane 11, Ferguson 7, Pease 12, Rhodes 17, Linderman 18, Gillespie 10, Stevenson 11, W. J. Gregg 17, Rice 14, Ackerman 17, Maglott 9, Hauber 15, Weise 15, Menefee 16, Greene 13, Taylor 19, Mason 14, Newton 13, Martin 13, Running 16, Finnegan 10, Shiras 17, J. George 14, Kinsley 3, J. E. Johnson 17, Hall 14, Geo. Stevenson 13, Fackler 12, McGee 12, Ingle 17, Reader 17, Scott 14, M. E. Sharp 13, Emory 13, Beightle 13, Higgins 16, Trotter 17. L. C. Smith 18, Clay 16, Schroeder 16, Wilson 9, O'Kane 9, Sexton 18, McElroy 17, Dewitt 20, Powell 14, Cosby 17, N. Barrett 10, McIlhaney 15, Sowers 12, Calhoun 15, Eaton 14, Strong 13, A. D. Renfro 20, Harwood 16, Horton 19, Bray 17, Snodgrass 19, W. J. Gray 16, Batchelor 16. Carter 12, Gardiner 11, Lambert 11, McGill 12, Campbell 14, Lyons 16, F.W. Sharpe 10, E. L. Ditert 18, Fulton 19, Rogers 18.

SECOND DAY

EVENT No. 1.—20 single targets each man.

Shiras.....00111011111011111111-16	Kinsley.....00000111000010110000—7
Horton.....11111100011110111101-15	Lyons.....01011010110110011110-12
Taylor.....11111101111111101111-18	Clyde.....11011110001101100011-12
Ackerman..01011111111111111110-17	Newton....10101100101011101101-12
Ditert.....11101011101111110111-16	Rogers.....00011111111101111111-16
Pease.....11111010101111111111-16	Scoville....11111011110101111111-17
Schroeder..01101100111111110111-18	Higgins 10111110101101011111-15
Powell.....11111111011101111111-18	McGill.....11100011011110110010-13
Sharpe.....00010111111001110111-13	Jackson....01010111010110111001-13
Emory.....11100111111011010111-14	Trotter.....10111101111111111111-18
Alexander.01111010100111111010-13	Geo. Stevenson—
Menefee....11111111011100111117	01111110011111111110-16
Greene.....11111111111001110111-18	John Renfro—
Clark.....00101011010w.....--6	01111100101110110010-13
Hanber.....10000010100102100110—7	Hall.....11111101011111111111-18
Maglott....11001101010010100111-11	Gilges.....00110000000111111100—9
Kinman....01101100111011110011-13	Batchelor..01111111111111111010-17
Harris.....11001100011100001010—9	Dittimore..11111111111111111101-19
Ingle.....00111100111111010111-14	Waller.....01011010111111111110-15
Mason.....01010110111101101111-14	Ferguson..01000000010100001001—5
Lat.....11101110111101111111-17	Mellhaney.11111111010111111111-18
Miller.....10001110111110111110-14	Calhoun....11111111011110111111-18
Close..... 00001010010101101111 10	Sowers.....11011101111010010111 14
White.....01111111111011101011-16	Gillespie...10100111111111101111-16
Ruggles....11011100110111111111-15	Clark.....10110111010010101110-14
Fackler 01110101010011111101-13	Johnson....11010111010100111011-13
Smith.....11110101111111111111-19	J. George...11101111111011110110-16
Martin.....11100011011011111101-14	Barre 11101011111111111111-18
Running..01000111011111111101-15	Finnegan..11111000011011100011-12
Bray.....10101111111101001111-15	Jenkins....10001010111101111101-14
Linderman11111111111111111110-19	Carter.....10011111111001110110-14
Strong.....11101101111110111101-16	Sexton.....11111111111011111111-19
Eaton.....11110001111111000111-14	McElroy....11111111111010111111-18
A. D. Renfro—	Keller... ..01111111001100101111-14
11001111110101111111-16	Robiuson...11011111010110111111-17
Campbell..11110111011011011011-16	Goff.....11111111100011001000-12
Clark.....11100111111011111011-16	Peck.....10011111111011111111-17
Reust.....11111111111101111101-18	Treat.....01100000010000000110—5
Rice.....10111111111111111110-18	White.....00101010111111001101-13
Rhodes 11111111111111010110-11	Keeu.....10101101111011100111-14
Brawley....00011010110100010110-10	Lambert. ..00101101111111000111-13
Gregg 11101111010111111111-17	Soloman....00000100000000000000—1
Snodgrass..11111011111111110111-18	Brenner....01100111110011010011-12
Reader.....11111111111101110110-17	Cosby.....11111111001111011010-14
J. J. Gray..11011011100111111111-16	Byers ..... 10001000010100111110—9
Scott.... ...01111101111101011110-15	Kinsley....10011011011011011101-13
McGee.....01111010011011111110-14	Robbins....01110101111010111111-13
Fulton.....01111010110110101011-14	Jackson....11111111111111011011-17
Weise.....11011111101111010111-16	Barrett.....11110011010101010100-11

EVENT No. 2.—Same as preceding: Kinsman 18, John Harris 12, E. C. Greene 19, J. C. Clark 15, J. F. Hauber 18, Maglott 19, W. M. Shiras 18, M. B. Horton 19, J. W. Ingle 19, C. D Taylor 19, T. L. Ackerman 19, A. J. Pease 20, C. A. Schroeder 18, H. M. Menefee 20, C. W. Mason 17, E. L. Ditert 19, Campbell 19, A. Lat 19, Running 18, L. B. Reader 20, A. D. Emory 16, M. D. Alexander 17, H. G. Powell 16, F. W. Sharpe 14, C. White 20, M. E. Sharp 20, Martin 19, N. D. Gardiner 16, Tom Carter 17, Lambert 11, G. W. Jenkins 18, Clay 17, Geo. Stevenson 16, Fackler 17, Batchelor 20, H. Dittimore 18, Chase 19, J. V. Waller 14, L. C. Smith 17, F. E. Ruggles 12, Bray 18, Miller 18, J. E. Duncan 16, J. E. Johnson 20, J. George 18, A. Fulton 19, B. E. Strong 19, F. M. Eaton 12, C. D. Linderman 20, Clyde 16, A. D. Renfro 18, Calhoun 19, Sowers 17, C. W. Mason 16, Rogers 20, J. M. Higgins 18, J. Z. Scott 15, Reust 19, Rice 18, H. L. Weyer 8, Rhodes 18, Brawley 19, W. J. Gregg 18, Suodgrass 19, J. H. Sutliff 13, M. E. Jackson 18, W. Needham 14, Walker 13, Beyers 15, McGee 14, Cosby 17, G. E. Sutliff 12, A. L. Scovill 17, A. T. Newton 19, E. A. Walker 15, L. G. Clark 20, Keen 17, McIlhaney 18, Weise 18, Trotter 18, W. S. Ferguson 15, Gillespie 20, Barre 20, Finnegan 19, John Renfro 16. J. J. Gray 16, W. F. Keller 20, G. W. Goff 18, A. Robinson 18, McElroy 15, Sexton 19, A. W. Peck 18, J. C. White 16, Gilges 18.

EVENT No. 3.—Same as before: W. M. Shiras 16, Horton 18, J. E. Duncan 16, Powell 13, Alexander 11, Running 19, Lat 15, J. H. Sutliff 1 . M. E Jackson 16.G. E. Sutliff 13,G. L. Beyers 13, F.W. Sharpe 12, G. W. Jenkins 14, K. Campbell 17, J. W. Ingle 19, Tom Carter 11, F. E. Ruggles 17, Geo. Hall 16, Geo. Stevenson 16, C. D. Taylor 19, Ackerman 19, Schroeder 16, Menefee 17, Green 18, J. C. Clark 15, Hanber 12, Maglott 11, Kinsman 15, John Harris 12, Mason 17, E. L. Ditert 15, Rogers 14, W. M. Higgins 12, J. Z. Scott 15, Reust 18, Rice 19, Rhodes 20, Brawley 7,W. J. Gregg 16, Snodgrass 15,L. G. Clark 15, Weise 16, Trotter 15, Gillespie 17, Barre 15, McIlhaney 19, Calhoun 18, Sowers 15, Finnegan 15, Fackler 15. Batchelor 17, Dittimore 13, Strong 17, Eaton 11, Gray 13, Fulton 17, Martiu 17, F. Miller 16, Bray 15, Linderman 16 Clyde 9, A D. Renfro 14, Harwood 20, A. W. Peck 12, Sexton 18, McElroy 13, Keller 15, Reader 19, George 13, J. E. Johuson 17, L. C. Smith 14, McGee 14, Scovill 15, Newton 12, Cosby 17. White 15, Keen 15, Tom White 16, Kiusley 10, Elliott 18, Jackson 14, C. Brenner 11, T. C. Treat 7, H. C Soloman 0. W. M. Lambert 13, Walker 11, O. J. Pease 17, J. C. Emlin (w) 0, I. Kethlein 10, A. Robinson (w) 0, Elmer Hyde 11, J. B. Clark 6, Gilges 14.

EVENT No. 4.—Team shoot, three men to a team, 20 targets per man.

Bray.....11111111111111111111-20	Rogers.....11111111110111111011-18
Linderman 11111111111111111101-19	Jenkins....11010111100111100111-14
Lat.....11111101111111111111-19	L. Clark.. .11111101111111101111-18
—	—
Team total.... 58	Team total..... 50
T. Carter...01111010011101111110-14	Campbell ..11111101111111111111-19
Gardiner...00100111101111101110-13	Gillespie...11110111110111111110-17
Dittimore..10111111111111101111-18	J. Stevenson—
--	11111110110111001111-16
Team total 45	—
Geo. Stevenson—	Team total.....52
11001110111111110111-16	McIlhaney.11110110111111111111-18
Robinson..11101111001111111111-17	Calhoun...11111111101111111111-19
Hall.....11010111111110111110-16	Sowers.....11011111010101111101-15
—	—
Team total.... 49	Team total.....52
Reust.....11111101111111111111-19	Brawley....01111101111111111111-18
Rice 11111111101111111111-19	Gregg.....01111111101111111011-17
Rhodes.....11111111111111111111-20	Snodgrass .11111111111111101111-19
—	—
Team total..... 58	Team total.....54
Miller.....11111101111111110111-18	Reader.....11111111111111111111-20
Fackler....11111011101111111111-18	Ingle.....11111111111111111111-20
Powell 11101011111111101110-16	Pease 01111001111111111111-17
—	—
Team total.....52	Team total.....57
Welse.....11111111111101111111-19	Running...11111111111111111111-20
Clay.....01111111111101101111-17	Keen 11101111111101111110-17
Ruggles....01111101111111100111-16	Cosby.....11111011111111111111-19
—	—
Team total.....52	Team total.....56
Menefee ...11111111111111111111-20	Ackerman..11111110111111111111-19
Greene.....11111111101111111111 19	Schroeder..11111111111111111101-19
Taylor.....11111111111111111111-20	Trotter.....11111111111111111011-19
—	—
Team total... 59	Team total.....57
Keller.....11111110111111111111-19	Maglott....11011101111111101111-17
Sexton 11111111111111111111-20	Kinsman...01011111101111111011-16
McElroy...11111111110111111111-19	Hanber.. . 11011111010111101111-16
—	—
Team total..... 58	Team total 49
Lyons.....01011110111101111011-13	Gilges.....01011111111111100010-14
Kethrine...11101010111101011010-13	Emory.. .10111111011111111111-18
Sutliff 01100000111010110111-11	Jackson....11111111111101111111-19
—	—
Team total.....37	Team total 51
Horton.....00111101111111110011-15	Martin.....11100111111111101111-17
Peck.....01111111101111010111-16	Gray..... ..11111110101011111100-15
Elliott.....01111100001110111110-13	Fulton.....11111111110111111111-19
—	—
Team total.....44	Team total.....51
Duncan....11111111111010111100-16	Leath 00101001010101000011- 8
J. H. Sutliff11001011011010001100-11	Kinsley....10110111110000-010000- 9
Jackson....11111111010111111010-16	Ferguson..01010100101101101110-11
—	—
Team total.....43	Team total.....28
J. George..11100101010001010111-11	Waggener. 00100010101000000010- 5
Johnson...11111111111111111111-20	Barrett.....10010111111111111110-16
Flnnegan..11111111111110111101-18	Brenuer.....11111111111101010111-17
—	—
Team total.....49	Team total..... 38

EVENT No. 5.—20 singles each man: B. O. Running 17, Clyde 9, L. G. Clark 15, Weise 20, Trotter 18, Reust 17, Rice 17, Rhodes 15, Brawley 12, Gregg 16, Snodgrass 13, McIlhaney 18, Calhoun 18, Sowers 10, Gillespie 15, Barre 17, Finnegan 15, C. D. Taylor 18, Ackerman 14, Pease 5, Schroeder (w) 8, Menefee 18, Greene 18, Jenkins 11, J. C. Clark 14, Rogers 19, Higgins 11, C. D. Walker 6, Tom Carter 9, Sexton 18, McElroy 16, Robinson 18, Keller (w) 10, Goff 17, Ruggles 15, Horton 15, Geo. Hall 14, Geo. Stevenson 18, H. Sanders 7, K. Campbell 17, Bennett 10, Bray 15, Strong 19, Eaton 12, Walker 12, Linderman 16, A. D. Renfro 14, Batchelor 18, Saunders 16, McGee 13, C. W. Young 3, J. M. Leath 3, Gilges 13, A. W. Peck 12, J. J. Gray 14, Fulton 11, Ingle 14, Dewitt 15. H. Reese 12, Reader 16, J. E. Johnson 18, J. George 8, Cosby 15, L. C. Smith 19, W. S. Ferguson 12, Dr. Hungate 9, E. Meier 8, Genn 14, Scoville 13, Fackler 16.

EVENT No. 6.—20 singles; G. W. Jenkins 11, Linderman 18, Ackerman 18, A. J. Pease 14, Schroeder 17, Menefee 20, Reust 20, Rice 18, Rhodes 19, Gregg 17, Snodgrass 18, Finnegan 16, J. C. Clark 15, Rogers 18, Higgins 11, Clark 14, Weise 18, Trotter 19, McIlhaney 19, Calhoun 20, Sowers 17, Gillespie 20, M. E. Sharp 19, Green 19, Maglott 17, Kinman 19, Harris 12, Hauber 15, Sexton 20, McElroy 17, Keller 20, Robinson 18, Dewitt 16, L. G. Clark 17, Geo. Stevenson 19, Clay 14, Geo. Hall 17, C. D. Taylor 20, Lat 20, F. E. Ruggles 17, Fulton 18, Barre 20, A. W. Peck 17, Batchelor 18, Bray 20, J. E. Johnson 18, J. George 15, J. W. Ingle 17, Gilges 18, Horton 20, Cosby 18, Strong 20, Eaton 18, Reader 20. W. S. Ferguson 17, J. J. Gray 19, Dr. Hungate 16, Geun 18, Campbell 19, Scoville 17, H. Reese 18, A. Brown 19, Fackler 17, Brawley 17, McGee 18.

THIRD DAY

EVENT No. 1.—20 single targets each man.

J. P. Gillespie—	Ingle.....11110011110101111111-16
11111111111101011101-17	McGee... ..00100101001100111111-11
Clay 11011101101110101111-15	Barre.....01111101111011111111-17
C. Taylor..00111100011010100010—9	Horton.....11111110111101011111-17
Meuefee....11010111111101111111-17	Cosby.....10111101111111101110-16
Green... ..11100111110111111011-16	Sexton.....11101111011111111111-18
Geo. Hall..11111111110111011011-16	McEllery.. 11111111111111101101-18
Geo. Stevensou—	Koohler....11111110111111101111-18
01111110111110110111-16	Schmelzer. 10000001010110100011—9
Higgins....11010011101101111000-12	J. E. Johnson—
Dewitt.....00001110011011011011	11010011111111111111-17
Jenkins....10111110101101111101-15	J. George...01101101110001101101-12
Weise 11101011101111100110-14	Reader.....01011010111111101111-15
Trotter.....11111101111111111111-19	Dr. Hungate—
Reust..... 11110111111111011111-18	00001111001110011110-11
Rice.....01111111011111111111-18	Genn.....10111111110011011011-16
Rhodes.....11111111101111011011-18	Strong.....11011110010101011111-14
Brawley....11011110111101110111-16	Bray 10111111111111011111-18
Gregg.....10111111000111111111-16	Piety 10110001001111010110-11
Snodgrass..00011111111101110111-15	W. S. Ferguson—
Sowers.....10001101001100101100.—8	11111111111111111111-20
Mellhaney .01101111111111111111-18	Dick Ferguson—
Ackerman..11111101111101111110-17	01000000000100001000—3
Campbell 11111100111111111111-18	M. Warner.00001010110100110101—9
Ruggles ...00011000110011111010-10	Scoville....11001011111111111101-16
Calhoun....11111111111111101111-19	A. W. Peck.10111111111111101111-18
L. G. Clark.11011111111111011101-17	Fulton.....11111111101111110100-16
L. C. Smith 11001101111111111111-17	J. J. Gray..01110111111111110110-16
Linderman 10111111111111111111-19	J. M. Mills..11101111111110011000-14
Batchelor..11101111111111111111-19	C. E. Bruee 00011100111100111100-11
Gilges.....11111110011110011011-15	J. H. Sutliff11111111101000000111-13

EVENT No. 2.—Same as preceding: Campbell 20, Clay 18, J. M. Mills 18, F. Miller 19, Maglott 19, McIlhaney 19, Higgins 17, Dewitt 17, Jenkins 17, Weise 19, Trotter 19, Reust 17, Rice 19, Rhodes 19, Brawley 16, Gregg 18, Snodgrass 19. Calhoun 19, Ackerman 17, Ruggles 15, Bruce 16, Hauber 17, Barre 19, Reader 20, Dr. Hungate 14, Gillespie 19, Batchelor 20, Ingle 17, Sexton 20, McElroy 18, Koohler 19, Schmelzer 10, J. Johnson 19, J. George 19, Genn 15, H. Reese 17, Scoville 18, Cosby 18, L. G. Clark 17, Horton 17, W. S. Ferguson 15, J. J. Gray 19, J. H. Sutliff 13, Linderman 19, W. A. Sanders 15, Dick Ferguson 15, McGee 15, M. Warner 14, A. Brown 11, C. D. Taylor 19, Green 18, Menefee 20, Gilges 19, Geo. Hall 15, Geo. Stevenson 15, Fulton 18.

EVENT No. 3.—Same as before: Campbell 19, J. M. Mills 14, C. E. Bruce 10, W. H. Piety 5, Higgins 13, Ruggles 11, Calhoun 18, A. W. Peck 15, Dewitt 16, Weise 14, Trotter 18, J. H. Sutliff 11, Reust 18, Rice 15, Rhodes 15, Brawley 15, Gregg 16, Snodgrass 16, McIlhaney 17, Ackerman 19, H. R. Sanders 6, W. A. Sanders 12, Cosby 14, C. D. Taylor 11, Greene 18, Menefee 18, Geo. Hall 16, Geo. Stevenson 13, Clay 16, Barre 18, Batchelor 17, Jenkins 16, Strong 19, Ingle 15, Gilges 15, Sexton 18, McElroy 16, Koohler 19, Gillespie 19, Linderman 19, Horton 19, L. C. Smith 13, Bray 17, J. E. Johnson 15, Dr. Hungate 11, W. S. Ferguson 17, Dr. Lane 11, Dr Craig 12, L. G. Clark 14, W. A. Sanders 8, Scoville 14, Brenner 7.

EVENT No. 4.—Same again.

Mills.....1011111011111011111-17	Barre. 1101111111111011110-17
Clay.....1111111111111111111-20	Hauber....1100100111011111100-13
Piety.....0111111111101011011-16	Barrett 0110110101110111111-15
Ruggles....1011111111101111111-18	Peck.....1011110111010111111-16
Hungate...1110111110110010011-14	Maglott....1101100111101111101-15
Jenkins....1111110111111111111-19	Bray.....1111111111111111111-20
Calhoun...1111111111111111111-20	Sextou.....1111111111111011111-19
Higgins....0111100110111011000-12	McElroy....1111111111110111111-19
De Witt....1111110110111111011-17	Koohler....0011111101011111111-16
Weise.....1111110111111110111-18	Bruce.....1111111C001111011001-14
Trotter.....1111111001111110111-17	Miller.....1111111111111010111-18
Batchelor..1110111111111011101-17	Johnsou. .1111111101010011111-16
Reust 1111011111111111111-19	Warner ...0011010111001111001O-11
Rice.....1110111111111111111-19	J. M. Mills.1110110001100011010-11
Rhodes 1101111111111111111-19	Dr. Lard...1111000101111010110-13
Brawley....1111110111111110111-18	Dr. Craig...1110011111001111110-15
Gregg.....0001111C011101111111-14	Smith.....0111111111011101111-17
Snodgrass .1011111111111111111-19	Brown.....1101101111101111111-17
Genn 1010101111111001111-15	W. T. Ferguson—
McIlhaney.1111111101111110111-18	0111111111011101101-16
Ackerman..1111111111111111111-20	Campbell..1111110111111111111-19
Scoville....1111111111111111111-20	Strong.....1111111111111111111-20
Cosby.....1111111111111111111-20	Eaton.....1110110111111100111-16
Schmelzer.1010111111111111111-18	Linderman.1111111100111110111-17
Taylor 1111111111111111111-20	Clark 1111111111111111111-20
Greene.....1111111111111111111-20	Brenner....1101111110101011011-15
Meuefee....1111111111111111111-20	Reese.....1111111111111111011-19
Hall.....1111010111111111110-17	Gillesple...1111110111111111111-19
Stevenson..1111111010111111011-17	Horton.....1111111111111111110-18
Fergusou .1110011010100001111-12	George.....1110011111010100100-12

EVENT No. 5.—20 singles per man: W. H. Piety 11, Mills 14, Dr. Hungate 13, Dewitt 17, L. G. Clark 11, Dr. Lane 13, Calhoun 20, Higgins 11, Weise 14, Trotter 15, Peck 15, Clay 15, Reust 17, Rice 18, Rhodes 17, Brawley 15, Gregg 17, Snodgrass 14, Batchelor 19, McIlhaney 16, Jenkins 15, H. Reese 16, C. Brenner 13, Dick Ferguson 5, Taylor 15, Greene 18, Menefee 17, Hall 17, Stevenson 14, Warner 6, Cosby 10, Ackerman 15, Scoville 15, A. Brown 17, Bray 17, Sexton 17, McElroy 16, Koohler (w) 8, Linderman 12, Strong 14, Eaton 18, Smith 8, Guthrie 5, J. B. Clark 10, W. C. Johnson 9, Dick Ferguson 7, M. Warner 8, W. S. Ferguson 10, Horton 17, Campbell 13, Gillespie 15, L. C. Smith 18, J. H. Sutliff 13.

EVENT No. 6.—Same again: Piety 13, Dr. Huugate 18, Dewitt 18, T. E. Ruggles 17, L. G. Clark 17, Dr. Lane 16, Calhoun 20, Higgins 16, Weise 18, Trotter 17, Batchelor 17, Reust 17, Rice 18, Rhodes 16, Brawley 18, Gregg 16, Snodgrass 20, Clay 20, McIlhaney 20, Jenkins 16, C. Brenner 18, Genn 10, Ackerman 19, Taylor 17, Greene 19, Menefee 20, Hall 18, Stevenson 20, Maglott 17, Hauber 16, Cosby 18, Peck 14, Linderman 18, Bray 19, Campbell 20, Gillespie 20, L. C. Smith 16, J. E. Johnson 19, Horton 18, J. H. Sutliff 19, Sexton 17, McIlhaney 16, Koohler 20, Bruce 17, Miller 19, Mills 16, W. S. Ferguson 7, Gilges 17, A. Brown 17, Eaton 15, Strong 18, C. Miller 6.

BUCKSHOT.

THE LONDON GUN CLUB'S TOURNAMENT

LONDON, ONT.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—The recent tournament of the London Gun Club was successful beyond the predictions or expectations of the most enthusiastic of its members. The tournament was under the personal supervision and management of Mr. John Parker of Detroit, Mich., who is this season representing the Cleveland Target Co., the Winchester Repeating Arms Co., and the American E. C. Powder Co. Mr. Parker is an expert tournament manager and an excellent shot both at live birds and targets, and whenever he took part in an event he was properly handicapped. The traps were sprung by electricity and worked very nicely. Mr. Alex Stuart was scorer and Mr. T. G. Davey cashier.

The number of outsiders present was especially large as against the attendance of local shots. Those who took part in the matches, and who came from a distance, included Messrs. Edward Audrews, Sardinia, N. Y.; Geo. W. Berghoefer, Casper Wolfe and Con Berghoefer, of Detroit; J. W. Coffey, Ed. Jessop, F. Abbott and Chas. W. Dyer, of St Thomas; Thomas Graham, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.; R. Scane and H. L. Bates, of Ridgetown; A. R., F. and R. Johnson, Port Stanley, and J. R. Reynolds, of Alvinston, formerly of this city.

The secretary of the tournament was Mr. Harry Buttery, and among the local men who were most prominent in looking after the comfort of the visitors were Messrs. C. W. Davis, F. T. Trebilcock, Marshall Graydon, C. S. Hyman and J. P. Evans. They also took part in nearly all the events, and proved by their scores that they "were in it" with the best Blue Rock marksmen in the country. Mr. Con. J. Berghoefer, of Detroit, one of the best known marksmen on the continent, was the official referee, and gave satisfaction throughout.

Every day there was a large number of citizens and visitors interested in shooting preseut, and after the tournament ended everyone expressed himself as highly pleased with the outcome—except, perhaps, the fellows who didn't win, and they took their ill-luck in a good-natured way, and promised to turn the tables on their more fortunate opponents the next time.

"The result of this tournament decides the fate of the London Gun Club," said Secretary Fred T. Trebilcock, "and from this out its tournaments will be looked forward to with anticipation of good sport and a pleasant time by all sportsmen throughout the West. It also means that we will now have two tournaments a year instead of one."

The club put up $1,000 in gold, which was divided among the successful marksmen. The arrangements were in the hands of a most energetic committee, to whose untiring efforts and consideration of every detail the satisfactory outcome of the tournament is largely due.

The first event on the opening day was shot off before noon. The stakes were five prizes of $10 each at 15 Blue Rocks, rapid firing. The best score was made by Coffey, of St. Thomas, who was shooting under the name of "Tyro," with 15 straight. Second money was divided between Andrews, Wolfe and Redpath, with scores of 14 each. Third prize, F. Johnson, Dyer, Reynolds and Berghoefer, 13. Fourth prize, A. Johnson and Evans, 12. Fifth prize, Graham, Abbott and Scane, 11; R. Johnson 9, Winfield 8.

EVENT No. 2.—Same conditions: Wolfe and Spian divided first money with a score of 14. Second, Andrews, 13; Berghoefer and Bates, 12. Third prize, Graham, 11; Scane, 10. Fourth, Evans, Reynolds, Jessop and A. Johnson, each, 9. Fifth, R. Johnson, 8, Winfield, Green and Dyer, 7.

EVENT No. 3.—Same conditions: T. J. Graham scored 15 straight. Second, Andrews, 14. Third, A. Johnson and Scane, 13. Fourth, Redpath and Wolfe, each 12; Evans and Berghoefer, 11. Fifth, Dyer, 10; R. Johnson, Reynolds and Parker, each, 9, Coffey, F. Johnson, Avey, Wiuer, 9; Coffey, F. Johnson, Avey, Winman 5, Green 2.

EVENT No. 4.—Same prizes, 20 birds each: First, Parker and Wolfe, 14. Second, Dyer, 13; Andrews, T. Graham and R. Johnson, 12. Third, Jessop, Berghoefer, A. Johnson, Green, 11. Fourth, Evans, Scane, Bates, 10. Fifth, Redpath and Winfield, 9; Tyro, Nichols and Reynolds 7, Charles 6, Avey 1.

EVENT No. 5.—Same conditions: First, Andrews and Parker, 13. Second, Wolfe, Evans, Dyer, Kennedy, 12. Third, Redpath, Bates, 11. Fourth, Charles, Nichols, Berghoefer and Batman, 9. Fifth, Graham, Scaue, A Johnson, Jessop, Tyro, Winfield, 8.

SECOND DAY

Instead of the live pigeon match arranged for the morning three small sweeps were brought on. In the first sweepstakes Wolfe made a possible 10, and took first money. Andrews, of Sardinia, N. Y., won first in the second sweep, making 9 out of a possible 10, and also divided first money in the third sweep with Graham, of Sault Ste. Marie, and Grigg of Clinton, with scores of 17 out of 20. The latter belongs to Clinton aud made his first appearance together with Mack, Dyer and Canteion, of the same place, all of whom shared in the prizes with scores of 14. Wolfe, Berghoefer and Dyer also raked in a share of the money.

In the afternoon the only event was the live pigeon match, and a great deal of interest was taken in it. The purse was $240, divided into three purses of $50 each and three of $30 each, and the shooting for it was very keen aud close. There were twenty-four marksmen who entered the contest. "Left-handed Charley" Damon was one of the contestants, but he was beaten out. Parker, with 9 birds out of a possible 10, took first money; Damon, with 8, second. Third money was equally divided between Scane, Charles, Graham and Wolfe, who secured 7 each. Fourth money was divided between Canteiou, Rapley, Bates, Redpath, Andrews and Strong, with 6 each; fifth between Gay, Grigg, J. Mack and Winfield, with 5 each; and sixth between Douald, Tyro, R. Johnson, Borghoefer and Evans, with 4 birds each. The match was shot in squads, and the detailed result was as follows:

Cantelon.....1110010210—6	Hicks.....0020000000—1
Parker.....2112011221—9	Redpath.....1202000212—6
Rapley.....0020102122—6	Berghoefer.....1020002020—4
Scane.....0101112210—7	J. Mack.....1001221000—5
Donald.....2020100010—4	Charles.....0121010211—7
Stover.....0002000210—3	Graham.....0220022222—7
Gay .....0212000210—5	Winfield.....2200010110—5
Bates.....2020200211—6	Evans.....1120010000—4
Tyro.....2100022000—4	Wolfe.....0122011022—7
Grigg.....0110202100—5	Andrews.....2011002201—6
Damon.....2222021021—8	Strong.....2212000101—6
R. Johnson.....1010100002—4

THIRD DAY

Damon, the great left-handed shot, was one of the special attractions on this day. His work, however, was not up to his general average and others who participated had no difficulty in beating his scores.

The first event to-day was at 18 Blue Rock targets for five prizes of $10 each. Audrews of Sardinia, N. Y., won first on a score of 16. Graham, of Sault Ste. Marie, and Grigg, of Ridgetown, divided second with scores of 13. Dyer and Scott, of Port Stanley, were third with 12. Damon, Scaue (Ridgetown), Kirkwood (Hamilton) and Evaus and Redpath (London) equally divided fourth with scores of 11. Wolfe (Detroit), Berghoefer (Detroit), Shine (Hamilton), Tyro (St. Thomas), J. Mack (Cliuton) and Parker (Detroit) divided fifth money. Other scores made were as follows: Farrell, Donald, Greener (Port Stanley) and Winfield, 4; R. Oveus (Clinton), 5, and J. Bowman 8.

The next event was uuder the same conditions for $100, divided into prizes of $30, $25, $20, $15 and $10, and some capital shooting was done. Andrews and Shine made the splendid totals of 17 out of a possible 18, and divided first money. A host of "crackerjacks" followed with scores of 16. Including Graham, Farrell, Parker, Cantelon, F. Johnson, Berghoefer aud Greener. Scores of 15 were made by Tyro, Grigg, Scane, Donald; of 14, by Damon, A. Johnson, Strong; of 13, by Dyer, Evans, Mack, Redpath aud Dauiels; of 12, by Hicks; of 11, by Wolfe, J. Bowman and Charles; and of 10, Winfield.

The next event was at 20 Blue Rocks, and $100 in prizes divided into twenties. Graham and Strong headed the list with 19 each. Then came Wolfe and Shine with 18; Andrews, 17; Tyro, F. Johnson, Greener, Grigg, A. Johnson, Farrell and Parker, 16; Dyer, Donald, Cantelon, Damon, 15; R Johnson, Scane, Winfield, 14; Hicks, Redpath, Berghoefer, 13; Evans, 12; Charles and Batman, 8; Brock, 7.

FOURTH DAY

The principal event slated for this day was at live birds, but nearly every person with whom the club had made arrangements for birds failed in furnishing the number contracted, consequently the event had to be declared off. At this season of the year it is almost impossible to get live pigeons in any numbers, and as soon as it was discovered that the birds could not be obtained the fact was wired to all who intended entering this match who were not already in the city. This prevented a number from coming, but those who were here were not disappointed. The $240 was divided into four events, with purses of $50 each divided, and a special sweep of $40. The results were as follows, 15 Blue Rocks being shot at in each event:

EVENT No. 1.—15 single Blue Rocks.

Bang.....100111111110111-12	Strong.....011011111001001—9
Graham.....111111111011111-14	Shine.....101011010011100—8
Damon.....001011111001111-11	Scane.....111111111111101-14
Mack.....011111111001111-12	Greener.....110111111100110-11
Bates.....110111111111110-13	Cantelon.....111111110111101-13
Farrell.....011011001111111-12	Andrus.....101111111100100-10
Grigg.....111011111111101-13	Wolfe.....111110111111110-13
Kirkwood.....101011111101111-12	Brownell.....111001110011100—9
Donald.....111110111011110-12	Evans.....1001000100 ...—3
Dyer.....110111110111100-11	Redpath 110101110010111-10

EVENT No. 2.—Same: Damon 15, Andrus 14, Graham 13, Wolfe 12, Tyro 11, Kirkwood 8, Grigg 12, Graydou 8, Strong 8, Cantelon 12, Farrell 10 Donald 10. Dyer 11, Evans 9, Winfield 8, Scane 12, Bates 12, Bang 11, Berghoefer 11, Redpath 12.

EVENT No. 3.—Same as before.

Damou.....0001110101111111-10	Donelley.....1101101111111110-12
Andrus.....1111111111111111-15	Evans.....0111101011111111-12
Graham.....1011110111111011-12	Donald.....1011111111101111-13
Tyro.....1111110111011111-13	Wolfe.....1111111011001001-10
Kirkwood .....0000101110110101—7	Grigg.....1011111111100111-12
Dyer.....1110011111110101-11	Cantelon.....1110101110101111-11
Dauiels..... ..0100011000101000—6	Scane.....0111111101111111-13
Winfield.....1000010100010001—5	Bates.....1111011111011111-13
Graydon.....1010011010001101—7	Redpatb.....1111111011111011-13

EVENT No. 4.—Same again: Bang 11, Brownell 6, Kirkwood 10, Grigg 11, Damou 13, Wolfe 11, Andrews 15, Graham 14, Berghertoff 13, Redpath 10, Scaue 11, Donald 13, Cantelon 13, Mack 13, Greener 12, Farrell 12, Tyro 14, Parke 9.

EXTRA No. 1.—15 single targets per man: Damon 12, Andrews 13, Graham 15, Evans 11, Winfield 9, Redpath 11, Douald 14, E. J. Butler 8, Donelley 12.

T. G. DAVEY.

CANTON SHOOTING CLUB'S TOURNAMENT

CANTON, ILL.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—I inclose herewith the scores made at the Canton Shooting Club's Spriug touruament held on April 17, 18 and 19. The Canton boys always carry out a program to the letter, rain or shine, so when they announce a tournaeut shooters from other localities ueed not stay at home fearing that inclement weather will interfere with the progress of the shoot, for little things like a rainstorm or an ordinary blizzard never cause a postponement.

The club will soon anuounce dates for its Fall touruament and the boys hope to see all their old friends at that time. The scores below tell the rest of the story.

SHOOT No. 1.—10 single targets per man, $1 entraece.

Jones.....0111111111—9	Geo. Garmers... ....0010100101—4
Lem.....1111111111—10	Plattuer.....1111101110—8
Lucas.....1100110111—7	Hileman.....1111111111 10
Knaus.....1110111101—8	Miller.....1011111111—9
Gilbert.....1011111110—8	Emmery... ... .0111011111—8
Wilson.....1111011110—8	Sprenkle..... .....0011000100—3

SUOOT No. 2.—15 singles, $1.50 entrance: Jones 13, Hileman 11, Gilbert 15, Lem 10, Lucas 15, Wilson 11, Knaus 11, Plattner 14, Garmers 9, Grimm 8, Emmery 11, Miller 13.

SNOOT No. 3.—10 siugles, unknowu angles, $1.25 entrance: Jones 8. Wilson 8, Gilbert 4, Lucas 8, Hileman 8, Lem 10, Miller 6, Garmers 6, Grimm 4, Emmery 6, Fitz 8, Knaus 7.

SHOOT No. 4.—20 single targets, $2 entrance: Wilson 16, Grimm 12, Gilbert 18, Plattner 16, Lem 18, Lucas 13, Jones 20, Miller 17, Hileman 15, Fitz 14, Emmery 13, Garmers 16, Knaus (w) 9.

SHOOT No. 5.—15 singles, unknowu angles, $2.50 entrauce: Lem 10, Miller 9, Gilbert 10, Wilson 5, Jones 13, Lucas 12, Garmers 8, Hileman 12, Kuaus 12, Emmery 9, Sprinkle 9, Plattner 12.

SNOOT No. 6.—25 singles, $2.50 entrance, $30 guaranteed.

Hileman.....	1011111110 1011110111	10111—20
Jones.....	1111111101 1011111111	10111—22
Gilbert.....	1000111111 0111110111	11010—18
Wilson.....	1010010011 1111000101	11000—13
Lem.....	1101111001 1111101110	11111—20
Sprenkle.....	1101111111 1011111111	11101—22
Garmers.....	0010101011 0011110101	10011—14
Knaus.....	0111011101 1100110111	11011—18
Plattuer.....	1111011110 0011111001	10010—16
Emmery.....	1101011100 0010110011	11111—16
Lucas.....	1111011111 1111011010	10010—18
Klutz.....	0111100100 1011101001	11101—15
Miller.....	1111011101 0111111100	11001—18
McQuaid.....	1111110010 1010010101	10100—14

SNOOT No. 7.—10 singles, unknown angles, $1 entrance: Wilson 6, Gilbert 10, Hileman 10, Lem 4, Klutz 7, Lucas 7, Jones 7, Miller 7, McQuaid 7, Knaus 6, Spreukle 6, Plattuer 7, Emmery 6, Shaw 9, Rogers 4, Garmers 6.

SNOOT No. 8.—15 singles, $1.50 entrance: Gilbert 13, Wilson 12, Hileman 13, Rogers 6, Lem 7, Garmers 12, Jones 12, Shaw 12, Miller 12, McQuaid 9, Emmery 12, Plattuer 12, Kuaus 11, Lucas 9, Sprenkle 8.

SUOOT No. 9.—20 singles, $2 entrauce.

Jones 01111111111111111111-19	Grimm.....01111010101001111110-13
Plattner.. 11011111101111111111-18	Wilson.....01111010010111111101-14
Miller.... .11101111101100110011-14	Rogers.....01100000010100010003- 5
Gilbert.....11101111111101111111-18	Lucas.....11110101101111111111-17
Hilcmau...10111111111010000010-12	Lem.....01110111101011111111-16
Garmers...01011101111101011111-15	Emmcry... 01111011101110110011-11
Knaus... .00101111011110111101-14

SNOOT No. 10.—15 siugles per man, $1.50 entrance: Jones 14, Gilbert 12, Hileman 9, Kuaus 9, Plattner 12, Wilsou 9, Shaw 10, Miller 14, Spronklo 13, Grimm 12, Garmers 12, Lem 13, F[illegible] 15, McQuald 10.

SECOND DAY

SNOOT No. 1.—10 singlo targets per man[illegible] Jones 9, Hileman 6, Lem 8, Miller 6, Gard[illegible] 8, Sprenkle 7, C. Emmery 8, Rogers 6, Howat[illegible] 8, York 5, Bowman 10.

SNOOT No. 2.—15 singles, $1.50 entrance.

Jones... .....101111011111111 13	Emmery[illegible] 10
Gilbert.... 111111111110010-12	Miller.....111111110110110 12
Lem.....111111011110110-13	Bowman.....111011111001111 12
Wilson.....111101001011111 11	York.....0100010110111111—8
Knaus.....100111101111111 12	Shreeves..... .1101110111101110 11
V. Emmery. 111111110101110-12	Hileman.....1111010111110110 11
Howat.....111101111101111 13	Sprenkle.....1110110110101001—9

SNOOT No. 3.—10 singles, unknown angles, $1.25 entrance: Wilson 7, Jones 10, Lem 4, Gilbert 8, Miller 7, Sprenkle 7, Howat 7, York 7.

SNOOT No. 4.—20 singles, $2 entrance: Jones 18, Wilson 10, V. Emmery 16, Fitz 6, Gilbert 8, Hileman 17, Knaus 16, Sprenkle 17, Lem 16, Miller 17, Thompson 17, Bowman 17, Emmery 14, Howat 18, Shaw 11.

SNOOT No. 5.—15 singles, unknown angles, $1.50 entrance: Wilson 11, Hileman 11, Jones 12, Lem 11, Gilbert 11, Thompson 13, Shaw 13, Howat 11, Bowman 11, Fitzgerald 9, Miller 7, Sprenkle 6.

SNOOT No. 6.—25 singles, $2.50 entrance, $10 guaranteed.

Jones.....	1111111111 0111111011	11010—21
Knaus.....	1111101011 1111111111	01110—21
Lem.....	1111111011 1111011011	01101—20
Hileman.....	1110111111 1111100011	01111—20
Gilbert.....	1001111011 1011111111	01110—19
V. Emmery.....	1111101111 0110101111	11101—20
Bowman.....	1111101111 1100111111	00111—20
Wilson.....	1111111111 1111111011	11011—23
McQuald.....	1011110101 1011110101	11111—19
Shreeves.....	0110100010 0111111000	01110—13
Fitz.....	1111010100 1111101001	10110—16
Emmery.....	1111110111 1010110011	10011—18
Thompson.....	1010001101 1111101101	11101—17
Sprenkle.....	0101111101 0111101010	11111—18
Miller.....	1101111111 1111111111	11111—21
Howat.....	0111111111 1100111111	10111—21
Shaw.....	1110111011 1001111111	11111—21

SNOOT No. 7.—10 singles, unknown augles, $1 entrance: Wilson 7, Work 8, McQuaid 5, Shreeves 5, Gray 5, Jones 9, Hileman 5, Gilbert 7, Lem 0, Knaus 9, Fitz 6, Howat 7, Shaw 8, Thompson 9, Miller 6, Bowman 7, Sprenkle 6, C. Emmery 8.

SNOOT No. 8.—15, singles, $1.50 entrance: Wilson 9, Lem 11, Jones 15, Gilbert 12, Knaus 15, Shaw 9, Thompson 12, Bowman 9, Fitz 9, Miller 12. McQuaid 12. York 11, Howat 10, Shreeves 10.

SNOOT No. 9.—20 singles, $2 entrance: Jones 19, Wilson 17, Knaus 15, Lem 18, Gilbert 18, Shaw 16, V. Emmery 15, Bowman 17, Miller 16, Thompsou 16, Fitz 18, C. Emmery 11, Howat 17, McQuaid 15, Sprenkle 17.

SNOOT No. 10.—15 singles per man, $1.50 entrancc: Wilson 13, Gilbert 13, Jones 12, Lem 14, Shaw 13, McQuaid 11, Wm. Fitz 11, Miller 12, Knaus 11, Bowman 12, Thompson 12, Sprenkle 11.

THIRD DAY

SNOOT No. 1.—10 single targets, $1 eutrance: Lem 8, Erwin 10, Wilson 9, Miller 7, Fitz 8, V. Emmery 9, Clutz 8, C. Emmery 7, Sprenkle 4, Howat 9.

SNOOT No. 2.—15 singles, $1.50 entrance, $5 added to purse.

Lem.....111111111101111-14	Knaus.... .....111101111111111 14
Wilsou 110111100110011-10	Miller.....111111111101111 14
Fitz.....111111111111001-13	Howatt.....111111101111110-13
Erwiu.....101111000110000—7	C. Emmery .....1111000011011O1—9
V. Emmery. ..111111111110111-14	Sprenkle.....1101111111101101-12

SNOOT No. 3.—10 singles, unknown angles, $1.25 entrance: Lem 9, Erwin 8, Wilson 8, V. Emmery 10, Fitz 8, C. Emmery 6, Miller 5, Howat 9.

SNOOT No. 4.—20 singles, $2 entrance: Lem 20, Fltz 15, Wilson 17, V. Emmery 16, Miller 13, Howat 17, Knaus 15, Sprenkle 15, Erwin 17, C. Emmery 13.

SNOOT No. 5.—15 targets, unknown angles, $1.50 entrance.

Lem.....0110110111111011-11	Erwin.....0110010111111111-11
Wilson 1101011111111110-12	Howat.... 0101111111111100-11
Thompson.....1111111101111101-13	Miller.... 1101111111111111-14
C. Emmery.....1100011010101111—9	Fitz.....1110111001110011-10

SNOOT No. 6.—25 singles, $2.50 entrance, $40 guaranteed: Lem 22, Miller 21, Fltz 18, Erwin 20, V. Emmery 21, Thompson 23, Knaus 23, C. Emmery 19, Sprenkle 21, Wilson 16, Howat 22, McQuaid 15, Johnson 19.

SNOOT No. 7.—10 singles, unknown angles, $1 entrance: Lem 8, Fitz 6, Wilson 10, Erwin 10, York 7, Howat 7, Miller 8, Thompson 9, McQuald 5, S. Johnson 8, Knaus 8.

SNOOT No. 8.—15 singles, $1.50 entrance: Lem 13, York 9, Fitz 13, Wilson 15, Miller 14, Sprenkle 11, Erwin 14, Thompson 14, Knaus 11, Howat 10, Johnson 13.

SNOOT No. 9.—20 singles, $2 entrance, $10 added:

Wilson....10110111111100011110-14	Howat 0111100111111100110-14
V. Emmery1101111011111111111-18	McQuaid...1111101111110001110-15
Fitz.....1110101001110010010-10	Knaus.....1111100111111011111-17
C. Emmery 0101110011101001001-11	Miller.....1111111110111111011-18
Lem.....1011111111111111111-19	Thompson.1101111111111011101-17
Erwin.....1111111111111111011-19	Johnson...1111111001101011111-16

SNOOT No. 10.—15 singles, $1.50 entrance: Lem 13, Wilson 14, Erwin 14, Fitz 10, Thompson 12, Miller 15.

CHAS. EMMERY, Secy.

NEW JERSEY STATE LEAGUE SHOOT

As usual there was a good turnout of shooters and teams from the clubs, members of the league, on the grounds of the Elizabeth Guu Club, Elizabeth, N. J., on May 2. Mr. Robert Chetwood, president of the club, assisted by Messrs. Parker and Roberts, saw that thlugs were in order for the visiting clubs. Sweepstake shooting began early and continued until 2:30 p. m., when the team race was called. Afterward sweepstake shooting was continued until 6 p. m. The shooting of the teams was well contested and close, as usual, among the best of the clubs, as reference to the scores will show. Mr. McAlpin made his appearance again after an absence of several weeks, caused by sickness, but he was in about his usual form. "Tee Kay" appeared in a new white hat which he wore during the first sweep, but not shooting up to his best form be cast it aside. I suspect he is reserving it for Knoxville. Ferd Van Dyke also had a new outfit, but whether from this, or the use of a gun uot suited to him, his scores were not up to date. He states that his regular gun is being overhauled for the "grand rounds" at Cincinnati, Dayton, Knoxville, Little Rock and Memphis; so look out for him.

But to the shoot again. The traps did not work to best advantage and needed a good deal of doctoring, causing a serious loss of time. For such occasions the traps should receive a thorough overhauling. The eutries in some of the sweepstakes went into the forties, showing that the league contests draw a larger crowd than any other form of shooting. The program called for live birds ou the second day, but the attendance was slim. Following are the scores:

EVENT No. 1.—10 singles, known augles, 50 cents entrance.

Hoffman.....1110101111—8	Piercy.....0111001101—6
Dutchy.....1111111101—9	Hobart 1111111111-10
McAlpin.....1111111111-10	Thomas..... .....1111111001—8
Jackson (birds).....0111111110—8	Roberts (birds)..... 1111101111—9
Woodruff..... 1110111010—7	E. Sickley.... ..1111111111-10
Breintnall.....1111000111—7	Drake.....1110111111—9

EVENT No. 2.—10 single Empire targets, 50 cents entrance: Hoffman 8, McAlpin 8, Dutchy 9, Jackson 9, Woodruff 9, Breintnall 7, Hobart 5, Thomas 8, Piercy 6, E. Sickley 9, Drake 9, Parker 10, Van Dyke 9, Le Roy 10, Keller 8, Roberts 7.

EVENT No. 3.—15 singles, $1 entrance: Hoffmau 11, McAlpin 11, Dutchy 11, Hobart 10, Thomas 13, Breintuall 11, Woodruff 12, Jackson 14, Piercy 11, Van Dyke 14, Keller 14, E. Sickley 14, W. Smith 14, Le Roy 14, N. E. Money 11, Yeomans 10, A. R. Strader 8, Creveling 11, Huck 14, Drake 13, Paul 11, Whitehead 14, Edwards 11, Hebbard 13.

EVENT No. 4.—10 singles, reversed order, $1 entrance: Hoffman 9, Whitehead 7, Drake 7, Jackson (birds) 9, Richmoud 7, Yeomans 9, Keller 8, C. Smith 9, N. Money 7, Le Roy 10, Breintnall 8, Van Dyke 7, Piercy 6, E. Sickley 7, McAlpin 8, Hobart 9, Thomas 9, Addison 8, W. Smith 10, Strader 3, Geoffroy 8.

EVENT No. 5.—20 singles, unknown augles. $1 50 entrance: Hoffman 18, Keller 13, Le Roy 19, C. Smith 17, N. E. Money 16, Breiutnall 15, Vau Dyke 17, Geoffroy 18, Piercy 12, Edwards 10, Yeomans 16, Jackson 18, Miller 17, Drake 17, Hebbard 18, Wanda 14, McAlpin 17, Addison 18, Hedden 17, E. Sickley 20, Thomas 17, W. Smith 16, Heritage 17, Collius 17.

EVENT No. 6.—League team coutest, five [illegible] team, 25 single targets per man, knowu trap, nuknown [illegible]

ENDEAVOR, OF JERSEY CITY.

Collins .....1111111110 [illegible]
Heritage.....1111011010 [illegible]
Hudsley.....1111111111 [illegible]
Piercy.....1001011100 [illegible]
Creveling.....1111110101 [illegible]

RIVERSIDE, OF RED BANK

[illegible] Rogers	0101000110 1010010100 00001— 9
H [illegible] White	0110010011 1011111101 11100—16
[illegible] Per	1001110011 1010101011 00001—13
[illegible]	0100010100 1011011000 10010—10
[illegible]	1101011111 1111011100 11111—20— 68

[illegible] PLINGS, OF RUTHERFORD

[illegible]	0111011111 1111011111 11011—21
[illegible]	1111111100 0110111101 11101—19
[illegible]	1111110010 1110001010 00011—14
[illegible]	1010111111 1111111111 11111—23
Grieff [illegible]	1111111111 1011010001 11101—19— 96

ELIZABETH, OF ELIZABETH

Roberts	1111111101 0111111001 01111—20
Woodruff	1111111111 1111101001 01101—20
Parker	1110011111 1111011111 01111—21
Hebbbard	0010111111 1101111101 11111—20
Astfalk	1111111111 0111111110 01111—22—103

MAPLEWOOD, OF MAPLEWOOD

Van Dyke	0100011111 1111111011 01111—19
Yeomans	1010111111 1111111111 11011—22
Drake	1111011111 1111111111 11111—24
W. Smith	1101110010 1111111100 01101—17
Sickley	1111111001 1111011111 11111—22—104

SOUTH SIDE, OF NEWARK

Hoffman	1110011101 1111111111 01111—21
Thomas	1111111111 1011111111 11001—22
Geoffroy	1111111011 1111011111 01110—21
Whitehead	1111111111 1111111111 11111—25
Breintnall	1101111100 1111111101 11011—20—109

UNION, OF SPRINGFIELD

Miller	1111111111 1111101111 11111—24
N. E. Money	1010111101 0101111111 00111—18
Taylor	1111111110 1011011011 10111—20
E. Sickley	0111011111 0111011111 11111—21
Jackson	1101111110 0100101011 11110—17—100

GLIM X, OF PLAINFIELD

Keller	1111111100 1110101111 10110—19
Apgar	1111011111 1110110111 11111—22
Dutchy	1111110101 1110111111 01111—21
D. Terry	1011111011 1111011110 00010—17
Brantingham	1001111111 1011111010 11110—19— 98

EVENT No. 7.—15 singles, unknown angles, $1 entrance: Hoffman 14, Paul 10, Geoffroy 14, Lindsey 12, Drake 15, Creveling 10, Keller 12, Le Roy 15, Smith 14, Monroy 10, Breintnall 11, Van Dyke 11, McAlpin 12, Whitehead 14, Edwards 9, Yeomans 11, Woodruff 13, Astfalk 12, Heritage 9, Piercy 5, Huck 11, Strader 9, Richmond 11, E. Sickley 12, Apgar 15, Fayette 12, W. Smith 8, Jones 11, Addison 9, Jackson 12, D. Terry 12, Grieff 12, Collins 11, Volk 3, Dustin 11, Hobart 12, Hebbard 11, Roberts 13.

EVENT No. 8.—20 singles, unknown angles, $1.50 entrance: Keller 13, Le Roy 17, Dutchy Smith 15, N. E. Money 17, Breintnall 12, Van Dyke 19, Collins 18, McAlpin 17, Edwards 11, Lindsley 12, Whitehead 16, Piercy 3, Wanda 12, Thomas 17, Astfalk 20, E. Sickley 17, Apgar 18, Geoffroy 17, Jackson 15, Lawrence 17, Jones 9, Dustin 17, Hebbard 16, Drake 17.

THE SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA WING SHOOTING CLUB'S TOURNAMENT

The first annual tournament of the Southern California Wing Shooting Club was held on the grounds of the new City Gun Club, on the Ballerino place, Los Angeles, on April 26, 27 and 28, under the direct management of Messrs. Martines Chick and A. W. Bruner.

The weather on the second day was so stormy and disagreeable that the program for that day was carried forward and merged into the program of the third day, and as the wind blew a gale on the third day the birds, a corking good lot, had to be killed close to the trap, consequently the shooting was extraordinarily good.

On account of the disagreeable weather the attendance of spectators was not large, yet most of the best shots in Southern California were on hand and the liveliest interest was manifested. The management, Messrs. Chick and Bruner, gave universal satisfaction, everyone speaking in the highest terms of them and the excellent manner in which the tournament was conducted.

The program of the first day consisted of six events, four at live birds and two at inanimate targets, American Shooting Association rules governing throughout and the purses being divided into three and four moneys, according to the number of entries.

The first event was at 10 live birds, entrance $10, and had six entries. Rice, with a clean score of 10, captured first money all alone. Fox and Hamilton each missed their third and tenth birds and divided second money, while Mr. Chick took third.

In the second event, which was at 12 live birds, $8 entrance, there were seven entries and three ties. Messrs. Chick and Cheatham each made clean scores and divided first money; Crittenden Robinson and Mr. Woodbury each missed two and divided second; third money went to Messrs. Hamilton and Rice and was divided.

The third event was at 15 live birds per man, entrance $10. There were eight entries in this, and Mr. Geo. Ralphs, on a score of 14, took first money. Mr. Chick, with 13 kills, took second all alone. Messrs. Cheatham, Fox and Crittenden Robinson tied for third, which, in the shoot off, went to Mr. Robinson.

The fourth event was at 10 live birds per man, $7.50 entrance, nine entries. Messrs. Chick and Crittenden Robinson each killed ten straight and divided first money, while Messrs. Cheatham, Fox, Cline and Hauerwass tied for second. The latter withdrew, and as Mr. Cline missed his first tie bird—Fox and Cheatham killing theirs—they divided. Third money was divided by Messrs. Allen and Rice.

The fifth event was at 20 inanimate targets. Rice scored 17 and won first money; Fox, Singer and Hauerwass divided second with 16 each, and James took third on a score of 15.

In the last event of the day, which was at 25 single Blue Rock targets, Mr. Fox did some good work, scoring 25 straight and taking first money, Crittenden Robinson being a close second with 23, and Mr. Matfield taking third money on 22. The scores follow:

EVENT No. 1.—10 live birds, $10 entrance.

E. Rice	1222111111—10	M. Chick	1102122110—8
C. Fox	1202122112—9	J. Cheatham	1100211011—7
W. Hamilton	1212111110—9	J. Woodbury	2011001000—4

EVENT No. 2.—12 live birds, $8 entrance: Chick 12, Cheatham 12, Crittenden Robinson 11, Woodbury 11, Hamilton 10, Rice 10, Fox 9.

EVENT No. 3.—15 live birds, $10 entrance, three moneys.

G. A. Ralphs	011111211111211—14	C. Fox	120212111201110—12
M. Chick	1122220102122222—13	W. Hamilton	1200002121011210—10
J. Cheatham	1012011012211212—12	E. Rice	2001110001121111—10
Crittenden Robinson—	212221000111211—12	J. Woodbury	1012102102010 01—9

In shooting off the tie for third money in the above event, five birds per man, Crittenden Robinson killed all of his tie birds and won.

EVENT No. 4.—10 live birds, $7.50 entrance, three moneys: Crittenden Robinson 10, Chick 10, Cheatham 9, Fox 9, Hauerwass 9, Cline 9, Allen 8, Rice 8, Valentine 7.

EVENT No. 5.—20 single Blue Rocks, $2.50 entrance: Rice 17, Fox 16, Hauerwass 16, Singer 16, James 15, Crittenden Robinson 14, Hamilton 14, Cline 12, Chick 12, Cheatham 11, Woodbury 11, Parker 9.

EVENT No. 6.—25 single Blue Rocks, $3 entrance: Fox 25, Crittenden Robinson 23, Matfield 22, Rice 21, Chick 20, Cline 19, Allen 18, Cheatham 19, Hauerwass 18, Singer 17, Hamilton 13, Woodbury 13.

THIRD DAY

As stated elsewhere, rain prevented any shooting on the second day, and the events scheduled for that day were shot on this day. The chief interest seemed to center in the contest for the $200 gold dust champion medal and the championship of the Pacific Coast. In this event, which was at 25 live birds per man, $10 entrance, there were ten entries. Dr. Taber, with a score of 21 out of 25, proved the winner, Martines Chick proving a good second with 20. Crittenden Robinson, the former holder of the medal, lost five out of his first nineteen birds and withdrew, the others dropping out at different stages of the contest. The scores in the more important events of the third day follow:

EVENT No. 1.—6 live birds, $5 entrance: Crittenden Robinson 6, A. Ralph 6, Chick 6, Taber 5, N. Ralph 5, Rice 5, Allen 5, Fox 4, Monasco 4, Vincent 4, Cline 3, James 3, Wiley 2, De Jarnett 2.

EVENT No. 2.—Gold dust challenge medal contest, 25 live birds per man, $10 entrance.

Taber	1122110101 1121122001 11121—21
Chick	0102021020 1112122222 12211—20
Crittenden Robinson	0221102101 1102111201w ....—14
N. Ralph	1122011000 1222120w.....—11
[illegible]	1001202110 100w.....— 8
[illegible]	0202210011 101w.....— 8
[illegible]	0011211001 110w.....— 7
[illegible]	0011110010 00w.....— 5
[illegible]	1000121000 0w.....— 4
[illegible]	10100w.....— 2

EVENT No. 2.—6 live birds, $5 entrance: A. Ralph 6, Wiley 6, Chick 5, Taber 5, De Jarnett 5, Crittenden Robinson 4, Cline 4, Rice 3, Keller 3.

EVENT No. 4.—Same as preceding: Crittenden Robinson 6, Chick 5, Cline 5, Wiley 4, Rice 3, Fox 3, A. Ralph 3.

EVENT No. 5.—10 live birds, $7.50 entrance.

Chick	2222122122—10	Crittenden Robinson	2202010112—7
Cline	0111212112—9	De Jarnett	1021012022—7
Wiley	1021022222—8	A. Ralph	0200000001—2
N. Ralph	1111022012—8

EVENT No. 6.—Same as preceding: Chick 10, Robinson 9, N. Ralph 8, Wiley 8, Cline 7, Rice 7.

Several unimportant events followed the above, and when the day ended everyone went home thoroughly pleased with the fairness and excellency with which the tournament had been managed.

THE EUREKA GUN CLUB

The regular Saturday afternoon shoot of the Eureka Gun Club of Chicago came off as usual, on April 27, at its grounds corner of Vincennes Road and 79th Street. The attendance was the largest so far this season, and taking into consideration the stiff wind that prevailed, some very creditable scores were made. The club at the present time is one of the largest in this section, and has under consideration a number of features to be given out later, that will be quite attractive. Following are the scores made:

SHOOT No. 1.—15 single targets, unknown traps and angles: Bingham 10, Stannard 7, Glover 9, Morgan 10.

SHOOT No. 2.—25 single targets: Lewis 13, Thomas 19, Ferguson 20, J. L. Jones 12, Morgan 20, Thornburgh 12, Morton 16, A. Morton 9, W. A. Jones 11, Glover 20.

SHOOT No. 3.—15 singles; Stannard (w) 8, Bingham (w) 10, Morgan 12, Airy (w) 2.

SHOOT No. 3.—Trophy contest, 25 single targets per man, known traps, unknown angles:

CLASS A

Bingham	0101011100 0111111011 01101—16
Stannard	1101111111 0011101110 11111—20

CLASS B

Morgan	0110111110 1110111110 11010—19
Glover	1111100010 1110110001 11111—17
Ferguson	1110011111 1000001101 10101—15
Goodrich	1100111011 0111110010 10101—15
Lewis	1010010010 1010111101 11101—15
Airy	1101010010 0001111011 00101—13

CLASS C

W. A. Jones	0101010110 1010110000 00110—10
Arnold	0000000101 0100010101 11110—10
Thornburgh	0011110100 1001111101 11011—16
J. L. Jones	0110000100 0001100111 00000— 8
Clever	1111101010 1001000111 10001—14
Morton	0001000000 0001111011 10011—10
*Thomas	0100011011 0111001001 11111—15
*Morton	0000001000 0000000110 00100— 4

*Visitors.

SHOOT No. 4.—25 targets per man: Stannard 30, Glover 16, Morgan 22, Airy 14, W. A. Jones 8, J. L. Jones 10, Bingham 14, Lewis 12 Clever 13.

SHOOT No. 5.—Same as before: Stannard 19, Morgan 19, Glover 19, Airy 14, Lewis 17, W. A. Jones 11, J. R. Jones 6, Thomas 21, Bingham 18, Ferguson 11, Thornburgh 10, Clever 15, Arnold 11, Goodrich 9.

At the shoot of this club held on the afternoon of May 4, in a high wind that made the targets take all kinds of angles, dodges and dips, the following scores were made.

SHOOT No. 1.—25 single targets per man, unknown angles: Morgan 15, Frothingham 16, Stannard 22, Themas 20, Glover 18, De Wolf 15, Abel 17, Jones 13, Cleaver 15

SHOOT No. 2.—Same as preceding: Ferguson 21, Morgan 22, Frothingham 19, Stannard 21, Dr. Norton 15, De Wolf 11, Abel 14, Jones 13, Cleaver 17, Morton 10.

SHOOT No. 3.—Trophy contest, 25 single targets per man, known trap, unknown angles, rapid fire.

CLASS A

Stannard	1111111111 0110110111 11111—22
Frothingham	1001011001 1011110110 00011—14

CLASS B

Morgan	1110101111 1101001111 00111—18
Ferguson	1101111100 1111101110 01111—19
Glover	1111111110 0011011111 10001—18
De Wolf	0101111001 1000000001 10011—11

CLASS C

Dr. Norton	0010110001 1011101011 00010—11
J. L. Jones	1101000111 1101010011 10011—15
Cleaver	1110111110 0011111100 11111—19
A. Morton	0110100000 0001001100 00010— 7
*Abel	1000100001 0111001001 00101—10
*Brown	0100100000 1110101010 10010—10
*Antoine	1101111011 0111111011 11111—21

*Visitors.

SHOOT No. 4.—25 singles per man, unknown angles: Stannard 20, Morgan 20, De Wolf 7, C. Antoine 18, Dr. Norton 13, Jones 14, Morton 14, Cleaver 10, Abel 12, L. Antoine 8.

SHOOT No. 5.—15 singles, unknown angles: Morgan 11, Thomas 5, Glover 6, Frothingham 12.

SHOOT No. 6.—5 pairs each man: Frothingham 5, Morgan 6, C. Antoine 7, L. Antoine 2.

SHOOT No. 7.—10 singles: C. Antoine 7, L. Antoine 7.

SHOOT No. 8.—10 singles: Frothingham 8, De Wolf 8, Glover 8.

SHOOT No. 9.—5 patrs each man: Frothingham 8, De Wolf 6, Glover 4.

PALMETTO GUN CLUB'S TOURNAMENT

CHARLESTON, S. C.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—The tournament of the Palmetto Gun Club of this city, held at its grounds at Disher's farm on April 25, was the occasion of some of the best exhibitions in trap shooting and the best patronized affair of its kind ever held in this state. The gathering was a representative one, and large at that, among the visitors being seen a number of Charleston's business men as well as a large number of ladies. The day was a delightful one, and promptly at 9 a. m., as advertised, the first event was called.

Among the visiting sportsmen who took part in the events were Messrs. Moise, Baker, Schwerin, Epperson and Phelps of the Sumter Gun Club; Lowndes of Annedale and Gibbs of Columbia.

The live bird events, which were started at 2 o'clock p. m., had sixteen entries. The target shooting was something new to many of the spectators and they all, especially the ladies, enjoyed watching the sport very much, and frequently applauded the marksmen when a particularly good shot was made

Visitors kept arriving at the grounds all the afternoon and the shooting was continued until 6:30 o'clock in the evening. A delightful lunch was served consisting of salads and sandwiches for the shooters and fruits and ices for the ladies.

The club feels very proud of the success of the tournament, and during the Summer will give local all-day shoots, to which friends of the club members will be welcome. The scores made at this tournament follow:

EVENT No. 1.—10 targets: Post 10, Swan, Bicaise, Epperson 8, Costello, Heidt 7, Steck, Petermann, Worthen, Wohltmann 6.

EVENT No. 2.—15 targets: Petermann 11, Post, Heidt 13, Worthen, Lowndes 12, Swan, Bicaise 11.

EVENT No. 3.—15 targets: Petermann 15, Worthen, Moise 14, Post, Epperson 13, Heidt 11.

EVENT No. 4.—15 targets: Costello, Baker 13, Post, Petermann 12, Swan, Moise 11, Worthen, Heidt, Wohltman, Epperson 10.

EVENT No. 5.—15 targets: Epperson 14, Wohltmann, Slawson 13, Moise 12, Worthen, Holle, Baker 11.

EVENT No. 6.—15 targets: Post 12, Peterman 13, Baker 12, Bicalse, Holle, Slawson 11, Swan, Heidt, Wohltmann 10.

EVENT No. 7.—15 targets: Petermann 13, Worthen, Steck 12, Swan, Bicaise, Holle 11, Post, Moise 10.

EVENT No. 8.—15 targets: Moise 12, Heidt, Lowndes 11, Post, Petermann, Hell, Epperson 10, Ellis, Slawson 9.

EVENT No. 9.—15 targets: Petermann 15, Worthen, Swan, Heidt 13, Bicaise, Post 12, Costello 10.

EVENT No. 10.—15 targets: Petermann, Heidt 13, Worthen 12, Costello, Post 10, Swan, Whilden, Holle 9.

EVENT No. 11.—15 targets: Petermann 13, Heidt 12, Worthen 11, Costello, Whilden 10.

EVENT No. 12.—15 targets: Petermann 15, Costello 13, Worthen 11, Ellis 10.

EVENT No. 13.—15 targets: Petermann 14, Worthen 13, Costello 11, Bardin 8.

EVENT No. 14.—7 live birds: Worthen, Holle, Baker, Bardin 6, Petermann, Lowndes, Heidt, Schwerin, Whilden 5, Moise, Ellis, Post, Costello 4, Gibbes, Swan 3.

EVENT No. 15.—4 live birds: Lowndes 4, Bardin, Moise, Kahrs, Costello, Whilden 3, Worthen, Petermann, Heidt, Gibbes, Baker, Holle, Swan, Stelling 2

PALMETTO.

WAVERLY ROD AND GUN CLUB

Six events were sharply contested by a fair number of shooters, members of this club, at North Beach grounds. This was after the election and reorganization of this club, and was the first shoot held for some time. The club is now regularly in the field again. The following officers were elected: President, Henry J. Bradley; vice-president, Arthur C. Sullivan; secretary, Thomas W. Baldwin; treasurer, James G. Waldron; captain, N. C. Squires. The scores:

EVENT No. 1.—Club shoot, 15 Blue Rocks, 16 yards rise: Henry J. Bradley 11, Arthur C. Sullivan 9, Thomas W. Baldwin 7, James G. Waldron 12, N. C. Squires 14, Capt. Henry P. Smith 15, Louis G. Waldron 11, James G. Jackson 13, Philip H. Cannou 12, William H. O'Brien 13, James J. Betts 9.

EVENT No. 2.—Handicap sweepstakes at 10 targets: H. J. Bradley (allowed 4) 10, A. C. Sullivan (3) 10, W. Baldwin (2) 9, G. Waldron (2) 10, N. C. Squires (scratch) 9, Capt. H. P. Smith (scratch) 10, L. G. Waldron (2) 8, J. G. Jackson (3) 9, P. H. Cannon (4) 8, W. H. O'Brien (1) 9, J. G. Betts 7.

EVENT No. 3.—Same conditions: H. J. Bradley (4) 9, A. C. Sullivan (3) 9, T. W. Baldwin (2) 7, L. G. Waldron (2) 9, N. C. Squires (scratch) 10, Capt. Smith (scratch) 9, L. G. Waldron (2) 7, J. G. Jackson (3) 10, P. H. Cannon (1) 7, W. H. O'Brien (1) 8, J. G. Betts (2) 9.

EVENT No. 4.—Miss and out, 16 yards rise: H. J. Bradley 0, A. C. Sullivan 2, T. W. Baldwin 1, J. G. Waldron 5, N. C. Squires 4, Capt. Smith 2, L. G. Waldron 3, J. G. Jackson 0, P. H. Cannon 4, W. H. O'Brien 1, J. G. Betts 2.

EVENT No. 5.—10 singles and 5 pairs: H. R. Bradley 11, A. C. Sullivan 12, T. W. Baldwin 8, J. G. Waldron 9, N. Squires 14, Capt. Smith 12, L. G. Waldron 11, J. G. Jackson 10, P. H. Cannon 13, W. H. O'Brien 8, J. G. Betts 4.

EVENT No. 6.—Same conditions as second competition: Bradley (4) 10, Sullivan (3) 7, Baldwin (2) 6, Waldron (2) 8, Squires (scratch) 5, Capt. Smith (scratch) 10, Waldron (2) 7, Jackson (3) 7, Cannon (1) 4, O'Brien (1) 6, Betts (2) 7.

WINFIELD ROD AND GUN CLUB

The members of this club turned out well, as the following scores show, and enjoyed a good day's sport over the traps at Winfield, Long Island, May 1. After the regular club event, sweeps and a team event closed the shooting. The scores:

EVENT No. 1.—Club shoot at 7 clay birds: James W. Colgan, 28 yards, 7; Edward V. Kent, 29 yards, 6; Henry P. Smith, 25 yards, 4; James J. O'Brien, 28 yards, 7; Ulysses V. O'Connor, 26 yards, 6; Andrew J. Henderson, 26 yards, 5; James R. Seaman, 26 yards, 4; James W. Heaney, 26 yards, 4; Henry P. Cummings, 26 yards, 6; Samuel P. Schlenter, 28 yards, 7; Edward F. Morris, 26 yards, 6; William H. Hunt, 21 yards, 3. Shoot off for first honors, miss and out—O'Brien 2, Colgan 4, Schleuter 1.

EVENT No. 2.—Handicap sweepstakes at 5 clay birds, ties divided: J. W. Colgan, 28 yards, 4; E. V. Kent, 28 yards 2; H. P. Smith, 25 yards, 3; J. O'Brien, 28 yards, 3; V. O'Connor, 26 yards, 5; A. J. Henderson, 26 yards, 4; J. R. Seaman, 26 yards, 2; J. W. Heaney, 25 yards, 2; H. P. Cummings, 26 yards, 3; S. P. Schleuter, 28 yards, 4; E. S. Morris, 26 yards, 5; W. H. Hunt, 26 yards, 4.

EVENT No. 3.—Same conditions: J. W. Colgan 4, E. V. Kent 5, H. P. Smith 5, J. O'Brien 4, U. V. O'Connor 3, A. J. Henderson 2, J. R. Seaman 4, J. W. Heaney 2, H. P. Cummings 4, E. S. Morris 3, W. H. Hunt 3, S. P. Schleuter 5.

EVENT No. 4.—Same conditions: J. W. Colgan 3, H. P. Smith 5, E. V. Kent 4, J. J. O'Brien 5, A. J. Henderson 3, U. V. O'Connor 4, J. W. Heaney 1, J. R. Seamon 2, H. P. Cummings 5, S. P. Schleuter 5, W. H. Hunt 2, E. S. Morris 4.

EVENT No. 5.—Same conditions: J. W. Colgan 4, E. V. Kent 4, H. P. Smith 5, J. J. O'Brien 2, U. V. O'Connor 4, A. J. Henderson 5, J. R. Seaman 5, J. W. Heaney 4, H. P. Cummings 4, S. P. Schlenter 2, E. S. Morris 2, W. H. Hunt 2.

A team match at 7 clay birds each man wound up the day's sport. Cummings' team defeated Colgan's team by a score of 31 to 30.

WEST NEWBURG VS. COBWEBS

The third contest between these clubs, each club having won once in former trials, was held at Newburg, N. Y., on April 30, and not until the last shot was fired was the match decided. All the contests have been close. The shooting was very uniform throughout and only one man, Mr. Donnelly, of the twenty shooting made as low a score as seven. Two straights were made for the Newburgs, by Johnnie Halstead and Jas. L. Taylor, four others making 9, and four 8. Of the Cobwebs, Mr. Loonie, captain of the club, made a straight 10; six others scored 9 each, two 8, and Mr. Donnelly 7.

Rain fell about half of the time during the shoot. Nothing else occurred to mar the pleasure of the shoot, and the meeting was a pleasant repetition of the social and generous competition by the members of the two clubs. The evening was spent at "Brother Gedney's," near by the shooting grounds, when the Newburg boys in some measure returned the generous hospitality of the Cobwebs. B. C. Everingbim was the acceptable referee, and David Brown "the correct," official scorer.

WEST NEWBURG TEAM		COBWEB TEAM
Taylor	2212222121—10	Pilkington	1211211220—9
Rayland	2222022212—9	Knapp	1022101222—8
Taggart, Capt.	2211012120—8	Train	2222121021—9
Southard	2221221002—8	McKeon	1112102111—9
Perry	1222021222—9	Hendricks	0222222222—9
Likely	2012121202—8	McDonald	1022221121—9
Stansbrough	1122220222—9	O'Dell	2112222120—9
Halstead	2222211212—10	Donnelly	0211110220—7
Higginson	0222022222—8	Fay	1002122221—8
Dain	1222210122—9—88	Loonie, Capt.	1211221222—10—87

CONEY ISLAND ROD AND GUN CLUB

The members of this club held their annual shoot and dinner at at Dexter Park, May 1, when the Pfaender diamond badge was presented to the winner, Uncle Billy Hughes, perhaps the oldest living trap shooter. In a series of contests during the year he had won it from the younger members, though among them are some of the best live bird shots around New York. After dinner the following officers were elected: President, Hugh McLaughlin; vice-president, Leonard Eppig; secretary, John C. De Frain; treasurer, John Schlelmann. The summary of the shooting is as follows:

EVENT No. 1.—7 live birds: Frederick Pfaender, 27 yards, 7; Dr. J. E. Van Oid, 28 yards, 6; Hugh McLaughlin, 25 yards, 7; James Voorhees, 25 yards, 7; Henry Knebel, 28 yards, 5; Isaac Hyde, 27 yards, 7; William Lair, 25 yards, 6; James E. Lake, 25 yards, 4; William Hughes, 25 yards, 7; Christopher W. Englehardt, 25 yards, 3; Dr. H. W. Littlefield, 25 yards, 5; Charles Plate, 26 yards, 5; Dr. Fuller, 25 yards, 4; Dr. Raynor, 25 yards, 2; Dr. Parker, 25 yards, 6; Franz Ibert, 25 yards, 3; Charles L. Meyers, 25 yards, 6; Christopher Mohrmann, 25 yards, 4, and John Schielmann, 25 yards, 5. In the shoot off for the prizes the badge and first money were won by Pfaender, second money by William Lair, third money by John Schielmann, and fourth money by Fuller.

EVENT No. 2.—3 live birds: Frederick Pfaender, 27 yards, 3; John Schielmann, 25 yards, 3; Chas. Plate 26 yards, 3; Hugh McLaughlin, 25 yards, 3; James E. Lake, 25 yards, 2; Charles L. Meyers, 25 yards, 2; William Lair, 25 yards, 1.

WOODSIDE GUN CLUB

On May 1, at Woodside, L. I., the members of this club met for for their tri-monthly shoot. The program included miss and out sweeps, and a team event. Following are the scores:

EVENT No. 1.—Club shoot, 15 clay birds: George W. Martin 13, Vincent W. Barnard 14, Bernard J. Keene 9, Henry J. Schleuter 11, George W. Lewis 12, Daniel G. Nelson 14, Thomas W. Corydoone 15, Andrew H. Newman 10, James G. Phillips 8, Henry J. Southerland 11.

EVENT No. 2.—10 singles: George W. Martin, 16 yards, 9; Vincent W. Barnard, 16 yards, 8; Bernard J. Keene, 16 yards, 10; Henry J. Schlenter, 16 yards, 8; George W. Lewis, 16 yards, 7; Daniel G Nelson, 16 yards, 6; Thomas W. Corydoone, 16 yards, 5; Andrew H. Newman, 16 yards, 4; James G. Phillips, 16 yards, 8; Henry J. Southerland, 16 yards, 5.

EVENT No. 3.—Team contest: Nelson's team—Daniel G. Nelson, captain, 5, Vincent W. Barnard 4, George W. Lewis 4, Thomas W. Corydoone 5, James G. Phillips 3. Total 21. Schleuter's team—Henry J. Schlenter 4, George W. Martin 3, Andrew H. Newman 2, Henry J. Southerland 5, Bernard J. Keene 5. Total 19.

EVENT No. 4.—Miss and out: George W. Martin 2, Vincent W. Barnard 4, Henry J. Schleuter 5; George W. Lewis 0, Daniel G. Nelson 2, Thomas W. Corydoone 0, Andrew H. Newman 1, James G. Phillips 4, Henry J. Southerland 2, Bernard J. Keene 3.

NEW YORK GERMAN GUN CLUB

Members of the above-named club at a recent club contest for medals made scores as given below. The shooting was done at Dexter Park, on live birds. The day was fine for trap shooting except a strong wind which made the birds very fast as soon as they took wing. The club has three medals, and in the shoot off of those who tied on 7 birds each, the trophies were won in the following order: Fraser first medal; Hudson second; Schmidt third. The scores, each man shooting at 8 live birds, were as follows:

Sauter	00101012—4	Dannefelser	12222200—6
Schmitt	12122021—7	Holz	11000100—3
Busch	11121210—7	Miller	00000011—2
Baudau	00000201—2	Krausberg	12110200—5
Steuernagel	10000000—1	Edwards	00100200—2
Boeseneiecker	10001110—5	Frazer	01221211—7
Elfers	10002000—2	Messmann	00100002—2
Tbamforde	10010111—5	P. Garmser	00110021—4
Hudson	12122102—7	Klein	20000022—3
Lucas	02110101—5	Le Moult	10110000—3
Wellbrock	01102001—4	Dreste	10010100—3
Konig	01110210—5

CRESCENT GUN CLUB

The regular monthly meeting of this club was held at Dexter Park, N. Y., on May 2. The attendance was not large. Five live bird events were decided with following results:

EVENT No. 1.—Second regular competition for the diamond badge, at 7 birds: Walter D. Gilman, 28 yards, 6; Edward H. Morrey, 28 yards, 6; Cord Mohrmann, 28 yards, 5; A. A. Hagemann, 28 yards, 5; William J. Passmore, 28 yards, 5; L. C. Hopklus, 28 yards, 3.

EVENT No. 2.—Handicap sweepstakes at 3 live birds, ties to be divided: Passmore, 28 yards, 2; Hagemann, 28 yards, 3; Hopkins, 28 yards, 2; Mohrmann, 28 yards, 2; Gilman, 28 yards, 3.

EVENT No. 3.—Same conditions: Passmore, 28 yards, 2; Hagemann, 28 yards, 3; Hopklus, 28 yards, 3; Mohrman, 28 yards, 2; Gilman, 28 yards, 2.

EVENT No. 4.—Same conditions: Passmore, 28 yards, 3; Hagemann, 28 yards, 2; Hopkins, 28 yards, 2; Mobrmann, 28 yards, 3; Gilman, 28 yards, 2.

EVENT No. 5.—Same conditions: Passmore, 28 yards, 1; Hagemann, 28 yards, 2; Hopkius, 28 yards, 1; Mohrmann, 28 yards, 3; Gilman 3.

ARVERNE ROD AND GUN CLUB

The second monthly shoot of this club was decided on its fine grounds on May 1, at Arverne By-the-Sea. Four events were decided, the shooting being at targets. The scores:

EVENT No. 1.—Club competition, 10 clay birds: Henry R. Phillips 7, Thomas V. Bodine 5, Louis W. Richardson 4, John J. Kenney 9, George W. Gregory 7, Charles W. Morson 7, Thomas D. Benson 8, Michael G. Conway 4.

EVENT No. 2.—5 singles: Henry K. Phillips 4, Thomas V. Bodine 2, Louis W. Richaidson 3, John J. Kenney 6, George W. Gregory 3, Charles W. Morson 0, Thomas D. Benson 5, Michael G. Conway 1.

EVENT No. 3.—Same conditions: Henry K. Phillips 8, Thomas V. Bodine 5, Louis W. Richardson 2, John J. Kenney 4, George W. Gregory 2, Charles W. Morson 3, Thomas D. Benson 1, Michael G. Conway 3.

EVENT No. 4.—Same conditions: Henry K. Phillips 5, Thomas V. Bodine 9, Louis W Richardson 4, John J. Kenney 2, George W. Gregory 1, Charles W. Morson 2, Thomas D. Benson 2, Michael G. Conway 5.

SEATTLE, WASH.—The target shoot which took place here on April 21 proved a success, although the entry list only showed eighteen competitors. The grounds being new to most of the shooters and about one-half of the latter being beginners—men who had never even faced a trap before—the scores made were nothing to boast of. Some of these same men will, however, in my opinion, prove dangerous competitors in shoots to come. The new grounds, known as the Seattle Field Club grounds, proved very satisfactory, being easily reached, supplied with a splendid club house, and the field is large enough for a full boundary under either the Hurlingham or American Shooting Association rules. On Decoration Day, May 30, I will give an all-day shoot on live birds, principally wild pigeons, on these grounds, which will probably prove the largest as well as the last shooting event of the season on live birds. A new gun club is now being organized here and the prospects are that the season of 1895 will see more targets shot in this state than ever before. Never before in the history of Seattle or vicinity has there been such interest taken in trap shooting as at the present time, and the tournament of the Sportsmen's Association of the Northwest, to take place at Portland in June, should be, and I have no doubt will be, the most successful tournament held by that body since its organization. The AMERICAN FIELD score book was used here at the shoot on April 21 and gave excellent satisfaction. The scores:

EVENT No. 1.—25 Blue Rocks each man, known trap, known angles, handicap rise, class shooting, American Shooting Association rules; merchandise prizes.

CLASS A—16 AND 18 YARDS

Kelsey	1110010111 1111101111 11111—21
Scott	0111111010 0001111011 10011—16
Foster	0110000000 0010001101 10001— 8
Lowman	1110110000 0101001011 110 0—12
Dahlem	1101001010 1111111001 10001—15
Terry	101001 111 0010010100 00101—12
"Bane"	1100000001 1111111101 00101—14
Chamberlain	1110011000 0001000011 10000— 9
"Keudall"	0011111110 1011101111 10111—19
Graff	0100101000 0100101011 11010—11
Fox	1101011100 0101110101 00100—13

CLASS B—14 AND 16 YARDS

Bender	0011111011 1010100000 11110—14
Hanford	0110101101 0110000100 01100—11
Haven	1010100101 1010001101 11101—14
Hunt	0011001011 0101100001 01110—12
Marbett	0111010011 0101101010 11110—15
Chellis	0000011000 1011100101 00011—10

EVENT No. 2.—Same as preceding: Class A—"Bane" 20, "Foster" 7, Dahlem 22, Lowman 14, "Kendall" 20, Terry 14, Kelsey 18, Chamberlain 12, Graff 14, Fox 16. Class B—Marbett 16, Chellis 7, Bender 10.

A number of sweeps followed, the shooting being continued till late in the afternoon.

C. F. GRAFF.

SAN ANTONIO, TEX.—The San Antonio Gun Club held its regular medal shoot on April 21 at the club's grounds at Lake View. Notwithstanding a number of the members were away, plover shooting, the attendance was very good. The scores made are given below:

SHOOT No. 1.—15 single Blue Rocks to warm up: McCormack 12, Tendick 7, Samuels 10, Piety 14, Chabot 8, Shields 8.

SHOOT No. 2.—Medal contest, 30 single targets per man.

McCormack	110.011101 1110111101 0101101111—22
Tendick	1010011100 1111110101 0101001111—18
Samuels	1111111101 1011111110 1010101111—24
A. H. Piety	0111111111 1111111111 0111100101—25
Chabot	1011111111 1010111111 0111111111—26
Shields	0011110011 1011000110 0110101010—15
France	1011010100 1010110010 10.0000110—13
Learn	1000110101 1001111111 0001111110—19
Black	0010101111 1010111011 1111111111—23
Cann	0100001100 0000100110 0000010101— 9
Davidson	0000110001 0100100010 0100100001— 9
Epps	1101010011 1111111110 1111110101—23
Prescott	0000101000 1110011111 0110111001—17
W. L. Simpson	0011111011 1011110110 0111000111—20
Rothwell	0010111111 1101011111 1111110111—24
Dr. Phillips	1110110101 1011011010 0111011001—19
Veinor	0110111111 1010111110 1100111011—22
Vollbrecht	1010010010 0110010111 0111101111—18
Thiele	1001011011 1011011110 1011111111—22
Grossmann	1100000010 0011100101 0011011111—15
Paschel	1010111100 0000110100 0010101111—15

SHOOT No. 3.—15 singles: Rothwell 13, Samuels 11, McCormack 12, Piety 13, Chabot 12, Dr. Phillips 12, Simpson 10, Shields 6, Grossmann 4, Vollbrecht 9, Tendick 9, France 11, Cann 11. Block 13, Learn 7, Fry 11, Davidson 2.

SHOOT No. 4.—Same as above: Rothwell 10, Black 13, France 9, McCormack 14, Simpsou 9, Shields 9.

G. A. CHABOT.

BURLINGTON, IA.—Inclosed please find scores made by members of the Otter Island Gun Club. In the club contest, 50 single targets per man, the trophy was won by Col. Robt. Sowden, he scoring 48 out of 50 with his little 12-gauge Parker gun loaded with American Wood powder in Climax shells.

SHOOT No. 1.—10 single targets each man.

Dewelu	1111011111— 9	Weopklug	1110010101— 6
Scott	1111111111—10	Klein	0000001100— 2
C. Kehn	1011011111— 8	Walbridge	1010101010— 5
Foote	1110101100— 6	Sowden	1011101101— 7
Ruudorf	1101011111— 8	Dahnar	1001100110— 5
Krieg	0010101111— 6	W. Kehn	1010111010— 6
Funck	1110001110— 6	Hoerr	1011011111— 8

SHOOT No. 2.—Same as preceding: Deweln 8, Scott 8, C. Kehn 8, Foote 7, Rundorf 8, Krieg 7, Funck 7, Weopklug 6, Kehn 5, Walbridge 7, Snowden 8, Dahnar 6, W. Kehn 7, Hoerr 9.

SHOOT No. 3.—Trophy contest, 50 single targets per man.

Foote	0011110111 1001010101 1010110001 1111001111 1101001101—31
Hoerr	1101111111 1101011011 1101101011 0111111110 1111010110—38
Sowden	1111111111 1111111110 1111111111 1111111101 1111111111—48
Funck	1111110111 1111111111 0111000110 0101101111 0111111111—40
Dewelu	1111111111 0110100110 0001010110 1111100111 1101110110—31
Dahnar	1100010000 0000110010 0000011001 1011010110 0001000010—18
Walbridge	1010111111 0101110011 1010111100 1100110111 1010111100—33
T. Rundorf	1111111111 1100110101 1111111110 1111111111 1110110110—42
*Scott	1101111111 1111111101 1111110111 1111111111 1000110011—42
W. Kehn	0111101010 1000101000 0111101101 0010000011 1001011010—23
C Kehn	0111111111 1101111111 1111111111 1111011111 0110011011—24
Rhlen	0011101011 1100101000 0001110000 1101101100 0011100111—21
Ober	1000100111 0101011011 0110111110 0100101000 1000011011—26
Krieg	1111101111 1111111011 1111110101 1111101111 1110010111—42

*Not a member of the club.

SHOOT No. 4.—10 singles per man: Hoerr 10, Dahnar 6, Scott 10, Foote 8, Krieg 8, Rhine 4, Walbridge 7, Deweln 7, C. Kehn 7, W. Kehn 8.

SHOOT No. 5.—Same as before: Hoerr 7, Scott 8, Foote 7, Krieg 9, Deweln 8, C. Kehn 10, W. Kehn 8.

SCOTT.

NEW ORLEANS, LA.—The fourth and fifth shoots of the Louisiana Gun Club took place as scheduled at the grounds near city park. The work of the members, except that of Mr. Jeffersou, who scored 24 out of 25, unknown angles, birds thrown as hard as possible, was only fair. Mr. Jefferson's only miss was a doubtful one, several claiming to have seen the proverbial piece. One of our best shots, "Nap," had the misfortune to discover that the choke of his gun had been shot out, a possibility which had not before occurred to him. With a borrowed gun, immediately after making a comparatively poor score, he had no trouble in making 91 per cent., conclusively proving that this time at least, the gun, and not the man, was at fault. The scores following, 25 singles, were at unknown angles.

SHOOT No. 1.—25 singles, handicap allowance.

	Birds allowed
Barthelemy	0	0001101001 1001010010 00100— 9
Kaufman	0	1010101101 1111010101 10010—15
Jeffersou	1	0110111111 0011111111 10011—20
More	3	0011000110 0010100100 00000—10
Macmurdo	4	1111001000 1001111101 11100—19
Edgar Nott	3	0100111111 1001110101 11000—18
George	3	0100111111 1111110001 10010—19
E. P. Cousin	10	1010001111 1101001110 00100—23
N. T. Harris	4	0100101010 1101101110 01001—17
Ranlett	6	1111101111 1111101010 10001—24
Saucier	3	1001011111 1011111110 10100—20

SHOOT No. 2.—Same as preceding: "Nap" (scratch) 17, Jefferson (1 added) 25, A. De Blanc (4 added) 19, E. Nolt (3 added) 19, Ranlett (6 added) 21, Saucier (3 added) 19, Nelson (4 added) 20, Wm. Miller (5 added) 24, Ph. Nolt (4 added) 19, E. P. Cousin (10 added) 20, Benedict (3 added) 18.

PERCY S. BENEDICT, Secy.

HARRISBURG, PA.—The scores made at the handicap shoot of the Harrisburg Shooting Association, which took place on April 11, never having been sent the AMERICAN FIELD, I take the liberty—even at the risk of being termed a hack uumber—to forward them to you for publication, that each member of the association may have a printed record if he cares for it. The conditions of the match were 20 live birds per man, $10 entrance, birds extra; handicap rise 21 to 33 yards, high guns to win; Hurlingham rules. The scores:

Worden, 30 yards	1002112012 1120201120—14
Loganecker, 26 yards	2201221201 2021011011—15
Willington, 30 yards	0122122012 2121112112—18
Franklin, 28 yards	1211220200 0121101021—14
Brewster, 30 yards	2122220112 2112012222—18
Myers, 29 yards	2222202200 02020w— 9
Wiley, 30 yards	0221222002 1121222222—17
Du Bray, 29 yards	1222112222 2121210222—19
Taylor, 28 yards	2220011220 2021122012—15
Harsh, 26 yards	1012212221 12100120 0—17
Kane, 28 yards	1212211122 2122202221—19
Stahler, 27 yards	0021111222 00w— 8
Cummings, 30 yards	1221021000 2021212120—14

Referee, H. J. Mordock; scorer, George Baisley.

Messrs. Kane and Du Bray divided first and second money, $104, both using Parker guns. Messrs. Willington and Brewster divided third money, $26, the former using a Parker, the latter a Smith.

LIVE BIRD.

FORT MADISON, IA.—The 50-bird contest at this place on April 26 for the American Field Handicap Trophy was participated in by an even dozen men, most of them from Lee County. The result was a very agreeable one, inasmuch as two Des Moines County men, J. F. Scott and Rolla Ebner, tied for first place on 46 birds each. This tie will be shot off in this city on May 9. In shooting off the tie between Ebner and Burton, resulting at the match previous to the last, Burton won. Following are the scores in the trophy shoot and some extra sweeps that were also shot:

SHOOT No. 1.—Trophy contest, 50 single targets per man: Bennett 43, Scott 46, Brockway 42, Burton 42, Ebner 46, Mills 39, Krieg 36, Hitch 44, Lange 41, Gemmett 44, Philpot 38, Kammerer 34.

SHOOT No. 2.—10 single targets: Scott 6, Brockway 9, Ebner 8, Gemmett 9, Bennett 10, Kammerer 9, Lange 10, Davis 9, Krieg 7, Philpot 5, Minard 10, Hitch 10.

SHOOT No. 8.—Same as preceding.

Scott	1111011111—9	Lange	1111111111—10
Brockway	1110111111—9	Davis	1101111011—8
Ebner	1111111110—9	Krieg	1101101110—7
Gemmett	0111101111—8	Philpot	1111110111—9
Bennett	1111111111—10	Minard	0111111111—9
Kammerer	1110111111—9	Hitch	1011111111—9

SHOOT No. 4.—10 singles: Scott 8, Krieg 8, Gemmett 10, Brockway 8, Mills 8. Lange 10, Kammerer 7.

SHOOT No. 5.—Same as before: Scott 8, Krieg 8, Kammerer 7, Brockway 8, Hitch 7, Philpot 9, Bennett 10, Lange 10, Davis 8. Mills 8.

TRAP SHOT.

GREEN BAY, WIS.—Five members of the Green Bay Gun Club, and one visitor, on April 29, betook themselves to Washington Park and made the following scores, known traps, unknown angles:

E. Thomas	0111110010 0101010110 11110—15
O. Harder	0111111111 0100011111 11010—18
*F. Wolfe	0011011100 1010000001 01110—11
Vic Vader	1011111110 1111110100 00110—18
Al Holmes	1100000111 1011001001 11011—11
B. Claflin	1111111111 1111111111 10111—24

*Visitor.

Following are the guns and loads used: Thomas, Forehand hammerless, Walsrode; Harder, Parker hammer, Walsrode; Wolfe, Lefever hammerless, S. S.; Bader, Lefever hammerless, S. S.; Holmes, Ithaca hammerless, S S. and Walsrode; Claflin, Forehand hammerless, S. S.

The duck season is now over and hereafter we shall devote our off days to smashing mud pies. We are perfecting the organization of a new club, and shall have better equipments in every way; then perhaps our Menominee and Marinette friends may have a chance to see that we can score a few at least. As soon as we get everything in shape we shall issue an invitation to our northern neighbors to pay us a visit, and take a whirl at Blue Rocks, and I guarantee that if we do not beat them we will at least treat them the best we know how, and leave upon their minds pleasant recollections of a good time at Washington Park.

B. CLAFLIN.

UTICA, N. Y.—The first weekly shoot of the season of the Oneida County Sportsmen's Association was held on the West Shore grounds on Friday, April 26. Following are the scores for the club event:

	Birds allowed
Hayes	3	1111111000 1101101111 11111—23
Maynard	10	1101000111 0011110101 11100—25
Scott	2	1111111011 0111101110 11011—22
Parker	5	1111010111 [illegible]
Williams	3	1111111111
Richardson	0	1111111
Mayhew	0	1111111
Dexter	3	1111[illegible]
Frank	2	1001
Wheeler	3	111
Fulford	0	111
Gates	0	11
Cummings	8	11

The tie between Maynard and Mayhew was won by the latter in the shoot off with a score of 21 to his opponent's 23. The prize was a fine hat. It is the intention of the association to offer prizes each week.

A. C. SIEBOTH.

SANTA ANA, CAL.—The following scores were made here in a shoot for the county championship medal.

EVENT No. 1.—Medal shoot, 25 Blue Rocks, known traps, unknown angles.

Vaughan	1011111011 1111001111 11111—21
Parker	0111011100 0110111101 11111—18
Pride	1111010100 1001001111 01111—16
Mason	1111101111 0111110111 11110—21
Proud	1000011111 1101110111 10111—18
Griswold	0001101011 1110100001 11111—15
Kerr	1111001011 1110101111 11100—18

Messrs. Mason and Vaughan tied on 21 each and shot off at 5 birds per man, Mason making a clean score and winning the medal.

EVENT No. 2.—Sweepstake, 10 birds, 50 cents entrance: Parker 6, Mason 9, Vaughan 9, Proud 5.

EVENT No. 3.—Same: Mason 8, Parker 7, Vaughan 10, Pride 4, Lord 5.

EVENT No. 4.—Same as preceding: Pride 4, Mason 8, Proud 7, Parker 8, Griswold 7, Caldwell 8, Lord 5, Griffith 7.

EVENT No. 5.—10 singles: Pride 6, Mason 6, Griswold 1, Griffith 5, Caldwell 4, Lord 2, Parker 8, Proud 5.

JIM.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.—At the regular weekly club shoot of the Valley City Gun Club, 25 targets per man, the following totals were made: Walton 18, Karstens 17, Coleman 21, Calkins 19, Gilmore 18, Porter 11.

SHOOT No. 2.—20 single targets, semi-expert rules: Walton 18, Gould 17. Coleman 16, Karstens 14, Kelsey 16, Temple 17.

SHOOT No. 3.—Same as preceding: Kelsey 10, Porter 7, Gilmore 13, Temple 12, Karstens 18, Walton 16.

SHOOT No. 4.—Same as before: Coleman 11, Kelsey 11, Temple 18, Walton 18, Gould 15, Karstens 13, Gilmore 7, Edie 2

SHOOT No. 5.—10 single targets, five unknown traps, one man up: Kelsey 5, Walton 7, Gould 6, Gilmore 4, Coleman 5, Edie 2, Karstens 5.

Mr. Oswald Von Lengerke of Chicago, who was present, explained the "jacksnipe" style of shooting and a few of the members gave it a trial: Kelsey 12 out of 13, Karstens 10 out of 15, Coleman 3 out of 6, Edie 6 out of 11, Calkins 4 out of 8.

SHOOT No. 6.—10 singles and 5 pairs: Von Lengerke 13, Kelsey 12, Wharton 20.

SHOOT No. 7.—20 singles per man: Von Lengerke 18, Wharton 19, Kelsey 16.

C. F. ROOD, Secy.

PADUCAH, KY.—Inclosed please find scores made over five traps, rapid firing system, by members of the Paducah Gun Club.

SHOOT No. 1.—25 single Blue Rocks each man, known trap, known angles.

H. E. Crafts	1101111110 1011111011 00111—19
C. T. Hinkle	1110100111 1101011111 11111—20
J. C. Piper	0110111011 0111111011 00111—18
R. A. Brudas	1011011111 1111110111 11111—22
C. L. Robertson	0111001110 0101111011 01101—16
Fred Holley	1001111111 0111011101 11110—19
J. M. Lang	1101111110 1110111101 10110—19
W. D. Thompson	1111111111 0111111111 11101—23
Geo. H. Robertson	0100111101 1001111111 11001—17
Tom Pitt	1111011011 0101111101 11001—18
Milt Ingram	1110101111 0101111010 11101—18
Tom Boswell	1110111010 1110011110 01111—18

SHOOT No. 2.—Same as preceding, excepting unknown angles this time: Craft 17, Binkle 18, Piper 17, Brudas 16, J. H. Castello 15, Lang 17, Thompson 25, Robertson 21, Ingram 15, Boswell 21.

T. J. MOORE, Secy.

NORTH JUDSON, IND.—The members of the North Judson Gun Club had an interesting shoot on April 25, shooting fifteen different events, each 5 targets per man, 50 cents entrance, known trap, unknown angle. The scores in the first six events, or the first 30 targets, were as follows:

Dunkelberger	0011000110 0010011000 0010111110—13
B. Lightcap	0010101001 0000101010 0111111111—16
Townsend	0111111110 1011110111 1011010111—23
Devor	1011000000 1100011100 1100101010—13
S. Welsh	1111101100 0010110100 00001—12
Hetfield	1110001111 0101111101 0111110110—21

Those who shot in the next six events scored as follows: Dunkelberger 8, Lightcap 21, Townsend 28, Hetfield 21. Devor shot at 5, scored 0; Welsh shot at 5, scored 3.

In the next three events Dunkelberger scored 5, Lightcap 12, Hetfield 11, Devor 12. Hubbard shot at 5, scored 0; Townsend shot at 5, scored 5; Welsh shot at 5, scored 3.

BERT LIGHTCAP, Secy.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—The following scores were made on April 27, at the regular monthly shoot of the Brunswick Gun Club, each man shooting at 20 single targets, known traps, unknown angles. The attendance, owing to rain, was small. The trophies for best averages for the year ending May 1, 1895, were won by H. H. Stevens in Class A, 82½ per cent., and A. L. Munday, Class B, 66⅔ per cent. The scores:

H. H. Stevens—	A. L. Mundy—
11101111111111110111-18	11110111111100101011-15
R. M. Pettit 11111101111111011101-17	R. C. Nicholas—
S. Randall..11011111111011111011-17	11001000001111110110-11
V. S. Voorhes—	H. B. Smith00101001001110010101—9
00111111111111100111-16	Geo. W. Strong—
E.Reynolds00110111010001101011-11	11100001000000010001—6
C. Oakley..11110111011111010110-15

HENRY H STEVENS.

RICHFIELD SPRINGS, N, Y.—The inclosed scores were made by members of the Richfield Gun Club on Friday, May 3. It will be seen that Mr. M. E. Barker and Mr. A. Barker tied for the club trophy on 18 each, and it took 15 more birds to determine the winner, the former finally coming out the victor.

SHOOT No. 1.—Practice, 10 targets per man: Fairchild 4, Fairchild, (re-entry) 7, Borland 7, Cary 3, Peckham 7, Butler 8, Caney 7, M. E. Barker 7, Mungor 7, A. Barker 8.

SHOOT No. 2.—Club contest, 20 single targets per man.

Caney	11111100111111010010-14
Fairchild	01011111111111000111-15
Mungor	00100111101010101111-12
M. E. Barker—	01111111101111111111-18

Cary	00000010000110000001—1
A. Barker	10101111111111111111-18
Butler	10101001011011110110-12
Peckham	00011111010011001111-12
Borland	11111011011111111100-16

F. E. MUNGOR.

MENOMINEE, MICH.—Members of the Menominee Gun Club on April 25, in their club contest, each man shooting at 25 single Blue Rocks, unknown angles, made scores as follows:

J. Leiseu	0011101010 0100100001 10100—10
J. H. Kratz	0100010011 0001100110 01101—11
Juttner	0100000010 0010111001 11100—10
W. Frost	0010001100 0001011011 00000— 8
J. Oehrling	1011111010 0111011001 11011—17
Sanderson	1101111011 1110111111 11111—24
McQueen	0000000000 0001000010 01100— 4
Gibbs	1011111111w— 9
McQueen	1111111110w— 9
Sanderson

MENO.

WARREN, O.—Scores as follows were made on April 25 by members of the Warren Gun Club, each man shooting at 25 single Empire targets, known trap, unknown angles.

N. B. Tyler	0010101000 0001000000 1111101001—11
R. H. Ewalt	1111111111 1111111111 1111111111—25
G. W. Holland	0011000010 0100[illegible]
C. L. Schoouover	1111111001 1011111[illegible]
A. J. Sutcliffe	1100010110 0011111111 1111111111—23
G. H. Joues	0010101101 0111111111 1111111111—23
H. B. Perkins Jr.	0111101101 1111[illegible]
Henry Klee	1111100101 1010000110 1111111111—22

H. B. PERKINS JR.

PUEBLO, COLO.—Scores as given below were made by members of the Pueblo Gun Club on April 25 in their contest for the club's [illegible], at live bird shooting at 15 singles and 5 pairs of targets:

[illegible]	0111110100 00100	10 10 00 10 10 –11
[illegible]	1101100110 01011	10 11 10 11 01—16
[illegible]	1001001000 01001	00 01 00 10 11— 9
[illegible]	1010011011 11111	10 11 11 00 11—18
[illegible]	1111111110 00001	10 11 10 01 01—15
[illegible]	1110011111 11100	10 00 01 11 10—16
[illegible]	0011101000 00110	00 10 00 00 10— 8
[illegible]	1111011111 10111	10 11 00 11 10—19
[illegible]	1111110101 01111	11 10 10 10 10—18
Burrows	1010010001 11110	11 11 10 00 00—13

Geo. W. Williford won the medal.

L. G. MORSE, Secy.

ALEXANDRIA, MINN.—Herewith I hand you the scores made by members of the Alexandria Gun Club at their weekly shoot on May 1, 15 single Blue Rocks per man, American Shooting Association rules:

H. B. Canfield	110110110111110-11	R. J. McNeil	011101111111011-12
D. G. Walker	110111011110100-10	J. E. Lundgren	111101111110011-12
E. P. Wright	110110011010100—8	J. M. Daudna	011111111011101-12
J. H. Van Dyke	011101000000000—5	G. G. S. Campbell	000100011001000—4
Harry Whitcomb	100101110110111-10	G. F. Whitcomb	100010101001001—6
G. B. Ward	111111011101110-12	P. O. Unumb	000000010000111—4
Dr. C. L. Good	000110100101110—7

J. E. LUNDGREN.

WEST PITTSTON, PA.—Scores as follows were made by members of the Nitro Gun Club of this place in their medal shoot, third handicap allowed:

	Birds Shot at
Ensign	25	1111011100 1001010001 11111.	—16
Williamson	25	1110111111 1111011011 11111.	—22
Stroh	25	0101011110 0001111010 00111.	—14
Mahon	30	1100101011 0000111110 1111001011.	—18
Dewey	30	0000100111 0001111101 0000111011.	—15
Stark	35	0110001001 0101100001 0110000101 11000	—14

NITRO.

HASTINGS, NEB.—Members of the Hastings Gun Club in their last trophy contest, each man shooting at 30 single targets with an added bird handicap, made the following scores:

	Birds added
Holzworth	3	1010111111 1100111111 1101000001	—23
Lawson	5	1110110111 1101100111 1100110001	—25
Brown	3	1111111110 1111111011 1111101010	—28
Bernhard	6	0100010010 1001101101 1001011111	—22
Fleming	1	1111110101 1111111101 1111111111	—28

W. S. D.

Answers to Correspondents

We are willing always to answer any question that we can answer, and prescribe for dogs or other animals in these columns, but we can not answer questions or prescribe by mail. In all instances where it is necessary that a sick animal should be prescribed for by mail, we refer the owner to Professor R. J. Withers, No. 627 South Main Street, Los Angeles, Cal., to whom one dollar must be inclosed to pay for his services.

KENNEL

H. D. O., Chicago.—Ans.—(1) We could not undertake to compile such a list for you. (2) He has not sired a field trial winner, nor have any of his get been placed at field trials; but some of them have won show honors, such as Champion Blue Nell (11383) and Kent II (12673), each of which has several firsts to its credit; there are doubtless others, whose names we do not call to mind. (3) Clip off with sharp shears those that stand high enough, and then touch the spots with lunar caustic; apply strong acetic acid to the others once daily.

W. B. H., Columbus, Minn.—Ans.—Chorea, not usually dangerous to life, but always very tedious in yielding to treatment; it may be caused by improper food. Give sterilized milk, with bread and some vegetables such as turnips, cabbage and beets, and sour milk twice or thrice every week. For six consecutive mornings give thirty drops of the fluid extract of pinkroot and senna, and on the seventh day begin to give six drops of Fowler's Solution three times daily.

WARE BROS., Spokane, Wash.—Ans.—(1) The Ohio F. T. Club held its inaugural (and only) trials at Canton, O., in November, 1892; no trials in Ohio in 1891. (2) In the Puppy Stakes two pointer bitches ran, viz., Daisy Beaufort (liver and white) and Nigger Ale (black). In the All-Age Pointer Stakes three bitches ran; they were Lady Beaufort (lemon and white), Primrose (lemon and white) and Gipsey G (color not given).

E. E. P., New Bedford, Mass.—Ans.—For six consecutive mornings give one ounce of castor-oil and ten drops of the fluid extract of cascara segrada. For the ears, wash them clean with warm water and soap, then apply the tincture of iodine; continue the external treatment of fishoil for five days, giving a bath on the seventh. Feed but once daily, then at night.

E. G. E., Athens, O.—Ans.—It is most unreasonable to expect us to pronounce on a puppy we have never seen. If you have bred beagles for five years, as you say, you ought to be able to decide for yourself whether the puppy is a beagle or a mongrel; if the latter, you can recover by process of law.

J. B. D., Booneville, Miss.—Ans.—You are mistaken; no English setter dogs named Monk and Mack have been registered within the last two years. In 1893 Monk of the Dale and Monk of Zion were registered, and last year Monk S was registered; all three by Monk of Furness.

F. F. L., Randolph, N. Y.—Ans.—After a fast of eighteen hours give one and one-half grains of powdered areca nut to each pound weight of the dog, following in one hour with two ounces of castor-oil; repeat treatment in ten days if necessary. Feed but once daily, then at night.

R. W. B., Quincy, Ill.—Ans.—After a fast of eighteen hours give one and one-half grains of powdered areca nut to each pound weight of the dog, following in one hour with two ounces of castor-oil. For the ears follow advice given to E. E. P., New Bedford, Mass.

J. O. W., St. Joseph, Mich.—Ans.—Take sulphur of zinc twelve grains, fluid extract of goldenseal one ounce, rosewater three ounces; mix and apply to the eyes twice daily; also give five grains of the citrate of iron and quinine three times daily.

MRS. C. M., Hammonton, N. J.—Ans.—After a fast of eighteen hours give one and one-half grains of powdered areca nut to each pound weight of the dog, following in one-half hour with two ounces of castor-oil; repeat treatment in ten days.

J. K., Providence, R. I.—Ans.—After a fast of eighteen hours give one and one-half grains of powdered areca nut to each pound weight of the dog, following in one hours with two ounces of castor-oil; feed but once daily, then at night.

BERT, Syracuse, N. Y.—Ans.—After a fast of eighteen hours give one and one-half grains of powdered areca nut to each pound weight of the dog, following in one hour with two ounces of castor-oil. Consult some oculist about the eyes.

J. A. C. M., Ottumwa, Ia.—Follow advice given to F. F. L., Randolph, N. Y., in this issue. Apply the following to the skin for three consecutive days, giving a bath on the fourth: Oil of tar two ounces, cottonseed oil fourteen ounces.

J. R. H., Findlay, O.—Ans.—Nell of Kippen (7091) is by imported Champion Naso of Kippen (5552)—Nympher (4220). Naso of Kippen, by Naso II (E. 8123) out of Champion Maggie (E. 9049). Nympher, by Beaufort (3843) out of Nymph (3088).

M. D. T., Palmyra, Mo.—Ans.—Follow directions given in this issue to Mrs. R. B., Danbury, Conn. It is possible that there is a spasmodic condition of the eyelid known as entropion; if so, surgical interference may be necessary.

O. W. J., Danville, Va.—Ans.—For six consecutive mornings give each puppy six drops of the fluid extract of piukroot and senna. Give one teaspoonspul of the precipitated phosphate of lime to each puppy three times a day.

ST. BERNARD, Columbus, O.—Ans.—Follow advice given in this issue to F. F. L., Randoiph, N. Y. It is prolapsus of the vagina and a surgical operation is necessary; you had better cousult some local veterinarian.

MRS. R. B., Danbury, Conn.—Aus.—(1) Take ten grains of sulphate of zinc, one ounce of fluid extract goldenseal, three ounces of rosewater; mix and apply to the eyes twice daily. (2) No.

W. L. J., Monroe, La.—Ans.—Partial paralysis; sulphate of strychnine is indicated, but we cannot prescribe the dose as you have not given the breed or age.

J. D. F., Chicago.—Ans.—The discharge you mention is lochial and is incidental to parturition, and undoubtedly will pass away without any interference.

A. B., Chicago.—Aus.—Due to overfeeding and too much solid food; feed sterilized milk and bread, and a little well cooked meat chopped fine.

O. E. K., Bad Axe, Mich.—Ans.—Open the boils. Give five grains of the citrate of iron and quinine three times daily.

E. B. W., Worcester, Mass.—(1) Little Wonder (35178) is by Racer Jr (5107) out of Ava W (16924). (2) Not registered.

C. H. B., Binghamton, N. Y.—Aus.—If she proves to be in whelp, procure a foster mother for the puppies.

L. S. E., Sedalia, Mo.—Aus.—Chorea; repeat your treatment of Fowler's Solution.

P. G. K., Chicago.—Ans.—Apply the tincture of iodine to the spots.

J. T., Milwaukee, Wis.—Ans.—Must know age of dog to prescribe

MISCELLANEOUS

J. H. W., Keokuk, Ia.—Where are crown steel and Whitworth fluid steel gun barrels manufactured? Ans.—Crown steel gun barrels are manufactured in Birmingham. Lancaster, Scott or Greener will furnish them to order. Whitworth steel barrels are made by Sir Joseph Whitworth & Co., Manchester, England.

P., South Portsmouth, R. I.—Where, in this country, can I have my gun barrels tested? Ans.—We believe Messrs. Von Lengerke & Detmold, No. 8 Murray Street, N. Y., or Messrs. Cruttenden & Card, Cazenovia, N. Y., are prepared to do this work properly.

DR. W. H. H. JR., Augusta, Ga.—Ans.—You can get the information you wish by addressing J. W. Frazier, 290 Broadway, N. Y.

TRAP

D. B., Piper City, Ill.—In a trap shooting contest for a medal held here some time ago, 25 targets per man, two of the participants tied for medal on 23 each, another participant scored 20 and a third 19. The two who tied for the medal shot off. Does the one that was defeated for the medal have any claim on the other prizes? Ans.—If the shooting was class shooting, the style usually adopted in this country, it does not; but if the three high guns were to win, the man who was shot out for the medal would be entitled to second prize.

Club Elections

CLUB ELECTIONS.—Secretaries and other officers of clubs not having previously done so will confer a favor by sending us the names of all such organizations, with a list of the officers elected for the current year.

AT the annual meeting of the Buckeye Rifle Club, of Winona, Minn., the following were elected officers for 1895: President, Wm. Schellhas; vice-presidents, Michael Georgen and M. Morrison; secretary, Geo. Fischer; treasurer, J. M. Hoffman; janitor, Geo. Fischer; shooting master, John Kuehnhackl; shooting committee, Aug. Case, Geo. Fischer, Wm. Schellhas; directors, Aug. Case, Wm. Schellhas, Julius Gernes, Geo. Hoffman, John Dotterweich.

THE Brainerd (Minn.) Gun Club held its annual meeting recently and elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: President, Fred S. Parker; vice-president, Dr. W. Courtney; secretary, Willis H. Mantor; treasurer, Geo. D. La Bar; field captain, A. E. Veon; directors, A. F. Ferris, W. S. McClenahan and N. McFadden.

THE Cleveland (O.) Gun Club, recently incorporated under the laws of Ohio, has elected the following as officers for the ensuing year: President, S. S. Saffold; vice-president, C. Bodifield; recording secretary, A. M. Allyn; financial secretary, F. H. Wallace; treasurer, F. A. Tamblyn; captain, W. H. Tamblyn.

THE Belt Line Gun Club of Kansas City, Mo., at its annual meeting elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, William Teske; vice-president, Dan Gille; secretary, Ralph Hamilton; treasurer, Andy Kuhn; executive committee, George Knerr Jr., Dan Gille and Andy Kuhn.

AT the recent reorganization of the Paducah (Ky.) Gun Club the following gentlemen were elected officers for the ensuing year: President, Fred Hoyer; vice-president, W. D. Thompson; captain, I. Young; vice-captain, James M. Laug; treasurer, W. E. Cochran; secretary, T. J. Moore.

THE officers of the Parkersburg (W. Va.) Sportsman's Club for the ensuing year are as follows: President, Cramer Taylor; vice-president, J. McCandless; secretary, Brady Rutteucutter; treasurer, Herbert Haddox.

Information Wanted

WILL some brother sportsman who is posted please inform me through the columns of the AMERICAN FIELD where I can get a copy of the existing game law of Arkansas? Also where, in Arkansas, a small party can go, within a day's drive from the railroad, and get fair shooting at deer, bears and wild turkeys, and directions for reaching such a place? The party is not averse to roughing it if they can get some good shooting on Southern big game.

Ironville, O. M. R. F.

C. A. C., De Beque, Colo.—Please send your full name and address to this office; letter for you.

Amusements

SCHILLER THEATER.—The elegant production of "Francesca da Rimini," by Frederick Warde and Louis James, supported by their accomplished company, keeps the Schiller crowded nightly. Not since the days when Lawrence Barrett played Lanciotto in "Francesca," a part magnificently sustained by Frederick Warde, has there been such a splendid production of this celebrated romantic drama. It is presented with a superb cast: Frederick Warde as Lanciotto; Louis James as Beppo Pepe, the jester; Miss Edythe Chapman as the beautiful and unfortunate Francesca; and the accomplished leading man, Gus Lindsley, as the passionate and impetuous lover, Count Paolo. As a stage picture "Francesca da Rimini" is most handsomely put upon the stage. The gardens around the palace, the moonlit scene of the camp and the great cathedral scene, where the marriage of Lanciotto and Francesca is celebrated, all are charmingly illustrated with special scenery. Next week the same.

COLUMBIA THEATER.—Mme. Rejane, the famous Parisian comedienne, from the Vaudeville Theater, Paris, with her own company, in Sardou's Napoleonic drama Mme. Sans-Gêne, in the title role of which she has gained an international reputation that she has fully sustained in America. Not to have seen Mme. Rejaue in her great character of the laundress-Duchess is to have missed a dramatic sensation. Saturday night, "Ma Cousine." Next week, commencing Tuesday, May 14, the accomplished actress, Miss Fanny Davenport, in her great production of Sardou's "Gismonda."

HAYMARKET THEATER.—William Morris, in De Mille's modern play "The Lost Paradise;" a manly impersonation of the workingman in the great fight of Labor vs. Capital. Next week, George Thatcher and Carroll Johnson's Minstrels, a company including the leading lights of minstrelsy abetted by a selection of stars from the ranks of the best vaudeville artists.

CHICAGO OPERA HOUSE.—Continued success of "The Passing Show," Canary & Lederer's great parody. Immense success of McCart's dog and monkey comedians.

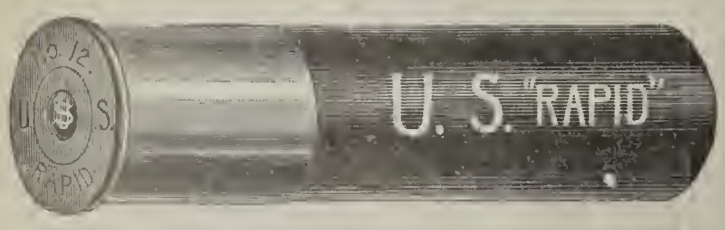
GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—The success of the season. Otis Harlan as "Hot Stuff," in Hoyt's "A Black Sheep." Every night and usual matinees.

MCVICKER'S THEATER.—Last week of the sensational drama "Linsey Woolsey," a story of love and hypnotism. Next week—A great production, superbly mounted, "The Cotton King."

MADISON STREET OPERA HOUSE.—"Seven Wishes and Sultan's Harem;" two big shows daily.

THE LINCOLN.—"The White Squadron."

U. S. RAPID



SHOT SHELL

FOR NITRO POWDERS.

Penetration increased with pattern 15 per cent improved. Results same with every shell. None so regular ever produced before. Head of shell and battery cup one piece of metal. No gas escape, no balling of shot, no upsetting of charge.

AGENTS:
[illegible] York City.
[illegible] ancisco, Cal.

U. S. CARTRIDGE CO., Lowell, Mass.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS

Advertisers are respectfully requested to observe the following rules governing the insertion of advertisements in these columns:

CLASSIFICATION.—Strictly kennel advertisements—those which relate exclusively to dogs and to nothing else—cannot be placed under headings of "For Sale" or "For Salo or Exchange," but are subject to classification only under their proper kennel headings. Whon two or more breeds of dogs are mentioned in one advertisement, it destroys the possibility of giving it a distinctive heading and it is therefore classified under "Misccllaneous." For this reason it is well to advertise each brecd separately.

If stud notices are included in advertisements of dogs for salo the classification given will be "Miscellaneous." Stud uoticcs should be separate and distinct from other advertisements so as not to conflict with proper classification.

The departments of "For Sale" or "For Sale or Exchange" are reserved for advertisements relating in some way to sportsmen's goods or other articles of merchandise.

RATES.—The rate for advertisements under 'Wanted," "For Sale" or "For Sale or Exchange" is 3 cents per word each insertion. The name, address, initials and abbreviations are included and count as words.

The rate for advertisements under kennel headings is 25 cents per line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each additional consecutive insertion. Estimate seven words to a line unless the words are unusually long. If dispiay type is used the rate is $3.50 per inch for the first insertion and $2.50 per inch for each additional consecutive insertion. Special rates are given for displayed advertisements running three months or longer. Schedule will be mailed on application.

Remittances to cover full cost should invariably accompany advertisements. If too much is remitted we will refund you what is overpaid.

Advertisers will favor us greatly by writing their advertisements plainly, using separate sheets of paper. Copy should reach us by Tuesday of each week to insure insertion in that week's issue.

WANTED

Advertisements under this head inserted for Three Cents for each word. The money must be sent with the advertisement. See "Notice to Advertisers."

WANTED—Small well trained squirrel dog, must weigh 15 pouuds or less, house broken and game; state age, experience, price and other particulars; don't care for pedlgree, merit ouly. Address SQUIRREL DOG, care AMERICAN FIELD. 19

WANTED—Posltion as dog trainer or to preserve and raise game; life experience in Europe and America; highest references. PROFESSIONAL, care AMERICAN FIELD, New York office. 19*

WANTED—A pair of greyhounds, dog and bitch, not uuder ten months old; pedigreed. FRED ERB JR., Lafayette, Ind. 21

WANTED—Live pigeons; must he old birds; squabs not wanted. Address JOHN WATSON, Grand Crossing, Ill. 23-21-tf

WANTED—Sportsmen who want an outing to send for pamphlet of Nimrod Hall, Va. Apply MANAGER. 3*

WANTED—A brace of dogs to handle for triais oi 1895-96. J. T. MAYFIELD, Bicknell, Ind. 19

LIVE foxes wauted. Address H. F. WARNEKE, Aiken, S. C. 43-11-tf

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE

Advertisements under this head (excepting Kennel advertisements, which must go under their proper department) inserted for Three Cents for each word. The money must be sent with the advertisement.

HANDSOME w., h. and t. setter dog hy Count Gladstone IV (Count Nobie—Ruby's Girl), Belle of Blue Ridge (Roderigo—Belle of Piedmont), two years old; untrained, but fast, wide ranger and independent hunter; $60 cash, or exchange for lady's high-grade bicycle. SECRETARY, Box 855, Cincinnati, O. 19

FOR SALE — Or exchange; want shotguns, trained setters, pointers, fox, rabbit and coon dogs, fancy pigeons; some fine beagle and fox-hound puppies cheap: inclose stamp, naming wants. FIELES & BRO., Christlaua, Pa. 21

FOR SALE—Or exchange, a fine blue b. and t. bitch, three years old, by Toledo Blade—Ch. Cincinnatus bitch, broken and a good breeder: want cigars, bicycle or a dog puppy equally well hred. A. J. KLOFANDA, Eau Claire, Wis. 20

WINCHESTER repeating shotgun, new, 1893 model; Baker 10-gauge hammer, weight 10¾; Ithaca 12-gauge hammerless, 12-30-14, new; want pneumatic sporting boat, camp outfit or offers. A. B. LITTLE, Coalfield, Ia. 19*

TO EXCHANGE—A $125 grade Lefever hammerless 12-gauge gun for a good foot power screw cutting lathe. V. A. HEMSTREET & BRO., Augusta, Ga. 19*

I WILL EXCHANGE a high-class Count Roderigo dog puppy for a pair of Smith & Wesson .32-caliber pistols. OLD DOMINION, White Post, Va. 21*

MY English setter Nell, broken, aud 12-gauge high grade Lefever gun, almost new; auything but dogs. NILEY PHILLIPS, Maquoketa, Ia. 19

LIVER, white and tan English setter dog, two years old, well broken, for sale or exchange for gold watch. W. H. CRONER, Piqua, O. 43-19-tf

TO EXCHANGE—A new $50 grade Ithaca hammerless gun, 16-gauge, for a good ruffed grouse dog, broken. BOX 186, Arlington, Mass. 19*

SALE OR EXCHANGE—Black cockers, 10 months oid; prefer Winchester repeating shotgun. A. D. JACKSON, Huntsville, Mo. 20*

FOR SALE

Advertisements under this head (excepting Kennel advertisements, which must go under their proper department) inserted for Three Cents for each word. The money must be sent with the advertisement.

LINNDALE STOCK FARM AND GAME PRESERVE—Eggs for hatching from pure Mongolian pheasants, fresh and fertile; golden and silver pheasants, the most beautiful birds living for yards and lawns, $5 per setting; only a limited number to spare; pure brown Leghorns and Plymouth Rock eggs $2 per setting; the only fowls worth keeping; Jersey cattle of the finest strains; fresh cows of superior milk and butter strains always on hand at moderate prices; we keep the Pekin bantams in large numbers; the only artificial mother for pheasant eggs, $1.50. W. L. GARDINER, Norwalk, Ohio. 22

FOR SALE

Advertisements under this head (excepting Kennel advertisements, which must go under their proper department) inserted for Three Cents for each word. The money must be sent with the advertisement.

FOR SALE—Snider hammerless, 10-ga., 8 lbs. 4 oz., 3-inch drop, 14-inch stock, 30-inch barrels this gun has a first-class local reputation as a shooter, is elegautly carved aud good as new; cost uew $175 aud first check for $75 gets it; a snap; reason for selliug, I have too many guns to care for. W. B. LINELL, Box 198, Pontiac, Ill. 43-7-tf

BEAGLES—Have now ready for mailing cabinet size photographs of Ch. Frank Forest, Ch. Roy K, Lee III, Directum, Base, Buckshot, Ch. Loncly, Ch. Lou, Norah K and Trillah at $1 per set; extra large photo "Dinner Hour at Rocklaud Beagle Kenuels," $1 extra: price is cost; beagles for saie. H. L. KREUDER, Nanuet, N. Y. 23

NOTHING like Perfection Mange aud Eczema Cure; keeps your dog's coat in prime condition; not greasy or poisouous; ask your dealer; kills fleas, etc.; 50c. A. G. SOISTMANN, Nicetown, Philadelphia. Pedigree blanks for the asking. 43-12-tf

FOR SALE—Moose head, a fine specimen shot last Fall, well preserved and mounted; spread about 5 feet, 11 and 9 prongs; will sell at a bargain. Dr. H. R. PARKER, 1405 Willson Ave., Cleveland, O. 20

FOR SALE—New Lefever 12-gauge hammerless shotgun, E grade, weight 7 pounds, Damascus barrels; a fine arm; first check for $60 gets it. Address C. F. GAETZER, Box 24, Rock Island, Ill 19*

FOR SALE—New Greener ejector trap gun, 12 30-14½-2¾-1⅝, 7 7-16 pounds, both barrels ful choke. For price, etc., write to DAVID LONGENECKER, 701 Betz Building, Philadelphia, Pa. 19*

PARKER HAMMERLESS, $150 grade, 12-8-14½-30, magnificent trap gun, splendid condition, in leather case; first check for $75 gets both. JAS. D. GLENN, Greensboro, N. C. 19*

FOR SALE—Or exchange, modern marine engines and hoilers, both new and second-hand. Address THATCHER A. PARKER, Terre Haute, Ind. 43-13-tf

TROTTERS, saddle horses, Shetlands, Jersey cattle, bird dogs and fancy poultry; write for catalogue. FAIRVIEW STOCK FARM, Athens, O. 20

VICTOR WHEEL, model 1894, good as new, has not been ridden over forty miles; bargain for cash. FRANK DIEMER, Palmyra, Mo. 19*

FOR SALE — Hammond typewriter, almost uew, $55. Address L. GOODWIN, Room 16, 31 N. Clark St., Chicago. 20

HIGH-CLASS pedigree blanks, 7 generations, bond paper. CHAUTAUQUA KENNELS, Box 914, Chicago. 42-19-tf

FOR SALE—One share Triton Club (Canada); price $125. Address TRITON, Box 555, Washington, D. C. 19*

FOR SALE—Deer, jack-rabbits, prairie dogs, peafowls, squirrels, etc. CHAS. PAYNE, Wichita, Kan. 21*

RED FOXES—Seventeen nice young ones. S. M. HARPER, Mechanicsburg, O. 19*

PEDIGREE BLANKS—15 for 10 cents. REPORTER, Wellsville, N. Y. 41-26-eow-tf

PEDIGREE BLANKS — J. S. C. THOMPSON, Manhattan, Kan. 40-17-tf

WHERE TO GO

Bear, Elk and Moose Hunting

Parties wishing a guide for an outing and hunting expedition in an exceilent hunting country where elk, antelope. deer, bears, moose and mountain sheep abound, which will be guaranteed; also excellent trout fishing with grand mountain scenery, in close proximity to Jackson's Lake and the Grand Tetons, with first-class horses and outfit furnished at reasonable prices. Address JAMES S. SIMPSON, Jackson's Hole, Marysvale, Wyo. 19*

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

ENGLISH SETTERS

ALLIE FURNESS (Monk of Furness—Blade's Dart), in whelp to a Roderigo dog; Ailie is beautifully broken, handsomely marked and is a bench show winner; also Hope's Rhœbe (Gath's Hope—Mai Alcorn), very handsome, fast, wide ranger; should make valuable bitch; prices very low, quality considered. CORINTH KENNEL, Corinth, Miss. 45 17-tf

MAKE cash offer for my grand English setter bitch, Field's Cossette (25348), by Ch. Jean Val Jean—Sheena Van; thoroughly broken by W. W. Titus; a fast, stylish worker, a good looker, excelleut disposition and a great brood bitch, litter sister to Atlanta, the field trial winner; she cost me $150. CHAS. T. FIELD, Harbor, O. 43-16-tf

THE beautiful orange belton bitch Bessie Buckeilew (A. 34519), by Ch. Buckellew—Vic Vic; Bessie is four years old, partly broken aud a superb brood bitch, being the mother of the first and third prize winners in the puppy class at New York bench show 1894; price $25. W. H. McQUOID, Middletown, N. Y. 19

READ THIS—I lost my kennel yards during the fire; as I am crowded with dogs will sell without reserve puppies by Gleam's Sport and Gleam's Pink out of Roderigo, Gladstone's Boy, Toledo Blade and Count Gladstone bitches at half price; also three high-class broken bitches. A. M. YOUNG, Manchester, Tenn. 21

CH. ANTONIO never sired a finer litter than did his son, Bob Antonio (Ch. Antonio—Fanny San Roy), out of Hoosier Nell (Hoosier Ben—Nellie Gray); all evenly marked h., w. and t., whelped March 18, 1895; dogs $15, bitches $10; satisfaction guaranteed. JOHN M. STERLING, 304 Lafayette St., Bridgeport, Conn. 19

FOR SALE—Four dogs and one bitch puppy, b., w. and t., by Schuylkill Nat (Nat Goodwin—Floss P) out of Edgemark's Bisque; write for pedigree. LEON E. LEWIS, Mahanoy City, Pa. 19*

FOR SALE—Cheap, seven English setter puppies, white and liver spotted, bred by Belle and Ben Gladstone. Inquire of C. C. STEIN, Westphalia, Ind. 21*

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

ENGLISH SETTERS

I HAVE for sale setter puppies by Count Roderigo out of Ben Hill, Pani Gladstone. Antonio and Roderigo bitches, ranging from 8 to 12 weeks of age; price $20 for dogs, $15 for bitches, subject to the usual conditions upon which I sell. OLD DOMINION, White Post, Va. 42-25-tf

FOR SALE—Puppies and young dogs by Gladstone's Boy out of my best brood bitches. Also several high-bred brood bitches and broken dogs. Write for what you want. No trouble to answer letters and furnish information. J. SHELLEY HUDSON, Covington, Ky. 42-17-tf

FOR SALE—Six dogs and two bitches, born March 12, sire by Rodrigo, dam a granddaughter of Rodrigo, beautifully marked black and white; dogs $15, bitches $10. For pedigree, etc., address L. S. EDDINS, Sedalia, Mo. 19*

FOR SALE—The English setter Biandon Jim, by Ch. Breeze Gladstone—Bettina Bondhu, she by Gus Bondhu—Bondhu Rural Neva, trained and cheap for cash. Apply to CHAS. W. TWAY, Michigan City, Miss. 20

DERBY PUPPIES—Some fine young Llewellin puppies 13 months old, over distemper, over gunshyness; have been run in the fields every day; just the thing for Derby entries. W. B. WELLS, Chatham, Ont. 20

FOR SALE—Wun Lung's Pride (Wun Lung—White Wings), b. and w. ticked, good record, just the right age to win the All-Age; write for full description; price $200. GEO. H. READ, Washington, Ind. 19*

FOR SALE—Daisy G, my b., w. and t. English setter bitch, thoroughly broken on all game, pedigreed and of the best strain in America to-day; price $25. THOS. BARKLAY, 1887 W. 6th St., Cincinnati, O. 19*

FOR SALE—A stud dog by the great Roderigo; he is 19 months old, or would exchange him for a bitch by Roderigo. For price and particulars address W. B. LINELL, Box 198, Pontiac, Ill. 43-9-tf

FOR SALE — Two English setter puppies, whelped September 13, 1894, sire Ch. Breeze Gladstone—Fanny Noble. W. G. SMITH, Marydell, Md. 21

YOUNG English setters for sale, sired by Ch. Antonio and Ch. Gath's Mark; right age to work this Fall. G. G. WILLIAMSON, Muncie, Ind. 19*

DERBY AGE PUPPIES (two litters), by Count Gladstone IV out of Roderigo bitches, choicest markings. W. E. SMALL, Corinth, Miss. 43-15-tf

FOR SALE—Llewellin puppies, born January 1, b, w. and t and ticked; pedigree. HELEN HAMILTON, Eau Claire, Wis. 19*

WRITE to KING GRAPHIC KENNELS for list of English setters. New Castle, Pa. 43-18-tf

TERRIERS

Fox Terriers,

BEVERWYCK PUNSTER.

"THOROUGHBREDS"

For circular apply to

BEVERWYCK KENNELS

P. O. Box 6, Albany, N. Y.

89-8-52

FOX TERRIERS—Imported prize winner and stud dog Holster (A. K. C. S. B. 29311); several brood bitches, bitches in whelp and puppies combining the blood of Ch. Dominie, Stipendiary, Ch. New Forest, etc., cheap to clear. BANBURY KENNELS, 410 E St. N. E., Washington, D. C. 43-18-tf

FOR SALE—Litter wirehaired foxterrier puppies by Cribbage—Hill Hurst Pansy (Brittle—Petition), whelped December 26; dogs $35, bitches $25; all registered A. K. C. and well marked. DR. JAMES FERRIS BELT, Wilmington, Del. 43-18-tf

FOX TERRIER brood bitches and puppies for sale, the property of Messrs. L. & W. Rutherfurd. For stud cards, etc., address DONALD MUNRO, Manager, Allamuchy, Warren Co., N. J. 39 7-tf

WIRE-HAIRED fox terriers and black and tan terriers, best breeding; mature stock and puppies. H. T. FOOTE (Rochelle Kennels), Box 666, New Rochelle, N. Y. 43-18-tf

FOR SALE—Irish terriers, prize winners, stud dogs, brood bitches and young stock. ANGLO-AMERICAN KENNELS, Toou & Thomas, 4 Dearborn St., Salem, Mass. 19

FOR SALE—Three litters pure white bull terrier puppies of best possible breeding; panic prices; write me. H. FRED CHURCH, Taunton, Mass. 19*

FOR SALE—Several first-class bred fox terriers, including three bitches in whelp. MAD RIVER FOX TERRIER KENNELS, Springfield, O. 19

FOR SALE—Cheap, two well-bred fox terriers, dog and bitch, not related. RUSTIC KENNELS, 1830 State St., Chicago. 19

FOR SALE—20 fox terrier bitch puppies cheap to close them out. HOTFOOT KENNELS, Decorah, Iowa. 19*

BULL TERRIERS—Stud dogs, brood bitches and puppies. F. L. DEVER, 316 Illinois Ave., Peoria, Ill. 43-17-tf

FOR SALE—Skye terriers, $10, for Christmas; Yorkshires in February. SEEBACH, Peru, Ill. 43-19-eow-tf

FOX TERRIERS—Stud dogs, brood bitches and puppies. AUDUBON KENNEL, Lockport, Ill. 22*

FOR SALE—Skye terriers $10, for Christmas; Yorkshires in February. SEEBACH, Peru, Ill. tf

BLACK AND TAN, Irish and fox terriers. F. H. HOYT, Sharon, Pa. 43-9-tf

WOLFHOUNDS

RUSSIAN WOLFHOUNDS—A very choice litter of puppies sired by Ch. Argoss, now ready to ship. TERRA COTTA KENNELS, Toronto, Can. 19

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

ST. BERNARDS

FOR SALE—

DUKE OF LINCOLN (34142)

The best St. Bernard living, winner of 51 first and special prizes, two firsts Crystal Palace, Bristol, Liverpool, Harlaeus, first Leeds, Preston, Newcastle, Rochdale, Halifax, York, Darlington, Grimsby, Thirsk, Durham, Bingley, Goole, Pittsburg, Boston, etc.; sire of Duke of Lincoln F, winner of 10 firsts and specials; also Lady Rosebery and others. EDWARD BOOTH, 107 W. 37th St., New York. 19

FOR SALE—Some grand big puppies by Ch. Melrose, the famous sire, and out of splendid dams; also the famous prize wiuning bitches Alta Berna, Columbia Venus, by Ch. Keeper, Lady Alton II, by Saladin; all winners, and several young ones equal to the best living; some bred to that winning sire Melrose; a grand young stud dog for sale. A. C. SHALLENBERGER, Alma, Neb. 22

GRAND St. Bernard puppies for sale; three bitches two months old, sired by the great prize winner Ch. Melrose, dam Lady Findern, that grand daughter of Sir Bedivere; they are full sisters to Duke Wadsworth, the winning dog puppy at the late Chicago show; these puppies are sure to make winners. THOS. R. HARTLEY, Toulon, Ill. 19

$25 WILL BUY a registered St. Bernard dog 18 months old, weighs 165 pounds, nicely marked and well broken, from H. M. ORLADY, Durand, Wis. 20*

ST. BERNARD PUPPIES by Ch. Melrose—Queen Vera; quality none better, well marked. I. W. DAVIES, 3022 Vine Grove, St. Louis, Mo. 20

FOR SALE—Bitches in whelp to our famous Lawrence Garza; also young stud dog. ILLINOIS ST. BERNARD KENNELS, Streator, Ill. 21*

POODLES

MEADOWMERE KENNELS

MILO (30101)
Champion of America.

Southampton, L. I., N. Y., breeders and importers of

French Poodles

(Black curly coated only); first prize winners New York, Boston, Chicago, Philadelphia, 1893-4.

A GRAND LOT OF DOGS FOR SALE

For catalogues price lists and stud cards apply to NEW YORK CITY AGENCY, 13 William St., Room 1006.

FRENCH POODLES—Black curly coated; four beautiful litters of puppies for sale from imported stock and prize winners at Detroit, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and Louisville, 1894; also two males and two females, six months; handsome specimens, and one brown female two years old, winner 3rd prize New York, 1894 CLARENCE S. WELDY, Tamaqua, Pa. 20*

POINTERS

FOR SALE—I still have a brace of Strideaway—Hops II pointer puppies, born January 4; great Derbys for next year; Hops was a sister to Rip Rap; I sold the other litter at $100 each; will sell these at $50 each as I have no room for them. P. T. MADISON, Indianapolis, Ind. 43-11-tf

AT $10 each, two as finely bred poiuters as live, 9 months old, liver and white, just right to break, by Beppo III (7832)—Belle of Ossian (31895): field and bench winners on both sides. C. A. PAETZEL, Hope, Ind. 43-18-tf

LITTLE NED—Pearl's Dot dog aud bitch, one year old: are remarkable youngsters; I can recommend these puppies to anyoue wanting a Derby entry for this year. GEO. E. GRAY, Appleton, Minn. 19

YOUNG POINTER DOG, trained, retriever, price $40; make offer. Address W. G. PARKER, 7 Madison St., Memphis, Tenn. 19*

FOR SALE—Cheap, English mastiff, pointer, setter, water spaniel and coon hound puppies. W. H. CRONER, Piqua, O. 43-19-tf

WRITE to KING GRAPHIC KENNELS for list of pointers. New Castle, Pa. 43-18 tf

BEAGLES

WHEN plugs are as good as trotters aud muskrat fur as good as seal; when calico is as good as silk and other papers equal the FIELD; when curs are as good as thoroughbreds, and this you will not allow, then other strains of beagles may be as good as the Glenrose strains are now. Several superb bitches of these strains in whelp to our celebrated studs; also young stock for sale cheap. GLENROSE BEAGLE KENNELS, Orisnd, Mc. 43-19 tf

I WISH to let breeders of beagles know that I will take and train beagles for field trials this Fall; also heagles boarded and hunted at very reasonable rates. BATAVIA BEAGLE KENNELS, Scott P. O., Wis. 19*

SEVERAL finely bred beagles, broken and partly broken, cheap to reduce stock. NORWOOD BEAGLE KENNEL, Norwood, O. 19*

BEAGLE—Do you want one? Full pedigree, well trained. E. G. EATON, Athens, O. 19*

BLOODHOUNDS

GENUINE imported stock, no better blood in America; Imp. Buccaneer, wiuner in Englaud and America, for sale; Jack Shepard, by Belhus—Rosemary, winner of 21 first prizes in the stud. Inclose stamp for photo and prices. [illegible] KENNELS, Lexington, Ky.

FOR SALE—Bloodhouuds, [illegible] males 2½ years old, $50 each; one fe[illegible] old, $75; all are well trained to trail [illegible] guaranteed. THOS. BARKLAY, 1887 W. [illegible] Cincinnati, O. 1

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

SPANIELS

[illegible] young puppies and young stud [illegible] several youug brood bitches, prize winners, in whelp to Ch. Black Duke and other noted sires. GEORGE DOUGLAS, Woodstock, Ontario. 24

FOR SALE—One brown cocker spaniel, large size, bunted some on partridge and bas retrieved over one tbousand snipe and plover tbis Spring. FRED ERB JR., Box 74, Lafayettc, Ind. 21

COCKER SPANIELS—Special sale of young stock and brood bitcbes; prices low. HANDSOME BROOK KENNEL, Frankliu, N. Y. 42-12-tf

COCKER SPANIEL PUPPIES from Coonie by Prince Obo, Black Beauty. Brock by Imp. Brock, and Dora. CHAS. J. BROOK, Atkinson, Neb. 19*

CHAMPION strain cockers, stud dogs, puppies, bitches, almost given away; stamp. REHAM KENNELS, Omaha, Neb. 43-19-tf

IRISH SETTERS

Young Stock of Finest Breeding in the World. Most Successful on Bench and in Field. Write for prices. G. W. Hamilton, Mgr., Centreville, Kan.

IRISH SETTER PUPPIES for sale, by Ch. Kildare (champion Irish setter dog of America and sire of Queen Vic, champion Irish setter bitch of America), stud fee $25. Also English setter and Chesapeake Bay puppies of the finest strains. Send for catalogue containing photos of celebrated stud dogs and bitches. OAK GROVE KENNELS, Moodus, Conn. tf

FOR SALE—Handsome dark red Irish setter bitch, 18 months old, H.C. at late New York sbow, Ch. Kildare—Young Juno; only $15; bargain for someone; will be in season soon. G. LANGRAN, 138 Nepperham Ave., Yonkers, N. Y. 19*

GREAT DANES

GREAT DANES—Ch. Major McKinley's puppies, out of Jessie L. whelped April 14; they are beauties. F. L. JENNINGS, River Forest, Ill. 20*

BITCH, 4 years, color blue, white collar, blaze and four feet; house brokeu, fine watch dog. W. D. DAVIES, Box L, Columbus, O. 19*

COLLIES

COLLIES AT $10—Puppies from Champ Christopher, Ch. Metchley Wouder strain, also older stock. J. L. LINCOLN, Union Club, Chicago. 43-tf

AT unheard of low prices, collie dogs and puppies, by Roy Trefoil (32231), son of Ch Maney Trefoil. W. A. WICKHAM, Tipton, Ia. 19*

FOXHOUNDS

FARM-RAISED fox and rabbit dogs, guaranteed stayers or money refunded. J. H. MILLER, Christiana, Pa. 20*

PURE Goodman foxhounds for sale at all times. BOURBON KENNELS, North Middletown, Ky. 40-20-tf

GREYHOUNDS

A VERY choice litter of puppies (Ch. Gem of the Season—Chlg. Wild Rose), now ready to ship. TERRA COTTA KENNELS, Toronto, Canada. 19

MISCELLANEOUS

St. Bernard Puppies

Three litters of biue bloods for sale, quality the finest in America.

DOGS IN THE STUD—Alton Jr, Altoneer, Melrose King, Jim Blaine.

MELROSE KENNELS,
E. H. Moore, MELROSE, MASS. 43-15-tf

DOGS! DOGS! DOGS!

Less than panic prices. If you want to get a first-class dog of the following breeds cheap write us and we will give you a bargain:

Mastiffs, St. Bernards, Newfoundlauds, bull, fox, Skye, Scotch and Yorkshire terriers, setters, pointers, beagles and pugs. Toy black and tan terriers a specialty and a grand lot of collies cheap. In fact for a first-class dog of any breed you cannot do better than with us.

N. B.—A grand iot of rabbit dogs on hand.

CEDAR KENNELS,
42-17-tf 135 S. 8th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

SELLING OUT!

For sale, the dogs belonging to the well-known Seacroft Kennels, including champions, wolfhounds and fox terriers, stud dogs, bitcbes in whelp and young stock; wiuners and fit for the keenest company; also two Scotch terrier brood bitches and some great collies by Ch Southport Perfection. Write for illustrated catalogue, inclosing two stamps. THOS. W. TURNER, Manager, Essex, Mass. 19

We have a fine litter of

Collie Puppies

For sale by Ch. Christopher (21675), out of Dorcas (27756), sbe by Ch. Wellesbourne Charlie; also some fine

Irish Terriers

By our uew stud dog, Johu Briggs (35584). CHRISTOPHER and WELLESBOURNE CHARLIE at stud. CHESTNUT HILL KENNELS, Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, Pa.

WANTED!

[illegible] class broken and [illegible] u get what they [illegible] eady.

[illegible], London, Ont.

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

DOGS FOR SALE.

If yon want to bny a dog of any kind write for prices to

J. HOPE,
32-20-52t 29 N. 9th St., Phila., Pa.

FOR SALE—A setter bitch puppy by Diomed—Blue Ridge Belle, whelped September 5, 1894, color white, lemon ticked, dark eyes and nose, very strong, quick aud promising; also dog and bitcb pointer puppies by Strideaway—Beulab III, wbelped Marcb 18, 1895; very bandsome puppies, liver and white, only four in litter. Address JOHN S. WISE, 44 Broad St., New York. 21

DOGS FOR SALE—St. Bernards, mastiffs, Newfoundlands, pointers, setters, spaniels, pugs, all kinds of terriers. I make a specialty of game pit and show bull terriers aud Yorkshire terriers; dogs and puppies of tbe above on hand at prices to suit tbe times; satisfaction and safe dellvery guaranteed. EXCHANGE KENNELS, office 2312 Walnut St., Philadelpbia, Pa. 44-6

FOR SALE—A beautiful dog and bitcb, February 28, black and white, combiuing Lady Margaret, Duke of Hessen, King of Kent and Hops; two dogs January 6, and tbree dogs and one bitcb January 19, by Rod H; Stanch George. Cid and St. Blaise in tbe stud, very low; all for sale, pointers and setters. J. R. PURCELL, Gainesville, Va. 43-16-tf

ONE fine English pointer dog, one fine Irish setter dog, oue English setter dog, all well trained to point, back, charge and retrieve; price $20 each; two well trained cocker spaniels for $5 each; two well trained coon bounds, dog and bitch, $25 for tbe pair. STENOGRAPHER, Box 44, Washingtonville, Pa. 19

BARGAINS—Handsome fox terrier bitch in wbelp, $10; Irish setter bitch, third New York 1894, $10; one 5, another 3 montbs old, $5 each; pug dog puppy, $5; all for $30; no faults, must sell. FRANK M. THOMAS, Catskill, N. Y. 18*

IRISH and English setter puppies for sale; breeding unsurpassed; price, dog or bitch, $10 eacb. C. NOONAN, Blue Earth City, Minn. 19*

TRAINED dogs on bears, coons, rabbits. Also English bloodhounds, man trailers. GREENDALE KENNEL, Kensington, Ohio. 42-22-tf

COUPLE of hunting dogs for sale, thoroughly broken, fine retrievers. FRED ERB JR., Lafayette, Ind. 21

DOG TRAINING

WANTED—Sportsmen contemplating having dogs to train should write for my terms before placing them; the most complete training kennel in the United States; all work guaranteed. CHAS. W. TWAY, Micbigan City, Miss. 20

K. 9 KENNELS—Pointers and setters, educated for practical field work; kennels located in a game country, and but 2½ hours from Philadelphia; twenty years' experience; best reference. W. G. SMITH, Marydel, Md. 43-26*

TRAINING—I will start for Northern Minnesota in July; can take two more dogs to work on chickens. J. T. MAYFIELD, Bicknell, Ind. 20

GEO. BATTISON—Professional bench show handler. Dogs boarded and put in conditlon for shows. Youngstown, Ohio. tf

BOARDING

DOGS BOARDED—Yard broken, best facilities for care, best care guaranteed; beagles preferred; good hunting, plenty of game. Address J. J. DEMAREST, Mont Vale, N. J. 22

STUD DOGS

AT STUD, $35.—CH. DUKE OF KENT II

Field trial winner; only poiuter in U. S. winning title of champion in one year, 1893. First challenge, 1st field trial class; also special for best sporting dog in show, Louisville, 1894.

AT STUD, $35—IMP. MOLTON BANNER

One of the best pointers living; has beaten his sire, Saddleback, champion of England, Sandford Graphic and Sandford Bang, England's best. Puppies—Dogs $25; bitches $15; from the best of field trial and bench show blood bitches. GLEN ROCK KENNELS, 2 N. Market St., Boston, Mass.

Westminster Kennel Club.

KING OF KENT

In the Stud. Fee $50.

ALSO

Sandford Druid

FEE $35.

Apply to F. O. DeLUZE, Treasurer, 18 S. William St., New York.

WILLOWDALE KENNELS,
CROWN POINT, IND.

ALAN-A-DALE—A. K. C. No. 28135, collie dog, by Ch. The Squire—Stonehurst Lassie, by Ch. Roslyn Dandy, a magnificent dog and image of his sire; V.H.C. Chicago 1894. See comment AMERICAN FIELD. Alan is a born cattle dog.

DANDY DAVY (A. K. C. No. 36097), by Moray—Clover, the handsomest and most intelligent collie I ever bred; sable with white collar and ruff.

TACONY, smooth-coated fox terrier (A. K. C. 28136), white with tan marked head; inbred Prince Result; game as a pebbie.

I will sell at reasonable price Moray, prize winner; Don Cameron and other A. K. C. collies; also book orders for young dogs. Address WILL J. DAVIS, Columbia Theater, Chicago. 39-4-tf

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

Rodfield

Black, wbite aud tan Englisb setter, winner of both tbe U. S. F. T. Club's All-Age Setter Stakes at Bickneli, Ind., aud West Point, Miss., 1894 aud 1895. Catalog free.

STUD FEE $50.
P. T. MADISON,
INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

COUNT BEAUFORT

Moss Wind'em—Primrose, bred by and recently imported from Mr. R. Ll. Purceli Llewellin, Shrewsbury, Engiand. Here is a chance for setter breeders to obtain tbe pure Count Noble biood, Moss Wind'em being a ilter brotber to tbat noted sire of field triai winners. This is an opportunity that owners of Gladstone and Druid—Ruby bitches should not lose sight of. Fee $25. Count Beaufort is a handsome, well built blue belton and is thoroughly field broken, keen nose and wide range, having been well shot over by Mr. Liewelliin. For pedigree, etc., address W. STEWART DIFFENDERFFER, 113 Commerce St., Baltimore, Md. 44-8

Imported Irisb setter at stud.

Chlg. Finglas

The most successful Irish setter sire, field trial and dog show winuer combined liviug; winner of 35 firsts aud specials; his get have won 57 firsts and specials, 25 seconds, 11 thirds at leading bench shows and field trials. Circulars free. W. L. WASHINGTON, Box 203, New Castle, Pa. 43-17-eow-tf

AT STUD ELDRED KENNEL Fee $50

CH. ANTONIO
BRIGHTON TOBE
FEE $35.

Winuer of All-Age Stake Manitoba and International trials 1894. Stud cards, shippiug directions and circular of C. H. PHELPS JR., 13 Dock St., Philadelphia. 43-17-eow-tf

WIRE-HAIRED FOX TERRIERS
BROWN FRENCH POODLES.

For stud cards, list of produce stakes ($175 annually offered in prizes), price lists and full particulars, apply to HILL HURST KENNELS, Wellesley, Mass. 45-7

At Stud. Fee $25.

WHYTE B.

I offer the services of this highly bred setter; he is by Roderigo—Fiorence Gladstone. He won the A.-A. Stake in the Southern trials, beating such dogs as Antevolo, Novelist, Engene I, Tremont, Bettye S and Bob Cooper. I candidly believe Whyte B has more endurance than any dog living, and is a combined field trial and shooting dog; his equal would be hard to find. H. S. BEVAN, Somervilie, Tenn.

AT STUD—The celebrated pointer

KING BANG

FEE $15

Will serve a limited number of bitches this season. Pedigree and particulars on application.

C. C. HESS, Riverdale, Ill. 20*

AT STUD,
ST. BERNARDS and COCKER SPANIELS

Four St. Bernards and eight cocker spaniels including Ch. Middy at $15 stud fee. Send stamp for illustrated catalogue.

SWISS MOUNTAIN KENNELS, Germantown Philadelphia, Pa.

COCKER SPANIEL
CH. BLACK DUKE

Stud $25. Bitches for breeding purposes admitted free of duty in Canada. GEO. DOUGLAS, Woodstock, Ont. 23

IMP. ALBERT'S RANGER

The handsomest English setter in America; fee $25; return expressage paid on bitches. Photo 20 cents. Stud cards. WARWICK KENNELS, Bridgeport, Conn. 43-13

AT STUD—Smooth fox terriers, Hiliside Royal (Starden's King—Hillside Freda); fee to approved bitches, $10; Raby Prince (Raby Pallisy—Richmond Jesmine); fee to approved bitches, $10. WAWASET KENNELS, Wilmington, Del. 44-5

AT STUD—Col. Kent (31054), by King of Kent—Bang's Mollie, half brother of Rip Rap, Strideaway and Kent Elgin; a No. 1 fielder; $15. Address SAM A. NOFTZGER, Proprietor Eel River Pointer Kenuels, North Manchester, Ind. 43-8-tf

AT STUD—The promising young Gordon setter, Dwight Don (32376); winner first at Detroit, second Chicago, first at Denver, 1895; fee $25. L. P. HIGGINS, Agent, Station X, Chicago. 19*

RODERIGO is dead, but I have his brother Cassio (22600), winner of four field trials; fee $25; try him. W. F. VAN BUSKIRK, Odell, Ill. 43-15-tf

RED COCKERS—Champ. Red Jacket and Red Roland at stud; red puppies. BRANT COCKER KENNELS, Brantford, Ont. 43-14-tf

CHESAPEAKE MARK (35914); fee $10. L. K. MASON, Hastings, Ia. 43-15-tf

MATERIALS AND FIXTURES

Dr. Nelson N. Lefler,
VETERINARIAN,
Geneseo, Livingston Co., New York.

Proprietor of tbe Genesee Valley Poiuter Kennels; special attention given to canine diseases; advice by mail, $1. A few finely bred pointer puppies for sale. Write for prices before you buy elsewhere. 19*

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

The final choice of many kennels and individuals after trying all others, as attested by hundreds of unsolicited letters.

AUSTIN & GRAVES,
116 COMMERCIAL ST.,
BOSTON, MASS.

HEALTH FOR ANIMALS

Of the many skin diseases that animals are subject to there are none which cannot be brought under control and speedily cured by the use of

GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP

Its perfect reliability in all forms of

MANGE

From which dogs suffer has been attested by innumerable testimoulals from the highest keunel authorities and the grateful acknowledgment of thousands of dog owners.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS. SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

"OUR DOGS"

The Popular English Doggy Journal.

Published every Saturday. Price One Penny.

Contains all the latest news and the best information relating to doggy subjects. It is written in chatty style; is contributed to by the best known writers; is well illustrated; enjoys a large circulation, and is a splendid medium for the sale or purchase of dogs. Subscriptiou 8s. 6d per year post free to any part of America. SPECIMEN COPIES FREE.

Our Dogs Publishing Co., Ltd.,
10 Gore St., Piccadilly, Manchester, Eng.

WHITMAN KENNEL SUPPLY CO.
418 WABASH AVE., CHICAGO.

PEDIGREES COMPILED

And printed in first-class style, and at reasonable rates.

COPYRIGHT PEDIGREE BLANKS.

Pictures for framing of CHAMPION PAUL GLADSTONE, DASH III AND COUNTESS MAY; GLADSTONE AND PEEP O' DAY; CROXTETH AND SENSATION; EMPEROR FRED, and others.

WHITMAN'S UNIQUE DOG REMEDIES.
SPRATTS DOG FOODS AND MEDICINES.
AUSTIN'S DOG FOODS.
SERGEANT'S CONDITION PILLS.

L. F. WHITMAN,
53-26-tf Manager.

NEW BOOK ON DOG DISEASES
And How to Feed

Mailed FREE to any address by the author.

H. CLAY GLOVER, D.V.S., 1293 Broadway, N. Y

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

KENNEL

Advertisements inserted under this head for 25 cents a line for the first insertion, and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. If displayed, $3.50 per inch for first, and $2.50 for each subsequent insertion.

INAUGURAL TRIALS OF THE
CONTINENTAL FIELD TRIAL CLUB

TO BE RUN ON CHICKENS AT

Morris, Manitoba, beginning with the Derby, Monday, September 2, 1895.

$700 IN PURSES---$350 for the Derby and $350 for the All-Age Stakes

Breeds to run together, $125 to first, $100 to second, $75 to third, $50 to fourth. Derby entries close May 15, 1895, with $10 first forfeit, which must accompany nominations; $5 second forfeit, payable July 15, 1895; $5 to start.

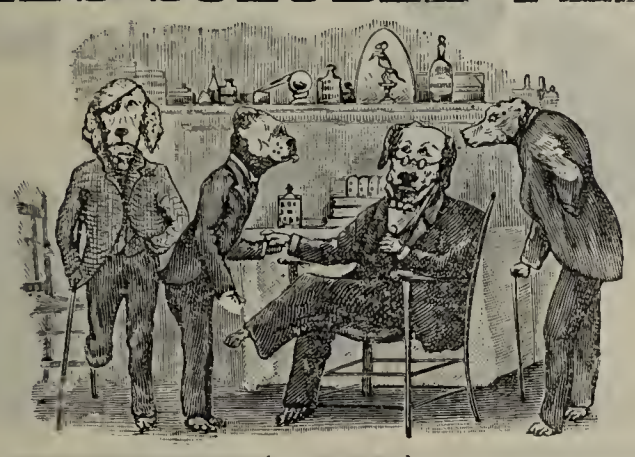
For entry blanks, rules, etc., apply to

P. T. MADISON, Secy.-Treas., Lock Box 4, Indianapolis, Ind.

LITTLE'S SOLUBLE PHENYLE

LITTLE'S PRIZE MEDAL PHENYLE DOG SOAP

Cleanses the skin and improves the coat.



Superior to any now before the public. Beautifies, cleanses, and gives a healthy glow to the skin.

LITTLE'S SANITARY PHENYLE DOG SOAP.

(COPYRIGHTED.)

DOCTOR—There is no doubt, my friends, but that you are suffering from a most severe case of Mange. My advice is that you procure at once LITTLE'S SOLUBLE PHENYLE, a sure cure, which will also keep your kennels nice and sweet.

PATIENTS (all together)—We will send to our druggist for it at once.

Used by the principal kennels and bench shows in America and Europe. No keeper of valuable dogs, horses, etc, should be without it. Pronounced by the highest authorities the best and most effective disinfectant in the market. For full particulars of its various uses, send for pamphlet to MORRIS LITTLE & SON, 175 to 177 N. 10th Street, Brooklyn, E. D., N. Y.

SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL DERBY

OF THE

EASTERN FIELD TRIAL CLUB

$600 IN CASH PURSES.

FIRST PRIZE $300, SECOND $200, THIRD $100.

First forfeit of $10 must accompany nominations, second forfeit of $10 payable September 1, 1895, and $10 additional to start.

Entries Close Positively May 15, 1895.

For rules, blanks, etc., apply to

WASHINGTON A. COSTER, Secretary,
1249 Flatbush Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

JUDGES—Messrs. Simon C. Bradley, N. Wallace and W. S. Bell.

Watch advertisement of other stakes later. 19

R. J. WITHERS, M. D.,

VETERINARY SURGEON,

627 So. Main St., LOS ANGELES, CAL.

Treatment of dogs a specialty. Good hospital accommodations. Advice by mail $1.

McGILL UNIVERSITY, MONTREAL

Faculty of Comparative Medicine and Veterinary Science (late Montreal Veterinary College). Calendars sent on application, giving full information to intending students. Lectures commence first Wednesday in October in each year. Apply to CHARLES McEACHRAN, D. V. S., Registrar, Veterinary College, 3 Union Avenue, Montreal, Canada. 37-1-tf

---

THE HOLLENBECK HAMMERLESS GUN,

The Simplest, Strongest and Most Durable Gun Made.

Bored especially for Nitro Powder and fully guaranteed when using same.

We make 12-ga. as light as 6½ pounds. We make 10-ga. as light as 7 pounds. The above cut represents our No. 1 grade. Write for circular and prices

SYRACUSE ARMS CO., SYRACUSE, N. Y.

Sole Agents, HERMANN BOKER & CO., 101-103 Duane St., New York.

THE AMERICAN FIELD

GUN CLUB SCORE BOOK

Surpasses anything of its kind ever issued. It has, in addition to 150 score sheets, correct and complete copies of American Shooting Association Rules for Live Bird and Inanimate Target Shooting, also Hurlingham and Long Island Rules, which will be found very convenient for ready reference. Further, it contains a proper form of Constitution and By-Laws (that may be used as a guide in organizing a club), also a set of Field and Club House Rules. Carbon paper for manifolding purposes is inclosed in each book. It is so bound that when in use the top cover may be thrown back and under the book, making a solid base on which to write.

Owing to the immense advantage we have in compiling and pushing the sale of this book we are able to offer it at only $1.00 per copy, but at this price our margin of profit is too small to admit of discounts on large lots or to dealers. Bear in mind it contains 150 score sheets, besides additional matter as detailed above. Size of book, 9x12 inches. Sent postpaid on receipt of price.

THE AMERICAN FIELD PUB. CO.,

CHICAGO.

THE DAVIS HAMMERLESS

Has Best of Workmanship and Best of Material Throughout.

Shooting Qualities Unsurpassed in all Grades. Price Lists and Descriptive Circulars of Hammer and Hammerless Guns sent on application.

N. R. DAVIS & SONS, - Freetown, Mass.

WHERE MAY I FIND GOOD SPORT?

IN Kansas

PRAIRIE CHICKENS, quails, jack-rabbits and ducks abound. The Arkansas Valley and its tributaries afford most satisfactory hunting grounds. In southeastern Kansas there is a fair supply of bass and catfish.

IN Colorado

HERE the fishing rod should be unpacked. Enough trout to keep your rod and line busy may be found in hundreds of mountain streams along the Colorado Midland line. Away from the railroad larger game exists—bears, rocky mountain sheep, elk, blacktail deer, etc.

IN Indian Territory

WILD TURKEYS, prairie chickens, quails and deer are the favorite game in Oklahoma and Indian Territory. A party of three to ten, with guide, will find great sport thirty miles or so from railroad lines.

IN Texas

ANYWHERE on the Gulf Coast several days can be enjoyably spent angling for the deep-sea fish that swarm the Gulf waters. You cast the line; the fish do the rest. Wild fowl are also prevalent in the marshes.

IN New Mexico

UP in the mountains are clear streams where the possible catch of trout may exceed your biggest story—which is saying a good deal. Enough wild game in the wooded wilderness to satisfy the most ardent hunter.

Address G. T. NICHOLSON, G. P. A., A. T. & S. F. R. R., Monadnock Building, Chicago, for detailed information respecting any one or more of the above localities.

ALL ALONG THE SANTA FE ROUTE.

Modern American Pistols and Revolvers.

By A. C. GOULD ("RALPH GREENWOOD").

An account of the development of pistols and revolvers in America; description of the varieties manufactured; manner of shooting them; work accomplished with these arms; departments of pistol and revolver shooting; impressions formed by studying these arms, and rules governing pistol and revolver competitions. Profusely illustrated 222 pages, cloth bound.

PRICE $1.50.

Address AMERICAN FIELD PUB. CO., Chicago. Ill.

TROUT, BASS, PIKE,
PICKEREL, PERCH, DUCKS,
GEESE, SNIPE, CHICKENS;

Are all to be found contiguous to the line of

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

—SEND FOR—

Natural Game Preserves of North America.

CHAS. S. FEE,

General Pass. and Ticket Agt., ST. PAUL.

PLOVER, ANTELOPE, BEAR,
MOUNTAIN LIONS, CARIBOU, DEER,
WHITE GOATS, ROCKY MTN. SHEEP

Chicago & Alton R.R.

AMERICA'S MOST POPULAR RAILROAD.

PERFECT PASSENGER SERVICE.

The direct, best and only rock-ballasted dustless line between
CHICAGO AND KANSAS CITY,
CHICAGO AND ST. LOUIS,
ST. LOUIS AND KANSAS CITY.

Through Pullman Service Every Day From

CHICAGO TO COLORADO

N, Gen'l Passenger and Ticket Agent, Chicago, Illinois.

The Home of the Tarpon
AND
Ducks by the Million
AT
Aransas and Corpus Christi Bays
REACHED BY
San Antonio and Aransas Pass Ry.

Twelve tarpon caught in one day, November 4, 1894, by Messrs. Bull, Lewis and Wallis of Racine, Wis., aggregating over 800 pounds.
Tarpon season March 15 to December 1; duck shooting December to March.
Send for maps, etc. Address
E. J. MARTIN, Gen. Pass. Agt., San Antonio Tex

In answering advertisements please mention that you saw the advertisement in the AMERICAN FIELD.

G. S. CHAPIN. J. J. GORE. J. S. CARTER
CHAPIN & GORE,
WHOLESALE DEALERS IN FINE WHISKIES
IMPORTED
Wines, Liquors and Cigars.
73 & 75 Monroe St., Chicago

Branch Stores: 152 22nd Street, 121 Clark Street, and 73 South Halsted Street, Chicago.
Branch Store: 30 and 32 N. Illinois Street, Indianapolis, Ind.
Paris Branch: No. 26 Boulevard Haussmann, Paris. 16-3-1y

HUNTING GROUNDS

ALONG THE LINE OF

The Southern Railway

The Southern Railway is endeavoring to furnish every facility to sportsmen to reach its territory, especially Virginia and the Carolinas, where game is abundant and game laws lenient.
Most convenient schedules are operated from all junction points.
For additional information apply o

S. H. HARDWICK,
Ass't Gen. Pass. Agt., Atlanta, Ga.
C. A. BENSCOTER.
Ass't Gen. Pass. Agt., Knoxville, Tenn.
W. A. TURK,
Gen. Pass. Agt., Washington, D. C.
R. D. CARPENTER.
Gen. Agt., 271 Broadway, New York
HENRY HIDEN,
Commercial Agt., 10 Rookery, Chicago.
L. S. BROWN,
Gen. Agt., 1300 Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, D. C.

In answering advertisements, please mention that you saw the advertisement in the AMERICAN FIELD

WE have decided to meet the requirements of sportsmen for a medium priced, reliable Ejector and are now ready to accept orders for all of our grades of guns fitted with Automatic Shel Ejector.

Guaranteed to give satisfaction.

Lefever Automatic Ejector Gun at a price within the reach of every Sportsman.

Onr new Ejector Movement has
ONLY TWO PIECES,
ONE IN FRAME, ONE IN HAMMER.

At the last convention of New York State Sportsmen's Association, Lefever Guns with Nitro Powders won three highest averages. We could fill the columns of this paper with records of its triumphs at trap and in field. Send for Catalogue.

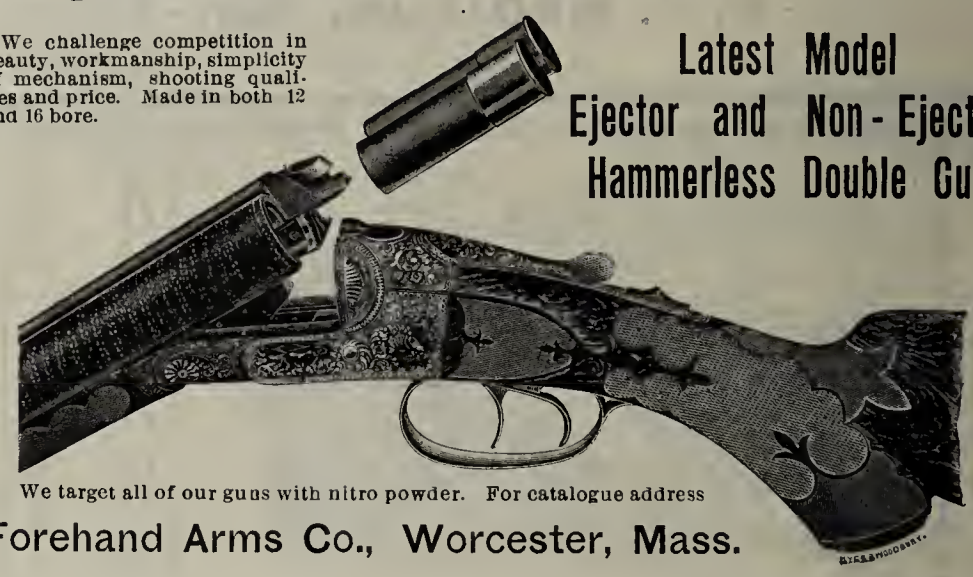
LEFEVER ARMS CO., Syracuse, N. Y.

Mention AMERICAN FIELD.

FOREHAND ARMS CO.'S

We challenge competition in beauty, workmanship, simplicity of mechanism, shooting qualities and price. Made in both 12 and 16 bore.

Latest Model Ejector and Non-Ejector Hammerless Double Gun



We target all of our guns with nitro powder. For catalogue address

Forehand Arms Co., Worcester, Mass.

Having purchased the entire stock of guns of the

WILKESBARRE GUN COMPANY

We offer them at the following low prices:

	List	Our Price
Hammer Gun, fine twist barrels	$35.00	$17.50
Hammerless Gun, fine twist barrels	50.00	31.50
Hammerless Gun, Damascus barrels	60.00	35.00

Bored for nitro powders, latest model, 12-gauge, 7 to 8 pounds. EVERY GUN GUARANTEED. If you need a good gun cheap order one of these at once.

SCHOVERLING, DALY & GALES, 302 Broadway, New York.

THE AMATEUR TRAINER

FORCE SYSTEM WITHOUT THE WHIP.

BY ED. F. HABERLEIN (a practical trainer of thirty years' experience).

SECOND EDITION. Revised and illustrated with full-page portraits of typical bird dogs.

Has just been published and should be in the hands of every owner of a bird dog, whether trained or untrained.

"The Amateur Trainer" is a plain, practical and concise yet thorough guide in the art of trainiug, handling and the correcting of faults of the bird dog subservient to the gun afield. The manual has been written especially for those who may possess a puppy but cannot afford the high charges of professional trainers to have the same broken for field work. By following the instructions plainly given in the book, every shooter possessed of a little common sense and patience can train his own dog to perfection.

If you have a broken dog who is faulty in some respects, you will find ample advice in the manual how to overcome any fault thoroughly. If your dog does not retrieve, or if so, is hard mouthed, and unsteady to point and shot chases rabbits, etc., etc., is whipshy, watershy or gunshy, etc., then don't fail to get this book and eradicate the annoyances.

The book is written in a comprehensible, popular form, devoid of long-spun theories, and is based upon practical experience througbout. Each chapter alone on the correction of faults of matured dogs is fully worth the price of the book to anyone owning a dog so afflicted. Dogs of any age can be taught to retrieve readily—soft mouthed and in perfect style—by following the plain instructions given therein.

To the novice, who may aspire to perfect his own dog in the usefulness afield, it will prove an invaluable aid, giving clear instructions from the beginning with a puppy up to the training of the bird dog to a high degree.

It is not INTENDED NOR PROMISED to give a large volume of PASTIME READING MATTER, but the publisher guarantees the book to contain the most practical information on the subject, in a plain, concise form, for the price. It contains 81 pages and has paper cover. Price, paper cover, $1; cloth, $1.50.

Address

THE AMERICAN FIELD PUB. CO.,

CHICAGO, ILL.

THE AMERICAN FIELD

THE SPORTSMAN'S JOURNAL.

Vol. XLIII—No. 20. NEW YORK AND CHICAGO, SATURDAY, MAY. 18, 1895 PRICE, Ten Cents. $5.00 Per Year.

Published by the American Field Publishing Co.

TERMS.—Five dollars a year; two dollars and seventy-five cents for six months; Club rates, three or more four dollars a year each; strictly in advance.

REMITTANCES.—Money should be sent by American Express Co.'s Money Order, Postal Order, Draft on Chicago, or by Registered Letter.

NEWS DEALERS.—The Trade supplied by the American and Western News Companies.

COMMUNICATIONS.—Manuscript intended for publication should be written on one side of the paper only, and must be accompanied by the writer's name and address, not necessarily for publication, but as a private guarantee of good faith, and all communications, upon any subject, or for any department, must be addressed,

N. ROWE.
Editor and Manager American Field,
245 and 247 State St., Chicago, Ill.

EASTERN OFFICE.—19 Park Place, New York.

Game and Shooting

FIXTURES

Sportsmen's Exposition, Madison Square Garden, New York City May 13, 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18.

Illinois State Sportsmen's Association's twenty-first annual convention, Chicago, June 4.

North Dakota State Sportsmen's Association's first annual convention, Fargo, June 14.

A ROMANTIC OUTING—NO. 2

(Illustrated).

BY C. E. C.

Mrs.—— was to remain at home this day for some reason probably to look out for our future comfort, for, young as she was, a better housekeeper would be hard to find. We started fully equipped, each with a strong trolling line, salmon spoon, and gaff. Each had a canoe with an Indian to paddle. We were taken about a mile down the lake, when we threw out our spoons and the day's work began. I had not gone more than a hundred yards when I had a strike. I held on a few seconds and then had to give line, as the salmon fought desperately. I commenced to gradually bring my fish toward the canoe, but every now and then I had to ease up a little, as the finny beauty would run to the right or left, dive down or make a leap clear of the water in its desperate attempt to get free. It was a noble struggle of a noble fish. At last I managed to get it near the canoe, when the Indian, with great dexterity, placed the gaff under him and landed him in the canoe. This fish weighed close to fifteen pounds. How did I weigh it? Why, with one of its scales, of course.

We kept on fishing till I had no less than ten salmon ranging from six to fifteen pounds each. The others had equally good luck, and a finer lot of fish I never beheld, and a pleasanter day's sport no man need wish for. A slight accident happened near the close of the day that dampened the ardor and George's clothes. He having an extra large fish on his line got rattled, and thinking he was in a skiff suddenly jumped up, when in an instant he and the Indian were both struggling in the cold water of the lake. The canoe had shot from under them quicker than thought. The Indian swam to the canoe, pushed it to George, they then kicked it to shore, emptied it out, and the Indian returned and picked up George's salmon, his spoon and line having disappeared. He was then paddled home, and after a change of clothes was none the worse for his impromptu bath, though I must in all candor say that George does not care much for water. He says "if water will rot boots, what must be the effect on the lining of a man's stomach?"

As we paddled around that day we saw large numbers of ducks, so we decided to give them a try the next day. Again a most enjoyable evening was spent, and after discussing the plans for the morning our host sent word to the Indians to be in readiness before daylight, and we got out our guns, cartridges, etc., and had everything in readiness for the morning. I noticed the ducks flying steadily toward evening over a hill on which were a few burned trees. I inquired of my friend where they were going, and was informed there was a lake a short distance on the other side of the hill where the ducks roosted. I right then and there decided to be on that hilltop in time for the flight next morning. An hour before daylight, after a light breakfast, we were all off to different stations as before, each in a canoe. My Indian was a perfect guide, and just as the day was breaking I was on the top of that hill. It was a wearisome tramp, and I was quite out of wind when I reached the summit. It was not long before the advance guard of the flight passed over quite well within range. I pulled down three of their number, much to the delight of Joe, my Indian, who had never seen ducks shot on the wing before. The flight soon became steady, and hundreds of birds passed over, and every contingent was made to pay tribute. They flew quite low, never having been shot at, and the barrels of my gun grew very hot from my rapid firing. At last the flight was over, and on counting the ducks which Joe retrieved or picked up, I found I had over fifty. I forget the exact number. It was the greatest morning's flight shooting I ever had before or since. Joe had to make three trips to carry the ducks to the canoe. When we arrived Mrs. —— was on the shore and congratulated me on my success, and added:

"I will wager anything you like that you have shot more birds than the other three combined."

"It is a wager if I may name the stakes," I replied.

"You may name the stakes," she blushingly answered, for I think she read a something in my eye.

"Well, I will wager twenty sheets of music against a"—I saw she was distressed, so I changed what I was going to say to "a place in your affectionate heart; a small place, you know, only second to M—, of course," I said.

She looked so relieved that I felt well repaid for withholding what I intended saying. She quickly replied:

"The odds are largely in my favor, as you now and always have held a large, perhaps too large, place in my regard; but of course it is a sisterly regard," she added.

Soon the other canoes came straggling in. The Englishman had over twenty, George had twenty-five, and our host, who with his usual generosity had taken the poorest stand, had just twelve. My score was topped by two or three birds, and Mrs. —— lost her bet and I won nothing but what I well knew I already possessed. It certainly was a great morning's work, but the ducks were in countless numbers.

We decided to do nothing more that day in the way of shooting, so our host thought a visit to the Indian encampment would be a diversion and interesting, though, as our host said, there was nothing picturesque or attractive in the mode of life the Indians lead. So after dinner we started on foot through the forest to the Indian village. Gus did not care much about going; neither did George; but from entirely different reasons. Gus was no lover of Indians or squaws. George was no lover of the Indian either, but I do not know what might have happened in the case of one of Mrs. ——'s handsome young squaws had he remained.

"It won't do, George, old boy, so just come along," I quietly whispered in his ear.

With his good-natured laugh he said: "All right, old man, I only wanted to rest, you know."

After an hour's tramp we arrived at the encampment, which consisted of about a dozen wigwams, a number of Indians, squaws and dirty children; in fact all were dirty and were lounging around. One and all seemed delighted at seeing our host and his wife, but looked askance at us, but did not show any unfriendly signs as our guides were there, and Joe, taking me by the hand, took me to his lodge and said to his squaw, a hideous looking creature:

"This my white man; him good to Joe; him great shot; kills the duck on the fly."

She grunted something, and came near me. My, I thought, if she embraces me, what will I do? I thought of Mephisto's reply to Martha, in Faust—"some other day"—and backed off. I gave her some small silver and she smiled; but such a smile. It looked for all the world like a pumpkin cut by a boy on halloween to resemble a human face. It has taken many "a smile" to wash that smile partially from my memory. George said it looked like a rift in a cloud. Madame la Princess came over and led me around and introduced me to all the men as her friend. They nearly all understood English in a kind of a way. After a while we departed and tramped home.

We were all pretty well tired out and were rejoiced to again get beneath the hospitable roof of our friends. After supper and a pipe we repaired to the parlor, where, as usual, we spent a most enjoyable evening.

The next day being the Sabbath we rested from our labor, and well do I remember it for it was a glorious Autumn day, still and quiet. All nature seemed at peace with nature's God. The trees had donned their dress of crimson and gold; the waters of the lake were calm, and reflected the overhanging branches as in a mirror; the sky was cloudless and the stillness was only broken by the cry of a loon that sailed gracefully on the bosom of the lake. A little bird hopped from limb to limb of a tree near by, chirping out its little notes of praise; a fish would jump from its element as if to show that it too had life to thank the creator for. As I reclined on the bank of the lake I thought of Bryant's lines:

"Go forth under the open sky and list to nature's teachings."

"A penny for your thoughts!" said a voice, and turning my head to see who it was, there stood our host.

"Do you forget, you ungallant disciple of Nimrod, that you promised Mary to accompany her in a ramble through the forest in quest of ferns?" said my friend.

"My gracious, old man; I plead guilty, and will throw myself on the mercy of Mrs. ——," I replied.

"Oh, the court will not give you a heavy sentence, as this is your first offense," answered a silvery voice from the veranda that surrounds the house, on which, basket in hand, stood Mrs. —— looking lovely, as usual.

I dropped my cap and thanked "the court" for its leniency, and we at once started in quest of ferns; and what a joyous, happy time we had. Mrs. ——, who was a good botanist, selected the ferns and I did the digging with a small trowel. We soon had our basket full and then sat down and talked over old times, when we were young, for you see we were quite aged, at that time, I being on the wrong side of 24, and Mrs. —— my junior by two or three years. After a couple of hours we returned to the house and the plants were placed in the fernery. After supper we talked over our arrangements for a big day after the deer on the morrow; we expected good sport as the dogs had been tied up for two days, and the deer that had been frightened out would have returned.

On awaking the next morning the sound that greeted my ears was the rain drops beating against my window. I arose and looked out, and I saw at once there was to be no hunting that day; nor did we stir from the house for four days, for it rained incessantly that time, so we were imprisoned. Still, the boys managed to live through it. We had plenty of books to read and card-playing, singing and music to make the time pass pleasantly were indulged in.

On Friday morning the sun was shining gloriously, and after breakfast a start was made. No limit was to be placed on us this day; so if fortune favored us we intended to get in a big day's work and make up for lost time. Our Indians paddled us down to where we last shot, now nearly a week before. We had the four hounds this time and landed fully half a mile farther down stream than we did before. Mrs. ——, who accompanied us, was left with a trusted old Indian to watch the lake at this point. George was placed on the first runway; the Englishman next, quite a distance further on, while my friend and I proceeded through the forest till we arrived at the burned hills as they are called, fire having burned the timber off. I climbed the highest point and there took my station, Mr. —— remaining at the edge of the wood. The Indians had taken the hounds fully half a mile to our north. I had made little or no noise in climbing the hill, and as I cautiously looked over the summit I was surprised at seeing a doe and two fawns standing quite unconscious of danger about two hundred yards away, as I judged, on the other side, down the incline. I very quietly dropped down flat and, cocking my rifle, laid it on the ground, and sighting it for two hundred yards took deliberate aim at the doe and pressed the trigger. To my surprise the doe did not move. I threw out the shell and again took aim, this time lower, as I had forgotten I was shooting down-hill and had overshat her. As the rifle cracked she made a bound clear over a fallen tree and was lost to sight. I had another cartridge in in a second, and as the fawns started I fired, and one came to the ground, tried to get up but failed, and dropped on its side. I had broken its back, having by a streak of good luck not overshot her. Before I could get another cartridge into the gun the second fawn had disappeared I walked down to cut the throat of my fawn, and on arriving was delighted to find the doe stone dead on the other side of the fallen tree. I shook hands with myself and considered I was in great luck—two deer dead and not a sound of the hounds yet. However, I had not long to wait before I heard old Bugler send out one of his clarion notes; another dog joined in, and within a minute the four were in full cry. I concealed myself behind [illegible] and decided to await results. They had [illegible] before they got a check, but they soon got on [illegible] and the forest and hills ring. I knew the deer [illegible] and the dogs were driving in our direction. As the music drew nearer I was keenly alive; I could hear my own heart hammering away; but soon they bore away into the forest and I knew someone else would make the game bite the dust. At last, after waiting fifteen or twenty minutes I heard a rifle crack well in the interior and knew that either the Englishman or George had killed, as the hounds ceased their cry in about five minutes.

I then filled my pipe, stretched myself out and prepared for a long wait. In less than fifteen minutes, to my surprise, I heard the dogs again quite a distance to the east. In a short time I lost the sounds, but before long was gladdened by catching the music again. The deer was certainly on the outside, on the hills. The music came closer and closer, when, on looking over to the opposite hill, I spied a fine buck loping along. I could see his every move. He would run a distance, then stop and listen. He was running parallel with me, fully five or six hundred yards away. I said to myself: "Well, old fellow, I will give you a salute just for luck;" so lifting my sights to five hundred yards, I sighted coarse and let go, but missed. I then emptied the magazine of my rifle, but could not get the range, and the buck passed out of sight without a hair touched. The dogs came on, and it was interesting to watch how true they followed the scent. They would occasionally get a momentary check on the rocky hill, but only for a moment, when one dog would "pick up the trail" and away the others would follow. It was a very pretty sight and I fully enjoyed it. The buck led the dogs clear out of hearing, but only for a few minutes. He circled and came back, and I again saw him leading right toward where I knew our host was standing. On he came, when all of a sudden I heard his death knell ring out as M—'s rifle cracked. The hounds came on ringing forth their enchanting (to a hunter's ears) music till they reached my friend, and then ceased.

I walked down the mountain side and entered the bush where I knew my friend was stationed. I soon heard voices, and soon came M— and an Indian and the four hounds came up. There lay a noble buck that weighed over two hundred pounds. My friend asked what I had been blazing away at, and on learning that I had killed the doe and fawn, he was delighted; but laughed at my fusillade at the buck.

"Why, how far do you think it is over to the hill where you fired at the buck?" he inquired.

"I sighted five hundred yards," replied I

"Why, my dear fellow, it is nearer seven hundred," he laughingly answered.

"Well, what now?" I asked.

"Joe tells me he saw the track of moose, last week, near what is known as Trout Creek, and I was just thinking we might possibly get a shot by going there. It is nearly two mi es, but if you are game we will go," replied my friend.

"Game, I guess I am; I have never seen a live moose [illegible] my wife's fortune, if I had one, to [illegible]."

[illegible] and chains on the dogs and M— said [illegible] m, and while Joe and I went well [illegible] follow, but would not interfere [illegible] led off and I trudged on behind. We walked what I thought was half a dozen miles, when he stopped and said in very broken English:

"No noise; moose here;" pointing to a track as big as that of an ox, that I had not seen at all.

He moved very cautiously, stepping as softly as a cat. I imitated him as well as I could. We had crept along on the moose's trail for five or six hundred yards, the Indian well in advance, when he suddenly stopped and held up his hand. He knelt behind a fallen tree. I approached and knelt too. Not a word was spoken. He pointed his finger, and on looking cautiously over the tree, there stood a magnificent bull moose. He looked as big as an elephant to me, and such a pair of antlers! I admit I was excited for a moment, but my usual self control and coolness soon returned and I began to measure the distance with my eyes. I calculated he was two hundred yards off, and sighted my rifle for that distance. The moose the meanwhile stood perfectly unconscious of danger; the wind was fortunately in my favor. He was standing side to me, his head turned away. I rested my rifle on the log and drew a fine bead on a spot behind his shoulder, with a view of finding his heart. I drew in my breath, clinched my rifle firmly, pressed the trigger and at the crack of my gun the moose fell to his knees, rose and fell again. As he was rising a second time I gave him another shot and broke his front leg. He went to earth again. I then pumped three more balls into him as he was struggling to get up. We now ran toward him, and by the time we reached him he was just about dead. I think I was the proudest man on earth, and felt two inches taller at least. My! what an enormous brute; such a head and antlers! I had seen mooseheads in the shop of our taxidermist, but nothing to compare with this one, I thought. The Indian grunted "good"—that was all. I would not have resented it had he at that moment embraced me and kissed me on both cheeks. In less than fifteen minutes my friend M— came up. His was no grunted "good," but a hearty grasp of the hand and "My dear old boy, I am awfully pleased; shake again."

"How will we ever get him out?" I inquired, "for I am bound to take that head home as a trophy worthy of our trip."

"Leave that to me; I will see you get it all right. The Indians will bring out everything, as usual. You see the the creek over there. Well, they will come down the lake and up this creek and bring him up in sections in their canoes," answered M—.

"Let us be going," said M—; "we will let the dogs go after a while and they will no doubt strike the track of a deer, and probably some of the party will get a shot."

We did not follow the trail we came in on, but bore more toward the lake, and when about half a mile had been traversed M— slipped the dogs and they, with noses on the ground, began to hunt. They seemed to get scent and worked up wind, when all of a sudden Trumpeter gave a yelp. In a second or two another opened up. We stood still and listened. In another few seconds Bugler sent out one of his blasts; then another and another, and the four dogs were off, going very slowly; but before long they had the scent all right and ran as if they intended business. They drove right from us, and toward the lake, and out of our hearing; nor did we hear them for a long time. We had walked all the way back to the bush we had left before we heard them, and in a few moments more there came the report of a shot in the direction of the lake. It proved to be on the lake, and that Mrs. —— had killed the buck in the water, he having slipped in quite near her. She getting in her canoe, the Indian paddled her up to the deer and she shot it at short range.

A ROMANTIC OUTING—"I DROPPED MY RIFLE AND CLIMBED A TREE"

While my friend and I had been miles off after the moose, a very exciting event had taken place in the forest we had left. The story, as George told it on our visiting his stand, was thus: he was sitting, having a smoke, when he heard a shot; then the most unearthly shouts coming from the direction of the Englishmen's quarters. He at once cocked his rifle, and started to investigate. When he got nearer he could hear: "Help, help! George, George, for God's sake come to my rescue; help, help." George said his own hair stood on end, he not knowing the nature of the danger he was about to encounter; but he pushed on, and as he drew near he paused, and on looking through the bush he saw a monstrous black bear tearing around the trunk of a small tree, uttering fierce growls. He was not more than fifty yards off, so getting down on his knee, he leveled his rifle and let go. The bear tumbled over, but soon regained its feet, when he gave him another shot and settled him. On drawing near he discovered the Englishman about fifteen feet up the tree the bear had been walking around. "Thank God you have come; he would have killed me sure," came from Gus. "Come down," demanded George. "Are you sure he is dead; perfectly sure?" gasped Gus. "Dead as a hammer," George replied. Gus climbed down, and on reaching the ground grasped George's hand and said: "You have saved my life; what will I ever do to repay you? That awful animal would surely have killed me had you not bravely come to my rescue." "How did it all happen?" asked George. "You see, I saw the bear coming through the trees and fired at him, but wounded him only; he gave a great roar and came straight for me, and I dropped my rifle and quickly climbed that tree. He nearly had me, but I got up too quick for him. I nearly dropped out of the tree, I was so frightened. Oh, if I ever get out of this fearful forest you will never get me in it again." The bear was there to testify to the truth, and a magnificent specimen he was. His skin can be seen to this day on the floor of George's library.

While we were talking we suddenly heard the hounds again, and, quickly separating, we took up positions. Gus, however, would not leave George. The deer led the dogs a merry chase up and down the forest for over an hour, when I spied him coming straight for me. I kept perfectly still. On he came. I let him get to within thirty yards when I "bleated" and he stopped. I was ready, and, quickly sighting, I pressed the trigger and the lordly buck made one tremendous bound and fell dead. My friend, who was not more than one hundred yards off, shouted:

"By Jove, old man, this is your day out."

"Luck only. You know the old saying, 'the devil is good to his own,'" I laughingly replied.

The hounds soon came up and we collared them. As it was getting late we decided to make for the lake. Joe, the Indian, and the Indian that had paddled George came to us in a short time, and after hanging the buck up we all started for the shore and struck it within a short distance of where Mrs. —— was. The Indians brought the canoes and we were paddled home, all very tired, but very proud of the great day we had had. I had to recount my moose hunt, and George graphically told the story of the bear for Mrs. ——'s edification. Nothing but a good dinner was now wanting to fill our cup of happiness to overflowing. This we soon had, and I assure my readers that ample justice was done the good things provided.

Our time for departure was fast drawing near; only three or four days more remained; so I suggested another duck shoot. It was agreed on for the morrow; so before the break of day I was on the mountain top, the rest scattered to different points of vantage. I nearly equa ed my score of the previous time, the others doing quite as well. All told, in the two days' shooting, we had close on to two hundred ducks. We got home about 9 o'clock, and, after a hearty breakfast and a rest, we decided to spend the remainder of the day partridge shooting. These noble birds were in great abundance, and we all made large bags. When we arrived home, to our surprise, the Indians had every one of our deer, the bear and the moose before the door, they having been engaged all day in bringing them out. The moose's head was cut off close to the shoulder. He was skinned and the meat given to the Indians. After a very jolly night we retired with the understanding we were to have our last hunt after deer on the morrow. But "man proposes and God disposes," for on arising next morning there was another deluge of rain, and it rained steadily for two days and then conveniently "let up," for our day for departure was at hand. On that day the Indians were employed to convey our game to the landing and carry it all to the hut where we had left our horses. On the return of the Indians we were informed the horses and wagon had arrived, but, as it was now 3 o'clock p. m., our host persuaded us to stay until morning and then make an early start. We did so, and spent one more delightful evening, though I at least felt sad at leaving my kind friend and his charming wife.

Next morning, after an early breakfast we said good bye to Mrs. ——. Mr.—— was to accompany us and "see the last of us," as he put it. As I grasped the hand of Mrs. —— she said:

"Can't you manage to come out and live with us? We would be such a happy family, and you are so fond of hunting, too."

"Better as is is, my dear girl; I will come out whenever I can manage it;" and for twenty years I have kept my word; but, instead of driving out in a wagon, I ride in a railroad car and visit a magnificent stone structure with several hundred acres of cleared land surrounding it; a home fit for a king; and a king of good fellows does occupy the throne, and his consort, the queen of fair women, presides over the household. A prosperous village is within a short drive of the place. The whole face of the country has changed, and a school and churches occupy the places where formerly wigwams stood.

At last we were off, and in time reached the landing. We tramped through the forest to the Indian's hut where our conveyance was. We loaded the wagon with all it could carry, but could not take half our deer, so we arranged to send back for the rest, which we did. We each grasped the hand of our kind and generous host, and said farewell, and getting on the load, the horses started; and with a cheer for our late host, we started on our tedious return journey. Without accident we at last reached Kingston, tired, but in the best of health and spirits. "Boys," said our Englishman as he alighted, "you must come down to my rooms at the B. A. to-night, for I intend making a thanksgiving offering for my safe return, and for my escape from that blooming bear."

Kingston, Ont.

AMICUS' REMARKABLE STORY

CONNERSVILLE, IND.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—I think there is no doubt that all who have used the Wilkesbarre gun will pronounce the zeal displayed by Amicus in the issue of your paper of November 10 last, in going to the length he does in commending the unquestioned shooting qualities of this gun, very commendable in him.

The premises stated by Amicus as the basis for drawing his conclusions, to say the least, seem rather peculiar One, though, is inclined to be charitable and state that he is not certain that Amicus was in dead earnest. An avenue of escape should be allowed him. Undoubtedly the thing for him to do is to openly acknowledge that his statement concerning the performance of Mr. Cooper was not made seriously; that he did not expect it to be believed by anyone. However, I am half way inclined to think that he was in earnest, and if I have been caught by the bait that he has thrown out, I will frankly acknowledge I am too credulous and am the only person of all the readers of the AMERICAN FIELD who has stood ready to believe that Amicus stated an incident that he expected credence would be given to. While I know nothing about Amicus or the development of the bumps on his cranium, still I am inclined to believe that he intended the Cooper shooting incident to be swallowed without question by all the readers of the AMERICAN FIELD.

It will be recalled that he stated that while three persons were hunting over dogs, the dogs pointed; the three men took their positions with the understanding that the man at the right, middle and left, was to shoot at the birds of corresponding rise; that the birds all flushed at the same time, that Cooper waited and caught two crossing birds on his right with his first barrel; that he then extracted the empty case (for the Wilkesbarre company does not make an ejector gun), inserted a loaded case, caught two birds crossing to the left of all the shooters at forty-five to fifty yards with the reloaded barrel, and killed still a fifth bird with his third barrel. If Amicus were stating what might occur in the realm of accident, one would have no right to question him. If it were such a phenomenon as shooting at a squirrel in a tree, and killing it and a rabbit on the ground with one bullet from a rifle, under the circumstances, the writer would have no right to question; but the principal part of this episode is governed by human possibility. No man ever accidentally threw a ball two hundred yards, nor made a standing jump, on a level, of thirty feet; neither can any man, however much of an expert, reload his gun and kill a quail before it has flown a distance of twenty to twenty-five yards. Let us figure a moment. When Mr. Cooper made his first shot the birds must have been at least twenty-five yards away. I think it safe to assume that no man could reload his gun under these circumstances, though, with but one shell, short of three seconds. In three seconds a quail will fly at least a hundred yards. This would put a straightaway bird one hundred and twenty-five yards from Cooper; an angling bird would be about as far, but Amicus says he caught the two crossing quails with his second shot at from forty-five to fifty yards. How this would be the writer cannot comprehend. It is still more difficult to comprehend how Mr. Cooper still killed a fifth bird with his third shot. The only possible explanation is, that the birds flew in a circle and that when Mr. Cooper made his second shot the birds had made one full circuit about him and were starting on their second turn, and that the fifth bird was well under way on making its second circuit. If Amicus gives this explanation then I am done and have "wasted sweetness on the desert air." I will admit I am taking a risk—almost a fearful risk—of his coming back at me with this explanation, but as he gave no hint of any occurrence of this kind, in fact, I think, has indicated clearly that the second pair of birds were simply left-quarterers, I think I will not be pronounced bold for taking the risk of this explanation being flung back in my teeth. I must admit that notwithstanding the risk would seem entirely justifiable, I shall feel greatly humiliated should Amicus make this explanation.

Somebody has suggested that criticisms of the above character will discourage amateur writers from putting their thoughts and experiences into print, and that thereby readers of the AMERICAN FIELD will be deprived of much real pleasure. A satisfactory answer to this proposition ought to be that writers should not take the risk of making statements that nobody will believe. I have heard many readers of the AMERICAN FIELD express disgust occasionally at some such writer as Amicus. Almo has been talked more about in this respect than any other writer; besides he has been beautifully called down many times; and W. B. Leffingwell, for his long distance goose shooting as related in his "Wanderings in Dakota," has been turned over more than once. It would seem to be due to the writers themselves that somebody should call their incidents in question; if not, they are liable to go on winding up and unwinding forever, and each time they tell an unfounded incident, they are encouraged to tell a bigger one next time. We have a noted Nimrod right here in our midst who only a short time ago told about walking out with what we all know is his plug shooting dog, one Sunday, a few weeks ago, and putting up four coveys of quails in a territory where no one believes this year there is actually more than one, and of his dog in a half hour making thirty-seven points. If this noted Nimrod would put these incidents on paper, somebody, no doubt, at long distance, would call him down. As it is, he only relates these things personally, and as he is about six feet four inches high and weighs over two hundred pounds, it is not considered safe to question him at short range. The consequence is he imagines that everybody believes his stories and each one he tells gives him encouragement to the next time tell a bigger one.

I have waited for someone else to throw himself into the breach, but concluding there are none so bold, I have hesitatingly taken upon myself the unpleasant duty.

HYATT L. FROST.

NITRO POWDERS

GLADSTONE, MICH.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—For the last ten years I have been a constant reader of the AMERICAN FIELD, that greatest of all papers for sportsmen, and I do not think that in all that time I have missed a single copy. While the paper each week contains a world of interesting reading on all matters entertaining to sportsmen, I have read with more than usual interest the articles contributed from time to time on the subject of nitro powders. So many meritorious products in the powder line have recently been introduced that it has been quite an undertaking to try them all. I do not think, however, that any have escaped me, as I have used all the nitros with varying success.

My attention was recently called to Walsrode powder, and I was urged by a gentleman from Grand Rapids, Mich., to give it a trial. He could not say enough in its praise, consequently I ordered a one-pound can of the powder, and a special measure for 27 grains. When I saw the small quantity of powder represented by this measure, I confess I was somewhat skeptical as to its being able to propel a charge of 1⅛ ounces of shot with the necessary force to do good work. A trial, however, soon convinced me that this quantity of Walsrode would not only shoot as strong as 42 grains of any other powder which I had ever used, but that it would beat it out of sight. I made the test for penetration in the following manner: Distance, 30 yards; size of shot, No. 7 chilled. Number of pages penetrated in a book, counting those only which were penetrated with six pellets, Walsrode, 136 pages; nitro No. 1, 92 pages; nitro No. 2, 87 pages. The Walsrode load was 27 grains; the other two makes of powder, which I have designated as No. 1 and No. 2, were each 42-grain loads.

After this I put up a box, the bottom of which was made of seven-sixteenth-inch basswood, and at a distance of 40 yards the 27-grain load of Walsrode put No. 7 chilled shot clear through it. I have had no chance to try it at any living thing except crows, which I think will answer all purposes for toughness and wildness, and I was surprised to see the way this little load would knock them over at 50 yards, and even further, with No. 7 shot. When hit they seemed to die in the air and drop as though struck by lightning.

Another thing I noticed with this powder is, that it does not seem to be affected by wind as much as other powders, for the last time our club shot [illegible] were shooting right into a stiff wind, and [illegible] to bother the other boys, and had a very [illegible] their scores, those who were using [illegible] as good scores as ever.

In conclusion I would say that I think it will pay all shooters to give this powder a trial, and I am sure its excellent killing powers, coupled with cleanness, almost no recoil, cheapness, etc., will recommend it if not absolutely the best, at least as good as any nitro which has thus far been produced. I shoot a Burgess gun, and I would also like to say that it is all right, works nicely is a close, hard shooter and an all-around good gun. This gun and Walsrode powder make a combination that should satisfy the most fastidious.

R. H. MERTZ.

GUNS

ROCKFORD, ILL.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—How the 12-gauge gun does catch it in your issue of May 4, from "Plain John." Anyone would think, after reading his communication, that an honest shooter was a rara avis; and, to be candid, if all 10-gauge men have the same ideas of honesty as "Plain John," they are indeed queer people.

If "Plain John's" theory in regard to the caliber of guns is correct what is the necessity for having a gun of larger caliber than a 20-bore? Why do market-shooters prefer an 8-gauge if they are inferior to a small bore gun? "Plain John" seems to me to be very inconsistent in his remarks in regard to choosing a gun. He advises a man to shoot only the gun that makes the best pattern, regardless of caliber, but confesses that he is so wedded to his 10-gauge that pattern makes no difference with him. If there is a 12-gauge gun in the Rockford Gun Club that will not make a better pattern than "Plain John's" 10-gauge, when only 1¼ ounces of shot is used, I would be pleased to have him show it up.

At home it is well known that "Plain John" is averse to placing himself on a level with the rest of the boys, in the shooting line, as in rifle shooting he has to use a telescope in order to keep within speaking distance of some of the boys so far as scores are concerned.

As "Plain John" has asked the question "If 12 gauge men are afraid 10-gauge men will use more shot than they," I will endeavor to answer him in behalf of the 12-gauge men, as I belong in that class. I do not believe that all men shooting 10-gauge guns are dishonest, but I do know that some of them—one in Rockford—do shoot from 1⅞ to 1½ ounces of shot in their 10 gauge guns and then give the 12-gauge men the laugh because they do not make as good scores as they. Is it any wonder that "Plain John" cries "shame on the Cleveland management?"

I say, all honor to the Cleveland management for refusing to grant "Plain John" and all shooters of his caliber the privilege of robbing the shooters of this country under cover of a 10-gauge gun and 1¼ ounces of shot, as I am told "Plain John" did at Indianapolis and St. Louis last year.

PLAIN 12-GAUGE.

NOTES

SEVENTY miles west of this city, on the south fork of the Ninnicah River, are several lakes owned by sportsmen who live in Wichita. These lakes are in an open prairie country and the waters are well stocked with bass, carp and speckled perch (sunfish). During each Fall and Spring the flight of ducks and geese over these lakes is quite good. On March 12, last, a dispatch came to a member of one of the clubs which read as follows: "Plenty of pintails on the lake. Come out." The aforesaid member (Mr. Fred Baldwin) whispered the news in the ear of Al. Bitting, C. L. Davidson and L. C. Jackson and told them to get ready for the morning train which left at 7 o'clock. All were at the depot on time and in the best of spirits at the prospect of getting away from business for a day or two and the chances of having a good time. After traveling thirty miles they saw thousands of ducks, and it seemed to them as if the train never ran so slowly. But finally the station was reached, also the club house at the lake. In the meantime a blizzard had set in, the weather was getting cold very fast, and the ducks had left the lakes and settled in the tall grass to get out of the wind. There was no use trying to hunt in such a wind. During the night the wind quieted down a little and it began to snow, with the mercury 10° above zero. The next morning all were out early and popping away at the ducks. A. W. Bitting and Fred Baldwin went one way, Davidson and Jackson another. Ducks seemed to come in like snowflakes and their supply of shells was soon exhausted. Then they remembered it was cold, and they went to the house to get warm and also to get a fresh supply of shells. All stayed in until after dinner, then went out and at it again. Ducks were flying in thousands, and when the evening of the fifteenth arrived Bitting and Baldwin had seventy-four ducks, one gorse and one jacksnipe, while Davidson and

Jackson had one hundred and twelve ducks. They returned home with happy hearts, and each will long remember March 14, 1895, as a day they did not get left [illegible] shoot. The game was distributed among [illegible] and loved it but in an entirely different

Wichita, Kan. CHAS. PAYNE.

A FEW weeks ago Mr. Robert B. Roosevelt of New York wrote us inquiring as to the scope of the National Association for the Protection of Game, Birds and Fish. In response to our inquiry Mr. A. L. Lakey of Kalamazoo Mich., secretary of the association, wrote us as follows: "We now have two hundred and seventy-two paid members on the secretary's book, including gentlemen from Maine to Washington, and from Minnesota to Florida and Texas, and we hope, with your help and the aid and support of all those who have the subject of game and fish protection at heart, to increase this number to five hundred before the year closes." In regard to effective work the coming year Secretary Lakey hopes for good results, notwithstanding he feels discouraged at times, as the following excerpt from his letter will show: "I find that one man cannot do it all. I have visited the present legislatures of five states and find that there is much to be done to harmonize and centralize our work, to make it more effective. To do this, we must have the cordial and earnest support of all interested in the cause. At times, I get very much discouraged when I see the lack of interest taken by many from whom we would naturally expect the strongest support; then again, I am much encouraged at what is being done and trying to be done for the cause of game protection, and will say candidly, our prospects are brighter than ever before." Mr. Lakey's position is assuredly no sinecure and we hope every sportsman interested in national protection of game and fish will lend his assistance willingly. President M. R. Bortree informs us that Mr. Roosevelt has accepted the vice presidency of the association. We believe he meant the vice-presidency for the state of New York, inasmuch as Joseph H. Hunter of Washington, D. C., was elected vice-president of the association at the second annual meeting of the association in Chicago, January 9 and 10, 1895. This is good news as Mr. Roosevelt is a sportsman of national reputation and an ardent game and fish protectionist.

THE bill prohibiting the killing for barter and sale, in the state of Pennsylvania, of ruffed grouse and quails, which was drafted and presented at the instance of the Luzerne County Sportsmen's Club of this city, has passed both branches of the legislature and only awaits the signature of Governor Hastings to become a law. There is every reason to believe that Governor Hastings, who is a sportsman and a lover of dog and gun, will affix his signature of approval to the act. Should the act become a law it will go a long way toward increasing the game birds of the state. But the act should be supplemented by the formation of clubs for the destruction of game-destroying birds and mammals. The Luzerne County Sportsmen's Club reports excellent results from its scheme of offering rewards for the killing of such animals. Notwithstanding the extreme rigor of the past Winter a number of the Chinese-English pheasants turned out by the Sportsmen's club—350 in Luzerne County last Fall—quite a number, singly and in pairs, have been seen in the woods since Spring opened. We are therefore hopeful of seeing them largely increased by the coming Fall. A number of these birds that were held over Winter have begun laying, and the eggs have been sent to farmers in the county to be hatched and the birds, when large enough, turned out. We hope for good results from this plan also.

Wilkesbarre, Pa. A. W. RHOADS.

MR. F. E. POND has forwarded us the following letter from Mr. Walter C. Young of Plymouth Meeting, Pa., an active member of the National Association for the Protection of Game, Birds and Fish. It gives evidence of the necessity of uniform and better protective laws in Florida: "I have just returned from a hunting trip to Florida, and would like to call your attention to the game laws of that state, You will see that nearly every county has a different open season on deer and turkey, thereby making it lawful to kill these species of game ten out of the twelve months in the year, by hunting in the different counties. On my last trip I met several men that made a business of going from one county to another to hunt deer and turkeys for the market, and thus make money by slaughtering four, six or even eight deer a day so long as they can sell them, no matter at what price. I am going down to Florida again next September, and if you desire would be pleased to write you more upon the subject, as well as suggest a remedy, for if there is to be any deer hunting in the state in years to come, this sort of practice must be stopped. Otherwise all game of the two species will [illegible], except possibly in the almost

---

It [illegible] agement to those who are making [illegible] r shooting grounds with Chinese pheasants, I send the following clipping from one of our local papers. The journey taken by the observer extended over less than a two hours' ride through a succession of low lands and wheatfields: "The extent to which the Mongolian pheasant has multiplied and spread out over the Willamette Valley in large numbers is not generally understood, but it is a fact that they are exceedingly numerous. An index of this was shown by a gentleman coming north recently on the local train that Secretary of State Kincaid came back from Eugene on. The gentleman takes a great interest in pheasants and concluded he would make a test of their numerical strength, so he commenced counting. He sat on the east side of the coach, looking out only from that side, and from Eugene to Albany, at no greater distance than about sixty yards from the railroad track, he counted sixty of these beautiful birds running around in the fields and pastures. If that strip of country is a fair criterion, it is easy to see that the bird has a solid footing in this valley."

Cove, Ore. JASPER G. STEVENS.

THOSE who expected that the game and fish laws of Michigan would be rigidly enforced by the new state game warden have not been disappointed, as will be seen from his April report to the secretary of state. Mr. Osborne states that fifty-five arrests have been made and one hundred and fifty complaints investigated. As a result of these, forty-two convictions were obtained, and ten cases continued; in one case the jury disagreed, and there were but two acquittals. Of these cases there were ten for violation of the game laws, and forty-five for violation of the fish laws. The amount of fines and costs collected aggegated $507.35. This report plainly demonstrates that the game and fish wardens are vigilant and active, and also that intelligence and caution are used in making arrests. Out of fifty-five arrests, the fact that there were forty-two convictions is good evidence that the wardens had the "deadwood" on the lawbreakers, and knew "where they were at." It also furnishes very good proof to the unscrupulous shooters and fishermen that monkeying with our game laws by them is not to be tolerated.

Detroit, Mich. KEUKA.

SOME time since Mr. Lewis Steuber, a groceryman of Atlantic City, N. J., exposed 25 rabbits for sale contrary to law, the laws of that state making it illegal for any dealer to offer game for sale during the close season, even though such game was obtained from another state where at the time the killing of such game was lawful. Mr. Steuber was therefore arrested and tried, he entering as a defense that the rabbits were killed in Illinois and shipped to him. Two courts have already passed upon the case, but it will probably be taken to the Supreme Court of the state, and from there to the Court of Errors and Appeals, as it is a test case and many interests are involved. At the first trial the court decided against Mr. Steuber and imposed a fine of $20 per rabbit, or $500 in all, and at the second trial the court held that the law could not apply to game shot in another state. The warden then appealed the case to the Suppeme Court and from there it is more than probable that it will be taken to the Court of Errors and Appeals, where a final decision will be had.

WE are pleased to learn from Mr. A. W. Rhoads, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., that the legislature of Pennsylvania has passed a law prohibiting the killing of ruffed grouse and quails for barter or sale. It is a pronounced step toward the protection of these birds in that state, for when market-hunting is stopped, or when the surplus game killed by men who go out for slaughter instead of genuine sport cannot be turned into dollars and dimes, there will be no incentive to kill more than a reasonable bag at an outing, and consequently within a few years both grouse and quails will again be as plentiful in Pennsylvania as they were twenty years ago. The Luzerne County Sportsmen's Club is entitled to much of the credit for this law, for it was through the efforts of its members that the law was enacted. All honor to this club, to the sportsmen in general of Pennsylvania, and to the legislature of the Keystone State.

SOME time since suit was brought by President M. R. Bortree, of the National Game, Bird and Fish Protective Association, against Mr. H. V. Bemis, proprietor of the Richelieu Hotel of Chicago, for alleged violation of the game law of Illinois by serving quails at a banquet given at the hotel on March 12 last. A warrant was sworn out for the arrest of Mr. Bemis, and in the justice's court a decision was rendered against him. He was also fined $50, but he appealed the case. When the evidence was heard on May 7 there were only two witnesses, and they were men who attended the banquet. They said they were not positive that they had eaten quails and consequently the court held that Mr. Bemis could not be held liable and the fine was therefore remitted.

AT the recent meeting of the State Fish, Game and Forest Commission of New York state, Commissioners Babcock and Thompson were appointed a special committee to take the necessary steps to provide for the propagation of Oregon pheasants, $250 being appropriated to defray the expenses of getting the eggs and building an inclosure at Caledonia. At the same meeting Egbert R. Benjamin of Bay Shore, L. I., and Daniel M. Pomeroy of Lockport were appointed fish and game protectors, Cyrus Donovan of Uister County was reappointed keeper of the state deer park in the Catskills, and Morris Hawn of Cicero, Onondaga County, was removed from office as a protector, and his brother, Spencer Hawn, appointed in his place.

I NOTICE in the issue of the AMERICAN FIELD of May 11 that Mr. Bortree asks for reports on pheasant raising, and I will give the Hamilton Manufacturing Co.'s experience through the columns of the AMERICAN FIELD, believing it will do much good and result in some addition to pheasant raising. We are doing a great deal and are raising lots of birds this year, and have spent hundreds of dollars on the scheme. We turn the birds loose on free lands, not fenced, for the benefit of all. We have not an egg for sale; we are buyers, and not in the business to make money. We have also liberated sixty pairs of quails.

Two Rivers, Wis. H. P. HAMILTON.

SOMEONE has just discovered that the new tariff law of this country permits the importation of foreign game birds free of duty, while there is a clause in the law that prohibits the importation of the eggs of these birds. Recently a box of game birds' eggs that were sent to Mr. R. F. Lang was, under the tariff law, seized by the Custom House officials and will be sold at public auction. This proceeding does not answer the requirements of a prohibitory tariff, but it is regarded as the best disposition that can be made of the eggs at this time.

ATTORNEY GENERAL CHILDS of Minnesota holds that under the wording of the first section of Minnesota's new game law, a new board of fish and game commissioners is created, and that the terms of the old commissioners expired with the passage of the new law. The paragraph which seems to have displaced the old commissioners is as follows: "There shall be a board of five commissioners, who shall be appointed by the governor, and shall constitute the first board under the provisions of this act."

THE Maryland State Game and Fish Protective Association, at the solicitation of many of its new members, held a special meeting at the Academy of Sciences, Baltimore, on the evening of May 7. The executive committee of the association held a meeting the same evening to act upon applications for membership and to receive club members from the counties. Mr. D. G. Wright is president of the association and Mr. George W. Massamore secretary and treasurer.

THE South Bend (Ind.) Times of May 4 says that the Tolleston Club has finally received a knock out blow. The Supreme Court has refused the the club a rehearing in the case of the state vs. the club for the possession of several thousand acres of swamp land which the club has claimed and controlled, but which the state some time ago sued for and recovered.

THE Texas game bill has been passed with a few amendments and is now a law. We referred to it in our issue of April 6 last. Good for Texas.

NEW PATENTS

The following patents in the sporting goods line have just been issued and are reported especially for the AMERICAN FIELD by Joseph H. Hunter, Attorney at Law and Solicitor of Patents, Washington, D. C.:

Collapsible boat, Theophilus O. Smith, Medley, Eng., and Horace Fuller St. Aubin, Isle of Jersey, Eng.

Ejecting mechanism for breakdown guns, Henry A. A. Thorn, London, Eng., and William Bodin, London, Eng.

Hunting

FIXTURES

Brunswick Fur Club's annual foxhound trials, October 28, ——. B. S. Turpin, secretary.

Dixie Red Fox Club's first annual meet, Rowland, Ala., October —. J. H. Wallace Jr, secy.-treasurer.

National Fox-Hunters' Association's second annual meet, ——, November 18, etc. H. L. Means, secretary.

IN OLD KAINTUCK

BY E. H. WALKER

It is the last night of January, and as the weather is too bad to hunt to-night, I will put in the time writing to you.

My brother, W. S. Walker, has just returned from Barre, Mass., where he went to attend the meet of the Brunswick Fur Club. He took with him his dogs Strive, Alice and Joe Karr. I was fearful he would lose Alice or Joe, being afraid that when they were through running they would undertake to come home instead of hunting him. So it turned out with Joe. He turned him loose the first morning, and he went off with the other hounds after a fox. They heard him running about twelve o'clock, and that was the last he saw or heard of him for ten days. Joe was taken up in New Hampshire seventy-five miles from where he was lost; he showed his raising by going into a church, where a good lady noticed him and called her husband's attention to him. He examined him, saw the address on his collar, immediately wrote Steve where he was, and took good care of Joe until he was sent for. In the meantime, after the meet was over, Steve and Mr. A. B. F. Kinney went to Portsmouth, N. H., to hunt with Dr. Heffenger, taking with them Alice and Strive and Mr. Kinney's Logan. They had two days' good running. Steve then heard of Joe, sent for him, and started for home, where he and the hounds arrived safe and sound. And I was very glad to see them all, especially the hounds.

My brother was very much pleased with the hunters he met in New England, and says he never enjoyed a trip more in his life.

Now, I must tell you about an old-fashioned, whipping, slashing hunt I had while he was gone. Joe and Alice being away, I felt very much like a "poor man at a frolic" when I was hunting. But in this particular chase I had a young dog that showed speed, and such a wonderful amount of endurance that I felt as if I had another four-mile horse. His name is Rowdy, and he is a puppy by the old English hound, Strive, being a half-brother to the Strive Steve took with him to New England.

Well, I had been at work all week as one of the board of supervisors, overhauling the tax-books, and had gotten mighty hungry for a race. Friday evening as it looked as if the next day would be a good day for a run, I persuaded the board to adjourn until Monday. Sure enough the next morning was splendid for hunting, being damp, warm and still, so I had breakfast by daybreak, sent word where I was going to my brother Arch, and to my son Woods, and "lit out." Woods overtook me just as I reached the hunting ground.

We soon had two foxes going. The main pack (seventeen) were after one and two hounds after the other; we had a splendid run for about an hour, when the two hounds, having either lost or holed, fell in with the main pack. They ran on about thirty minutes longer, when they ran into a flock of sheep and made a loss. Arch came about this time and his hounds began to cry the track where the two hounds had run, causing it to be a final loss. We concluded to get the pack together to try another hunting ground, and succeeded in getting them all but three (two of mine and one of Woods'); and, as these three did not come home until next day, I suppose they found the fox, or jumped another.

We then went to the Bald Hills, about two miles distant. Almost as soon as we got there the whole pack went flying after the biggest fox I have seen in years. We had a fast and exciting run for about three hours, Rowdy carrying the track most of the time. Then some fresh hounds put in on us and the fox lit out for the knobs—about four miles distant. We had been riding pretty hard up to this time, and the ground being soft, our horses were already pretty well blown. We started to go to the knobs with them, and when I saw Rowdy able to take the track from those fresh hounds I made up my mind to look at them all the way. The boys were both better mounted than I, besides being considerably lighter, and I knew I would have to ride with all the judgment possible to beat them to the knob. I bore a little to the right, to miss two big fences that had been lately put up, but the boys did not know they were there and I did not tell them. Those fences were a godsend to me. I got about three hundred yards on the boys while they were getting through these fences. You ought to have seen the old man ride then; in the first place to keep up with the pack, and in the second place to keep those boys from overtaking me. I was riding the ridge and the pack running just under me, Rowdy with the track, and I was talking to him about rights, when I ran upon the biggest fence I ever saw, being about twelve rails high, and brushed at that. I knew at a glance if I stopped to pull it down I was gone. My horse, although a poor runner, was a good strong one and a good jumper, so I forced him right up against the fence before I would allow him to rise; then, when he was about half up, I gave him the spur, and rails and brush flew in every direction. But we went through together. I thought then I was safe, but I had not gone more than one hundred yards when I came to a worse fence than the other. It is what we call a stake fence, the stakes being driven into the ground and wired at the top, and the rails are built in between the stakes. This one was about nine rails high with the rider, and the rider was wired in. I knew it was impossible for a tired horse to jump it, so I looked for the weakest rider, jumped off my horse, and tried to break it out, but found it too strong for me. My only chance was to try my horse again, so I got him right up against the fence, let him rear up until his knees came just under the rider, and then put him at it; he succeeded in breaking the rider out and clearing the fence without falling, but it was a close shave. Meanwhile the pack had gained a little from me, but the fox had made a tack to miss a cabin. I rode straight by the cabin and so closed up on them. We were now close to the foot of the knobs, and Rowdy was still in the lead.

Just here another fresh jack put in on us. I managed to get to the top of the knob first, but the boys had about closed up on me. The hounds turned down the ridge to the right, and as my horse was very tired I now had to use a little strategy to keep the boys from riding off and leaving me. I told the boys I thought the fox would circle to the left; and sure enough, after running down the ridge about a mile, he crossed some fields to the left, hit the next range of knobs and turned to the left again. This was what I had hoped for. Now by going down off the ridge we were on we had a good road to ride parallel with the way the hounds were going, for about three miles. They now turned to the right and went away from us, so there was nothing to do but to follow them; we crossed the fields and went on the next range of knobs, where we could plainly hear the pack in the distance. They were still running very hard, and we took a ridge road to get to them. When we got about half way we found they were coming back. They came almost directly toward us, and we could see them for more than half a mile—off one mountain, through a wide hollow, and up the side of the mountain we were on—and Rowdy had the track all the time. When they crossed the ridge by us they were running close to the fox. I put in after them again down the steep mountain-side, through the thick brush, and into the worst hollow I ever undertook to ride through. The large timber had all been cut down and the tops left lying on the ground, making it the worst riding you ever saw. But it was about a mile back to the road, and I managed to stay with them. Arch and Woods had kept the road on the ridge, and they, the pack and myself all came out on the main road together.

Now we had the road to ride some two miles, the hounds running through the fields on our left. The boys beat me pretty badly on the road, and I just did get to the next crossing in time to see Rowdy cross with the trail. Here another hunter put in four fresh hounds. By this time I had gotten to the pitch that I would about as soon ride through the brush as on the road; so I took up the mountain-side after them, and Woods after me; but Arch stuck to the road. When we got to the top of the mountain I pulled up a moment to see which way they would bear, and as they turned to the left I concluded the fox would go on back to where he came on the knobs and then back to the hills. The mountain was so steep that a horse had to convert itself into a slide to get down, but we went down with a "whoop" into another rough hollow. When we got out of this I was so far ahead of Woods he could not tell which way I had gone, and so he followed the hounds over another mountain. I had borne to the right, and so missed this mountain, and I rode for the point where the hounds hit the knobs as they came out. By hard riding I reached the place just as the pack were coming off, with Rowdy at least forty yards ahead.

And now came the "tug of war"—to stay with those hounds back to the hills. Fortunately the fox did not run straight, like he did as he came out, but would tack to hit the rough places. In this way I was able to make little cuts and faver my horse to some extent. I was at least a mile ahead of the boys, but I knew when they came off the knob they would ride a straight course to the hills. Just as we got back to the hills the boys overtook me, and Woods passed me; but Arch's horse, just then, quit like a tired steer. I looked back to see what had become of him, and that one moment was fatal to me. My horse fell on a bank with me, with his head doubled under him, and I thought at first his neck was broken. I got him up, however, without getting off of him, and he staggered along some two hundred yards to the top of the ridge, where we always stood when running in that country. I got off and turned him loose, but he was as near done for as ever I saw one. I was feeling good enough for two.

The hounds had gone off north of us, and just before dark we heard them coming back. The fox passed close to us, with the hounds within about one hundred yards of him, and Rowdy still beating them. They ran on about one hour longer, and then went off to the river (about four miles distant). We could now only hear them when they came on high ground.

In about an hour three of the hounds came back after the tired fox and holed it right close to us. The rest of the pack had gotten after another fox on the river, and as we knew it would not come our way and our horses were too tired to go to them, we concluded to come home and leave them. Thus ended one of the hardest day's running I ever had.

Hammack, Ky.

NOTES

We have been favored with clippings from the Winchester (Ky.) Sun and the Bath County (Ky.) Banner, and observe that those journals are industri[ously] Owingsville as the place for the Natio[nal] Association's next meet, the Sun even[ing] say "no other place on earth can off[er] ducements." That is a sweeping [assertion] not having had the opportunities enjoy[ed] by the orb of day for making the acquaintance of all the desirable places on the earth we cannot successfully contradict it. The Owingsville people are very keen to have the meet in their neighborhood, but they must not forget that this is a national affair. It is something more than a convention of the fox-hunters of Kentucky. Plenty of foxes and ability to accommodate a number of people are important matters, but of more importance, we believe, is the topography of the country. The afternoon before the trials were commenced at Olympia we expressed to Mr. W. S. Walker and Mr. Channing Corbin the opinion that it would be extremely difficult for the judges to arrive at accurate decisions owing to the nature of the country to be hunted over, and that no great value could be attached to such awards as might be made. No matter how favorable a country may be selected ultimately the judges will have their work cut out, and the committee will not be doing its duty if it does not use every means in its power to secure the best locality obtainable: let it remember Cap'n Cuttle's oft-repeated admonition to be sure you're right and then go ahead. As we have pointed out before, there is ample time in which to decide where the N. F. H. A.'s meet shall be held.

The Toronto Hunt has just received from England eight couple of foxhounds from the Earl of Fitzwilliams' well-known pack; they were obtained through Mr. Bridgman Simpson, a member of the Toronto Hunt and a distant relative of the noble sportsman. The Hunt bought five couple, and the remainder were a gift from the Hon. Thomas Fizwilliam, the Earl's son, who wrote to Mr. George W. Beardmore, the master of the Toronto pack: "I hope your club will be pleased with them, and that they may show you much sport. They are quite an exceptionally good lot of hounds to be able to send, and combine many strains of the best blood in England."

Foxhounds are offered for sale this week by the Strodes Valley Kennel Club, Winchester, Ky.; Eldred Kennel, Philadelphia, Pa., and Mr. H. Oldenhage, Kahoka, Mo.

Fish and Fishing

FIXTURES

Chicago Fly Casting Club's open to the world tournament, August 21. F. B. Davidson, secretary.

TROUTING ON THE GUNNISON

(Illustrated)

BY SHINER

My last trout! How I love to think of him! How beautiful in all his glory! How he fought and how proud I was when, finally, he made his last rush and by mistake ran into my landing-net!

I had been spending part of the Summer at Iola, Gunnison County, Colo. (the headquarters of the Denver Fishing Club), and now that the last day of my visit had come I weighed the pros and cons for up or down the river. Downstream was apt to be more fruitful, as far as numbers were concerned; but upstream was where the big fellows seemed to congregate, and, only six days before (Labor Day, 1894), friend H. M. B— and I had caught five of the largest trout I believe that ever were taken consecutively, in an hour (but that's another story), while downstream, five days before, I had landed twenty beauties whose total weight was as many pounds. So it was a hard matter to decide—the desire to have a nice basket to take to friends in Denver, which was pretty sure downstream, or the chance of a few big ones upstream. My cousin, who was spending his vacation with me, decided to go "down;" and, finally, I decided to go "up."

After packing my heavy waders in my basket, I started up the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad track, with Leon Pornel, one of the ranch boys; and, by the way, the man who can beat him with rod or rifle is hard to find. We went up about three miles and started in to beat all previous records. I had a cast of Orvis' flies, consisting of a No. 6 coachman for the leader fly, a No. 8 gray hackle, and a No. 14 cowdung as my top fly.

The first cast I made in a pool that had never failed me; but it did this time in spite of my most delicate attempts, so I left it and gradually worked downstream until I came to a deep pool in the center of which was an enormous bowlder, nearly submerged, behin[d] which at different times I had taken at least a dozen ra[in]bows two pounds or over each. After making sure [the] cast was in good order, I sent my trusty coachm[an] to the edge of the rock, intending to let the curr[ent] the rest.

After half a dozen fruitless casts I had begun to lose faith in my old stand-by, when, suddenly, out of the [illegible] a flash of silver, a strike, and "they're off!" [illegible] and the trout—with the trout leading by [illegible] my line was also "off;" and, I think, [illegible] was in the same fix. However that may be, as judge I had to see that a just decision was given, and as I desired to be in at the "finish" I started to keep up with the procession, as best I could, over the rocky bottom; and the way I churned up the river reminded me of a snowplow going through a drift.

I was taking up line as best I could, when suddenly the "bow" turned and, before I knew what was up, broke water right under my nose, which rather disconcerted "the judge." But the jockey, I mean the coachman, was still there, and the swift current had taken or rather prevented this beauty from getting any slack; so from that time on the judge was able to hold his own, and after a few more frantic leaps and rushes the pace began to tell and—"all's well that ends well"—he was in the basket and I had two and a half pounds more to carry.

This was the first fish of the day, and I suppose the readers of the AMERICAN FIELD have, so far, thought it "my last trout." But not so, not so, just be patient; that trout is downstream, quite a half mile yet.

I managed to get one more little fellow, and then the trout began to jump all around me and my flies. Try as I would, I could not get another strike; so, moving along, the butt of a cigar in my mouth, I started one of the wildest skirt dances over those rocks and bowlders anyone ever saw. "What Ma says" does not begin to "go" like Grandpa Rainbow did.

I remembered one of the fables of my childhood, about the pot of gold at the tail of the rainbow, and tried my best to catch up with the tail; but like the rainbow in the fable it was very elusive, the faster I traveled the farther off it seemed. The No. 14 midget did not give me the confidence I should have had, and to say I expected to land him would be amiss.

However, I did my best, not daring to force matters, and at every rush he had his head. The water there was deep and swift, and I traveled fully one hundred yards before seeing any chance of getting the upper hand. Working gradually toward shoal water, and checking the mad rushes more easily each time, I began to have hopes of landing him. With my landing-net all ready and the line reeled in to the leader, I would try and get his highness between me and the shore. Just as I would begin to think, "it's all right now," away he would go, twenty, thirty, forty feet, and then the agony would have to be repeated. But, like the best of us, he made a mistake, and in one of his rushes for the swift water he loved so well he ran too close to me and like a flash was in the landing-net, and before he knew where he was "at" I had him twenty yards up the bank.

A glance at my watch showed 1:50 p. m., and without more ado I took off my leader, waded the river and finally I reached the most famous pool for big trout in the Gunnison River. Every man that has fished the Gunnison knows all about the pool at the "old bridge piers." Big fishes were thick there. I saw plenty of them rising after trout flies which covered the water, but could not get one to try anything I possessed in the shape of a lure. There was one old "mossback" there that reminded me of a porpoise. He would come up every few minutes, roll over and then settle to the depths; but he was very much like "brer rabbit" when my flies were over him.

TROUTING ON THE GUNNISON—A POOL THAT NEVER HAD FAILED ME

While trying everything I had in my flybook, Leon came along on the other side of the river, and I received the gratifying (?) information that he had twelve fair ones (I had two), and almost at his first cast he struck a monster of a rainbow that, I should judge, would weigh between four and five pounds. He played him skillfully, and it seemed almost "a sure thing," when, presto! he was gone, and with him a cheap fly.

Of course I was sorry (?) and I then told him how he ought to use Orvis' flies: "A little higher in price, but ———," which, of course, was adding insult to injury. But I was a bit sore just then (the score was twelve to two), it was my last day, only an hour more left before I'd have to wind up my line and say farewell to the old river, perhaps forever, and no fishes; that seemed the worst.

After that I moved on, downstream, to a lot of rocks scattered through the river, a miserable place to wade, because one minute one would be only ankle deep and the next instant above his waist—something on the uphill and downdale order.

I went along, however, slipping, sliding and sputtering; casting here and there, as I progressed. Finally a pound trout hooked himself by mistake and was soon in the net; then three more came in rapid succession (total six). I began to feel better and looked at my watch. It was 1:30 p. m., only half an hour left and I was two miles from the ranch. I began to reel in preparatory to moving along, making short casts as I did so, when suddenly a trout rose from a rock almo[illegible]t, sucked in my top fly—a [illegible] started to sink back to his [illegible] I started the music by [illegible]p, a rush downstream and an [illegible]. and, with my heart and started down the track. Leon had been waiting for me below and when I caught up with him, said:

"What luck?"

"Seven."

"Ah! I've fifteen!"

"That's all right, I'm not kicking."

"What's up?"

"This is" (holding up my prize).

"Gee whiz! what a whale!" And so he was; six pounds plump; twenty-three inches long, fourteen inches girth, and a beauty. Needless to say I considered the finale of my trip a great success, and while writing of his capture I can look up and see him resting peacefully in his case, beautifully mounted by A. T. Allen of Denver.

Woodstown, N. J.

NOTES

THE new game laws of New York, which have passed both houses of the general assembly, and will become a law upon Gov. Morton signing the same, prescribe the following regulations and fishing seasons: Polluting streams or taking fish by drawing off water or by dynamite or taking from a stream to stock a private pond or stream prohibited. No fishing through the ice in waters inhabited by trout or salmon. Trout, open season from April 16 to August 31, with six-inch limit. Salmon trout and landlocked salmon, open season from May 1 to September 30. No trout of any kind or salmon to be transported unless accompanied by the owner. Bass, pickerel, pike or wall-eyed pike, open season in St. Lawrence River from May 30 to December 31; in Lake George from August 1 to December 31, and in the rest of the state from May 1 to January 31. Bass, eight-inch limit. Mascalonge, open season from May 30 to February 28. Fishing through the ice for pickerel, pike and wall-eyed pike with hook and line permitted during December, January and February in waters not inhabited by trout or salmon of any kind. Suckers, bullheads, eels and dogfish may be hooked or speared in any waters not inhabited by trout or salmon of any kind, mascalonge or bass. Minnows may be caught for bait with nets not exceeding forty feet in length, four feet wide, and having hauling ropes not exceeding thirty feet long. Limited licensed netting: Frostfish, whitefish, catfish, sunfish, pumpkin seeds, bullheads, perch and suckers may be taken from inland waters not inhabited by trout with nets during such period and in such manner and under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the commissioners who shall issue the licenses, but no such net shall have a mesh of less than one and one-eighth inches bar. All netting rules and regulations shall take effect September 1. No thumping or driving permitted.

IN Maine landlocked salmon fishing opened up finely this season. On April 30, at Green Lake, seventeen salmon were taken, on May 1 eight or ten were caught and on May 3 nineteen were captured, all averaging about six pounds in weight; but a party of Bangor anglers who were at the lake the next day, with great expectations, got little reward, although Mr. E. M. Hersey caught one fine fish which weighed eight and one-half pounds. The landlocked salmon have been taken also in some lakes where they were supposed to have become extinct, notably at Nickerson Lake, near Hulton. Some of these fishes have been caught at Sebic Lake also, and fine fishing is anticipated there later in the season. On May 4 the ice went out on Lake Mooselucmeguntic; the next day Moosehead Lake was open and the steamers made the run down from Kineo to Greenville and went upon regular runs the next day; but at last accounts Rangeley was still ice-bound. During the morning of May 6 Mr. George Libby, of Brewer, fastened and landed from the Bangor pool a fine freshly run Salmo salar of twenty-two pounds' weight, and the afternoon of the same day Mr. Sumner Crosby caught one of twenty-five pounds. The fish wardens on duty report that the prohibition regarding the catching of landlocked salmon and trout from the streams debouching into the Belgrade Ponds is studiously observed. On May 2 Governor Cleaves nominated the following as local fish wardens: John Grey, Sedgwick; W. L. Blackington, Rockland; John E. Kelley, Boothbay; Charles Rich, Isle au Haut; F. M. Trundy, Deer Isle; J. F. Goldthwaite, Biddeford; E. V. Lyman, Mt. Desert; P. O. Seal, Harbor.

AS A resort for good mascalonge, pike and bass fishing, or for the whiling away of vacation days, midst primitive scenes and towering pines, birch and maple, with a delightful expanse of water for rowing and sailing, but few places equal Lakota, five miles from Conover, on the C. & N. W. Ry. (formerly known as Crosby's Twin Lake Resort), above Eagle River, in Wisconsin. Mr. Harvey L. Goodall, an ardent angler of Chicago, found here an ideal spot for the angler, business man and family, and succeeded to the proprietorship with the one view of making Lakota a haven for those who seek sport or recuperation. As a result a substantial log-built hotel, captivating in natural charms, with all the conveniences of a home, has been built on the shore overlooking beautiful North Twin Lake, and here health and pleasure await the sojourner. To better depict its attractions Mr. Goodall has issued an illustrated brochure, entitled "The Charms of Lakota Fishing Grounds," which he will send to those addressing him at the Chicago Daily Sun, Chicago, of which he is also proprietor.

AT a meeting of the New York State Fish, Game and Forestry Commission at Albany, on May 7, Mr. A. N. Cheney, of Glens Falls, was appointed fish-culturist, at a salary of $3,000 per annum; and Mr. James Annin, of Caledonia, was appointed superintendent of hatcheries, salary $2,500 per annum. Further appointments were made of game and fish protectors and foresters, for nine counties in the forest preserve, as follows: Clinton County, Bentley S. Morrell, of Plattsburg; Essex, Robert Bibbe, of Minerva; Franklin, James W. Littlejohn, of Franklin; Fulton, Emmet J. Lobdell, of Northville; Herkimer, A. B. Klock, of Herkimer; Lewis, Eugene Hathaway, of Harrisville; St. Lawrence, Archie Muir, of Fine; Warren, Alvin Winslow, of Stony Creek; Hamilton, D. G. Helms, of Long Lake. In view of the frequency of forest fires, about forty fire wardens were confirmed for the counties of Warren, Essex and Lewis. The wardens are to be paid only for the time when actually engaged in fighting fires in the woods.

THIS Spring Capt. Jacob S. Sedam, the well-known sportsman of Denver, Colo., went South with his wife, for their health, to the coast of Florida, and while there the captain enjoyed some rare sport with the gamy "silver king." His record of tarpons killed during five days in March is as follows: March 6, 107 pounds, off Mattleshea, five leaps, in one hour and ten minutes. March 8, 110 pounds, off Mattleshea, seven leaps, in fifty minutes. March 9, 120 pounds off Nigger Head, five leaps, in two hours and thirty minutes. March 10, 150 pounds, Astero Bay, nine leaps, in one hour and fifteen minutes. March 10, 97 pounds, Astero Bay, one leap, in two hours and three minutes. March 17, 125½ pounds, in first pool off Mattleshea, four leaps, in thirty minutes. While Capt. Sedam was not exactly high hook he was nearly so. Mr. Cole, of Plymouth, was first; Mr. Borden, of Chicago, second; Capt. Sedam, third.

For some time past a gang of fish pirates has systematically raided the waters of Cayuga Lake, in New York state, to the consternation of the anglers in that part of the state who knew what havoc was being made among the game fishes of the lake. But about a month ago Fish and Game Protector Carr, of Union Springs, was notified, and he took steps at once to interfere with the illegal traffic. Within a few weeks Protector Carr has captured seventy-one fyke-nets and two trap-nets, all new; and he has cases pending against thirteen men, whom he will prosecute vigorously. The nets, which have been destroyed, were valued at several hundreds of dollars. It is said the fish pirates are steering clear of Cayuga Lake now.

Deputy Attorney-General J. C. Daly of California recently filed with the state fish commission an opinion to the effect that the county boards of supervisors have no authority to make any changes in the open season on fish and game which have been fixed by the state legislature. That would seem to be common sense and good law, for certainly the authority of a state legislature is far above that of any county board; and the enactments of the latter often conflict with laws passed by the former, anomalous conditions that will become impossible should the Daly opinion stand and be adopted in other states where similar contradictions exist in the fish and game laws.

That first-class fishing can be found at Lake Catherine and other fishing grounds in the vicinity is attested, says the New Orleans, La., Times-Democrat, by the excellent catch made a few days since by Messrs. J. L. Gibson and Hardaway Bein, of this city. These gentlemen left the club house at Lake Catherine and reached the scene of their piscatorial success at Bay John about ten o'clock. By four o'clock they had landed fully 350 fishes of various kinds, principally perch. They used shrimps for bait. That their catch was not merely a fish story was proved by the large strings of fishes they had in hand when they disembarked from the Louisville and Nashville train that evening.

On May 11 a distinguished party of troutsmen—President Cleveland, Secretary Morton and Commissioner of Internal Revenue Miller—passed the day fishing upon a trout stream near Leesburg, Va. Trout were abundant, the stream not having been fished (so far as known) in two years, and the anglers enjoyed fine sport. They began fishing at 7 a.m., and quit about 6 p.m., with a total catch of seventy fine trout, of which President Cleveland landed twenty-eight. The party was entertained at the house of Mr. Harrison, but most of the time was spent on the stream, and the presence of the distinguished fishermen was not known by the inhabitants of that section.

On May 10 a party of distinguished fishermen, consisting of F. E. Hastam of London, Judge Koon, H. F. Douglas, John Washburn, James S. Bell, J. F. Bell of Minneapolis, guests of S. O. Brooks of St. Paul, arrived at Alexandria, Minn., in a special car, to spend a couple of days there in quest of some of the black bass which are so plentiful in Minnesota lakes. Mr. Hastam had the pleasure of landing a twenty-two-pound pickerel during the short time they were out that day, and was the most tickled man this side of the Atlantic.

A party of prominent New Yorkers—Controller Fitch, Postmaster Dayton and others—recently passed several days at Ragged Lake, in the Adirondacks, and enjoyed phenomenal luck at trout fishing. Of the trip Controller Fitch said the other day: "This Spring the fish would bite the moment we dropped a hook in the water. The sport was splendid. Mr. Dayton said he thought he would make more money up there fishing for the New York market than he could sitting in the postoffice drawing his salary."

The Wabash Fishing Club was organized recently at Olney, Ill., and the following prominent anglers became members: Capt. J. S. Cochennour, Dr. M. D. Foster, Judge J. C. Allen, Messrs. A. Knoph, K. D. Horrall, John Baird, J. E. Wharf, J. H. Gunn, J. D. Fahs, G. D. Slanker and H. Winans. The club has purchased a fine house boat, which will be fitted with every possible convenience for sport and comfort. The craft will be located at Mt. Carmel, on the Wabash River, this Summer.

On May 10 Executive Agent Fullerton, of the Minnesota Fish and Game Commission, returned to St. Paul from Tower and Ely, where he had seized 3,000 pounds of wall-eyed pike, a part of seven tons of those fishes which had been seined illegally in Eley Lakes. The illegal fishers had secreted the balance of their catch, but if they make an attempt to dispose of it or ship it wardens who are on the watch at every point from which the fishes could be shipped will make seizure and arrests.

On Friday, May 10, the Canadian patrol steamer Petrel seized a large number of gill-nets in the waters of Lake Erie. The nets all belonged to Cleveland market fishermen, who claim the charts in use by their tugs show the nets seized were all set at the time in American waters. The correctness of the charts will be investigated, and if substantiated the aggrieved fishermen will combine in a remonstrance to the national government at Washington.

On May 7 the state fish commission of Minnesota liberated 2,000,000 of wall-eyed pike fry in Maple Lake, near Crookston. The planting was due to the efforts of sportsmen in that locality. There are many beautiful lakes in Polk County, but few of them contain fish; and the sportsmen have entered upon a systematic course of action, by which the waters of the county will be stocked soon with food and game fishes.

At Albany, N. Y., the Townsend Park Fishing Club was organized recently with twenty-five members; captain, D. McDuff; treasurer, J. Peters. The club has rented an island in Kinderhook Lake, and upon the island stands a well-appointed club house, at which the club opened its fishing season on May 1, and extended an invitation to all friends to enjoy its hospitality during the Summer.

Three hundred guests attended the recent opening day, for the season, of the Central Fishing Club, of Baltimore, Md., at the club's place near Soller's Point. President Ringsdorf headed the committee of entertainment, and saw that the guests were supplied with all the oysters (raw, steamed and roasted) that they could desire. It is said the party disposed of some fifty-one barrels of "selects" on that occasion.

The owners of the Peacock Distillery at Paris, Ky., Messrs. Durner, Block & Co., of Cincinnati, since last November, it is said, have been running slop from the distillery into Stoner Creek, thereby killing off the fishes and endangering the health of residents along the creek. In consequence Prosecuting Attorney Carnspargur, of Paris, recently instituted proceedings by issuing warrants for the members of the firm.

The superintendent of the New Jersey State Fish Hatchery, George Richards, recently liberated 3,000,000 smelt fry in the Raritan River, at New Brunswick. Few smelts have been taken in that river for some years past, and the result of this attempt to restock the waters will not become apparent until the third season after the planting.

During the latter part of April, the Canandaigua (N. Y.) Rod and Gun Club liberated 100,000 German brown trout fry in the outlet of Canandaigua Lake; and within a few days the club has received from Caledonia 230,000 young trout, which were placed in the lake. The brown trout grow very fast in suitable waters, gaining one pound each year in some localities.

The Cody Gun and Fishing Club, of Mobile, Ala., has awarded a contract for the construction of a handsome club house, to be erected at once upon Dog River, Miss. The structure is to be a two-story frame, will contain all modern conveniences, and must be finished within sixty days from the date of the contract.

The Commanche Tribe of Fishermen, of New Orleans, La., opened the fishing season a few days since with an excursion. The officers are: President, J. McNeil; secretary, J. Triay; treasurer, A. Werling; chief spirit, J. Valentine; adviser, M. Ford; and the roster of membership includes the names of a number of jolly fishermen.

In Illinois Gov. Altgelt has appointed G. W. Webb, of Lincoln, deputy fish warden for Logan County.

Natural History

FIXTURES

May meetings of the Scientific Alliance of New York: Microscopical Society, 17; Academy of Sciences, 20, 27 and June 3; Entomological Society, 25; Torrey Botanical Club, 29; Linnæan Society, 28; Mathematical Society, 25.

MODERN TAXIDERMY

(Illustrated)

BY R. W. SHUFELDT, M. D.

It lies quite within the recollection of the writer when the term "taxidermy" was applied only to that art which had to do with the "stuffing" and "setting up" of specimens of mammals, birds, reptiles and fishes. In the popular mind it was almost restricted to the making of bird-skins, the mounting of birds, and performing similar operations with collected specimens of mammals. Strictly speaking, as the word means the fixing of a skin in a natural manner, these several uses of the term taxidermy were the more correct; that is [illegible] properly applicable to the preservation [illegible] as are possessed of a true skin. Th[illegible] such animals belong to the class Vert[illegible] however, taxidermy is understoo[illegible] field, and works devoted to the princi[illegible] science—for it has grown to become a science—not only include all that we have mentioned above but, in addition, the preservation of all Invertebrata; the making of plaster-of-paris casts of various kinds of animals, or gelatin casts of them; modeling; the manufacture of accessories; painting and photography as applied to the art; and is even sometimes extended to include wet preparations, as alcoholics and other modes of preserving specimens.

With science, that is biological science, taxidermy has its origin in the dawn of history. In a way, it was practiced at a very early date by the ancestors of our North American Indians; also by the ancient Mexicans. Hanno, one of the earliest of the Carthaginian navigators, explored certain parts of Africa some five centuries before Christ, and from the record he has left us we learn that he met with gorillas, and "Having killed and flayed them we conveyed their skins to Carthage." At that city they were preserved for many generations, and as the Gorgones were described by Pliny (146 B. C.).

Prehistoric Egypt had its taxidermists, for not only did her so-called "embalmers" preserve the skins of human beings by means of a species of mummification, but many animals, both domestic and ferine, were treated in the same manner.

During the many centuries that followed that age there slowly grew the demand, first for the prepared skins of animals for ornamental purposes, and subsequently mounted specimens of mammals and birds and other creatures to preserve the trophies of the chase and as objects to be admired by the curious. From the encouragement of such pursuits sprang the earliest school of taxidermists.

Then follows a long period during which but very slight progress was made in the art. It was a time when the physician and the druggist bore somewhat different relations to each other than they do in thsse days, or even the two callings were combined. Physicians then were more given to the study of the natural sciences, and especially botanical researches frequently engaged their attention. Often in their sanctums, perched upon the shelves somewhere, were to be seen one or more specimens of illy preserved creatures, that aided in lending an additional air of mystery to their operations. The London apothecary within whose—

> "Needy shop a tortoise hung,
> An alligator stuffed, and other skins
> Of ill-shaped fishes," is well portrayed by Shakespeare, as a feature of his time.

At about this period the "setting up" or "mounting" of animals began to be practiced with more care, so, as a matter of fact, this phase of the art is of comparatively quite modern origin. Later, or in 1725, the Sloane collection was known in England, and it now forms the nucleus at South Kensington of the ornithological exhibit of that institution. Still later treatises on the principles of taxidermy began to appear, as the one by Réaumur in France, in 1749; and those by Donovan (1794); and Swainson (1822); and Thomas Brown (1833), in England; and Germany added several others. But it was not until 1851 that the Germans and the French, at the great exhibition of that date, taught the British the true principles of scientific taxidermy as they were then best understood. Thirty years later works on the same subject began to appear in this country, as Batty's "Practical Taxidermy and Home Decoration" (New York, 1880), and some less important ones.

This exceedingly brief sketch of the origin of the taxidermic art brings us practically down to the present day, and the remainder of this article will be more especially devoted to pointing out the place taxidermy now occupies among other arts and sciences, and its progress.

Recently very good opportunities have been afforded me to study nearly every phase of American taxidermy, from the works of those operators who may be considered as relics who still indulge in the practices of the middle ages, to the "mounts" of the most skilled taxidermic artist known to the profession in this country. At the request of the National Musuem at Washington I have lately furnished that institution, for its next outcoming report, an illustrated memoir reviewing the entire progress of the science. Then my position as one of judges on taxidermy at the World's Columbian Exposition, at Chicago, gave me an opportunity to compare the pieces sent there by both foreign and domestic artists, and to investigate all the various methods employed.

Confining ourselves then strictly to American work, I think some of the finest examples of it that have come under my observation are to be found in th[illegible] of the United States National Museum at W[illegible] Not only are the results good, but they are [illegible] studies, and fine models, from which may be studied the most recent taxidermic methods, and consequently the lines along which progress is being made.

Perhaps in all the range of Nature, from monotremes upward (not to include man), there are no animals as a group that offer more difficulties to the scientific taxidermist than the hairless mammals. Among these we may note such kinds as the walrus, the elephant, the hippopotamus, some of the seals and other similar types. As an example of a mounted specimen of these, I present here in illustration a hairless Mexican terrier, to be found in the Mammalian Collections of the United States National Museum.

The great difficulties encountered in mounting a subject of this nature are, principally, the correct reproduction of the topographical anatomical details, such as are seen in the facial expresion and the various parts that enter into it; the superficial anatomy of the limbs; the modeling of the joints; and similar points. Then there is the correct reproduction of the general form, and the adoption of methods to insure its permanency and its ability to withstand successfully the attacks of pests and the influence of climatic changes.

All these important requirements were most successfully wrought out in the terrier shown in Figure 1; and this particular specimen was awarded a prize at one of the exhibitions of the Society of American Taxidermists, held, I believe, sometime in 1883. It is as perfect to-day as it was ten years ago, with no apparent shrinkage of the nostrils, the lips, or any withering of the ears; or changes in the set of the eyes, due to the contraction of the lids, and so forth. The attitude of the animal is wonderfully natural, and its expression is equally good, being one of eager expectancy.

To accomplish all this with the greatest degree of success requires strict attention to many things. In the first place, if it be possible, the operator should have a set of photographs of the dog taken in several natural postures before its death. These are his models, and, if good, stand high among the aids at his hands to restore the proper form of the animal when the final steps of mounting are undertaken.

Next in order come measurements, and one cannot well have too many of them. They are made, as a rule, upon the cadaver, and include such ones as length of head; space separating the eyes; also the ears, and the height of the latter; length of neck; total length of body; the tail; the various joints of the limbs; breadth of chest; various girths; and so on.

After the hide has been removed, and it is as thin as ordinary writing paper in a terrier of this species, we take, in the next place, a complete cast of the animal's body in plaster-of-paris. By this we retain, in the round, a model of the points in the superficial anatomy as well as a check upon the former measurements.

We now clean up the skeleton, but only well enough at present so as to have a third aid for correct measurements and the normal relative position of joints and articulations. Of course, the skull and the limb-bones are used in the manikin over which the skin is finally placed, while the rest of the skeleton should, eventually, find its way to the osteological collection.

By a manikin the taxidermist means the made-up form he constructs, over which the skin is eventually fitted and made at last to represent the animal as it appeared in life. It consists generally of a center, body piece of wood, to which are fastened the irons of the limbs, the tail, the one supporting the head, and certain special ones for retaining the form of the body. The animal's shape is simulated by wrapping this basic frame with soft material—generally excelsior—and it, in turn, is snugly strapped down to the proper proportions by strong twine wound in all necessary directions. Over all this, finally, is laid on a heavy coating of clay, of the proper consistency, and to this, by the aid of modeler's instruments or tools, is given the exact form of your terrier as he appeared after the skin had been removed.

At last, when all is ready, the skin is placed over this manikin, and then follow the forty and one professional manipulations, to fasten it; set the eyes and ears; reproduce mouth parts, lips and nostrils, and numerous other finishing touches until the "piece" is completed. This, including the drying, takes from three weeks to four months, according to the size of the specimen, but, when once thus prepared, the specimen, if properly cared for, will keep intact for a number of centuries.

From what has thus far been said, it will have become clear to the reader that the advanced student in the modern school of taxidermy requires to be a very different sort of a person from the ignorant, old-fashioned "bird-stuffer" of the last decade, now happily passing into history. Our modern school tells us that an accomplished taxidermist must be a thoroughly educated man; indeed, should possess a thorough collegiate training. He must have a good, practical knowledge of biology, mechanics, chemistry, photography, and drawing and coloring. He must be a first-class observer, a delicate manipulator of all manner of materials, and a constant student of everything that [illegible] his profession. To-day the [illegible] a plane quite coëqual with [illegible] by sculpture. It requires [illegible] skill, knowledge and talent to [illegible] horse; reproduce upon it the superficial anatomy in clay; clothe it with the animal's preserved skin, and then mold this latter until it is the perfect counterpart of the living animal itself, and in such a way that it will stand unaltered for centuries, as it does to chisel one out in stone or work the same horse out upon canvas with brush and pigments.

In illustration of this take the specimen of zebra shown in Figure 2—Burchell's zebra (Equus Burchelli). It is a photograph of the head of the animal only, the whole piece being, in my estimation, the finest mounted example of any of the Equidæ in this country. It has been represented by the artist as "standing at bay," and the methods of preparation used in its preservation were substantially the same in principle as those employed in the case of the terrier (Figure 1). It is an easy matter to induce those who have seen this photograph to believe that it is of the living animal, and an equal number are as difficult to convince that the subject is a result of the taxidermist's skill.

MODERN TAXIDERMY—FIGURE 1, MOUNTED SPECIMEN OF THE MEXICAN HAIRLESS TERRIER (UNITED STATES NATIONAL MUSEUM)

The entire attitude of this animal is admirable, and the details as worked out in the head are especially fine. The bristling of the mane, so expressive of anger; the close, backward-turning of the ears; the showing of the teeth; the parting of the quivering lips; are all most real, and all tend to lend to the artificial eyes, so naturally set in the head, an expression quite akin to what we would see in the living zebra.

At this writing the United States National Museum is rich in mammalian pieces of this nature. Quite as good as this zebra are the grand group of buffaloes; the coyotes; the various cases of monkeys and their kin; the tiger and other carnivores; "Mungo," one of the finest mounted elephants in existence; many of the rodentia and insectivora and others too numerous to enumerate.

(Concluded Next Week.)

A NATURALISI'S VIEW OF THE PROPOSED ILLINOIS GAME LAW

CHICAGO, ILL.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—The proposed game law, now before the Illinois Legislature, as I understand it, does not allow the killing of any "song or plumage birds" for scientific purposes unless the collector has a special license, which I have been told costs twenty dollars. This part will be very hard on all the good, law-obeying ornithologists in the state, for I don't know one who could at the present time afford to pay that amount for the simple privliege of collecting. All true ornithologists are as desirous, or perhaps even more so, for the protection of game and small birds as the sportsmen.

MODERN TAXIDERMY — FIGURE 2, BURCHELL'S ZEBRA (MOUNTED SPECIMEN IN THE UNITED STATES NATIONAL MUSEUM)

I have collected birds for a strictly scientific collection for several years and have never wantonly taken the life of a mammal or bird. I am always glad to hear of the arrest and fine of any heartless fiend who shoots our beautiful birds for fun. Only a short time ago, I heard a bird singing and found the bird was one of my special desiderata, yet I did not shoot it, although I could have done so easily, but preferred to take notes on its sprightly movements and lovely voice and so did not disturb it. Yet, if the proposed law goes through, I will be placed in the same class as the wanton murderer who kills everything he runs across wearing fur or feathers.

How would the sportsmen of Illinois like to pay twenty dollars apiece for a license to shoot game? I believe they are more able to pay it, as a class, than the ornithologist is to collect birds for study. As the bill was first drawn up the license could be secured for two dollars, then it was raised to ten, and now it is twenty dollars. I consider even two dollars too much for a privilege which I think should be free for those who can prove they are making strictly scientific collections, for I believe five hundred birds (including game) are yearly killed in this state to one taken by a bird student. Why the fee was made such an unreasonable amount I cannot understand, unless the pinch be that no ornithologist can afford a license, and he can be fined a good, big sum if found with any specimens he has shot.

A good law could easily be made to allow the scientific collector a license, upon proving that he is such, without any fee whatever, and at the same time prevent the killing of birds for fun or millinery purposes.

I sincerely hope any bill which will increase the number of game and small birds will become a law, but also hope the lawmakers will insert a clause allowing the collector to take his birds without taking out an expensive license.

J. O. D.

[In our issue of February 13 we advocated this change among others.—ED.]

NOTES

A RECENT dispatch from Washington, D. C., states that Dr. C. Hart Merriam, chief of the division of ornithology of the agricultural department, has been for several years engaged in examining and analyzing the contents of the stomachs of birds, showing in several notable instances that popular ideas regarding the injurious effects of certain birds were wholly mistaken and that they have been the victims of an unjust prosecution. This has been found to be especially the case with hawks and owls, for the slaughter of which many states give bounties. Pennsylvania in two years gave over $100,000 in hawk and owl bounties. Examinations of the stomachs of these birds prove conclusively that ninety-five per cent. of their food was field mice, grasshoppers, crickets, etc., which were infinitely more injurious to farm crops than they. The crow also is not so black as he has been painted by the farmers. The charges against the crow were that he ate corn and destroyed the eggs of poultry and wild birds. Examination of their stomachs showed they eat noxious insects and other animals, and that, although twenty-five per cent. of their food is corn, it is mostly waste corn, picked up in the Fall and Winter. They also eat ants, beetles, caterpillars, bugs, flies, etc., which do much damage. In the case of the kingbird, killed by the farmer under the impression that it eats bees it was found he ate only drones and robber-flies, which themselves feed on bees, and which destroy more bees in one day than the kingbird does in a year. The kingbird, therefore, is to be encouraged rather than slaughterd. The cuckoos also are found to be very useful birds in this country, doing much good in the destruction of insects.

A MOUNTAIN lion over nine feet in length has just been killed in San Diego County, says the Los Angeles (Cal.) Times in a recent issue. "This is one of the largest specimens of puma ever taken in North America. The largest lion on record, according to reports which are well authenticated, measured between ten and eleven feet from tip to tip. The cowardly nature of the beast renders it comparatively inoffensive, although when cornered by an antagonist it becomes aggressive and dangerous. The lion just killed near San Diego was put on the defensive by a man and several dogs. Armed with only a shotgun, the hunter fired at the lion's eyes and completely blinded the animal. In this state it rushed about furiously, madly seeking its foes. Striking an unfortunate dog at random it killed the canine instantly. Other dogs dispatched the lion."

THE various societies comprising the Scientific Alliance of New York will hold fifteen meetings in all during the current month, at which papers and essays upon topics of scientific interest will be read, and various exhibits of apparatus, demonstrations, etc., will be made. Field meetings will be held by the Torrey Botanical Club May 4, 11, 18 and 25; and by the New York Entomological Club May 5, 12 and 19. The members of each society are invited to attend the meetings of all the societies; and a cordial invitation is extended to members' friends who may be interested in scientific progress to attend the meetings.

THE serial, "The Reptiles of Michigan," is unavoidably omitted this issue.

Travel

AN ATTRACTIVE PART OF MEXICO

CATEMACO, MEXICO.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—A friend in Chicago lately sent me a couple of copies of the AMERICAN FIELD, the perusal of which afforded me much pleasure. Possibly it may not be uninteresting to some of your readers to learn something of this section of the land of the Montezumas.

Lake Catemaco is one of the most beautiful of lakes. It is ten miles long, of pure clear water, fed by spring streams rising in the surrounding hills; is studded with islands covered with cocoanut, banana, rubber, orange, lemon, cacao and mango trees, and is at an altitude of 1,100 feet above the sea with the now extinct volcanic mountain San Martin towering 5,600 feet above sea level in full view from all points. One can scarcely imagine a finer Summer or Winter resort than this region presents to those desirous of fleeing from the scorching heat of the Northern midsummer or the cold blasts of midwinter.

Beside the beauties of the lake itself, surrounded as it is by hills and mountains covered with valuable timber and tropical vegetation, with bits of scenery hard to be surpassed, the climate is very fine. The mercury never rises above 90º Fahrenheit in the shade, and frosts are unknown. While the days are never uncomfortably warm the nights are always cool, necessitating the use of one or two blankets throughout the year.

For the angler and the sportsman the place has many attractions. There is good fishing in the lake and the streams entering it, and the woods are alive with game. Jaguars, peccaries, badgers, antelopes and large deer, armadillos, large gray and black squirrels and wild turkeys can all be found in them; wild ducks of various species, wild pigeons and partridges are plentiful along the shore and upon lands bordering on the lake.

The beautiful Falls of Tepetlapan are but half a mile distant from the lake and the Cascade Elpantla is not far off. The base of San Martin is distant but a few miles—an easy ride 'twixt breakfast and dinner.

This is the famous San Andros Tuxtla tobacco region, from which hundreds of thousands of pounds of tobacco are shipped annually to Havana and there made into cigars which are sold in the United States and Europe as made from Cuban grown tobacco. Between the towns of Catemaco and San Andros Tuxtla are many of as fine tobacco plantations as there are in the world. The managers and hospitable owners vie with each other in showing attention to visiting foreigners, initiating them into the mysteries of tobacco growing and curing, and treating them with the best that the plantation affords—aguardiento and cigars fit for the gods.

There are very few mosquitoes or other troublesome insects. Mosquito bars are never required. The country hereabouts is remarkably healthy; no such thing as yellow fever or typhoid has ever been known here. The natives are thrifty, cleanly and law-abiding. Life and property are as safe in this country as in any part of the United States.

There is no finer agricultural country in the world. Tobacco, cotton, corn, coffee, sugar cane, cacao, rubber and yucca are all produced; and cocoauuts, bananas, pineapples, oranges, lemons, mangoes and other tropical fruits abound. The growing of tobacco is the chief agricultural industry at present. An acre of tobacco will produce from 350 to 400 pounds of dried leaf, worth twenty-five cents per pound for all grades.

Three crops of corn can be grown off the same land within the year, yielding 150 bushels to the acre. A fine article of cocoa is made for home consumption. Sugar sufficient for the demands of the local trade is manufactured from the cane grown, by the old boiling process. Fine starch is made from the tubers of the yucca plants, an acre of which will yield 70,000 pounds of tubers. Castor beans are largely grown and are shipped abroad. A fine article of coffee is grown—the soil and climate are the same as of the famous Coatepec coffee region. Many thousands of young trees have been set out this season. The soil is of volcanic origin—sand and mold—rich and deep. No irrigation is required as there are always heavy dews, and there is an abundant rainfall the year round so that the ground is always moist.

As the inhabitants of San Andros Tuxtla and Catemaco are largely of the manufacturing classes, there will be good demand always for all kinds of farm produce.

A few Americans have settled here within the last three months. The first who came in has now five acres planted in tobacco, 6,000 coffee trees set out and ten acres ready for corn planting.

This region is easy of access, and Catemaco can be reached in fifty-seven or fifty-eight hours from the City of Mexico by rail and steamer, with only seven or eight hours in the saddle and without any discomfort.

I. L. EYS.

NOTES

RECENTLY Gen. I. W. Avery, Foreign Commissioner of the Cotton States and International Exposition, to be held at Atlanta, Ga., September 18 to December 31, this year, stated that President Diaz has appointed a commissioner for Mexico to see to the collection, transportation and installation of the Mexican exhibit at Atlanta. The display will be very complete, and, in connection with the exhibit, will come the famous Mexican National Band, which created such a furor at the Cotton Exposition at New Orleans in 1884. There have been many so-called Mexican bands in the United States since that time, but the original Mexican band can only leave the country by permission of the authorities, being under military control. Gen. Avery says that it will accompany the Mexican exhibit to Atlanta, where thousands of people will have opportunity to listen to the enchanting music of this famous organization. Work on the grounds and buildings of the exposition is progressing rapidly; the fine arts, transportation, agriculture, machinery, government and forestry buildings are fast approaching completion. The electricity building is so nearly finished that on Wednesday night of this week the International Order of Railway Conductors, which was holding its annual convention at Atlanta, gave a ball in that building, the use of the structure for that purpose having been granted by the exposition management. A large number of delegates, with their wives and friends, attended. The building easily accommodated the large crowd, and the immense floor furnished a splendid dancing platform. An army of workmen is engaged on the grounds and buildings, and the exposition daily approaches nearer to the picture which will be presented when it opens.

THERE are various uses to which the McMenamin crabs may be put, but our correspondent, who makes the inquiry, will find the following recipe the best way to "devil" them. Mr. Colin D. Anderson, the compiler of "The Epicure," has given the subject careful consideration and from his well deserved reputation as a bon vivant we are confident it will give satisfaction.

FARCIED CRABS A LA HAMPTON.—Ingredients—1 No. 2 can of McMenamin & Co.'s deviled crabs, 1 tablespoonful of flour, 1 tablespoonful of corn starch, ½ pint Peerless Cream (New York Condensed Milk Co.), ¼ pound of butter, 2 tablespoonfuls of Lea & Perrins' sauce, ½ teaspoonful white pepper, ½ teaspoonful of salt, 2 eggs, a pinch of mace, a pinch of nutmeg. Preparation—Put the crabs into a large basin and add the Lea & Perrins' sauce, pepper, salt, mace and nutmeg; put the cream in a saucepan and let it come to a boil; work the butter, flour and corn starch into a smooth paste; beat up one egg and add: when thoroughly mixed add it to the boiling cream and stir continually until it thickens, avoiding lumps; then pour it over the crabs and mix with a wooden spoon. Wash the shells, dry them and fill with the mixture. Separate the white from the yolk of an egg, beat the yolk thoroughly and smooth over the crabs. Run into a hot oven ou a pan to brown, which will take about five minutes. May be eaten hot or cold.

New Dining Car Service

It is a pleasure to note the addition of another important feature to the already competent train service of the Nickel Plate Road. The dining car service of this popular low rate line has recently been augmented, by which dinner will be served on train No. 6, leaving Chicago at 2 p. m. daily, and breakfast and dinner on train No. 2, leaving Chicago daily at 9:20 p. m. with direct connections for New York and Boston. Breakfast and dinner will be served on train No. 5, arriving in Chicago at 9:35 p. m. from New York and Boston.

For full information regarding routes, rates, maps, folders, etc., address your nearest ticket agent or J. Y. CALAHAN, General Agent, Chicago, Ill. Advt. 60

Removal of Ticket Office of the New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad (Nickel Plate Road)

On May 1 the Chicago City ticket office of the New York, Chicago & St. Louis R. R. (Nickel Plate Road) will be moved to 111 Adams Street, opposite the postoffice. J. Y. CALAHAN, General Agent. Advt. 59

The American Field Score Book

Contains 150 score sheets, the Hurlingham, Long Island and American Shooting Association rules; shows a proper form of constitution and by-laws for gun clubs, and contains also a set of field and club house rules. Sent by express, prepaid, on receipt of $1. Address the American Field Publishing Co., Chicago, Ill.

A new dining car service between Chicago and Buffalo via the Nickel Plate Road has recently been placed at the disposal of the traveling public, which will enable patrons of this favorite low rate line to obtain all meals on trains when traveling on through trains between Chicago, New York and Boston. For reservations of sleeping car space and further information see your local ticket agent or address J. Y. CALAHAN, Genl. Agent, Chicago. Advt. 16

Kennel

FIXTURES

SHOWS

Moutreal Kennel Association's show, Montreal, May 31 and June 1. G. Lanigan, secretary.

Ohio Humane Society's dog show, Cincinnati, May 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24. Entries close May 14. Al. G. Eberbart, superintendent.

Canada's Industrial Exhibition's seventh annual dog show, Toronto, September 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13. C. A. Stone, superintendent.

Orange County Fair's dog show, Newburg, N. Y., September 17, 18, 19 and 20. Robert Johnston, secretary.

Omaba Kennel Club's second annual show, Omaba, Neb., September 18, 19, 20 and 21. E. L. Marston, secretary.

FIELD TRIALS

Continental Field Trial Club's inaugural trials (on prairie chickens), Morris, Manitoba, September 2. Derby entries close May 15. P. T. Madison, secretary.

Manitoba Field Trial Club's trials (on prairie chickens), Morris, Manitoba, September 10. Entries close July 1 and August 15. John Wootton, Secretary.

United States Field Trial Club's Autumn trials, ——, November 7. W. B. Stafford, secretary.

International Field Trial Club's trials, Chatham, Ont., November 5. W. B. Wells, secretary.

Eastern Field Trial Club's trials, Newton, N. C., November 18. Derby entries close May 15. W. A. Coster, secretary.

Continental Field Trial Club's Autumn trials, Newton, N. C November 25. P. T. Madison, secretary.

BEAGLE TRIALS

New England Beagle Club's trials, Oxford, Mass., November 5 W. S. Clark, secretary.

AMERICAN KENNEL CLUB'S QUARTERLY MEETING

The regular quarterly meeting of the executive committee of the American Kennel Club was held at its offices, 55 Liberty Street, New York, on Thursday, May 9, Vice-President Thomas H. Terry presiding. There were present Associate members, Mr. H. Hunnewell Jr., Dr. H. T. Foote and Mr. A. C. Wilmerding. For the American Spaniel Club, Mr. E. M. Oldham; for the Boston Terrier Club, Mr. L. A. Burritt; for the Bulldog Club, Mr. E. Willard Roby; for the Pointer Club of America, Mr. George Jarvis; for the Danbury Agricultural Society, Mr. G. E. Sears; for the Gordon Setter Club of America, Mr. James B. Blossom; for the Mascoutah Kennel Club, Mr. C. F. R. Drake; for the New England Kennel Club, Mr. Edward Brooks; for the New Jersey Kennel League, Mr. E. H. Morris; for the Southern California Kennel Club, Mr. James Watson; for the Westminster Kennel Club, Mr. Thomas H. Terry.

The secretary read the minutes of the [illegible] which were on motion adopted.

Credentials were read of the follow[illegible] men to represent the following name[illegible] Great Dane Club of America, Clif[illegible] Pointer Club of America, George [illegible] glish Bloodhound Club, Dr. Alfr[illegible]. On motion the credentials of the gentlemen named were accepted.

The secretary read his quarterly report as follows:

NEW YORK, May 8, 1895.

TO THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE AMERICAN KENNEL CLUB.

Gentlemen:—I have to report an application from the American Scottish Terrier Club for admission to membership in the American Kennel Club. This application complies with our requirements, and, the club being eligible to admission, I would recommend its election as an active member, at this meeting.

The following credentials have been filed at this office: February 23, 1895, Mr. Clifford Wood, as delegate from the Great Dane Club of America; February 25, 1895, Mr. George Jarvis, as delegate from the Pointer Club of America; March 8, 1895, Dr. Alfred F. Stahl, as delegate from the English Bloodhound Club.

Mr. Elmer Rand Hollander, Madison, N. J., has filed a claim for the sole use of the prefix "Randolph." As this claim does not conflict with any prefix already registered, I would recommend the granting of the same.

I would respectfully report that the proposed amendments to the rules, recommended by the committee on constitution and rules, and acted upon at the February meeting, were sent by mail to the delegates, as required by Article XIV of the Constitution, requesting a ratification of the said action of the meeting of February 22, 1895. At the expiration of thirty days only twenty-seven votes had been cast. As it required a two-thirds affirmative vote of the delegates to carry the amendments, namely, twenty-eight votes, President Belmont declared the amendments lost, and the same has been so recorded.

